Betty Ray Lazenby is pinned to Charles Markcum, a SAE at Florida Southern.

Lynn McDade is pinned to a DU from U.Va., Al DeMaria.

Peggy Blankenship received a Sigma Chi sweetheart pin from Mike Dills, a Hampden-Sydney Tiger.

Jean Turner received a Tech miniature last weekend from Ryland Edwards, a junior at VPI.

Ring Dances

Seen at Ring Dances at Va. Tech were Judy Harris, Adele Donaldson, Ginny Hayes, Shirley Childs, Jackie Harnsberger, Frances Patton, Kit Warren, Jackie Trader, Mary S. Sisson, Liza Buckhannan, Mary Ann Barnett, Dot Marshall, Evelyn Rowe, Virginia Harrison, Page Burnett, Jean Turner, Betty Spivy, Betty Lee Smith, Jo Ann Maitland, Delo Dove and Gwen White.

Hampden-Sydney

The Theta Chi's and Kappa Sig's held their final parties of the year this past weekend, and we must say, "A good time was had by all."

The Theta Chi's threw the welcome mat out to Adair Camp, Jean Johnson, Vann Thacker, Addie Richardson, Frankie Click, Anne Keziah, Ernestine Stoltz, Linda Allen, Carolyn Lewis, Faye Garrett, Mary Stokes, Barbara Heck, Mary Turner, Ann Barnes, Carol White, Nancy Winfree, Carolyn Crockett, Ellen Clare, Ellen Trader, Shirley Shepherd, Kate Hegnale, Mary Davis, Jane Adams, DeAnne Hogge, Yvonne Webb, Betty Roberts, Mary Ann Walker, Amy McFall, Barbara Stephenson, Becky McGrath, Ann Scott, Ann Glover, Tae Wamsley, and Jo Ann Witten.

The Kappa Sig's welcomed Beverlye Redmon, Gay Coffey, Iris Hines, Mary Ellen Moore, Jo Bailey, Barbara Rossiter, Pat Mitchell, Joan Lee Thomas, Anne Adams, Jo Lynn Holland, Norma Redmon, Ann Norfleet, Sallie Parrott, Ann Harding, Melinda Franklin, Jean Ellers, Mary Weld, Page Bolick, Katherine Bell, and Annie Lee Young.

West Point

Ann Schular travelled up to West Point last weekend for the Dress Parade.

Alumnae Group Names Secretary

Mrs. Cleveland Jones of Shepards, Va., has been named alumnae secretary of the Longwood College Alumnae Association replacing Mrs. J. Macon Pharr, Jr., who will leave September 1, President Francis G. Lankford, Jr. announced today.

Mrs. Pharr has served as secretary of the Alumnae Association for one year. She holds a B. A. degree from Longwood College.

Mrs. Jones, the former Elizabeth Shipplett, is a native of Roanoke. She is president of the Mary Moore Zone of the Farmville District of the WSCS of the Methodist Church, vice-president of Kappa Delta Alumnae Association, and the Buckingham County Women's Club. She is a member of the Grange, Hickory Grove Home Demonstration Club, PTA, and was past chairman of the Buckingham Red Cross. She holds a B. S. degree from Longwood College.

Battered Pipe, Abstract Air Describe Novelist Faulkner

By MOLLY WORKMAN

On the afternoon of May 6, a group representing the Longwood Faculty, Administration, and Student Body attended a question and answer session held by novelist William Faulkner at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville.

Mr. Faulkner, Writer in Residence at the University for the current academic year, spoke for an hour to a select audience of students, faculty, and guests. In a quiet but perfectly audible voice, the distinguished Southern novelist discussed subjects ranging from his recently published novel, The Town, to more general questions concerning his views upon fiction as expressed in his own work. In a situation in which many of the questions were significantly "baited", Mr. Faulkner was clearly on the defensive. However, though he did not hesitate to disagree with the questioner when the occasion arose, Mr. Faulkner seemed quite willing to discuss any legitimate question fully and honestly.

Prizes His "Junk Shop"

In the various questions concerning material and sources for his work, Mr. Faulkner humorously referred to his "junk shop" and "lumber room." These, he explained, are a combination of his personal experiences and everything he has read over a lifetime, from which he draws material as the need arises. Stoutly defending the writer's time-honored practice of plagiarism, Mr. Faulkner attributed much of his source material to a wide and varied reading experience and counselled young, would-be authors to follow the same course.

In appearance, Mr. Faulkner is a small, elderly man with a shock of silvery hair, a moustache, and a rather abstracted air. Throughout the session, he fingered the battered pipe which has become his personal trademark. Despite his reputation for shyness and his apparent reluctance to deliver formal lectures, Mr. Faulkner appeared to be poised and at ease before his interrogators. If he was at all bored or annoyed, as her certainly must have been at times, he very politely made an effort to conceal it.

Faulkner Displays Wit

Although he was generally positive and definite in his opinions concerning himself and his work, Mr. Faulkner did not pretend to be omniscient. Some of his replies were obviously designed to politely squelch inappropriate or presumptuous questions, but many were quite witty and nearly all attempted to give a full and thorough treatment to the question.

It is not often that students get an opportunity to personally question an author of the recognized status of Mr. Faulkner. The audience apparently appreciated the chance to do so, and there were few if any lulls in the discussion. When the session was over, Mr. Faulkner spoke briefly with a few members of the gathering. Then, still clutching his pipe, he wandered off into the peaceful, scholarly atmosphere of the University campus.

CAMPUS HUMOR

(ACP) — Definition from the HOLCAD, Westminister College, New Wilmington, Pennsylvania:

Pathologist: One who can find his way through the woods.

The Rotunda

ELLA V. CARTER
Editor-in-Chief

Linda Doles ..... Managing Editor
Norma Jenrett ..... Business Manager
Bet McLaughlin ..... News Editor
Judy Eckstrom ..... Feature Editor
Patsy Powell ..... Sports Editor
Cornelia Batte ..... Desk Editor
Pat Wilmoth ..... Photography
Nan Brimmer, Melinda Franklin ..... Art

REPORTERS: Henrietta Dollins, Ann Glover, Calvert King, Virlinda Joyner, Eleanor Gurganus, Nancy Thomas, Margie Layman, Ann Presson, Carolyn Stonnell, Mary Weld, Emily Johnson, Sally Parrott, Shelby Johnson, Bev Carpenter, Shirley Saunders, Violet Scott, Eleanor Leach.

COLUMNISTS: Rose Marie Lawrence, Ernestine Stoltz.

CIRCULATION: Jean Anderson, Manager; Amanda Dillon, Diane Doughty, Nancy Ferguson, Ginny Herre, Sue Jett, June Lee May, Becky McGrath, Judy Rawls, Linda Saunders, Betty Spivey, Betty Mallory, Jo Hartman, Alice Powell.

ADVERTISING: Anne Hill, Manager; Susie Barr, Maxine Crowder, Nancy Drudge, Ella Gray, Shirley McNeal, Becky Parker, Alice Sawyer.

Published by the students of Longwood College. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service, Inc. Printed by The Farmville Herald. Office Box 188, Longwood College, Farmville, Va.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Date of Examination	8:05 Period	1:05 Period
Saturday, May 25	Classes meeting 8:05 M. W. F or 8:05 M. T. W. T. F
Monday, May 27	Classes meeting 9:05 M. W. F or 9:05 M. T. W. T. F	Classes meet 1:05 M. W. F.
Tuesday, May 28	Classes meeting 10:05 T. T. S	Classes meet 11:05 M. W. F, or 11:05 M. T. W. T. F
Wednesday, May 29	Classes meeting 11:05 T. T. S or 11:05 T. T	Classes meet 8:05 T. T. S
Thursday, May 30	Classes meeting 10:05 M. W. F	Classes meet 2:05 M. W. F 3:05 M. W. F
Friday, May 31	Classes meeting 9:05 T. T. S	Classes meet 2:05 T. T and 3:05 T. T

Green and Whites Capture Coveted Color Cup

—Agee Studio

NANCY STRIPLIN, this year's Athletic Association president, presented the prized Color Cup to the winning Sophs and Seniors today in Senior Assembly. Barbara Odom and Frances Raine, class presidents of the Green and Whites, claim the cup for their second consecutive win.

Presidents Accept Annual AA Award

Nancy Striplin, past president of the Athletic Association, today presented the 1956-57 Color Cup to Barbara Odom of the Sophomore Class and Frances Raine of the Senior Class, as the green and white classes again claimed Longwood's coveted athletic award. The winning classes received 45 points competing in both individual and class sports, while the rival red and white classes earned 15 points.

The Class of '57 and the Class of '59 made an early start toward their second consecutive color cup by winning 10 points in the hockey tournament last fall. Next they captured 10 additional points in volleyball play. Five points were awarded to both the red and white classes and the green and white classes for basketball and swimming competition.

The spring sports found green and white still on top as they collected five points each for tennis singles, softball, and archery. Five points for class wisket went to Freshman Junior duo.

Displaying the green and white ribbons of the victors, the cup will be placed on the mantle in the Home Office for the next year.

Planning Begins For Equitation Club; Dr. Wellard To Sponsor Riding Group

By CAROLYN STONNELL

Much interest in horses has been aroused here through Dr. James Wellard, professor of English. This interest has been so well received by both the administration and the students that there are plans being made to organize a riding club next year with Dr. Wellard as its sponsor.

A number of ideas will be discussed at a meeting today at 5 o'clock in Dr. Wellard's classroom, West Wing — 34. Those students who can bring their horses next semester are asked to come and any others interested in the club.

Dr. Wellard has been associated with horsemen for many years both in the United States and Italy. He received his instruction in equitation at one of the most renowned riding academies of Europe and is acquainted with many of the international horsemen, such as, members of the national jumping teams of England and Italy who participate in the Olympics. Recently, one of Dr. Wellard's previous horses has come into the ownership of Don Guibo D'inzeo one of the famed D'inzeo brothers of the Italian team.

Primarily interested in the hunter (jumping horse), Dr. Wellard has been a member of the hunt club in Rome where he served as an honorary Whippers-In. Here in the states, Dr. Wellard has hunted with the Hillsboro Hunt of Memphis, Tennessee and with the Keswick Hunt in Charlottesville.

Having a genuine interest in riding, Dr. Wellard would like to help in organizing a riding club at Longwood.

Since the college does not have the facilities to offer equitation in the Physical Education Department, the only solution seems to be that of having the students bring their own horses. By using the stables free of charge at Longwood Estate, the only expense involved would be the feed, and the administration is working with a plan to provide transportation out to the stables.

In working with the club, Dr. Wellard would like to stress the point that riding is a sport for lady-like and gentleman-like attitudes and that the horse is not a push button machine, but an animal of feeling whose companionship can only be had through patience and gentleness. Also, correct riding form, proper care of the horse and safety will be goals of achievement. In this manner the club would be a learning device as well as for pleasure.

19 Longwood Girls Prepare To Attend Fall Hockey Camp

By DELO DOVE

Hockey sticks are shined with special care, shin guards are mended with a careful touch, mud is pounded from the cleats of hockey shoes and tunics are pressed neatly—all preliminary preparation for Hockey Camp.

Nineteen Longwood girls are preparing for the annual trip to the camp. Located at Tobyhanna, Pennsylvania, in the Pocono Mountains, the camp is directed by Miss Constance M. Appleby, who is assisted by several American and English coaches.

Making the trip north during the week of September 6-13 will be Carol Wolfe, Nancy Richardson, Louise Heier, Annie V. Weaver, Nancy Andrews, Linda Vess, Sandy Fitzgerald, Willie Taylor, Jackie Waller, Delo Dove, Barbara Odom, Gayle Cunningham, Mary Lou Morgan, Pat Campbell, Carol Vick, Claudia Whipple, Jean O'Connell, Josie Curry, and Doris Kesling.

Two Received Scholarships

Two of the girls are recipients of hockey camp scholarships. Louise Heier has been chosen to receive a scholarship awarded annually by Miss Appleby to a Longwood girl. Jean O'Connell has been awarded a scholarship, donated by Miss Elizabeth Burger of the Longwood College Science Department.

College and high school teams from the eastern United States attend hockey camp each summer to learn new skills, to improve old ones, and to gain experience through competition with other teams. Each day begins with a familiar call rrr-run (with a rolled r). One hour each morning and one each afternoon are devoted to practicing skills. There is also an hour period of actual play.

Archers Defeat Westhampton, W and M; Tennis Stars Crushed As Rivals Triumph

Longwood has racked up victories in two archery tournaments this spring. Meeting Westhampton here on May 11, the Blue and White five topped their rivals 1320 — 945. Nancy Andrews of Longwood was top scorer with 393 points.

Officiating were Elaine Weddle as Lady Paramount and Margie Anderson as Master Scorekeeper. Julia Grey Wallace, Virginia McLemore, Betty Sue Barbee, Be-Bo Bowling and Pat Baugh were scorers.

Meeting at Williamsburg on May 14, Longwood archers again gained honors by defeating William and Mary 1195 — 1077.

Longwood's Nancy Andrews once more showed her skill and was declared high scorer with 326 points.

Longwood
Andrews, H.	393
Cunningham, G.	312
Glenn, J.	246
Obenchain, C.	252
Richardson, N.	157
Total	1320
Westhampton
Taber	259
Gray	270
Harvey	249
Taylor	63
Spencer	134
Total	945
Longwood
Andrews, N.	326
Cunningham, G.	217
Richardson, N.	217
Obenchain, C.	245
Glenn, J.	180
Total	1195
William & Mary
McCorquodak	152
Cloyes	320
Kalber	215
Berkowitz	251
Massie	139
Total	1077

In tennis matches played May 11, on the Longwood courts, Westhampton handed a crushing defeat to the Blue and White players. With a 5-0 score Longwood went under for three singles and two doubles matches. Lou Heier, Carol Wolfe, and Sandy Fitzgerald met Westhampton in singles play, while Annie V. Weaver and Judy Holderman and Linda Vess and Jean Fairfax saw double action.

Longwood again saw defeat on May 14, as William and Mary triumphed 3-1 at Williamsburg. Lou Heier, Carol Wolfe, and Judy Holderman lost in singles play. The Blue and Whites saw their only victory as Jean Fairfax and Judy Holderman triumphed in a double match. The second double match of the day in which Lou Heier and Carol Wolfe represented Longwood was called before completion.

Classes Complete '57 Spring Sports

by VIOLET SCOTT

Green and White's song of victory once again sounded in the halls of Longwood College, as the archery tournament and the softball game added 10 more points toward the Color Cup. The sophomores and seniors defeated the freshmen and juniors 1393 to 1022 in the archery tournament and triumphed 23-3 in softball competition.

Obenchain Leads

The archery tournament played on May 8 and May 10 found Carolyn Obenchain in first place for green and white with 340 points. Gayle Cunningham came in second with 317 points, and Nancy Andrews captured third place with 298 points. Other green and white archers were Elaine Weddle and Janie Glenn.

Richardson Pulls Up Score

High for red and white was Nancy Richardson with 276 points. Marjorie Anderson and Be-Bo Bowling took second and third places with Anderson shooting 228 points and Bowling scoring 203. Jean O'Connell and Clara Floege hit 181 and 144 points respectively.

On May 9, the green and white softball team defeated their red and white rivals, 23-3. On the mound for green and white was Delo Dove and behind the plate was Linda Vess. Weston Walker, starting pitcher for red and white, was relieved in the first inning by Marilyn Murphy, who finished the game. Nancy Richardson held the catcher's position.

Heir Defeats Wolfe

Sophomore Lou Heier added five points to the green and white score in competition for the color cup, by defeating junior Carole Wolfe 2-1 in single's tennis play. Carole Wolfe took the lead winning the first set 6-4, but Heier came from behind to take the next two.

Richardson Awarded Silver Contest Prize

Addie Ann Richardson, of Arlington, an art major at Longwood College, recently won an award in the nation-wide "Silver Opinion Competition" contest sponsored by a national silver company.

Miss Richardson, a freshman, won as a prize, a starter set of sterling, china and crystal, for an essay submitted in the Reed and Barton competition, which gave college scholarships ranging from $500 to $100 as grand prizes.

Entries, from Longwood, for this contest were managed by Melinda Franklin a sophomore majoring in art, from Richmond.

Arrangements Made For Summer School

Longwood College has announced the 1957 summer session program which will begin June 10 and end August 10. The program is designed for teachers and prospective teachers who wish to: renew teaching certificates, work toward graduate or undergraduate degrees, accelerate their college programs, or take special courses for advancement in other areas.

Special emphasis has been placed on programs for former teachers who wish to work toward reinstatement of their teaching certificates and those who wish to renew their certificates. A wide range of courses is offered in theory and techniques of classroom procedure as well as in the different subject areas.

Three-week courses for graduates and advanced undergraduates will start June 10 and end June 28. The six-weeks courses will begin July 1 and end August 10. They also are for graduate and advanced undergraduates. Eight-week courses for undergraduates will begin June 17 and end August 10.

Courses will be offered in the fields of art, biology, business education, chemistry, economics, education, English, and general science.

Landrum's Article Seen In Journal

An article by Mrs. Emily K. Landrum, associate professor pf physical education at Longwood College entitled, "The Problem-Solving Method in Teaching Team Sports" appears in the April issue of the Journal of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. Learning experiences at Longwood freshmen physical education classes have formed the basis for this approach to teaching physical education. The article is the result of six years experimental research into the problems of learning to like physical education.

The teaching-learning process is based upon two integrals: skills and the group process. Learning is centered around three levels or areas. They are: the basic skills necessary for learning the game at a level commensurate with one's level of ability; learning to play a position through basic or other more complex skills in many game situations; and learning to play as a part of a group which becomes meaningful for all individuals.

Other articles by Mrs. Landrum include "Bringing Modern Dance to Secondary Schools" which appeared in the June, 1949 issue of the Journal of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, and "Who Should Teach Dance," published December, 1948 in the Dance Observer.

GRADUATION GIFTS!
Bibles
Dictionaires
Poetry Collections
Inspirational Books
Stationery
Typewriters
WEYANOKE
BOOK SHOP

WILSON'S HOME AND AUTO
Little Darlin'
Party Doll
All Shook Up
Come Go With Me
Butterfly
Round and Round
Gone
I'm Walking
School Day
Mama Look at Bubu

Norcross Cards
Whitman Candy
Fountain Service
—at—
OWEN-SANFORD DRUG COMPANY

The Very Best of Beautiful Fresh Flowers at COLLINS FLORIST
Phone 181

Daily Hear the Mutual Baseball Game of the Day
Richmond Virginians on Sunday
WFLO on Your Radio Dial

"Your Ivy League Headquarters"
Try Bermuda Shorts and Blouses
$2.98 up
1st Floor
Sportswear Dept.
LEGGETT'S DEPARTMENT STORE

STUDY FOR EXAMS!
with
Barnes & Noble College Outlines and Everyday Handbooks
WEYANOKE
BOOK SHOP
(Free Blotters)

Are You Hungry and Thirsty, too?
Then the Snack's the place for you!
COME ON DOWN
The Snack Bar

Professor Receives Praise During Testimonial Banquet

Martin Boyd Coyner was entertained at dinner Thursday night by members of the Longwood College department of education and as a tribute to his 42 years of teachers at the college who, will terminate with his retirement in June.

A "book of love" containing testimonial letters received from former students, was presented to Mr Coyner by Dr. Earl R. Bowen who acted as toastmaster for the occasion at Longwood House. The bound volume consisted of letters from former students residing in sixteen different states, whose present occupations range from college professors, public school teachers, an executive clerk for a governor, to housewives, mothers and grandmothers.

Gift of Luggage

Luggage was presented to the retiring psychology professor by Dr. John P. Wynn on behalf of the department. Dr. Wynn, in making the presentation, stated that he had never known a more sincere man than Mr. Coyner.

Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, president emeritus of Longwood and close friend of the retiring professor, said that the college "never had a better teacher than Mr. Coyner," and that he is a "strong right arm for the institution." It is "fortunate that Mr. Coyner married such a good help mate," Dr. Lancaster further stated.

I have "only regretted my association with Mr. Coyner hasn't been longer," Dr. Francis G. Lankford, Jr., Longwood president said. He has rendered 'strong support for my stay at Longwood College."

'Happy Years'

"Calypso of 1914," the title of the entertainment portion of the program feaured popular college songs of that era, adopted for the occasion. The group was lead in the singing by Miss Carol Carson, a music major at the college.

The years at Longwood have been happy years, Mr. Coyner said. They were even "happier when I returned". Four years were spent away from Farmville for further study, World War I, and other teaching assignments, since he first came in 1914). The "college has grown in spirit competence and achievement" he added.

Twenty-nine guest, were present.

Former Graduate To Attend Oxford

Miss Nancy Nelson, teacher of English at Hammond High School, Alexandria, has been granted a residence post at Lady Margaret College, Oxford, for the next academic year where she will study on a Rotary International Fellowship. A graduate of Newport News High School, Miss Nelson attended Longwood College where she graduated with honors in 1955.

At Oxford Miss Nelson will specialize in English literature of the Renaissance and will do a research project under the direction of Dr. Kathleen Lea, vice-principal of Lady Margaret College which is one of six residential halls for women at Oxford.

One of 123 outstanding graduates from 30 countries to receive a Rotary Fellowship, Miss Nelson was a student leader in a number of extra-curricular activities at Longwood and was chosen for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. The Rotary Club of Newport News sponsored her for the Fellowship.

Fraidie Cats!

ACP — Definition from the dictionaries across the country have been lamenting the lack of persons who come to health services for polio shots.

Why don't they come, they ask. The usual statement: Apathy generally gets the credit.

But one University of Texas student tells the DAILY TEXAN in no uncertain terms what he believes the reason is. In a letter, Billy Newton III says:

I believe I can enlighten you on why the majority of UT students have neglected to take their polio shots. It's very simple. They are cowards! Sissies! 'Fraidy cats!

The horrible truth is that they are afraid of the tiny stick of a hypodermic needle.

I can indeed sympathize. My father is a doctor. My mother is a nurse. I feel like a sieve. Throughout my life I have been injected with vats of cold serum, penicillin. . . have had blood drawn at whim. I have a terrific allergy for needles and had just as soon be hit by a street car as to be "stuck."

But it would be better to "suffer" the quick stick of a needle than chance suffering a lifelong pain, wouldn't it?

Pi Gamma Mu Gets Six New Members

Pi Gamma Mu, national Social Science honor society now consisting of 27 members, held initiation service on May 8 at the Alumnae House. Six new members were initiated. They are: Ann Brierley, Winifred Biddlecomb, Kate Krehbiel, Martha Elder, Pat Patton, and Mary Holland.

Dr. Gary S. Dunbar, instructor of History and Social Sciences, spoke to the group on "What Is Geography?"

The purposes of the organization are to advance the cause of scientific study of social problems and to encourage high ideals of scholarship, the attitude and methods of science, and the desire of social service.

The graduating members of Pi Gamma Mu are: Loretta Kuhn, Camille Atwood, Suzanne Bunting, Caroline Stoneman, Bobbie Scott, Williams, Becky Riddick, Sandra Dyer, Florence King, Charlotte Philips, Jean Hines Morris, Harry Lancaster, Betty McAden, Jeanne Saunders, and Mary Sission.

Confederate Letter From 'Old' Longwood Featured in Journal

An envelope bearing the return address of Farmville Female College, now Longwood, was featured on the cover of the October, 1956 issue of Sanders' Philatelic (stamp collectors) Journal published in Southampton, England. The Journal was only recently received by Dr. George W. Jeffers, professor of biology at Longwood and a stamp collector, in a shipment of back issues of the publication. At the time this issue was printed, the stamped envelope was for sale, but upon inquiry it was learned that is has since been sold.

Printed on the upper left hand corner of the envelope are the words, "Farmville Female College, A. Preot, President." On the upper right hand corner is a blue ten cent Confererate stamp bearing Jefferson Davis' picture. On either side of the picture are the words. "Confererate States of America." The postmark is Rice's Depot, Va., with APL (April) printed and the date, 11 written by hand. The letter is addressed to "Mr. Joseph B. Friend, Drakes Branch, Charlotte Co., Va., S.S. R.R. (Southside Railroad). On the lower left hand corner is the word, "Important".

The Journal editor, in writing about the envelope states, "The cover is a little rough on the two sides due to the poor quality of the paper, probably made in the South during the Civil War. It is, however, a fine example of a rare and interesting item." He also states, "We have seen a cover with Farmville Female Institute, A. Preot, president, with fancy typeset border of the same period."

Commencement

Continued from page 1

man Auditorium at 3 p. m. for the Commencement Exercises.

After Dr Darden's address, the choir, which will also take part in the baccalaureate address, will give a selection. Dr. Lankford will then confer degrees on the graduates and announce the names of the honor graduates.

"LET'S HAVE A PARTY!" say First Floor Annex Seniors as they fill the room for one of their now numbered gab sessions here.

Seniors Sign Contracts, Make Plans For Work After Coming Graduation

Seventy eight seniors have signed contracts for teaching in public schools in Virginia this fall. Others have accepted work outside the teaching field.

Those who will be teaching in Alexandria are Betty Atkins, Phyllis Daniels, Loretta Kuhn, and Sylvia Wright.

New teachers in Amherst will be Elizabeth Elliott; Alleghany County, Loretta Dressler; Bedford County, Ann Caldwell: Blacksburg, Judith Shields; and Chesterfield County, Diane Acree, Shirley Childs, and Carolee Silcox.

Teaching In Danville

Seven seniors have teaching positions in Danville. They are Lillie Mae Bennett, Mary Jo Davis, Carrie Hale, Virginia Hayes, Betty Hodnett, Charlotte Phillips, and Jeanette Puckette.

Virginia Crockett Ingle will teach in Cumberland County, and Elizabeth Perkinson will teach in Dinwiddie. In Fairfax will be Margaret Redd; Fauquier County, Margaret Hawkins; Hanover, Barbara Roller Hardie; Lynchburg, Ann White Thomas Matthews; and Mecklenburg, Rita Hite Nelson.

Eight Longwood Seniors will be seen teaching in Henrico next fall. They are Barbara Bane, Suzanne Bunting, Sandra Frye, Hazel Hanks, Margaret Hudnall, Catherine Nelson, Ann Savedge, and Ellen Hamlett Willis.

Martinsville Schools

The four students who will be teaching in Martinsville schools include Margaret Beavers, Josephine Hillsman, Jeanne Saunders, and Nancy Striplin.

Other teaching positions are Nelson County, Jane Wood; Newport News, Belle Fitzgerald, Gloria Kratzsch, and Frances Raine; Norfolk City, Gale Branch and Barbara Ward; Norfolk County, Florence King and Elsie Meade Webb; Petersburg, Gayle Peoples; Portsmouth, Barbara Benedict and Evelyn Rowe; Prince Edward, John Austin; Prince William, Hazel Bell, Katherine Naugle, Virginia Pearce, Joyce Pulley, and Daisy Jane Spain.

Princess Ann, Charlotte Ann Fudge, Patricia Powell, and Shirley Tennison; Roanoke City, Nancy Lea Harris; Roanoke County, Frances Brown and Mary Stewart Sisson; Quantico Post, Martha Elder; Staunton, Shirley Hardy and Anne Miller; Southampton, Jackie Edwards Bly; South Norfolk, Delores Winder Grimstead; Suffolk, Rebecca Riddick, and Mary Robertson, and Virginia Beach, Carol Carson and Jacqueline Pond.

Warwick, Jacqueline Adams and Mary Mayo; Wairren, Vivian Lee Willett and Nita Young; Waynesboro, Patricia Jones; Westmoreland County, Jessie Casey; and Williamsburg, Nancy Lenz.

Other Contracts For Two

Students who will not teach but have not given specific plans are Jane Brugh, William McKissick, Patricia Parker, and Caroline Stoneman.

Other students who give their plans as "to be married" are Anne Wayne Fuller, Nancy Hughes, Christine Hulvey, Joan Jones, Esther Florence Pollard, Jane Railey, and Norma Reamy.

Taking his place in the Army will be Freddy Stables.

Martha Joyner has accepted a position with American Airlines.

Two students, Jeanette Morris and Nancy Quarles, will attend graduate school.

Employed for stenographic work at Longwood and Radford will be Jean Parrot and Mary Alice Powell Roberts, respectively.

Carolyn Clark will enter Social Service. Camille Atwood has accepted a position as technician at Norfolk General Hospital.

Teaching in California will be Elsie Wells. Jean Morris and Dorothy Ann Thomas plan to teach in North Carolina.

Approximately 20 seniors have not yet signed contracts, although they plan to teach this fall.

Student Religious Groups Close Year

By ROSE MARIE LAWRENCE

Baptist

Amid spring cleaning at the Center, the B.S.U.'ers took time out to plan a party for the Baptist seniors that will soon be leaving. The fellowship was held after church Sunday night and everyone present enjoyed the program.

The choir, conducted by Elaine Weddle, sang for its last time this year Sunday the 19.

We are very pleased that many of our girls are planning to do summer work in their home churches. Plans are now being processed for the Pre-School Retreat to be held in September.

Episcopal

Officers for 1957-58 were elected at the April 7 meeting: George Hunter, president, Addie Ann Richardson and John Robbins, vice-presidents, Linda Allen, secretary, and Adair Camp will be treasurer. Installation of officers was held this month.

The Rev. Jean A. Vache will be the two-year advisor for the Virginia Canterbury Association. Linda Allen was elected vice-president of the Association.

Those from Longwood attending the Virginia Canterbury Conference at Roslyn, Richmond, on April 13-14 were Anne Barnes, Anne Caldwell, Myra Brush, Nancy Winfree, Pat Farrington, and Linda Allen.

Vernon Austen, past president of Canterbury Club, who is now attending General Seminary in New York, spoke to the group April 28.

Methodist

Sunday night, May 21, was the last meeting of the year for Wesley Foundationers. A musical program was presented at 7 p.m. in the fellowship room. A short period of recreation and fellowship followed.

Presbyterian

Last week we had a marvelous time on our picnic outing at Willis Mountain. The vesper hour, led by Dave Moore, was indeed inspiring as we gathered on the mountainside just as the sun began to set.

Sunday night, May 19, the program was led by our graduating seniors.

This Sunday evening, May 26, Communion Service for the Westminster Fellowship will be at 7 o'clock in the sanctuary of the church. This is our last Sunday together, and we hope everyone will be there.

Competition Open For Study Abroad With Fulbright, Buenos Aires Awards

Competitions for Fulbright and Buenos Aires Convention scholarships for graduate study abroad for 1958-59 are now open, it was announced by Kenneth Holland, President of the Institute of International Education.

Fulbright awards for pre-doctoral study and research in Europe, Latin America and Asia cover tuition, books and maintenance for one academic year. The Buenos Aires Convention scholarships provide transportation from the U. S. government and maintenance from the government of the host country.

Eligibility requirements for these foreign study fellowships are United States citizenship, a college degree or its equivalent by the time the award will be used, knowledge of the language of the country of application sufficient to carry on the proposed study, and good health. Preference is given to applicants not more than 35 years of age.

Countries where U. S. graduate students may study under the Fulbright Act are Australia, Austria, Belgium, Burma, Chile, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, India, Israel, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, the Philippines, and the United Kingdom. In the Asian countries—Burma, India, Japan and the Philippines, as well as in Greece, only a limited number of grants is available, and mature graduate candidates are preferred.

Countries participating in the Buenos Aires Convention Program are Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru and Venezuela.

Competition Ends Nov. 1

Competition for the 1958-59 academic year closes November 1, 1957. Applicants enrolled at academic institutions must abide by the submission deadlines established by their respective Fulbright advisers.

Further information about these awards and application blanks are available in the offices of Fulbright advisers on college and university campuses.

The programs under the Fulbright Act and the Buenos Aires Convention are part of the international educational exchange activities of the Department of State. They will give almost 1000 American citizens a chance to study abroad during the 1958-59 academic year. Since the establishment of these programs, over 6500 American students have received grants for foreign study.

Workman To Head Drama Group

By CALVERT KING

Molly Workman, a rising junior, recently was elected to serve as the new Alpha Psi Omega president. Other officers chosen for the year are Donna Boone, vice president; Cat Ozman, secretary; and Vickie Brinkley, treasurer.

Initiation of new members to this national honorary dramatic society was also held. Those being initiated were Donna Boone, Vicki Brinkley, Nancy Brubeck, Hannah Halle, Carol Lash, Pat Leake, Amy McFall, Cat Ozmon, Ann Wheeler, and Molly Workman.

This spring Alpha Psi Omega produced two one-act plays. Carollee Silcox directed Eugene O'Neill's Before Breakfast, which was acted by Flo Soholan.

"The Electronic Triangle"

Another most interesting play produced was written by one of Longwood's professors, Dr. James Wellard. Entitled "The Electronic Triangle," it was directed by David Wiley. Those having roles in the play were Dr. Wellard, Molly Workman, John Lynn, Nancy Morton, Jo Ann Sloop, and Hannah Halle.

Sponsor of the Better Films Series, Alpha Psi Omega states that this year's set of films was well received; however, more support of this opportunity is urged next year. This society is small in number due to the numerous qualifications to reach before becoming a member; however, it hopes to do more for the school and maintain its high standards in dramatics.

'58 Virginian Staff Now Announced

Carole Stroupe Wirt, Editor of the 1958 Virginian announces that Ann Brierley will serve as assistant editor of the Virginian. Shirley Hauptman, Business Manager, will have Dot Boswell as her assistant.

Literary Editor will be Betsy Ruckman, Jane Kell as Photography Editor, and Vann Thacer, art editor.

Margie Crismond will serve as a member from the Senior Class, and Weedie Norman, Nancy Knowles from the Junior Class. The Sophomore Class, will be represented by Barbara Bishop, Martha Sue Clark, Nancy Donaldson, Jane McCorkle, and Helen Wente.

Theater Group Work In Store for Boone

Donna Clair Boone, of Marion, has been selected as one of several promising college actresses to work in Fletcher Collins' Oak Grove Theatre in Staunton, this summer.

The Oak Grove Theatre will stage four productions this season. Those selected for the job do all the work in connection with staging the events. They construct scenery during the day, and rehearse during the evening. Some of the members of the theatre colony also direct children's theatre work in nearby communities.

An English major, Donna plans to enter a graduate school for speech and drama, or to teach English, after her graduation from Longwood. She has taken part in two one-act plays in addition to roles in "Blood Wedding", "The Skin of Our Teeth", and "The Crucible", major play productions at the college. She is a member of the Longwod Players, the college dramatic club.

"Developing Independence in Arithmetic" - A Report of a Research Study With Implications For The Teacher of General Math, was the topic when Dr. Francis G. Lankfor, Jr., spoke at the National Science Foundation Institute held at the University of Wisconsin, in Madison, Wisconsin.

Dr. Lankford attended this Institute for science and mathematics, and was one of the guests speakers on the program.

Hallmark Cards
Popular Cosmetics
—at—
GRAY'S
DRUG STORE

Film 620 . 127 . 120
2 rolls—85c
Develop and Print
8 exposures—39c
12 exposures—55c
Your Eastman Kodak
Dealer
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

S. W. TEACHERS AGENCY
Albuquerque, N. M.
1303 Central N. W.—
Teachers Wanted West,
Southwest and Alaska
Salaries $4000 up.
Free Registration

The Rotunda

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., October 2, 1957 | No. 1

Brierley Edits '58 Virginian

Ann Brierley, a senior day student majoring in Biology, formerly assistant editor of the 1958 Virginian, has recently been appointed editor of this publication. The appointment came as a result of Carol Stroupe Wirt's failure to return to Longwood this fall.

Assisting Ann with the publication of the 1958 Virginian will be Betsy Ruckman as Literary Editor, Jane Kell as Photography Editor, and Van Thacker as Art Editor. Also, Shirley Hauptman as Business Manager, and Dot Boswell as Assistant Business Manager. Senior Representative is Margie Chismond, and Junior Representatives are Weedie Norman and Nancy Knowles. Sophomore Representatives are Helen Wente, Barbara Biskop, Martha Clark, and Nancy Donaldson.

McCorkle To Advise

Mr. Thomas A. McCorkle, professor of Chemistry and Physics; Mr. Foster B. Gresham, assistant professor of English; and Miss Virginia Bedford, associate professor of Art are staff advisors. Mr. McCorkle will serve as general advisor, Mrs. Gresham as literary advisor, and Miss Bedford as art advisor.

Ann, besides holding the position of editor of the 1958 Virginian, holds office in Pi Delta Epsilon and Sigma Sigma Sigma. She is also a member of Canterbury Club, Pi Gamma Mu, the Longwood Library League, and the Cotillion Club.

Flash! Flash!

And cameras will soon begin to flash as the new 1958 Virginian staff gets the yearbook's plans underway. Subscriptions to the annual are now being taken. Members of this group will continue to keep receipt books ready for writing until the first of November. The cost of the Virginian is set at $8.00.

Although the theme and dedication of the yearbook will not be revealed until the book is presented to the student body next spring, the '58 staff has begun work along this line.

The Four Freshmen will appear in person in Jarman Auditorium, Oct. 10 at 8 p. m.

The performance is being sponsored by the following organizations for the benefit of the Dabney S. Lancaster Scholarship Fund: The Student Government, Alpha Kappa Gamma, A. A. Council, House Council, Y.W.C.A., sophomore, junior, and senior classes, and all eight social sororities and the Pan Hellenic Council.

Tickets are now on sale at $2.00 per person.

Asian Flu Vaccine Not Available Yet

No immediate danger of the spread of Asian flu is present on this campus. According to the college physician, Dr. John G. Graziani, there are only a few probable cases reported in Virginia as of September 30.

Notwithstanding all the publicity and almost frantic requests for inoculations with Asian Flu vaccine, it simply is not available in sufficient amounts for general administration. The public, and that includes our college community, has to wait its turn.

Dr. Graziani advises that each student get the Asiatic Flue vaccine from her family physician if at all possible. He reports that 100 doses of the flu vaccine are expected to come in here at any time. But if more comes later, there will still not be enough doses to take care of all the students who have asked for it at this time.

If a person should contract the disease, it is a comparatively mild type of flu, but it will put a patient to bed for about a week with a seven to ten day recovery period.

The flu vaccine is distributed on a percentage basis, that is, the amount of vaccine a state receives is in accordance to population. Armed forces have first priority for the vaccine. Next in line are the doctors, nurses, staffs of hospitals, patients with chest and heart disease, diabetic, the very old, the very young, pregnant women, key municipal and institutional personnel, and then the general public.

Cappings Mark Year's Opening

Lankford Presides At Senior Capping

Another school session at Longwood College was officially begun with the two traditional cappings taking place. On September 19, the "High and Mighty" Sophomore Class capped the freshmen at the traditional Rat Capping. On September 23, in Jarman Auditorium, Dr. Francis G. Lankford capped the members of the senior class.

In this traditional college ceremony, approximately 130 seniors were capped to commemorate the beginning of their senior year. Dixie Hilliard opened the program with a solo, followed by a devotional led by Rev. Hudgins, pastor of the Methodist Church. After the capping ceremony, Dr. Lankford addressed the Senior Class.

Walton Announces Publication Plans

Pat Walton, editor-in-chief of the Colonnade, Longwood College's literary magazine, announces this week that the first issue is expected to be out November 20.

Featured in the November publication will be a series of articles on fine arts including music, dance, literature and art. The center spread will add a touch of art and perhaps humor with pictures and cartoons.

Besides serving as editor of the Colonnade, Pat Walton, a Senior from Covington, is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, Beore Eh Thorn, and Kappa Delta Pi as well as technical director of Longwood Players.

Assisting Pat in various departments are Carolyn Waugaman, managing editor; Amy McFall, art; Judy Alexander, essay; Nancy Brubeck, poetry; Molly Workman, review; Evelyn Roache, short story editor; Betty Griggs, business manager; Mary Ellen Moore, circulation manager; and Barbara Rossiter, head typist.

Dr. Richard K. Meeker, professor of English, serves as faculty advisor.

—Camera Artist

PRESIDENT LANKFORD caps senior class president, Shirley Hauptman, as her "Y" Little Sister, Carolyn DeHaven, looks on.

Period Of Ratting To Reach Climax As Sophs Prepare

Rat Day Coming Soon

Rat Capping was the opening of the period of ratting which leads up to Rat Day, which will take place Saturday, October 5. As the theme of this year's Rat Day, the freshmen will be "Worms." The materials needed for the costume are: 1 roll of red crepe paper, light weight cardboard paper, scotch tape or stapler, pipe cleaners, belt, red construction paper and a long red balloon. The price for these articles is not to exceed 50 cents. Freshmen are allowed to go in with friends to buy these articles. The costume will be demonstrated at a class meeting before Rat Day.

The Red and White song is to be sung to the tune of "Glowworm." Freshmen are required to memorize and be able to recite "Joan of Arc," Patron Saint of Longwood College, and the Rat Day sign off.

"Joan of Arc" is as follows:

"Who in the moment of Victory
Remains inaccessible to vanity and hate.
Who in the midst of popular enthusiasm
Lives in humility and prayer.
Who in the universal crush of ambition
Covets neither profit nor honour."

The sign off is:

I, Rat ——, from ——, am a seditious, socialistic, freshman and seem to sense that the sensationally, sagacious sophomores stand stable, steadfast, and staunch since stratosphere started. Such singular stamina surely speaks splendid success. Sophomores should really sever all connections with silly, shallow freshmen, since they are scraping in a sciamach.

The Camera Artist

Head Rat in '56, Sophomore Pat Baugh.

The rules of rat day are:

1. All freshmen are to be in the gym at 6:00 Saturday morning.

2. You must make fifteen minute appointments with Sophomores. You must have at least ten. These appointments are to be made after breakfast, Friday. You must have enough appointments to occupy your free time until 2:00 p.m. Saturday.

3. No freshmen can return to her room for anything except books.

(Continued on page 4)

Va. Banker To Speak For Fall Convocation

Thomas C. Boushall, president of the Bank of Virginia, will be the guest speaker for the fall convocation to be held tomorrow at 1 p. m. in Jarman Hall.

President Boushall will address a regular assembly of the student body, preceding an academic procession of the faculty.

Music for the convocation will be furnished by Miss Josephine Bailey, assistant professor of music, who will play the organ, and James K. McCombs, assistant professor of music, who will sing.

Faculty, Staff Acquire Thirteen New Members

There are many new additions and replacements to the Longwood College faculty and staff for the 1957-58 session.

Miss Ruth B. Wilson succeeds Miss Ruth Gleaves as the Dean of Women and associate professor of Education.

Richard B. Brooks

Mr. Richard B. Brooks, the new associate Professor of Education comes to Longwood from the College of William and Mary, where he has been located for the past several years. Mr. Brooks received his B.P.E. degree from Springfield College, and M.A. degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

Mary Kemble

The new Assistant Professor of Music, Mrs. Mary Kemble, received a B.S. degree in Public School Music from Mansfield State Teachers College, and a M.S. degree in Music Education at the University of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Kemble has been a member of the faculty at the University of Maryland for the past nine years.

John P. Kennedy

Mr. John P. Kennedy, Instructor in Sociology, received his B.A. and M.A. degrees at Emory University, where he has been a graduate fellow during 1956-57. Mr. Kennedy is employed jointly with Hampden-Sydney College.

Jacobus Lodewijks

Dr. Jacobus M. Lodewijks, replacing Mr. Merritt for the 1957-58 session as Assistant Professor of Biology, received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Leiden. He is a native of The Netherlands and has taught in a lyceum at The Hague since 1941.

William A. Noble

Instructor in History and Social Science, Mr. William A. Noble comes to Longwood from the University of Georgia, where he has been a graduate assistant since January, 1957. Mr. Noble received a B.A. degree from Emory University and a M. A. degree from the University of Georgia.

Edgar F. Stillwell

Dr. Edgar F. Stillwell, Assistant Professor of Biology was awarded a B.S. degree from Wagner College, and a Ph.D. degree from Duke University, where he has been a graduate student since 1952.

Aaron O'Bier

Mr. Aaron O'Bier comes to Longwood as research assistant to Dr. Brumfield in his work for the Atomic Energy Commission. Mr. O'Bier received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of Richmond and has been an Instructor in Biology in the School of Pharmacy at the Medical College of

(Continued on page 4)

Bailey To Perform At Recital Tuesday

Miss Josephine Bailey, assistant professor of Music, will present an organ recital in Jarman Hall next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

The program will begin with Ulrich Buxtehude's "Prelude, Fugue and Chaconne" and the chorale: "From God, I Ne'er Will Turn Me." She will also play "Concerto in A Minor" by Bach-Vivaldi. Next on the program will be Claude Louis D'Aquin's "Variations On Noel" and "Top and Bottom of the Trumpet Stop" by Louis-Nicolas Clerambault. The audience will also hear Cesar Franck's "Chorale in B Minor" and the Chorale: "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring". The recital will be concluded with the playing of Marcel Dupre's "Magnificant I" and "Prelude and Fugue in G Minor."

A native of Indianapolis, Indiana, Miss Bailey came to Longwood last year from St. Anne's Episcopal Church in Annapolis, Md., where she was organist and Choir Director for three years.

The organist holds the Master of Music degree from the Peabody Conservatory of Music, Baltimore, and the Bachelor of Science degree from the John Hopkins University, Baltimore and has studied subsequently at the Union Theological Seminary in New York.

New Dean Ruth Wilson Calls South 'Home'

By LINDA DOLES

One newcomer to Longwood's campus this fall who has been welcomed in a special way and wished a successful year is our new Dean of Women, Ruth Wilson.

Miss Wilson is not a "freshman" dean either, having just served as Assistant Dean of Women at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, nor is she new to a teachers' college, for she graduated from Slippery Rock State Teachers' College in Penn. She is filling the position left vacant by the resignation of Dean Ruth Gleaves who retired last spring after nine years of service to Longwood.

Missed Football Team

Except for "missing a football team" the new dean is interested in women's colleges and is "glad that Hampden-Sydney is close by so our girls can have some social life." Dean Wilson has already felt warmly accepted and is quickly becoming accustomed to life at Longwood.

"In the few weeks I've been here I couldn't have asked for a friendlier atmosphere than the one in which I find myself. The townspeople, faculty, and students have all united to make me feel that I am already a part of Longwood and I am looking forward to one of the happiest years I've ever had."

Longwood girls expressed mutual sentiments last week when the student body presented the new dean with roses and a welcoming serenade in front of her home.

Taught English

Miss Wilson has already had a well-rounded career in the education field. After 12 years of teaching English and other subjects in junior high and elementary schools in Pennsylvania, during which time she studied at the University of Pittsburgh for a master of letters degree, she decided to do student personnel work. She had this idea from college days when she "enjoyed being and working with people." Obtaining an assistantship award at Syracuse University, she took part in the personnel training program there where "the most im-

(Continued on page 4)

Camera Artist

NEW DEAN, Ruth B. Wilson, finds one thing missing—a football team.

To the Student Body:

May I take this opportunity to express to each of you my deepest appreciation for the cordial and sincere welcome you have extended to me. In a little less than three weeks you have made me feel very glad that I came to Longwood.

Last Thursday night your special welcome meant more to me than I can say. I shall never forget the sight of you standing there, the lovely sounds of your voices, the beautiful words to "my" song, and the roses that Frances presented to me from you.

And so to you from me—my thanks, my love, and a prayer that the Lord will bless and guide each of us as we begin this year together.

Ruth B. Wilson, Dean of Women

Editor's Note

Although I had the job of appointing a new staff last March when I became new editor, the new school year again presents the matter of adding to our staff. Today's issue shows the work of many old and new students here. I would like to express my most sincere appreciation for the tremendous response I have received from you new Freshmen and transfer students, as well as other students. The interest you have shown in working for this publication has indeed been new inspiration to me. I appreciate the many meetings you have attended in separate groups in order to have discussions concerning your experience and your interest in becoming a member of this newspaper's staff.

The complete staff will be listed in the next week's issue. After this period, I will hold discussion classes at convenient times in The Rotunda office for the benefit of those who would like to gain some experience in the various fields of journalism this publication has to offer.

A Fine Orientation Program, Students!

A last night home, a packed car, a girl in white before a building with endless windows starring down, a full week of new faces and meetings—and you're a Frosh.

September 15 will remain a memorable day for those entering the Longwood halls of ivy as well as those who were already waiting in the halls of ivy. Those entering were starry eyed Freshmen and transfer students. Those waiting to greet them included orientation leaders, members of Student Council, and the YWCA Cabinet and Commission. While mother and daughter ventured up the stairs to locate a room number and the recognizable face of a new roommate seen in a recent photo, faithful father awaited his turn at the end of an endless stream of cars, all containing new Teddy bears which protruded from club sandwich type cars.

Those helping conduct the orientation program returned to Longwood earlier to make plans for the busy week ahead which would bring a large number of new students to our campus. Holding most of the responsibility for the orientation program was SGA vice-president Lucia Hart. Miss Virginia Bedford served as the faculty member in charge of orientation.

The significant fact about their first week here is that Freshmen and new students learned about Longwood through the guidance of orientation leaders who were assigned to small groups. This method of students teaching new students is indeed to be commended. It is in part due to this carefully planned orientation week conducted directly by the students for the students that each student feels a personal welcome, that a friendly atmosphere develops immediately, and that our student body feels the beginning growth of a unity which has become a tradition here.

To Lucia Hart who headed orientation week, to SGA president Frances Patton who shared in the program, to Annette Crain who directed YWCA activities, and to all those other leaders who helped to make the program a success not only for a week but for the years ahead—sincere thanks for a job well done!

Overcrowded Conditions

No one questions the value of a good roommate at college, however it may seem possible that there is over generosity in the roommating situation this year. This situation may be new to many students, but it is a very common problem on many campuses. The regular enrollment at present is 885, as compared to 881 last fall. By classes, there are 320 freshmen, 31 less than last year; 250 sophomores, 27 more than last year; 187 juniors, 45 more than last year; and 128 seniors, 6 more than last year.

In his welcoming speech to the new students, Dr. Francis G. Lankford, Jr., gave the promise that one year hence the crowded conditions will be relieved. This year our dormitory space is overcrowded with 125 extra students. Discussing the new senior dormitory now under construction, the president assured the group that the problem of space has not only been realized but is now being met. The building will house 189 students, therefore easing the necessity of overcrowding rooms.

According to Dr. Lankford, the freshmen this year represent three out of every five that desired to come to Longwood, and one out of every five that entered high school four years ago. When considering this, we must realize that we must operate at full capacity. All dormitory space must be utilized if Longwood assumes its role in meeting the educational needs of the large number of students who are applying each year for admission.

The co-operation of the entire student body is very much needed at this time, and your help and understanding will be greatly appreciated.

"There's a man in my room! Lock the doors!"

Letter To The Editor

Rat Day

When the Freshmen of Longwood College first enter these halls of ivy, they immediately hear the upperclassmen (especially the Sophomores) whispering mysterious words. They see knowing glances exchanged, and they begin to wonder what the secret is. The conversations grow louder and "Rat Day" reaches the ears of the Frosh. A cruel laugh is heard, and the Freshmen realize that the "Rat" means them.

As the days pass, a night comes into being when the Rats begin their seemingly endless task of wearing little caps which makes their newness even more conspicuous. The Rats acquire a feeling of the doomed, and they begin to dread their day—Rat Day!

Rat Day is a tradition here at Longwood. It is a day in which the Freshman Class and the "mighty" Sophomore Class become very closely united. New acquaintances are made and cherished in a somewhat unusual manner, but these acquaintances are lasting ones. The trials are many but not impossible.

If a Rat should ask me how to approach this day, I would tell her to be a good sport. She would have to keep this thing in mind—that the Sophomores are really human, and not cruel monsters at heart. I would tell her to obey the odd commands given with a very serious expression on her face, and to remember that Rat Day will be a favorite memory after it is all over. Above all, I would tell her that a wrong attitude (a know-it-all) would gain her no respect from either her classmates or the upperclassmen.

And so, lowly Rats, your day is fast approaching. Try to capture the happy, but wondering, feeling of it. It's just for one day you know, but your attitude during this day will be a part of your future happiness here at Longwood, so I say again—be a good sport!

A Sophomore

Lost Chords

By JO ANN FIVEL

Strains of music float out across the campus of Longwood from every direction. College girls are definitely interested in music. All one has to do is to listen to know this. Let us listen in on some of the rooms around L. C.

Frosh Take "Cool"

Over in Ruffner a Freshman is listening to Elvis, Pat Boone, and Tommy Sands. It doesn't make much difference whether you play "Teddy Bear" or "Bernardine," just so long as it is by one of these "real cool cats."

The "high and mighty" Sophomores will probably be spending most of their time trying to think of a new tune to which the Frosh can sing "Red and White." Meanwhile their favorite records by Harry Belafonte will be getting quite a work-out. Some girl on first floor may just love "Mobile." That music major on third floor will probably be listening to Beethoven's "Fifth."

Meanwhile over in Junior building, Montavani may be the latest vogue. Girls go around humming the tune of some love song while through their minds run the thoughts of that boy they would love to date next Saturday night. The modern dance student is probably running her suite mates crazy while she creates to "The Quiet City" by Aaron Copland.

In Senior dorm you would probably find a student teacher listening to "Old MacDonald Had a Farm" in preparation for her first grade class tomorrow. When June rolls around all of Senior will be humming "Alma Mater". All year long strains of the "Wedding March" run through the thoughts and dreams of Seniors.

If you still don't believe that Longwood girls like music, let me take you to the Rotunda for one of our famous sings. Many nights during the year our girls get together to sing all our favorites. How many times have we sung ourselves hoarse with "Mary Margaret Truman" or "We Had Some Chickens"? All of this beautiful singing leads girls to the college choir.

Just go to Jarman any Monday or Wednesday at four o'clock and listen to the sounds emitting from the band room. Singing in the choir takes a lot of work, but there is fun too. Just think, at Christmas you may get to sing with the handsome fellows from U. Va.!

To mention one last sign of music on campus we must remain in Jarman Hall. One of the most popular rooms over there is the record library. Here students who wish to borrow records belonging to the school may do so. Although circulation is very good, it is certain that Dr. Molnar would not mind if a few hundred more of you came over to visit this little room.

Music is certainly a part of life here at L.C. Just you listen next time you go to visit a friend. She

Books In Our College Library

By LIZ MOSTELLER

With another new session of school ahead, the college library has added many new books to its shelves. Among them are the books given below:

1. By Love Possessed was written by James Gould Cozzens, the Pulitzer Prize winning author. The book is about forty-nine hours in the life of a respected and very small town lawyer. The "New York Times" book review says that Cozzens has written something rare in fiction, 'a long, rich complicated novel—not so much about love as against it." "Newsweek" labels Cozzens' first novel in nine years as "rich, complicated and majestic."

2. April Lady by Georgette Heyer is a gay, romantic novel about love and the complications it brings to some persons of title in London a hundred and fifty years ago. The book provides delightful, light reading with Nell Cardoss as the irresistible heroine whom nobody could allow out of sight. Heyer's other novels areEpring Muslin and The Tall Gate.

3. With Below the Salt, the master of the popular historical romance, Thomas B. Costain delivers another Grade A box-office performance in this swashbuckling recreation of the events that led King John to sign the Magna Charta in June of 1225.

4. The Moon by Night gives another swift moving novel of adventure and suspense, according to the "New York Tribune" Book Review. Written by Jay Parker, the book captures the beauty of the South African weilds. Alice Lang came to South Africa to meet and marry a man whose letters had won her. However before she met him she found herself falling in love with his brother who came to meet her.

5. Queen of France by Andre Castelot is an intimate, almost keyhole narrative portrait which follows the melancholy career of Marie Antoinette from her marriage at fourteen to her death at the age of thirty-eight.

6. Twilight for the Gods, by Earnest Gann, author of The High and the Mighty, tells of the last voyage of an old sailing ship. Impending disaster forces her captain, her crew, and her passengers to fight for their lives. It is not a sea story. It is instead, a story of people and their struggle for survival against odds which are both spiritual and physical.

'A Loaf of Bread,.. A Jug of Wine..'

By ERNESTINE STOLTZ

Greetings, Peoples! It's mighty good to see all you gals again after a few months vacation. (The new faces look good too.) I hope you all had a good summer. We surely did. I worked most of the time, except for one terrific weekend to the western part of the state. . .

Thanks for all the cards and letters I received keeping me posted on summer social events. Let's take a look at the list, o.k?

Hear Them Bells?

First of all, wedding bells chimed in June for Mary Kay West Carr. We understand Bill is in the Army, but maybe it won't be too long before he'll be home, Mary Kay.

Mrs. Spencer Hamrick (we know her as Ann Hart) was also a June bride. Congratulations, Ann.

FLASH—Hot news—right off the press! Van Thacker was married Monday afternoon at 5:00 in St. John's Episcopal Church in Lynchburg to Mr. Hal Blackwood. Hal is a Hampden-Sydney graduate, now stationed at Ft. Bragg. We hear they are honeymooning in New York.

Sparklers No Less

Diamonds have really been flashing around here. Skippy Newborn has slipped a "sparkler" on Jane Kell's left hand. I don't which is glowing the most—Jane or the ring.

We hear Ann Presson is making wedding plans. She is engaged to Don Davis, a graduate of Randolph-Macon, who is now attending Duke University.

Ruth Raney popped in with a ROCK from Pete Cowan. These Air Force boys always seem to pull through.

Joyce Sedivy has hooked her Tech Gobbler, Mason Hutcheson. . . Betty B. Barnett is sporting a ring from Bud Redmon, a Perrum man, and Mary Lee Dean acquired a diamond from Willie Boisseau over the summer months.

Pins Will Come

I thought the old saying went "In the SPRING a young girl's fancy turns to thoughts of love, but check all these FALL pins floating around.

Jacky Harper is sporting Max Meadow's KA pin. . . John Harwood's Theta Chi pin really looks good on Shirley Saunders. . . Another Sigma Chi pin—that of Bill is sure to be playing her latest records, be they Boone, Belafonte, or Beethoven.

Bunch is being flashed around by Bobby Daniels, and Betty Jo Cooke has a Sigma Chi pin next to her heart—that of Bobby Carter. (These are all Hampden-Sydney boys, too!)

Johnny Hogg, a Phi Gamma from Yale has pinned Mary Ellen Moore. Good goin', Mem. . . Mary Linda League seems quite pleased over Bruce Robinson's pin. Bruce is a Roanoke C. man . . . Ruth Zich has made a good choice by choosing Lynchburg College's Jerry Hill for a pin-mate, and Gail Hitchens has a good looking pin from Lee Rayfield—a Newport News Apprentice School man.

Pardon, It Slipped

In checking the LOST and Found department, we find: LOST—one "true-love." If found, please return to Anne Keziah, CH 64, or turn him in at the Home Office. NO, on the other hand, just keep him. . . Liz Mosteller is on the loose again! UMMMM Boy! Love that freedom.

Peggy "Friend" Harris has changed her fraternity affiliations at H-S from PiKA to SX. . . Carol Manley has a train ticket to Spartanburg, S. C. Could it be because of a certain Wofford Terrier, Carol?

Looks as though Della Higgins has taken a big interest in William and Mary all of a sudden. Wonder why? Aren't you glad you went to the beach, Della?

That PiKA pledge pin Joan Lee wears surely does look familiar. . . My goodness Cass, where did you get those Annapolis p.j's? ? ? Mo Franklin surely was happy over the outcome of the Duke game. Ho, Ho, Mo.

MIGHTY glad to see June Lee back in the Theta Chi house. Wise choice, June. Parky didn't show her emotions over the results of the H-S game last weekend. Could she be losing interest?? Goodness!!!!!

Oooops—here's some last minute news that almost got left out. We hear Shirley Smith is engaged to Earl Jones, and that Anna Gharzarian has a diamond that will put your eyes out. Peggy Blevins also has a good looking "sparkler" purchased by one Randy Brightwell. Jo Anne Parsons is engaged to Johnny Terrell, a R.P.I. man.

Katherine Key's heart is all "keyed" up over Joe Wood's PiKA pin. Keep up the good work, Katherine.

Annapolis rolled out the welcome mat last weekend for Ellen Callaway. Sarah Hackworth, Sally Tilson, Annie Lee Young and Betty Griggs.

VMI's parties were enjoyed by Linda Moore, Edith Darden, Betty Harrell and Hannah White.

U.Va said HELLO to Peggy Dickerson, Liz Mosteller and Mary Strickland, while Lynchburg C. welcomed Sheila Gallaway and Pat O'Neal.

Rountree met Herb after the Hampden - Sydney, Emory - Henry game. We hear he played a mighty good game, too.

Goodness—I'm just about newsed out for this go 'round, but tune in again next week for another story on the trials and tribulations in the love-lives of the Longwood ladies. (Goodnight Jagerino, wherever you are.)

The Rotunda

ELLA V. CARTER

Editor-in-Chief

Linda Doles ..... Managing Editor
Norma Jenrett ..... Business Manager
Bet McLoughlin ..... News Editor
Judy Eckstrom ..... Feature Editor
Patsy Powell, Ann Keziah ..... Sports Editors
Virlinda Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Elaine Weddle, Pat Wilmoth ..... Photography
Nan Brimmer, Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Ann Hill ..... Advertising Manager
Grace Bowles ..... Office Manager
Dr. James Wellard ..... Faculty Advisor

Published weekly by the students of Longwood College. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service, Inc. Printed by The Farmville Herald. Office Box 168, Longwood College, Farmville, Va.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association and Associated Collegiate Press Association.

Unsigned editorials written by the editor.

Hockey Season Opens Friday As Varsity Team Meets Roanoke College

A. A. Demonstration Tomorrow; Awarding of Blazers To Highlight Activities

Students to Watch Sportsmen's Skills

By CRIS KAMEN

Freshmen — tomorrow you get your first official look at Longwood sports. The Athletic Association Demonstration, which is held yearly to acquaint all new students with the various sports activities offered here at Longwood, will be presented tomorrow at 4 p.m. It will begin in the gym with the introduction of the new A. A. Council members for this coming year.

Following all introductions, the program will get under way with a five to ten minute demonstration of skills in all sports by various students. The gym will be the scene of displays in modern dance, basketball and volleyball.

Upon the completion of these activities, spectators will move to the pool where swimming skills will be exhibited. Then it's off to the tennis courts for the next scheduled display which will be the demonstration of singles and doubles in tennis. The A.A. field will be the fourth scene of activity. Here all field sports, which include hockey, wisket, softball and archery, will be presented.

Bazers To Be Awarded

After the climax of all sports demonstrations, a long awaited ceremony will take place. This will be the awarding of the white and blue blazers conferred upon those seniors who have excelled in athletics during their college years. These woolen jackets have come to be one of the many cherished traditions of Longwood College. They are either white or blue, and are awarded to seniors recommended by the Physical Education department, who have earned a certain number of quality points during four years at Longwood. The white blazer requires 30 points and is the highest ranking award presented to students showing outstanding ability and participation in sports. The blue blazer follows close behind in its importance with 20 needed points. It is given to the outstanding athletes of the college.

The grand finale of the Athletic Association program will be the yearly A.A. picnic. It will be held outside the Home Economics Building, weather permitting, and inside the Main "rec" in case of bad weather

—Camera Artist

WILLIE TAYLOR, class manager; Margaret Dowdy, varsity manager; and Jean O'Connell, also class manager, practice for the hockey season which will open Friday in Salem with Roanoke College.

Varsity Team Chosen For '57 Season; Dowdy Serves As Longwood Manager

It was back to the field for Longwood's hockey players as approximately forty girls began practice Monday, September 23, in hopes of being chosen to play varsity hockey this year.

The first game gets underway this Friday when Longwood meets Roanoke.

After a week of practice and exhibition of playing ability, the varsity hockey team emerged. Chosen for the 1957-58 squad to play in the five games of the current season are: Nancy Andrews, Pat Campbell, Gayle Cunningham, Josie Curry, Delo Dove, Margaret Dowdy, Mate Fadely, Sandy Fitzgerald, Nancy George, Kitty Harris, Louise Heier, Doris Kesling, Mary Lou Morgan, Anne Palmer, Nancy Richardson, JoAnn Sloop, Barbara Staton, Willie Taylor, Linda Vess, Jackie Waller, Annie V. Weaver, Claudia Whipple and Carol Wolfe.

Margaret Dowdy, manager of the varsity squad, is a Senior from Altavista.

Hockey, a favorite sport at Longwood College, provides class and color cup competition in addition to intercollegiate matches. Willie Taylor, a junior from Gretna, and Jean O'Connell, a sophomore, from Springfield, are managers for class hockey play.

Freshmen and other additional players will be added to the team at a later date.

Margaret has been on the varsity hockey team for three years and holds the position of right halfback. This season will be the second for Willie Taylor, who sees action as right fullback. Jean O'Connell, center halfback, will be playing for her second season also. All three girls are physical education majors.

Longwood's varsity record last year stood at three wins, one loss, and one tie. This year should prove even more successful than last. The Athletic Association has urged that the student body support the blue and white team, and cheer them on to victory.

The schedule for the 1957-58 season is as follows:

The schedule for the -1957-58 season is as follows:

October 4—Roanoke ..... There
October 11—Norfolk Div. .... Here
October 15—Wil. & Mary .... Here
October 26—Madison ..... There
November 23—Westhampton Here

Aches, Pains, Fun, Friends Characterize Summer Camp As Hockey Players Acquire Skills In Pennsylvania Setting

By DELO DOVE

The mileage meter clicked dutifully with no awareness of time or purpose. The tires continued in their monotonous pattern as miles of asphalt passed beneath their surface. The atmosphere was unmistakably collegiate. Insignia of every size and color were pasted on suitcases, bags, hats and chests. The day was Friday; the weather, fair; the direction, north; the destination, hockey camp.

After being entertained by several families of rather timid deer who seemed to offer no welcome, the Longwood College hockey team entered the gates of Camp Tegawitha in the Poconos. Quiet blue sky and closely cut green fields gave the impression of rest and peace. This impression lasted approximately forty-five minutes, spent in unpacking our clothes and choosing beds and toothbrush holders. At the sound of a bell the impression passed. Cab doors opened and out came blue, black, green, red, or white clad girls with matching hockey sticks. Our week at hockey camp was now in full swing.

Challenged By Others

From ten to twelve o'clock each morning, we were instructed in the techniques of the game and supervised in actual play, while afternoons offered lacrosse for a brave few and hockey for the entire group. We challenged other colleges, but the results of each game will remain closely guarded in our minds.

Night found us huddled around the fireplace of the main lodge, where we were introduced to our many coaches. We found that they seemed to know all that there was to know about the game, and they skillfully tried to pass this knowledge on to us. English accents were plentiful, and the range of skill among the group was quite astonishing. Included were those in the beginning stage, high school students, college students, professional players, a member of the Welsh touring team, and an All-American wing. All were there for the same purpose—to learn more about hockey.

Exhibition games proved to be both informative and enjoyable, as the professionals gave us a picture of hockey at its best. Competing with these more experienced women made us somewhat envious of their skill, stamina, and especially their speed. A constant whisper was, "Gee, I wish I could run like that."

As expected there were the usual aches, pains and inclement weather, but most of these were soon forgotten. A finer looking more energetic group could not be found than that which sported the Longwood College emblem on the field.

New friends, new skills, and a renewed interest accompanied each team on the long way home.

If you would like first hand information on any phase of this trip you may contact any girl fitting this description: one black eye and-or one tooth missing, three to five bruises on the left leg, five to seven on the right leg, can explain the meaning of "Charley Horse", looks like a human dynamo at hockey practice each afternoon, can pronounce R-R-R-Run correctly rolling the R, and can honestly say that it was one of the most interesting experiences she has known.

The following girls should fit closely into the aforementioned description. Carol Wolfe, Annie V. Weaver, Nancy Richardson, Louise Heier, "Delo" Dove, Gayle Cunningham, Sandy Fitzgerald, Willie Taylor, Jackie Waller, Mary Lou Morgan, Carol Vick, Pat Campbell, "Beedee" Staton, Linda Vess, Nancy Andrews, Jean O'Connell, Claudia Whipple, Josie Curry, and Doris Kesling.

Why don't you try hockey camp next year?

From The Gridiron Bleachers

By ANNE KEZIAH

Well, here I am back with you for another year, after a short "leave of absence," and I must say it's nice to be back. I hope you all will enjoy reading this column as much as I enjoy writing it. Now let's take a quick look at the results of this week's State football games.

Perhaps the most important game of the weekend took place in Morgantown, West Virginia, where the powerful West Virginia Mountaineers blanked the Virginia Tech Gobblers 1-0, in a Southern Conference battle. Tech just couldn't seem to get rolling and the Mounties turned a poor punt and fumble into scoring weapons as they racked up their 22 league victory. The Mounties have won four Southern Conference championships and appear headed for the fifth.

V. M. I. traveled to Worcester, Mass., and used its speed and deception to offset a big weight advantage as the Keydets battled Holy Cross' rugged football forces to a 21-21 tie. V.M.I. threatened to win it in the final seconds, but the clock halted their march on the Holy Cross 12-yard line to prevent the victory.

Navy struck another blow in its campaign for the eastern championship and climaxed their homecoming activities by bombarding William and Mary, 33-6. This was the Middies second straight one-sided victory and the game ran the W and M winless streak to 15 straight games.

University of Virginia felt the mighty blow of Duke's pigskin powerhouse Saturday, as the Blue Devils stomped the Cavaliers, 40-0. The Cavaliers played the Blue Devils a fairly even first quarter, but crumbled in the second period when Duke broke loose for a three touchdown lead.

Virginians Tie Score

Western Maryland intercepted a Randolph-Macon pass on their goal line in the last minutes of the game to hold the Virginians to a 20-20 tie in a Mason-Dixon Conference tilt. Extra points again proved to be the important thing for, had either team been successful in all four tries, someone would have had a victory.

And, last but certainly not least, Hampden-Sydney met Emory and Henry Saturday night on the Bristol, Tennessee field, and the Tigers were again victorious, defeating the Wasps, 14-12. (Sorry, but this is all the information I could find on this game.)

Judy Holderman, tennis manager, has announced that those interested in participating in tennis doubles play may sign the list on the Athletic Association bulletin board this week.

Doubles matches will begin October 7, as the green and whites and red and whites match skills to gain five points toward the athletic color cup.

Hockey Tournaments

The Longwood College hockey team will again see tournament play as they compete with other schools from this area in the annual Tidewater Hockey Tournament, being held in Richmond, November 2-3.

Players who demonstrate skill and outstanding ability in hockey play during this tournament may be chosen to participate in the Southeast Hockey Tournament being held in Richmond on November 16.

Compliments
of
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

FREE COPY!
"Best Methods of Study"
(College Outline Series)
By
Barnes & Noble
At
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
200 High Street
Get Your Copy!

Dr. Schlegel's
Cavalier Commonwealth
A History of Virginia
At
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
Phone 441-J

VIRGINIA HISTORY
By
Dr. Francis B. Simpkins
IS HERE!
Get Yours While Available
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
Phone 441-J

Boxwood Tourist Court
and Restaurant
3 Miles South of
Farmville on Rt. 15
Phone 3027-5

Welcome—
LONGWOOD STUDENTS
High Bulk Orlon
SWEATERS
$2.98 up
Ivy League
SKIRTS
$2.98 up
All Purpose
CAR COATS
$10.98 up
LEGGETT'S DEPT. STORE
"The Home of Better Values"

HUNGRY?
THIRSTY?
TIRED?
Come to
THE SNACK

The State
YOUR COMMUNITY CENTER
IN FARMVILLE, VA.
WED., THURS. OCT. 2-3
Paramount presents
BEAU JAMES
Starring
BOB HOPE · VERA MILES
PAUL DOUGLAS
ALEXIS SMITH · DARREN McGAVIN
GEORGE JESSEL · WALTER CATLETT
VistaVision · Technicolor
FRI., SAT. OCT. 4-5
RUN OF THE ARROW
Technicolor
with SARITA
STEIGER · MONTIEL
RALPH
KEITH · MEEKER
Sunday, Monday, Tuesday
October 6-7-8
JAMES STEWART
AUDIE MURPHY
"NIGHT PASSAGE"
WED., THURS. OCT. 9-10
VAN JOHNSON
"ACTION OF THE TIGER"
—From the Book—
By DR. JAMES WELLARD
Longwood College
Farmville, Va.

LEE
FARMVILLE, VA.
WED., THURS. OCT. 2-3
DOUBLE FEATURE
CinemaScope
TONY CURTIS
MARISA PAVAN
GILBERT ROLAND
The MIDNIGHT STORY
— and —
ON WINGS OF DEATH!
EAGLE SQUADRON
FRI., SAT. OCT. 4-5
DOUBLE FEATURE
Apache Warrior
A REGALSCOPE PICTURE
— and —
WARNER BROS. PRESENT
DORIS DAY
RONALD REAGAN
AND AS THE
The Winning Team
AND FRANK LOVEJOY
SUNDAY ONLY OCT. 6
JOHN WAYNE
"THE SEARCHERS"
MON., TUES. OCT. 7-8
GARY COOPER
LAUREN BACALL
"BRIGHT LEAF"

1957-1958 CALENDAR

(Editor's Note: The following is a schedule of events outlined through organization heads. Please note the time of these meetings. It is hoped that this schedule will end some confusion which has taken place concerning these meetings. If there are any changes in times, please contact the calendar chairman.)

Organization	Time	Date
Choir	4:00	every Mon. & Wed.
Baptist Student U. Council	5:00	every Mon.
Wesley Foundation Council	5:00	every Mon.
Northern Neck Club	7:00	1st Mon.
A. A. Council	7:00	1st & 3rd Mon.
Monogram Club (after A. A.)		1st Mon.
Pan-Hel Council	5:00	1st Mon.
Virginian Staff	7:00	every Mon.
Sectional Club	7:00	4th Mon.
Spanish Club	4:00	2nd Tues.
Y. W. A.	7:00	1st & 3rd Tues.
Sororities	5:00	every Tues.
Student Government	7:00	every Tues.
French Club	4:00	1st Tues.
F. B. L. A.	7:00	2nd Tues.
Library Club	7:00	4th Tues.
Rotunda Staff	7:00	every Wed.
Longwood Players	7:00	1st Wed.
Pi Gamma Mu	7:00	1st Wed.
Orchesis-business group	7:00	2nd Wed.
Y. W. C. A. Council	5:00	1st, 3rd & 4th Wed.
Kappa Delta Pi	5:00	2nd Wed.
Future Teachers of America	7:00	2nd Wed.
Orchesis-concert group	4:00	every Wed.
Colonnade Staff	4:00	every Wed.
Pi Delta Epsilon	7:00	1st Thurs.
Granddaughters Club	7:00	1st Thurs.
House Council	5:00	2nd Thurs.
Alpha Kappa Gamma	7:00	2nd Thurs.
H2O Club	7:00	2nd Thurs.
Alpha Psi Omega	7:00	3rd Thurs.
Home Ec Club	7:00	3rd Thurs.
Beore Eh Thorn	4:00	3rd Thurs.
Baptist Choir	5:00	every Thurs.
Methodist Choir	5:00	every Thurs.
Rec. Swim	4:00	every Fri.
Cotillion Club		called
Class meetings		called

Called meetings MUST be scheduled 24 hours in advance with the chairman of the calendar, Cass Connor, Ch. 61.

Church News

By ROSE MARIE LAWRENCE

Baptist

Under the leadership of their new director, Miss Joan Spencer, the B. S. U. students are anxiously looking forward to a very successful year. The Executive Council attended a Pre-School Retreat September 13-15 to make forthcoming plans.

The first main event in those plans includes a Music Week to be observed October 6-12. Elaine Weddle, Choir Director, urges everyone to support and participate in the week's schedule of special music.

Methodist

Sunday, October 6, at 7 p.m., Virlinda Joyner and Clavert King will begin deputation training in the Fellowship room of the church. An hour of Christian fellowship will follow.

The Wesley Foundation Choir will practice on October 3 at 7 p.m. All new members will be welcomed.

The second coffee hour for Wesley Foundationers will be held at 7 p.m. on October 4 in the Fellowship Room. Merle Redinger and Dick Weingart will show slides and discuss their summer at a European work-camp.

Longwood will send 2 delegates, Norma Jenrett and Bernard Warren to the Virginia World Trade Conference being held tomorrow at the Hotel Roanoke in Roanoke.

Norma, a senior elementary education major from Portsmouth, will represent her government class. Bernard, a senior history major from Cumberland, will be representing his economics class.

"Female College" Advises Students To Bring Napkins

The following excerpts from the Annual Register and Announcement of the Farmville Female College, now Longwood, for the session of 1859-60 should provide some entertaining reading, especially for the Freshmen who have been busy trying to learn the rules in our Student Handbook.

"Pupils should come provided with umbrellas and thick shoes for walking, and will furnish their own towels and table napkins, which, with their clothing, should be marked conspicuously with the name in full. The laundry cannot be accountable for any articles not thus marked. Napkin ring and silver fork to be provided by each pupil for her own use, and spoon to use in her room."

"Novels and promiscuous newspapers and pamphlets will not be received into the College without the consent of the President."

"Parents should specify the epistolary correspondents of the pupils, and inform the President as to the visits they may make and the calls they may receive. It is recommended to parents in the vicinity not to encourage their daughters in visiting home oftener than once in three months. Those pupils generally do best who visit least during school session."

"The calls of gentlemen who may be strangers to the President, and not specified by the parents, are not received by the pupils unless authorized by letters of introduction. From 4 o'clock to 5 p.m., on Wednesdays or Saturdays, is the most convenient time for the young ladies to receive calls."

"Pupils will not be allowed to receive calls on the Sabbath; nor spend the night out of the college, unless under very extraordinary circumstances."

"Letters and parcels for the pupils should be directed to the care of the President."

"Inasmuch as the table of the College is at all times furnished with an abundance and variety of good food well prepared, pupils will not be allowed to receive boxes of eatables, except by special permission."

WILSON'S HOME & AUTO SUPPLY
10 Top Tunes
Tammy
Diana
Teddy Bear
It's Not for Me to Say
Bye, Bye Love
That'll Be the Day
I'm Gonna Sit Right Down and Write Myself a Letter
Stardust
Send for Me
Rainbow

FREE FREE
BE A MAGICIAN
Write
Dr. Marcus Bloch, L-Hy.
President
Eastern Magical Society
240 Rivington Street
New York 2, N. Y.

MARTIN The Jeweler
Welcomes
YOU TO LONGWOOD
AND TO FARMVILLE
Come in and Register Your Silver, Crystal and China
Patterns

Dean Wilson

(Continued from page 1)

portant part was serving as a student dean, living in residence with groups of girls." Miss Wilson received her M. Ed. degree and began work as Assistant Dean of Women at Alabama Polytechnic Institute in Auburn in 1948.

To combine religious study with her personnel work she later re-entered the University of Pittsburgh to complete work on a doctor's degree in religious education. In 1955 she returned to the job of assistant dean at Auburn where her main duties were freshmen counseling, student advisor, and Pan-Hel counselor.

Impressed by Students

The main difference Dean Wilson finds at Longwood compared with her former school is in its size. Auburn having 8,200 students. She has been most impressed here with the "way the girls assume responsibility and plan things better than any girls I've worked with anywhere." She considers it "most unusual to have an orientation program planned and carried out entirely by students," and is pleased to note that "from freshmen reports and personal observation all has run smoothly and successfully."

Born in Canada

Miss Wilson, who was born in Winnipeg, Canada, and grew up in Pittsburgh, feels at home in the South after six years in Alabama, and has "every reason to believe I will enjoy Virginia very much also." She hopes to see more of the state, including Jamestown and Williamsburg, especially since traveling is her favorite recreation. This past summer she toured 7,000 miles in the Northwest and Canada, also making her first visit back to Winnipeg. An enthusiastic sightseer, Miss Wilson was thrilled to climb Mt. Ranier in Washington and to ride in a chair lift at a ski resort in Banff.

Dean Wilson is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma and Pi Lambda Theta, honorary education societies; of the American Association of University Women; and of the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors. She served as treasurer of the Alabama Guidance Association, as a director of the A. P. I. faculty club, and belonged to the Alabama Association of Women Deans and Counselors. She also holds membership in the National Religious Education Association, the P.E.O. and the United Lutheran Church.

College Choir Members Announced For Year By Music Department Head

Newly selected members of this year's college choir were announced Saturday by Dr. John W. Molnar, head of the music department. After tryouts were completed, a first rehearsal was held last Monday in Jarman Hall.

Members In Soprano

The members of the choir in Soprano I are Gay Vashti Allen, Martha B. Carter, Gloria Dancy, Nancy Evans, Lyonel Faye Dula, Elizabeth A. Fentress, and Sandra Ferebee. Also in the soprano section are Martha Helms, Marilyn Howard, Margaret Henry, Shirley Saunders, Patsy Anne Scott, Joyce Sedivy, JoAnn Sloop and Moonyean Warren.

Singing In Alto

Singing in Soprano are Alice Ashworth, Ann Barnes, Faye Dixon Garrett, Joan Dorsey, Joann Fivel, Jo Ann Garner (piano), Sue Humphries, and Carolyn Lewis.

Others in this soprano group include Margaret Moore, Karen Potts, Anne Presson, Marilyn Shaugnessy, Martha Gray Shirley, Doris Webster, Reba Westmoreland, and Elva Jane Wynne.

Selected for Alto I are Adair Camp, Carolyn De Haven, Patricia Foster, Rosalyn Epps, Frances Harnsberger, D. Deane Hogge, Kay Hudgins, Nancy C. Kelly, Page Saunders, Beverlye Joan Redmon, and Fay Salmon.

Emily Frances Shelton, Natalie Carol Tudor, Edith Ward, and Elaine Weddle are members of the Alto I.

Students in Alto II will be Sue Benton, Sue Blair, Judith Hutchinson, Louise Johns, Demetria S. Koumparakis, Dorothy Marshall, Winifred Dale Preddy, Shirley Smith, Nancy Taylor, and Hannah White. Ann Hart Hamrick, the choir president, will serve as a pianist also for the group.

The Longwood Chorus is open to all persons interested in membership. Individual tryouts are not required. Rehearsals will be held each Monday and Thursday at 4 p.m.

Faculty Members

(Continued from page 1)

Virginia for the past two years.

John G. Graziani

Dr. John G. Graziani, replacing Dr. Ray A. Moore as College Physician, received his B.S. degree from New York University and his M.D. from New York University College of Medicine.

Two other members added to Longwood's staff this year are Mrs. Elizabeth S. Jones, who received a B.S. degree from Longwood College, as Alumnae Secretary, and Mrs. Alice M. Overton, College Hostess.

Longwood also has two new informants: Miss Chantal Perrotte, Informant in French and Miss Elena Venos, Informant in Spanish. Miss Perrotte holds a degree from College Sophe, Paris, and Miss Venos is a graduate of the National University of Mexico.

A very despondent gentleman climbed sedately into his limousine.

"Where to, sir?" asked his chauffeur.

"Off a cliff, James. I'm committing suicide."

FOR STATIONERY
COSMETICS
And All Your SUPPLIES
OWEN & SANFORD
DRUG CO.

Welcome to
DOROTHY MAY STORE
3 WAYS TO PAY
● 30 to 60 Days
● Budget Charge
● Layaway
"Farmville's Only Exclusive Ladies' Shop"

Seventy-Eight Seniors Student Teaching In Farmville; Seventeen Take Part In Roanoke Schools' Experiment

This fall Longwood has seventy-eight seniors doing student teaching in the Prince Edward county schools and in Roanoke.

There are seventeen seniors taking part in the Roanoke experiment. This is the first off campus student teaching experiment ever tried by Longwood College.

Roanoke Students

The seventeen seniors arrived in Roanoke on September 3, the opening date of the Roanoke schools, to begin their eight weeks of practice teaching. While in Roanoke they are living in private homes. "They are still considered students of Longwood College and are under the regulations of the college," said Dr. Earl Boggs, Dean of the College.

The girls taking part in this experiment are: Winifred Biddlecomb, Maxine Crowder, Mary Holland, Jacquelyn Trader, Betty Spruhan, Marjorie Winn, Alice Jo Maxie, Mary Anne Foster, and Linda Garrison, all of whom are in secondary education.

Others are Cornelia Anne Batte, Carolyn Faye Garner, Jean Anderson, Shirley McNeal, Carolyn Kelly, Weston Walker, and Eleanor Crowder in elementary education.

Return In November

After eight weeks of practice teaching, they will return to the campus on November to resume their studies. Charles H. Patterson is the general supervisor of the student teachers who were assigned to Roanoke.

At Training School

Student teachers in the training school are: Mary Anne Barnett, Annette Crain, Suzanne Barr, Sarah Jester, Bonnie Paxson, Kathleen O'Leary, Ann Rountree, Katherine Watson, Ellen Callaway, and Mary Lee Teel.

Others are: Judith Holderman, Meonyean Warren, Barbara Pond, and Sue Taylor, fifth grade; Pat Wilmoth and Judy Alexander, sixth grade; and Norma Jenrett and Ella Carter, seventh grade.

Special Fields

Teaching in special fields in the training school are Sally Tilson and Carol Lash, Art; Vashti Allen and Elizabeth Foster, Music; and Jeanne Vestal, Physical Education.

There are four seniors teaching at Worsham High School. They are: Emily Atkinson, typing; Sarah Hackworth, typing and shorthand; and Sally Tilson, Art.

Thirty-two Longwood students are doing practice teaching in twelve fields of subject matter at the Farmville High School. They are as follows: Sue Amory, Nancy Baker, Eliza Buchanon, Joan Coakley, Marjorie Crismond, Mary Leigh Deane, Peggy Dickerson, Margaret Dowdy, Nancy Drudge, Anne Garrett, Elaine Handy, Marjorie Harrison, Anita Heflin, Anne D. Hill, Emily Irby, Ann Jester, Carol King, Mary Jane McLaney, Barbara Parkinson, Patricia Patton, and Sarah Pevehouse.

Others are: Nancy Richardson, Elizabeth Ruckman, Jane Ruppert, Jackie Sawyer, Eleanor T. Turner, Bernard Warren, Annie Weaver, Annie Mae Williams, Carol Wolfe, and Carolyn Wilson.

Fall's Enrollment Shows Small Rise

An increase of 50 students over last fall's enrollment at Longwood brings the total to 885. The dormitories are accomodating all but the 61 day students included in the total.

Students hail from as far west as California and as far south as Florida. There are 84 of the 99 Virginia counties represented and 28 of the 32 cities. There are also representatives from 12 states, the Canal Zone and Holland.

Of the total 885 students here this fall, 311 are freshmen. This count is 16 less than the numbers last fall. Sophomore enrollment has increased 25 in number since last year, while the juniors report the largest increase of 46 over the 1956 class. The seniors have the smallest count with an increase of only six.

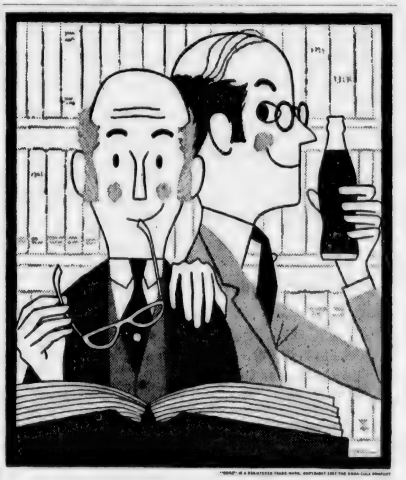
The freshman and transfer students entering school this fall total 335, almost three times as many as last spring's graduating class.

Although there are new faculty members replacing those that have left Longwood the faculty has an increase of only one over last year's number.

Additional buildings are being constructed to accomodate the increasing number of students.

Rat Day

(Continued from Page 1)



4. If you are on the infirmary list, you must wear green and white ribbons at all times. These ribbons will be issued to you before Friday night.

5. No sophomore can make a freshman late for class.

6. All freshmen must be on the front lawn at 2 p.m. Saturday.

7. No freshman is to accept any appointments before Friday or during breakfast or lunch Saturday.

Good luck, freshmen, and remember, you will be taking our place next year.

Mr. Funk & Mr. Wagnalls

"In re this matter of Good Taste," said Mr. Funk to his secretary, "take a definition." "Taste: sensations . . . excited . . . by the . . . action of the gustatory nerves . . ." "And add this," put in Mr. Wagnalls. "Taste: the faculty of . . . appreciating the beautiful . . ." "That," said Mr. Funk, "wraps it up. Mr. Wagnalls, will you join me in a Coca-Cola?" "So good in taste . . ." "And . . . in such good taste!"

Drink Coca-Cola
SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Wellard's 'Action of the Tiger' Opens Here Today at State Theatre

Hear Four Freshmen Tomorrow

The Rotunda

Begin Supporting Circus

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., October 9, 1957 | No. 2

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

The Four Freshmen, a combo and vocal group, will arrive here tomorrow for a concert in Jarman Hall.

Four Freshmen Playing On Campus Tomorrow

Large Audience Expected Here

The Four Freshmen, one of the nation's most popular vocal and instrumental groups, will appear here tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. in Jarman Auditorium.

Sponsored by many campus organizations for the benefit of the Dabney S. Lancaster Scholarship Fund, present reports indicate that the sale tickets has now passed the $1,000 mark. Publicity concering the appearance of the Four Freshmen has been spread over other college campuses; and according to present indications, many of the colleges in Virginia will be well represented here Thursday night. Tickets continue to be on sale at $2.00 per person.

An Instrumental Group

Composed of the Barbour brothers, Ross and Don, Ken Albers and Bob Flanigan, the combo is not only voted by Downbeat and Metronome magazines as tops in the vocal department, but compares favorably with any other combo instrumentally.

Ross plays drums and doubles on trumpet. Don plays guitar and shares the vocal solo with Ken, who handles the trumpet as well as playing bass and mellophone; and Bob plays bass and trombone.

Combined Talent in College

It was their musicianship which they first combined during their college days that attracted Capitol Records to sign the combo to a long term exclusive recording pact.

Since they were signed to an exclusive Capitol Recording pact, the boys have amassed a large following. The Freshman have been associated with the Steve Allen, Tennessee Ernie, and Stan Kenton television shows from New York and were featured in the M-G-M production of "Rich, Young, and Pretty."

They were also heard on the sound track in the Paramount picture, "Lucy Gallant," starring Jane Wyman and Charlton Heston. Their Capitol album, "Voices in Modern," was on the best selling LP album charts of both Billboard and Cash Box magazines for many months.

Freshmen Hits

Some of the Freshmen hits include "Charmaine," "In This Whole Wide World," "Angel Eyes," "Love Is Just Around the Corner." Their new album entitled "Four Freshmen and Five Trombones," will probably be one of the big albums for the popular singers.

In April, 1956, The Four Freshmen joined the Nat "King" Cole-Ted Heath tour.

Organizations sponsoring the concert here include the Student Government, Alpha Kappa Gamma, A. A. Council, House Council, Y.W.C.A., sophomore, junior, and senior classes, and all eight social sororities, and the Pan Hellenic Council.

Top Rats Announced

The top rats were announced by the Sophomore Class at Big Rat Court Monday night.

The Sophomore Class named Rat Lucy Wilson as Top Rat of the year. Barbara Keech was selected as the second best rat.

The Top Ten Rats were: "Mike" Miller, Sharon Stout, Page Davis, Beverly Cursey, June Ellmore, Sheila Gallaway, Jean Southard, Sharon Kelley, Chris Kamen, and Ann Coleman.

Six freshmen were selected as "Orchids to You" rats. They were Nancy Frye, Gabby Pilcher, Joyce Odom, Dottie Brown, Barbara Shackley, and Tweedy Lambiotte.

Lynn To Conduct Government Group

The Men's Student Government of Longwood College will be presided over by John Lynn during the 1957-58 session. Mr. Bittinger will serve as advisor to the group. Clarence Ferguson will fill the position of vice president and the secretary and treasurer will be elected at a called meeting in the near future.

According to the president, there are no scheduled meetings; they are simply called whenever the necessity arises. Every male student of Longwood automatically becomes a member of the Men's Student Government. This year there are fifteen members.

Besides their participation in the Longwood Players, the men will soon be heard in a choral group, which is being organized by Dr. Molnar. The men will also sponsor a "rec" dance during the school year.

The group's president, John Lynn, is a junior from Farmville. He is a business education major and a member of the Longwood Players, Tau Theta Pi, and the newly organized men's choral group.

SkinnerDated For Lyceum

Miss Cornelia Otis Skinner, American actress and author, will present a group of character sketches Monday, October 21, at 8 p.m. in Jarman Hall.

Daughter of Otis Skinner, an actor, Miss Skinner studied drama in Paris. She then returned to America where she played minor roles in several plays.

Played on Broadway

After creating several solo character sketches, she began touring the United States, Canada, and later England. One portrayal, "The Wives of Henry VIII," showed her as each of the six queens and is still a popular number. Two years ago Miss Skinner played a variety of roles in "Paris '90," a monodrama, in New York and later on tour. In New York and later on tour. Last season she worked with Charles Laughton on Broadway in a revival of Major Barbara.

Skinner, an Author

An author also, Miss Skinner has written six books of short pieces, among them her latest, Bottoms Up. Our Hearts Were Young and Gay, written in collaboration with Emily Kimbrough, describes a trip abroad made by the pair.

The actress has led a full social program, managed a town and a country home, and supervised the up-bringing of a son.

Admission for this program, which is the first of this year's Artists' Series Programs, is free to Longwood students.

'Action of the Tiger' Starts At Local Theatre Tonight

Movie Based on Novel By Professor Wellard

Expectation and anticipation are mounting as the Longwood College students and the Farmville area residents look forward to the opening of the movie "Action of the Tiger," based on Dr. James Wellard's novel of the same name. The movie is scheduled to open at the State Theatre on October 9.

"Action of the Tiger," published in 1955, was written while Dr. Wellard was residing at his 15-room villa in Rome. Although his and Mrs. Wellard's next door neighbor was Gina Lollabrigida, Dr. Wellard reports his villa to be a quiet, restful place that is ideal for writing. When asked his reason for writing "Action of the Tiger," Dr. Wellard replied, "I needed some money."

DR. JAMES WELLARD

Johnson, a "Waterfront Oaf"

Of the fifteen books Dr. Wellard has written, "Action of the Tiger" is the first Hollywood has decided to film. Another of Dr. Wellard's novels, "Deep Is the Night," has been bought by English and French producers with possibilities of being filmed. In commenting on the movie, he said, "Van Johnson, the major male character, is too rough for the part and more like a waterfront oaf, and Martine Carole, the leading female character, didn't suit . . she belongs more in French bedroom farce comedies."

Dr. Wellard earned a Ph.D. degree in English literature at the University of Chicago. Before entering the faculty of Longwood, he taught at the University of Illinois worked for the Chicago Sun-Times, New York Sun, Mutual Broadcasting Company, Toronto Star Weekly, and London Daily Express. Dr Wellard was a war correspondent throughout World War II and was with Patton's Third Army a good deal. From the war, came Dr. Wellard's book, "Man in a Helmet," a biography of Patton.

This is Dr. Wellard's second year at Longwood. He says, "We haven't regretted our decision to live here."

"Action of the Tiger" is being published in French, Italian, and Spanish. Here in Farmville it can be bought at the Weyanoke Book Store or in the lobby of the State theater. "Action of the Tiger" is also being published by Avon in the paperback edition.

New Novel Coming Soon

Dr. Wellard is now working on another book and plans to write a few television scripts and short stories. His latest book, Conversations With a Witch, is coming out in February. All of Longwood is proud of our own Dr. Wellard and wish him every success with his movie.

A penalty rule has been made for students concerning signing in at night. According to SGA President Frances Patton, a student who comes in beyond the set time for signing in must remain on campus one day for each minute she is late. In special cases, the matter will be taken before the Student Council for any further decision concerning the cause of being late.

Strother Becomes Circus Chairman

—Camera Artist

JUNE STROTHER, who is today announced '57 Circus chairman, briefs the pages of AKG's prize winning scrapbook which covered Circus last year.

Circus Experience Familiar to Leader

A senior from Colonial Heights, June Strother has been named general chairman of Alpha Kappa Gamma's '57 Longwood Circus production. The annual tradition will be climaxed here this Nov. 9 when classes compete for float and skit awards.

Sponsored by the national honorary fraternity for leadership, Circus plans are now getting underway as each class begins work and hours of practice for this gala event.

Strother, A Symbol of Circus

Having much previous experiences in Circus, June was Circus court representative of her Freshman class. Each year she has handled choreography for her class. During her junior year, June served as co-chairman for Circus. Thus she has become a student symbol of the many phases of Circus activities.

President of Zeta Tau Alpha, this year's chairman is a member of Longwood Players, Orchesis, Cotillion Club, and the Newman Club.

Committee Chairmen Named

Circus committees headed by members of AKG are as follows: Shirley Hauptman, publicity; Mary Lee Teel and Annette Crain, stunt; Lucia Hart, parade; Frances Patton, decoration and booth.

Lucia Hart and Frances Patton were chosen to head the costume, animal and clown committee; and June Strother was appointed chairman of the committee of the queen and her court.

Class Chairmen Begin Work

As representatives of each class, chairmen have been selected to lead groups on skit, parade, and booth selections. General class chairmen are: Sue LaFontaine and Sarah Gayhart, seniors; Nancy Brubeck and Donna Boone, juniors; Amy McFall and Marie Messick, sophomores; and Joyce Pilcher and Matilda Power, freshmen.

Circus Activities Vary

To begin Circus day, the student body participates in a parade through Farmville. Each class marches together, displaying its colors and floats, symbolizing its secretive skit plot.

After weeks of preparation and rehearsing, Circus is officially begun at 8 p.m. by the blowing of the whistle by the ringmaster, the identity of whom has previously been kept secret. The annual trainer is chosen from the sophomore class. The trainer is revealed one week

(Continued on page 4)

New Construction Becomes Reality

Quite a bit of remodeling has been going on here at Longwood and there is still more planned for the future. At present most of the work is being concentrated in the West Wing of Ruffner Hall. The English Department will have an entirely new look in a few short weeks when the redecorating is complete. This has included building new stairways, plastering and painting, and a much improved lighting system.

As soon as this is complete, plans will be made to do a lot more work next summer. The old baths on Tabb Hall will be modernized, a new stairway will replace the present one on "Tackey Alley," and the business department will receive treatment similar to the English department. It is also hoped that the top floor of Library Hall will eventually be made into classrooms and the dormitory rooms will be entirely off of High Street.

New Senior Dorm

Now comes the biggest addition of them all. In a few months everyone will agree that the new dormitory is well worth all the noise and disturbance they have had to endure while it was being built. It is expected to be completed by late spring and will provide dormitory space for 189 additional students. The ground floor will be composed of dating parlors, a recreation room, student activity rooms, and storage room. The next three floors will be dormitory rooms, and pressing and storage rooms.

Enrollment Cited

The Admissions Committee of Longwood College reports a marked increase in student enrollment for the 1957-58 session.

The total number of new students, including freshmen and transfer students, is 334. There is an increase of almost 6 per cent in the number of dormitory students this year, bringing the total number to 824. The number of day students and graduate students brings the total registration to 904. This designates a student increase of 47.

The number of scholarships awarded is 443, which is 49 per cent of the total registration. This is only a slight increase over last year's figure.

Foreign Students Again Study Here

This year Longwood again has foreign students on campus. These students are Chantal Perrotte, Elena Vinos, and Freda Holtrop.

Chantal, who comes from Paris, studied at the Lycee' and then took a two year secretarial course. While at Longwood, Chantal is studying speech, freshman English, American Writers, and Spanish. She is teaching four classes of French along with her own studies.

Elena was born in Madrid, Spain, but for the past 17 years she has lived in Mexico. She has studied at the University of Mexico for one year. Like Chantal, she is taking freshman English, Speech, American Writers, and also oil painting. She instructs four classes of Spanish.

Freda recently came to America from Holland. After she completes her year at Longwood, she and her parents plan to tour the United States and then return to Holland. Freda studied at "The Nederlandret Lyceum." Freda is taking a business course along with Spanish and Physical Education.

Absence Slip Become Unnecessary

A most welcomed announcement was released by Associate Dean M. H. Bittinger. Students will no longer have to sign the customary absense slips in the registrar's office.

Each student knows her number of cuts for the semester. Each person is to take only this number, unless she obtains special permission for certain necessary absences.

According to the new plans, each professor will report the absences to the registrar's office. This will eliminate the double check of having both student and faculty reports of absences. However, in the past this double check has not been a way of always showing a correct report. Many students have not signed these absence slips, and some professors have not always kept a close count of student absences. We should better appreciate their trust in our own reporting of absences. In order for this new method to be properly utilized the professors will have the responsibility of keeping accurate class attendance records.

The business of having to sign absence slips in the office caused much more clerical work. The new method should be a welcomed relief to both students and those who had to check these slips. But most of all, students will enjoy being allowed to use their own mental bookkeeping of class cuts. The change is certainly worth a try.

EC

Where Do You Fit In?

During your stay so far here at Longwood, most of the new students as well as the old have seen the work of some of the organizations on this campus. Programs have been held for the expressed purpose of reviewing the activities which our organizations undertake each year.

It is important to realize several things as one approached possible membership in any organization. First, one should realize that belonging to other organizations is a definite part of college life, secondly, that studying is only one important part of being a student, and thirdly, that benefiting can come to not only the new member of an organization, but to the organization itself.

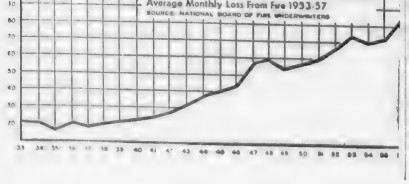
An important fact to consider is the amount of time membership in a certain group would require. Does that new activity require too much of one's studying time? On the other hand, one should ask the question: "What do I have to give the group, or what can I profit from the group?" Only you can best answer these questions; and in beginning your college stay, it is of great importance that you consider these questions. So much of your happiness and what you "get out of college" depends upon them and your decisions now.

When viewing work one would like to do in extra-curricular activities, one should try to follow up those activities that are familiar. For example, if one has enjoyed music in high school, then the choir or band should be utilized to follow up such interests. For those interested in dramatics, the Longwood Players provides rich experience in this field. For those interested in writing, The Rotunda, the Colonnade, and the Virginian offer much variety and interest. These are only a few examples of college activities.

As you new students, transfers and Freshmen, begin your stay here at Longwood, make a special effort to seriously consider what groups you wish to become members of. Your talents are needed in all of our organizations, and you need the organizations.

EC

Fire Prevention Week



This year Fire Prevention Week, October 6-12, will mark another milestone of organized fire prevention activities in this counry.

At the same time fire losses this year may exceed a billion dollars for the first time in history. So far they are averaging about $90 million a month.

Undoubtedly other factors besides fire prevention work have affected the widening gap between the values of structures and goods at risk and the actual fire losses in the last half century. But the gap is large enough, and has coincided near enough with increasing fire prevention activities, to support the assumption that safety work has been effective.

We believe that our nation has made a good start in fire prevention and that real progress is being made Let us not relax our efforts to do better.

Average Monthly Fire Losses

Many Have Big Weekends, Shown by Jewelry Displays

By ERNESTINE STOLTZ

Hi Gals! Last weekend seemed to have been a rather dull one, socially speaking, that is. Rat Day kept the freshmen here, and most of the sophs too. Wedding bells will ring in the near future, however. Weekend before last, Becky Davis came bouncing in with a gorgeous ROCK from Dave Weeks. Dave is out of school and working at the finishing plant at Altavista. Page Davis also came in with a good looking "sparkler" from Arthur Drogaris, an R.P.I. man. Congratulations, girls...

I want to apologize to Aggie Lowery for not getting her "pinship" in last week's paper. She accepted Frank Buck's KA pin during the summer months. It really looks good, Aggie.

Della Higgins hasn't come down off that cloud yet! She came floating in Sunday night looking like the display table for the Balfour Company. It seems that Jim Ukrop pinned her after dinner Sunday night with that monstrosity of an SAE pin. Congratulations, Della.

Washington and Lee Game

Now for a look at the ball games and parties in and out of the state. Peggy Harris, Mo Franklin, Gin Kuyk, and Emily Irby traveled down to Washington and Lee for the game and parties Saturday.

Williamsburg was the scene of the William and Mary-Virginia Tech game. Della Higgins, Nancy Knowles, Liz Mosteller, Frances Patton and Sue Amory journeyed in that direction.

University of Richmond

The University of Richmond welcomed Betty Maynard, Barbara Ensmann, and Mary Strickland, while Randolph Macon opened its doors to Allene Glascock and Fay Salmon. Lynne McDade took advantage of her weekend by spending it at U.Va.

While Farther South. . .

They're Carolina born and Carolina bred—yep, Beverly Redmon traveled down to Winston-Salem to Wake Forest, and Anne Presson hit the road to Duke.

We'll admit it did turn a little chilly this weekend, but snow really fell in CH 59 Saturday and Sunday. Can you explain this, Peggy?

Carole Manley surely did enjoy her golf game Saturday, but don't you think it was just a little chilly for golf, Carole?

Cars are really getting scarce these days—especially when two couples have to resort to double dating on a bulldozer!

Let Rats Bother!

Carole Gwaltney and Kay Reville didn't let Little Rat Court stop them. Of course dating hours were cut just a tad short, but we understand a good time was had by all nonetheless.

Junior and senior buildings request that Cushing Hall (out H-S way) would install an answering service. (Private lines would be o.k. too.)

We hear by word of the grapevine that Betty Griggs is having a hard time making up her mind between Jet Pilots and Navy Middies Cass, I'm terribly sorry Navy lost, but that's the way it goes . . . you can't always be a winner, but you can take home a prize.

VMI Quarantine

The quarantine at VMI is upsetting quite a few L.C. girls. There's a possible chance that it will be lifted by next weekend, but even if it is L.C. will surely be domed for the infirmary the following one.

Well, I think this is all I'll submit for this week, but be sure and stop by your favorite news-stand next week about this time for another edition of the Stoltz Doin's.

Freshmen 'Turkle' For Mighty Sophs

Rat Day activities got off to a terrifying start last Friday night as the class of '60 entered the Rotunda, garbed in black with all its ghostly accessories, and humming their weird chant.

Freshmen rats could be seen lining the railing around second and third Rotunda but soon dispersed as the Sophomores began their marches to various parts of the dormitories.

"Praise 60" "turkle, rat" and "climb the Washington Post!" could be heard throughout as lowly freshmen performed. Standing on the sidelines were many Juniors and Seniors who, perhaps, were reminiscing about earlier Rat Days. However, the worst was yet to come!

Up bright and early Saturday morning, Freshmen managed during the day to clean Tabb Hall, parts of Post Office and Student, as well as do the laundry of a good many residents there.

With all this, they still found time to entertain head rat, Pat Baugh, her associates, and the remaining Sophomore class, with song and dance.

Climaxing the event was "little rat court" held Saturday night. About 120 rats were taken through every imaginable trial and graciously allowed to feel the eye-ball of a cow or fish or pray for rain and snow which immediately fell on their heads.

Though the whole Freshman class was tired and weary that night, when the muck and mire was finally removed, everyone agreed that Rat Day was one they would always remember.

Lost Chords

By JO ANN FIVEL

Did I hear someone say they didn't like classical music? How many times these words have been uttered by some unsuspecting individual! There is not a person alive who can honestly say that he does not like some piece of classical music. Let me show you what I mean.

Natural Likes

The most famous piece of music in the world is the wedding march. Who wrote it and where did it originate? A German named Richard Wagner composed it for an opera called Lohengrin. No one can deny that they like this piece of music. We keep telling ourselves we will walk down the aisle to it one day.

Our church music is full of re-arranged classical pieces. "Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken" was taken from a quartet by Haydn. This same tune is used as the Austrian national anthem. "Joyful, Joyful We Adore Thee" is known to the high - brows of the music world as "The Ode to Joy" from Beethoven's Ninth Symphony.

Borrowed Classics

Popular music and church music are not the only fields which have borrowed from classical composures. The composers of this type of music did it to each other. Saint Saens borrowed the tune we know as the "Can-Can" or "Guite Parisane" from Offenbach, slowed it down, and renamed it "The Turtles" for his "Carnival of Animals."

There are a thousand more instances of this type of thing. Don't ever let me hear you say you don't like classical music. For all you know, number one on the Hit Parade may be a part of someone's symphony.

Cabinet Meeting Held

The Y.W.C.A. Cabinet members held their annual Fall Retreat this weekend at Longwood Estate. The purpose of the retreat was to plan the year's activities with particular attention on Religious Emphasis Week which will be held in February.

Prayer Services Change

Another topic discussed was that of increased attendance at Prayers held each night. It was decided that Prayers will be held each day at 6 and 6:45 p.m. Morning Watch on Thursday mornings at 7:45 a.m. will be a new devotion sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. similar to evening Prayers.

The speaker Saturday night was Betty Spivey, telling of her trip to the Berea conference, a national Y.W.C. and Y.M.C.A. conference held in Berea, Kentucky, this summer.

Capitol Topics

By CAROLYN STONNELL

To that small percent of Americans who take an interest and even at times take part in the affairs, local, national and international, of these United States, this message is addressed. The majority of readers might just as well move onto another column, since this one deals with the individual United States, and in particular with a problem to some; states so-called rights and mis-called responsibilities and integration or segregation, as it were.

It is not the purpose of this message to repeat the shameful details of the events which occurred durnig a past week in one of our so-called sovereign states—Arkansas. Even the most disinterested of persons have been subjected to these by every means of communication used in this modern age. The question at point is how did such events arise to turn a peaceful community into turmoil and a group into a mob. Integration is obviously the primary reason, but underlying this situation is ultimately the right of a local government to solve its own problems. Had this right been observed there would have been no cause for the nation wide and world wide scandalous publicity of a local situation which to begin with is purely a social matter.

Force can never solve any social upheaval, it can only stifle the violence. The solution must come from those concerned and only those concerned can understand the problem and its needs Since this right has been denied one group, it is reasonable to assume it will be denied others.

Shall we begin to think and consider our position or shall we take the easier solution and do perhaps as E. E. Cummings suggests as he concludes an essay with the following: "So let us pull the wool over each others toes and go to Hell"—carefree of course.

The Rotunda

ELLA V. CARTER

Editor-in-Chief

Linda Doles ..... Managing Editor
Norma Jenrett ..... Business Manager
Bet McLoughlin ..... News Editor
Judy Eckstrom ..... Feature Editor
Patsy Powell ..... Sports Editor
Virlinda Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Elaine Weddle, Pat Wilmoth ..... Photography
Nan Brimmer, Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Ann Hill ..... Advertising Manager
Grace Bowles ..... Office Manager
Dr. James Wellard ..... Faculty Advisor

Published weekly by the students of Longwood College. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service, Inc. Printed by The Farmville Herald. Office Box 168, Longwood College, Farmville, Va.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association and Associated Collegiate Press Association.

Unsigned editorials written by the editor.

Reporters: Henrietta Dollins, Assistant News Editor; Eleanor Gurganus, Ann Glover, Margie Layman, Delo Dove, Ann Presson, Calvert King, Mary Weld, Emily Johnson, Shirley Saunders, Violet Scott, Mary Kay Robbins, Martha Rucker, Pat Rodenhizer, Marie Fisher, Barbara Heck, Chris Kamen, Rose Marie Lawrence, Elaine Brown, Cherry Gorham, Carole Vick, Dorothy Wheeler, Jo Ann Parsons, Bebe Riggins, Sally Parrott, Barbara Hurst, Jo Ann Sloop.

Columnists: Ernestine Stoltz, Jo Ann Fivel, Liz Mosteller, Carolyn Stonnell, Barbara Simpkins, Ann Keziah.

Circulation: Betty Spivey, Assistant Manager; Charlotte Gray, Sue Jett, Frances Mann, Dale Preddy, Sue Sites, Nancy Thomas, Mary Robbins, Kay Pierce, Jean Anderson, Amanda Dillon, Diane Doughty, June Lee Mary, Barbara Ensmann, Carole Manley, Connie Carlton, Dottie Cothern, Cass Connor, Joanne Hartmen, Becky McGrath, Mary Davis, Jo Ann Curry, Shirley Howard, Joann Brooker, Linda Saunders, Helen Pals, Ann La Bonte, Faye Garrett, Shirley Wilson.

Advertising Staff: Ella Gray, Alice Sawyer, Ellen Webb, Jane Crute, Nancy Drudge, Janet Kay Stanley, Norma Wilson, Virginia Shelton, Sylvia Moore, Suzanne Barr, Joan Brooker, Becky Parker, Maxine Crowder, Shirley McNeal.

From The Gridiron Bleachers

By ANNE KEZIAH

Well, here's your ole' roving reporter, coming to you from across the sports desk in junior building. I'm like there was just lots of excitement last weekend in the way of football games, so let's take a quick look at the results.

William and Mary, breaking a losing streak that extended back to 1955, scored early in the second quarter and again late in the third period to defeat the Virginia Tech Gobblers, 13-7. The Indians led 7-0 at the half, and considering the fumbles, Tech was lucky to get by without a greater deficit at the intermission period. This was the first Big Six loss in four years for the Gobblers, and their second successive Southern Conference defeat.

V.M.I.'s rapidly rising Keydets made their initial Southern Conference and Big Six start of the season a successful one by downing Richmond, 28-6, to ruin the Dad's Day contest for the Spiders. V.M.I. drove 99 yards for its first touchdown early in the opening period, turned a Richmond fumble into another tally shortly after and was never pressed in winning its second game of the season to give the Keydets an impressive 2-0-1 record.

Great running by fullback Jim Bakhtiar and a fine first half passing attack carried the University of Virginia to a 28-20 win over Wake Forest in a wild Atlantic Coast Conference thriller. The win evened the Cavalier record to one win, one loss, and one tie, and Virginia's 28 points were the most it had scored since beating Richmond 49-0 five years ago.

A five-yard offside penalty nullified a Washington and Lee touchdown early in the fourth quarter and the Generals took a 7-6 defeat at the hands of Centre College. This was the Generals' season opener and also the unveiling of their somewhat secret "Go-T" which turned out to be a mixture of the single wing and a variation of the winged T. The new formation befuddled the Kentucky opponents at times, but fumbles and penalties hurt the Generals' chance.

Bridgewater's Eagles edged the Guilford College Quakers, 7-0, Saturday afternoon in a game played on the Bridgewater field. The Eagles struck mid-way the first quarter to score the touchdown which spelled victory. Although the Quakers made 13 first downs to the Eagles one, Guilford did not seriously threaten until the opening of the fourth quarter.

That's the way it went last weekend—looks like some teams made a good showing, while others didn't do so well. But then, that's the way it goes—win one, lose one, and get one rained out!

The Hampden- - Sydney Tigers, under the tutelage of Bob Thalman, beat Emory and Henry, 14-12, Saturday before last in what is supposed to be their toughest encounter of the season. Their next contest is with the "Quakers" of Guilford, October 5. The Quakers are very big, especially in the line, and instead of providing a breather for the Tigers, should prove to be one of their toughest foes in the '57 campaign.

In two games this fall, H-S has scored 53 points, as opposed to only 12 for their opponents. They have rolled up 468 yards on the ground and 177 in the air, for a total offense of 645 yards.

Burger Given Hockey Honor

Miss Elizabeth Burger, associate professor of science at Longwood, was elected as an honorary member of the United States Field Hockey Association. This honor was bestowed in the summer of 1957, at the International Hockey Tournament. It is an exclusive privilege of a select number of Hockey Teams world-wide. There are only 24 members of the U. S. Field Hockey Association, half of which are representatives of foreign countries, as the United States recognizes participants from all over the world.

Directs Hockey Camp

Miss Burger has received no recent offices or positions in the Hockey Association. She is, however, Director of the Mt. Pocono Hockey Camp, Mt. Pocono, Pennsylvania, where 19 Longwood girls attended this past summer.

Miss Burger is a national umpire for the Hockey Team, and will be umpiring the game in Richmond on November 4, playing against the Tidewater team of the Tidewater Association. She is present Chairman of the National Selection Committee, which picks U. S. teams at the National Tournament. This will be held this year at Vassar College on Thanksgiving weekend.

In addition to Miss Burger's activities already described, she is also a member of the U. S. Team to British Guinea, South Africa, England, Australia, and New Zealand. She held titles of both Captain and Manager.

Having begun her career in hockey while in college, Miss Burger is a veteran hockey player, and has played for ten years on the United States Team.

Traveler's Aid

At last count, Coca-Cola was delighting palates in more than 100 countries around the world. This news may not rock you right now. But if you ever get thirsty in Mozambique, you may appreciate the change from goat's milk.

Drink Coca-Cola

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Blazer Awards Highlight AA Demonstration

By CHRIS KAMEN

—Camera Artist

THIS IS THE SCENE of the A. A. Demonstration shortly after the four award winners received their blazers. Shown left to right are Margaret Dowdy, Nancy Richardson, Carol Wolfe and Annie V. Weaver.

Spectators watched in amazing display the athletic abilities exhibited at the A. A. Demonstration last Thursday. A hearty welcome, followed by the introduction of the new Athletic Association Council members for this coming year was given by Nancy Richardson.

Four Blazers Awarded

When all sports demonstrations were completed the highlight of the program took place. The presentation of the white and blue blazers conferred upon those seniors who have excelled in athletics during their college years. The proud recipients of this outstanding award were Carol Wolfe, Nancy Richardson, Margaret Dowdy and Annie V. Weaver. The former two girls are the proud owners of white blazers, while the latter two are equally as proud of their blue jackets.

Here is a brief low-down of the sports accomplishments of these four seniors. Throughout her four years here at Longwood College, Carol Wolfe has shown amazing display of athletic ability in practically all sports. She holds the office of President of the A. A., and her dynamic personality has added much to all team spirit.

Nancy Richardson, Vice President of the A. A. and former Treasurer of the same, is noted for her outstanding ability in every sport offered here at Longwood College. She can always be called on to exhibit some type of skill in the sports field.

Recently elected Captain of the varsity hockey team, Margaret Dowdy can also be given credit for her outstanding participation in Longwood's sports. Her varsity management of both this year's hockey team and last year's basketball squad has always found our teams in tip top shape.

Co-Manager of this year's softball team and former Secretary of the A. A. last year brings us Annie V. Weaver, another active sportswoman. Her lively spirit has always been a spark to help light the flame of victory.

May these girls and the blazers they wear be a lasting reminder of the excellent teamwork and sportsmanship here at Longwood College.

Longwood Eleven Defeats Roanoke in 5 to 1 Victory

Blue And White Team Takes Season's First

The hockey season started off with a winner as Longwood defeated Roanoke College by a grand score of five to one. As the game started, tension mounted quickly as both teams battled for the first point. Lou Heier, from Longwood, playing center half-back, scored first. Roanoke retaliated with their first point, and the score was tied. Tension again mounted as both teams wondered which would make the next goal.

It was a quiet field when the third bully was started, but the question of who would make the next point was settled when Longwood's Delores Dove, commonly known to her friends as Delo, made the next two points consecutively.

Annie V. Weaver, an inner, scored the fourth point for Longwood, and the teams were still playing hard when the first half was completed.

Roanoke was fighting to score again, but she was little match for Longwood as they took the ball down the field to score. This point, scored by Nancy Richardson, was the fifth and final point of the game. Time was called, and Longwood had started her season victoriously.

Three other games are scheduled for this season. The team will meet William and Mary on Oct. 15, at Longwood, Madison on Oct. 26 in Harrisonburg, and Westhampton on November 23, also in Farmville.

Changes Are Made In Rec Swimming

By VIOLET SCOTT

Recreational swimming for the Longwood students will start this week for the first time this year. All students will be allowed to use the swimming pool on Wednesday nights at 10 p.m., and Thursday and Friday afternoons at 4 p.m.

In order for a student to use the swimming pool, she must purchase a regulation tank suit. These suits will be sold any afternoon between 2 and 5 for $4.25. No student is allowed to lend her suit to another girl nor use another student's suit. Each tank suit is numbered, and the suit remains in the locker room at all times. After each swim, the tank suit is sent to the laundry and brought back to the locker room the following day.

A physical examination by the college physician is also required before using the pool. If a student has not had this official examination, she should report to the infirmary any day during sick call. Each student is required to wear a swimming cap, and these caps must be purchased elsewhere. Each student must take a shower before and after using the pool. Soap and towels will be furnished by the college.

In order to eliminate crowded conditions, only forty students are allowed in the pool at any one time. Members of the H2O Club serve as lifeguards with two lifeguards on duty at all times.

Next Tuesday in assembly the YWCA will present the film, "Hidden Treasures." Due to its favorable impression when shown here three years ago this movie was again selected by the organization for one of its annual fall assemblies.

Try To Stop

(ACP)—"It's not hard to stop smoking," comments University of Toledo CAMPUS COLLEGIAN editor Moni Dominique. "The difficult part comes in keeping yourself from starting again."

Flowers at their best
Await You
—at—
COLLINS FLORIST
Phone 181

NEWBERRY'S
WELCOME
—to—
NEWBERRY'S
LONGWOOD
STUDENTS

Boxwood Tourist Court
and Restaurant
3 Miles South of
Farmville on Rt. 15
Phone 3027-5

POPLIN
CAR COATS
• Alpaca Lined
• Sand Color
$12.98
LEGGETT'S

WATCH FOR OUR SALE
ON FARMVILLE DAY!
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

The State
YOUR COMMUNITY CENTER
IN FARMVILLE, VA.
WED., THURS. OCT. 9-10
From the Book
"ACTION OF THE TIGER"
By DR. JAMES WELLARD
Farmville, Va.
SUSPENSE ADVENTURE AND INTRIGUE! ACTION OF THE TIGER
FROM M-G-M IN CINEMASCOPE AND COLOR
BOOKS NOW ON SALE IN THEATRE LOBBY
$3.00 per Copy
FRI., SAT. OCT. 11-12
GLENN FORD
VAN HEFLIN
"3:10 TO YUMA"
SUN., MON. OCT. 13-14
COLUMBIA PICTURES presents
KIM NOVAK
JEFF CHANDLER
in GEORGE S. ONEY'S
Jeanne Eagels
TUES., WED OCT. 15-16
"X, THE UNKNOWN"
—and—
"Curse Of Frankenstein"

LEE
FARMVILLE, VA.
WED., THURS. OCT. 9-10
DOUBLE FEATURE
"PHAROAH'S CURSE"
—and—
BORIS KARLOFF
"VOODOO ISLAND"
FRI., SAT. OCT. 11-12
DOUBLE FEATURE
LAST STAGECOACH WEST
JIM DAVIS
MARY CASTLE
VICTOR JORY
—and—
BAYOU is Brutal!
—starring—
PETER GRAVES
SUNDAY ONLY OCT. 13
RANDOLPH SCOTT
MAUREEN O'SULLIVAN
"THE TALL T"
MON., TUES. OCT. 14-15
LET'S BE HAPPY
TONY MARTIN
VERA-ELLEN

Dean's List Achieved By 72 For Past Semester's Work

Nine LC Students Have 'A' Average

Seventy-two Longwood students, having made a B plus average or better for the second semester of the 1956-57 session, are on the Dean's List.

The nine achieving an A average for this period are Anne Wayne Fuller, of Danville, '57; Lucia Ellen Hart, of York, South Carolina; Susanne LaFontaine, of Somerville, New Jersey; Henry Venable Lancaster, Jr., of Farmville, '57; Jeannette Morris, of Warwick, '57 Naomi Jane Railey, of Severn, North Carolina, '57; Evelyn Aurelia Rowe, of Kinsale, '57; Dorothy Anne Thomas, of Elm City, North Carolina, '57; and Molly Frances Workman, of Norfolk.

Other students currently enrolled at Longwood with names appearing on the Dean's List are as follows: Anne Carlton Adams, Montross; Judith Margaret Alexander, Richmond; Sue Bledsoe Amory, Hampton; Cornelia Anne Batte, McKenney; Winifred Elaine Biddlecomb, Fair Port; Ella Virginia Carter, Bedford; Marjorie Louella Crisemond, Goby; Jane Elizabeth Crute, Boydton; Jeanne Rhoades Deeg, Culpeper; Anita Eanes, Bassett, Jerrye Glen Edwards, Gretna; Sherrie Ann Elliott, Richmond; Suzanne Ward Faison, Norfolk; Barbara Ann Ferneyhough, Richmond; Elizabeth Anne Foster, Richmond; Jo Anne Garner, Chase City; Patsy Carolyn Goodman, Fries; Sally Jean Harney, Arlington; Marjorie Allgood Harrison, Boydton; Barbara Jean Heck, Arlington; Anita Louise Heflin, Ashland; Christine Davis Jones, La-Crosse; Katharine Marie Krehbiel, Oakton; Mary Louise McNabb, Bluefield, West Virginia; Barbara Ann Mitchell, Foneswood; Lylvia Louise Moore, Gloucester; Bette Vaughan Mosteller, Warwick; Mary Beth Picinich, Richmond; Lois Anne Presson, Seaford; Jackie Foreman Sawyer, St. Brides; Ruth Marie Smith, LaCrosse; Helen Lillian Stewart, Alexandria; Anne Marie Sullivan, Arlington; Ruth Ellen Talley, Berryville; Catherine Mae Walker, Barhamsville; Mary Weston Walker, Buffalo Junction; Jacqueline Rose Waller, Hurt; Grace O'Neil Ward, Richmond; Vera Moonyeen Warren, Newport News; Ellen Ann Webb, Wardtown; Elsie May Wells, Richmond; and Gwendolyn Ann White, Wilson.

Other June graduates attaining this honor are the following: Patricia Ames Ashby, Shields; Camille Ann Atwood, Norfolk; John Marvin Austin, Farmville; Cynthia McAden Ballard, South Hill; Sandra Dyer, Greensboro, North Carolina; Katheine Lucille Naugle, Blackstone; Jean Early Parrott, Standardsville; Gayle Lesh Peoples, Pitman, New Jersey; Esther Florence Pollard, Richmond; Patricia Anne Powell, Wakefield; Frances Blunt Raine, Warwick; Norma Virginia Reamy, Rexburg; Margaret Claire Redd, Meherrin; and Betsey Boswell Richardson, Richmond.

Also, Mary Rebecca Riddick, Corapeake, North Carolina; Nicole Marguerite Rothe, Farmville; Rita Jeanne Saunders, Richmond; Ann Cromwell Savedge, Suffolk; Charlotte Caroline Phillips, Rustburg; Roberta Scott Williams, Farmville, and Estelle Walker Atkinson, Cumberland.

Circus

(Continued from Page 1)

earlier to the student body. He leads the costumed "animals" through their paces.

Hilarity and gaiety are combined in the next act as the clowns bounce into the spotlight in a comic fashion.

Beauty is also a feature of Circus. The queen is selected from the senior class. Her court is composed of deserving members from each class. On Circus night, these girls receive their honor and are then revealed to the audience.

Competition reaches its peak when each class presents its original skit, which is judged on originality of plot and class participation, and vie for distinctive honor of being chosen first place winner.

Competition is not only keen between individual classes, but also between colors, as the green and white sisters oppose the red and white sisters in a competitive claim to fame.

Landrum Selected To Program Group

Mrs. Emily K. Landrum, Associate Professor of Physical Education, has been appointed to the Program Committee for the Virginia Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation for a term from 1957-1960.

This committee works as a planning and executive committee for all state meetings and problems in conjunction with Dr. Harold K. Jack, Supervisor of Health, Physical Education, Safety and Recreation. Other members of this committee are Miss Lillian Seats, chairman, Stuart Brewbaker, and Vince Bradford.

Lankford Requests Raise In Budget Appropriations

24 Per Cent Increase Asked For Longwood

FARMVILLE, Sept. 16—Longwood College asked Gov. Stanley for a 24 per cent increase in operating appropriations from the state's general fund for the next biennium.

In requesting $1,297,298 for maintenance and operating expenses, President Francis G. Lankford, Jr., said the budget is based on an expected enrollment of 805 boarding students and 75 day students in the session starting next September, with enrollments of 825 and 75 the following year.

The current budget was based on an assumption of 729 boarding students in 1956-57 and 875 in 1957-58.

Church News

By ROSE MARIE LAWRENCE

Baptists

Oct. 6-12 has been set aside by the Baptist to be observed as Stewardship Week. Noon day devotions throughout the week will center around the topic of tithing.

The first Y.Y.W.A. meeting of the fall session will be held next Tuesday at the Center. Mary Anne Montague will lead the program on "The Forward March in Africa."

Methodists

Hear ye, all Methodist students! Thursday, Oct. 5, the choir rehearsal will be held at 5 p.m. in the church.

Friday will bring another Coffee Hour at the Center at 7 p.m. There will be an informative speaker for the first half hour, followed by fun and fellowship.

Lankford asked for $633,539 from state funds to operate Longwood College for the first year of the next biennium, and for $663,759 for the second year.

Student fees totaling $1,373,432 for the two years, together with general funds, if made available, would give Longwood an operating budget of $2,670,730 for the next biennium, 19 per cent higher than for the present biennium, he said.

$633,539 Requested

with 50 day students each year.

For capital outlay, Lankford requested $1,494,350, which would compare with $695,721 in the current biennium.

Lankford told the governor and members of the budget advisory board that he planned to utilize the college's existing buildings to a greater extent than heretofore. He outlined a plan to encourage students to enroll in summer school directly after graduation from high school, rather than waiting until the regular fall term three months later.

A $40 student fee increase is planned to cover a proposed two-step, 10 per cent faculty salary increase and allow the employment of five additional faculty members, Lankford said.

Among the capital projects requested were a $357,500 dormitory, renovation of another dormitory for $115,300, a $498,000 library addition, and a $173,200 appropriation to buy land for six new dormitories expected to be needed by 1970.

WALKER'S RESTAURANT
Club Breakfast - Lunch
Course Dinners
FOUNTAIN SERVICE
Phone 3280
U. S. 360 and 460
Burkeville, Va.

FOR STUDENTS
Of Discriminating Taste
BRADSHAW'S
RESTAURANT
Burkeville, Va.
We Never Close

DAVIDSON'S
Your House of
QUALITY BLOUSES
Alice Stuart
Ship 'N' Shore
Rosecrest

MARTIN the Jeweler
COME TO MARTIN'S
to choose your China, Silver and Crystal Patterns

HUNGRY?
THIRSTY?
TIRED?
Come to
THE SNACK

WILSON'S HOME & AUTO SUPPLY
10 Top Tunes
Tammy
Diana
Teddy Bear
It's Not for Me to Say
Bye, Bye Love
That'll Be the Day
I'm Gonna Sit Right Oown and Write Myself a Letter
Wildcat
Send for Me
Rainbow

THE BWOC

GO FOR LMOC

L&M ....Today's most exciting cigarette! The campus favorite that gives you "Live Modern" flavor... plus the pure white Miracle Tip. Draws easier... tastes richer...smokes cleaner.

Oasis .....The freshest new taste in smoking...with soothing Menthol mist and easy-drawing pure white filter. On campus they're saying: "O'flavor, O'freshness, Oasis!"

Chesterfield ....The big brand for guys & gals who like their pleasure big! For full-flavored satisfaction... it's Chesterfield...the cigarette that always goes where the fun is.

Yes, the BWOC go for LMOC! How about you?

BOX OR PACKS FLAVOR-TIGHT BOX KING & REGULAR

©1957 LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Lewis Memorial Library
Farmville, Virginia

Read
Editorials
Page 2

The Rotunda

All Out
For Circus!

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., October 16, 1957 | No. 3

Skinner Opens Lyceum Series

The first event in the Farmville-Longwood College Artists Series will be held Monday, October 21 when the celebrated actress Cornelia Otis Skinner presents her character sketches "Paris '90", at 8 p.m. in Jarman Hall auditorium.

CORNELIA OTIS SKINNER

"Paris '90" had a successful season on Broadway, played a full year of coast to coast engagements, and has been presented abroad in England and Ireland. It is a one-woman musical revue depicting colorful Paris during the 1890's.

Miss Skinner says that one of her chief problems is finding the appropriate title for her unique form of theatre, the one-woman show. The word, monologue, she says sounds too "academic." Character Sketches comes nearer the mark. "One-Woman Show," just about describes it. "The main reason for the successful acceptance of solo drama," Miss Skinner pointed out, "is that audiences like to use their imaginations."

Because her father, the late Otis Skinner, was an admirer of the training afforded by the French theatre, it was in Paris that Cornelia Otis Skinner received her initial dramatic schooling. Miss Skinner is an actress. . . one of the few, aside from Ethel Barrymore . . . who has carried a family stardom into her own generation. She not only has perpetuated her father's name, but also has kept it in lights as two-thirds of her own name.

Skinner, an Author

An author also, Miss Skinner has written six books of short pieces, among them her latest, Bottoms Up. Our Hearts Were Young and Gay, written in collaboration with Emily Kimbrough, describes a trip abroad made by the pair.

Tickets for Miss Skinner's character sketches are available at the College business office and two local agencies (The Southside Sundry and Gray's Drugstore) in downtown Farmville. They will be on sale at the box office on the night of the performance, also. All Artists Series programs are open to the public.

On October 22 and on January 21, there will be no assembly. Instead of assembly on these dates, students will be required to attend two lyceum numbers. The program for the evening of October 21 will feature Cornelia Otis Skinner in her character sketches. On the evening of November 6, The National Grass Roots Opera Company will present "The Fledermaus" sung in English. These tickets are available to students without cost.

The Business office has tickets for sale to anyone other than students.

Students

Please stop by the Business Office now to pick up your Artists' Series ticket for the coming performance on Monday, Oct. 21.

Classes Begin Circus Practices

—Camera Artist

CLASS CIRCUS CHAIRMEN are now busy getting ready for November 9 when each class will present its skit. Shown left to right working behind the stage in Jarman Hall are Nancy Brubeck, Donna Boone, Sara Gayhart, Marie Messick, Joyce Pilcher, Matilda Power, and Sue LaFontaine.

Hopeful Classes Guard Secrets

By ELLA CARTER

Love, transformation, happiness, and exotic gaiety — these are the four words which come from each of the four class Circus skits to hint their secret theme. Circus practices are now in their third day and will continue each week night until the climax is reached on Nov. 9 when Circus itself takes place here, sponsored by Alpha Kappa Gamma.

As Circus practices get underway, the class chairmen are beginning to see their ideas form on the stage. These chairmen are Joyce Pilcher and Matilda Power, freshmen; Amy McFall and Marie Messick, sophomores; Nancy Brubeck and Donna Boone, juniors; and Sue LaFontaine and Sara Gayhart, seniors.

Freshmen Say Love

Joyce Pilcher, a freshmen from Richmond, comes from Hermitage High School where she was president of the Student Government and editor of the school newspaper. With a musical talent for singing, Joyce has sung with her own group in Richmond, called the "Keynotes" and has also sung with Fats Domino and Bill Haley at the Arena.

When asked to give a word concerning her Circus theme, Joyce replied, "The word, of course, is that we want to win!" The word she gave that suggested the Freshmen there was "love."

A history major from Blackstone, Matilda Power has been active in dramatics at her high school as well as in state dramatic festivals. She was president of the Thespian Society, and also wrote scripts for her own radio program in Blackstone.

Matilda's roommate commented on Matilda's enthusiasm by saying, "She talks about it (Circus) all the time — even way after lights out!"

Transformation Describes Skit

After much thinking and looking for a non-give-away word concerning the sophomore skit, class chairman Marie Messick

(Continued on page 4)

Honors' Work Begins For Students; Biology, History Selected For Study

Two Longwood students are enrolled in honors courses for the present session. They are Mary Beth Picinich from Richmond, and Bernard Warren from Cumberland. Mary Beth was approved by the honors committee on January 21 and Bernard was approved on May 6.

To Study Timothy Roots

Doing her honors work in the field of biology under the direction of Dr. Robert T. Brumfield, Mary Beth at present is determining the effect on the normal growth pattern of timothy roots by treating them with such chemicals as kinetin gibberellic acid and 2-4-6 Trichlorophanoxy, Acitic Acid. She is also treating them with x-radiation or ultra-violet radiation. In her study she hopes not only to determine the effect upon the roots, but also how to counteract them.

Jamestown Settlement Cost

A history major, Bernard is doing honors work in the field of history under the instruction and supervision of Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel. He has chosen as his project those factors which constituted the cost of the settlement of Jamestown from 1607-1624. His paper will be approximately 20,000 words in length and will include the physical hardships and mortalities of the early Virginia settlers as well as the financial cost of the Virginia Company of London.

The history student is selecting his material from the original sources as such men as John Smith and John Radcliff. During the past year, Bernard has visited Jamestown twice as a preparation for his honors work. He has also written a 3,000 word term paper on the sicknesses and diseases which befell the people of Jamestown from 1607-1619.

Following the completion of his honors work, Bernard plans to attend the University of Virginia where he will work on his masters degree.

Longwood College was among the first of the state colleges of Virginia to begin a program of honors courses. Honor courses were introduced here in 1930 and later revised, expanded, and intensified in 1951.

Continued on page 4

Boerc Eh Thorn Begins Activity

Beorc Eh Thorn, a local honorary society in English, organized for the purpose of promoting and encouraging extra-curricular reading, study and creative writing in all literary forms, has activities under way once again.

The society's new officers for the coming year are Anna Hicks, President, Mary Leach Deane, Secretary, and Judy Alexander, Treasurer.

A new Vice President will be elected at the first meeting due to the resignation of Linda Garrison, who is doing student teaching in Roanoke. Mrs. Dorothy Schlegel will serve as the society's sponsor.

Eligibility for membership is based on high achievements in English and unusual interest and ability in creative writing and in literary study.

In addition to Beorc Eh Thorn's main purposes and programs for the coming year, its members are attempting to increase their knowledge of the English faculty members here at Longwood by finding out their accomplishments and the papers, dissertations or other works that they have written.

The first meeting, which will consist of a waffle supper at Longwood Estate, will be held on October 17. Invited guests are all the English faculty members and their families.

Wilson To Give Talk At 'Y Week' Program

"Know Your Y" Week is being celebrated this week by the Y.W.C.A. of Longwood. The "Y" is sponsoring a number of activities to give the students an opportunity to become acquainted with the "Y" and its cabinet.

Various posters around the campus were made so that students may familiarize themselves with members of the "Y" cabinet.

Yesterday, the "Y" presented the film, "Hidden Treasures" in Assembly. On Thursday the YWCA is sponsoring the first "Y" Come, at which Miss Wilson will give the first of a series of talks about religions around the world. This series will consist of slides which will accompany the talks. This will be held at the student lounge in Student Building. Friday, the first "Y" sing will be presented by the "Y" in the Main Rec.

Longwood Players Begin Production

The Longwood Players have selected "The Lady's Not for Burning," a comedy by Christopher Frye for their fall production. It will be presented November 21, 22, and 23 in Jarman Hall.

Molly Workman, a junior, will serve as assistant director for this performance. Nancy Brubeck is stage manager; Pat Walton, technical director; Becky Jones, lights designer; and Pat Leake, scene designer.

Other Longwood students filling the roles of crew chiefs are as follows: Lynne McDade, lights; Ann Wallace, sound; Joan Kidwell, costumes; Virginia Londeree, props; Kale Kirchner, house; Cat Ozman, publicity; Sandra Stevens, scenery; and Ann Wheeler, make-up.

Christopher Frye, a modern English dramatist began his theater career as an actor in a repertory company at Bath. He has also produced a number of plays in addition to his writing.

"The Lady's Not for Burning" was first presented at the Arts Theater in London in 1948. In 1949 it was revived at the Globe where it ran until the following year.

The author has also written "A Phoenix Too Frequent," "The Firstborn," and "Thor, With Angels." Among the plays he has produced are "Circle of Chalk" and "School for Scandal."

Divided Loyalty For Two Colleges Seen By New Professor Kennedy

Divided loyalties, it is said, sometimes tend to weaken. John Payson Kennedy, 24, a precedent-maker who teaches at both Hampden-Sydney and Longwood, is proving otherwise.

Youngish as college professors go, Kennedy shares time precisely equally at the schools while teaching in subject fields which bow to none in age, sociology, the science of society and social behaviour, and anthropology, the science of man.

The Emory University graduate came to the post binding the schools by mutual endeavor through the Cooperative Professor program of the Richmond Area University Center. Through that program, the two institutions pay one-fourth of the salary each and the Richmond Center the remaining half.

Such an arrangement enables the colleges to do together what they could not do alone, permitting them to compete in subject offerings with larger ones, more heavily endowed or with more funds.

The Richmond Area University Center, operating with a grant from the General Education Board of New York City, unites 13 Virginia institutions in a mutually-supporting effort for better education. The sharing of visiting speakers is one of the more locally-familiar benefits of the center.

Other than for informal arrangement between the two schools where such things as music have been directed at both by one person during a temporary absence at the other, Kennedy's appointment is the first formal one linking the two institutions through a common faculty member.

With Kennedy's coming on the one-year appointment, Hampden-Sydney broadened its course offering to give Introduction to Sociology and Cultural Anthropology to juniors and seniors for the first time.

COOPERATIVE PROFESSOR, JOHN PAYSON KENNEDY
Looks at College Catalogues . . . Impartially

President Joseph C. Robert reports that this first venture in that area of the social sciences may lead to establishment of a regular department. That is the point to which the college seeks to work, at least.

Longwood College has offered both courses in its curriculum in Dr. Gordon Moss' Department of History and Social Sciences. However, securing the joint professorship has enabled Longwood to strengthen its teaching position therein, according to President F. G. Lankford, Jr.

Longwood presently offers Introductory Sociology to members of all classes who can fit it in. Cultural Anthropology is a junior-senior class subject there.

(Continued on page 4)

To the Student Body

(Editor's Note: The following letter was received yesterday from Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, President Emeritus of Longwood College.)

Dear Girls:

I appreciate immensely your birthday greetings. It is always pleasant to be remembered even if I have had too many of these anniversaries already!

It is hard for me to realize that only this year's Seniors were students during my years at Longwood. Those were happy years for me—made so by the fine spirit and full cooperation of my girls. God bless you all.

You shall have my good wishes and interest always.

Sincerely,
Dabney S. Lancaster

AKG Circus

Wanted: You

Wanted: You. In order to give 100 per cent participation in the coming '57 Longwood Circus. Practices began on Monday for this event. You were wanted there because you had wanted the Circus. You elected your class chairmen to plan your work. Now it is up to you to back them up. The job will be just what you make it; and if in keeping with the past Circuses here, the job will be one of much pleasure. Circus provides a time for every member of a class to put his talent to work in order to push his own class toward the winning mark.

Reward: Pleasure, getting to know other people, gratification from hard work, and perhaps, the thrill of winning an award for the best float or skit.

Apply in person at your class practices which will be scheduled throughout the coming weeks.

EC

A Time And A Place

Knit one, purl two makes a grand hobby for some students each Tuesday at 1 p. m. when the entire student body meets for its weekly assembly program. Likewise, there is the usual repetoire of letter writing, casual reading, day dreaming, or catching up on a little lost sleep. Worn as it may be, the old phrase, "There's a time and place for everything" still needs to be applied here.

Though it may seem juvenile to raise the question of conduct, the necessity of it has been asked for and will have to be dealt with in a very frank manner. First, we have the question of why is there improper conduct or attention during our assembly programs. The reason, whatever it may be, can not be justified. When this question is carefully considered, the answer seems to be that students are just sometimes careless. Certainly we have assembly programs which do not always especially interest each individual student, but these programs are carefully planned for the student body as a whole. We may conclude that the assemblies do appeal to the general likes of any typical college group.

While referring to the "typical" college group, we may also assume that they have reached the age of knowing how to conduct themselves. Strains of the familiar children's melody, "Mickey Mouse," do not seem welcoming to the atmosphere of a waiting academic procession. This does not mean to imply that assemblies are stiff occasions not to be enjoyed by everyone. We just need to be more aware and fully conscious of the right time and the place. For example, when we have a visiting speaker we must give him our full attention and welcome to our campus. His impression of the college might be quickly formed by his view of the students assembled before him.

As we are now just beginning a new year, let us always be conscious of the right time and the right place for all activity. Assemblies are for you, usually conducted by you, and certainly made what value they are by you.

EC

The Last Mistake

(Editor's Note: The world extends far beyond the campus, reflects this editorial from the Ohio State University Lantern, and this little fact explains many things. Editorial writer Tom Dorsey here expresses one collegian's view of world affairs.)

The other day as we were making our way through a between-class crowd we heard this conversation: "I can't stand this history course." And from the other party, "Yeah, it's a drag on my schedule too. I don't know why they make us take it."

Then the conversation jumped to the possibility or impossibility of a third world war. Speculation was high on what Russia would do. Then it struck us. All the conversation was in the present tense. Russia isn't only present. It's past too. And what she does in the future will depend on the past.

To understand why Russia, or any nation, acts in one way or another we must know what it did yesterday or 100 years before yesterday. A nation will act on the accumulation of hundreds of years of political, economic, and cultural trends.

We must understand the world we live in and only knowledge can bring us that understanding. Just as in a course we must know the material or flunk, so it is with our world — the only difference being that we can take a course over while we have trouble stopping wars once they start.

Perhaps if we as citizens took a little more interest in our own government as well as others the world would be a better place to live.

Perhaps if we don't learn our lesson now our next mistake may be our last one.

Perhaps this is the reason we have to take history, political science or economics. If it isn't the reason maybe it should be.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS BY BIBLER

Big Weekend, No Scoop

By ERNESTINE STOLTZ

Now, don't you dare start griping. I can't help it if the column isn't as long as you'd like this week because I was gone last weekend too, see, and didn't get to do much snoopin' around—Nobody will tell me anything either. I told them I'd take the blame (if it got printed) but "no would do." I do want to thank Peggy B. for helping me get the sophomore and freshman news, though.

A big hearty congratulations is due Sylvia Pheips. It seems that she caught herself a M A N last weekend who produced one "monster," commonly known as a diamond.

Moonyeen Warren is pinned to Willie Pierce, a Kappa Sig from Hampden-Sydney.

Sarah Oliver is flashing a PiKA pin around. We understand that it's original owner is Bill Overcash, a Hampden-Sydney Tiger.

One apology is asked of Mary Linda League. We got the name of the boy she is pinned to all mixed up last week. He is Bruce Mayger, and not Bruce Robinson as previously printed. . . SORry!!! I was also told that Mary Linda went to a KA Masquerade Rush Party last weekend. . . I wasn't told where, but anyway she went.

Now, down to games and parties of the weekend. There were two major doins', and I really don't know which one to start on first, so let's start in the western part of the state, and work east. . . o.k.?

Virginia Tech edged by Villanova to win their Homecoming Game, and, Man, you think they didn't have a few parties after that game? Well, they did, and some of the girls seen darting in and out (by our roving reporter) were Janet Chase, Barbara Stephenson, Frances Harvey, Sue Blair, Virginia McAden, Ann Mixon, Carol Lassiter, Marilyn King, Betty Spivey, Jean Turner, and Reba Westmoreland.

We hated to see it happen, but U.Va. didn't quite get in enough points to win their Homecoming Game, but those parties didn't cease to roll after the sun went down. Some L.C. ladies out for the goin's on were Donna Boone, Waynne Boyden, Sandra Hover, Burks Keith, Lynn McDade, Elva Wynne, Barbara Wilson, Hannah Haile, Ann Barnes, Nancy Winfree, Tae Wamsley, Boots Davis, Ann Scott, Pat Mitchell, and Martha Gray Shirley.

Carol Matthews and Linda Moore traveled down to see another Virginia team pull through for another victory. . . and that was—to the VMI game.

Well. . . if you don't mind, I'm gonna blow this joint—mainly because I don't have any more news, and it's also hot in this news office. Huff - Puff. . .Water, somebody, water. . . (Goodnight Jagerino, wherever you are.)

Saunders Appointed To Publication Staff

Shirley Saunders, a junior, has been appointed to the campus editorial board of Motive magazine, a publication for college students and professors. As one of the 23 board members representing a wide geographical range of colleges and universities over the United States, she will send campus news material and opinion to Motive and will aid in the magazine's editorial policies during the school year of 1957-58.

Editorial board members are chosen each year after careful screening on the part of the Motive staff. Methodist Student Workers, Wesley Foundation directors and college faculty in both major universities and small colleges. The magazine, which endeavors to represent an intelligent Christian point of view on the college scene, is particularly interested in students with leadership qualities, a serious and studious approach to learning and with an interest in American college life as a whole.

Kappa Delta Wins Longwood Trophy

The following are the scholastic averages for the sororities for the preceding school year, 1956-57:

Fall Semester 1956

Kappa Delta	1.90
Theta Sigma Upsilon	1.88
Zeta Tau Alpha	1.84
Alpha Sigma Tau	1.835
Delta Zeta	1.833
Sigma Sigma Sigma	1.747
Alpha Sigma Alpha	1.744
Pi Kappa Sigma	1.61

Spring Semester 1957

Kappa Delta	1.99
Theta Sigma Upsilon	1.87
Delta Zeta	1.84
Zeta Tau Alpha	1.83
Alpha Sigma Tau	1.79
Sigma Sigma Sigma	1.73
Pi Kappa Sigma	1.70
Alpha Sigma Alpha	1.69

Average for 1956-57 Session

Kappa Delta	1.94
Theta Sigma Upsilon	1.87
Delta Zeta	1.836
Zeta Tau Alpha	1.83
Alpha Sigma Tau	1.81
Sigma Sigma Sigma	1.73
Alpha Sigma Alpha	1.71
Pi Kappa Sigma	1.65

Each fall the sorority with the highest scholastic average for the preceding year receives the Longwood trophy for that year.

Campus Chest

The Campus Chest, sponsored annually by the YWCA, began yesterday.

The goal is set for $200. Members of the "Y" Cabinet will collect on each hall. Stickers will be given to place on the door of the donors.

The contributions will be given to the World University Service, Heart Fund, Muscular Dystrophy fund, Cancer Society, and the Cerebal Palsy Fund.

Church News

Baptist

The Farmville Baptist Church is holding its revival this week with guest speaker, Rev. Simms from Richmond, directing the services every night at 8 p.m.

Tonight, Oct. 16, the B.S.U. Council is honoring the international students of Longwood with a dinner at the Center.

Special attention is being placed on our forthcoming state convention which will be at Bluefield, West Virginia, Nov. 1-3 this year. Any Baptist student interested in going should contact Lillian Rosson.

Methodist

All Methodist students who are interested in the Deputation training Program will meet at the Center at 8 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 17. Also on Oct. 17, at 5 p.m., the Wesley Choir will practice in the church. All new and old members are urged to come since the choir will be singing Sunday morning, Oct. 20.

Another enjoyable Coffee Hour will be held at 7 p.m. on Oct. 18. Freya Holtrop will be the guest for this informal hour of Christian fellowship.

Sunday, Oct. 20, is the beginning o United Nations Week. The Wesley evening program will have as guest speaker Dr. Gordon Moss and Mr. James Helms. The hour of fellowship which will follow will consist of interesting songs and games of foreign countries.

Presbyterian

Last Sunday West Fel met at the Hampden-Sydney College Church for a supper, a talk by Dr. Arehart, and fellowship hour.

On Friday, Oct. 11, a prayer vigil was held in the Farmville Presbyterian Church from 7:30 to 10:00 p. m. Special programs were printed as an aid in prayer and recorded organ music was played during this time.

The Bible Study will be held in the church here tonight at 7 p. m.

This Sunday there will be an "all day" study retreat at Sydnor's Lake. The Longwood girls, wearing bermudas, are to meet behind the library at 9:30 a. m.

Episcopal

Mr. Vache dedicated a paul to Johns' Memorial Church last Sunday in memory of his brother. He then started an interesting series on the history of the Episcopal Church. Afterwards, reports were given by those who attended the Ecumenical Conference in Massanetta.

This Sunday, the Canterbury Club will have a speaker from Hampden-Sydney.

Capitol Topics

By CAROLYN STONNELL

Americans have for some years thought themselves to be the example if not the leaders of the world in governmental and religious policies and certainly the most progressive nation of the world. Undoubtedly most were stunned to learn that a competitor had gained the lead in exploring outer space. A tiny moon commonly known to the public as "Sputnik" was circling the earth in its own little orbit. . . Immediately all the world was looking on in awe of Russia's latest "known" scientific accomplishment while back in the United States in defense of their failure to be the first to launch a workable satellite the public demanded an explanation of the scientists.

Controversial statements and opinions on the subject lead one to think many things and know nothing. Perhaps the billions of dollars appropriated for scientific research is being used wisely and America's scientists are doing their utmost in the field. The question may then arise as to whether or not there are enough scientists. There have been pleas made by enumerable men of science voicing the need for young people to enter the scientific fields. In a country such as ours which offers individual choice in higher education it is not possible to secure all the scientific minds nor is it possible to force them to meet the challenge.

There is a brighter note for all fields of intellectual development whether it be in liberal arts or the sciences in that a larger percent of Americans are seeking a higher education and those are assuming more responsibility and enthusiasm for their work. In many sections of the country it is becoming the vogue for students to earnestly pursue their studies in a scholarly manner. For, does not the future of the universe hinge on youth?

The Rotunda

ELLA V. CARTER

Editor-in-Chief

Linda Doles ..... Managing Editor
Norma Jenrett ..... Business Manager
Bet McLoughlin ..... News Editor
Judy Eckstrom ..... Feature Editor
Patsy Powell ..... Sports Editor
Virlinda Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Elaine Weddle, Pat Wilmoth ..... Photography
Nan Brimmer, Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Ann Hill ..... Advertising Manager
Grace Bowles ..... Office Manager
Dr. James Wellard ..... Faculty Advisor

Reporters: Henrietta Dollins, Assistant News Editor; Eleanor Gurganus, Ann Glover, Margie Layman, Delo Deve, Ann Presson, Calvert King, Mary Weid, Emily Johnson, Shirley Saunders, Violet Scott, Mary Kay Robbins, Martha Rucker, Pat Rodenhizer, Marie Fisher, Barbara Heck, Chris Kamen, Rose Marie Lawrence, Elaine Brown, Cherry Gorham, Carole Vick, Dorothy Wheeler, Jo Ann Parsons, Bebe Riggins, Sally Parrott, Barbara Hurst, Jo Ann Sloop.

Columnists: Ernestine Stoltz, Jo Ann Fivel, Liz Mosteller, Carolyn Stonnell, Barbara Simpkins, Ann Keziah.

Circulation: Betty Spivey, Assistant Manager; Charlotte Gray, Sue Jett, Frances Mann, Dale Preddy, Sue Sites, Nancy Thomas, Mary Robbins, Kay Pierce, Jean Anderson, Amanda Dillon, Diane Doughty, June Lee Mary, Barbara Ensmann, Carole Manley, Connie Carlton, Dottie Cothern, Cass Connor, Joanne Hartmen, Becky McGrath, Mary Davis, Jo Ann Curry, Shirley Howard, Joann Brooker, Linda Saunders, Helen Pals, Ann La Bonte, Faye Garrett, Shirley Wilson.

Advertising Staff: Ella Gray, Alice Sawyer, Ellen Webb, Jane Crute, Nancy Drudge, Janet Kay Stanley, Norma Wilson, Virginia Shelton, Sylvia Moore, Suzanne Barr, Joan Brooker, Becky Parker, Maxine Crowder, Shirley McNeal.

Published weekly by the students of Longwood College. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service, Inc. Printed by The Farmville Herald. Office Box 168, Longwood College, Farmville, Va.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association and Associated Collegiate Press, and Intercollegiate Press.

Unsigned editorials written by the editor.

Dowdy, LC Hockey Captain, Sets Victory Goal for Team

Confidence Displayed By Enthusiastic Team

Margaret Dowdy, a senior from Altavista, has recently been chosen captain of the hockey team for 1957-'58.

Margaret's teammates have displayed their confidence in the way she handles the team as she is also manager.

"I was very pleased and happy to be chosen, and my hope along with the other players is to be victorious in all our games," says Margaret.

Managed Basketball Team

She has been playing hockey for three years and was also manager of the basketball team last year. Margaret stated that her most important gain from college sports was that of making friends and getting to know people better. She also enjoyed learning to play and taking part in sports activities.

Attended Hockey Camp

Her skills in hockey are based on the combination of practice here at Longwood and at hockey camp two years ago. "However, everyone on the team plays together as one and all the girls are wonderful sports," she says.

Margaret also won a blue blazer for outstanding participation in sports. "I was very surprised and felt that all my efforts and participation in this field was much more meaningful than just worthwhile," said Margaret.

She is a physical education major and hopes to teach in Virginia after she graduates.

Margaret was the whisket manager during her sophomore year.

Teaches Archery

At the present time she is student teacher in physical education at the high school, taking classes here, and keeping busy on the hockey field. At the school she varies from her hockey to the teaching of archery to the tenth graders there.

President of Monogram Club

This year Margaret is serving as president of the Monogram Club, an organization which recognizes students who have been outstanding in sports here at Longwood.

During the past summer, Margaret attended camp at Massanetta near Harrisonburg. While at this camp she worked on the staff as a recreational director.

—Camera Artist

MARGARET DOWDY
Varsity Hockey Captain

"Children Like To Play"

Speaking of her experiences there with the young people from all over the state, she says, "I find that all children do like to play, and my work there was most meaningful to me in the field of physical education."

Five members of the Class of '61 have been added to the Longwood varsity hockey team. Freshman members of the squad are Barbara Brantley, June Elmore, Mary Hite Grayson, Pat Southworth and Jeanette Talbott.

Plans for the Christmas Water Pageant are now underway. Janet Lloyd will serve as chairman of the pageant with Nancy Andrews as her assistant. The theme for the pageant and the try out dates will be announced at a later date. Any student is eligible to enter this pageant.

Team To Play Here Saturday

The Longwood Hockey team will see its third match of the season this Saturday afternoon as they meet the challenge of the Campus Characters, a club hockey team from Lynchburg.

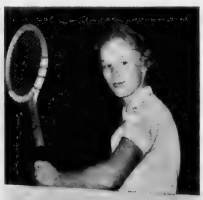
A previously scheduled game with the Norfolk Division of William and Mary has been cancelled.

This will be the second home match of Longwood's '57 season, and the Athletic Association extends to all students an invitation to come out and cheer the blue and white players to victory. Longwood's newly chosen cheerleaders will be on hand to lead the spectators in hardy support of the hockey team. The Campus Characters will be making their first appearance on Longwood's field.

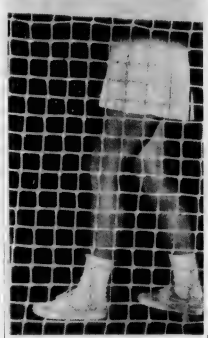
Brantly, State Tennis Champion, Boosts Frosh's Aid For Color Cup

Suffolk Sports Lover Rates Tennis Highest

By JO ANNE PARSONS



Longwood's 1957 freshman class has enrolled the Virginia State Tennis Champion, Barbara Brantly, from Suffolk.



'57 Tennis Champ

Barbara has been competing in the tournament for three years with her aims set for the championship. She was first defeated in 1955 by Lloyd Hoskins from Lynchburg, and in '56 lost to Bonnie Loving of Charlottesville. Her performance this year brought her victory over Betsy Baker, from Franklin, and the championship. She was also runner up in the doubles with Grace Brinkly, another entry from Suffolk.

Approximately 42 girls from various Virginia cities and counties competed in this tournament held July 14-19 in Charlottesville under the direction of Mike Dollan, the Farmington Country Club tennis pro.

"To participate you must have a particular interest in sports and its skills," says Barbara, "and it's a good test for any player who wishes to try for the silver trophy. Tennis players from beginners up are here exhibiting their skills."

—The Camera Artist

BARBARA BRANTLY
State Tennis Champion

Played in Nationals

Barbara had additional experience in tournament tennis when she played in the Nationals two years prior to her championship meet. She also competed in the Middle Atlantic tournament for two years and won consolation in the singles. Her immediate plans are to enter the Women's State Championship this year.

During the next four years, Barbara will concentrate on her studies and play tennis just for enjoyment. She is a physical education major and hopes to minor in Biology.

Barb loves all sports in general, but is particularly fond of tennis. She believes it is body-building and helps ones co-ordination. "It's a sport that can be enjoyed any time of the year, and it has introduced me to many new friends," says Barbara who has been playing tennis for five years.

Her proud classmates comment that they are looking for her support in winning the color cup this year.

Juniors must have completed the required junior swimming test before November 1. The test will be given from 2:50 p. m. to 4:15 p. m. daily at the pool. Tank suit, soap, and towels will be furnished. Those who plan to take a swimming class instead of the required test should see Miss Weddle. Anyone who has successfully completed a swimming class here at Longwood will not be required to take the test.

Longwood Defeats William And Mary As Spectators Spur Team to 4-0 Win

By PAT POWELL

Longwood's varsity hockey squad opened the home season yesterday with a hard fought 4-0 victory over William and Mary College. This was the second triumph of the '57 season for the blue and white eleven, who captured the opener, 5-0 from Roanoke College at Salem.

Both teams exhibited their training and ability, keeping the spectators on the edge of their seats during an exciting first half, that remained scoreless almost to the end. Longwood Junior Gayle Cunningham broke the deadlock as the crowd cheered to post the first point in the home team's favor.

Longwood's eleven showed themselves masters of the second half, as Junior Delo Dove guided the ball through the goal to score the second point of the game. Dove quickly showed her skill again as point three was recorded in Longwood's favor. Junior Louise Heier gets credit for the fourth and final point of the first game.

Seeing action for Longwood were Gayle Cunningham, Deloras Dove, Louise Heier, Carol Wolfe, "Sandy" Fitzgerald, Margaret Dowdy, Annie V. Weaver, Willie Taylor, Linda Vess, Jackie Waller, and Nancy Richardson.

Carr, Hale, Atkinson, Schrader, Coslas, Albiez, Robinson, Diamonte, Gale, Martin, and Grubbs played for the Williamsburg team. Rage substituted for right inner Schrader in the second half, while Carlson played for right wing Coslas.

Again the Longwood eleven exhibited their abilities to advantage as they captured the second contest of the day in a one-sided 9-1 victory. The team scored early as Sophomore Doris Kesling twice sent the ball through the goal. William and Mary was quick to retaliate as Right Inner Radford posted their first score of the day. Much to the dismay of the Williamsburg eleven, Longwood Junior Nancy Andrews added three points to the blue and white's score before the first half ended.

The second half enlivened quickly as Freshman Mary Hite Grayson scored Longwood's sixth point. Doris Kesling, Freshman Barbara Brantly, and Junior Mary Lou Morgan added points seven, eight, and nine, before the final whistle.

Seeing action for Longwood were Fadely, Whipple, Captain Nancy Andrews, Kesling, Harris, Campbell, Grayson, Sloop, O'Connell, Sothworth, George, Morgan, Curry, Talbert, Palmer, Elmore, and Brantly.

Playing for William and Mary were Thomas, Christenson, Palmer, Radford, Saccio, Phillips, Branch, Linder, Clarke, Melson, and McNeill.

Shirley Shepherd served as scorekeeper, while Barbara Staton acted as timekeeper. Officials were Burger and McVey.

Many Longwood supporters were on hand to cheer the blue and white team to victory. The game marked the first appearance this year of LC's cheerleaders, and the blue and white clad girls lead the spectators in cheering their favorites.

Classes to Compete For AA Color Cup

By PAT POWELL

Who's going to win? Who's going to win? We're going to win, so the song says. We may be red and whites as the Sophs and Seniors or green and whites as the Frosh and Juniors, regardless, all are after the points that bring the coveted possession of the Athletic Association Color Cup.

Awarded to Sister Classes

The color cup is awarded each spring to the sister classes that have earned the largest number of points in athletic competition. First on the competitive scene this year is the tennis doubles matches, now in progress. The winning players will have earned five points for their class colors. Further points can be gained during the season by winning hockey competition, which contributes ten points; basketball, ten points; and volleyball, also ten points. Tennis singles, five points; wisket, five points; softball, five points; archery, five points; and swimming, ten points complete color cup competition.

Placed in Home Office

Each year the cup, which is placed on the mantle in the Home Office, bears the colors of the classes winning the most points during the previous year. The present cup has been won six times by the red and whites and six times by the green and whites. Winning years for red and white have been '46, '48, '50, '52, '54, and '55. Green and whites have been victorious in '47, '49, '51, '53, '56, and '57.

Participation Encouraged

Only if all who are athletically inclined willingly participate, can there be stiff competition in the race. The Athletic Association urges everyone to attend the required number of practices and lend her talents to her color. For those who don't wish to play, there is plenty of space for supporters on the sidelines.

CheerleadersCited For '57-'58 Season

The hockey game yesterday marked the first appearance this season of Longwood's blue and white clad cheerleaders. There were four familiar and four new faces among the group that performed.

Captain Barbara Rossiter, of Atlanta, Georgia, is a sophomore who was chosen as captain during her freshman year. In addition to being a cheerleader, Barbara is a member of the Colonnade staff, Chorus, Wesley Foundation, and Pi Kappa Sigma social sorority.

Cris Wilson of Hopewell is also a sophomore serving her second year as a cheerleader. Secretary of the Sophomore Class, Cris is a member of the Cotillion Club, the Chorus, and Kappa Delta social sorority.

Another sophomore, Arlene McKay came to Longwood from Hopewell, and in addition to being a cheerleader is a member of the Cotillion Club.

Cheerleader Carol Matthews from Salem has been class representative to Student Government for her freshman and sophomore classes. She holds membership in the Cotillion Club and Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority.

The four new cheerleaders chosen for this year's squad are Norma Jean Johnson, Jackie Gibson, Carol Boley, and JoAnn Kleineske.

From The Gridiron Bleachers

By ANNE KEZIAH

It looks like practically every school in Virginia played football last weekend. I've never seen such an athletic state. Here's a quick rundown of the results of these contests.

VMI's Victory

A homecoming crowd of 4,000 sat in bright sunshine to watch undefeated VMI turn on the steam midway in the third period to take a 26-14 Southern Conference victory over the Davidson Wildcats. This was VMI's first victory in four tries against the Wildcats.

Gobblers Defeat Villanova

In another homecoming game, Virginia Tech stormed 95 yards in the dying minutes of the game to send a crowd of 14,000 home happy, as the Gobblers pulled a 21-14 upset over Villanova. The game was a thriller from start to finish. Tech scored three plays after the opening kickoff and they never trailed from then on; but they were twice tied, fumbled five times, had two important passes intercepted before they uncorked their 95 yard win-the-game drive.

Clemson Downs U.Va.

Perhaps one of the craziest games of the weekend took place in Scott Stadium in Charlottesville. U.Va. came out on the short end of the score (20-6) in a tilt against Clemson, but some of the capers cut in that game are still unbelievable to many of the 18,000 homecoming fans. There was just too much Clemson power for the Cavaliers to put up with for four quarters of fierce football, and U.Va.'s own mistakes hurt the Cavaliers almost as much as did the Clemson power.

W and M vs Penn State

With 20 seconds remaining in the third quarter, William and Mary scored and made good on the kick to take a 13-7 lead over Penn State, while the crowd tried not to believe the scoreboard. This seemed impossible as Penn State was favored by 19 points. But, they say "all good things must come to an end," and the Indians' hopes for a stunning upset quickly died as Penn State took the ball, started rolling, and didn't stop until the game was over and the score read 21-13 in their favor. Even though the Indians lost, you have to admit they played a mighty exciting football game.

H-S Victors Over Guilford

Hampden-Sydney traveled down into North Carolina territory where they met and defeated Guilford College, 19-14, to spoil the Quakers' homecoming. Victory cries were already sounding from the Guilford fans when, in the last minutes of the game, the Tigers pulled through for the winning touchdown. (By the way, the Tigers will be at home this Saturday, playing host to the Western Maryland team. Game time, 2 p.m.)

Yellow Jackets Sting

Trailing by a 7-6 margin at halftime, Randolph-Macon's Yellow Jackets broke loose in the second half to hand the Bridgewater Eagles a 32-7 trouncing. The Eagles were flying high during the first half, but were no match for the sting of the Yellow Jackets in the second half.

That's all for this week—tune in again next week, same time, same column, for your weekly football roundup.

Schedule of Activities

Organization	Time	Date
Rotunda Staff	7:00	Wed.
Alpha Psi Omega	7:00	Thurs.
Home Ec. Club	7:00	Thurs.
Beore Eh Thorn	4:00	Thurs.
Baptist Choir	5:00	Thurs.
Methodist Choir	5:00	Thurs.
Rec. Swim	4:00	Fri.
Choir	4:00	Mon. and Wed.
Baptist Student Union Council	5:00	Mon.
Wesley Foundation Council	5:00	Mon.
A. A. Council	7:00	Mon.
Virginian Staff	7:00	Mon.
Sororities	5:00	Tues.
Student Government	7:00	Tues.
Y.W.C.A. Council	5:00	Wed.
Orchesis-concert group	4:00-6:00	Wed.
Colonnade Staff	4:00	Wed.

FOR REFRESHMENTS
AND RELAXATION
Meet Your Friends
—at—
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

HUNGRY?
THIRSTY?
TIRED?
See You At
THE SNACK

DOWNTOWN
FOR LUNCH?
—Visit—
NEWBERRY'S
Luncheonette

FOR STUDENTS
Of Discriminating Taste
BRADSHAW'S
RESTAURANT
Burkeville, Va.
We Never Close

WILSON'S HOME & AUTO SUPPLY
10 Top Tunes
Tammy
Diana
Teddy Bear
It's Not for Me to Say
Bye, Bye Love
That'll Be the Day
I'm Gonna Sit Right Down and Write Myself a Letter
Stardust
Send for Me
Rainbow

DEVIATIONS BY THE FOUR FRESHMEN wowed a crowd of mostly students in Jarman auditorium Thursday night in a benefit performance for the Dabney S. Lancaster scholarship fund. The sponsoring Longwood College organizations realized about $450 from the performance. The noted quartet flew in from Louisiana, where they had played the night before, and Texas A&M, where they had been the night before that. Transportation note: it took four airlines and two rented cars.

FreshmenPerform For Big Audience

The popular Four Freshmen entertained a capacity crowd in Jarman Hall last Thursday night. Combining vocal and instrumental talent in a gay and charming manner, the Freshmen varied their program from slow, dreamy, love songs to Dixie Land jazz.

Some of the hits included were "Somebody Loves Me", "Holiday," "Sophisticated Lady" and "There Will Never Be Another You"; also an old favorite by Bob Flanigan, "It's Lonesome in the Saddle Since My Horse Died Blues," which almost brought the house down with laughter.

Organizations sponsoring the concert here include the Student Government, Alpha Kappa Gamma, A. A. Council, House Council, Y.W.C.A., sophomore, junior, and senior classes, and all eight social sororities, and the Panhellenic Council.

The steering committee was headed by Weedie Norman, assisted by Ann Norfleet.

Honors Courses

(Continued from page 1)

Draper Heads Committee

The honors program here is supervised by a committee of five faculty members. They are Miss Helen Draper, chairman; Dr. Ethel Sutherland; Dr. Floyd F. Sweitzeger; Dr. Francis B. Simkins; and Dr. Robert T. Brumfield. This committee approves the names of each candidate for honors work before the student can begin work on the course. They also appoint a special examining committee for each student who completes a course in honors work. They make all rules and regulations governing the honors program.

Requirements For Honors Work

Admissions to honors courses is open to students of outstanding ability who have been approved by the head of the department in which they plan to work and by the honors committee. The honor candidates must have completed at least two years of college work; however, due to unusual circumstances the honors committee may make an exception. A student who has received the approval of the committee declaring her to be eligible for honors work will be registered in an honors course for two semesters.

An honor course is considered equal to that of a three-semester-hour course in each semester. These courses are numbered "400" in the Longwood catalogue. These two semesters need not be consecutive. In some cases student teaching could interfere. Honors work is generally begun in the last semester of the junior year, continued through the summer, and finished in the senior year. During this period of work the student is under the guidance and supervision of a faculty member, who is assigned as her sponsor.

The student's honor project consists of the study of a specialized topic and must be presented in a formal research paper. The faculty sponsor having approved the paper, the student shall then be given an oral examination on the project by an examining committee. A student who passes the examination is entitled to graduation with honors in the department in which the course was taken. A student who fails the examination may be given six semester hours of credit for the work done if the sponsor considers the work worthy of the credit.

Assembly next Tuesday at 1:10 p. m. will be sponsored by the Senior Class.

The seniors plan to present a program of slides on the theme of nature to be accompanied by poetry and songs. Carolyn Wilson and Annie Mae Williams, of Danville, are in charge of the assembly. Mrs. Beulah Eva, junior house mother, will provide the slides.

Kappa Delta Pi Plans Activities

The national honor society in Education, Kappa Delta Pi, has started a new year under the direction of President Cornelia Ann Batte, Vice President Anita Heflin, Secretary Ellen Webb and Treasurer Sylvia Moore. Mrs. Lcy Adams will serve as the society's sponsor.

It was organized as a result of a need felt by the faculty and students for an organization in recognition of scholarship, character, and service.

Only those students of full junior standing whose grades are within the upper quintile are eligible for membership.

Some time next month a picnic will be held at Longwood Estate to introduce new members and acquaint them with the program of planned events for the coming year.

O'Brier Begins Work In Radiation Studies

The new assistant working in the Radiation Studies on timothy roots is Aaron O'Bier. Working with Dr. Robert T. Brumfield, professor of biology, the biologists will study the effects of x-rays on the growth rates of these roots.

Mr. O'Bier was graduated from Cople High School in Hague, then attended the University of Richmond where he received his Bachelor of Arts Degree in the field of biology. He then continued his education at the Medical College of Virginia where he did research work in genetics and obtained his Master of Arts Degree. Later he held a position of instructorship in the School of Pharmacy at the Medical College. Mr. O'Bier has formerly taught public high school in Dinwiddie county.

Although future plans are indefinite, Mr. O'Bier may pursue his doctorate degree after serving this year for the Atomic Energy Commission here at Longwood.

Sharing Professorship

(Continued from page 1)

Kennedy, who studied two years at Erskine College in South Carolina before earning his BA in philosophy at Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., spends three days at each college, and devotes the same number of teaching hours to each.

He has completed a year's graduate study at Emory and will receive his master's degree upon completion of his thesis.

Lives at Farmville

With Mrs. Kennedy and their two small daughters, he resides at 114 Venable Street in Farmville, driving out to Hampden-Sydney Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Mrs. Kennedy, the former Aurelia Turpin, like her husband, is a native of Atlanta. Her parents, however, resided in Lynchburg for many years before going to Atlanta.

The Richmond Area University Center's grant of one-half the salary is for one year. It enables the colleges, at least, to get the teaching started or more solidly established. In subsequent years they would finance the position entirely themselves, if continued.

Divided loyalty? Not at all, says the new professor. There's no problem there. Two institutions where differences are lost in the greater endeavor to fulfill their vital mission can easily be encompassed by the impartiality of one professor.

Circus

Continued from page 1)

said that a "transformation" describes their production.

An English major from Alexandria, Marie is active in the Longwood Players and last appeared in their production, "Skin of Our Teeth." Last year she was chairman of her class "Y" Sing which won first place.

"I am looking forward to seeing our ideas shape up," Marie said, "and I feel very honored to work with Circus, even if I had only gotten the job of sweeping the stage floor." After winning first place on their float last year, she reports that it is now their turn to stand up one more winner." Last year they won second place with their skit, "Showboat."

A Sigma Sigma Sigma from Warwick, Amy McFall has appeared in many plays here as well as her hometown. An art major, Amy is art editor of the Colonnade, college magazine. Last year she was co-chairman of the Freshmen Production.

The '56 Miss Warwick, winning with a Joan of Arc monologue, Amy is a member of Longwood players and Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity.

Circus Spells Happiness

Junior co-chairman Nancy Brubeck chose "happiness" to describe their skit because "it would be in keeping with the general atmosphere of Circus."

When asked how she felt about Circus, Nancy replied, "Well, it's the happiest time of the year at Longwood." Since her class won first place last year, they have high hopes of again claiming the honor.

An English major from Staunton, Nancy is president of Longwood players. She was also a member of "Y" Cabinet and chairman of their Freshmen Class Production, Alpha Psi Omega, the Colonnade staff, Student Council, and Cotillion Club.

Donna Boone, also an English major, comes from Marion. She was co-chairman of Circus last year for her class.

Active in dramatics, Donna has appeared in productions here and at the Virginia Drama Festival where she won wide acclaim for her acting. This summer she worked with a summer stock near Staunton. She is a member of Alpha Psi Omega, Longwood Players, and the French Club.

Granddaughters' Club Gains New Members

The Granddaughters' Club of Longwood has taken in twenty new members. Ella Gray, a junior from Gloucester, is the president of the organization.

The new members include Margaret Blackwell, Sue Blair, Betty Dickenson, Jane Freeman, Ann Hill, Jo Lynn Holland, Betty Harrell and Ann Jefferies.

Other members are Jean Johnson, Ann Lillaston, Peggy Mullin, Maranna Overhalt, Clara Parker, Louise Ponton, Connie Porter, Wirtley Raine, Sally Thomas, Janet Underwood, Marie Waller, and Dotsy Wheeler.

FBLA Convention Elects LC Senior As Miss Future Business Executive

Charlotte Hall, a senior business education major from Chatham, Virginia, was chosen Miss Future Business Executive, 1957, at the national Future Business Leaders of America convention in Dallas, Texas, June 17 through 19.

Longwood Spots Winner

It was from the Longwood chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America that she was sent to compete for state honors in Richmond. There the contestants were interviewed by two personnel directors of Richmond concerns. When Charlotte learned that she had won, her first reaction was one of dismay, because she didn't see a trip to Texas in her budget. Her Longwood chapter, however, suspected they had a winner; and they took care of the budget.

In Dallas, three business executives drawn from the area, drilled the contestants as if they were applying for jobs. Charlotte was judged on the basis of personal interviews with directors of the convention. Among the points taken into consideration were personal appearance poise, personality, reasons for entrant's choice of the business field, and future plans in the field.

"None of the interviews lasted more than 30 minutes," remarked Charlotte, "but don't be fooled by that. The men were cordial and pleasant, as all Texans are, but they really got down to business."

Awards and plaques were given for the state chapter and for Charlotte. She was also awarded a gold, inscribed key and a Royal Quiet de Luxe portable typewriter.

"This Is Your Life"

Upon returning to her home in Chatham, Charlotte was honored by the local Chamber of Commerce on June 26. The highlight of the program was a "This Is Your Life, Charlotte Hall" presented by the local group. At this time, she was reunited with friends and faculty members from her past, including representatives from Averett Junior College, which she attended before transferring to Longwood College.

Charlotte says, "I want to express my sincere thanks to the many individuals and organizations of Longwood whose interest and contributions made the trip possible. It was another fine example of the true spirit of Longwood and her deep interest in her students. I shall always be grateful for this honor which YOU made possible."

Her roommate Cat Oznan says, "Donna is most capable of pulling us through to a winning show just as she did last year."

Seniors Prefer "Exotic Gaiety"

KD Sue LaFontaine is an English major from New Jersey. She is the senior class vice president and president of the French Club.

Sue immediately gave her word by saying, "I have these words — Seniors plan to win!" She further described their skit by the words, "exotic gaiety."

Sue says, "Each year Circus has seemed to grow bigger and better, and we hope to make it the best yet."

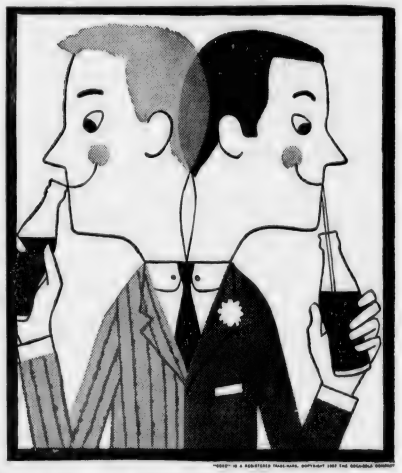
She transferred last year from Stratford College.

Sara Gayhart, an art major from Staunton, is firmly confident that "we are going to win!" She is a member of Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority and the Cotillion Club.

AwardsAnnounced For Short Stories

In 1958 two Emily Clark Balch Prizes will be awarded by the Virginia Quarterly Review for the best stories submitted by the closing date of January first. The winners of the first prize of $750 and the second prize of $250 will be announced in the Spring issue of the magazine and the prizewinning stories will be published in that issue or a later one.

This will be the third year in which the Virginia Quarterly, thanks to ther generous bequest of Emily Clark Balch, has offered prizes in some field of American writing. The amount of the prizes and the kind of writing for which they are given will be changed annually, but every award will have as its sole purpose the encouragement of contemporary American writers and the development of new American talents. The contest for 1958 is now open. All inquiries concerning it should be addressed to the Virginia Quarterly Review, One West Range, Charlottesville, Virginia.



DAVIDSON'S
DEPT. STORE
"Your Store Away from Home"
Open A Convenient Charge Account

Flowers at their best
Await You
—at—
COLLINS FLORIST
Phone 181

WALKER'S RESTAURANT
Club Breakfast - Lunch
Course Dinners
FOUNTAIN SERVICE
Phone 3280
U. S. 360 and 460
Burkeville, Va.

MARTIN The Jeweler
Plain Sterling Silver Friendship Bands With College Seal—$3.30 each
Also Longwood Degree Rings and Pins

FREE FREE
BE A MAGICIAN
Write
Dr. Marcus Bloch, L-Hy.
President
Eastern Magical Society
240 Rivington Street
New York 2, N. Y.

Of Two Minds

On the one hand, you have Thirsty G. Smith. Good taste to him means seat and zip in a beverage, sparkle and lift and all like that . . . On the other hand, T. Gourmet Smythe perceives good taste as the right, fit and proper refreshment for a Discriminating Coterie. So? . . . Have it both ways! Coca-Cola . . . so good in taste, so good taste. Et vous?

Drink Coca-Cola
SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

The Rotunda

VOLUME XXXVII — Longwood College, Farmville, Va., October 23, 1957 — No. 4

"Say, Mr. Clown" Theme For '57 Circus

Longwood Freshman Reigns As Queen of Tobaccoland

Barnette Presented $1,000 Scholarship

A 17-year-old freshman from Ellerson, Betty Bland Barnette, was crowned Queen of Tobaccoland last Saturday at a ceremony at the Richmond City Stadium before the VPI-Virginia football game.

BETTY BLAND BARNETTE

After much tense waiting, Betty burst into tears when VPI President Walter Newman announced into the microphone that the new Queen was Miss Hanover County.

Plans To Study Here

She was crowned queen to succeed Miss Robin Williamson of Conway, S. C. The festival chairman, Lee F. Davis, presented the new queen with a $1,000 scholarship and when asked where she planned to use the scholarship, her reply was, of course, Longwood.

The Lucky Strike girl, Mrs. Grace Wallace Brown, formerly of Richmond, gave Miss Tobaccoland a silver bowl from the American Tobacco Co.

"Did you really think you would win?" Betty was asked later.

"Not when I saw all the other girls," the queen modestly answered.

A vivacious blonde, Betty is five feet, six inches tall, has a 36-23-36 figure and a face that smiles most of the time.

First Beauty Contest

Betty has two brothers and a sister. Her mother was first to rush down from the stands to give the new queen a kiss of congratulation.

Miss Tobaccoland had never entered a beauty contest until the Miss Hanover contest this year.

At Washington-Henry High School she was a cheerleader for three years, and unusual for a beauty queen, was elected the most athletic member of the senior class.

One person who firmly believed Miss Hanover would win was her escort, George Baskerville, a sophomore from the University of Virginia.

"I knew she was going to win," he said afterward. "I could just tell."

The crowning of the Queen of Tobaccoland was the most spectacular part of the ceremony before the game. There was a sellout crowd of more than 23,000, largest to see a football game in Richmond history.

Longwood's President, Francis G. Lankford, Jr., and his wife were among the guests at the Garden Party for Queen Elizabeth when she visited the Governor's Palace at Williamsburg last Wednesday.

—Camera Artist

"SAY, MR. CLOWN!" beams Annette Crain, shown at the extreme left, as her fellow AKG members set the scene for their Circus theme. Shown left to right are Mary Lee Teel, Frances Patton, Lucia Hart, June Strother, and Shirley Hauptman.

Clowns, Small Boy Highlight Event

By LINDA DOLES

The Big Top — clowns, a calliope, sawdust, elephants, bareback riders — remember the first time you went to the circus? Just a big-eyed youngster, you were full of questions, trying to see everything at once and thrilled by the clowns' ridiculous antics.

"Say, Mister Clown" will be Alpha Kappa Gamma's 1957 Circus theme, centering around the colorful, age-old carnival spirit as typified by the stars of the show, a little boy and the clowns.

You will again feel the excitement, the wonder of the Big Top, as the little bright-eyed, barefoot boy experiences his first circus and falls in love with the clowns. Fascinated by these absurd creatures he tags along after them, tugging at their billowy trousers. "Say, Mister Clown . . ." — he asks a million questions. He had seen the big parade at 4:00 that Saturday afternoon and now before show time at 8:00 he is brimming with curiosity. Who are these painted, oddly-dressed characters and what are they really like? Wouldn't it be wonderful to be a clown and always be in a circus! "Say, Mister Clown", he has to find out all about everything, so sometimes wonderingly, sometimes quizzically, often determined he begins, "Say, Mister Clown!"

Using this theme, AKG members will carry out the traditions of our Circus, the parade, clowns, animals and trainer, and the class skits, to transform the campus into a giant circus.

Rehearsals for the class skits are now in full swing as November 9 draws near. Plans for the parade and other events are also being made and as everybody participating hopes — this looks like the best one yet!

Combined Studies Form Department

The combination of the Biology, Chemistry, Physics, General Science and Geology departments introduces the new Department of Natural Sciences here at Longwood. By consolidating all these sciences, it is hoped that research and advance study of the above will be made easier.

Raymond French and Dr. George W. Jeffers will serve as the Co-Chairmen of the new department.

Boone, Smith To Hold Leading Roles For Players' Coming Production

The Longwood Players engaging a cast of 11 students will present the play "The Lady's Not For Burning" by Christopher Fry in Jarman Hall November 21, 22, and 23 at 8 p.m.

The leading characters will be portrayed by Garnett Smith (Thomas Mendip), a discharged soldier very embittered about life and Donna Boone (Jennet Jourdemayne), who has an extremely realistic attitude about life and who also falls in love with Thomas.

Other Characters Named

Other leads will be characterized by Marshall Pearman (Richard), an orphaned clerk, Marybeth Baldwin (Margaret Devise) the mother of Henry Spalding (Nicholas Devise) and Jerry Ringwald (Humphrey Devise). Mayor Herbie Tyson will be played by Charter Wells; the Chaplin, by Dough Vaughan; and justice Edward Tappercoom, by Charles Baily. Also Page Landers, as Alizon Eliot, and Matilda Powell, as Matthew Skipps, are featured in the cast.

Wiley To Direct

The play is under the direction of David Wiley, advisor, and Molly Workman, student director.

Many problems evolve from the ironic situation of the three-act comedy, but there is one in particular when Jeannet is accused of being a witch because of her realistic outlook on life and the townspeople feel she should be hanged. She meets and falls in love with Thomas who wants to be hanged as he feels life has nothing to offer. The other characters seem to see life through a fog and live in a secluded unrealistic world.

Even though there are many conflicts throughout the play the plot emits a very satisfactory ending.

Urben To Present Piano Recital Tuesday Comprised Of Bach, Chopin, Kabalevsky

Concert Is Fourth In Musician's Series

Walter E. Urben, assistant professor of music here, will be presented in a piano recital, Tuesday, October 29 at 8 p.m. in the Auditorium of Jarman Hall. This will be the fourth of a series of faculty recitals he has given since beginning his duties as teacher of piano here a year ago.

Featured first on this program will be the Partita I by Johann Sebastian Bach with its many and varied stylized dances.

Acclaimed by everyone as the foremost romantic composer of the 19th century for the piano, Frederic Chopin will be represented on this program also.

A new-comer to the musical horizon is Dmitri Kabalevsky, who is primarily noted up to this time for his teaching pieces. In 1949 his Sonata III in F Major was given in concert for the first time in the United States. It attained an immediate popularity and Mr. Urben will program this major work as the finale of his recital.

Among his academic degrees, Mr. Urben holds the Advanced Certificate in Music Education from University of Illinois, Master of Music from Indiana University, Bachelor of Music from University of Illinois, and a Bachelor of Music in Music Education from the Conservatory of Music at the College of the Pacific in Stockton, California.

Besides teaching experience at the University of Illinois and Indiana University, Mr. Urben was on the staff at Louisiana State University and served as Director of Vocal and Instrumental Music in the public schools of Susanville, California. Continuing his study of the piano, he lived in New York City a year working with the late Carl Friedburg, former head of the piano department at Juilliard School of Music.

In addition to teaching at Longwood College, Mr. Urben is the organist for the Farmville Methodist Church. The public is cordially invited to attend this program for which there is no admission charge.

WALTER E. URBEN is shown practicing for his coming recital here on Tuesday.

English Meeting Draws Professors

Several members of the Longwood College English department will participate in the annual meeting of the College English Association of North Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia to be held at Mary Washington College on October 26. More than fifty institutions in this area will be represented and about 150 college teachers of English are expected to attend the conference.

Mrs. Mildred D. Davis, associate professor of English, will take part in a panel discussion of the topic "Utilizing More Efficiently Teaching Resources in English." Other sessions devoted to the teaching of literature in the freshman course, closed-circuit television, and the relationship between literary form and linguistic form have been scheduled.

Simonini Holds Presidency

Dr. R. C. Simonini, Jr., head of the English department, is president of the College English Association this year; and Miss Mary P. Nichols, associate professor of English at Longwood, is secretary-treasurer. Dr. R. K. Meeker and Mr. David Wiley of the English department will also attend the meeting.

Prayers are held each week day at both 6 p. m. and 6:45 in the Episcopal Church.

Organizations Invite Lankford as Speaker

On Friday Dr. Francis G. Lankford, Jr., will be the speaker at the East Tennessee Education Association meeting at Knoxville, Tenn. He will speak on the topic, "Developing Independence in Arithmetic," based on research done before he left the University of Virginia.

This week Dr. Francis G. Lankford, Jr., will be guest speaker at the Rotary Club for Ladies Night at Blackstone. The college president reports that there are many interested alumnae of Longwood there who are especially concerned about the development of the college.

Faculty Members Travel to Meetings

Tuesday afternoon, October 22, Miss Kate G. Trent, Dr. Blanche Badger, Miss Elizabeth Burger, Mr. Foster Gresham, Mr. Richard Brooks, and Dr. Earl Boggs went to a meeting of the Southampton County Education Association to meet with teachers of that county.

The Longwood faculty members acted as consultants to elementary and high school teachers of Southampton county as they worked on curriculum revisions in the public schools.

A group of faculty members from Southampton High School started their curriculum revision study last July when they came to Longwood College for a two day session.

Dr. Earl R. Boggs attended the annual meeting of the American Council on Education held in the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D. C., on Oct. 10 and 11. Representatives from public and private colleges and principals of public and private high schools from a majority of the forty-eight states attended the meeting.

Understatement of the Year

From the Richmond Times-Dispatch comes the following quote from President Eisenhower shortly after meeting Queen Elizabeth, surrounded by a mass of eager newsmen and photographers: "I think they want to take some pictures."

Letter to The Editor:

Dear Student Body and Faculty:

My impressions of Longwood were really very good. After my camera was misplaced, my opinions did not change. Now that you have given me a new camera, over of the same make, I really don't know how to say to you how lovely you are.

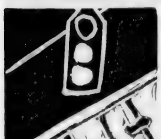
I can say with the hand on my heart that I never met persons more heartily and lovely than you all. It is not easy for me to express all my thanks, and I hope that these little sentences will do. I wish for you that this spirit will live as Longwood itself.

Freya Holtrop

Four Freshmen Concert

A different responsiblity was taken on by students returning this fall. Several organizations had been planning to sponsor the concert by the Four Freshmen. To many people this attempt seemed to be a rather large one; and to the students responsible, it was a challenging attempt. The planning was to be done by the students with Weedie Norman and Ann Norfleet on the steering committee. Miss Elizabeth Burger served as a most capable faculty advisor.

A tremendous amount of work was done by various students who organized publicity here and at other nearby campuses. The results of the performance here show not only a financial success, but also show how capable our students are in handling such activities. They are to be commended in their presenting the proceeds to the Dabney S. Lancaster scholarship fund.



The students' effort is one more outstanding example of their working together on this campus to achieve a set goal. To all those who helped to make the Four Freshmen concert a success here are due many thanks and appreciation for another job well done.

Attention Pedestrians

It must be evident that everyone is aware of the large number of pedestrians on High Street between the college and the downtown area; however, it seems that we are not observing many safety precautions to relieve the matter. The situation is further complicated by the varying traffic at regular intervals during the day.

There are two locations which deserve our immediate attention, namely, the intersection at the corner of the Weyanoke Hotel and Student Building and the intersection following at the Post Office and Southside Sundry.

The first intersection mentioned displays a definite need of a stop light or a caution light. Realizing this need, our administration is now planning to discuss this matter further with the Town Council. There is only one sidewalk which extends to Southside's; however, many students assume there are two walks. Too often students are tempted to ignore the sidewalk and continue to walk on the opposite side of the pavement going down beside the Post Office.

The second danger point is encountered when students make a beeline from the drugstore to the State Theatre. Last year several girls had narrow escapes from accidents there. You are again urged to take every safety precaution when crossing over to the theatre. Students are often going to the movies in very large groups. This does not make it any safer for the entire group to make a beeline. These vast crowds often block off the entire intersection as students cross over coming from the theatre. The traffic lights are too often simply ignored by our pedestrians.

You are urged to keep aware of these two intersections and to try to help relieve the hazardous pedestrian conditions which now exist. It is hoped that the condition will be improved at both intersections.

EC

Welcome, Class Sponsors

New class sponsors have been selected by the freshmen and junior classes. Mrs. Kathleen Cover, assistant professor of history and social sciences, will be working with the freshmen class; and Raymond (Charlie Hop) French will again be serving as a "Green and White" sponsor, this year with the junior class.

This year is Mrs. Cover's first experience as a class sponsor. Last year she was on leave of absence working toward her Ph.D. degree in sociology. She has served as Panhellenic sponsor and is sponsor of the Richmond Club.

Mrs. Cover reports that she is very pleased to have been selected as freshmen class sponsor and amusingly says she must have been selected because of her green and white car which can be very well used in the coming circus parade for her class.

"Charlie Hop" gave the following letter which very well shows his enthusiasm and love for "his" classes.

"Classes I have sponsored are '41, '45, '49, '53, and '57. Don't ask me to say which class I liked the best because they were all wonderful groups. I enjoyed working with all the classes. It was always a Challenge.

"I love my new class as much as the other classes because they have such high spirit. And that is what makes Longwood College the grand school it is.

"Yes, it has been a lot of fun working with such wonderful girls as those who enter Longwood College."

Pat Baugh

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS BY BIBLER

Audience Applauds Skinner; Enjoys Satirical Sketches

By HENRIETTA DOLLINS

Cornelia Otis Skinner, renowned Broadway actress, presented selected character sketches to the Longwood student body and a Farmville audience October 21, as the College opened its '57-'58 Lyceum series.

"Box of Powder"

First on her program, "Box of Powder" was an autobiographical sketch of a customer's difficulty in buying a simple box of "regular" face powder for a "medium" complexion from a determined clerk.

"Hotel Porch" featured a typical old lady who criticized her acquaintances in an attempt to gain attention. After repeated gossiping and criticizing, the old lady excited with the surprising purpose of going to church and she dramatically remarked, "I never miss a Sunday arranging my flowers on the altar".

"Audience Is Kind"

"The audience was kind to my little Southern lady", Miss Skinner remarked after presenting "Geneology, American Ancestor Worship", which included a sectional satire of American pride of heritage. As representatives of each region, Miss Skinner selected Boston, California, Chicago and South Carolina, respectively, for these satirical sketches.

"Every good American goes to Paris when he dies," quipped Miss Skinner, as next she presented "The Yearly American Invasion". With the aid of a large red hat, attractively fashioned to characterize each individual portrayed, Miss Skinner next took the parts of various American tourists, such as the artist, writer and the "plain, everyday couple, touring Europe on a budget".

Inspired by one of her visits abroad, Miss Skinner closed her program by characterizing a Nebraska lady preparing for her presentation to the Queen of England. To the obvious pleasure of the audience, Virgil, the husband criticized her dress and manner in typical male fashion.

Likes Collegiate Audience

Backstage at intermission, while hurriedly changing gowns, Miss Skinner commented. "I always love my audience, especially those in colleges, as their minds are always bright and receptive".

Miss Skinner played at Stanford University before coming to Longwood and will return to California after completion of her visit here.

Church News

By BARBARA SIMPKINS

Baptist

Plans are well underway for the forthcoming B.S.U. Convention at Bluefield, Virginia on Nov. 1-3. October 26 is the deadline for those interested in going to sign the list posted in the Center.

Fall cleaning will be done this Saturday, Oct. 26, at the Center. Everyone is invited to come and join in the fun and fellowship working together.

Dessert parties for the freshmen began last night at the Center and will continue through November. This is to acquaint the new students with the Center and the activities of B.S.U.

Dr. Otis McClung will be the guest speaker at training union Sunday night at 7 p. m. at the church.

Methodist

Choir practice will be held at church at 5 p. m. on Thursday, Oct. 24.

Freya Holtrop will be the guest speaker at the 7 p. m. coffee hour on Friday. Everyone is invited to attend a Halloween party Sunday night, Oct. 27, at 7:30 p. m. at the Center.

Episcopal

After a very soul-stirring sermon on Sunday morning, October 20, the Episcopal students came back to school, probably expecting to hear no more about it. They were quite surprised, for that night at Canterbury Club, the president, George Hunter, took the standpoint of an athiest and an agnostic, and asked the students to prove to him that there is a God; that there is a Christ. He did this in order to make the students think more about their beliefs and to make them understand more clearly what they believed in.

There will be no meeting next week because of the Canterbury Conference in Roslyn. However, the following week, everyone is invited to hear the guest speaker for Harmden-Sydney's Religious Emphasis Week.

Presbyterian

Sunday, Oct. 20, an all day "Study Retreat," planned and directed by Ann Glover, was held at Sydnor's Lake in preparation for the Roslyn Conference next month. The theme of the conference, "Christian Ethics," was discussed under the leadership of Dave Knotts, Jim Price, Bob Lominack, and Tommy Farmer. A picnic lunch and boat rides added to the enjoyment of the retreat.

Today at 7 p. m. the Bible Study will be held at the church. The leading men of the Old Testament have been chosen at the topic of study during this semester.

"Coffee Hour" will be held Friday night for all Longwood Presbyterians. Everyone will meet in the Rotunda at 7 p. m.

Social Notes

By ERNESTINE STOLTZ

Wedding Bells have chimed once again. Congratulations are due to Mary Leigh Deane who was married October 12 at 7:30 p.m. at Mt. Vernon Methodist Church in Danville to Willie Edward Boisseau. Ann Wheeler was her only attendant. Other Longwood guests were Kate Krehbiel and Pat Walton.

There were two major happenings in the state this past weekend: (1) The Tobacco Bowl in Richmond, and the (2) Oyster Bowl in Norfolk. A big hearty CONGRATULATIONS is due to Betty Bland Barnett, a Longwood freshman who was crowned Queen of Tobaccoland Saturday before the game. Among her other duties of the game, she was the official "coin-tosser" determining which team would kick off and which one would receive.

Cheering At Tobacco Bowl

Other Longwood Ladies cheering their favorite team were Ellen Webb, Jane Crute, Jo Maxey, Nancye Allen, Jan Chase, Donna Boone, Waynne Boyden, Betty Sue Barbee, Nancy Forrest, Mo Franklin, Jerrye Edwards, Sarah Hastings, Carole Manley, Peggy Harris, Nancy George, Gin Kuyk, Marilyn King, Gwen Melton, Connie Carlton, Weedie Norman, Ginny Price, Lillian Rosson, Joan Lee Thomas, and Mary Strickland.

Also cheering were Barbara Parkinson, Sally Tilson, Carolyn Adams, Diane Doughty, Carolyn DeHaven, Judy Ersler, Anna Ghazarian, Joanne Hartman, Frances Jones, Carol Matthews and Jackie Gibson.

Others attending were Anne Norfleet, Norma Redmon, Karen Hood, Carolyn Bassford, Dorothy Brown, Notre Camplelle, Nancy Elliote, Michaela Miller, Maryanna Overbolt, Addie Richardson, Patricia Stout, and Mary Lou Turner.

Oyster Bowl Game

Navy came out on top in the Oyster Bowl game at Norfolk, and those L.C. girls (happy or disappointed as they were) were Cass Connor, Betty Griggs, Pat Leake, Mary Ellen Moore, Betty Maynard, Tracy Faison, Liz Fentress, Marie Fisher, Nancy Miller, Barbara Simpkins, Julie Thomas, Linda Doles and Henrietta Dollins.

Other games and parties reported were William and Mary's and Chapel Hill's. Della Higgins, and Janet Lloyd were seen in Williamsburg. Peggy Dickerson and Sarah Gayhart traveled down to Durham.

Meeting For AST's Held In West Va.

Three local members of the Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority journeyed to West Virginia last weekend to attend their AST southern district meeting taking place every three years. Liz Mosteller, local president; Anne Keziah, vice-president; and Judy Eckstrom, treasurer; accompanied by Mrs. Boice Ware, alumnae representative, took part in the three-day meeting at Concord College in Athens, West Virginia. The local chapter of AST served as hostesses for the meeting held on their campus.

The delegates composed of both collegiates and alumnae held as their theme "United We Stand," with the meetings presided over by Mrs. Richard Snidow, district president from Roanoke. During the Saturday morning meeting the program was based around this theme with collegiates speaking on the breakdown of the phases of Alpha Sigma Tau and how they aid the collegiate chapters.

Liz Mosteller spoke on the alumnae representatives, the strongest phase aiding the collegiates.

Anne Keziah served as secretary for the convention being one of the two officers elected at the meeting. Various national AST officers also attended the meeting serving in the capacity of advisors.

Capitol Topics

By CAROLYN STONNELL

One of the highlights of the nation's news during the past week assumed the air of festivity throughout much of the United States with the arrival of Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip.

The visiting royalty began their tour quite appropriately at the sight of the first permanent settlement of English speaking peoples in North America. The months of planning and arranging every detail were seemingly worth while for those responsible as the queen enjoyed herself to the point of making jokes and ad-libing during a formal speech. The couple were not without public attention during the tour, for from the moment they left the plane at Patrick Henry Air Port thousands lined their every path to cheer the charming queen and her handsome husband. Everywhere were light whispers regarding the beauty of the queen, the number of dresses she brought with her, how she wore her hair, and, particularly, among the female sex came "oohs" and "ahhs" about her handsome husband.

The public gave a hearty welcome to the couple who might have been their ruler, but outwardly little thought was given to politics and the like; a democracy was simply entertaining royalty and everyone was enjoying himself thoroughly whether he be an onlooker or the host.

From historical Williamsburg, the couple visited the Eisenhowers and were again showered with dinners, tours, and gifts, among them a portrait of Prince Charles painted by the president himself. All was not formality for the queen as she found time to visit a super market and chat with other housewives. Neither did the entertainment committee forget the queen's love of horses by planning a visit to one of the prominent race horse farms of the country.

After a stop over in New York the Queen and Prince Philip will fly back to England carrying with them an impression of what parts of the United States are really like. We hope they were as impressed by the United States as we were with the royal couple.

Six Colleges Attend

The afternoon session consisted of workshops for the collegiates and alumnae individually. Six colleges were represented in the workshop, these being Longwood, Radford, and Madison from Virginia and Concord, Marshall, and Shepherds College represented West Virginia. The various chapters held informal discussion groups giving ideas and suggestions on the different phases of sorority life.

A formal banquet was held Saturday night in Bluefield, West Virginia, with the speaker being Miss Winifred Newman, an alumnae from Charleston.

The convention was brought to a close Sunday morning with a farewell breakfast and the general opinion by everyone was that the meetings had been a success.

The Rotunda

ELLA V. CARTER
Editor-in-Chief

Linda Doles ..... Managing Editor
Norma Jenrett ..... Business Manager
Bet McLoughlin ..... News Editor
Judy Eckstrom ..... Feature Editor
Patsy Powell ..... Sports Editor
Virlinda Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Elaine Weddle, Pat Wilmoth ..... Photography
Nan Brimmer, Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Ann Hill ..... Advertising Manager
Grace Bowles ..... Office Manager
Dr. James Wellard ..... Faculty Advisor

Hockey Eleven Defeats Campus Characters, 3-0

Richardson, Dove Score For Victory

By PATSY POWELL

Longwood's hockey team again displayed its superiority Saturday, October 19, as the varsity eleven downed the Campus Characters 3-0.

The Campus Characters, a club team from Lynchburg, fell behind early in the game as Longwood Senior Nancy Richardson received credit for the first score of the day. For the visiting eleven it was a losing battle all the way as they failed to score. They had the assistance of Longwood's Mate Fadly and Patsy Campbell, who played for the characters during the early minutes of the first half.

With Junior Delores Dove guiding the ball, Longwood again scored and before many minutes had elapsed, Dove had accounted for the third point in favor of the blue and white eleven. The remaining minutes of the first half were hard fought but scoreless for both teams.

The second twenty-five minute half provided ample opportunity for both teams to display their hockey skills, but try as they might neither could succeed in guiding the ball past their opposition. When the final whistle sounded, the score remained 3-0 in favor of Longwood.

Seeing action for the Campus Characters were Simms, King, Robertson, Leetch, Ellis, Stern, Fitts, Ramser, Anderson and Toreance.

Longwood gained victory through the skills of Louise Heier, Gayle Cunningham, Carol Wolfe, Nancy Richardson, Sandy Fitzgerald, Linda Vess, Annie V. Weaver, Willie Taylor, Delores Dove, Jackie Waller, and team captain and manager Margaret Dowdy.

Anne B. Palmer served as timekeeper while Jeanette Talbott kept score.

This was the third game of Longwood's current hockey season. The team opened the '57 campaign in Salem by defeating Roanoke College 5-0. The winning record continued as the blue and whites met William and Mary in a home game and emerged the 4-0 victors.

Madison College will be the next foe of the winning eleven as Longwood travels to Harrisonburg this Saturday. The season will wind up on November 23 with Westhampton playing here.

Orchesis Members To Increase Group

By CAROLE VICK

The honorary dance group of Longwood College for the 1957-58 session is composed of three members. They are as follows: Carol Lash, president; June Strother, vice-preident; Joan Dorsey, secretary-treasurer.

Orchesis Apprentices

The Orchesis apprentices include: Wayne Boyden, Pat Campbell, Josie Curry, Sandra Hover, Charlotte Jewel, Nancy Knowles, Lyn Madrin, Pat Mitchell, Mary Lou Morgan, Della Higgins, Jean O'Connell, Sally Parrott, Shirley Shepherd, Roberta Silcox, Ellen Trader, Jeanne Vestal, and Claudia Whipple.

News Initiates

Dot Marshall and Pat Altizer will be initiated into full Orchesis membership within the next two weeks.

The members of Orchesis meet every Wednesday afternoon from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. On October 14, they had their first business meeting for the coming year, in which they discussed the plans for their dance demonstration program to be given, tentatively, on December 8 at Appomattox.

Other matters of discussion included dues, their annual picture, and also the new membership policy which enables those girls who are extremely interested in the dance program of Longwood to possibly become Orchesis apprentices without having enrolled in a modern dance class.

H-S Scores Victory Over Western Md.

Undefeated Hampden - Sydney hammered Western Maryland into submission, 34-6, for its fourth football victory as fullback Wally Giglio scored twice and end Jim Felty blocked two punts, each good for a Tiger touchdown.

The alert Tigers, who harried the Western Maryland attack with three pass interceptions and a pair of fumble recoveries, moved to a 20-0 advantage before yielding the visitors their only touchdown in the second quarter.

The Tigers covered 55 yards in eight plays for their initial touchdown early in the first period, and an interception of a Western Md. pass on the Hampden-Sydney 30 gave the Tigers a start for their second scoring drive, one that covered 59 yards. The score mounted to 20-0 when Felty blocked a Maryland kick on the Green Terror's 14, midway the second quarter, and Benson scored.

A fumble, recovered on the H-S 20, set the Green Terrors in motion for their only touchdown of the game. But, in the final quarter, the Tigers began padding their score, upping the advantage to 27-6 when Giglio intercepted a Terror pass on the Western Md. 21 and ran untouched into the end zone. Then as Western Maryland tried to punt from their 27, Jim Felty grabbed the bouncing ball and raced across the goal, to make the final score 34-6.

Except for their lone touchdown, the Green Terrors threatened only twice — one with its scoring drive late in the final period and again by intercepting a Tiger pass.

REMINDER TO JUNIORS

Juniors are reminded that the Junior Swimming Test must be completed before November 1. Miss Weddle will give the test from 2:50 p. m. to 4:15 p. m. daily at the pool. Please arrange to take the test as soon as possible.

Homecoming Game May Give Revenge

Hampden-Sydney College will celebrate its annual Homecoming on Saturday, Oct. 26. Alumni and their familes, parents, and friends from throughout the state are expected to participate in the day's program of events.

Breeden To Preside

State Senator Edward L. Breeden, of Norfolk, president of the Hampden-Sydney Alumni Association, will preside at an open meeting of the association in Johns Auditorium during the morning. Dr. Joseph C. Robert, president of the college, will bring the greetings of the institution to the alumni and guests.

During the 11 o'clock meeting, the portrait of P. Tulane Atkinson, retired treasurer of the college, will be presented.

Tigers To Meet Bluejays

Highlight of the day's activities will be the football game between the undefeated Hampden-Sydney "Tigers" and the "Bluejays" of Johns Hopkins University at Death Valley. Game time is 2:00 p.m.

The game festivities include a half-time program of music and march drill by the Halifax High School Band. William L. Griggs, of Gate City, president of the Interfraternity Council, will award a loving cup to the fraternity for the best Homecoming decoration. The keen competition between the social fraternities permeates the weeks preceeding the annual Homecoming.

Following the game, campus guests for the day will be received at a Coffee Hour in Gammon Gymnasium and at buffet suppers in the houses of the seven social fraternities on campus.

Activities will terminate with the German Club dance in the gymnasium at 8:00 with the Julius Dieson Orchestra.

Holderman, Industrious Student Teacher, Calls Tennis Her Favorite Sports Activity

—Camera Artist

JUDY HOLDERMAN, tennis manager, takes time out for the preliminaries to any tennis game.

Teaching Hints Come From Cape Cod Camp

By CHRIS KAMEN

The second addition in our series of articles introducing the new managers of the various sports teams, presents senior Judy Holderman, Longwood's tennis manager for this year.

"I was honored as well as pleased to be chosen this year's tennis manager and hope to be successful in furthering an interest in tennis here at Longwood," stated Judy as she expressed her reactions to her newly acquired title.

She has been playing tennis for eight years, as a result of a grammar school graduation gift consisting of a racket, balls and tennis lessons for that summer.

An Elementary Major

Judy is an elementary major and at the present time she is enjoying her role as a fourth grade student teacher at the grade school here in Farmville. Commenting on this experience, she added, "There is never a dull moment." However, she stated that student teaching plus regular classes leave her very little time to play tennis. She is grateful for Longwood's Tournament Tennis Matches, as she considers this event a good excuse to practice and indulge in her favorite sport.

Instructs on Cape Cod

During the past summer, Judy was a tennis instructor at a girl's camp in Cape Cod. She obtained her greatest satisfaction from this job while watching the final tennis tournament of the summer. "The tremendous enthusiasm and playing improvement at the end of the season from that of hardly any interest or skill in the sport at the beginning, was indeed a gratifying thing to watch," says Judy. This experience taught her that teaching has its rewards no matter whether it be in a classroom or on a tennis court.

Her opinion of tennis as a game itself is that "Tennis is both a great sport and a wonderful way to meet people and make new friends."

Judy is originally from Chicago and came to Longwood in her sophomore year. She has an identical twin sister, now attending R.P.I., that shares her same love of tennis.

From The Gridiron Bleachers

By ANNE KEZIAH

RUSH! RUSH! RUSH! Gosh, being up in the hills of old West Virginia for the week end caused many complications in getting in the news from the state gridirons. But, here goes—

VPI — U. Va.

I guess maybe the biggest celebration of the week end took place in Richmond, where University of Virginia and Virginia Tech clashed in the Tobacco Festival game. This could well have been called "Bakhtiar Day", as Virginia's great fullback scored four touchdowns and kicked two extra points as the Cavaliers humiliated a fumbling Tech team, 38-7. The loss knocks Tech completely out of the Big Six race in which it is defending champion. For Virginia, it was the first victory over Tech in five years. A Festival crowd of 23,000 witnessed this game at City Stadium.

Down in Willliamsburg, VMI's "never-say-die Keydets" used a William and Mary fumble and intercepted pass in the last 45 seconds of play to preserve an uphill 14-13 Southern Conference victory over the favored Indians. The Indians, with time running out, had a first down on the VMI five-yard line, but fumbled and VMI recovered on the one-yard line and punted to end the game.

The rousing finish left a crowd of 6,500 screaming fans limp as the Keydets maintained their unbeaten record by picking up their fourth victory of the season against one tie.

Tigers Win Again

Closer home, (to L.C. that is), the undefeated Hampden-Sydney Tigers simply walked all over Western Maryland to rack up their fourth victory by a score of 34-6. This triumph kept the Tigers perched atop the Mason-Dixon Conference standings.

As a closing remark, I would like to ask this question— "Who will win Longwood's intramural football game?" Personally, I'm betting on the "SNAKES"!

The Ideal Christmas Gift!
Catherine Marshall's
"TO LIVE AGAIN"
Just Off the Press
$3.95
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
Phone 441-J

FOR REFRESHMENTS
AND RELAXATION
Meet Your Friends
—at—
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

WILSON'S HOME & AUTO SUPPLY
10 Top Tunes
Tammy
Diana
Teddy Bear
It's Not for Me to Say
Bye, Bye Love
That'll Be the Day
I'm Gonna Sit Right Down and Write Myself a Letter
Stardust
Send for Me
Rainbow

FLOWERS ARE LIKE SUNSHINE
Don't Omit
COLLINS FLORIST

OUT OF STATIONERY?
Why Not Visit
OWEN AND SANFORD'S
Stationery Department

HAIR CUTS
Half Price On Wednesdays
50c
VANITY BEAUTY SHOP
Ida W. Southall, Owner
Phone 360 Farmville, Va.

HUNGRY?
THIRSTY?
TIRED?
See You At
THE SNACK

HALLMARK CARDS
To Suit
ALL OCCASIONS
GRAY'S DRUG STORE

DAVIDSON'S
DEPT. STORE
"Your Store Away from Home"
Open A Convenient Charge Account

MARTIN The Jeweler
Plain Sterling Silver
Friendship Bands With College Seal—$3.30 each
Also Longwood Degree
Rings and Pins

WALKER'S RESTAURANT
Club Breakfast - Lunch
Course Dinners
FOUNTAIN SERVICE
Phone 3280
U. S. 360 and 460
Burkeville, Va.

FOR SCHOOL SUPPLIES
—visit—
NEWBERRY'S
School Supply Counter

No Gift like this in all the World
Your Portrait
For a very special someone . . . and for new ideas on ways to give a portrait gift—come in, see how portraits can be a special greeting to your family, a friend, or to a favorite household!
For instance, framed portraits, wallet-size portraits, large color portraits for modern walls—and many other suggestions here will please you. Visit our Studio now, or telephone for an appointment.
To Insure Delivery for Christmas Use Our E-Z Payment Plan
The Camera Artist
PHONE 989

Kappa Delta, First Virginia Sorority, Unveils Plaque in Honor of Founders

The 60th anniversary of the founding of Kappa Delta Sorority will be observed with the unveiling of a commemorative plaque at Longwood College on Wednesday, October 23. Kappa Delta, the first sorority to be founded in Virginia was established in 1897 at Longwood College, then known as the Virginia State Normal School.

The unveiling ceremonies are scheduled for 5 o'clock in the Rotunda of the College, and will be followed by a coffee hour in the Alumnae House.

Since its beginning 60 years ago, Kappa Delta has grown to a membership of 45,000 with 92 active chapters operating on campuses in almost all states of the union. Two hundred ninety alumnae associations are scattered through the United States with one in Hawaii and one in Alaska.

Aids Children's Hospital

The national philanthrophy of Kappa Delta is the care of crippled children. Since 1921 Kappa Deltas throughout the country have taken part in this work. The Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond was chosen as a site for the national philanthropy because of the Sorority's founding in Virginia. In all, well over $200,000 has been given to the hospital since the work was undertaken. In the fall of 1947 the sorority broadened the scope of their philanthropy by persenting a check for $1200 to the new Memorial Hospital for Crippled Children in Omaha, Nebraska. Plans are under consideration to expand the work into other areas.

In addition to the contributions for crippled children, Kappa Delta maintains an annual award in the amount of $1000, given for outstanding work in orthopedic research. This is administered by the American Academy of Orthopaedic surgeons.

Kappa Delta maintains its philanthropic work in a unique way, the funds being raised mainly through the sale of Kappa Delta Christmas seals within the membership.

Christian Unity Sets Theme For Meeting

By ANN GLOVER

"Problems and Promises of Christian Unity" was the theme of the Virginia state Interdenominational Ecumenical Conference which was held October 11-13 at Camp Massanetta near Harrisonburg.

Out of a meeting of thirty Virginia College students at the United Student Christian Council Conference held at Davidson, North Carolina in December, 1956, came a conviction that: "As Christian college students, we have often failed to recognize our GIVEN unity in Jesus Christ." By this, we do not mean a man-created unity, but a God-given oneness in Christ.

It was also the feeling of the group that "our sentimental interchurch brotherliness needs to be confronted with the pain and cost of unity and the still tragic disunity of the body of Christ." Out of this conviction came the desire to take this problem back to our various college campuses and to organize and hold a state ecumenical conference to further realize and deal with it.

Each denominational and YWCA - YMCA group on each Virginia college campus was asked to send representatives to this conference, and approximately 55 attended. This conference was limited in representation in order to better plan for an even larger state-wide conference to be held next spring.

Rev. Richard Heaton, member of the Ecumenical Advisory Committee of the United Student Christian Council, was the conference speaker. Panel discussion leaders consisted of Rev. Leroy Richardson, Baptist Minister to students at W and L — VMI, Rev. Ralph Smith, Episcopalian Minister to students at W and L — VMI, and Constantine Jathanna from the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond who is past Traveling Secretary of the Student Christian Movement in South India.

The entire week-end was spent in serious study and discussion and much was accomplished. After establishing their disunity, especially among denominations, the students attempted to find a basis for unity and build from there. The conference was definitely considered a success, especially since some conclusions were reached and practical applications made, and a council and executive committee were established to make plans for another ecumenical conference in the spring for the purpose of confronting even more students with this ecumenical idea.

Longwood and Hampden-Sydney were represented by seven students. They include Landa Allen, Betty McClenny, Ann Glover, Tommy Farmer, Allen Reynolds, Larry Whitten, and Walter Walker.

He Menat It!

(ACP)—"Help I'm being held a prisoner" said the little note one fellow found between his new license plates, relates the Hardin-Simmons University BRAND, Abilene, Texas.

He wasn't surprised though. He knew the plates were made in the state penitentiary.

Britain Announces Marshall Scholarships Open For American Students Next Year

U. S. college students can now apply for next year's Marshall Scholarships awards enabling them to study at a British University for two years. Applications must be in by October 31, 1957.

Twelve scholarships are awarded every year. Any American student of either sex, married or single, may apply, but they must be under 28 on October 1, 1958 and have graduated from an American university.

Each award is worth 550 pounds ($1,540) a year. Passage is paid to and from the United Kingdom.

Four Regional Committees — the Eastern, Southern, Middle Western and Pacific — consider the applications first and would-be winners should apply to the British Consul-General in one of the following cities:

Chicago, Mid-Western Region; New York, Eastern Region; New Orleans, Southern Region; and San Francisco, Pacific Region.

NOW VICEROY COMES IN 2 PACKAGES

FLIP-OPEN BOX

FAMILIAR PACK

BOTH SAME PRICE!

Only Viceroy gives you

20,000 FILTER TRAPS FOR THAT SMOOTHER TASTE

Twice as many filter traps as the other two largest-selling filter brands!

Compare! Only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps—twice as many as the other two largest-selling filter brands—for that smoother taste!

Plus—finest-quality leaf tobacco, Deep-Cured for extra smoothness!

Get Viceroy!

©1957, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

The Rotunda

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., October 30, 1957 | No. 5

Artist Series To Offer 'Fledermaus' In Jarman

Opera To Feature English Translations

The National Grass Roots Opera Company will present Johann Strauss' "Fledermaus" in Jarman Hall auditorium of Longwood College on Wednesday, November 6. This will be the second event in the 1957-58 Farmville-Longwood College Artists Series, and will begin at 8 p. m.

The Company, whose homebase is in North Carolina, is in its ninth season of bringing live opera in English as enjoyable entertainment to the American public. In their national tours these young professional singers try to bring this form of music theater to small towns and colleges, thus earning their unique name, Grass Roots, meaning "down where the people are."

Formed in 1948, the National Grass Roots Opera Company gave its first performance during the 1949-50 season and since that time has delivered over 650 staged performances of opera, all sung in English. The fine English translations and the high standard of voice quality of the artists have established them as one of the finest groups of its kind.

JEANETTE SCOVOTTI, who is one of the featured singers in the Grass Roots Opera Company, has appeared in Broadway musicals.

All Artists Series programs are open to the public. Tickets are available through the College.

Princeton Author To Give Talk Here

Dr. Edward L. Hubler, associate professor of English at Princeton University, and an outstanding authority on Shakespeare, will speak on "Hamlet and the Nature of Comedy" in the Student Building Auditorium Thursday at 1 p.m.

A graduate of Wesleyan, where he received both his A.B. and M.A. degrees, Dr. Hubler received his Ph.D. at Princeton in 1934. He taught at Franklin and Marshall and at the University of Rochester before joining the faculty at the American Army Universities at Shrivenham, England and Biarritz, France. He did summer teaching at the Breadloaf School of English and the University of New Mexico.

A Noted Author

Dr. Hubler is the author of The Sense of Shakespeare's Sonnets. He co-edited with Thomas Marc Parrott and Robert S. Telfer, Shakespeare: Twenty-three Plays and Sonnets. He also co-edited with Parrott Shakespeare: Six Plays and Sonnets. At present he is working on an edition of Shakespeare's songs and poems.

Radio Program Features Activities

"Listening at Longwood," a radio program featuring various campus personalities and activities, is now heard at 4:15 p.m. each Wednesday over WFLO, the Farmville radio station.

Norrish Munson, a sophomore, and Cat Ozmon, a junior, take charge of this fifteen-minute show which opens with a news broadcast, followed by interviews. The first program featured Dean Ruth Wilson, and in the coming weeks the format will include an interview with Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, President Emeritus, and highlights of such events as Convocation, Circus, and the Water Pageant.

This year more of the interviews will be taped to produce an "on the spot" effect. The girls talked with Miss Wilson in her office to secure the proper atmosphere. Cat and Norrish hope to bring to the attention of the student body the "extras" of the school year, those things often not known or fully realized by the majority of people.

The girls state that all suggestions will be most welcome.

HURRY! HURRY! HURRY! ..

Everyone hurry up and buy your annual this week because time is nearing the deadline.

You will have your chance to buy your annual in the dorms immediately following dinner tonight, Thursday, and Friday. Cost is $8.00.

Annuals will go off sale at the end of next week so contact one of the following girls and buy yours now: Ann Brierley, Betsy Ruckman, Margie Crismond, Dottie Boswell, Weedie Norman, Jane Kell, Nancy Knowles, Vann Blackwell, Barbara Bishop, Helen Wente, Nancy Donaldson, Julia Williams, and Shirley Hauptman.

Tommorrow President Lankford will attend the Annual Alumnae Tea in Richmond at the annual teachers' meeting of the Virginia Education Association.

VEA Convention Draws Professors

Longwood College music professor, Mrs. Mary Kemble, will address the Elementary School Music sectional meeting of the Virginia Music Education Association in connection with the Virginia Education Association at the annual convention in Richmond, this Friday. The topic of her discussion will be "How Good Is Your Music Program?".

Professor Kemble came to Longwood in September from the University of Maryland where she had been in charge of the Music Education program since 1948. Former experience in music education includes teaching public school music in Pennsylvania and New Jersey and directing the music program at the Salisbury (Md.) State Teachers College.

After receiving her undergraduate degree in Public School Music at the Mansfield, Pa. State Teachers College, Mrs. Kemble obtained her Master's degree in the field of music education at the University of Pennsylvania, and has been working toward a doctorate in Human Development Education at the University of Maryland.

She has held the office of secretary of the Maryland Music Educators Association and now serves as vice-president. She has been active as chairman of the Maryland Music in American Life Committee of the Music Educators National Conference and MENC committee on Music in Higher Education.

Others to Attend

Miss Mary Nichols, associate professor of English, and Dr. Edgar Johnson, professor of education, are the delegates for the local chapter who will bring back reports from the business meetings.

Miss Elizabeth Burger, associate professor of science, is president of the Longwood College chapter.

Matthews Chosen To Crack Whip For Approaching Circus Festival

—Camera Artist

CAROLE MATTHEWS, a sophomore from Salem, practices "cracking the whip" for Circus.

Sophomore to Star As Animal Trainer

With a crack of the whip by Carol Matthews, a sophomore from Salem, Circus festivities will officially begin here Saturday, Nov. 9 at 4 p. m.

"It's the first honor I have ever had that I have had to keep a secret," the newly selected Animal Trainer said, "and I've just been dying to tell somebody."

A worker on the freshmen float which won first place last year and an active participant in Circus activities, Carol has been named Animal Trainer for this year's Circus, "Say, Mr. Clown!" according to the annual Circus sponsor, Alpha Kappa Gamma.

"It just never occurred to me that I'd be given such an honor," Carol exclaimed. She admits that she did have some difficulty in explaining to her parents just what her duties would be as an "Animal Trainer."

To Lead Parade

As Animal Trainer, Carol will lead the opening parade featuring the class floats, circus animals on the horse-drawn wagons, clowns, students dressed in their class colors, and the Longwood band.

After marching down Pine Street to Route No. 460, the parade will proceed along Main Street and come back to the college campus. The Ring Master will announce the prize winning float later that evening as Circus reaches its climax in Jarman Hall.

"True Spirit of Longwood"

When asked what Circus at Longwood has meant to her, the new Animal Trainer answered, "I think Circus week end with all its activities express the true spirit of Longwood. When you hear the cheers of the different classes it gives you a pride you could get from no other school but Longwood!"

Student Government Representative

Representing her class on Student Government both this year and last year, Carol is also a member of H-2O, Cotillion Club, and Alpha Sigma Tau, social sorority. She is a cheerleader this year. Her major study is biology.

At the present time Circus practices are now underway as each class prepares its own skit and float entries.

General chairman for Circus this year is June Strother, a senior from Colonial Heights. Miss Elizabeth Burger is faculty advisor for the honorary leadership society, Alpha Kappa Gamma, sponsor of the annual college tradition.

Longwood Students To Participate In Collegiate Concert At Mosque

Voice students from 10 Virginia colleges will go to Richmond tomorrow to take part in the All-State College Choral Clinic to be directed by Dr. Helen M. Hosmer, of the Crane Department of Music, State University Teachers College, Potsdam, N. Y. The singers will give a concert in the Mosque at 8 p.m. on Friday to which the public is invited free of charge.

Longwood students who will attend are Gay Allen, Ann Hart Hamrick, Elaine Weddle, Roselyn Eppes, Dorothy Marshall, Nancy Taylor, Ann Barnes, and Karen Potts. Mr. James McCombs will accompany the students.

The event is sponsored by the Music Education Association and the State Department of Education.

This is the third annual clinic, held in connection with the Virginia Education Association. Rehearsals will be held Thursday afternoon and evening and Friday morning and afternoon, at the Jefferson Hotel.

Colleges Represented

Colleges represented include: Bridgewater, William and Mary, Hollins, Longwood, Madison, Mary Washington, Radford, University of Richmond, Randolph - Macon, and Richmond Professional Institute.

The chorus will sing nine numbers, the first five of which will be religious and the remaining four modern secular pieces. In the group are "Exsultate Justi" by Vladana; "Crucifixus" from the Mass in B Minor by Johann Sebastian Bach; "Praise Ye the Lord" by Donato; "Elijah Rock," arranged by Hairston; "Oh Mistress Mine" by R. Vaughan Williams; "Febres Tree" by Thompson, "Clap Yo' Hands," Gershwin - Wood, and as a final offering, "Virginia, Our Virginia," by Greenwood.

Dutch Professor Joins Longwood Faculty; Enjoys "Casual American Way of Living"

Fulbright Recipient Teaches Biology Here

By LINDA DOLES

This fall we are fortunate to have on our campus one of the six Dutch professors in the United States, Dr. Jacobus Lodewijks.

The first biologist to be sent out from the Netherlands on the Fulbright teacher program, Dr. Lodewijks will be associated with Longwood's faculty for the 1957-58 session as an Assistant Professor of Biology.

This is Dr. Lodewijks' first trip to America and from his comments on the United States, especially about Virginia and Longwood, it is apparent that he is pleased to be able to teach here. The "easy, casual way of living" seems remarkable to him and he observed that "all these girls together or one by one are so friendly and kind, thinking of pleasures of other people. We in Holland think of American boys and girls as being superficial but they are not like that at all here in Virginia."

Describes Lyceum

The Lodewijks' home is in The Hague where the professor has been teaching biology in a Lyceum. Outlining Holland's educational system, he explained that a Lyceum is comparable to our high school but more on a junior college level. "The main difference I find here is that American biology students have less of a chemistry background than my old pupils." Otherwise, he has found classes to be very similar.

—Camera Artist

DR. LODEWIJKS now feels at home in Longwood's science department.

Dr. Lodewijks was born in Java, Indonesia, but grew up in Holland

(Continued on page 4)

ASA Selects Cover To Lead Activities

Mrs. Kathleen Cover, assistant professor of History and Social Sciences, has recently been selected as co-advisor of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority. She is assuming her duties of co-sponsorship with Miss Virginia Wall, who for several years has been advisor of the sorority.

Mrs. Cover returned in September after a year's leave of absence. Previous to that time, she served as advisor to Panhellenic Council of Longwood College. Since her return to Longwood, she has been selected as Freshman Class Sponsor and Co-sponsor of the Richmond Club.

Repairs Completed In Academic Building

The remodeling of the first and second floors of the Academic Building, formerly known as the West Wing of Ruffner Hall is now complete. The final inspection of the building was made Monday, October 28, by Frank G. Payne, of Thompson and Payne Architects.

Beginning in June 1958 the third floor of the Academic Building will be converted into classrooms; and the first floor where the math and education classrooms are now located will also be remodeled.

It is also planned for the summer of 1959 to convert the second and third floors Tackey Alley to classrooms. An elevator and a new heating system are also planned for that part of the building. It is hoped that eventually the entire Ruffner Hall will be classrooms and administration offices.

Much Ado

College Infirmary Report

While Asian flu "is widespread throughout the state," according to Dr. Mack I. Shanholtz of the State Health Department, our campus is experiencing only a mild incidence of flu here.

Reports from Dr. John G. Graziani, college physician, indicate that our infirmary has had an average of 35 bed patients during the past week. The highest number of students in the infirmary has been 44. At the present time, facilities on both the first and second floor of the infirmary are being utilized. Beds have also been set up in the sophomore rec, but these are being used by those who are convalescing. In addition to our regular infirmary staff, there are two other nurses working at this time.

Dr. Graziani explained that he could see no reason for the possible ordering of a quarantine at this time since most everyone here has already been exposed to the flu.

Considering flu epidemics on other campuses, President Lankford and Dr. Graziani concluded that our condition here is not very serious and that the number is very small here when compared to other colleges.

Meanwhile out at our neighboring college, Hampden-Sydney, the flu situation stepped into a "much ado about nothing" spotlight due to a false report released to the Richmond Times-Dispatch last Sunday. The report is untrue that the students were to be quarantined this week. The facts and figures given in the news story were not issued by their college physician, according to a report from President Roberts.

Free! Free!

Yours For The Asking—Publicity

One of the major purposes of The Rotunda is to give coordination to all of our college activities. Your newspaper offers each organization the opportunity to give publicity through its facilities.

Most every organization on campus has a reporter. We are not necessarily asking that the reporters submit news stories, however we are asking that each reporter realize her duty of notifying our staff when there is need for a news release.

The Rotunda now has a very large staff, including many reporters. If an organization at any time would like for a reporter to follow up their activities in our paper, it would be very much help to us if someone would notify our news editor, Bet McLoughlin, or drop a notice in The Rotunda box. This is only an effort to make sure that our news staff gives adequate publicity to all of the organizations. Our editors cannot always know about everything that is taking place on campus.

It is our aim to increase interest in all activities here at Longwood, as well as The Rotunda. Any good leader of an organization should assume the responsibility of maintaining or creating interest in her organization. It is our duty to give full coverage, but we do need your help.

Your cooperation and support will be very much appreciated.

The Editor

The Rotunda

ELLA V. CARTER

Editor-in-Chief

Linda Doles ..... Managing Editor
Norma Jenrett ..... Business Manager
Bet McLoughlin ..... News Editor
Judy Eckstrom ..... Feature Editor
Patsy Powell ..... Sports Editor
Virlinda Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Elaine Weddle, Pat Wilmoth ..... Photography
Nan Brimmer, Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Ann Hill ..... Advertising Manager
Grace Bowles ..... Office Manager
Dr. James Wellard ..... Faculty Advisor

Reporters: Henrietta Dollins, Assistant News Editor; Eleanor Gurganus, Ann Glover, Margie Layman, Delo Dove, Ann Presson, Calvert King, Mary Weld, Emily Johnson, Shirley Saunders, Violet Scott, Mary Kay Robbins, Martha Rucker, Pat Rodenhizer, Marie Fisher, Barbara Heck, Chris Kamen, Rose Marie Lawrence, Elaine Brown, Cherry Gorham, Carole Vick, Dorothy Wheeler, Jo Ann Parsons, Bebe Riggins, Sally Parrott, Barbara Hurst, Jo Ann Sloop.

Columnists: Ernestine Stoltz, Jo Ann Fivel, Liz Mosteller, Carolyn Stonnell, Barbara Simpkins, Ann Keziah.

Circulation: Betty Spivey, Assistant Manager; Charlotte Gray, Sue Jett, Frances Mann, Dale Preddy, Sue Sites, Nancy Thomas, Mary Robbins, Kay Pierce, Jean Anderson, Amanda Dillon, Diane Doughty, June Lee Mary, Barbara Ensmann, Carole Manley, Connie Carlton, Dottie Cothern, Cass Connor, Joanne Hartmen, Becky McGrath, Mary Davis, Jo Ann Curry, Shirley Howard, Joann Brooker, Linda Saunders, Helen Pais, Ann La Bonte, Faye Garrett, Shirley Wilson.

Advertising Staff: Ella Gray, Alice Sawyer, Ellen Webb, Jane Crute, Nancy Drudge, Janet Kay Stanley, Norma Wilson, Virginia Shelton, Sylvia Moore, Suzanne Barr, Joan Brooker, Becky Parker, Maxine Crowder, Shirley McNeal.

Published weekly by the students of Longwood College. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service, Inc. Printed by The Farmville Herald. Office Box 168, Longwood College, Farmville, Va.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association and Associated Collegiate Press, and Intercollegiate Press.

Unsigned editorials written by the editor.

Weekend Provides Parties; H-S College Attracts Most

By ERNESTINE STOLTZ

Pins are floating around once again! That's good, especially after last weekend when there were no reports of "pin-ships." Congratulations are in line for Jean Turner who sports a German Club pin from Rylan, from Va. Tech. Barbara Rossiter floated in with Bill Goodwin's PiKA pin Saturday night (or should we say. . . Sunday morning?).

University of Virginia

This was a busy weekend for the Longwood girls. Parties, parties, and more parties. At U.Va. Donna Boone, Wayne Boyden, Lynne McDade, Mary Lee Roach, Natalie Tudor, and Emily Irby were seen. Also Mary Flowers, Jane Callis and Vicki Graninger.

Betty Griggs and Linda Moore traveled down to VMI, and Vicki Brinkley went to Roanoke College.

Hampden-Sydney

On the home front, Hampden-Sydney Homecoming was the main attraction. The game and parties were thoroughly enjoyed as the undefeated Tigers racked up another victory over Johns-Hopkins. There was a "whole lot of shakin' goin' on" at the Theta Chi house, and those girls enjoying the festivities at the house on the corner were Shirley Saunders, June Lee May, Ann Glover, Merle Ridinger, Anne Keziah, Ernestine Stoltz, Shirley Shepherd, Amy McFall, Mary Davis, Pat Lowery, Kathy Hegnsle, Betty Byer, Oreta Norris, Carolyn Bassford, Kay Howard, Kitty Reed, Judy Anlin, Harriet Butterworth, Jackie Deitz, and Pat Turner.

[illegible] PiKA house [illegible] for La[illegible] Jane [illegible] Thomas [illegible] Harris, [illegible] Sue [illegible] Kaler, Carolyn Ward, Shirley Hauptman, Mary Lee Teel, Yvonne Webb, Mary Ann Walker, Sara Oliver, Carole [illegible] and Jill G[illegible].

The [illegible] Special [illegible] came mat to Carole Manley Cat [illegible] Jane [illegible] Lowry C[illegible] Ann [illegible] Peggy [illegible] Sara [illegible] Sue Mc[illegible] Mary [illegible] English [illegible] Kathy [illegible] Sandra [illegible] and Liz Mosteller.

The [illegible] Sig [illegible] [illegible] Chi [illegible] Howard [illegible] Sandy Sawyer, [illegible] Wa[illegible] Lambda [illegible] Cheatham [illegible] Green, Stephine Bassee, Carol McBoley, Lucy Wilson, Sharon Stout, Betty Chappell, Gaye Yates, Dottie Marr[illegible] Sue [illegible] Ward.

The Chi [illegible] [illegible] Hall [illegible] Chi [illegible] Ward [illegible] Jane [illegible].

It's Asiatic Flu!

(Editor's Note: The following poem, inspired by Susan Ritchie, comes from Madison's The Breeze.)

There's an epidemic loose
And spreading—it is true
No matter what your trouble is,
It's labeled "Asiatic Flu"!

Now some are willing to go on
In spite of this Waterloo;
But I'm going to take it easy
So I won't have the flu.

In history class I took no notes
In French and English, too
I couldn't do my homework
'Cause of Asiatic flu.

My psychology readings
will soon be due.
If only they would postpone them;
You know—there's that flu.

It's known that sleeping and eating
Are so good for you.
Ooops—there goes my diet;
But I don't want the flu!

Only one thing
Can I say makes me blue;
The chance of quarantine
Because of the flu!

(Oh, if only Asia knew
The symptoms and sufferings
we blame on flu!)

Backstage Work Increases As Fall Play's Date Nears

By CAT GIBSON

Around [illegible] can always tell two specific seasons of [illegible] Fall. T[illegible] the weather weren't indicative of the season you could tell by the activities at Jarman Hall. Many is the time [illegible] even the [illegible] voices [illegible] But, "The show must go on!"

Then if [illegible] that [illegible] of the stormy [illegible] that [illegible] tigate, she should find Pat Walton amid braces, stacks of wood, nails and, so on [illegible] proximately ten of her coworkers. All would be racing madly against time to [illegible] year, Fall Production underway.

Of [illegible] would [illegible] Laws. "Lend a [illegible] Of course, [illegible] "The Lark" [illegible] the Fall Play would be [illegible] the conversation.)

Wandering on stage, Vicki Brinkley commenting the many jobs that go into making a really great production. Each job, no matter how minute, is polished to perfection to give four nights of enjoyable, laughable entertainment. "Why laughable?" our onlooker asks.

As everyone gasps at this display of Ignorance, "Haven't you heard?" someone says. "Our Fall Production is a comedy and a tremendously witty one at that!"

Our onlooker's curiosity increases, she starts counting the [illegible] the play, or November, [illegible] performance, and [illegible] only three and a half weeks left. With all her curiosity [illegible] madly to [illegible] she can purchase a [illegible] delightful comedy

A bachelor is a man who never makes the same mistake once.

[illegible] NEW

[illegible] next Tuesday [illegible] will [illegible] very brief glimpse into their secret skits for this years Circus production, [illegible] Clown". A further [illegible] added [illegible] must to guess [illegible] each class is [illegible] for Nov. 9.

Lost Chords

By JOANNE FIVEL

[illegible] said "All the world [illegible] the world I ever [illegible] Some of the [illegible] I ever knew, to man [illegible] director of choral- [illegible] Sloey, said "Singing [illegible] come hand in hand [illegible] and [illegible] many people. Somehow, song is a natural [illegible] man's deepest ex- [illegible] and when an artfully [illegible] coupled with a fine [illegible] magic be- [illegible] at all's delight."

[illegible] to be proven by a [illegible] at the record catalogues [illegible] yesterday.

Our parents listened for hours to "Let Me Call Ye Sweetheart," "The Indian Love Call," and "O Promise Me." Our own generation will probably in [illegible] to recall fondly such [illegible] "Tammy," "An Affair to Remember," and "Love Letters in the Sand." Other types of love songs [illegible] favorites. The ballad "Annie Laurie" is of universal appeal.

One love song stands out as perhaps the most universal of all love songs. Grieg's I Love Thee, written for his wife, has attained a popularity envied by all modern composers. Most of the girls here at Longwood will want this beautiful [illegible] sung in their wedding ceremony.

Many, many more of these love songs could be listed. Love, be it fictional or real, attracts the interest of man who often expresses this [illegible] in song. These songs we will remember when their composer long dead.

President Francis G. Lankford, Jr., was luncheon speaker [illegible] Tennessee Education Association meeting held Monday in Knoxville, Tenn.

Dr. Lankford spoke on "Developing Independence in Arithmetic" based on research done before he left the University of Virginia.

[illegible] Nourish Monson, Mary Ann Montague, Betsy Neal, Matilda Powell, Jane Freeman, Dot Brown, Kitty Good, and Emily Shelton.

[illegible] Chi's opened their doors to Jo Bailey, Barbara Daniel, Helen Hillman, and Connie Hunt.

[illegible] Chi house were [illegible] Pais, Norma Jean Johnson, Ruth Denton, and Sandra Stevens.

[illegible] represented L.C. at the Independent house.

Sororities Pledge Twenty Initiates

Twenty upperclassmen recently pledged membership to six of the eight national social sororities on campus. They were:

Alpha Sigma Alpha, Katherine Bell, Frankie Click, Barbara Emsmann, and Jill Green; Alpha Sigma Tau, Mary Ann Montague; Delta Zeta, Jo Bailey, Mary Katherine Carr, Jean Dunagan, Marie Fisher, Betty Hiley, Frances Harvey, Blanche Ingram, Kitty Watson, and Annie V. Weaver; Pi Kappa Sigma, Nadine Dazell, Emily Johnson, and Pat Mitchell; Sigma Sigma Sigma, Jo Lynn Holland; Theta Sigma Upsilon, Billie Jean Shores, and Alice Chadwood.

Recent Graduates Receive Degrees

Longwood College, long known for its preparation of teachers for the public schools, has recently sent several of its graduates into college teaching. Beginning their first year as college instructors are Dorothy L. Rector, James Parker, and Georgie A. Gurney.

Dottie Rector, class of '56, studied at the University of Virginia last year for an M.A. degree in speech and drama and is now instructor in English at Roanoke College. She is now teaching three classes of Freshman English and one class in play production. She is also directing rehearsals for her first major production, "Tiger at the Gates" to be given at Roanoke in December.

James Parker, also of the class of '56, finished a master's degree in speech and drama at Virginia and is now assistant professor of speech and drama at Converse College, South Carolina. In addition to teaching courses in speech and play production, Jimmy is directing a play "Blithe Spirit" to be given in November.

A recipient of a Longwood master of arts degree, Mrs. Georgie A. Gurney is now assistant professor of EnglishattheClinhcValelyoCeelgimwd English at the Clinch Valley College of the University of Virginia. This year she is teaching courses in freshman English and survey of English literature.

Church News

By BARBARA SIMPKINS

Baptist

The big news this week is the up-and-coming State Convention at Richmond. Over thirty people have signed up to attend a weekend of fun, fellowship, and inspiration. Many guest speakers will be there to deliver messages on the theme, "Christ — the Hope — In You."

Methodist

Sunday night, Nov. 3, at 7 p.m. the Wesley Foundation program will be held in the fellowship room. "Prayer" will be the main theme of the program, and Merle Ridinger will be in charge.

All those interested in bowling should meet at the Center on Monday, Nov. 4, at 7 p.m.

A prayer vigil will be held for twelve hours in the Prayer Room at the Center on Monday, Nov. 4. It will last from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. If you would like to take part, get in touch with Malinda Ayres.

Presbyterian

Sunday, Oct. 27, the program was given by Al Reynolds who gave a review of the book, Your God Is too Small by J. B. Phillips. He presented several very challenging thoughts.

Bible Study will be held tonight at 7 p.m. at the church. We urge all to attend this as often as possible as it is a very interesting hour spent in discussion.

There will be a Council meeting Friday night at 7 p.m. at the church. If any members have suggestions, please give them to any council member.

We will meet with the other groups Sunday, Nov. 3 at 7 p.m. in the Episcopal church for the opening service of the Hampden-Sydney Religious Emphasis Week. Dr. Ber Lacy Rose of the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond will be the speaker.

We'll be looking for you at these meetings and those in the future. We need your support.

From The Gridiron Bleachers

By ANNE KEZIAH

Rah! Ray! Team! That was a familiar cry this last weekend as the state football teams commenced to play. Here's a report of the games, as far as I know.

Boy, there sure was a lot of yelling and partying going on at ole' Hampden-Sydney Saturday. Being homecoming weekend, you can imagine. Saturday afternoon, the Tigers ground out a 25-13 win over Johns-Hopkins for their fifth straight victory. This was really sweet revenge for the Tigers, as it was Johns-Hopkins who kept them from an undefeated season last year. There were really some nice plays during the game, too numerous to mention. And let me tell you, there was really a lot of celebrating done Saturday night.

Tech Downed by Florida State

Florida State University kept its undefeated homecoming record by downing Virginia Tech, 20-7, Saturday in Tallahassee. The Gobblers threatened all day, but as in the past, they were the victims of their own mistakes, including three lost fumbles and some untimely penalties. The Techmen scored their lone tally on a sustained 50-yard drive late in the second quarter. Next week the Gobblers meet Richmond, and let's hope they do a little better.

VMI Still on Top

For the second straight week, time nearly ended VMI's unbeaten, once-tied record. The Keydets had to storm from behind in the final four minutes with a 63-yard scoring drive to pull a 26-20 Southern Conference victory over upset-minded George Washington. This breath-taker gave the Keydets their fourth straight conference victory and possibly the league lead.

"Virginia's Finest Game"

Virginia played their finest football game in many a season Saturday, and battled the Army team all the way and with a good break or two, might have held a final edge over the Cadets. But, the breaks didn't go Virginia's way; and, as a result, Army's nationally ranked No. 9 squad defeated the Cavaliers, 20-12. But, as the old saying goes, the game was much closer and far more tense than the score indicated, and I be that's one game Army will remember for quite a while.

Richmond vs. Rutgers

The University of Richmond Spiders traveled up to New Brunswick, New Jersey, where they met the rugged Rutgers University team. And the Spiders were downed 26-13, for their fourth loss in a row. Statistically, Richmond kept even with Rutgers in first downs with 1, but couldn't contain the Scarlet's single-wing magic. Rutgers had a whopping 226-69 ground advantage, but the Spiders had control of the airlanes, 178-34.

W and M Downed 19-0

Held to a one-touchdown advantage at intermission, West Virginia's Southern Conference champions struck for two scores in the third period to whip William and Mary 19-0. This was the 24th straight conference victory over a six-year period for the Mountaineers.

Wittenberg vs. W and L

Wittenberg College really ran wild Saturday as they rolled over Washington and Lee 61-26, in a game dominated by sophomores on both teams. The out-manned Generals fought hard, but they were never really in the ball game after the first quarter, when Wittenberg led, 21-13.

Well, I guess that's about it for this week. See you "in the bleachers" next week.

Members Initiated By Swimming Club

Longwood's H2O Club has recently added ten new members. Mary Ann Barnett reports that Nancy Donaldson, Carol Matthews, Louise Heier, Kitty Green, and Jean O'Connell have become members.

Also joining are Josie Curry, Katherine Kay, Penny Pond, Beverly Redmon, and Barbara Wilson.

The H20 Club is composed of students who exhibit aquatic skill and who find pleasure in swimming. Mary Ann Barnett is president of the organization; Ellen Callaway is secretary; and Amanda Dillion is treasurer.

At present the group is planning the annual Christmas water pageant, to be presented in December.

Teams To Play Hockey Games

The Tidewater Hockey Tournament will be held in Richmond November 1-2. Eight colleges and clubs will be represented in the Hockey meet: Mary Washington College, Westhampton College, College of William and Mary-Williamsburg, College of William and and Mary-Norfolk Division, Longwood College, Petersburg Club, Richmond Club, and the Little Colonels. Each of these teams will play two games, one Friday and one Saturday.

From these teams will be chosen a first Tidewater Hockey team and a reserve Tidewater Hockey team. Both the first and the reserve Tidewater Teams will travel to the Southeast Hockey Tournament which will be held in Richmond, November 16-17. From this tournament will be chosen the United States Hockey Team.

Fourteen members of the Longwood hockey team will participate in the Tidewater Hockey Tournament.

Calendar Of Events

October 30 — November 6

Organization	Time	Date
Rotunda Staff	7:00	every Wednesday
Choir	4:00	every Mon. & Wed.
Baptist Student Union Council	5:00	every Monday
Wesley Foundation Council	5:00	every Monday
Northern Neck Club	7:00	1st Monday
A. A. Council	7:00	1st & 3rd Mon.
Monogram Club (after A. A.)		1st Monday
Pan-Hel Council	5:00	1st Monday
Virginian Staff	7:00	every Monday
Y. W. A.	7:00	1st & 3rd Tues.
Sororities	5:00	every Tuesday
Student Government	7:00	every Tuesday
French Club	4:00	1st Tuesday
Y.W.C.A. Council	5:00	1st, 3rd, & 4th Wed.
Orchesis-concert group	4:00-6:00	every Wednesday
Colonnade Staff	4:00	every Wednesday

DAVIDSON'S
DEPT. STORE
"Your Store Away from Home"
Open A Convenient Charge Account

Halloween's Just Around the Corner—
Come to
NEWBERRY'S
to get your costumes, candy, etc.

Longwood Defeats Season's Fourth Opponent As Madison College Experiences Double Loss

By DELO DOVE

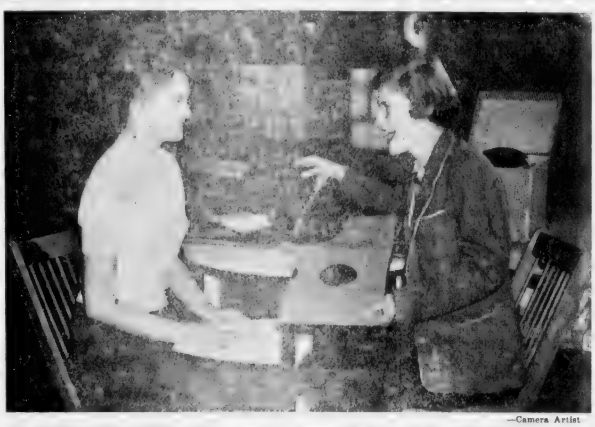
Longwood's hockey teams raised their winning number to four Saturday, as both teams defeated Madison College in Harrisonburg, 4-1 and 3-0.

The varsity began scoring early in the first half as Longwood Senior Annie V. Weaver guided the ball between the goal posts shortly after the opening bully. Both defenses tightened and at the end of the first half the score remained 1-0.

Plenty of action characterized the second half as Annie V. Weaver, Junior Lou Heier and Junior Nancy Andrews raised the goal tally to four.

Roberts, left inner from Madison scored a single goal in the closing minutes of the game. The final whistle found the score standing at 4-1.

Playing for the blue and white eleven in this game were Sandy Fitzgerald, Annie V. Weaver, Nancy Richardson, Delo Dove, Gayle Cunningham, Jackie Waller, Louise Heier, Margaret Dowdy, Nancy Andrews, Linda Vess, Willie Taylor, and Carol Wolfe.



Sophomore Claudia Whipple led Longwood's second team to their first score in the opening minutes of the second game. Junior Mary Lou Morgan followed with a second goal before the first half elapsed.

Madison Held Scoreless

Longwood displayed a strong defense as Madison was held scoreless. Freshman Mary Hite Grayson added the third and final goal to end the game at 3-0.

Those seeing action for Longwood in the second game were Mate Fadely, Claudia Whipple, Mary Lou Morgan, Doris Kesling, Kitty Harris, Patsy Campbell, Mary Hite Grayson, Jo Ann Sloop, Jean O'Connell, Barbara Staton, Nancy George and Barbara Brantly.

The varsity team will go to Richmond November 1 and 2 to play in the Tidewater Hockey Tournament. Their final game will be played November 23, as they meet Westhampton in a home game.

—Camera Artist

CHAIRMAN JANET LLOYD and her assistant, Nancy Andrews, begin plans for the annual Christmas water pageant.

Lloyd, Andrews Exhibit Christmas Spirit As Plans Are Made For Aquatic Pageant

Chairmen Appointed To Head Committees

Christmas is already in the air as far as the members of the H2O Club are concerned, for Janet Lloyd and her assistant Nancy Andrews are bustling with plans for the annual Christmas Water Pageant.

Janet Lloyd as general chairman of the pageant announced today that Junior Sandy Fitzgerald will be in charge of backdrops for the aquatic show. Sandy, a physical education major from Wytheville, is a member of the Longwood Players, the Athletic Association Council, and Theta Sigma Upsilon, social sorority, as well as the H2O Club.

Heading the props committee for the Christmas pageant will be Mary Ann Barnett, a senior from Chesterfield. An elementary education major, Mary Ann is president of the Richmond Club, president of the H2O Club and treasurer of Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority. In addition to this she holds membership in the Cotillion Club, the Canterbury Club, the Granddaughters Club, and the Athletic Association Council.

Amanda Dillion has been named costume chairman of the pageant. Senior House President and treasurer of the H2O Club, Amanda comes from Ashland, Virginia. The costume chairman is a member of the Cotillion Club, the Canterbury Club, and The Rotunda staff.

Weddle, Program Chairman

Elaine Weddle, a junior music major from Roanoke, has been chosen program chairman. In addition to serving as treasurer of the college choir and director of the Baptist Student Union Choir, Elaine is a member of the Athletic Association Council, the H2O Club, the Longwood Players, the Cotillion Club, and Theta Sigma Upsilon, social sorority.

Senior Anne Scantlin of Smithfield will have charge of recordings for the swimming spectacular. Vice-president of the Dorm Council, Anne participates in the work of the H2O Club, the Cotillion Club, Alpha Sigma Tau, and the Canterbury Club.

Working with the lights for this presentation will be Junior Linda Vess of Covington. In addition to her work with the H20 Club, Linda, a physical education major, serves on the Athletic Association Council, and holds membership in the Cotillion Club and the Baptist Student Union.

Chosen as chairman of publicity is senior Ellen Calloway of Bluefield. Ellen is secretary of the H20 Club, vice-president of Pi Gamma Mu, figure leader of the Cotillion Club, and president of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority.

In addition to being assistant chairman of this pageant, physical education major Nancy Andrews is archery manager for the Athletic Association, assistant treasurer of Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority and a member of the Cotillion Club.

Hint of "Santaland"

Janet explains that the theme of the presentation for this fall is still a closely guarded secret, but she has hinted that the setting will be in "Santa Land."

MARTIN, The Jeweler
Have you seen
the display of LUNT'S STERLING
—at—
MARTIN, the Jeweler?

SKIRTS and SWEATERS
Dyed to Match
Sweaters .....$3.98 up
Skirts .....$5.98 up
DOROTHY MAY STORE
"Exclusive, But Never Expensive"

WALKER'S RESTAURANT
Club Breakfast - Lunch
Course Dinners
FOUNTAIN SERVICE
Phone 3280
U. S. 360 and 460
Burkeville, Va.

FLOWERS ARE LIKE SUNSHINE
Don't Omit
COLLINS FLORIST

HUNGRY?
THIRSTY?
TIRED?
See You At
THE SNACK

Super Sub!

It's been said that the atomic submarine "Nautilus" stays submerged so long that it only surfaces to let the crew re-enlist.

Perhaps for this reason, the Navy has taken valuable space aboard the "Nautilus" for the only soft-drink vending machine in the entire submarine fleet.

Naturally (or you wouldn't hear about it from us) it's a Coca-Cola machine. And not unexpectedly, re-enlistments are quite respectable.

Rugged lot, those submariners. Great drink, Coke!

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Barnette Displays Talent And Beauty

By CHRIS KAMEN

"Miss Hanover" became "Miss Tobaccoland" as 17-year-old Betty Bland Barnette of Ellerson was crowned queen of the Tri-State Festival in Richmond. Blonde, hazel-eyed Betty is a freshman here at Longwood College, where she is studying for a career as a minister of music.

Betty, who had never entered a beauty contest until the Kiwanis pageant this summer, became the ninth Queen of Tobaccoland, earning her title by topping talent and beauty competition from princesses representing Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Betty attended Washington-Henry high school where she was a cheerleader for three years, a member of the Beta club and an actress in the senior play. She also participated in many sports and during her senior year she was voted "most athletic" in her class.

While in high school Betty's sewing talent earned her a third, second and "best in the show" prize in a sewing contest.

Favorite Pastimes

Besides sewing, modeling and sportsmanship ability, Betty's musical talents range from organ, piano, and playing the drums to singing. She was in the Washington-Henry school chorus during her four years there, and also a member of her church's adult and junior choirs. Her flattering figure hides another of Betty's favorite pastimes—eating. "I crave all kinds of foods," stated Betty.

As for her love life—Betty is engaged to Bud Redman, the brother of sophomore, Norma Redman.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Katherine Barnett and has two older brothers and sisters.

Her roommates, Stephanie Bisese and Brenda Green, sum up their feelings of having a celebrity for a roommate by stating, "We think she is terrific and are mighty proud of her."

Geology Professor Names Speaker For Convention

The Virginia Geographical Society, Geography section meeting of the Virginia Educational Association, will hold a luncheon on Friday, November 1, at 12:15 p.m. in the Monticello Room of Holloway House, Richmond, Virginia.

Dr. Charles F. Lane, Professor of Geography and Geology at Longwood, and president of the Virginia Georgraphical Society, announced the guest speaker for the occasion will be Herman R. Friis. Mr. Friis will present an illustrated lecture entitled, "The Ever-Changing Face of Virginia as Reflected in Maps During the Past Three Hundred and Fifty Years.'

Membership Open

Contrary to general assumption, Dr. Lane stresses that the Virginia Geographical Society is not limited only to professors in Geography. Membership is open to any and all persons interested in geography, and especially to high school and elementary teachers.

Two bulletins a year are published by the Society. The editor, Professor Raus Hanson, is situated at Madison College, Harrisonburg. However, the bulletins are mailed from Longwood College bi-annually, in the fall and spring. Two weeks from now, the fall bulletin will be published. Meetings are also held bi-annually, and the spring meeting of 1958 is scheduled to be held at Emory and Henry College, in Southwest Virginia.

Dr. Lane has held the position as President of the Virginia Geographical Society for approximately six years.

Simpkins, Schlegel Are On Program

A panel discussion on the teaching of Virginia history was telecast over station WXEX-TV in Petersburg on Saturday, October 26, from six to six-thirty.

Dr. Francis B. Simpkins and Dr. Marvin Schlegel of the Longwood College history department participated, along with Miss Spottswood Hunnicutt of Williamsburg who represented the high school teachers, and Mr. Harold Magnussen representing the seventh grade teachers. Miss Hunnicutt is a graduate of 1945 of Longwood College and Mr. Magnussen graduated from Longwood in 1956 and is presently teaching in the Farmville elementary school.

Dr. Simkins is co-author with Miss Hunnicutt on Virginia, the seventh grade text book used in Virginia public schools. Dr. Schlegel's Cavalier Commonwealth which deals with history on the eleventh grade level will also be used as an official Virginia text book. Parts of these books were presented and discussed during the program.

Lodewijks

(Continued from page 1)

and attended the University of Leiden there. A scientific profession was "something of an inheritance" as his father was a biologist and his grandfather was a physician. Until 1941 when he began teaching he was a representative for a pharmaceutical concern. After World War I when he could stop "playing tag" with the Germans he completed his thesis and received his doctorate in biology from the university.

Already well-traveled, having toured the greater part of Europe, the professor and his family are "eager to see as much of the world as possible" and have "taken advantage of vacations not only for fun but especially to take good color films of nature. It is possible to be a better teacher, discussing things you yourself have seen."

Besides traveling, Dr. Lodewijks is also interested in experimentation with tropical fish. He is chairman of the Netherlands Society of Aquarists and was the first president of the world federation of that group.

Dr. Lodewijks was amused about American conceptions of Holland & said that although the tulips, windmills, and wooden shoes at Christmas are correct, the story of the little boy who saved the dike is unknown in Holland and "quite nonsense," meaning that it is fictional.

He and his family hope to see as much of the United States as possible before they return to Holland in September. They have already visited Canada, Washington, D. C., and historic places in Virginia, especially enjoying Jamestown and Williamsburg. Both faculty and student body hope that the Lodewijks will have a successful year and enjoy their stay in the United States.

Placement Bureau Announces Grads' Jobs

Positions of the graduates of the Class of 1957 have been announced by the Placement Bureau of Longwood College. Of the 120 graduates, 96 are teaching, 11 hold positions other than teaching, 11 are married or to be married, and 2 are not available.

Florance Sonohian is teaching in Richmond. Employed in Henrico County are: Patricia Ashby, Barbara Ellen Bane, Suzanne Bunting, Sandra Louise Frye, Hazel Lee Hanks, Judy Harris, Margaret Ann Hudnall, Catherine S. Nelson, Betsy Richardson, Ann Savage, and Ellen Hamlett Willis.

Diane Acree, Shirley Mae Childs and Carolee Silcox are teaching in Chesterfield County and Barbara Roller Hardie is teaching in Hanover County.

City Schools

The following city school systems have employed last year's graduates: Alexandria: Betty Cary Atkins, Phyllis Ann Daniels, Loretta Kuhn, Eugene Noel, and Sylvia Hope Wright; Danville: Mae Bennett, Mary Jo Davis, Betty Hodnett, Caroline Phillips, Jeanette Puckett; Martinsville: Margaret Beavers, Jo Hillsman, Jeanne Saunders, Nancy Striplin: Newport News: Belle Fitzgerald, Helen Gloria Kratzach, and Frances Raine.

Others are Norfolk: Gale Branch, and Barbara Tyer Ward; Petersburg: Gayle Peoples; Portsmouth: Barbara Benedict and Evelyn Rowe; Roanoke: Elba Flynn and Nancy Harris; South Norfolk: Delores W. Grimstead; Staunton: Shirley Hardy; Suffolk: Mary Rebecca Riddick and Mary Eleanot Robertson; Warwick: Jacqueline Adams, Mary Mayo and Vivian Willett; Waynesboro: Patricia Mae Jones, and Williamsburg: Nancy Lenz.

County Schools

The following girls have accepted positions in educations in county school systems: Elizabeth Elliott and Imogene Bryant, Amherst: Loretta June Dressler, Alegany; Anne Ligon Caldwell, Bedford; Ann Thomas Matthews, Campbell; Mrs. Elizabeth Perkinson, Dinwiddie: Adele Donaldson and Margaret Redd, Fairfax: Margaret Hawkins Fanquier; Rita Rite Nelson, Mecklenburg.

Also included are: Judy Shields, Montgomery; Jane Wood, Nelson; Florence Dora King and Elsie Meade Webb, Norfolk County; John Austin and Nancy Hughes Goodman, Prince Edward; and Mary Hazel Bell, Katherine Naugle, Virginia Lee Pearce, Joyce Ruth Pulley and Daisy Jane Spain, Prince William, Carol Dabney Carson, Charlotte Ann Fudge, Virginia Hayes, Shirley Paxon, Jacqueline Pond, Patricia Anne Powell, Shirley Tonnison, and Ann Woodhouse, Frances Brown and Mary Stewart Sisson, Roanoke County; Jacqueline Edwards Bly, Southampton; Nita Goad Young, Warren; Jessie Casey, Westmoreland.

Anne Miller is now teaching at V.S.D.B. in Staunton.

Teaching in schools out of Virginia are: Sandra Dyer, Jean S. Morris in North Carolina; and Jane Railey in Tennessee.

August graduates who are now teaching are: Barbara Burnside, Chesterfield; Barbara Carter, Princess Ann; Martha Elder, Quantico Post; Carrie Hale, Danville; and Elsie Wells, California.

Jeanette Louise Morris, Nancy Quarles, and Roberta Scott Williams are attending graduate school.

Other Positions

Eleven graduates of last year holding positions other than teaching are: Camille Atwood, Laboratory Technician at Norfolk General Hospital; Betty Ballard, working in Durham, North Carolina; Judy Billett, working in Newport News; Jane Burgh Mathematician at Langley Field; Carolyn Clark, Social Service in Roanoke; Betty J. Jenkins, Secretary, Moncure & Cabell Law Firm, Richmond; Martha L. Joyner, Stewardess, American Airlines; Jean Parrott Henderson, Secretary, Longwood College; Mary Powell Roberts, Secretary, Radford; Frederick Staples, Crewe Radio Station; and Caroline Stoneman, Labortory Technician, Petersburg.

Married or to be married are: Martha Eleanor Clements, Nancy Lee Deaton, Anne Wayne Fuller, Joan Funal, Christie Hulvey, Joan Knight Jones, Sara Wendenburg McRee, Esther Florence Pollard, Norma Reamy, Peggy Packett Straughan, and Frances Bays Sublett.

H. V. Lancaster, Jr., is writing for the Farmville Herald and Richmond's Times Dispatch, and working toward his master's degree at Longwood.

Information is not available concerning William McKissick.

FOR REFRESHMENTS
AND RELAXATION
Meet Your Friends
—at—
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Beauty Problems?
Visit Gray's Cosmetic
Counter Featuring
REVLON PRODUCTS

The Ideal Christmas Gift!
Catherine Marshall's
"TO LIVE AGAIN"
Just Off the Press
$3.95
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
Phone 441-J

WILSON'S HOME & AUTO SUPPLY
10 Top Tunes
Tammy
Diana
Teddy Bear
It's Not for Me to Say
Bye, Bye Love
That'll Be the Day
I'm Gonna Sit Right Down and Write Myself a Letter
Stardust
Send for Me
Rainbow

Live Modern! Here's News...
U.S. Patent Awarded To The L&M Miracle Tip

Get full exciting flavor plus the patented Miracle Tip
You get with each L&M cigarette the full exciting flavor of the Southland's finest tobaccos.
You get the patented Miracle Tip . . . pure white inside, pure white outside as a filter should be for cleaner, better smoking. The patent on the Miracle Tip protects L&M's exclusive filtering process.
L&M smokes cleaner, draws easier, tastes richer.
Live Modern...Smoke L&M!

Your assurance of the Southland's finest tobaccos
Every package of L&M's ever manufactured has carried this promise: "A blend of premium quality tobaccos including special aromatic types."

BUY 'EM BY THE BOX OR PACK
Crush-Proof Box (Costs no more)
Handy Packs (King and Reg.)

©1957 LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

Have Your Chest X-Ray Made Now

The Rotunda

Support Foreign Films Series

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., November 13, 1957 | No. 6

—Camera Artist

MOST POPULAR MAN ON CAMPUS—Dr. John D. Graziani, serving his first year here as college physician, has been extremely busy during the past few weeks combating the flu "bug." The above picture was taken in the ward after the situation was relieved in the sophomore rec. The nurse shown here is Mrs. Margaret Bruce, who was added to the staff for the emergency period.

Flu Epidemic Subsides On Campus

190 Cases Reported At Peak of Outbreak

Infirmary conditions are now back to normal after the large spread of colds and influenza which began here on Oct. 17. The total number of admissions to the infirmary reached its peak during the week from Oct. 24 to Nov. 2 with 190 cases. Monday of this week found only eight students in the infirmary. The number sick at home was 51.

The sophomore rec has now taken on a vacant atmosphere as the place once filled with patients has now completely cleared out.

During the beginning week when influenza struck here, the number of infirmary admissions was 39. The following week of Oct. 24 found the number rapidly rising to include 190 admissions. During the past week of Nov. 2 to 9, the number of admissions dropped to 57 students. While the number of patients now is only eight, approximately 50 students came for sick call on Monday. Well over 100 students have been sick at home.

The total number of infirmary patients from Oct. 17 to Nov. 9 was 286. The total number of infirmary days was 932 while the total number of ambulatory cases seen was about 1000, according to Miss Hilda Cabaniss, resident nurse.

During the time when the infirmary reached full capacity, three nurses were added to the regular staff. With the aid of wives of faculty members, the student directors from the various churches, the Slater System, and many others, the epidemic here was very successfully managed and well under control to the end.

Dr. John D. Graziani, college physician, would like to express his appreciation to all those who helped ease conditions during the past few weeks.

Since the Asian flu vaccine has arrived here, approximately 90 students have taken their shots. Students are asked to report to the infirmary with their permissions to take the vaccine this week.

Picture Retakes Set

A representative from Andre Studio will be in the Rec tonight through Friday of this week to take orders for school pictures. Those who do not buy their proofs must turn them in at this time.

The photographer will be in the sophomore parlor Thursday from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. and on Friday from 9 a.m. until 12 noon to finish taking individual pictures for the annual. Any student who has not had her picture taken or who would like a retake can have her picture taken at this time.

The second regular meeting of Pi Gamma Mu will be held tonight at 7 p.m. in the Alumnae House.

At this time the new members will be initiated.

Mr. Kennedy will be the speaker, carrying out the theme for the year, "The Nature of Man."

AKG Taps Twelve For Leadership; Seven Seniors, Five Juniors Named

Seven seniors and five juniors were tapped yesterday in assembly for membership in Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honorary fraternity for leadership. Presiding at the ceremony was president Mary Lee Teel. The new members were tapped by the six seniors who previously composed the fraternity.

The seniors honored by membership are Ellen Callaway, Mary Ann Foster, Anita Heflin, Kate Kriehbiel, Sue Taylor, and Carol Wolfe. The juniors include Nancy Brubeck, Minnie Lee Dean, Louise "Weedie" Norman, Barbara Odom, and Helen Jean Young.

Ellen Callaway

An elementary major from Bluefield, Ellen Callaway is secretary of the H20, vice president of Pi Gamma Mu, Figure Leader of Cotillion Club, treasurer of the House Council, and president of Alpha Sigma Alpha. She was a member of Student Standards during her freshman year.

Mary Ann Foster

Mary Ann Foster is a business major from Poquoson. She was president of the junior class and vice president of the freshman class. The present vice president of the YWCA, Mary Ann is past treasurer of the Association. She has also served as chairman of "Y" Sing.

Anita Heflin

President of Beore Eh Thorn, Anita is an English major from Ashland. She is vice president of Kappa Delta Pi and has been president of the French Club, treasurer of the Choir, and a representative to May Court during the years, '56 and '57. She is also a member of Wesley Foundation, Future Teachers of America, Cotillion Club, and Sigma Sigma Sigma.

Kate Kriehbiel

Kat Kriehbiel is a biology major from Oakton. She is a member of Pi Gamma Mu, Longwood Players, Cotillion Club, and the Newman Club.

Sue Taylor

An elementary major from Richmond, Sue Taylor is president of the House Council. A representative on May Court last year, Sue has been a member of Student Standards when she was a freshman and has been chairman of the Activities Committee. She was secretary-treasurer of Student Standards, also. Secretary of Sigma Sigma Sigma, Sue has been chairman of the assembly committee. She now serves on the Student Council. She is a member of Cotillion Club, Richmond Club, and Granddaughter's Club.

Continued on page 4

ASA To Hold Va. State Day

On November 15 and 16, Alpha Chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority will celebrate the fifty-sixth year of its founding on the Longwood campus.

The annual Founder's Day Banquet will be held on Friday, November 15, in the college Tea Room.

On Saturday, November 16, Alpha Chapter will be hostess for the Ninth Annual Virginia State Day. On this date, a plaque will be dedicated, commemorating the founding of Alpha Sigma Alpha in 1901 on the Longwood campus.

Registration for State Day will be from 12:00 to 12:30 p. m. at Longwood Estate. Following registration, there will be a luncheon at the estate, at which Miss Helen Corey, National Secretary of Alpha Sigma Alpha, will be guest speaker. Representatives from college and alumnae chapters throughout the state will attend. Reports of college and alumnae activities will be given at this time, and a gift will be presented to the person who has traveled the farthest to attend. The four living founders, Mrs. Louise Cox Carper, Mrs. Juliette Hundley Gilliam, Miss Mary Williamson Hundley, and Mrs. Calva Watson Wooton have been

(Continued on page 4)

Foreign Film Tickets On Sale At State

This year Alpha Psi Omega is again sponsoring the Foreign Film Series which will be presented at the State Theatre in Farmville. The cost of the tickets for the six films is $2.00 and can be purchased from any Alpha Psi Omega member. Study cuts need not be taken when attending any of the series.

The films for the year are ONE SUMMER OF HAPPINESS, GOLD OF NAPLES, GAME OF LOVE, SILENT WORLD, DON JUAN, and THE LADY KILLERS.

A K G Members To Attend Meet

Members of Alpha Kappa Gamma will attend a convention this week end at Queens College in Charlotte, N. C. The group will be accompanied by Miss Virginia Bedford.

At the present time the Longwood chapter of Alpha Kappa Gamma possesses the gavel for maintaining the most outstanding chapter. Last year at this convention, the Longwood chapter won first place in the annual scrapbook competition. At the coming meeting, the organization will submit this year's scrapbook. They will also give a skit on Saint Joan, their patron saint.

Nancy Lenz, who was graduated last year, is the national secretary of Alpha Kappa Gamma. Miss Elizabeth Burger is the faculty advisor here.

Radiation Effects Noted By Speaker

On Monday, Dr. Alan Douglas Conger of the Atomic Energy Commission spoke to the various biology classes on the effects of radiation in plants and animals.

Dr. Conger drew the information for his lectures from actual experiments conducted in 1952 by the United States Air Force, on the island of Entiwetok in the South Pacific.

Dr. Conger's own work dealt with Tradescantia, a common blooming flower, and the effects of radiation on its chromosomes. Other experiments were also conducted on mammals which showed the radiation effects on the various organs of their bodies, the sex cells, and bone marrow, as well as the amount of

(Continued on page 3)

Lankford Attends Math Conference

Dr. Francis G. Lankford, Jr., left today for the University of Michigan where he will attend a math conference.

The college president is participating in a work session of the writers of the next yearbook of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. The title of the book is Unifying Concepts of Mathematics. The publication is being financed by the National Science Foundation and will appear for the December, 1958, meeting of the Council.

Dr. Lankford, noted for his work in the field of mathematics and author of an arithmetic textbook now being used, will contribute one chapter in the new earbook. This chapter will deal with implications on the modern theory of learning mathematics.

Dr. Francis B. Simkins, professor of history and social sciences, recently went to Houston, Texas, where he attended the sessions of the Southern Historical Association and participated in a symposium at Rice Institute on "Why is the South Southern?"

To Language Informants

"Rec," Cokes, Hotdogs Give American Setting

By JUDY ECKSTROM
JO ANN PARSONS

Longwood's two language informants and one Foreign student for this year have been very favorably impressed by our campus and the United States. Chantal Perrotte, who comes from Paris, is now teaching four classes in French, while Elena Vinos, from Mexico, is teaching Spanish on a foreign exchange scholarship. Frayer Holtop, from Holland, is studying business here at Longwood.

Chantal Perrotte

Chantal, in comparing the United States to her native country, relates that there is a great difference in the attitudes of the people. Here the people are always smiling and friendly to everyone. Chantal has received a warm reception here at Longwood and has made many friends on campus.

Chantal traveled a great deal in Europe before coming to America. Her visits have included such countries as England, Spain, Germany, Italy, Portugal, Switzerland, and Austria. While here in America, she has visited Richmond, Jamestown, and plans a trip to Williamsburg. Before her stay here has been completed, a trip to New York is anticipated.

To Work As Interpreter

While in Paris, Chantal's studies included a secretarial course and working for an airline company in Paris. Returning to Paris this summer, she hopes to work as an interpreter for American tourists before applying for a scholarship to study in Greece.

Elena Vinos

Elena Vinos, 21 year old student from Mexico, is very impressed with Longwood, its teachers, and students.

Miss Vinos attended the University of Mexico where she studied Spanish Literature. After-

(Continued on page 4)

—Camera Artist

SO THIS IS AMERICA!—That's what it seems to language informants Elena Vinos, left, and Chantal Perotte, right, as they pause for a typical American snack in a typical collegiate setting. They come from Mexico and France, respectively.

Eighteen Selected To Boerc Eh Thorn

This week eighteen students received invitation to join Beore Eh Thorn. A local honorary English society, Beore Eh Thorn bases membership on high achievements in English and unusual interest and ability in creative writing and in literary study.

Those students receiving bids include Sylvia Bowles, Joan Conkley, Judy Eckstrom, Joanie Fivel, Elizabeth Foster, Gloria Gardner, and Ella Gray.

Others invited to membership are Barbara Heck, Barbara Hurst, Betty Burks Keith, Maggie Jane Kell, Carolyn Kelly, Susanne LaFontaine, Virginia Meade Mann, Joyce Sidivy, Betty Lee Smith, Carole Vick, and Weston Walker.

Beore Eh Thorn is organized for the purpose of promoting and encouraging extra-curricular reading, study and creative writing in all literary forms. Individual and group criticism and appreciation are stimuli to the members.

President of the society this year is Anita Heflin, a senior from Ashland.

From the Circus Chairman . . .

Circus Begins Again

A most welcomed announcement is released by Alpha Kappa Gamma. Our annual Circus will be presented on Saturday, Dec. 7.

The postponement of Circus was caused by the high number of flu victims which rendered each class practically helpless not knowing which or how many of their key characters would be hit next by the weakening bug. Longwood followed the characteristic flu trend of a gradual decline followed by a sudden upheaval in the number of cases. This sudden upheaval occurred just before the original Circus date.

Class Circus practices will be resumed immediately upon return from Thanksgiving holidays, Dec. 2. All classes are urged to begin preparations and work on props, etc. for each skit and float.

My best wishes and good luck to each class.

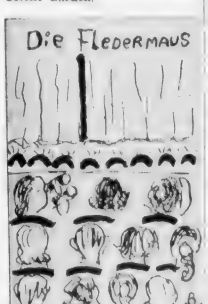
June Strother, Circus Chairman

Letter to the Editor:

The students wish to express their appreciation to the infirmary staff, the administration, and faculty for the help and kind understanding many students have received during the spread of illness at the college.

While the infirmary was filled to capacity and the sophomore rec was in good use, the college physician, Dr. Graziani and the nurses were faced with extremely busy days. We would like to thank them for all the time and extra hours they spent with us. With the fine cooperation we received from everyone here, the flu situation was greatly eased.

Much help was given by the Baptist and Methodist student directors. The face of Malinda and Joan were indeed beautiful and welcomed by all of us. We wish also to thank the wives of some of the faculty members who helped in the infirmary. There were many others who helped. We appreciate all everyone did for us.



A Student

'Die Fledermaus' Gives "Refreshing Experience"

By MARY A. KEMBLE

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Mary Kemble is an assistant professor of music here, coming this year to us from the University of Maryland where she has taught for the past nine years.)

Wealthy ladies wrapped in mink and dripping in diamonds, escorted by men handsome in "white tie", may have been missing from the mid-week interlude of light opera that came to town. However, the attractively dressed younger set and those people who usually attend musical performances because they are hungry for any cultural bit that comes this way, made up a full house that was as appreciative audience as any you will find at the Metropolitan or Covent Garden.

The whistlestop performance presented by the Grass Roots Opera Company, was a most acceptable "piece de resistance" in the fare of the cultural program of Longwood College. Opera in the traditional style rarely reaches the average music lover because of the lack of subsidy to finance such requirments as high priced singers, expensive orchestra and lavish stage settings. But for the interest and energy of the colleges and universities in their many attempts to take the leadership in initiating opera programs, we might be depressed still further of the opportunity to become acquainted with a form of music literature that possibly excells all other forms in aesthetic responsiveness.

The Grass Roots Opera Company was established through the extension service of the University of North Carolina at Raleigh as the North Carolina Opera School. It originated with its proposal by a Raleigh lawyer, A. J. Fletcher, when he became chairman of the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs. Its low, carefully planned financial budget and the use of trained amateur talent, make opera, minus orchestra, chorus, and extravagant stage settings, available to the towns of America.

Most of us are well acquainted with the effervescent music of the "Waltz King," Johann Strauss, Jr., of Vienna, Austria, who lived and was popular during the last half of the Nineteenth Century. He composed the music for "Die Fledermaus" in 1874. It was adapted from a French "ribald farce" by Meilhac and Halevy called "Le Reveillon." It is best known by the literal translation from the German as "The Bat". By the Eighties it was widely acclaimed in Germany, Paris and America. It was first sung in English in New York, April, 1885. Among its other titles it has been listed as "Night Birds" by the British and "The Merry Countess", "A Wonderful Night", "Champagne Sec", and "Rosalinda" by the Americans.

The "Rosalinda" version that was heard in Jarman Hall was the airy, hand-tailored libretto in English prepared by Ruth and Thomas Martin. The opera was televised by NBC in 1950 and the next ear by ABC from the Metropolitan stage. Its efferescent and rollicking music make it the favorite operetta as the traditional choice for New Year's Eve. On the stage, following the toast, "To His Majesty-King Champagne!" corks pop and glasses clink.

The cast with its youthful characters made the presentation a refreshing experience. Our imaginations may have enlarged our experience enough to have included the colorful, lively chorus, the ballet, extravagant stage settings and the vibrant orchestra that we missed. These major lacks, however, make any weaknesses more noticeable. Inaccurate pitch and timing with the loud piano would have been modified by the orchestra's presence. The actors, even though they may compare well or better than some Met stars, moved about nervously with no purpose in mind. A lively chorus might have distracted us from undivided attention to them.

R-M Homecoming Draws Large Crowd

By ERNESTINE STOLTZ

A big hearty CONGRATULATIONS is due to Marie Messick who is engaged to John Myers, a graduate of American University, Washington, D. C.

Wayne Boyden is engaged to Pete Dunbar, a graduate of the University of Virginia.

Rosie Price exchanged Tom Jones's Phi Delta pin last week end for a diamond; and Betsy Elliot became engaged to Guy Hooks, a Lambda Chi out Hampden-Sydney way.

Acting can be very important in holding an audience when singing is so repetitious.

The singer must be capable of interpreting lite to us if she is to make it meaningful to us. She must be able with that spark to convey that communication to our aesthetic sense so that we can respond emotionally.

It is not that music causes or works off real feelings but it merely produces auditory characters that sound the way moods feel. We can forgive Rosalinda for her negative approach to a major role in the First Act when we listened to her excellent interpretation of "Homeland." Adele, the pert maid with the talking red underskirt, however, made up for the otherwise dragging out of the First Act.

The unromantic lover Alfred along with the other tenors did not compare in stature with the voices of Rosalinda and Adele. But we were well rewarded with some fine acting by Dr. Falke Frosch, and Frank. Eisenstein warmed up to his part considerably but he still moved frantically about with no purpose in mind.

The Prince Orlofsky was most welcome in the male role rather than a common but unacceptable practice of a female portrayal. Probably everyone in the house was imagining the lilting strains of the strings and punctuated effects made by the piccolo in the orchestra that were missing. We especially would have appreciated its presence for the familiar "Acceleration Waltz" and the beautiful overture.

The lovely coloratura aria, as sung by Adele, certainly compares well with those sung on the Victor recording by Patrice Munsell. The "Laughing Song" and the "Trio" were very acceptably presented. Sally became a very minor character without her opportunity to lead the ballet in its unusual beautiful spectacle.

In other words we missed the Viennese atmosphere that gives this lovely opera the sparkle and life that causes it to be the choice for the Met's New Year's Eve presentation.

Be that as it may, we give a hearty cheer for the efforts of the Grass Roots Opera Company; and we hope that they continue to perform as well or better as they continue on their way. And we do hope that they return to us again some day.

Fraternity Sweetheart

Congratulations are also due Karen Potts, who was chosen Sweetheart of Lambda Chi Alpha at Hampden-Sydney.

I can imagine Longwood looked pretty well deserted this weekend. With most of the girls feeling better, and the state filled with exciting games, they all took off to enjoy themselves.

Randolph-Macon

Instead of sending a "Roving Reporter" to the Randolph-Macon, Hampden-Sydney game, I decided to go down myself, and guess whom I ran into- none other than Linda Allen, Coreta Bennett, Jo Lynn Holland, Rosie Price, Martha Rucker, Aggie Lowry, Helen Jean Young, Carole Manley, Ann Barnes, Joan Lee Thomas, Anita Heflin, Sylvia Moore, Ann Rountree, Emily Irby, Shirley Hauptman, Liz Mosteller, Eileen Cahill, Jill Green, Kit Warren, Barbara English, Mary Kay Browning, Ann McDonald, Barbara Simpkins, Frankie Click, Melissa Rowe, Barbara Sue Williams, Susan Crunkleton, Nancy Knight, Norrish Munson, Pat Mitchell, Joyce Pendleton, Rene Weimer, Shirley Shepherd, and Carole Wise.

Those L. C. gals signed out for Richmond were Wayne Boyden, Betty Sue Barbee, Lou Gray, Catherine Harris, Betty Griggs, Betty Maynard, Weedie Norman, Lois Osborn, Lillian Rosson, Gail Jessee, Shelby Johnson, Martha Marks, Elva Wynne, Gene Blackwell, Jo Ann Maitland, Frances Baskerville, Fay Salmon, Judy Alexander, Emily Atkinson, Suzanne Barr, Anne Hamrick, Mary Holland, Sue Jett, Meredith Nichols, B. J. Sprulan, Elizabeth Ruckman, Jane Ruppert, Sally Tilson, Carolyn Ward, Ruth Zich, Liza Buchanan, Barbara Parkinson, Donnie Brotherton, Diane Doughty, Anna Ghazarian, Joanne Hartman, Gale Preddy, Norma Redmon, Mary Davis, Ann Jenkins, Judy Anfin, Evelyn Adams, Bobbie Blood, Jo Bell, Pat Green, Kitty Good, Jackie Gibson, Roberta Koons, Nancy Elliot, Frances Harnsberger, Joyce LeFeure, Phyllis Stokes, Bonnie Webster, Ann Coleman, Sheila Gallaway, Pat O'Neil, and Linda Lane.

To U. Va.

Traveling to Charlottesville, and U.Va. were Jo Bailey, Barbara Gamage, Lynne McDade, Liz Nichols, Mo Franklin, Christine Jones, and Marilyn Shaughnessy.

Other Trips

Della Higgins traveled down to Raleigh to the William and Mary-N. C. State game; Cass Conner went up to Baltimore to the Navy-Duke game, and Elizabeth Culpepper and Linda Moore went to parties at Washington and Lee.

A newly-married leopard leaned back happily in his chair after consuming a gargantuan repast. "Man," he told his bride, "your cooking hits just the right spot."

Lost Chords

By JOANNE FIVEL

The Broadway musical has for many years delighted the society of New York. From Broadway has come some of our most beautiful popular music.

In the early 1900's New York was the center of the world of operettas. Victor Herbert, Sigmond Romberg, Rudolph Friml were become the page of that era. Beautiful songs such as Friml's Indian Love Call or Romberg's Lover, Come Back to Me had their birth on Broadway.

From the operetta, Broadway went on to the musicals of Rogers and Hart, Irving Berlin, and others. From these evolved the musical comedies of today.

One of the great teams in the music world of today was produced by Broadway. Richard Rogers and Oscar Hammerstein have to their credit Oklahoma, South Pacific and The King and I, these of the longest running shows ever to be on Broadway. Their songs such as Hello, Young Lovers, Some Enchanted Evening, and Oh What A Beautiful Morning are loved by the whole nation.

The Broadway of today is far different from the Broadway of yesterday. Today one can find a musical comedy such as Little Abner, an opera such as Minotti's The Saint of Bleaker Street, or a musical such as The Eastride Story along "the great white way." Nevertheless people still hum songs like Jubulation T. Cornpone, I Could Have Danced All Night, and On the Street Where You Lived.

Teaching Of Music Illustrated On TV

Longwood College's Music Department illustrated the teaching of music yesterday over WXEX-TV's Education Speaks Series. The program featured the college choir and individual students as well as members of the music department.

Dr. John W. Molnar, chairman of the Longwood music department, acted as narrator and directed the choir. Walter E. Urben, Assistant professor of music, presented one number on the piano and accompanied James K. McCombs, assistant professor of music, in a voice solo. Another piano solo was presented by Carolyn DeHaven, sophomore from Radford. James M. Helms, assistant professor of history, acted as announcer.

Women's Anatomy

Symbol: WO.

Atomic Weight: 120.

Occurrence: Found everywhere and nowhere.

Physical Properties: Boils at nothing; freezes any minute; melts when properly treated; bitter when not well used.

Chemical Properties: Great affinity for gold, silver, platinum and precious stones; violent action if left alone; absorbs great amounts of food matter; turns green easily.

Uses: Highly ornamental; tonic of acceleration of low spirits; equalizer for the distribution of wealth; most effective income reducing agent known.

Twelve upperclassmen have recently been initiated as Fall Goats in the Cotillion Club. They are: Yvonne Webb, Jackie Harper, Tae Wamsley, Gwen Melton, Jane Proffitt, Mary Strickland, Anna Ghazarian, Nancy Ferguson, Linda Jo Saunders, Ann Rountree, Emily Irby, and Dixie Hilliard.

Capitol Topics

By CAROLYN STONNELL

Since 1932 Americans as individuals and as a nation have known nothing but "gimmy" from their employer, from their government, and from their many forms of insurances in the manner of social security to welfare aid. The rugged individualists of the business tycoon type are few and far between, it is so much easier and so much safer economically speaking to have a soft job with the assurance that you will be taken care of no matter how successful or unsuccessful your business enterprise may be.

For those few who still possess the initiative and drive to accumulate some degree of material wealth, what incentive is there where it is not only a struggle to make profits, but more of a struggle to keep them. Actually the businessman must set aside a personal salary within the tax rate which he can afford to pay and all surplus must be either given away or spent within his business. This situation not only exists among businessmen, but applies to all citizens who are conscious of their financial status. The dollar has and is depreciating at a rate in which it actually doesn't pay to save money, for over a period of a few years the lump sum including interest doesn't have the buying power of the original amount set aside.

Our economy is a vicious circle which continues to grow larger and larger constantly straining on the golden smelting pot in its center.

Several weeks ago the stock market ricocheted between the cracks in prices and rallies leaving lots of stockholders dizzy with losses. This slump was only one of the many holes which have been fast dotting our economy since the peak of the boom in 1954.

The outlook for the coming year, according to economists, hinges on the speculation that people will have higher incomes, spend more in living expenses and save less. This is one step higher on the ladder of inflation which the government has been trying to stall-off through price controls and cutting off government loans, but at the same time increasing the minimum wage law.

Everywhere in the business world for the past few months industrialists particularly have been talking "tight money". Because the supply has finally met the demand on certain commodities plus the reduction of government orders and in the tightening of government loans some manufacturers have been forced to cut down on production and tighten their spending as well. However, though the prices of food, clothing and housing continue to rise there is no evidence of "tight money" among consumers. Americans are too spoiled by their high standards of living to be overly concerned with the high prices.

The Rotunda

ELLA V. CARTER

Editor-in-Chief

Linda Doles ..... Managing Editor
Norma Jenrett ..... Business Manager
Bet McLoughlin ..... News Editor
Judy Eckstrom ..... Feature Editor
Patsy Powell ..... Sports Editor
Virlinda Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Elaine Weddle, Pat Wilmoth ..... Photography
Nan Brimmer, Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Ann Hill ..... Advertising Manager
Grace Bowles ..... Office Manager
Dr. James Wellard ..... Faculty Advisor

From The Gridiron Bleachers

By ANNE KEZIAH

WILLIAM AND MARY UPSETS N. C. STATE. V.M.I. REMAINS UNDEFEATED. TECH DOWNS WAKE FOREST. HAMPDEN-SYDNEY WHIPS R-MC. RICHMOND DEFEATS GW. BRIDGEWATER STOMPS GALLAUDET. These are the headlines of the state football games played last weekend. Now let's take a look at the details of these games.

W and M's Best Game Played

"Never underestimate the power of the extra point" could well be the theme song of the William and Mary Indians, especially after last Saturday. The Indians scored in the fourth period and made good on the extra point to ruin N.C. State's proud unbeaten record and homecoming game by a close 7-6 score. The result of this game has to be considered the most surprising upset of the South Atlantic area, expecially since State was a 19 point favorite. Also, William and Mary played its best game of the season.

V.M.I. Remains Undefeated

V.M.I. played another nerve-racking game Saturday as they kept their undefeated streak by downing previously unbeaten Lehigh, 12-7. All the scoring came in the first half, but V.M.I. never put across a clincher. By missing their extra points, the Keydets were in danger all the way. Lehigh threatened to win, or at least tie, the game in the final minutes, but the Keydets held on their own 19-yard line until time ran out. This was V.M.I.'s sixth straight win and leaves it only two games away from its first undefeated season since 1926.

Tech Defeats Wake Forest

Virginia Tech traveled down to Winston-Salem, N. C., where they met and finally defeated Wake Forest, 10-3. For a while, it seemed as if it would be a battle of the field goals, as Wake took an early lead by a 31-yard field goal. Later, in the third quarter, Tech tied the score with an 11-yard boot. With 2:55 minutes remaining in the game, Tech scored the only touchdown of the game to hand Wake its seventh defeat of the season. This win evens the Tech record at 4-4.

H-S Makes Seventh Win

Down in Ashland, undefeated Hampden-Sydney stormed from behind to whip the Randolph-Macon Yellow Jackets, 26-19. Just as the first half seemed to be all R-MC, the Tigers really rolled in the second half, moving for touchdowns the first three times it had the ball. This 62nd game in the old and keen rivalry was a real thriller all the way. This victory gave the Tigers the Mason-Dixon Conference and State Little Eight championships. This was the seventh straight victory for H-S this year.

Spiders Triumph

The Richmond Spiders got a long awaited life Saturday afternoon and ended their five-game losing streak with a 13-6 Southern Conference victory over George Washington. Going into the game as 13-point underdogs, the Spiders came from behind and scored in the first and second quarters, then held the Colonials for the rest of the game to win and get their homecoming weekend off to a great start. This was the first win for the Spiders since their second game and their first in six conference battles.

Bridgewater Defeats Gallaudet

Bridgewater College put a fine finish to their football season with a 51-0 rout over Gallaudet College in a Mason-Dixon Conference game. The Eagles, who finished with a 3-4 record, scored in every quarter, pouring across three touchdowns in both the second and third quarters.

Coming Weekend Games

Well, that's how it turned out last Saturday, hope you're all satisfied. This week, Hampden-Sydney meets W and L at home, V.M.I. plays The Citadel, Tech is host to N.C. State in Roanoke, Virginia clashes with South Carolina, William and Mary takes on Rutgers, Richmond plays Davidson, and Randolph-Macon meets Emory and Henry. Here's hoping your favorite team wins!

Kuhn Again Named For Hockey Team

Longwood can claim an alumni as a member of the all Tidewater hockey team, for Loretta Kuhn of Richmond, 1957 graduate of Longwood College, was selected at the Tidewater Hockey Tournament in Richmond, November 1 and 2. Although now playing for the Richmond Club, Loretta was an avid player while at Longwood and served as captain of the hockey team. Basketball, too, claimed her attention during the undergraduate years, for as a senior the blue and white blazer winner served as captain of the Longwood varsity basketball team.

LORETTA KUHN

She will be remembered here as president of the YWCA during her senior year, the Madonna of the annual Christmas pageant, and a member of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

During her four years here, Loretta served Longwood as president of the Freshman Commission, Freshman Counselor and treasurer of the YWCA, president of her Junior class, and vice-president of the Baptist Student Union. She was a member of the Student Council, the Athletic Association Council, the Student Standards Committee, the Future Teachers of America, Richmond Club, Cotillion Club, H2O Club, Monogram Club, Alpha Kappa Gamma, Pi Gamma Mu, Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority, and Chi.

This is Loretta's second year on the team as she was also chosen to play right inner last season.

Classes Match Skills In AA Song Contest

This year the Song Contest will be held in Assembly on Nov. 19

Each class will sing a Blue and White song which was written by one or more of its members. The Athletic Association will present a prize to the class whose song is voted best by the members of the faculty committee who will act as judges.

The chairmen of the Song Contest this year are as follows: freshman class, Dodie Webster and June Elmore; sophomore class, Mary Beth Baldwin; junior class, Elaine Weddle and Pat McCready; and senior class, Annie Mae Williams and Shirley Alcock.

Meeting Held Here Of FBLA Officers

On Saturday, November 9, a meeting of the regional officers of the Future Business Leaders of America was held here. The purpose of the meeting was to make plans for the Regional Meeting which will be held at Longwood in March.

Peggy Lee Mitchell, President of the Region, presided over the meeting. Miss Mitchell is from Sunnyside McKenney High School.

Dr. Merle Landrum, Longwood Regional advisor, and Miss Marguerite Crumley, state FBLA advisor, were present for the meeting.

FOR REFRESHMENTS
AND RELAXATION
Meet Your Friends
— at —
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

Camera Artist

THE FOLLOWING GIRLS were recently selected as members of the All-Tidewater Hockey Team. Shown left to right are Sandy Fitzgerald, Carol Wolfe, Nancy Richardson, Linda Vess, Nancy Andrews.

Wolfe, Andrews Selected As Alternates For All Tidewater District Hockey Team

Three Girls Chosen For Reserve Team

By CHRIS KAMEN

On November 1-2, Westhampton College in Richmond, was the scene of the Tidewater Field Hockey Tournament of 1957. This tournament was composed of college and club teams in the Tidewater District of which Longwood is a member. Its purpose was to select a first team of outstanding players and a reserve team to participate in the Southeast Hockey Tournament which will be held in Richmond on November 16-17. From this tournament will be chosen the United States Hockey Team.

Longwood Wins Over Mary Washington

Longwood players participated in two games in this Tidewater Tournament. On Friday afternoon their first contest was played against Mary Washington College which resulted in a victory for Longwood. Longwood's second game, which ended up a tie, was played on Saturday morning against Petersburg Club.

On Tidewater Team

Left wing, Sandy Fitzgerald, center forward, Nancy Richardson; and left fullback, Linda Vess were selected from Longwood to play on the reserve team. Chosen as substitutes for the first team were center forward, Nancy Andrews and goalie, Carol Wolfe. These five girls are all members of Longwood's varsity hockey team.

Sandy Fitzgerald

Junior Sandy Fitzgerald is a member of Longwood's H2O club, AA council, Theta Sigma Upsilon, and Longwood Players. She was recently announced to be in charge of backdrops for the annual Christmas Water Pageant sponsored by the H2O club.

Nancy Richardson

Nancy Richardson, a senior and vice president of the AA Council, is also a member of the H2O club and Kappa Delta social sorority. Nancy recently received a white blazer for her outstanding sportsmanship ability here at Longwood.

Linda Vess

Junior Linda Vess, an H2O member who will be working with the lights for the coming Aquatic Pageant, also serves on the AA Council and holds membership in the Cotillion Club and Baptist Student Union.

Nancy Andrews, a junior, who is serving as assistant chairman of this year's Christmas Water Pageant is also the archery manager for the AA, assistant treasurer of Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority and a member of the Cotillion Club.

Carol Wolfe

Last but not least is Longwood's AA President, senior Carol Wolfe. She was recently presented with a white blazer for having excelled in practically all sports during her college years here at Longwood.

Other Participants

Besides the five above mentioned girls, the following other Longwood hockey team members also participated in the Tidewater Hockey Tournament: Annie Weaver, Gale Cunningham, Jackie Waller, Margaret Dowdy, Willie Taylor, Jean O'Connell, Joan Sloop and Barbara Brantley.

Welsh Team Plays

An added attraction to this year's Hockey Tournament took place on the following Monday when the selection Tidewater Team of 1957 was honored to play against a touring field hockey team from Wales — the Welsh Hockey Team. This game is one of 23 which the Welsh team will play while on tour in the United States. Sponsored by the U. S. Field Hockey Association, which also sends U. S. teams abroad, the program is designed to promote better hockey as well as to further better international relations. The team is composed of housewives, school teachers, students, office workers and even a sheep farmer. They arrived in New York October 1, an dto present they have played teams in Long Island, New York, Boston and Detroit.

Miss Rebecca Brockenbrough of the Physical Education Department here at Longwood, is the vice president of the Tidewater Field Hockey Association, while Miss Elizabeth Burger, a Longwood Science faculty member, served on the Selection Committee for the tournament.

Color Rush Planned

Tryouts for the 1957-58 Color Rush will be held on Monday at 5 o'clock on the A. A. Field. Those qualifying will run in the race on Thursday Nov. 21, following the hockey camp game between the seniors and the Freshmen. The fastest runners from each building will compete and the winner will hang their class color banner on the front of the various college buildings.

Get Your Copy!
Dr. Marvin Schlegel's
CAVALIER
COMMONWEALTH
A History of Virginia
— at —
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
Just Published!

FREE FREE
BE A MAGICIAN
Write
Dr. Marcus Bloch, L-Hy.
President
Eastern Magical Society
240 Rivington Street
New York 2, N. Y.

FOR THE BEST
in SANDWICHES
and REFRESHMENTS
Visit The SNACK

Hockey Will Begin Color Competition

By JACKIE WALLER

With the days growing longer, and the nip in the air, it is time for girls in green and red gym suits with hockey sticks and shin guards to drive and dribble along the hockey field. Once again, it is time for class hockey games, and the class hockey managers are busy with preparations for the tournament.

Taylor, O'Connell — Managers

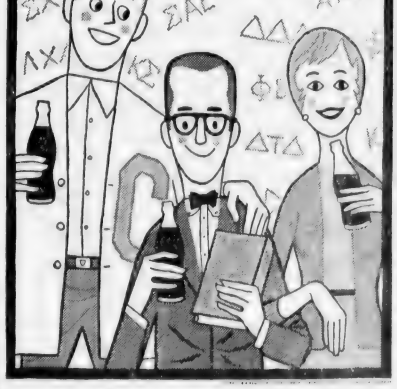
The managers are Willie Taylor and Jean O'Connell. Willie is a physical education major from Gretna and has played varsity hockey for two years. Jean is a sophomore biology major participating in her second year of varsity hockey.

The first games are scheduled for Tuesday, November 19. The freshmen will play their junior sisters, and the sophs will meet the seniors. On Thursday, November 21, the freshmen play the seniors followed by the game between the sophs and juniors. The tournament will be completed on Tuesday, November 26, when the classes meet their traditional rivals, the juniors vs. seniors; and sophs vs. freshmen.

Points for Color Cup Enter

Class hockey contributes ten points to the color cup. Each class plays every other class with two points credited for each win and one point for a tie. At the end of the tournament the color that has the greatest number of points wins the total ten points. If there is a tie, the points are divided five to each color.

In order to play, eight practices are needed by upperclassmen not enrolled in a hockey class. Freshmen playing hockey in their physical education classes need only four practices to play. There is a lot of room to be filled in the cheering section by everyone interested in sports, green and white, and their class.



Radiation Effects

(Continued from page 1)

radiation necessary to induce death.

All these experiments were conducted in an effort to discover the biological effect of radiation on mammals and how to better protect them from these effects in the future.

The annual Christmas water pageant to be presented by the Longwood H2O Club has been re-scheduled for December 16 and 17. The pageant, directed by Janet Lloyd, assisted by Nancy Andrews, was originally scheduled for December 5-7.

Lambda Omega Rho

Some fraternities get athletes. Some get brains. This fraternity gets virtually everybody, including women. It has fanatically loyal members in more than 100 countries around the world. It has no pin and its only ritual is the simple act of enjoying Coca-Cola every single day of the year.

Its name? L O R—Lovers of Refreshment. Join up today.

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by

LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Foreign Students

(Continued from page 1)

wards she taught for one year at the Academia Hispano Mexicana of which her father is president. Elena says that although she enjoyed teaching, she doesn't want to teach anymore because she has heard so much about it from her family for so long. Also her parents would rather she go into a different field.

Elena hopes to work in an art gallery and someday have one of her own. She is taking art, English and speech courses here and is coaching four Spanish classes.

Born in Madrid, Elena came to Mexico in 1936 because of the Spanish Civil War. She hopes to return whenever she can as that's where most of her family lives.

She likes to swim, paint, play only a few months and was very surprised when she first came to this country, "I was told bad and good things about America but so far I found the girls and teachers here very nice and sweet. They try to understand you. I was first impressed with Longwood from pictures in catalogues, but I have found it just as nice as the pictures," said Elena.

She enjoys to swim, paint, play tennis, and travel. During the sum mer she visited Paris and Spain, and someday hopes to return.

Elena has found no time to be homesick here. She stated, "I have been perfectly happy here and this new experience has helped me to know of girls and life here in the United States.

Frayer Holtrop

Frayer Holtrop, born in The Hague, Holland, has been in the United States only four months and already has comments to make about the rock and roll dance. "I thing rock and roll is bad but not dull," she said.

Frayer states that she looked forward to coming to America and found it very lovely although she had heard bad things about it. She was very surprised at seeing so many cars and in such a variety of colors. "From high up, a parking lot reminds me of an assorted box of candies," she commented.

Her immediate plans are to complete one year of business courses here at Longwood. Then she plans to return to return to Holland for her second year of business education after which she will receive her business certificate.

"Afterwards I would like to return to the United States to work because Holland is too small for its heavy population which makes it almost impossible to find a good job," stated Frayer.

"Schools Not Easy Here"

While comparing schools of Holland to those of American, Frayer said, "American schools are not easy, just less difficult than those of my country. In Holland there are few boarding schools and not quite so many social activities. Upon completion of the five-year secondary school there, you are equal to a junior in college and may enter any university. In the secondary school you have to take seventeen subjects a year. Then you are required to pass your foreign language examinations orally, others are written. here are no A. B. C.'s in the grading system, only numbers on through ten.

Frayer completed her secondary schooling and is taking freshman and sophomore courses here.

"I like it very much here at Longwood and everyone is as lovely as I can possibly say. At home the girls are not so friendly," continued Frayer.

European Boys Are Best

Commenting on a few differences she says, "American boys don't seem so well-behaved as European boys do. Also European boys say you don't work after marriage. I don't think American boys do this.

"There is some difference in dress, as girls in Holland do not wear socks after they are twelve years old. And too, in Holland you do not have a nick name unless something is wrong with you. Also the young people go to church more often then at home and here there are not so many clubs sponsored by the church," said Frayer.

A Sports Enthusiast

She enjoys sewing, embroidering, knitting, cooking and dancing. But her main hobby is playing the piano, for which she has taken lessons for nine years. In the sports field, Frayer enjoys swimming and horseback riding. She commented that here football is different then in Holland. There it is played with a round ball that you cannot touch with your hands. Also she notices that women here do more in sports than in Holland.

Church News

By BARBARA SIMPKINS

Methodist

A Bible Study Conference will be held at the church on Nov. 17, 18, and 19 from 7:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. in the sanctuary. Dr. Clyde Manschreck, professor of Religion at Duke, will be the conference leader. Rev. Gil Cofer, director of Adult Work for the Virginia Conference, will lead discussion groups. All members of the faculty and student body are cordially invited to attend. This inspirational conference is being held in order to increase their knowledge and to enjoy Christian fellowship. Please bring Bibles.

There will be no Coffee Hour this week due to the Bible Study.

Baptist

The Training Union Study Course will be held at the Center, Sunday afternoon, Nov. 17. Joan Spencer will discuss the major and minor prophets of the Old Testament and the relation they bear on today's life. Supper will be served at the Center for all those attending the meeting.

Last Monday night Freya Holtrop gave an interesting program for the Y.W.A.'s showing her European slides.

Presbyterian

Twelve members of the Westminster Fellowship of the Farmville church were among the 150 college students who attended the Fall Synod Conference at Roslyn the weekend of Nov. 8.

The study conference on "Christian Ethelc Love" was led by Dr. Ed Long of Oberlin College. With this theme the group talked of the many aspects of Christian love, such as theological and sociological. The members from our West Fel found that the study retreat which we had in preparation for the conference was of great value to them at Roslyn.

Bible Study will be held tonight at 7 p.m. for the first time in two weeks. Now that the flu epidemic is declining and there are no planned college programs, we are expecting a large turn-out.

On Sunday night at 7 p.m. the regular Westminster Fellowship program will be led by the Expansion Commission.

The Presbyterian girls at Longwood are planning a "pajama party" at Longwood House, Saturday, Nov. 23. Everyone is anticipating a gay time.

AKG Tapping

(Continued from page 1)

Carol Wolfe

Carol Wolfe, a physical education major from Arlington, is president of the Athletic Association and has been active in athletics since her freshman year. She was recently awarded a white blazer for her outstanding work in AA. She serves on the Student Council and is a member of the Monogram Club.

Carolyn Waugaman

Carolyn "Tipi" Waugaman is a biology major from Roanoke. She was house president during her freshman and sophomore years. She is now president of Pi Delta Epsilon and managing editor of the Colonnade. She serves on Student Council. She is a member of H20 and Kappa Delta.

Nancy Brubeck

A junior from Staunton, Nancy Brubeck is president of Longwood Players, a representative last year and this year to Student Government, and co-chairman of their circus skit. She was president of Freshman commission, a member of "Y" Cabinet, the Colonnade staff, Cotillion Club, and Alpha Psi Omega.

Minnie Lee Dean

Minnie Lee Dean is treasurer of Student Government this year. She has been a member of Student Council for the past three years. She is a Pan Hellenic representative, a member of Alpha Sigma Tau, and Cotillion Club. She comes from Radford.

Weedie Norman

Louise "Weedie" Norman is president of the Pan Hellenic Association. She was a freshman representative to Student Government; she is now her class representative. She is a member of The Virginian staff, Cotillion Club, and Kappa Delta.

Barbara Odom

Barbara Odom has been president of her freshman and sophomore class. She is now secretary of Student Government. She has been a circus co-chairman, Alpha Sigma Tau rush chairman, and a member of the Library League.

Helen Jean Young

President of the junior class, Helen Jean Young is from Covington. She is vice-president of the Granddaughters' Club and Wesley Foundation, and a member of "Y" Cabinet.

Casting Play Gives Dramatic Thrill

Program Underway For Fall Production

By CAT OZMON

Have you ever watched an artist at work? Have you ever seen him take just the right texture of paper, just the right shade of color, and make a line holding the brush with his hand just so?

All of these actions are complex together and watching only one phase of it is even more complex. This is exactly what happens when you watch even one part of a play being put together. Let's single out the part of casting a play for observation.

First, even before tryouts, the director and his assistant have to decide what type of people they need for certain parts; they delve deeply into the personalities of the character to discover why he acts in a certain manner and why he speaks as he does. This takes days of work and hours of discussion. When this information is assembled, a call goes out to the immediate area that tryouts will be held in such and such a place at a certain time. Then the people casting the play wait hopefully for the actors to come over so they can begin to sort out the qualities of showmanship in each of them. Now, nervously and with visible misapprehension, potential actors and actresses read the lines indicated while they watch a discussion of their fate going on between the director and his co-workers.

Finally they are told, "Thank you"; and they walk off stage thinking, "I hope I get this part; I like it and really felt what I was saying."

Now the real work continues—trying to make out a cast list. Once again days of work, hours of discussion and consumption of many cups of coffee. Several days later the cast list is posted and rehearsals begin.

At the first rehearsal the players are told what is expected of them and how the characters they are portraying are supposed to feel while experiencing this assumed situation. They have to sort out and cast off many of their idiosyncrasies and assume the pose of another person entirely. The actors bring forth an entirely new personality. Work and more work goes on assembling each individual character to play in relation to more characters in order to get a total effect. It's just like baseball. You play together as a team.

Now parts are fitted together, voices are polished to perfection, actions are carved, and costumes are tried on to put many personalities on stage so they can give a vicarious experience to the theatre audience.

The casting of a play is only one phase of the theatre. I could go on with more detail about other phases; but I just wanted to bring this one thought to you—just as an artist assembles and pieces together, so does a thespian take many phases of artistry to fit them together as a functioning unit and work of beauty.

Be sure to see this phase of drama in its best form by watching the fall production here, "The Lady's Not For Burning." See Jannet Jaurdenmayne and Ed Thomas Mendip enact their witty and ironic love affair. Observe how the players weave their relationship into a plot that will give you an amusing night's entertainment. The production is scheduled for Nov. 21, 22, 23 at 8 p.m. in Jarman Hall.

ASA Meeting

(Continued from page 1)

invited as guests of honor for the occasion.

The unveiling of the plaque will take place in the Rotunda of Longwood College at four o'clock. Miss Helen Corey will present the plaque to the college, and Dr. Francis G. Lankford, president of the college, will accept it. Immediately following this presentation, there will be a tea in the Student Lounge given by the Farmville Alumnae Association of Alpha Sigma Alpha.

FOR STUDENTS
Of Discriminating Taste
BRADSHAW'S
RESTAURANT
Burkeville, Va.
We Never Close

WALKER'S RESTAURANT
Club Breakfast - Lunch
Course Dinners
FOUNTAIN SERVICE
Phone 3280
U. S. 360 and 460
Burkeville, Va.

Boxwood Tourist Court
and Restaurant
3 Miles South of
Farmville on Rt. 15
Phone 3027-5

Live Modern! Here's News...

U.S. Patent Awarded To The L&M Miracle Tip

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

See "Education Speaks Series" On WTEX-TV

The Rotunda

See "The Lady's Not For Burning" This Week

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., November 20, 1957 | No. 7

Seniors Plan AnnualDance

The "Continentals," an orchestra from Langley Field formerly known as the "Skylinees," will provide music for the Senior Dance from 8 p.m. until midnight, December 14, in the Longwood College gymnasium.

Shirley Alcock, a senior from Hampton, is chairman of the dance. She is a member of Pi Kappa Sigma, the Cotillion Club, and Pi Gamma Mu, an honor society for those interested in the social sciences. She was a senior orientation leader and is currently serving as vice-president of the Panhellenic Council.

Committee heads are as follows: decorations, Sally Tilson; music, Jane Ruppert; tickets, Sue Amory; favors, Carolyn Kelly; figure, June Strother; program, Peggy Dickerson and Emily Atkinson; party, Sue Jett and Sarah Blackworth; publicity, Janet Lloyd; and theme, Ellen Callaway.

Attired in white gowns, the seniors will present a figure during the dance. Afterwards they will attend a combo party at Longwood Estate with their dates. A group from Hampden-Sydney will play until 2:15 a.m.

Tickets, priced at $2.40, will go on sale the week before the dance. They may be purchased from any of the committee chairmen.

Season Of Busy Activity Now Prevails Over Our Campus

WTEX-TV Show To View Art Here

The third program in the "Education Speaks Series," presented by Longwood over Petersburg's television station, WTEX, will be telecast next Tuesday at 6 p. m. This presentation, scripted by Dr. James Wellard, associate professor of English, will present the highlights of art at this college.

Miss Virginia Bedford, associate professor of Art, will give an exposition of the art department's curriculum. Shown in a typical classroom setting, students will be shown with Miss Annie Lee Ross, also assistant professor of Art, who will work with them as she or Mrs. James Lemon, the painting instructor, will be introduced. She will discuss her work with painting here at Longwood and illustrate her comments with the work of two students.

Miss Bedford will explain the work of ceramics here, drawing attention to the potter's wheel, clay, raw materials used, tools, and by showing some pieces in the making and some finished pieces.

—Photo by Wiley

SHOWN ABOVE in a love scene from the coming production of Fry's "The Lady's Not for Burning" are Page Landers, as Alizon Eliot, and Marshall Pearman, as Richard.

Play Opens Here Tomorrow

1950 Broadway Hit Gives Comedy, Love

"The tales unbelievable, the wild tales they tell!"

And so the tone is set for the coming play, "The Lady's Not For Burning," to be given here in Jarman Hall on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday and in Johns Auditorium at Hampden-Sydney on Monday at 8 p. m.

Wiley To Direct Comedy

Presented by the Longwood Players and Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs, the comedy by Christopher Fry will be directed by David Wiley, assistant professor of speech and drama, and assisted by Molly Workman, a junior from Norfolk.

Scene: Smith Hold Leading Roles

Leading stars in the annual production are Donna Boone, a junior from Marion, and Garnett Smith, a sophomore from Richmond. The actor plays the role of Thomas Mendip, the despairing soldier who falls in love with the lady whom everyone wants to burn, Jennett Jourdemayne, portrayed by Donna.

Broadway Success in 1950

With John Gielgud and Pamela Brown, the comedy opened in New York in 1950. Meeting a tremendous success, the play was praised by the Herald Tribune as "a poetic fantasy of rare splendor and delight . . . of work of magical humor . . . the author has achieved a beautiful balance between scenes of sheerest nonsense and extremely moving passages."

Members of the Cast

Running down our cast list we find Page Landers hailing from Blackstone, where she has done considerable acting and won many honors. She comes to grace our stage as Alizon Eliot, a delightful young lady who captures the hearts of two brothers.

Marshall Pearman, from Richmond, has also done much acting in Richmond and in the Summer Festival at Hartford, Conn. Marshall assumes the pose of a threadbare clerk, Richard, who is captivated by Alizon.

Martha Skipps, the rag peddler, is in reality Matilda Powell, from Blackstone. Matilda's thespian record seems to be above ordinary. She has nine plays behind her and much experience in technical work.

Next on the cast list is Mary Elizabeth Baldwin, a sophomore from Richmond, who plays the role of Margaret Devise, the mother of the two unpredictable sons. Mary Beth acted on the stage of Hermitage High School.

Humphrey Devise, played by Jerry Ringewald, adds a touch of comedy as he pines for the heart of Alizon Eliot. Jerry comes from New Jersey and has performed in school, church, and private theatrical group plays.

Another Northerner to our stage is Joe Humphreys, playing the role of the other brother, Nicholas Devise, who vies for Alizon's affections. Joe is a newcomer to our stage and to Hampden-Sydney.

Veteran Performers

Other players are Charles Bailey and Charter Wells, from Exmore and Norfolk, respectively. Both students have played in "Skin of Our Teeth," and "The Crucible." They will next appear in the roles of Edward Tappercoom (Charles Bailey), a man of justice, and Hebble Tyson (Charter Wells) mayor of the small town of Cool Glory where the scenes takes place.

Garnett Smith is a veteran performer having played in "Skin of Our Teeth," which was given last season. Another Richmonder, Garnett again holds a lead role as Thomas Mendip.

Donna Boone has appeared in "Blood Wedding," "Skin of Our

(Continued on page 4)

Fifteen Seniors Given Recognition; Chosen For Who's Who Membership

Fifteen Longwood seniors have been selected for "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Chosen for this national honor group for outstanding recognition in scholarship and leadership qualities, they include: Annette Crain, Suzanne Faison, Mary Anne Foster, Linda Garrison, Charlotte Hall, Lucia Hart, Shirley Hauptman, Anita Heflin, Sue La Fontaine, Frances Patton, June Strother, Sue Taylor, Mary Lee Teel, Carolyn Waugaman, and Carole Wolfe.

Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honorary leadership fraternity assisted in the selection of this group by submitting a list of nominations to Mr. M. H. Bittinger, Assistant Academic Dean. A faculty committee, headed by President Francis G. Lankford, Jr., made the final approval.

Annette Crain

Annette Crain, treasurer of AKG, is an elementary education major from Williamsburg. She is president of the Y.W.C.A., an ex-officio member of Student Government Council, and on the Wesley Foundation Council. Annette also holds membership in the Cotillion Club, and Alpha Sigma Tau, social sorority.

Suzanne (Traci) Faison

Traci Faison, a Spanish major from Norfolk, has been a representative on the May Court for three years. She served as the 1955 Circus chairman and has been a Circus representative and animal trainer. She was president of freshman commission and vice-president and president of the Spanish Club. She is a member of Longwood Players, and was Class Song Writer for three years. She is president of the Cotillion Club and holds membership on the Colonnade staff, the Future Teachers of America, and Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority.

Mary Anne Foster

Mary Anne Foster is a business education major from Poquoson, recently tapped for membership into Alpha Kappa Gamma, Honorary Leadership Fraternity. She served as president of the junior class, as vice-president of the

(Continued on page 4)

Former English department head and founder of Beore Eh Thorn, James Grainger' will speak to members of the honorary English society meeting tomorrow at 5 p. m. at the home of Dr. Dorothy Schlegel.

The speaker will discuss the history of Beore Eh Thorn.

—The Camera Artist

"WELCOME, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN!" will be the words of Betty Spivey, AKG Circus Ringmaster, when she greets her audience at the coming festive occasion on December 7.

Spivey Chosen Ringmaster; To M. C. 1957 Circus Show

Betty Spivey, a junior from Windsor, will lead the climatic events of Circus as she assumes her position as Ringmaster of Circus, 1957. When she steps into the role of Ringmaster Saturday evening, December 7, in Jarman Auditorium, Betty will be Master of Ceremonies as "Say, Mr. Clown" highlights the activities of the school year.

"I am honored, thrilled and very, very surprised to have been selected for one of the most important honors of Circus," announces Betty as she reflects on her being named for this position.

Chosen as Ringmaster by Alpha Kappa Gamma's honorary leadership society and sponsor of the annual Circus, Betty has been active in her class's Circus skirt since her freshman year.

To Serve as M.C.

Among her duties as Ringmaster, Betty will welcome the Circus audience and serve as master of ceremonies as each class presents its skit. She will introduce the Animal Trainer and Circus animals as the evening festivities begin.

Besides seeing that the show runs smoothly, Betty, as Ringmaster, will announce the prize-winning float from the Parade that afternoon and finally the prize-winning skit of the evening.

The newly-elected Ringmaster says she is "very excited" about the coming event, and "sort of scared" about the whole thing.

An Elementary Major

An elementary education major, Betty is Treasurer of the Y.W.C.A. In her freshman year, she was chosen to Freshman Commission and was selected as Freshmen Counselor for her Sophomore year.

(Continued on page 4)

Pi Delta Epsilon Bids Given Upperclassmen

Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, has recently issued bids for membership into the organization. Thirteen juniors and seniors were selected. They are: Cornelia Anne Batte, Dorothy June Boswell, Nancy Lee Brubeck, Nan Rae Brimmer, Linda Doles, Betty Gwynn Griggs, Ella Gray, Jane Kell, Elizabeth McLoughlin, Louise Norman, Catherine Anne Ozmon, and Patsy Powell.

This fraternity recognizes students who have rendered valuable service on the staff of any of the three major Longwood student publications, the magazine, the newspaper, and the yearbook.

Fourteen Admitted To Kappa Delta Pi

Initiation for newly-installed members of Kappa Delta Pi, educational honorary fraternity, is scheduled to be held on December 11. The following is a list of those who received bids for the coming year, and who are eligible for membership:

Nancy Elvira Anderson, Ann Humerford Baker, Jerrye Glen Edwards, Joann Louise Fred, Shirley Wilroy Grozzard, Sarah Jane Hastings, Barbara Jean Heck, Norma Jean Jarrett, Martha Virginia Joyner, Virginia Meade Mann, Rosalyn Carole Vick, Jacqueline Waller, Bernard Leroy Warren, and Molly Frances Workman.

—Rotunda Artist

SENIORS NOW HAVE PLANS underway for their annual dance to be held here on December 14. The theme for the Christmas dance will be revealed in the next issue of THE ROTUNDA. Shirley Alcock, second from left, is the general chairman. Other chairmen shown above are, left to right, Sally Tilson, decorations; Jane Ruppert, music; and Ellen Callaway, theme. (See story above.)

Two Organizations Needed

At the present time our college can offer membership to its students in many organizations. Last spring when the Evaluations Committee, composed of the senior members of the Student Government Association, was established a very valuable attempt was begun toward stimulating organizations to the realization of where they were excelling as well as where they were failing in their duties.

When heads of organizations were asked to evaluate their organizations, many students expressed their opinion that there were too many organizations on this campus. My purpose here is not to decide this. Although it may be true, I would like to suggest the necessity of our adding two other organizations or societies which I consider essential to meeting the special needs of certain students here. These two organizations to be given attention would be for art majors and music majors.

After realizing that we do have some inactive organizations, we may easily be tempted to form an unfavorable attitude toward establishing more organizations here. This would be taking the pessimist's view, and we do have many very active societies which might easily set an example. A pessimist's attitude is not the remedy in our situation. We would be unfair to many students who hold interests outside these organizations and who would profit very much by having their interests united by a new organization here. When considering the large number of music and art majors, the achievement and work going on in these departments, it seems very justifiable if we do offer two more organizations for outstanding students in these two fields.

Perhaps this is a possibility which has been overlooked, but it is hoped that your careful consideration will indicate that we should begin now to bring such organizations to this campus. It is my opinion that we now have students in the two departments whose work could be strenghtened by the uniting of their special interests.

We must not add a new society for the sake of its existance or for its provision of a roll to list names of students representing certain interests. However, it seems well worth our consideration to begin plans for two honorary organizations for our art and music majors. The possibility does present a challenge to us. EC

Bleep—Signal To Freedom

Two scientific events of recent times have had profound impact on the minds of thinking men—the first explosion of an atomic device in 1945, and the successful launching of a man-made celestial body — Sputnik — in 1957.

Between these two events there have been more scientific discoveries which affect present and future life than in any previous time. They point up the fact that our biggest problem is how quickly and well mankind can adjust to these changes in his environment.

A beginning requirement is a much better understanding by all of us of the role of science. Despite Canute-like legal devises to control it, the flow of scientific knowledge is universal. The Russians have demonstrated time and again that their scientific ability can be equivalent to that of any other single nation.

The objective of Soviet science is Russian domination of the world. Sputnik was a tour de force of this science upon which the Russians apparently were willing to expend anything necessary. This sacrifice was made, apparently, to demonstrate to the world that science, Communist style, is superior, and to prove the Russian's ability to fire a missile of tremendous range. It clearly proves that Soviet science, with its objective, must be evaluated seriously.

But Soviet science has not yet proved superior to that of the rest of the free world. And the Soviets have clearly failed to demonstrate the industrial and distributing ability to serve the needs of their own people, let alone the world masses they court.

The objectives of the free world's science is the freedom, dignity, and betterment of all human life. Sputnik may have a lead-time of months over equal accomplishments of free world science, and then there are many difficult scientific problems to be solved before this or any similar device can be used as a weapon for world domination. The United States and the free world have the combined scientific and industrial power to meet the challenge Sputnik presents.

The greatest deterrent to Russian use of such a new weapon, even if they achieve it, is their certainty that another power can and will retaliate. No one need fear Sputnik as long as we of the free world are willing to use our ability, to whatever extent necessary, to preserve the freedom of mankind.

—Photo by Wiley

DONNA BOONE and Garnett Smith, young lovers in "The Lady's Not for Burning," are shown above rehearsing a scene.

Boone To Make Debut In Play's Romantic Lead

By MARTHA RUCKER

Donna Boone, a junior from Marion, will make her debut in a romantic part as leading lady in this fall's first production, "The Lady's Not for Burning" by Christopher Frye. Although this will be Donna's first appearance in a romantic role, she has had much experience in acting.

On the Longwood stage, Donna has held major parts in five plays. While in Richmond with the Longwood Players at the Virginia Drama Festival last spring, she was invited to play summer stock by Fletcher Collins. Mr. Collins is director of dramatics at Mary Baldwin College and directs the Oakgrove Summer Theatre in Staunton. Donna appeared in four plays during the summer with this group.

Here at Longwood, Donna is active in Longwood Players; vice-president of Alpha Psi Omega, National Honorary Dramatics Fraternity; a member of the French Club; and for the second year has been elected co-chairman of Circus for her class.

In "The Lady's Not for Burning," Donna plays the part of Jeannet Jourdemayne, a young and beautiful woman who is accused of being a witch. In Frye's play, Jeannet's realistic Character is expressed quite simply when she says, "And so for me the actual. What I see, what I touch, what I know, the essential fact."

Donna has played mostly character parts up to this time. When asked how she felt about her part she replied, "This is the first really 'romantic' part I've played, and it's quite a challenge to me. I'm very enthusiastic about it."

"The Lady's Not for Burning" is a comedy in verse and the sequence of events surrounding Donna and her leading man, the complications of love, and the mystery involved tend to give the play an interesting, dynamic plot. These things seem to indicate that "The Lady's Not for Burning" will be one of the best plays yet to be produced at Longwood under the direction of David W. Wiley, assistant professor of speech and dramatics.

Letter

To Longwood Players and Jongleurs:

Again as a typical roving reporter out for news, I found myself last Monday evening making my way among dressing players, actors reciting their lines into blank spaces, Cat Ozmon serving black coffee, Pat Walton busy as technical director, girls working on intricate lighting systems, and numerous other activity which presented a little theatrical world all its own called Jarman Hall. Everyone seemed so absorbed in his own work that it was evident that a lot of plain, old fashioned labor was going on.

But it was clear to me that this was enjoyable "laber." No one was there except of his own choosing, including me. This short time at your practice impressed me very much—to see the work of a few students which has been going on hour after hour, day after day, and week after week. Much of this work is most unglamorous and goes unrewarded except for that person's own feeling of satisfaction. This, above all, is the most important. If everyone who did something spent all his time showing others what he did, there would be no time left for anyone to do anything.

Congratulations, Players and Jongleurs, for giving us again what seems by your work thus far a wonderful production.

The Editor

Church News

By BARBARA SIMPKINS

Baptist

Sunday afternoon, November 17, Joan Spencer led the Training Union Study Course in a very enlightening discussion of the Old Testament prophets. About twenty Longwood girls attended, plus visitors from the B.S.U. at the University of Virginia. Supper was served at the church.

November 24 has been set aside as Buddy Day. There will be Open House at the Center and special programs of interest for the B.S.U. buddies.

Congratulations are in order for Nancy Morris. She was recently elected President of the B.S.U. for Freshman Week. Her duties will run through the week of December 8-14, and later she will head the Freshman Council when it is organized later on in the year.

Methodist

Rehearsal for the Wesley Choir will be in the church on Thursday, November 21, at 5 p.m. All those interested are invited to attend.

Coffee Hour will be held on Friday night at 7 p.m. Joan Spencer will be the guest speaker.

The Methodist Church will act as host for Union Vespers this Sunday, November 24.

Presbyterian

All Longwood Presbyterians are planning to attend the pajama party at Longwood House Saturday, November 23. The girls who wish to go to the waffle supper will meet in the Rotunda at 5:30 and those who cannot leave Longwood until after supper will meet in the Rotunda at 7:15. Sunday morning before leaving for the college again, the girls will have breakfast and Sunday school at Longwood House.

Bible study will be held Wednesday, November 20 at 7 p.m. under the leadership of Dave Moore. All are invited to attend.

Catholic

The Newman Club held its first meeting of the year last Thursday night at the Catholic church. The next meeting will be held tomorrow night here at school, and on the second and fourth Thursdays thereafter. Father Cornelius Fenton, Newman Club chaplain, will give instructions on church history at the meetings. Officers for the coming year will be elected at the meeting tomorrow night. All Catholics are urged to come, and anyone interested is welcome.

Socially Speaking . . .

H-S Proves Big Attraction

By ERNESTINE STOLTZ

"Those wedding bells are breaking up that ole' gang of ours." Congratulations go to Nancy Knowles who became engaged last weekend to Lewis Saunders from Suffolk, and to Ruth Zich who is now engaged to Jerry Hill from Lynchburg.

A ball game and Dad's Day at Hampden-Sydney and parties, called for lots of excitement. Congratulations go to Barbara Rossiter who represented Pi Kappa Alpha, Karen Potts representing Lambda Chi, and Aggie Lowry representing Kappa Alpha fraternities for Dad's Day Queen.

Pinned

Chris Wilson is pinned to Benny Johnson, a EN at W and M. Nancy Andrews is pinned to Dean Martin who goes to Tech.

Hampden-Sydney

At the Sigma Chi house Saturday night were Lois Johnson, Martha Shirley, Jenny Burnes, Miriam Lambrath, Gwen Keese, Peggy Mullin, Oreta Norris, Doris Webster, Jean Hiller, Julie Pitts, Dottie Morris, Chris Kamen, Libby Grehart, Allene Johnston, Sharon Stout, Kay Howard, Joan Pecht, Nancy Wallace, Barbara Daniels, Anita Parks, Helen Hillsman, Marie Fisher, Claudia Whipple, Betsy Neal, Dixie Hilliard, Martha Ann Marks, Iris Hines, Mo Franklin, Marylyn Roach, and Sarah Hastings.

The Theta Chi doors were open to Sandy Snyder, Sarah Lampton, Flora Roland, Katherine Wallace, Becky Wooldridge, Beretta Yeoman, Ann Jefferies, Frankie Click, Ann Harding, Mary Lou Turner, Frances Gillespie, Shirley Shepherd, Amy McFall, Barbara Copeland, Mary Davis, Katie Hengise, Dottie Roberts, Ruth Denton, Connie Goodman, Linda Allen, Lois Ogburn, Shirley Saunders, Ernestine Stoltz, Anne Keziah, Connie Carlton, Joanne Maitland, Merele Ridiger, and Peggy Harris.

Seen at the KA house were Page Davis, Edith Darden, Page Landers, Carolyn Oliver, Barbara Bolster, Harriet Butterworth, Sandra Watkins, Cora Straughan, June Elmore, Alice Layne, Beverly Kirsey, Ann Scott, Karen Potts, Carolyn Crockett, Barbara English, Mary K. Browning, Jeanne Peyton, Brenda Drewry, Vicki Graninger, Dot Boswell, Barbara Wilson, Carole Manley, Mary Ellen Moore, and Ann Reuntree.

The PiKA's rolled out the welcome mat to Dotty Council, Emily Shelton, Barbara Rossiter, Bobby Blood, Neal Ward, Ann Coleman, Sue Price, Dottie Gills, Ann Norfleet, Carolyn DeHaven, Mary Ann Walker, Billie Shores, Jill Green, Audrey Brown, Sara Oliver, Pat Mitchell, Joan Lee Thomas, and Cat Ozmon.

The Kappa Sig's said "Hello" to Stephanie Bisese, Demetria Koumpaiokes, Ann Mixon, and Eileen Cohill, and the Chi Phi's welcomed Bonnie Kup, Betty Chappell, Joyce Pendleton, Mary Ann Montague, Norrish Munson, Mary Stokes, Alice Cheatwood.

VMI-Citadel Game

The VMI-Citadel game called out such girls as Cherry Gorham, Sue Bennett, Brenda Owen, Kitty Good, Brenda Green, Pat O'Niel, Carolyn Axsom, Linda Moore, Betty Brown Culpepper, and Margie Crismond.

Traveling to U.Va. were Linda Forrest, Jane Freeman, Judy Harris, Blanche Ingram, Norma Jean Johnson, Donna Boone, Burks Keith, Sue Taylor and JoAnne Sloop.

W & M

William and Mary won its homecoming game, and those L.C. girls cheering the team on were Beverly Gaskins, Connie Michael, Faye Dula, Chris Wilson, Ann Glover, Della Higgins, Nancy Knowles, Sarah Rock, and Janet Lloyd.

W & L

Seen at W and L were Nancy Knight, Catherine Walker, Sylvia Roper, Frances Harvey, Ella Culpepper, Gin Kuyk, and Sue Bennett.

Dottie Brown, Jackie Gibson, and Carolyn Bassford traveled up to the Navy-Washington game. Betty Barnette went to Ferrum; Frances Patton journeyed down to the VPI-N. C. State game; Kay Hudgins went to Lynchburg College; Gloria Gardner spent the weekend in Raleigh; Jean Dunagan went to RPI, and Anita Heflin traveled to Randolph Macon.

The Rotunda

ELLA V. CARTER

Editor-in-Chief

Linda Doles ..... Managing Editor
Norma Jenrett ..... Business Manager
Bet McLoughlin ..... News Editor
Judy Eckstrom ..... Feature Editor
Patsy Powell ..... Sports Editor
Virlinda Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Elaine Weddle, Pat Wilmoth ..... Photography
Nan Brimmer, Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Ann Hill ..... Advertising Manager
Grace Bowles ..... Office Manager
Dr. James Wellard ..... Faculty Advisor

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the act of Congress on March 8, 1934.

From The Gridiron Bleachers

By ANNE KEZIAH

Even though it was a rainy Saturday afternoon, there were still quite a few exciting football games in the Old Dominion last weekend. Longwood girls didn't let a little rain stop them though as L.C. seemed to be represented at every game.

H-S's Eighth Victory

All decked out in their ole' faithful khaki trenchcoats, many Longwood girls traveled over Hampden-Sydney way to cheer the Tigers on their eighth straight victory. H-S really ran wild as they rolled over the Generals from Washington and Lee, 32-18, and remained undefeated. Next week, the Mason-Dixon and Little Eight Champs travel to Sewanee for the last game of the season. Here's to an undefeated season!

NC State Wins Over Tech

Virginia Tech found itself back in the losers column as North Carolina State defeated the Gobblers, 12-0, in the game played at Victory Stadium in Roanoke, Virginia. As usual, Tech "helped" the victors via interceptions and fumbles. Tech doesn't play again until "Turkey Day" when they meet V.M.I. in the traditional military classic in Roanoke. Care to make any bets?

Cavaliers Defeated

University of Virginia suffered one of those "bad days" Saturday and couldn't seem to do anything right. As a result, the Cavaliers were defeated, 13-0, by South Carolina.

W and M Stomps Rutgers

The William and Mary Indians really ran wild in their homecoming game and held their first real "scalping Party" in a long time as they stomped Rutgers, 38-7. This was the highest score rolled up by the Indians since 1952.

Wildcats Defeat Spiders

The Davidson Wildcats traveled to Richmond where they met and defeated the Richmond Spiders, 23-19. Richmond led at the half, but the Wildcats wouldn't give up and scored a field goal in the third period and two touchdowns in the final quarter to take the game.

Emory and Henry Wins

Emory and Henry's speed and depth proved too much for the Randolph - Macon Yellow Jackets Saturday as the Wasps came through with a 34-7 victory on a rain-soaked field.

V.M.I. Remains Undefeated

Up in Lynchburg Saturday night, the V.M.I. Keydets kept their undefeated slate clean as they defeated The Citadel, 33-6. V.M.I. only needs a victory over Virginia Tech in their annual game Thanksgiving to wrap up their first undefeated season in many years.

Varsity To Match Final '57 Opponent

Longwood's varsity field hockey team will meet its last foe of the 1957 season as the eleven players match skills with the pride of Westhampton College, Saturday, November 23.

Winding up a thus far undefeated season, the blue and whites will be meeting their fifth challenge. Having downed Roanoke College in the opener, the Longwood team went on to hand defeat to William and Mary, the Campus Characters, and Madison College.

Seeing action for their final Longwood game will be seniors Carol Wolfe, Nancy Richardson, Annie V. Weaver and captain Margaret Dowdy.

Freshmen Win Song Contest

It was a grand sweep for green and white as Longwood's freshman class took top honors in the annual Athletic Association Song Contest yesterday. The class of '59 was named runner-up in the program which introduced to the student body four new blue and white pep songs.

So that the entire student body can learn them, here are the winning songs.

"Raise a cheer for Longwood
Let's hear it loud and strong.
For blue and white we're gonna fight
So carry on the song—Rah Rah Rah
We'll be the victors
Put them all to shame
So bring us glory, or bring us fame.
And give them cause to fear our name."

The Junior Class captured second place with this song.

"How do you spell it— B L U E
How do you spell it—W H I T E
It's the Blue and White,
the colors that are right
That we now sing to you;

"You take the B for Blue—
that stands for Best
You take the W for White—
well, you now the rest.
Together they mean Blue and White
Which stands the test.

"That's how you spell it—B L U E
That's how spell it—W H I T E
It's the Blue and White,
the colors that are right
That we have sung to you."
(repeat last verse with lines one and two soft.)

Seniors Initiated To Monogram Membership

—Camera Artist

MARGARET DOWDY, president of the Monogram Club, shows six new club members how to make miniature hockey sticks to be sold during the class hockey games. Shown left to right are B. J. Sruhan, Sara Gayhart, Jeanne Vestal, Margaret Dowdy, Jo Maxey, Carol King, and Weston Walker.

Officers Selected For Current Year

Six new members were initiated into the Monogram Club on Monday night, November 18. They were as follows: Seniors Jo Maxey, Carol King, Jeanne Vestal, Weston Walker, Sara Gayhart and B. J. Sruhan.

For Outstanding Athletes

The Monogram Club is an honorary organization which recognizes outstanding participation in sports and sportsmanship. The members are selected from the junior and senior classes on the basis of their interests and abilities.

New Officers

The organization's new officers for the 1957-58 year are Margaret Dowdy, President, Annie V. Weaver, Secretary, and Nancy Richardson, Treasurer. Miss Olive Iler, who is the head of the Department of Physical Education here at Longwood, is serving as the advisor of the club.

Before the class hockey games the Monogram Club sells miniature green and red hockey sticks to add spirit and give support to the class teams. Valentine's Day is designated as Red 'n White Day at which time red hearts will be sold, while on St. Patrick's Day, known as Green 'n White Day, green shamrocks will be on sale.

Tidewater Teams See District Play

Longwood's five members of the Tidewater hockey team participated in the Southeast Field Hockey Tournament held at Westhampton College November 16-17. Left wing Sandy Fitzgerald, center fullback Nancy Richardson, and left fullback Linda Vess participated on the second team, along with substitutes Nancy Andrews and Carol Wolfe. These girls and the other members of the Tidewater teams, including Longwood alumni Loretta Kuhn playing right inner for the first team, were chosen after tournament play earlier this month.

Teams participating in the Southeast Field Hockey Tournament in addition to the Tidewater teams are Delaware, Baltimore, Washington, and Blue Ridge.

On Saturday morning November 16, the Tidewater team sporting purple colors met defeat at the hands of the Blue Ridge group. In other games Saturday, Delaware's eleven met the Tidewater second team, the Tidewater team opposed the red and white clad Washington team, and the Tidewater second team matched skill with Baltimore II.

As play resumed Sunday morning Longwood alumni Loretta Kuhn scored the only point for the losers as Tidewater took a 4-1 defeat at the hands of the Baltimore team. In the final game of the tournament the Blue Ridge second team outscored by 21-1 Tidewater II.

The Southeast Field Hockey Team members, chosen on the basis of performance in this tournament, will participate in the National Field Hockey Tournament at Vassar during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Longwood's class hockey games, scheduled to begin yesterday, were postponed due to the muddy conditions on the hockey field. Weather permitting games will begin today and be continued November 25 and 26.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES
Are Available
AT ALL TIMES
— at —
NEWBERRY'S

When you think of a skirt, think of Davidson's!
Skirts by——
HANDMACKER
COLLEGE TOWN
SUMMIT
DAVIDSON'S

GIVE A BIBLE FOR CHRISTMAS!
King James Version
Revised Standard
American Standard
The Moffatt Bible
WIDE SELECTION
at
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
Phone 441-J

COSMETICS
By REVLON
— at —
GRAY'S DRUG STORE

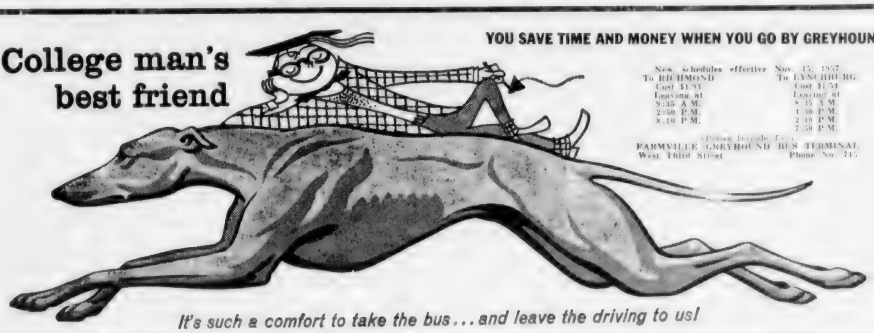
Birthdays Coming Up?
Why Not
Come to MARTIN'S
and
Select Your Gift
MARTIN, the Jeweler

FOR THE BEST
in SANDWICHES
and REFRESHMENTS
Visit The SNACK

WITH THIS COUPON
10% OFF
On Any Purchase
November 20, 21, 22.
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

WALKER'S RESTAURANT
Club Breakfast - Lunch
Course Dinners
FOUNTAIN SERVICE
Phone 3280
U. S. 360 and 460
Burkeville, Va.

Compliments of a Friend



They kept warning me this would happen if I didn't think of some super way to describe that absolutely unique good taste of Coca-Cola. So who's a Shakespeare? So no ad . . . that's bad! But, there's always Coke . . . and that's good!

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

College man's best friend

YOU SAVE TIME AND MONEY WHEN YOU GO BY GREYHOUND

New schedules effective Nov. 15, 1957

To RICHMOND
Cost $1.95
Leaving at
9:35 A.M.
2:50 P.M.
8:10 P.M.

To LYNCHBURG
Cost $1.55
Leaving at
8:15 A.M.
1:30 P.M.
2:10 P.M.
7:50 P.M.

FARMVILLE GREYHOUND BUS TERMINAL
West Third Street Phone No. 715

It's such a comfort to take the bus . . . and leave the driving to us!

State Meeting Held For FTA Members

Although there are plenty of trained teachers in the United States, it is difficult to get them into the class, said the keynote speaker at the meeting last weekend in Richmond of the Future Teachers of America Clubs.

Dr. T. M. Stinnett, secretary of the NEA Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards, said that "there's no question about" the fact that the teacher shortage is clearing up.

"Of course nobody believes me," he added.

Crute as Vice President

Longwood senior Jane Crute, serving as vice-president of the state FTA, introduced Dr. Stinnett who spoke to more than 325 students at the Hotel John Marshall.

At this second annual state-wide convention, the group adopted the title, Student Virginia Education Association.

Dr. Stinnett explained that colleges are producing an adequate number of teachers, but more than one third of them fail to take teaching jobs after graduation.

Delegates representing Longwood College were Anne Hill, president of the Longwood Chapter of FTA; Elaine Chaffin; Ella Gray; and Miss Kate Trent, the delegation's sponsor.

Who's Who

(Continued from page 1)

freshman class and is now vice-president of the Y.W.C.A., having been Y.W.C.A. treasurer last year. She holds membership in the Future Teachers of America, the Future Business Leaders of America, the Cotillion Club, and Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority. She is Devotional Chairman of the Baptist Student Union and has served as President of the Training Union, Editor of "The Link," and secretary of the Virginia Baptists' Student Union.

Linda Garrison

Linda Garrison, 1956-57 Rotunda Editor, is an English major from Williamsburg. She also served as Sports Editor of the Rotunda and vice-president of Beore Eh Thorn, honorary English fraternity. Linda also holds membership in Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism fraternity, the Future Teachers of America, the Cotillion Club, and Alpha Sigma Tau, social sorority.

Charlotte Hall

Miss Future Business Executive of the U. S. A. for 1957, Charlotte Hall is a business education major from Chatham. She is reporter and parliamentarian of the Future Business Leaders of America, secretary of her sectional club, and orientation chairman. She holds membership in the Future Teachers of America and the Wesley Foundation.

Lucia Hart

Lucia Hart, a mathematics major from York, South Carolina, is vice-president of Student Government Association and AKG. She served as co-chairman of freshman production and sophomore and junior class secretary. She is president of Kappa Delta social sorority and is a member of the Y.W.C.A. council. Lucia also holds membership Kappa Delta Pi, the Future Teachers of America, and the Cotillion Club.

Shirley Hauptman

Senior class president, Shirley Hauptman is an English major from Winchester. She was treasurer of her freshman class, assistant business manager and now business manager of the Virginian and is a past treasurer and now secretary of Kappa Delta social sorority. A member of AKG, Kappa Delta Pi, Shirley also belongs to Pi Delta Epsilon, the Future Teachers of America and the Cotillion Club.

Anita Heflin

An English major from Ashland, Anita Helfin was recently tapped for membership into Alpha Kappa Gamma, Honorary Leadership Fraternity, and is president of Beore Eh Thorn, honorary English society. She is a past treasurer of the college choir and past president of the French Club. She holds membership in the Richmond Club, the Wesley Foundation, Future Teachers of America, and is vice-president of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity. A representative on the 1956 and 1957 May Court, Anita is also a member of the Cotillion Club and of Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority.

Sue La Fontaine

An English major, Sue La Fontaine is a Stratford College transfer from Somerville, New Jersey. She is vice-president of the senior class, president of the French Club, and co-chairman of the senior Circus. She serves as editor of Kappa Delta social sorority and is a member of Beore Eh Thorn, honorary English society. She also holds membership in the Cotillion Club and on the class hockey team.

Frances Patton

Frances Patton, President of Student Government Association, is a social studies major from Roanoke. She is vice-president of AKG, and is a member of the Y cabinet, House Council, and the H2O Club. Frances also holds membership in Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority.

June Strother

June Strother, 1957 Circus chairman, is a social science major from Colonial Heights. She is president of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority, vice-president and past treasurer of Orchesis, A member of AKG, June also holds membership in the Longwood Players, the Newman Club and the Cotillion Club.

Sue Taylor

Sue Taylor, president of House Council, is an elementary education major from Richmond and was recently tapped for AKG membership. She serves on the Student Government Council and was freshman representative and secretary-treasurer of Student Standards. A representative on the 1957 May Court, she was also a May Day Chairman and Circus Avalentdes Aibs". "There is a Lady Sweet and Kind", "Prarie Waters by Night", "Silent Noon", "Deborah", and "Indra" will complete the concert.

Mr. McCombs, who will present his first recital at Longwood this year, received Bachelor and Master of Music Degrees from Mississippi Southern College, and a Master of Arts Degree and Professional Diploma from Columbia University. He was also an artist pupil of Bernard Taylor at the Juilliard School of Music.

Mr. McCombs was a professional singer in New York for two years and taught in the State University of New York immediately before joining the Longwood faculty last year.

Recital Planned By McCombs

The Longwood College Department of Music will present James McCombs in a faculty recital on December 3, at 8 p. m. in Jarman Auditorium.

To begin his program, Mr. McCombs, a bass baritone, will sing Handel's "Dank Sei, Dir Herr" followed by "Ich Liebe Dich" by Beethoven. Next on the program will be "Some Rival Stolen My True Love Away", "Wilton's Air from 'Comus' ", "Ich Crolle Nicht" by Schumann and "Der Wanderer" by Schubert. Verdi's aria: "Il Lacerato Spirito" will complete the first half of the recital.

Immediately after intermission, the program will resume as Mr. McCombs offers "Bois Epais", "L'Angelus", and "Si Mes Vers

High School Students Spend Week End Here

Fourteen high schools will have students visiting Longwood this coming weekend. Prospective students of Longwood, the campus visitors will attend activities planned especially for them.

High schools to be represented include Richard J. Reynolds in North Carolina, and the other Virginia schools, McLean, George Washington, James Monroe, Fairfax, Albemarle, E. C. Glass, Wakefield, Parry McCluer, Jefferson, Tappahannock, Amelia, Warwick, and Thomas Jefferson.

Booth chairman. She has served as chairman of the Activities Committee and of the Assembly Committee and is secretary of Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority. Sue is also a member of the Rotunda Circulation staff, the Richmond Club, the Granddaughter's Club and the Cotillion Club.

Mary Lee Teel

President of AKG, Mary Lee Teel is an elementary education major from Charlottesville. She is vice-president of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority and senior representative to Student Government Council. Mary Lee is also a member of the Cotillion Club, the Granddaughter's Club, and the Y Cabinet.

Carolyn (Tipi) Waugaman

Tipi Waugaman, recently tapped for AKG membership, is a biology major from Roanoke. Serving as house president her freshman and sophomore years, she is now president of Pi Delta

Fourteen Selected For Pi Gamma Mu

Pi Gamma Mu, honorary Social Science Society, recently released a list of students selected to receive bids for the fall semester.

An advisory board from the history department was also elected and will be approved some time this week. Tentative members from the faculty are: Mr. Moss, Mrs. Cover, Mr. Simkins, Mr. Noble, and Mr. Kennedy.

Pledges to whom bids were sent are: Shirley Alcock, Cornelia Batte, Linda Doles, Joan Heavyside, Barbara Heck, Mary Alice Henry, Judith Holderman, Patricia Leake, Patricia Lyons, Patsy Powell, Lillian Rosson, Alice Sawyer, Maxine Crowder, Carolyn Stonnell, and Nancy Thomas.

Circus

(Continued from page 1)

She is a member of the Cotillion Club, the Granddaughter's Club, the Circulation Staff of The Rotunda, and Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority.

Mass rehearsals will be held Thursday and Friday nights for the Saturday night Circus festivities. All students are required to pay 25 cents in support of Circus. Those not participating in the skit will receive a ticket for Circus. June Strother, general circus chairman, announces that those in the skit will have the opportunity to see all of the skits at dress rehearsal.

To Aid Scholarship Fund

All of the profit that is made from Circus will be donated to the Dabney S. Lancaster Scholarship Fund. With the support of Circus, it is hoped that the scholarship will reach its quota this year. It is also the hope of the Student Government Association to perpetuate this fund so that in the future, it will be possible for the fund to support itself.

Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity, and managing editor of the Colonnade. She serves on the Student Government Council and is a member of the H2O Club and Kappa Delta social sorority.

Carol Wolfe

Carol Wolfe, recently tapped for membership into AKG, is a physical education major from Arlington. She is president of the Athletic Association and serves on the Student Government Council. She holds membership in the Monogram Club, the college choir and Longwood Players.

Five Play Production Students Direct Dramas For December 11 Presentation

On Wednesday night December 11, five one act plays will be presented in Jarman Hall. These plays are sponsored by Alpha Psi Omega, the National Honorary Dramatic Society. They are to be directed by five of the students in the Dramatic Arts 301 class.

The student directors, Pat Cleveland, Vicki Brinkley, Mary Linda League, Pat Walton and Hannah Haile have all been studying the principles of how to accomplish a desired end and through these plays are practicing these principles. Others in the class are doing various projects such as stage managing, assistant directing, and writing papers.

Pat Cleveland, a Sophomore from Fredericksburg, will be directing Tennesse Williams's play "Talk to Me Like the Rain and Let Me Listen," starring Vicki Brinkley.

Marietta Conway Kennard's "Flight of the Herons" will be directed by Vicki Brinkley, a Junior from Suffolk. The cast consists of Suzanne Fasion, Christene Kamen and John Lynn, a day student and the only male casted so far.

A Sophomore from Salem, Mary Linda League will be the director for "The Maker Of Dreams" written by Oliphant Down. The stars of this play will be Hannah Haile and Patricia Leake.

Pat Walton, a Senior from Covington, will be directing a play written by our own Pat Cleveland. It is called "Mister Director General." Starring in this will be Carol Lash, Lynne McDade and Arlene Johnston.

Hannah Haile, a Junior from Tappahannock, will be director of J. M. Synge's play, "Riders to the Sea," which will cast Pat Cleveland, Barbara Ennsman and Peggy Lodvick.

YWCA Basket Drive Strives Toward Goal

The YWCA is now sponsoring its annual Thanksgiving Basket Drive. The contributions which the Green and Red classes are contributing will be given to needy families here in Farmville. The two classes are competing to fill their class boxes.

Working with the local Welfare Department here, the YWCA asks that students give canned foods. The Basket Drive will continue until next Monday. The contributions will be dedicated at the Prayers Service that night in the Episcopal Church.

Season Activities

(Continued from page 1)

Teeth," "The Crucible," and "Phoenix Too Frequent." The last play won wide acclaim at the Virginia Drama Festival when the play, also by Fry, was given last spring.

A Simple Plot

The plot is as simple as it is light. It is the story of an ex-soldier, who has seen too much of life and wants to die, and of a so-called witch, condemned to death but wants to live.

Time Is Medieval As Possible

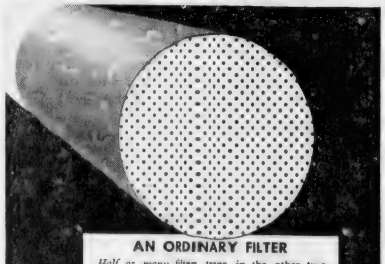
The scene of "The Lady's Not For Burning" is the house of Hebble Tyson, the mayor of the little town of Cool Clary. The time is loosely medieval. The author tells us that "The appearance of the characters is as much fifteenth century as anything."

Student Directors

Scene designer is Pat Leake; light designer, Vicki Brinkley; costume designer, Becky Jones; stage manager, Nancy Brubeck; technical director, Pat Walton; and publicity, Cat Osmon.

The crew chiefs are as follows: scenery, Sandra Stevens; lights, Lynn McDade; costumes, Joan Kidwell; props, Jeanne Suthard; sound, Ann Wallace; make-up, Alta Wheeler; and house manager, Kate Krehbiel.

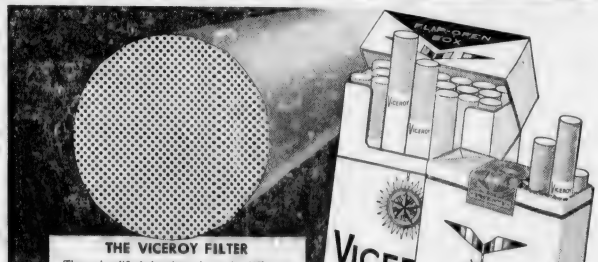
Price of admission is 75 cents for students and $1.00 for adults.



The work sputnik is nothing more than a Russian word which, translated into English, is satellite. Therefore, it is to be lower-case. However, when used as Sputnik I and Sputnik II, they must be capped: they have been "labeled."

Boxwood Tourist Court and Restaurant

3 Miles South of Farmville on Rt. 15



Phone 3027-5

Only Viceroy gives you 20,000 FILTER TRAPS FOR THAT SMOOTHER TASTE

AN ORDINARY FILTER

Half as many filter traps in the other two largest-selling filter brands! In Viceroy, 20,000 filter traps... twice as many... for smoother taste!

THE VICEROY FILTER

These simplified drawings show the difference ... show that Viceroy's 20,000 filter traps are actually twice as many as the ordinary filter!

Twice as many filter traps as the other two largest-selling filter brands!

Compare! Only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps—twice as many as the other two largest-selling filter brands—for that smoother taste!

Plus—finest-quality leaf tobacco, Deep-Cured golden brown for extra smoothness!

Get Viceroy! Get 20,000 filter traps, for smoother taste!

NOW AVAILABLE IN NEW CRUSH-PROOF FLIP-OPEN BOX OR FAMOUS FAMILIAR PACK

© 1957, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Va.

The Rotunda

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va. December 11, 1957 | No. 8

CrainResigns; FosterNamed As 'Y' Leader

The resignation of Annette Crain as President of the Y.W.C.A. was announced last week by Frances Patton, President of the Student Body of Longwood College. Elected to succeed her is Mary Anne Foster, who has been serving as Vice-President of the "Y" since her election last spring. Carolyn Wilson was elected to succeed Mary Anne as Vice-President.

Annette has held her position as President of the "Y" since her election to succeed Loretta Kuhn last spring. Because of her poor health, Annette felt that she could no longer carry out the duties and responsibilities of her position.

Mary Anne, a senior business education major from Poquoson, has served on the "Y" Cabinet since her Freshman year. She was treasurer of the "Y" her junior year and served as Vice-President this year. Recently tapped to AKG, Mary Anne has also been selected to Who's Who. She was vice-president of her freshman class and president of her junior class. She has been active in the Baptist Student Union, holding offices in both the local and state councils. Among her other activities, she holds membership in the FBLA, the FTA, the Cotillion Club, and Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority.

Carolyn, a senior business education major from Danville, transferred from Stratford Junior College last year. At Stratford she served on the Student Council and was president of the Choral Club and Danville Club. Carolyn has been serving as a committee chairman of the "Y" this year. In addition to her activities in the Wesley Foundation, Carolyn is a member of the FBLA, the FTA, and the Cotillion Club.

Two Patients' Tests Show Asian Flu Here

Dr. J. D. Graziani announced this week that the tests which were sent to the Health Department regarding the Asian flu were returned to him with the report that the two girls tested had Asian flu. Throat washings and blood samples were taken from Nancy Gilbert and Claudette Cooper, whom he chose as the two from which he was allowed to make these tests.

Dr. Graziani feels that these results are significant of the fact that because both of the tests were positive, it is quite certain that all, with the exception of a few cases, were victims of the Asian flu.

Annual pictures will be taken tomorrow from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Students are requested to check the schedule in the smoker for the time various group pictures will be taken.

McLoughlin, Staff Edit Current Issue

This issue of The Rotunda has been published by a temporarily acting staff headed by Bet McLoughlin, a junior from Richmond, who is holding the position as Editor-in-Chief.

Serving on the editorial staff were Linda Doles, Managing Editor; Judy Eckstrom, News Editor; Feature Editor, Henrietta Dollins; and Sports Editor, Patsy Powell.

Others holding positions were: Ernestine Stoltz, Social Editor; Melinda Franklin, Art Editor; Virlinda Joyner, Desk Editor; and Barbara Simpkins, Church News Editor. Elaine Weddle was in charge of the photography for the issue.

Barbara Hurst assumed the duties as Business Manager, with Ella Gray handling the advertising and Gwen Melton retaining her position as Circulation Manager.

ChristmasPageant Reveals Madonna

The Y.W.C.A. Christmas pageant, "The Nativity," arranged by Rosamond Kimball, will be presented Tuesday night, Dec. 17, at 10 p.m., in Jarman Hall.

The pageant is under the direction of sophomore Kathe Hegnsle and consists of four scenes which cover The Temple, The Annunciation, The Shepherds in the Field, and The Nativity.

Madonna To Be Revealed

In the Nativity scene the name of the Madonna, chosen by the entire student body, will be revealed. The Madonna, a member of the senior class, will typify the qualities of Christ's mother.

Members of Cast

Others in the cast are Cherry Gorham, Joseph; Nancy Brubeck, Zacharias; Margaret Shropshire, Gabriel; and Jeanne Peyton, The Angel.

Also featured are Dot Boswell, Dottie Brown and Pat Leake as shepherds; Bobbie Koons, Anne Odom and Evelyn Roache as wise men, and Jo Anne Parsons and Chris Kamen as the heavenly host.

Committee heads are Jo Anne White and Evelyn Roache, prop; Mary Davis and Elsie Dick, costume; Anne Jenkins, publicity; and Barbara Rossiter, make-up.

Examination Schedule
First Semester
Session 1957-1958

Day and date of Examination	Morning Period 8:05 to 11:05 a. m.	Afternoon Period 1:05 to 4:05 p. m.
Friday Jan. 24	M W F Classes 11:05 M T W T F Classes M W or W F Classes	11:05 T T S Classes T T Classes History 335
Saturday Jan. 25	M W F Classes 10:05 M T W T F Classes M W or W F Classes
Monday Jan. 27	T T S Classes 8:05 M T W T F Classes T T Classes	10:05 T T S Classes T T Classes
Tuesday Jan. 28	M W F Classes 1:05 M W or W F Classes	2:05 and 3:05 M W F Classes
Wednesday Jan. 29	T T S Classes 9:05 M T W T F Classes T T Classes	2:05 and 3:05 T T Classes and 4:05 Tu or Th Classes
Thursday Jan. 30	M W F Classes 9:05 M W or W F Classes	8:05 MWF Classes M W or W F Classes

Should a student have a conflict report to the chairman of the committee on schedules THROUGH YOUR INSTRUCTOR.

Senior Dance To Highlight Season Activities

—The Camera Artist

STARRY-EYED SENIORS display decorations which they have made as plans get underway for their coming dance this Saturday. Shown left to right are: Sarah Hackworth, Cornelia Anne Batte, Emily Atkinson, Janet Lloyd, and Chairman Shirley Mae Alcock.

Graduate To Lead Traditional Figure

By CHERRY GORHAM

In just three nights Longwood students will discover the gymnasium transformed into a "Snow Dream" as they enter at 8 p. m. with their dates. The Senior Class will perform this miracle and will play the leading role in the evening's drama.

An illusion of snowy mistiness will be created by the use of blue, silver, and white. Serving as a focal point, a multi-pointed, varicolored star will revolve in the center. French blue siding will convey the impression of the dusk of winter while snowflakes will descend from white branches overhead. Dancers will see a huge, glittering snowflake with the theme of the dance written at the top enclosing the band. Located at the other end will be a silver and red wreath through which each couple will enter the ballroom.

Harris To Lead Figure

The senior girls at intermission time, will perform the traditional figure. Attired in long, white formals and carrying red poinsettias, they will walk through the wreath where they will be presented with favors. Nancy Lea Harris, a graduate of the class of '57, will return to lead the figure.

Music by "The Continentals"

Following the dance, where music will be furnished by "The Continentals," a group from Langley Field, the seniors will gather for a combo party at Longwood Estate. Between midnight and 2:15 a. m. the class will dance to the music of a Hampden-Sydney group.

Alcock Is Chairman

Plans for the extravaganza began last spring with the selection of Shirley Mae Alcock as dance chairman. During the summer, work began and September brought the selection of the theme.

The various committee heads assisting her with their time and talent are: decorations, Sally Tilson; music, Jane Ruppert; tickets, Sue Amory; favors, Carolyn Kelly; figure, June Strother; program, Peggy Dickerson and Emily Atkinson; party, Sue Jett and Sarah Hackworth; publicity, Janet Lloyd; and theme, Ellen Callaway.

(Continued on page 4)

Lankford Named To New Committee

President Francis G. Lankford has recently been appointed by Governor Thomas B. Stanley to serve on the Virginia Education Facilities Committee.

This committee has been established by the Governor to make a study of the possibilities of obtaining maximum utilization of the State's investment in educational buildings, equipment, and teaching staffs.

Various suggestions have been advanced relating to a more efficient use of elementary, secondary, and college school buildings. Advantages and disadvantages can be seen in all of the proposed plans. There may be other plans of greater merit, or our present system may be preferable. In any event, Governor Stanley feels that the question is one meriting careful examination and study; and he requests the committee to undertake the task with the view of submitting its report and recommendations as early as practible consistent with thoroughness.

Fourteen have been appointed to this committee which held an organization meeting in Richmond yesterday. The committee hopes to be able to make its report to the Governor and the General Assembly by September, 1958.

Longwood, V. M. I. Combine To Give Christmas Concert

The annual Christmas concert will be given in Jarman Hall auditorium on Sunday, December 15, at 4 p.m.

The Longwood Choir will combine with the V.M.I. Glee Club in presenting a program of selected Christmas music, including the well-known Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's "The Messiah." Also participating in the program will be the Longwood College Madrigal Singers and Chorus.

The Glee Club will present the following numbers: "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones," "O Bone Jesu", "O Come, O Come, Immanuel", "Fairest Lord Jesus", "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming", "Adam Lay Bounden", and a solo by Cadet Willian H. Old, Jr., of "Gloucestershire Wassail", a Traditional Old English Yule Song, with Cadet William Dabney of Gloucester, Virginia, as baritone soloist.

In past years, the Longwood Choir and the V.M.I. Glee Club have presented many arousing performances here at Jarman Hall. One of the foremost choral groups in the South, the V.M.I. Glee Club has become an accomplished musical organization with a wide repertoire. It has grown, until it has become an integral part of cadet life, and one of the most popular extra-curricular activities at the Institute.

Although there had been informal gatherings in the form of serenades, first formal organization of the Glee Club was in 1937. During its first year, the Club had some fifty members. Conductors of the Club have been Mrs. Medford G. Ramey, and Colonel Herbert Nash Dillard, who led it competently until the Club numbered about 200 men out of the Corps of Cadets numbering just under 1000.

Colonel Dillard led the Club in many concerts throughout Virginia, in Washington, at service installations, West Point (the "V.M.I of the North," according to members of the Institute Corps of Cadets), and has appeared on television many times. The Club has sung at numerous exclusive hotels and clubs, singing with such celebrities as Roberta Peters, Danny Thomas, Eddie Fisher, and the Chordettes.

Because of an increased load of duties, Colonel Dillard found it necessary to resign as conductor of the Club in 1956. Since that time, Mark Doty, a First Classman from Winnsboro, South Carolina, and Gregory C. Taylor, a graduate in 1957, have conducted the Club most successfully.

Pi Gamma Mu will hold its monthly meeting tonight at 7:00 in the audio visual room. The program will include slides on India shown by Mr. Noble.

Students To Choose Senior Personalities

Each year, the staff of the Virginian sponsors an election in which two seniors are chosen by the student body as Senior Personalities. The two girls selected are then featured in the year's Virginian.

Ann Brierley, editor of the 1958 Virginian, announces that the forthcoming contest will be held in January.

Qualities to be taken into consideration when selecting these girls include personality, friendliness and wit. In addition to their being active in class functions, those selected must be girls whom the students feel represent the senior class as a whole.

Those seniors nominated for Senior Personalities are Shirley Mae Alcock, Mary Ann Barnett, Ellen Callaway, Marodith Nichols, Anne Rountree, and Betty Jeanne Spruhan.

Beore Eh Thorn will hold its monthly meeting on December 12 at 4 p. m. at the home of Dr. R. K. Meeker.

The program will include a panel discussion by Foster B. Gresham, assistant professor of English, and the student teachers on "Teaching English in the High School."

Kappa Delta Pi, honorary Education fraternity, initiated 12 new members today. President Cornelia Anne Batte officiated at the ceremony.

Dramatic Society To Sponsor Plays

Five one act plays will be presented in Jarman Hall on Wednesday night, January 8. These plays are sponsored by Alpha Psi Omega and will be directed by five students in the Dramatic Arts 301 class.

The student directors, Pat Cleveland, Vicki Brinkley, Hannah Haile, Mary Linda League, and Pat Walton, are accomplishing the principles which they are studying and learning in class by producing these plays as their individual projects.

Pat Cleveland will produce Tennessee William's play, "Talk to me Like the Rain and Let Me Listen," starring Vicki Brinkley and Garnett Smith. This play tells the story of a man and his wife and their refusal to face life.

Marietta Conway Kennard's "Flight of the Herons" will be directed by Vicki Brinkley. This story of a young Russian girl and her imprisonment stars Suzanne Faison, Chris Kamen, John Lynn, Jerry Ringewald, and Garnett Smith. The problem of death or compromise is confronted in this play.

Hannah Haile will be the director of J. M. Synge's tender Irish

(Continued on page 4)

Test In English Set

The Junior English Test (see pages 83-84 of the college catalogue) will be given this semester on Tuesday January 14, from 7 to 9 p.m. in Room 28 of Buffaloe Hall.

The test will cover mechanics of expression, effectiveness of expression, and reading comprehension.

All students of current Junior standing and all seniors who have not taken the test are required to do so at this time as a pre-requisite for graduation in all curricula. A list of students absolved from taking the test because of demonstrated proficiency in English will be posted shortly in the West Wing.

A Fine Job, Annette Crain

To select a student to head an organization such as the Y.W.C.A. means to place upon this student a grave duty and responsibility. Needless to say, such an honor always carries these obligations with it. This office as president of the "Y" places a deep sense of responsibility on the student to the other students. It also incurs upon the student a responsibility toward herself.

In Annette Crain was found the ability to accept and such responsibilities. To say that she has done her job well would be to underestimate the capability with which she has worked since her election last spring.

Because of her poor health, Annette felt obliged to resign as president of the "Y". Her presence at the Cabinet meetings will be greatly missed by all. The "Y" Cabinet has expressed their deep appreciation to Annette for her endless contribution towards the Y.W.C.A. Her outstanding leadership throughout the school has been greatly recognized and appreciated.

To Annette, we give a heart-felt THANK YOU.

E. M.

A Madonna Among You

As the years go by, it seems as if the true meaning of Christmas seems to be by-passed more and more. It has reached the point at which some merchants, when asked to display a Christmas scene, feel as if Christ is being pushed into Christmas. Only when things such as this occur do we realize how fortunate we are to have programs that will bring to our attention the real meaning of Christmas.

Although many of us do not meaningfully forget the real purpose of Christmas, the fact remains that because we are caught in the whirlpool of excitement, our thoughts are more easily turned toward the material side of Christmas.

Amid the hustle and bustle of the Christmas season and activities of the coming week, the Y.W.C.A. will present its annual Christmas pageant. At this time, the Nativity of Christ will be depicted to impress upon each of us the importance and solemnity of this great feast.

Tonight after dinner, the student body will select a senior to represent the Madonna in the Christmas Pageant. Selected from nominations made by the "Y" Cabinet, the girl chosen will be one who, in the opinion of the students, most typifies the qualities of the Mother of Christ.

"And the angel came unto her and said, 'Hail, thou that are highly favored.' " Luke 1:28. It would be wise to keep this passage in mind while selecting and casting a vote for the Madonna tonight. There are many who possess the most virtuous qualities of womanhood which are to be found in the girl selected as Madonna. Among them are purity, compassion, sincerity, humility, friendliness, unselfish service to others, and the courage to maintain high standards and inspire them in others. Such women are among you. As you choose a Madonna, think about these things.

In this election, as in every held within the school, it is not only the privilege of the students to vote, it is their obligation. Only with the vote of everyone will an election by the students truly be one of the students. Please do your part not only in this election tonight, but in every election of major or minor importance throughout the school.

E. M.

Letters To The Editor:

Congratulations and many thank-you's are in order for the wonderful work that resulted in AKG's 1957 Circus — one of the best ever. Postponement into the Christmas season did not take one single exciting moment from the spontaneous audience appeal of the original skits with their talented performers and catchy songs. It was obvious that everyone who co-operated in this all-student production worked hard to make it the success it certainly was.

This was the first year I have ever been in the audience at Circus and for the benefit of participating students it was some show! As the curtain rose on each spectacular, the scenery, a wonderful display of original, modern, colorful workmanship, transplanted me from an animated city to an Oriental palace, then to an Irish Leprechaun-land, and finally to a South-sea island.

The solos and choruses of each presentation provided another original background with lilting, sad, happy, or calypso tunes, in turn, combined with clear, meaningful verses. Costumes were something else I appreciated, for the time spent on them, and for the vivid, exotic, picturesque, and attractive results.

And of course, the performers themselves were great; I thoroughly enjoyed every talented dance, solo, and action which made me think of all the busy "backstage" students also helping to put on a good show.

After all that praise there is just one thing I noticed — seat wiggling during those long (and I know necessary) pauses between skits. Perhaps in the future the restless audience can be entertained by more clown antics or some other feature at this time.

But everything — from the parade to the Midway — made up one wonderful Circus and again I proudly say thanks for one of the "Greatest Shows at Longwood."

L. D.

It has been brought to our attention recently that many articles are being taken from the dining hall. The handbook states that "Students must not remove any dishes, silver, napkins, or food without the permission of the Dietitian."

These actions are causing a decided shortage of articles in the dining hall, and we would like to ask that if you have been removing them please be considerate enough to return them right away.

C. M.

Socially Speaking . . .

V.M.I. Ring Dance Aids In Gala Holiday Weekend

By ERNESTINE STOLTZ

Here comes the bride!!! Congratulations to Pat Lyons who was married November 27, in Portsmouth to Rodney Araford of the U. S. Marines.

Best wishes go to Barbara Shockley who became engaged to Bob Clawson. Bob attended the University of Pittsburg. Delo Dove is also the proud owner of a beautiful "sparkler" from Wayne Aines.

V.M.I. Results

Many L. C. girls came back from Turkey Day weekend sporting pins. Carol Matthews is pinned to Penn Whitescarver from V.M.I. Betty Ann Harrell received a miniature from Geter Vermillion from V.M.I. and Timmy Darden received one from Marven Myers, also from V.M.I. Congratulations to Betty Spivey who received a Tech miniature from Bev Rose. (Congratulations, also, Spivey, on the wonderful job you did as master-of-ceremonies Saturday night.)

Holiday Festivities

As usual, the V.P.I.-V.M.I. Turkey Day classic was the big feature in Virginia over the holidays. Seen in the bleachers and at V.M.I. Ring Dances or at V.P.I. parties that night were Martha Ann Marks, Anne Keziah, Connie Carlton, Ann Glover, Peggy Harris, Octavia Lofton, Connie Goodman, Minnie Lee Dean, Jackie Waller, Jean Turner, Mary Ann Barnett, Betty Spivey, Jan Chase, Elaine Chaffin, Betty Brown Culpepper, Linda Moore, Hannah White, Beverly Kersey, Meredith Nichols Marjorie Crismon, Nancy Kelly, Jean Dunagan, Connie Michael, Nancy Donaldson, and Carol Matthews.

Judy Welsh, Cally Johnson, Ruth Denton, Betty Roberts, and Mary Lou McNabb traveled down to David: Della Higgins went to William and Mary and Anita Eanes enjoyed herself at the Ferrum Junior Dance.

Army-Navy Game

Rain or shine, mostly rain, you couldn't have kept Cass Connor, Dottie Brown, Sarah Hackworth, Ann Harding, Sandra Harrison, and Nancy Miller away from the Army-Navy game.

The PiKA Ball in Richmond this weekend called out Mary Strickland, Emily Atkinson, Barbara Rossiter, Pat Mitchell, Jill Green, Sarah Oliver, Norma Redmon, and Carolyn DeHaven.

Liz Mosteller, Martha Rucker, and Rosie Price went down to Randolph-Macon to parties this weekend, Gin Kuyk traveled to Washington and Lee, and Ella Carter to the Christmas dance at Lynchburg College.

Letters To Santa

Dear Santa,
It's not a big order I'd like you to fill,
Just one little gift—that's all.
It's not very big, but its purpose is great;
It's not very big, but small.

In your toyshop at the North Pole, I'm told,
That you have an abundance of these
So if you don't mind, and, have one to spare
Put one under my tree, Santa, please.

If you grant my wish, dear St. Nicholas
I'll not complain of work undone
I'll sleep through my eight o'clock classes
I'll sleep, yet make Dean's List—what fun!

For the gift that I want will do all my work
Attend all my classes and study
Wash and iron my clothes, and clean my room,
The Gift? Why, one of your helpers, OLD Buddy!
Drop him in Cunningham 38!
. . . . . Dottie Boswell

Dear Santa,
This year I don't want very much
Just a pleasant smile and a friendly touch.
To know I've a friend who's true in every way
From morn 'til night—each and every day.

To see the sun rise over the hill,
And hear sounds of life that thrill me still.
To see the rainbow in the sky,
To watch the snowdrifts pile up high.
To know that Someone's always near
Who can help me, guide and cheer.
To be happy again that I can celebrate the Birth,
And shout, "Merry Christmas to all,
Peace, Goodwill on Earth."

Mary Ann Foster

My dear Mr. Claus,

Since I am now a Senior capable of mature thinking, who understands the value of a dollar, I have only one small item to request for Christmas. That item is a helicopter. In case you want to know why I want this silly little gift, read the following:

1—I think they are cute.

2—I would have asked for it as a graduation present as they only cost $4000 wholesale, but I thought you would enjoy making this little toy and it will be a great asset to me while here.

3—When life gets rough, it's a good way to get away from it all (providing I sign out).

4—I could "fly the coop" for real.

5—Everybody gets cars, so I want to be different.

6—The roof is an excellent parking place and if it becomes a fad, and no more roof room, there's always the athletic field.

7—There's no rule in the handbook saying, "No student may have helicopters on campus."

Even though there are many other purposes, I think you have the point.

Sincerely yours,
Copper Hopper

Lost Chords

By JOANNE FIVEL

The Christmas season is with us once more, bringing with it all of the fun, presents, and music one could want. Christmas music is very special to each of us. Year after year, people join together all over the world to sing their best loved carols. This Christmas will be no different!

Through the streets of towns and villages, groups of children and adults alike will go, singing the strains of "O Come, All Ye Faithful" and "We Three Kings of Orient Are." In churches, small boys in supplication will sing like angels to the tune of "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

Radio and television will do their part toward the Christmas spirit by presenting such singers as Perry Como, Polly Bergen, and Giselle McKenzie singing the popular favorites. "Rudolph, the Red Nose Reindeer," "White Christmas," and "Frosty, the Snowman," will all add their part ot our Christmas joy.

In many towns throughout the world, choirs and orchestras will present the Christmas portion of George Frederick Handel's "The Messiah." Christmas is not complete without this beautiful music.

Yes, Christmas is truly a season of glorious sound. For some, this beautiful music is here at Longwood. Why don't you plan to be present when the Longwood Choir and the V.M.I. Glee Club present a joint concert on December 15 in Jarman Hall.

Church News

By BARBARA SIMPKINS

Baptist

This week is Freshman Week in the B.S.U. One week each year the freshmen take over the duties of the Executive Council in order to learn more about how their B.S.U. works. The program got underway Sunday with Buddy Day. At 7 p.m., a model convention was held at the church; and the guests speaker for the 8 p.m. worship service was Rev. William Jenkins, the State Student Secretary. At 9 p.m. the Buddy Fellowship was held.

Marie Fisher is in charge of the Student Night program on Dec. 15 at 7 p.m. at the Center. The program is centered on the theme, "We Believe and so We Speak." This is your night, so everybody please come.

Choir practice will be held in the church at 5 p.m. on Thursday.

Friday, December 13, at 7 p.m., Coffee Hour will be held in the Fellowship Room. Mrs. Nelson Hix will be the guest and will tell a Christmas story.

Sunday, December 15, at 11 a.m., the Wesley Foundation will present a concert of Christmas music. At 7 p.m .the same night, a Christmas play will be given entitled "Good Will Toward Women" in the Fellowship Room.

Presbyterian

Seventeen Longwood girls joined in for a night of fun at Longwood House. Their "pajama party" began with a waffle supper which was followed by songs, games, discussions, and refreshments until early the following morning. After breakfast at Longwood House Sunday, Mrs. Francis Simpkins led the Sunday school class in the study of the background of the Jewish religion. The founding fathers, Abraham and Isaac, and their families were discussed and compared with our modern families.

Bible study will be led Wednesday, December 11, at 7 p.m. by Dave Moore, our newly elected leader. We have been discussing the Old Testament leaders found in the book of Judges. All are asked to support our study.

Friday, December 13, at 5 p.m., the Presbyterian girls are sponsoring "coffee hour" in the Y Lounge. Al Smith of Hampden-Sydney will speak on the beliefs of the Southern Presbyterian church. This will be the first of a series of talks on the major beliefs of various churches.

Dr. Lacy, the minister of the Hampden-Sydney College Church, will be our speaker for Westminster Fellowship on Sunday, Dec. 15, at 6:30 p.m. Following his talk the group will go Christmas caroling.

Catholic

The Newman Club, at its meeting on November 21, elected officers for the coming year. Barbara Ensmann, a junior, was elected president. Other officers elected were Liz Fentress, secretary; Evelyn Alouf, treasurer; and Chris Kamen, reporter.

At the last meeting which was held on December 7, plans were made for a Communion Breakfast and a bake sale to be held in January. Instructions in Catholic Philosophy were given by our chaplain, Father Fenton, and will be continued throughout the year.

Capitol Topics

By CAROLYN STONNELL

Another year is nearing its end and the history it leaves behind is not altogether a glorious chapter in the annals of these United States of America. There have been no major disasters nationally or internationally, but pebbles dropped here and there have cracked the surface of our unity and more so our pride. These pebbles have hit nearly every department of our government and have come home in some way to each individual directly or indirectly.

Everywhere there are questions of doubt; "Will the United States surpass Russia in the Missile race?", "Can the tax payers afford a raise in the defense budget?" "How can we stop inflation?" "What is the answer to the race question?" "Will the president be able to finish his term?" and many more equally as serious questions. Every week or, more correctly, every few days it seems something arises to challenge our national security the latest of which has been the failure in launching our sputnik, "Vanguard."

The failure was not so important as the effect it had upon an unprepared public to say nothing of its effect upon the other nations of the world. Had not there been so much publicity previous to the zero hour of launching, the failure of Vanguard would not have been so much a blow to a public whose anxiety for success had not been spurred on by Sputnik. According to some authorities, a failure or even several could be expected in a project as complex as Vanguard. Publicity itself is not to be criticized, but in this case timing was the question.

The Rotunda

ELLA V. CARTER
Editor-in-Chief

Linda Doles ..... Managing Editor
Norma Jenrett ..... Business Manager
Bet McLoughlin ..... News Editor
Judy Eckstrom ..... Feature Editor
Patsy Powell ..... Sports Editor
Virlinda Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Elaine Weddle, Pat Wilmoth ..... Photography
Nan Brimmer, Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Ann Hill ..... Advertising Manager
Grace Bowles ..... Office Manager
Dr. James Wellard ..... Faculty Advisor

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the act of Congress on March 8, 1934.

Three students have recently been named as members of the Athletic Association Council, according to Carol Wolfe, president. Marjorie Anderson will serve as co-archery manager; Jean Fairfax, as wisket manager; and Shirley Alcock, as social chairman.

H-S Rates '57 As Top Team

By DON WHITLEY

The Hampden-Sydney Tigers have just completed one of the most successful seasons in the history of the school, and yet, at the same time, one of the most disappointing. They won eight of the nine games which appeared on their schedule, but the sole loss came at the hands of Sewanee, the last team on the schedule, ruining an otherwise perfect season and killing any hopes the Tigers had of a post-season bowl bid.

Football at this small Presbyterian college has been outstanding during the past few years. Over the past three seasons the Bengals have won 23 out of 27 contests, a feat of which no other team in the Old Dominion can boast. In the past two seasons, since Robert J. Thalman took over the helm as head coach of the Tigers, the Bengals have won 15 of 18 encounters. The have turned out five men who have received Little All American acclaim. Stokeley Fulton, Ronnie Henry, John Hodges, Bill LeHew, and Jim Fraser have all won some position or another on the mythical eleven. The Tigers have completely dominated the All Little Eight teams during the past three years.

" '57's, The Greatest"

But, notwithstanding the great small college stars and the great seasons they turned out, the nod for the greatest eleven in the history of Hampden-Sydney College has to be given to the 1957 Tigers. True, they have their men who stand out above the rest. Bobby Furr, Bill Benson, and Jim Felty were the standouts of this year's team, but they had eight others out there on the gridiron backing them up. These three could play anywhere in the state.

Severin Praises Team

We recently received statements on Furr and Benson from Paul Severin, recently head coach at Randolph-Macon and a real credit to the game of football. He summarized Bobby Furr's abilities in the following simple statement: "I feel Bobby Furr could take any football team, with just ordinary material, and make it a winner. He is a coach on the field and a superior quarterback, if I have ever seen one." About Benson, he had this to say: "Bill Benson is outstanding not only because of his speed, but also because of his love for contact. This combination is seldom found in any one football player and when it is, such as it is with Bill Benson, he is tremendous." He added, "I think Furr and Benson would be an asset to any team."

The truth remains, however, that it was not Furr, Felty, and Benson who accounted for the Bengals' outstanding season. The season's success is attributable to the entire squad. It is fitting that the praise be given to the whole team, because it was the team effort and the fact that the Tigers played as a team that accounts for the record they put together. Benson, Felty, and Furr certainly contributed to the season, it was they who provided the punch when no one else could and provided the constant threat that they might break loose any moment. Praise should also be heaped upon Tackle Gene Cooke and Guard Ed Harlow, the team co-captains, who provided invaluable leadership throughout the season.

SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY
FLASH BULBS
—are—
Worth One Cent Each
When Traded In
ON NEW BULBS

H2O Club To Present 'Christmas Fantasy' Next Week

—Camera Artist

CO-CHAIRMAN JANET LLOYD instructs Kitty Goode and Billie Jo Altizer as they practice for coming water pageant. Sara Gayhart is shown in costume on the side of the pool.

By PATSY POWELL

Reindeer swimming in the pool at Longwood — who says it isn't possible? Yards of netting, gallons of paint, and hours of work have produced exactly this as the H2O Club prepares to raise the curtain on "Christmas Fantasy," the annual Christmas water pageant.

The ten numbers which make up this year's aquatic extravaganza provide scenic visions for two tiny tots. A little boy, portrayed by Peggy Dickerson, and a girl, Suzie Barr, fall asleep on a park bench and have visions of Christmas. The visions parade before the viewers eyes as eight reindeer, wearing brown leotards and red belled harnesses, swim to the tune of "Rudolph the Red Nose Reindeer," and kittens play to the melodies of "Sleighride."

Traditional Songs Used

Ann Jeter, as a prince doll dressed in black, and Mary Ann Barnett, as the white clad princess doll, perform to the strains of Irving Berlin's "White Christmas," before seven diving dolls appear on the scene. Dressed in elaborately sequined red bathing suits, the dolls exhibit their skills to the tune of "Jingle Bells."

Amanda Dillon, costume chairman, has outdone herself in providing yards of aqua net for six ballet dolls. Dancing to the tune of "Skaters' Waltz" the dolls glide about in aqua leotards and net ballet skirts.

Others In Pageant

Next comes bears swimming to "Teddy Bear's Picnic," soldiers parading to "March of the Lead Soldiers," and snow birds performing to strains of "Winter Wonderland." Mary Lou McNabb, Carole Matthews, Nancy Donaldson, and Mary Ann Barnett portray angels to the melody of "Greensleeves." Clad in silver sequined white bathing suits and silver haloed white caps, the angels provide the final vision.

The pageant will be presented at one performance on December 16, at 7 p.m. and at two performances at 7 and 9 p.m. on December 17.

Nancy Brubeck has been chosen as narrator for the spectacular. Janet Lloyd, general chairman, and Nancy Andrews, assistant chairman are being assisted by props chairman Mary Ann Barnett, publicity chairman Ellen Calloway, lights chairman Linda Vess, music chairman Elaine Weddle, and costume chairman Amanda Dillon. The script for "Christmas Fantasy" was written by "Tipi" Waugaman, and the numbers were designed by various members of the H2O Club.

Green And Whites Win Games, Color Rush; Add Points Toward Achieving Coveted Cup

Green and White added ten points towards winning the coveted color cup this year by defeating their red and white rivals in the fall hockey games. The first day of the tournament was a match between sister classes, the seniors defeating the sophomores 2-1 and the juniors winning over the freshmen 3-0.

In the second rounds of the tournament, the freshmen and the seniors battled to a 1-1 tie. The juniors emerged victorious over the sophomores by a score of 5-0.

Frosh Remove Rat Caps

The last and most exciting day of the tournament was played on a very muddy and wet field. But, although the weather conditions were poor, the spirit of green and white versus red and white prevailed to son.

Depth also provided in good measure for the eight and one record. The Bengals had three good centers—Henry Irby, Walter Chapman, and Jim Carper, all of whom saw considerable action. Hampand Jack Harrington.

At tackle, the Tigers had four good men, led by Gene Cooke. Holding down the other side of the line were Jim Boyd and Fred Wells, while Fred Hoback backed up Cooke on the left side. At ends, there was the greatest depth at any one position. Felty is undoubtedly the best small college end in the state. But, the Tigers also had Bill Richmond, Larry Smithe, and Bill Goodwyn.

The backfield depth was the most notable feature of Hampden-Sydney's power-laden eleven. They had three very good backfields led by the first string group of Furr, Benson, Bryant, and Giglio.

They had the best coach around in small college circles in Bob Thalman, a fine gentleman who has never been known to teach anything not completely ethical, and who never uttered a harsh word to his "boys". Probably the greatest acclaim for this season should go to the end. This game proved to be most exciting for the class of '61. The freshmen removed their "rat" caps and heard the sophomores sing, "The rats aren't ours any more" as they defeated the sophomore class 3-0. Because of an injury to senior player Margaret Dowdy, the junior-senior game was called at the end of the first half, the juniors being ahead with a score of 4-0.

Color Races Held

A close and thrilling victory for Green and White resulted after three out of the five scheduled races for Color Rush were won over Red and White rivals. The Green 'n Whites succeeded in winning the races for the Senior, Junior and Student buildings, while the Rotunda and Library competition races were won by the Red 'n Whites.

The results of the races were as follows: Senior building—Freshman Clara Parker and Senior Weston Walker—a green and white victory; Rotunda—Junior Lou Heier and Sophomore Mate Fadely—a red and white victory; Junior building—Junior Willie Taylor and Sophomore Doris Kesling-a green and white victory; Library—Junior Gayle Cunningham and Sophomore Claudia Whipple—a red and white victory; Student building—Junior Nancy Andrews and Senior Margaret Dowdy—a green and white victory.

Carol Wolfe, Nancy Richardson and Annie Weaver served as the judges, while Jackie Waller was the official starter of the races.

Bob Thalman who put the abovementioned players together and made a team out of them.

This 1957 edition of the Hampden-Sydney Tigers lost their final game of the season, and in losing it received just about every bad break a team could muster in one game. But, when they left the field, they left it as they had taken it, as champs; already preparing for next season.

A NEW WORD—

Sput'nik vot. -niked; -niking, 1. To outsmart. 2. To steal a march. To surpass in cunning. — As in: He sputniked me and got a date with June. Syn., see Frustrate.

For A Large Selection
OF GIFT WRAPPING
PAPER AND SEALS
Visit
NEWBERRY'S

CHRISTMAS GIFTS
FOR ALL AGES
Bibles, Revised and King James
Religious Books
Cook Books
History and Biography
Best Sellers
Poetry Collections
Children's Books
Games and Records
Stationery and Cards
Picture Prints
GIFT WRAPPING
F-R-E-E
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP

What Makes Pop Corn Pop?

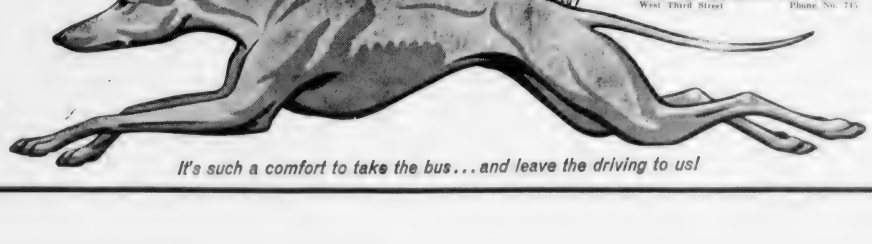
Popping corn contains water. When the water gets hot enough, the kernel explodes. Result: popcorn.

We're not passing this information along as a public service. Actually we're up to the same old game.

You see, popcorn makes most people thirsty. Fortunately, when most people get thirsty they hanker for the good taste of Coca-Cola.

Wouldn't you like some popcorn right now? C'mon now, wouldn't you?

Drink Coca-Cola



SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by

LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

College man's best friend

YOU SAVE TIME AND MONEY WHEN YOU GO BY GREYHOUND

New schedules effective Nov. 15, 1957

To RICHMOND	To LYNCHBURG
Cost $1.20	Cost $1.05
Leaving at	Leaving at
9:35 A.M.	8:35 A.M.
2:50 P.M.	1:50 P.M.
8:10 P.M.	7:10 P.M.
	7:50 P.M.

Prices Incl. Tax

FARMVILLE GREYHOUND BUS TERMINAL
West Third Street Phone No. 745

It's such a comfort to take the bus... and leave the driving to us!

College Choir Shown On TV

On Tuesday, December 10, the Longwood College Choir and the Madrigal Singers of Longwood presented a program of Christmas music on WXEX-TV, Channel 8, Petersburg. The program was the fourth in a series of Longwood College television programs.

The choir, under the direction of Dr. John W. Molnar, opened the program singing "As It Fell Upon a Night," a 16th century English carol arranged by Katherine K. Davis. Other selections by the choir included "Hearken, Every True Believer," and "Glory to God in the Highest." Moonyean Warren was featured as soloist as the choir sang an American folk carol, with words and music by the American composer, John Jacob Niles.

The Madrigal Singers, under the direction of James McCombs, offered as selections "Ave Verum," "Rejoice, Ye Christian Men, Rejoice," and "Lauda Sion Salvatorem."

The program was concluded with the choir singing the Bach cantata. Wood cuts used in the presentation of the program were drawn by Miss Annie Lee Ross of the Art Department.

Commission Plans Christmas Dinner

The newly elected Freshman Commission is now making plans for the Christmas Banquet which will be tomorrow evening.

They are preparing the menus for the tables; and after the banquet, they will be in charge of the Hanging of the Green and the leading of Christmas carols. They have also made plans to have a concession stand at the Christmas dance.

Margaret Shropshire, of Ridgeway, is president and Betsy Joyner, of Emporia, is treasurer.

Other members are: Ann Hardy, Nancianne Fyre, Sandra Watkins, Wirtley Raine, Beverly White, Beverly Kersey, Hannah White, Mike Miller, Doris Webster, Sharron Kelly, and Pat O'Neal.

Jean O'Connell is the freshman counselor.

Senior Dance

(Continued from page 1)

The following have been asked to be chaperones: Mrs. Cover, Miss Burger, Mr. and Mrs. Bittinger, Mr. French, Mr. Noble, Dr. Taplin, Mr. and Mrs. Helms, Dr. and Mrs. Meeker, Dr. and Mrs. Boggs, Dr. and Mrs. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Eastham, Miss Iler, Dr. and Mrs. Brumfield, and Mrs. Eva.

The receiving line will consist of Dr. and Mrs. Lankford, Miss Wilson, Miss Weddle, Nancy Lou Harris, Shirley Alcock, and Shirley Hauptman.

Tickets, which went on sale December 6, are priced at $2.40. They may be obtained outside the dining hall until the afternoon of the dance; that night they will be sold at the door.

There is to be no smoking at all in the gymnasium — either upstairs or on the main floor.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
is the Place To Go
for
CHRISTMAS CARDS
STATIONERY
And Many Lovely Gifts

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING?
Come In To
MARTIN The Jeweler
AND SELECT GIFTS
FOR ALL AGES

—Camera Artist

MANY CLOWN ANTICS, such as the above scene, captivated spectators along Farmville's Main Street during the Circus parade here Saturday. Despite the rain, a large crowd was on hand for the afternoon parade and festivities the same night.

Circus Festivities Mark Gala Occasion; "Mr. Clown" Bows To Freshmen

By DOTSIE WHEELER

"Say, Mister Clown," the 1957 Circus production which was presented last Saturday marking one of the most colorful and gala occasions held during the year at Longwood College, was won by the Freshman Class, the Class of '61.

Sophs Win Float Award

The event began with a parade Saturday afternoon led by clowns and animals of all descriptions. Following in the parade were the floats entered by each class, all of which were tied into the skit themes. The Sophomore's float took first place with their entry which depicted a Chinese Dragon. It was under the co-chairmanship of Addie Richardson and Barbara Bishop.

Circus Moves To Jarman

Circus continued Saturday evening in Jarman Hall with Betty Spivey acting as Master of Ceremonies. The first act of the evening was that of the clowns whose antics and tricks of all kinds kept the audience laughing. Following this, Animal Trainer Carol Matthews presented her wild animal act which consisted of monkeys, bears, zebras, and many other specimens from the jungle.

Circus Court

Ringmaster Spivey next introduced the girls chosen to represent each class in Circus. They were Sue LaFontaine, senior; Donna Boone, junior; Amy McFall, sophomore; and Joyce Pilcher, freshman. Sue LaFontaine was crowned Queen of Circus 1957 and carried a bouquet of red roses. The other three attendants carried bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. All of the representatives were given ringside seats near the stage during the rest of the evening.

The highlight of the program was the presentation of the class skits. The winning skit presented by the Freshman Class told the story of a small girl lost in a big city park where lamposts and trashcans came alive while she slept, and with the help of the fireflies she was taught a lesson of love.

The Sophomore skit depicted the plight of a beautiful Chinese princess who was stolen by a dragon. After many lovely dances and a kiss from the princess, the dragon turned into a handsome prince and everyone lived happily ever after.

The unhappiness of a little girl was the theme of the Junior skit. Small leprechauns took the child to a land where all was gay and was ruled over by a regal king. The story ended as the little girl found the happiness which she had been seeking.

The Senior skit, which won second place, told the story of an island romance. To the beat of Calypso music, the love story of a navy officer and a beautiful island girl was related. Although the ending was sad, both the music and vivid color of the skit made it very entertaining.

Climaxing the evening was the Carnival held in the Main Rec. Each class and several clubs had their own booths where many kinds of food, drinks and souvenirs were sold. One section of the floor was set aside for dancing.

At a quarter of twelve, Circus was brought to an end, but its fun and gaiety will be remembered and relived in conversations all over the campus. "Say, Mister Clown," was beyond a doubt a great success and will live in the hearts of all.

Lankford, Faculty Members Attend Many Education Meetings Recently

The Longwood faculty and administration have done a great deal of traveling during the month of November. On November 23, Dr. and Mrs. Francis G. Lankford attended a luncheon of the Lynchburg Chapter of the Longwood Alumnae. At this luncheon Dr. Lankford spoke on the events and developments of Longwood College in recent years.

On December 2-4, Dr. Lankford and Dr. Boggs attended the annual meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in Richmond. It is this Association by which Longwood is accredited.

On Thursday, December 5, Dr. Lankford attended the December meeting of the State Board of Education on the business for the college. Of special interest is the fact that the Board approved a Bond Issue for the dormitory now under construction. Dr. Lankford also reports that the construction of the new dorm is continuing its rapid progress towards completion in the spring.

December 6, Dr. Lankford participated in the College Day program at Halifax County High School. He spoke on "Planning for College" at which time, he advised high school students concerning preparation for college.

On Friday, December 13, Dr. Lankford will go to Washington, D. C., to attend a meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. At this meeting, Dr. Lankford will help in planning a regional meeting of the organization.

On November 25-26, Dr. Lane and Mr. Noble attended the Southeastern meeting of the Association of American Geographers, which was held in Athens, Georgia at the University of Georgia's new Center for Continuing Education. At the meeting papers were given on the different aspects of geography. Dr. Lane presented a paper entitled Virginia: A Cultural Border. In this paper he analyzed the visible culture in landscape, the distribution of negroes, the type of land use, and the comparison of the rural population and the dense urban population.

On November 28-30, Dr. Simonini traveled to Minneapolis, Minnesota, to the Convention of National Council of Teachers of English. He went as a member of the Council's Board of Directors and as a committee chairman.

On November 9, Mrs. Schlegel, Dr. Wellard, and Dr. Marvin Schlegel attended the Virginia Humanities Conference held at Mary Washington College.

Over the Thanksgiving holidays, Dr. Merle Landrum attended the annual meeting of the Southern Business Education Association in Louisville, Kentucky. He hopes to attend the national meeting, the convention of the National Business Teachers' Association in Detroit, Michigan, over the Christmas holidays.

Mr. Willard G. Leeper, assistant professor of Business Education, will attend the fourth annual Central Banking Seminar at the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, December 11-14. The seminar, which will consist of representatives from 26 colleges, has been designed to give the teachers an inside look at Federal Reserve Bank operations and the opportunity of hearing discussions on the theory and practice of monetary policy by several top men in the field.

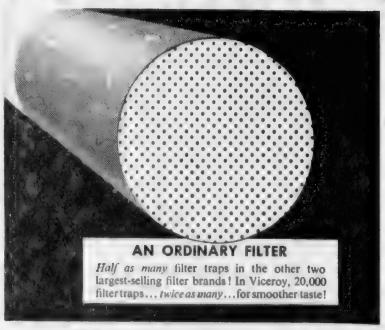
One Act Plays

(Continued from page 1)

tragedy, "Riders to the Sea." This is a story of Irish fisher folk who get their life by the sea which takes their life. It stars Pat Cleveland, Barbara Ensmann, Peggy Lovic, Jack Osterman, and Pat Walton.

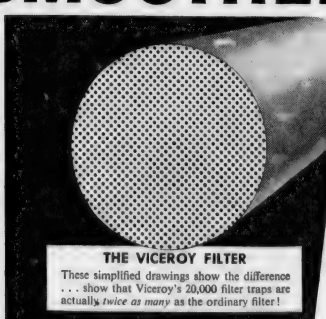
Mary Linda League will be the director of "The Maker of Dreams," written by Oliphant Down. The cast of this fantasy includes Hannah Haile, Pat Leake, and Jack Osterman.

Pat Walton will be directing a play written by one of her Dramatic Arts classmates, Pat Cleveland. This play, "Mister Director General," is the story of a director of a college theater and his problems. Casted in this play are Carol Lash, Lynne McDade, Arline Johnston, and Jerry Ringewald.



An admission fee of thirty-five cents will be charged.

Shakespearean Play Set For TV Audience



Sunday evening, December 15, at 6:30 E.S.T. on "The Hallmark Hall of Fame" Maurice Evans stars in "Twelfth Night," Shakespeare's brightest blend of romance and comedy, which is ninety minutes in full color.

"Twelfth Night" is Shakespeare's hilarious comedy about identical twins and the many humorous incidents that occur from the confusion of identity. The play is sure to be a favorite with the television audience, according to critics.

Only Viceroy gives you
20,000 FILTER TRAPS
FOR THAT SMOOTHER TASTE

AN ORDINARY FILTER
Half as many filter traps in the other two largest-selling filter brands! In Viceroy, 20,000 filter traps... twice as many... for smoother taste!

THE VICEROY FILTER
These simplified drawings show the difference ... show that Viceroy's 20,000 filter traps are actually twice as many as the ordinary filter!

Twice as many filter traps as the other two largest-selling filter brands!

Compare! Only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps—twice as many as the other two largest-selling filter brands—for that smoother taste!

Plus—finest-quality leaf tobacco, Deep-Cured golden brown for extra smoothness!

Get Viceroy! Get 20,000 filter traps, for smoother taste!

NOW AVAILABLE IN NEW CRUSH-PROOF FLIP-OPEN BOX OR FAMOUS FAMILIAR PACK

© 1957, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

Be
A Cheerful Cherub
See Editorials

The Rotunda

See
"Gold of Naples"
Tonight

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., January 15, 1958 | No. 9

Sandridge Leads Religious Program Here Next Month

Rev. James Edward Sandridge, the 1958 Longwood Y.W.C.A. Religious Emphasis Week speaker, is a Baptist minister who is at present serving as the Assistant to the Executive Secretary of the Baptist Board of Missions and Education in Virginia.

Rev. Sandridge has served several pastorates and fields of service since 1941 when he began his active ministry. These include Baptist churches in Kentucky as well as Virginia. He has been associated with the Training Union Department in Richmond and was at one time President of the Training Union Convention of Virginia.

REV. SANDRIDGE

Virginia Native

He was born in Charlottesville, Virginia, and graduated from the University of Virginia where he received a B.A. degree, and from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky, where he received his B.D. degree.

Arrives Feb. 24

Rev. Sandridge will arrive in Farmville on February 24 and stay with us until the 28th, holding personal conferences with those desiring them, conducting evening worship services and giving addresses, and participating in informal discussions.

The "Y" feels very fortunate in having Rev. Sandridge as our REW speaker and is looking forward to a very successful week.

Society Sponsors College Archives

Pi Gamma Mu, National Social Science Honor Society, is sponsoring a project to set up and maintain an archives here at Longwood.

This archives is to be an authentic history of Longwood College in its entirety by means of student and personnel letters, records of day to day activities and alumnae records. The material is to be filed in order that a complete history of the school will be available for reference at any time. A room has been procured to keep the archives files which will be named at a later date.

Herre Chosen Chairman

Committees headed by general chairman Ginnie Herre, have been appointed to take care of the following subdivisions in the project: official school correspondence, student letters, compositions on student activities, contacting townspeople, catalogue of the alumnae files and publicity. Mr. James Helms is advisor for this project.

Students will be contacted for letters or any other information concerning the history of Longwood. These letters may be placed in the archives under the condition that they can be claimed by the owner at any time.

The Longwood chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education is collecting college textbooks to be sent to Korean colleges. Textbooks in any field, published since 1945 are to be sent. Anyone having textbooks and wishing to contribute them may contact Virlinda Joyner, Jerrye Edwards, or Shirley Grizzard.

Mayo To Address Assembly Program

Dr. Bernard Mayo, of the University of Virginia, will be the speaker at the Longwood assembly program of February 4. Author of the books Henry Clay: Spokesman of the Old West and Jefferson Himself, Dr. Mayo has been at the University of Virginia since 1940. Having placed special emphasis on the study of the middle period of American history, the speaker will address the Longwood student body on the subject of Alexander Hamilton.

Dr. Mayo received his AB and AM degrees from George Washington University and his PHD degree from John Hopkins University. He has been a member of the faculty of the National University and Georgetown University.

The assembly program is being sponsored by the Longwood chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society.

Doles, Powell Edit This Week's Issue

This issue of THE ROTUNDA has been published by a temporary staff. Acting as Co-editors-in-Chief were Linda Doles, of Zuni, and Patsy Powell, of Suffolk.

Serving on the staff were Bet McLoughlin of Richmond, Managing Editor; Judy Eckstrom, News Editor; Henrietta Dollins, Feature Editor; and Violet Scott, Sports Editor.

Others holding positions on the staff were Virlinda Joyner, Desk Editor; Melinda Franklin, Art Editor; Ernestine Stoltz, Social Columnist; and Barbara Simpkins, Church News. Elaine Weddle served as Photography Editor for the issue. Cherry Gorham was Assistant to the News Editor, and Chris Kamen was Assistant to the Sports Editor.

Serving as Business Manager was Barbara Hurst, with Ella Gray handling the advertising and Gwen Melton acting as Circulation Manager.

Contest Held By Colonnade

Each year the Colonnade sponsors a literary contest open to the entire student body. Entries on any subject will be accepted this year as there is no general theme. In the three categories, short stories, essays, and poetry, first and second prizes will be awarded of $5.00 and $3.00 respectively.

The rules for the contest are as follows:

1. The contest is open to the entire student body.
2. No entries will be accepted after noon, Feb. 12.
3. Names and school addresses should be placed on a separate sheet. Each entry will be given a number.
4. The judges reserve the right not to award a prize in any category if they find no winning entry. They may also give honorable mentions.
5. The judges' decisions will be final.

Judging the contest this year will be Mrs. Richard Meeker, a past editor of the Colonnade; Dr. Gardner Taplin, a member of the English department, and Mr. James McCombs, a member of the music department.

All entries should be turned in to Dr. Meeker, the advisor; Carolyn Waugaman, the managing editor; or Pat Walton, editor-in-chief. The deadline for all entries is Feb. 12 at noon, with the winning entries published in the March issue.

LC On TV
Panel Discusses Scientific Studies

EUROPEAN EDUCATION was the subject of a panel discussion given by three Longwood professors on channel 8, Petersburg, on Thursday night, January 9, 6-6:30.

Participants were Dr. Jeffers from the science department; Dr. Wellard from the English department; and special guest Dr. Lodewijks, a Dutch Fulbright Exchange Program professor, also from the science department. In regard to the present interest in the news today, they explained how European students are prepared to enter college as science majors.

Students Select Barnett, Nichols To Be 1958 Senior Personalities

—Camera Artist

TYPICAL POSE—Typical seniors bring 1958 Senior Personalities, Mary Ann Barnett and Marodith Nichols, elected last week for this honor.

Virginian To Feature Winners Of Contest

Chosen to represent the senior class as Senior Personalities are Mary Ann Barnett and Marodith Nichols, who were elected in the contest held last week. In this election which is sponsored by the VIRGINIAN, the two girls selected will be featured in the 1958 VIRGINIAN.

Some of the qualities on which selection of these girls was based included personality, friendliness, and wit. In addition to their being active in class functions, those selected were girls whom the students felt most represented the senior class as a whole.

Mary Ann Barnett

Mary Ann Barnett, an elementary major from Chesterfield, has been outstanding in her class since her freshman year. In previous years, she has served as president of the Richmond Club and the H2O Club. This year she is again president of the H2O Club and Secretary of Alpha Sigma Tau. She is a member of the Future Teachers of America, Granddaughters' Club, H2O Club, Cotillion Club, Athletic Association Council, Canterbury Club, Richmond Club, and Alpha Sigma Tau, social sorority.

Marodith Nichols

Marodith Nichols, a biology major from Richmond, has been an outstanding personality in her class since her freshman year when she was president of the class and again her sophomore year. She was a member of Freshman Commission and in her sophomore year was selected freshman counsellor. She is the honorary class sister of the Class of '56. This year, Marodith is a member of the Richmond Club, Canterbury Club, Granddaughters Club and Kappa Delta social sorority.

February Graduates Attain Degrees; Seventeen To Leave As Semester Ends

Seventeen Longwood students, sixteen girls and one boy, will finish their college education in February. These seventeen have met the necessary requirements for graduation from Longwood College, and will receive their degrees June 1, 1958.

Some of the girls will join their husbands while others have incomplete plans until next September when they will begin their teaching careers.

The February graduates are: Elizabeth Josie Cook, Elementary Education; Ella Carter, Elementary Education and English; Annette Crain Allen, Elementary Education; and Mary Leigh Deane Boisseau, English.

In addition to these are Nancy Drudge, English; Linda Garrison, English; Derwood Guthie, History; Ann Hart Hamrick, Music; Anita Heflin, English and French; Norma Jenrett, Elementary Education, and Sarah Frances Jester, Elementary Education.

Sarah Sebular Pevehouse, History; Jane Ruppert, Business Education; Jackie Forman Sawyer, Home Economics; Eleanor Stradley Turner, Social Science; Weston Walker Supton, Elementary Education; and Marjorie Winn, Home Economics have also fulfilled the graduation requirements.

The Baptist Church is in charge of Union Vespers Sunday, Jan. 19. The program will be centered on the skit entitled "Now, the Time for Faith." It should prove a very appropriate program for the beginning of a new year and the approaching examinations. It will begin at 7:00 p.m. and a union fellowship will follow at the church.

LISTEN!

Listen for the Longwood Players' and Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs' radio recording, "Highway Safety Patrol Program," sponsored by the Governor's Highway Safety Committee.

Produced by Mr. Wilson, from Farmville's radio station WFLO, the tape is being broadcast from almost every radio station in the state. This is the second recording the Players and Jongleurs have made in this series.

SHOWN ABOVE is a scene from "Theresa" in "Gold of Naples," which stars Silvana Mongano (above right). The foreign film features other Italian stars such as Vittoria De Sica and Toto.

'Gold Of Naples' Spotlights Italian Star, Sophia Loren

By MARY WELD

"The Gold of Naples," one of the best foreign films to be produced, will be presented at the State Theater on Wednesday, January 15.

The cast includes foremost Italian stars such as Silvana Mangano, Sophia Loren, Vittoria De Sica, and Toto. The film is made up of four droll and dramatic tales bursting with humour, vitality, and love of life.

"The Racketeer"

The first story, "The Racketeer", introduces Toto, the famous Italian comedian, who makes his living as a town crier and street clown. However, the core of the story is his private life. He and his family take orders from a tyrannical sponsor who is brute with them. Defenseless Toto works up a scheme to revenge the sponsor and thus finds victory and freedom.

"Pizza On Credit"

The second story, "Pizza On Credit", stars Sophia Loren as the wife of a proprietor of a bakery. Her husband is upset when he discovers that the emerald ring he gave his wife as a wedding present is missing. She claims it must have fallen in some pizza dough, for she couldn't admit that she left it at her lover's. The search for the ring makes up a colorful and entertaining picture of typically Neopolitan characters.

"The Gambler"

The next story, "The Gambler" presents an eccentric aristocrat, Vittorio De Sica, who loses his entire fortune by gambling it away. As a result, in desperation he is forced to play cards with his porter's son. But even the boy, who is a skillful card palyer, manages to beat him.

"Theresa"

The last story concerns "Theresa", Silvana Mangano, an attractive woman of the streets, who marries a rich Neopolitan gentleman. On the night of the wedding, she discovers that he married her only to clear his conscience from the weight of a guilt he has felt ever since a young girl committed suicide because of him.

Editor's Trash Can

Editor Reminisces Journalistic Past

By ELLA CARTER

With this issue of The Rotunda I write my final "30" which brings me to the end of my journalistic experiences here at Longwood. Since I am a mid-term graduate, I am leaving my office one month prior to the time the new editor would ordinarily be elected.

What can I say now as I clear a four year accumulation from the editor's desk and leave all the familiar work? I cannot attempt it all. I'd just like to have one mass of orchids to pass out to those of you who have helped me so much. Since they'll have to be imaginary in nature, I can at least take them from a place which is far from imaginary — my well worn path to the Herald office. Not only orchids grew there; a few thorns along the way gave variety to the growing season.

Before passing out orchids to you who have so well earned them, I would first like to say that this position has brought me many happy times and leaves memorable experiences — many I will always cherish. Although the job sometimes seemed unbearable, all the work and difficulties I have had as editor do not overshadow the thrill which came when the presses finally rolled on Wednesday afternoons at four. The feeling which comes after publishing a paper surpasses everything. One needs not look for trivial reward elsewhere.

Secondly, I wish to say before I leave that I believe a student newspaper can be one of the college's most valuable assets. I wouldn't have taken the job if I had any other opinion. But it takes the belief and work of more than one editor or a few people in order to make it such as asset. I was not remorseful that my staff was not composed of budding journalists. My purpose was not to bring home a VIPA award nor was it to serve as a collection box for publicity releases. This was the main difficulty I had—trying to help others to see that the newspaper is a means of strengthening a college by voicing student opinion, unifying them, or even "waking them up." A shallow existence pervades over many campuses. Many students have no higher objectives than obtaining a fraternity pin, escaping from the campus as many week ends in succession as possible, and receiving the most letters each bright morning. We are fortunately endowed with an intelligence superior to all other living organisms. Let us utilize our possibilities, especially our often overlooked possibilities with a newspaper. You can do this. And I believe you can do it better when all student leaders feel the need of a newspaper.

Now for the orchids. Since I held the astral position as Editor-in-Chief, I have received most of the praise and all of the criticism. With much pleasure I now express my thanks to you.

First, to my staff — editors, reporters, columnists, and each and every one of you. Although I had to chase you all over campus, be the first person to greet you when you returned from the week end trip minus your story, or had to rewrite headlines and copy — I could have never done the job without your help in every possible way and at every conceivable hour. To your, Doles, whom I almost made punch in on a time clock; and Patsy, who gave us the sports page and whose resignation I wouldn't accept to the very end; and you, Bet, who did the job of Jack Webb in tracing down those lost stories on the news list, I present my prize orchids with touches of printers' ink and devils.

It has been most interesting working with Warren Nelson on news photography. Elaine Weddle and Pat Wilmoth — I appreciate the hours you have spent making our pictures tell the story.

To you on the capable business and circulation staff headed by Norma Jenrett, for giving me 150 inches of ads when I had enough copy for two papers and 50 inches of ads when I had only six stories — may we profit. I regret all the hours I kept your staff waiting, Gwen; and Jean, you were invaluable to me, as were the girls on your staff who folded papers on Wednesday nights. Ann Hill, my thanks to you and the Advertising staff.

I would like to extend my appreciation to Mr. Wall of the Farmville Herald and those whom I worked with there in the print shop, to the linotype operators for resetting errors we should have corrected on the galleys; to Mr. Davis and Pee Wee Overton for letting me carry out my scrupulous make-up plans. It was a pleasure to work with you.

I wish to thank Dr. Lankford for his time and advice, and all the teachers and fellow students who have helped — even the Colonnade, for lending (?) a few reviewers, the Virginian, for a few pictures from your files.

Then to my advisor, Dr. James Wellard, I recall you took a look at my first make-up job and said, "Looks like you'll be up late tonight, Ella." I was — until four the next morning. You have been invaluable to me for my journalistic training and also for helping me realize the meaning and worth of self-satisfaction.

Finally, to my four year roommate, Ellen Webb, for giving up our room this year to all my newspaper "junk," for being my chief critic, for spotting the first errors, for running me out of the room when I was typing away at 2 a. m., for paying the bill for these orchids — to you it is all dedicated.

And now as I make my last "30", I wish the next staff and editor a most successful year. Just remember, I'll be right there checking on you when the VIPA meets this year.

Enjoyable Christmas Holiday Brings Engaging News Plus Vows

By ERNESTINE STOLTZ

It's good to see all you ladies again. I trust everyone had an enjoyable holiday, and that ole' St. Nick was good to you. I wondered why so many of the girls were wearing sun glasses, and finally was told so many got diamonds that the rest had to wear something for protection to the eyes.

Sparklers

Let's take a quick run down the list, and extend our Congratulations to the lucky ones. Joan Pecht has received a "sparkler" from her one and only, Ronnie Walker. Sue Price has captured her Techman, Mike Jackson. Nancy Elliott has received a ring from Bill Hart who is stationed at Fort Lee. Lindy Lonsdown is engaged to Gene Cox, Sandra Speight to Carroll Mince, Gladys George to John Wells. Louise Jordan is wearing a ring from John Harrup, and Phyllis Bridgeforth is engaged to Lamar Barnwell.

Jane Proffitt is sporting a diamond from Ben Ayers. Ben is employed at Philip Levy Co. in Richmond. Mary Douglas Stokes has captured her H-S man, Skip Warren. Mary Lou Morgan has a "sparkler" from Byron Blair. Byron is working for the American Telegraph-Telephone Co. of N. Y. Shirley Saunders turned in her Theta Chi pin for a diamond. She is engaged to John Harwood. Frances Patton plans to be Mrs. Curtis Davis some time in the near future. Carol King is engaged to Bruce Robertson, a graduate of Hampden-Sydney.

Janet Lloyd came back with a diamond from Wayne Adams, a graduate of William and Mary.

Emily Atkinson has a beauty from Billy Williams. Nancy Baker is engaged to Larry Cooper who is enrolled in the Apprentice School. Rosalie Gear has won the heart of Steve Pool who is attending Lynchburg College. Shirley McNeal is engaged to Everett Green, Madaline Bailey to Bernard Warren, and Virginia Londeree to Bob Fulcher. Gail Hitchens is engaged to Lee Rayfield from Warwick. There are some more engagements, especially some girls in Sophomore, but if they'll be patient we'll get them in the next issue.

Wedding Bells

We had Wedding Bells to ring for three of our number during Christmas. Weston Walker came back Mrs. Robert Gupton, Annette Crain is now Mrs. Robert Allen, and Joyce Sedivy married Mason Hutchinson.

Pinned

Dottie Cothern is wearing a K.A. pin next to her heart. It belongs to one Bill Harrison from the University of Arkansas. Liza Buckhannon is pinned to Jack Sullivan from VMI. Sandra Snyder is pinned to Johnny Meadows from Hampden-Sydney, and Shirlee Campbell is pinned to Dick Little from Davidson.

H-S Parties

The KA's and KS's opened the new year with a party last weekend. Seen at the KA house were Anne Rountree, Peggy Harris, Carole Manley, Lucy Wilson, Bobbie Bolster, Dotsie Wheeler, Harriet Butterworth, Ann Coleman, Jean Heller, Kitty Good, Page Davis, Elaine Brown, Yvonne Webb, Ann Scott, Barbara Stephenson, Audry Brown, Frances Harvey, Mary K. Browning, Barbara English, Billy Jean Shores, Jean Dunagan, Barbara Wilson, and Aggie Lowery.

At the Kappa Sig house were Kay Reville, Janet Stanley, Jackie Gibson, Joanne Kleineckle, Carolyn Bassford, Becky Woolridge, Sheila Galloway, Page Landers, Dottie Gills, Scottie Hart, Kay Howard, Barbara Rossiter, Gale Yates, Sandra Snyder, Betty Chappell, Chris Kamen, Hannah White, Judy Welch, Peggy Mullens, Ginny Burns, Onita Norris, Pat Lowery, Marie Fisher, Ann Barnes, Jill Green, and Pat Mitchell.

Drama Class Given Praise

By NANCY BRUBECK

Monday night, January 13, a small but responsive audience was again entertained by three one act plays sponsored by Alpha Psi Omega. These plays were directed by members of the directing class.

The curtain opened first on an Irish drama, "Riders to the Sea," by J. M. Synge. Hannah Haile directed this play whose cast was amply filled by some newcomers to the Longwood theatre. Peggy Lovic, Bonnie Keys, and Barbara Ensman made their debuts with Pat Walton, Charles Bailey, Garnet Smith and John Lynn filling out the ranks.

Next was presented "Maker of Dreams" by Oliphant Down. This delightful play was directed by Mary Linda League. Hannah Haile and Pat Walton, though not new to Jarman Hall, showed their abilities as actresses in "Maker of Dreams." Charter Wells was also cast in this drama.

Newcomers Appear

The last one act play was "Flight of the Herons" by Marrietta Kennard. This play, under the direction of Vicki Brinkley, proved to be a fine conclusion to the night. Again, there were people who haven't appeared on our stage often. Traci Faison has not been seen in a role such as she portrayed, and Chris Kamen is a newcomer. Garnett Smith proved versatile as two characters and John Lynn completed the cast.

Special mention should be given to the "unsung heroes" who are found backstage. Ann Wallace and Jerrye Edwards were the sound technicians and Lynn McDade was light technician. Others backstage were Cecil Kidd, Mary Beth Baldwin, Clare Floege, Carol Lassiter, Kay Kellam, Jean Marie Heller, Matilda Powell, Jean Suthard, and Ann Wheeler.

House Council Rule Changes

I would like to bring to the attention of the student body the House Council rule changes which have been made under the section in the handbook, page 47, rule number 4, and page 48, rule number 3. Phone booths will no longer be locked in any dormitory. In freshman and sophomore dorms no calls are to be placed or accepted after 11 p. m. Sunday through Friday and not later than midnight on Saturday. In junior and senior dorms no calls are to be placed or accepted after 11:30 Sunday through Friday and not later than midnight on Saturday. Abusing this privilege will only result in continued locking of the booths.

After 6 p.m. the doors in all dormitories are locked except the main entrances in each building. In Ruffner Hall all side doors are to be kept locked throughout the night. Proping these doors open is not only a violation of rule number 7, page 45, but is dangerous, as it only makes our doorways public entrances for anyone who wishes to enter. Anyone found guilty of opening the side doors after 6 p. m. will be dealt with severely.

As exams are approaching, I would like to remind you of the necessary quiet that is to be expected in all dormitories throughout each exam day. Anyone receiving a call down during exam week will automatically go on campus for one week. Freshmen may have lights on until 12 midnight beginning Sunday, January 19 through Wednesday, January 2. Unlimited lights begin for all students Thursday, January 23 through Wednesday, January 30.

Good quietness and luck throughout exams!

Sue Taylor, House Council President

Cherubs Cure Exam Fever

Amid the hustle and bustle of examination period it is a pleasure to find some activity that relieves the strain and tension of studying. As has been customary in the past few years, the Baptist Student Union will again sponsor Cheerful Cherub Week, January 20-25. It is easy to shrug your shoulders during such a busy time of the year and leave such an activity for the participation of others. Yet Cheerful Cherub has been designed for the entire student body, and the raward for doing a good deed is still a worthwhile compensation.

Soon you will be given the opportunity to "sign-up". Make a resolution then to be first a good Cheerful Cherub and second a cheerful companion, friend or roommate. To those of you who are not familiar with this game, here is what happens when you "sign-up". You will be given the name of a student of your class and for five days you secretly do a good deed for this person. On the fifth day tell her your name. In the meantime someone will have been assigned to be your Cheerful Cherub.

If this activity is to be successful on our campus, every student must participate. We all need a few minutes of rest and relaxation before exams so include being a Cheerful Cherub in your daily schedule.

P.E.P.

Exams—Personal Test Too

January — exams; the beginning of 1958 — the climax of fall semester. This time of the year means a great deal to all of us and because of its importance there are many things we should remember. Have you ever thought about one of the real tests of examinations? It's the personal test concerning YOU.

Piles of last minute parallel, term papers, cramming, and finally exams themselves add up to quite a hectic rush. It is one time when your nerves as well as your brains are "up for passing." You should be aware that your personality, your consideration, dependability, patience, determination, are in for a trying time and you should have faith in yourself to keep a stable, sensible, and above all, honorable, character.

You should remember to: be considerate of others and help yourself by getting enough sleep and proper food; be depended upon to do the work you can do as well as possible; be patient and determined to study and really learn something. Instead of wasting time worrying, you can evaluate the semester's studies for your weak points and then, get busy!

And even though you haven't pulled straight A's, when Thursday, January 30, finally gets here, there will be a certain reviving feeling in knowing that you have done your best in everything. That's when you'll rate one A, on YOUR test.

LD

The Rotunda

ELLA V. CARTER
Editor-in-Chief

Linda Doles ..... Managing Editor
Norma Jenrett ..... Business Manager
Bet McLoughlin ..... News Editor
Judy Eckstrom ..... Feature Editor
Patsy Powell ..... Sports Editor
Virlinda Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Elaine Weddle, Pat Wilmoth ..... Photography
Nan Brimmer, Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Ann Hill ..... Advertising Manager
Grace Bowles ..... Office Manager
Dr. James Wellard ..... Faculty Advisor

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the act of Congress on March 3, 1934.

From The Basketball Bleachers

By ANNE KEZIAH

Well, here we are back with you from our position in the bleachers, and I must say it still seems a bit funny to be watching these fast-moving basketball games—but I guess we'll get used to it. With all the celebrating of the big holiday over, most all of the Virginia teams have returned to action. There were many games this past weekend, so let's see how they turned out!

Friday Games

First of all, in the Friday night games (which I doubt if many of us had the pleasure of seeing—with Saturday classes and all), Lincoln Memorial ran over Emory and Henry, 84-64, in a battle that produced 54 fouls—can you imagine? Randolph-Macon trounced Towson, 86-61, while Lynchburg banged in 15 points in the last three minutes of an overtime to whip Baltimore University, 86-79. A look closer home shows that winless Bridgewater gave Hampden - Sydney's Little Eight leaders a headache with ball control tactics, but the Eagles finally yielded and the Tigers came out on top, 52-49, in one of the state features.

Tech Triumphs

Saturday night (some of us may have seen some of these games) shows that Virginia Tech triumphed over V.M.I., 86-63, in a Southern Conference game. It seems as if freshman Earl Gilbers (of Tech) really stole the show as he fired home 33 points. William and Mary broke open a tight battle via the foul line during the second half to pull a 72-66 upset over the University of Richmond.

Hampden-Sydney didn't do too well this time, as Washington and Lee's struggling Generals came came from behind with 16 straight points in the last nine minutes of the game to defeat the Tigers, 61-53. This was the fourth win for the Generals and at present, the Tigers stand 8-2 for the season—both losses being to Big Six clubs. Roanoke College stormed back from a three-point half time deficit to defeat Baltimore, 78-63, and the V.P.I. Frosh rocked the V.M.I. freshmen by a score of 85-43.

New Books In Our Library

By JOYCE SEDIVY HUTCHINSON

Longwood College this year for the first time has a resident bookworm (That's me). While trying to find my way around the Library a few days ago, I came upon a floor that was really quiet. The resident spider told me, in hushed tones, that this was the history section. So I cautiously inched my way up a shelf or two and found a few books that I'd like to recommend to all freshman and sophomore "bookworms." Here they are:

1. A Different Valor, by G. E. Govan and J. W. Livingood, is a biography of General Joseph E. Johnston, who was second in command and brilliance only to Robert E. Lee. Govan and Livingood present superbly the life of a patriot who in spite of personal enmity between Jefferson Davis and himself retained his position and carried out his duties so well that even his opponents respected his "different valor." B. P. Thomas in the "Chicago Sunday Tribune" says that the authors' treatment is "judicious and balanced, and Johnston emerges from their scrutiny as a general of unquestioned competence."

2. Great Historic Places is a beautifully bound pictorial history of America. The book, containing over 700 illustrations, puts you "on the scene, tells the story of our national past, and guides you to the most rewarding places to visit in all 48 states." In addition to the illustrations, the book has a running narrative which tells of famous, quaint, or hitherto unknown points of interest to visit in 8 geographic regions of the United States. This "American Heritage" book is a publication to be used and cherished.

3. Ham Chamberlayne—Virginian presents the picture of a man who loved his native State dearly. To quote from the introduction of the book: "Ham Chamberlayne loved Virginia with an intensity and wholeheartedness that amounted to adoration." This devotion is dramatically presented in his private correspondence during the War years of 1861-1865. Edited by his son, C. G. Chamberlayne, this book has been called one of the most fascinating and forceful books ever printed on this period in American history.

4. The Colonial Seafch for a Southern Eden, by Louis B. Wright, is a pamphlet composed of three lectures delivered in 1951 at Alabama College. The author says: "They represent an interpretation of the persistent dream which influenced England to seek to establish prosperous colonies in the Southern region of the Atlantic Seaboard." Mr. Wright treats his subject with a great knowledge and sly humour, as may be found in the opening paragraph of the treatise when he says that researchers in the past decade have found that: "Many an American couldn't say whether Old Hickory was a brand of liquor or a variety of smoked ham. A considerable number thought Christopher Columbus was an orchestra leader and Zachary Taylor a movie actor. The majority of people questioned were positive that Daniel Webster wrote the dictionary."

If you need some extra parallel reading, your Longwood bookworm heartily suggests that you "digest" a few of these books.

Library Browsers Find College Art

An art exhibit composed of 30 pictures done by students of five Virginia colleges is on display in the Browsing Room and first floor of the Longwood Library from now until January 19. Assembled by the art department of the Virginia Education Association, it is part of the traveling display of the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts.

Five Mediums Used

Five mediums are used in the collection: etching, lithograph, tempera, woodblock, and oil on paper, panel and canvas. Both modern and realistic paintings are included to give variety.

Richmond Professional Institute, with 12 selections, has the largest number in the group. Other schools contributing are Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Madison, Mary Washington, and William and Mary, Norfolk Extension.

Last fall this same collection was exhibited in connection with the art section meeting of the VEA at the Old Dominion Room at Miller and Rhoads in Richmond. All colleges in Virginia were asked to participate in the exhibit.

Longwood Prepares Display

The Longwood College art department is preparing a display composed of first semester work by students. This may be seen in the department during exam week.

Seventeen Chosen To Wear Longwood Colors

—Camera Artist

TYPICAL SCORE? Basketball managers express high hopes as they are shown above (left to right) Josie Curry, Peg Blackwell, Evelyn Skalsky, and Gail Cunningham.

Basketball Manager Reveals Varied Athletic Background

By CHRIS KAMEN

The third edition in our series of articles introducing the new managers of the various sports teams presents junior Gayle Cunningham of Falls Church, Longwood's basketball manager of this year.

"I was very surprised, yet happy, when I learned that I had been chosen this year's basketball manager", stated Gayle as she expressed her reactions to the newly acquired title.

Her opinion of basketball as a game is that "Basketball is a great sport and an excellent way to meet people and make new friends." She started playing basketball in her Sophomore year of high school and has continued to do so up to the present day. She served as captain of the varsity team in her junior year of high school. She also added that she really does not have much time to practice except during the regular scheduled practices.

"I have always been interested in sports and like working with other people," was Gayle's comment as to why she chose physical education as her major.

During the past two summers, Gayle was an Assistant Director at a playground in Falls Church while working for the Falls Church Recreation Program.

Besides being on the varsity basketball squad since her freshman year, Gayle has also been a member of the varsity hockey team for two years, the college archery team for one year and class archery team for two years. She has also participated in class volleyball games and has played on Longwood's softball team.

Gayle is a member of Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority.

Curry And Skalsky

Sophomore Josie Curry and Junior Evelyn Skalsky will serve as this year's basketball managers of class teams. Their jobs are to arrange practices for anyone wishing to play on the class teams and to schedule the class games at the end of the basketball season.

They will also be in charge of getting officials for the class games, looking after the equipment and keeping a record of the number of times each person has practiced who is going out for his class team.

Teacher Examination Set For Next Month

National Teacher Examinations are required of teachers and prospective teachers by several states. The nationwide administration of this examination at testing centers is supervised by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey. It is administered in February.

Students interested in taking the National Teacher Examination, and other national examinations, should obtain the application blanks and informational bulletins from Mr. Richard B. Brooks at least two weeks in advance of the date scheduled for the administration of the examination.

Schedule Posted For Class Practice

The managers of class volleyball and basketball have announced the practice schedule for those who are interested in obtaining sufficient practices for participation in class games.

Volleyball practices will be held at 3 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday and at 5 p.m. on Monday. Basketball practices will be held at 4 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday.

Those who are enrolled in a basketball or volleyball class must have four practices in order to be eligible to participate. All others must have eight practices in each sport.

The winning colors will add ten points for each sport to the color cup.

A basketball team composed of members of the freshman class will be organized this year. The team's schedule will include games with freshman teams from other college and local high school teams.

Peg Blackwell will serve as manager of the team and practices are held on Tuesday and Wednesday at 5 o'clock.

H2O Club To Hold First Water Clinic

On March 28 and 29 Longwood's first aquatic clinic takes the place of the H2O Club's annual spring water pageant. Dr. Betty Spears, a professor at Brooklyn College and well-known synchronized swimming authority, will be the guest speaker. Demonstrations, criticisms, and variations of stunts will highlight the clinic.

Students from 23 Virginia colleges and universities, the University of North Carolina and the University of Maryland have been invited to participate. The Longwood Chairman, Nancy Andrews, and her assistant, Nancy Donaldson, are busy with preparations for the event. Longwood students are invited to attend the clinic.

Methodist Students Travel To Convention

Six Longwood girls traveled to the University of Kansas during the Christmas vacation to attend the 6th Quadrennial National Methodist Student Movement Conference. These girls are; Virlinda Joyner, Merle Ridinger, JoAnn Baldwin, LeNoia Johnson, Shirley Shepherd, and Margaret Shropshire.

The unfolding of the theme, Our Lord, Our Life, Our Church was witnessed by 3,500 students from all over the world. Many outstanding church and secular leaders stimulated the students to think about their life and the stand they should take on political and economic problems.

"The Invisible Fire", an oratorio on the lives of Charles and John Wesley, had its world premier at the climaxing conference program. On New Year's Eve, a watchnight service and Holy Communion were celebrated.

The students had a chance to take part in many Bible study groups, and discussion groups on such topics as religion and science, family life and love, integration, and pacificism.

Roanoke To Contest '58 Basketball Squad

By VIOLET SCOTT

Seventeen girls will wear the traditional blue and white colors of Longwood College this year when the new basketball team meets its first foe of the season.

Basketball tryouts for the 1958 season began soon after the Thanksgiving holidays with approximately fifty girls coming out for the team. After three practices and careful consideration, the new team was announced.

Team Chosen

With a team composed of thirteen players from last year's speedy team, a sophomore transfer, and three freshmen, victory should be the cry of the season. Seeing action for the fourth season are Margaret Dowdy and Nancy Richardson. Delo Dove, Lou Heter, Jackie Waller, Willie Taylor, Violet Scott, Evelyn Skalsky, Gayle Cunningham, Nancy Andrews, and Joyce Tharrington will be playing for the third year. Claudia Whipple, Mat Fadley, and Joan Creel are the sophomore members of the team and the freshmen players include Betty Byer, Ruth Tolley, and Carolyn Thorpe.

Schedule Announced

The schedule for the 1958 season includes five games, the first being played with Roanoke College at Longwood on February 7. The remainder of the schedule is as follows:

February 14	Madison	There
February 21	R.P.I.	Here
February 28	William & Mary	There
March 8	Westhampton	Here

Support Urged

The Athletic Association urges students to come out and support our blue and white team. The players need your support and most of all your winning spirit. With the students in the bleachers and the Longwood team on the court, victory is sure to come.

Little Man On Campus

FREE FREE
BE A MAGICIAN
Write
Dr. Marcus Bloch, L-Hy.
President
Eastern Magical Society
240 Rivington Street
New York 2, N. Y.

WALKER'S RESTAURANT
Club Breakfast - Lunch
Course Dinners
FOUNTAIN SERVICE
Phone 3280
U. S. 360 and 460
Burkeville, Va.

Boxwood Tourist Court
and Restaurant
3 Miles South of
Farmville on Rt. 15
Phone 3027-5

IN PERSON!

THE YOUNG MAN WITH THE HORN
Ray ANTHONY
AND HIS ORCHESTRA
Coming to the Mosque in Richmond February 7. Proceeds from the concert will go to the Boys' Club of Richmond. Tickets are on sale at Miller and Rhoads and Thalhimers or at WRNL, 111 N. 4th St., Richmond. Prices: $2.65, orchestra; $2.10 mezzanine; and $1.60, balcony.

Lankford Addresses Math Teachers; Dean To Attend Principals' Meeting

Dr. Francis G. Lankford, president of Longwood College, was a guest speaker at the Mathematics Education Conference at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Saturday, January 11. In addition to his address, "Helping Pupils Discover Mathematical Concepts", Dr. Lankford discussed "Developing Independence in Arithmetic" as a part of the discussion group for eighth grade mathematics teachers.

Committee Meetings

Having been recently elected Vice Chairman of the Virginia Education Facilities Committee, Dr. Lankford heads a sub-committee which will meet January 17. He will also be in Richmond on January 21, for a meeting of the Certification Review Committee of which he is a member.

Dr. Earl R. Boggs, Dean of the College, is to attend a meeting in the Board room of the State Office Building at Richmond, Virginia, on January 15. This meeting which was called by the Director of Teacher Education, is for the purpose of bringing together scholarship officers from all state colleges. They will study and plan for the teachers in the 1959-1960 school session.

Dean Boggs will also attend a meeting of the high school district "D" principals at Bluestone High School in Mecklenberg County on January 16.

Senior Winifred Biddlecomb has been elected vice-president of the Longwood chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education. She succeeds Anita Heflin who graduates at the end of this semester.

Church News

By BARBARA SIMPKINS

Baptist

Dr. Otis McClung spoke at Training Union on the topic "The Devil and the New Testament."

The Y.W.A.'s had their meeting at the Center Monday night. Mary Ann Mattox spoke and showed her slides on her summer work.

Lillian Rosson and Margie Layman have been chosen to represent the Longwood B.S.U. as nominees for summer missionary work.

Episcopal

Dr. Glover gave an interesting talk to the Canterbury Club on Sunday, January 12 in the Parish House, after the Vesper service. Afterwards, there was a discussion, and refreshments were served.

Next week, there will be Vespers and Open House. Tentative plans are being made for a supper. Everyone is invited to come.

Methodist

The Wesley Foundation is proud to announce that there will be two Methodist delegations to the Model United Nations to be held at V.P.I. in February. Our delegates will represent Holland and India.

No other scheduled meetings will be held until after exams.

Presbyterian

Union Theological Seminary's Evangelistic team visited Farmville on January 11 and 12. The team consisting of four second-year men, Whitty Whitlock, Louis Fowler, Tom Murphy, and Tom Miller, presented a series of services on Christian Discipleship. The calendar for the weekend was as follows: Saturday night, recreational party; Sunday morning, Sunday School and church led by the team; Sunday evening, discussion groups in the Y Lounge, the evening church service, supper at the church, and a dedication service followed by fellowship at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Arehart. The success of this, one of Westminster Fellowship's favorite programs of the year, was shown by the large attendance for all the activities.

Friday, January 10, at 7:00 p.m. the Wes Fel executive council met with Mrs. Oscar McIntosh for their regular monthly meeting. The programs for the meetings during February and March were planned at this time.

Bible study will be discontinued until February because of the examination period.

Westminster Fellowship will be held at the church next Sunday night, January 19, at 7:00 p.m. At this time the seven members of our group who attended the Ecumenical Conference in Lexington, Kentucky, on December 27-31 will lead a panel discussion on "The Nature and Mission of the Church," the theme of the conference.

Rules For Contest Stated By Dames

For more than fifty years the Society of Colonial Dames of America in the Commonwealth of Virginia has tried to stimulate interest in the great men who made American history during the perilous Colonial times. It offers again a prize of $200 to the undergraduate students of the standard colleges of Virginia for the best essay on any person or topic pertaining to the Colonial Period. A well-annotated account is desired.

The rules are as follows:

(1) The essay should be between 2500 and 4000 words.

(2) Use regulation size paper (8½" x 11") with writing on one side only. The manuscript must be typed and FASTENED IN A FOLDER.

(3) Give all quotations and references in footnotes.

(4) Bibliography must be given.

(5) Name of contestant must NOT appear on essay. PLACE WRITER'S NAME IN A SEALED ENVELOPE. If he wishes paper returned, enclose sufficient postage with correct home address.

(6) The winning paper becomes the property of the Colonial Dames.

(7) style, originality of thought, accuracy of data and of references, neatness, punctuation and spelling will be considered in making the award.

(8) Essays may be submitted between April 15, 1958, and June 15, 1958. Mail essay to:

Miss Lucy N. Balmferro
Monroe Terrace
Richmond 20, Virginia.

(ACP) From the Michigan Tech Lode:

"What would you do if I kissed you?"

"I'll yell."

Silence. A kiss. Silence.

"Well?"

"I'm still hoarse from last night."

Literary Types

(ACP) — Three "library types" were defined and deplored in a recent Daily Californian editorial.

There is the chatterbox — who must discuss the latest campus political issue or dating technique of a certain fraternity man a soon as she gets settled in the reading room.

There are lovers (always occurring in the plural) whose actions almost force everyone else to stop and speculate on what will happen next.

And there is the groaner — who moans and sighs with every line he reads.

"Maybe we all are, on occasion, a little guilty of being one or all three," says the writer. "But it is time these types recognize themselves for what they are and act accordingly.

"Those suffering from 'midtermitis' would appreciate it."

SONG OF SAL

did you ever wonder where they get those names, like
Rip Torn Tempest Storm
Gale Storm?
epilogue
i never did.

Prepare For Exams!
with
Barnes and Noble
COLLEGE OUTLINES
(All Subjects)
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
200 High Street
Phone 441-J

New Catalog Ready Now

The 1958 summer session catalogs will be available this week to Longwood students, superintendents, principals and teachers. The catalog will explain the complete program of the summer session for regular Longwood students who wish to accelerate their courses through summer school attendance.

Visiting Professors

There will be five visiting professors in the summer session program. They are: Miss Julia Mahood, Art supervisor in the Lynchburg public schools, who will teach in the Art Department; Mr. Harold K. Magnusson, member of the faculty of the elementary school in Farmville, who will teach in the Geography Department, and Miss Mary M. Barksdale, Librarian in the Randolph-Henry High School. Miss Lillian Minkel, member of Farmville High School faculty, will teach Mathematics. There is one additional staff member to be elected as yet, who will teach in the field of reading.

Teachers in the field who wish to renew or revise their teaching certificates, or work toward a degree, may refer to the following schedule of resident Saturday and advanced undergraduate classes to be offered next semester:

Psychology 523: Mental Health, Swertfeger; Education 652: Foundations of Education, which will be taught by Dr. J. P. Wynne; English 512: The English Language, which will be taught by Dr. R. C. Simonini; and History 537: The Old South, which will be taught by Dr. Francis Simpkins.

Registration Fees

These classes are offered for the benefit of the school personnel and interested citizens. Resident credit earned in these classes may be applied toward a graduate degree and/or certificate renewal. Registration fee, due the second meeting of the class, is $31.00. The time of meeting of each class may be adjusted to the needs of the student and professor.

What Men Prefer

(ACP)—College men prefer their dates to wear nylons, with seams, think men shouldn't wear garters, and say they try to kiss a girl goodnight on their first date.

So learned the pledges of Tri Sigma sorority at Minot, N. Dak., State Teachers College, reports that school's RED AND GREEN.

First Date Kiss

The pledges had to get 100 male opinions on "Do you prefer seam or seamless nylons? Do you think men should wear garters? Do you kiss a girl good-night on the first date?"

Answers on the nylon question ranged from "neither" to "depends on the legs." Ten were "indifferent," 48 liked seams, and 42 were in favor of seamless nylons.'

Eighty-four of the 100 agreed garters were passe for college men, though some said "it depends on the wind" and "whose stockings you are wearing."

Thirty-nine asserted "yes" on the kiss question, 25 said "no," and there were assorted "depends," "tried" and "sometimes."

Big sisters of the pledges are suggesting the answers be put in the sorority's files for future reference.

There will be no assembly held January 21. Freshmen will use the auditorium at this time for orientation exams.

Why the Cards?

Our ancestors considered most strangers to be hostile; and therefore, they thought it polite to announce their arrival previous to a visit. The cave man placed a carved rock outside his cave entrance. If the rock were taken in, he was also. Tribes have announced themselves by loud cries a distance from the villages.

A Westerner would have thrown his hat into the ring about the campfire. The Southerner would send his hound dogs ahead. Modern day callers offer the calling card—to give the perfect hostess enough time to reply that she has just left for the dentist's.

Announcements Made For Student Positions

To further improve its position in the competition for talented college people, the Federal Government is opening its Federal Service Entrance Examination this year to college juniors in addition to seniors, college graduates and others of equivalent experience.

Also, job appointments, effective after graduation, may be offered the juniors if they pass the examinations and their names become available on the lists of eligibles to be established. As in the past, such job offers may also be made to seniors.

Examinations will be held in January, February, March, and May, 1958.

The examination, first given two years ago, is designed to help fill the Government's yearly need for more young people of college-caliber who can be placed in jobs at the entrance level and who have the potential to develop into the top managers, technicians, and specialists of the future. Positions filled through the examination are in almost every kind of work. During fiscal year 1957, more than 7,500 job appointments in 175 different occupations were made of persons who passed the examination. The Commission estimates that during the next 12 months at least the same number of entrance-level jobs, at salaries ranging from $3,670 to $4,525 a year, will be filled from the FREE lists of eligibles.

The Commission emphasized that Government needs for college-caliber people are increasing each year despite any overall reductions in the Federal work force that may occur at any one time. Although turnover in Government compares favorably with that of private industry, its effect on the large work force needed by modern government is such as to require that from 200,000 to 300,000 job appointments be made each year. In addition, the increasing complexity of many of the jobs to be performed is requiring that each year a greater number of them be filled by college-caliber people.

Examination Centers

In Virginia, Civil Service examinations are held in Alexandria, Big Stone Gap, Bristol, Charlottesville, Danville, Fredericksburg, Harrisonburg, Lexington, Lynchburg, Newport News, Norfolk, Petersburg, Richmond, Roanoke, Staunton, Winchester, and Wytheville.

Girl Scout Camps

"Summer is a'cumen'i'" College girls and women graduate students interested in summer jobs which combine scholastic values with opportunities for outdoor living will find thousands of openings awaiting them in Girl Scout camps.

Operated by nearly 650 girl Scout councils throughout the country, these camps give 150,000 girls 7 through 17 years old a chance to live, work and play with girls of differing backgrounds, in the informal atmosphere of the out-of-doors.

Hundreds of counselors over 18 years old are needed to share these wholesome experiences on a partnership basis. The basic requirements are good health, enthusiasm, patience, adaptability, and love of children. Candidates also must be in sympathy with the objectives and philosophy of Girl Scouting.

For students 21 years or older, there are numerous openings as unit leaders, waterfront directors, program consultants, food supervisors, health supervisors, business managers, and assistant camp directors. Camp Directors must be 25 or over.

Salaries vary with the assignment and the candidate's previous experience, qualifications and training. Depending on the length of the camp season and the location of the camp, laundry and travel expenses may be included. A basic pre-camp training session of about five days' duration is provided for all staff members.

Many schools allow field work credit for Girl Scout camp jobs toward degrees in such subjects as social work, sociology, education, science, physical education, and recreation. The experience furnishes invaluable insights into the attitudes and reactions of girls, as well as a practical background for future participation in the growing school camp program.

The Girl Scout organization, through its program, tries to help girls learn to accept, appreciate and enjoy other people. The camp setting and a competent staff are means of accomplishing this. The organization encourages well qualified adults of varying racial, religious, and nationality cackgrounds to apply.

College girls and women graduate students interested in an expense-free summer combining professional preparation with outdoor living should call the nearest Girl Scout office—usually listed under "G" in the phone book—for additional information on available openings. Or consult your College Placement Office. For jobs in other areas, write to Miss Fanchon Hamilton, Recruitment and Referral Advisor, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., 830 Third Avenue, New York 22, N. Y.

Summer Placement

To answer the needs of teachers, college students and professors, The Advancement and Placement Institute announces publication of their completely new and expanded 1958 World-Wide "Summer Placement Directory." The Directory is prepared as an aid to those who wish new ideas and ways to earn while they vacation.

The new Directory gives descriptions of the type of work available, salary ranges, names and addresses of employers requesting summer employees. Included are governmental positions, steamship needs, dude ranches, travel tour agencies abroad, work camps, service projects, earning free trips to Europe, national parks, summer camps, theatres and resorts, career trainee opportunities, study awards all over the world and many others. Thousands of opportunities are presented from over 20 foreign countries and all 48 States.

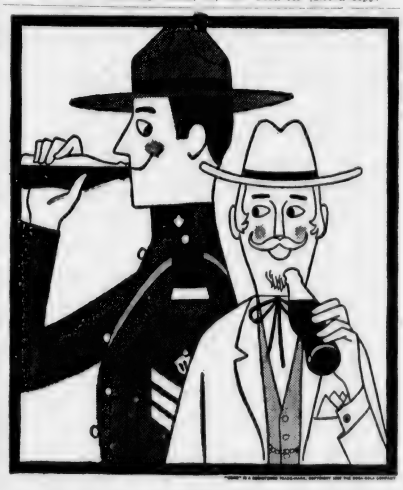
At the request of many students, a special new section has been added for those students wishing to use their summer in trainee programs for future career opportunities. Positions are available in hundreds of firms in more than forty fields of business, industry, government, science, recreation and education.

A current up to date World-Wide "Summer Placement Directory" is published annually by the staff of the Advancement and Placement Institute which has been a non-fee professional advisory and advancement service for the field of education since 1952.

Copies may be examined at many Placement or Deans' Offices, Libraries, School Superintendents' Offices or may be ordered from the Institute at Box 99G, Greenpoint Station, Brooklyn 22, N. Y., for $2.00 a copy.

Graduate Directory

To answer the needs of educators, The Advancement and Placement Institute announces publication of their first annual World-Wide Graduate Award Directory. This new Directory has been prepared as an aid for American teachers, administrators, scientists and social scientists who wish to subsidize the continuation of their education to obtain their master's or doctorate degrees or to do post-doctorate or independent research.



The award guide includes information about the field of study, the duration of the awards, the amount of stipends, the number available, where the awards are tenable, the specific conditions and to whom and when to apply.

Over 350 Universities and Foundations in 45 states and 30 foreign countries have cooperated by submitting information about their awards which range in amount from $150 to $10,000.

Copies may be examined at Graduate Schools, University Placement or Dean's offices, Public and College Libraries, or may be ordered from The Institute at Box 99E, Greenpoint Station, Brooklyn 22, New York for $2.00 a copy.

HUNGRY?
THIRSTY?
TIRED?
See You At
The SNACK

FOR STUDENTS
Of Discriminating Taste
BRADSHAW'S
RESTAURANT
Burkeville, Va.
We Never Close

Tale of Two Cities!

Among Western Hemisphere cities with the largest per capita enjoyment of Coca-Cola are, interestingly enough, sunny New Orleans and chilly Montreal. When we say, "Thirst Knows No Season," we've said a cheerful mouthful.

So don't take any lame excuses about its not being hot enough for Coca-Cola. Forget the temperature and drink up!

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

Don't Miss
"Game Of Love"
At State Tonight

The Rotunda

Plan Now
To Attend
"Crystal Fantasy"

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., February 12, 1958 | No. 10

Prize Winning French Movie Plays Tonight

"The Game of Love," winner of the 1954 Grand Prix du Cinema Francaise, an equivalent of the Hollywood Oscar, will be presented at the State Theater, today, February 12.

Based on the novel "Le Ble en Harbe" by Colette, the film was directed by Claude Autant-Lara who made "Devil In The Flesh" and introduces Nicole Berger, a seventeen-year-old discovery of the director and Colette. Edwize Feuillere, distinguished French dramatic actress, and Piere-Michel Beck, the young boy who won stardom in the title role of "Savage Boy", are co-starred with Miss Berger.

Described by Colette as "a tale of the awakening of love", the new import is the story of the first love of an adolescent girl and boy and of the latter's infatuation with a sophisticated older woman. Pierre Bost and Jean Aurenche collaborated with Autant-Lara on the screenplay. Told with great delicacy and understanding, the French film is a serious drama that has psychological overtones plus a variety of cute touches of humor.

Rene Cloerec composed an original musical score and Robert Le Fevre did the photography. "The Game of Love", which will be shown in French with English titles, is being presented by William Shelton Films, Inc.; it is being distributed in this country by Times Film Corporation.

Dillon To Officiate For Annual Voting

Amanda Dillon, a senior Home Economics major from Ashland, has recently been elected Chairman of Major and Minor Elections for the forthcoming year.

Senior House President, Amanda is also treasurer of H2O Club and a member of the Rotunda Staff, Cotillion Club, and Canterbury Club.

The committee which Amanda will head is composed of the present heads of each of the four major organizations on campus—Y.W.C.A. Student Government, Athletic Association, and House Council. The major elections will take place the first week in March followed by minor elections the second week.

Senior Suzanne (Traci) Faison from Norfolk has been chosen Queen to reign over Longwood's 1958 May Day festivities. Selected for her Maid-of-Honor is Senior Ann Jeter from Lynchburg.

Also elected, on the basis of their beauty, by the student body Monday night, are the following twelve girls who will compose the Queen's court: Seniors Peggy Dickerson, Liz Mosteller, Sue Taylor, Shirley Alcock; Juniors Ann Adams, Betty Culpepper, Sally Farrott; Sophomores Brenda Drewry, Amy McFall, Ann Norfleet; Freshmen Phyllis Bridgeforth, Beverly Kersey.

Activities Set For Religious Program

Last minute plans for Longwood's annual Religious Emphasis Week, sponsored by the Y.W.C.A., are being made. It will be held from February 24 to 28 and a full schedule has been planned for these four days.

The week will begin with a special banquet held in the dining hall on Monday night, February 24, in place of the monthly birthday dinner, at which Rev. J. Edward Sandridge, speaker for the week, will be presented to the student body. Following this, Rev. Sandridge will deliver his first message at the first of four nightly services to be held in Jarman Auditorium. A singspiration and a worship service will precede each of his addresses.

Informal discussion groups will also be held each night at 10:00 beginning Monday. This year they will be held in the "Y" Lounge for the Freshmen and Sophomores and in the Senior parlor for Juniors and Seniors. These discussions will be led alternately by Rev. Sandridge and four of the local ministers—those from the Episcopal, Methodist, Presbyterian, and Roman Catholic churches.

Morning meditation will be held each morning during Religious Emphasis Week in the Episcopal Church—Monday through Thursday at 7:45 and on Friday morning at 7:00 Rev. Sandridge will conduct a special morning service.

A time for personal conferences with Rev. Sandridge has been set aside each afternoon that he is here.

Doles, Hurst to Head Rotunda

—Camera Artist

NEWLY-CHOSEN ROTUNDA EDITORS get together to make plans for coming issues of the newspaper. Shown left to right are: Patsy Powell, associate editor; Barbara Hurst, business manager; Linda Doles, editor-in-chief, and Bet McLoughlin, associate editor.

Juniors McLoughlin, Powell Fill Positions As Associate Editors

By HENRIETTA DOLLINS

Linda Doles, a junior from Zuni, has been chosen editor-in-chief of the 1958-59 Rotunda. Other juniors elected to fill top staff positions are Barbara Hurst, business manager, and Bet McLoughlin and Patsy Powell, associate editors.

"I am very happy that I have been given this honor. I think I have a wonderful staff that will help me to edit a good Rotunda and I hope we will have fun working together," Linda remarked upon being notified of her new position.

An English and Social Studies major, she also holds membership in Beorc Eh Thorn, Pi Delta Epsilon, Pi Gamma Mu, French Club, Canterbury Club, and has served as Feature and Managing Editors of the Rotunda during 1956 and '57 respectively.

From Roanoke, the new business manager is also in Beorc Eh Thorn, Cotillion Club, Roanoke Club, Library League, and Zeta Tau Alpha, social sorority. "I am very interested in the work and I hope I can do as fine a job as Norma Jenrett," Barbara stated.

Bet, a business major from Richmond, is also Junior house president, and is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, FBLA, Richmond Club, Newman Club, and treasurer of Alpha Sigma Alpha. "I am looking forward to working with the new staff and hope we have a very successful year together," Bet stated.

"I was pleased to have been chosen associate editor of the Rotunda, and am very happy to be working with such a cooperative staff," Patsy commented. A history and Elementary education major, Patsy is a member of the Baptist Student Union, Pi Delta Epsilon, Pi Gamma Mu, and the Cotillion Club.

Appointed by the Publications Committee, Linda assumes her new position in February at the mid-semester graduation of the former editor-in-chief. All staff appointments by the editor have not been completed at this time.

'Easter', 'Boy With A Cart' Cast By Longwood Players

Tryouts have been completed and the casts chosen for The Longwood Players' and The Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs' two forthcoming productions.

"Easter" by August Stridberg, has been selected for the Spring Production to be presented on March 1. On February 22, "The Boy With a Cart" by Christopher Fry will be presented at the Virginia Drama Festival.

Longwood will be one of many colleges represented at this Festival. This is an annual event with each selected college presenting a one-act play followed by a critique. This year's critique will be given by the eminent Broadway director, Harold Ciurman. That evening, a dinner will be given, featuring the producer of the Phoenix Theater in New York City as speaker.

An unusually large cast has been assembled and will prove to be quite a challenge to the talents of The Players. Cast in the play are: Amy McFall, Josie Cook, Donna Boone, Scott Bowen, Charter Wells, Beetle Bailey, Garnet Smith, John Lynn, John Meyers, Jim Jourdan, and Jerry Rigwald. Also included in the cast are: Sally Thomas, Chris Kamen, Pat Baugh, Nancy Morton, Bonny Keys, Kay Pierce, Ann Jen-

(Continued on page 4)

According to the current Longwood catalogue, "no student is permitted to enroll in a course for credit later than two weeks after classes begin in any semester", Saturday, February 15 marks the end of this two week period.

Assistant academic dean Bittinger, who is in charge of scheduling, wishes to express his appreciation to all who cooperated in making schedule changes.

Shirley Alcock has been chosen to represent Longwood as a princess in the annual Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester. Shirley, a senior from Hampton, was chosen by a faculty committee. The festival will be held the first week of May.

Barnett Selected To Lead May Day

Mary Ann Barnett and Janet Lloyd were elected by the student body last week to head May Day festivities here at Longwood this spring.

Mary Ann, an elementary major from Chesterfield will act as chairman of May Day. She is also president of the H2O Club and Secretary of Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority. She is a member of the Future Teachers of America, Granddaughters Club, Cotillion Club, Athletic Association Council, Canterbury Club and Richmond Club.

"I was very surprised, happy, and a little worried when I learned that I had been voted chairman of May Day. However, I know the whole student body will work together for a successful May Day", stated Mary Ann.

Janet Lloyd, a senior from South Boston serves as business manager. She is a member of Future Teachers of America and Cotillion. She is also president of Pi Kappa Sigma and a member of the H2O club.

'Crystal Fantasy' To Highlight Junior Dance

—The Camera Artist

Juniors Melinda Franklin, Cass Connor, Peggy Harris, Lou Heier plan for dance.

A "Crystal Fantasy" will greet Longwood students as they enter the main "Rec" on the evening of February 22 for the annual Junior Dance. From 8 p.m. to midnight they will hear the romantic music of the "Aristocrats," a seven-piece dance band from Roanoke, featuring a singer.

Lou Heier and Melinda Franklin are serving as co-chairmen for the dance. Working with them are the following committee heads: decorations, Peggy Harris; lights, Sandy Fitzgerald; publicity, Anne Keziah and Cat Ozmon; tickets, Ann Glover; favors, Barbara Odom; business manager, Cass Connor; clean-up, Barbara Staton; invitations, Nancy George; junior party, Pat Leake; floor committee, Jackie Waller and Willie Taylor; and receiving line flowers, Helen Jean Young.

The "Rec" will be transformed into a fantasy-land of blue lights focused upon walls covered by silver foil. The band-stand and entrance-way will be decorated as an icy cave from whose ceiling silvery stalactites descend. On the opposite wall the formally attired couples will discover a white fountain spotlighted by soft lights. To further convey the idea of a crystal wonder-land mirrors will form the words of the theme above the fountain.

(Continued on page 4)

Committee to Plan Anniversary Event

Dr. Francis G. Lankford, Jr., president of Longwood College, has announced the appointment of Miss Elizabeth Burger as chairman of a committee to plan and co-ordinate the seventy-fifth anniversary of the establishment of Longwood as a state college for teacher education. Appointed to serve on the committee for the 1959 celebration are Mrs. Mildred Davis, Mrs. Francis B. Simkins, Miss Elsie Stossell (National President, Longwood Alumnae Association), Dr. George W. Jeffers, and Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss.

According to Dr. Lankford "... this committee will plan the celebration but ... most of the events of the year will actually be sponsored or arranged by student, faculty, or alumnae groups ..."

Miss Burger states that the committee hopes that during the regu-

(Continued on page 4)

Principals Invited To Visit Longwood

Longwood's 1957-58 freshman class comes from 118 different high schools. Tomorrow, February 13, is Principal Visitation Day for the principals from each of these high schools.

These principals who have accepted the invitation to be guests of Longwood will interview the freshmen from 11 a.m. to noon, will be guests of the college at lunch, and will participate in the meeting of the principals and faculty members in the Student Lounge of the Student Building from 1:15 to 2:30 p.m.

The following principals from the indicated high schools have accepted the invitation: Frank Chuchek, Bluestone; Warren Thweatt, Blackstone; Fred B. Dixon, John Marshall in Richmond; Robert Via, Crewe; M. U. Leste, Farmville; George McIntosh, Newport News; William B. Gibbs, Highland Springs; J. Boyd Basche, Worsham; Philip Bosiljc, Amelia; G. H. Reed, Manchester; Howard McCue, St. Catherine's in Richmond; Charles H. Morgan, South Hill; George Cox, Jr., Warwick; Raymond Bodkin, Southhampton County; Russell B. Gill, Petersburg; Arthur E. Jones, Suffolk; E. Armstrong Smith, Cumberland; F. Caroll Alexander, Randolph-Henry; A. G. Weight, Greensville County; and Elmer Territ, Assistant Supervisor, Virginia Beach High School.

Overloaded Outlets?

(Ed.'s Note: Last week in Cunningham Hall, two three-way extension cords in one of the rooms became hot enough to burn through the rubber covering. Later investigation revealed that the cords, all plugged from the one outlet in the three-girl room, had been overloaded; the rubber covering had melted allowing the bare wires to rub together and they had begun to smolder. Interviewed the following morning, Longwood's Business Manager, Jake Walmsley, reported the following information regarding the electrical situation.)

Q.—What is the situation in Cunningham Hall?

A.—The building was built in 1928 when there were not as many electrical gadgets, and the ones available were expensive. So it was adequate at that time to have one outlet to a room, which was designed for two girls. But now with so many less-expensive electrical gadgets, and when this year's crowded conditions necessitate rooming three girls together, there are often three bedside lamps, three desk lights, at least one radio and victrola, and one or two clocks and hairdryers in most rooms — too many for one outlet.

Q.—Why can't more outlets be installed?

A.—Last year Longwood College received sufficient funds to rewire in some locations, but it was needed much worse in Ruffner, where freshmen should realize that they do have three outlets to a room. The state manages our budget on a two-year plan so we will receive the allotted $25,000 next year and have planned to rewire other buildings. But some buildings still need rewiring more than Cunningham, including post office, the infirmary, and old Tabb. We are not positive, but hope that within the next two years the college will be completely electrically equipped.

Q.—What has been done about the Cunningham situation?

A.—A room by room check of the Cunningham building was conducted this morning to see if any more unsafe conditions existed from overloaded outlets. Extension cords were limited to one three-way plug to a room.

Q.—What should be done from now on in Cunningham?

A.—Use the building as it was designed to be used. This means that only three study lights can be on at once, and if anything else, such as a hair dryer, is used, one of the lights must be unplugged. The college is planning to provide two heavy-duty extension cords for each room and no others will be permitted.

Q.—What is the general situation throughout all dorms?

A.—Most have been repaired and have ample outlets, but girls must be aware that hotplates, irons, and hair dryers produce heat and must be particularly careful about them. Statistics show that one electric iron burns more current than approximately eighteen lights, a hairdryer more than nine lights and a hotplate, more than 40 lights.

To quote the handbook, "Pressing and cooking are not permitted in the rooms." Students are also warned to be conscience of other fire hazards, such as smoking in bed and putting out cigarettes in trashcans.

Periodic checks will be taken to look for unsafe cords and overloaded outlets. Students should be on the look-out for worn cords with wire showing and immediately stop using them.

The college is aware of this situation, steps have been taken to correct it, and Cunningham and the other buildings are perfectly safe for reasonable use. Your complete cooperation is expected.

"Keep Off The Grass"

Sidewalks connecting buildings on the campus were laid for the students' benefit. At this season when steady rains have softened the earth it is especially important to use the sidewalks because they not only protect you from slipping, ruining shoes, and tracking mud through the buildings, but they also protect the grass.

The lawns have recently been fertilized and spring grass is trying to grow. We all appreciate the green lawns around the campus in the spring; lets remember to use the sidewalks now for Longwood's future beauty.

The Rotunda

Linda Doles ..... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors:

Bet McLoughlin, Patsy Powell

Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Judy Eckstrom ..... News Editor
Henrietta Dollins ..... Feature Editor
Violet Scott ..... Sports Editor
Virlinda Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Elaine Weddle ..... Photography Editor
Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Ann Hill ..... Advertising Manager
Dr. James Wellard ..... Faculty Advisor

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress on March 8, 1934.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association and Associated Collegiate Press, and Intercollegiate Press.

Unsigned editorials written by the editor.

Published weekly by the students of Longwood College. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service, Inc. Printed by The Farmville Herald. Office Box 168, Longwood College, Farmville, Va.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by BIBLER

"BEFORE WE GO TO THE LAB - WE HAVE SOMEONE HERE WHO WOULD LIKE TO TELL YOU WHAT HAPPENS WHEN WE MIX POTASSIUM PERMANGANATE WITH CONCENTRATED SULFURIC ACID."

Exhibits Attract Browsers In Art Department, Library

By BEBE RIGGINS

The Art Department recently announced the end-of-semester art exhibit presently on display, according to Miss Virginia Bedford, head of the department.

A colorful variety of different types of art can now be seen in the Art Department. This includes water and oil paintings, silver jewelry, mosaics, enamel, ceramics, and wood carving. The oils and water colors in the hall and classrooms were especially good specimens which were done by the art classes. They include several very interesting abstracts, some of which is the talented work of Elena Vinos, our Spanish consultant from Mexico. One section of water color paintings in the hall was the excellent work of the freshman art class, 121. Some pupils who attended the Tobacco Festival brought scenes from a tobacco farm to life in the form of people packing boxes and other related activities.

The gallery case contains some beautiful work in silver jewelry, and the hall case contains some fine work in ceramics and wood carving, done by the Crafts classes last semester. Here, too, may be found some imaginative pieces of abstract composition—both in shape and design of the object. There are also some textile paintings and "Batiks" on exhibit in one of the classrooms. Batik is a type of water painting on cloth(batiste material), with the use of melted wax, whereby the design is dyed into the fabric when painted in the desired way.

Library Exhibits

The Library League has contributed several very colorful displays, which may be seen in the library. In the Exhibition Room can be found a very striking idea formed around the adventures derived from reading. It is entitled, "Build Your Castle in the Air, Then Find a Book To Take You There." A medieval castle, complete with turrets and drawbridge, dominates the theme and helps to bring vivid imagination to the purpose of the display. The castle brings to mind a fairy tale and foreign lands which may be reached through the magical transportation of reading.

Across the room from the "castle" is a scientific theme entitled "Space and the Atom". This is of great importance in the world today, and a variety of books on the subject of rocket ships, atoms and space is displayed on the adjoining table. A structure resembling atoms is included with the design, making the entire idea very attractive. Another exhibition is in the process of being constructed in the Newspaper Room, which harmonizes with the theme of St. Valentine's Day. Since this is not completed, the full effect cannot be described well.

The library displays have been emphasized recently, since the Library League is expecting to entertain 40 high school students from Dillwyn on a weekend in the near future.

Paul Green Drama To Play At Beach

Are you interested in dancing, singing, acting, scenery, lighting, or make-up application? Well, a job may await you this summer. Read further for a summer opportunity.

A site one-half mile from the Virginia Beach area has been selected for the presentation of a new symphonic drama written by Paul Green entitled, "The Confederacy."

Dr. Samuel Selden, director of the Carolina Playmakers at the University of North Carolina, will direct the production, to be produced by the Tidewater Historic Drama Association. Rehearsals for the play will begin June 1. The production will run from July 1 through September 1.

Pulitzer Prize-Winner

Pulitzer prize-winner Paul Green said the principal figure in the drama will be Confederate General Robert E. Lee. Some 70 to 80 players will be included in the cast. Green also has authored "The Lost Colony," "The Common Glory," "Wilderness Road," and other symphonic dramas being staged throughout the country.

The Rotunda will give further information in the future concerning job applications and other information.

Church News

By BARBARA LEE SIMPKINS

Baptist

The B.S.U. held a very successful revival last weekend, Feb. 7-9. The theme for the revival, "His Way—Mine," proved most beneficial and enjoyable to all those who attended the inspiring services. Guest speakers were "Ken" Burnette and "Ed" Felton from the University of Richmond. Joe Wray, also on the University team, conducted the music program. Services were held at 7:30 p.m. at the Farmville Baptist Church Friday and Saturday nights and at 11:00 a.m. Sunday morning. The B.S.U. Banquet was at 5:30 p.m. at Longwood Estate and featured the theme of "The Gay 20's."

Shirley Grubb was crowned the "Lady of the Link" by Rev. William Jenkins, the State B.S.U. Secretary, for her devoted support and participation in the B.S.U. during her college years at Longwood.

Methodist

Thursday at 5:00 p.m. choir practice will be held at the church. Friday, another Coffee Hour will be held at 7:00 p.m. in the Center. Everyone is invited to hear the guest speaker, Dr. Lodewijks, who will speak to the U.N. delegation.

A Valentine party will be held in the fellowship room of the church Sunday night at 7:30 p.m. Come over and join in the hearty fun!

Talented Mantovani Charms Crowd; Anthony Features Standard Favorites

By JOAN HEAVYSIDE

Mantovani charmed a full house at the Mosque with his crisp British accent, dry humor, and new music, Monday night, February 3, on his second visit to Richmond.

He opened the program with a blues piece, "Broadway Panorama" by Manilla and swung into Cole Porter's "True Love" after a dimified hesitation while latecomers were seated.

Mantovani, poised in his immaculate formal attire, directed his 45 piece orchestra through a two hour program of his singular music. This "new music" is characterized by an enlarged string section consisting of two-thirds of the entire orchestra.

Mantovani drew special attention to his British musicians who were allowed to perform in this country. These included the first violinist, the percussionist, the trumpet player, and several others.

LC Students Attend

The audience, which included a lucky few from Longwood, responded enthusiastically throughout the performance. Those pieces meeting with highest approval were: Strauss' "Emperor's Waltz," "Clair de Lune" (Debussy), and Morton Gould's "Deserted Ballroom" which Mantovani introduced with a pun. He invited the audience to listen with special care, declaring that possibly "ghosts" might even be heard. The audience was delighted as first one "ghost" was discovered tip-toeing quietly. He gradually was joined by other "ghosts" who marched about noisily.

Part Two included such well-known pieces as: "Love is a Many Splendored Thing"; "The Canary" which actually sounded like a chorus of canaries due to the number of violins; "I Could Have Danced All Night" (My Fair Lady); "Toyshop Ballet" written by Mantovani himself; and Waltz from "Swan Lake".

Second encore In Career

The evening was climaxed when Mantovani, whose habit is to never play more than one encore, was coaxed by the tremendous applause to play a second encore for the second time in his career.

Ray Anthony

Also appearing at the Mosque last week was Ray Anthony and his orchestra. He played for the Boys' Club of Richmond Benefit, Friday, February 7.

On his program were such favorites as "All The Way", "Dream Dancing", "Tenderly", "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing", "Dragnet", and Dixie Land songs. Longwood girls who went to the show enjoyed Anthony's special brand of music.

Traveling from California, he made several appearances in Richmond at the Teen-age Party, and the Hotel Jefferson, and was to appear next in Sumter, South Carolina.

Socially Speaking

Seems Cupid Couldn't Wait!

By ERNESTINE STOLTZ and NANCY HARNSBERGER

Seems like Cupid couldn't wait for Valentine's Day — Congratulations are in line for Sandy Fitzgerald who received a "sparkler" from C. D. Tarter of Wytheville.

Wedding Bells

"Those wedding bells are breaking up that ole' gang of mine" can easily be the motto of the sophomore class. Let's take a look at the list and extend our sincerest CONGRATULATIONS. First of all, Nancy Talbott has received a ring from Donald Vaughn. Donald is from Petersburg. Mary Helen Jones is engaged to Jimmy Kelly from Emporia. Jo Ann Hartman has recently received a ring from Robert Rose. Rob is attending the University of Virginia. Norma Jean Johnson received a "sparkler" from Ed Wertz, a graduate of Hampden-Sydney. Billy Jo Altizer has captured her Marine—Lawrence, that is, from Roanoke. Peggy Campbell is sporting a diamond from Harold Camden of Lynchburg. Pat Altizer is planning to be Mrs. Kenny Jones some time in the near future. Carmen Johnson has become engaged to Neil Baxter from Sewanee, and Mary Lou Turner is engaged to Dick McGrath who is attending Hampden-Sydney.

Two of the crew came back after the holidays sporting pins. Linda Moore is wearing G. R. Itchell's VMI pin, and Catherine Walker has Ken Lipscomb's Lambda Chi pin. Ken is just across the way from G. R. at Washington and Lee.

Parties at Hampden-Sydney

Hampden-Sydney attracted most of the Longwood girls this weekend.

Chi Phi

Seen at the Chi Phi house were Liz Mosteller, Vee Weaver, Judith Holderman, Barbara Heck, Elva Jane Wynne, Alice Cheatwood, Norma Wilson, Scotty Hart, Helen Browder, Evelyn Alouf, Joyce Pendleton, and Mary Stokes.

Sigma Chi

The Sigma Chi's opened their doors to Jo Bailey, Iris Hines, Peggy Harris, Carole Manley, Joanne Maitland, Coreta Bennett, Gail Jesse, Aliene Glascock, Becky Parker, Shelby Johnson, Jenny Burns, Dottie Morris, Oreta Norris, Adair Camp, Betty Jean Allgood, Josie Cook, Elaine Brown, and Barbara Simpkins.

PiKA

At the PiKA house were seen Peggy Dickerson, Emily Atkinson, Jackie Trader, Kit Warren, Helen Young, Ann Glover, Jackie Harper, Burks Keith, Joan Lee Thomas.

U. of R.-W. Va. Game

Mary Lee Teel, Suzanne Barr, Shirley Hauptman, Lucia Hart, Della Higgins, Betty Maynard and Sue Armory attended the University of Richmond-West Virginia game.

Many of the Longwood girls will travel to the dances at V.M.I. and V.P.I. on Feb. 14. Hope everyone has a wonderful time.

Happy Valentine's Day!

Lowry Chosen 'Rose'

Aggie Lowry, a junior from Winchester, Kentucky, has been chosen KA Rose by the Hampden-Sydney chapter of Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

AGGIE LOWRY

She was also chosen earlier in the year to represent the Kappa Alpha fraternity at the homecoming festivities.

Aggie is pinned to Frank Buck who will escort her to the KA Rose Dance given in her honor. At the dance she will receive a loving cup and a bouquet of red roses.

Mattox Names Date

The date of the marriage of Miss Frances Mattox of Appomattox County to Alfred E. Hopkinson of Charlottesville is set for February 15. Miss Mattox, Longwood College's assistant registrar, graduated from Mary Washington College and took a graduate course at Longwood. Mr. Hopkinson attended the University of Virginia. They will make their home in Appomattox.

Fishwick, Blackwell, Schlegel to Speak For Spring Southern Culture Program

The Institute of Southern Culture at Longwood College will present the following programs this spring on April 18:

"Jamestown Revisited," Dr. Marshall W. Fishwick, professor of American studies, Washington and Lee University. "The Changing South," Dr. Gordon W. Blackwell, chancellor, Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. "James Branch Cabell and Southern Romanticism," Dr. Dorothy B. Schlegel, associate professor of English, Longwood College.

The Institute of Southern Culture was established at Longwood College in 1956 to promote the study of traditional aspects of Southern civilization through the publication of research in the field. Financial support for the Institute has been provided by the Longwood College Alumnae Association.

Those who serve on the Faculty Committee for the Institute at Longwood are: Dr. R. C. Simonini, Jr., Chairman; Dr. Earl R. Bogga, Jr., Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss, and Dr. Francis B. Simkins.

The Institute is currently sponsoring a series of lectures in the summer school session also, scheduled for July 9:

"The Youngest Generation of Southern Fiction Writers," Dr. Richard K. Meeker, associate professor of English, Longwood College.

"Religion in the South: Problem and Promise," Dr. Clyde L. Manschreck, associate professor of religion, Duke University.

"The Southern and Quasi-Southern Culture Landscapes," Dr. Charles F. Lane, professor of geography and geology, Longwood College.

The lectures will be held in the lounge of the Student Activities Building at 11:00 a.m., 4:00 p.m., and 8:00 p.m. respectively and are open to the public. Materials appropriate to the lectures will be on exhibit in the Longwood College Library.

Course work on both undergraduates and graduate levels also provides a means for exchange of ideas about various aspects of Southern regionalism.

Course Offerings, 1958:

Literature of the South. Summer Session. Dr. Meeker.

Southern History. Summer Session. Dr. Simkins.

Geography and Geology of Virginia. Summer Session. Mr. Magnusson.

The Civil War and Reconstruction. Summer Session. Dr. Simkins.

Wamsley Releases Plans For Repairs

Jake Wamsley, Business Manager of the College, recently announced tentative plans for repairs, redecorating, and construction during the Spring semester and in the near future. The new Senior dormitory is scheduled to be finished in time for occupancy by the Fall semester of '58.

Other plans include re-decorating the 3rd floor of Library, new baths in old Tabb, and constructing a connecting walk between the walk at the side of Jarman Hall, given by the Senior class of '57, to the front of the building. Mr. Wamsley also said the Rotunda may be retiled. Other plans for improvements will rest with the Legislature's appropriations for state Schools.

Silversmiths Offer Cash Scholarships For Student Ideas

During the months of February and March, Reed and Barton, America's oldest major silversmiths are conducting a "Silver Opinion Competition" in which valuable scholarship awards totalling $1050 are being offered to duly enrolled women students at a few selected colleges and universities. Longwood College has been selected to enter this competition in which the first grand award is a $500 cash scholarship; second grand award is a $250 scholarship, and third, fourth and fifth awards are $100 scholarships. In addition there will be 100 other awards with winners having the option of receiving a $25 savings bond or a "starter set" of sterling silver, fine china and crystal with a retail value of approximately $45.

Student Opinion

In the "Silver Opinion Competition" an entrant is asked to name her favorite china pattern, her favorite crystal and the sterling silver design she likes best. Then in her own words she must tell why she has chosen the three particular designs. She can use as few or as many words as she likes. There is no set limit. Entries will be judged on the basis of interesting opinions rather than on literary techniques. Closing date is midnight, March 31.

Miss Melinda Franklin is the student representative who is conducting the "Silver Opinion Competition" for Reed and Barton at Longwood. Those interested in entering the Silver Opinion Competition should contact Miss Franklin at Cunningham 69 for entry blanks and for complete details concerning the competition rules. She also has samples of nine of the most popular Reed and Barton designs so that entrants can see how these sterling patterns actually look.

Television Show Features Rhythms

The physical education department of Longwood College presented a program over Channel 8 Thursday night, Feb. 6, at 6:00 p.m. Designed to illustrate one facet of the Longwood physical education department, the program illustrated the teaching of rhythm to children in the fourth grade.

Under the direction of James M. Helms, associate history professor at Longwood, participants included Rebecca L. Brockenbrough, Longwood physical education professor; Mrs. Bonnie B. Coleman, supervising teacher in the Farmville elementary school; twelve of her pupils; and Moonyeen Warren, elementary practice teacher from Newport News.

In order for a girl to be eligible to participate in the Spring Red and White, Green and White Swimming Meet, she must obtain eight "rec" swims. "Rec" swims are scheduled for Monday 4:30-5:45 p. m., Wednesday 10 p. m., and Friday 4-5 p. m. Participants may sign up at the pool in the regular manner.

Longwood Six Scores 74-42 Over Roanoke

By JACKIE WALLER

A speedy and flashy Longwood sextet opened Longwood's basketball season by trouncing Roanoke College 74-42. The second game was even more of a slaughter as Roanoke fell again 75-23.

Starting as guards for Longwood were Willie Taylor, Margaret Dowdy, and Evelyn Skalsky. Forwards were Nancy Richardson, Delo Dove, and Jackie Waller. Substitutes in the second half were Gayle Cunningham and Mate Padley.

Starters in the second game were Gayle Cunningham, Lou Heier, and Mate Padley as forwards, with Violet Scott, Claudia Whipple, and Nancy Andrews as guards. Entering in the second half were Joan Creel and Caroiyn Thorpe as forwards and Betty Byer, Joyce Tharrington, and Doris Tolley as guards.

Co-Captains Chosen

Prior to the game Margaret Dowdy and Nancy Richardson were chosen as co-captains. Both are seniors, completing their fourth year of varsity basketball. Nancy is a biology major from Grundy, Virginia, and Margaret is a physical education major from Altavista.

On Saturday, February 15, the varsity will journey to Harrisonburg to meet Madison College for another of the season's thrillers.

Raney, Tharrington Look Ahead To Exciting Class Volleyball Season

—Camera Artist

JUNIORS JOYCE THARRINGTON and Ruth Raney, class volleyball managers, discuss plans for the class volleyball games. They wish to remind students that eight practices are needed to play in these games.

Stress Participation In General Practice

By CHRIS KAMEN

The fourth edition in our series of articles introducing the new managers of the various sports teams present juniors Ruth Raney and Joyce Tharrington, Longwood's volleyball managers of this year. Joyce hails from DeWitt while Ruth's hometown is Dundas.

As managers, their job not only involves participation in the sport but it extends to scheduling class games and posting them with the approval and help of Miss Her. They are also in charge of keeping a record of the number of times each person has practiced who is going out for his class team.

Both girls summed up their comments on their newly acquired title by stating, "We were both real pleased and have always enjoyed working with the A.A. Council. Since we are both physical education majors, we feel that this job will give us some experience on how to manage things in the line of sports activities."

The two juniors have been playing volleyball since their freshman years of high school, and they have continued to do so up to the present day. They added that they do not have much time to practice and indulge in the sport due to their hectic schedules, but they are sure that once class games get underway there will be more practices in store for them.

Class Participation

"It is our hope that more people will come out for the class games and more of an interest in the sport will occur this year," added both girls. They seem to think if other schools competed with us like they do in basketball and hockey an interest in volleyball would be furthered.

Their opinion of volleyball as a game is that "Volleyball is a good sport and recreation for people of all ages to participate in, and from the social standpoint of view it is an excellent way to meet many different people."

The general practices for any one interested in class games are held on Monday afternoons at five o'clock.

From The Basketball Bleachers

By ANNE KEZIAH

Well, let's see what happened when the state basketball teams played last weekend. First of all, a look at the results of the Friday night games.

RPI Downs Roanoke

Roanoke College suffered a 69-63 loss to R.P.I., which virtually knocked the Maroons out of the Little Eight race, and made Hampden-Sydney a virtual shoo-in for the title. Virginia Tech went down in defeat as George Washington triumphed over the Gobblers, 70-54. V.M.I. was defeated by The Citadel, 77-63, and the Maryland Terps stomped the Cavaliers from Virginia 87-66. A look at the brighter side of the picture, shows Washington and Lee victorious over Davidson by a 61-55 score.

Tigers Triumph

Now for Saturday night. Over Hampden-Sydney way, the Tigers clashed with Randolph-Macon for a very exciting game. The score was close throughout the game, and the lead switched back and forth several times—but the Tigers again came out on top as the Yellow Jackets went down in defeat, 78-69.

Navy Defeated

In other cage tilts Saturday night, Union came out on top over Emory and Henry, 83-73 and William and Mary blasted Navy 90-78. Down in Richmond, the visiting West Virginia Mountaineers topped the University of Richmond Spiders, 72-60, while Washington and Lee rolled up a 74-68 score over The Citadel. V.M.I. found themselves in the losers column, as they fell before Davidson, 76-65.

Roanoke College was an 80-42 loser to American University, while Bridgewater topped Baltimore University, 77-73 and Lynchburg College edged RPI, 91-88.

HUNGRY?
THIRSTY?
TIRED?
See You At
The SNACK

Looking for a
BIRTHDAY PRESENT?
then
MARTIN'S
is the place to go.
Presents for All Ages.

WATCH FOR OUR WASHINGTON
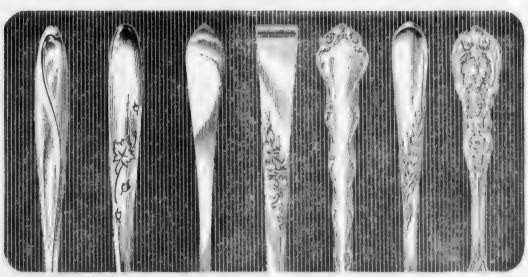
BIRTHDAY SALE
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY



Select Your
EASTER GIFTS
from
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
Wide Selection
RELIGIOUS BOOKS
Just Arrived
200 High St. Phone 441-J

OUT OF
SCHOOL SUPPLIES?
Then Come Down to NEWBERRY'S

VISIT
GRAY'S DRUG STORE
For Your
COSMETICS
by Revlon

See The New—
SPRING ARRIVALS
—at—
DOROTHY MAE STORE
COATS, SUITS, DRESSES, Etc.
Also, the Dorothy May girls invite you in to see those luscious cottons by Gay Gibson, Lynnbrook and many other nationally advertised brands. SELECT YOURS EARLY.
Use Our Lay-Away or Charge
DOROTHY MAE STORE

We have your favorite sterling pattern as featured in
REED & BARTON'S
"SILVER OPINION COMPETITION"

Silver Sculpture $36.75 | Autumn Leaves $36.75 | Painted Antique $33.75 | Classic Rose $35.00 | Tara $36.75 | Silver Wheat $33.75 | Francis First $39.75

Do these patterns look familiar? Then you've no doubt seen them on bulletin boards throughout your campus. They're featured in Reed & Barton's "Silver Opinion Competition" now being conducted at your college. Stop in soon and see how beautiful these patterns are in actual solid silver. Can't tell — it may be all the inspiration you need to win one of the valuable scholarship prizes!

*All prices are for 6-piece place settings, and include Federal tax

Martin
THE JEWELER
'Gifts That Last'
FARMVILLE, VA.

THE 1957-58 ANNUAL Rotunda waffle supper held at Longwood Estate January 21, pictures the above staff members: felt to right, Cass Connor, Amanda Dillon, Patsy Powell, Barbara Ensmann, Bet McLoughlin, Carole Vick, Chris Kamen, Frances Mann, Pat Rodenhizer, and Ann Glover. Inset shows Ella Carter, outgoing editor, and Norma Jenrett, outgoing business manager, in foreground, and Helen Pals and Diane Doughty in background.

Honorary Science Society Established On Campus

At the meeting of the faculty on January 15, 1958, the establishment of a local honorary science organization was approved. This move followed a year's work by a student committee composed of Camille Atwood, (a 1957 graduate), Ann Brierley, Hannah Haile, Margaret Layman, and Anne Thacker, under the guidance of Dr. George W. Jeffers, professor of biology. Margaret, a junior from Blacksburg is serving as chairman of the club; Natalie Tudor, a junior from Critz, as treasurer. Other members are: Delores Dove, Anne Garrett, Ann Jeter, Frances McLoughlin, Mary Beth Picinich, Nancy Richardson, Sally Tilson, and Julia Gray Wallace. Dr. Jeffers is faculty sponsor of the organization.

Requirements

Juniors and seniors majoring in biology, chemistry, general science, or mathematics having a 1.00 general average and a 2.00 average in all mathematics and science courses are eligible for membership. A name for this organization is still being considered.

The members are already making plans to attend the Virginia Academy of Science in May. Other projects will be exhibits, field trips, seminars, and bulletin boards on scientific topics. A salamander hunt is planned in the near future as a money-making project.

Plays

(Continued from page 1)

kins, Emily Shelton, and Dottie Gills.

"The Boy With a Cart" contains charm, humanity, and humor mingled with deep religious truth.

"Christopher Fry writes again a memorable play containing the same wit and humanity, the same admirable facility of language which distinguish his later works."

Last Year's Entry

Last year's festival entry by the Players and Jongleurs, "A Phoenix Too Frequent," was given outstanding recognition and called the highlight of the day.

"Easter"

The second production, "Easter", has an appropriate theme for the time of the year as the play takes place on the three days of the Christain calendar, Thursday, Good Friday, and Easter Sunday.

The cast includes: Lynn McDade, Garnet Smith, John Lynn, Vicki Brinkly, Scotty Hart, and Charter Wells.

"Easter" gives a cross section in the life of the Heyst family who are beset by anxieties both individually and as a family.

All author Stridburg's work is, to some decree, autobiographical and indeed this one is no exception. To Ellis he gave much of his character and failings, to Eleanora he gave the disposition of his own sister, and to "Easter" he gave all his talent.

Burger

(Continued from page 1)

vation of Ruffner Hall this summer it will be possible to ". . . define the boundaries of the original building which dates back to 1839." It is planned that a suitable plaque will be installed during the celebration recognizing the founding of Farmville Female Seminary in 1839 and the building of Ruffner Hall.

Keyed Toward Recognition

The Longwood Alumnae Association plans to recognize the seventy-fifth anniversary in the Alumnae Bulletin, the local chapters, and the Founders' Day program. The anniversary committee hopes that other organizations, especially those related to teacher education and the historical activities of the college, will be keyed toward an ". . . appropriate recognition and appreciation of seventy-five years of teacher education at Longwood College."

The assembly program scheduled for February 18 will be a talent show conducted by sophomores, Dixie Hillard and Carolyn DeHaven.

The program, designed to provide humorous entertainment, will include all kinds of talent from singing, playing the piano and dancing to monologues.

School Personnel Interview For Jobs

For the interest of the seniors, personnel from various county and city schools have and will continue to visit the campus for interviews for teaching jobs in the coming year. All interested seniors should contact Mrs. Watkins for details concerning time and place of interviews.

Those visiting the campus this week have been Mr. Parr and Mrs. Saunders representing Prince William county schools; Mr. Moody and Mrs. Donahoe of Henrico county schools; Mr. Saudidge, Warren and Rappahannock county schools; and Dr. George Holmes, Roanoke city schools.

Holding interviews today have been Miss Luxford of Princess Anne and Virginia Beach schools and Mr. George McIntosh from the Newport News city schools.

Tomorrow, Thursday, Mr. Baxa of the Danville city schools and Mr. Ballah of Hampton city schools will be available for interviews.

Monday, February 17 Miss Gladys Charlton of the Norfolk city schools will be here; Tuesday, Mr. S. C. Morgan of York county schools; Wednesday, Mr. Paxon of Norfolk county schools and Dr. Pollock of Sayreville, New Jersey.

A team of recruiters for the Harford County, Mayland, Board of Education will be on the campus Feb. 20 at 10 a.m. Positions in all areas are available, particularly in the elementary field. The educational facilities include a two year Junior College.

Faculty News

Professors Attend Various Conferences

On February 14 and 15, the Association of Virginia Colleges will meet in Richmond. Dr. Boggs will attend the meeting for both days. Dr. Lankford will attend on the 14th only.

Supervisors' Meeting

Dr. Boggs will also attend the annual state meeting of all public school supervisors to be held at the Hotel Roanoke on February 17 and 18.

Drs. Ethel Sutherland and Blanche Badger have made plans for eight mathematics majors interested in teaching to attend the eleventh Conference for Mathematics Teachers at the University of Virginia on February 15.

Those students planning to attend are Betty Sue Barbee, Lucia Hart, Betty McClenny, Margaret Layman, Peggy Dickerson, Ann Garett, Mary Beth Picinich, and Sally Tilson. The professors Sutherland and Badger will accompany the group.

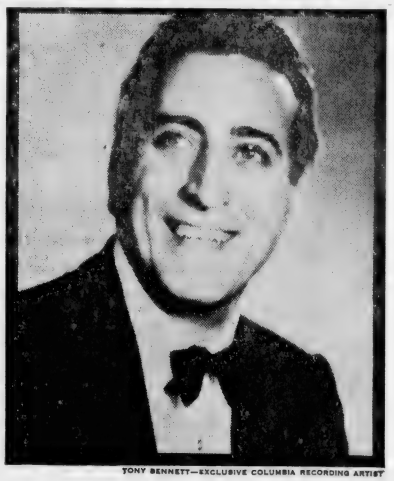
Our president, Dr. Francis Lankford, Jr., was the founder of this very popular mathematics conference when he was a professor at the University of Virginia.

Badger Attends Meeting

Dr. Blanche Badger, head of the Mathematics department, attended the forty-first annual meeting of the Mathematical Association of America, held in Cincinnati, Ohio, on Januuary 30-31. The lectures and panels of this meeting offered a wealth of information on the organization, the operating and planning of courses for mathematical institutes such as those sponsored by the National Science Foundation and the Shell Corporation. These instuitions are set up for training teachers in science and mathematics and are planned at various levels of study.

Another part of the Association's program gave information on the lectureship activities carried on under the sponsorship of this organization. The future plans promise opportunities for our college and others to secure outstanding popular lecturers in science and mathematics.

Interest in the Association was expressed not only by colleges but also business firms and industrial companies. All members of the Association were invited guests at a banquet sponsored by Avco Corp., Cincinnati Gas and Electrical Co., Cincinnati Milling Machine Co., General Electric Co., International Business Machine Corp., Procter and Gamble Co., Union Central Life Insurance Co., and Western and Southern Life Insurance Co.



Junior Dance

(Continued from page 1)

As is the custom the juniors will have a special dance. The conclusion of the evening for the class will be a party in the Tea Room lasting until 1:30 a.m. The girls and their dates will have refreshments there as they listen to high-fidelity music.

Forming the receiving line will be Dr. and Mrs. Francis G. Lankford, Miss Ruth Wilson, Mrs. Kathleen Cover, Mr. Raymond French, Helen Jean Young, class president, and the co-chairmen.

Tickets which are priced at $2.40 will go on sale February 17 outside the dining hall.

TONY BENNETT—EXCLUSIVE COLUMBIA RECORDING ARTIST

Tune Up With Tony

Get your exclusive TONY BENNETT autographed edition of hits. This remarkable record features songs like "Rags to Riches," "Cold, Cold Heart," "Come Next Spring," "Because of You"... six big hits in total! And it's all yours for only 25¢ ($1.29 value). Just pick up the coupon at the store where you buy Coca-Cola.

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

COPYRIGHT 1958 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by

LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Boxwood Tourist Court

and Restaurant

3 Miles South of

Farmville on Rt. 15

Phone 3027-5

WALKER'S RESTAURANT

Club Breakfast - Lunch

Course Dinners

FOUNTAIN SERVICE

Phone 3280

U. S. 360 and 460

Burkeville, Va.

"We've Put a Speedometer on the Stars!"

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

Support
Religious Emphasis
Week

The Rotunda

Attend
"Crystal Fantasy"
Saturday Night

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., February 19, 1958 | No. 11

Doles Announces Positions For New Rotunda Staff

Four Freshmen Accept Jobs

Appointments to staff positions for the 1958-59 Rotunda have been announced by Editor-in-Chief Linda Doles. The Rotunda's fiscal year, which normally runs from March to March, begins earlier than usual this year because of the graduation of several of the senior staff members. The purpose of the seniors' completing their duties on the staff so early in the semester is to give them a relief from their positions before graduation time.

Eckstrom, News Editor

Appointed News Editor is Judy Eckstrom, a junior elementary major from Roanoke. Judy served as Feature Editor on the previous Routnda staff. Cherry Gorham was named Assistant News Editor. Cherry is a freshman English major from Culpepper.

Henrietta Dollins, a junior English major from Lynchburg, assumes the position of Feature Editor. Henrietta previously served as Assistant News Editor.

Assuming the position as Sports Editor is Violet Scott, a junior business major from Smithfield. Working as assistant to Violet is Chris Kamen, a freshman elementary major from Richmond.

Virlinda Joyner, a junior elementary major from Jarratt, will continue her duties as Desk Editor, having Jo Ann Parsons, a freshman elementary major from Richmond, as her assistant.

Eleanor Gurganus, a junior social science major from Portsmouth, will head photography; Melinda Franklin, a junior art major from Richmond, is Art Editor.

Business Staffs

Working with Barbara Hurst, Business Manager, will be the circulation staff and the advertising staff. Gwen Melton, a junior business major from Richmond, is Circulation manager; and working as co-managers of advertising are Ella Gray, a junior English major from Gloucester, and Becky Parker,

(Continued on page 4)

Sigma Alpha Iota Established Here

The Longwood College music department has established a chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, a national honorary musical fraternity, on our campus.

Sigma Alpha Iota was founded at the University of Michigan in 1903 and now has chapters in 111 colleges and universities. It is one of the more outstanding national honorary musical fraternities in the United States.

Longwood Members

Miss Josephine Bailey and Mrs. Mary Kemble of the Longwood College faculty are members of SAI.

A meeting of the music majors on January 23 marked the beginnings of organizing our chapter; committees were appointed, and plans were made for future meetings. Again on February 6 an enthusiastic group of all music majors met for the first musical and tea at the home of Miss Josephine Bailey.

Yes, the Juniors have ordered their degree rings which shows that some have an optimistic feeling that they will graduate. The orders for the rings will be sent to the Balfour Company on Wednesday, February 26. Your ring will not be ordered until a $5 deposit is paid at Martin's. Please try to pay your deposit by the 26th since the sooner you pay, the quicker you'll receive your ring.

Program Set For Return Of Alumnae

Dr. Thomas Jefferson Wertenbacker will be the principal speaker at the Longwood College Founder's Day program for 1958.

Addressing the college alumnae on Saturday, March 15, Dr. Wertenbacker will speak on "Colonial Education in Virginia". This retired Princeton professor and authority on Thomas Jefferson, is currently spending a year lecturing at Hampden-Sydney College.

"Easter" Slated For Alumnae

Alumnae returning for Founder's Day will register on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. Among the events scheduled for the week end is "Easter" by August Strinburg. This touching and amusing drama of the Easter season will be presented on Friday and Saturday nights by the Longwood Players.

The Saturday program includes coffee at the Alumnae House, a program at Jarman Hall, dedication of the Peter Johnston marker at Longwood Estate, the business meeting, and Open House at the president's home.

Dance To Feature 'Aristocrats'

—Camera Artist

JUNIOR COMMITTEE HEADS are busy decorating the "rec" for their dance Saturday night. Shown left to right are: Barbara Staton, Anne Keziah, Barbara Odom, Nancy George, Sandy Fitzgerald, Melinda Franklin; front row: Cass Connor, Peggy Harris, Lou Heier, Cat Ozmon.

Program To Include Cha-Cha, Rumba

By CHERRY GORHAM

The "Aristocrats," a dance band composed of six instruments and a male singer, will highlight the Junior Dance Saturday, February 22, in the main "Rec" between 8 p. m. and midnight.

The group, which comes to Longwood from Roanoke, is a well-known one in that area, playing frequently at such places as the "Colonial Hills" and "Candlelight Club." Ottawa Pullen, the vocalist, has sung on television and is a winner of the Horace Height Show. The band plays a wide variety of music and, during the evening, will feature a Cha-cha and a rhumba in addition to a special number for the junior class' dance.

Heier and Franklin

The co-chairmen of the dance, Lou Heier and Melinda Franklin, will play important roles in bringing the "Crystal Fantasy" to life. Lou, a physical education major from Warwick, is secretary of the Athletic Association. She has participated in a variety of varsity sports such as hockey and basketball as well as playing on class teams. "Mo," whose home is in Richmond, is a member of the Cotillion Club, Rotunda staff, and Kappa Delta social sorority. Last fall she worked on publicity for the "Four Freshmen" concert.

Assisting the two are the following committee heads: decorations, Peggy Harris; lights, Sandy Fitzgerald; publicity, Anne Keziah and Cat Ozmon; tickets, Ann Glover; favors, Barbara Odom; business manager, Cass Connor; clean-up, Barbara Staton; invitations, Nancy George; junior party, Pat Leske; floor committee, Jackie Waller and Willie Taylor; and receiving line flowers, Helen Jean Young.

The following people have been asked to serve as chaperones for the dance: Dr. and Mrs. Jacobus Lodewijks, Miss Thelma Souder, Miss Josephine Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bittinger, Miss Elizabeth Burger, Mrs. Mildred Davis, Mrs. Sidney Eva, Miss Olive Iler, Mr. James McCombs, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Lane, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Meeker, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Merchant, Dr. and Mrs. John Molnar, Miss Mary Nichols, Dr. and Mrs. Francis Simkins, Dr. and Mrs. Rinaldo Simonini, Dr. Gardner Taplin, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Urben, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wamsley, Miss Eleanor Weddle, Dr. and Mrs. James Wellard, and Mr. David Wiley.

The juniors and their escorts will attend a party in the Tea Room between the close of the dance and 1:30.

Tickets priced at $2.40 are now on sale outside the dining hall after meals.

Heads Named By Barnett For May Day

Mary Ann Barnett, chairman of Longwood's 1958 May Day, has completed selections of committee heads for the annual festivities to be held May 3.

Barbara Bishop, a sophomore from Roanoke, has been chosen to head the committee on props. A junior from Suffolk, Nancy Knowles is court chairman; Nancy Brubeck, junior from Staunton, theme chirman; Cat Ozmon, junior from Portsmouth, costumes; and Carolyn DeHaven, sophomore from Radford, music.

Other chairmen are: seniors June Strother from Colonial Heights and Susie Barr from Winchester, dance; Betsy Joyner, freshman from Emporia, transportation; Marjorie Crismond, senior from Goby, publicity and programs; and sophomores Kay Kellum from Norfolk and Mary Linda League from Salem, dance.

These chairmen and their committees will begin plans immediately.

Revised Bill Restores Longwood Funds Cuts

By JOHN STECK

When the special 'bird dog' committee of the General Assembly found an additional $8 millions for appropriations above that recommended by Governor Stanley, it paved the way for greater teacher salary increases and restoration of requested funds for Longwood College.

The House Appropriations Committee Friday approved a 1958-60 budget bill with spending recommended for $408,783,000 from the general fund.

Special fund appropriations raise the state budget to a total of $1,062,702,000, or about 12 millions more than recommended by Governor Stanley.

With the additional funds, the Committee's budget, which will be the center of General Assembly attention this week, found $1,883,000 more for operating funds for state institutions of higher learning, and $2,867,000 more for buildings.

Longwood Funds

For Longwood College, the funds restored amounted to: $62,000 more for operations; and for capital outlays, $44,750 for a home management house, $25,000 for a library addition and $30,000 more for equipment.

Dr. F. G. Lankford, Jr., president of Longwood College, said after studying the Assembly committee's new budget recommendations that "the college is quite satisfied. We feel that we have been given most of the funds we needed and as we originally requested."

Shifting and adding more funds to state appropriations for teacher salaries resulted in the addition of $50 to the $200 provided in the original appropriations.

The salary funds will be applied in the amount of $150 for 1959 and $100 in 1960, bringing the state minimum-maximum scale from its present $2,400-$3,600 to $2,650-$3,850.

Explorer To Show Equador Oddities

Mr. Fred H. Morgan, Jr., from Richmond, will speak to Dr. Lane's Geography classes and any interested students and faculty on Thursday at 1:00 p.m. in the Audio Visual Room of the Library. Mr. Morgan, a registered pharmacist, is former President of the Archaeological Society of Virginia. He is a life member of the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts.

To Show Shrunken Head

During his talk, tomorrow, Dr. Morgan will speak on his trip to Equador where he visited tribes of primitive indians. Most important among these tribes were the Coloradas. Mr Morgan will display his curiosities and other finds from his trip. Among these articles will be a shrunken Jivaro head, native arrows and spears, a blow gun, a crocodile head, a Jaguar skin, and a ten-foot boa constrictor skin.

Assemblies for next week will include Rev. Sandridge, speaker for Religious Emphasis Week, on Tuesday, February 25 and Miss Harriet Fitzgerald, Virginia artist and lecturer, on Thursday, the 27th. Due to two assemblies, there will be none the following week of March 4.

Students To Give Recital Tomorrow

Thursday, February 20, at 4:00 p.m. in Jarman Hall, the Department of Music will present a student recital.

The following students will present vocal numbers: Kay Hudgins, contralto, offering "Out of My Soul's Great Sadness" and "Dedication" by Franz; Susanne Humphries, soprano, offering "Rain Has Fallen All the Day" by Barber and "When I Have Sung My Songs to You" by Charles; and Joan Dorsey, soprano, offering "Gictenacht" by Franz and "The Daisies" by Barber.

Those presenting music for the piano will be: Margaret Moore, offering "Courante" by Loeillet and "Giguo" from Sonata, opus no. 7, by Hasse; and Edith Ward, offering "Knecht-Ruprecht" by Schumann.

Your attendence is welcomed.

Traci Faison To Reign As Queen Of May Day

—Camera Artist

MAY QUEEN. TRACI FAISON, is surrounded by members of her court shown in cirle, left to right: Phyllis Bridgeforth, Beverly Kersey, Sallie Parrott, Amy McFall, Annis Norfleet. Second row: Peggy Dickerson, Liz Mostelier, Brendra Drewry, Ann Jeter, Ann Adams, Sue Taylor; front, Shirley Alcock, Betty Culpepper.

Ann Jeter To Serve As Maid of Honor

By JUDY ECKSTROM

May 3 will find Suzanne "Traci" Faison reigning as queen over May Day festivities in the dell at Longwood Estate, with Anne Jeter as her maid of honor. Homage will be paid to the beauties of Longwood on this day.

Traci, a senior from Norfolk, has been present on the May court all four years, culminating in being elected queen recently.

Traci has been active in many organizations during her four years, being president of freshman commission, president of the Spanish Club, and is currently president of Cotillion Club. She is also a member of Future Teachers of America, Spanish Club, Colonnade staff, Sigma Sigma Sigma, as well as being a Spanish major.

When asked her reaction on being told of her election, Traci stated, "I cried — that's all I could do." "I

(Continued on page 4)

Christ The Lord—My Lord?

All of us know and recognize that there is a being higher and more powerful than we. The might of the wind, the stillness of the snow, the sweetness of the flowers, the mystery of life itself — all of these keep us in awe of the All Mighty.

Yet, 'mid all the wonders of nature, itself, we as college students, appear to forget the significance of God as our personal friend. We accept the fact that Christ is the Lord, but we neglect Him as our "personal" Lord. When our schedule becomes too burdensome, when friends seem to be against us, when it rains and dampens our plans, we complain and grumble, forgetting to be thankful for the many blessings God has bestowed on us — the privilege of an education, health and strength, and the fact that we are citizens of a free country. Then, there are those who seek Christ only when they are in need. He is "our ever-present help in time of trouble," but He is just as much a help in time of joy. Don't wait until your life is not running smoothly or your plans fall through to call on God. Make Him a daily companion by constant prayer for others, as well as yourself; by reading the Holy Scriptures often, and living the kind of life stressed in the "Golden Rule."

Next week during Religious Emphasis Week, an opportunity will be given to each of us that we may better understand how to make Christ a personal friend. Our guest speaker, the Rev. J. Ed. Sandridge, of Richmond, will place emphasis on the theme — Christ the Lord — My Lord — in the nightly messages in Jarman Auditorium. We will also have the chance to talk personally with Rev. Sandridge in private conferences, as well as participating in nightly discussions, led by our local ministers and our speaker for R. E. W.

Support the activities of Religious Emphasis Week, and see what a change you will discover in your life when you truly make Christ — your personal Lord.

Mary Anne Foster
President of Y. W. C. A.

Let Us Hear From You

Every Wednesday, excepting vacation time, four printed pages of college news is distributed to the students and faculty on this campus. The front page is spread with big events — Circus, May Day, Graduation, Dances. Personalities — Circus chairman, May Queen, new presidents are featured, along with other bits of organization and faculty news. On other pages are the social notes, the sports news, the different columns — all for your information and entertainment.

And then there are these editorials. Have you ever considered for whom in particular this column is written? Or do you usually just skim over this and skip on to a story? Now, ask yourself this: How many times during the last week have you complained about some condition on campus, or praised some successful event or person, or felt the need to voice your opinion about anything concerning Longwood? Perhaps you just dropped it indifferently or decided there was nothing you could do about it anyway. But there is a way for you to voice your opinion and comment about our college — in letters to the editor. If you gave your personal opinions in letters to the Rotunda more people would read the editorials and your ideas, praise, requests, or complaints would be known. Until you begin to use the Rotunda in this way, its job as a student newspaper will not be complete. Until you stop talking and start doing, it will be of no service to your college life welfare. Not that we think any drastic condtions exist at Longwood, nor do we wish to start a crusade for any changes, but we would like each of you to feel that you can express yourself in your paper.

Letters to the editor will be carefully considered and checked before being printed. We don't want misunderstandings or biased opinions, but we do want to know how you feel!

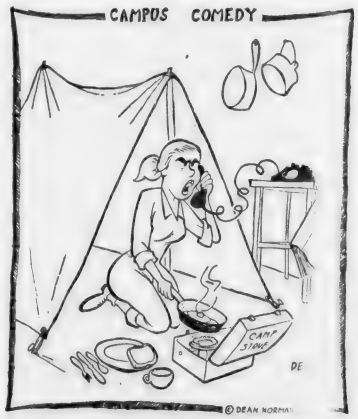
(The Rotunda news box is located across from the wires).

The Rotunda

Linda Doles ..... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors:

Bet McLoughlin, Patsy Powell



Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Judy Eckstrom ..... News Editor
Henrietta Dollins ..... Feature Editor
Violet Scott ..... Sports Editor
Virlinda Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Elaine Weddle ..... Photography Editor
Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Ann Hill ..... Advertising Manager
Dr. James Wellard ..... Faculty Advisor

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress on March 8, 1934.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association and Associated Collegiate Press, and Intercollegiate Press.

Unsigned editorials written by the editor.

Published weekly by the students of Longwood College. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service, Inc. Printed by The Farmville Herald. Office Box 168, Longwood College, Farmville, Va.

"Of course I haven't been waiting for you to call."

Socially Speaking . . .

Let It Snow!

By NANCY HARNSBERGER

This was a big week end for many Longwood girls, and the heavy snow didn't keep them away from the dances.

V. M. I.

Those girls who attended the mid-winter dances at V. M. I. were Vicki Brinkley, Bettie Culpepper, Melinda Franklin, Peggy Harris, Vee Weaver, Mary Anne Montague, Linda Moore, Carol Matthews, Ann Norfleet, Judy Hutchinson, Evelyn Alouf, Harriet Butterworth, Edith Darden, Betty Ann Harrell, Mary Ellen O'Conner, Hannah White, and Arlene Johnston.

V. P. I.

At V. P. I. mid-winter dances were Cornelia Batte, Peggy Dickerson, Sara Gayhart, Barbara Parkinson, Frances Patton, Jean Turner, Jane Adams, Ella Lou Gray, Charlotte Gray, Faye Garrett, Marilyn King, Charlotte Jewell, Shirley Lucy, Betty Spivey, Reba Westmoreland, Brenda Drewry, Barbara Fisher, JoAnn Garner, Kay Kellam, Virginia McAden, Becky McGrath, Norish Munson, Kitty Reid, Sandra Cheatham, Jean Johnson, Jeanette Townsend, Betty Lee Smith, Katherine Wallace, Norma Wilson, Lois Ogburn.

Down South

Ann Scott, Mary Lou McNabb, Callie Johnson, and Barbara Bolster traveled to Davidson College in N. C. to spend the week end. Fay Salmon, and Shelby Johnson spent the week end at N. C. State.

Other Parties

Carol Wise, Ann McDonald, Martha Rucker, and Rose Marie Price spent this winter week end in Ashland. Dodie Webster went to winter week end at Hartwiche in New York. Kay Hudgins went to Lynchburg College for the week end, and Jackie Gibson went to the rush parties at U. Va.

Annapolis

Sara Hackworth and Barbara Simpkins traveled to Annapolis, Maryland. The Four Freshmen and Ralph Marterie's orchestra were featured over the week end.

Pinned

Congratulations go to Elaine Weddle who is pinned to Walter Chestnut from the University of Michigan.

H-S

These girls also attended parties at the PiKA house on Feb. 8, Cat Ozmon, Anne Keziah, Charlotte Jewell, Jane Adams, Melinda Franklin, Jo Lynn Holland, Linda Houts, Katherine Wallace, Kitty Good, Barbara Rossiter, Barbara Williams, Pat Stout, Barbara Bolster, Judith Welch, Barbara Chaffin, Pat O'Neil, Dottie Gills, Hannah White, Louise Johns, Linda Forrest, Pat Wise, Jackie Pitts, Maryanna Overholt, Sheila Galloway, Lois Johnson, Pat Green, Cherron Kelley, Neil Ward, Joann Kleinicke, Jackie Gibson, Becky Woolridge, Sandy Snyder, Alice Layne, Harriett Butterworth, Jean Marie Heller, Betty Chappell, Beverly Kersey, Ann Coleman, Peggy Mullin, Gwen Keesee, Nancy Wallace, Mary Ellen O'Conner, Arlene Johnson, Judy Harris, Karen Potts, Frankie Click, Ann Scott, Ann Harding, Shirley Shepherd, Katherine Key, Sara Oliver, Pat Mitchell, Jill Greene, Kathe Hegnale, Yvonne Webb, Deanne Hogge, Norma Redmon, Ann Norfleet, Connie Michael, Marie Fisher, Beverly Gaskins, Billie Shores, Duner Cahill, Claudia Whipple, Sally Harney, Judy Ersler, Amy McFall, Page Bolick, Jean Dunagan, Ann Barnes, Carolyn Crocket, Ann Mixon, Helen Hillman, Nancy Knight, and Brenda Drewry.

Barter Schedules U.Va.Performance

The Barter theater production, "Nine by 6 . . . A Cry of Players" will be presented at 8:30 p. m., Friday, February 28, in Cabell HaHll at the University of Virginia.

The production is a panorama of the tragic and comic in the world's theater from the Greek tragedies to 20th century drama. Its name comes from the nine selections which are presented by six players.

Scholarship Benefits

The performance is being sponsored here by the University League which will use the proceeds towards the two $500 scholarships it gives each year to University of Virginia students who work in the Community Children's Theater in Charlottesville.

— from the Richmond-Times Dispatch.

College Plans Arts Festival

April 21-26 will bring to Longwood College her first Festival of Fine Arts. This combined effort of the various art groups on campus is designed to focus attention on our fine arts and make the art, music, dance, and drama programs of the college better known throughout the state of Virginia.

Faculty-Student Art Exhibits

During this week student art work will be on exhibit on the second floor of West Wing and in the lobby of Jarman Auditorium, while the recent work of the faculty of the art department will be shown in the browsing room of the library.

The Medium, an opera in English by Gian Carlo Menoti will be presented by the music department on Monday, April 21. Tuesday, Miss Josephine Bailey will present an organ recital, while on Wednesday, April 23, Jarman Auditorium will be the setting for the spring dance program. Mr. Walter Urben of the faculty of the music department will present a piano recital on Thursday, and the Longwood Player's and Alpha Psi Omega will present one act plays on Friday evening. In a combined concert on Saturday evening, the Longwood College Choir will sing with the University of Virginia Chorus.

Students To Play In Elman Concert

Mischa Elman, noted violinist, will be presented with the Roanoke Symphony Orchestra in two concerts on March 3 at the American Theater, Roanoke.

Longwood students who will participate in the concert are Joann Fivel, violinist, a junior elementary major from Roanoke, and Elaine Weddle, oloist, a junior music major from Roanoke.

Elman, a concert violinist from his childhood, continues as one of the most celebrated names in music history.

A program for children and young people will be presented at 2:00 p.m. The evening performance is scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

The concerts are being offered instead of the originally announced performance of Walton's "Belshazzar's Feast" which was to have featured fourteen Virginia choirs and the orchestra. The loss of the American Legion Auditorium left Roanoke without adequate facilities to accommodate several hundred members of the choir and orchestra.

Timely Topics

By BARBARA HECK

Vehicles and pedestrians were slowed down last week by Virginia's fifth and worst snowstorm of the winter. Sections of the state saw 15 inches, while Farmville stepped out into 10.5 inches of snow.

Senator Harry F. Byrd's surprise resignation announcement brought fourth two possible candidates for the Senate seat — John S. Battle and Rep. William M. Tuck. Virginia Democrats are in hopes that Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and Senator from Virginia for 25 years, will change his mind; but strong support is being given to the two ex-governors as possible successors. Other names mentioned for the race include former governors Colgate Darden and Thomas B. Stanley; present governor J. Lindsay Almond, Jr.; House Speaker E. Blackburn Moore; Rep. Watkins Abbitt and State Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Jr.

January unemployment in the nation reached 4½ million, the highest since World War II . . . The Hashemite Kings, Faisal of Iraq and Hussein of Jordan have joined countries into a Federal Union. The merger will strengthen Jordan's defense along the Israelli frontier. The union appears to be a reaction against the recent merger of Egypt and Syria now known as the United Arab Republic.

Los Angeles Dodgers catcher, Roy Campanella is cheerful despite his slow progress since he was involved in an auto wreck Jan. 28. Campanella is paralyzed from his chest down, and there is some doubt that he will ever walk again . . . In Dixon, Ill., Roger McKean, 19, complained to police that someone stole his car's hubcaps while he was in Lee County jail sitting out a $50 fine — for stealing hubcaps. (Time Feb. 17).

Damn Yankees

Attention Longwood Students:
"Tremendous Musical"
—McClain, Jrl. —Amer.
—Direct from New York—
A Cast of 65

February 20, 21, 22, at the Mosque in Richmond! This glorious musical played 300 performances on Broadway and has been acclaimed one of the greatest shows of all time.

Many Longwood students will journey to Richmond Friday night to see this great spectacular — thanks to the hard work of Miss Patterson, who has done so much in advancing the culture of Longwood College students.

Prices: $2.00—$4.00.

It's 'On The Road' For Thespians

By CAT OZMON

"Through rain or snow, sleet or hail, the show must go on!"

These are the unspoken thoughts which run through the minds of the Longwood Players. Particularly at the present season of the year, this adage holds true. With snow falling around them, heavily clad figures are seen trudging over the drifts toward Jarman Hall. But once inside, these figures come to life, lights go on, action begins, and "Boy With a Cart" is in rehearsal!

Written By Fry

Written by Christopher Fry, this play will be produced in Richmond Saturday, February 22 at the Virginia Drama Festival.

AMY McFALL

The cast for the production is amazingly large and they have an amazingly large job to do. As someone said, "We may have bitten off more than we can chew." However, with such an ingenious director and a hard-working crew, the onlookers believe this statement to be a fallacy.

Big Job Ahead

The big job this cast has to do involves many things, two of which are outstanding. First, the time element — these students will have had less than two weeks of rehearsal before their final performance; secondly, this play involves choral speaking. Two large groups of people speak various parts, comparable to the chorus of the old Greek plays. As anyone can understand, even when trying to get two people to say lines together is rather difficult. But, as so many times in the past, the Players will come through somehow.

"New Faces"

In this Virginia Drama Festival presentation on Saturday, new faces will be seen under the spotlight. Backed with the "know-how" of Amy McFall, Donna Boone, Charter Wells, Josie Cook, Beetle Bailey, Garnett Smith, John Lynn, Jim Jordan, Jerry Ringwald, and Nancy Morton; the new faces, many of which are freshmen, assume the role of old troupers. John Meyers and Scott Bowen are two new Hampden-Sydney faces who have come to play upon our stage. Included in the chorus are more new faces: Pat Baugh, Chris Kamen, Sally Thomas, Bonnie Keys, Kay Pierce, Ann Jenkins, Emily Shelton, and Dottie Gills. There you have a fresh new cast learning from "the oldsters" so they can begin to take over many and varied parts during the coming years.

DONNA BOONE

Talents Called Forth

"Boy With A Cart" calls forth particular talents from particular people. Cuthman, the boy (Scott Bowen), calls for a great amount of sincerity; his mother (Amy McFall), portrays a doubtful parent who loves her son very much; Lawn (Garnett Smith), conveys a warmth of character wihch attracts the Mother. Tibb and Matt (Bailey and Wells), are the fairly stupid and scornful onlookers; and then there is Mrs. Fipps (Josie Cook) who is a most delightful busybody.

Summing up the whole play in one sentence it can be said that "Boy With A Cart" is a particular play, with particular talents for particular players. To the cast we say, "Good luck for bringing back laurels from a good performance in the Capital city Saturday.

AAUW Encourages Creative Writing As Contest Is Opened For Virginians

The American Association of University Women Virginia Division is sponsoring a Creative Writing Contest to encourage non-professional writers in Virginia. The categories included are Poetry, Short Stories, Short-short Stories, Children's Stories, and Non-Fiction Articles or Essays. Residents of Virginia, both men and women, who are not professional writers, are eligible.

Two entries from one writer in any category are allowed except in Poetry where five poems may be sent. Manuscripts must be accompanied by a fee of one dollar, which will cover the entries from one person in one category. The writer's name and address should appear on the first page of the manuscript, and a self-addressed envelope with sufficient postage for return must be enclosed.

April 15 Deadline

Manuscripts must be sent by April 15, 1958, to the following:

Poetry, including poems for children, (5 poems maximum) to Mrs. Carter Harrison, 4609 Victoria Blvd., Hampton.

Short Stories (5,000 words or under, 2 MSS maximum) to Mrs. Yaro Skalnik, 1607 S. West St., Falls Church.

Short-Short Stories (1,5000 words or under, 2 MSS maximum) to Mrs. James R. McCahill, 2027 Minor Road, Charlottesville.

Children's Stories (2,500 words or under, 2 MSS maximum) to Mrs. W. H. Dixon, 218 Howeland Circle, Danville.

Non-Fiction Articles or Essays (2,500 words or under, 2 MSS maximum) to Mrs. Carl Holcomb, Price Hall, V.P.I., Blacksburg.

Committees chosen by the above will read the entries and select the best six, which will then be sent to an eminent judge in each field. The top three manuscripts in each category will be announced and the writers will be given certificates of award at the Highlands Festival in Abingdon next August. All participants are urged to attend.

Correspondence, other than manuscripts, should be sent to Mrs. A. D. Fraser, Chairman, 138 Madison Lane, Charlottesville, Virginia. For further information see Dr. Simonini, head of the English Department.

Church News

By ANN GLOVER

Baptist

Monday night, February 17, the Y.W.A.'s met at the Center. The program was centered on slides of Jamaica which Virginia Pearce took during her summer missionary work there.

Dr. Boggs will speak at Training Union Sunday night, February 23. The program will begin at 7 p. m. at the Church.

Noon-day devotions at the Center have involved a discussion on Courtship, Marriage, and Family last week and for the duration of this week. Everyone is invited to come since guest speakers will be featured several days.

Presbyterian

Rev. Al Smith spoke on the basic beliefs of the Presbyterian Church on Sunday, Feb. 16 at the Farmville Presbyterian Church. Passages of the Confession of Faith were spotted and special reference was made to the distinctive features of the Presbyterian Church, such as the representative form of church government. Following the program, fellowship was held at the church.

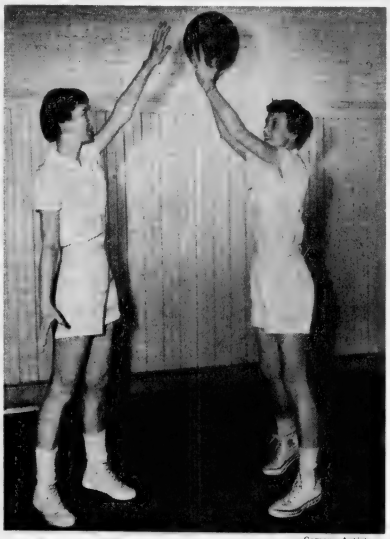
Bible study will be led by Dave Moore at the Presbyterian church on Wednesday at 7 p. m. All are invited to attend.

Interviewers Visit Longwood Seniors

As an aid to seniors, representatives from various schools throughout Virginia and from other states will continue interviews here at Longwood. Those interested in teaching jobs for the coming year may contact Mrs. Watkins for details.

Tomorrow, February 20, Mr. Potter from the Hartford county school system in Maryland will be on the campus. Mr. Burdette will represent the Bel Aire, Maryland, schools here the same day.

Monday, February 24, a representative from the Richmond city schools, Dr. Sisson, will be here. Mr. Johnson of the Langley Field school will arrive February 25. Coming from the Warwick city schools will be Mrs. Winder. She will hold interviews Wednesday, February 26.



A study retreat will be held at the church on Sunday, Feb. 23, beginning at 2 p. m. in preparation for the Roslyn Conference. "The Nature and Mission of the Church" will be the topic of discussion, and Dr. Donald Miller's book on this subject will be used. Bob Ewald, Tony Sherman, Bob Hippensteele, and Dave Moore are the discussion group leaders and the schedule for the day is as follows: 2:30-5:00 — discussion groups; 5:00 — church service; 6:00 — supper; 7:00 — discussion groups; 8:00 — fellowship hour.

The Westminster Fellowship conference of the Synod of Virginia, held at Roslyn Conference Grounds in Richmond, will convene on Feb. 28 and close on March 2. Dr. Frank Hall, an eminent scholar and Christian philosopher, will speak on "The Nature and Mission of the Church." All registration blanks must be in by Feb. 21, so all who wish to attend please contact Ann Glover for registration blanks and information.

TV TOPICS

Time	Channel	Wednesday, February 19
7:30	8	Hans Christian Andersen's "The Nightingale" will be offered on Shirley Temple's Storybook. Thomas Mitchell will star as the emperor and Liam Sullivan as the prince. The Kabuki dance troupe of Japan will be featured.
		Thursday, February 20
8:30	12	Terry Moore, James Best, Gene Raymond, Audrey Totter and Conrad Nagel will star in "The Secret Love of Johnny Spain," on Climax. Drama concerns a singing idol, killed in a plane crash three days before the premiere of his $4,000,000 movie.
9:00	6	Songstress Peggy Lee will be Pat Boone's guest.
9:30	12	Charlton Heston and Hope Lange will co-star in the Playhouse 90 dramatization of John P. Marquand's best-selling novel, "Point of No Return." The drama about man who must return to the past to understand the present, also will feature Katharine Bard, John Williams and Edward Andrews.
		Friday, February 21
7:30	12	A musical version of "Aladdin," with eight new songs by Cole Porter, will be offered on the Du Pont show. The 90-minute production will star Sal Mineo in the title role, Cyril Ritchard, Anna Maria Alberghetti, Dennis King, Basil Rathbone, Una Merkel and Ralph Nelson.

—From Richmond Times Dispatch

—Camera Artist

SENIOR BASKETBALL Co-Captain Margaret Dowdy (left), guards Co-Captain Nancy Richardson in mock practice.

Basketball, Volleyball Add Points For Color Cup Race

By VIOLET SCOTT

the second week in March will mark the beginning of another class-color competition for points leading to the possession of the coveted "Color Cup".

The class basketball and volleyball games are scheduled to start on March 10 with the traditional game between the sister classes marking the beginning of the three-game series. Basketball and volleyball games will be played on alternating days.

In order for a girl to be eligible to play in these games, she must obtain eight practices in each sport. The opening game between the sister classes may be counted as the eighth practice. Varsity basketball members are not required to obtain additional practices.

Winner Receives 5 Points

The winner of each of these games receives five points. As of now, the "green and whites" lead with ten points as a result of the fall hockey matches. Due to unfavorable weather conditions, the fall tennis matches were not completed and will be continued in the spring.

The freshmen should now be aware of the rivalry between the classes in obtaining possession of the "Color Cup." The "green and whites" have had possession of the cup for the past two years, but the "red and white" competition is heavy.

Everyone, please come out and support your class color. Your support is needed in the bleachers as well as on the court. Help make your team the winner.

General volleyball practices are scheduled for Monday and Wednesday at 5 p. m. Basketball practices are held on Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p. m. Don't forget that you have only three more weeks in which to accumulate your eight practices. Be sure to sign your name on the general practice sheets in order that the managers may keep a record of your practices.

Oaths!

Why do we raise the right hand when taking an oath?

This right hand raising is a universal practice. The right hand is considered the one of authority. Looking to the past, we learn that Roman praetors raised it to indicate enforcement of the law. The raising of the right hand has passed from the strong-arm salute to the modern day fascism.

In early England courts, the oath was taken with right hand raised, palm out, as a means of identifying witnesses with a criminal record. All criminals were branded "C" on the right palm.

Basketball Squad Led By Dowdy, Richardson

Co-Captains To Offer Experience to Team

By CHRIS KAMEN

Seniors Margaret Dowdy and Nancy Richardson have been selected as co-captains of this years basketball team. Margaret, a physical education major, hails from Altavista while Nancy, a Biology major, comes from Grundy.

As co-captains, their job involves deciding with the assistance of Miss Iler and the basketball manager what girls will lead off in the game. They also report the starting lineup to the timekeeper and scorekeeper, call time outs whenever necessary, and act as the spokesmen of the team.

To Select Lineup

"We were very pleased to be chosen co-captains of the team and we feel that it is goint to be extremely hard to select a starting lineup from this year's excellent well-rounded team which consists of all dependable players," stated both girls in response to their newly acquired title.

Margaret has been playing basketball since her high school days when she was regarded as one of the team's most valuable guards. She has been a first string player here at Longwood since her Sophomore year.

Nancy's basketball experience goes back to her freshman year of high school where she started playing on the first string team and she has continued to do so up to the present day here at Longwood.

Keep In Tip Top Shape

They added that they take every available opportunity to practice and participate in the sport in order to keep themselves in tip top shape for the games.

Both Margaret and Nancy gave their opinion of basketball as a game and sport by saying, "Basketball is our favorite of all sports and we find the game very accessible in meeting many differnent people."

Blue Blazer Winner

Margaret is President of the Monogram Club, captain and manager of this year's varsity hockey team, a member of the A. A. Council, F.T.A., and Cotillion Club. Earlier this year she won a blue blazer for her outstanding participation in sports.

White Blazer Winner

Nancy, a recipient of a white blazer, is vice-president of the A. A. Council, treasurer of the Monogram Club, a member of the H2O club, Kappa Delta Pi national honor society in education, Science club, and Kappa Delta social sorority.

Due to hazardous weather conditions the basketball game scheduled for Saturday at Madison College was concelled. No date has been set for the game. On Friday, February 20, Longwood will play R.P.I. in the second home game of the season. The game is scheduled to begin at 6:45 p. m. Two games will be played.

Sports Summary

By JACKIE WALLER

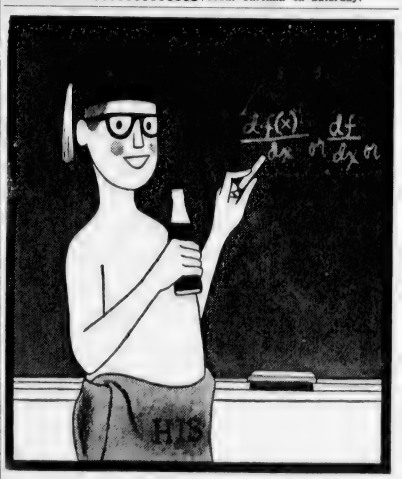
Friday night in Waynesboro, William and Mary romped to an easy 79-61 Southern Conference Victory over V.M.I. Meanwhile in Charlottesville, the Clemson's Tigers were "held" by Virginia as the Cavaliers took a solid grip on the fifth place in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

H-S On Top

Hampden-Sydney retained top berth in the Mason-Dixon Conference by defeating Western Maryland's Green Terrors 79-58. The Tigers have a season mark of 13-4, their only loss in the conference being to Roanoke's Maroons earlier last week.

Saturday night and the snow saw two overtime decisions. Pitt defeated Navy 85-83. In a thriller in Raleigh, North Carolina's Wolfpack overcame a 14 point halftime deficit to defeat Maryland 69-64 in triple overtime.

Swimming Triumphs



The University of Virginia emerged victorious from two weekend swimming meets with a Valentine's Day victory over Clemson 47-30, followed by a 52-33 decision over South Carolina on Saturday.

OUT OF SCHOOL SUPPLIES?
Then Come On Down to
NEWBERRY'S

MANY BOOKS ½ OFF
for
Washington's Birthday
(One Day Only)
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
200 High Street

Come to
GRAY'S
To See Our COMPLETE LINE
of
COSMETICS AND TOILETRIES

FOR JEWELRY, SILVER OR CHINA
visit
MARTIN The Jeweler

"Snoopy" is a registered trade-mark, reproduced with the consent of the owner.

Absent-minded Professor

Not so absent-minded when you get right down to it. He remembered the most important item—the Coke! Yes, people will forgive you almost anything if you just remember to bring along their favorite sparkling drink—ice-cold Coca-Cola. Do have another, professor!

Drink Coca-Cola
SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Seniors Lead Area Classes For Practice

Fifty-three Longwood seniors are doing student teaching this semester in the Farmville vicinity.

The 31 Elementary majors who are currently teaching in the Farmville Elementary School during the spring semester of '58 include the following: Kindergarten — Cornelia Batte; First Grade — Virginia Umberger; Lucia Hart, and Jeanne R. Diggs; Second Grade — Alice Sawyer, and Grace Bowles; Third Grade — Elaine Handy; Fourth Grade — Sylvia Moore, Allene Glascock, and Mary Louise Price; Fifth Grade — Peggy Dickerson, Nancy Thomas; Sixth Grade — Mary Alice Henry, and Maxine Crowder; Seventh Grade — Carol Lash, June Strother, and Zillah Shafer; Art, Grades 6 and 7 — Sarah Gayhart; Art, Grades 2 through 7 — Madeline Bailey; Music — Roselyn Epps.

The 32 secondary majors who are currently student teaching at Farmville High School for the spring of '58 include the following: Shirley Alcock — Government and History 8; Judy Alexander — English IV; Lucille Ferguson — Home Economics 8; Patricia Fore, Shorthand I; Anne Foster — English III and English 9; Rosalie Gear, Bookkeeping; Charlotte Hall — Typing; Jackie Harnsberger — Home Economics II; Shirley Hauptman — English III and English 9; Joyce S. Hutcheson — Library Practice; Kate Krehbiel — American History; Virginia Londeree — Science 8 and 9; Linda Miller — Bookkeeping; Mary Miller — Home Economics III; Frances Patton — American History and History 8; Mary Beth Picinich — Biology and Algebra I; Jo Anne Scarborough — Biology and World History; Betty Spencer — Typing II; June Strother — History 8; Sally Tilson — Algebra I; Jeanne Vestal — Physical Education; Pat Walton — English II and English 6; Carolyn Ward — Typing II, Alta Ann Wheeler — Library Practice; Mary Carter Younger — Shorthand II; Ruth Zich — Typing I.

Those secondary majors doing their student teaching at Worsham High School are: Jane Crute — Typing I and II; Sara Gayhart — Art; Ellen Webb — Shorthand I and Typing I; and Gwendolyn White — Shorthand II.

Also, there is one secondary education major teaching at Crewe High School and one at Cumberland High School. They are respectively Nancy Anderson and Anne Presson — Business.

—The Camera Artist

SHIRLEY ALCOCK, Longwood's Apple Blossom Representative

Alcock To Represent Longwood At Festival

By JO ANNE PARSONS

Shirley Alcock will take part in the annual springtime extavaganza, Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival, to be held in the famous Shenandoah Valley of the Virginias at Winchester during the last week of April.

Selected by the administration to represent Longwood at the pageant, Shirley said, "I was quite surprised and honored to have been chosed to travel to the festival this year."

This springtime spectacle features concerts, luncheons, dinners, parades, pageants, animal shows, and natural wonders, all of which are just a few of the listed events that will take place.

Member of Queen's Court

Shirley, who has witnessed the festival in previous years, states, "I feel it is one of the prettiest and most entertaining festivals Virginia puts on." She will be one of the 33 princesses to decorate the floats this year and also a member of Queen Shenandoah's court.

Two formal balls will be given honoring the Apple Blossom Queen and her court. Members of the Queen's court may choose their own escorts or have one selected for them from such schools as VMI, VPI, or W and L. "Your escort stays with your during the whole festival," said Shirley, "and the Queen's ball draws the Shenandoah Apple Blossom to a close for another year," she concluded.

Shirley is a member of the Pi Kappa Sigma social sorority, Pi Gamma Mu Honor Society, Athletic Council, May Court, and is vice president of the Pan Hellenic Council. She is majoring in History and Social Studies here.

May Queen

(Continued from page 1)

still find it hard to believe, but it is something that I will always remember."

First Appearance

In her role as maid of honor, Ann Jeter, a senior from Lynchburg, will be appearing in the court for the first time. A biology and general science major, Ann is also a member of Cotillion Club, H2O Club, and Kappa Delta social sorority.

On the court will also be Betty Brown Culpepper, a junior from Suffolk, for the third year. For the second time will be seen Peggy Dickerson, a senior from Lynchburg; Sue Taylor, a senior, Richmond; Ann Adams, junior, Montross; Sally Parrott, a junior, Standardsville; and Ann Norfleet, sophomore, Norfolk.

Those making their initial appearance will be Liz Mosteller, senior from Warwick; Shirley Alcock, senior, Hampton; Brenda Ray Drewry, sophomore, Boykins; Beverley Kersey, freshman, Richmond; and Phyllis Bridgeforth, freshman from Norfolk.

These girls were selected by the student body from a group of about thirty girls who should all receive recognition.

Rotunda Staff

(Continued from page 1)

an elementary major from Goochland.

Heading various columns in the Rotunda will be: Nancy Harnsberger, Social Notes, with Jackie Gibson as her freshman assistant; and Ann Glover, Church News. Other columnists are: Elaine Weddle, Barbara Simpkins, Cat Ozmon, Pat Leake, Barbara Heck, Alice Cheatwood, and Mary Douglas Stokes.

Reporters

Those girls assuming jobs as reporters are: Martha Rucker, Carole Vick, Bebe Riggins, Pat Rhodenhizer, Dotsie Wheeler, Rose Marie Lawrence, Jo Ann Fivel, Delo Dove, Nancy Lechler, and Faye Garrett.

The circulation staff includes: Joan Brooker, Connie Carlton, Cass Connor, Dottie Cothern, Amanda Dillon, Diane Doughty, Barbara Ensmann, Faye Garrett, Charlotte Gray, Shirley Howard, Sue Jett, Ann LeBonte, Charlottee McGhee, Becky McGrath, Carole Manley, Frances Mann, June Lee May, Helen Pals, Kay Pierce, Norma Routt, Mary Robbins, Linda Saunders, Sue Ellen Sites, Nancy Thomas, Sally Thomas and Shirley Wilson.

Last year, in the annual Reed & Barton contest, Addie Richardson, Longwood College sophomore, won a place setting in her favorite china, crystal, and silver patterns. After naming the three patterns she liked best, in a few words she gave the reasons why she chose them.

The "Silver Opinion Competition" is now in progress. The last date in which you can enter is March 31. Miss Melinda Franklin, the student representative at Longwood, will furnish entry blanks.

HUNGRY?
THIRSTY?
TIRED?
See You At
The SNACK

Boxwood Tourist Court
and Restaurant
3 Miles South of
Farmville on Rt. 15
Phone 3027-5

Be Sure to Get YOUR CORSAGES
and BUTTONAIRES
for Junior Dance
from
CARTER'S FLOWER SHOP
116 W. Third St.
Phone 600

DEAR STATIONERY
½ PRICE
100 Sheets With 50
Envelopes
$1.00 box for 50c
on 22ND ONLY
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

WALKER'S RESTAURANT
Club Breakfast - Lunch
Course Dinners
FOUNTAIN SERVICE
Phone 3280
U. S. 360 and 460
Burkeville, Va.

LC Students To Attend Music Clinic

A clinic of vocal and instrumental music will be held in Hagerstown, Maryland, February 21 and 22. A few of the music students plan to represent Longwood at this meeting. Dr. Revelli, director of the Bands at the University of Michigan will be featured in the instrumental program.

Florida State

Mr. Walter E. Urben, assistant professor of music, represented the Music Department of Longwood College at the Music Teachers' National Association Convention, held February 9-12 at Florida State University at Tallahassee, Florida.

This was the second biennial convention of the MTNA Southern Division which included representatives from the states of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Tennessee.

Boggs To Attend Chicago Meeting

Dr. Boggs plans to attend the meeting of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education February 20-22. The meeting will take place in Chicago at the Conrad Hilton Hotel which will be the headquarters of the Association.

Divisions of this association will discuss "New Approaches to Teacher Education", "Accredation in Education", "Experimentation in Teacher Education", and "Language and Arts in Teacher Education". A meeting of the Deans of the Colleges of Education will also be held.

Prominent Speakers

Prominent speakers appearing on the program will include among many others Dr. Donald P. Cottrell, Dean of the College of Education, Ohio State University; Dr. Stephen M. Corey, Dean, Teachers College, Columbia University; Dr. William K. Seldon, Executive Secretary, National Commission on Accrediting; Dr. John W. Gardiner, President, Carnegie Corporation of New York; Dr. Forrest W. Murphy, Dean of the School of Education, University of Mississippi.

Three Sectional Clubs Formed At Longwood

Three new sectional clubs are now being formed on the campus, for the purpose of bringing girls together with mutual interests, from the same districts of the state.

Roanoke Club

The Roanoke Club, which is sponsored by Miss Eleanor Weddle, is open to students from the Vinton, Salem, and Roanoke areas. Officers are Anne Keziah of Roanoke, president; Virginia Price of Salem, vice president, and Charlotte Jewell of Salem, secretary-treasurer. The Roanoke Club held its first meeting in November, and is still in the process of being cleared for recognition. Members now number about 30, with hopes of an increase. A "Rec" dance is planned sometime during the year, and a party or picnic is being considered in May. It is the purpose of the club to help with school drives, and to interest High School seniors who plan to attend Longwood in becoming members.

Lynchburg Club

The Lynchburg Club is also called South-Central Virginia Club, and to be eligible for membership, students must be from Campbell County, Bedford County, Pittsylvania County, Appomattox County, Lynchburg and Danville. Officers are June Lee May of Lynchburg, president; Charlotte McGhee, vice president; Charlotte Hall of Chatham, secretary; and Annie Mae Williams of Danville, treasurer. Dr. Simkins is the club's sponsor.

The constitution of the new Lynchburg Club is presently being passed and approved by Dr. Lankford. A picture will appear in the 1958 Virginian, and the club hopes to increase in size.

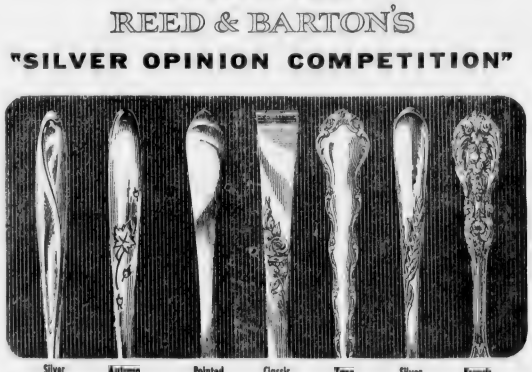
S. W. Virginia Club

The Southwest Virginia Club includes a large area from West Virginia up to the section around Roanoke. The club is sponsored by Mr. Bittinger, and officers are Pat Baugh of Amonate, president; Peggy Harris of Bluefield, West Virginia, vice president; Mary Lou McNabb of Bluefield, secretary; Ernestine Stoltz of Christiansburg, treasurer; and Helen Hillsman of Norton, reporter. The Club, composed of 25 or 30 members, has held one meeting since its constitution was approved several weeks ago. They have been scheduled for the first Thursday in each month. An informal party in conjunction with another sectional club is being planned, and the secretary is now corresponding with high schools in the district to secure lists of prospective students coming to Longwood.

Orchesis Issues Twenty-Seven Bids

Orchesis issued 27 bids to the following girls Wednesday night, Feb. 12, during a Coffee Hour in the Student Lounge: Pat Baugh, Justine Blount, Elaine Brown, Phyllis Bridgeforth, Frankie Click, Pat Cleveland, Elaine Chaffin, Elsie Dick, Jean Dunagan, Pat Green, Connie Goodman, June Elmore, DeAnne Hogge, Norma Jean Johnson, Margaret Jefferies, Demetria Koumparakis, Miriam Lambiotte, Bonnie Mann, Frances Mann, Norrish Munson, Amy McFall, Peggy Love, Pat Reyes, Addie Richardson, Jeanette Townsend, Nancy Wallace, Yvonne Webb.

Greensboro Trip



The group will next appear at the Arts Festival held at the Woman's College in Greensboro, North Carolina. About 12 colleges from Virginia and North Carolina will be represented. The Longwood group will leave March 14th and will stay till the 15th. Merce Cunningham, renowned modern dancer and choreographer, will be there for the week end to instruct and perform.

Twenty-Four Girls Accept FBLA Bids

Twenty-four girls were recently initaited into the Future Business Leaders of America on campus. Those becoming members are Martha Hart, Ruth Ingram, Mary Thomas Owen, Evelyn King, Janet Stanley, Norma Wilson, Evelyn Adams, Mary Ellen O'Connor, Lee Page, Linda Totty, Barbara Sue Williams, Lois Johnson, Dottie Morris.

Also Anna Margaret Lacy, Gwen Keesee, Rebecca Jane Davis, Mary Hayes, Frances Weaver, Pat Barrow, Beretta Zeoman, Brenda Green, Jeanne Parsons, Kay Revelle, and Alice Raines became members.

We have your favorite sterling pattern as featured in
REED & BARTON'S
"SILVER OPINION COMPETITION"

Silver Sculpture $36.75 | Autumn Leaves $36.75 | Pointed Antique $33.75 | Classic Rose $35.00 | Tara $36.75 | Silver Wheat $33.75 | French First $39.75

Do these patterns look familiar? Then you've no doubt seen them on bulletin boards throughout your campus. They're featured in Reed & Barton's "Silver Opinion Competition" now being conducted at your college. Stop in soon and see how beautiful these patterns are in actual solid silver. Can't tell — it may be all the inspiration you need to win one of the valuable scholarship prizes!

*All prices are for 6-piece place settings, and include Federal tax

Martin
THE JEWELER
"Gifts That Last"
FARMVILLE, VA.

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

Attend
Religious Emphasis
Service Tonight

The Rotunda

See
Science TV Program
Saturday

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., February 26, 1958 | No. 12

Brubeck, Bishop Named Publications' Editors

May Day Theme to Feature Peter Pan Story For Program, Dances

May Day Chairman, Mary Anne Barnett and Theme Chairman Nancy Brubeck have announced that the theme for May Day will be centered around the story of Peter Pan. The program, to be given in the Dell at Longwood Estate before the crowning of the Queen, is sponsored by Student Government, and is put on entirely by the students.

The hour-long event on May Day will honor Queen Traci Faison and her court. A formal dance that night in the main "Ree" will conclude the festivities.

From the pages of James Barrie's book will step Peter Pan, Wendy, and her three brothers, Tinkerbell, Captain Hook, the Indian princess Tiger Lily, and even the Darling's faithful dog Nana. Supporting these characters will be a troupe of dancing pirates, mermaids, Indians, and other figures from the story. One will journey with Peter Pan and the lost boys through the enchanting land of Never, discovering skulking Indians, fierce pirates, and captivating fairies. A narrative linking the acts will aid further in developing the familiar plot. The traditional may-pole dance will conclude the program.

Try-outs will be held at a later date for the leading roles in the pantomine as well as for the narrator's part. From the freshmen physical education classes and from interested upper - classmen will come the groups performing the various dances.

Committees Already Busy

Committees, selected by chairman Mary Ann Barnett, are already at work. They are as follows: Barbara Bishop, props; Nancy Knowles, court; Nancy Brubeck, theme; Cat Ozmon, costumes; Carolyn DeHaven, music; June Strother, Susie Barr, Kay Kellum, and Mary Linda League, dance; Betsy Joyner, transportation; Margie Crismond, publicity and programs. See picture below.

By Cherry Gorham

Committee Sets Major Elections

Amanda Dillon, chairman of major and minor elections at Longwood, has announced that the student body will select major officers for 1958-59 at elections on Tuesday, March 4 and Thursday, March 6. Students will eliminate one of the three candidates at the polls on Tuesday and choose between the remaining two on Thursday.

Candidates, to be announced Sunday, are chosen on the basis of ability, willingness to work, academic standing, and popularity by a committee composed of the heads of major oganizations and campus publications. Committee members are Frances Patton, president of the Student Government Association, Mary Ann Foster, president of the Young Women's Christian Association, Carol Wolfe, president of the Athletic Association, Sue Taylor, president of the House Council, Ann Brierly, editor of The Virginian, and Pat Walton, editor of The Colonnade. Ann Hill, former advertising manager of The Rotunda was chosen to represent this publication because committee members must be seniors.

Officers for minor positions will be chosen by the same procedure in elections to be held on Tuesday, March 11, and Thursday, March 13. All students will vote at polls in the Rotunda for both elections and ballots may be cast from one to six o'clock in the afternoon.

Camp Selected Head Of Petitioning Group

The group petitioning the national honorary music society, Sigma Alpha Iota, chapter membership has elected the following officers.

Camp To Lead Group

Sophomore Adair Camp, of Arlington, has been elected president. Nancy Taylor, junior from Lynchburg has been elected vice president. Serving as secretary will be Junior Margaret Moore from Portsmouth. Junior Dot Marshall from Manassas was elected treasurer and serving as social chairman will be Jo Ann Garner, Sophomore from Chase City.

NANCY BRUBECK

BARBARA BISHOP

Festival To Feature Opera 'The Medium,' By Menotti

The first event in the Longwood College Festival of Fine Arts will be the performance of "The Medium," an opera by the Italian American, Gian-Carlo Menotti, in Jarman Hall on Monday evening, April 21. Mr. James K. McCombs, Assistant Professor of Music, will produce and direct the opera.

"The Medium" was first produced in 1946 at Columbia University in New York City. It was immediately put on Broadway, where it had a highly successful run. It is today one of the most popular of the English language operas. The story is one of intense drama, and concerns a woman who pretends to be a medium. She, Madame Flora, convinces several lonely parents that she is able to contact the spirits of their dead children. Madame Flora succeeds with the ruse with the aid of her daughter, who conceals herself behind a curtain and pretends to be the spirits. The seances continue until the medium begins to hear voices which cannot be explained. The climax of the play is powerful.

Allen Leads Cast

The members of the cast for the opera are:

Monica, daughter of Madame Flora, Gay Allen; Toby, a mute, Joan Dorsey; Madame Flora, (Baba), Joann Fivel; Mrs. Gobineau, JoAnn Sloop; Mr. Gobineau, Ann Barnes; Mrs. Nolan, Rosalyn Epps; A Voice, Karen Potts; Accompanists, Margaret Moore and Nancy Taylor.

Representatives from three school systems will visit Longwood in the next two weeks to interview interested seniors. Mr. Thompson from the Chesterfield county schools will be here Monday, March 3. Mr. Bryant will come March 11 from the Quantico Post school. The following day, March 12, a representative from the Montclair, New Jersey, school system will hold interviews.

The Publications Committee announces that Junior Nancy Brubeck has been selected to edit The Colonnade and Sophomore Barbara Bishop to edit The Virginian for 1958-'59. Juniors Betty Griggs and Dottie Boswell were chosen to fill the positions of Business Managers for The Colonnade and The Virginian, respectively.

These girls, outstanding in publications work at Longwood, were selected by the committee last week and will assume their new positions for the new fiscal year beginning in March.

Brubeck States Goals

Nancy, an English major from Staunton, states her new editorial goals: "Not only should we keep the literary standards of the magazine high, but the magazine should also appeal to the student body because it is their magazine. The only way this can be done is through contributions by the students. This is to be my aim."

Becoming interested in literary work while enrolled in the Creative Writing class as a freshman, Nancy has previously served as Poetry Editor of the magazine. Not only interested in poetry and short story writing, she also enjoys sketching and water color painting.

She is a member of Student Government, Alpha Kappa Gamma, Longwood Players, and Pi Delta Epsilon.

Art Interests Bishop

Becoming interested in publications in high school, Barbara served on the art staff of the yearbook while attending Jefferson Senior High School. She began work on The Virginian last spring.

An art major from Roanoke, Barbara plans to become an art teacher upon graduation. She is particularly interested in oil painting.

"I have thoroughly enjoyed working on The Virginian and am very happy to have been chosen editor for 1958-'59. Although we are sorry that 'Mr. Mac' will not be with us next year, but I am very pleased that Miss Bedford will be our new advisor," Barbara commented.

She also holds membership in the Roanoke Club and Theta Sigma Upsilon, social sorority. She is props chairman for May Day and served as co-chairman of the float committee for Circus, which won first place for the Sophomore Class.

Griggs Accepts Second Term

A business major from Norfolk, Betty Griggs also served as business manager of The Colonnade last year. She became interested in The Colonnade her freshman year when she was a member of the staff as a typist. Betty is a graduate of Maury High School.

She is also a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, Cotillion Club, and Sigma Sigma Sigma, social sorority, and was a member of Freshman Commission.

As hobbies, Betty enjoys water skiing, swimming and boating.

Boswell Business Manager

Dottie Boswell, an Elementary Education major from Midway Island, became orientated into the business field while a member of the annual staff at Stafford High School. She became assistant business manager of The Virginian in '57, after holding staff membership during her freshman and sophomore years.

BETTY GRIGGS

In addition to being interested in publications, Dottie also enjoys sketching and painting with water colors, and reading. As a hobby, she reads and collects poetry, especially admiring the works of Robert Frost.

Dottie Boswell

She is a member of House Council and served as house president her freshman and sophomore years. She also holds membership in Pi Delta Epsilon.

By Henrietta Dollins

The Longwood College Music Department will present a Student Recital Thursday, March 6, at 4:00 in Jarman Hall.

The program will feature piano and vocal selections.

Your attendance is welcomed.

Toynbee Speaks To W & L Audience

Dr. Arnold Toynbee, world famous English historian, is now delivering a series of monthly lectures at Washington and Lee University this spring.

Several members of the Longwood faculty attended the lectures given by Mr. Toynbee during the first part of February and were favorably impressed with his delivery. "Mr. Toynbee expounds quite freely on all sorts of ideas and theories," remarked Dr. Simkins, history professor.

Dr. Toynbee holds many honorary degrees: Hon. D. Litt (Oxon, Birmingham and Columbia), Litt. D. (Cambridge), D.C.L. (Princeton); F.B.A., 1937. He was educated at Winchester (Scholar: Balliol College, and Oxford (Scholar). He has been Director of Studies in the Royal Institute of International Affairs since 1925 and Research Professor of International History in the University of London. He was director of Foreign Research and Press Service, Royal Institute of International Affairs 1939-43

Among his publications are: Nationality and the War and 1915. The New Europe, and War and Civilization, 1951. His famous ten volume history of civilization entitled A Study of History is proclaimed by some critics to be one of the

(Continued on page 4)

Burger To Lead Science TV Show

A three-program series on the moon will be presented on television channel 8 from 1:30 to 2 p.m. the next three Saturdays, March 1, 8, 15.

Miss Elizabeth Burger, Longwood College associate professor of natural sciences, is planning and directing the programs, to be presented on the "Education Speaks" program, with the assistance of Longwood students Betty Spivey, of Windsor, and Catherine Ozmon, of Portsmouth.

The series is planned for fifth grade teachers. Two of the programs will be on background subject matter, materials and demonstrations for teachers, and the third will show a classroom study of the moon. Mrs. Joseph Goodie and some of her pupils of Farmville Elementary School will be featured on the third program.

See picture on Page 4.

Freshmen To Give Minstrel Program

An old-fashioned minstrel will entertain Longwood College students when the freshman class presents its annual production March 21. Doris Webster has been elected chairman of the event which will be held in Jarman Hall at 8 p.m.

Committees Named

The various committee heads which have begun plans already are as follows: Jeanne Evans, make-up; Brenda Parsley, costumes; Betty Elliott and LaVerne Collier, advertising; Betsy Wheeler and Pat Rhodenhizer, ushers; Gwen Keesee, programs; Matilda Powell, staging; Cecil Kidd, props; Bobbyee Bolster, lighting; and Jean Dancey, chorus.

Tickets will be sold for 35 cents.

H. C. Ozmon

MAY DAY COMMITTEE HEADS gather around Chairman Mary Anne Barnett to discuss plans for the May 3rd event. Left to right, front row: Margorie Crismond, Barnett, Cat Ozmon, Barbara Bishop; second row: Nancy Knowles, Janet Lloyd, Nancy Brubeck; back row: Carolyn DeHaven, Mary L. League, Kay Kellam, Susie Barr. (See story above.)

It's Up To You!

To the students of Longwood College, I would like to stress the importance of the coming major — minor elections.

Each year the nominating committee, composed of the heads of the major organizations and the editors of the three publications, meets and nominates girls to lead you, the student body, for the coming year. That is as much as our committee can do — the rest is up to you. It is your duty as a student of this college to support these organizations and VOTE. You have the privilege to choose whom your leaders will be.

So many times a statement such as this has been made, "that girl isn't qualified, how did she get elected?" Usually the student who is doing the griping did not exercise her right to vote. If you don't vote — don't gripe!

Your duty does not stop with voting; after the girl has been elected she needs the support of each and every girl on this campus. Get to know these girls and be ready and willing to help them out in every way you can.

One last thought — the best looking girl or the girl whom you know by personality alone is not necessarily the best candidate. This is not a popularity election, it is an ability election.

See you at the polls!

Amanda Dillon, Chairman of Student Elections

'Rec,' Not Wreck

We are fortunate in having a Snack Bar and Recreation Hall on our campus where students, as well as dates, faculty, and administration can spend leisure time and enjoy snacks. We are lucky too, to have such a well-equipped room with plenty of space and a pleasant atmosphere. But lately this privilege of using the "Rec" has been sorely abused — strewn napkins, crushed cigarettes, bits of torn paper, all thrown on the floor, do not make a pleasing appearance.

This general condition of the "Rec" has been such an eye-sore recently that it has been called to the attention of the Snack Bar Committee. Surely every student has enough personal pride to be neater, and more consideration for others than to let this situation continue. This problem also results in time and trouble for others. The ladies who are in charge of the Snack Bar have to work fast to keep the tables cleaned off; we can certainly show our appreciation for their courteous service by doing our part in keeping the floors uncluttered.

In the Snack Bar proper there is a trash can beside the freezer; outside, napkins, straws, and other papers can be left on the tables; and more ashtrays will be provided if necessary.

We can all cooperate to make Longwood a neater, more pleasant place in which to live — lets begin by being proud of our "Rec" when visitors and others use its facilities.

Poster Problem

The bulletin boards placed around Ruffner Hall seem to line the walls in one confusing procession. In order to organize the chaotic appearance of incoherent announcements and unappealing posters, tacked together without any arrangement, Alpha Kappa Gamma has taken charge of these bulletin boards.

This year more boards have been put up for our information, and students, faculty, organizations, and others are urged to use them. But AKG also requests that they be kept neater and up-to-date. Organizations, especially, are requested to be sure that posters advertising past events are removed immediately.

Some of the boards have been sectioned for different topics: Lost and Found, Church News, Drama, Job Opportunities, YWCA, Athletic Association, and other divisions. The miscellaneous space causes the main problem. This can easily be corrected if posters are made neat and readable and are tacked up securely for a more arranged, not haphazard, effect.

More thumbtacks will be provided, and the boards will be checked periodically. It is up to you to make these bulletins serve their informative purpose in the neatest possible way.

AKG members Helen Jean Young and Minnie Lee Dean have been appointed for this month and March to see that the boards are in order. They need your cooperation!

The Rotunda

Linda Doles ..... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors:

Bet McLoughlin, Patsy Powell

Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Judy Eckstrom ..... News Editor
Henrietta Dollins ..... Feature Editor
Violet Scott ..... Sports Editor
Virlinda Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Elaine Weddle ..... Photography Editor
Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Ann Hill ..... Advertising Manager
Dr. James Wellard ..... Faculty Advisor

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress on March 8, 1934.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association and Associated Collegiate Press, and Intercollegiate Press.

Unsigned editorials written by the editor.

Published weekly by the students of Longwood College. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service, Inc. Printed by The Farmville Herald. Office Box 168, Longwood College, Farmville, Va.

Timely Topics

By BARBARA HECK

North Carolina is baffled by earth tremors which have shaken Wilmington and surrounding areas at approximately the same time over a period of several days. . . Does the proposed $1 billion Virginia budget mean a sales tax is not far away for the State?. . . Labor leader Dave Beck, Sr., has been sentenced for up to 15 years for stealing $1900 from the International Teamsters Union. Dave Beck, Jr., charged with stealing $4650 from the Union, has been fined $2000 and sentenced to only 3 years on the condition he return the money. . ."Swivel Hips" Elvis jumped ahead of army barbers by getting a normal haircut which left his sideburns at lease one inch shorter.

Nathan Leopold has received parole after serving 33 and one-half years for attempting the "perfect crime" in 1924. Leopole then 19, and Richard Loeb then 18, both students at the University of Chicago, were sentenced to life imprisonment for the slaying of 14 year old Bobby Franks and attempting to collect a $10,000 ransom. Their plot backfired. Loeb was killed by a fellow convict in 1936. Leopold's sentence was cut because of his work with the prison, especially in the hospital He plans to work as a laboratory technician in a hospital operated by the Church of the Brethren in Puerto Rico.

Women hold nearly one-third of the nation's jobs and make up about one-third of college students.

Clurman Discusses General Subjects, Disappoints Actors

By PAT LEAKE

On Saturday February 22, the Longwood Players presented the one-act play, "The Boy With a Cart", by Christopher Fry at the second annual College Drama Festival of Virginia.

Nine colleges participated in the festival, offering works from the classics to the contemporary works of Christopher Fry.

The nine plays were divided into three sessions with three plays given in the morning, afternoon, and night. Following each session a critique was given by Harold Clurman, founder of the group theatre, author, and director of many Broadway plays.

The Longwood Players and Hampden - Sydney Jongleurs presented the noted play, "Boy With a Cart," in the morning. The play was directed by David Wiley.

Clurman Refuses Critique

After the morning group Clurman stated he would make no attempt to criticize individual plays or performances, but would restrict himself to general topics. This, however, was a disappointment to the acting groups for they wanted specific criticism and suggestions in order to obtain help in producing better plays. Clurman suggested that College and community drama groups remain aware of what plays can be valuable to an audience.

"A theater," he said, "should be a place for pleasure first." Commenting generally on the three morning plays, which included "Boy With a Cart," he stated that he noted a sameness of mood and inflection which he called "dead-level reading, a fault common to young actors." He told the students to be wary of reading or reciting a role and urged them to take time to learn the techniques of acting. He did, however, make one specific commendation to Garnett Smith, a Hampden-Sydney Jongleur, in stating that his role was very realistic and believable.

Banquet Speaker Praised

In the evening the players attended a banquet at which Norris Houghton spoke. He is director, designer, and co-managing director of the Phoenix Theatre. His topic was "What Theatre Means to Me," and it was both inspiring and meaningful.

As a whole the day was very entertaining and enjoyable in spite of the unanimous disappointment in the critique of the noted Mr. Clurman. As a member of the Longwood group stated, "He honored us with his appearance but he didn't say anything."

Richmonders Applaud 'Yankees' Music, Wit

By BET McLOUGHLIN

One of the most successful musicals to hit Broadway in the past decade, "Damn Yankees," is now on the road. The national company played to a capacity audience in Richmond on February 20, 21, 22.

Produced by the same men who produced "The Pajama Game," "Damn Yankees" resulted in being another sturdy musical hit. It was the recipient of the coveted Anionette Perry Award, and it was the ninth song and dance show to pass the 1,000th performance mark on Broadway. Its New York popularity has been duplicated not only in its coast-to-coast tour, but also in the fact that England and Australia each had their own companies of the musical.

Filled with music, humor, and love, "Damn Yankees" depicts the story of Joe Hardy, an ardent baseball fan, who sells his soul to the devil so that the Washington Senators can beat the New York Yankees in the race for the American League Pennant. The story develops as the devil employs his agent, and 'best home breaker,' Lola, to win completely to his possession th soul of Joe Hardy.

Headed by a cast of fine performers, "Damn Yankees" brought several members of the Broadway cast to the national company. Fresh from her Broadway triumph was Derva Korwin as Lola. Miss Korwin introduced such songs as "Whatever Lola Wants," "Two Lost Souls' and "A Little Brains—A Little Talent."

Ralph Lowe played Joe Hardy 64 times on Broadway as understudy to the part before signing with the national company. In the production, Mr. Lowe's singing talents adapt themselves to such songs as "Goodbye, Old Girl," "A Man Doesn't Know," "Near To You," and "Two Lost Souls."

Songs Bring Applause

Staging of the dances and musical numbers, under the composition and direction of Bob Fosse, held wide appeal to the audiences in Richmond as in New York. The catching rendition of songs such as "Heart," "The Game," and "Those Were the Good Old Days" seemed to gain the most applause from the amused audiences.

Based on the amusing Book-of-the Month Club novel, "The Year the Yankees Lost the Pennant" by Douglass Wallop, "Damn Yankees" was converted from a novel to a successful Broadway musical comedy by George Abbott and Douglass Wallop.

Sororities Issue Seventy-One Bids

The eight sororities on campus, recently undergoing their spring rushing season, have announced their new pledges.

Those pledging Alpha Sigma Alpha were Page Davis, June Elmore, Dottie Gills, Cherry Gorham, Susan Gosnell, Nancy Harnsberger, Bobbie Koons, Kay Pierce, Susan Price, Kay Revelle, and Virginia Van de Riet.

Alpha Sigma Tau received Sue Crutchlow, Kitty Good, Mary Hite Grayson, Ann Hardy, Lois Johnson, Cherron Kelley, Nancy Kelly, Nancy Lechler, Joyce Odom, and Marianne Zimmerman.

Pledging Delta Zeta were Betty Jane Allgood, Joy Borden, Barbara Chaffin, Louise Johns, Dorothy Morris, and Pat Stout.

Kappa Delta was pledge by Libby Archart, Sandra Cheatham, Sandra Harrison, Beverly Kersey, Nancy Knight, Pat O'Neil, Janet Stanley, Cora Straughan, Sandra Watkins, Norma Wilson and Becky Wooldridge.

Pi Kappa Sigma received Stephanie Bisese, Phyllis Bridgeforth, Barbara Brantley, Jackie Gibson, Brenda Green, Kay Hudgins, and Wilma Shaffer.

Those pledging Sigma Sigma Sigma were Sue Benton, Betty Chappell, Betty Harrell, Judy Harris Jean Marie Heller, and Judy Welch.

Theta Sigma Upsilon was pledged by Linda Forrest, Nancianne Frye, Bonnie Lou Keys, Gladys Jean Patrick, Julia Pitts, Melissa Ann Rowe, Sharon Stout, Pat Wise, and Mary Mercer Wright.

Zeta Tau Alpha received Jeanne Evans, Gwen Keesee, Joan Kleinecke, Marian Lambiotte, Mike Miller, Peggy Mullin, Wirt Raine, Pat Rhodenhizer, Doris Webster, Andy Weeks and Dotsie Wheeler.

Social Notes

By NANCY HARNSBERGER

The Junior Dance seems to have been the main attraction in the social light for this week. It looks as if it was a very special week end for two juniors. Congratulations go to Helen Jean Young who received a diamond from Ridge Edens. Ridge attends Hampden-Sydney June Lee May received a "sparkler" this week end from Danny Briggs. Danny is from Roanoke. Congratulations, girls. . .

Pinned

Martha Ann Marks is wearing a Sigma Chi pin close to her heart from George Dobyns. George is out Hampden-Sydney way. Pinned also is Billie Jean Shores to Bob Towers, a Lambda Chi graduate of H-S.

University of Virginia

Many Longwood girls traveled to U. Va. this week end to attend the Mid-Winter Dances. Barbara Sue Williams, Sheila Galloway, Becky Woolridge, Beverly Kersey, Dotsie Wheeler, Pat Rodenhizer, Barbara Chaffin, Louise Johns, Lynne McDade, Mary Miller, Liz Mosteller, Sue Taylor, Jacque Trader, Wayne Boyden, Emily Irby, Linda Allen, Jo Bailey, Della Higgins, Iris Hines, Gloria Gardner, Hannah Haile, Sarah Hastings, Martha Marks, Mary Lee Roach, Natalie Tudor, Mary Davis, Beverly Gaskins, Joanne Hartman, Blanche Ingram, Nancy Knight, Connie Michael, Ann Mixon, Pat Mitchell, Ann Norflett, Norma Redmon, and Beverlye Redmon were seen at U. Va.

Lucia Hart traveled to Richmond to visit Tillman Matthews who is attending M. C. V.

New Students Appreciate Good Food, Friendly Spirit

By ELEANOR GURGANUS

Longwood has welcomed four new students to its campus this semester. Three of these girls are Freshmen and one is a Sophomore transfer student.

Paula Falcone is a Business Education major from Portsmouth. She was a February graduate of Woodrow Wilson High School where she was a member of the Honor Society, Tri Hi Y, and was Editor in Chief of the annual. Paula is a member of the Baptist Church and says that the things that impressed her most about Longwood are "the good food and friendly asmosphere."

Friendliness Impresses Inge

Nancy Inge of Kenbridge is a graduate of Kenbridge High School where she was a cheerleader, Editor of the annual, on the Student Council, in the Science Club and worked on the newspaper. Nancy, an Elementary Education major, is a member of the Methodist Church and names friendliness as the thing that has impressed most about Longwood.

Lewis Appreciates Facilities

A Sophomore transfer student from William and Mary College in Norfolk and Westhampton College, Mary Pem Lewis is an Elementary Education major. Mary Pem is a graduate of Maury High School in Norfolk where she worked on the newspaper and annual and was a member of the Future Teachers of America. "The good facilities and the friendliness" have impressed Mary Pem, who is a member of the Episcopal Church.

Business Ed Interests Preddy

A Business Eduacation major, Suzanne Preddy is a transfer student from Mary Washington College. Suzanne is from Gordonsville where she attended Orange County High School. While in high school she was a member of the Music Club, French Club, Chorus, Future Business Leaders of America, the Varsity and Junior varsity cheering squads and a Homecoming Princess. Suzanne, a Methodist student, chose Longwood because her "mother had previously attended college here and Longwood offers a good business program."

Former Students Return

Also back on campus this semester are Betty Smythers and Hardy Williams, former students of Longwood.

—H. C. Owen

NEW STUDENTS becoming orientated to life at Longwood are, left to right, Mary Pem Lewis, Suzanne Preddy, Nancy Inge, Paula Falcone.

Local Group To See Opera

"Naughty Marietta," the operetta to be presented in-the-round by the Richmond Opera Group at the Benedictine gym on March 5, 6, and 7, is a milestone in the history of the American theater because it is one of the first operettas to have its locale set in America.

Dean Wilson has announced that Longwood will provide transportation for any interested students.

"Naughty Marietta" scored its first triumph in 1910. Until then no operetta stood a chance of popular favor unless it was set in waltzy Vienna or gay Paris or some romantic-sounding mythical kingdom of Europe.

From the time of Johann Strauss with his "Die Fledermaus" (which was presented at Longwood this fall by the Gruss Roots Opera company) in Vienna and Jacques Offenbach with his dozens of bright musicals in Paris, followed by such shows as "The Merry Widow" and "The Chocolate Soldier," no place outside of Europe seemed fit to inspire composers and singers.

Victor Herbert did as all other composers in this respect, setting his "Red Mill" and "Sweethearts," both of which have been produced by the Opera Group, in Holland and something called Zilania.

Set In New Orleans

The placing of the action of "Naughty Marietta" in New Orleans was an extraordinary novelty when it was first produced, but it encouraged others to use American backgrounds, beginning with Romberg's "My Maryland" and following with "Show Boat." In more recent years such musicals as "Oklahoma," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Kiss Me Kate" and numerous others have been set in this country.

—from the Richmond Times Dispatch.

—H. C. Owen

MUSIC ENTHUSIASTS—Elaine Weddle (left), and Jo Ann Fivel are busy rehearsing for the Roanoke Symphony Concert.

Fivel, Weddle Lend Talents To Roanoke Musical Group

By PATSY POWELL

The Roanoke Symphony Orchestra will once again exhibit the musical talents of two Longwood girls as Jo Ann Fivel and Elaine Weddle participate in another of a series of Roanoke Symphony Concerts, on March 3. Jo Ann, violinist, and Elaine, oboist, are looking forward to appearing in two concerts featuring the noted violinist Mischa Elman.

Fivel Justifies Ability

Jo Ann, far from being just a violinist, has varied musical interests which include the viola and voice, and the Roanoke native has steadily progressed in the musical field since she began taking violin lessons at eight years of age. Her performances do justice to her interest and ability, for she has to her credit many public appearances.

Jo Ann has given private violin lessons, but, surprisingly, does not plan to teach music. She is an elementary education and English major and plans to teach seventh grade in the Roanoke area after graduation. This, she says, will enable her to continue to play with the Roanoke Symphony Orchestra.

Since coming to Longwood in the fall of 1955, this accomplished junior has not taken violin lessons, but "I have bought music and practiced, trying to teach myself," she says. This year she began taking voice lessons and has been selected to sing the contralto role of Baba in The Medium, an opera in English by Gian Carlo Menotti. Jo Ann's services are much in demand as she plays her violin for church functions, school classes, and for local social events.

Concerning practice Jo Ann says, "I would like to practice violin at least one hour per day but seldom find time to do so, because I have to practice voice about an hour each day." During the summer, however, she finds more time to perfect her violin skills.

When asked to name her favorite music, Jo Ann named the Wagner operas, and the symphonies of Brahms and Beethoven. In her spare time, when she can find spare time, the Roanoke violinist reads books on opera, collects and reads musical scores, and collects records.

Weddle Has Musical Interest

Also a native of Roanoke, oboist Elaine Weddle has an interest in music that has led her to many instruments and activities. Her first musical training came during the early years of elementary school when she began taking piano lessons, and from this beginning an interest in all phases of music has developed.

Becoming a member of the Roanoke Symphony Orchestra five years ago, she now plays first oboe with the group.

Although she received many scholarship offers to study music, the Roanoke oboist chose to come to Longwood College. "I just decided I wanted to come to Longwood, and I'm glad I did" she says. As an instrumental music major concentrating on piano, Elaine studies voice and takes piano lessons in order to prepare for a future position teaching instrumental music in high school. Of her favorite music she says, "I like classical music, instrumental best of all, especially Beethoven and Chopin."

She also likes to direct a choir and hopes to direct a church choir someday.

Elaine has been encouraged by a family that is interested in music. She says, "I have brothers who play a lot of music. The bird sings, the dog yells, and we practice, and if anyone can imagine that going on in one house they have a good imagination."

Asked about a hobby she replied, "I just like music for pleasure," but this music enthusiast is also a sports enthusiast especially emphasizing swimming, archery, and hockey.

For the coming concert Elaine is busy practicing "Beethoven's Fifth Symphony", "Vocalise" by Rachmaninoff, "Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto", and "Dance Overture" by Creston. Both she and Jo Ann play in the four or five concerts and six children's concerts that the Roanoke Symphony Orchestra presents yearly, and they diligently devote hours to the practice of their principal interest—music.

TV TOPICS

Time	Channel
		Wednesday, February 26
9:00	8	Gene Nelson, Skip Homeier, Susan Oliver and Estelle Winwood will star in "The Woman at High Hollow," on the Kraft Television Theater. Drama tells the story of a woman executed for the murder of her shiftless husband and the town's reaction when the man reappears some months later.
10:00	12	Ed Begley and William Shatner will be featured in "Walk With a Stranger," on the U. S. Steel Hour. Drama revolves around the explosive meeting of an embittered young man and a mysterious stranger.
		Thursday, February 27
8:30	12	Don Ameche, Eli Wallach, Ted de Corsia and Doe Avedon will star in "Albert Anastasis: His Life and Death." Plotline will have a TV commentator (Ameche) probing the life history of rackets boss Albert Anastasia (Wallach) after the latter is shot to death in a barber chair in New York.
9:00	6	Vocalist Andy Williams and singer-dancer Nelle Adams will fill the spot on Pat Boone's show.
9:30	12	"Portrait of a Murderer," drama about Donald Bashor, the 29-year-old Glendale, Calif., murderer, who was executed last year, will be aired on Playhouse 90. Tab Hunter, Geraldine Page, Barbara Turner and Frank London will be starred.
		Friday, February 28
9:00	6	Van Johnson will be a guest on Frank Sinatra's show. He will protray a ne'er-do-well in a burlesque sketch that will cast Sinatra as the All-American "mother's boy." They will do a new comedy song, "Nothing in Common," written especially for this show.
9:30	12	Hen-pecked Ernest Borgnine suddenly becomes fed up with his overbearing wife (Judith Evelyn) and makes a momentous decision in "Two Lives Have I," on the Playhouse of Stars.
		Saturday, March 1
7:30	12	"The Case of the Deadly Double" will be the drama on the Perry Mason show, starring Raymond Burr.
9:00	8	Jimmy Durante will be featured on Club Oasis.
10:00	6	Playwright Tennessee Williams will be the subject of the Mike Wallace interview.

—From Richmond Times Dispatch

Church News

By ANN GLOVER

Presbyterian

"The Nature and Mission of the Church" was the topic of the study retreat held at the Presbyterian Church the afternoon and evening of Feb. 23. The retreat was to prepare the group for the Roslyn Conference which several members of the Westminster Fellowship will attend during the week end of Feb. 28. Supper was served at the church by Mrs. Lloyd Arehart during the retreat.

Bible Study will be held at the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday at 7 p.m. Dave Moore, the group leader, is discussing the prophets.

Westminster Fellowship will be held at 7 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 28. All are urged to attend.

Westminster Fellowship, now in possession of its own room, has begun a library. These books can be checked out from the W. F. room, and all are urged to take advantage of this opportunity.

Baptist

The B. S. Uer's entertained the Rev. Edward Sandridge with a tea held in his honor at the Center at 5:00 p.m. this afternoon, Feb. 26.

A bowling party is being planned for Friday night, Feb. 28. Everyone interested in joining the fun should meet at the Center at 7:00 p.m.

Matilda Powell has written another skit to be presented at the Farmville Baptist Church evening worship service March 2. It is entitled "You—an Evangelist for God."

The Y.W.A.'s are presenting their pantomined skit, "Now—the Time for Faith," to the Woman's Missionary Union at the Church Wednesday night, March 5. The program will begin at 8:00 p.m.

Methodist

Choir practice will be held Thurs. at 5:00 p.m. in the Church. New voices are welcomed.

Friday, Feb. 28, Mrs. Cover will speak at Coffee Hour on dating and marriage. This will be held at 7 p.m. in the Center. All who know Mrs. Cover realize what a valuable experience this will be; those who don't know her, come and see how very much she has to offer to us as Christian students.

Sunday night fellowship time, the Wesley Foundation deputation team from the University of North Carolina (Chapel Hill) will present a play. We are sure you will find the program very enriching.

Don't forget to support the "Y" and go to Religious Emphasis Week Services.

OUT OF SCHOOL SUPPLIES?

Then Come On Down to

NEWBERRY'S

TEN TOP TUNES from WILSON'S HOME & AUTO

1. At the Hop
2. Get a Job
3. Don't
4. Short Shorts
5. The Stroll
6. Sail Along Silvery Moon
7. De De Dinah
8. Sugar Time
9. You Are My Destiny
10. Julie

R. P. I. Suffers Defeat 72-36 As LC Scores Second Win

By VIOLET SCOTT

Longwood College, playing host to R.P.I. of Richmond, racked up 37 points in the first of half of Friday night's game and went ahead for their second straight win with a score of 72 to 36.

L.C. Takes Lead

Led by Nancy Richardson, Jackie Waller, and Delo Dove, the "blue and white" team took command of the lead from the very beginning and stayed ahead throughout the remainder of the games.

R.P.I. Slows Drive

Trailing by only twelve points at the beginning of the second half, R.P.I. matched Longwood goal for goal, but their drive slowed down and Longwood went on to claim another "blue and white" victory.

Willie Taylor, Evelyn Skalsky, and Margaret Dowdy held down the guard positions in the first quarter of the game. Nancy Andrews substituted for Evelyn Skalsky at the beginning of the second quarter.

Starting line-up for the second half included Claudia Whipple, Willie Taylor, Margaret Dowdy as guards, with Carolyn Thorpe, Lou Heier, and Joan Creel as forwards. Violet Scott, Gayle Cunningham, Mate Fadley, and Joyce Tharrington saw action in the fourth quarter of the game.

The score at the end of the first half was 37 to 25 in favor of Longwood.

W&M To Welcome Basketball Team

Longwood College's basketball team will travel to Williamsburg Friday, February 28, to meet the girls from William and Mary in their third game of the season.

The opening game is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. with another game following. Sparked by wins in their first opening games, the "blue and whites" will be looking for a third victory.

Westhampton to Play Here

The following Saturday, March 8, Longwood will be host to Westhampton College from Richmond. This will be the fourth and last home-game of the season for Longwood. Starting time will be 2 p.m., and two games will be played.

Your support and cheering spirit has been greatly appreciated at these games by the Athletic Association. If you have a chance to follow the team to their away games, please do not fail to do so. The team needs your backing.

Sports Summary

By JACKIE WALLER

William and Mary, winner of seven out of her last eight games, pulled down 54 rebounds compared to a mere 24 for Washington and Lee's Generals for a 88 to 72 victory Friday night in Williamsburg.

Hampden-Sydney won an easy victory over Johns-Hopkins 92-68, while Roanoke's Maroons joined the victors by defeating the Norfolk Division of William and Mary 73-67.

Duke won its eleventh in a row, defeating Maryland's Terrapins 68-59. Duke, seventh ranked nationally, is now sure of at least a tie in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Saturday night's basketball games saw George Washington grab a tight hold on second place in the Southern Conference as they defeated Virginia Tech 76 to 72 in a close contest. Wake Forest's Demon Deacons beated South Carolina 72-59 in an ACC game to tie South Carolina for sixth place.

Track

Friday night in Lexington, Roanoke captured its sixth consecutive Mason-Dixon Conference indoor track and field championship by racking up 70 1-2 points. Bridgewater was a distant second with 20 1-2 points, barely ahead of Hampden-Sydney with 20.

Wrestling

Blacksburg was the setting for Virginia Tech's 23-11 triumph over the University of Virginia. Stopped last week after twenty-eight consecutive victories, the Techmen begin a new winning streak.

Swimming

V.M.I. handed Virginia Tech its first swimming loss of the season 55 to 40 Friday night in Blacksburg. The following night in Roanoke, the Norfolk Division of William and Mary suffered defeat by Roanoke College 44-41 in a rather close match.

Anachronism?

Not really. 'Cause if Coke had been around in Caesar's day, Caesar would have treated himself to the sparkling good taste, the welcome lift of Coke! Caesar's motto—"I came, I saw, I conquered." Pretty good motto for Coke too—the prime favorite in over 100 countries today!

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

STAGES OF A LUNAR ECLIPSE will be pointed out by Miss Elizabeth Burger and Longwood College students Betty Spivey and Catherine Ozmon when they appear on a three-part television program beginning Saturday. Mrs. Joseph Goode, seated at the left, and a Farmville Elementary School class will appear on the third program. (See story on page one.)

Longwood Professors Edit Two Professional Journals

Two professional journals are being published here at Longwood. One, The Virginia English Bulletin edited by Foster B. Gresham, professor of English, has been published in Farmville since October, 1957. The other is the Virginia Journal of Science edited by Robert T. Brumfield, professor of biology, and it began publication at Longwood this year.

The Virginia English Bulletin is sponsored by The Virginia Association of Teachers of English. Its main purpose is to bring to teachers articles on the teaching of English. Articles are published on successful ideas other teachers have tried with the hope of improving teaching in general in the high schools.

The bulletin also carries articles on the activities of the VATE and takes this news to all sections of the state.

Mr. Gresham, who has been editor of the bulletin since 1951, says the biggest problem he has with the English bulletin is circulation, which is rather large to be handled for mail.

Science Journal Issued Quarterly

The Virginia Journal of Science is issued quarterly by the Virginia Academy of Science. The Academy began the publication in January 1940, but it was suspended during the wars and reactivated in January, 1950.

The September issue of the journal each year contains the proceedings of the year's work and a program of the annual meetings of the Academy. It carries articles on Biological Sciences, Earth Science, Mathematical Science, Applied Sciences, etc. The journal offers excellent media for the expression of scientific efforts.

Dr. Brumfield has been editor of the journal since January, 1951, and is a member of the Academy Council.

Toynbee

(Continued from page 1)

world's most celebrated accounts of the history of civilization. The volumes are a comparative study of the successive civilizations—the experiments in civilizations—that mankind has achieved.

Since Dr. Toynbee will be unable to lecture at Longwood, it is hoped that tickets may be obtained and a few of the college students will be able to hear Mr. Toynbee at Washington and Lee during one of his lecture series this spring. All of those interested in the trip may see Dr. Moss for further explanation and details.

Philip Morris and Company will present a tape recorder to the sorority which turns in the most wrappers from Philip Morris Products (Marlboro, Philip Morris, Parliament, Benson and Hedges, and Spud).

The tape recorder set will be displayed in the "Rec" along with the contest rules and date of presentation.

Save your wrappers and "Flip-Top" boxes now.

Faculty News

On March 7 and 8, the Science Teaching Improvement Program of the American Association for the Advancement of Science will hold regional state college conference on science and mathematics teacher education at the Burlington Hotel in Washington D. D.

The purpose of the conference is "to explore promising practices in science and mathematics teacher education. . ."

Each state college in Delaware, District of Columbia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia has been invited to name representatives to the conference.

Longwood Representatives

Dr. Jeffers and Dr. Badger have been named as representatives from Longwood. Dr. Lankford will also introduce the speaker at the banquet on Friday night, March 7. Dr. Lankford served as a member of the Planning Committee for this conference.

State Schedules Meetings

The State Department of Education is planning to hold a series of regional meetings in Virginia during the month of March for the purpose of ". . .stimulating further improvement of science instruction in grades one to twelve."

On March 13, one of these meetings will be held in Altavista. Dr. Jeffers will serve as resource person and consultant for this meeting. On March 14, one will be held with Miss Burger serving as resource person and consultant for this meeting. Other meetings will be held in Lebanon, Norfolk, Staunton, Radford, Tappahannock, Front Royal Manassas, and Richmond.

Taliaferro Visits Chicago

Mrs. Walton Taliaferro, Longwood College assistant professor of business education, has returned from Chicago where she attended the annual meeting of the National Association for Business Teacher Education at the Conrad Hilton Hotel. With other business education leaders, Mrs. Taliaferro participated in a panel discussion involving programs for the adequate preparation of college teachers of business subjects.

In Audio Visual Education

Graduate Scholarship At University Provided As Frank Spindler Memorial

For the second consecutive year, the University of Virginia has been given a grant for the Frank Spindler Graduate Scholarship in Audio-Visual Education. The scholarship, carrying a stipend of $1,600 to $3,000, as determined by the awarding committee, was established by Encyclopedia Britannica Films as a memorial to the late Frank Spindler of Hampden-Sydney.

Died In Auto Accident

A native Virginian, a graduate of Hampden-Sydney College and the University of Virginia, and a former teacher and educational administrator in Virginia schools, Mr. Spindler had for several years been the state's representative for the film company, producer of educational films, when he died Nov. 30, 1956, in an auto accident near Midlothian, that also took the lives of his wife and a 3-year-old grandson.

Maurice B. Mitchell, president of Encyclopaedia Britannica Films, said in establishing the scholarship, "This is being done to help keep alive the name and memory of a man who exemplified the very best that there is in professional education, and who so effectively promoted the cause of better instruction through the use of audio-visual materials. We can pay no higher tribute to his memory, at least none that he would have cherished more."

Attended Hampden-Sydney

Mr. Spindler, who was 55, attended Hampden-Sydney College and the University of Virginia. From 1943 to 1947, he acted as Training Specialist with the War Assets Administration and the War Department. He left this assignment to take the position as representative for Encyclopaedia Britannica Films in the state of Virginia where he served until his death in 1956.

COTTON DUSTER AND PAJAMA SETS
$4.99 complete
LEGGETT'S DEPT. STORE

HUNGRY?
THIRSTY?
TIRED?
See You At
The SNACK

Boxwood Tourist Court
and Restaurant
3 Miles South of
Farmville on Rt. 15
Phone 3027-5

WALKER'S RESTAURANT
Club Breakfast - Lunch
Course Dinners
FOUNTAIN SERVICE
Phone 3280
U. S. 360 and 460
Burkeville, Va.

Farmville, Va.
With This Coupon
HAMBURGER SPECIALS
45c
FEBRUARY 27 & 28
— at —
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

Come to
GRAY'S
To See Our COMPLETE LINE
of
COSMETICS AND TOILETRIES

FOR YOUR ENTERTAINMENT
Listen To
AFTERNOON RECORD SHOW
From 2:00 - 5:00
over
W - F - L - O

You'll be sittin' on top of the world when you change to L&M

Light into that L&M Live Modern flavor

Only L&M gives you this filter fact—the patent number on every pack.... ...your guarantee of a more effective filter on today's L&M.

Free up...freshen up your taste!

Put yourself behind the pleasure end of an L&M. Get the flavor, the full rich taste of the Southland's finest cigarette tobaccos. The patented Miracle Tip is pure white inside, pure white outside, as a filter should be for cleaner, better smoking. ©1958 LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

See "Silent World" Tonight

The Rotunda

See "Easter" This Week

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., March 12, 1958 | No. 13

"Easter" To Highlight Founders' Day Program

Wertenbacker, Plaque Mark Day's Activities

Longwood College alumnae will return to the scene of their college days for the annual Founders' Day program Saturday, March 15.

Highlighting the day's activities will be the dedication of the Peter Johnston marker at Longwood Estate and speaker Dr. Thomas Jefferson Wertenbaker. Dr. Wertenbaker, retired from Princeton University and currently teaching at Hampden-Sydney College, will use as his subject "Colonial Education in Virginia" as he addresses the Alumnae-Student program in Jarman Auditorium at 10:30 a.m. Music for this program will be furnished by the college Madrigal Singers.

Lankford To Accept Plaque

At noon alumnae will meet at Longwood Estate for the presentation of the Peter Johnston marker over the assumed site of his grave. This marker, being given to the college by several of his descendants, will be presented by Mrs. Anna Johnston Hodges and accepted for the college by Dr. Francis G. Lankford, Jr. The dedication program includes a talk on Peter Johnston by Dr. Joseph Robert, president of Hampden-Sydney College, after which Dr. Ben R. Lacy will give the final prayer. A number of Johnston's descendants have been invited to attend the dedication service.

The plaque (3 feet X 1 foot 6 inches) on a stone (4 feet X 1 foot 4 inches X 3 feet) bears the following inscription:

Peter Johnston

Born at Annan, Scotland, November 10, 1710, emigrated to America in 1727 and settled at Osborne's Landing on James River near Petersburg. In 1785 he moved to Prince Edward County, Virginia, where he named his home Cherry Grove, later to be known as Longwood.

Merchant and planter; Justice of the County Court 1766 and 1772; Vestryman of the Episcopal

(Continued on page 4)

Prize Winning 'Silent World' Plays Tonight

"The Silent World," Columbia Pictures' true undersea adventure in color by Technicolor to be shown at the State theater tonight, March 12, as a better films picture, is the work of Jacques-Yves Cousteau, world's foremost undersea explorer and co-inventor of the aqualung. The movie won international filmdom's highest award, the Golden Palm, at the Cannes Film Festival. Like Cousteau's life, it is more amazing than fiction.

In "The Silent World," bare-skinned divers fight man-eating sharks. They explore wrecked ships. They battle the dread depth narcosis which tempts them to cast off their life-giving compressed air masks and succumb to the deadly oblivion of the deep. They tame a huge grouper fish, with the aid of meat scraps, so that he follows them around like a subterranean spaniel, and explore the wondrous, ever-changing world of the undersea.

An eerie sequence shows the skin-divers exploring a sunken ship long covered with marine growth. Its encrusted ship's bell rings with a strange, lost sound when struck, and its cargo of motorcycles and trucks looks odd, indeed, at the bottom of the sea.

—H. C. Owen

GARNETT SMITH as Elis and Vicki Brinkley as Elenora enact a scene from "Easter".

Lions' Club To Sponsor "Miss Longwood" Contest

Winner Competes For Miss Virginia

The Lions' Club of Farmville and Miss Ruth Wilson, Dean of Women, have announced plans to have a contest sponsored by the Lions' Club, for the purpose of choosing a Miss Longwood.

This contest will be in addition to the Miss Farmville Contest which is also sonsored by the Lions' Club. Winners of both of the contests will be among those participating in the Miss Virginia contest, from which a winner is sent to the Miss America Pageant.

Any organization or class may sponsor a girl to compete for the Miss Longwood title. No fees are required for qualification, and the

(Continued on page 4)

March 15th (Founders Day) has been designated and listed in the Longwood Handbook as a holiday. In accordance with regulations (Longwood Handbook, page 64) student absences on the two school days immediately preceding and immediately following a designated holiday will be counted as two of any excused absences to which a student is entitled. An unforseen hardship that the application of this rule may occasion should be discussed with the Associate Dean.

On Thursday night at 8 p. m. the curtain will rise on the Longwood Players and Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs presentation of their spring production, Easter, by August Strinburg. This realistic play will also be presented on Friday and Saturday, March 14, and 15, and will climax Saturday's agenda of the Founders' Day Program.

The play Easter gives a cross section in the life of the Heyst family who is beset by a series both individually and as a family, and the members of this family will be portrayed by Vicki Brinkley, Garnet Smith, Lynn McDade, John Lynn, Scottie Hart and Charter Wells.

Families, Small Lead Cast

Vicki Brinkley, a junior from Suffolk, and a veteran of the Longwood stage, will portray the young daughter, who is insane. Vicki has appeared in such productions as Ring Round the Moon, Blood Wedding, The Crucible, and was formerly Light Designer for the Longwood Players.

Garnet Smith, a sophomore from Hampden-Sydney, will portray the son, Elis. Garnet is well-known as one of the most accomplished male actors on the Longwood Stage. He has been in many productions, those of which include: Skin of Our Teeth, A Phoenix too Frequent, The Lady's not for Burning and The Boy With a Cart.

John Lynn, a junior from Longwood, will portray Benjamin, the student, and Charter Wells of Hampden-Sydney the part of Lindkvist, the landlord. Both boys have been seen quite often, however John Lynn is making his debut in his first major role.

Lynn McDade from Portsmouth and Scottie Hart from Maryland are both newcomers to the Longwood stage. Lynn, a junior, will portray the mother, Mrs. Heyst. Lynn has worked with the Longwood Players for quite some time, has been light technician, and is currently the Light Designer for the Players. Scottie, a freshman, will portray the part of Khristina, the sweetheart of Elis. Scottie is making her first appearance on the Longwood stage and seems to be very promising.

The play, although entitled Easter, does not concern itself with just the week of Easter, but with a series of complex situations. Elenora, half young girl—half angel, is the daughter of the Heyst family who has just returned from a mental institution. She represents the

(Continued on page 4)

Minstrel Man To Set Stage For Freshmen

By Joann Kleinecke

A Minstrel Show will set the theme for the Freshman Production to be presented at Jarman Auditorium on Friday, March 21 at 8 p.m. The various aspects of Old South showmanship will be brought to life by fourteen individual acts ranging from a toe-tap dance to an old-fashioned waltz.

Doris Webster, an elementary major from Fredericksburg, is serving as Chairman of the production. Doris was also music chairman for the Freshman Circus skit and wrote the winning entry for the song contest. She is a pledge of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority, a member of the Longwood Choir, the Cotillion Club, and the Freshman Commission.

The script was written by Jane Stegall, an elementary major from Fieldale. Jane, who is greatly interested in writing, is a member of the Colonnade Staff.

The committee chairmen are as follows: Jeanne Evans, Make-up; Brenda Parsley, costumes; Matilda Powell, staging; Bobbyee Bolster, lighting; Cecil Kidd, props; Elaine Brown, tickets; Gwen Keesee, programs; La Verne Collier and Betty Elliott, advertising; Jean Dancey chorus; Dotsie Wheeler and Pat Rhodenhizer, ushers; and Julie Thomas, prompter.

Mr. Interlocutor, played by Roanoke Freshman Pat Callahan, along with the six End Men: Gabby Pilcher, Tweetie Lambiotte, Jane Stegall, Gladys Patrick, Scottie Hart, and Mike Miller will form the connective links throughout the performance by humorous dialogue and introduction of the acts.

A thirty-five member chorus will provide the necessary musical background, featuring an original opening song written by Doris Webster. Approximately one hundred fifty people will take part in the entire production.

Tickets will go on sale outside the dining hall on Wednesday, March 12. General admission is thirty-five cents.

Science TV Show To Feature Moon

The third television program on The Moon will be telecast over Petersburg Station, Channel 8, on Saturday, March 15, from 1:00 to 2:00 p.m. It will include a fifth grade classroom study of "the moon" with Mrs. Joseph H. Goode, supervising teacher in the Farmville Elementary School, as television teacher.

The second television program was telecast on Saturday March 8 from 1:30 to 2:00 p.m. This science program dealt with tides, eclipses and man-made satellites.

Miss Beau Spitzer and Miss Catherine Ormon, two Longwood College students, are participating in the programs with Miss Dorothy Burger, Longwood College professor of natural sciences.

Bobbie Burger introduces the programs with a planetarium shot. Miss Dorothy Boswell, another Longwood College student, is acting as stage manager in the productions.

Strother To Play 'Peter Pan' Role

Starring Senior June Strother as Peter Pan, Junior Vicki Brinkley as Wendy, and Freshman Tweedie Lambiotte as Tinkerbell, the 1958 May Day will re-create the story of the magical land of Never, announced May Day Chairman, Mary Anne Bennett.

Other Longwood students will help bring to life the various roles from the James Barrie tale. Wendy Darling's brothers, John and Michael, will be played by Barbara Simpkins, sophomore, and Dottie Boswell, junior, respectively. Ann Rountree, a senior, will depict the children's faithful dog, Nana.

The fierce pirate, Captain Hook, will be portrayed by Senior Carol Wolfe, and Smee, the cook, by Junior Jane McLoughlin. Chief of the Indians, played by Mary Lee [illegible], senior, Jeanne Vestal, will portray the princess Tiger Lily. Pursuing the pirate captain is the band of the crocodile will be Seniors Ellen Callaway and Carolyn Kelly.

The Darling family will dance [illegible] later in the program will perform another number [illegible]. The other main characters will share the stage with the [illegible] group. From several freshman phys. ed. classes will come hosts of Indians, pirates, and fairies. Numbers featuring students as trees, Lost Boys, and mermaids will highlight the pageant.

Dress rehearsals will begin Monday, March 17.

Major Officers Elected For Coming Term

—H. C. Owen

NEWLY-ELECTED MAJOR OFFICERS, Barbara Odom, Student Government; Bet McLoughlin, House Council; Helen Jean Young, Y.W.C.A.; and Dolo Dove, Athletic Association, pause on campus for a chat.

Odom, Young, Dove, McLoughlin Chosen

By Judy Eckstrom

Presidents for the four major organizations on campus, Student Government, Y.W.C.A, House Council, and the Athletic Association, have recently been elected by the student body.

Leading Longwood's Student Government for the future year will be Barbara Odom with Helen Jean Young serving as president of Y.W.C.A., Elizabeth McLoughlin as president of House Council, and Delores Dove as president of the Athletic Association serving on the council. These officers will assume their new positions following installation in assembly on March 18.

Odom Active In College

Barbara, who has served as secretary of Student Government, stated, "To have been elected to this office by the Longwood student body is the greatest honor that could have ever been bestowed upon me. Thoughts at times such as these are hard to put into words, but my every prayer and thought is to fulfill this confidence placed in me."

Barbara, a junior library science and social studies major from Suffolk, has been very active in her three years here, being freshman and sophomore class president, circus chairman her freshman year, and presently rush chairman for Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority. She holds membership in Alpha Kappa Gamma, national leadership fraternity; Longwood Library League, Cotillion Club, and previously a member of freshman commission.

(Continued on page 4)

Thank You!

The Y Cabinet expresses its sincere thanks to each of you for your support and cooperation during your Religious Emphasis Week. We also feel that the week was a success largely because of the effort, enthusiam, and personality of our speaker of the week, Rev. J. Edward Sandridge. We were glad to hear that the student body liked the speaker and we hope that in some way he was of help to you. In a recent letter from Rev. Sandridge, he said, "I received a renewed picture of the youth of today through the splendid Christian atmosphere of Longwood College."

The evaluation committee, which consisted of members of the Y Cabinet, advisors, and selected students, has met and suggested improvements for next year's Religious Emphasis Week. As members of the Y.W.C.A. if you have any suggestions or new ideas you would like to incorporate in next year's week, don't hesitate to take them to your Y Cabinet.

We hope that as a result of R. E. W. we have become more aware of our theme, "Christ the Lord, My Lord."

Carolyn Wilson
Vice-President
Y. W. C. A.

Test Yourself

Whether you are hurriedly eating a sandwich before a one o'clock exam, having an informal dinner at home, or dining formally, good table manners are equally important. Table manners can be tricky, and you never know when that important date is going to take you out to dinner at the King Carter (See Social Notes)! By following good habits of table etiquette while here, we can enjoy the self-assurance and the ease of this social grace on any occasion.

Take the following test and see how you rate on the knowledge and use of proper table manners.

It is good manners to

1. Eat lettuce which is a garnish for a salad?
2. Butter a whole slice of bread?
3. Put two or three oyster crackers at a time in your soup?
4. Put an elbow on a restaurant table between courses?
5. Put more than one kind of food on a fork at one time?
6. Cut a club sandwich with a knife?
7. Use your spoon to test coffee before drinking it?
8. Leave a spoon in a shallow soup plate?
9. Put butter on bread with a fork?
10. Put butter on vegetables with a fork?
11. Rest the handle of your knife on the table when it is not in use?
12. Eat the skin of a baked potato?
13. Help yourself from a common dish with your individual silver?
14. Use your fingers to help yourself from an individual salt dish if there is no salt spoon?
15. Eat chicken with your fingers in a restaurant?
16. Cut more than one bite of meat at a time before transferring your fork to your right hand?
17. Drink bouillon from a cup?
18. Talk when you have food in your mouth?
19. Use a knife for cutting lettuce?
20. Dip a soup spoon away from you?
21. Put salt for celery on the tablecloth?
22. Stand for the blessing, if it is the custom?
23. Break open a baked potato with your fingers?
24. Leave a spoon standing in a cup?
25. Push your plate back when you have finished eating?

(Answers on page four)

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 20, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 168.

Linda Doles ..... Editor-in-Chief
Associate Editors
Bet McLoughlin, Patsy Powell

Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Judy Eckstrom ..... News Editor
Henrietta Dolling ..... Feature Editor
Violet Scott ..... Sports Editor
Virginia Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Eleanor Giorgianni ..... Photography
Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Lou Gray, Becky Parker ..... Advertising Managers
Dr. James Wellard ..... Faculty Advisor

(Unsigned editorials written by the editor.)

Member: Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press (Rating second-class excellent), Columbia Scholarship Press Association (Rating first place), Intercollegiate Daze.

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress on March 8, 1944. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

Wake Up And Read!

By JOYCE S. HUTCHESON

During the week of March 16-22, National Library Week will be observed for the first time. In order to promote reading of books, magazines, and newspapers, Americans are urged to "wake up and read" for a better-read, better-informed America. A nation-wide campaign is being carried on to achieve these goals, with committees on the national, state and local levels.

Virginia's State Committee is headed by Mr. Webster Rhoads of Miller and Rhoads in Richmond. Working with him as chairman of the Farmville area is Mr. Barrye Wall, Jr. His committees are planning publicity for the event in the local schools and colleges, in civic organizations, and in local business concerns. Members of these subcommittees include: Mrs. Lucille Dahl, Miss Beverly Ruffin, Mr. Jake Walmsley, Mr. Bill Watkins and Mr. Vernon Womack.

Plans are under way for special announcements over WFLO, and a special edition of the Farmville Herald. Posters displaying the symbol and slogan—"Wake Up and Read" will be displayed downtown and on campus.

H-S Group Speaks

As a "send-off" for this week on campus, the Longwood Library League invited the Union Literary Society from Hampden-Sydney to present the assembly program on March 11th. This program was in charge of Joyce S. Hutcheson, president of the Tri-L, and John Brinkley, President of the Hampden-Sydney group.

NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK
March 16-22, 1958

Library Features Displays

Exhibits have also been planned for all schools in Prince Edward County, Farmville High School, and here in the College Library. Two displays are currently being featured in the Library. One has the caption, "Wake Up and Read" and displays classics and colorful book-jackets made by art students here.

The other, entitled "Reading is the Key to Success," features some of the books from the list of Notable Books of 1957 chosen annually by a division of the American Library Association. Among them are the following:

The Dog Who Wouldn't Be by Farley Mowat. This is the story of a dog addicted to walking fences, climbing trees, and wearing sunggoggles like the rest of "us humans." He was, in fact, a dedicated creature—dedicated to escaping the limitations of a dog's life.

Face to Face by Ved Mehata is an inspiring story of a blind boy from India who came to the USA when he was fifteen, and has written about his experiences here and in his native country "With a vivid perception that is granted to very few."

About the book, Poets In a Landscape, the author, Gilbert Highets, says that in this book he has tried to "set down something of (the) realization of Roman Italy; and in particular, of Italy as the home and inspiration of seven of the greatest Roman poets." He recalls these poets by describing their characters, the places they lived, and evoking the essence of their work. This is truly a book for those who love Italy and poetry.

These books have been displayed to help you observe National Library Week. So why not—"Wake Up and Read."

Timely Topics

By BARBARA HECK

Lost: America's Explorer II satellite. If found please return to Cape Canaveral, Fla. Scientists believe it may have burned in the earth's atmosphere before it attained an orbit . . . The navy now has its first submarine which can fire nuclear warhead guided missiles.

Governor J. Lindsay Almond says the people of Prince Edward County have made it more than plain "they will not operate their schools on a racially mixed basis." (Northern Virginia Sun). The county schools are now "set up" to "close down" when necessary . . . Maryland's Governor McKeldin recently placed his signature to a bill which outlaws slot machines on boats and piers near the Virginia side of the Maryland-owned Potomac . . . Pat Campbell says she is planning to buy lots of 3 cent stamps before the price goes up to 5 cents. The price jump will also include air mail stamps—6 cents to 8 cents and postcards—2 cents to 3 cents.

Victor Borge To Play His 'Comedy In Music'

Victor Borge, that phenomenon of show business, will come to the Mosque for an 8:30 p.m. performance on Thursday, March 20.

Presented here by Michaux Moody for the second time, Borge with his "Comedy in Music" program has been dubbed "the funniest entertainer in the world." His peculiar brand of humor has baffled many a writer, and has been enjoyed by millions of persons who attend his concerts and view his television programs time after time.

Habitually he is alone with his piano for two and a half hours, and is one of the few entertainers who can bring off a one-man show with success.

Tickets may be obtained at the Civic Musical Association box office in the John Marshall Hotel.

Richmond Times Dispatch

"Peyton Place" Rated Excellent By Students

By MARY STOKES

Soon to be featured at the State Theater here, "Peyton Place," is a moving drama of two girls and their families, and the effect of their problems on themselves, their intimates, and the whole town.

Many Longwood students having seen "Peyton Place," had these comments to offer:

"Movie far superior to book". . . "Excellent". . ."Very realistic". . . "Parts which were cut from the book should have been improved the story". . ."Held the attention of the audience all the way through the story". . ."Best movie that I have seen in a long time". . ."Well worth seeing."

All-Star Cast

"Peyton Place" features an all-star cast headed by Lana Turner, as the mother of an illegitimate teenage daughter; Diane Varsi, as the teenage daughter; Hope Lange, as the girl from the wrong side of town; Arthur Kennedy, as the stepfather who attacks her; Lee Philips, as the new schoolmaster; Lloyd Nolan, as the doctor with a secret; Russ Tambly, as the shy boy next-door; David Nelson, as the serious-minded student; Terry Moore, as the town flirt; and Barry Coe, as Terry Moore's relentless lover. All give excellent performances, which has helped in getting "Peyton Place" nominated for Nine Oscar Awards.

"Peyton Place" was filmed in a small town in Maine, called Camden, which today remains unspoiled, an exquisite example of a typical New England coastal town. Camden's townfolks welcomed the "Peyton Place" company and out of a population of three thousand, no less than seventeen hundred signed up and played "extras" in the picture. Camden, Maine even in name became "Peyton Place."

"Peyton Place" emerges as a modern-told classical drama that deals with the worst and the best in men and women and leaves the audience to be their judge.

Workman Chosen Study Candidate

By PATSY POWELL

Molly Workman, versatile Longwood College junior, has been selected by a committee of the faculty of the college as a candidate for a scholarship to an English summer school. Molly will be considered by the Virginia Branch of the English Speaking Union along with undergraduate representatives from other Virginia colleges, and, if selected, will receive $750.

MOLLY WORKMAN

"I am honored to be chosen and I think it is a wonderful opportunity," says the candidate. "Of course I would like to go." As for the values of studying abroad Molly feels that ". . .you get a different viewpoint, and of course the best place to study English literature is in England. Since these summer school courses are for graduate study it is an opportunity to do some specialized work."

If selected, Molly will have her choice of several English schools, but she plans to attend the University of London to study "Romantic and Victorian Literature." Besides study she will have the opportunity to participate in visits and arranged tours.

In order to be nominated for this scholarship, one must be a citizen and resident of Virginia, who is a sophomore or junior in a Virginia college, and who has not been to England.

Barter Holds Play Tryouts

Abingdon—Auditions for the Barter Theater of Virginia will be held on Saturday, March 29, at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

The Barter Theater is currently on national tour with "Nine by 6" and "The Reluctant Debutante."

Joint auditions for actors, dancers and technicians also will be held for the Vagabond Players, "The Lost Colony," "Unto These Hills," "Horn in the West," "Wilderness Road," Paul Green's new play of the Confederacy, and, "Thy Kingdom Come." The auditions will be held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Southeastern Theater Conference.

Acting candidates should prepare a one-minute reading selection of their own choice. Dancer candidates should bring workout clothes. All candidates must be at least 18 years old.

Candidates should write in advance to Samuel Seldon, Box 351, Chapel Hill, sending a brief summary of personal characteristics, theatrical experience and a recent photograph.

Dates for the New York Barter Theater auditions have not yet been announced.

Richmond Times Dispatch

As an English major and French minor here at Longwood, Molly has many interests. She has excelled in dramatics, is writing a novel, and spends much of her spare time reading modern fiction, especially fiction by her favorite authors, Faulkner, D. H. Lawrence, Hardy, and Alcott. Her novel, she thinks, will never get published in its present form, but it may get published some day.

Molly is a member of Beorc Eh Thorn, the Longwood Players, and the Colonnade staff. She is president of Alpha Psi Omega and secretary of the French club.

After graduation she would like to teach in high school and eventually in college, but at present Molly is anxious to spend a summer in England and ". . .If anybody knows anybody who has a ride to Europe, please let me know," she says.

From Connecticut . . . . . To North Carolina

By NANCY HARNSBERGER

The Longwood girls have been traveling around in the past two weeks. Seems like Cupid followed them around too! Judy Eckstrom received a "sparkler" from Bob Morris who is from Charleston, W. Va. Bob was a Lambda Chi at H-S. Congratulations, Judy . . . Hannah Haile is wearing a Chi Phi pin next to her heart. She is pinned to Dabney Overton from U. Va.

Mary Ellen Moore and Frances Harvey attended the dances at Yale. Ralph Marterie was on campus to provide the music.

Military Ball

Jean Turner, Betty Spivey, Violet Scott, Nancye Allen, June Elmore, Jean Helms, Betty L. Smith, Liz Fentress, and Eloise Shrieves traveled to V.P.I. for the Military Ball. We hear everyone had a great time.

KA Rose Formal U. of R.

Martha Rucker, Sara Hastings, and Margie Layman attended the dance at the John Marshall Hotel in Richmond.

U. of N.C.

Sallie Parrott and Jo Bailey went South to U. of N.C. to the Chi Phi Lodge House Party.

Jackie Trader and Emily Irby traveled to U. Va. and Betty Brown Culpepper went to V.M.I. Sara Hackworth traveled up to Annapolis and Ruth Zich to Lynchburg College.

Randolph-Macon

This weekend the big social news was at R-M. Ann McDonald, Connie Michael, Betty Lee Mason, Anne B. Pope, Jane Freeman, Sue Humphries, Pat O'Neil, Betty Griggs, Martha Rucker, Rose Marie Price, and Sylvia Moore attended the dances. Ralph Marterie provided the music for the weekend plus providing dinner for two Longwood girls! Martha Rucker and Annabelle Pope, with their dates, were personally escorted to dinner and treated at the Hotel King Carter as Marterie's guests.

V.M.I.

Sara Gayhart, Liz Mosteller, Marjorie Crismond, Jeanne Vestel, and Anne Rountree went to V.M.I. for the weekend.

Emily Irby and Shirley Hauptman went to U. Va. Kay Kellam and Wilma Shaffer traveled to Tech. July Echols went to Westhampton College, and Nancy Cole spent her weekend at Ferrum Junior College.

Kay Winding To Perform

This weekend in spite of the holiday many Longwood girls will stay on campus to attend the Mid-Winter dances at H-S.

After presenting the second of the Science TV programs in Petersburg, Miss Elizabeth Burger, associate science professor, Nancy Brubeck, and Dottie Boswell traveled to Martinsville to visit '57 Longwood graduate, Jeanne Saunders, now teaching there.

Friday Afternoon Club

The Friday Afternoon Club, which meets from three to five every Friday afternoon in the College Shop, has been established to renew the old custom of socializing in the College Shop. At present the club has eighty members from Longwood and Hampden-Sydney. Its officers are as follows: President, Bill French; Vice Pres., George Lambert; Sec.-Treas., Liz Mosteller; Sarg. et Arms, Moonyeen Warren; Purchasing Agent, Willie Pierce; Health and Welfare Agent, Bobby Cunningham; Chairmen of Publicity, Judy Holderman and Lou Mundin; Chairman of the Board of Directors, Bill Richmond.

The membership of this Club is still open to anyone who is interested in fostering better social relations between Hampden-Sydney and Longwood. See you at the College Shop!

Students To Attend U. N. C. Arts Festival

Seven Longwood students, representing Orchesis, the modern dance organization on campus, will attend the 15th annual Arts Festival to be held at Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, North Carolina, March 12-15.

The Arts Festival at Woman's College is the largest in the southern region, drawing student participation from three states and works beyond the southeastern states in painting. Music, painting, drama, creative writing (both student fiction and short plays) and dance are emphasized, with particular emphasis upon the performing arts: dance, music, drama.

Longwood To Participate

Longwood students will present "Within Ourselves", a dramatic work in dance form, using seven dancers, to music by Charles Griffes. "Within Ourselves" is a group work, which stresses the ages or stages of development of growth through three levels: childhood, adolescence and maturity, in which an austere, tightly knit, movement pattern shows the child who was; the adolescent who wants to be; and the adult who hopes to reach maturity.

Joan Dorsey junior from Winchester and Carolyn Goodman freshman from Fries are the childhood figures. Norma Jean Johnson sophomore of Pearisburg and Miriam Lambiotte freshman of Warwick are the adolescent figures. Carol Lash senior from Virginia Beach, Dottie Marshall, junior from Nokesville, and Charlotte Jewel junior from Salem, will portray the maturity figures.

Cunningham To Highlight Events

Merce Cunningham, dancer-artist, renowned as an 'avante gard' soloist, now leading a company of his own, and formerly a member of the Martha Graham Company, will evaluate student works; teach a master class to the visiting college students; and perform in a concert of dance the last evening of the Festival. Hailed as a superb technician, he is an exponent of choreography by chance, having formed an arrangement with John Cage, one of the first American experimentalists in the prepared piano, which has made both dancer and musician leaders ahead of the run of the mill dance and music of today. There has been much discussion and much written of this way of choreographing and of the compositions of John Cage. Both artists, Cunningham and Cage, appeared here on the Longwood College campus several years ago in a concert featuring both artists, and long before either had reached such pinnacles of fame.

The student choreography program, which is the first event of the Festival that the Longwood group is attending will be held Friday afternoon. This is an all-student performance. It is an experience planned for students in which dance choreography is completely the product of student work. Dances are limited to three minutes in length because of the numbers of college groups performing and at least three students must perform. Emphasis is upon choreography, not performance.

TV Topics

Wednesday, March 12

9:00 Ch. 8—Earl Holliman and Japanese actor Sessue Hayakawa will costar in "The Sea Is Boiling Hot," drama of a small-scale war on a small Pacific island, on the Kraft Television Theater.

10:00 Ch. 12—"Give Me My Son" will star Richard Kiley and Betsy Palmer, on the U. S. Steel Hour. Drama concerns the conflict a father—for five years a prisoner of war—faces when he learns his child has been adopted without his knowledge.

Thursday, March 13

8:30 Ch. 12—Kim Hunter, Ralph Meeker, Shepperd Strudwick and Scott McKay will be costarred in "So Deadly My Love." Plot involves a husband, believed to have kidnaped his estranged wife.

9:30 Ch. 12—Andy Griffith will be starred in the James Thurber-Elliott Nugent comedy, "The Male Animal," on Playhouse 90. The play deals with a college professor's reply to a challenge against his right to teach how and what he pleases—complicated by domestic difficulties. Cast also includes Ann Rutherford, Charles Ruggles, Gale Gordon, Edmond O'Brien and Barbara Harris.

9:30 Ch. 8—Comedienne Pat Carroll will fill the guest spot on Ernie Ford's show.

Friday, March 14

8:30 Ch. 12—Dewey Martin will star as the famed gunman Doc Holliday in "Man of Fear," western drama of a man's search for courage, on the Zane Grey Theater.

9:00 Ch. 6—Eydie Gorme, singing star of Broadway's "Lil Abner," and comic Joey Bishop in the role of a "show surgeon," will appear on Frank Sinatra's show.

9:30 Ch. 12—Paul Douglas will star as a reformed ex-convict and operator of a successful trucking line who fears his past will hamper his son (Ray Stricklyn) in "The Honor System," on the Playhouse of Stars.

10:00 Ch. 6—An ex-convict who turns to religion when his dying—to the dismay of his mob—finds it is not easy to go straight in "David and Goliath," on the Walter Winchell File. William Phipps will star.

Saturday, March 15

7:30 Ch. 12—"The Case of the Half-Wakened Wife" will be the suspense drama on the Perry Mason show, starring Raymond Burr.

9:00 Ch. 8—Dean Martin will be featured on Club Oasis.

Hit Parade Adds Mystery

Your Hit Parade last night installed a mystery tune gimmick. Ratingwise, the show is slipping. And it will take more than giveaway bait to regain its prestige as long as it works with the tuneless rock 'n' roll tripe, loosely described as music. The program also has renewed the contracts of its four singing stars. Maybe it would have been a smarter move to have fired them and invited Gisele MacKenzie to come back at her own price.

Richmond Times-Dispatch

Church News

By ANN GLOVER

Episcopalian

The Canterbury Club had as its speaker on March 9, 1958 the Rev. Jean A. Vache, rector of Johns Memorial Church. Rev. Vache spoke on Lent.

Students will lead the program on March 16 and show a film.

The Rev. R. Groff of Norfolk will speak at Union Vespers in the Episcopal Church on March 23. Union fellowship will be in the Parish House following the Church service.

Presbyterian

Six members of the Westminster Fellowship attended the Synod conference held at Roslyn the week end of February 28. Dr. B. Frank Hall, the speaker of the conference, spoke on "The Nature and Mission of the Church." Four international students from France, Scotland, South India, and Formosa discussed the ecumenical movements in their respective countries. At this conference a portion of the Synod officers for Westminster Fellowship were elected and are as follows: Howe Brown, Washington and Lee, president; Jim Morris, V.P.I, treasurer; and Ann Glover, Longwood, editor of the "Herald", Synod newspaper.

A film strip on the Hindu religion was shown at Westminster Fellowship on March 2, 1958 at 7 p.m. After this program fellowship was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Putney.

The major prophets are still being discussed at Bible Study which is led by Dave Moore on Wednesday evenings.

The W. F. Council met at the church on Friday, March 7. Jack Wilcox, vice-president, presided at the meeting in the absence of Carol King, president. The Constitution Committee presented our W. F. constitution which has been under revision. This was discussed and adopted by the council.

Dr. Graves Thompson of Hampden-Sydney spoke on "Christ and the Fine Arts" at the W. F. meeting on March 9 at 7 p.m.

A survey of the Oak Grove area near Hampden-Sydney was conducted by the Expansion Commission this past Sunday afternoon. Following this survey the W. F. members were served supper and held their program at the College Church at Hampden-Sydney.

Dean Wilson will speak to our group next Sunday, March 16, on "Islam."

The second round in the class volleyball and basketball games will be played Wednesday at 5 p. m. and Thursday at 4 p. m., respectively. The third round in volleyball will be played on Monday at 5 p. m. and basketball will be played on Tuesday at 4 p. m. The winning team in each game will receive five points towards the "color cup." The A.A. urges you to come out and support your class and your color.

Monogram Club Initiates Eleven

Initiation services were held Monday, March 10, for the eleven girls who received bids to join the Monogram Club second semester.

The Monogram Club is composed of juniors and seniors who are outstanding in athletic ability, sportsmanship, and scholarship. Its purpose is to stimulate more interest in the variety of sports on campus.

Those girls receiving bids were Shirley Hauptman, senior, and juniors, Evelyn Skalsky, Jackie Waller, Lou Heir, Gayle Cunningham, Violet Scott, Linda Vess, Willie Taylor, Delo Dove, Nancy Andrews, and Mary Lou Morgan.

Madison, W & M Bow To L. C.

By VIOLET SCOTT

Madison College, playing host to Longwood Tuesday, March 4, proved to be the "blue and white's" toughest foe of the season.

Each team matched goal for goal in the first quarter. The lead changed hands continously in the first three quarters, but middle way the fourth quarter Longwood pulled ahead and racked up its fourth straight win of the season 61 to 51 in a rather close contest.

The second game saw Longwood suffer its first defeat of the season. Unable to keep pace with the Madison six, Longwood went down 62 to 46.

W & M Defeated 55-43

Friday, February 28, the Longwood basketball team traveled to Williamsburg to meet William and Mary in its third game of the season.

Entering the second quarter with a 17 to 16 lead in favor of William and Mary, Longwood outscored its host by twelve points and went on to claim victory 55 to 43.

In order for a girl to be eligible to participate in the Spring Red and White, Green and White Swimming Meet, she must obtain four "rec" swims this semester which can be added to four "rec" swims that she accumulated last semester. If she did not participate in any "rec" swims, a total of eight swims this semester will still make her eligible. "Rec" swims are scheduled for Monday 4:30-5:45 p.m., Wednesday, 10 p.m., and Friday, 4-5 p.m. Participants may sign up at the pool in the regular manner.

Longwood Triumphs in Fifth Game As Westhampton Goes Down 54-34

NANCY RICHARDSON, No. 25, scores two points as Westhampton guards watch helplessly.

Undefeated Squad Completes Season

By VIOLET SCOTT

Longwood's basketball team closed the season with an undefeated record as they triumphed over Westhampton of Richmond 54 to 34.

Taking command of the lead after the first few minutes of the game, Longwood pulled ahead 31 to 12 in the first half and went on to claim its fifth consecutive "blue and white" victory.

Starting lineup for the first game were guard, Willie Taylor, Evelyn Skalsky, and Margaret Dowdy. Jackie Waller, Nancy Richardson, and Delo Dove held down the forward positions.

The second game proved to be a little more exciting than the first, as Longwood came from behind an eight point deficit in the fourth quarter and defeated Westhampton 65 to 57. Longwood was unable to take the lead at the first quarter of the game, but coming forth with a determination to win, they outscored Westhampton 19 to 4 in the fourth quarter and claimed victory once more for Longwood.

Lou Heir, Joan Creel, and Carolyn Thorpe started as forwards and Violet Scott, Claudia Whipple, and Nancy Andrews held down the guard positions.

Mate Fadley, forward, and Doris Tolley, guard, substituted in the second quarter. Gayle Cunningham entered the game playing forward at the beginning of the second half.

Half-time score was 7 to 29 in favor of Westhampton.

From The Bleachers

By JACKIE WALLER

Basketball, the big sports noise, has nearly finished its soundings for another season. Of special interest are the two big local tourneys, the Southern Conference and the Atlantic Coast Conference.

West Virginia Tops SC

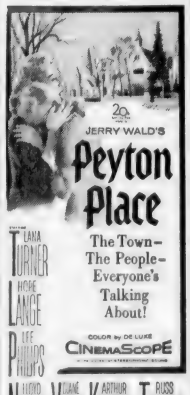
Thursday night in Richmond's big arena saw the following quarter-final results in the Southern Conference. The nation's No. 1 team according to the latest AP poll, West Virginia, walloped Davidson 91-61; The University of Richmond was victorious over The Citadel in a fairly close match 6-59; George Washington 7, Furman 59; and William and Mary over V.P.I. 79-61 in a fast break victory for the Indians.

Friday night's semi-finals saw West Virginia top University of Richmond 81-70 and William and Mary follow with a narrow 57-56 victory over George Washington University.

Saturday, West Virginia defeated William and Mary 74-58. The next stop for Mountaineers will be the NCAA Eastern Regional playoffs.

Maryland Victorious

Down in Tarheel Land on Thursday night in the ACC's quarter-final games, North Carolina beat Clemson 62-51; Maryland barely got by the University of Virginia, the score Maryland 70, Virginia 66; North Carolina took a five-point, 66-61 victory over South Carolina and Duke set Wake Forest's Deacons back 51-44.



Friday night saw Duke go down in an overtime defeat at the hands of Maryland 71-61 while North Carolina foiled any upsetting plans of North Carolina State with a 64-58 decision.

The ACC Champion, Marvland, emerged against North Carolina 81-74. Maryland, too, will hop to New York to try her luck against the other regional winners.

Swimming

Swimming laurels in the Little Eight's second annual meet were won by Randolph-Macon. Last week in Salem, the Jackets nosed out Roanoke's Maroons by five points. William and Mary latched on to third place while Lynchburg settled for the last rung remaining.

GRAY'S
the
Home of Assorted
GREETING CARDS
—by Hallmark

The State
YOUR COMMUNITY CENTER
IN FARMVILLE, VA.
MARCH 20 THRU 25

The Town—The People—Everyone's Talking About!
SHOWS WILL BEGIN:
1:00 - 3:42 - 6:24 - 9:06
PRICES
25c and 70c

Farmville, Va.
With This Coupon
HAMBURGER SPECIALS
45c
MARCH 13 - 14
—at—
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

WHEN DOWN TOWN
STOP BY OUR CANDY COUNTER
NEWBERRY'S

WALKER'S RESTAURANT
Club Breakfast - Lunch
Course Dinners
FOUNTAIN SERVICE
Phone 3280
U. S. 360 and 460
Burkeville, Va.

TEN TOP TUNES
from
WILSON HOME & AUTO
1. Get a Job
2. Don't
3. Sheer Shoals
4. Twenty-Six Mills
5. Juke
6. Sweet Lil Sixteen
7. At the Hop
8. The Stroll
9. Sail Along Silvery Moon
10. You Are My Destiny

FOR YOUR ENTERTAINMENT
Listen To
AFTERNOON RECORD SHOW
From 2:00 - 5:00
over
W - F - L - O

Richmond Times-Dispatch

Six members of the Westminster Fellowship attended the Synod conference held at Roslyn the week end of February 28. Dr. B. Frank Hall, the speaker of the conference, spoke on "The Nature and Mission of the Church." Four international students from France, Scotland, South India, and Formosa discussed the ecumenical movements in their respective countries. At this conference a portion of the Synod officers for Westminster Fellowship were elected and are as follows: Howe Brown, Washington and Lee, president; Jim Morris, V.P.I, treasurer; and Ann Glover, Longwood, editor of the "Herald", Synod newspaper.

A film strip on the Hindu religion was shown at Westminster Fellowship on March 2, 1958 at 7 p.m. After this program fellowship was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Putney.

The major prophets are still being discussed at Bible Study which is led by Dave Moore on Wednesday evenings.

The W. F. Council met at the church on Friday, March 7. Jack Wilcox, vice-president, presided at the meeting in the absence of Carol King, president. The Constitution Committee presented our W. F. constitution which has been under revision. This was discussed and adopted by the council.

Dr. Graves Thompson of Hampden-Sydney spoke on "Christ and the Fine Arts" at the W. F. meeting on March 9 at 7 p.m.

A survey of the Oak Grove area near Hampden-Sydney was conducted by the Expansion Commission this past Sunday afternoon. Following this survey the W. F. members were served supper and held their program at the College Church at Hampden-Sydney.

Dean Wilson will speak to our group next Sunday, March 16, on "Islam."

—H. C. Owen

MR. J. B. WALL, Owner and Publisher of the Farmville Herald (seated, center), holds an informal discussion with "Rotunda" staff members after his talk March 3. Shown left to right, back group, the girls are: Frances Harnsberger, Cherry Gorham, Jo Ann Parsons, Bet McLoughlin, Barbara Hurst, Ann Hill, Gwen Melton, Diane Doughty, Dale Freddy; front group: Lou Gray, Kay Howard, Patsy Powell, Eleanor Gurganus, Henrietta Dollins, Barbara Heck, Virginia Joyner.

Superior Freshmen Gain Advanced Rating

Superior freshmen students entering Longwood College may now receive advanced standing in one or more of eleven subject fields, president Francis G. Lankford, Jr., announced today. The fields are in English composition and literature, Spanish, French, biology, chemistry, physics, American and European history, mathematics, and music.

Advanced standing is obtained by the student's earning an acceptable rating on approved examinations. With the exception of music, the examinations will be those given by the College Entrance Examination Board. Examinations for advanced standing in music will be given by the Longwood College music faculty.

When a student has earned advanced standing in any particular field, he will be allowed to skip the college's first course in that field. He will also be allowed to reduce the number of credits required for a degree by the amount of credit normally earned in the first course. In this manner it is possible for the able student to complete a degree program in less than the normal time, or to enrich his program if he elects to remain the full four years.

Able students have other provisions made for them at Longwood College. Each fall entering freshmen are given placement examinations in English and mathematics. The results of the tests are used in placing the able students in advanced sections of freshmen courses in these fields. Similarly, student's high school records are used in business education and physical education to permit selected students to start with advanced courses rather than beginning courses in college.

Longwood College also continues its program of honors courses. Under its provision advanced students may pursue individual research study under the direction of a faculty member. Six semester hours of credit may be earned in this manner. Recent honors courses have been done in biology under the direction of Professor Brumfield. One of these studied experimentally the effect of ultraviolet radiation on root growth. The other was an experimental study of geotropism in roots.

Miss Longwood

(Continued from page 1)

only expense to a girl would be her clothes. Specific details concerning the contest have not yet been completed; however, the contest will be held during May.

First, second, and third place winners in the local contests will receive prizes; and a $1,000 scholarship will be awarded the winner of the Miss Virginia contest.

Qualifications for both contests are:

1. Contestants must be residents of city or territory in which local contest is held six months prior to contest. This rule is only waived for a contestant whose residence is out of the city or state, but who is a college or university student in the city or territory where contest is held. She may not compete in more than one official contest each year.

2. Contestant must be single and never have been married, divorced, or had marriage annulled.

3. Contestant must be high school graduate by September 2, 1958; shall not be less than eighteen (18) or more than twenty-eight (28) years on September 2, 1958.

4. Contestant must be of good character and possess personality, intelligence, charm and beauty of face and figure.

5. Contestant must possess and display talent in a three-minute routine.

This talent may be singing, dancing, playing a musical instrument, dramatic reading, art display, dress designing, etc., or she may give a three-minute talk on the career she wishes to pursue.

6. Contestant may be either amateur or professional.

7. Contestant must be accompanied to the STATE FINALS by a female chaperone.

Easter

(Continued from page 1)

Easter girl, for she takes all the sins and troubles of her family on herself. The play covers a three day cycle of Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, and Easter Sunday which makes it very significant for this time of year.

The play should prove very interesting and challenging for its Director and Designer David Wiley, for it is his first production of a realistic play since being at Longwood. The set which he designed is a realistic interior of a living room of the Victorian era.

The Longwood Players and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs urge all students and townspeople to attend this intense drama. Don't forget the dates: March 13, 14, and 15, at 8 p.m. in Jarman Auditorium.

By Pat Leake

(Answers to questions on page 2)

1. Yes, 2. No, 3. Yes, 4. Yes, 5. No, 6. Yes, 7. Yes, 8. Yes, 9. No, 10. Yes, 11. No, 12. Yes, 13. No, 14. Yes, 15. No, 16. Yes, 17. Yes, 18. No, 19. Yes, 20. Yes, 21. No, 22. No, 23. Yes, 24. No, 25. No.

Boxwood Tourist Court and Restaurant

3 Miles South of Farmville on Rt. 15

Phone 3027-5

HUNGRY?

THIRSTY?

TIRED?

See You At

The SNACK

Showboat Coming!

"Showboat," a musical comedy, will come to the State Theater March 19. Sponsored by the American Association of University Women, the movie will be shown at 3, 7, and 9 p.m. The regular admission will be charged for this film which the student body indicated as their preference.

Starring Kathryn Grayson, Ava Gardner, Howard Keel, Marge and Gower Champion, Robert Sterling, and Agnes Moorehead, this story of the last century will feature songs such as "Old Man River" and "Make Believe."

Longwood students selected "Showboat" as a movie they would like to see.

Opera Ballet To Play Here

Programming the "Merry Widow" and "Revenge," the Chicago Opera Ballet will appear here on Wednesday, March 26, in Jarman Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Such world-famed artists as Mia Slavenska, Oleg Briansky, Sonia Arova and England's Doreen Tempest join the brilliant American-trained Job Sanders, Kenneth Johnson and Barbara Steele, and the young and handsome Corps de Ballet of the Chicago Lyric Opera, to present some of the most recent creations of one of America's foremost choreographers, Ruth Page.

Accompanied by its own orchestra under the direction of Neal Kavan, this "lively and adventuresome" company will present "Revenge" and "The Merry Widow," each one being an opera-into-ballet. "Revenge" is a dramatic re-creation in dancing of Verdi's passionate tale of Gypsy vengeance, "Il Trovatore." "The Merry Widow" activates Franz Lehar's beloved operetta by setting its characters on their toes, spinning to its immortal melodies.

Linda Doles, editor of the Rotunda, and Barbara Hurst, business manager, will represent Longwood at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Conference which is being held at Columbia University in New York this week end. Linda and Barbara left this afternoon and will return Sunday, March 16.

Major Elections

(Continued from page 1)

Helen Jean, upon asking her how she felt about such an honor and responsibility placed upon her, stated, "I feel so undeserving but so honored to be chosen for such an office as this. As a new day began, though, I realized that through God all things are possible. With the help of the cabinet, administration, and student body our lights will radiate the lamp of Our Lord."

Helen Jean, a junior elementary major from Covington, has worked in close harmony with the Y, being Christmas pageant chairman her sophomore year and Big Sister-Little Sister chairman this year. She is also junior class president, and Co-Vice-President of Wesley Foundation this year, and previously Vice-president of Granddaughters Club. Helen Jean is also a member of Cotillion Club and was tapped into Alpha Kappa Gamma this year.

McLoughlin Expresses Hopes

Bet has been very active in House Council being a hall president her sophomore year and junior house president this year naturally, I am highly honored to have been selected as president of House Council. I realize the responsibility which it entails and firmly hope that through our co-operation with both the Student Council and the Student Body we will have a strong and successful House Council."

A junior business major from Richmond, Bet has also recently been appointed an associate editor for the Rotunda. She has served as news editor for the Rotunda, Secretary-Treasurer of the Richmond Club, Secretary of Newman Club, Treasurer of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority and holds membership in Cotillion Club, Pi Delta Epsilon, F.B.L.A., and Longwood Players.

Delo, also, has been very active in the Athletic Association for the past two years being chairman of publicity last year and presently treasurer of A. A. "I didn't think it was possible to be happy, sad, honored, and scared all at once. Now I know it is possible, for that is exactly how I feel. I hope I can carry out my responsibilities with kindness, humility, fairness, and friendliness."

A junior biology and science major from Martinsville, Delo has been a member of the hockey and basketball teams for three years. She held the office of treasurer of the freshman class and is presently treasurer of Panhellenic Association. Delo is also a member of the honorary science club, Cotillion club, and Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority.

Founders' Day

(Continued from page 1)

Church; member of the House of Burgesses beginning in 1769; one of the original trustees of Hampden-Sydney College, donating in 1775 the land (98 acres) on which the college buildings now stand.

His sons were Peter, Jr., Andrew, Charles, and Edward. He died at Longwood December 6, 1786, and with his wife, Martha Butler Rogers, lies buried near this spot (exact location unknown).

This seventy - fourth Founders' Day will be reunion year for all alumnae who graduated from Longwood College in years ending in 3's and 8's. Registration will be in the Rotunda from 3 to 9 p.m., Friday. Included on the program Saturday are coffee at the Alumnae House, the business meeting, Open House at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Francis G. Lankford, Jr., and the Longwood Players production, "Easter," by Auguest Strindburg.

By Pasty Powell

You'll be sittin' on top of the world when you change to L&M

Light into that L&M Live Modern flavor

Only L&M gives you this filter fact—the patent number on every pack.... ...your guarantee of a more effective filter on today's L&M.

Free up...freshen up your taste!

Put yourself behind the pleasure end of an L&M. Get the flavor, the full rich taste of the Southland's finest cigarette tobaccos. The patented Miracle Tip is pure white inside, pure white outside, as a filter should be for cleaner, better smoking.

© 1958 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

The Rotunda

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., March 26, 1958 | No. 14

Class Elects Rosson Head

Lillian Rosson has recently been elected to guide the incoming senior class as president. Lillian will hold many responsibilities in leading the seniors through their many activities and graduation.

"It makes you feel so small and unworthy of the honor. Shirley Hauptman, the present senior class president, has done such an excellent job this year that it is going to be difficult to fill her shoes. With the wonderful cooperation of the class, I'll do my best."

LILLIAN ROSSON

An elementary major from Trevilians, Lillian is vice-president of the Y.W.C.A., and a member of Cotillion Club, B.S.U., and Pi Gamma Mu.

Remaining officers of the senior class will be Charlotte McGee, vice-president; Cass Connor, Secretary; Ann Glover, Treasurer; Donna Boone, Historian; Dot Boswell, House President; and Minnie Lee Dean and Nancy Brubeck, Student Government Representatives.

O'Connell To Lead Juniors – Leading the incoming juniors will be Jean O'Connell as president. Jean, a biology major from Springfield, has also been recently elected Treasurer of the Athletic Association for the coming year. She is a member of H2O Club, Newman Club, Cotillion Club, Alpha Sigma Tau sorority and has served on Freshman Commission and as Freshman Counselor this year.

Other officers for the junior class are Barbara Rossiter, Vice President; Helen Wente, Secretary; Nancy Donaldson, Treasurer; Chris Wilson and Connie Goodman, Student Government Representatives; and Ann Snyder, House President.

Sophs Re-elect Hardy

Ann Hardy again assumes the office of President of the Sophomre class for the coming year. Ann, an elementary education major from Norfolk, has been freshman class president along with being a member of Freshman Commission, Cotillion Club, and Alpha Sigma Tau sorority.

Other sophomore officers are Mary Hite Grayson, Vice President; Cora Strauchan, Secretary; Terry Loedwicks, Treasurer; Joyce Odom and Cherron Kelley, Student Government Representatives; and Beverley Kersey, House President.

Miss Ruth Wilson, Dean of Women, will attend the convention of the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors March 26-30 to be held in St. Louis, Missouri. Previous to the opening of the convention Dean Wilson will represent the Regional Association of Deans of Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and Washington, D. C.

Students To Give Recital Tomorrow

The Longwood College Music Department will present a Student Recital March 27, in Jarman Auditorium at 4:00.

Ann Barnes, contralto, a sophomore music major, accompanied by Hildegrade Wagner, pianist, will offer "Amorille" by Caccine and "Kugiodose Odorose" by Scarlatti.

Justine Blount, pianist, a sophomore English major will present "Minuet in F" by Schubert and "Fragment from the G Minor Concerto" by Medelssohn-Moszkowski.

Joann Fivel, mezzo-soprano, a junior elementary education major, accompanied by Hildegrade Wagner, pianist, will offer "Invoceazione de Orfeo" (Euridice) by Lerl.

A junior music major, Pianist Adair Camp will present "Mazurka" in B flat Op. No. 1 by Chopin.

Kay Hudgins, contralto, a freshman music major, accompanied by Hildegrade Wagner, will offer "Fur Music" by Franz, and "Stiel Wie Die Nacht" by Bahm.

Pianist Margaret Moore, a junior music major, will present "Nocturne" in G Minor Op. 34, No. 1 by Chopin.

Jean Helms, soprano, a freshman music major, will offer "A Memory" by Granz and "The Pasture" by Naginski. She will be accompanied by Hildegrade Wagner.

Cotillion Signs Crew-Cuts

THE CREW CUTS, America's most consistent vocal group hit makers, shown here as they will appear at Longwood's Cotillion Club Dance April 12.

Allen's Orchestra To Provide Music

The Crew-Cuts, rated "America's Top Ballroom Attraction" will be featured vocalists for the annual dance sponsored by the Cotillion Club of Longwood on April 12. The "Satin Smooth" music of Eddie Allen and his Orchestra will add to the dancing enjoyment.

Also voted the No. 1 Vocal Group on Disc-Jockey Shows Coast-to Coast, the Crew-Cuts quickly rose to national fame with the recording of "Crazy 'Bout You Baby" and the phenomenal "Sh-boom," for which they won the "Gold Record" for selling one million copies of the record.

The Crew-Cuts are well known for their outstanding engagements at such places as the El Rancho Vegas, Chez Paree, Cocoanut Grove, the Shamrock Hotel, and the Statler-Hilton Hotel, and on such television shows as the Ed Sullivan Show, the Arthur Godfrey Show, the Eddie Fisher Show, and the Perry Como Show.

One of the very few select vocal groups ever to tour in Europe and to play the famous Palladium, the Crew-Cuts maintain a constant striving for perfection making their style an international concept representing the top in popular music and showmanship. The Crew-Cuts have specially prepared material by Harry Harris, famous writer who has created numbers for such performers as Sophie Tucker, Jimmy Durante and Joe E. Lewis. Their choreography is styled by Jonathan Lucas who has worked with such people as Martha Raye, Orson Welles, Kay Thompson, and others.

The four boys are Rudi Maugeri, Pat Barrett, Johnnie Perkins, and Ray Perkins.

Rudi is baritone and vocal arranger for the group. Together with Pat Barrett, he is writer of "Crazy 'Bout You Baby" and many other songs which will be released in the near future. In his earlier years he was known for his outstanding vocal work with the St. Michael's choir, and was featured on several records cut by the choir. His musical talent caused Monsignor Ronan

(Continued on page 4)

Recent Legislature Appropriates Funds For Additional Improvement

Beginning July 1, 1958, Longwood College will be operating on the funds approved by the legislature which adjourned on March 8. These funds fall into two classifications, those which provide for the normal operating cost of the college including such things as salaries, fuel, food service, and those which provide for the improvement and extension of the plant of the college.

Appropriations for the biennium 1958-60 for operation of the college will be approximately 18 per cent higher than for the period 1956-58. This increase in funds will provide increaes in faculty salaries, some increase in the number of faculty, and generally, will help to meet the higher costs of materials and services anticipated because of further increases in enrollment. For capital improvements in the biennium 1958-60, the legislature approved $816,750.

Among the several projects for which this money was appropriated is a new dormitory, further renovation of parts of Ruffner, further rewiring of present buildings, and the erection of a home management house. Included in this sum also, was an amount to pay for the development of architectural plans for the expansion of the library.

It is expected that a good deal of work will be done this coming summer so that present students may look forward to enjoying such improvements beginning with the fall semester.

Student Officers Installed By Odom

In an assembly on March 18, after an adress by Dr. Francis Lankford, Barbara Odom received the black cap and gown from Frances Patton as a symbol of her new office. Barbara will serve as Student Government President for the 1958-59 session.

She then installed the other major election officers at this time including House Council President, Bet McLoughlin; YWCA President, Helen Jean Young; and Athletic Association President, Delo Dove.

Minor election officers of Government also took their pledges of office. They are as follows: Vice-President, Louise Norman, Class of '59; Secretary, Carol Matthews; and Treasurer, Ruth Denton; both members of the Class of '60.

Neil Ward, Julia Williams, and Tae Wamsley, sophomores, will serve as Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer, respectively, of House Council for the coming year.

YWCA officers include Vice-President, Lillian Rosson, Class of '59. Secretary, Jean Peyton, and Treasurer, Nancy Harnsberger, Class of '60. The Freshman Counselor is Margaret Shropshire, Class of '61.

Athletic Association heads are as fellows: Vice-President, Lou Heier, Class of '59; Secretary, Josie Curry; and Treasurer, Jean O'Connell, Class of '60.

Draper, Barksdale To Attend Meeting

Miss Helen Draper, French professor, and Miss Emily Barksdale, Spanish professor, will attend a meeting of the Foreign Student Service Council in Washington, D. C., March 28.

This is the preliminary meeting for Eastern delegates who will be unable to attend the 26th annual conference of the International Educational Exchange being held in Michigan next month.

Events on the program will include a discussion on the nature of governmental exchange by various representatives of the State Department, and a luncheon meeting with foreign student advisors from the principal institutions in Washington. A dinner programming an address on international and educational exchange by a prominent governmental or congressional representative will conclude the conference.

Foreign Students To Sight-see

Accompanying Miss Draper and Miss Barksdale will be Chantel

(Continued on page 4)

YWCA Plans Easter Play

The Easter Sunrise Service, sponsored by the YWCA, under the leadership of Calvert King, will be held at 6:45 a.m. on Wednesday, April 2. Chairs will be placed in the Sunken Gardens between the Colonnade and Sophomore Dorm to accomodate the students.

The Longwood Choir will open the morning program with a specialty, after which the Call to Worship will be rendered by Calvert King. Following this the group will sing the hymn, "Christ the Lord Has Risen Today", and the Responsive Reading will be read Miss Carole Wolfe will render a solo, "I Walked". The introduction to the Easter Play entitled "We Are Witnesses of These Things" will be presented by Calvert King. The closing hymn will be "Christ Arose", after which Merle Ridinger will lead the group in prayer, concluding the service.

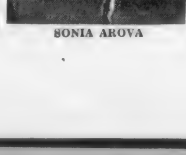
Those students participating in the play "We Are Witnesses of These Things" are: Peter, Molly Workman; John, Nancy Brubeck; Thomas, Shirley Saunders; Mary, Donna Boone and Marie Smith; Salome, Page Landers; Cleopas, Joanne Sloop; Fellow Traveler, Louise Poston, Shepherd, Margaret Shropshire. A special interlude entitled "Were You There" will be rendered by Elaine Weddle.

Chicago Ballet Performs Tonight

Celebrated Dancers To Interpret Operas

Tonight an audience of Longwood College students and local citizens will be treated to the talents of internationally celebrated dancers of the Chicago Opera Ballet as this newest of America's dance troops makes its Farmville premiere.

The performance, called "Brilliantly costumed, elegantly choreographed, beautifully staged . . ." by the Los Angeles Examiner, features such internationally known stars as Mia Slavenska, Oleg Briansky, Sonia Arova, Job Sanders, Kenneth Johnson, Doreen Tempest and Barbara Steele. Supervising the entire production is Ruth Page, famous dance creator and veteran of global performances.



For the first time audiences here will have the opportunity to see two of Ruth Page's most famous ballets, "Revenge" and "The Merry Widow". These are the works that scored resoundingly through the country last season on the company's seventeen week, coast to coast tour. Before that they had proved big hits in London, Paris, Monte Carlo, Chicago, and New York. "Revenge" is a dramatic recreation in dance of Verdi's "Il Trovatore", while "The Merry Widow" activates Franz Lehar's beloved operetta with effervescence. In addition the program features "Don Quixote" a duet by Sonia Arova and Job Sanders.

The cast will be performing in a dazzling array of costumes created especially for them by leading designers. "The Merry Widow" includes a sumptuous chandelier-hung ballroom of the Marsovian embassy in Paris, the garden with its summer house, and that celebrated Parisian restaurant, Maxims. In striking contrast is the Spanish decor for "Revenge".

In addition to the principals and the Corps de Ballet, the company includes an orchestra under the direction of Neal Kayan. The Chicago Opera Ballet will appear in Jarman Hall Auditorium at 8 p.m. and is being sponsored by Longwood College.

"THE MERRY WIDOW" set depicts sumptuous Parisian ballroom.

SONIA AROVA

From A Duck's Point Of View

Rotunda

"QUACK, QUACK," protests Herman, the SPE Duck, travel-worn and thirsty from hitch-hiking pledge trip to Longwood from U. of Richmond March 31 with SPE Pledges Bob Morrell and Dennis McKee, of Chatham, New Jersey. Come, SPEes, let's be kind to your Web-Footed Friend 'cause this Duck IS Somebody's (Frat) Brother!

Regional FBLA Holds Convention On Longwood Campus March 22

Longwood College served as host to the Future Business Leaders of America during the second regional meeting of District II held in the Student Building Saturday, March 22.

During the afternoon session, new regional FBLA officers were elected and installed for the coming year.

High school students Rachel Austin from Appomattox and Melvern Lipscomb from Manchester were chosen Miss and Mr. FBLA, respectively. Carolyn Matthews from Great Bridge was elected president with other new officers as follows: Mary Lewter, Whaleyville, vice-president; Frances Sanders, Appomattox, secretary; Dean Jennings, Pittsylvania, treasurer; Evelyn Joyner, Southhampton, reporter.

Revonda Hughes, from Nelson County, won the Public Speaking Contest and received a $25 government bond from the First National Bank of Farmville. Other contest winners are: Pat Ried, Craddock, Parliamentary; Nancy Jacobs, Pittsylvania, Spelling; and "Outstanding," the highest contest prize, was awarded to the following high schools: Craddock, Southampton, Exhibits: Cradock, Bulletin Board; Southampton, Scrapbook.

Sponsored by the Longwood Business Education Department, the day's activities were supervised by department members and students.

Representatives from FBLA Chapter in the following high schools were expected to attend: Churchland High School, Churchland; E. C. Glass High School, Lynchburg; Great Bridge High School, Norfolk; Midway High School, Church Road; Nelson County High School, Lovingston; Norview High School, Norfolk; Powhatan High School, Powhatan; Prince George School, Prince George;Princess Ann High School, Lynnhaven; Renan High School, Gretna and Southampton County High School, Courtland.

The Research Committee of the District D Principals Association met last week at Cumberland High School, to begin the analysis of research data collected during the year on the subject "What Kind of Help Do Teachers Expect from Principals?"

The committee is composed of R. E. Butt, general superintendent, Mecklenburg County Schools; W. B. Button, Victoria High School; and A. G. Wright, Emporia High School. Dr. Boggs is consultant to this committee.

23 Seniors Reach Decisions

Twenty-three Longwood seniors have reached final decisions for work or continued studies next year according to Mrs. Mary Watkins, executive secretary. Eighteen of the girls have signed contracts to teach in various areas of the state.

Fairfax county is drawing the largest number, for seven are planning to teach in schools there. Ellen Callaway, an elementary major from Bluefield, West Virginia; Sara Gayhart, an art major from Staunton; Judy Holderman, an elementary major from Gladstone; Carolyn Kelly, an elementary major from Hurt; Moonyeen Warren, an elementary major from Newport News; Ann Rountree, an elementary major from Smithfield; and Janet Lloyd, a business education major from South Boston, have selected his area.

Two girls—Mary Alice Henry, an elementary major from Spout Spring, and Pat Wilmoth, also an elementary major from Farmville—plan to teach in Lynchburg. An elementary and math major from Scottsville, Virginia Londeree, has a contract for Pulaski county. Headed for the Norfolk County system is elementary major Alice Sawyer whose home is in Hickory. A business education major from Wilson, Gwendolyn White is going to Dinwiddie. Nan Brimmer, an art and Spanish major from Norfolk will teach in Princess Anne, and Joan Coakley, a social science major from Ninde, will be in King George county.

Jeanne Vestal, a physical education major from Princess Anne, plans to teach in Albemarle county while Ann Gary, a business education major from Lunenburg, will head for Chuckatuck. An English major, Elaine Handy will work in her home town, Danville. Virginia Umbarger of Arrington will teach an elementary class in Roanoke.

Peggy Dickerson, a math major from Lynchburg, will work at Langley Field, and Delores Fentress will return to the Princess Anne county school system after a leave of absence. Four seniors plan to go to graduate school; they are Gay Allen, a Newport News music major, Anne Foster from Richmond, Pat Walton from Covington, and Bernard Warren from Cumberland.

Rotunda Delegates

(Continued from page 2)

Finally, after the executive business meeting Saturday morning, came the brilliant, concluding highlight of the entire Convention — Luncheon in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, with the over 4,700 delegates assembled. Association Director Dr. Joseph Murphy presided; Barnard College President Dr. Millicent McIntosh welcomed us; Willy Ley, author, authority on space control, and co-worker of U. S. Rocket Expert, Dr. Wernher von Braun, gave the final address.

So ended a wonderful convention and trip; we hope many of the Rotunda staff can benefit from such an experience next year. Not only the CSPA's inspirational central theme, "The Student Press — a Medium of Mass Communication," but also the experience of meeting many students from teachers colleges all over the U. S. made the trip one of our most fulfilling educational ventures. And New York was wonderful!

Water Clinic

(Continued from page 3)

the colleges have performed to the above number, a discussion will be held to compare and contrast the various swimming interpretations that the different schools did to the same piece of music. All the colleges are also bringing another individual specialty number of their choice which will be presented with their own costumes and music.

Saturday morning, Dr. Spears will instruct the participants in various methods and procedures of unison swimming. At 9:30 a.m., one piece of music will be introduced to two groups and each will demonstrate its interpretation of the music at 10:30 a.m.

Luncheon will be served to the participants at Longwood Estate at 12:30 p.m. Concluding the activities will be an evaluation of the two-day affair.

Crew-Cuts

(Continued from page 1)

to keep him on after graduation, as a teacher.

Pat, tenor of the group and choreographer, had a hard time keeping his mind on music during his earlier years. He enjoyed playing baseball, hockey, tennis, and soccer more than staying indoors. Now, however, Pat is showing a real sense of comedy, perhaps stimulated by his carefree boyhood days.

Johnnie, is the second tenor and treasurer of the group. He began in show business at the age of three over CFRB in Toronto, singing twice weekly for over a year; his first paycheck was fifty cents—and he kept it as a memento. His hobby is aeronautics, and some day the group, with Johnnie as their pilot, hope to be flying around together in their own plane.

Ray, brother of Johnnie, is the bass of the group and has the responsibility of the wardrobe, transportation and quartering of the group. Ray has studied dramatics, voice and dancing since he was two. One of the most versatile members of the group, he is a sportscar enthusiast and never misses an exhibit or race in the sportcar field.

FSSC Meeting

(Continued from page 1)

Perrott and Elena Vinos who plan to see the sights of the Nation's Capitol on their first trip to Washington.

While there they have also made plans to visit the foreign language labs in near-by universities.

Goin' home over vacation?

GOING BY GREYHOUND® IS BASIC ECONOMICS!

- Lowest fares of all public transportation;
- Frequent departures! Quickest time to many cities!
- Air-conditioned comfort; picture-window sightseeing; fully equipped restroom; on all Scenicruiser Service® schedules!

Compare these low, low fares!

Farmville to Fredericksburg	$3.45
Farmville to Lynchburg	1.55
Farmville to Norfolk	4.20
Farmville to Richmond	2.00
Farmville to Roanoke	3.15
Farmville to Washington	4.80

*plus tax

IT'S SUCH A COMFORT TO TAKE THE BUS... AND LEAVE THE DRIVING TO US!

You'll be sittin' on top of the world when you change to L&M

Light into that L&M FILTERS Live Modern flavor

Only L&M gives you this filter fact— the patent number on every pack.... ...your guarantee of a more effective filter on today's L&M.

Best tastin' smoke you'll ever find!

Put yourself behind the pleasure end of an L&M. Get the flavor, the full rich taste of the Southland's finest cigarette tobaccos. The patented Miracle Tip is pure white inside, pure white outside, as a filter should be for cleaner, better smoking.

©1958 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

The Rotunda

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., April 2, 1958 | No. 15

AKG To Hold Auction For Lancaster Fund

Faculty Auctioneers To Sell 'Privileges'

Alpha Kappa Gamma will sponsor an auction of privileges April 10 at 7 p.m. in the "rec." This is the first auction of this type to be held at Longwood and it is taking the place of the annual faculty talent show previously sponsored by AKG for their spring project.

Among the many privileges to be auctioned will be that of smoking in the dining hall, a chance to throw a pie in the face of Frances Patton, Sue Taylor, Carol Wolfe, and Mary Ann Foster (past major officers), a chance to scream in the library, send two sheets to the laundry, get out of phone duty and have breakfast served by Mrs. Kathleen Cover, assistant professor of history and social sciences and Miss Elizabeth Burger, associate professor of science.

Autioneers will be Dr. Francis Simkins, Professor of History and Social Sciences; Miss Mary Nickols, Associate Professor of English; Mr. Ray Merchent, Director of Public Relations and Mr. David Wiley, Assistant Professor of Speech and Drama.

All proceeds from the auction will go to the Dabney S. Lancaster scholarship fund which was instigated by student government in 1955 when Dr. Lancaster, President Emeritus, left Longwood. This scholarship is given to a student selected by past student government members and a faculty member, and is presented at commencement.

Serving on committees for the auction are Nancy Brubeck and Louise Norman, publicity; Katharine Krehbiel, business manager; Ellen Calloway and Helen Jean Young, planning committee and Minnie Lee Dean, Sue Taylor and Carolyn Waugaman, faculty participation committee.

General admission to the AKG auction will be 10 cents. Tickets are now on sale and may be obtained from AKG members.

—Rotunda

"GOING, GOING, GONE," announces Miss Mary Nichols, center, as other auctioneers, Mr. Ray Merchent, left, and Dr. Francis Simkins, right, rehearse for Lancaster Scholarship Auction.

When going to the Episcopal Church for meditation or prayer, please go in two's or more. The YWCA urges you to do this for your own safety.

YWCA Installs Cabinet Officers

The new Y.W.C.A. Cabinet held installation yesterday in the Episcopal Church. The new officers are as follows: Helen Jean Young, President; Lillian Rosson, Vice-President; Jeanne Peyton, Secretary; Nancy Harnsberger, Treasurer; and Margaret Shropshire, Freshman Counselor.

Committee chairmen for the coming year are Betty Spivey, Big Sister-Little Sister; Ann Glover, Church Cooperative; Betty McClenney, Library; Helen Wente, Membership; Jo Anne Garner, Music; Kathie Hegnsle and Calvert King, Prayers.

Also chosen were Jean O'Connel, Public Affairs; Pat Farrington and Ann Snyder, Publicity; Shirley Grizzard and Wirtley Raine, Service; Ann Palmer, Sing; Cherron Kelley, Social; Ann Hardy, "Y" Come. Barbara Odom, Student Government president, will serve as ex-officio member.

The Advisory Board consists of Mrs. Beulah Eva, Chairman, Mr. M. H. Bittinger, Miss Helen Draper, Mrs. Louise Dugger, and Mrs. Dorothy Schlegel.

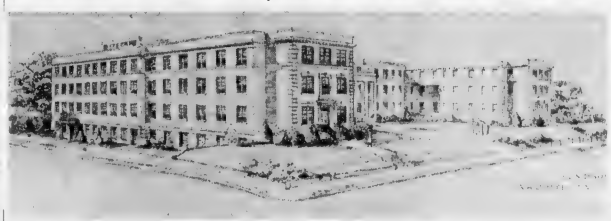
Bishop Announces New Staff, Advisor

Barbara Bishop, Editor-in-Chief of the 1959 Virginian has announced her new staff as follows:

Nancy Knowles, Assistant Editor; Dot Boswell, Business Manager; Weedie Norman, Literary Editor; Jane Kell and Julia Williams, Co-Photography Editors; Vann Blackwood, Art Editor; Gladys Patrick, Photographer.

Representatives to the staff will be Joan Brooker for the seniors, Neil Ward and Helen Wente for the juniors, and Sue Benton, Phyllis Bridgeforth, LaVerne Collier, and Carolyn Oliver, sophomores.

Miss Virginia Bedford has been named as advisor for the coming year with Mr. J. H. Wamsley serving as business advisor.



Beorc Eh Thorn, Honorary English Society, installed seven new members for the fall semester on March 27. The following girls were accepted into the Society for the fall semester:

Nancy Cross, Jerrye Edwards, Judith Holderman, Rose Marie Lawrence, Mary Ellen Moore, Marie Smith, and Rene Weimer.

Also installed were new officers for the coming year. They are as follows:

Molly Workman, president; Ella Gray, vice-president; Joyce Hutcheson, secretary; Barbara Hurst, Treasurer.

Dorm Scheduled For Fall Use

ARCHITECT'S CONCEPTION of completed Cunningham Hall with new South Wing addition.

New Ideas Featured In Modern Residence

By PATSY POWELL

September 1958 will mark an important event at Longwood College as 189 seniors and juniors move into the newly constructed south wing of Cunningham Hall. The building, incorporating many features new to Longwood, is the first of a planned construction program for the enlargement of the campus and is being built and furnished at a cost of approximately $667,000.

Outstanding among the features of this building is a partial fifth floor on the northwest side. Designed as a student activity area, this floor includes a large recreation room and a snack bar, separated by a movable partition from a kitchen. The kitchen will be equipped with a refrigerator and facilities for cooking, and a special room will house all vending machines. The chosen decor for the recreation room is cherry panel, accented by a Roman brick trim. Large French doors, creating what is almost a glass wall, open from the south side onto a ceramic hard tile sun deck which surrounds the recreation area on three sides. A sand colored tile has been selected for the sunning area which will be equipped with light aluminum chairs, chaise lounges, and umbrellas.

Since it is expected that this floor will be used for parties on special occasions, it will be possible, by use of a self-service elevator from the ground floor, to gain access without passing through the dormitory area.

The second, third and fourth floors of this building are identical in structure and are to serve solely as student dormitories. There are no kitchen or recreation rooms on these floors; however, each does feature a tile floored washing and pressing room, a dress storage room, and a storage room for hand baggage. With the exception of one room and private bath on the south-

(Continued on page 4)

BSU To Present Musical Program

April 11 is the scheduled date for the Baptist Student Union Choir, conducted by Elaine Weddle, to present a Choir Concert at the Farmville Baptist Church at 8:00 p.m. Miss Mary Ann Wright, an alumnae of Longwood and former President of the Y.W.C.A., will be featured as guest soloist with selected songs. The theme of the concert is "Oh, Sing Unto The Lord."

Joanne Garner will accompany the choir on either the organ or piano; and Dorothy Marshall on the flute, and Elaine Weddle on the oboe, will also accompany several numbers.

The program is outlined as follows: The Processional will include such selections as "O, Worship the King" and "Oh Sons and Daughters, Let Us Sing." Songs of Praise include "Heavens are Telling" "Spirit of God Descend Upon My Heart," and "Holy Art Thou." "For God So Loved the World" and "Oh Lord, Most Holy" will follow on the program as Songs of Thanksgiving. The Choir will sing "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desire" with the flute accompaniment. Songs of Reverence and Prayer will end the program with such selections as "Seek Ye The Lord," "Now the Day is Over," and "The Lord's Prayer."

This is the first time the B.S.U. Choir has made such a presentation. Barbara Heck is writing the script for the program and Barbara Simpkins will serve as narrator. Committee heads include Lillian Rosson, Emily Shelton, and Barbara Simpkins on publicity; Betty Rawls on invitations; Anne Palmer on decorations; and Lois Johnson in charge of ushers. The public is invited to attend.

Holtrop Captures PhotographyPrize Over 31,000 Odds

With the camera the student body gave to her, Freya Holtrop won a prize in the photography contest for foreign students in America. Freya was one of the sixty-one winners out of thirty-one thousand entrants in the contest sponsored by the Photographic Committee of the People-to-People Program for foreign nationals.

A picture of Santa Claus, with the children near the court house during the Christmas parade, was the picture selected by the judges to be exhibited in the Portrait of America 8 Chpt II, with a caption portraying what impressed the foreign visitor. Other selections sent in by Freya include the Christmas tree in the Rotunda, scenes in Williamsburg, and views of Mountain Lake.

For her efforts in the contest, Freya will receive a year's subscription of Life Magazine, Reader's Digest, U. S. Camera, and Popular Photography.

This was Freya's first attempt at photography competition.

'Spring Fever' To Highlight 1958 Cotillion Club Dance

Pan-Hel To Sponsor Afternoon Concert

Traci Faison, President of Cotillion Club, has announced that the theme for the coming Cotillion Club Dance will be "Spring Fever." The dance, to be held Saturday, April 12, will be in the Main Rec from 8 p.m. to 12 midnight. A party for those attending the dance will be held afterwards.

The theme, "Spring Fever," will be carried out through silhouette murals and imitation trees with wisteria-type branches decorating the Rec. Decorations for the dance are under the supervision of Addie Richardson.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Eddie Allen and his Orchestra. Rated "Iowa's Finest Dance Band," Eddie Allen has played for many of the finest clubs and dances throughout the country. The "Satin Smooth Music" of Eddie Allen will also furnish music for the entertainment to be presented by the Crew-Cuts, top vocal group, which has been signed for the dance.

Public Invited to Concert

The Pan-Hellenic Association in co-operation with the Cotillion Club will sponsor a concert to be held in the college gymnasium Saturday from 2 to 5 p.m. Featured at the concert will be Pat Hawkins and his combo. The public is invited at the price of 75 cents a ticket.

Merchent Chosen Advisor

Mr. Ray A. Merchent, Director of Public Relations at Longwood, has recently been elected by the Cotillion Club as its advisor for the coming year. In this capacity, Mr. Merchent has attended all necessary meetings and will supervise the work done by the Cotillion Club.

Forming the receiving line for the dance will be Traci Faison, president of Cotillion Club, Dr. and Mrs. Lankford, Miss Ruth Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Merchent, Ellen Callaway, Carolyn Kelly, Jackie Harnsberger, and Sarah Gayhart.

Heading committees for the dance are: Addie Richardson, decorations; Jackie Harnsberger, music; Ellen Callaway, figure and programs; Sue Jett, party; cleanup, Dixie Hilliard and Ann Norfleet.

VPI Colonels To Provide Dance Music

The Southern Colonels Orchestra from V.P.I. will play for the May Day Dance on May 3rd. The Colonels have 13 well-qualified student members, and will have a vocalist with them.

"Never-Never Land" will be in the Main Rec from 9-12 p.m. As a feature attraction, the girls in the May Day Court will form a figure before intermission. The dance is formal, and tickets will be $2.40.

The Southern Colonels have toured several parts of Europe and the United States and were widely acclaimed wherever they performed. The musicafns have had extensive dance band experience. The Orchestra is under the direction of D. A. Williams.

Co-chairmen for the May Day Dance are Kay Kellam and Mary Linda League, sophomores.

Teachers To Hold Convention Here

The Department of Teacher Education of the Virginia Education Association will hold its spring conference here at Longwood April 11 and 12. Members of the college faculty and student body will participate in the program which has as its theme, "Current Developments in Teacher Education."

Dr. Earl . Boggs, dean, will deliver the welcoming address Friday and that evening the Madrigal Singers, directed by Mr. James McCombs, will sing. Two Longwood seniors, Cornelia Anne Batte and Bernard Warren, will participate in a panel discussion on stu-

(Continued on page 4)

—Rotunda

COTILLION CLUB plans progress as Mr Ray Merchent, advisor; President Traci Faison, and Committee Chairmen Carolyn Kelly, Ellen Callaway, and Addie Richardson choose "Spring Fever" decorations.

Roanoke Teaching Report

The following is a report on the seniors who did their student teaching in Roanoke this past semester. This was the first experience in sending girls outside of the Farmville area for such a purpose, and it is interesting to note their opinions and reactions. These girls were sent for the first nine weeks of school, and next year they will be divided into two nine week periods of teaching.

Seventeen student teachers were seen in the various public schools in Roanoke last fall and have formed definite opinions on the opportunities and advantages of student teaching in such a situation. These seventeen were Jean Anderson, Cornelia Anne Batte, Winnifred Biddlecomb, Eleanor Crowder, Maxine Crowder, Mary Ann Foster, Carolyn Garner, Linda Garrison, Mary Holland, Carolyn Kelly, Jo Maxey, Shirley McNeal, B. J. Spruhan, Jackie Trader, Weston Walker, Marjorie Winn, and Lucy Wooton. Of these seventeen, all had favorable comments to offer on such imposed questions as living conditions, supervising teachers, principals, children's attitudes toward them, daily schedules, and their feelings toward being away from school.

It appears that those who must make the decision of where to do their student teaching in the near future would be vitally interested in the comments made by these girls.

These seventeen were found teaching both at the elementary level in the various elementary schools throughout the city and the secondary level in Jefferson Senior High School. The main complaint was one that is prevalent in all schools, that of the classes being overcrowded. A few were dissatisfied with their homes, but the majority of girls were happy with the families with whom they were boarding. Eleanor Crowder made this comment on the living conditions: "They were wonderful people as they took an interest in what we did and served excellent meals." This seems to be the main question in the minds of prospective student teachers, but these seventeen seemed to be very satisfied. A side note of interest — the family with whom Carolyn Kelly lived even supplied a birthday cake, complete with all of the trimmings, on her birthday — much to her surprise.

I wish that I could have contacted all of these girls for specific opinions, however, two elementary majors and one secondary major from this group have contributed comments as to the actual teaching situation.

Carolyn Kelly, who taught the fourth grade at Jamaison Elementary School, had this to say: "Mrs. Doris Jordan, my supervising teacher, was always willing to offer help. She had been teaching for about thirty years and was very capable with the children. Mrs. Wade, the principal, was also willing to help at all times. As far as the children were concerned, there was no difference in their attitudes toward the student teacher; they held the same respect as for their regular teacher. For their daily schedule, I began teaching one class after observing, advancing to the full schedule for approximately three of the nine weeks. It was an excellent experience as far as I can see. It was much more realistic teaching than the elementary school in Farmville where materials are at your fingertips. I was on my own, such as I will be when I begin teaching next year. The only disadvantage for me was that although I did not feel as though I was missing things at school, I found that after returning to the campus, association was only with those who had been to Roanoke — an isolated feeling and a little hard to get back into the swing of things. This was probably due to the fact that others were still embroiled with student teaching here."

Eleanor Crowder who taught the fourth grade at Garden City Elementary School was able to offer the following comments: "Miss Mary Spradlin, my supervising teacher, was a very wonderful and co-operative teacher and very interested in Longwood girls. Miss Margaret Burnette, the principal, was one of the most friendly persons I have ever met and also always willing to help. The students were very excited over having a student teacher and were very nice to me. Looking over the whole picture, it helps so much to be there on the first day with the children, helping to start activities. You have more of an idea of teaching in its full prospective as you are on your own. There is also more time to spend in preparation for classes than here at school."

Eleanor will return to Roanoke to teach next year along with Jo Maxey. Linda Garrison, a February graduate, is presently teaching at Jamaison Elementary School and sends back reports that she is extremely satisfied and happy with her job.

The following is an account given by Winnifred Biddlecomb who taught History at Jefferson Senior High School:

"To begin to describe our reactions to nearly two months of being a part of the Roanoke schools, I would say that we now feel that the schools are ours, too.

We are glad that the program was arranged so that we were at the school on the day it opened and that we were a regular part of the class from the very first. The pupils became acquainted with us just as they were becoming acquainted with each other and their regular teachers.

We feel that being in the school from the home room period until three o'clock was a great advantage to us. In the home rooms we learned one procedure for collecting fees for text books and insurance. We observed the students as the daily schedule, and the school's standards for their conduct were explained. For those of us who taught only juniors or seniors, being in a sophomore home room gave us an idea of what could be expected from a younger age group.

Some of us taught classes in which the students had been grouped according to their academic ability, the A and B classes. As a result, we gained valuable experience in learning to gear our presentation of subject matter to students of varying ability.

Even where there was no such division of students, having four or five classes presented a good picture to us of how classes as a whole may be expected to differ just as markedly as the individuals within a class. If the students of one class were easily settled into a routine and hesitated to take initiative in planning class activities, the next consisted of students who were bubbling over with ideas and interests in matters pertaining to the class and otherwise.

During the periods when we did not have a class we had access to the cumulative records which gave us insight into the personality of many students and helped us in getting to know them and in assisting them individually more effectively. We appreciate the fact that we had time during the school day to use these valuable sources of information. During free periods it was possible to give some of the students who needed it extra help.

I would not give the impression that all our free periods were spent looking at written records. The teachers' lounge offered lively and interesting conversation. By listening we learned a good deal about the spirit of the school. We became aware of the very real interest of the teachers in their students. We heard them discuss ways that they had settled various classroom problems, their views on the school organizations and extracurricular activities. In an hours time, we could hear many different opinions regarding one subject.

We feel, however, that it would have been helpful if we had gotten to know our supervising teachers before we arrived in September by spending a day in the schools with them in the spring.

Since we were in the school all day, we attended the assemblies and pep rallies. We found that students like to feel that teachers are interested in all of their activities, not just what happens to them in the classroom. This gave us an opportunity to relate their activities inside and outside of the classroom.

We felt that the conferences with our supervising teachers "for evaluation and planning purposes" were not limited to one hour a week, but were, in one sense, always in session. Between classes or any time during the day there was an opportunity to point out and discuss problems while they were fresh in our minds or to ask advice.

I am sure that the condition that we found most valuable in our Roanoke teaching experience was that feeling of enthusiasm that arises from an indescribable balance between a strong sense of personal responsibility for our own and our students accomplishments during the eight weeks, and the full awareness that when we needed advice it was there for the asking."

In summarizing the opinions of these girls, it appears to me, as a prospective student teacher in Roanoke, very interested in their reactions, that each in her own way felt that she had made a wise choice in going to Roanoke and that it was an excellent experience. I hope this will help others who are contemplating the idea of this sort of student teaching as it has done so with me.

Judy Eckstrom, News Editor

Fashion Notes:

Chemise or Burlap Sack?

By MARTHA RUCKER

The old cliche, "She'd even look good in a burlap sack" has been taken seriously by someone. The question is, "Does she?" Regardless of the answer, the chemise look has temporarily taken over the World of Fashion and clothes-conscious Longwood girls.

The styles in which the chemise can be bought are varied. There is the chemise with the loose waist and tapered hipline. Another style is that of the flared back with a regular fitted front, while other versions have straight lines from the shoulders to the hemline.

What's New for Spring

In the line of Chapeaux for 1958, the garden-look is fashionable . . . bright colored shoes and pocketbooks; glaring orange, pinks, yellows, greens and the printed fabrics . . . long beads of dazzling color . . . shoes have retained their pointed-toe look . . . polka-dotted scarves of all shapes and sizes, and speaking of sizes—pocketbooks may be large or small; triangular, oblong, square, or round. Colors this spring range from the greyed colors of moss green, rose, and dusty blue to blaring oranges, pinks and prints; then back to the luscious subdued prints and conventional black and navy blue.

The Trapeze!

Alas girls, we're not stopping with the chemise as the height of fashion. The House of Dior has brought out a new design called the Trapeze. This highly fashionable style is shaped like a triangle and sports a 20-inch hemline designed to show the knees; however, for the conventional gal, the sheath is still good, and if you want to have a special flair, add a chemise duster.

Chemise Has Good Points

The chemise does have several advantages over the conventional clothes that clutter our wardrobes. No longer will the female of this race be concerned with the "battle of the bulge" for anyone can stuff herself into bags. Can you imagine a permanent end to jealousy towards any female, for everyone will look alike, except possibly for a bow here or there?

My sympathy is definitely extended to the fashion designer. The do-it-yourself craze may extend to clothes. Why, in a few months you may see a large sized laundry bag with a drawstring at either the neckline or hemline, worn by some fair miss. With the possibility of paper dress, as shown by Penny's and other large paper corporations in Richmond on the 14th of this month, we may even have disposable clothing for those who tire of the "same old thing" easily.

Such a savings in economy should be gratefully appreciated by the men of our society. Burlap bags and Crocker sacks are certainly practical and durable. To distinguish themselves from others, the fashionable young lady could add a touch of color and personality to her attire with bright sashes and beads.

Who knows, the chemise may be the answer to the economy of the future!

Social Notes

By NANCY HARNSBERGER

Everyone leaves for the Easter Holidays tomorrow, but it looks as if the Easter bunny has brought a few happy surprises early.

Let's extend our congratulations to the lucky ones . . . Jean Johnson received a "sparkler" from Dick Decker. Dick is attending V.P.I. and is from Richmond. Annette Crowe received a diamond from Gaylord Lockett of Newport News. Gaylord is attending the Apprentice School in Newport News. Congratulations girls. . .

Oreta Norris is wearing a Sigma Chi pin next to her heart. It belongs to one Olen Stewart from Hampden-Sydney.

PiKA Opens House

The PiKA's were the sole entertainers over the week end at H-S especially in honor of the Pi Kaps from Longwood. Seen at the PiKA house were Barbara Rossiter, Page Davis, Cora Straughan, Sandra Watkins, Judith Welch, Julie Pitts Sharron Stout, Stephanie Bisese, Barbara Brantley, Brenda Green, Ruth Wooldridge, Norrish Munson, Joyce Pendleton, Billie Jean Shores, Betty Roberts, Karen Potts, Sara Oliver, Jill Greene, Norma Redmon, Ann Norfleet, Ann Page Bolick, Ann Barnes, Katherine Key, Coreta Bennett, Jane Adams, Cat Ozmon, Mary Ellen Moore, Joan Lee Thomas, Shirley Lucy, Peggy Blankenship, June May, Carolyn Ward, Emily Atkinson, Janet Lloyd, Burks Keith, June Lee May.

U. Va.

Betty Chappell, Kitty Good, Carolyn Bassford, Dotty Council, Dottie Brown, Ann Coleman, and Jean Marie Heller, Carolyn DeHaven, Shirley Hauptman traveled to U. Va. for the Alumni week end.

Julia Gray Wallace will travel to Florida with other Longwood girls on that "strictly pleasure" expedition over the Easter Holidays.

Tavie Ann Barnes, who attended Longwood '55-'56 has been chosen Maid of Honor in May Day at Roanoke College.

Longwood's Northern Neck Club entertained V.P.I. NN Club Saturday with a picnic at Longwood Estate.

New Selection System

This year Longwood is initiating a different room-selection plan — drawing numbers for room choices. In announcing this new plan, Miss Thelma Souder, Assistant Dean of Women, explained that the main reason for this change is the college's increasing enrollment. "We are now too large a school to use the old way of having everyone picking the room she wants. That would cause conflicts, especially with the new dormitory ready for use next fall, and other changes in Ruffner rooming conditions."

The new procedure will begin after Easter Holidays, Tuesday, April 8. On that afternoon and night all dormitory residents will draw numbers in Miss Souder's office in this order and time: juniors—4-6; sophomores—7-8; freshmen—10-11. At the designated time the class will form a line in the hall, enter one at a time to draw and register a number, and pass out by the Freshmen Parlor. At that time those not returning next fall will fill out a blank stating this fact. It is very important that girls definitely not returning do stop in sometime that day; all drawn numbers will be registered and the 'former' student's roommate and other girls will be inconvenienced if a girl not returning draws a number.

Students will be given a week to make room preferences. Juniors will each be given a copy of the new dorm's floor plans.

Room assigning will be done on April 14, 16, 17 following a similar procedure in Miss Souder's office except in this order: The girl with the lowest number and her chosen roommate must be first, others following consecutively. She will designate her choice of room, not suite, her roommate's number will be crossed out, and they will fill out dormitory blanks. If a girl does not appear in the correct place in line according to the number she has drawn and if she has not already joined another girl who has a lower number (in which case her number will have been crossed out), or if she cannot join a girl with a later number, she will lose her place and must go to the end of the line regardless of the number she has.

Specified times are: juniors—Monday (14), 4-6 p. m.; sophomores — Wednesday (16),4-6 p. m.; Freshmen — Thursday (17), numbers 1-100, 1-2 p. m.,; numbers 101-300, 4-6 p. m. If any problems arise from unusual cases please see Miss Souder.

"Be Glad and Rejoice"

When first thought of, what does Easter mean to you? One person said that she thought of the three crosses on the hill of Calvary. Another said, "The Resurrection." Still another, "The fact that Christ lives every day and not just That Easter when He arose from the dead."

In all three of these thoughts the love of God and the love of Christ are prevalent. God let His Son die for us. "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son—" Christ showed His love for us on the cross. He said, "Forgive them for they know not what they do." Christ said to the sinner beside Him, "Ye shall be with Me this day in Paradise."

We see this love because "Christ lives." He walks with us whether our lives are dusty and foggy or whether they are pure and crystal. Because of this, Easter is a day of rejoicing. Whether you think of the three crosses, or the Resurrection, the prevailing words are "Christ lives." His Resurrection is the "Good News for the Resurrection of all the Dead."

Helen Jean Young,
President, YWCA

Goal—$5,000!

The Dabney S. Lancaster Scholarship Fund was established by the Student Council in the spring of 1955. Its purpose is twofold: to perpetuate the memory of our former president, Dr. Lancaster; to give financial assistance to some worthy student.

Nominations for this annual award are received from the student body and the recipient is announced at the end of the school year. To be eligible one must have a C average.

Since the establishment of this scholarship fund Alpha Kappa Gamma has campaigned for contributions through "Links for Lancaster." This year AKG has chosen a new project whereby it hopes to put the fund over the $5,000 mark. In accomplishing this goal the Dabney S. Lancaster Scholarship Fund will support itself on the basis of interest earned per year. To date, through the combined efforts of Student Government, Panhellenic Association, and Alpha Kappa Gamma, $4,000 has been collected.

We urge each member of the student body to support the spring project of AKG and put the scholarship fund over the $5,000 goal.

June Strouther, AKG

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress on March 3, 1934. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

Informants Tour D. C.

By CHANTAL PERROTTE and ELENA VINOS

Ed.'s Note: The following account, written by the two foreign students at Longwood, is about their trip to Washington, D. C. last week end. Miss Helen Draper, French Professor, and Miss Emily Barksdale, Spanish Professor were there also, to attend the Foreign Student Service Council meeting.

We both agree that Washington has something European. Maybe this is because the city was designed by a Frenchman. Streets in star pattern, parks everywhere, grey-stoned houses; all this reminded us of Paris or some city in Spain or Germany.

We walked and walked all the time. We did not want to take any bus or streetcar because we enjoyed walking through all those beautiful streets, seeing the stores, movies, embassies, and other buildings. So we arrived at the Y.W.C.A. where we stayed, completely exhausted.

We visited the White House and then the Capitol, an imposing monument, by ourselves; then saw the Washington Art Gallery, the Pan-American Building, the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, and Mount Vernon with Miss Emily Barksdale and Miss Helen Draper.

The Art Gallery is simply wonderful, we spent more than three hours there. We tried a new modern system: the lecture tour. It consists of a little machine with an ear-phone. There are cables under the floor which communicate with a tape recording located somewhere. When you enter the room you have only to listen to the commentaries you hear in this machine. In other words, you have a private guide! This was quite new to us; amusing as well as interesting.

We were lucky as we were staying during the Cherry Blossom Festival. . .though the cherry trees were not in blossom. We saw the parade from Miss Barksdale's and Miss Draper's room in the Ambassadeur Hotel which faces to the K street where the parade took place. We have never seen such a well-organized parade. The soldiers did incredible maneuvers.

We have been in New York during Christmas time, and we liked it a lot, but we prefer Washington. New York is curious, and wonderful to visit it as a tourist, but Washington is a charming city in which we would like to live.

Sorority averages have been announced for the fall semester of 1957 by Miss Souder, Panhellenic advisor. Kappa Delta again obtained the highest average with Pi Kappa Sigma, Zeta Tau Alpha, Delta Zeta, Theta Sigma Upsilon, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Alpha Sigma Tau, and Alpha Sigma Alpha respectively.

LONGWOOD LANGUAGE INFORMANTS Elena Vinos and Chantel Perrotte pause during a busy sight-seeing trip to admire Washington's European-influenced landmarks.

Church News

By ANN GLOVER

Baptist

Installation of the new B.S.U. Executive Council was held Sunday night, March 30, at the Farmville Baptist Church. Jeanne Vestal, out-going president, delivered a message on "Be Still and Know." Joan Spencer, Director of B.S.U., installed the new officers, and Betty Lee Smith, in-coming president, delivered a message on "His Way Mine," the theme of the B.S.U. next year. The Choir conducted special music.

Elaine Weddle, choir director, has been working vigorously for quite some time preparing for the Choir Concert which the B.S.U. Choir will present in the Farmville Baptist Church on April 11 at 8:00 p.m.

Presbyterian

The Westminster Fellowship held election of officers for the coming year on March 30. They are: President, Jack Wilcox; Vice-President, Ann Glover; Secretary, Becky Parker; Treasurer, Tony Sherman; and Program Chairman, Dave Moore.

After the evening church service, fellowship was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor on First Avenue. The W. F. had as its guest for the evening Miss Dorothy Hamilton from the Assembly's Training School in Richmond.

A series of pre-Easter services will be held at the Farmville Presbyterian Church each night this week, and all Presbyterian students are urged to attend.

Installation of officers and a program by Dave Knotts will be held on April 13. Dave will show slides and tell of his European tour. Everyone is urged to come.

There will be no Bible study tonight at the Church due to the Hampden-Sydney Easter vacation and the Easter services at the Church.

POST Features Religious Article

A heartening and exciting revival in religious faith on the American college campus is reported in the current (March 29) issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

The report is made by the Rev. Jones B. Shannon, former chaplin to Episcopal students at Pennsylvania State University and now executive director of the Church Society of College Work, an assignment which keeps him in touch with many schools around the country.

Mr. Shannon's article, "Religious Revolution on the Campus," tells that the upswing has been an evolutionary process which began during World War II and that state universities as well as private colleges have become increasingly aware that a knowledge of religion is a necessary part of a balanced education.

In the conclusion of his article, Mr. Shannon says, "the day is past when our schools can be called godless institutions."

Young Americans will have a chance to study in Ireland next year under a new binational education exchange program with that country, it was announced by the Institute of International Education.

Applications must be submitted to the Institute by April 15th. For further information about these awards and application blanks, write to the Institute of International Education, 1530 P Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Teachers Seek Ways To Instruct Science

Longwood College served as host to a regional science teachers conference last week, sponsored by the State Department of Education.

Purpose of the meeting was to improve science teaching in elementary and secondary schools. Miss Elizabeth Burger, Longwood natural sciences department professor, served as a critic for the day-long affair. Other members of the college faculty who attended were Dr. George W. Jeffers, Raymond H. French and Dr. Earl R. Boggs.

In the Student-Faculty Volleyball Game last Monday night, the faculty came back fighting after a first game 18-12 defeat to take the final two games 9-7, 12-11 and claimed victory against the strong student team.

The A.A. would like to thank Professors Mecker, Stillwell, Taplin, Lodejwiks, Helms, Noble, Kennedy, Mr. Merchent, and Mr. Wamsley for a sporting team.

The student team was composed of Willie Taylor, Nancy Andrews, Nancy Richardson, Linda Vess, Margaret Dowdy, Lou Heler, Gayle Cunningham, and Jackie Waller.

Timely Topics

By BARBARA HECK

Investigation still continues in order to find the reason for the collision of two Air Force planes which fell near Fort Worth, Texas, last Thursday killing eighteen servicemen . . . Westinghouse Research Laboratory has developed a new TV picture tube no wider than a picture frame. It has been named the ELF screen.

The U. S. recession may be a reason for Japan's move toward a trade agreement with Red China. Businessmen in Japan fear a possible raise in tariffs from the U. S. and a limit on products into the States. This dealing with the communists does not necessarily mean a turn from the free world but places Japan in a position to compete economically with other countries in the land of its red neighbor.

Anti-H-Bomb campaigns have occurring throughout Britain. The topic has been strongly dealt with by speakers, on TV, and in newspapers. The ban on nuclear weapons would be in direct opposition to Prime Minister MacMillan's proposal to advance Britain's nuclear power and is a threat to the Washington-London pact which calls for American missiles to be placed on British bases. If carried further the campaign could lead to the withdrawal of U. S. forces from Britain. . . Nikita Khrushchev stepped into the position of Soviet premier Thursday as Bulganin was ousted from office with a "red boot."

Bob Hope's visit to Moscow did not stifle his humor, Said he, "The Russians are so proud of their Sputniks that anybody without a stiff neck is considered a traitor."

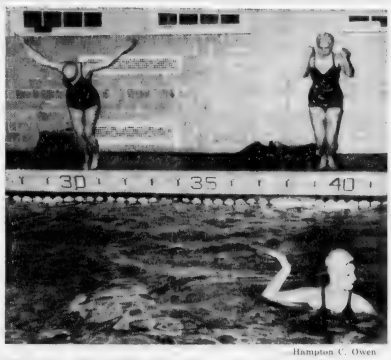
Awards Given By Colonnade

By JO ANNE PARSONS

The Colonnade, sponsor of the literary contest held during the first semester, is featuring winners of this contest and their winning entries in the magazine's current issue.

First place poetry winner was freshman, LeVern Collier, who wrote "Comments to Winter." LeVern said she was very surprised to hear that she had won. "I have always wanted to write poetry and will continue trying," she said.

Carolyn Waugaman, a senior biology major from Roanoke, won second place poetry with her poem entitled "Chem." "I like to write and plan to make it my profession if possible," stated Carolyn.



When Lillie Rogers, a freshman from Blackstone, was notified that she had placed third for her poem "Ennui" she didn't believe it possible. "I write poetry when I'm depressed," she said.

First place short story went to Norrish Munson, an English major from Roanoke. Her winning entry was entitled "Tennis Anyone?" "I probably won't continue writing because I don't think I'm good enough," stated Norrish, " and I'm afraid I couldn't do it again."

Second place short story winner was sophomore Doris Kesling, a physical education major. Her entry was entitled, "A Little Kindness."

Honorable mention went to freshman, Sandra Clements for her story entitled "Last Train to Eagle Point." "I entered out of curiosity," said Sandra, "and when I heard that I had received honorable mention I thought it was some mistake." Sandra plans to teach and continue writing as a hobby.

Honorable mention for an essay was also given Anita Heflin, a recent graduate from Longwood.

Hampton C. Owen

WILLIAM AND MARY GIRLS "Jump" into their performance at the H2O Club's Spring Water Clinic held March 28-29 at Longwood.

Sports Summary

By JACKIE WALLER

For the past week most baseball scores have read "ppd. bacause of rain." Some other week end scores follow:

Golf . . . Friday, William and Mary defeated Richmond 15-12; George Washington over Richmond 16½-10½; and Virginia decisively over Dartmouth 27½-2½.

Tennis . . . Friday it was U. Va. over R.-M. College 5-3; Virginia, 6 — William 3; Saturday, William and Mary took a 7-2 victory over touring Layfayette.

Volleyball . . . R.P.I. topped Virginia 15-3, 15-13 for the state Volleyball title. The Green Devils succeed W. & L.'s Generals as Champions.

Track . . . Richmond's record-breaking Spiders won a hectic victory over Davidson, 66½-64½. In a second state match Newport News Apprentice showed surprising strength in spanking Randolph-Macon 85-37.

Intrasquad Football . . . In Winston-Salem, Wake Forest's Black team defeated the Golds 20-14 in a passing battle.

The Cavaliers marked up an easy 26-7 victory over the Graduates to the cheers of 7,000 fans up in Charlottsville.

Dancers Perform In Arts Festival

Eleven colleges, including Longwood, were represented in the student choreography program at the Arts Festival held at Woman's College, Greensboro, North Carolina.

All student works showed a strong oriental use of the hands and much exploitation of the jazz idiom, which ranged from drum rhythms to tone poems and mood music. Movement qualities were more or less effeminate, with some strikingly beautiful lyrical passages in three works: Sweet Briar's abstraction of the Sarabande, a pre-classic dance form; Hollins' treatment of a French folk song, and Longwood's dramatic, lyrical work, "Within Ourselves."

Two Woman's College professors, Dr. Gregory Ivy, Head of the Art Department and Dr. Warren Ashby, Head of the Philosophy Department, evaluated the student compositions. Both professors are members of the examining committee for the Fine Arts program on the graduate level. Judging from student reaction in defending their works, questions following the evaluation, and a consensus of opinion of faculty, all agreed it was the most interesting highlight of the total dance program.

The philosophy professor clung to a purely philosophical approach emphasizing individuality, creativity, order, joy of movement, motion, emotion, and fundamental seriousness. The art professor clearly drew lines of demarcation in relation to basic principles of art form as one would view a painting which move, had rhythm, depth, and meaning to both the spectator and the dancer. How much meaning of our daily lives is expressed in dance was made clear.

A running commentary of each college's work will be posted on the dance bulletin board with copies of the music and dance concert programs.

Dove, Officers Installed By AA

Installation services for the new 1958-59 Athletic Association Council were held Monday, March 24, in the AA Council Room.

Delores Dove, a junior Biology major from Martinsville, was installed as the new president by Carole Wolfe, outgoing president. Louise Heler will serve as vice-president. Lou is a junior physical education major from Warwick.

Josie Currie and Jean O'Connell, sophomores, will serve as secretary and treasurer respectively. Josie, a physical education major, hails from Sandston and Jean, a biology major, comes from Springfield.

Serving as co-managers of the varsity hockey team are Willie Taylor and Doris Kesling. Mary Hite Grayson and Pat Southworth are the new class managers.

Gayle Cunningham will resume her position as varsity basketball manager. Class managers are Carolyn Thorpe and Peggy Blackwell.

Co-managers of class volleyball are Judy Martin and Clara Lee Parker. Class softball and wisket managers are Mate Fadley and Claudia Whipple. Barbara Brantley will serve as tennis manager and Nancy Andrews resumes her position as archery manager.

Mary Lou Morgan will serve as chairman of the Recreation Committee. Other members of the committee are Sue Rawlings and Mason Hamlett.

Serving as chairman of the Social Committee is Patsy Campbell. Shirley Shepherd and June Elmore will serve as committee members.

The new Ways and Means Committee will be led by Jackie Waller. Pat Baugh, Earlene Queen and Jeanette Townsend are members of the commitee.

Chairman of the Publicity Committee will be Louise Heler. Nancy George will serve as her assistant.

G & W's Ahead

Classes Race For Color Cup

"Green and White" emerged victorious as a result of the class volleyball and basketball games and added twenty points in their race for the 1957-58 "color cup".

The first round of the class volleyball games saw the seniors defeat the sophomores 2 to 0. The juniors and freshmen tied in their battle as each claimed one game.

"Green and White" took the lead in the second round as the juniors defeated the sophomores 2-0, and the freshmen came up with a 2 to 0 defeat over the seniors.

The third and final round gave "green and white" ten points for their volleyball victory as the freshmen handed the sophomores a 2 to 0 loss and the juniors came up with a 2 to 0 win over the seniors.

Class Basketball

The class basketball games proved successful for the upperclassmen as the seniors downed the sophomores 37 to 19 and the juniors handed the freshmen a 49 to 26 defeat.

The second round resulted in a 2 to 0 defeat for "red and white" as the freshmen defeated the seniors 36 to 29 and the juniors trounched the sophomores 45 to 22.

"Victory" once more was the cry of "green and white" as the juniors and freshmen claimed the third and final rounds. The sophomore went down in a close battle to the end 28 to 26, and the juniors came up with a 35 to 21 win over the seniors.

It was sad...

when that great ship went down and the last thing to leave the sinking ship was a bottle of Coca-Cola. That's because all hands stuck to Coke to the end. Now there's popularity! That's the kind of loyalty the sparkling lift, the good taste of Coke engenders. Man the lifeboats, have a Coke!

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Cotillion Club Issues 144 Spring Bids

Cotillion Club recently issued bids for the spring semester with the following girls becoming spring rushees:

Betty Allgood, Judy Anfin, Libby Arehart, Carolyn Axom, Janet Ayres, Carolyn Bassford, Pat Baugh, Joanne Bell, Sue Benton, Barbara Bishop, Sue Blair, Barbara Brantley, Phyllis Bridgeforth, Hayes Brooks, Dottie Brown, Elaine Brown, Bonnie Bryant, Page Bolick, Harriet Butterworth.

Also were Barbara Chaffin, Betty Chappell, Sandra Cheatham, Nancy Lee Cole, Ann Coleman, Dottie Council, Sue Crutchlow, Duner Cahill, Jean Dancy, Timmy Darden, Page Davis, Linda Doles, Harriet Durham, Ann Elliott, June Elmore, Joanne Evans, Nancy Evans, Mate Fadely, Pat Farrington, Sandra Ferebee, Barbara Fisher, Nancianne Frye, Shiela Galloway, Jackie Gibson, Dottie Gills,

Kitty Good, Cherry Gorham, Sue Gosnell, Mary Hite Grayson, Brenda Green, Peggy Hall, Ann Hardy, Betty Ann Harrell, Judy Harris, Kitty Harris, Sandra Harrison, Scotty Hart, Kathe Hegnsle, Jean Marie Heller, Helen Hillman, Kay Hudgins, Sue Humphries, Freya Holtrop, Louise Johns, Sandra Johns, Lois Johnson,

Chris Kamen, Cherron Kelley, Nancy M. Kelly, Beverly Kersey, Bonnie Keys, Calvert King, Bobby Koons, Ann Kovacevich, Barbara Keech, Gwen Keesee, Ann LaBonte, Anna Margaret Lacy, Page Landers, Alice Layne, Bonnie Mann, Joanne Magilley, Connie Michaels, Mike Miller, Nancy Miller, Nadine Moore, Dottie Morris, Marilyn Murphy.

Also were Mary O'Conner, Joyce Odom, Pat O'Neil, Brenda Owen, Lee Page, Brenda Parsley, Joanne Parsons, Gladys Patrick, Kay Pierce, Julia Pitts, Sue Price, Barbara Railey, Wirt Raine, Alice Raines, Kitty Reid, Kay Revelle, Sara Rock, Wilma Shaffer, Martha Gray Shirley, Pat Southworth, Rita St. John, Janet Stanley, Barbara Staten, Barbara Stephenson, Joan Stinnet, Pat Stout, Sharon Stout, Cora Strauchan, Virginia Van de Riet, Judy Van Devanter, Elena Vinos, Katherine Wallace, Nancy Wallace, Sandra Watkins, Doris Webster, Rene Weimer, Judy Welch, Dotsie Wheeler, Lucy Wilson, Norma Wilson, Pat Wise, Becky Wooldridge, Mary Mercer Wright, Gretchen Zimmerman, and Marianne Zimmerman.

Dorm Completion

(Continued from page 1)

east corner of each floor, all rooms are four girl suites with connecting baths. Tiled baths will have a shower, dressing compartment, two lavatories, and a toilet and are placed on the hall side of the rooms in order to eliminate the necessity for a window.

Three Receptacles

Using tan metal furniture, identical to that now in parts of Tabb Hall, the rooms will be furnished with two beds, two dresser desks, two desk chairs, one four-drawer chest and one large bookcase. Students will be happy to find that each room includes three double socket electrical receptacles and double windows.

Halls are to be floored in beige tile and will feature an enclosed area for all trash. A linen closet, a maids closet, a small miscellaneous storage room, and a pay phone booth will complete each of these three floors. An interior decorations committee composed of Miss Emily Barksdale, J. H. Wamsley, Mrs. Janice Lemon, Miss Anne Irving Armstrong, Mrs. Nell Griffin, and Dr. Ruth Wilson has chosen stained birch doors and light yellow walls for these halls. Door frames will be gray metal.

Rooms Feature Pastels

For the rooms the committee has chosen four colors: pink bud, canary, sea mist and melody. These pastel shades of pink, yellow, green and blue will be accented by off-white ceilings. All rooms will have tiled floors and sliding closet doors similar to those now in use in Longwood's Art Department.

Guests will enter South Cunningham by an entrance on the Madison Street side of the first floor, ascending several steps in the foyer before reaching the parlor area. The front entrance leads directly into the second floor dormitory. First floor features include a large parlor or common room at the back of the building. Four dating parlors open into this larger room and French doors lead from here to a small back or west patio overlooking the greenhouse and garden. On the north side of this floor the hostess will live in a suite including a living room, bedroom, kitchenette, bath and large closet. She will also have an office near the side entrance. A large recreation room similar to those in other buildings will be located here and an area for trunk storage will cover the northeast quarter of this floor. Student rooms are in the southwest quarter from the recreation room to the front of the building.

The heating system for this building will be controlled by an outside thermostat regulating the interior temperature according to that on the outside. A paging system similar to that recently installed in other buildings will be included.

Outside landscaping for South Cunningham Hall is still being planned and will be basically shrubs of the same type used throughout the campus.

Mr. J. H. Wamsley, Business Manager of the college, assures students that, although all of the features planned for this new building may not be completed by September of this year, the building will be ready for occupancy. This is evidenced by the fact that many rooms have already been plastered and some have been painted.

Teachers Convention

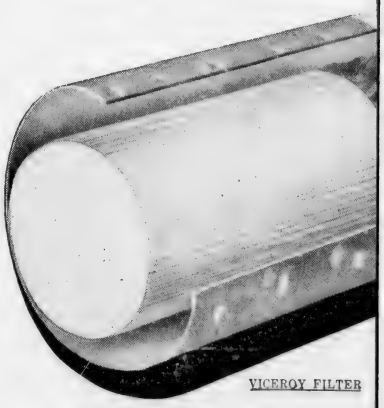
(Continued from page 1)

dent teaching. On another panel on student teaching from the supervising teacher's view are Mrs. Adele Watkins, Farmville Elementary School and Mr. J. Meredith Robeson, Farmville High School. Serving on the program committee is Dr. Edgar Johnson.

Lankford Serves On Committees

Dr. Francis Lankford, President, has been appointed to various committees and will be attending meetings throughout the month of April.

He will attend the annual spring meeting of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics in Cleveland, Ohio, April 9-12.



On April 12, he will speak at the April meeting of the Crewe Chapter of the D.A.R. The meeting will be held at Longwood House.

Dr. Lankford has been appointed to serve as a member of the Committee on Libraries of the Commission on Colleges and Universities of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. He attended a meeting of this committee in Knoxville, Tennessee on March 30.

The subcommittee of the Virginia Education Facilities Committee of which Dr. Lankford is chairman has selected the firm of Cresap, McCormick and Paget of New York as consultants to direct a study for the committee on more effective utilization of Virginia's public educational facilities.

What does this fruit have to do with this cigarette filter?

VICEROY FILTER

THE VICEROY FILTER IS MADE FROM A PURE, NATURAL MATERIAL FOUND IN ALL FRUIT

–and it gives you Maximum Filtration for the Smoothest Smoke!

• From the same soft, pure material found in the rich pulp of nature's healthful fruits, modern filter scientists have created the greatest cigarette filter ever designed . . . the Viceroy filter. For the Viceroy filter gives you the maximum filtration for the smoothest smoke of any cigarette. More taste, too . . . the pure, natural taste of rich, mellow tobaccos. Yes, Viceroy gives you more of what you change to a filter for!

New crush-proof flip-open box or famous familiar pack.

VICEROY PURE, NATURAL FILTER... PURE, NATURAL TASTE

©1958, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

Attend
Institute Lectures
Friday

The Rotunda

Support
Fine Arts Festival
Next Week

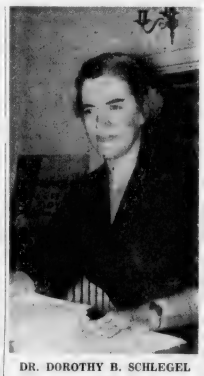
VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., April 16, 1958 | No. 16

Three Plan Lectures On Southern Culture

Longwood College will present its third series of Institute of Southern Culture programs Friday in the student lounge.

At 11 a.m., Dr. Marshall W. Fishwick, professor of American studies at Washington and Lee University, will speak on "Jamestown Revisited."

Dr. Gordon W. Blackwell, chancellor of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, will speak at 4 p.m. on "The Changing South."



Dr. Dorothy B. Schlegel, associate professor of English at Longwood College, will close the program with an 8 p.m. address on "James Branch Cabell and Southern Romanticism."

Through its Institute of Southern Culture, an institutional effort partially supported by alumnae help, the college seeks to provide an appraisal of regional culture.

Broader understanding of southern aspirations, deeper insight into literary and artistic achievement and honest viewing of shortcomings, as well as cultural advancement, are some of the purposes behind the program.

Fall and spring lectures, classroom courses and special events are included in the total Institute program. It is one of the few regional critical efforts in existence.

Friday's lectures mark the first anniversary of the Institute.

DR. DOROTHY B. SCHLEGEL
To Appraise Cabell

In Assembly yesterday the student body unanimously elected the following committee chairmen for 1958-1959: Hannah Haile, publications; Sue Benton, activities, Kathe Hegnsle, calendar; Carolyn De Haven, assembly.

Sigma To Honor Anniversary Date

A week end of festivities at Longwood College has been planned to commemorate the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of Sigma Sigma Sigma, national sorority.

A special homecoming at its birthplace, April 19-20, will be attended by original founders, nearby collegiates and alumnae, and national officers from all parts of the country.

Highlight of the week end will be the formal founders day banquet at

(Continued on page 4)

Club 60 Stars Pat Hawkins

Saturday, April 19 from 8 to 12 p.m. in the Main Rec of Longwood College the Sophomore Class is sponsoring a Combo Party. Pat Hawkins is the featured combo artist who appeared here earlier in the fall.

Addie Richardson, in charge of the decorations, and Joan Kidwell, in charge of props, will carry out the theme "Continental Club '60" with a continental atmosphere prevailing for all rock and rollers who come to join in the fun. Admission charge is only 35 cents per person or 45 cents per couple.

Ann Norfleet and Joanne Garner, co-chairmen for the combo party, are enthusiastic over the new Sophomore undertaking. This party will take the place of the usual Sophomore Production.

AKG Ceremony Extends Membership To Dillon, Boone, Heier, Dove, Rosson

By CHRIS KAMEN

One senior and four juniors were tapped last Tuesday in assembly for membership in Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honorary fraternity for leadership.

The girls honored by membership were senior Amanda Dillon, and juniors Donna Boone, Lou Heier, Lillian Rosson and Dolores Dove.

Mrs. Francis G. Lankford, Jr., and Miss Virginia Bedford were selected by the organization for honorary membership.

Amanda Dillon

A senior from Ashland, Amanda is a Home Economics major. She is the senior House President, treasurer of the H2O Club, a member of the Cotillion Club, Home Economics Club and Rotunda staff. She was chairman of this year's major-minor elections. "To be tapped for AKG was the most wonderful thing that has happened to me since I have been at Longwood," stated Amanda.

Donna Boone

Donna is an English major from Marion and is a member of Longwood Players, French Club, and vice president of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic fraternity. She was recently chosen Historian for the senior class of 1958-59. "Being tapped into AKG was the most wonderful moment in my life. It just seems too good to be true," was Donna's reaction to the honor of being chosen for AKG membership.

Lou Heier

A physical education major from Warwick, Lou will be the vice president of the A. A. next year. She is a member of the Mongram Club, Cotillion Club and H2O Club. She was this year's co-chairman of the Junior Dance. During her sophomore year she served as secretary of the A. A. and was co-chairman of May Day decorations. She has been on the varsity hockey and basketball squads since her freshman year. Lou summed up her feeling on being tapped into AKG by saying, "Words will never express how I feel about such an honor."

Lillian Rosson

Lillian is an elementary major from Trevilians and was recently elected president of next year's senior class. She is the present vice president of the Y.W.C.A. and served as secretary of the "Y" last year. She is a member of the Cotillion Club, BSU, Kappa Delta Pi honor society and Pi Gamma Mu, national social science fraternity. She also served as vice president of her class during her sophomore year. Lillian summed up her feelings by saying, "Being

(Continued on page 4)

State Teacher's Scholarships will be available next year for those students eligible. Application forms are expected from the office of the Director of Teacher Education in a few days. As soon as they are available Dr. Earl Boggs will announce in the dining hall the hour and place of a meeting for student applicants.

State Shows 'Don Juan' As Better Film

The Better Film Series will bring the German film "Don Juan" to the State Theater tonight.

"Don Juan" is based to a large extent on Mozart's "Don Giovanni" and undoubtedly to some extent on the legend of the famous rogue, "Don Juan." It is a fine combination of opera, dance and story that should appeal to audiences on any of these levels. It is an interesting departure from the usual stiff translation of opera to the screen, and the color by Agfacolor aids immensely in the change.

The story tells of the amatory life of Don Juan, the enemies he makes, his conquests and failures, and finally his misfortune that must come to all the damned. The familiar tale is heightened by the memorable performances by both the Vienna Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Professor Bernhard Paumgartner, and the ballet corps of the Vienna State Opera. The English titles by Herman Weinberg are more than adequate for those who wish their opera translated from the German.

The picture has two casts—one that sings and one that acts. They offer an inspiring performance, one that would rival any live presentation of the opera. Cesare Danova plays the title role which Alfred Poell sings, while Joseif Meinrad

(Continued on page 4)

Students To Vie For Beauty Title

May 13 and 14 have been set as the dates for the first Miss Longwood contest in which representatives from campus organizations will compete for honors and prizes in competition that is the first step in what could be a climb to Miss America.

Campus organizations have been asked to select and sponsor a candidate for the judging, which will be held in Jarman Hall Auditorium on Tuesday, May 13. The young lady selected to be Miss Longwood will receive $100 as a first place prize, while second place winner, the runner-up, will receive a set of matched luggage. "Miss Congeniality" will be the title awarded to the student who wins third place.

On Wednesday, May 14, Farmville merchants will sponsor a similar contest to select Miss Farmville of 1958. Both Miss Longwood and Miss Farmville will win an expense free trip to Roanoke to participate in the Miss Virginia contest.

May 1 Deadline

Students selected as candidates must submit applications on or before May 1. These applications can be secured in Miss Wilson's office.

"Miss Virginia" To Visit Local Store

Miss Virginia of 1957, Rebecca Ann Lee, of Roanoke, will be at the Dorothy May Store Friday, Mrs. Ruth Lynch, store manager, reported today.

The attractive young lady, who is a senior at Duke University, will model some of the store fashions and will be available to autograph pictures and discuss fashions with the store customers.

First Fine Arts Festival Program To Open With "Medium," Concert

With an opera in English, "The Medium," Monday, April 21, and an organ recital by Miss Josephine Bailey, assistant professor of music at Longwood, April 22, the First Fine Arts Festival at Longwood College will begin and continue through Saturday, April 26.

MISS JOSAPHINE BAILEY
To Present Recital

Among other events in the week will be an "Evening of Dance" Wednesday put on by Orchesis and the physical education department, under the direction of Mrs. Emily Landrum.

The following night the music department will present a piano concert by Mr. Walter Urben, assisted by Mr. Edgar Stillwell on the flute.

On Friday, April 26, Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic society, will give a series of three plays—"A Boy with a Cart," "Overtones," and "Overruled"—under the direction of Mr. David Wiley. To conclude the week the Longwood choir will hold a concert with the University of Virginia glee club. Dr. John Molnar and Mrs. David H. Davis, respectively, will direct the groups. All these programs will be held in Jarman Hall.

During the week art displays will be shown. In the lobby of Jarman Horace Day, a contemporary painter now a professor of art at Mary Baldwin College, will exhibit work, while the recent work of the Longwood art faculty may be seen in the Browsing Room of the library. Student art may be found in the art department.

McCombs Directs "Medium"

"The Medium," which is produced and directed by Mr. James McCombs, assistant professor of music, is a tragedy with words and music written by Gian-Carlo Menotti, who is Italian-born and American-educated. Its first performance was at Columbia University in 1946, and there it was so successful that it was moved downtown to the Ethel Barrymore Theater on Broadway. Among other works, Mr. Menotti has written "Ahmal and the Night Visitors."

The idea for the opera came from the author's visit to a seance in Switzerland. In the story Madame Flora, the medium, is played by Joann Fivel. Her daughter, Monica, who imitates the voices of the deceased, will be Gay Allen. Toby, a mute, is played by Joan Dorsey; Mrs. Gobineau, Jo Ann Sloop; Mr. Gobineau, Peggy Henry; Mrs. Nolan, Rosalyn Epps; the Voice, Karen Potts; and accompanists, Margaret Moore and Nancy Talyor.

Bailey to Feature Bach

Miss Bailey's recital of Bach music will include the familiar "Tocatto and Fugue in D Major." For many years the organist has wanted to do an all-Bach program which might include Schubler chorale preludes such as "O Whither Shall I Flee," "My Soul Exalts the Lord," and "Praise to the

(Continued on page 4)

Students Attend SGA Convention

Three officers of the Student Council, Barbara Odom, Carol Matthews, and Ruth Denton, attended the annual convention of the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Government Associations held April 9-12 at Converse College in Spartanburg, South Carolina.

Colleges from all over the South were represented at this annual event. Some few of these colleges were Stetson University, Texas Woman's College, Auburn, Meredieth, Weselyn, Madison, Radford, Mary Washington.

Miss Ebie Breeman of Mary Washington presided over the convention as president. The theme for the convention was "Every Wheel in Motion" meaning it takes everyone in a school working together to make a truly successful student government. Discussion groups used topics such as Honor Systems, Freshman Orientation, Council Communication.

Government Lists Qualities For Lancaster Scholarship

The Student Government Association of Longwood College presents each year the Dabney S. Lancaster Scholarship to a student deemed worthy of it. The Scholarship this year will be an award of $200 for the academic year 1958-59.

The Scholarship was established by the Student Government Association in 1955, honoring Dabney S. Lancaster, President Emeritus of Longwood College. Since the purpose of the Scholarship is to recognize and assist as large a number as possible, the appointment is for one year only.

The qualification of the recipient of the award shall include the following:

1. The receiver must have been at Longwood as an undergraduate student at least one academic year.
2. While scholastic attainment alone is not the sole criterion for receiving the award, the recipient must possess a cumulative average of "C" or above.
3. The need of the student is to be given due consideration.
4. The recipient must give promise of becoming a worthy example of educated womanhood, and she must have demonstrated that she has acquired the spirit of the College.

Members of the senior class who were on the Student Council will act as a screening committee. Applications will not be accepted from any candidate, either orally or written.

Any student, faculty member, or friend of the College may suggest to any member of the Screening Committee the name of a person whom they feel is worthy of consideration. No person may make more than one nomination. The last day for submitting nominations for the award is May 1, 1958.

The Screening Committee shall submit to the Committee on Final Selection not later than May 10 not less than three nor more than ten names of students deemed worthy of consideration. The name of the winner shall be announced at an Assembly, and the formal presentation of the award will be made at commencement. Last year's recipient of the award was Dottie Boswell.

Auction Successful

In order to encourage student participation in the Lancaster Scholarship, Alpha Kappa Gamma sponsored an auction of privileges to collect funds for the Scholarship. The auction replaces the previous "Lengths for Lancaster" drive usually sponsored. Mary Lee Teel, president of AKG, announced that the results from the auction were very rewarding. The object of the auction was to sell such privileges as smoking in the dining hall, breakfast in bed, etc., to the highest bidder. AKG members held the drive Thursday, April 10, in the main rec. Faculty members acted as auctioneers.

Hampton C. Owen

PROFESSOR JAMES McCOMBS directs "The Medium" cast members, left to right, Gay Allen, Joann Fivel, Peggy Henry, JoAnn Sloop, Rosalyn Epps, in rehearsal for Monday night

Tuition Increase

Next year, the cost of attending Longwood will be $40 greater for each student than it was this year. The financial support of the college by the state of Virginia will also increase. In fact, the legislature, in the session this winter, clearly recognized the financial needs of our college and was very reasonable in the appropriations made. Our next budget covers the period from July 1, 1958 to June 30, 1960. During these two years, 47 per cent of our estimated revenues will come from state funds and 53 per cent will come from student fees. Our total estimated revenue from student fees and state funds will be 19 per cent higher for the two year period 1958-60 than it was for the two year period 1956-58.

The cost of operating Longwood College is increasing for many of the same reasons that other costs are increasing. For example, coal, electricity, laboratory supplies, telephone service, library books, and all items of equipment have increased in cost. Salaries and wages of faculty and staff have increased. Of course, a large part of increase in total expenditures at Longwood has resulted from our rapidly rising enrollment. Between 1951 and 1957, the enrollment at Longwood increased 48 per cent. This is the highest rate of increase for this period at any of the state colleges in Virginia. During this same period, expenditures rose approximately 69 per cent. This gives some idea of how much of our increased cost has resulted from rise in enrollment and how much resulted from inflation.

We are fortunate that the increases in student costs are no greater than $40. It seems inevitable, however, that further increases in the years ahead must take place. For example, about half the cost of each new dormitory must be financed by room rent. Additional faculty must be employed as more students enroll. Otherwise, the quality of instruction suffers from too high a ratio of students to faculty. Salaries of faculty must be increased further in order that Longwood may maintain a competent faculty at a time when competition from other colleges and universities will be keen indeed. Moreover, strong sentiment seems to be prevalent in the state that as enrollments rise further a larger portion of the cost of a college education must be met by student fees and a smaller portion by state tax funds.

Dr. Francis G. Lankford, Jr., President

How Are Your Manners?

Whether you are picnicking at Virginia Beach, attending a college tea, serving at a girlfriend's wedding reception, dining out with a date, or eating dinner in the Longwood College dining hall, table manners are important. There are many basic eating manners that are necessary at any kind of meal. All of us find ourselves in situations like the ones named above, besides many other occasions. Are you at ease, confident that you know which fork to use, which way to pass the food, how to order, when to use your fingers, whether to await your hostess, what to do with your napkin, and many other possible faux pas?

Eating is a favorite American pastime and also an important social function — but does practice make your table manners perfect? Everyday we have the opportunity to improve our eating ways — but still gulp down huge bites, reach across the table, butter whole slices of bread, use individual silver for serving, prop elbows on the table . . . ? Take a look around your table sometime, would you all behave the same if you were at a sorority banquet, an important dinner date, or a college president's reception? Manners cannot be cut on and off; would you know how to behave? Would you be self conscious and unsure of yourself? Would you really have fun eating, and act naturally? And what we are concerned with right at the moment — are you proud of your eating manners at meals in our dining hall?

Forming good table manner habits is easy; behaving properly and graciously while eating seems to be the least that any mature, self-respecting young girl can do. Here at school it is also relatively simple but markedly respectful to observe such customs as standing for the blessing and serving afterwards. Gracious table behavior is one constant way in which all of us can help to make living with others a more pleasant, acceptable, and successful daily experience, here at college or any other place, anytime.

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 20, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 168.

Linda Hobbs ..... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors

Bet McLaughlin, Pixie Powell

Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Joyce Pearson ..... News Editor
Henrietta Dollins ..... Feature Editor
Violet Scott ..... Sports Editor
Verlenda Jessee ..... Desk Editor
Patricia Gonzales ..... Photography
Meredith Duncan ..... Art
Jessie Mosley ..... Circulation Manager
Lou Gray, Becky Parker ..... Advertising Managers
Dr. James W. Appel ..... Faculty Advisor

Unsigned editorials written by the editor.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press Service, Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Rating First Class, Intercollegiate Press.

NEWS STAFF: Cherry Coleman, Associate News Editor; Jo Ann Parsons, Assistant Desk Editor; Carol Kramer, Assistant Sports Editor; Reporters: Marilyn Booker, Carolyn Cole, Ellen Hamilton, Peg Hendrickson, Bonnie Mc Lawrence, Jo Ann Moore, Dana Dunn, Nancy Lassiter, Lura Leverett, Sara Parrott, Kay Howard, Jocelyn Gilmore, Peggy Gay Hudgins, Barbara Chaffin, Joann Kontgiannes, Barbara Hayes, Sara Jane Hamilton, Nancy Hamblemann, Val Grimm, Pauline Weddle, Cary Gilmore, Pat Lassiter, Suzanne Beck, Barbara Simpkins, Jackie Wacker, Joyce S. Hammond, Mary B. Stokes, Cathy Cunningham.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Dana Dunning, Assistant Manager; Joan Brooker, Connie Coleman, Anne Cummins, Becky Edwards, Kay Flippo, Judy Hamilton, Lawrence Cunningham, Sara Cox, Carolyn Cox, Ann Hollowell, Charlene Mebane, Hazel Mitchell, Sandra Mundy, Frances Nunn, Brent Payne, Mary Barbara Scott, Sara Stiles, Sally Thomas, Shirley Wilson, Dorothy Brown, Reba Westmoreland, Arlene Wilson.

ADVERTISING STAFF: Mary Hunter, Nancy George, Barbara Gammidge, Joan Jones, Jean Ivey.

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by BIBLER

Social Notes

By NANCY HARNSBERGER

For L-C girls, this was a big weekend in the social light.

On the home front, the Cotillion Club dance attracted a large crowd. The Crew-Cuts and Orchestra furnished the music for the evening. We know everyone had a wonderful weekend.

VMI Goes Hollywood

VMI went out for a big week end. We hear the movie cameras had the main part in the dance Friday night, shooting scenes for "Mardi Gras," a movie featuring VMI. Pat Boone, Gary Crosby, Tommy Sands, and Dick Sargent are starring in the movie as cadets. Those girls who attended the Easter dances at VMI were Vicki Brinkley, Betty Culpepper, Carol Matthews, Gin Kuyk, Ann Norfleet, Sylvia Wilmoth, Liza Buchanan, Maxine Crowder, Margie Crismond, Jeanne Vestal, Frances Gray, Linda Moore, Anne DeHaven, Edith Darden, Betty Ann Harrell, Mary Grayson, Brenda Owen, Suzanne Preddy, Martha Gray Shirley, and Hannah White.

Louis Armstrong was featured at U. Va. for the Easter dances. He played Friday and Saturday nights for the dances and gave a Jazz concert Saturday afternoon. Hope everyone had a great time. Those girls who attended the dances were Jo Bailey, Iris Hines, Burks Keith, Martha Marks, Mary Lee Roach, Natalie Tudor, Ann Wallace, Jean Anderson, Mary Aldridge, Judy Alexander, Shirley Hauptman, Jacque Trader, Betty Haley, Joann Hartman, Blanche Ingram, Connie Michael, Joyce Pendleton, Pat Hampton, Louise Johns, Pat Rhodenhizer, Judy Ersley, Pat Mitchell, Betty Ersley, Betty Byer, Carolyn Bassford, Dorothy Council, Anne Damron, Kathryn Good, Dorothy Wheeler.

Frances Patton traveled to Tech this week end.

Guess that's about all of the social news. See you next week.

Timely Topics

By BARBARA HECK

H. Rowan Gaither, chairman of the security resource panel of President Eisenhower's Science Advisory Committee, claims that Russia is pushing ahead of the United States in industrial and economic development. . .On October 12 rockets equipped with special instruments will soar to an altitude of 150 to 180 miles to take a view of a total eclipse. Information about the sun's radiation will be radioed to earth. . .Friends of Princess Margaret are becoming troubled by the moodiness of her royal highness. She has been shying away from social affairs and parties and has been keeping more to herself—perhaps, say acquaintances, Peter Townsend is still in her thoughts.

Demand for foreign cars is still rising. Sales are predicted at 300,000 this year as compared to the 107,000 new foreign cars sold in the U. S. last year . . . With sales at a slump "Buy now!" campaigns are being pushed in Detroit; and the recession in Michigan is even making friends of competitors. In Dearborn reports Time, Edsel Dealer Floyd Rice posted a sign that read: If We Can't Sell You, See Our Neighbor, H. R. Marsh and Son, Across The Street! Chevrolet Dealer Marsh returned the plug: Our Neighbor, Floyd Rice, Has Good Deals Too!

Following a week-long convention of the council for exceptional children, educators in the U. S. predicted that more advances will be made for the nation's exceptional children. Proposals include: Research into the problems of these children, better trained teachers, consolidation and reorganization of school districts, and concentration on the development of the child in many fields—not just math and science. . .Virginia Beach is having a face lifting and modernization change which will cost an estimated four million dollars.

The last opportunity for juniors and seniors to take the Federal Service Entrance Examinations in this school year will be May 10. To compete in this exam, you must file your application by April 24.

For further information, contact the local post office.

Beach Arts Society To Sponsor Show

The Virginia Beach Art Association will hold its third annual Boardwalk Art Show July 11-14 this summer. Young artists of college level are invited and encouraged by the Association to exhibit original arts and crafts this year.

All creative media of arts and crafts is acceptable and each artist or representative must accompany and display his own work. There will be a registration fee of $2.00 per artist and any number of entries as can be handled by the exhibitor is permissible.

First sale last year was made by Amber Rau, a college freshman, exhibiting a poster design. A Purchase Prize of $50.00 will be made and there will be additional cash awards and prizes for Honorable Mentions in all categories.

Demonstrations by well known artists where various techniques can be observed is a highlight of the show each year. Swimming, beaching and social activities have been planned for the entrants. "The Confederacy," the new historical drama by Paul Green, will open for its first season this summer.

Applications must be received before July 1, and all inquiries should be addressed to the Virginia Beach Art Association, Virginia Beach, Va. All aspiring young artists are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to exhibit and sell along with outstanding artists. Sales amounting to $2700.00 were made last year.

Orchesis Members Attend Three-State Arts Festival

The fifteenth Arts Festival at Woman's College of the University of North Carolina on March 14 and 15 was the epitome of abstraction—colorful and exciting paintings, new sounds in music, and new dimensions of movement in dance.

Contemporary American and European art works, studies in abstraction with some impressionism having themes ranging from still life, real life, to philosophical themes, were exhibited.

The highlights of the week end began with the student choreography program in which colleges from North and South Carolina and Virginia performed. A lecture on creative writing by Carolina Gordon, writer, and a master class in dance taught by Merce Cunningham to over 100 students and instructors followed.

In the final evaluation, following the student performances, Mr. Cunningham evaluated the total program, and then proceeded to bring out the highlights of each group's efforts. Each college represented sees itself in the light of this critique in relation to work at other colleges, and its growth or development from the previous year. Ideational stimuli form roots for new and other projects when each group returns to its campus.

Music Concert

The music concert given by duo pianists, John Cage, Cunningham's accompanist, and David Tudor, was a new experience for all of us from Longwood. Both composers are experimentalists in the concrete school of music in which all of the tones of a composition are not played. The pianist resorts to other devices to bring out the missing notes, such as plucking the strings, slapping the piano, using whistles, hitting the strings with the hand, and using wood beaters.

Dance Concert

The opening work at the dance concert that evening used John Cage's music. Here the spaces heard in the afternoon's concert of music became electrified through movement, which was stunning in its impact each time we saw movement in reverberations of sound. Five works were given: "Suite for Five," "Labyrinthian Dances," "Changeling," "Picnic Polka," "Banjo and Septet." These were arranged to alternate between light and heavy works in abstract form.

Costumes, mainly in tights and leotards, were vividly contrasted or mutely subdued. The dancers were exuberant, bounding into space and leaping from it. Cunningham's agile jumps, leaps, entrechats, and flawless technique was "out of this world." Combined with skillful lighting effects and again, John Cage's music, the whole created a work of art capable of adding finesse to an already excellent Art Festival.

Outstanding artist and or educators are brought to the campus for lectures, followed by criticisms of student works, or vice versa. Lectures are open to all university students and faculties. Participation is reserved for students only, with emphasis upon the educational process.

Dance Draws Most

Dance draws the largest number of students from other colleges. Longwood was one among the following: Converse College, Coker College, Meredith College, Winthrop College, Duke University, University of North Carolina, Salem College, Appalachian State Teachers College, Greensboro College, Virginia Intermont, Radford College, Madison College, Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia, Hollins College, Sweet Briar College, and Randolph-Macon Woman's College.

The Longwood College group attended the student choreography program Friday afternoon and a lecture - demonstration on creative writing that evening. A master class, in which over a hundred students from the visiting colleges was on agenda, for Saturday morning; a music concert by John Cage Saturday afternoon; and the concert of dance by Merce Cunningham and his Company on Saturday evening are other program features.

Mrs. Emily K. Landrum, Associate Professor of Physical Education, accompanied the group.

TV Topics

Wednesday, April 16

9:00 Ch. 8 — "Three Plays by Tennessee Williams" will be the title of the Kraft Television Production. The three one-act plays are "The Last of My Solid Gold Watches," starring Thomas Chalmers and Gene Saks; "Moony's Kid Don't Cry," starring Lee Grant and Ben Gazzara, and "This Property is Condemned," starring Ben Piazza.

Thursday, April 17

9:00 Ch. 6 — Teresa Brewer will be Pat Boone's guest.

9:30 Ch. 8 — Songstress Roberta Sherwaad will be Ernie Ford's guest.

Friday, April 18

9:30 Ch. 12 — Louis Hayward will portray a British-born Hollywood star whose vacation plans are interrupted by a beauty contest, in "Contest for Ladies," on the Playhouse of Stars.

—Richmond Times Dispatch

Fanciful Facts

by Robert C. Preble, President
ENCYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA

Uncommon Genius

From Britannica Film "Benjamin Franklin"

Franklin's writings ranged from help in writing the Declaration and Constitution to treatises on the Northern Lights and How to Cure Smoky Chimneys.

Not Like Be-Bop

From Britannica Film "String Choir"

In Ancient Greece a "musical" education ranged from reading and writing to mathematics and literature, including singing of lyric poetry.

Intricate Methods

From Britannica Film "Flowers at Work"

The mechanics of pollination in flowers is so complex that some flowers can't live except in the presence of specific insects, and vice versa.

Old Star-Gazers

From BBFilm "Exploring the Night Sky"

Names of constellations and fanciful figures seen in them date back to the Romans, Greeks, and even Babylonians—more than 3,000 years.

Organizations Install Officers, Initiate New Spring Members

Kappa Delta Pi

Junior Barbara Heck from Arlington has been elected president of Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education. Other new officers were recently installed on April 9 as follows: Virlinda Joyner, vice - president; Shirley Grizzard, secretary; Sarah Hastings, treasurer; and Meade Mann, historian.

New members also initiated at the same time were Anne Adams, Sylvia Bivens, Josephine Maxey, June Lee May, Patsy Powell, Anne Presson, Lillian Rosson, Natalie Tudor, and Juanita Anderson Yates. The trip to the Kappa Delta Pi convocation in Chicago was outlined also, by Virlinda Joyner and Cornelia Anne Batte.

Pi Gamma Mu

New members invited to join Pi Gamma Mu, national social science fraternity, will be initiated at 7:00 p.m. on April 23 in the Y lounge. The bids were issued to the following girls:

Jerrye Edwards, Ella Gray, Shirley Grubb, Elaine Handy, Barbara Hurst, Virlinda Joyner, Jane Kell, Carol Lash, Frances McLoughlin, June Lee May, Mary Miller Aldridge, Jo Ann Scarborough, Ann Seward Wallace, Patricia Wilmoth, Mary Carter Younger.

New officers will be elected at this time, also. A revision of the requirements for membership in the fraternity will be necessary for next year. Many of the courses now necessary for membership are outdated, while some which should be required are not in the catalog.

FBLA

Elaine Chaffin, junior from Richlands, was chosen president of the Future Business Leaders of America. Installed as other new officers are the following: Mary Helen Jones, vice - president, Christine Jones, secretary; Eloise Shrieves, treasurer; Mary Lee Roach, reporter; Mary Thomas Owen, historian; and Lois Johnson, parliamentarian. Installation took place on April 8 in the Games Room.

French Club

Sophomore Bonnie Bryant from Front Royal has recently been elected president of the French Club for the 1958-59 session. Other new officers include Merle Ridinger, vice president, Carol Sanders, secretary, Sally Harney, treasurer, Linda Doles, reporter, and Martha Gray Shirley, project chairman.

The above new members will be installed at the May meeting, which has not yet been scheduled.

Pictures used in the Rotunda in the last two years will be sold during the coming weeks. These pictures are group shots which the Rotunda does not need for its files. There is only one copy of these glossy prints and they are 50c each.

Pictures used since February also will be available. Since the Rotunda does have negatives, duplicates and enlargements can easily be made. These pictures will be $1.00 each.

Pictures will be posted on a bulletin board next week and will be displayed by a Rotunda staff member before and after dinner in the Smoker.

More Seniors Acquire Positions; Placement Totals Forty-nine

Fifty teacher interviewers from 24 cities and 17 different counties have visited the Longwood campus since December. Forty-nine seniors now have positions. Twenty-three of these seniors were named in the last issue of this publication; the others are included in the following:

Henrico County has drawn Betty Jeanne Spruhan, a Social Studies Major; Ann Hill, an English major; Sylvia Moore, also an English major; Jean Anderson, a Business major; and Suzanne Barr, an Elementary major.

Princess Anne has attracted Maxine Crowder and Cornelia Batte. Maxine is majoring in Elementary education and Cornelia is majoring in elementary education and English.

To Norfolk County will go Elementary majors Barbara Pond and Irene Simmons.

Hampton has drawn Betty Spencer, a Business major, Mary Lee Teel, an Elementary major, and Shirley McNeal, an Elementary major.

Jane Crute, a Business major, will teach in Southampton County; Jo Ann Scarborough, a Biology and History major will be at Craddock; Nancy Baker, a Business major, will teach in Warwick.

Those teaching out of state are elementary majors Kathy O'Leary and Katherine Watson. Both of these girls have teaching positions in Aberdeen, Maryland. Ellen Webb, a Business major, will be teaching in Worcester County, Berlin, Maryland.

Ruth Zick and Liz Ruckman, both Business majors, have taken secretarial positions for next year. Ruth will work for the Reynolds Metal Company, and Liz for the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company.

KappaDeltaGroup To Attend Meeting

Mrs. Thomas D. Patterson, of Matthews county, will be the keynote speaker when Virginia Kappa Delta association holds its state day meeting in Richmond April 19. Mrs. Patterson is president at Alpha province, Kappa Delta sorority, which has 93 college chapters and 302 chartered alumnae associations.

Some of the members of the Virginia chapters will participate in the state day program to be held at Crippled Children's Hospital. Aid to this hospital is one of the philanthropies of the sorority which last year donated over $14,000 dollars for the support and treatment of six patients and for the purchase of equipment.

During he morning session, Miss Jane Massey, of Dover, Delaware, Alpha province alumnae officer, will lead a discussion period. Mrs. Edward R. Adams of Richmond, president of the Virginia Kappa Delta association, will preside at the state day meeting which is sponsored by the five alumnae associations of Kappa Delta in Virginia, located in Roanoke, Richmond, Tidewater, Northern Virginia and Farmville.

Spring Brings New Shrubs To Campus

The campus has acquired many different types of shrubbery, trees, and other flowering greenery in the past few months.

The holly trees in front of the Rotunda, which were planted during Christmas, were gifts of Alpha Kappa Gamma, honorary leadership fraternity. Numerous evergreens and deciduous-type trees were procured from Greenbrier Nurseries in Norfolk.

In front of Jarman Hall are found Cedar of Lebanon and Deodora Cedar. The new collection of pines includes such unusual varieties as Japanese, Austrian, Longleaf, Magho, and Black Pine.

Numerous flowering trees have been started around the campus, directed by the botany classes under the supervision of Dr. Brumfield. These trees are Dogwood, Silver Bells, and Franklinia, which was named in honor of Benjamin Franklin. This is a fall-flowering tree and was found growing wild in Georgia by John Bartham. It was brought under cultivation, and now it will not grow in the wild. These flowering trees were planted outside the Tea Room by the Botany classes.

Pyrocantha and Butterfly bushes will make bright appearance in a few months. Ligustrum is one of our perennial shrubs which remains green all year. The Botany Dept. will soon plant Julian Barberry along the walks around the campus which is mainly for the purpose of urging wandering students to keep off our green grass.

Dr. Brumfield had been Chairman of this campus committee until November when Mr. Bittinger assumed this position.

Donaldson to Lead L C Aquatic Group

Nancy Donaldson, sophomore, has been elected president of the H2O Club for the coming year.

An elementary major from Roanoke, Nancy has taken an active part in the Club since her freshman year. She was recently chosen treasurer of the incoming junior class. Nancy is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority.

Serving as secretary will be sophomore Beverley Redmon. Beverleye, a business major from Warwick, is a member of the Cotillion Club and the Westminster Fellowship.

Josie Curry, a sophomore physical education major from Sandston, accepts the position of treasurer. Josie, newly elected secretary of the Athletic Association, is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority, Cotillion Club, Westminster Fellowship, Richmond Club, and Longwood Players.

The H2O Club strives to promote more interest in water sports and to provide Longwood students with a variety of aquatic activities. The club sponsors two water pageants annually and is under the leadership of Miss Eleanor Weddle. Members also serve as life guards during "rec" swimming.

Papers In Library

The Rotunda has made plans to display student newspapers from other colleges in the Longwood Library.

Papers included are those from Roanoke College, University of Richmond, Bridgewater, R.P.I., Central Michigan College, Muklenburg College, Mary Baldwin, Randolph-Macon Men's College, Virginia Tech, V.M.I., Hampden-Sydney, Madison, Radford, Lynchburg College and from several Virginia high schools.

The new editions of these papers will be displayed each week in the Reference Room. For further information you may contact Linda Saunders, Exchange Department, or Joyce Hutcheson, library columnist. In the future, the Rotunda will obtain papers from other colleges also.

CHURCH NEWS

The Longwood B.S.U. is also in the midst of rejoicing and thanksgiving for having reached their goal of First Magnitude for the fifth consecutive year. Only three other colleges in the state have reached this high standard, and all of them are church schools, so we are very proud indeed.

—The Camera Artist

BARBARA BRANTLEY

Sports Summary

By JACKIE WALLER

Baseball — Last Wednesday, Hampden-Sydney soundly whipped Concord 7-0; V.M.I. beat Quantico 8-4.

Thursday, Richmond's Spiders nipped Canisius 4-2 as Norfolk Division of William and Mary remained undefeated with a 2-0 victory over Randolph-Macon College.

Friday, the only dry diamond was at Hampden-Sydney where the unbeaten Tigers soundedly defeated V.M.I. 9-1 behind the 15-strikeout pitching of Bobby Humphreys.

Saturday, Randolph - Macon downed Johns-Hopkins 12-6 in a big scoring Mason - Dixon game. In Blacksburg, Tech edged the Williamsburg Tribe 4-3 with two runs in the first, one in the fifth, and the tie breaking run finally in the eighth.

Track — Friday, Lynchburg defeated Randolph-Macon 61 to 60 with a win in the final event. Meanwhile, V.M.I. whipped Richmond's Spider's 81 to 50.

The big meet was Saturday as Duke's Dave Sime won three events and placed in another to lead the Blue Devils to a solid 74-57 victory over Virginia.

Tennis — Wednesday, Colgate licked V.M.I. 6-0. Thursday saw Virginia rack up North Carolina State 8-1, but Washington and Lee and Virginia Tech were less fortunate. Washington and Lee lost to Colgate 7-2 and Tech to Marshall 5-4.

Golf — Washington and Lee blanked Lynchburg College 9-0 Wednesday. Then on Friday, Maryland defeated Virginia 20-10. It was William and Mary over luckless V.M.I. 9-0 and Duke over Clemson 20-7.

Tennis, Anyone?

Classes Begin Cup Rivalry

Tennis anyone? The tennis courts will be the next scene of activity for color cup competition.

Barbara Brantley, Longwood's tennis manager for this year, urges everyone interested in tennis to come out and practice for the green 'n white, red 'n white singles and doubles. A total number of eight practices are required in order to become eligible for participation in color cup competitions.

Varsity Tryouts

At the end of this week the varsity tennis team will be chosen by Barbara with the help of Miss Iler. Practices and try outs for varsity membership, will be held at five o'clock all this week. Eligibility for the varsity team requires two hours of practice a week.

On April 24 William and Mary will be Longwood's rivals for our first competition game, and on May 10 another tennis match will be played between Longwood and Westhampton.

Tennis lovers! It may interest you to know that Southside's will be selling tennis balls at a cheap rate for all Longwood students.

An English teacher was discussing the fact that Louisa M. Alcott, in writing about herself, stated that she tried to sell stories to keep the wolf from the door.

"What do you think Miss Alcott meant by saying she was trying to keep the wolf from the door?" the teacher asked one of the 10-year-olds in the class.

"I suppose," was the prompt reply, "she just didn't want the guy bothering her."

—The Readers' Digest

BRAINPOWER

IS OUR MOST VITAL RESOURCE!

You can't dig education out of the earth. There's only one place where business and industry can get the educated men and women so vitally needed for future progress. That's from our colleges and universities.

Today these institutions are doing their best to meet the need. But they face a crisis. The demand for brains is increasing fast, and so is the pressure of college applications.

More money must be raised each year to expand facilities—bring faculty salaries up to an adequate standard—provide a sound education for the young people who need and deserve it.

As a practical business measure, help the colleges or universities of your choice—now! The returns will be greater than you think.

If you want to know what the college crisis means to you, write for a free booklet to: HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.

HUNGRY?

THIRSTY?

TIRED?

See You At

The SNACK

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

Beauty Problems? . . .

Visit Gray's Cosmetic Counter Featuring REVLON PRODUCTS

WALKER'S RESTAURANT

Club Breakfast - Lunch

Course Dinners

FOUNTAIN SERVICE

Phone 3280

U. S. 360 and 460

BURKEVILLE, VA.

Boxwood Tourist Court and Restaurant

3 Miles South of Farmville on Rt. 15

Phone 3027-5

Is it school supplies that you need?

Then drop by our supply counter for index cards, notebook paper, pencils, ink, etc.

NEWBERRY'S

FOR YOUR ENTERTAINMENT

listen to

AFTERNOON RECORD SHOW

From 2:00 - 5:00

over

W-F-L-O

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT 1958 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

Dear Diary...

As I take my pen in hand, I take my bottle of Coke in the other hand! Yes, dear diary, where would I be without Coca-Cola? Just a social outcast. Why, everybody drinks Coke! John and Bill and Barry and Charley. Horace too. Confidentially, I think I'll have another bottle of Coke.

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by

LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Business Groups To Meet Here; State Representatives To Speak

On April 17, the Business Education Department of Longwood College and Mr. Arthur L. Walker of the State Department of Education will sponsor an area conference for Southside business teachers, businessmen and businesswomen on the subjects of "Typewriting, a Business Office Function," and "The Teaching of Typewriting."

The morning session will be conducted by Mr. Howard Newhouse, Educational Specialist of the Gregg Publishing Division, McGraw-Hill Book Company, Inc. Mr. Newhouse has had extensive experience as a business education specialist throughout the Eastern states.

The afternoon session will be devoted particularly to the typewriting teacher and will feature teaching procedures and the improvement of instruction of typewriting. Mr. Woodie Tucker, Professor in the School of Business at Richmond Professional Institute will direct this session.

The meeting will be held in the Audio-Visual Room, Longwood College Library at 10:00 a.m.

Secretary Institute

The Virginia Association of Educational Secretaries will hold a three-day institute in the Library at Longwood College April 18, 19 and 20. Approximately sixty school board and educational secretaries are expected to attend. Registration will take place on April 18, from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. The Friday evening session will be held in the Audio-Visual Room in the Library from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Saturday morning Mrs. J. P. Wynne, former Associate Professor of Business Education, will speak on "Business English." Mr. Willard Leeper, Assistant Professor of Business Education, will discuss and present a modern film, which will be followed by a discussion led by Mrs. Beulah T. Jones. Another feature of the Institute will be an address by Mr. J. G. Blount, Jr., Director of Finance, State Department of Education.

Dr. Francis G. Lankford, Jr., President of Longwood College, will make an address during a banquet meeting at Longwood House Saturday night.

Educators Dispute LegislativeChange In Teacher Study

Professional educators representing a dozen Virginia colleges expressed opposition to legislative interference with the State Board of Education and decried "loose, inadequate" public comments on present day education during a Friday, Saturday conference at Longwood College.

The opposition was contained in resolutions adopted without a dissenting vote by The Department of Teacher Education, of the Virginia Education Association. That group is the professional organization of teachers of education at both state and private institutions of higher learning and of public school system supervisors.

Floor discussions following panel talks also indicated that some members of the group want a positive approach to public criticism of teacher training programs.

Positive Approach

Dr. J. Alex Rorer, a professor of education at University of Virginia advised against "getting our backs up" over such criticism.

"The public is interested in education," he said. "They want Johnny to read better; we want Johnny to read better. We have not informed them sufficiently that we are interested in the things they are interested in."

Dr. Orville Wake, president of Lynchburg College, who presented a formal report on standards for Virginia junior and senior colleges during the conference, also suggested that good might come of present criticisms.

"We have got to offset the rapidly growing public frame of mind which holds education responsible for our lack of scientists and scientific equality with Russia by a new vitality in courses of education," Dr. Wake urged.

Criticize 'Life'

Criticism levelled at stereotype teacher education courses must be met with a willingness to make the courses vital for every student, Dr. Wake said. "One of our responsibilities is to show the worth of such courses by the ability they impart to the student," he declared.

The resolution against legislative interference was the Association's answer to action of the Legislature in reducing, through the force of statute, requirements for teacher certification. As adopted it read:

"The Department of Teacher Education expresses confidence in the competence of the State Board of Education to exercise full responsibility for acting up and implementing regulations for the certification of teachers in Virginia. It believes that this board is the only appropriate existing agency for exercising this function and it deplores any attempt to hamper this agency by unnecessary legislation."

The resolution against loose, inadequate public comment came as the Association endorsed a recent statement of the Philosophy of Education Society.

Intellectual Honesty

That statement calls for "intellectual honesty in public interpretation of educational philosophy and practice," the statement censures Life Magazine in quoting John Dewey out of context while proposing to show that Dewey felt that education should be an aimless affair.

The statement also reads: "The intellectual inadequacy of the editorial in Life Magazine renders the reader helpless to deal with the issue. Many within this Society agree with some details of the criticisms presented in the editorial. All within it have for years directed pointed criticisms against educational aberrations. None believes, however, that philosophic wisdom will be generated by loose, and inadequate, if, indeed, not irresponsible, statements.

"The enterprise of philosophy of education, never more urgently needed than now, will not be helped by distortion. Such writing does a disservice to education, and, above all, to the American people."

Considerable conference discussion was devoted to determining the influences which led to the legislature's action. No delegate suggested an answer, but numerous educators present viewed the action and the reduced requirements in education courses with misgiving.

May Hurt Group

"It seems to me it represents an attempt to prevent teachers from understanding their own profession," Dr. Edgar M. Johnson, of Longwood College, said. "I think it will serve to make teachers less proud of their calling, less aware of their professional integrity as a group."

Paul Hook, superintendent of Fredericksburg public schools, said the action raises a new issue in Virginia: who is going to establish certification requirements; the General Assembly or the State Board of Education?

Dr. Rorer expressed the view that lowered hours may serve to lessen practice student teaching time. He said such practice is "vital" in the teacher training process.

Several delegates thought the reduced requirements would induce more students to enter the teaching field, while others expressed a fear that liberal arts colleges would cut their professional education courses to the barest minimum possible.

Staff Adds Sixteen

Editor-in-Chief, Linda Doles announces several additions to the Rotunda staff.

New reporters working with Judy Eckstrom, News Editor, and Cherry Gorham, Assistant News Editor, are: Kay Howard, Barbara Purks, Sandra Kilmon, Sallie Parrott, Frances Harnsberger, Barbara Chaffin, and Jo Ann Kleinecke.

Working with Advertising Managers Lou Gray and Becky Parker, are: Mason Hamlet, Nancy George, Joan Heavyside, Barbara Gamage, and Ann Hill, past Advertisment Manager of the Rotunda.

New library columnist, Joyce S. Hutcheson, will be working with Henrietta Dollins, Feature Editor.

The Circulation Staff headed by Gwen Melton and assisted by Dale Preddy welcomes: Dorothy Brown, Reba Westmoreland, and Arlene McKay.

Joan Brooker joins the Rotunda staff as a typist, besides continuing her work on the circulation staff.

Better Films

(Continued from page 1)

and Harold Progelnof are the body and the voice, respectively, of the Don's friend, Leporello. he director is H. W. Kolm-Veltee and it was produced by Akkord Film of Vienna.

"Don Juan" is a fitting contribution from the screen for this 200th anniversary of Mozart's birth. For this reason and the others cited, it should be a treat for its audiences.

Fine Arts Festival

(Continued from page 1)

Lord." Two other pieces to be played are "Concerto Number I in G Major" "Passacaglia and Fugue in C Minor."

Miss Bailey, who came to Longwood from St. Ann's Episcopal Church in Annapolis, Maryland, holds a Master of Music degree from Peabody conservatory and a Bachelor of Science from Johns-Hopkins.

FOR STUDENTS
Of Discriminating Taste
BRADSHAW'S
RESTAURANT
Burkeville, Va.
We Never Close

Sororities Choose New Officers; Ozmon To Serve As Pan Hel Head

Panhellenic Council held installation yesterday with "Cat" Ozmon serving as president for the coming year. Other officers are Ann Norfleet, Vice-President; Barbara Bishop, Secretary; Ginny Price, Treasurer; and Cass Connor, Rush Chairman. Other members of the council are Ruth Denton, Patti Roach, and Beverly Kersey.

The eight sororities on campus have also elected officers for the coming year as follows:

Ernestine Stoltz will be serving as President of Alpha Sigma Alpha with Cass Connor, Vice-President; Nancy Harnsberger, Corresponding Secretary; Shirley Grizzard, Recording Secretary; and Ann Scott, Treasurer.

President of Alpha Sigma Tau will be Anne Keziah. Other officers are Judy Eckstrom, Vice-President; Nancy Donaldson, Recording Secretary; Minnie Lee Dean, Corresponding Secretary; and Ann Snyder, Treasurer.

Delta Zeta will be led by Jacqui Dietz as President with Ann McDonald serving as Vice-President; Barbara Simpkins, Recording Secretary; Bertie Silcox, Corresponding Secretary; and Annabelle Pope, Treasurer.

Chris Wilson will be serving as President of Kappa Delta with Weedie Norman, Vice - President; Mary Douglass Stokes, Secretary; and Margie Layman, Treasurer.

President of Pi Kappa Sigma for the coming year will be Burks Keith. Other officers are Norrish Munson, Vice-President; Linda Jo Saunders, Recording Secretary; Shirley Lucy, Corresponding Secretary; and Barbara Rossitor, Treasurer.

Nancy Knowles will be serving as President of Sigma Sigma Sigma with other officers being Mary Ellen Moore, Vice-President; Jo Lynn Holland, Recording Secretary-Betty Spivey, Corresponding Secretary; and Joan Lee Thomas, Treasurer.

President of Theta Sigma Upsilon will be Nancy "Drawers" Andrews with Betty McClenney, Vice-President; Jean Peyton, Recording Secretary; Nancianne Frye, Corresponding Secretary; and Connie Goodman, Treasurer.

Julia Gray Wallace has been elected the new President of Zeta Tau Alpha. Other officers will be Barbara Hurst, Vice-President; Sandra Kilman, Recording Secretary; Miriam Lambiotte, Corresponding Secretary; and Julia Williams, Treasurer.

AKG Ceremony

(Continued from page 1)

tapped into AKG is one moment I will never forget. It is indeed an honor and I am sincerely grateful."

Delo Dove

Next year's president of the A.A., Delo is a Biology major from Martinsville. She is a member of the Honorary Science Club, Monogram Club, Cotillion Club and Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority. She was treasurer of the A. A. her sophomore year and class treasurer her freshman year. She has been on the varsity hockey and basketball squads since her freshman year. "It's quite an honor but also a big responsibility and I hope I am capable of fulfilling the job," commented Delo on her recent tapping for AKG membership.

Faculty News

Dr. Lankford and Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss are now attending a symposium, "New Directions in the Liberal Arts," in connection with the installation of Dr. Samuel Reid Spencer, Jr., as President of Mary Baldwin College on April 15 and 16. The principal address was given at the Convocation Tuesday night, April 5, by Arnold J. Toynbee.

On April 19, Dr. and Mrs. Lankford and Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, Alumnae Secretary, will attend a luncheon meeting of the Lexinton Chapter, Longwood Alumnae Association.

On April 12, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wamsley attended the annual spring luncheon of the Norfolk Chapter, Longwood Alumnae Association.

On April 11 Dr. John Molnar, chairman of the music department of Longwood, directed the Tennessee All-State Chorus in Memphis.

Sigma Homecoming

(Continued from page 1)

Longwood House, Saturday. To carry out the 60-year old tradition begun by the founders, a penny for each year will be contributed by each guest. Monies thus collected support the Robbie Page Memorial fund, a social service project.

Following church services Sunday morning, there will be a dedication program in the Rotunda. A reception given by Farmville alumnae will conclude the week- end's activities. All Tri-Sigmas in the area are invited to join in this significant celebration. Reservations can be made with the arrangements chairman, Nancy Knowles, at Longwood College.

You'll be sittin' on top of the world when you change to L&M

Light into that L&M Live Modern flavor

Only L&M gives you this filter fact— the patent number on every pack.... ...your guarantee of a more effective filter on today's L&M.

Best tastin' smoke you'll ever find!

Put yourself behind the pleasure end of an L&M. Get the flavor, the full rich taste of the Southland's finest cigarette tobaccos. The patented Miracle Tip is pure white inside, pure white outside, as a filter should be for cleaner better smoking.

©1958 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Attend Longwood College's First Festival Of Fine Arts This Week

The Rotunda

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., April 23, 1958 | No. 17

Arts Festival Features Dance Tonight

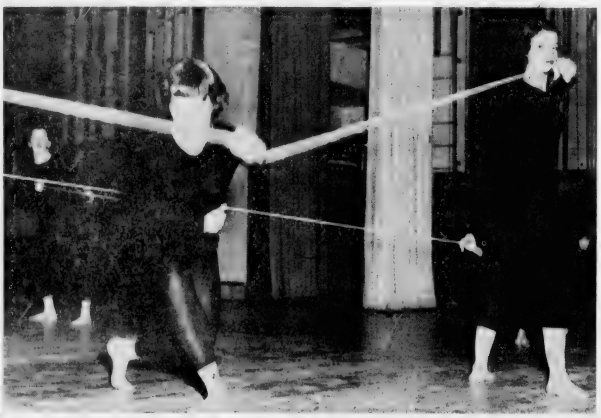
Parsons To Head SIPA Convention

By JUDY ECKSTROM

Jo Ann Parsons, a freshman from Richmond, will preside over the twenty-ninth annual convention of the Southern Interscholastic Press Association this weekend. The convention will be held on the campus of Washington and Lee in Lexington.

With any high school or preparatory school in the South invited to participate in the convention, its purpose is to unite in a common organization scholastic journalists. Panel discussions and short courses will be held for criticism services for the high school publications to better inform them of their jobs and responsibilities.

Jo Ann, being co-editor of the Manchester High School newspaper, The Communique, when elected to the office of president for the 1958 convention, is the second girl president in its twenty-eight year history. "It is mostly an honorary position, and I am very pleased that I was elected to serve as president for the 1958 session. I am looking forward to presiding over the convention this week end."



Jo Ann's duties at the convention will be to open it formally on the twenty-fifth, serve on the floor committee for the convention dance, interview candidates for president for 1958-59, assist at the voting booth, and introduce the new student president at the awards banquet.

Becoming very active on The Rotunda, Jo Ann has assumed the position of assistant desk editor for the coming year as well as being a reporter. She is also a member of the Richmond Club and Cotillion Club.

Dr. John C. Forbes, professor of biochemistry at the Medical College of Virginia and president-elect of the Virginia Academy of Science, will give a lecture Thursday, April 24, at 7:00 p.m. in Room 105, Stevens Hall. His topic will be "Research on Alcoholism."

This lecture is sponsored by Lynchos Society, the Mathematics and Science honorary organization.

All interested persons are invited to attend.

ORCHESIS MEMBERS, left to right, Carol Lash, Tweety Lambiotte, Connie Goodman, rehearse for "Patterns of Forces," one of the dance numbers to be given tonight.

The Festival of Fine Arts, now under way at Longwood, will continue for four remaining performances. Tonight a modern dance concert will be presented in Jarman auditorium. Thursday, April 24, a piano recital assisted by the flute will be presented. Three One-act plays presented by Alpha Psi Omega will highlight Friday's activities; and on Saturday, a joint concert by the Longwood College choir and the University of Virginia glee club will conclude the week's events.

"An Evening of Dance" will be presented tonight at 8 p.m. in Jarman Hall by Orchesis, honorary dance society, and the physical education department. Mrs. Emily K. Landrum, associate professor of physical education, is the director of the program and faculty sponsor of Orchesis.

All dance work presented has evolved from actual work. Featured modern dance numbers include "Imprints," "Patterns of Forces," and "Flora and Fauna."

"Imprints" is set against a skyline backdrop with the Naive moving through the first impression of a great city and becoming part of the onrushing crowd. The scene then shifts to figures in the night of the city. "Patterns of Forces" uses a rope as a unifying element. The theme depits a struggle of any group in which individuals vie with one another for supremacy. "Flora and Fauna" centers around indeterminate figures awakening in a dream world fantasy. Other numbers include "Shaker Suite," "Within Ourselves," "Grief," "Two Nocturnes," "Impressions" and "Three Blind Mice."

Piano and Flute Concert

Thursday's piano concert will be presented by Walter E. Urben, assistant professor of music and piano insturctor. He will be assisted on the flute by Edgar F. Stillwell, associate biology professor.

The first portion of the program will include Sonata number 2 in E Flat for Flute and Piano in three movements by J. S. Bach. Mr. Urben will then present by F. Chopin Sonata in B Flat Minor, Opus number 35 in four movements. After intermission, "Intermezzo, Opus 118, Number 1" by J. Brahms will be presented. This will be followed by Two Rhapsodies, Opus 79, Numbers 1 and 2: B Minor and G Minor. Concluding the evenings performance will be "Capriccio in F Minor, Opus 28" by E. von Dohnanyi.

Mr. Urben holds an advanced Certificate in Music Education from the University of Illinois, an M. M. degree from Indiana University, a B.M. from the University of Illinois and from the Conservatory of Music of the College of the Pacific.

Dr. Stillwell has studied under John Wummer, first flutist in the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, and M. Wittgenstein of CBS. A biologist, he holds the Ph. D. and M. A. degree from Duke University and the A.B. from Wagner Luthern College in New York.

Evening of Plays

The fifth event of the week long Festival of Fine Arts will be the Friday evening presentation of an Evening of Plays. Presented by Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics fraternity, the three one-act plays will be "A Boy With a Cart," by Christopher Fry, "Overtones" by Alice Gertenberg, and "Overruled" by George Bernard Shaw.

"A Boy With a Cart" will be directed by Mr. David W. Wiley, an assistant professor of speech and drama at Longwood. He will be assisted in directing by Molly Workman. "Overtones" will be directed by Donna Boone and "Overruled" will be directed by Miss Workman. These productions are under the overall direction of David Wiley.

L. C.-U. Va. Joint Concert

Concluding the week's events will be a joint choral concert presented by the University of Virginia glee

(Continued on page 3)

Students will register for classes next year according to numbers which they will draw for this purpose.

The sophomore class will draw their respective numbers and register for classes April 25 between two and five p.m. in the small auditorium. All sophomores will be excused from classes from 2 p.m. on, to register.

Freshmen will register for classes May 1, from one to five p.m. in the same manner and will be excused from all afternoon classes on this day.

College Displays Varied Art Works

Art Students Show Talent

Many Longwood students are exhibiting their own work during this week of the Festival of Fine Arts which ends Saturday, April 26. Among the art department displays may be found pottery, enamels, chalks, water colors, oils, textile designs, mosaics, and string constructions.

Students with pottery on display are as follows: Martha Sue Clark, Walter Anderson, Jr., Mary Ann Foster, Elaine Johnson, Mary Archer Reames, La Verne Collier, and Addie Richardson. In the enamels section is work by Amanda Dillon, Sue Jett, Carol Lash, Madeline Bailey, Ellen Callaway, Peggy Dickerson, Delores Fentress, Elizabeth Fentress, Sara Parrott, Tae Wamsley, Judy Anfin, Claude Allard, Jr., and Nancie Morton.

Girls with work in drawing and composition are Martha Sue Clark, Jacqui Dietz, Carol Lassiter, Addie Richardson, Clara Dunagan, Phyllis Bridgeforth, and Barbara Bishop. Having crafts-work in the exhibit are Nan Brimmer, Clara Dunagan,

(Continued on page 4)

Attention students! Is your artistic taste typical of Longwood? Vote for your favorite picture by Horace Day. A ballot box is located in Jarman lobby this week near his exhibit. The winning picture may be purchased by the college.

Exhibit Features Horace Day Oils

By CHERRY GORHAM

The dignified yet personable Horace Day, outstanding Virginia artist, has contributed an exhibit of 14 oil paintings as a part of the Fine Arts Festival. Seen in Jarman Lobby, they constitute his first one-man show on this campus, and include a group of paintings from his display at the Bodley Gallery in New York.

Mr. Day, accompanied by his wife, brought his paintings to Longwood last Thursday, when he proved to be a most interesting person to interview.

Usually painting portraits and landscapes, the artist's most typical scenes are those of Virginia and the Carolinas. He remarked, "I like to think of Virginia and the Carolinas as my backyard." He added, though generally he paints rapidly when he reworks a picture, it may take as much as a year of off-and-on work to satisfactorily complete it.

In addition to oils, paints, water colors, and wash drawings, he states that he selects his medium according to the subject matter. However, when he is on trips he uses water colors most frequently.

Ideally Mr. Day would like to paint half the time and devote the other half to teaching. He said that it is important for an art teacher to paint some each day. He encourages his students to paint regularly, too, and not to be concerned over early weaknesses. "The genuine painter is a law unto himself," he commented; "he must paint the way he feels."

Mr. Day has taught at Mary Baldwin for about 15 years, with leaves of absence for an army stint and for teaching at the Kansas City Art Institute. In addition to the Bodley display, his works have been represented at the Academy

(Continued on page 4)

Faculty Gives Art Exhibit

By ELENA VINOS

(Editor's note: Elena Vinos, Spanish informant from Mexico, plans to open an art gallery in the future and is also an artist herself. The following is a report of the faculty art exhibition now on display in the browsing room of the library. Works displayed here are by Miss Virginia Bedford, Chairman of the Art Department, Mrs. Janice Lemon, and Miss Annie Lee Ross.)

Miss Virginia Bedford has exhibited at the Virginia Museum in Richmond, works in silver and jewelry; at the Randolph-Macon Women's College in Lynchburg, an invitation show of college faculty in the state; at the Southeastern College Faculty exhibition; in Greensboro; and three times at Longwood College.

In this exhibition Miss Bedford has works in pottery and enamels. The pottery was made with earthenware and stone ware. Some of them are hand built and some put on a potter's wheel. She has ashtrays, flower pots and pots. There stands up a very stylized jar with a long neck that makes me think of the ancient ones.

The enamels are powdered glass fused by heat to copper. Color is obtained by metal oxides added to the powder glaze. Some of the shapes are spun forms and some free forms; meaning that you start with a flat piece of copper and raise the edges with a wood hammer.

Mrs. Janice Lemon

Mrs. Janice Lemon is listed as a contemporary American painter by the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City. She has been exhibiting since 1947 as a professional. She has had four one man shows. In the state of Virginia she has exhibited in Norfolk, Richmond, Bristol and Lynchburg, out of the state in Missouri, California and North Carolina.

She has had three honorable mentions in water colors, one oil in the Members Loan Library in the Virginia Museum Traveling Show, and has been represented in several public and private collections. Her most important exhibition was one in 1956 in which they included six pieces of her work in

(Continued on page 4)

HORACE DAY prepares his oil paintings for exhibition with the help of his wife (left), Mrs. Lemon and Miss Bedford in Jarman Hall last Thursday.

WALTER URBEN (right) is assisted by Edgar Stillwell in rehearsal for tomorrow evening's concert.

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

Your Student Government

Each and every student of Longwood College is a member of the Student Government Association. This is a point which needs to be stressed a great deal.

As members of this Student Government Association, there are certain responsibilities which you as individuals share in the success of this Government. The purpose of this editorial is to assist you, the students, in understanding those responsibilities which you have acquired by becoming a member of Longwood's Student Government. This editorial also is being written to give you some of the purposes and activities of your governing body.

Your Student Government has an elected representative Council which has as its general responsibility the welfare of each student. It is through these Council members that your suggestions and ideas become realities. The council also strives in helping to provide for the Student Body an environment which will stimulate growth in all phases of college life, academic, athletic, cultural, and social affairs. The most important responsibility of your Student Council is the enforcement of the Honor Code. Your Honor Code is not just a rule to be followed or broken. It is a way of life which each of us should feel proud to follow.

To be an effective Student Government, there must be understanding and cooperation with all students, faculty, and administration. You, the students, can help so much in helping to achieve this needed understanding and cooperation.

Throughout the year, the Student Council sponsors many activities which are directed toward making Longwood a better place in which to live. The Student Council is usually thought of as only the enforcer of the rules of the handbook. It is true that this is one of the major responsibilities, but their job does not stop at this point. The Student Council sponsors (1) The Orientation Program for the Freshmen and new students (2) An assembly program (3) A Rec Dance (4) Delegates to SIASGA Convention (5) May Day. These are just a few of our activities. As members of the Longwood Student Body, your responsibility is to support these activities in order for them to function properly.

At Longwood, one is limited by necessary rules, but with these rules comes a new freedom which is experienced for the first time. That freedom is the making of your own decisions and using your own judgments. The Student Government hopes to inspire each of you to use your judgment in the very best way.

As students of Longwood College, your fullest cooperation and understanding is requested by Your Student Government. This will be a big step toward the never-ending task of making your college life one of much satisfaction.

Barbara Odom, President
Student Government Association

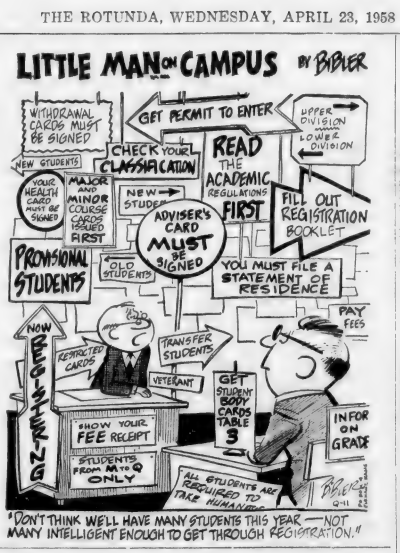
House Council Rule Changes

A few changes have been made in the rules and regulations set up by the House Council. Those new regulations will become effective in September. They will be printed in the handbook which each student will receive for the coming year.

A great deal of thought and consideration was given in making these changes. Such changes have taken place because those who made them felt and recognized a need for them. When the need for them becomes apparent to those concerned, and when they are requested by some of those whom they will affect, it becomes evident of the fact that a few changes must be effected for the betterment of student life in the dormitories.

A new regulation regarding all dormitories will read — Strict study hour shall be observed from 8:00 p.m. to 9:45 p.m Monday through Thursday. Absolute quiet is required of all persons during this time. There is to be no visiting except for purposes of studying among buildings or from room to room (except when rooms are in suites) during this time. From 9:45 to 10:45 p.m., there may be visiting and going to the Snack Bars. These rules apply to the Home Management House also.

Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors will be granted unlimited lights. The regulation of Freshman lights will read — Lights in Freshman building must be turned off every night at 12 p.m. except Saturday when lights are to be turned off at 2 a.m.



The most important part of a strong and sturdy building is its foundation. Without this good basis of structure, the building will not stand. Like this building, a good foundation is the basis for a strong and sturdy House Council. The rules and regulations of House Council must provide this foundation upon which the House Council can function. It is the duty of the House Council to build the foundation and make it strong.

While it is the House Council that builds the foundation, it is YOU — The Student Body on which depends the ultimate growth of the building. Without the co-operation of the students, the House Council will not be able to function correctly. Success depends not on a few, but on the whole working together as one.

Strict study hour must be maintained in order to improve the study conditions in the dormitories. Its purpose is to provide satisfactory conditions for those who wish to study in the dormitory. It is FOR YOU, the students, that these regulations have been established; and it is THROUGH YOU that they must be enforced.

Bet McLoughlin
President, House Council

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1894. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

Church News

Groups Select New Officers

By ANN GLOVER

Episcopalian

Next Sunday, April 27, Canterbury Club is having a supper at six o'clock. The cost is 25 cents per person and it will be well worth it. Following supper, we will have installation of officers in place of Vespers. The new officers are: President, Pat Farrington; H-S Vice President, Walter Walker; Longwood Vice President, Nancy Winfree; Secretary, Demetria Koumparakis; Treasurer, Martha Gray Shirley. After installation, Vernon Austin, Canterbury President for 1955-56. Will address the group. Don't forget that your registration fee of $1.50 for the Roslyn Conference May 10 and 11 is due April 27 if you plan to attend.

Methodist

The installation of the new officers was held on Sunday night, April 20. Those installed were Virginia Joyner, President; Merle Ridinger and Margaret Shropshire, Vice-Presidents; Juliet Robinson, Secretary; and Nancy Cross, Treasurer. Also installed were the various committee heads.

Carolyn Wilson and Annie Mae Williams are the recipients of scholarships to attend the International Intercollegiate School of Alcohol Studies August 23-28 in Waterloo, Ontario, Canada.

The spring retreat for the Methodist Student Movement will be held April 25-27 at Camp Richmond. Those who will be representing Longwood are Mary Alice Henry, Virlinda Joyner, Juliet Robinson, Margaret Shropshire, Doris Kesling, Calvert King, and Malinda Ayres.

Dr. Francis B. Simkins will be the faculty guest for Wesley's Coffee Hour on Friday night, April 25.

Presbyterian

The 1957-58 Westminster Fellowship Council and the 1958-59 Council held their annual spring retreat at Sydnor's Lake Sunday, April 20. At this time Jack Wilcox, the incoming President, led the group in a discussion of plans for the next year, an evaluation of the past year's work, and a training class for the new council. In addition to these meetings the group found recreation for the occasion in boating, swimming, and playing horseshoes. All members of the Westminster Fellowship were invited out to the lake for supper and fellowship Sunday night. After enjoying their picnic supper and participating in group singing, Jim Price and Rose Marie Lawrence led the group in a closing devotional.

In addition to the new officers elected for the coming year the following commission heads have been chosen: Faith, Kathe Hegnsle and Bob Ewald; Fellowship, Elaine Chaffin and Jim Price; Expansion, Josie Curry and Bob Lominack; Enlistment, Ann Jenkins and Scott Bowen; Newspaper, Betty McClenny, Mary Davis, and Roger Mower; and Ecumenical Relations Coordinator, John Myers.

All are invited to attend Bible Study Wednesday night at the Presbyterian Church at 7 p.m. Dave Moore, the leader, and the group are studying the prophets.

On Sunday, April 27, at 7 p.m., Charter Wells will present a program of dramatic reading at Westminster Fellowship.

Ecumenical Conference

The following students attended the Virginia Student Ecumenical Conference held at Camp Massanetta April 11-13: Merle Ridinger and Lenola Johnson, Methodist; Jack Wilcox, Gene Ramsey, Al Reynolds and Dave Moore, Presbyterian; Linda Allen and Walter Walker, Episcopalian; and Kathe Hegnsle and Ann Glover, YWCA.

At the business meeting at the conference Linda Allen was elected to serve as Secretary of the Virginia Student Ecumenical Movement for the coming year and Ann Glover was re-elected to serve as the state representative for the YM-YWCA on the council.

Timely Topics

By BARBARA HECK

The Brussels World Fair was officially opened last Thursday by King Baudouin of Belgium. The fair will extend through October 19. Seems that the U.S. exhibit with such American features as a fashion show is drawing more of an eye-opening crowd than the Russian exhibit of Sputnik I and II "models." . . . At a recent editors' meeting Dean Earl W. English of the University of Missouri School of Journalism attacked the low salaries in journalism professions and particularly the starting salaries in the newspaper field. He claimed that too few persons were entering into journalism careers. English recommended that newspapers advertise in college daily papers, interview undergraduate students, and sponsor scholarships as well as raise starting wages.

A device as big as the Empire State Building and weighing about 125,000 tons would be needed to send a man to the moon and bring him back. (V.-P. and P.S.) . . . January 1 may be the date set for the halt of nuclear tests. Such plans are being developed among administration officials . . . The second of a series of missile tests exploded at Cape Canaveral Friday. The Air Force's Thor blew up while on the launching stand, but none of the personnel were reported injured . . .

The British government has okayed an expansion program for British universities which will allow an expense of $168,000,000 between 1960 and 1963—the largest in their history . . . Secretary of Commerce Weeks said that the end of the recession slump is now in sight for the country, and a definite upturn should occur by late summer.

Institute Speakers Discuss Va. Ethics, Economics, Art

Virginia's social concepts, her present economy - in - flux problems and her life as mirrored in the literature of one of her greatest authors were subjects of the spring lectures of Longwood College's Institute of Southern Culture, Friday.

Dr. Marshall W. Fishwick, a Roanoke Virginian and professor of American Studies at Washington and Lee University; Dr. Gordon W. Blackwell, chancellor of the Woman's College, University of North Carolina, and Dr. Dorothy B. Schlegel, associate professor of English at Longwood, were the speakers.

Dr. Fishwick used the subject, "Jamestown Revisited" to trace what Virginians have become from the time that "malarial suburb of the Old World became the gateway to the new world."

Afternoon Paper

In the afternoon address, the North Carolina chancellor used the subject "The Changing South" to show what is the individual southerner's fate amid shifting populations, both white and Negro, and under extreme pressures of changes in the economy.

Blackwell Lecture

Dr. Blackwell told the afternoon session of the Institute that the South today is characterized by change.

"The needs for the South of the future are for a balanced region, a balanced culture, wherein values of both urban and rural ways of living are fostered, and greater equality of opportunity.

Dr. Schelgel chose the evening subject "James Branch Cabell and Southern Romanticism" to weave in fascinating fashion Cabell's artistic ability with an analysis of the reality of his beloved state and region from which he drew inspiration.

Schlegel Lecture

Dr. Schlegel told the evening audience that Cabell and the South are alike in that they both attempt to create a far more beautiful world than the one that surrounds them.

Social Notes

By NANCY HARNSBERGER

On the home front last week end, the Sophomore class sponsored a combo party in the main rec. The theme was "Club 60," and Pat Hawkins from Blackstone furnised the music.

VPI Spring Formals

The Spring Formals at Tech attracted a large crowd. Those girls attending the dances were Betty Byer, Helen Browder, Norma Wilson, Nancy Cole, Dottie Gills, Sue Humphries, Peggy Mullin, Sue Price, Nancy Allen, Sue Blair, Kay Kellam, Nancy Winfree, Reba Westmoreland, Mary Ann Barnett, Jackie Lou Harnsberger, Mary Beck, Faye Garrett, Marilyn King, Shirley Lucy, Gwen Melton, Patti Roach and Jean Turner.

U. Va.

Peggy Tyer, Emily Irby, Hannah Haile, Jill Green, and Claudia Whipple traveled to U. Va. for the week end.

KA

Betty Griggs attended the KA dinner Dance in Richmond Friday night in honor of her escort, Herb Seay. Herb, a senior from Hampden-Sydney, has been chosen the outstanding KA in Virginia.

Alabama

Lee Page and Mary Ellen O'Conner traveled to Auburn Polytechnic Institute and attended the parties at the Phi Kappa Phi House.

Washington and Lee

Cherry Gorham, Catherine Walker, and Carolyn Axsom attended the Spring Formals at W-L.

Mary Lou McNabb and Nancy Morton went south to Davidson College, N. C., for the dances. Page Landers and Scottie Hart traveled to New Jersey to attend the dances at Princeton.

Suzanne Barr attended the Greek Carnival at the University of Richmond last week end.

Hampden-Sydney

At the KS house party were seen Dottie Morris, Ann Coleman, Kay Howard, Jenny Burns, Dottie Brown, Barbara Rossiter, Brenda Green, Julie Pitts, Carolyn Ward, Emily Atkinson, M. Warren, Sara Gayhart, Anne Adams, Catherine Ozmon, Iris Hines, Elva Wynne, Carole Manley, Anne Keziah, Ernestine Stoltz, Jo Bailey, Beverly Gaskins, Duner Cahill, Barbara English, Brenda English, Billie Jo Alizer, Carolyn Crockett, Sally Harney, Ann Scott, Carolyn Dehaven, Joyce Pendleton, Billie Shores, Boots Davis, Ellen Trader and Pat Reyes. Betty Smythers attended Derby Day at Roanoke College.

Jean Peyton, Barbara Bishop, Mate Fadely, Margaret Graham, Peggy Hall, Joan Stinnett, Anita Eanes, Nancy Donaldson, Ann Snyder, Joyce Ellis, and Nancy Harnsberger journeyed to Roanoke for the wedding of Peggy Blevins (Mrs. Randy Brightwell, Jr.) on April 12. It was a beautiful wedding, and the girls had a great time in the big city.

Biographers Talk To English Society

Boerc Eh Thorn, local English society, held its annual literary tea Thursday in the Student Lounge. This brought to a close the activities of the society for the year.

The program consisted of a panel discussion on "The Problems of Writing a Biography," moderated by Dr. R. C. Simonini, Jr. On the panel were James Wellard, author of General George S. Patton, Jr.: Man Under Mars; Francis B. Simkins, author of Pitchfork Ben Tillman, South Carolinian, Gardner B. Taplin, author of The Life of Elizabeth Barett Browning, and Marvin W. Schlegel, author of Ruler of the Reading: The Life of Franklin B. Gowen.

TV Topics

Wednesday, April 23

7:30 Ch. 6 — One phase of man's battle against the Antarctic in quest of scientific knowledge is to be illustrated in "To the South Pole for Science," on Disneyland.

9:00 Ch. 12 — "Angry Harvest," novel written in a Communist jail by an American and a Polish prisoner, will be dramatized on Kraft Television Theater. Theodore Bikel and Ina Balin will be starred. The book, just recently published, was written by Hermann Field and Stanislaw Mierzenski.

10:00 Ch. 12 — Walter Skezak and Dolores Del Rio will costar in "The Public Prosecutor," on the U. S. Steel Hour. With a French revolution background, the drama concerns a vicious inquisitor who is victimized by his own unscrupulous methods.

Thursday, April 24

8:30 Ch. 12 — The story of the development of Jupiter-C, the ballistic missile that launched America's first satellite, will be dramatized in "Shooting for the Moon," on Climax. John Forsythe, Dick York, Bethel Leslie and Robert Armstrong will be featured.

9:00 Ch. 6 — Singer Tommy Sands will fill the guest spot on the Pat Boone show. Both recently visited Virginia to appear in a movie filmed at V.M.I.

9:30 Ch. 12 — Michael Wilding, Yvonne de Carlo and Carmen Mathews will be starred in "Verdict of Three," on Playhouse 90. Drama involves a woman's murder trial and its influence on three jurors as well as the defendant herself. Cast also includes Angela Lansbury, Rod Taylor and Cecil Kellaway.

Friday, April 25

9:00 Ch. 6 — Ethel Merman will guest with Frank Sinatra.

9:30 Ch. 8 — Maurice Evans will re-create his Broadway stage role as the dinner-jacketed villain in "Dial 'M' for Murder," in a 90-minute production on the Hall of Fame. Cast also includes John Williams and Anthony Dawson, both members of the original Broadcast cast.

9:30 Ch. 12 — Vincent Price will be cast as a charming vagabond implicated in an art swindle, in "The Kind Mr. Smith," a comedy on the Playhouse of Stars.

Saturday, April 26

7:30 Ch. 12 — "The Case of the Screaming Woman" will be the suspense drama on the Perry Mason show, staring Raymond Burr.

8:00 Ch. 8 — Lily Pons, Gertrude Berg and Pearl Bailey will be guests on the Perry Como show.

9:00 Ch. 8 — Jo Stafford will be featured on Club Oasis.

—Richmond Times Dispatch

Ogburn Given State Award

Miss Lois Ogburn, a junior business education major from McKenney, was chosen Miss Future Business Executive of Virginia on Saturday, April 12 at the State Future Business Leaders of America Convention in Roanoke.

As representative of the Longwood region, Lois competed with girls from Madison, Radford and Richmond Professional Institute. Each girl was interviewed for thirty minutes by prominent business executives from Roanoke, and they were judged on conduct, neatness, personality, interest shown in the field of business and reasoning ability in business situations.

After receiving the title Lois stated, "I feel it is quite an honor and I'm looking forward to representing Longwood as well as Virginia at the National Convention this summer."

Lois will travel to St. Louis, Missouri, to represent Virginia at the National FBLA Convention June 15-17 and compete with other state candidates for the title of Miss Future Business Executive of America, which was won last year by Longwood College senior, Charlotte Hall.

Arts Festival

(Continued from page 1)

club and the Longwood College choir.

The first portion of the program will be presented by the Longwood Choir. Jo Ann Garner will accompany the choir at the piano. The next portion of the program will be presented by the University of Virginia Glee Club. Following intermission, the Choir and Glee club will conclude jointly with Schubert's "Mass in G Major." Soprano soloists will be Claire Everhard from the University and Gay Allen from Longwood. The bass soloist will be James McCombs, assistant music professor at Longwood. Miss Josephine Bailey, assistant music professor at Longwood will accompany at the organ. Nancy Taylor will accompany at the piano.

The 35 member University Glee Club is under the direction of David H. Davis, assistant music professor at the University. The Longwood Choir is directed by Dr. John W. Molnar, music department chairman at Longwood.

Dr. Molnar is committee chairman of the Festival of Fine Arts.

Do you like to play softball? Then come out and join in the fun. Softball practices can be held any afternoon at 5 o'clock, and only four practices are necessary in order to play in the class games. The winning class receives five points towards the coveted "Color Cup."

Longwood To Hear European Scholar

Dr. Norman Anthony Francis St. John-Steves, visiting fellow at the Law School, Yale University, will speak on the "Victorian Conscience," April 29, at 10 a.m. in Jarman Hall. He is sponsored by the Richmond Area University Center.

The 27-year-old doctor was educated at Radcliffe, Oxford, and Cambridge University and has studied in Rome and Bologna. He holds the M. A. degree from Oxford and Cambridge; B.C.L. of Oxford, and the Doctor of Philosophy from London University. He was awarded the Yorke prize for the most outstanding essay on legal history and law reform for the year 1957 by Cambridge University. Since 1953 he has been a tutor at Merton College, Oxford, and lecturer at King's College, London. He was elected the Yale Fellowship in 1957.

Dr. St. John-Steves' writings include Obscenity and the Law, Walter Bagehot, Woman in the Law, and Censorship in England. Currently he is working on a comparative study of the American and English Constitutions. He has contributed to "The Sunday Times," "The BBC Third Programme," "The Spectator" and "The Reporter."

SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY
ALL $1.00 STATIONERY
Now 89c
Wed., Thurs., Fri., and Sat.
also
HAMBURGER SPECIAL 50c
On These Days
With This Coupon

Tidewater Delegates Meet, Schedule '58 Hockey Games

By WILLIE TAYLOR

Hockey, anyone? That, changing the "anyone" to "everyone," seemed to be the main topic of discussion at the Spring meeting of the Tidewater Field Hockey Association held on April 14, at Westhampton College.

Miss Augusta Chapman, president of the Tidewater F. H. A., told of her visits to the United States Field Hockey Association meetings and announced with great pride that Mrs. Clara "Bobo" McCarter, graduate of Longwood, was a member of the U. S. touring team that would be going to South Africa this year.

The Tidewater F. H. A.'s big aim for the coming year is to create interest in hockey in the high schools and colleges in the Tidewater area. This is to be done by holding hockey clinics at various schools under the directions of experienced hockey instructors such as Miss Mary Jane Miller of Westhampton College, Miss Harriet Walton of St. Catherine's, and Longwood's Miss Rebecca Brockenbrough.

Miss Chapman announced that the 1958 Tidewater Tournament would be held the week end of October 31 and November 1 at William and Mary sponsored by the Norfolk Division of William and Mary. The Tidewater tournament will be followed up by the Southeast Tournament November 15, 16 in Baltimore, Maryland.

After the adjournment of the meeting, hockey games were scheduled for the '58 season. Longwood scheduled games with Roanoke College, Madison, Richmond, Norfolk Division of William and Mary, William and Mary, and Westhampton. A full and exciting season seems to be in store for all.

Representatives from Mary Washington, William and Mary, Norfolk Division, Westhampton, Richmond, and Longwood were present at the meeting. The Longwood representatives were Miss Rebecca Brockenbrough, Gayle Cunningham, and Willie Taylor.

Sports Summary

By JACKIE WALLER

Sports are faring much better with the lovely spring weather. Following are a few of the weekend scores:

Baseball: VPI defeated William and Mary 3-1 for its fifth straight; Bridgewater over Lynchburg, 6-5; The Citadel walloped W and L 10-1, 23-8.

Tennis: Scores are Duke 5, Davidson 4; UNC 9, South Carolina 0; Wake Forest 9, Pfeiffer 0.

Golf: Scores are William and Mary 6, Navy 3; UNC 24 1-2, Davidson 2 1-2; Wake Forest 19, VPI 7 1-2.

Baseball

One of Saturday's two big baseball games saw American University lean to Randolph-Macon 9-1. It was the fourth consecutive Mason-Dixon win for the Jackets.

Meanwhile the University of Richmond's Spiders defeated VPI 14-6 for their sixth straight triumph. Richmond is securely on top in both the Big Six and the Southern Conference.

In a triangular track meet in Raleigh, South Carolina defeated Virginia and North Carolina: South Carolina, 70 points, Virginia second with 66 1-2 points, and North Carolina State third with 25 1-2 points.

NANCY ANDREWS
Leads Archery

Mary Lucy Morgan, a junior physical education major from Altavista, will serve as president of the Monogram Club for the year 1958-59. Other officers include Gayle Cunningham, secretary, and Willie Taylor, treasurer. Both girls are members of the junior class and physical education majors.

Archery, Anyone?

Season Opens For Archery

By CHRIS KAMEN

She's done it again! For the third consecutive year Nancy "Drawers" Andrews holds the position of Longwood's archery manager. "I was very pleased to have the job again and I hope to be able to get more girls interested in this challenging and interesting sport," stated the physical education major from Roanoke.

An ardent archery fan, Nancy has been shooting the arrows since her pre-college days. In past years she has had added experience in the sport at Girl Scout Camp where she served as a Unit counselor and archery instructor.

Nancy is a member of the H20 club and served as assistant chairman of the 1957 water pageant. She is also a member of the Monogram Club, Cotillion Club and president of Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority.

In the field of archery there is plenty of room for everyone to participate. Green 'n white, red 'n white color cup competition, which will be held some time this month, is open to all students who have attended the eight practices necessary in order to shoot. Practices are held on Monday and Thursday at 4. Five color cup points will go to the color that wins the class archery matches.

On April 24 William and Mary will be Longwood's rival for our first inter - scholastic competition game and on May 10 Longwood will travel to Richmond to match skills with a team from Westhampton.

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT 1958 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

BMOC*

*Big Man On Campus—yea man! He treats the gals to Coke. Who can compete with charm like that. So if you're 5'0" and a little underweight, remember—you don't have to be a football hero to be popular. Just rely on the good taste of Coke. Put in a big supply today!

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

You'll be sittin' on top of the world when you change to L&M

Light into that L&M Live Modern flavor

You get a more effective filter on today's L&M

Look for the patent number . . . . on every pack...your assurance that you are getting L&M's exclusive filtering action

Best tastin' smoke you'll ever find!

Put yourself behind the pleasure end of an L&M. Get the flavor, the full rich taste of the Southland's finest cigarette tobaccos. The patented Miracle Tip is pure white inside, pure white outside, as a filter should be for cleaner, better smoking.

©1958 LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Club News

Several organizations have elected officers for the coming year as follows:

Student Education Association

Ella Gray, an English major from Gloucester, has been elected president of the Student Education Association. Other officers of the association include: Mary Lou Morgan, vice president; Elaine Chaffin, secretary; and Jane Kell, treasurer. Historian and reporter will be elected next year.

Spanish Club

Joann Tench, a Spanish major from Pennbook, has been newly elected president of the Spanish Club for the 1958 school year. Other officers of the Spanish Club for the coming year are: Norrish Munson, vice-president; Yvonne Webb, secretary; Barbara Fisher, treasurer; Betty Jane Algood, reporter.

Longwood Library League

The president of the Longwood Library League for next year is Helen Rilee. The Library League is composed of students majoring in Library Science and and any other interested people. Other officers elected were: Clare Floge, vice president; Kathryn Wallace, secretary; Nancy George treasurer; Evelyn Alouf, reporter.

Granddaughters' Club

The Granddaughters' Club has elected Ann Wallace from Covington, Virginia, as President of the club for 1958-59. Other officers are as follows: Helen Rilee, Vice-President; Jean Johnson, Secretary-Treasurer; Elizabeth Nichols, Reporter.

Horace Day

(Continued from page 1)

of Arts in Memphis, the Gibbs Museum in Charleston, and many times at the Virginia Museum in Richmond. He also has done work for the Ford Times magazine.

Before coming to Mary Baldwin the artist studied at the Art Students League of New York, was artist-in-residence at Lillian Wald's Henry Street Settlement, and served as director of the Herbert Institute of Art. His future plans include the building of a studio and continued teaching and painting.

Student Art

(Continued from page 1)

Phyllis Bridgeforth, and Barbara Bishop.

Showing water colors are Judith Holderman, Barbara Parkinson, Nancy Winfree, Gloria Gardner, Margaret Dart, Nancy Brubeck, and Carol Lassiter. Virginia Herre, Sally Tilson, Elena Vinos, Charlotte Weimer, Jacqui Dietz, Nan Brimmer, and Martha Clark have oil paintings in the department.

Some of the beginning students with projects in design, color, and drawing and composition are Anne Lee Lillaston, Robert Thomas, Nancy Winfree, Helen Pals, Emily Shelton, La Verne Collier, Patricia Green, Margaret Dart, Margaret Jeffries, and Elaine Johnson.

A group project under the direction of chairmen Pat Green, Elaine Johnson, and La Verne Collier are the mosaics in the classrooms. String constructions in the department are by Carolyn Oliver, Linday Landsdown, Margaret Henry, Margaret Shropshire, Elizabeth Arehart, Brenda Parsley, and Helen Wente.

The department exhibits will be open to visitors the remainder of the week between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

FASHION SHOW

Girls! Be sure to see the Gay Gibson Fashion Show at the DOROTHY MAY STORE—

Wednesday, April 30

You will see girls model that you know. Also you will see dresses modeled that you know —Drip Dry Gay Gibson . . . $10.98 up.

EVERYONE INVITED

DOROTHY MAY

"The Store With More"

Faculty Art Officers

(Continued from page 1)

the Virginia Rotating Artists Exhibition at the Virginia Museum.

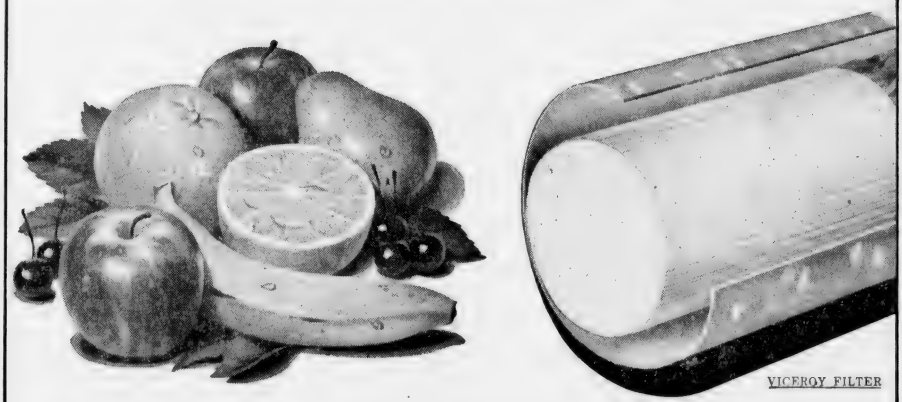
In the exhibition at Longwood College Library, Mrs. Lemon has six oil paintings, one silk screen, and silver hair pins. Among the oils stands out the "Three at Taxco" and "Fourteen." The painting "Three at Taxco" is a decorative one, more than a realistic one. It is composed of three Mexican girls carrying pots on their heads and dressed in "sarapes." The girl in the middle has the serious sad expression of the young Indian girls, the pots, the color, the expression, all this makes this painting entirely Mexican.

"Fourteen" is the most realistic of all of them. This is a sweet impressionistic painting. She used as a model, Nancy, her daughter, She wanted her to look as a fourteen year old girl so that is why she employed the green and red shadows. The green can be the symbol of immaturity and hope and the red the symbol of youth.

She has two paintings in which there is a great use of movement—the abstract "Lake Chapala" and the less abstract "Chez Robert." The last one, besides movement, has gaiety. It makes me think of one of those French Cafes decorated with flowers and with tables on the walk.

In Miss Lemon's silver work we find hair pins made out of scraps of silver. The hair pins remind me of the Spanish "peinetas." They have irregular forms and are very modern.

Miss Annie Ross



Miss Annie Lee Ross exhibited in the Virginia Museum, Jeslyn Memorial Museum, in Omaha, the Kansas City Art Museum, and other places.

Miss Ross has two oil paintings, several water colors, one wood sculpture and works in silver and leather. The abstract "Explorer No. 1" is an experimental approach to color experience oil painting. She did it last summer, before the United States made the Explorer No 1. First she had a moon in mind, but this fact gave her the idea. It stands up with yellow and red colors and impresses us with its power and strength.

"Ebb and Flow" is another abstract oil painting, in which Miss Ross has manipulated color and form. It is an example of what she calls "pushing color." Miss Ross has been a realistic painter, however she wanted to experiment more in approaching water colors in a free manner. Now, she began to paint without a pre-conceived idea of a subject matter. She lived in the mountains and she wanted to express the storm in the mountains. "Storm over Devil's Head" and "Summer Storm" are memories of scenes interpreted in a personal manner. The "Storm over Devil's Head" is the best water color in the exhibition and the red color in the mountain is very interesting, giving strength to the painting.

She has two sub-realistic water colors. It is interesting to observe and study the one titled "Why?". In this water color we have the questions who?, where?, when?, why?—the eternal question. The eye can be the eye of God, the eye of the whole humanity.

What does this fruit have to do with this cigarette filter?

THE VICEROY FILTER IS MADE FROM A PURE, NATURAL MATERIAL FOUND IN ALL FRUIT

—and it gives you Maximum Filtration for the Smoothest Smoke!

• From the same soft, pure material found in the rich pulp of nature's healthful fruits, modern filter scientists have created the greatest cigarette filter ever designed . . . the Viceroy filter. For the Viceroy filter gives you the maximum filtration for the smoothest smoke of any cigarette. More taste, too . . . the pure, natural taste of rich, mellow tobaccos. Yes, Viceroy gives you more of what you change to a filter for!

New crush-proof flip-open box or famous familiar pack.

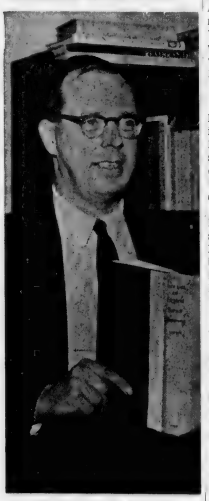
VICEROY PURE, NATURAL FILTER... PURE, NATURAL TASTE

©1958, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

Support
Miss Longwood
Contest

The Rotunda



Attend
May Day Festival
Saturday

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., April 30, 1958 | No. 18

Taplin Plans Research With Fellowship Fund

College Gives Leave For European Study

Dr. Gardner B. Taplin, associate professor of English at Longwood College, was awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship for 1958-59, according to an announcement made on April 28 by the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation of New York.

DR. GARDNER TAPLIN
Guggenheim Recipient

The awards are made to men and women, without distinction of race, color, or creed. The criterion is a demonstration of the highest capacity for scholarly research or for original artistic creation.

The subject of Dr. Taplin's research will be a study of the influench of Italian life and culture upon American literature in the Nineteenth century. Dr. Taplin plans to spend the summer examining manuscript collections at the Massachusetts Historical Society, the Boston Athenaeum, and other libraries and museums in the Boston and New York area. Early in September he will sail for Italy, where he will remain until the summer of 1959.

Author of Book

Dr. Taplin is the author of "The Life of Elizabeth Barrett Browning," which was published in March, 1957, by the Yale University Press. This book has been accepted by leading scholars in the United States and England as the definitive biography of this poet.

After being graduated from Amherst College, Dr. Taplin studied at Harvard, where he received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees. He then became an assistant professor of English at Indiana University and later was a lecturer in English at Boston University.

At Longwood Dr. Taplin teaches courses in "American Writers," "Victorian Poets," and "Freshman English." He is the faculty advisor to the honorary journalistic fraternity Pi Delta Epsilon. He has been granted a leave of absence to accept the Guggenheim Fellowship and will return to Longwood College in September, 1959.

Last year the Giggenheim Memorial Foundation awarded $1,500,000 to 344 scholars and artists.

The foundation was established in 1925 by the late Senator Simon Guggenheim of Colorado and his wife in memory of a son, John Simon Guggenheim, who died in 1922. The awards are made to citizens of the 21 American republics, the Republic of the Phillippines, Canada, and the British Caribbean area.

"Sayonara" Comes To State Today

"Sayonara," Academy award winner of four Oscar Awards, will be featured at the State Theater tonight through May 3, starring Marlon Brando and Miiko Taka, with Academy Award winning co-stars Miyoshi Umeki and Red Buttons.

"Sayonara" is based on Pulitzer prize-winner James A. Michener's novel, "Sayonara." It is the poignant love story of an American jet ace and the star performer of a famed Japanese theatrical troupe.

The Academy Awards received for "Sayonara" went to Red Buttons, Best Supporting Actor; Miyoshi, Best Supporting Actress; Best Sound Recording and Best Art Direction.

Red Buttons starred in his first dramatic role in "Sayonara" and his performance, said to parallel that of Frank Sinatra's in "From Here to Eternity" in many respects, came to Buttons at a similar low point in his career. It has opened entire new vistas for the diminutive comic.

Miyoshi Umeki plays Button's wife with the charm necessary to bring home with force the attraction of the Asian women who marry American GI's in the Far East outposts. This is Miss Umeki's American film debut but she is no stranger to television. She first came to the attention of the American entertainment world as a singer on Arthur Godfrey's show, where she was an immediate hit and remained for many appearances.

"Sayonara's" filming began in

(Continued on page 4)

Pageant To Highlight May Day

—Hampton C. Owen

MAY DAY PARTICIPANTS pause during rehearsal for Saturday. Left to right, back: Mary L. Teel, Dottie Boswell, Ann Rountree, Carolyn Kelly, Fran McLoughlin, Barbara Simpkins; front, Jeanne Vestal, Tweety Lambiotte, Ann J. Collins, Mary A. Barnett.

Colonels To Supply Music For Dancing

On Saturday, May 3, at 3 p.m., Longwood Estate's Dell will play host to Peter Pan, the little boy who never grew up, as the 1958 May Day recreates the story of the magical Land of Never. From James Barrie's book of fantasy will step the famed characters led by Senior June Strother as Peter Pan.

Also starring Junior Vicki Brinkley as Wendy, and Freshman Tweedie Lambiotte as Tinkerbell, May Day will feature a host of other Longwood students who will help bring to life the various roles from the James Barrie tale. Wendy Darling's brothers, John and Michael, will be played by Norma Jean Johnson and Dottie Boswell, respectively. Norma Jean is replacing Barbara Simpkins, who has caught the measles. Ann Rountree will depict the children's faithful dog, Nana.

The fierce pirate, Captain Hook, will be portrayed by Carol Wolfe, and Smee, the cook, by Fran McLoughlin. Chief of the Indians will be Mary Lee Teel, while Jeanne Vestal will portray the princess Tiger Lily. Pursuing the pirate captain in the form of the crocodile will be Ellen Callaway and Carolyn Kelly.

The greenery of the Dell will come alive with mushrooms, totem poles, and personality trees. Little Lost Boys will wander through the Land of Never with Peter Pan, while Mermaids, Pirates, Indians, Fairies, and a Crocodile will dance and sing their way through a land of enchantment. The freshmen physical education classes and various upperclassmen will participate in the dances which will link together the colorful story by means of the script written by Nancy Brubeck. The narration of Brubeck will also serve to interpret the dances and actions of the various members of the cast.

The Darling family will dance with Peter Pan who later in the program will perform another number with Tinkerbell. The other main characters will share the stage with the various dance groups.

The committees, led by May Day Chairman Mary Ann Barnett, have been at work since the latter part

(Continued on page 4)

Voters, Committee, Select Painting, 'Blue Ridge Farm'

"Ira" Scores Second

Longwood College has acquired as the fifth purchase of the Committee for the Selection of Paintings by Virginia Artists, "Blue Ridge Farm," a realistic work by Horace Day. Chosen from among Mr. Day's fourteen works displayed in the lobby of Jarman Auditorium during the recent Festival of Fine Arts, "Blue Ridge Farm" represents, as well as the choice of the committee, the favorite of voters who gave it the nod of approval as their first choice. Second place in the balloting went to "Ira."

The painting employs cool colors, with green and yellow greens predominant, and is a very realistic, true landscape, typical of Southwestern Virginia summers. In many respects the work is reminiscent of the Hudson River School of painting.

The Horace Day painting will be placed in the Rotunda opposite the work of another Virginia artist previously purchased by the committee, Deford's "It Started Early in the Morning." Other purchases from this fund are the Greta Matson work in the Virginian Room, Jones' "Edge of the Marsh" and Clifton's "Low Tide." The later two paintings hang in Student Lounge.

With Mrs. Janice Lemon as chairman, the committee, composed of Miss Virginia Bedford, Miss Annie Lee Ross, Miss Annie

(Continued on page 4)

To Study In London

Pat Leake Wins Grant

By JACKIE GIBSON

Many people have dreamed about a trip abroad, but for junior, Pat Leake, it is a dream come true. Pat is the recipient of a scholarship granted by the Institute of International Education. The institute sponsors graduate students and teachers, and Pat is one of the few undergraduates accepted for this scholarship. It will cover her room, board, and tuition while she is a student at the University of London summer session.

Pat will sail from New York on the Queen Elizabeth June 11 and return to this country the 21st of August. An English and History major, Pat plans to take a general survey course including poetry, the novel, and the social and economic changes in England. She will be studying with students from twenty countries. While she is at the University, Pat will make her home at Canterbury Hall, Bloomsbury, in the west end of London. To parallel her survey course she will be taking trips with a lecture group to visit the homes of various poets and novelists and this will also include a play festival at Stratford-on-Avon.

Arriving two weeks before the beginning of the summer session, Pat will visit such places as Paris, Switzerland, Austria, Rome, Scotland, Madrid. With one week remaining after the close of her study at the University of London, she will have an opportunity to visit Holland and the Brussels Worlds Fair.

When Pat found out she had been accepted she said, "I have never been so shocked and excited in my life. I consider this the most wonderful opportunity I shall ever receive."

PAT LEAKE

Music Department To Present Recital

The Longwood Department of Music will present several student recitals during the week of May 4.

Scheduled to perform in the student recital in assembly on May 6 will be Carolyn DeHaven and Jo Ann Garner, pianists; and Elaine Weddle, oboist. The Longwood Choir, Madrigals, and Chorus will also offer selections.

Those performing in the recital of Thursday, May 8 in Jarman at 4:00 are Adair Camp, Nancy Taylor, Edith Ward, and Elaine Weddle, pianists; Hildegard Wagner and Nancy Cameron Kelly, organists; Dorothy Marshall, flute; and Nancy Evans and Moonyeen Warren, sopranos.

Others scheduled to perform during the week are Sue Humphries, Jean Helms, and Ann Barnes, vocalists; and Sharon Lee Schaaf, organist.

Entries Due For "Miss Longwood"

Will YOUR organization be represented in the "Miss Longwood" contest, May 14 and 15? The deadline for entries, May 1, is tomorrow, so be sure your contestant has registered in Miss Wilson's office.

By last Friday 13 girls had been selected to vie for the title, and more have been chosen since then in this contest based upon poise, talent, and personality, as well as beauty. The girls are Hannah White, Granddaughters' Club; Kay Pierce, freshman class; Dottie Gills, Alpha Sigma Alpha; Phyllis Bridgeforth, Pi Kappa Sigma; Kitty Good, Alpha Sigma Tau; June Elmore, Rotunda; Bobby Koons, Richmond Club; Yvonne Webb, sophomore class; Jane Proffitt, junior class; Emily Atkinson, senior class; Jo Ann Garner, Sigma Alpha Iota; Nancy Evans, choir; and Duner Cahill, Theta Sigma Upsilon.

The winner of the "Miss Longwood" title will receive $100 and will enter the "Miss Virginia" contest in June. The runner-up will receive a set of matched luggage, and a third girl selected as "Miss Congeniality" will be given an award.

Ten More Seniors To Work In State

Ten additional members of the class of 1958 have made decisions as to where they will assume teaching and working positions this coming fall.

Three seniors in this latest group have chosen to teach in Warwick. They include: Sue Amory, Pat Patton, and Lucy Wooton. Other seniors in this group will be teaching and working in the vicinity of locations throughout Virginia: Carol Lash, Virginia Beach; Lucia Hart, Langley Field; Rosalie Gear, Amherst County; Lucia Lee Lynchburg; Katherine Krehbiel, Fairfax County; and Carol Wolfe, Falls Church.

FHA Holds Rally; Juan Arramburu Addresses Group

The Spring Rally of the Longwood Federation of the Future Homemakers of America was held Monday on campus. High Schools represented were Amelia, Blackstone, Crewe, Cumberland, Farmville, and Worsham.

The main meeting was called to order by the president, Sonny Martin, of Cumberland High School. Mrs. Nell Griffin head of the Home Economics Department, gave the welcome to the Longwood campus, after which a business meeting was held.

The main address was made by Juan Aramburu of Mexico City, a law student at the University of Mexico now studying English at the Farmville High School. His topic was "Across the Border Understandings—Likenesses and Differences."

The sophomore and junior home economics majors conducted tours around the campus. The program closed with lunch in the Longwood dining hall after which the visiting students returned to their high schools.

Students, Reviewers, Find Festival A Success

Most Remarks Stress Need For Arts Festival Earlier

Now that Longwood has completed her first Festival of Fine Arts, The Rotunda has attempted to assemble opinions concerning the value and success of the program. The program for Fine Arts Week was coordinated by a committee headed by Dr. John W. Molnar, Chairman of the Longwood College Music Department. Dr. Molnar summed up the week's attainments, saying, "I think it was a huge success, and I personally was quite satisfied. It focused the attention of the student body, townspeople and the state on fine arts here at Longwood."

Several students, asked for their opinions concerning the programs commented:

"I feel that we should make it an annual affair, but it should be held earlier in order to enable students to attend more of the performances."

"I enjoyed the programs I saw, and I liked the plays best. They were fabulous."

"I am sorry that I could go only one evening, but I think that it is a wonderful idea and hope to see it continued."

A junior who attended several of the programs commented: "I considered them all worthwhile. My only criticism would be to lighten the load of academic work so that more performances could be attended. I think that we should continue this every year with a variety of programs."

One student phrased her comment simply, "I liked it," while another remarked: "We should have some professional talent, like an artist series program included for one performance."

Having taken part in two of the programs one girl remarked: "I think it is a good idea, but it is certainly hard on the students who are in many of the programs. A program and classes are just too much."

Finally it was stated: "This is a worthwhile project, and I was pleased to see that it was well supported by the students. As for the programs, all were quite adequate, but I enjoyed "An Evening of Plays" most. Future programs should be planned so that they would occur earlier in the semester, and not so near May Day."

It can be concluded from these comments, and others that we have heard, that Longwood's first Festival of Fine Arts was well received. The Rotunda commends those who participated in making this a success and hopes to see this festival become an annual event. P.E.P.

Handbook Rules Revised

The Student Council has made several rule changes which will be included in the Student Handbook for 1958-59. In some instances we have endeavored to clarify through the revision and also omission of obsolete rules.

The following are the changes that have been made:

Students may ride in cars of day students.

Freshmen and sophomores must be in at 10 p.m. on week nights and 11 p.m. on week ends.

Juniors and seniors must be in at 11 p.m. on week nights, 12:30 p.m. on Saturday night and 12 p.m. on Friday and Sunday nights.

Students may not leave for home after attending dances or parties at Hampden-Sydney, but may leave for home after dances on this campus if written permission is obtained from the student's parents or guardian and approved by the Dean of Women.

Weedie Norman
Vice-President, Student Government

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 20, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 168.

Linda Dulin ..... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors
Bet McLaughlin, Dabo Powell

Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Jack Eskridge ..... News Editor
Bernadine Barbara ..... Feature Editor
Verne Revell ..... Sports Editor
Anthony Jarvis ..... Desk Editor
Dwight Hendricks ..... Photography
Marinda Hamilton ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Ben Gore, Betsy Barker ..... Advertising Managers
Dr. James Wemyss ..... Faculty Advisor

(Unsigned editorials written by the editor.)

Member: Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press (Rating Superior, one excellent), Columbia Scholastic Press Association. (Rating first honor, highest possible).

NEWS STAFF: Cherry Gresham, Assistant News Editor; Jo Ann Parsons, Assistant Desk Editor; Claire Bonham, Assistant Sports Editor; Reporters: Martha Hardaway, Connie Vest, Bobo Douglas, Bee Richardson, Dotsie Wingfield, Rose M. Knowlton, Jo Ann Lynch, Dana Dew, Nancy Partridge, Dave Garrett, Sandie Parsons, Jean Bonsall, Jackie Gulbank, Frances Hendrickson, Barbara Chaffin, Jessica Krajewski, Barbara Pierce, Suzanne Kittrell, Carol Hughes, Nancy Hartshorn, Ann Glover, Elaine Weddle, Cary Osborne, Pat Tuggle, Barbara Brooks, Barbara Simpkins, Jackie Walker, Joyce S. Hutchinson, Mary D. Nelms, Anne Cheshire.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Dale Priddy, Assistant Manager; Joan Brooker, Connie Cannon, Carol Conner, Dottie Cothern, Duane Douglas, Jean Pierce, Sandie Sansbury, Josephine Shoemaker, Ellen Stephens, Dorothy Gray, Vera Lee Young, Genevieve Mayday, Becky McGrath, Lucy Marcia, Frances Mann, Helen Price Mann, Barbara Sue Lee, Nancy Smith, Thelma Shirley Wilson, Dorothy Brown, Reba Washington, Arlene Mckay.

ADVERTISING STAFF: Mason Hamlet, Nancy George, Barbara Gamadge, Joan Honeycutte, Ann Hill.

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress on March 3, 1879. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

—Hampton C. Owen

PAGE LANDERS AND JOHN MYERS
Portray Illicit Lovers in OVERRULED

Satisfying Performances Bring Enthusiastic Praise To Plays

By PAT CLEVELAND

As the fifth program in Longwood College's Festival of Fine Arts, "An Evening of Plays" presented by Alpha Psi Omega, National Honorary Dramatic Fraternity, proved to be a full and satisfying performance. The Friday Evening audience was treated to three types of plays by three different authors presented by three different directors. The plays contrasted pleasantly as the directors brought out the consistently capable and sometimes inspired ability of their casts.

The story of Cuthman, Saint of Sussex, was told in A Boy With a Cart by Christopher Fry, and was directed by Mr. David Wiley, Assistant Professor of Speech and Drama. Over a core of moral and religious significance was a sparkling layer of wit in a play that started slowly, building to climax with impact.

Cuthan was played by Scott Bowen who became in reality Cuthman, himself. Matilda Powell as his mother was a pleasure, and Garnett Smith was excellent as usual. Other standouts in the large cast were Donna Bonne as the leader of the people of south England, John Myers as the farmer, and Charter Wells and Jerry Ringwald as the oxen-like brothers. The chorus contributed an "esprit de corps" and some real gems of supporting acting.

Boone Directs Overtones

Overtones by Alice Gerstenberg was directed by Donna Boone and proved that Miss Boone can direct as well as she can act. Acting and directing transformed an adequate play into an effective bit of theatre. Hannah Haile and Shirlee Campbell, the inner or real selves, were vivid, and Josie Couk lived and enjoyed her part as Harriet. Bonnie Keyes was capable, though she seemed more at home in A Boy With a Cart.

Overruled by George Bernard Shaw was hilarious comedy, though it lacked the polish of the first two plays. Page Landers and John Myers played with infectious adolescent abandon, while Scotty Hart and Charter Wells approached maturity, sophistication, and an appropriate dryness of delivery. Directed by Molly Workman, the humor inherent in Overruled and its spirited delivery made it a fitting ending to "An Evening of Plays."

Audience Applauds Well-Cast Opera

By CAROLE WHITE

The opera, "The Medium," was presented Monday night, April 21, in Jarman Hall Auditorium by the Music Department of Longwood College, as the first in a week-long series of programs for the Festival of Fine Arts. "The Medium" is an English opera written by Gian-Carolo Menotti. It was successful first at Columbia University and on Broadway and proved to be a success at Longwood also.

The leading roles were well-cast. Joann Fivel was convincing as Madame Flora, a fake medium. In this demanding role Joann came through as the dynamic character of the opera, thanks to the strength of her heavy contralto voice. Her Madame Flora was at once sinister and ludicrous, and Joann's overacting in the emotional scenes can be forgiven.

Gay Allen's fine, well-trained soprano voice added the professional touch to the opera in her role as the medium's daughter, Monica. Especially striking was Gay's singing as she stood behind a screen pretending to be the spirit of a dead girl. On this occasion Gay's voice was plaintive and clear.

The most charming character in the opera was Toby, the mute, played by Joan Dorsey. Although she uttered not a single note, Joan skillfully portrayed Toby's pathos through dancing and pantomime and provided the perfect contrast to Madame Flora's booming and ranting.

The supporting singers gave sure, well-practiced performances, particularly Jean Helms whose voice was firm and confident. The lighting was well-done as usual, and the sets were adequate.

A small audience was nevertheless appreciative as they discovered that their fellow classmates could make opera interesting. This reviewer was particularly interested in the last scene as Madame Flora's firing of the gun at Toby proved to be a startling climax to the evening's performance.

The annual revue of the Farmville branch of the Floyd Ward School of Dancing will be held in Jarman Auditorium at 8 p. m., Friday, May 2.

Betty Adamson from Blacksburg and Barbara Simpkins, a sophomore at Longwood, will direct the recital.

Bailey Shows Bach's Power

By JOANN FIVEL

The second program of a week of fine arts was a very fine organ recital by Miss Josephine Bailey of the faculty of the Longwood College Music Department. She chose to present an all Bach recital.

Miss Bailey began the evening with the very familiar "Toccata and Fuque in D Minor." The power and sweep of this beautiful composition were well portrayed by the artist. The entire evening was a study in contrast as the majesty of the "Toccata" was followed by a series of Chorale Preludes, those wonderful expressions of faith. These in turn, were followed by the light "Concerto No. 1." Contrast could be seen also in the many floating soft passages which Miss Bailey seemed so capable of weaving.

This was a very fine program for which Miss Bailey is to be congratulated.

Musicians Show Skill

As Longwood College's Festival of Fine Arts continued, Thursday night found Mr. Walter Urben presenting once more a very enjoyable evening of music for the piano. For this program Mr. Urben was assisted by Dr. Edgar Stillwell, Assistant Professor of Biology at Longwood College.

The Bach "Sonata for Flute" was for many the highlight of the program. Dr. Stillwell played with much beauty of tone and musical intelligence, and Mr. Urben proved to be that rarity among pianists, a fine soloist who can become a fine accompanist.

The Chopin "Sonata" which followed proved once more that the pianist is a great admirer of Chopin, for the understanding of the music which was so apparent can come only when composer and pianist are one. The evening came to a close with a "Cappricio" by the modern composer Ernest von Dohnanyi.

Timely Topics

By BARBARA HECK

A five year high school plan idea has been presented by Virginia school superintendents who met at Old Point Comfort last week. A suggestion was made that graduation credit be given to eighth grade courses and that more courses be offered during the eighth grade level . . . A minority group in Arlington is pushing a proposal similar to that of Prince Edward County—a provision for the opening of private schools in the event of integration. Most school officials in Arlington are against any such measure as closing the public schools.

Twenty-two Esso storage tanks on the Newport News peninsula burst into flames last Wednesday evening when a nearby steam generating unit exploded. The 500 firemen and volunteers were finally able to bring the blaze under control by Friday afternoon . . . Secretary of State John Foster Dulles appears to want to change U. S. policy on suspending nuclear weapon tests. He reportedly wants to move toward a halt in testing after the U. S. spring Pacific test series if inspections are allowed to continue.

U. Va., L. C. Choirs Combine Voices In Varied Music

By MOLLY WORKMAN

As the final event of the Festival of Fine Arts, the Longwood College Choir and the University of Virginia Glee Club presented a joint concert in Jarman Hall, Saturday, April 26.

The Longwood Choir, under the direction of Dr. John W. Molnar, opened the program with the "Twenty-third Psalm," set to the beautiful music of Franz Schubert. The choir offered an interesting and varied selection of both sacred and secular music, including the "Lullaby" by Davies from Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and "Open Thy Heart" by Bizet. As a whole the choir performed with spirit and finesse.

The University of Virginia Glee Club offered as their part of the program a cycle of love in Madrigals. Although the group's performance was adequate, it seemed that the Glee Club was somewhat limited by the choice of music. One feels that the audience would have been better pleased by a wider variety of selections. The University Glee Club was directed by Mr. David H. Davies, and Peter Cressman was the accompanist.

By far the most impressive rendition of the evening was Schubert' "Mass in G Major," sung jointly by the Longwood Choir and the University Glee Club, with Dr. Molnar directing and Miss Josephine Bailey at the organ. The majestic and lyrical work was highlighted by the excellent solo work of Claire Everhard, Gay Allen, and Mr. James McCombs of the Longwood College Music Department. Piano accompanists were Jo Ann Garner and Nancy Taylor.

The entire program was accented by effective and unusual stage lighting effects.

LONGWOOD COLLEGE CHOIR combined voices with the University of Virginia Glee Club.

Social Notes

By NANCY HARNSBERGER

Wedding bells . . . May Court Maid of Honor, Ann Jeter, became the bride of Lt. Bill Collins Saturday, April 26. Nancy Richardson served as her maid of honor and Sue LaFontaine was one of the bridesmaids. Henrietta Dollins, Julia Grey Wallace, Tipi Waugaman, Van Blackwood also attended.

Mary Lee Teel served as maid of honor and Amanda Dillon and Sue Amory were bridesmaids in the wedding of Anita Heflin to Jimmy Allen on April 26. Also Jackie Harnsberger was among the guests.

Merle Ridinger just received a Theta Chi pin from Dick Weingart at Hampden-Sydney.

Parties, Parties, Parties . . . Hampden-Sydney is in the social light again.

The KA's had their Rose Dance Friday night with Aggie Lowery reigning as the KA Rose. Saturday night they entertained with the theme of a "Ship Wreck" for a party. Those girls attending the parties over the week end were Jo Bailey, Peggy Harris, Gin Kuyk, Melissa Smith, Merle Ridinger, Connie Michael, Mary Pem Lewis, Audrey Bowen, Carol White, Nancy Knight, Jean Dunagan, Mary K. Browning, Joyce Pendleton, Duner Cahill, Frances Harvey, Justine Blount, Beverly Gaskins, Yvonne Webb, Ann Snyder, Betty Roberts, Marie Fisher, Faye Dula, Barbara English, Jackie Waller, Kitty Harris, Gail Jessee, Jackie Harper, Carole Manley, Joanne Maitland, Cass Conner, Dot Marshall, Nancy Knowles, Beverley Kersey, Ellen Trader.

Chi Phi's

The Chi Phi's welcomed Catherine Ozmon, Liz Mosteller, Mary Stokes, Alice Cheatwood, Charlotte Gray, Judy Alexander, Kay Howard, Marian Creighton.

The PiKa's rolled out the welcome mat to Frankie Click, Ann Harding, Brenda Drewry, Norma Redmon, Sara Oliver, Billie J. Shores, Katherine Key, Audrey Campbell, Beverly Redmon, Betty Davis, Demetria Koumparakis, Mary Ellen Moore, Joan Thomas, Kitty Harris, Jo Lynn Holland, Anne Keziah, Emily Atkinson.

At the Theta Chi house were seen Barbara Hurst, Ernestine Stoltz, Jane Adams, Melinda Franklin, Mary Lou Turner, Shirley Shepherd, Amy McFall, Deanne Hogge, Ann Ruckman, Anna Pope, Blanche Ingram, Ann Barnes, Carolyn Crockett, Judy Erslev, Ann Scott, Ruth Hawkins, Sandra Parker, Sally Harney, Anita Parks, Nancy Winfree, Carole White, Pat Reyes.

Mary Lee Roach, Lenola Johnson, and Helen Jean Young were seen at the Independent House.

Other Parties

Betty B. Culpepper, Marjorie Crismond, Ann Rountree, B. J. Spruhan and Linda Moore traveled down to V.M.I.

Norrish Munson and Ann Bolick traveled to N.C. for the Spring Dances at Duke University.

Betty Spivey and Kay Kellam were seen at Tech. Becky Mc Grath journeyed to Annapolis. Iris Hines visited U. Va.

They Made It!

Traci Faison, Pat Leake, Nan-Brimmer, Annis Norfleet and Linda Doles traveled through 160 miles of fog—and then had a blowout on their way back to school from Norfolk Sunday night. Wonderful trip.

We're all looking forward to a beautiful May Day festival next week end!

State Theatre
FARMVILLE, VA.
WED. THRU SATURDAY
APRIL 30 - MAY 3
MARLON BRANDO
AND AN EXQUISITE NEW JAPANESE STAR
SAYONARA
Filmed in Japan in TECHNIRAMA TECHNICOLOR presented by WARNER BROS.
SHOW TIMES
Wednesday thru Friday
3:00, 7:00 and 9:27
Saturday
2:00, 4:27, 6:54, 9:31
PRICES
25c AND 70c

Hockey Players Make Plans To Attend Camp Tegawitha

By WILLIE TAYLOR

September 6, 1958, will find the gates of Camp Tegawitha, in Tobyhanna, Pa., opening once again to the Longwood hockey players.

As one drives up the lane, between two hockey fields, thoughts such as these rush through one's head, "Which field will we play 'Which cabin will we live in, 'Clover' or 'Jack in the Pulpit'?" and "Which one of those instructors is Miss Applebee?"

The last question is answered the first night there as Miss Constance Applebee, the English lady who introduced hockey to the Americans, appears and gives the hockey schedule for the week.

The next morning finds everyone awake and ready to fight her way through the fog to the 'Lodge" for breakfast. Shortly after breakfast, with their uniforms on and their sticks in hands, the young people and the old start toward the hockey field. Each day of the week one receives about three or four hours of stick work and game.

Despite all the "charlie-horses" and 'Pennsylvania showers," everyone there learns many new skills and techniques in hockey, gains speed, durability, accuracy of action, and just a complete knowledge of the game under the proper and experienced instruction of English and American coaches.

Other colleges, universities, club teams and high school teams, have players there receiving the same type of learning the Longwood players do. Everyone plays, learns, and grumbles together.

Those from Longwood who are interested in going to hockey camp this year are Pat Baugh, Barbara Brantley, Gayle Cunningham, Josie Curry, June Elmore, Mate Fadely, Mary Hite Grayson, Lou Heier, Doris Kesling, Clara Lee Parker, Pat Southworth, Barbara Staton, Jeanette Talbott, Jeanette Townsend, Carolyn Thorpe, and Claudia Whipple.

Church News

By ANN GLOVER

Union Vespers

Union Vespers will be held this Sunday, May 4, at 7 p.m. in the Farmville Presbyterian Church. The Westminster Fellowship will be host and Earnest Sangster, a student at Union Theological Seminary from Scotland, will be the guest speaker. His topic will be the Ecumenical Movement. After the regular Sunday evening church service, a union fellowship will be held in the educational building at 9 p.m. All other denominational groups are invited and urged to attend.

Episcopal

This past Sunday, April 27, the new Canterbury officers were installed following the supper at 6 p.m. Vernon Austin from General Theological Seminary then spoke on the place of the Virgin Mary in the Church.

Sunday, May 4, at 8:15 p.m., the Rev. Charles Vache, of Trinity Church, Portsmouth, will conduct the program for Canterbury Club.

Sunday, May 11, Martha Gary Shirley will lead devotions in the Chapel in the Parish House. Demetria Koumparakis will lead the program.

Methodist

On May 4 at 7:30 p.m. the Wesley Foundation drama group will present the play "The Challenge of the Cross" at Smyrna Methodist Church.

On April 27 a program was presented by members of the Junior Class which was a panel discussion on controversial religious topics.

Presbyterian

On April 27 a panel discussion on the various phases of the ecumenical movement was presented by student members of the Westminster Fellowship.

On May 11 members of the Westminster Fellowship will conduct the morning church service in the Presbyterian Church. At 2 p.m. the same day the entire Westminster Fellowship will have its annual spring picnic and a program will be lead by the Senior members of the group.

FOR STUDENTS
Of Discriminating Taste
BRADSHAW'S
RESTAURANT
Burkeville, Va.
We Never Close

Annual Swim Meet To Support Colors

On Monday, May 5, at 4 p.m., sister classes will once again combine strength under their respective colors, "red and white" or "green and white," in the year's annual swimming meet in competition for the "Color Cup."

Composed of seven different events, the contest will include diving, 75-feet bobbing, 50-yard free style, 50-yard relay, 25-yard back crawl, 25-yard breast stroke, and the pajama relay.

The winner of the meet will receive ten points towards obtaining possession of the "color cup." The "green and whites" now lead the "red and whites' by thirty points.

In order for a girl to be eligible to enter the different events, she must obtain eight practices during "rec" swimming or have been enrolled in a swimming class either semester of the current year. Each participant is eligible for any of the events, but no one person may enter in more than three events. If there should arise any doubt as to one's eligibility, she should contact Miss Weddle before she signs up to swim in the meet.

The contest should prove to be a very close match as last year's event ended in a tie between the two colors. The Athletic Association urges each of you to come out and support your respective colors.

Faculty News

Dr. Lankford will deliver several speeches at meetings and commencements in the next month.

On May 24, he and Mrs. Lankford will attend the annual spring luncheon meeting of the Peninsula Chapter, Longwood Alumnae Association.

On May 27, Dr. Lankford will speak at a meeting of the Crewe Kiwanis Club. Members of the Beta Club of the Crewe area will be special guests at this meeting.

On June 5, he will deliver the commencement address at Northampton High School, Eastville. On June 9, he will deliver the commencement address at North-High School.

Boggs Conducts Survey

Dr. Earl R. Boggs, Dean of the College, was in charge of coordinating a survey of the Churchland area schools, completed April 21, 22, and 23.

The survey includes elementary schools and the Churchland High School. Criteria used in the survey was the "Evaluation Criteria of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools."

Final reports were presented to the teachers and administration of Norfolk County schools in the Churchland High School auditorium on the afternoon of April 23.

The survey terminated a two-year study.

WILSON'S HOME AND AUTO
TOP TUNES
1—Tequilla
2—Lollipop
3—Sweet Little Sixteen
4—He's Got the Whole World in His Hands
5—Catch a Falling Star
6—Lazy Mary
7—It's Too Soon to Know
8—Maybe, Baby
9—Rock and Roll is Here to Stay
10—Breathless

STRIKE ONE! Mate Fadely, left, and Claudia Whipple right, team up for softball practice.

Sports In The Spotlight

By JACKIE WALLER

Thursday saw no baseball action but was very effective for the individual sports.

GOLF—Virginia battered V.M.I. 27-0, and West Virginia downed William and Mary 5 1-2 to 3 1-2.

TRACK—The University of Virginia bowed to North Carolina 86-45 in an ACC meet in Chapel Hill, N. C. Meanwhile, in Morgantown, West Virginia, another Virginia team was getting the same treatment as West Virginia whipped the V.P.I. Gobblers 77-54.

TENNIS—Randolph - Macon College defeated Washington College 6-3 despite the fact that R-M ace, Wayne Adams suffered his first defeat in three years. The Citadel downed Richmond 6 to 3.

In track meets around the state Friday, W and L fell to Davidson's Thinclads 81-50 as Davidson picked up eight first - place victories. Bridgewater was victorious over Randolph-Macon 76-46.

Golf scores showed Tech victor over V.M.I. 6 to 3 and West Virginia over Richmond by a like score.

Tennis matches saw West Virginia take a 9 to 0 defeat as William and Mary romped to victory. It was Richmond 7 and Furman 2 for another Spider victory and poor V.P.I. took another defeat 7-2 at the hands of The Citadel.

In baseball, Hampden - Sydney split a doubleheader with William and Mary as they won the second game 1-0 to avenge the loss in the first game 2-1. Washington of Maryland edged Randolph-Macon 4-2; Norfolk Division of William and Mary eked out a one-run victory over R.P.I. 3 to 2 to remain undefeated; Davidson held tightly on to second place in the Southern Conference with a pair of come from behind wins over V.M.I. 10-7 and 9-4.

Saturday it was nearly all baseball as four big games were played in the college circuits. Randolph-Macon scored three runs in the bottom of the seventh following a six-run outburst by R.P.I. in the same frame to give the Jackets a 12-10 win over the Green Devils. The triumph was the third in five Little Eight starts for Randolph-Macon and R.P.I.'s fifth successive Little Eight defeat.

West Virginia swept by Virginia Tech with a similar 13-10 score in a sloppily played game featuring fourteen errors. The University of Richmond banged out a dozen hits and picked up a dozen free tickets as they solved the problem of Herb Busch, Virginia's all moundsman, and blasted the Cavaliers 17-0 for their eighth straight victory. George Washington's Colonials, 7-6 for the year, picked up a lone tally in the eleventh to nip W and L 6-5.

FOOTBALL—In the lone game on the gridiron, inexperienced Virginia Tech, with Sophs stacked three deep in spots, succumbed to its Alumni 25-16.

NEWBERRY'S
For Your
Miscellaneous Needs
VISIT ALL OF OUR DEPARTMENTS

HUNGRY?
THIRSTY?
TIRED?
See You At
The SNACK

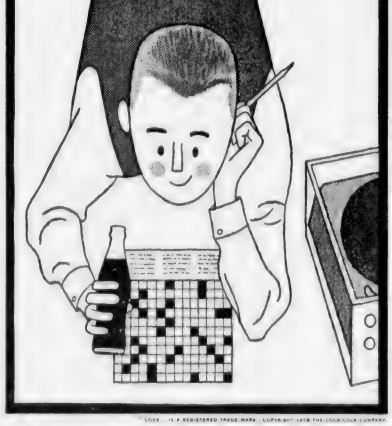
Play Ball!

Season Opens For Softball

The last edition in our series of articles introducing the new managers of the various sports teams presents sophomores Claudia Whipple and Mate Fadely. Longwood's softball managers of this year. Claudia hails from Middlebrook while Mate's hometown is Edinburg.

Both girls summed up their comments of their manager title by stating, "We were both real pleased and honored to become members of the A. A. Council and it is our hope that many girls will come out for the softball class games."

Managers Enjoy Game



Although softball is not their favorite sport the girls both agreed that they enjoy playing the sport because it gives them a chance to play with other girls from different classes.

Claudia is a member of the Cotillion Club, Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority and Granddaughters Club. She has been a member of the varsity basketball squad since her freshman year and varsity hockey squad this year.

Mate is a member of the A.A. Council, Cotillion Club and Varsity hockey and basketball squads.

The general practices for any one interested in green 'n white, red 'n white class games are held on Monday and Wednesday afternoons at five o'clock. Four practices are necessary in order to play in the color cup games.

Boxwood Tourist Court
and Restaurant
3 Miles South of
Farmville on Rt. 15
Phone 3027-5

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE MARK. "COPR. 1958 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.
Know the answer?
What's an eight-letter word which reminds you of good taste, sparkle, lift? The answer's easy—Coca-Cola of course. No puzzle about why it's so popular . . . no other sparkling drink gives you so much good taste, so much satisfaction. Yes, when you're looking for refreshment, the answer's always Coke!
Drink Coca-Cola
SIGN OF GOOD TASTE
Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Noble Finds Americans Take Life For Granted

By HENRIETTA DOLLINS

"I never expected to be able to get in a girls' school," recalls William A. Noble, "but I was accepted as a teacher at Longwood and I like it very much."

Born in India, Longwood's newest instructor of geography and history states, "I have enjoyed my first year of teaching and would like very much to stay in this field; however, some day I would like to return to India to do research, perhaps for a year."

WILLIAM NOBLE
Pauses On Campus

Extensive traveling while growing up caused Mr. Noble to become interested in different countries and in meeting their peoples. Born of a Scotch father and an Australian mother, he lived his first fifteen years in India.

Visiting the United States for the first time at the age of four, he and his family stayed in Baltimore, returning to India after a short while.

Because his father was a missionary, Mr. Noble attended a very strict private boarding school for missionary children in Hindustand, population 350 million. "We were not allowed to go to the movies, date, or smoke," he explained.

In contrasting the American and Indian systems of education, he remarked, "I feel that our education system is far too strict, but I also feel that American schools are too lenient. Some high school boys deserve good lashings."

To back his opionion, Mr. Noble explained that in the place of our grading system, India's system of education has nine standards, including upper and lower kindergartens. At the end of the seventh and ninth standards, chemistry examinations, junior and senior respectively, are taken by the students and are then sent to England to be graded at Cambridge. Another factor that he has considered in his contrast of the two education systems is the fact that when, at the age of twelve, he attended the seventh grade in Boston, he was dropped back a standard upon returning to school in India. Also, he explained that it is very hard for white people to be accepted in Indian colleges. Although his brother attended one for awhile, he was the only white person in the college.

According to Mr. Noble, who has always been actively interested in athletics, seasonal sports, such as soccer, field hockey, cricket, tennis, and table tennis are quite popular in India. He went on to explain that in the school he attended, there were three houses, each competing with the other for a coveted shield proclaiming the prowess of its young athletes. Not only interested in sports, but other hobbies as well, he has enjoyed collecting match box covers, butterflies, and stamps, and now enjoys photography.

Mr. Noble returned to the United States when he was 17 and entered Emory at the age of 18 where he studied his favorite, geography, among other subjects. Again majoring in geography, he completed his Bachelor of Arts and Master degrees at the University of Georgia, which he attended for four years.

Explaining that it is impossible to change overnight a 1000 year old tradition, the instructor commented that the caste system, though illegal in India now, is still very strict.

Concerning his opinion of America, Mr. Noble stated, "I like the United Sates very much. I think we are very fortunate, but I don't think many Americans realize this. I think some Americans take things for granted. These people should be sent over there to see how sick and starving people live."

"Sayonara"

(Continued from page 1)

January 1957.

At the edge of the picturesque city of one million persons, scenes were photographed in the ancient Imperial Gardens — never before filmed by either American or Japanese, and considered among the world's most beautiful paradises.

Included in this outstanding film of 1957 is a special song called "Sayonara" with the words and music by Irving Berlin and a background score by Franz Waxman.

Movies soon to be featured at the Drive-in Theater here in Farmville are: "Guys and Dolls"—stars Marlon Brando, Jean Simmons—April 30; "Baby Doll" — Karl Malden, Carol Baker — May 6-7; "The Wayward Bus" — Dan Daily, Jayne Mansfield — May 3-9; "Tammy and the Bachelor"— Debbie Reynolds — May 10-11; "Lust for Life" — Kirk Douglas— May 12-14.

TV Topics

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30

7:30 Ch. 6 — An insight into the artistic mind will be offered on Disneyland in "An Adventure in Art," a pictorial interpretation of the philosophy of the late Robert Henri, a pioneer in the development of modern American art. Program is based on the book, "The Art Spirit."

9:00 Ch. 8 — Ralph Meeker will star as Jack Brennan, the prizefighter who stakes his hopes on "Fifty Grand," in a dramatization of Ernest Hemingway's short story, on Kraft Television Theater.

10:00 Ch. 12 — Garry Moore will emcee a one-time-only jazz show that will feature Louis Armstrong, Lionel Hampton, George Shearing, Gerry Mulligan, Jack Teagarden, Gene Krupa and the Dukes of Dixieland.

THURSDAY, MAY 1

8:30 Ch. 12 — Anne Francis, Peter Graves, Henry Silva, Anna May Wong and Olive Deering will be featured in "Deadly Tattoo," murder mystery on Climax.

9:00 Ch. 6 — Hoosier humorist Herb Shriner will be Pat Boone's guest.

9:30 Ch. 12 — "Rumors of Evening," dream of a World War II romance starring Barbara Bel Geddes and John Kerr, will be presented on Playhouse 90. Cast also includes Robert Simon, Pat Hitchcock and Robert Loggia.

FRIDAY, MAY 2

8:30 Ch. 12 — Thomas Mitchell will star as a has-been gunman living on whisky and dreams of past glories in "A Handful of Ashes," on the Zane Grey Theater.

9:00 Ch. 6 — British singer-comedianne Jeannie Carson will be Frank Sinatra's guest.

9:30 Ch. 12 — Vera Miles, in her first TV comedy role, will portray a working girl who is afraid she won't be accepted into her husband's wealthy and socially prominent family, in "Penny Wise," on Playhouse of Stars.

— Richmond Times Dispatch

Music Department To Present Allen, Soprano, In Senior Recital

GAY ALLEN

The Department of Music will present Gay Allen, soprano, in a senior recital on May 13, in Jarman Hall at 8 p.m.

Gay is a student of Mr. James McCombs. During her four years at Longwood she has been very active in vocal work. Some of her activities include being a member of the Choir and Madrigals; solo work in "Dido and Aeneas" by Purcell, "The Medium" by Menotti, and "The Old Maid and the Thief" by Memotti; participation in a half-recital in her junior year; director of the Methodist Children's Choir; and solo work for school activities. In addition to studying voice for the past eight years, Gay has also studied organ and piano.

Gay, from Newport News, plans to continue her studies as she undertakes graduate work at the Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky.

The program for the coming recital includes : "Il Pomo d'Oro" by Cesti; "Il Floridoro" by Stradella; "Lieder eines fahrenden Gesellen" by Puccini; "L'heure exquise" by Massenet; "Oh, Cease Thy Singing Maiden Fair" by Sachmaninoff; "Vocalise" by Sachmaninoff; "Come You Not From Newcastle" arranged by Britten; "Letter to Freddy" by Bowles; and "Tell Me, Oh, Blue, Blue Sky" by Giannini.

Gay will be accompanied by Hildegard Wagner at the piano.

Week ends are the most dangerous time to be on U. S. highways. In 1957, more than 55 per cent of all fatalities occurred on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

May Day

(Continued from page 1)

of February: Nancy Knowles, court; Nancy Brubeck, theme; Cat Ozmon, costumes; Barbara Bishop, props; Carolyn DeHaven, music; June Strother, and Susie Barr, dances; Margie Crismond, programs and publicity; and Betsy Joyner, transportation. Mary Linda League and Kay Kellam are chairman of the dance to be held in the Main Rec from 8 to 12 Saturday night. The VPI Colonels will provide music for the dance. A figure will include the members of the Court. Tickets for the dance are $2.40.

The program, given in honor of Queen Traci Faison and her court, will be ended by a may-pole dance. The court will consist of the following girls: Ann Jeter Collins, maid of honor, and Ann Adams, Shirley Alcock, Phyllis Bridgeforth, Betty Brown Culpepper, Peggy Dickerson, Brendra Drewry, Beverly Kersey, Amy McFall, Liz Mosteller, Sue Taylor, and Jane Proffitt.

Practices at the Dell have begun this week. Mass rehearsals will be held tomorrow and dress rehearsal will take place on Friday.

"Blue Ridge Farm"

(Continued from page 1)

Irving Armstrong and Miss Emily Barksdale, purchases these painting using a fund composed predominantly of gifts by graduating classes of Longwood and individuals interested in the project. Mrs. Lemon states that the fund is now depleted, but she urges college organizations and graduating classes to contribute so that in the future more works of Virginia artists can be purchased for display in the college.

GIVE BOOKS
--for--
MOTHER'S DAY
Wide Selection
at the
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP

GRAY'S
Come in now and select your
MOTHER'S DAY CARDS
Also Cards for All Occasions

WALKER'S RESTAURANT
Club Breakfast - Lunch
Course Dinners
FOUNTAIN SERVICE
Phone 3280
U. S. 360 and 460
BURKEVILLE, VA.

FOR YOUR ENTERTAINMENT
listen to
AFTERNOON RECORD SHOW
From 2:00 - 5:00
over
W-F-L-O

You'll be sittin' on top of the world when you change to L&M

Light into that L&M Live Modern flavor

You get a more effective filter on today's L&M
Look for the patent number . . . . on every pack . . . your assurance that you are getting L&M's exclusive filtering action

Best tastin' smoke you'll ever find!

Put yourself behind the pleasure end of an L&M. Get the flavor, the full rich taste of the Southland's finest cigarette tobaccos. The patented Miracle Tip is pure white inside, pure white outside, as a filter should be for cleaner, better smoking. ©1958 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

Good Luck
On Exams

The Rotunda

Best Wishes
Class of '58

VOLUME XXXVII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., May 14, 1958 | No. 19

Dr. Boggs To Receive Annual Service Award

PDK To Honor Dean At University Dinner

Dr. Earl R. Boggs, Academic Dean of Longwood College, will receive the Distinguished Service Award presented annually to an outstanding educator in Virginia by the Alpha Beta chapter of Phi Delta Kappa at a banquet in Charlottesville Friday, May 16.

The Recipient was chosen by a secret ballot of the members of the University of Virginia chapter of this honorary education fraternity for men. He will address the group at the dinner Friday.

Widely experienced in the education field, Dr. Boggs became Longwood's dean in the fall of 1956. He also serves as chairman of the Department of Education and Admissions committee. In addition he heads the scholarship program.

Before coming here he taught in the School of Education of the University of Virginia where he was Chairman of the Graduate Committee. Other positions held include State Supervisor of High Schools of West Virginia, clinical assistant in the child study clinic at George Peabody College and director of the training school at Glenville State College.

A native of Orton, West Virginia, Dr. Boggs received his B.A. degree in English and social studies at Glenville State College. From there he pursued his studies at West Virginia University where he obtained his masters degree in educational administration. His Ph.D. came from George Peabody College. His undergraduate activities included debating, journalism, and membership in Phi Delta honor fraternity. In graduate school and professionally he has acquired membership in Phi Delta Kappa and Kappa Delta Pi.

Unknown to many students, perhaps, is the fact that the dean is the author of many published works. Among them are Human Relations in the Classroom and State Board of Education Bulletins on music, math, and the Language Arts. Other interests besides educational work and writing have played important roles in Dr. Boggs' life, however, as he enjoys such things as growing roses, reading, and playing golf.

DR. EARL BOGGS

Better Film, 'Lady Killers' Plays Tonight

"The Ladykillers," the last of the films in the Better Film Series this year, will be presented at the State Theater tonight.

The star of this delightful comedy, Academy Award winner Alec Guinness, takes a back seat because in the driver's seat is a wonderful little old lady, Katie Johnson. She not only holds her own against the stiff competition of veteran Guinness, but contributes the lioness' share of the sparkle, wit, irony, keen, and gentle charm of this English farce.

Miss Johnson portrays a somewhat addled old lady who lives in a tiny Victorian house in a crowded city area near the railroad tracks. The police treat her with tolerant amusement because she is forever paying them visits with reports of space ships in her garden. To her menage comes Mr. Guinness, pretending to be a musician. He takes the quarters upstairs which she has

(Continued On Page 5)

Leaders Chosen

Plans are being made now by the junior, sophomore and freshman classes for their 1958-59 activities.

Elections have been held for Circus chairmen, and senior and junior dance chairmen.

The class chairmen for Circus are: Dottie Boswell and Cat Ozmon, junior; Joanne Garner and Carolyn DeHaven, sophomore; and Jane Stegal and Dodie Webster, freshmen.

The Senior Dance chairman is Bede Staton and the Junior Dance chairmen are Barbara Rossiter and Connie Goodman.

Lankford Names New Professors

Several faculty positions have been filled for the coming year.

Mrs. Josephine Magnifico will succeed Dr. Ethel Sutherland in the Mathematics Department. Mrs. Magnifico will join the faculty as Assistant Professor of Mathematics. She holds the A. B. Degree from Mary Baldwin College and the master of education degree from the University of Virginia. During the current session, she is attending the Academic Year Institute for Mathematics and Science Teachers at the University of Virginia. She has taught mathematics for a number of years at both the high school and college levels.

Laura Malina of Mexico City will replace Elena Venos as Spanish informant at Longwood next year.

Twenty-year old Laura is very interested in the field of liberal arts and hopes to be a bilingual secretary.

In her letter to Longwood, Laura stated that she has heard some very interesting things concerning Longwood and was looking forward to her stay at such an accomplished school.

Interviews are now being held with prospects for five other positions on the faculty next year. Four will represent additions to the faculty in the fields of music, physical education, speech, and education. One will be a substitute for Dr. Taplin who will have a leave of absence next year to pursue studies made possible by the Guggenheim Fellowship he has received.

Mayor To Give Address At Graduation Exercise

129 Seniors To Receive Degrees

The Seventy-Fourth Commencement Exercises of Longwood College will be held in Jarman Auditorium June 1, when President Frances G. Lankford, Jr. will confer Bachelor Degrees on 129 graduates and Master Degrees on two post-graduates.

The commencement address will be delivered by Dr. John R. Mayor, director of education for the Advancement of Science, at 3 p.m., Sunday, June 1. Dr. R. Stuart Grizzard, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Norfolk, will give the baccalaureate sermon at 11 a.m. the same day.

Dr. Mayor has been with the AAAS for three years. He was a professor of mathematics and education and chairman of the education department at the University of Wisconsin. He has also served in the same capacity at Southern Illinois State Normal University. Dr. Mayor served for two years as President of the National Council for Teachers of Mathematics. A Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin, Dr. Mayor holds the A.M. from Illinois and the B.S. from Knox College.

Two-Day Program

The two-day program will begin Saturday, May 31, at 3 p.m. in Jarman Auditorium with Class Day exercises. Shirley Hauptman, class president, will give the welcome address and Carolyn "Tipi" Waugaman will give the history of the graduating class. The giftorian, Ellen Callaway, will present the class gift to the college and also gifts to the class officers at this time.

Other ceremonies will include the transferring of the symbol of office from the president of the class of 58, Shirley Hauptman, to the president of the class of 59, Lillian Rosson. The graduates will also be formally inducted into the Alumnae Association.

Immediately following Class Day, the traditional Daisy Chain will be formed in front of the Rotunda by the seniors and their little sisters to depict 58.

Dr. and Mrs. Lankford will hold a reception Saturday night at 8:30 at their home for the seniors, their parents and friends.

The Lantern Parade, which is also traditional of graduation, will take place at 10:30. The parade, comprised of seniors and little sisters, will begin at the Student Building and end in the Rotunda with a serenade.

Another presentation will be that of the senior scrapbook by Sally Tilson as chairman to the class sponsor, Miss Eleanor Weddle.

Senior Assembly May 20

The Senior class has begun its

(Continued on Page 6)

Spear Appointed Assistant Dean For Coming Year

Miss Jenelle Spear has been named to succeed Miss Thelma Souder as Asistant Dean of Women for the coming year.

Miss Spear, a native of North Carolina, is presently completing her master's degree at Syracuse University. She has been doing

MISS JENELLE SPEAR
New Assistant Dean

graduate work at Syracuse for the past two years in the field of student personnel administration.

Agnes Scott Graduate

Attending Agnes Scott College in Decatur, Georgia, Miss Spear received a B.A. degree in Biology. During that time she participated in the Student Government for three years, enjoyed sports, was a member of Phi Sigma, and was elected a member of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

She has also worked in Oak Ridge, Tennessee, at the National Laboratory. Her position was that of a research assistant in the Department of Mammalian Genetics.

Beauty Contest Set For Tonight

Nineteen students will participate in the "Miss Longwood" contest tomorrow night, May 15, in Jarman auditorium. Five others will vie for the "Miss Southside Virginia" title tonight with local girls.

Herb Clark of WRVA Radio in Richmond will serve as master-of-ceremonies for the "Miss Longwood" program. Contestants for this title and their sponsors include Kay Pierce, Freshman class; Yvonne Webb, Sophomore class; Jane Proffitt, Junior class; Nancy Allen, Granddaughters Club; Elaine Chaffin, Student Education Association; June Elmore, Rotunda; Joanne Garner, YWCA, and Emily Atkinson, Senior class.

Other girls are Nancy Evans, Longwood choir; Martha Mae Hart, Tri-County Club; Elizabeth Johnson, Longwood Players; Dot Marshall, Orchesis; Michaela Miller, Northern Neck Club; Mary Ellen Moore, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Betty Jane Allgood, Delta Zeta; Phyllis Bridgeforth, Pi Kappa Sigma; Eileen Cahill, Theta Sigma Upsilon; Dorothy Gills, Alpha Sigma Alpha; and Kitty Good, Alpha Sigma Tau.

The contestants for tonight's program are Ann Barnes, Adair Camp, Lois Ogburn, Ernestine Stoltz, and Patricia Stout.

Each girl will be judged in a bathing suit and an evening gown as well as for her talent. The local winners will compete in the "Miss Virginia" contest where the winner will receive such prizes as a $1000 scholarship and a $2000 wardrobe.

Admission to each night's program is one dollar. Proceeds for both will aid the completion of a local pool.

Rotunda To Sponsor June Elmore

JUNE ELMORE, Rotunda candidate for Miss Longwood.

By JOANN KLEINECKE

Blonde - haired, hazel - eyed Freshman June Elmore is the Rotunda's candidate for the Miss Longwood Contest. She is from Norfolk and is a physical education major who later plans to either teach or be a recreation director.

June names sports as her hobby and was a member of the hockey and basketball teams here this year. She has no favorite sport, but selects swimming, tennis, and water skiing as some warm-weather activities she especially enjoys. She is also a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority, the Cotillion Club, Orchesis, one of the Top Rats for next year; she helped write the winning song for the Song Contest and served as chairman of the Freshman Y-Sing Skit.

June will enter the contest with a background of Homecoming Queen at her high school, and attendant in the National Azalea Court in Norfolk. When asked to comment on the beauty pageant to be held on May 14 and 15, she stated, "I consider the nomination a wonderful honor and am very enthusiastic about the contest. I'll have to admit that I'm a little scared, though."

Rotunda Receives High Ratings

Wins Third Place

The Rotunda tied for third place in the newspaper contest held by the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association. Judged by staff members from the Richmond Times-Dispatch and Richmond News Leader, the results were announced at the annual convention held Friday and Saturday at the University of Richmond.

The winning newspaper was the Proscript from Richmond Professional Institute with the Ring-Tum-Phi of Washington and Lee second. Tied for third place with the Rotunda was the Richmond Collegian from the University of Richmond.

All papers judged were this spring's editions; the Rotunda entries were edited by Linda Doles.

Convention events included an opening banquet Friday at the University of Richmond with Mr. Charles Henry Harrison, Managing Editor of the Richmond News Leader speaking to the delegates on "Clear, Concise Newspaper Writing." Following the banquet a dance was held at the William

(Continued on Page 6)

V.I.P.A. Elects Doles

Linda Doles, Editor-in-Chief of the Rotunda, was elected vice-president of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association at their annual convention Saturday, May 10.

New president of the V.I.P.A. is Cadet Henry Thomas of the Virginia Military Institute, and other officers are Howard Dixon, secretary-treasurer, and Chris Sizemore, public relations director, both students at the University of Richmond.

First Class Rating Awarded By ACP

The Rotunda has received First Class Rating from the Associated Collegiate Press in their annual judging.

The Rotunda was one of eleven papers given First Class Rating from those in its category from colleges across the nation. The ACP is a college newspaper service to which 459 national student publications subscribe and their ratings indicate distinctly superior achievement in newspaper work.

The rating was based on newspapers from the first semester with Ella Carter, Editor-in-Chief, Linda Doles, Managing Editor, and Norma Jenrett, Business Manager.

The paper was judged on coverage, content and physical properties including photography and make-up. The rating was based on the total points earned from each part of the paper.

A Fond Farewell . . .

A fond farewell to another successful year at Longwood College! Congratulations Senior Class of 1958! Thanks to you and many others, we have passed an eventful and enriching experience this year, and all the years you have spent here reflect the improvements which have been made by your help in our college.

This spring, representatives from all phases of life here at Longwood will be leaving us — the seniors, representing the students; a retiring professor, one of the devoted members of our faculty; a retiring housemother, a wonderful example of that special kindness we all appreciate, and our assistant dean of women, who will take her friendly spirit to another institution — marriage.

Because of the service these people have given to Longwood College along with their time, their co-operation, and their love, we feel fortunate for having known these worthy contributors this long, and wish to show appreciation for the fine work and good examples they have given us.

From the senior class have come some of the most sincere campus leaders Longwood has known; to these girls we express heartfelt admiration. No one knows all the worries, responsibilities, and doubts that every girl active in her college life has to overcome. Therefore, for your success in guiding us through this school year, we thank you for your loyalty to your college. Through your efforts Longwood is continually a success too.

Each of you is a living example of that for which Longwood stands. Your lives will reflect either credit or discredit to your school. You are not only Longwood graduates now, but always Longwood graduates. Our very best wishes to each of you for the future.

May Day—Rain Or Shine

Come rain or come sun Longwood productions always shine! This year's May Day Festival, although rain-delayed and produced in a makeshift 'dell,' was one of its most successful productions to date.

Held in Jarman Auditorium May 3, there was standing room only, as the lovely pastel-gowned court set the background for the lively antics of Peter Pan. Written and narrated by Nancy Brubeck, the adaptation appeared delightful, as Never-Never Land came to life with dancing trees, colorful costumes, real-live mermaids, and a host of other well-known Peter Pan characters.

I am always amazed and pleased when watching a Longwood production unfold before me, at the originality, the dramatic ability, the artistic talent, that exists among the students here. And I know it is the result of hours of time, labor, and co-operation on the part of many that goes into such a success.

To the girl who co-ordiated all this work, Mary Ann Barnett, and to all of her loyal supporters, the Rotunda expresses congratulations for a job well-done. From the beauty of the May Court, led by the lovely queen, Traci Faison; the delightful dancing of Peter Pan, June Strother, and Tinkerbell, Tweety Lambiotte; the lovable actions of the Darling children, Vickie Brinkley, Norma Jean Johnson, and Dottie Boswell; the original dances performed by the different groups; the colorful costuming assembled by Cat Ozmon; to each member of every committee, the enthusiastic spirit of Longwood College was visible. The fun-loving spirit of every person on stage was felt by everyone in the audience, communicating a sense of pride to us for being part of a group of girls who can achieve such success.

Speaking for the students who enjoyed May Day to those who took part in producing it, I want to say thanks to everyone for a wonderful spring festival in true Longwood tradition.

Souder Expresses Thanks

Dear Longwood Students,

The year will soon be over and before we all depart I wish to thank each of you for two wonderful years at Longwood. Your friendliness impressed me from the start, and now let me add your cooperative spirit, dependability, and originality.

I shall not say good-bye since I will see many of you at various times, but the very best for each of you in your many endeavors.

Sincerely,
Thelma L. Souder,
Assistant Dean of Women

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 20, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 168.

Linda Doles ..... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors:
Bet McLoughlin, Patsy Powell

Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Judy Eskstrom ..... News Editor
Henrietta Dellina ..... Feature Editor
Violet Scott ..... Sports Editor
Virginia Jordon ..... Desk Editor
Eleanor Gorgianos ..... Photographer
Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Mebton ..... Circulation Manager
Lou Gray, Becky Parker ..... Advertising Managers
Dr. James Wellard ..... Faculty Advisor

(Unsigned editorials written by the editor.)

Member: Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association; Associated Collegiate Press (Rating first class); Columbia Scholarship Press Association (Rating first place); Baldwin Collegiate Press.

NEWS STAFF: Cherry Gorham, Assistant News Editor; Jo Ann Parsons, Assistant Desk Editor; Chris Rumen, Assistant Sports Editor Reporters: Martha Rucker, Carson York, Bebe Rawlins, Pat Rodenhizer, Dottie Wheeler, Rose M. Lawrence, Jo Ann Fouch, Dale Dosz, Nancy Lashley, Faye Garrett, Sallie Farrell, Kay Howard, Jackie Gibson, Frances Hansberger, Barbara Chaffin, Joann Kleinecke, Barbara Parks, Sandra Kinson, Genevieve Nancy Harrahgrave, Ann Glover, Elaine Weddle, Cat Ozmon, Pat Drake, Barbara Buck, Barbara Simpkins, Jackie Waller, Joyce S. Hutchison, Mary D. Stokes, Alice Chowtowood.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Dale Priddy, Assistant Manager. Joan Brooker, Connie Carrison, Lana Conner, Bebe Cochran, Rose Daughtry, Kay Floyed, Linda Saunders, Barbara Insomma, Faye Garrett, Claudette Gray, Ann Ledbetter, Charlotte Methoe, Becky McGrath, Carole Manley, Frances Mann, Helen Pala, Mary Robbins, Bee E. Sloan, Sally Thomas, Shirley Wilson, Dorothy Brown, Reba Westmoreland, Arlene Mekee.

ADVERTISING STAFF: Mason Hamlet, Nancy George, Barbara Gamadge, Joan Honeycutt, Ann Hill.

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress on March 3, 1954. Representing for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

College Publishes Lectures Based On Virginia Subjects

"Virginia in History and Tradition," a book containing the Institute of Southern Culture lectures of 1957, has recently been published by the College.

The 1957 lectures are devoted for the most part to Virginia subjects in recognition of the Jamestown Festival year. Many of these lectures were delivered by professors here at Longwood, and concern many aspects of education and teaching in Virginia.

The book consists of the following lectures:

"The Education That Doesn't Educate: The Persistence of Virginia Folkways," by Francis B. Simkins; "The Image of an Army: The Civil War in Southern Fiction," by Louis D. Rubin, Jr.; "Critical Essays on English Writers in the Southern Literary Messenger," by Gardner B. Taplin; "Assessment of Virginia's Natural Qualities by Explorers and Early Settlers," by Gary Dunbar; "Ellen Glasgow and the Southern Literary Tradition," by C. Hugh Holman; Symposium on Interpreting Virginia History: "How to Write a Virginia History Textbook,"by Marvin W. Schlegel; "Editorial Problems in Virginia History," by Lawrence Burnette, Jr.; "Teaching Virginia History," by Spotswood Hunnicutt.

Several of the lectures bring out the difficulties that must be met when interpretating Virginia history or writing a textbook. An example of this would be found in "How to Write a Virginia History Textbook," by Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel, the textbook author does not do his own investigation and interpretation, but must accept the views of other historians even though he may disagree. He must further be aware of the misuse of certain terms such as "Civil War" for the "War between the States." Such details as these make the writing of a textbook a complicated project.

Students who wish to order a copy of the book may do so from the College Business Office. The cost per copy is $2.00.

The Institute of Southern Culture was established at Longwood College to promote the study of traditional aspects of Southern civilization through academic course work, special lectures, and through the publication of research in the field.

What Do You Read?

When you receive your copy of the Rotunda on Wednesday evenings, what articles do you read first?

This question was recently asked of a cross-section of Longwood's student body with the following results and comments.

Forty-three per cent chose the lead story, 32 per cent the social column, 12 per cent picture captions, 3 per cent the cartoon and 7 per cent features. The remaining 7 per cent was divided between editorials, sports, and Timely Topics.

One per cent of the student body does not read the Rotunda at all.

'Frosh' Art Adds Color To Parlor

Eight new paintings have been chosen to hang in the Freshman Parlor for next year. The art staff chose the paintings from work done by the freshman art classes. They have tried to pick work which is suitable for the parlor in design and color.

There are six chalk and two watercolors on display. The chalks are based on designs which the girls chose. Two are shells, two are peanuts, one an apple, and one a magnolia pod. The watercolors on the end wall were painted from nature, one a landscape, the other a church.

The students whose paintings were chosen are Vivian Smith, Mary Pem Lewis, Thelma Carlton, Cherry Gorham, Margaret Shropshire, Ann Jenkins, Emily Shelton, and Roberta Thomas.

Students Quiz Humor, Symbols Of Faulkner

By ANN GLOVER

Mr. William Faulkner, renowned short story writer and novelist, entertained several hundred students from colleges and universities all over Virginia in an informal lecture at the University of Virginia on May 12.

Mr. Faulkner, writer-in-residence at the University, spent the entire hour answering question about his books, short stories, and attitude toward the South.

One of the first questions asked him was where he acquired his sense of humor or what he had read which influenced him. To this he replied, "Humor is an attitude of optimism towards man's predicament. It is not influenced by anything one reads . . . it is a very healthy point of view."

A true Southern gentleman, the gray-haired author gave very profound answers to all questions asked him. He gave much advice to aspiring writers, telling them that he felt that any success he had achieved through his books was due entirely to the fact that "I have always kept myself an amateur. I do it for fun!"

Mr. Faulkner stated that most authors write from their own personal experience, observation, and imagination and that he, like all other writers, is "omnivorous, a perpetual liar, robs and steals from other writers, and is convinced that he can create much better people than God can." This statement he gave in answer to a question concerning the real-life traits of his characters.

Several students asked him questions concerning the symbolism in some of his novels and short stories and to this he replied that he never has any real intention of inserting symbols in his work. "The writer is like a carpenter and has a grab bag of odds and ends of words and phrases into which he reaches for a more expressive way of saying something." He justified any use of symbols by saying, "The writer is trying to tell about man in the most dramatic way he can."

Mr. Faulkner was also very complimentary in his comments about other writers, stating that James Joyce was "one of the great writers of my time, and prasing Thomas Wolfe's autobiographical style of writing.

When asked how he liked the way Hollywood had made movies of some of his novels, Mr. Faulkner said that hereally hadn't had time to see more than one of them, which was "Intruder in the Dust." "It was a very good picture. It was a lot like my book."

About fifteen Longwood students accompanied by Miss Mary Nichols and Dr. James Wellard attended the lecture, representing the Rotunda and the novel class.

Best Sellers Listed For Summer Fun

By JOYCE HUTCHESON

Best sellers across the country this week are listed as follows: Fiction: Anatomy of a Murder by Traver; The Winthrop Woman by Seton; Ice Palace by Ferber.

Non-Fiction: Masters of Deceit, by Hoover; Jean Kerr's Please Don't Eat the Daisies; and Kids Say the Darndest Things, by Art Linkletter.

The College Library has copies of all these books, so if you have time for a little relaxation before exams, try one of these best-sellers!

New books just out in time for summer reading include a biography, The Ordeal of Woodrow Wilson, by Herbert Hoover; Something for the Birds, by Drachman, and Summers from Baghdad, by Kinnon — two mystery - thrillers; and novels such as I'm Not Stiller, by Max Frisch, The Round House, by Reginald Arkell, and Cheers, Major Barlow, by William Fain. This is your Longwood "Bookworm" signing off for the year and wishing you all a "Happy Summer of reading!"

Official Visits Group To Discuss Honorary

The petitioning group of the honorary musical fraternity, Sigma Alpha Iota, was honored on April 23 by the visit of Mrs. Paul J. Gould, its National Second Vice-President from Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. Gould met with members of the administration to discuss the possibility of establishing a chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota here at Longwood.

In discussing Sigma Alpha Iota, Mrs. Gould stated that she was very impressed by Longwood and said that conditions for establishing the fraternity are very favorable.

The fraternity will probably not become active until the fall, since there is still much preparation; but the group is confident that it will soon be an important part of Longwood College.

Longwood Players Award Oscars

Boone, Brinkley, Smith Win Praise

Yesterday in Assembly the "Little Oscar Awards" were presented to Donna Boone and Vicki Brinkley as the best female actresses of the year, and to Garnett Smith as the best male actor of the year.

The recipients of the awards were voted upon by the Longwood Players and were presented to the winners by David Wiley, assistant professor of speech and drama. This annual presentation sponsored by the Longwood Players signifies recognition for quality and excellence of performance in a major three-act production and for ones outstanding contribution to the group.

Donna Boone, Garnett Smith

For her portrayal of Jennet Jourdemayne in "The Lady's Not For Burning, Donna, a junior from Marion, won this year's Oscar Award. Vicki, for her performance as Eleanora in "Easter, was also awarded an Oscar. As a result of tied voting, each was presented an Oscar. Garnett won the Oscar as a result of his performance of Thomas Mendip in "The Lady's Not For Burning. Garnett, a sophomore at Hampden-Sydney is from Richmond.

Donna Boone

Donna has worked with the Players for the past three years, and she has appeared in six plays. In "Blood Wedding she portrayed the servant; in "Skin of Our Teeth, Mrs. Antrobus; in "The Crucible,' Elizabeth Proctor; as Doto in "A Phoenix Too Frequent;' as Mrs. Hardwicke Moore in "The Lady of Larkspur Lotion;" and as the leader of the people of South England in "The Boy With A Cart." Last summer Donna did summer stock work in the Oak Grove Little Theater in Staunton under the direction of Fletcher Collins. She is a member of the Longwood Players, Alpha Kappa Gamma, and the Iota Tau Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega.

Vicki Brinkley

Vicki is technical director of the Longwood Players. Her acting on the Longwood stage includes her performance as Isabelle in "Ring Round the Moon," as Mary Warren in "The Crucible," as Puck in a play from "A Midsummer Night's Dream." She has appeared in "Blood Wedding," and "Skin of Our Teeth." Last summer Vicki worked as Sound Engineer for "Thy Kingdom Come" in Salem. She is a member of the Longwood Players, Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, and the Iota Tau chapter of Alpha Psi Omega.

VICKI BRINKLEY

Garnett Smith

Garnett, a sophomore at Hampden-Sydney, has worked on the Longwood stage for the past two years. He portrayed Mr. Antrobus in "Skin of Our Teeth," Tawm in "The Boy With A Chart," Elis Heyst in "Easter," and a major role in "A Phoenix Too Frequeht." He has also appeared in other plays. Last summer he had a part in "Thy Kingdom Come" in Salem under the direction of Dean Goodsell.

--Linoleum Cut by Melinda Franklin

SENIOR CYCLE—Cramming for Exams — Relaxing at the Beach — Teaching Next Fall.

Spring Parties Draw Many; Wedding Bells To Ring Soon

By NANCY HARNSBERGER

Linda Miller was married May 1 to Doc Stovall — Congratulations Linda.

Annabelle Gwaltney received a diamond from Herbert Nelms. Herbert is from Smithfield.

V.P.I. Ring Dances

Arlene Johnston led the V.P.I. Ring figure and Lionel Hampton furnished the music enjoyed by Janet Chase, Eloise Shrieves, Patti Roach, Gwen Keesee, Liz Pentress, Peggy Tyer, Carole Lassiter, Frankie Click, Frances Harvey, Charlotte Gray, Arlene Johnston, Sandra Ferebee, Lou Gray, Peggy Dickerson, and Ellen Calloway.

Hampden-Sydney Parties

Last week end the Theta Chi's opened their doors to Ernestine Stolz, Amy McFall, Ann Ruckman, Mary L. Turner, Blanche Ingram, Bonnie Keys, Kathe Hegnsle, Billie Shores, Betty Roberts, Billie Altizer, Ann Mixon, Betty Haley, Judy Erslev, Pat Reyes, and Justine Blount.

Welcomed at the Lambda Chi house were Karen Potts, Beverley Barrett, Sharon Schaaf, Barbara Ambrose, Becky Jones, Barbara Bolster, Nancy Lechler, Carolyn Oliver, Duner Cahill, Anna Pope, Betty Lee Mason, and Barbara Copeland.

University of Virginia

U. Va. said "Hello' to many LC girls last week end. Let's take a look at those girls who attended the parties: Ann Barnes, Josie Curry, Carolyn Crockett, Diane Doughty, Betty Davis, Faye Dula, Carolyn DeHaven, Patsy Goodman, Sandra Johns, Carolyn Bassford, Dorothy Council, Page Davis, Beverly Kersey, Alice Layne, Sarah Lampton, Addie Richardson, Barbara Williams, Mary Aldridge, Judy Alexander, Shirley Hauptman, Lynne McDade, Wayne Boyden, and Fay Salmon.

Other Parties

Ann Norfleet, Catherine Walker, and Sue Benton journeyed to Washington and Lee. Across the road, Linda Moore, Timmie Darden, Ann Coleman, Betty Chappell, Betty Harrell, and Gin Kuyk visited V.M.I.

Ann Glover traveled to Duke University for the week end.

Judy Carr and Betty Mason attended May Day at Louisburg College Louisburg, N. C.

Lucia Hart, Suzie Barr, Mary Lee Teel, Coreta Bennett, and Betty Maynard went to the SPE parties at University of Richmond on May 9.

Eleanor Gurganus attended Spring Formals at the College of William and Mary in Norfolk with Lionel Hampton providing the music.

KA Rose Ball

Ann McDonald was chosen KA Rose Queen at Randolph-Macon on May 3. Ann Scott, Beverly Gaskins, Martha Rucker, Rose Marie Price, Carol Wise, Barbara Sue Williams, Sharon Kelly attended the dance.

Mary Aldridge, Judy Alexander, Lynne McDade visited U. Va. on May 3. Maxine Crowder traveled to Lexington, and Sara Hackworth and Judy Welch journeyed to Annapolis.

Apple Blossom Festival

Shirley Alcock represented Longwood as a princess at the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester. Duner Cahill, Carole Wolfe, Jackie Harnsberger, Billie Jo Altizer, and Becky Jones attended the festival.

Sigma Chi Party H-S

Joann Kleinecke, Dottie Brown, Harriet Butterworth, Josie Couk, Lois Johnson, Anna Lacy, Jenny Burns, Anne Green, Pat Green, Ellen Trader, Peggy Lovic, Gaye Yeatts, Kay Howard, Marian Creighton, Carolyn Bassford, Dottie Mossis, Nancy Leckler, Bretta Yeoman, Jackie Gibson, Pattie Roach, Pat Neil, Page Davis, Ann Hill, Shelia Galloway, and Oreta Norris attended the parties at H-S April 26.

Wedding Bells

Wedding Bells . . . Brides of '58 . . I DO. . .That one important day won't be far off for many LC girls. In June, July, August, and September, "Here Comes the Bride will be playing. Let's take a look at those lucky girls.

The traditional 'June Brides will include Jeanne Vestal to Carl Hellstorm; Jane Ruppert, Paul Hall; Ann Marie Thacker, Jack Kitchen; Sara Hackworth, Walter Ryan; Eleanor Crowder, Keister Blanks; Shirley Alcock, Whity Warfield; Ruth Zich, Jerry Hill; Shirley McNeill, Evert Green; Carolyn Stonnel, James Baker; Virginia Londeree, Bob Fulcher; Madalyn Bailey, Bernard Warren; Elaine Handy, Arthur Parker; Sandy Fitzgerald, C. D. Tarter; Emma Harrell, Norman Gardner; Anne Presson, Donald Davis; Marcella McBride, Tommy Short; Nancy Ferguson, Jim Soyars; Mary A. Reames, Lawrence Powell; Janet Chase, Bronson Stoneman; Barbara Shockley, Robert Clawson; and Carolyn Garner, Billy Jacobs.

Among those to be married in July are : Emily Irby, John McDowell; Sylvia Moore, Turner Gray; Anne Garrett, Clyde Bailey; and Sherrie Elliott, James Haskett.

Taking their vows in August will be Shirley Grubb, Ben Hall; Emily Atkinson, Billy Williams; Nancy Baker, Larry Cooper; Mary Ann Barnett, Frank Trapp; Wayne Boyden, Pete Dunbar; Ruth Raney, Pete Cowan; Carol Wise, Bob Cummings; Joann White, William Woody; Carmen Johnson, Neill Baxter; Margaret Capehart, George Wilkinson; Pat Younger, Rod Brown; and Martha Ann Marks, George Dobyns.

Those girls who will be married in the fall are: Jackie Lou Harnsberger, Robert Lewis; Mary Ann Foster, Randy Rust; Sue LaFontaine, David George; Frances Patton, Curtis Davis; Carolyn Brittle, Nelson Boykin; Peggy Campbell, Harold Camden; Mary Lou Turner, Dicky McGrath; Harriet Durham, Donald Batchelor; Nancy Elliot, William Hart; Annette Crow, Gaylord Lockett.

Congratulations and best wishes to all of you.

V.M.I. June Dances

Ralph Marterie and Count Bassie will be at V.M.I. to furnish the music for the dances in June. Jean Dunagan, Jeanne Vestal, Hannah White, Bettie Culpepper, Mary Hite Grayson, Elaine Brown, Carol Matthews, Brenda Owen, and Linda Moore will attend the dances.

Annapolis

Sara Hackworth, Nann Miller, Dody Harrison, Dottie Brown, and Judy Welch will dance to the music of Tommy Dorsey's orchestra at June week at Annapolis.

H-S Finals

The Skyliners, an Air Force band who played at Longwood's Senior Dance, will play for Hampden-Sydney Finals, May 28. For the concert that afternoon, the Raleigh "Quintones" will be featured.

Graduation exercises will be June 1 and 2.

H2O Names Leaders

Nancy Donaldson was elected chairman of the 1958-59 water pageant while Carol Matthews was voted co-chairman of the same at a waffle supper sponsored by the H2O Club last Wednesday.

Highlighting the supper was the installation of six new members who are as follows: Mary Hite Grayson, Ruth Looper, Barbara Brantley, Myra Brush, Nancy Miller and Helen Wente.

The members honored their sponsor Miss Weddle, senior members and guests, Miss Iler, Miss Brockenbrough and Miss Souder.

TV Topics

Wednesday, May 14

7:30 Ch. 6 — "Magic Highway, U.S.A." will be offered on Disneyland. Program will be a history of American roads, an analysis of their current chaotic state and a preview of their future, via Walt Disney's live-action and animated cartoon technique.

9:00 Ch. 8 — Robert Penn Warren's Pulitzer prize novel of 1947, "All the King's Men," will be given the first of a two-part airing. Costarring Neville Brand and Maureen Stapleton, the first hour will be seen on this week's Kraft Theater, with the conclusion next week.

10:00 Ch. 12 — A drama about a frightened young man caught in a web of circumstantial evidence which points to his being a murderer will be presented on the Armstrong Circle Theater. Entitled "Accused of Murder," the play stars Tom Carlin.

Thursday, May 15

8:30 Ch. 12 — Mona Freeman, Ray Danton, Elaine Stritch and Jenny Hecht will be featured in "The Disappearance of Daphne," on Climax. Miss Freeman will portray a young society bride who discovers her husband (Danton) is apparently living a double life and is implicated in the disappearance of his former dancing partner.

9:00 Ch. 6 — Genevieve, the Paris chanteuse, and the University of Michigan Glee Club will be guests on the Pat Boone show.

9:30 Ch. 12 — Barry Sullivan will star in the Playhouse 90 production of "Nightmare at Ground Zero," drama of five men trapped by atomic fallout. Cast also includes Jack Warden, Carl Benton Reid, Ainslie Pryor and Edmond Ryan.

Friday, May 16

9:00 Ch. 6 — Wally Cox will star as Father Joe Dvorak in "The Green Grass of St. Theresa," on the Frank Sinatra show. Cox will portray a priest who returns to his boyhood parish as pastor, and by faith, miracles and determination attempts to restore the old, neglected church.

9:30 Ch. 12 — Edmond O'Brien will portray a photographer - reporter caught up in a manhunt for a killer in "The Town That Slept With the Lights On," on the Playhouse of Stars. Suspense drama was written by O'Brien's brother, Liam.

10:00 Ch. 8 — George Jessell will be the "in person" guest on the Jerry Lewis show which will be featured by a skit filmed in London with the 10-man comedy team, the Nitwits.

Saturday, May 17

7:30 Ch. 12 — The "Case of the Long-Legged Models," which begins in a lush Las Vegas gambling hall and ends on two slabs in the morgue, will be offered on the Perry Mason show.

9:30 Ch. 8 — "Pattern for Death," a suspense drama starring Eddie Albert, will be offered on Turning Point.

—Richmond Times Dispatch

Maryland, W & M Take Awards In Track Meet

By JACKIE WALLER

The week end was a big one as far as track was concerned. In the Atlantic Coast Conference meet, Maryland's Terrapins won the team title for the third consecutive year. Duke was second and North Carolina was third. Virginia took a weak sixth place. Duke's Dave Sime was named as the meet's outstanding performer.

William and Mary's Indians came from behind to take their second straight Southern Conference championship. A surprising second was The Citadel. Furman was third; V.P.I. was fifth; V.M.I., sixth; Richmond, eighth; and clinging to ninth place was W and L.

Tennis

In the ACC singles tennis championship, Bob Bortner, N C senior, breezed to victory defeating Don Romhilt of Duke 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

Bortner teamed with Steve Bank to win the doubles championship defeating Romhilt and Dick Katz 6-2, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2. The Tarheels scored a total of 28 points with runnerup Duke scoring 14.

In the Southern Conference George Washington coasted to victory in 6 to 9 divisions with a 32 point total to take their second straight tennis crown. Davidson came in second.

Jim Tarr of G. W. defeated William and Mary's Toby Perry 6-4, 4-6, 6-4 for the individual championship. In the afternoon he teamed up with his brother, Jack, to defeat Perry and Jeff Dixon 6-2, 6-2 for the doubles title.

Baseball

A streaking Hampden-Sydney team enjoyed a 4-2 victory over Randolph Macon College— a ninth inning single by Tiger George Richman drove in the winning runs. Hampden-Sydney defending Mason-Dixon champion, needs only to defeat Bridgewater to nail down the Southern Division title and qualify to meet the northern division winner in playoffs next week.

RPI's Green Devils lost to Norfolk Division of William and Mary 7-2. The triumph elevated the Division into a tie with Hampden-Sydney for the Little Eight lead.

North Carolina topped Virginia by a blistering 5-7 score. N. C. is only a half game behind front running Clemson in the ACC standings.

Richmond's spiders easily downed V.M.I. 10-1. Richmond is the Southern Conference leader and has a 5-1 record in Big Six competition.

This completes the sports picture at pre-exam time. The leaves will be falling over the gridiron next fall when I'll see you again "In the bleachers."

LC Archery Team Takes First Place; Tennis Team Falls

The Longwood Archery Team competed with the Archery Teams of William and Mary and Westhampton Colleges at Westhampton College on Friday, May 9.

Longwood placed first in the match with a score of 1,431. William and Mary placed second, and Westhampton was third.

Nancy Andrews, of Longwood, with a score of 418, placed first in the individual scoring of all those in the match. B-Bo Bolling, of Longwood, with a score of 339, placed second, and Olivia Claire, of Westhampton, with a score of 317, placed third in the match.

The members of the Longwood Archery Team were: Nancy Andrews, Gayle Cunninghan, B-Bo Bolling, Claire Flogue, and Elaine Weddle.

Tennis Team Loses

Longwood's tennis team was defeated by a 3-2 score with Westhampton as the victor. The "blue and white's" two points were scored from the doubles while Westhampton won all three single matches.

The members of the Longwood Tennis Team were: Barbara Brantley, Lou Heier, Judy Holderman, Jeanette Talbot, Mary Hite Grayson and Jean Fairfax.

A Girl's Best Friend

Mothers' Day was last Sunday but it's never too late to read about mothers . . .

Marjorie Riddle in The Atlantic Monthly

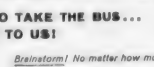
Mothers often believe their daughters to be more intelligent than everyone else and, at the same time, sillier than everyone else. A mother who sees her daughter off to college for the first time believes firmly, for instance, that her offspring will not only be top of her class but will also stick her head out of the window just as the train reaches a tunnel and not even get there.

Mothers always expect the best and always expect the worst, which means they always win. Earn a medal for the best hive of bees and mother will be standing around saying she always knew it. Get stung and mother has always told you so. Go abroad and have a wonderful time and mother will always have known you were sensible and self-reliant. Fall into a canal at Venice and mother always knew no good could come of it.

But it's on the subject of boy friends, engagements and marriages that mothers reach their peak. They believe in lots of boy friends, a few boy friends, no boy friends; they believe in daughters having boy friends at an early age or at a later age; they believe in early engagements, late engagements, in long engagements and short; they believe in early marriages and late marriages; they believe in any or all of this at one time or another according to circumstances.

Mothers, being unpredictable, can be adaptable. When circumstances change, their true genius makes itself felt. Whatever they believe in before now turns out not to be what they believed in at all, after which—circumstances often being unstable—it might even develop that what they really believed in all the time is what they believe in now.

Lots of mothers, of course, aren't like any other mothers. But in at least one respect they are all the same — they stand loyal to their daughters. Rob a bank, commit murder, blow up the government, and nothing will shake a mother's conviction that in the first place you didn't do it, and in the second place somebody made you.



But try telling her you always wear sufficient underclothes and see if she believes you.

—Readers' Digest

GET THE JUMP ON VACATION FUN ...GO GREYHOUND®!

- Lowest fares of all public transportation!
- Frequent departures! Quickest time to many cities!
- Air-conditioned comfort; picture-window sightseeing; fully equipped restroom; on all Scenicruiser Service® schedules!

Compare these low, low fares!*

Farmville to Fredericksburg	3.45
Farmville to Lynchburg	1.55
Farmville to Norfolk	4.20
Farmville to Richmond	2.00
Farmville to Roanoke	3.15
Farmville to Washington	4.80

*one-way fare, plus tax

IT'S SUCH A COMFORT TO TAKE THE BUS... AND LEAVE THE DRIVING TO US!

Brainstorm! No matter how much baggage you're taking home— Greyhound can take it all!

TYPICAL TEST GIVEN STUDENTS ENTERING THE HALLS OF IVY

The nemesis of all college students preparing to register at a college or university are the applications, forms, papers, bulletins, various and sundry quiz papers delved into one's past and private life — usually in triplicate. The following are a series of suggested information cards which should completely satisfy every office and department no matter how inquisitive they are.

INFORMATION DESK NO. 1

Name in Full (Please Type)
Name in Full, Last Name First
Name Spelled Backwards
Name Spelled Sideways
Name Spelled as Though Looking in a Mirror
Stand on Head and Write Name
How Do You Spell Your Name?
Name Written Left Handed (If left handed already, write name with right foot)
Name in Sanskrit ..... Greek Translation
Sawhill ..... Gutteral
Pronunciation
Please Note: This card valid only if signed by student.

DEAN'S OFFICE NO. 2

Name in Full
Name of Nearest Relative Willing to Post Bond
Dip Right Thumb in Ink and Place Here ( )
When Did You Get Out? ..... Probation Officer
Do You Wish You Were Back?
When Do You Plan to Repeat Crime?
Can I Come Along? Do You Drink?
Why? Why Not?
Do You Plan To Graduate? ..... Do You Really Plan To Graduate?
Honest and Truly? ..... Alternate Plans

TREASURER'S OFFICE NO. 3

Name in Full
Father's Name in Full
Father's Weight in Full
Father's Income Amount of Income Tax-Return
Cheating, eh?
Is He Long for this World? How Long?
Is His Insurance Paid Up? If Not, Why Not?
Estimate of Father's Estate Is He Rich?
Filthy Rich? Really Filthy? Name of Father's Bookmaker?
Telephone Number Does He Have Television?
What's Good in the Fifth at Jamaica? .....
How Do You Know?
Never Mind. Will you pay your bills? Sign in blood
Do You Keep a Strong Box? ..... Where?
Combination

RELIGIOUS AFFILIATION NO. 4

Thy Name ..... Thy Given Name
Thy Christian Name ..... Thy Pagan Name
Thy Nickname
Dost Thou Go to Church Which One?
Really? How Often?
Hast Thou Been Baptized?
Immersed or Sprinkled?
Name of Home Town Parish and Pastor
Name of Book from Which Home Town Pastor Copied His Sermons
Is It Good? ..... Name of Author
To Complete this write in 10,000 words or more your reasons for "Why Am I Going to College?"

—From The Brackety-Ack, Roanoke College

Dance College Signs Jose Limon

Leading modern dance teachers and performers have been named to the faculty of the Connecticut School of the Dance for the coming season.

Ruth Bloomer, co-director, has announced that the school, now in its 11th year, will be in session from July 7 through August 17 on the Connecticut College campus, summer center for modern dance study and performance.

Returning as members of the dance faculty for the 11th session will be Doris Humphrey, Louis Horst and Jose Limon.

Joining the teaching faculty for the first time will be Merce Cunningham, described by New York critics as "One of the greatest dancers of our time," and Inga Weise, who will teach according to the Mary Wigman method.

This summer's faculty will also include the following: George Beiswanger, Ruth Ferguson, Martha Graham, Lucas ovine, o v i n g, az Johnson, Pauline Koner, Norman Lloyd, Ruth Lloyd, elen Priest Rogers, Thomas Watson and Theodora Wiesner.

For further information write to Connecticut School o the Dance, New London, Conn.

Week's Best Quote: "Of course I love my boy friend — but I can't go around marring every boy I'm in love with."

Alumnae News

The Winchester Alumnae Luncheon was held on Saturday, May 10, at the Winchester Country Club. Those of the Longwood faculty attending were Dean Ruth Wilson and Miss Mary Nichols.

The Winchester Alumnae attending were: Jesse Pickett Carter, president; Betty Davis Edwards, incoming president; Mary Jane Jolliffe Light; Margaret Bridgeforth; Mary William Calvert Hollannis; and Anne Synder.

Also Patsy Ritter Jack; Winnie Murdock; Ann Brooking; Dorothy Overcash, Nancy Harrelt Buler, Church Groups Close Year

By ANN GLOVER

Wesley Foundation

The spring planning retreat will be held May 16 and 17 at the Wesley Foundation Student Center. All old and new council members are encouraged to attend this retreat. This year's activities will be evaluated and the programs and activities for the coming year will be planned.

Sunday, May 18, Wesley Foundation will play host to the MYF group from Concord Methodist Church. The MYF'ers will be in charge of the program and the fellowship hour.

The last Sunday evening meeting, May 25, will be an outdoor vesper service under the direction of Malinda Ayres, student director.

Newman Club

The Newman Club had a Communion banquet at the Weyanoke Hotel, Friday, May 2, after receiving Communion as a group at the Roman Catholic Church. Gifts were given to Father Fenton and Miss Ross in appreciation of their interest and work with the Newman Club during the past year.

Westminster Fellowship

The Westminster Fellowship held its annual spring picnic Sunday, May 11, at Goodwyn's Lake. After recreation and a picnic supper, the the senior members of the group presented a program of short talks.

On Sunday, May 18, the Westminster Fellowship will conduct the morning worship service in the Farmville Presbyterian Church. Sunday evening the West Fel will be led in a Communion service by Dr. C. Lloyd Arehart, and this program will conclude the activities for this year.

Saturday, May 17, members of the Westminster Fellowship will hold a car wash at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Arehart to raise money to send a student on a volunteer work camp this summer. All Presbyterian students are invited and urged to attend this car wash which will begin at 2 p.m.

Baptist

On Sunday, April 27, fifty-six members of the BSU attended the annual spring picnic at the home of Dr. Johnson, one of the faculty advisors.

Mr. Bill Jenkins, the state Executive Secretary, conducted a methods course for the Greater Council on April 26, after which a buffet supper was served.

A model Southern Baptist Convention was held Sunday, May 11, at 7 p.m. at the Baptist Church.

The BSU Trio, consisting of Coreta Bennett, Jean Peyton, and Lillian Rosson, has been invited to sing for the revival at Enon Baptist Church on May 13.

The special Senior Night Program which honors all Baptist Seniors will be held during the Training Union program on May 18.

On May 25, all Baptists are invited to take a break from studying for exams and go to the center for a cook-out and a vesper service.

B.S.U.'ers are urged to attend the weekly Wednesday night meetings at the church at 7:30 p.m. Anyone interested in going can meet at the Center and leave from there.

Tudor To Work At Oak Ridge Lab

Natalie Tudor has received a temporary summer appointment for 10 weeks beginning June 6, 1958 as a Biology Student Trainee in the Biology Division at Oak Ridge National Laboratory, operated by the Union Carbide Nuclear Company, at Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

Natalie is a junior biology from Critz. he holds the positions of secretary and treasurer of the Lynchos ociety, secretary of the Longwood Choir, and membership on the B. S. U. Executive Council. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi Honorary Fraternity and also a member of the Southwest Virginia Club.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Second Semester 1957-1958

Day and date of examination	Morning Period 8:05 to 11:05 a.m.	Afternoon Period 1:05 to 4:05 p.m.
Saturday, May 24	Classes meeting 8:05 M W F or 8:05 M T W T F
Monday, May 26	Classes meeting 9:05 M W F or 9:05 M T W T F	Classes meeting 1:05 M W F
Tuesday, May 27	Classes meeting 10:05 T T S	Classes meeting 8:05 T T S
Wednesday, May 28	Classes meeting 11:05 T T S or T T	Classes meeting 11:05 M W F or 11:05 M T W T F
Thursday, May 29	Classes meeting 10:05 M W F	Classes meeting 2:05 M W F and 3:05 M W F
Friday, May 30	Classes meeting 9:05 T T S	Classes meeting 2:05 T T and 3:05 T T

Did You Know?

By BARBARA SUE WILLIAMS

In a recent survey of daily activity at Longwood, some astounding results have been uncovered!

DID YOU KNOW

That approximately 1800 pieces of clothes are ironed daily by Longwood girls?

That about 10 pounds of hamburger is sold each day in the Rec?

That approximately five or six dozen bags of potato chips are bought by Longwood girls daily in the Rec?

That, in a poll taken on a 30-girl hall, about 41% of the girls have radios in their rooms?

Timely Topics

By BARBARA HECK

Vice President Nixon flew to Colombia Sunday to continue his goodwill tour of Latin America.

The exhibition by Peruvian students on Thursday in which they threw stones and jeered at Nixon was declared to be of Communist origin. Many students, however, were friendly; no other disturbances have occurred on the tour . . . Federal troops will leave Little Rock this summer, and President Eisenhower announced that the return of the troops would depend on the state and local authorities to accept the federal court orders for integration . . . A big aid to college education is being planned by the House Education Committee. A tentative agreement was made Friday to set up a 260-million dollar federal scholarship and loan program . . . Red Skelton's son, Richard, died Saturday of leukemia. The disease was detected two years ago, and vain attempts had been made to find medical aid for the boy.

Of interest to Longwood job hunters is an article printed in Time. "In Texarkana, Tex., the Gazette gave a spelling test to screen job applicants, (a sample answers: misiansion for miscellaneous, axesserys for accessories, vacon for vacuum, uncombird for unencumbered), and found just one person who could make a perfect score: a 45-year-old housewife with an eighth-grade education!"

Vacation Vogue

Fashion News

By MARTHA RUCKER

Soon You'll See . . .

Heels go lower to balance the lines of chemiserie—with the shorter, smarter hem line to reveal more leg than has been seen in many a summer.

Fabrics go from soft and subtle to crisp and cool.

Shorter hair—and if your best beau is brooding over it, the Paris Couturiers have a solution in hand. Its a pony-tail hat, fashioned from velvet. Besides, one Manhattan firm is coming out with budget wigs so milady can change the color and style of her hair as easily as she dons a new dress.

24 caret gold fingernails—Revlon has put out a new line of gold-frosted nail enamel in Rose Gold, Pink Gold, and Gold Gold. It will look especially nice on tan hands.

Gay beach hats—the sporty straw which has swept our campus and for the fancier dresser, beach hats will be decked with lovely artificial flowers and streamers.

Travel togs—brown is replacing black and beige in color for town and travel dresses. Linen is still the vogue.

Wicker-basket bags — if you're going shopping, on a picnic, or just out for fun, the new basket-type bag with the rope handle is the answer.

"We wear short shorts" — yes, short shorts are back in style, now worn with overblouses, baggy sweaters, of the conventional V-neck shirt and sleeveless blouse.

Baubles, bangles, and beads — enameled jewelry will be especially good this summer and rock-candy beads will be chic on summer dresses.

Flowers from head to toe — the smart girl this summer will be in style in flowered hats, flowered prints in dresses and coats, flowered cloth shoes and bags, and rosebuds have been sprinkled over the traditional white gloves to add a flair. But please — don't wear them all at once

Marts Smarts

What every Freshman should know: Joe Garcis of Melbourne, Australia once ate 480 oysters in 60 minutes without finding a single pearl.

Wish I'd said that: A lady is a woman who makes it easy for a man to be a gentleman. — Joe Louth, Oak Park, Ill.

WILSON'S HOME AND AUTO
Top Tunes

1. All I Have to Do is Dream
2. Witch Doctor
3. He's Got the Whole World in His Hands
4. Wear My Ring Around Your Neck
5. Twilight Time
6. Return to Me
7. Book of Love
8. Chanson d'Amour
9. Believe What You Say
10. Cupie Doll

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT 1958 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

Know the answer?

What's an eight-letter word which reminds you of good taste, sparkle, lift? The answer's easy—Coca-Cola of course. No puzzle about why it's so popular . . . no other sparkling drink gives you so much good taste, so much satisfaction. Yes, when you're looking for refreshment, the answer's always Coke!

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Hamner, Souder, Sutherland To Leave At Close Of Year

Hamner To Retire As House Mother

By BET McLOUGHLIN

Miss Evelyn Hamner has announced her plans for her coming retirement from the administrative staff of Longwood College. Miss Hamner has been a member of the staff for the past 14 years as a college hostess. She has spent most of this time as Freshman House Mother, the position with which she is most cloely associated.

MISS EVELYN HAMNER

When she retires at the end of this session, Miss Hamner will make her home in Richmond. She has expressed her desire to do so and hopes that her plans can be worked out.

In discussing her coming retirement, Miss Hamner emphasizes the fact that she has grown very fond of Farmville and of Longwood College in the past fourteen years: and she states, "I will miss the girls and the college very much, and I will also miss the Presbyterian church of Farmville. I am also looking forward to visiting Farmville and my friends here often."

Upperclassmen whose memories of the freshman year recall Miss Hamner as the freshmen house mother have expressed their regret at Miss Hamner's retirement. One student comments, "It won't be the same without Miss Hamner at Longwood. Her flower decorations brighten up the Rotunda and it has been a pleasure seeing her around."

Miss Hamner, a native Virginian, lived in Roanoke before coming to Longwood 14 years ago.

Mrs. Marion Councill will succeed Miss Hamner as college hostess. Mrs. Councill is a native of Farmville, but has lived in Hickory, North Carolina, for the past 18 years.

Souder Ends Service As Assistant Dean, Plans June Wedding

By HENRIETTA DOLLINS

Miss Thelma Souder, Longwood's Assistant Dean of Women, is resigning at the end of this semester, to be married in June.

Of Longwood and her experience here since 1956, Miss Souder remarked, "Longwood girls have that friendliness and intangible spirit of which it is a privilege to be a part. I knew, upon my first visit here, that this was the place where I would like to be. I do not think I could have worked anywhere that would have been more satisfactory."

Besides generally assisting Miss Ruth Wilson, Dean of Women, Miss Souder has been in charge of housing, including dormitory assignments for both the winter and summer school sessions, and convention residences. She has served as advisor to the Pan-Hellenic Council, and has been actively employed in student counseling work and in high school visitations during her two years at Longwood.

Of Miss Souder, Miss Wilson remarked, "In the two years that she has been at Longwood College, Miss Souder has been a very valuable member of our 'family.' She has endeared herself to students and faculty alike, and has at all times entered enthusiastically into the work and play of the campus. Personally, without her help this year I do not know what I would have done. She has been my right hand, and I shall miss her next year more than I can say."

After her marriage, Miss Souder and her husband will make their home in Buena Vista, where her plans tentatively include teaching several courses at Southern Seminary.

Born in Georgia, and spending a part of her youth in New Jersey, Miss Souder and her family moved to Buena Vista, where she attended Southern Seminary for two years. She was graduated from Chapel Hill of the University of North Carolina with an A.B. degree, and then attended Cornell University where she obtained her M.A. degree. During her studies at Cornell, she was chosen to be one of three head residents, which placed her in charge of six houses, each including 60 students. This responsibility gave her much experience in student personnel work, which proved valuable to her as she became actively engaged in her first position at Longwood.

MISS THELMA SOUDER

College Regrets Loss Of Teacher

By PATSY POWELL

Dr. Francis G. Lankford, Jr., President of Longwood College, announced today the coming retirement of Dr. Ethel Sutherland, Professor of Mathematics.

In making this announcement, Dr. Lankford commented, "She has done a superb job here. Never leaving the office before five, Miss Sutherland works many hours and never stops helping students. She has devoted her whole resources to teaching and has not spared herself one moment. As a member of the faculty, she has been tremendously valuable."

Dr. Sutherland has been a member of the faculty here for twelve years, having come to Farmville in the fall of 1946, and has been a highly successful teacher. She previously taught at East Carolina College in Greenville, North Carolina. Before that she served six years as Instructor of Mathematics and seven years as Associate in the Teaching of Mathematics at Teachers' College, Columbia University, where she had received her B. S., M. A., and Ph. D. degrees.

Dr. Sutherland has also taught in the Horace Mann High School for Girls at Columbia University and in elementary and junior high schools in New Jersey. "I have fairly well combed education,' she remarked.

Concerning her twelve years at Longwood, Dr. Sutherland says, "I have enjoyed my work here. I've enjoyed working with the girls and with the administration." While at Longwood she has given willingly of her time and served on several faculty committees, among them the Graduate Council, the Policies Committee, the Admissions Committee and the Honors Committee. Last session she was a member of the Faculty Student Committee on Absences.

For a number of years Dr. Sutherland sponsored the Longwood chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, National Honor Society in Education, and she is a member of the Farmville chapter of the American Association of University Women.

When asked about her plans for the future she replied that she had only made plans for the immediate future saying, "I'm going to New York and do a few things I never had time to do. There are so many things to see and do.'

Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss, Chairman of Longwood's History Department, remarked, "My feeling is that she (Dr. Sutherland) has been a very important stimulant to the faculty generally by her interest and ability as a faculty member. She has been tremendously valuable by virtue of her willingness and ability to work indefatigably with the students.'

Upon hearing of Dr. Sutherland's coming retirement junior elementary education major, Virlinda Joyner, expressed her feelings this way: "Longwood will certainly lose a valuable teacher in Dr. Sutherland. She had impressed me with her classroom procedure and her way of making her students think. I am glad that I had the opportunity to be in her classes."

DR. ETHEL SUTHERLAND

When asked of her feelings concerning Dr. Sutherland's retirement, Dr. Blanche C. Badger, Chairman of the Mathematics Department answered, "My professional experience with Miss Sutherland during the past two years is high on my list of 'invaluables.' Her devotion to high ideals, both socially and academically, is inspirational to anyone who works with her. The Mathematics Department is losing a scholar, a lady, and a true friend to Longwood College."

Campus Exhibits World Festivals, Art Illustrations

The Elementary Art Education class is preparing a display centered on Festivals Around the World. America, Mexico, England, the Orient, Africa, and American Indians are among the nationalities represented.

The displays are on tables which have back drops and coverings arranged to contribute to the festivals on the tables. The United States is in the center and the other countries are grouped around it. This display is in the Art Department.

Library Exhibits

Displays in the Library showing the Art of Illustration, flower arranging, and Japanese calendars are currently on view.

The Art of Illustration explains step-by-step how color pictures are printed. The display on flower arranging has books about the arrangement of flowers on a table below a back drop. The Japanese calendars are displayed on a back drop above books about Japan.

Exam Prayer

By JOANNE KLEINECKE

Oh, Spirit of Wisdom, descend on us all
Walk with firm footsteps down each Longwood hall.
Unscrew each limp noggin and fill it with sense
Most students, you know, are incredibly dense.
We would like knowledge about various things—
Science, art, English and the lineage of kings.
There are still other favors we'd like you to do;
Please help us our fingernails all not to chew.
And as for those cigarettes glowing so bright,
Set our quota at not over fifty a night.
Give professors sharp pencils that write only "A's"
Put more playtime hours in each of our days.
And if you could see your way clear on the deal,
A tranquilizer pill we'd enjoy with each meal.
Keep dormitory noises down to a mild roar,
Make studies so simple they won't seem a chore.
But, if all these petitions you regard as pure bunk,
Then at lease help us, spirit, to cheerfully flunk!

"Lady Killers"

(Continued from page 1)

advertised for rent and initiates other "musicians" who arrive with violin and cello cases and announce to Miss Johnson that they will practice string quartets.

The musicians carry on business and Miss Johnson soon finds out too much. She goes to the police and tells them her story, but they won't believe her this time. Incidents which follow are quite amusing and go to prove that "crime does not pay."

The story and screen play are written by William Rose, produced by Sir Micheal Balcon and directed by Alexander Mackendrick.

1958 Sea Nymph
BATHING SUITS
All Sizes
$8.99 to $14.99
Sportswear Shop
LEGGETT'S

ALL DOLLAR
STATIONERY
79c
With This Coupon May 15. 16
SPECIAL ON FILM
2 rolls 89c
120, 127, 620
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

"WITH THE HELP OF THIS TINY, SPARKLING FILTER
You Can Guide a Rocket Across Half a World!"

CLAUDIA ARMSTEAD sits in her familiar chair at the entrance to the "Rec."

Faithful Claudia To Leave Her "Nice Young Ladies"

By BARBARA HURST

As familiar to Longwood students as the statue of Joan, Claudia Armstead, the front hall night maid, will not be in the Rotunda to welcome the new freshmen to Longwood next fall. After twelve years of looking after her "nice young ladies," Claudia is retiring this year.

Coming to Longwood in 1946, the same year as Dr. Lancaster, Claudia has served under three Deans of Women: Dean Smith, Dean Gleaves, and Dean Wilson, and with Mrs. Dudley and Mrs. Howard, hostesses before Mrs. Rex.

Previously she worked in the school system in Newport News. After retirement, Claudia plans to work part time and to visit with her nieces whom she reared.

Thinking back over the years that she has been here, Claudia said, "I have enjoyed seeing all the freshmen come in and all the girls have been so nice to me—asking me to come to the plays and especially asking me to come back for graduation next year." She chuckled over such antics as cutting pillows, dropping the feathers over the Rotunda, and some of her "problem children" such as the girl who used to climb out of the window to see her date after Mrs. Rex closed the door.

Witness to many improvements in the college during her stay, Claudia remembers when the White House and Auditorium burned in March, 1949, later replaced by Tabb and Jarman Halls. She said that altogether the campus has been beautified by the new buildings and landscaping. Especially appreciated by Claudia were the house phones, so that she no longer had to go upstairs to call dates.

"The girls," says Claudia, "have improved about bringing in animals, especially kitties. Once a kitty was hit by a car and a freshman brought it in — I had to tell her although there was almost everything else here, there wasn't a funeral home for kitties."

"Never Misses A Trick"

Commenting on the faithful maid, Mrs. Rex said, "I will miss her cheerful disposition. She is interested in everybody and never misses a trick, often setting the boys straight by saying 'You know your Maw don't want you to look like that when you come visiting our nice young ladies'."

Not only a familiar figure to the students, but to the administration as well with her neat appearance and gracious manner, Claudia will be missed by everyone here. Upon learning of Claudia's retirement, Dr. Lankford remarked that he is wondering "who will keep that radiator warm," referring to Claudia's habitual guardian position by the entrance to the Smoker and Rec.

Mrs. Louise Dugger, night hostess during summer school commented, "I will certainly hate to see her leave. We've had some rare experiences with spooks." Maybe she was referring to the time Claudia related when the Hampden-Sydney boy caught a skunk and tried to bring it into the Rotunda.

Retiring Housemother, Miss Evelyn Hamner said, "Law honey, she bosses those boys around. She really knows how to handle them and she helped me quite a bit."

Mrs. Katherine Walton, housekeeping supervisor, seems to sum up how we all feel about Claudia in this tribute: "She's part of Longwood, both faithful and loyal . . . quite a tradition. It will be hard to fill her place."

Advisor Evaluates Longwood Panhel

A local Panhellenic Workshop was held on May 5 and 6 by the Longwood Panhellenic Association. Mrs. Julia Fuque Ober, National Panhellenic Area Advisor, was invited to help re-evaluate this association and give suggestions on improvements.

On May 5 Mrs. Ober met with both the old and new Panhellenic Council. At this time she helped revamp the constitution of the association.

On May 6 Mrs. Ober had a conference with advisors of all sororities followed by a tea with representatives of the eight sororities. Later in the afternoon a mass meeting was held in Jarman Auditorium at which time Mrs. Ober spoke on how National Panhellenic binds us together.

This workshop having been so informative, the Panhellenic Association hopes to attend a state workshop during the coming year.

WALKER'S RESTAURANT
Club Breakfast - Lunch
Course Dinners
Fountain Service
Phone 3280
U. S. 360 and 460
Burkeville, Va.

FOR YOUR ENTERTAINMENT
Listen To The
BASEBALL GAMES
followed by
SPORTS BANDSTAND
Daily Over
W - F - L - O

Groups Elect Officers, Issue Bids

Those organizations which have elected '58-59 officers and which have not been enumerated in previous issues of the Rotunda include: Pi Gamma Mu, Lynchos Society, the Home Economics Club, the Longwood College Choir, and Longwood Players.

Dean Heads AKG

Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honorary fraternity for leadership in womanly service, recently chose Minnie Lee Dean, a junior from Radford, president. Other officers are Lou Heier, vice-president; Delo Dove, treasurer; Lillian Rosson, secretary; and Nancy Brubeck, historian.

Pi Gamma Mu

The '58-59 officers of Pi Gamma Mu include: president, Junior Joan Heavyside, a history major from Petersburg; vice - president, Jane Kell; secretary, Virlinda Joyner; treasurer, Fran McLoughlin. Those who have recently accepted bids for membership to this organization are: Rose Marie Byer, Ella Gray, Shirley Grubb, Elaine Handy, Virlinda Joyner, Jane Kell, Carol Lash, Fran McLoughlin, Jo Ann Scarborough, Ann Wallace, and Mary Miller Aldridge. Pi Gamma Mu held its inauguration ceremony of the '58-59 officers on May 7 at the Alumnae House. Recently this organization has altered a few of its requirements for membership. Education 352, Psychology 251-252, Psychology 231, and Psychology 351 have been dropped from the list of stated requirements.

Lynchos Society

The '58-59 officers for the Lynchos Society, which is the very recently organized local honorary Science and Math fraternity here on the Longwood Campus, are as follows: president, Margie Layman, a junior math major from Blacksburg; vice-president, Julia Grey Wallace; secretary and treasurer, Natalie Tudor. The organization consists of 15 members, three of which have just recently accepted bids. They are Kate Krehbiel, Ruth Looper, and Carolyn Waugaman. The Lynchos Society had as a speaker on April 24, Dr. John Forbes, professor of Bio-Chemistry at the Medical College of Virginia, who spoke on the effect of alcohol on the body. Also, delegates from the society attended the Virginia Academy of Science in Roanoke on May 9-10.

Home Economics Club

The '58-59 officers for the Home Economics Club include: president, Martha Rucker, a junior home ec major from Lynchburg; vice-president, Nancy Miller; secretary, Katherine Key; and treasurer, Annie Lee Young.

Longwood Choir

The Longwood College Choir recently elected their officers for the '58-59 session. Elaine Weddle, a junior music major from Roanoke will serve as president. Jo Ann Garner was elected as vice-president, Joan Dorsey will serve as treasurer, and Natalie Tudor and Dorothy Marshall both will serve as secretaries.

Longwood Players

Junior Hannah Haile from Tappahannock, a biology major, has been elected president with Molly Workman serving as vice - president; Mary Linda League, secretary; Becky Jones, treasurer; Vicki Brinkley, technical director.

Cotillion Club

Cass Connor, junior from Arlington, has been elected president of Cotillion Club. Ernestine Stoltz will serve as figure leader; Betty Spivey will be the new secretary-treasurer; Melinda Franklin is dance chairman; and Ann Glover is business manager.

Orchesis Issues Bids

Longwood's modern dance club, Orchesis, recently initiated eight new members: Pat Baugh, Connie Goodman, Norma Jean Johnson, Marion Lambiotte, Dot Marshall, Mary Lou Morgan, Norrish Munson, and Roberta Silcox.

These students have completed their apprenticeship and have shown an interest in the creative aspect of dance. They all participated in the Arts Festival modern dance program in Jarman April 23. Mrs. Emily K. Landrum is advisor and director of the group.

Joan Dorsey, a junior from Winchester, has been newly elected president of Orchesis, the honorary dance group. Other officers are Dottie Marshall, vice-president; and Marion Lambiotte, secretary.

Richmond Club

The Richmond club elected Joanne Kleinecke, a freshman business and English major, president. Other officers are Kay Pierce, vice-president; and Sheila Galloway, secretary-treasurer.

Alpha Psi Omega

Alpha Psi Omega has elected Vicki Brinkley president. A junior from Suffolk, Vickie was awarded a Little Oscar by the Longwood Players yesterday.

Other officers include Mary Linda League, vice-president; Amy McFall, secretary; and Donna Boone, treasurer.

Graduation

(Continued from page 1)

final schedule of events as undergraduates. The first event on the note of graduation will be Senior Assembly scheduled for May 20. At this time, the seniors will recall to their minds all songs and memories associated with their class, with Traci Faison acting as chairman of the assembly. The Junior class will have its first taste of the role of seniors as they march out under an arch made by the seniors to the Alma Mater.

Senior Banquet Tonight

Tonight the annual Senior Banquet will take place in the dining hall with Cornelia Ann Batte as chairman. Their sister class, the Sophomores, have planned the entertainment and decorations for the evening.

Officers of the graduating class are Shirley Hauptman, president; Sue LaFontaine, vice - president; Jackie Harnsberger, secretary; Ruth Zick, treasurer; "Tipi" Waugaman, historian.

Rotunda

(Continued from page 1)

Byrd Hotel.

Delegates from the Rotunda staff attending the VIPA Convention were: Linda Doles, Editor-in-Chief; Bet McLoughlin, Associate Editor; Judy Eckstrom, News Editor; Henrietta Dollins, Feature Editor; Cherry Gorham, Assistant News Editor; JoAnn Parsons, Chris Kamen and Frances Harnsberger.

Delegates from the Virginian staff were Barbara Bishop, Editor-in-Chief; Dottie Boswell, Business Manager; and Nancy Donaldson, Assistant Business Manager.

Critique sessions for college publications were held Saturday morning at the University of Richmond.

You'll be sittin' on top of the world when you change to L&M

Light into that L&M Live Modern flavor

You get a more effective filter on today's L&M

Look for the patent number . . . on every pack . . . your assurance that you are getting L&M's exclusive filtering action

Best tastin' smoke you'll ever find!

Put yourself behind the pleasure end of an L&M. Get the flavor, the full rich taste of the Southland's finest cigarette tobaccos. The patented Miracle Tip is pure white inside, pure white outside, as a filter should be for cleaner, better smoking.

©1958 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Rotunda Vols. 33-37

75220

Rotunda. v. 33-37.
75220
USE ONLY IN THE LIBRARY.
in Reserves

and time out please print (Box NO.)

The Rotunda

38-40

Oct. 1958 -

May 1961

The Rotunda

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., October 1, 1958 | No. 1

Boone Named General Head Of '58 Circus

Donna Boone, a senior from Marion, has been named general chairman of Alpha Kappa Gamma's '58 Longwood Circus production. The annual tradition will be climaxed here October 25 as classes compete for float and skit awards.

Sponsored by the national honorary fraternity for leadership, Circus plans are now getting underway as each class begins work and hours of practice for this gala event.

Having much previous experience in Circus, Donna has served as class Circus chairman and has been active in Circus each year. Her junior year, she represented her class in the Circus court. Thus she has become a student symbol of the many phases of Circus activities.

Donna is also a member of Longwood Players, Alpha Psi Omega, and Cotillion Club.

As representative of each class, chairmen have been selected to lead groups on skit, parade, and both selections. General class chairmen are Dottie Boswell and Cat Ozmon, seniors; Jo Ann Garner and Carolyn DeHaven, juniors; Dodie Webster and Jane Stegall, sophomores; Sue Sharp and Leo Pagenhardt, freshmen.

To begin Circus day, the student body participates in a parade through Farmville. Each class marches together, displaying its colors and floats symbolizing its secretive skit plot.

Beauty is also a feature of Circus. The queen is selected from the senior class and her court is composed of deserving members from each class. On Circus night, these girls receive their honors and are then revealed to the audience.

Competition reaches its peak when each class presents its original skit, which is judged on originality of plot and class participation, and vies for the distinctive honor of being chosen first place winner.

Miss Mary P. Nichols, Associate Professor of English, has been named new advisor for The Rotunda. Dr. James Wellard, previous advisor, has been granted a year's leave of absence.

Miss Virginia H. Tyree, Instructor in English, has been named as The Rotunda's technical advisor along with serving on the faculty committee for the paper.

Porter To Speak At Convocation

Katherine Anne Porter, one of America's foremost short story and short novel writers will preside as guest speaker for Convocation exercises being held here October 6. Miss Porter will speak on the importance of memory, her point being, "... that in order to understand and not be deceived or illusioned about what is happening to you now, it is necessary to remember what happened to you then -any time in the past- and to be able to trace the events, their nature, their meaning, that brought you to the present."

She is now in Charlottesville taking up her duties as writer in residence at the University of Virginia. However, she is free to continue her professional writing and fill a few outside engagements during the fall, stated Floyd Stovall, chairman of the University of Virginia's department of English. She will devote much of her energies to the University, where she will be a regular member of the staff, he continued.

Miss Porter is the second writer in residence to be at the University. William Faulkner was the first.

It has been said of Miss Porter, that she is internationally known and appreciated even though she has not considered making the necessary concessions to become a "best seller."

Faculty, Staff Acquire Twelve New Members

The 1959-60 Session of Longwood College has brought a number of new faces to the faculty and administration.

Miss R. Jenelle Spear, who comes to Longwood as Assistant Dean of Women and Instructor, has been studying at Syracuse University during the past two years. A graduate of Agnes Scott College, Miss Spear has worked at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, and was an assistant in the office of the Dean of Women and head resident while at Syracuse University.

Elizabeth Gibert

Dr. Elizabeth Gibert comes to Longwood as an Associate Professor of Education, having received her B. S., M. Ed., and Ph. D. degrees from the University of South Carolina. While pursuing doctoral work during the past year, Miss Gibert taught part-time and she has also taught in the public schools of South Carolina.

Josephine Magnifico

Coming to the Mathematics Department this year as Assistant Professor, Mrs. Josephine H. Magnifico obtained her B. S. degree from Mary Baldwin College and her M. Ed. from the University of Virginia. Mrs. Magnifico has had several years of teaching experience and for the past six years has taught in the Albermarle County public schools.

Clifford Smith

Longwood's new Assistant Professor of Music, Mr. Clifford Smith, obtained his B. S. degree from Indiana State Teachers College and his M. Ed. from Pennsylvania State University. Mr. Smith has served as supervisor of music in public schools for six years, and he comes to us from Northwest Mississippi Junior College where he has served as head of the music department since 1956.

Virginia Tyree

Miss Virginia H. Tyree, Instructor in English, comes to fill the vacancy caused by the leave of absence granted to Dr. Gardner Taplin. Miss Tyree holds an A. B. degree from Hollins College and an M.A. degree from the University of Virginia and comes from the College of William and Mary where she taught for the past three years.

Barbara Dowd

Another addition to the faculty is Miss Barbara Dowd, Instructor in Physical Education, who received her B. S. degree from Memphis State University and her M. A. from the University of Alabama. While a graduate student at the University of Alabama, Miss Dowd was a part-time teacher.

Anna Applegate

Filling a new position as Instructor in English and Speech is Miss Anna Katherine Applegate, who has done graduate work toward a master's degree at Indiana University. She has had several years of teaching experience in the Indiana public schools.

Barbara Pollard

Mrs. Barbara B. Pollard, who is replacing Dr. James Wellard, on leave of absence from the English Department, received her B.A. degree from Westhampton College. For the past several years, she has taught at Stuart Hall in Staunton

(Continued on page 4)

75th Anniversary Year Begins

Sophomores Name Patsy Carr Top Rat

Rat Day activities came to a climax Monday night as Patsy Carr was named as Top Rat of the Class of 1962 to succeed Lucy Wilson, last year's Top Rat.

Ginny Peters assumed the position of second top rat with Gigi Maitland, Dottie Nelson, Pat Hickey, Trina Childress, Sue Sharp, Windy Warren, Jackie Davis, Wennie Egolf, and Liz Deichman comprising the top ten rats.

The freshmen named Orchids to You were Lois Peters, Sue Berdmore, Becky Tuck, Nancy Buckingham, Ginny Whipple, and Jeanine McKenzie.

Rat Day activities got off to a terrifying start Friday night as the mighty sophomores entered the Rotunda, garbed in black with all its ghostly accessories. Humming their weird chant, the sophs began "Hell Night."

Freshmen rats could be seen lining the railing around second and third floors of the Rotunda but soon dispersed as the Sophomores began their marches to various parts of the dormitories.

"Praise 61," "turkel, rat," and "climb the Washington Post" could be heard throughout as lowly freshmen performed.

Saturday morning the freshmen began their day of keeping appointments with the Sophomores. During this time, they performed all services from washing laundry to entertaining the class of '61.

Climaxing the event was Little Rat Court held Saturday night. At this time approximately 120 freshmen were seen fumbling around the campus blindfolded and led by Sophomores. After being put through their paces, a party was held in the rec of North Cunningham.

Hampton C. Owen

TOP RAT PATSY CARR is capped at Big Rat Court by Lucy Wilson, head rat of the sophomore class.

Those Sophomores giving up their positions as top rats of last year were Lucy Wilson, Top Rat; Barbara Keech, second top rat; Nancianne Frye, Beverley Kersey, Chris Kamen, Cherron Kelley, Sheila Galloway, Sharon Stout, June Elmore, Page Davis, Ann Coleman, and Tweedie Lambiotte.

Flash! Flash!

And cameras will soon begin to flash as the new 1959 Virginian staff gets the yearbook's plans underway.

Subscriptions to the annual are now being taken. Members of the staff will continue to keep receipt books ready for writing until the latter part of October. The cost of the Virginian is set at $8. All checks should be made payable to The Virginian.

Hampton C. Owen

PRESIDENT LANKFORD caps senior class president, Lillian Rosson, as her "Y" Little Sister, Ann Hardy, looks on.

Lankford Presides At Senior Capping

The 1958-59 college session, marking the 75th anniversary of Longwood College, was opened with many traditions during the past two weeks. The orientation program, freshman capping, and senior capping highlighted the beginning of a new year for students.

The orientation program, designed to familiarize the freshmen with Longwood life, comprised the first week of school for freshmen. Under the leadership of Weedie Norman, vice-president of Student Government, freshmen became familiar with college rules and traditions. A new record was set by this year's freshmen as they all passed the test given on the rules.

Freshmen officially became rats September 22 as the sophomores donned their rat caps. This began the period of ratting which was climaxed Saturday with Rat Day.

The seventy-fifth graduating class became official seniors with the capping of approximately 150 seniors Friday night in Jarman Auditorium by Dr. Francis G. Lankford.

Jean Dancy opened the impressive program with a solo followed by a devotional led by Dr. Archart, pastor of the Farmville Presbyterian Church. After the capping ceremony, Dr. Lankford addressed the Senior Class.

Burger To Direct Science TV Shows

Miss Elizabeth Burger, associate professor of science, will direct two three-program series on elementary science over the Petersburg television station, WXEX, on October 5, 12, and 19 and November 2, 9, and 16.

Three Longwood seniors, Betty Spivey, Cat Ozmon, and Dot Boswell, will assist with the programs on electricity and machines designed especially for fifth-grade teachers. Two programs of each series will present background subject matter, materials, and demonstrations for teachers. The third telecast will include a classroom study in science with Mrs. Joseph Goode, supervising teacher in the Farmville Elementary School, as the television instructor.

These programs are a part of "Education Speaks," a public service feature presented each Sunday from 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. over the Petersburg station.

$650,000 Dorm Opens; More Building In View

By PATSY POWELL

This September 137 Longwood students, the majority of them seniors, have moved into South Cunningham Hall.

The first new dormitory to be completed in the college's long range construction program, South Cunningham Hall, completed at a cost of approximately $650,000 for the building and equipment, is indeed a dream come true for many of its occupants, who have expressed delight over the new facilities.

Seniors have created a great enthusiasm for the fourth floor recreation area. Unlike any other on campus, the new recreational area includes among other things a snack bar and a large recreation room with modern furnishings and what appears to be almost a glass wall. It is surrounded on three sides by a terrace on the roof.

It's Just Wonderful!

When asked for her opinion of the new dormitory, one student expressed herself this way: "The new building is one of the best things that has happened in my four years at Longwood College. It is certainly a pleasure to live in such a modern place, and I mean like the new parlors." Another senior says, "It's just wonderful! For the first time since I've been here, I have plenty of space. The whole place is like a dream to me."

According to Dr. Jacob H. Wettekind, Business Manager of the College, the next step in the mid-range the addition of the present south to this new building. From there are dining hall, dietary quarters, parlor halls, rest rooms, lectures, and administrative offices. Furniture for the new dorm

Sororities Donate Landscaping

Landscaping for the entrance of this building will also be undertaken in the near future. The area of vation and south side are being landscaped through funds donated by two national social sororities, Alpha Sigma Alpha and Sigma Sigma Sigma. For the remaining two sides, the west and the north sides, landscaping will be financed by the college.

Streets Get New Look

At the present time resurfacing of Madison Street, including a sidewalk from Venable Street to Ely Street, is being undertaken as a joint project of Longwood College and the town of Farmville. Another noticeable improvement is the widening of Chambers Street behind the college dining room. This roadway acquired by the college from the town of Farmville during the summer was widened to alleviate a

(Continued on page 4)

Alpha Psi Omega To Present 'From the Sublime' Oct. 10

"From the Sublime," an evening of one-act plays sponsored by Alpha Psi Omega, will be presented in Jarman Hall on Friday, October 10, at 8 p.m.

As an unusual feature of this production, Mr. David Wiley of the Longwood English Department, has chosen to direct a mime . . . a play without words. Miss Tweedie Lambiotte, whose talent as a dancer is well known to Longwood students, will portray the single actor in this different and interesting bit of theatre.

In the serious drama department, Molly Workman will direct a Tennessee Williams' one-act entitled Something Unspoken. Lina Flippen, a Freshman at Longwood, and Helen Brown, a Junior, both newcomers to the Longwood stage, have been cast in the play, which concerns two Southern women, one a wealthy schoolteacher spinster, the other her clerical secretary. Playwright Williams is noted for his portrayal of the South and its people in such distinguished works as a Streetcar Named Desire, The Glass Menagerie, and Cat on a Hot Tin Roof. Bonnie Keyes will serve as stage manager for the production.

As the evening's contribution in the comic spirit, Nancy Bragg will direct Anton Chekhov's farce, The Marriage Proposal. The wonderful bit of foolishness centers around a disagreement between two lovers over a piece of property, an argument which nearly wrecks the engagement. The whole affair is complicated by the interference of the girl's father, Presidents Liz Deichmann, another newcomer to the Longwood stage, has been selected to play the role of the comely woman. Her adamant suitor will be portrayed by Bill Rambeau, a Hampden-Sydney Freshman, and Charter Wells, who has appeared in many Longwood productions, will play the father. Peggy Lamberson serves as Miss Bragg's assistant manager.

Variety is the spice of life, so the saying goes, and Alpha Psi Omega promises you a variety of emotions, laughter, emotion, and excitement

New Rules For You

Another year at Longwood has begun and is again proving itself to be as full and as complete as in past years. A most warm welcome goes out to each class and a special welcome to you the Class of 1962 and all transfers. We know that you have already caught the true spirit of Longwood. Your enthusiam and participation in the many activities thus far have proven this.

At Longwood, we have certain rules and regulations as set forth and maintained by YOUR Student Council. There is a definite purpose for each of these, or they would not be. If ever there is any question at all concerning the interpretation of a rule, please ask some member of your Student Council, a Head Resident, or an upper classman to explain it. You will find that our rules and regulations are not difficult to understand after you have been at Longwood for a while. They are made for the general benefit of you the students of Longwood College.

For the benefit of the upper classmen, there have been a few changes in our Student Government regulations. There changes are:

1. Times to be signed in: Freshmen and Sophomores—10:00 weeknights, 11:00 weekends. Juniors and Seniors—11:00 weeknights, 12:00 Friday and Sunday Nights, 12:30 Saturday Night.
2. This year, students sign In-and-Out Cards when leaving the campus. These In-and-Out Cards and pink slips both are signed when leaving the campus for the day or a part of the day or an overnight trip.
3. Students cannot at anytime go home after dances at Hampden-Sydney, but they may go home from dances on campus if written permission from parents or guardians is received by the Dean of Women.

Our Honor Code is the very basis of our Student Government and of our complete college life. By abiding by the Honor Code, we are putting into practice a code which should live in us throughout our entire life.

If at anytime during this year any member of the Student Council may be of service in any way, please feel free to call on us. Remember, we are YOUR STUDENT GOVERNMENT.

Barbara Odom, President, Student Gov. Assn.

Your Cooperation Needed!

With the beginning of another school year, many things change while much remains the same. New faces arrive as old and familiar ones return. It is not possible to say which is more important for the success of the coming year. Each is equally vital for effectiveness.

In this same light we must look forward to the success hoped to achieve by the House Council for the coming year. Upon the new students, the freshmen, relies the responsibility to set the foundation for a successful four years to come. Upon the upperclassmen relies the responsibility to continue and maintain the high standards they have established.

Not only do students change, but also as the school maintains a continued pattern of growth, the rules and regulations must keep pace with the school. As the school grows, conditions within the school do not remain the same; they also change. The new rules established by the House Council are designed to co-ordinate with the changing conditions within the school.

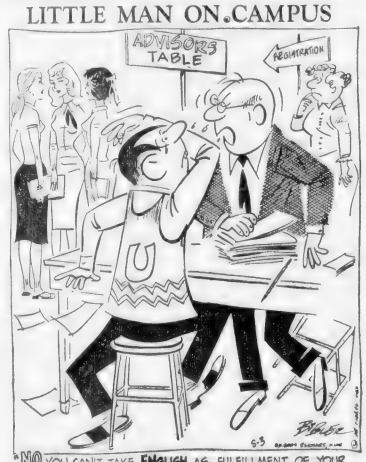
One may look, for example, at the rule enforcing a strict study hour in the dormitory. When the school was smaller, conditions in the dormitories were not as they are now. A rule such as this one may not have been necessary then; whereas, present conditions seem to have demanded such a rule.

The success of this particular regulation in addition to all of the other House Council rules depends upon both the old and the new students. Upon the old students rests, perhaps, a more difficult duty — that which consists of adjusting themselves and becoming accustomed to a few new rules when they have become familiar and used to the old rules. However, the duty resting upon the freshmen is an equally vital and necessary one to the worth-while being of the House Council. That is the duty and responsibility as the future upperclassmen of Longwood to establish and build the foundation upon which depends the future success of the House Council.

Not only is the duty of the students recognized and emphasized. An equally important duty exists among the officers and members of the House Council. Through them, as through the students, must the rules and regulations be established and enforced.

Your House Council is looking forward to and depending upon YOU — the Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors — to co-operate with us in making this year a most successful and profitable one.

Bet McLoughlin, President, House Council



Orientation Commended

Congratulations Class of 1962! You are one of the first classes to pass the Orientation test 100 .

Thanks to the able executive of Wanda Norman, SGA vice-president, and the interest of the Orientation Leaders, this program for freshmen was a big success.

Also to be commended is the Y W C A's welcoming program led by Y President Jean Young. Dean of Women Ruth Wilson, a "freshman" at Longwood last year, served as Faculty Adviser for orientation week and her friendly spirit is indeed typical of the traditional Longwood welcome to freshmen.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Social Notes

By JACKIE GIBSON

Dit—Dit—Dit—come in world! Now that everyone has recovered from a wonderful summer vacation we are back in the groove for an even better intellectual and social year. It is good to see such a strong and hearty crop of freshmen and to welcome back the even braver upper classmen.

Wedding Bells

Best wishes to Anne Odom, who left school last week to marry Frank Tarlton. Frank is from Marshville, N. C. (They were married last weekend.) Wedding bells also rang for senior, Sandy Fitzgerald. Sandy and her husband, C. D. Tarter, are now living in Farmville. Congratulations to Becky Davis Weeks. Don't worry Becky, Lynchburg isn't far away. Jane Kell got her diamond last year and this summer she walked down the aisle with Skip Newbill. Emma Harrell is now Mrs. Norman Gardner.

Diamonds are the best friend of Lillian Rosson who is engaged to Lewis Spicer. Aggie Lowry is wearing a sparkler from Frank Buck, a KA at H-S. Patti Roach is also wearing a rock given to her by Dick Dillard.

The dining hall has been buzzing with songs of congratulations for the many lucky girls who recently got themselves pinned. Chris Kamen just received Tony Catalano's SAE pin. Tony attends U. of Richmond. Brenda Rae Drewry is wearing Tommy Fennell's Pi Kappa Alpha pin. Tommy is an H-S boy. Coreta Bennett is pinned to Frank Osburn. Cora Straughan has a special gleam in her eyes these days for a certain Princeton man, Murray Simpson. Linda Lane is sporting a pin from gobbler (VPI) Dick Cornell. Kitty Good is pinned to Fred Hobach, a Kappa Sig at H-S. Beat Navy is the cheer of Betty Jane Allgood. She's pinned to an Army man. Martha Rucker is wearing a KA pin owned by Max Tingler from Randolph-Macon.

Football Time

Fraternity parties and football games have already become the big weekend attraction. Weedie Norman and Betty Spivey went to the Pi Kappa Alpha party at U. of R.

Journeying to Petersburg for the Hampden-Sydney - Emory and Henry game were: Mary Davis, Iris Hines, Catherine Harris, Sarah Hastings, Virginia Kuyk, Agnes Lowry, Mary Ellen Moore, Carole Manley, Barbara Purks, Eloise Shrieves, Vivian Smith, Joan Lee Thomas, Ann Mixon, Joyce Pendleton, Brenda Drewry, Norma Redmon, Ann Norfleet, Sarah Oliver, Billie Altizer, Jackie Gibson, Kay Howard, Harriet Butterworth, Barbara Rossiter, Judson Mason, Linda Lane, Katherine Key, Jill Green, Pat Rogers.

Virginia Beat Duke and watching the game were: Carolyn Dehaven, Jo Lynn Holland, Duner Cahill, Blanche Ingram, Jean O'Connell, Rene Weimer.

Hampden-Sydney Kappa Sig Party

Joyce Pendleton, Ann Mixon, Ann Norfleet, Ann Barnes, Joann Kleinecke, Jackie Gibson, Mary Landa League, Brenda Drewry, Marie Fisher, Barbara Rossiter, Jill Green, Addie Richardson, Norma Redmon, Sara Oliver, Jean Marie Heller, Betty Chappell, Hardy Williams were seen at the party given by the Kappa Sigs last week end.

Betty Grigg, Pat Loake and Landa Doles braved Hurricane Helene at the Wake Forrest-VPI game in Norfolk.

This is student teaching! My new shoes are worn out on the tops instead of the bottoms. I'm the only one who walks on the bottom. Twenty-nine children, the whole fourth grade, walk on the tops.

(Ed's Note: We heard this one from a new student teacher this week and couldn't resist printing it!)

Fashion Notes

By MARTHA RUCKER

The biggest news for fall—the chemise is out—gone, gone forever! It seems that designers all over the world from New York to Paris have decided to please the male of our species. No longer will the women of this world be seen in outfits resembling gunny sacks. The fashion for fall will be the trapeze, the mushroom, and the good old conventional clothes tucked away in our wardrobes. Have heart, ladies!

Skirtlines continue to remain higher making legs look longer . . . looks linger! The waistline for fall is flexible. The whole concept in fall fashions is young, flexible and utterly chic.

There's even news afoot in delightful galoshes that makes rainy days fun. One manufacturer has come out with a "rain tight" . . . a rubbersoled shoe in flat or medium heel covered to the knee with a waterproof stretch sock.

The colors for fall are just as gay and lovely as the ones we saw last spring. Suits and coats are coming out in pumpkin cadet (a lovely shade of blue), emerald green, mint, pastels, and violet. The winter cottons show the same happy-go-lucky prints.

Again on this campus we see the boy coats which are the craze of the nation, the glamour-gam stockings, and the "Soda-set" shoes. Hats are more flattering, ranging from contoured large ones to small demure feminine chapeaus. The choice is wondrous.

The theme for fall fashions is individuality. The fashion designers are saying, "Wear what becomes you and you'll be the height of fashion." Be bright, be gay, and be yourself. The trapeze, the mushroom, the conventional dress . . . suit your own personality!

See your picture in the Rotunda?

Some Wednesday night you just might do this and we bet you'd like to have a 5x7 glossy print of many of the pictures from the Rotunda's pages to keep as college momentos.

Reprints are $1.00 each and all you have to do is give your name and picture desired to Eleanor Gurganus, South Cunningham 102 or Annie B. Palmer, third floor annex 116.

Students Greet Spear

By JO ANN KLEINECKE

Longwood has extended a special welcome to its new Assistant Dean of Women, Miss Jenelle Spear. A native of Kinston, North Carolina, she came to Longwood to replace Miss Thelma Souder, who was recently married.

Miss Spear did not originally start out in the education field. Her undergraduate major was Biology, and she received her B. A. degree in that subject from Agnes Scott College.

After graduation, she did graduate work at Emory University to prepare herself for research work which she entered at Oak Ridge, Tennessee. Miss Spear worked with the Mammalion-Genetics Division, there studying the effects of radiation of mice and other forms of anatomy.

The petite brown-eyed brunette was introduced to education purely by accident. When her research work was completed, she realized that she did not want to go on with biological study and considered working in college personnel. It was just a thought at that time, however, and she took a trip to Europe, still undecided about the type of future position that she would like.

A friend suggested that she think seriously about personnel work, and Miss Spear decided to do further study in this field. She enrolled in Syracuse University from which she received her M. A. degree after a two year period.

Longwood is her first major attempt at actual personnel work, and she is very enthusiastic about all the facets of her job. Like so many others, Miss Spear was caught at once by the warm friendliness that is the pride of the Longwood campus when she arrived in Farmville for an interview last spring.

When asked to give a personal opinion of the college, she stated that she "likes it very much," and that "there is an intangible spirit of friendliness and loyalty in the school, that though intangible, is still sensed just the same. This is extremely valuable to the functioning of any school, and not all of them have it either."

Photograph by C. Owen

MISS JENELLE SPEAR, new Assistant Dean of Women.

'Oedipus Rex' To Play Here

"Oedipus Rex," a Greek drama of tragedy by Sophocles, will be presented at Jarman Hall on October 20.

This film, co-sponsored by Beore Eh Thorn and Alpha Psi Omega, is directed by Tyronne Guthrie. In color, it features the Stratford Ontario Shakespearean Festival Players.

This film has been acclaimed by such magazines as "Newsweek," "Parents Magazine," "Cue," and the "New Yorker." "Life" said ". . . excellent . . . proof that time does not trim down the true terror of tragedy."

Considered "a rare educational opportunity" by Longwood's Dr. Dorothy Schlegel, it will be studied in several classes in the English Department.

Schlegel To Show Slides Of Europe

The Virginia Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu will open its first meeting to the student body Tuesday, October 7, at 7 p.m. in the small auditorium.

The guest speaker, Dr. Marvin Schlegel, will discuss and show slides of his trip to Europe this past summer.

This will be a separate program from one to be presented in assembly, which will be entirely on Greece. The upperclassmen know Dr. Schlegel's reputation for this type of program, and the freshmen are especially invited to attend.

A closed business meeting for Pi Gamma Mu members only, will be held immediately afterwards in the "Y" Lounge.

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 29, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 168.

Linda Doles ..... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors
Bet McLoughlin, Patsy Powell

Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Judy Eckstrom ..... News Editor
Henrietta Dollins ..... Feature Editor
Violet Stout ..... Sports Editor
Virlinda Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Eleanor Gurganus ..... Photography
Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Lou Gray, Becky Parker ..... Assistant Managers
Dr. James Wellard ..... Faculty Advisor

Unsigned editorials written by the editor.

Member: Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press (Rating, first class), Columbia Scholastic Press Association (rating, first place), Intercollegiate Press

NEWS STAFF: Cherry Gorham, Assistant News Editor; Jo Ann Linnens, Assistant Desk Editor, Chris Kamen, Assistant Sports Editor; Reporters: Martha Rucker, Carole York, Bebe Bregare, Pat Breckenridge, Bonnie Avery, Ann M. Lawrence, Jo Ann Lively, Dede Dove, Sandy Lovelace, Jan Turpin, Anne Eggleston, Jan Dillard, Jackie Gibson, Frances Battle, Jane Bell, Ida Cole, Jimmy Kammerer, Barbara Purks, Sandra Kilmon, Consultants: Norma Redmon, Jane Gibson, Joanne Wooding, Cay Gannon, Pat Loake, Barbara Bird, Barbara Compton, Janice Walker, Joyce S. Hutchinson, Mary D. Stokes, Anne Cunningham.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Judy Prouty, Assistant Manager; Joan Bradley, Connie Carson, Cass Cosby, Dottie Cotterill, Diane Dearden, Sue Farmer, Linda Saunders, Barbara Fountain, Page Garrett, Constance Gee, Jane Gibson, Jane Hodges, Becky McGrath, Carole Manley, Frances Minn, Helen Puls, Mary Robbins, Sue E. Sites, Sally Thomas, Shirley Wilson, Dorothy Wood, Jane Woodward, Arlene McKay.

ADVERTISING STAFF: Mason Hamlet, Nancy Gentry, Barbara Gammage, Joan Heavyside, Ann Hill.

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress on March 8, 1904. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

— HAMPDEN-SYDNEY SCHEDULE —

September

20	Bridgewater	at Harrisonburg
27	Emory & Henry	at Petersburg

October

4	OPEN
11	Sewanee College	Homecoming
18	Western Maryland	There
25	Johns-Hopkins	There

November

1	Guilford	Home
8	Randolph-Macon	Home
15	Washington & Lee	There
22	Pennsylvania Military	Home

Gridiron Gab

Football is well on its way for this season. The big weekend news is the Virginia Cavaliers' startling 15-12 upset over Duke's Blue Devils.

Other games saw Navy turn back William and Mary 14-0 in rain, mud, and wind.

Wake Forest turned back VPI, 13-6, the Deacons scoring two touchdowns inside of 90 seconds late in the second period Saturday night at the Good Neighbor Bowl game in Norfolk, as a crowd of 7,000 braved Hurricane Helene.

VMI, a one-touchdown underdog, beat Villanova 33-6. It was their most decisive victory since 1954 and their 10th in a row.

Clemson defeated the U. of North Carolina 26-21; Army walloped South Carolina 45-8; Maryland set North Carolina State back with a 21-6 decision; and West Virginia took a 47-14 beating from Oklahoma.

Penn State walloped Penn with ridiculous ease, the final score being 43-0; and Michigan defeated U of Southern Cal. by one point, 20-19.

Timely Topics

By MARGIE LAYMAN

The State Board of Education has announced that graduates of private schools in localities whose public schools may be closed would be eligible to attend Longwood and Madison Colleges under certain conditions.

Students from Charlottesville's Lane and Venable schools have been meeting classes in private homes, churches, and the Elks Lodge. Four Lane students presented a petition to Governor Almond asking that Lane High School be reopened. They took no stand on the integration-segregation issue.

Schools in Norfolk and Warren County still remain closed due to enforced integration.

United Nations envoys confer on the Formosa Crisis. The U.S. insists on a cease-fire in the Formosa strait. Many delegates see little chance of a settlement coming out of bitter Assembly debate.

Attempt to launch satellite, Vanguard, is believed to be a failure.

TYPICAL TEST GIVEN STUDENTS ENTERING THE HALLS OF IVY

The nemesis of all college students preparing to register at a college or university are the applications, forms, papers, bulletins, various and sundry quiz papers delved into one's past and private life — usually in triplicate. The following are a series of suggested information cards which should completely satisfy every office and department no matter how inquisitive they are.

INFORMATION DESK NO. 1

Name in Full (Please Type)
Name in Full, Last Name First
Name Spelled Backwards
Name Spelled Sideways
Name Spelled as Though Looking in a Mirror
Stand on Head and Write Name
How Do You Spell Your Name?
Name Written Left Handed (If left handed already, write name with right foot)
Name in Sanskrit ..... Greek Translation
Sawhill ..... Gutteral .....
Pronunciation
Please Note: This card valid only if signed by student.

DEAN'S OFFICE NO. 2

Name in Full
Name of Nearest Relative Willing to Post Bond
Dip Right Thumb in Ink and Place Here ( )
When Did You Get Out? ..... Probation Officer
Do You Wish You W re Back?
When Do You Plan to Repeat Crime?
Can I Come Along? Do You Drink?
Why? Why Not?
Do You Plan To Gra uate? Do You Really Plan To Graduate?
Honest and Truly? Alternate Plans

TREASURER'S OFFICE NO. 3

Name in Full .....
Father's Name in Full
Father's Weight in Full ... $
Father's Income Amount of Income Tax-Return
Cheating, eh?
Is He Long for this World? How Long?
Is His Insurance Paid Up? If Not, Why Not?
Estimate of Father's Estate Is He Rich?
Filthy Rich? Really Filthy? Name of Father's Bookmaker?
Telephone Number Does He Have Television?
What's Good in the Fifth at Jamaica?
How Do You Know?
Never Mind. Will you pay your bills? Sign in blood
Do You Keep a Strong Box? ..... Where?
Combination

RELIGIOUS AFFILIATION NO. 4

Thy Name ..... Thy Given Name
Thy Christian Name ..... Thy Pagan Name
Thy Nickname
Dost Thou Go to Church Which One?
Really? How Often?
Hast Thou Been Baptized?
Immersed or Sprinkled?
Name of Home Town Parish and Pastor
Name of Book from Which Home Town Pastor Copied His Sermons
Is it Good? ..... Name of Author
To Complete this write in 10,000 words or more your reasons for "Why Am I Going to College?"

—From The Brackety-Ack, Roanoke College

Demonstration Today; Hockey Season Opens

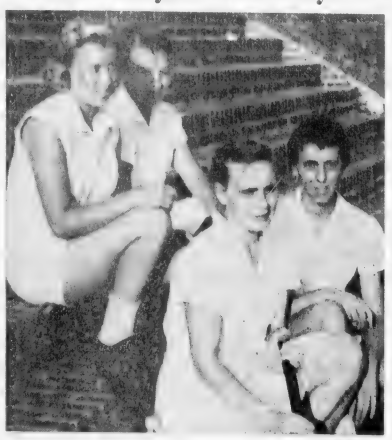
Taylor, Kesling Lead '58-'59 Hockey Team

By NANCY LECHLER

Kneepads and hockey sticks have become the current trend at Longwood again this fall. Try-outs for the varsity hockey team are being held this week on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 3:00 p.m.

Hockey is a favorite sport at Longwood College, since it offers not only intercollegiate competition, but also class and color cup matches. Co-managers of the varsity team for the '58 season are senior Willie Taylor from Gretna, and Doris Kesling, a junior from Pulaski.

This is Willie's third year on the varsity hockey team. She held the position of right fullback last year on the team. After graduation in the spring, Willie hopes to teach physical education, which is her major.



Doris Kesling, also a physical education major, is playing for her second year on the varsity squad. Her position is right inner. Pat Southworth, a sophomore from Richmond, and Mary Hite Grayson, also a sophomore from Radford, are managers for class hockey play.

Undefeated Last Year

The first game of the season will be held on next Wednesday, October 8, when Longwood meets Roanoke College here on campus. Longwood's '57 hockey team held an undefeated record and hopes are that this year will prove just as successful.

The schedule for the 1958-59 season is as follows:

Oct. 8—Roanoke College—Home
Oct. 11—Richmond Club—Home
Oct. 14—Norfolk Division—Away
Oct. 18—Madison—Home
Oct. 24—Westhampton—Away
Oct. 31—Tidewater Tournament—Away
Nov. 7—William and Mary—Away
Nov. 15—Southeast Tournament—Away

Staff Photo

TAKING TIME OUT from hockey practice last week are Managers Doris Kesling, Willie Taylor (bottom row) and Class Managers Mary H. Grayson and Pat Southworth.

College News!

To keep Longwood students informed on activities from other Virginia campuses, the Rotunda makes collegiate newspapers available in the Library.

The V. M. I. Keydet, U. Va.'s Cavalier Daily, Hollins' Columns, the U. of Richmond Collegian, W. & L.'s Ring Tum Phi are just a few of the many newspapers from all the state's colleges that can be found in the Reference Room (in the left corner, top shelf) for everyone's reading pleasure.

LC Hockey Players Travel To Camp Tegawitha In Pa.

By DORIS KESLING

The mileage meter clicked dutifully and cheerful chatter provided the atmosphere as ten of the Longwood Hockey players turned their thoughts and minds toward hockey camp the first week in September.

Camp Tegawitha in the Poconos of Pennsylvania provided the scene for this wonderful learning experience at which our school has been represented for many years. During the three-week session, teams from schools all over the United States convene at this unique workshop begun by Miss Constance Applebee of England who founded hockey in America. Miss Applebee, still very active in hockey, participated in the instruction of special skills of the sport.

Miss Elizabeth Burger, Associate professor of Science of our own faculty, was also an instructor at Tegawitha. A member of the United States Hockey Team, Miss Burger, along with Miss Applebee, proved to be an outstanding instructor.

For two hours each morning we were instructed in the skills and techniques of hockey; then later in actual play of the game. The afternoons were also used for games and skills. Each college challenged every other team and the results always proved to be amazing.

Night found us huddled by a fireplace where we discussed the rules of hockey and had talks by our coaches. One thing which we discovered was that there's always someting new to be learned about hockey. This point was proved by exhibition games in which our coaches and outstanding players displayed the Longwood College emblem on the field.

New friends, skills and a renewed appreciation of hockey accompanied each team home. Those going from Longwood were: Lou Heier, Gayle Cunningham, Nancy George, Doris Kesling, Pat Southworth, Barbara Brantley, Jeanette Townsend, Jeanette Talbot, Mary Grayson, and Miss Eleanor Weddle, Assistant professor of Physical Education.

SENIOR HOCKEY CAMPERS Gayle Cunningham, Lou Heier, and Nancy George, pose with one of their coaches, Miss Eleanor Weddle.

National Foundation To Give Fellowship

The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation announces its 1958-59 program of 1,000 fellowships in the humanities, and in the social and natural sciences, to encourage undergraduates now in their senior year to undertake graduate work in order to enter the college teaching profession.

As a new feature, a limited number of graduate fellowships will also be reserved for superior students now in their third year so that their future may be assured.

Students who receive a Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship will be paid $1500 plus tuition and dependency allowances for a year of graduate study at any university of their choice in the United States or Canada.

Candidates may not file applications directly, but will be sent application forms after personal nomination by a member of the faculty. Any student expecting to graduate in the spring of 1959 (or in special cases in the spring of 1960) may learn more of the details of the Fellowship by consulting the departmental chairman in his major field, or the local representative of the Foundation, Professor Marvin W. Schlegel, of the Department of History.

A student may request any member of the faculty to nominate him; or else a member of the faculty who is familiar with the student's work and interest in college teaching may write a recommendation directly to Fredson Bowers, 530 Cabell Hall, University of Virginia, Charlottesville, who is the Regional Chairman.

The deadline for receiving nominations for the 1959 Fellowships is October 31, 1958. Application blanks will be mailed directly to the student on receipt of a faculty nomination. Only students who have a sincere interest in entering college teaching, whose records are superior, and who will do graduate work in the humanities, or the social or natural sciences, should request nomination.

Blazers Awarded; Students Watch Sportsmen's Skill

Gather 'round all ye sports lovers. The Athletic Association Demonstration which is held yearly to acquaint all new students with the various sports activities offered here at Longwood, was presented today at 4 P.M. It began in the gym with the introduction of the new A. A. Council members for this coming year.

Following all introductions, the program got underway with a five to ten minute demonstration of skills in all sports by various students. The gym was the scene of displays in modern dance, basketball and volleyball.

Upon the completion of these activities, spectators moved to the pool where swimming skills were exhibited. Then it was off to the tennis courts for the next scheduled display which was the demonstration of singles and doubles in tennis. The A. A. field was the fourth scene of activity. Here all field sports, which include hockey, archery, softball and wisket were spotlighted.

Blazer Awards

After the climax of all sports demonstrations a long-awaited ceremony took place. This was the awarding of the white and blue blazers conferred upon those seniors who have excelled in athletics during their college years. These woolen jackets have come to be one of the cherished traditions of Longwood College. They are awarded to seniors, recommended by the Physical Education department, who have earned a certain number of quality points during their four years at Longwood. The white blazer requires 30 points and is the highest ranking award presented to students showing outstanding ability and participation in sports. The blue blazer follows close behind in its importance with 20 needed points. It, too, is given to the outstanding student athletes of the college.

The grand finale of the Athletic Association program is the yearly A. A. picnic. It is being held outside the Home Economics Building, weather permitting, or inside the Main "rec" in case of bad weather.

The State
YOUR COMMUNITY CENTER
IN FARMVILLE, VA.
ENDS WEDNESDAY, OCT. 1
ANTHONY PERKINS
SHIVANA MANGANO
RICHARD CONTE
JO VAN FLEET
COLUMBIA PICTURES presents
THIS ANGRY AGE
Thurs., Fri., Sat., Oct. 2, 3, 4
CARY GRANT · INGRID BERGMAN
INDISCREET
Sun., Mon., Tues., Oct. 5, 6, 7
ROBERT MITCHUM
ROBERT WAGNER
THE HUNTERS
WED., THURS. OCT. 8-9
COLUMBIA PICTURES presents
KIM STANLEY
THE GODDESS
a Paddy Chayefsky story
with LLOYD BRIDGES

1958-1959 Calendar

Organization	Time
Choir	4:00	every Mon., Wed. & Fri.
Baptist Student U. Council	7:00	every Mon.
Wesley Foundation Council	7:00	every Mon.
Northern Neck Club	7:00	1st Mon.
A. A. Council	7:00	1st & 3rd Mon.
Monogram Club (after A. A.)		1st Mon.
Pan-Hel Council	5:00	1st Mon.
Virginian Staff	7:00	every Mon.
Sectional Clubs	7:00	4th Mon.
Y. W. A.	7:00	2nd & 4th Mon.
Spanish Club	4:00	1st Tues.
Pi Gamma Mu	7:00	1st Tues.
Sororities	5:00	every Tues.
Student Government	7:00	every Tues.
French Club	4:00	2nd Tues.
F. B. L. A.	7:00	2nd Tues.
Library Club	7:00	2nd Tues.
Rotunda Staff	7:00	every Wed.
Longwood Players	7:00	1st Wed.
Orchesis-business group	7:00	2nd Wed.
Y. W. C. A. Council	5:00	1st, 3rd & 4th Wed.
Kappa Delta Pi	5:00	2nd Wed.
Future Teachers of America	7:00	2nd Wed.
Orchesis-concert group	4:00	every Wed.
Colonnade Staff	4:00	every Wed.
Pi Delta Epsilon	7:00	1st Thurs.
Granddaughters Club	7:00	1st Thurs.
House Council	5:00	2nd Thurs.
Alpha Kappa Gamma	7:00	2nd Thurs.
H2O Club	7:00	2nd Thurs.
Alpha Psi Omega	7:00	3rd Thurs.
Home Ec Club	7:00	2nd Thurs.
Beore Eh Thorn	4:00	3rd Thurs.
Baptist Choir	5:00	every Thurs.
Methodist Choir	5:00	every Thurs.
Rec Swim	4:00	every Mon. & Fri.
Cotillion Club		called
Class Meetings		called

Called meetings MUST be scheduled 24 hours in advance with the chairman of the calendar, Linda Lane, Main Ch. 145.

New Dorm

(Continued from page 1)

pressing parking and loading problem in the area.

College Purchases Property

As the result of extensive property purchases during the early summer, Longwood College now owns all property facing High Street from Jarman Hall to Butcher's Corner and the adjoining east side of the first two blocks of Ely Street. Not included in this purchase is the filling station on the corner of Ely and High Streets. Sanford House, which stands in this area and was previously used as a dormitory, has been furnished with furniture recently removed from Student Building and will be used temporarily for small conferences and visitors to the college.

Demolition To Begin

To make way for Longwood's next dormitory a number of dwellings will soon be removed from the recently purchased property. Scheduled for immediate demolition are the houses bordering Chambers Street immediately beyond Jarman Hall and Stevens Hall. Also included will be dwellings on Ely Street bordering this property. About ten buildings are scheduled for removal and among these is the house which lies between the college shop and the Farmville Elementary School, immediately behind the dining room.

Another Dorm in View

This work will make possible the construction of a dormitory which will close the west end of Chambers Street, just beyond Stevens Hall. The proposed building will be similar in structure to South Cunningham Hall, but slightly smaller, and is scheduled for completion in September of 1960. It will be composed of suites identical to those in the rear of South Cunningham Hall and is to be built at a cost of approximately $600,000.

Among other improvements throughout the campus this summer is the completion of a four year project for remodeling baths. Baths in Old Tabb, and Student Building have been completely overhauled, including new showers, fixtures, tile and marble floors.

Returning students have also found the college in the process of further remodeling in the West Wing of Ruffner Hall and the area previously occupied by the Mathematics Department. During the fall work will be completed in the area bringing the total cost of the project thus far to approximately $150,000.

According to Mr. Wamsley, many additional improvements are planned for the future in the process of making the campus a more serviceable and attractive place. Among these are the rewiring of the Post Office Wing of Ruffner Hall, Old Tabb, Student Building, and North Cunningham Hall in the collegiate kitchen, plus call for a new tile floor and additional equipment.

COMBINATION SNACK AND RUC on roof of new dorm is enjoyed by Seniors Patsy Powell, Molly Workman, Betty Spivey, Betty Griggs, Gin Kuyk, Alice Cheatwood, Bet McLoughlin.

The Farmville Junior Womans' Club has requested that Longwood students assist them in saving cancelled stamps to be used in Veterans hospitals for physical therapy work.

Any stamps 4c or over, especially commemoratives and foreign stamps of all kinds are desired. The stamps are to be used for making albums, trasheans, and other items.

When you receive your mail, you may tear the stamps from the envelope, leaving a small portion of the envelope attached, and place them in the box that has been provided in the post office just outside of the Public Relations Office.

Sixty-Five Seniors Take Part In Practice Teaching Work

This fall Longwood has a total of 65 seniors who are or soon will be doing their student teaching in the Prince Edward County schools and in Roanoke. Of these 65 seniors some are teaching the first nine weeks, others the second nine weeks and others the entire semester.

Those who are teaching the first nine weeks at the training school are Dottie Boswell, Catherine Ozmon, Faye Garrett, Emma Gardner, Evelyn Skalsky, Gene Blackwell and Helen Jean Young. Others teaching the second nine weeks in the training school are Emma Gardner, Dottie Cohern, Mary E. Moore, Nancy Knowles, Linda Hines, Shirley Lucy, Hilda Thompson, Carole Manley, Jane Proffitt, Della Higgins, and Sarah Hastings.

Student teaching in Roanoke in the elementary schools the first nine weeks are Jo Ann Baldwin, Mary Strickland, Carolyn Copeland, Shirley Wilson, Marjlyn King, Joan Dorsey and Juliet Robinson. Others teaching the second nine weeks are Doris Ayers, Jo Lynn Holland, Elizabeth Culpepper, Betty Rawls, Betty Spivey, Virginia Kuyk, Jean Turner, Jo Ann Sloop, Jo Bailey, Ginny Price, Connie Levinson, June Lee May, and Joann Fivel.

Entire Semester

Those girls who will be teaching the entire fall semester at the training school are Betty Maynard, Cass Connor, Judy Eckstrom, Vann Blackwood, Lillian Rosson, Ann Wallace, Patsy Powell, Ann Keziah, Minnie Lee Dean, Nancy Cross, Pat Leake and Charlotte McGee.

Those teaching the entire first semester at the training school in Physical Education are Barbara Staton, Sue Rawlings, Gayle Cunningham, J. Fore, Nancy Andrews, Louise Heier, Sandy Sandidge, Ruth Raney Cowan, and Joyce Tharrington. Mary Lou Morgan will teach P.E. at Rice Elem. School and Patsy Campbell will be teaching P.E. at John Randolph.

Farmville High School

Thirty-one Longwood students are doing practice teaching in twelve fields of subject matter at the Farmville High School. They are as follows: Nancy Andrews, Betty Sue Barbee, Donna Boone, Claudette Cooper, Gayle Cunningham, Delores Dove, Nancy George, Paul Gilliam, Lou Gray, Shirley Grizzard, Louise Heier, Shirley Howard, Barbara Hurst, Mary Helen Jones, Margaret Layman, Pat Leake, Betty McClenny, Mrs. Helen McCraw, Elizabeth McLoughlin, Violet Moore, Jane Kell Newbill, Barbara Purks, Ernestine Stoltz, Willie Taylor, Pat Turner, Carole Vick, Jackie Waller, Hardy Williams, Molly Workman and Mrs. Juanita Yates.

Two of our Seniors will be teaching at Worsham High School. They are Mrs. Frances Moore and Barbara Purks.

Mr. Charles H. Patterson is the general supervisor of the elementary and off-campus student teaching. Dr. Edgar Johnson is the general supervisor of secondary education.

—Staff Photo

STUDENT TEACHER Judy Eckstrom conducts third grade reading group under Supervisor Miss Portica Spencer, in the Farmville Elementary School.

Fleshman, Charlotte Simms, Jerrye Edwards and Alice Cheatwood.

In Roanoke

The seniors who are doing their practice teaching in Roanoke the first nine weeks in Secondary Education are Amy McFall, Adair Camp, Margaret Moore, Nancy Taylor, Elaine Weddle, Dot Marshall, Margaret Harris, Rose Price, Roberta Silcox, Charlotte Jewell, Joanne Maitland and Jerrye Edwards. Also Ann Baker, Constance Carlton, Elaine Chaffin, Shelby Johnson, Gwen Melton, Lois Ogburn, Violet Scott, Nancy Forest, Mary Lee Roach, Barbara Mitchell, Ann Adams and Elva Jane Wynne.

The girls teaching in Secondary Education in Roanoke the second nine weeks will be Melinda Franklin, Barbara Gamage, Octavia Loftin, Virginia Shelton, Emily Johnson, Patricia Areford, Lynn McDade, Eleanor Gureanus, Gloria Gardner, Henrietta Dollins, Burks Keith, Sylvia Bivens, Joan Heavyside, Ann Glover, Patricia Roach, Sylvia Wilmoth, Betty Griggs, Iris

62 Students Achieve Dean's List Mention

The names of sixty-two Longwood students appeared on the Dean's List for having met the required B plus average denoting superior scholarship during the second semester of the 1957-1958 session.

Those students with a straight A average from the spring semester were Nancy Anderson, Ann Collins, Jo Ann Garner, Cherry Gorham, Elaine Handy, Shirley Hauptman, Miriam Lambiotte and Sylvia Moore.

B plus students for the second semester were Sue Amory, Ann Baker, Correlia Batte, Sue Benton, Winifred Biddlecomb, Nancy Brisentine, Sandra Clements, Joan Coakley, Marjorie Crismond, Joan Dorsey, Dolores Dove, Jerrye Edwards, Joyce Ellis, Dolores Fentress, Barbara Pennybaugh, Patricia Fore, Mary Fosner, Rosalie Gee, Frances Gillespie, Patsy Goodman, Ella Gray, Shirley Grizzard, Charlotte Hall, Sally Harney, Marjorie Harrison, and Lucia Hart.

Also [illegible] B plus students were Margaret Henry, Virginia Joyner, Susanne LaFontaine, Bonnie Mann, Jeanette Metcalf, Nancy Morris, Mary Pienich, Patsy Powell, Lois Presson, Nancy Richardson, Lillie Rogers, Patricia Rogers, Barbara Rossiter, Elizabeth Ruckman, Carol Sanders, Sharon Schaaf, Nancy Speakman, Phyliss Stokes, Linda Totty, Natalie Tudor, Hildagarde Wagner, Catherine Walker, Sylvia Webb, Gwendolyn White, Julia Williams, Patricia Wilmoth, Molly Workman, and Juanita Yates.

WELCOME LONGWOOD STUDENTS!
Webster's Collegiate Dictionaries
Barnes & Noble College Outlines
"Books for All Occasions"
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP

MARTIN THE JEWELER
Welcomes
Longwood Students!
Come In & Get Acquainted

Where Is Eliza?

Where is Eliza Doolittle?

The Longwood Players are looking for someone to play the famous role of the flower-girl-turned-Duchess for their fall production of George Bernard Shaw's comedy, Pygmalion. We know she's in the student body, but we haven't found her yet. Of course, there are several other roles to be filled besides Eliza, so come one, come all.

Tryouts for the play will be held on Wednesday, October 1, at 3 p.m., Thursday, October 2, at 3 and 7 p.m., and Friday, October 3, at 7 p.m., in Jarman Hall. Are YOU Eliza?

Church News

By ANN GLOVER

Baptist

Twenty-seven members of the BSU attended the pre-school retreat Sept. 14-16 at Curdsville Community Center to plan for this year's activities. The times for all meetings are the same: Sunday School 9:45, Church service — 11:00, Training Union — 7:00, Church service — 8:00, and Bible Study on Wednesdays at 7:30. Each day, with the exception of Saturdays and Sundays, noon-days are held in the center at noon, and October 12 will be Join Church Sunday. Join us in these services and worship the Lord.

Methodist

The Wesley Foundation had its regular meeting on Sunday night, Sept. 28. Nancy Cross presented a program entitled Now Is the Time. Other participants were Kacki Turner, Margaret Newton, Calvert King and Nancy Cole.

Next Sunday, Oct., 5 there will be a weiner roast and program at the Student Center.

Presbyterian

The Westminster Fellowship held its annual fall planning retreat Sept. 13-14 at Trice's Lake. An inspirational program was presented on Sept. 21 to introduce the new students to the purpose and function of the WF. On Sept. 28 a program on "Stewardship" was presented following a supper at the Church. On Oct. 5 Dr. C. Lloyd Arehart, pastor of the Farmville Presbyterian Church, will be the guest speaker.

Faculty

(Continued from page 1)

and is nearing completion of her work toward the M.A. degree at the University of Virginia.

Language Informants

Serving as Longwood's foreign Language informants for the current session are Miss Jacqueline Ducousso, Informant in French, who comes from Gers, France, and holds a baccalaureate degree from Training College, and Miss Laura Molina, Informant in Spanish. Miss Molina is a native of Mexico City and has attended Colegio Francis San Casme No. 33 and Mexico City College.

New Head Resident

Filling a position created by the opening of a new dormitory, is Mrs. Marion E. Councill, Head Resident in Main Cunningham. A Farmville native, Mrs. Councill attended Blackstone Junior College and was employed as a medical secretary in Farmville before her marriage. For the past several years she has made her home in Hickory, North Carolina.

Infirmary Adds Nurse

Mrs. Janie H. Jones, a native of Rice, Virginia, has been added to the staff of the college infirmary. She received the R. N. degree from Stuart Circle Hospital in Richmond and has held varied nursing positions, recently working as in Industrial Nurse for the Life Insurance Company of Virginia.

Judith Sawyer

Mrs. Judith L. Sawyer, a June Graduate of Hollins College, where she majored in art, comes to Longwood College to serve as secretary to Mrs. Mary W. Watkins, Executive Secretary, and Mr. A. Ray Merchant, Director of Public Relations. Mrs. Sawyer is a native of Washington, D. C., and graduated from Woodrow Wilson High School there.

SPECIAL
With this coupon all students can purchase any $1.00 box of stationery for 79c and $1.25 box for $1.00 on October 2nd, 3rd, 4th at
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

Gosh frosh!

how'd you catch on so quick? Catch on to the fact that Coca-Cola is the hep drink on campus, I mean. Always drink it, you say? Well—how about dropping over to the dorm and downing a sparkling Coke or two with the boys. The man who's for Coke is the man for us.

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

See
One-Act Plays
Thursday

The Rotunda

Buy
1959 Virginian
Now

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., October 8, 1958 | No. 2

'Sawdust, Spangles' to Highlight '58 AKG Circus

Helen Garter Selected To Portray 'Lost Eliza'

November 13-15 Play Also Features Smith

At long last, Eliza Doolittle has been discovered in the Longwood student body. Miss Helen Gray Garter, a junior from Pratts, has been chosen to portray the famous Cinderella role in George Bernard Shaw's Pygmalion.

The play, which is the original version of My Fair Lady, will be presented by the Longwood Players on November 13, 14 and 15 in Jarman Hall. The performance will mark Helen Gray's debut with the Players.

—Camera Artist

ELIZA FOUND! Junior Helen Garter will enact famous role.

Garnet Smith, a Hampden-Sydney man who has appeared in many Longwood productions, will play Professor Henry Higgins, Eliza's tutor. His friend, Col. Pickering, will be portrayed by John Myers, also of Hampden-Sydney. Eliza's father, Alfred Doolittle, will be played by Charter Wells, and Scott Bowen will appear as her suitor, Freddy Eynsford-Hill.

Other Major Roles

In other major roles, Nancy Oddenino will play Freddy's mother, Mrs. Eynsford-Hill, and freshman Barbara Bishop will portray Miss Eynsford-Hill. The role of the Professor's mother, Mrs. Higgins, will be filled by Bonny Keys, and Ann Bass will appear as Mrs. Pearce, the Professor's housekeeper.

Others in the cast are: Diane Doughty, Patricia Leake, Emily Umbarger, Brooks Kietrich, Page Tolleson, Ann Jenkins, Page Landers, Matilda Powell, and Addie Richardson of Longwood; Jim Neal, Ben Morgan, Jerry Ringwald, Bill Kempton, and Bill Ragsdale, all of Hampden - Sydney. Mr. William Noble of the Longwood Social Science Department will appear as the Taximan.

Pygmalion is being directed by Mr. David Wiley, assisted by Vicki Brinkley. Mary Linda League will serve as stage manager for the production.

Rotunda Makes Staff Changes

There have been some changes made in the Rotunda staff this fall.

Dale Preddy, a junior, is now serving as Circulation Manager while Gwen Melton is student teaching in Roanoke. Chris Kamen, a sophomore, is taking over as Sports Editor to replace Violet Scott who is also in Roanoke. Sophomore Jo Ann Kleinecke has taken over the new office of Assistant Feature Editor. The new Social columnist is sophomore Jackie Gibson who succeeds Nancy Harnsberger, and Margie Layman, a senior, will handle the Timely Topics column while Barbara Heck teaches in Roanoke.

Many new reporters have begun work on the Rotunda staff also. Mostly freshmen, they are still in an "apprentice" period of trying different departments.

SEE SCIENCE TV PROGRAM SUNDAY, 12-12:30 P. M.

H. A. Edwards

CIRCUS CLASS CHAIRMEN—Dottie Boswell, Cat Ozmon, seniors; Joanne Garner, Carolyn DeHaven, juniors; Dodie Webster, Jane Stegall, sophomores; Sue Sharpe, Leo Pagenhardt, freshmen (l. to r.); are busy preparing for that important October date.

Three One-Act Plays To Hit Boards Friday

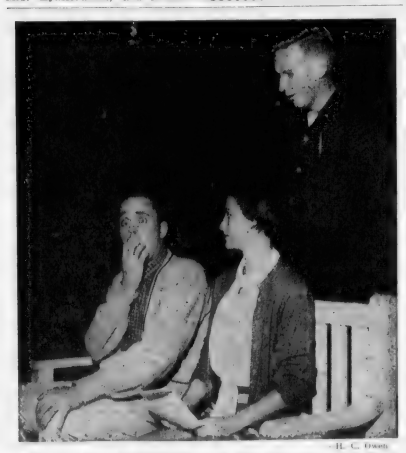
Program To Include Farce, Drama, Mime

From the Sublime, an evening of three one-act plays will be presented by Alpha Psi Omega on Friday, October 10 in Jarman Hall.

A Marriage Proposal

As the houselights dim and the curtain rises, the lights will come up on the first play of the evening, Anton Chekhov's A Marriage Proposal. This farce, which concerns two lovers who quarrel over a piece of property, will be directed by Nancy Brubeck and will feature Liz Diechmann and William Ragsdale as the lovers, with Charter Wells appearing as the girl's father.

Something Unspoken



In the dramatic vein, the second play will be Tennessee Williams' Something Unspoken. Directed by Molly Workman, the play centers around Cornelia Scott, a Southern aristocrat who is anxious to obtain an important post in the local chapter of the Confederate Daughters. Her efforts to "swing" the election clearly reveal her true character. Lena Flippin will portray Cornelia and Helen Brown, her timid secretary.

Mime Stars Lambiotte

For the third and final presentation, Mr. David Wiley has chosen to direct a mime——a play without words. The play is expressed entirely through the actions of a single character, who will be portrayed by Tweedie Lambiotte. The unusual setting will consist solely of a palm tree, two cubes, and a water bottle.

Tired? Bored with classes, study, books? Then why not take an evening off and relax in the magic atmosphere of the theatre?

(Editor's Note: Thanks Molly Workman, APO Publicity Director, for your help.)

H. C. Ewell

"THE MARRIAGE PROPOSAL"—William Ragsdale, Liz Deichmann, Charter Wells (l. to. r.) rehearse Chekhov's one-act farce under the direction of Nancy Brubeck.

Enrollment Figure Shows Increase

The total enrollment of Longwood College for the 1958-59 session is 982, 72 more students than the 1957-58 session.

There are 366 freshmen, 47 more than last year; 245 sophomores, 6 less than last year; 161 juniors, 32 more than last year; and 177 seniors, 48 more than last year.

Nine special students are enrolled this year which is 6 more than last year's enrollment and 24 graduate students enrolled this year which is the exact number of graduate students enrolled in the 1957-58 session.

Lankford To Head State Committees

Dr. Lankford has been pointed as chairman of a committee to review current criticisms of teacher education by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction in a series of committees to study Virginia's program of teacher education. Dr. Lankford's committee will meet tomorrow in Richmond to discuss the criticisms.

On Oct. 14, Dr. Lankford will speak in Chapel Hill to the Zone Conference Association as public school systems from South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia come together. His topic will be "Modern Mathematics in the Junior and Senior High Schools".

October 1 Dr. Lankford attended a meeting of the subcommittee of the Virginia Education Facilities Committee. The committee was formed by Governor Thomas B. Stanley in order to develop better ways and means of more efficient use of Virginia's education facilities in schools and colleges because of the increase in enrollment. The problem to be solved is whether new buildings are a necessity or are the facilities now being used as efficiently as they could be.

Mr. Bellwood of the consulting firm of Cresap, Paget, and McCormick is to do this study and return the final report to the committee.

The subcommittee is to consider the final report. Dr. Lankford is vice-chairman of the committee.

Friday October 3 Dr. Lankford went to Petersburg as a reading conference consultant.

Dr. Lankford is serving this year as chairman of the Farmville Community Chest Drive. Mr. Robert Merritt, Associate Professor of Biology at Longwood, is assistant chairman.

Staff Photo

DONNA BOONE
General Circus Chairman

TV Physics Course Available This Fall

"A College Course for Credit in Atomic Age Physics," is being presented on television each morning from 6:30 to 7 Monday through Friday, by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education and the National Broadcasting Company.

The program, designed primarily for high school teachers of Science, is being conducted by Dr. Harvey E. White, professor of physics at the University of California. A carefully selected group of physicists serve as consultants.

Presentations during the first semester will be devoted to those aspects of physics necessary for an understanding of atomic and nuclear physics. The second semester will deal exclusively with atomic and nuclear physics.

After completing course requirements, and listening to Dr. White's lectures, persons may take an examination here at the college for [illegible] Mr. T. A. [illegible] of the Longwood physics department doubts that undergraduates could [illegible] unless they had special courses in physics and mathematics.

This program, which began October 6, will continue through June 5 over the NBC network.

Rehearsals Begin Announces Boone

"I am The Big Top. I shelter a nomadic world, a people who build a new home in a new town every day. Their home is Circusdom; their town is OUR town. This is a land of romance and tragedy, tears and laughter. We bid you welcome. Welcome to the land of Sawdust and Spangles with a forgotten beginning and no end. WELCOME TO THE BIG TOP"

"Sawdust and Spangles" will be Alpha Kappa Gamma's 1958 Circus theme as the spirit of the Big Top comes to life and to Longwood on October 25. Once again, the thrill and excitement born out of the spirit of Circus and typified by sawdust and spangles will welcome the clowns and performers of the Big Top.

As the audience enters the Big Top, filled with the fascinations and enchantments of the big afternoon parade, they will be caught up in the whirlwind excitement of a new world—that of the Circus. The colorful spirit of the Big Top, typified by the clowns and animals, will be heralded by the Animal Trainer and Ringmaster. "Sawdust and Spangles" will highlight an evening of gaiety and laughter in Jarman Auditorium as each class presents its skit and the Queen of Circus is crowned.

Circus Climax

The climax of the Circus festivities will come as the classes compete for float and skit awards. Following the presentation of awards in Jarman Hall, there will be the activities on the Midway in the Main Rec. Classes and campus organizations have begun planning their booths for this element of the Circus activities.

The queen of Circus will be revealed the night of Circus. She will be selected from the senior class and her court will be composed of deserving members from each class.

Sponsored by the national honorary fraternity for leadership, Circus practices have begun and each class is busy trying to make their Circus skit the one to be selected as the winner.

Circus Chairman

As representatives of each class, chairmen have been selected to lead groups on skit, parade, and booth activities. General class chairmen are: Dottie Boswell and Cat Ozmon, seniors; Jo Ann Garner and Carolyn DeHaven, juniors; Dodie Webster and Jane Stegall, sophomores and Sue Sharp and Leo Pagenhardt, freshmen.

Committees headed by members of AKG are as follows: publicity, Minnie Lee Dean; stunt, Dede Dove and Lou Heier; parade, Weedie Norman; decoration and booth, Helen Jean Young; animals and clowns, Nancy Brubeck and Barbara Odom; and queen and court, Lillian Rosson and Donna Boone.

Boone Expresses Hopes

General Circus Chairman Donna Boone expresses her high hopes for the coming Circus, as rehearsals for the class skits move into full swing. Anticipation is mounting and excitement is in the air as October 25 is drawing near and Longwood is awaiting the arrival of 1958 Circus brought to us this year amid "Sawdust and Spangles."

Lynn Heads Men

Senior John Lynn has recently been elected president of the Men's Student Government on campus. P. L. Dixon is the vice-president, Charles McCling the secretary-treasurer, and Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel, the advisor.

The organization has thirteen members and has one called meeting a month.

Handle With Care

This session has seen the opening of a new dormitory for Longwood College. It, being a much needed addition to our campus, has adequately, for the present at least, relieved the extreme over-crowded conditions heretofore present.

Since the return of the student body to our campus many exclamations have been uttered regarding this building. Of course it is new and in many respects somewhat different from our previous college homes. The attraction of South Cunningham Hall lies primarily in its newness and in the presence of its modern features. Such attractiveness can only be maintained by the careful and considerate attitude of those who now occupy this structure. This is not a matter to be treated casually. Not one of the student body would treat the walls, window shades, and other facilities in their home with the same abandon which some apparently have treated those on the college campus in years past.

The appearance of this campus — the dormitories — your own room — reflects you. Therefore it is not only consideration but also personal pride in everyday surroundings that should influence the proper treatment of any property. Besides, using property carelessly now is not good training for the future. So let Longwood reflect you — help keep our buildings neat and attractive.

This is also a very small way to show our appreciation for campus improvements and the new dormitory.

Needless to say this dormitory represents the ideas, planning, and continuous interest of a number of people. First and formost among these is our president, Dr. Francis G. Lankford, Jr., who of course is to be commended. No one realized more than Dr. Lankford that a serious over-crowded rooming condition did exist on our campus, and the same interest and foresight that secured for us this addition has resulted in a clear and well-planned program for future expansion.

Others are to be commended, also. Among these there are too many to list at present, but certainly a vote of thanks must go to the Business Manager of the College, Mr. J. H. Wamsley, and to those within our state government who have seen and still see our needs, and will work to meet them.

Patsy Powell, Associate Editor

Support 'Sawdust, Spangles'

Two weeks 'till Circus! Last night class practices began for AKG's "Sawdust and Spangles" and from all reports competition will be high for the winning skit.

Circus is a big occasion on our campus in many ways. Traditionally, it is an event at Longwood College that stages a tremendous show produced by the whole student body. But before showtime, Circus calls forth many talents and hard work that, combined with leadership, cooperation, and dependability, make it possible at all. And the intangible something that makes Circus so exciting; that temporarily transforms Jarman into a real Big Top, that urges each class to produce the best skit ever, that inspires each student to give her best; it is this spirit that spells our Circus.

Therefore, a lot of time and work is going to be demanded from all of us in the next two weeks. AKG, leading the main committees, has laid the groundwork, and will continue to help each class as much as possible; but it is up to each individual to do her part too. Class practices cannot be 'cut.' Your class chairman cannot do the job alone — she needs you.

Circus is rewarding in many ways. It gives you the opportunity to work with and know your classmates; it provides the stage for you to display your own special talents; it brings gratification from doing a job well, and perhaps, the thrill of winning an award for the best float or skit.

As Circus, with its songs, dances, and all kinds of special scenery and effects, unfolds before you there is always a wonderful feeling of surprise and pride at the original and creative ideas behind each skit. Why not be part of all this? Circus also means a lot of fun, so let's all support AKG's 1958 Circus — "Sawdust And Spangles."

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 2, 1929

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 1836.

Linda Dicks ..... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editor
Ike McLaughlin, Peggy Lester

Barbara Hofer ..... Business Manager
Judy Lewis ..... News Editor
Henrietta Dollins ..... Feature Editor
Violet Scott ..... Sports Editor
Virginia Jones ..... Desk Editor
Eleanor Gooseberry ..... Photography
Melinda Lassiter ..... Art
Gwen Mobley ..... Circulation Manager
Lee Ann Bryan, Typist ..... Advertising Manager
Miss Mary D. Noble ..... Faculty Advisor

Members of Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Virginia Collegiate Press Association, Columbia Scholastic Press Association, Eastern Collegiate Press Association.

NEWS STAFF: Elaine Lawson, Margaret Ann Lee, Jeanne Lee, Jeanette Vanderpool, Jacqueline Draper, Carole Bennett, Nancy Gilliam, Ann Hall, Ann Hamilton, Angelyne Hamlett, Peggy Hamlett, Jeanette Hodges, Betty Hughes, Anne Lee, Margaret Lee, Ann Lewis, Ann Lowe, Margaret Lowe, Mary Lou Lowe, Mary Lou Lowry, Ann Mallory, Mary Ann Mallory, Margaret Mann, Carolyn Mann, Sue Mann, Jacqueline Mann, Mary Ann Mann, Mary Ann Mann, Mary Ann

Social Notes

By JACKIE GIBSON

Who says college and marriage don't mix? All doubters should confer with Ruth Raney, now Mrs. Pete Cowan.

Surprises galore were in store for Weedie Norman and Sheila Galloway this weekend. Weedie is now sporting a Pi Kappa Alpha pin that belongs to Jerry Cheadle of the University of Richmond. Sheila went to openings at Randolph Macon and returned with a (or should I say "the") Phi Delta Theta pin. Who is the lucky boy—why Epes Robertson, of course.

Mike Fisher might not call Kay Howard sweetheart, but she is wearing a Chi Phi Sweetheart pin. What does he call you, Kay? The Pi Kappa Alphas are in the majority this week. Joan Lee Thomas has Chuck Coleman's brand new pin. Congratulations, Joan Lee. Earl Miles is Kay Revelle's special Pika man from South Carolina. Easy on the mail, Kay.

This was a big party weekend around the state and the KA's at Hampden - Sydney came through with a party Saturday night. Seen at the house were: Dottie Brown, Ann Barnes, Carol White, Judy Welch, Carolyn Bassford, Cherry Gorman, Sally Harney, Evelyn Alouf, Mary O'Conner, Lee Paige, Sue Humphries.

Virginia Draws Fans

Oh! Those Monday classes! When you see the list of those girls who went away this weekend, you will know what I mean. There were many disappointed University of Virginia fans this weekend who saw U. Va. lose to N.C. State. However, I think the fraternity parties Saturday night helped them forget their sorrows. Mrs. Pete Dunbar (Wayne Boyden) greeted many of her L.C. friends at the KA house.

Also seen there were: Sara Oliver, Jackie Gibson, Harriet Butterworth, Ann Coleman. Running from house to house, we met: Donna Boone, Betty Griggs, Jo Lynn Holland, Sue Robertson, Sue Rawlings, Jane Freeman, Lois Johnson, Brenda Parsley, Dorothy Wheeler, Nancy Caudill, Duner Cahill, Margaret Clarke, Carolyn Dehaven, Patsy Goodman, Ann Mixon, Norma Redmon, Rene Weimer, Elizabeth Mohr, Susan O'Hara, Pat Rhodenhizer, Lynn McDade, Betty Burton, Kitty Birkhead, Keaton Holland, Betsy Hurt, Nancy Preddy, Jo Savage, Pat Yeatman, Betty Burga, Carol Sprague, Beverly Claytor.

V.M.I. was another Homecoming attraction. Seen with their cadets were: Betty Wood, Dottie Nelson, Brenda Dodd, Lois Peters, Betty Brown Culpepper, Iris Hines, Mo Franklin, Frances Gray, Carol Matthews, Ann Norfleet, Betty Harrell, Hannah White, Ann Damron, Betty Elliott, Mary Grayson, Ann Green, Beverly Gaskins, Linda Allen, Chris Kamen.

Traveling to the V.P.I. game this weekend were: Nancye Allen, Kay Pierce, Betty Byer, Joann Garner, Page Landers, Norma Wilson, Peggy Tyer, Janet Stanley, Ann Scott, Katherine Wallace, Doris Ayers, Sue Blair, Margaret Layman, Virginia McAden, Patti Roach, Betty Smith, Dona Marquette, Patricia Norman, Wilma Shaffer, Sally Thomas, Ann Yinger, Gaye Yates, Archer Cassada, Martha Helms, Gloria Dancy, Arlene Johnston, Betty Jones, Diana Doughty, Elizabeth Fentress, Norrish Munson, Anna Pope, Doris Puryear, Betty Ruffin, Frances Gallahan, Mary Elmore, Marty Shumate, Ginny Fisher, Lois Ashworth, Virginia Van de Riet.

Hold on to your hat, there's still more! Randolph-Macon played host to Joann Kleinecke, Becky Wooldridge, Sheila Galloway, Jeanie Sanders, Melissa Rowe, Virginia McDonald.

Around About

Ginny Whipple, Sue Caravella and Gin Kuyk went up to Washington and Lee. Pat Hickey was at the University of Richmond; the middies received Mary Alice White at Annapolis; Virginia Ferguson attended parties at M.C.V. The Kappa Sigs at Hampden-Sydney gave a party in Richmond this weekend and they tell that Kitty Good had a Good time!

HOCKEY
—Remaining Games—
October

11	Richmond Club	Home
11	Stratford	Home
14	Norfolk Division	There
18	Madison	Home
24	Westhampton	Home
	November
7	William & Mary	There

Varsity Hockey Names Members

The members of the 1958-59 Varsity Hockey Team have been announced.

The following seniors, juniors, and sophomores have been selected for the team: Nancy Andrews, Barbara Brantley, Gayle Cunningham, Josie Curry, Delo Dove, June Elmore, Mate Fadely, Nancy George, Mary Hite Grayson, Mable Healy, Lou Heier, Doris Kesling, Mary Lou Morgan, Jean O'Connell, Anne B. Palmer, Pat Southworth, Jeanette Talbot, Sandy Tarter, Willie Taylor, Jeanette Townsend, Linda Vess, Jackie Waller, and Claudia Whipple. Freshmen for the team will be picked later.

Doris Kesling and Willie Taylor will manage the team.

'Mis'ippian,' Dowd Joins P.E. Staff

By JUNE ELMORE

The Longwood physical education department announces that they have a new addition on the staff. She is Miss Barbara Dowd from "Mis'ippi."

Miss Dowd went to school in Tennessee where she received her B.S. degree from Memphis State University. While at Memphis State she was outstanding in many activities. Miss Dowd was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and served as treasurer and first vice-president. She was a member of the Mortar Board, a national Senior Women's Society, was art editor of the year book, and appeared in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Active in Sports

Miss Dowd was also in the May Court, served as president of the physical education majors' club, and received the outstanding member award which is based on scholarship and participation in activities and given by the alumni chapter of her sorority. Active also on the Panhellenic council, she was a member of Student Government, Westminster Fellowship, and a history association.

In the field of sports she was captain of the varsity tennis team and intramural all-star in tennis, volleyball, basketball, and softball.

While Miss Dowd was working on her M.A. at the University of Alabama, she taught part-time through a teaching fellowship. A member of the American Association of University Women, she also participated in Kappa Delta Pi and Alpha Gamma Delta alumni association.

Summer campwork has been one of her main interests for the past eleven years. The physical education professor has spent the last seven summers at Merrimac Camp for Girls in the Black Mountains of North Carolina. When asked why she decided to go into the field of physical education, Miss Dowd replied, "My camp work since I was ten years old influenced it most." She has no favorite field of physical education but states that she "has done a little bit of everything and enjoys it all."

Staff Photo

MISS BARBARA DOWD, new physical education instructor, talks about Longwood's friendly spirit.

For leisure time hobbies she enjoys sports of all kinds, interior decorating, and designing and making many of her own clothes.

This is Miss Dowd's first college teaching job and she is instructor in a variety of classes—health, swimming, restricted phys. ed, and two freshman classes. She remarked that she has been very impressed by "the friendly spirit at Longwood and participation in class activities."

AA Awards Honorary Blazers to Eight Seniors

Staff Photo

HAPPY BLAZER WINNERS—Linda Vess, Nancy Andrews, Lou Heier (l. to r., first row), and Delo Dove, Willie Taylor, Gayle Cunningham, Jackie Waller, Sandy Tarter (l. to r., second row) talk excitedly after the A A Picnic last Wednesday.

Girls Receive Highest Sports Award

By NANCY LECHLER and JUDY ECKSTROM

Eight seniors were awarded blazers at the A. A. Demonstration last Wednesday for outstanding participation and achievement in athletics.

Receiving the white blazers, the highest award, were Nancy Andrews, Gayle Cunningham, Delo Dove, Lou Heier, Willie Taylor, Linda Vess, and Jackie Waller. Sandy Fitzgerald Tarter was awarded a blue blazer for achievement.

Nancy Andrews

Nancy, a physical education major from Roanoke, along with all recipients has been very active in sports since her freshman year. She has served on the Athletic Council for three years, varsity and class archery manager and varsity hockey and basketball squads for three years. Nancy is also a member of the H20 Club, Monogram Club, Cotillion Club, and is president of Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority.

In receiving the award, Nancy replied, "I have always dreamed of such a big honor but never thought it would come true."

Gayle Cunningham

Gayle, a physical education major from Falls Church, has served on the A. A. Council for three years, secretary of the Monogram Club, varsity basketball manager for two years, and has been a member of the hockey, basketball, and archery squads for three years. Gayle is also vice-president of Theta Sigma Upsilon.

Gayle's reaction to receiving the blazer was, "It seems too wonderful to be true."

Delo Dove

Delo Dove, a biology and science major from Fieldale, is presently serving as president of the Athletic Association. Delo has been a member of the hockey, basketball and tennis squads, and has served as treasurer of the Monogram Club. She is also a member of Theta Sigma Upsilon, Lynchos Society, Cotillion Club, and is treasurer of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national leadership fraternity. "The blazer award is perhaps the highest award one can receive in the sports field here at Longwood. I'm very proud to be able to share this honor with seven other deserving girls who have helped to add much enjoyment to college sports," thus Delo summed up her comments on the blazer awards.

Lou Heier

Lou Heier, a physical education major from Warwick, has held the Longwood Tennis Championship for two years, along with serving on the hockey, basketball and tennis varsity squads for three years. Lou has been secretary and presently vice-president of the A. A. Council and is a member of the H20 Club and Monogram Club. Outside of athletics, she served on the Student Standards Committee for two years and as co-chairman for Junior Dance. She is presently vice-president of Alpha Kappa Gamma. "I feel it was an honor to receive a blazer and was very happy," remarked Lou.

Willie Taylor

Willie Taylor, a physical education major from Greina, has served on the A. A. Council for three years along with being a member of the varsity hockey and basketball squads. Willie is presently varsity hockey manager and has served as treasurer of the Monogram Club. "I think it is the biggest thrill I have had since I have been at Longwood," thus Willie expressed her feelings after the demonstration.

Linda Vess

Linda, a Biology major from Covington, is a member of the Monogram Club and H20 Club, and varsity hockey squad for her third year. She has also participated in Class basketball and tennis with one year of varsity tennis. Linda remarked, "I only hope that I may wear the white blazer in keeping with the dignity and sportsmanship which I feel it symbolizes."

Jackie Waller

Jackie, a physical education major from Hurt, has served on the A. A. Council, the varsity hockey and basketball squads for three years. She is also a member of the Monogram Club, Kappa Delta Pi, Rotunda staff, and Granddaughters Club.

"I hope that I may live up to the standards that I feel a white blazer symbolizes," was Jackie's main comment about her award.

Sandy Tarter

Sandy, a physical education major from Wytheville but now residing in Farmville, is a member of the H20 Club and has served on the varsity hockey squad three years, tennis squad for two years, and varsity basketball for one year. Sandy is also a member of Cotillion Club, Longwood Players, and Theta Sigma Upsilon. "I was very happy and pleased to win a blazer," remarked Sandy.

Blue And White Team Steals Two Victories

Roanoke C. Loses In Season's First Game

Longwood's athletic field was the scene of victory yesterday as the Blue and White's got off to a grand start by winning their first two hockey games of the 1958 season with Roanoke College as the opponents.

Dove Scores High

The first game resulted with a 12-2 score with Longwood as the victor. Delo Dove was high scorer with six points. Teammates Gayle Cunningham with one point, Barbara Brantley three points and Nancy Andrews two points helped score along the road to victory.

Kesling Scores High

The climax of the second game resulted with a 13-0 score as Longwood "shut out" Roanoke College for another win. Doris Kesling, acting as captain of the team, was high scorer with five points. The remaining eight goals were scored by Mary Lou Morgan with three points, Claudia Whipple one point, Mate Fadely three points and Jeanette Townsend one point.

Miss Elizabeth Burger served as umpire of the games, Joan Creel was scorer and Carolyn Thorpe acted as timekeeper. The captains of Longwood's first and second team were Sandy Tarter and Doris Kesling respectively.

Did You Know?

By MATTIE BLEWETT

—the word sophomore means "wise fool?"

—there are 473 four-cent stamps licked daily here on campus and pasted on upside down?

—local druggist did a sell out business on nerve pills prior to "Rat Week?" Afterwards they did an equally good business with bicarbonate of soda and aspirin.

—silence is golden?

—this spring Longwood College will graduate more khaki raincoats, worn-out tennis shoes, and decorated sailor hats than any other college in Farmville? Amazing!

—the definition for a "polka-dotted poly-wompus?" (Answer: a poly-wompus with polka dots.)

—last Sunday morning the trash cans distributed through the halls contained 336 green hats, 274 pieces of green crepe papter, and the remaining parts of 337 green balloons?

—today is Willie's birthday?

—the Charlestonian expression for "you and I have dined?" (Answer: Minet.)

FRESHMEN:

—Ann Ralpson from Warwick was an exchange student to Mexico this past summer.

—Ann Allen, from Portsmouth, was president of the state F.T.A. and attended the N.E.A. convention.

—Barbara Bishop, from Fork Union, spent three years in France where her father was stationed with the Army.

—Edmonia Leech, Helen Gene Taylor, and Nancy Ann Parker were All-Star 4-H.

—there are two freshmen by the name of Barbara Ann Coles. Both have sisters named Nancy who were born on the same day. Although one is from Stony Creek and one is from Danville, both their grandfathers are named John.

—Ann McGinnis spent her summer in San Pedro Sula, Honduras, Central America, where she visited her brother.

—that's all

Gridiron Gab

V.M.I. extended its winning streak to 11 games and its unbeaten chain to 13 Saturday as the Keydets slipped past the U. of Richmond 12-6.

Va. Tech. came from a 7-point halftime deficit to top William and Mary 27-15.

N. C. State's Wolfpack met fire with fire in the second half and Va.'s Cavaliers fell from the flames 26-14.

Randolph-Macon gave Gallaudet a severe beating 55-8. Emory and Henry topped Carson-Newman 28-14 for their homecoming game. Duke scored 2 touchdowns in the first half and edged Illinois 15-13. South Carolina's Gamecocks defeated Georgia's Bulldogs 24-14; Clemson topped Maryland 8-0; Army walloped Penn State 26-0.

Select your pattern of sterling silver
at
MARTIN THE JEWELER
over 65 patterns
to choose from

STUDY WITH
Barnes & Noble
College Outlines
Everyday Handbooks
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
Phone 441-J

Visit
THE SNACK
"The Place Where Old Friends Meet"

SPECIAL FOR OCT. 9

	Reg.	Spec.
SKRIP INK	19c	14c
STATIONERY	1.00	79c
FILM (620, 127, 120)		50c ea., 2 for 79c

SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

the christian magazine that dares to be intellectual the intellectual magazine that dares to be christian published monthly october through may order through your wesley foundation or direct at $2 a year from motive magazine • p.o. box 871

nashville 2, tennessee

MISS KATHERINE ANNE PORTER, world-famous short story writer, talks with Longwood College President Francis G. Lankford, Jr., on steps of Jarman Auditorium yesterday after addressing the student body at the Fall Convocation. Miss Porter, writer-in-residence at the University of Virginia this semester, spoke on the importance of memory and disillusionment as part of her main themes. Before returning to Charlottesville she was introduced to faculty members at a coffee held in her honor in the Virginia Room.

Timely Topics

By MARGIE LAYMAN

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has been told by his doctors that he is in excellent health. He will celebrate his 68th birthday on October 14.

THE SUPREME COURT opened on October 6 with 12 racial appeals on file and more expected. These racial appeals are from Arkansas, Alabama, Virginia, New York, North Carolina, Tennessee, Louisiana, Delaware, and Pennsylvania. As some southern states try to maintain segregated schools the Supreme Court is sure to receive many more appeals in the 1958-59 term that runs until next June.

THE SOVIET UNION claims that it is widening its lead over the United States in the space field. The boast was made in marking the first anniversary of Sputnik I. "Results of the past year are convincing evidence that the gap between the Soviets and Americans has not lessened but, on the contrary, has increased," wrote V. Dobronravov, a top scientist. "It is becoming more difficult for the Americans to catch up with us each passing day."

SENATE MACHINERY has been set in motion to see what can be done to encourage wider employment of workers over 65. Medical advances have increased the life expectancy of the average American so that 1 out of 12 is over 65.

Pat Leake

(Continued from page 2)

tings, Pat went sightseeing in the English countryside. She sensed the typical romantic setting of gloomy dampness when she came upon the brick foundation ruins about which Emily Bronte was said to have written Wuthering Heights.

Again impressed by the country's inhabitants Pat stated, "I loved the literature, the land, and its wonderful people; the English reserve is there, but underneath, they are the most warmhearted and sentimental people I have ever met."

Climaxing her summer, Pat revisited Scotland where she had formerly toured during the school session. Contrary to their popular reputation of being overly thrifty, Pat found the Scottish people "extremely hospitable."

Returning to London, she boarded the Queen Elizabeth and sailed home after what she smilingly admitted was, "The most wonderful summer I have ever experienced."

Trade Conference

Weedy Norman, a senior from Richmond and Rose Byer, a junior from Covington will represent Longwood at the tenth annual Virginia World Trade Conference, which is to be held October 16 and 17 at the Hotel Chamberlain, Old Point Comfort.

There will be many outstanding speakers and prominent businessmen present. The highlight of the conference will be the student forum, which is composed of approximately ninety-five teachers and students representing thirty-two colleges and universities.

Church News

By ANN GLOVER

Baptist

The annual B.S.U. Fall Convention will be held October 31-November 2 in Charlottesville. The theme will be "Discipline for Today's Demands," around which all the programs will be centered. A large number of students from all the Virginia colleges are expected to attend. The entire cost for Longwood students will not exceed six dollars; so if you want to share in this inspirational and fun-filled week-end, please contact Margie Layman and start making plans to attend.

Episcopal

On October 12 the Canterbury Club will have as its guest speaker Dean Ruth Wilson. Her subject will be "Living for Christ on our Campus."

The Virginia Canterbury Association fall conference will be held at the Roslyn Conference Grounds on November 8 and 9. Registration will be handled by Demetria Koumparakis and will be due the end of October.

A study series on the Life and Mission of the Church will be carried on throughout the months of October and November.

Presbyterian

The Westminster Fellowship will continue its weekly Bible study on Wednesday nights at 7:15 at the Church. Any and all interested students are urged to attend.

On October 12 the West-Fel will have as a guest speaker a Hampden-Sydney alumnus who is now a student at Union Theological Seminary in Richmond.

The fall Synod Westminster Fellowship conference will be held at Roslyn Oct. 31-Nov. 2. The theme is "Jesus — The Person" and the speaker is Dr. William Oglesby from U.T.S. The West-Fel will pay the registration fee for all students who plan to attend. The cost per student will be $6.00. Keep this date in mind and begin making plans now to attend this conference.

Methodist

Mr. Joe White, Director of the Virginia Methodist Student Movement, will be the guest speaker at the Wesley Foundation on Oct. 12 He will speak on "The College Student Discovers His Faith."

The Wesley Foundation choir will continue its weekly practices on Thursday afternoons at 5:00 at the Center.

U. Va.'s Newcomb Hall Welcomes All Students

... C Representatives Tour New Building

By HENRIETTA DOLLINS

Bowling, table tennis, and shuffleboard are but a few of the entertainments offered to college students at the University of Virginia's recently completed student union, Newcomb Hall.

The new five story activities building, which has been in construction since 1955, was finished approximately one month ago and is now open to University students, their dates and any others interested in participating in events featured there.

A tour of the new building including an enjoyable luncheon in the building's dining area, was given to social directors and newspaper editors of Hollins, Mary Washington, Sweet Briar, Randolph-Macon and Longwood Colleges on September 24 for the purpose of introducing to the student bodies of these colleges the facilities which the University plans to make available for them.

Bowling to Chess

Included in Newcomb Hall's facilities are the game room offering billiards, table tennis, shuffleboard, chess, checkers, bridge, and eight bowling alleys located in the basement.

The third floor reading room is equipped with newspapers and periodicals, and recordings may be charged out for use in music listening rooms. Also, various conference rooms used by student groups, such as the Student Government, Honor and Judiciary Committees, are located on this floor.

Offices of the Cavalier Daily, the University's student newspaper, are also housed in the new building. These offices for the business, sports, news, and editorial staffs occupy the fifth floor. Dark rooms complete with all facilities for developing and printing pictures are located in the basement. Supplies are also available to other students who wish to use these rooms.

Magnificent Ballroom

Perhaps the most outstanding room on the fourth floor is the magnificent blue ballroom which is designed to hold 500 couples, who may also enjoy an outside balcony overlooking Charlottesville scenes.

The first floor includes the Dogwood Room, the dining area, the cafeteria, post office, shoeshine and barber shops, and the Grill, which is complete with snack bar, booths, tables, chairs, and a television set.

The representatives heard reports from the Fine Arts and Social Committees on how these colleges jointly may enjoy the newly completed building.

Dance October 8

Charles Behlen, President of the Social Committee of the Student Union, announced plans for an informal dance to which girls of these schools are invited on October 8 from 8 p.m. until midnight.

Other activities such as after-football-game dances, Christian Varsity meetings, joint glee club concerts, bridge tournaments, and painting groups were also discussed in an effort to bring the student bodies of these schools in closer affiliation with each other and with the students of the University.

Representing Longwood at the meeting were Miss Spear, Assistant Dean, Linda Doles, Barbara Hurst, Cherry Gorham and Henrietta Dollins.

'Y' Will Show Film At Next Assembly

The Young Women's Christian Association of Longwood College will be in charge of the assembly program October 14 at 1:00 p.m. in Jarman Auditorium.

The program will feature a three-minute film, "Voice in the Deep," showing such marine creatures as porpoises, snapping shrimp, croakers and garibaldi.

The film will demonstrate that just as certain instruments are necessary for listening to undersea sounds, so certain conditions are necessary for learning spiritual truths.

Devotionals on this subject will be given by Margaret Shropshire.

Kindness Amazes Foreigners

(Continued from page 2)

ways done everything together and we think the same things, so I guess our information would be the same. Sometimes friends call us 'Las Dos Hermanos' (the two sisters)."

Laura studied at a private grammar school then went on to the "segundaria," which is comparable to our high school, then to "La Preparatoria" which prepares one for higher education. At the age of 17 she entered the University of Mexico for one year where she specialized in The Humanities. She then attended business school at Mexico City college.

Then turning to Marta to ask about her education she, laughing [illegible] said, "lo mismo" the same thing, and believe it or not, Marta's educational training was identical with Laura's excepting two years of secretarial school which Marta finished in Montreal, Canada, at the School of the Sacred Heart, and specializing in Architecture [illegible] University.

Loves Honor Code

Laura, when asked how she liked Longwood College stated both hands over her head, jumped up excited and exclaimed, "Yes, I love Longwood College because it is [illegible] me so much experience and I love the girls, the pretty buildings, the school and the Honor Code.

"In Mexico we have no honor code and our rules regarding [illegible] so [illegible] clubs or school sports."

"And also," Marta added, "We [illegible] we do not have questions like here at Longwood. They give us a topic [illegible] and we [illegible]

Impressed With Freedom

[illegible] in speech [illegible] the [illegible] impressed [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] girls have."

[illegible] Then they both started laughing and [illegible] stand your accent. It is very pleas[illegible]

[illegible] Marta specializes [illegible] painting, her preference being portraits.

Both girls hope to extend their visit in the United States through the summer, as they want to see as much of the country as possible before returning to Mexico. Laura has already made plans for next winter as she has a job waiting for her in Mexico City as an executive secretary with an insurance firm. Marta however, does not plan to start work but hopes to continue traveling "to the far corners of the world," she stated.

These twenty-year-old girls are making great plans for the future and with the grace and charm which they possess, will surely achieve success.

Do You Think for Yourself? (THIS TEST WILL TELL YOU! *)

Do you often dislike doing favors for others, even though you tell yourself you enjoy it? YES ☐ NO ☐

Do you refuse to worry about things you can't do anything about? YES ☐ NO ☐

Would you be completely at ease if you found yourself suddenly in the spotlight at a social gathering? YES ☐ NO ☐

Would you vote for establishing an international language other than English? YES ☐ NO ☐

Can you compete with another person without feeling hostile? YES ☐ NO ☐

Do you ever say things you don't believe, just to start a discussion? YES ☐ NO ☐

When you're very hungry, do you like to try out strange foods? YES ☐ NO ☐

Do you enjoy being called upon as an umpire to settle disputes? YES ☐ NO ☐

Familiar pack or crush-proof box.

The Man Who Thinks for Himself Knows...

ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER... A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!

Now answer this one: Do you really think about the filter cigarette you choose? YES____ NO____

If your answer is "Yes"... well, you're the kind of person who thinks for himself. You can be depended on to use judgment in everything you do.

The fact is, men and women who really think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. Their reason? Best in the world. They know for a fact that only VICEROY—no other cigarette—has a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

*IF YOU HAVE ANSWERED YES TO 6 OF THESE QUESTIONS, YOU ARE A PERSON WHO THINKS FOR HIMSELF!

©1958, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

See
Oedipus Rex
Monday

The Rotunda

Attend
Circus Practice
Tonight

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., October 15, 1958 | No. 3

Ninety-five Graduates Enter Teaching Field

The Longwood Placement Bureau reports that approximately 95 of the 128 graduates of the class of 1958 have entered the teaching profession. The rest of the graduates are in various fields of work, which range from a medical technician to a seed analyst.

Richmond Teachers

Teaching in the Richmond area are as follows: Richmond, Ann Foster and Linda Garrison; Henrico County, Mrs. Anita Heflin Allen, Mrs. Annette Crain Allen, Jean Anderson, Suzanne Barr, Anne Hill, Sylvia Moore, Betty Jeanne Sprujan; Chesterfield County, Barbara Parkinson and Carolyn Wilson, Hanover County, Emily Atkinson, Grace Bowles and Carol King.

Graduates working in the various city school systems are: Danville, Mrs. Mary Deane Boisseau, Elaine Handy and Mrs. Virginia Anderson Russell; Falls Church, Carol Wolfe; Hampton, Sarah Jester, Shirley McNeal, Betty Spencer, Mary Lee Teel; Harrisonburg, Emily Irby; Hopewell, Ann Tucker; Lynchburg, Mary Alice Henry, Mrs. Sarah S. Pevehouse, Mary Price, and Patricia Wilmouth; Portsmouth, Charlotte Ann Hall; Martinsville, Betty Glascock; Newport News, Mary Beth Picinich; Norfolk, Barbara Pond; Roanoke, Eleanor Crowder, Alice Maxey and Virginia Umbarger; Suffolk, Annie Mae Williams; Warwick, Judy Alexander, Sue Amory, Nancy Baker, Mary Holland, Patricia Patton and Lucy Lee Wooten.

County Teachers

Teaching in the county school systems are: Albemarle, Jeanne Vestal; Amherst, Rosalie Gear; Arlington, Traci Faison; Bedford, Geneva Ferguson; Brunswick, Mrs. Marjorie Algood Harrison; Charlotte, Patricia Fore; Dinwiddie, Gwen White ; Fairfax, Ellen Callaway, Ella Carter, Mary Ann Foster, Sara Gayhart, Judy Holderman, Carolyn Kelly, Kate Krehbiel, Janet Lloyd, Ann Rountree, Moonyean Warren and Annie V. Weaver; Giles, Jackie Harnsberger; King and Queen, Mrs. M. Weston Walker; King George, Joan Coakley; Middlesex, Winifred Biddlecomb; Montgomery, Mary Ann Barnett; Nansemond, Lois Gary; New Kent, Nancy Drudge.

Teaching in other county school Systems are: Norfolk, Norma Jenrett, Bonnie Paxson, Alice Sawyer, Carolyn Ward; Prince Edward, Elizabeth Cook, Princess Anne, Cornelia Batte, Nan Brimmer, Maxine Crowder, Amanda Dillon, Mrs. Delores Fentress, Sue Jett, Carol Lash, Merodith Nichols, Mrs. Jackie Foreman Sawyer, Sue Taylor; Pulaski, Mrs. Virginia Londeree Fulcher; Southampton, Jane Crute and Margaret Dowdy; Warren, Mary J. McLaney; York, Roselyn Epps.

Out of State Teachers

Several graduates have positions in schools out of the state and one

(Continued on page 4)

Oedipus Rex To Play Here

On Monday, October 20 in Jarman Hall, Alpha Psi Omega and Beorc Eh Thorn will present a film of the famous classical tragedy, Oedipus Rex.

Written over 2,000 years ago by the Greek playwright, Sophocles, the play deals with the tragic fate of Oedipus, who unknowingly murders his father and marries his own mother. The fact that the play is still performed today testifies to the ageless character of this great tragedy—and to the universal quality of human experience.

The motion picture version of Oedipus Rex was made by the Stratford, Ontario, Shakespearean Festival, under the direction of Tyrone Guthrie. The production is actually a filmed version of a performance as given on stage in the theatre of Stratford.

Tickets for Oedipus Rex may be purchased from members of Beorc Eh Thorn or at the box office. Admission 50 cents.

Y Sing Tonight!

FRESHMEN! Tonight at 6:45 there will be a SING in the main Rec.

What is a Sing? Well, it is a skit presented by different organizations on campus, and is usually a take-off on college life. The Y-Cabinet will sponsor tonight's Sing.

In the Spring there will be a competive Sing between the four classes. A reward of $5.00 will be given in an assembly to the winning class.

So, remember — COME TO THE REC TONIGHT. There is going to be loads of fun, and a surprise in store for everyone!

Bailey To Present Musical Selections In Varied Program

Miss Josephine Bailey, assistant professor of music, will present an organ recital Thursday evening at 8 p.m. in Jarman Hall.

The program will feature both early and contemporary styles, ending with the "Grand Piece Symphonique," by Cesar Franck.

In opening the program, Miss Bailey will play "Prelude in E Flat Major," by Johann S. Bach, followed by the chorale prelude, "Sheep May Safely Graze" also by Bach. Next on the program is "Toccata in G Major," by William Walond, and "Rhosymedre," a piece written on a Welsh hymn tune, by Ralph Vaughan Williams. Completing the first half of her concert, Miss Bailey, will play "Scherzo," by Maurice Duruflé, and "Carillon-Sortie," by Henri Mulet. Then following intermission, the concert will be concluded with the "Grand Piece Symphonique," by Franck.

Miss Bailey, a native of Indianapolis, Indiana, came to Longwood two years ago from St. Anne's Episcopal Church in Annapolis, Md., where she was organist and Choir Director for several years.

AKG Elects Lambiotte To Crack Circus Whip

—Staff Photo

TWEETY LAMBIOTTE, 1958 Circus Animal Trainer, cracks the whip in preparation for the October 25 event.

Sophomore to Star As Animal Trainer

By BET McLOUGHLIN

As Animal Trainer for the 1958 Circus, Sophomore Tweety Lambiotte will officially begin the annual festivities here October 25, at 4:00 p.m.

With a crack of the whip and a call to the animals, Tweety, from Warwick, will lead the opening parade featuring the class floats, circus animals on the horse-drawn wagons, clowns, students dressed in their class colors, and the Longwood band.

Tweety's reaction to her being selected as Animal Trainer was one of "absolute surprise to me." As she states, "I had no idea at all that AKG might select me as Animal Trainer. It is surely a great honor."

An active participant in her class' winning Circus skit last year, Tweety will be remembered for her dancing part as she played the lead in the Freshman skit. She also choreographed the ballet dancing for the skit in addition to her own dance. Tweety improvises all of her own dancing performances.

To Lead Parade

As Animal Trainer, Tweety will lead the parade through the streets of Farmville as students, friends, faculty, and townspeople gather to observe the floats, animals, clowns, and others that participate in the gala parade.

After marching down Pine Street to Route 460, the parade will proceed along Main Street and come back to the college campus. The Ringmaster will announce the prize-winning float later that evening as Circus reaches its climax in Jarman Hall.

In addition to her duties in the parade, the Animal Trainer will conduct the show featuring the animals prior to the presentation of the class skits in Jarman beginning at 8:00 p.m.

"Wonderful Tradition"

When asked what Circus at Longwood means to her, the newly-selected Animal Trainer replied, "I really think that Circus brings out the different class spirits and

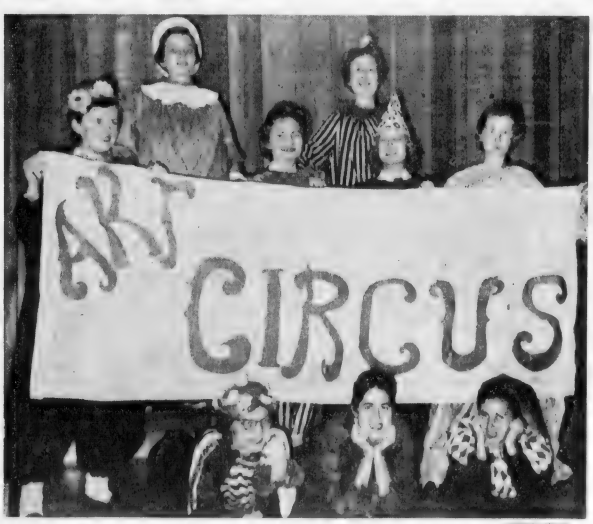
(Continued on page 4)

Barter Theatre To Stage 'Reluctant Debutante' Here

A brisk British comedy, "The Reluctant Debutante," that was one of the biggest London and New York hits, will be the next Barter Theatre of Virginia attraction at Jarman Hall. Curtain is at 8 p.m. on October 27.

The play is by William Douglas Home, who is well familiar with the frenzies of upper-class parents in 'bringing out' young daughters.

As the son of a British earl, Home himself was a highly eligible bachelor only a few years before he wrote his comedy, and so was one of the free - loading young men overwhelmed for a year or so with invitations from London society women with daughters on the marriage-market.



After he had been properly snared into matrimony, he then had an inside-view of the competition of mothers, and the expenses of fathers, in the presentation of debutantes, when his wife's sister made her debut.

"Bored" Debutante

Diane Hill is starred in this blithe satire of a fading social custom, playing the role of the busy-mother trying to steer her daughter into a good match. She is alarmed because the daughter to be played by Carolyn Condron— considers formal debutante parties, and all the young men she meets at them, boring and ridiculous. Politely sulky when the 'goofy' young men she meets annoy her, she turns into a charmer when she falls in love with the one man who mother considers ineligible.

Ned Beatty will be seen as the debutante's relaxed, quizzical father who regards the whole giddy whirl as a boresome expense that keeps him up late every evening going to balls. James E. Brodhead and Mitch Ryan will be seen as the daughter's two suitors—each with the first name of David -with resulting complications that add to the comedy's merriment.

Alpha Kappa Gamma Promotes Circus Spirit

—Staff Photo

RECOGNIZE ANYONE?—These "clowns" are getting ready for Circus, too; (l. to r.) AKG members, Helen Jean Young, Weedie Norman, Minnie Lee Dean, Nancy Brubeck, Lillian Rosson, Donna Boone; (front) Barbara Odom, Delo Dove, Lou Heler.

Boone, Others Lead Sawdust 'n Spangles

With the theme of "Sawdust and Spangles," Alpha Kappa Gamma will present in Jarman Hall Auditorium on October 25 another chapter in the life of one of Longwood's traditions — Circus.

In bringing the 1958 Circus into being, AKG, a national honorary fraternity for leadership in womanly service, has called for the services of not only all of its membership but also of all the student body.

Committee Heads

Donna Boone, a senior from Marion and General Chairman of the "Big Top," will have the assistance of the Alpha Kappa Gamma members who serve as chairmen of the various committees. Minnie Lee Dean, President of AKG and Senior Representative to Student Government, will serve as chairman of publicity. Delo Dove, President of the Longwood Athletic Association, and Lou Heler, Vice-President of the Athletic Association, will direct their skills towards the physical as they serve as co-chairmen of the

Where would a circus be without a parade? To plan and direct the "Big Top" parade AKG has Weedie Norman, Student Government Vice-President of the Student Government Association.

No circus would be complete without the side shows and concessions so to make Sawdust and Spangles complete Helen Jean Young of Cov-

(Continued on page 4)

Poet To Speak

Padraic Colum, noted Irish Poet, will travel from the University Center in Charlottesville to speak at Longwood Monday afternoon, October 20. Mr. Colum will be heard by those of the English Classes in the audio visual auditorium, in the basement of the library at 1:05.

Harvest Festival

Carolyn DeHaven Represents College

Carolyn DeHaven represented Longwood College at the first Harvest Festival held in Roanoke October 10-11.

She was one of ten princesses in the court of the Harvest Festival Queen, Mary Ann Mobley, Miss America 1959. The Maid of Honor, Barbara Guthrie, is Miss Virginia 1959. Princesses in the court were selected from Virginia Colleges. The queen and her court were escorted by six men from the University of Virginia and six cadets from V. P. I.

Events at the Harvest Festival included a dinner Friday night followed by the Harvest Festival Ball. On Saturday there was a parade, followed by the first annual Harvest Bowl Game between V.P.I. and U. Va. At half-time the Queen and her court made an appearance on the field. The game was followed by a dinner-dance for the Queen and her court.

Carolyn, chosen by an administration committee here, is a junior from Radford.

Colleges represented in the Court were Longwood, Hollins, Radford, Madison, Roanoke, Sweet Briar, Mary Baldwin, Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Mary Washington, and Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Student Opinions

Campus Comments

One of the Rotunda's policies is to voice student opinion. We do this as thoroughly as we can through news stories, features, and other articles. But no one except you can express yourself concerning your feelings about this campus. Everybody sits around and talks. No one ever thinks to put her praises, thanks, complaints, ideas, in print in the Rotunda — where everyone else can see and think and maybe do something about them. We think Longwood is wonderful — however, there are always new suggestions — let the other students hear them. Or if you think a person or an organization has achieved a real success, why not give the praise or thanks they deserve to show your appreciation and pride?

This week, to urge your participation and stir up a few thoughts, we decided to ask around and here are some ideas we found circulating. Perhaps you feel the same way about some of the following comments, maybe not. Regardless, let us hear from you next time!

One of the first comments heard was one of thanks: ". . . for letting us (group of students) go to the University of Virginia last week to hear Katherine Anne Porter read her short stories. It was nice to have her on our campus too; we need to take advantage of cultural programs like that — besides it was fun going to U. Va.!"

When asked her pet peeve on campus one student immediately answered: "People who pass out all the food before the blessing is said!" This may be a compliment to Mr. Wagner's good food, but hungry or not, it's only good manners, besides a personal feeling of grace to observe this custom.

Another student had a quick reply too: "Something should be done right now about attention and quiet in assembly." We agree, one hour a week is not a great length of time to expect young adults to sit up in their seats and be respectful enough to speakers to pay attention. "This means, too," the student added, "that knitting can be left in the dorm."

This is a good comment from a Sophomore: "Rats aren't wearing their caps! That is the only way upperclassmen can get to know them." Come on, Freshmen, get those Rat Caps on; several people (not all Sophomores either) commented on this.

Another vote of thanks — this time to Mr. Wagner and the Dining Hall cooks for that delicious steak dinner last week.

And then there's the Post Office or what can be seen of it at 9 o'clock every morning. Everybody wants mail, but each girl doesn't have to wait 15 minutes every morning, standing right in front of her box. Nor is it a good idea to try to push through the crowd with a lighted cigarette.

Several, looking a little sleepy after Hampden-Sydney's big homecoming week end, wished professors wouldn't give big Monday tests after big week ends occurred here — like Circus, the 25th. (Well, they expressed their opinion . . . !) Another one heard quite frequently: ". . . wish we could put two sheets in the laundry!" (?).

Several students from South Cunningham Hall thought this should be said: "Thanks, Miss Burger, for the flowers in the parlors last week; we appreciate the thoughtfulness of many people on campus." One class had a 'peppy' circus practice Monday night — thanks to boxes of chocolates from Charlie Hop!

There were several more comments about all those 'unwritten rules' that are worth observing: ". . . some girls don't look for the trash can in the "Rec," they just throw straws and napkins on the floor." (This includes tossing someone's elses mail around in the Post Office too). ". . . it's awful the way cigarette butts can be seen on the new halls. It would be easier to put them out if sand and not hard dirt could be put in the big urns though." And the old grumble — the inconsiderate hallmates who keep hi-fi's turned up loud all hours of the night. And this from some satisfied seniors: "We love student teaching!"

These comments probably brought similar sentiments to your mind . . . or perhaps ideas of your own. Whether you feel that they are important or not, the Rotunda is your paper for your opinions. Any Letters to the Editor will be carefully considered as will any suggestion given to a member of the Rotunda Staff.

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER — 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 168.

Telephone 3-3121

Editor in Chief

Associate Editor
Mary Campbell Carter Powell

Barbara Bagwell ... Business Manager
Judy Lide ... News Editor
Ruth Hancock ... Feature Editor
Veronica ... Sports Editor
Victoria ... Book Editor
Photography
Marian ... Art
Gwen ... Circulation Manager
Ann ... Advertising Manager
Wilma ... Faculty Advisor

Signed editorials are written by the editor.

Member ... Intercollegiate Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press, ... Press Association, Southern Intercollegiate Press Association, Radford Trend Printers.

News Staff: Cherry Coffey, Assistant News Editor; Jeanne Kaczmarek, Assistant ... Sandra Snyder, Assistant Feature Editor; Jo Ann Parsons, Assistant ... Warren, Mary D. Stokes, Anne Chaves and Matilda Buchan, ... Ann Snyder, Jill Green, Lois Lancaster, Nancy Bassett, Jane ... Patricia Kenyon, Cecily Edmonds.

CIRCULATION: Jean Dodds, Assistant Manager; Ann Darrow, Arlene Mc... Lou Heler, Constance Hope Garrett, Dianne Doughty, Lalon ... Mary Ellen Moore, Nancy Lee Cole.

ADVERTISING: Assistants, Barbara Gunnoe, Joan Honeycutt, Nancy George, Doris ... Mary Maddox, Jane Dean, Judy Jessup.

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of ... Subscription rate $2.00 per year. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

'From the Sublime' Delights Audience

By PAT CLEVELAND

The title of the Alpha Psi Omega presentation "From the Sublime" was accurate, for the three one-act plays presented in Jarman Hall on October 10 were of high excellance and well received by the audience.

"A Marriage Proposal" by Anton Chekhov was directed by Nancy Brubeck. This evening-opener was a pleasing, farcical drawing room comedy. The antics of William Ragsdale as Lomor were convulsed and convulsing. Equally as engaging was Liz Diechman as Natalia Stephanovas, the receiver of the marriage proposal. Natalia's sputtering father was amusingly portrayed by Charter Wells.

Last year Molly Workman directed a Bernard Shaw comedy; this year she chose a Tennessee Williams drama. The transition was eminently successful. Lina Flippen as Cornelia scatirized certain elements of southern life in a most agreeable and capable manner. In contrast to Cornelia, imposing in her velvet gown, was plain Grace, Helen Brown. Helen and Lina scored depths of understanding in both their relations to each other.

Given the closing spot of the evening was a mime directed by Mr. David Wiley. Miriam Lambiotte alternately delighted and moved her audience as a man tossed about by life and fate. One was aware of and possessed by Miriam's powerful performance. This was the fitending for an entertaining and provocative evening.

Bogged Down From Studies? Visit Library!

By JUDY DETRICH

Tired? Jittery? Bored to tears? Perk up! There's something new in the library.

Try reading Holes in The Sky by Louis MacNeice out loud to your roommate. This one dhin book of poems may be just the thing to get you that room by yourself.

Instead of wondering about domestic life with a nuclear physicist, read Atoms in The Family by Laura Fermi. This book promises to be entertaining and informative.

Try this for size: a parallel reading book for history that will fit into your raincoat pocket. Henri Frankfort's The Birth of Civilization in The Near East. Over sixty pages, with pictures too!

For those of you who have no personal worries and would like to borrow some, In Clear and Present Danger: The Crucial State of Our Freedoms by John W. Caughey may give you worries you've never thought of.

"Nuff said.

Lots more too:

Women and Thomas Harrow by John P. Marquand.

Inside Russia Today by John Gunther.

Aku-Aku: The secret of Easter Island by Thor Heyerdahl.

The Greek Experience by C. M. Boura.

On Poetry and Poets by T. S. Eliot.

A Summer Place by Sloan Wilson.

J. B.: A Play in Verse by Archibald MacLeish.

Home Ec Club

The Home Economics Club has changed its meeting date from the second Thursday to the second Tuesday of each month. This announcement was made by Martha Rucker, president of the club.

Socially Speaking . . .

H-S Highlights Weekend

By JACKIE GIBSON

I don't know what I'm going to do with the student teachers that are always out of town. Anne Adams has been wearing Jim Felty's Pi Kappa Alpha pin for several weeks now and I just found out about it. By the way, Jim is captain of the Hampden-Sydney football team. Diane Williams had a weekend to remember—she's wearing Hugh Litchfield's SPE pin. Hugh's from U. of Richmond.

H-S Homecoming

This was a big weekend for Hampden-Sydney and the Longwood girls were there to enjoy the dances, banquets, and parties. They would have enjoyed the football game more if H-S had won, but you can't have everything.

The informal dance Friday night drew Mary Stokes, Joanie Brooker, Alice Cheatwood, Claudette Cooper, Dottie Cothern, Linda Doles, Connie Levinson, Iris Hines, Jo Lynn Holland, Joan Verlander, Barbara Purks, Jacqi Dietz, Joan Lee Thomas, Mary Ellen Moore, Coreta Bennett, Oreta Norris, Dottie Brown, Pat Barrow.

Game Draws Crowd

Wandering through the crowds sitting in the stands and on the grass at the football game we found Anne Adams, Jackie Harper, Meade Mann, Alice Cheatwood, Linda Walker, Joyce Hammer, Connie Levinson, Jo Lynn Holland, Joan Lee Thomas, Callie Johnson, Gloria Gardner, Peggy Harris, Barbara Purks, Jacqi Detz, Mary Stokes, Iris Hines, Patti Roach, Cat Ozmon, Ann Glover, Ernestine Stoltz, Burks Keith, Anne Keziah, Merle Ridinger, Joan Verlander, Dottie Cothern, Melinda Franklin, Mary Ellen Moore, Willie Taylor, Nancy Andrews.

Jo Bailey, Jackie Gibson, Dotsie Wheeler, Harriet Butterworth, Pat Callahan, Laura Butler, Julia Houser, Margaret Heasley, Frances Boyle, Elizabeth Jones, Nancy Lightner, Jane Martin, Dottie Morris, Pat Norman, Susan O'Hara, Virginia Peters, Carolyn Rancorn, Pat Yeatman, Sandra Cheatum, Edith Darden, Betty Elliott, Jean Marie Heller, Kay Howard, Bonnie Irby, Wirtley Raine, Catherine Reid, Sandra Snyder, Linda Sullivan, Hannah White, Ginny Whipple, Claudia Wilson, Betty Wood, Barclay Woodward, Carole White, Ellen Trader, Billy Shores, Frankie Click, Jean Dunagan, Barbara Rossiter, Norma Redmon, Brenda Drewry, Sara Oliver, Duner Cahill, Mary Lewis, Connie Goodman, Barbara Simpkins, Frances Harvey, Jill Green, Claudia Whipple, Kitty Green, Addie Richardson, Nancie Morton, Betty Ruffin, Lois Ashworth.

Mary Ann Barker, Jean Bass, Carroll Brooks, Pat Carr, Nancy Cecil, Judy Corse, Katherine Crowder, Nancy Cullip, Elizabeth Deiehmon, Linda Dennis, Betty Dilliard, Mary Eller, Merle Holiday, Susan Johnson, Dolly Kreft, Mollie Lambert, Maxine Lewis, Nancy McLoughlin, Ann Mayo, Morag Nocher, Pat O'Conner, Lois Peters, Shirley Powell, Jean Rahn, Julia Hollyfield, Becky Hardy, Kay Fulton.

Fraternity Parties

We ran into many of the same people all weekend. Those we missed at the football game, we found at the fraternity combo parties.

At the Kappa Sigma House danc-

(Continued on page 3)

Past Summer Well Remembered

By JOANN KLEINECKE

"Anyone for tennis or anything else under the sun?" Old Sol winked his big eye down on lots of Longwood girls this summer, all busy with a variety of jobs and activities.

Convention-bound

New people, places and parliamentary procedure welcomed those who were convention-bound. Julia Grey Wallace journeyed to Colorado to represent Zeta Tau Alpha Fraternity at their convention (and had a ball at an Air Force Academy dance given for them), while Ernestine Stoltz and Cass Connor went to Pennsylvania to serve as Alpha Sigma Alpha's representatives. Theta Sigma Upsilon's Nancy Andrews traveled to Michigan, and Norrish Munson, Pi Kappa Sigma, went to Florida. Anne Keziah, Nancy Donaldson, and Ann Snyder journeyed to Buffalo for the Alpha Sigma Tau convention.

Layman Serves Church

Senior Margie Layman also traveled to the Southland, serving as a summer missionary for the Baptist Church in Louisiana.

Blast at Va. Beach!

Meanwhile, quite a few Longwood students were taking advantage of the sun and surf of Virginia Beach. Combining work and (mostly) play during the summer months were Linda Doles, Rotunda Editor-in-Chief, who was La Playa Motel's receptionist, and Seniors Lou Heler, Verlinda Joyner; Junior Helen Garter; Sophomore Brenda Parsley; all of whom worked at the Halifax Hotel.

Senior Betty Spivey was on the payroll of Smith and Welton's Department Store, while it may be said that another senior, Betty, Griggs that is, was in "diplomatic" work. She worked for the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce and had questions to answer such as, "Why in the world can't you make those jets stop flying over all the time?" (From nearby USN Jet Base.)

Children galore — at the Baptist Lodge also at Virginia Beach seniors Patsy Powell (Rotunda Associate Editor), Charlotte Gray, Coreta Bennett, Ruth Looper, Liz Nichols, Betty Rawls, and Nancy George served as counselors.

The same sun and surf, but a different beach played host to Barbara Hurst, Rotunda Business Manager. "Hurstie" was employed at Daytona Beach, Florida.

Campus Campers

Buff Ledge in Vermont had Hannah White and Sue Price for counselors, while New York's Camp Swatonah boasted five Longwood sophomores on its staff: Page Davis, Harriet Butterworth, Barbara Brantley, Mary Hite Grayson, and Brenda Green.

At the other extreme, down in North Carolina, Cherry Gorham was a counselor at Camp Junaluska, and Senior Cat Ozmon worked with Girl Scouts at Camp Matoaka near Suffolk. Bede Staton counseled at Camp Alleghany in Lewisburg, W. Va. Seniors Ginny Price, Minnie Lee Dean, and Nancy Andrews also joined the ranks of campus campers as they counseled at Camp Kiwanianna in Shawsville, Virginia.

Tudor Assists At Oak Ridge

Natalie Tudor spent her summer at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, in the research center there. Natalie, a senior, assisted a professor in biological laboratory work.

Canada Convention

Seniors Betty Lee Smith and Barbara Heck and Freshman Helen Hines were among the 63-nation, 8,000 representative body that went to Toronto, Canada, for the Fifth Baptist World Youth Conference. The girls toured Toronto, Niagara Falls, and saw King Lear presented by the Earl Gray Players at the Tenth Annual Shakespearian Festival at the University of Toronto.

Dream, Dream . . .

Classes have resumed, and with them, the same old headaches, eyestrain, and bitten finger-nails. Something new has been added, though—a lot of experiences and memories to provide subject matter for a lot of fond reminiscing all through the year. And remember, there's always next summer.

"Palm trees, lifeguard, uke add up to a wonderful summer at Daytona," says Barbara Hurst.

Staff Photo

MEANWHILE . . . Betty Spivey, Lou Heler, Mary D. Stokes, Virlinda Joyner take a break from the surf and sand at Va. Beach for a snack at the Saxony.

Church News

By ANN GLOVER

Roman Catholic

The Newman Club held its first official meeting, Wednesday night, October 1, at the home of Miss Annie Lee Ross. Barbara Ensmann president, presided, and conducted the election of new officers. They are: Arlene MacKay —President, Sam Murray — Secretary, Chris Kamen — Treasurer, and Mary Kay Rice — Reporter.

There will be a convention of the Piedmont Province, affiliated with the National Newman Club Federation, in Ashland, during the week-end of Oct. 17-19. Officers and a large number of members plan to attend.

A tea for the members was given by Mrs. Fletcher Irby, Mrs. Walter Putney, and Mrs. Carlton Cunningham, at the home of Mrs. Irby on Oct. 8.

Father Fey, missionary priest of St. Theresa's Catholic Church, was present and led the group in prayer at the close of the meeting. Father Girt, assistant to Father, also attended. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Presbyterian

Bruce Robertson, student at U.T.S. in Richmond and Hampden-Sydney alumnus, spoke to the Westminster Fellowship on Oct. 12. After the evening church service, fellowship hour was held at the home of the Taylors.

On October 19 the entire West-Fel will have an afternoon and evening retreat at Dr. Sydnor's cabin near Hampden-Sydney. The group will meet behind the library at Longwood at 2 p.m. and stay until after supper. The purpose of the retreat is to plan the worship services for the fall Synod conference which have been assigned to this WF. Plan to come and join in this work and fellowship—and also plan to ATTEND the Roslyn conference, Oct. 31-Nov. 2.

Methodist

On Oct. 19, at 7 p.m., Dr. Horace Dewey, missionary from China, will speak to the Wesley Foundation. The M.Y.F. group will join Wesley for this meeting.

Sunday morning, Oct. 26 will be Affiliate Membership Day. All students who are interested in being an affiliate member are urged to participate in the service at 11 a.m.

Two new officers have been elected to the Wesley Foundation council. They are Bonnie Keys, Editor of The Wesleyan, and Joan Kleinecke, Fellowship assistant.

Baptist

The B.S.U. of Virginia, through offerings of various organizations, support chosen fellow students on various home and mission fields. Miss Margie Layman from Longwood was chosen by the State B.S.U. to work in French Louisiana this past summer. Longwood has set a goal of $350 for this year. To raise this a "Buck of the Month" Club has been organized. Anyone who wishes to join can be pledging $1 each month. Although not all have the opportunity to be chosen to go, we can make possible in this way for our fellow students to go and serve.

Social Notes

(Continued from page 2)

ing to the combo we saw Beverly Kersey, Dotsie Wheeler, Kitty Good Jackie Gibson, Beverly Gaskins, Ann Scott, Anne Green, Ann Damron, Carolyn Bassford, Nancy Lechler, Norma Redmon, Brenda Drewry, Sara Oliver, Duner Cahill.

Theta Chi

The Theta Chi's entertained Cherry Gorham, Betty Jane Allgood, Beretta Yeomen, Brenda Parsley, Peggy Mullin, Becky Worthidge, Libby Arehart, Dottie Harrison, Ann Barnes, Iris Hines, Ernestine Stoltz, Merle Ridinger.

Pika

The Pika's had dates with Gretchen Zimmerman, Julia Hollyfield, Judy Welch, Shelia Galloway, Yvonne Webb, Alice Layne, Dottie Gills, Pat O'Neil, Louise Johns, Brenda Drewry, Barbara Rossiter.

KA

Nancianne Frye, Dottie Cothern Dottie Brown, Sarah Lampton, Betty Myer, Martha Hart, Lee Page, Cora Straughan, June Elmore, Willie Taylor, Nancy Andrews, Meade Mann, Jackie Harper were seen at the KA House.

U. of Richmond

Believe it or not some people left this week end! Seen at the SAE party at the U. of R. were Chris Kamen, Dale Preddy, Betty Spivey, Betty Griggs, and Gin Kuyk.

Senior Sandy Tarter Heads Longwood's Hockey Team

New Captain Hopes For Winning Season

By NANCY LECHLER

Sandy Fitzgerald Tarter, a senior from Wytheville, has been chosen captain of the 1958-59 hockey team.

Sandy's comment on being captain shows her enthusiasm for her team and her school. "I am very pleased and happy to be captain."

Her activities in the sports field are not limited to hockey. However, she has played on the varsity hockey team for three years. Sandy is a member of the H2O Club, has played on the tennis squad for two years, and varsity basketball for one year. She has also participated in many of the class sports.

Enjoys Team Work

"Team work and enjoyment of the game; meeting new people through sports," are the reasons why she has been so active in sports here at Longwood.

Her skill in hockey comes not only from constant practice but she has also attended hockey camp for two years at Pocono Mountain in Pennsylvania.

In recognition of her outstanding participation and achievement in athletics, Sandy was awarded a Blue blazer. "I was very happy and pleased to win a blazer."

Loves Student Teaching

She is a physical education major and hopes to teach after graduation. Sandy will be qualified to teach in both the elementary and secondary grades. At the present, she is student teaching in the elementary school and in the spring she will student teach at the high school. "I love student teaching. It makes four years of study worth it."

Sandy has had previous experience in working with young people through the Recreational Department in Wytheville. She has worked for four summers as a lifeguard or playground leader. On her work she remarked, "I enjoy working with children very much."

With all of Sandy's activities here at Longwood, it is surprising that she has time left for little else. But the fact that she is now Mrs. C. D. Tarter is most important.

Sandy has high hopes for success in the hockey season this year. She said that her only worry was the game played Saturday with the Richmond Club. "I think we can win all of our other games."

—Staff Photo

SANDY F. TARTER
Hockey Captain

Timely Topics

By MARGIE LAYMAN

Virginia's public school crisis has entered its second month and the end is not yet in sight. 13,000 Virginia children have been kept out of their regular classrooms since early September.

The College of Cardinals will meet on October 25 to elect a successor to Pope Pious XII. The balloting will be done in the Sistine Chapel by the 55 cardinals. A vote of two thirds majority plus one is required.

The NAACP, during its state conference, has set a 50,000 membership goal. Membership is currently 27,000. Twenty of the 50 Negro children whom the federal courts have ordered admitted to public white schools in Virginia were guests at the convention.

Unemployment dropped 588,000 in September. This improvement was twice the customary seasonal change. President Eisenhower said that there are good reasons to expect continuing economic recovery in the months ahead.

Episcopal bishops have urged combined efforts by both religious and political leaders to wipe out racial discrimination and separation. In an unanimously approved resolution they appealed to church and civic leader to rise above "the easy standards of local expediency."

Did You Know?

By MATTIE BLEWETT

—all those people complaining about sore hips and strained leg muscles are victims of the "hula-hoop" epidemic? Treat them gently, girls.

—the dining hall uses ninety-two cartons of eggs per day? Those poor over-worked chickens haven't heard about labor unions yet.

—last Saturday twelve of our dignified freshmen, dressed in white, had the time of their lives riding through town on a fire truck?

—two members of our sophomore class have a secret desire to be kipper-strippers in a German sauerkraut factory?

—fools rush in where angels fear to tread?

—the definition of "licker"? (Answer: Yankee version: one who licks; Southerners' version: illegal alcoholic beverage)

—the laundry has an average of 113 pounds of dirt removed from its machines each week?

—that's all

Deans To Convene At Hotel Roanoke

Miss Ruth Wilson and Miss Jenelle Spear will attend the annual convention of the Regional Association of Women Deans and Counselors at the Hotel Roanoke this Friday and Saturday, October 17 and 18.

The two-day meeting will consist of various discussion groups and workshops in which high school as well as college personnel from Maryland, Delaware, Washington, D. C., and Virginia will participate.

Tennis Doubles

This year a record number of Longwood girls are playing in the annual Color Cup Tennis Doubles.

Thirty girls make up the three senior teams, two junior teams, six sophomore teams, and four freshmen teams — twice as many girls as competed last year.

Matches are being scheduled throughout the fall season; and the exact dates of quarter finals, semi-finals, and finals will be announced later.

Watch for the scores of these color-cup games on the A Bulletin Board.

From The Gridiron Bleachers

By JACKIE WALLER

This weekend was a feature as far as football was concerned. In the first annual Roanoke Harvest Bowl with Governor and Mrs. Almond and Miss America present, V.P.I. beat U. Va. 22-13. 26,000 fans cheered and yelled as the Gobblers' Billy Holsclaw did a beautiful job of faking, running, and passing for 2 touchdowns. In the opening moments of the game, Virginia's hopes were dashed as Quarterback Reece Whitley, "Mr. Virginia," injured his ankle. Said Cavalier Coach Dick Voris, "We were a plane without a pilot."

Franklin and Marshall, spending the first 59 minutes of the game in a frustration of fumbles and penalties, scored in the last minute, to beat Washington and Lee 14-13. This was the 12th defeat in a row for the Generals. It was particularly sad for the homecoming crowd as they saw the boys from Lexington lose an early-game 13-0 lead.

Guilford gained a 14-0 homecoming victory over Emory and Henry. The Wasps' Little All-America fullback candidate, Bill Holloway, left via injuries before intermission. According to statistics, the game was even enough except for the score. It was the Wasps' second loss against three wins.

William and Mary and V.M.I. played to a 6-6 deadlock with V.M.I. missing two field goal attempts in the final 11 seconds. The tie stopped the Keydets' winning streak at 11, but they are still undefeated in their last 14 outings. The Indians entered the game a one-touchdown underdog and amidst fumbles and penalties, played to a sparse 5000 in the Bluefield, W. Va., Coal Bowl.

Randolph-Macon's Yellow Jackets stormed to a 20-6 victory over Western Maryland as speedy Billy Garnet scored all three of R-M's touchdowns. Western Maryland came close to the jacket goal only once as R-M evened their season's record at 2-2.

Closer home, Hampden-Sydney, with only one victory under its belt, added Loss No. 2 as homecoming was wrecked by Sewanee. It was a game for three periods and then Sewanee tailback, Frank Mullins went to work, scoring 2 touchdowns and passing for a third. Final score—Sewanee 44, Hampden-Sydney—20.

The U. of Richmond Spiders bowed to a Rutgers rally 23-12. The Scarlets played a miserable first half but after intermission, scored the first three times they got the ball. The Spiders scored their final touchdown late in the 4th quarter.

Bridgewater's Eagles pushed over three touchdowns in the final period to beat a fumbling Galludet team 18-0.

Other scores saw wake Forest explode for a 69-yd. fourth quarter TD and a 13-7 victory over N. C. State; Duke came back for a big 12-7 homecoming victory over Baylor; Georgia Tech beat Tennessee 21-7; Boston U. upset West Virginia's Mountaineers 36-30 in a wild fourth period; Army scored a 14-2 victory over Notre Dame's Fighin' Irish; Navy passed and overcame Michigan 20-14; and South Carolina bowed to North Carolina 6-0.

'Bye for now.

Tennis To Begin Class Competition For Coveted Cup

On the mantle in the home office there is a silver trophy with green and white ribbons streaming from it. This is the coveted color cup awarded by the Athletic Association to the sister classes who have won the most points at the end of class competition in sports.

Tennis doubles in the fall start the competition and the winners are awarded five points. As the season progresses, hockey, basketball and volleyball are played and ten points are awarded to the winners. In the spring tennis singles, softball and archery win five points for the victors. Swimming, which gains ten points, ends class competition for the color cup.

Green 'n Whites Lead

The red and whites have won the color cup in '46, '48, '50, '52, '54 and '55, but the green and whites have one over them having won in '47, '49, '51, '53, '56, '57 and '58.

The color cup games give those who are interested in sports and do not usually have the opportunity to participate a chance to exercise and enjoy healthy competition. The games are comparable to intramurals of other colleges. Participation and class support are urged in order to have a successful competition race. A few practices are required but are as enjoyable and profitable as the games. Although there is a limited number from each class on a team, the others are asked to cheer and support the games from the stands.

Bowling Leagues Begin As Eleven Teams Play

Longwood like the rest of the country, has caught the bowling bug.

This fall, the Longwood College Woman's Bowling Association has been formed to promote an interest in bowling as an organized recreation on our campus. The LCWBA is an association of two ten pin leagues, eight teams each, made up of members of all four classes. The two leagues are called the Monday Night League, the other, the Wednesday Night League. As the name implies, they bowl on these nights throughout the month.

Each team consists of five members including a substitute, and bowls once a month in a tournament between the two leagues.

Spear, Weddle To Sponsor

Miss Jennelle Spear, assistant dean of women, and Miss Eleanor Weddle, physical education instructor, have been selected to sponsor the LCWBA.

Heavyside Is President

Joan Heavyside is president of the association, Ruth Rainey Cowan, vice president, and Elsie Dick secretary-treasurer.

Girls who like to bowl and who wish to become members should contact the secretary.

Instructions and films will be provided by the organization. Weekly results will be quoted in the sports section of the Rotunda and the Farmville Herald, and a monthly standing of the leagues will be posted.

Sorority News

Alpha Sigma Alpha

Alpha Sigma Alpha announces that Mr. and Mrs. Jake Wamsley and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Merchant have been named as patrons and patronesses for the sorority.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Mrs. William H. Lorton of Englewood, New Jersey, has given to Alpha chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma her sorority pin and ring. Elizabeth Harrgrave Lorton wore these when she was a student at Longwood in 1926. Nancy Knowles now wears the pin as each president shall have the privilege of wearing it. The ring will be given to the Sigma having the highest scholastic average each semester. Sue Benton now wears it.

Theta Sigma Upsilon

Theta Sigma Upsilon announces that the national sorority has taken up a new project for its philanthropy. During the last year they donated $500 to the cleft palate department of the University of Kansas City's School of Dentistry. With this money these children, handicapped with cleft palates, are able to receive extensive treatment. Dolls have also been made for the children and are sold to boost the fund.

SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY
"Your Royal Typewriter Dealer"

HEADQUARTERS
for —stationery
—candy
also visit
THE SODA FOUNTAIN
at
J. J. NEWBERRY'S

CONTEMPORARY CARDS!
New Selection of 50 Designs
- Birthday
- Get Well
- Friendship
- Thank You
- Sympathy

WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

"Listening at Longwood"
Station WFLO
Wednesday, Oct. 15, 1958
4:00 P. M.

A BELATED WELCOME
Freshmen and Newcomers
to
FARMVILLE and DOROTHY MAY

The State
YOUR COMMUNITY CENTER
IN FARMVILLE, VA.
WED., THURS. OCT. 15-16

HENRY FONDA · SUSAN STRASBERG · PLUMMER
TECHNICOLOR
FRI., SAT. OCT. 17-18
DOUBLE FEATURE

and

SUN., MON. OCT. 19-20
MARION MICHAELS
"Liane Jungle Goddess"
TUES., WED. OCT. 21-22
MICKEY ROONEY
"ANDY HARDY COMES HOME"
OCTOBER 23 - 24 - 25
TAB HUNTER
"DAMN YANKEES"

Faculty Enjoys Summer Trips

By JO ANNE PARSONS

Activities of the Longwood faculty this summer carried members all over the world for travel and study.

Schlegels Tour Europe

One of the most colorful trips was that of Dr. and Mrs. Marvin W. Schlegel, who motored from Le Havre, France, to Istanbul, Turkey, covering approximately 6,500 miles through France, Germany, Austria, Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey.

Their travels, in some instances, put them close to various political crises of the Near East this summer, but because of the language barrier and lack of newspapers in languages they speak, they were many times unaware of any immediate danger.

Dr. Schlegel commented that on a whole people in all countries were friendly to them, even though some encounters brought critical attitudes of American foreign policy.

The Schlegels arrived in Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia, at the same time Nasser came there to visit Tito. This explained the presence of an Egyptian sailor who asked the Schlegels what they thought of Nasser. In trying to remain noncommittal Mrs. Schlegel stated that he was doing all right for the Arabs," whereupon the sailor bent and kissed her hand.

Lebanon Canceled

"We were planning to go to Lebanon," continued Dr. Schlegel, "but the political crisis precipitated before we got started and we had to cancel our plans." He also commented, "We knew nothing of the landing in Lebanon until informed of such by a Belgian priest."

The Schlegels found that many of the foreigners they encountered were awed by the status of television in America and wanted to know "if it's true we have a television set in every home." Dr. Schlegel also commented that the younger people look upon America as a fairyland and they are very much interested in coming to this country to stay.

Drivers Nervous

While motoring through Europe, the Schlegels discovered that foreign drivers were very nervous and scared, and "not so very cautious." "The Frenchman is mad at everything on the road in front of him," laughed Dr. Schlegel. Paved roads were not often found, especially in Yugoslavia.

The Schlegels hope to return to Europe again in 1960.

Others Travel Abroad

Others of the faculty traveling abroad this summer were Dr. and Mrs. George W. Jeffers and Walter E. Urben.

Dr. and Mrs. Jeffers went on a pleasure trip to Europe and visited the British Isles, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland and France.

Mr. Urben spent one week traveling through the Netherlands and Belgium, then continued on to the World's Fair. He also spent ten weeks in professional training at the American Conservatory in Fontainebleau, France, and participated in one recital while there.

Summer Study

There are others on the faculty who spent their summer in study. Mrs. J. S. Lemon, associate professor of art, spent ten weeks studying painting under Mr. Anthony Toney in New York and Long Island. Mrs. Lemon's other work consisted of [illegible] in Mr. Toney for an art class in water color.

During her travels she visited [illegible] Boston, Springfield, Pittsfield and [illegible]. She hopes to have an exhibit of her summer's work sometime this year.

Barksdale Sees Mexico

Miss Pace, the table associate professor of [illegible] spent another summer in Mexico. "The purpose of my visit was always to learn more Spanish and [illegible] Mexicans. I [illegible] Mexican [illegible] Mexicans toward them.

Some Sands at Home

Many of the faculty members carried on their studies within the States.

Miss Josephine L. Bailey, assistant professor of music, attended Seminar in Religious Prespective in College Teaching which was held at the State University of Iowa. There were 25 college teachers from the South and Midwest attending the Seminar which was sponsored by the Danforth Foundation. All participants received scholarships from the Foundation.

Draper Attends Purdue

Miss Helen Draper, professor of modern languages, attended the seventh annual workshop in Audio-Visual Techniques for Teachers at Purdue University. She also attended a three-week summer session at Laval University where she audited courses in stylistics, diction, and French literature.

Mrs. Frances W. Gee, instructor of home economics, completed the requirements for her master's degree this summer at V.P.I.

Mrs. E. K. Landrum, associate professor of physical and health and physical education, attended the session at New York University, and Mrs. Annie Ross, assistant professor of art, studied at the Fine Arts Center, Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Gresham Conducts Workshop

Mr. Foster B. Gresham, assistant professor of English, conducted a Language Arts Workshop for the Extension Division of the University of Virginia for elementary and secondary school teachers of Campbell County at Rustburg from June 16-July 3. He also took graduate work at the University of Virginia from July 7-August 16, and he attended the University of Virginia summer session for graduate work.

Mr. David Wiley, assistant professor of speech and drama, also attended graduate school. His course of study took him to the University of Indiana.

Some Study Biology

Engaged in Biological studies during the summer were Robert E. Merritt, assistant professor of biology, and Robert T. Brumfield, professor of biology.

Mr. Merritt attended Mountain Lake Biological Station of the University of Virginia for ten weeks and Dr. Brumfield continued his research at Oak Ridge.

Dr. R. C. Simonini, Jr., professor of English, attended the Linguistic Institute of the University of Michigan for eight weeks. He also read a paper "Frequency Tests of Etymological Categories in Present - Day English" at the meeting of the Linguistic Society of America in Ann Arbor.

Conference Participants

Attending conferences this summer were:

Mr. M. H. Bittinger, associate dean of the college, and J. P. Wynne, professor of education. Both attended School for Executives which was held in Storrs, Connecticut and sponsored by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

Mr. J. Wamsley, College Business Manager, attended College Business Managers Institute which was held at the University of Kentucky, and Dr. E. Johnson, education professor, was a member of a workshop sponsored by the Association of Teaching Materials Directors in Charlottesville, Leadership Conference of the Virginia Congress of Parents and Teachers in Radford. Dr. Johnson served on a panel discussing "Home and Family Life," and worked with various committees of the Virginia Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Lankford Does TV Research

Dr. Francis Lankford, president of the college, participated in a Television Workshop for In-School Use of T.V. at the University of North Carolina during the week of August 11-15. The workshop was designed for T.V. studio teachers regular classroom teachers participating in the North Carolina In-School Television Experiment, and for teachers in other experimental T.V. projects supported in part by the Fund for the Advancement of Education. Dr. Lankford served as a subject-matter specialist in the field of arithmetic.

Boggs, Bedford, Receive Awards

There are others of the faculty who spent their summers miscellaneously. Receiving awards were Dr. E. R. Boggs, dean of the college, and Virginia Bedford, associate professor of art.

In August, Dr. Boggs was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Pedagogy by Morris Harvey College.

Miss Bedford was awarded a silver tray for her service to Alpha Sigma Tau, national social sorority. The Helen Gorman Award was presented to her for serving 25 years as adviser to the Zeta Tau Chapter at Longwood. The award was made at the National Convention of the Sorority which was held at Buffalo, New York. During the summer she also participated in the local women's golf tournament and was runner-up to champion in first flight.

From the science department, Elizabeth Burger, associate professor of science, served as one of the directors of The Hockey Camp, Mt. Pocano, Pa. Players from schools, colleges and clubs from all parts of the United States attended this camp. She also completed the programming for two television series in October and November.

Kemble Prepares Guide

Mary Kemble, assistant professor of music, spent one week as a music consultant in the Maryland State Department of Education on the preparation of a new music guide for the elementary and secondary schools of Maryland.

William Noble, instructor in history and social sciences, worked at the Library of Congress in Washington. He collected 1,840 maps which were given to the college by the Library of Congress.

Dr. F. B. Simkins, professor of history and social sciences, spent his summer writing articles for the World Book Encyclopedia, the Encyclopedia Americana, and the American edition of the Oxford Encyclopedia. He also finished about two-thirds of a book called The Seaboard South, a volume of an eight-volume history of the U. S.

Toads, Eels, Abundant

Last but not least, we have heard that Dr. C. G. Moss, professor of history and social sciences, made a startling discovery, that there are only "toads and eels in the Rappahannock River." And we hear that "Charlie Hop" enjoyed the Florida sun while on a fishing trip down there during the summer. Bet they can tell some big ones.

AKG

(Continued from page 1)

ington will head the decoration and booth committee. Helen Dean is the President of the Young Women's Christian Association at Longwood.

But what about the animals and clowns? For this AKG has chosen Barbara Odom, President of the Student Government Association, and Nancy Brubeck, Senior Representative to Student Government.

At Longwood Circus must have a queen and a queen calls for a court. Acting as co-chairmen of the queen and court will be Lillian Rosson, President of the Class of '59, and Donna Boone, General Circus Chairman.

Alpha Kappa Gamma was originated at Longwood in 1926 as Alpha Delta Rho and is composed in membership of juniors and seniors who have proven themselves to possess high qualities of leadership.

Lynchos Society

The Lynchos Society, a local honorary science fraternity has recently elected two new members. They are Betty Sue Barbee, a senior mathematics major from Richmond, and Charlotte Gray, a senior biology and chemistry major from Roanoke.

'58 Grads

(Continued from page 1)

is teaching in a private school. Nancy Richardson is teaching at St. Agnes, Alexandria, and Mr. C. J. Allard, Jr., Kathy O'Leary, Jackie Trader, Katherine Watson and Ellen Webb are teaching in Maryland, and Madeline Bailey in Guam.

The other graduates, who are in different occupations besides teaching are: Gay Allen, Liz Mosteller, and Pat Walton, who are doing graduate work and Peggy Dickerson, Lucia Hart, and Sally Tilson, who are mathematicians at Langley Field.

Holding positions in the secretarial field are: Mrs. Mary Miller Aldridge at Woodward and Lothrop, Washington, D. C.; Betsy Ruckman at Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co.; Virginia Herre, who is working for Civil Service; and those earning their wages in Richmond are Eliza Buchanan and Ruth Zich at Reynolds Metal, Marjorie Crismond at Va.-Carolina Chemical, and Jane Ruppert.

Only two graduates are social workers. They are: Mrs. Zella Hailey Shafer in Charlotte County, and June Strother in Chesterfield County.

Various other professions are being undertaken by the following graduates of '58. They are: Marjorie Anderson, medical technician at George Washington University Hospital, Washington, D. C.; Elizabeth Brierley, instructor and lab. technician, M.C.V., Richmond; Mrs. Suzanne La Fontaine George, American Alumnae Council, Washington, D. C.; Shirley Grubb, assistant librarian at Seminary Library, Wake Forest, N. C.; Derwood Guthrie, position with Virginia Highway Department; Bernard L. Warren, position in Guam, Import and Export; and Carolyn Waugaman, seed analyst, Department of Agriculture, Richmond.

The remaining graduates are married or to be married. They are: Shirley Alcock Warfield, Ann Jeter Collins, Carolyn Garner, Ann Garrett, Sarah Hackworth, Frances Patton, Carolyn Stonnell, Mrs. Patricia Parker Dobyns, Mrs. Ann Hart Hamrick, Shirley Hauptman and Mrs. Eleanor Stradley Turner.

WFLO To Feature Campus Events

Beginning October 15, two weekly radio programs featuring Longwood events and personalities will be broadcast over station WFLO.

Applegate, Munson Assist

Norrish Munson will serve this year as student adviser for the programs, which are presented in connection with the Radio and Television Workshop of the Longwood Players.

Norrish, a junior English major, has been an enthusiastic worker on the program since her freshman year when she began as a reporter. She will work with Miss Anna Applegate, faculty advisor for the two weekly shows.

Today, October 15, "Listening at Longwood," a fifteen-minute show highlighting college news, went on the air at 4:00. Sunday, October 19, "Longwood Speaks," a thirty-minute program in a more educational vein, will present the French and Spanish informants.

Other programs will include recordings of musical activities, a review of "Oedipus Rex," Circus activities, and the Barter Theatre. The programs will also be broadcast on Richmond and Charlottesville radio stations.

Lambiotte

(Continued from page 1)

friendly competition of the classes. It shows how much people can work and cooperate with each other. The tradition of it is so wonderful that Longwood wouldn't be Longwood without Circus."

At Longwood, Tweety is a member of Orchesis and Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority.

At the present time, Circus practices are now underway as each class prepares its own skit and float entries.

General chairman for Circus this year is senior Donna Boone. Miss Elizabeth Burger is faculty advisor for the honorary leadership society, Alpha Kappa Gamma, sponsor of the annual college tradition.

Assembly

AKG's Circus will be featured in the assembly program on October 21 at 1:00 in Jarman Auditorium.

Instead of the usual preview skits, each class will sing the songs of its previous Circus productions. AKG will present a short skit centered around a general theme about Circus.

Do You Think for Yourself? (HERE'S YOUR CHANCE TO FIND OUT! *)

Can you honestly say you never imitate the manner of an executive or leader you admire? YES ☐ NO ☐

Are you entirely confident that you would not get "lost" if you worked for a large firm? YES ☐ NO ☐

When driving or walking for some distance, do you like taking short cuts rather than a longer route you know will get you where you're going? YES ☐ NO ☐

In going to the movies, do you consult the reviews first rather than just take "pot luck"? YES ☐ NO ☐

Do you enjoy adapting yourself to new conditions? YES ☐ NO ☐

Do you always look at the directions before using a complicated new appliance? YES ☐ NO ☐

Have you ever thought seriously of spending a long period alone somewhere . . . writing, painting or getting some major independent task done? YES ☐ NO ☐

When faced with a long, detailed job, do you try hard to find a simpler way of doing it before getting started? YES ☐ NO ☐

The Man Who Thinks for Himself Knows...

ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER . . . A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!

Before you light your next cigarette, ask yourself this: Have you really thought which filter cigarette is best for you?

If you have . . . chances are you're a VICEROY smoker.

The fact is, men and women who think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. Their reasons? Best in the world. They know for a fact that only VICEROY—no other cigarette—has a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

Familiar pack or crush-proof box.

*IF YOU HAVE ANSWERED YES TO 6 OF THESE QUESTIONS, YOU ARE A PERSON WHO THINKS FOR HIMSELF!

© 1958, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

Circus Saturday! Parade 3 p. m.; "Stars 'n Spangles" 8 p. m.

The Rotunda

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., October 22, 1958 | No. 4

'Reluctant Debutante' To Play Here Monday

Barter Theater Stages Comedy Hit

"The Reluctant Debutante," the frolicsome, satirical British comedy hit, will be presented by the Barter Theater players in Jarman Auditorium of Longwood College Monday, Oct. 27. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

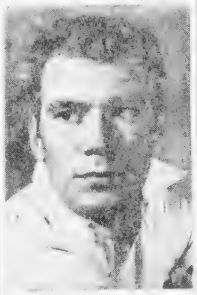
Longwood Players Sponsor

Appearance here of Robert Porterfield's well known theatrical troupe is sponsored by The Longwood Players, student dramatic group at the college. The performance is open to the public and tickets are available at Southside Sundry Company.

Upper-class Frenzies

A hit of long tenure when presented on the stages of New York and London, the comedy by William Douglas Home, is concerned with the frenzies of upper-class parents in bringing-out their daughters.

An additional target for the arrow of the playwright's farcical satire is the scramble of well-to-do mothers in out-maneuvering each other to land prize matrimonial catches for their offspring.



Mitch Ryan, who has recently completed a turn in Hollywood in Robert Mitchum's production of 'Thunder Road,' Diane Hill, Carolyn Condron, Ned Beatty and James E. Brodhead are featured Barter Players in the frivolous portrait of British society.

Daughter Is Bored

Porterfield's Abingdon players bring considerable talent to the roles sharply drawn by the play's author to portray the fading social custom. The frenzied mothers, the harassed and expense-burdened fathers, the suitors swept up in a whirl of custom and tradition, and a noncooperative daughter who sees the whole thing as boring and ridiculous, all parade across the brilliant 'stage' drawn by Home's craftmanship.

Naturally, the daughter becomes deadly serious with the one man mother considers ineligible.

According to Don Weightman, who is directing the comedy, it does contain a few grains of sound teaching among its entertaining humors. One of them is not to write important telephone numbers on tablecloths; they may be washed out in the laundry.

MITCH RYAN, called an "assertive, knowing talent," stars in the Barter production.

Another lighthearted lesson is that parents should not try to chaperone their daughters too rigidly — or eavesdrop on their dates!

Critics have praised the "Reluctant Debutante" as a "brick, elegant, funny comedy — entertaining from start to finish."

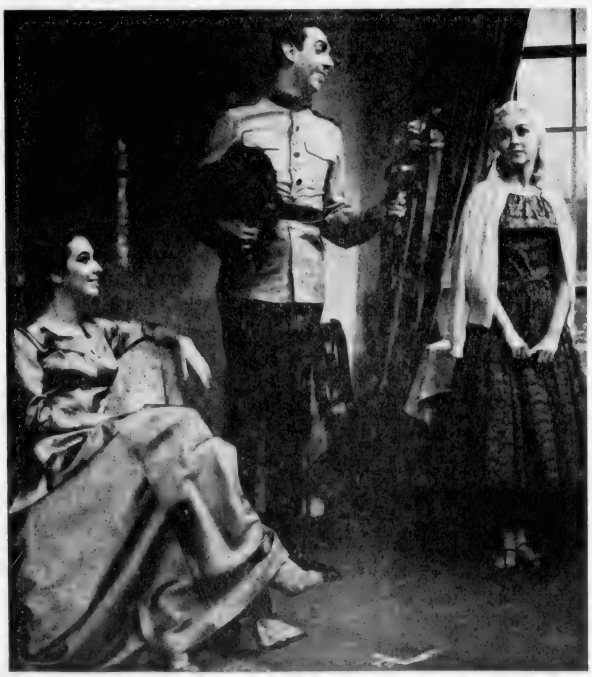
Placement News

Attention all seniors interested in retailing.

On Tuesday October 28, there will be a representative from the School of Retailing at The University of Pittsburg to talk with all seniors interested in retailing.

Schlegel To Show Slides On Travels In Next Assembly

"Have slides — will travel" could easily be the theme of the October 29 assembly program as Dr. Marvin Schlegel, history professor here, will present slides and a narration of his and Mrs. Schlegel's trip to Europe this summer. Students will take an imaginary trip with Dr. Schlegel through Greece, Yugoslavia and Turkey.



Tour Grecian Cities

As the Schlegels toured Greece, they stopped off in Athens and snapped pictures of the world famous Acropolis. Also, as they traveled through Crete, another famous Grecian city, they toured and took pictures of the Palace of Minos. History students will well remember that one.

The students will view, also from Greece, various shops near Athens that are quite different from the ones here in America. The array of shutters give tourists the impression that these shops are closed. The modern supermarket has yet to establish itself in Europe.

Yugoslavia was the first communist country the Schlegels have visited. Here slides were taken of the beautiful mountainous regions, and the cities of Dubrorniok and Split. Intriguing slides of the ancient structures of Dubrorniok and of the place of Split, where the town is on the inside of the palace, will be

(Continued on page 4)

"THE RELUCTANT DEBUTANTE," which the Barter Theatre of Virginia is presenting in Jarman Hall next Monday night, is a gay and frivolous portrait of the society rat-race in which fond mothers try to out-maneuver each other in desperate efforts to land prize husbands for debutante daughters.

Mixon To Lead Events As Circus Approaches

Staff Photo

ANN MIXON, 1958 Circus Ringmaster, prepares to greet the audience Saturday night, October 25.

By BET McLOUGHLIN

Leading the climactic events of Circus will be Ringmaster Ann Mixon, from Roanoke. Selected by Alpha Kappa Gamma, sponsor of the annual event, Ann, as Ringmaster, will serve as the Master of Ceremonies as "Sawdust and Spangles" highlights the activities of the school year this Saturday evening, October 25, in Jarman Auditorium.

"Needless to say, I was very surprised, and I feel very honored and grateful to AKG for the privilege I have of being Circus Ringmaster," announces Ann as she reflects on her being named for this position. "I still find it hard to believe," she says.

Master of Ceremonies

Among her duties as Ringmaster, Ann will welcome the Circus audience and serve as master of ceremonies as each class presents its skit. She will introduce the Animal Trainer and Circus animals as the evening festivities begin.

Besides seeing that the show runs smoothly, Ringmaster Ann will announce the prize-winning float from the Parade that afternoon and finally the prize-winning skit of the evening.

Active in past Circus activities, Ann, an elementary education major, is a member of the Roanoke Club, Longwood Players, Cotillion Club, Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority, and the Baptist Student Union.

Rehearsal Schedules

Mass rehearsal for the Saturday night Circus festivities will be held on Thursday at 7 p.m., and mass dress rehearsal will be held Friday at 7 p.m. in Jarman. At the Friday night rehearsal pictures will be taken and anyone wishing to take pictures of Circus is requested to take them at this time.

Each student participating in Circus is required to pay 25 cents in support of Circus. All other students wishing to attend mass dress rehearsal will have to purchase a ticket for 25 cents. Donna Boone, general circus chairman, announces that those in the skits will have the opportunity to see all of the skits at dress rehearsal.

All of the profit that is made from Circus is donated to a school project. This year, all profits will go toward the celebration of the school's 75th anniversary.

Miss Elizabeth Burger and Mrs. Kathleen Cover serve as co-sponsors of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honorary society for leadership and sponsor of the annual Circus.

Four Students To Vie For '59 Tobacco Title

Former Student Reigns As '58 Queen

Representing Longwood College at the Tenth Annual National Tobacco Festival to be held in Richmond October 22-25 will be Audrey Gill, Barbara Dunnavant, Louise Johns, and Shirley Lucy.

Audrey Gill, who is "Miss Amelia," is a freshman. She plans to play the piano for the talent show.

Another freshman, Barbara Dunnavant, sews and designs dresses. She is "Miss Lunenburg."

Louise Johns, who is a sophomore, is "Miss Cumberland," and will sing in the talent contest.

A senior, Shirley Lucy, plans to pantomine Honey Bun and model clothes which she has made. She is "Miss Brunswick."

There are twenty-five princesses in the contest. They will be judged on beauty of face and figure, poise, general conduct, and talent. Judging will take place during the entire Festival and the results will be announced before the football game on Saturday afternoon.

1957 Longwood Queen

Queen of the Tobacco Festival, Betty Barnette Redmon, who went to Longwood last year, will reign over this year's Festival.

Events scheduled for the princesses include a talent show at the Mosque Wednesday night, followed by the Princess Dance at the John Marshall Hotel.

On Friday the princesses will attend a luncheon given by Thalhimers, and Friday night the girls will be in the Tobacco Festival Parade, which will end with a Parade Show at Parker Field.

Saturday's events include a pregame show and Coronation of the Queen at the Stadium. At half-time there will be a show on the football field. The teams playing in the Tobacco Bowl game are VPI and W. Va. U. The Tenth Annual National Tobacco Festival will close with the Tobacco Ball on Saturday night.

Escorts for the dinners and dances will be provided by the Festival Committee.

Civil Service Gives Examination Date

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has just announced the details for this year's Federal Service Entrance Examination.

This is the examination through which several thousand college graduates in [illegible] enter government employment each year.

Federal [illegible] as high as [illegible] per cent over last year, and the new exam provides starting pay of $4,040, $4,905, and some jobs at $5,985, depending upon the qualifications of the applicant.

[illegible] Applicants for the special Management Intern [illegible] no later than March. The Commission [illegible]

For applications and more information, contact the Placement Office for the area, Post Office or the Regional Director, Third U. S. Civil Service Region, Customhouse, 2nd and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia 6, Pa.

Concert Trips

Miss Jessie Anders Patterson, Associate Professor of Music at Longwood, has given us a glimpse of what we will be able to see this year in the concert line.

Van Cliburn, celebrated American pianist, was the first event, scheduled for last night, October 21. Next on the agenda is the Scotch Guard, which will feature 110 men at the Richmond Arena, November 15. [illegible] comprised of a band, [illegible] and dancers. Tickets [illegible] at the end of next week for seats.

The Boston Pops and the Russian Ballet will be coming after Christmas. For those theatrically inclined, "My Fair Lady" may be one of the [illegible] which will be presented.

Alumnae Gather Circus Weekend To Plan Project

On October 24, thirty graduates of Longwood will once again enter her halls. The agenda of a two-day Alumnae Association meeting will carry them through such familiar school activities as dinner in the snack bar and dining room, tea at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lankford, and of course Circus.

In between these social activities, the association will carry on its business at the Alumnae House. Miss Elsie Stossel, of Richmond, national President, will preside as plans are made for the launching of their 50th anniversary project—a proposed Alumnae Endowment Fund. If passed, this endowment fund will be of special benefit to Longwood as it will provide funds above that allotted in the state budget.

P. O. Hours For You

New hours have gone into effect in the Post Office. This has been done to try to alleviate some of the confusion in the Post Office during the morning hours. It appears that these hours need some clarification.

At all times students may pick up their mail, but only at certain times will the bookstore and Post Office (picking up packages) be open.

The schedule is as follows:

Monday—Friday
8:30-10:30 a.m.—Post Office and Bookstore closed
10:30- 1:00 p.m.—Post Office open; Bookstore closed
1:00- 2:00 p.m.—Both closed
2:00- 4:30 p.m.—Post Office closed; Bookstore open
Saturday
8:30-10:30 a.m.—Post Office and Bookstore closed
10:30-12:00 p.m.—Post Office open; Bookstore closed

With the Post Office trying to alleviate the conjestion, every student's cooperation is urged and needed. When picking up mail, do not loiter in the Post Office, and please do not smoke. It is certainly a fire hazard during the morning hours, and it is a miracle that no one's sweater or coat has caught on fire.

Let's each cooperate with the Post Office. It is for your benefit that these new hours have been put into effect.

Judy Eckstrom, News Editor

Letter To The Editor

Assembly Pros And Cons

Dear Editor:

I should like to take this opportunity, if permitted, to express one of those "gripes" which you mentioned in your column last week which has been gnawing at me for quite some time. It concerns the Longwood assembly programs.

I have become increasingly distressed over the extremely poor conduct demonstrated by the student body at the assembly programs. Numerous articles have been written in the Rotunda urging the students to do something about this which have, as far as I can see, caused absolutely no reaction whatsover. As far as the behavior is concerned, it seems to me that any college student can discipline herself to demonstrate correct sitting posture and at least pretend to be interested in a program for one hour per week, no matter how boring it is.

On the other hand, however, I feel that the assembly programs have lost to a large extent the value they once had. Not understanding the philosophy behind the assemblies, I cannot state the primary purpose of them, but I firmly believe that many of the programs tend to waste the student's time rather than add something of importance to her already-too-full schedule. If the programs contributed to the cultural development of the students (which is my idea of what an assembly program should be) rather than promote spontaneous (and, I might add, unlady-like) singing, speakers who interest only a small percentage of the student body, comic talent shows (whose place is certainly NOT in assembly), and compulsory religious meetings (which are resented by both Protestant and Catholic and which are not in keeping, it seems, with the fact that this is a state school), I, for one, would be more than glad to attend (even without checkers). A Senior

With Sincere Sympathy

In behalf of the student body of Longwood, sincere sympathy is extended to the family and friends of Mr. Christy Snead. Mr. Snead, professor of Business Education and a member of the Longwood faculty for almost 15 years, will be greatly missed here at Longwood. The absence of a person with such fine character and high integrity as that maintained by Mr. Snead will prove a great loss to both the students and faculty of the college. He will long be remembered by those of us who knew and were aware of the fine qualities and standards of a truly fine man. E. M.

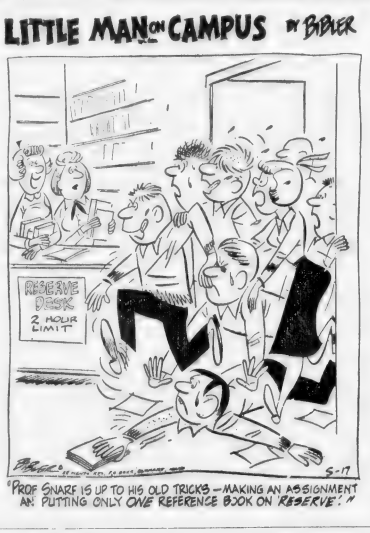
The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 2, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 168.

Linda Bowe ..... Editor-in-Chief
Associate Editor
Bet McLaughlin, Daisy Lowell
Business Manager
News Editor
Feature Editor
Sports Editor
Desk Editor
Photography
Art
Circulation Manager
Advertising Manager
Layout Assistant

Editorials are written by the editor.



Associate Press Assistant, Associated Collegiate Press Assistant, Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Assistant Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Delinquency Press Association, Rolling Hill Press.

News Assistants: Jeanie Kirkpatrick, Assistant; Assistant News Editors: Jeanie Kirkpatrick, Assistant; Assistant Feature Editor: Jo Ann Hancock, Assistant; Assistant Sports Editor: Jackie Gibson, Sara Gilliland, Gail Gilliland, Dale Lackey, Assistant Desk Editors: Mary Ann Mann, Assistant; Assistant Photographers: Martha Rucker, Assistant Art Editor: Nancy Lechner, Faye Cunningham, Assistant Circulation Manager: Nancy George, Doris Puryear, Assistant Advertising Managers: Lucinda Ashton, Assistant Layout Editors: Mary Lou Cook.

CIRCULATION: Circulation Manager, Kay Pierce. Assistant Circulation Managers: Arlene Mc... Circulation Managers: Jo Ann Hancock, Martha Vaughan, Linda Mason, Assistant Circulation Managers: Nancy Lou Cook.

ADVERTISING: Advertising Manager, Jean Heavyside. Nancy George, Doris Puryear, Assistant Advertising Managers: Lucinda Ashton, Assistant.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

"PROF SNARF IS UP TO HIS OLD TRICKS—MAKING AN ASSIGNMENT AN PUTTING ONLY ONE REFERENCE BOOK ON RESERVE!"

Socially Speaking . . .

Formal Festivities, Games Provide Eventful Weekend

By JACKIE GIBSON

I'm sure everyone is familiar with the saying "Absence makes the heart grow fonder." It may not work for all of us, but it certainly proved true for Stephanie Bisese. "Stef" received a diamond from "Pugh" Beale, who attends East Carolina. Congratulations!

Va. Tech Dances

VPI's Gobblers, who will play in the Tobacco Bowl next weekend, played host to many Longwood girls this weekend who attended the fall formals. Seen waltzing around the floor were: Sue Blair, Nancye Allen, Kay Pierce, Virginia Parker, Ann Scott, Patti Roach, Callie Johnson, Eloise Shrieves, Frankie Click, Doris Puryear, Betty Ruffin.

Washington and Lee won their Homecoming Game against Randolph-Macon and celebrated the victory to the music of Lionel Hampton. At W and L for the festivities were: Lou Booth, Jean Dunagan, Carolyn Axom, Jo Bailey, Melinda Franklin, Bev Kersey, Becky Wooldridge, Cherry Gorham.

Oyster Bowl

The Oyster Bowl, played in Norfolk, saw Tulane defeat Navy. Traveling down for the game and parties we saw: Henrietta Dollins, Linda Doles, Betty Griggs, Pat Leake, Shirley Lucy, DeAnne Hogge, Mary Pem Lewis, Sandra Johns, Barbara Simpkins, Dottie Brown, Carolyn Bassford, Bettie Jean Cliott, and Alice Layne.

West Point to U. of Florida

Jane Adams, Norrish Munson, and Lynn McDade left the state of Virginia to travel to West Point, New York, to cheer for Army when they played the University of Virginia. Army won, by the way. Barbara Ennsmann traveled south to sunny Florida for Homecomings at the University of Florida at Gainesville.

Merle Ridinger and Margaret Newton were seen at the University of Richmond.

Barbara Chaffin spent the weekend at Lynchburg College and Betty Smythers stayed at Roanoke College.

Everyone is interested in what everyone else is doing, so if you know something interesting that my bloodhounds have overlooked—wander up to my office—Cunningham No. 23.

On tab for next weekend: Circus!

Church News

By ANN GLOVER

Baptist

Time is drawing near! The Fall convention is only a week and a half away! Longwood B.S.U. already has 40 girls signed up to go and only 10 more are needed to meet our quota of 50. The cost will not exceed $4.00 and the fun and inspiration you'll receive will far surpass that. So, circle the weekend of October 31, and plan to pack your bag to attend the convention to be held in Charlottesville.

Freshmen: You will be guests of honor at a big Halloween party at the Baptist Church October 28. All Baptists are invited, but this in addition, is the BIG PARTY for freshmen. See you there!

Episcopal

The program for the Canterbury Club this Sunday will be Part II of our study of the Life and Mission of the Church: "Call to Faith."

Anyone not having signed up for committee work and wishing to do so may see Demetrin Koutsparakis, N.C. 26. The committees are: 'Canterbury Tales, Recreation, Vespers, Refreshments, and Publicity.

Those who have not received Canterbury offering envelopes may see Martha Gray Shirley, N. C. 48.

Methodist

Coffee Hour was held on Friday, Oct. 17 in the Methodist Student Center. The hour was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended.

Don't forget that you can still subscribe to Motive, and pledges are also still being made if there is any one who has not yet made a pledge and would like to do so.

Beginning Oct. 26, Peggy Henry and Dottie Harrison will start training sessions for our deputation training program. All interested persons are cordially invited to attend. Don't forget to sign up for conference at V.P.I. Nov. 1-2.

Presbyterian

The Westminster Fellowship held a day retreat on Oct. 19 at Sydnor's Lake. Worship programs were planned for the fall Roslyn conference.

It isn't too late yet to register for the Westminster Fellowship conference. It will be Oct. 31-Nov. 2 at Roslyn (near Richmond). Registration blanks are on the church bulletin board. Take one and send it in today.

On October 26 the Faith Commission will present a program on Prayer. Everyone is invited to join

(Continued on page 4)

'Holiday' Features American Teacher

Is the great teacher a "popular" teacher?

Almost never, says the essayist and critic Clifton Fadiman, writing in the October issue of Holiday magazine.

"He is interested in something more important than winning the affections of an unending anonymous procession of young people," Fadiman says. "The 'beloved' teacher-image is part of our American sentimental mythology: it expresses our willingness to pay homage to education provided it be painless—that is, noneducational. I have long maintained that any college can raise its standards simply by firing annually whichever professor is voted 'Best Liked' by the graduating class."

Fadiman says the great teacher does not "bother to 'love' or 'understand' his students; he bothers to love their minds and understand their understandings."

Fashion News

"Stylese" For Season

With fall fashions presenting a wide range of new styles and fabrics, you may find some new terms being used to describe them. Following is a list of the names you'll be hearing—and wearing—most.

DIRECTOIRE (pronounced de-reck-tworr) — The period 1792-1800 in France when high-waisted, loose-fitting dresses were in fashion as they are today.

EMPIRE (m-peer or em-pyre) — The period of 1803-1813 when Napoleon was emperor and high-waisted, form fitting clothes were introduced.

TRAPEZE — Dior silouette of Spring 1958 which flares out sharply below the shoulders, somewhat like a child's dress. Name is derived from the geometrical figure, trapezoid, a pyramid with a flattened top.

FLOUNCE — A full, gather section at the base of a skirt.

BATEAU NECKLINE (bat-o) — Boat-shaped, high in front and back, pointed at shoulders.

COWL NECKLINE — Soft drape on self-material at the neckline front or back.

BLOUSON — Overblouse held in at the bottom with a drawstring.

MANTLE DRAPERY — Loose back drapery starting from the shoulders—also called "backdrop."

RAGLON SLEEVE — A sleeve cut with slanting seams from neck to under the arm.

SLING COLLAR — Upstanding collar made of one continuous band of fabric.

SMOCK CUT — Coat or dress gathered full below a yoke.

HAREM SKIRT — Full skirt gathered under at the hemline like harem trousers.

MOHAIR TWEED — Looped, brushed tweed made from wool and the hair of the mohair goat.

LOOP TWEED — Wool tweed with a looped surface.

FRENCH KNOT TWEED — Tweed with nubbed effect like French knots woven into fabric.

BOUCLE (boo-clay) — Woven or knitted fabric that has a smooth raised surface.

MATELASSE (mat-lassay) — Soft silk fabric with raised woven designs in blistered effect.

LAME (la-may) — Fabric woven of flat gold or silver metal thread, often with design against a sheer silk background.

WARP-PRINTED SILKS — Patterned silks (satin, taffeta, faille) with the design printed on the vertical warp thread of the loom before weaving, producing a blurred, soft effect in the print.

CUT VELVET — Satin or taffeta with a raised pattern of velvet.

COUPE DE VELOUR (coup-de-veloor)—Same as cut velvet.

SOUFFLE (soo-flay) — Puffed-up fabrics or drapery.

EPONGE (ay-ponj) — Soft, loosely-woven, spongy silk.

PEAU D'ANGE (po-danj) — Waxy, smooth, gardenia-like finish in silk. It literally means "angel skin."

GROS DE LONDRES (grow de Londra) — Glossy, lightweight silk fabric woven with horizontal ribs.

POULT DE SOIE (poolt de swah) —Ribbed silk slightly heavier than

(Continued on page 3)

Tyree Combines Journalism With Teaching Experiences

By CHERRY GORHAM

Printer's ink seems to be a part of the blood of Miss Virginia Tyree, one of Longwood's new English instructors! Feature-writing for the Richmond Times-Dispatch several years ago is just one aspect of her varied career.

Miss Tyree, who is technical advisor for The Rotunda this year, worked on the Hollins' college paper, the Hollins Columns, as a student as well as serving on Student Government. While teaching at William and Mary she showed her journalistic abilities again by serving as advisor for all three student publications — newspaper, magazine, and annual!

Admires Porter's Work

The vivacious blond teacher revealed a wide scope of interests in addition to those involving creative writing. For the works of Miss Katherine Porter, recent convocation speaker, she has "prodigious admiration." In fact, all periods and types of literature are well-liked, with the Russian novelists ranking high in their category.

Enjoys Oil Painting

Boating and riding are listed as two favorite sports. Miss Tyree added, however, with a quick smile that she was a rather "windy dinner" as a college hockey player. "It's so messy," she commented on discussing her enjoyment of oil painting. "You can bathe up to your elbows in it!"

A Richmonder, Miss Tyree has attended summer school at Oxford in addition to having obtained her B. A. degree at Hollins and her M. A. at the University of Virginia. Her teaching experience includes a preparatory school in New England and Richmond Collegiate School for Girls plus her three years at William and Mary.

Here at Longwood the English major is teaching Freshman English, Survey of English Literature, American Writers, and, next semester, Journalism.

"Students Always Fun!"

The traditional friendliness of Longwood has impressed the instructor from the top man right on down." This atmosphere extends throughout the community of Farmville as well as in the school, she remarked. Later she mentioned the orientation activities designed to make the freshmen feel at home as being particularly successful. Miss Tyree's attitude toward Longwood students can be summed up by the words "The students are a delight to work with—always fun!"

Staff Photo

MISS VIRGINIA TYREE, new English instructor, looks happy as she grades papers. Maybe somebody got an A!

—Staff Photo

DR. ELIZABETH GIBERT, Longwood faculty newcomer, conducts one of her education classes.

Elizabeth Gibert Appreciates Friendly Campus Atmosphere

"I like Longwood very much and am very much pleased with the whole atmosphere, which has the characteristic of making a person feel at home within a very short time," remarked Dr. Elizabeth Gibert, new associate professor of Education, about the Longwood campus.

Born and raised in a small community in South Carolina, Dr. Gibert attended Brenau College in Gainsville, Georgia, for two years, transferring to the University of South Carolina where she graduated with a Bachelor of Science Degree in math and chemistry. Continuing her education, she also received her Masters of Education and completed her PhD. Degree at the University of South Carolina last year.

Previous to her position here, she taught in Columbia city schools for eight years and for two years in the Department of Education at the University of South Carolina.

First Girls' School

"This is my first experience teaching in an all girls' school and I think I will like it very much," Dr. Gibert remarked about her most recent undertaking. This year at Longwood, she is teaching courses in education, philosophy and psychology.

In her spare time, which is undoubtedly rare, Dr. Gibert enjoys tennis, needlework, cooking, especially painting; and she hopes 'eventually to have time to play golf."

Frosh Wins Honor In Chicken Contest

Pat Williamson, a freshman from Blackstone, represented the state of Virginia at the North Eastern Poultry Council held at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, October 5-8, where she was a member of the poultry judging team. Virginia competed against ten northeastern states and won second place.

Pat walked away with top individual honors on the Virginia team and fifth place in the NEPCO contest.

This summer, she placed fourth in the state individual contest at VPI in Blacksburg, thus making it possible for her to attend the contest at Harrisburg.

Pat has been a member of the 4-H Club for the past seven years.

From The Gridiron Bleachers

By JACKIE WALLER

Beginning the football weekend with Friday, the underdog Richmond Spiders engineered a sounding 26-6 victory over George Washington University. It was the Spiders' first win of the season.

The Saturday games saw several upsets. William and Mary, tired but tough, scored the winning touchdown with 6 minutes left to play, defeating N. C. State 13-6. It was W and M's first victory and State was left with a mere 2 out of 5 winning slate.

Second, upset - wise, was the Florida State blanking of Tech's proud Gobblers 28-0. Driving rain and mud choked Tech's offense as a well-drilled FSU club went 74 yards for its first touchdown the first time it got the ball. Billy Holsclaw, Tech's national offense leader, was held well in check as he added a mere 3 yards rushing.

The Nation's No. 1 team, Army, beat Virginia 35-6. It took nearly the whole first half for the Cadets to get started but when they did, that was all for the Cavaliers.

Hampden-Sydney rolled to a Mason-Dixon Conference victory against Western Maryland, 22-6. Tiger Bill Benson scored all three H-S touchdowns and picked up 151 yards as Hampden-Sydney kept its title clear in conference play.

Washington and Lee upset Randolph-Macon 13-12 with an extra point by injured frosh tackle Bob Harrison 3 minutes before the game ended. The victory broke a 12 game losing streak and was only the second triumph in four seasons for the Generals.

In the Oyster Bowl in Norfolk, Navy lost to Tulane 14-6, Tulane's line proving too tough. This was quite a topple for the 6th ranked Middies as Tulane had suffered four straight previous defeats.

Notre Dame just edged Duke 9-7. The Fightin' Irish were assessed 135 penalties compared to a mere 10 for Duke. By a like score, Villanova decisioned Wake Forest as Dave Intrabartolo proved unstoppable. He gained 105 yardage, more than half of Villanova's total.

In an Atlantic Coast Conference game, North Carolina's Tar Heels shut out Maryland 27-0 as Jim Tatum's charges did well for their homecoming fans.

Other scores: Georgia Tech tied Auburn 7-7; Florida tied Vanderbilt 6-6; Mississippi outscored Hardin-Simmons 24-0; Carson - Newman whipped Davidson 41-12; Harvard smothered Columbia 26-0; while West Virginia took a 15-8 trouncing from Pittsburg. Meanwhile in the West it was California over Southern Cal 14-12; Air Force Academy 16, Stanford 0.

Kappa Delta Leads Semester Averages

The 1957-58 grade averages of Longwood's eight national social sororities have been released by the registrar, showing Kappa Delta once again in first place.

The averages are as follows:

Kappa Delta	1.99
Pi Kappa Sigma	1.85½
Zeta Tau Alpha	1.84
Delta Zeta	1.75
Alpha Sigma Tau	1.72½
Theta Sigma Upsilon	1.68½
Sigma Sigma Sigma	1.67½
Alpha Sigma Alpha	1.52

Swim Test

Miss Eleanor Weddle, assistant professor of physical education, will give the Junior Swimming test each day at 1 p.m. starting Monday, October 27. The testing will run through November 7. Each girl who has to take the test will receive a notice. If anyone cannot come at her appointed time, she should see Miss Weddle.

Meet New Students

Traveled Horsewoman Compares Germany, Va.

By MARGIE FREES

If you were at summer school you probably saw a spunky little 'Longwood lady' riding all around the campus on Dr. Wellard's horse. The girl was Lou Booth, a sophomore, who just came back in June from Augsburg, Germany.

LOU BOOTH shows one of her favorites, "Jasper."

She was exercising a horse that belongs to Dr. James Wellard of the English department while he is on leave of absence.

Lou is very interested in horses. She had an offer to take care of Dr. Wellard's horse while he went to Persia this fall, but an unsuspected development arose. The horse had a colt. Since two definitely cannot eat as cheaply as one, Lou thought she had better decline the offer of keeping the horse. She "was really sorry though because I love horses."

Lou first became interested in horseback riding when her father was stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. The post had an excellent riding instructor who was a member of the Olympic team.

Loves German Spirit

While in Germany, she taught horseback riding to the American children who were also stationed in Augsburg. When she wasn't teaching riding, she was taking lessons from several Germans. She said she wished to acquire some of the energetic spirit that the Germans showed in their horsemanship. She commented about the results of her lessons: "Sometimes I wouldn't be able to sit down for a week."

About the country Lou has been living in she said, "I believe that the German people are an ambitious people. In anything they try to do, they do their best. They work hard and they play equally as hard. They have their serious side, but they are very fun-loving also."

Virginia Similiar to Germany

When asked why she decided upon Longwood, she said, "I want to become a teacher. Since I have many relatives in Virginia, my family knew of Longwood. Besides," she said, "Virginia looks very much like the southern part of Germany."

Lou's plans for the future include a trip back to Germany.

Did You Know?

By MATTIE BLEWETT

—several of our fellow classmates are so desperate for dates that they have resorted to singing "I'm Available" when passing any good-looking male?

—a member of the freshman class is an official chicken judger?

—another member of this same talented class once rode down the main street of her home town in a bed?

—there are 104 black teddy bears, with names ranging from Afganstantine to Zorro, reclining on the beds of various Longwood girls?

—the infirmary shoots an average of three students daily?

—the dining hall only uses pedigreed noodles in its soup?

——two members of our illustrious junior class have composed a song? It is entitled "My Love for You Will Always Shine Like a Bald-Headed Chicken in a Watermelon Rind."

—pretty is as pretty does?

—jai' fini?

"Stylese"

(Continued from page 2)

gros de Londres.

PAILLETTES (pie-ettes) —Small flat, glittering disks, usually sewn to lie flat like fish-scales.

BUGLE BEADS — Tube-like beads used for embroidery.

—By Mary Lee Thompson from the Newark Star-Ledger

Hockey Eleven Defeats Madison In Third Victory

The Longwood hockey team gained its third victory when they defeated Madison Saturday 8-0.

This unusual hockey score was contributed to by Barbara Brantley, Delo Dove, Lou Heier, and Nancy Andrews. The Madison forward line just could not pierce the strong Longwood backfield. Team work and spirit were displayed throughout the game by Longwood as evidenced by the score.

Longwood Lineup

The lineup for Longwood was as follows: Barbara Brantley, center forward; Nancy Andrews and Delo Dove, inners; Gail Cunningham and Sandra Tarter, wings.

In the backfield were Lou Heier, center halfback; Mary Hite Grayson and Jackie Waller, halfbacks; Pat Southworth and Willie Taylor, fullbacks; Nancy George, goal keeper.

October 24th the Longwood hockey team travels to Richmond to play Westhampton College. The following week Longwood will be represented at the Tidewater Field Hockey Tournament.

Hockey

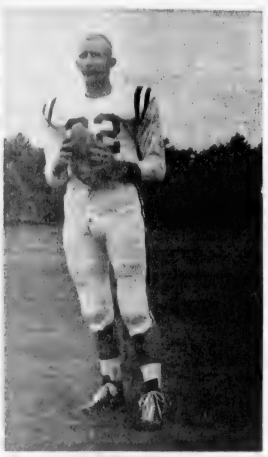
—REMAINING GAMES—

October

24 Westhampton ..... Home
31 Tidewater Tournament .... Away

November

7 William & Mary ..... There
15 Southeast Tournament .... Away



The Blue 'n White's score record for the season thus far stands at three wins and one loss.

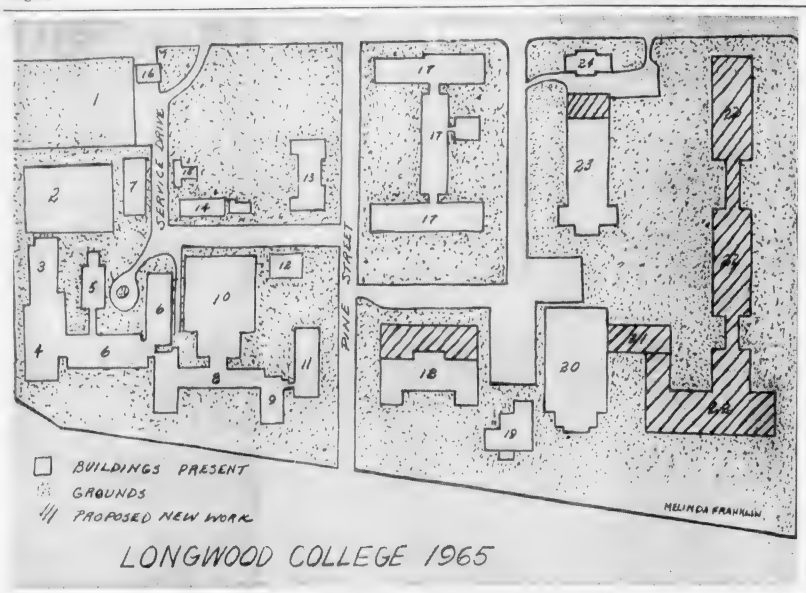
Meet The Tigers

MARSHALL EBERT

Marshall, a junior from Lynchburg, is expected to be one of the outstanding linemen for the Tigers this year. Marshall should be in top shape and fully recovered from his knee injury for the Sewanee game.

TOMMY DAVIS

Tommy, a junior from Richmond, has successfully made the switch from halfback to quarterback. Tommy is a running threat at quarterback, a better than average passer and an alert defensive player.



FRED HOBACK

Fred is a junior from Salem. Big, strong and fast for his size, Fred is doing a standout job this year as a first string tackle and should improve steadily as the season progresses.

SOUTHSIDE
SUNDRY
headquarters for Royal Typewriters

MISS BUXTON
first love
BILLFOLD
Holds 32 Photos
$3.95 plus tax
MARTIN THE JEWELER
Farmville, Va.

The State
YOUR COMMUNITY CENTER
IN FARMVILLE, VA.
SHOW TIMES:
Sundays:
Afternoons: 1:15 and 3:15
Evenings: 7:15 and 9:15
Mondays Thru Fridays:
Afternoons: 3:15 P. M.
Evenings: 7:00 and 9:00
Saturdays:
3:15 - 5:00 - 7:00 - 9:00
WEDNESDAY, OCT. 22
MICKEY & SON!
together for the first time!
M-G-M presents NEW-FUN!
MICKEY ROONEY.
ANDY HARDY COMES HOME
Thursday, Friday, Saturday
October 23-24-25
WHAT LOLA WANTS LOLA GETS!
damn yankees
Sunday, Monday, Tuesday
October 26-27-28
ALDO RAY
CLIFF ROBERTSON
"THE NAKED AND THE DEAD"
NOVEMBER 5-6
A TALE OF TWO CITIES
DIRK BOGARDE

College Plans Future Construction

Campus Appearance To Change By 1965

Plans have been released by the college for a long-range construction program scheduled for completion in 1965.

The planned program includes three dormitories, an annex to Jarman Hall, additions to Stevens Hall and the Library, and a new Home Management Unit.

New Dorms

New dormitories will be similar in structure to the recently completed south wing of Cunningham Hall and will face into the center of the campus. Such an arrangement will create an inside campus or mall in the area presently occupied by the west end of Chambers Street. Part of this area may also be devoted to the increasing of college parking facilities.

According to Mr. Jacob H. Wamsley, Business Manager of Longwood College, the three buildings are to have three floors on the back of Ely Street side and four floors on the front or side facing the center of the campus. One building is to be built every two years, beginning in the spring of 1960.

The proposed dormitory buildings are to be built on the east side of Ely Street, between High and Madison Streets. An annex to Jarman Hall will be a one-story structure to be used by the college Music Department and will connect Jarman Hall with one of the proposed dormitories.

Other Building Additions

In addition to a Home Management Unit to be built on the corner of Buffalo and St. George Streets, the program calls for a three story addition to the college library and an extension to Stevens Hall.

Scale Drawing

The scale drawing, shown above, is of the campus as it is to be in 1965, and was copied by Rotunda Art Editor, Melinda Franklin. Shaded areas indicate proposed construction during the coming six-year period. Not shown in the drawing is the Home Management Unit. Numbers in the drawing correspond to the following: 1. Athletic Field; 2. Tennis Courts; 3. Swimming Pool; 4. Student Building; 5. Infirmary; 6. Tabb Hall; 7. Laundry; 8. Ruffner Hall. 9. Academic Buildings; 10. Dining Hall; 11. West Wing; 12. Home Economics Unit; 13. Training School; 14. Carpenter Shop; 15. Central Storage; 16. Power House; 17. Cunningham Hall; 18. Library; 19. Alumnae House. 20. Jarman Hall; 21. Music Building; 22 New Dormitories; 23. Stevens Hall; 24. Green House.

Assembly

(Continued from page 1)

"In Yugoslavia cars were a rariety," testified Dr. Schlegel, and the roads were very poor and narrow since no machinery is used in this country.

In Turkey, the Schlegels captured the beauty of the great Moslem mosques. They were as plentiful as the Christian churches here. Slides were also taken during some of the religious rituals.

These are just a few of the 700 pictures taken by the Schlegels. Only about 70 of these picturesque and informative slides will be shown to help Longwood students "know their neighbors."

Church News

(Continued from page 2)

the West-Fel for its Sunday evening program and fellowship hour.

The Bible study is being held each Wednesday evening at 7:00 at the home of Dottie Hamilton. A study of the book of Romans is being conducted by Dave Moore.

Virginia Student Ecumenical Movement News

"Issues in Understanding The Christian Church" will be presented Nov. 14-16, 1958 at Roslyn Conference Grounds. The Virginia Student Ecumenical Movement, sponsoring this conference, has chosen five denomination leaders from Richmond to present the study in the form of panel addresses.

VSEM was organized as a movement in Oct. 1957 after a study conference on the Nature of the Unity We Seek: "Problems and Promises of Christian Unity." In the spring the group studied The Nature of the Unity We Seek: "The Given Element in Jesus Christ; The Element We Seek, Obstacles and Approaches to Unity; The Essence of Unity Worship and Prayer."

This is the second year of an organized attempt to implement the ecumenical movement in Virginia on a state and local level. At present VSEM is composed of an executive committee and a council of representatives from each denominational group interested in and supporting VSEM.

For Longwood and Hampden-Sydney colleges information concerning VSEM and its conferences will be handled through the Inter-Faith Council of the two colleges. Registration blanks will be available from each of the campus church group centers.

VSEM has taken as its aim, the implementation of the Life and Mission Emphasis. Pat Miller of Union Theological Seminary in Richmond will open this fall conference by presenting the "Origin and Need of the Life and Mission of the Church Emphasis."

Through the panel addresses, small discussion groups, and Bible study groups, the students at the conference will further attempt to discover "The Biblical Faith and the Calling of the Church," the 1958 emphasis of the Life and Mission program.

Timely Topics

By MARGIE LAYMAN

The campaign for the approaching election day seems to be in full swing as Democrats and Republicans begin to gain more enthusiasm in their mud-slinging. Vice-President Nixon and former President Truman stay in the public eye as the most popular of the mud-slingers.

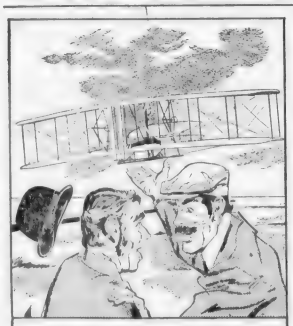
Mr. Truman has stated that he does not believe that the South will form a third party in 1960. His reason was that the Southern Democrats would not want to give up seniority and committee chairmanships in Congress. Truman said, however, that "it might be a good thing for the country if they did," picking Senator Byrd from Virginia and Senator Eastland from Mississippi as examples.

Inaction by Virginia officials last week indicated that they intend to make no move in the school segregation crisis for the present. For the second straight week Governor Almond cancelled his press conferences. This passive attitude is perhaps due to the fact that none of the school boards of the closed schools have asked that he return the involved schools to local operation under the provisions of the state's school closing law.

In the State Department top officials appear to have given up the hope of reaching an agreement with Red China over the Nationalist islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

The international convention of Christian Churches warmly endorsed the idea that you should be permitted to give up to 2 per cent of your income tax to the United Nations instead of paying it to the United States.

America's greatest economic danger has been described as a growing inflation - mindedness of the United States' public, based on the stock market boom.



Listen To
Longwood's Radio Programs
on
WFLO

CONTEMPORARY CARDS
New Selection of 50 Designs
- BIRTHDAY
- GET WELL
- FRIENDSHIP
- THANK YOU
- SYMPATHY

WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

WALKER'S
DINNERS
PARTIES
Private Dining Room
by Reservation
Burkeville, Va.
Telephone 3280

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE - BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

They said it couldn't be done... until the Wright Brothers flew this plane for 59 seconds in 1909. Today flying is so much a part of modern life that 40 American colleges offer regular flying courses, many of them for degree credit.

Puff by puff Less tars & More taste

DON'T SETTLE FOR ONE WITHOUT THE OTHER!

Change to L&M and get 'em both. Such an improved filter and more taste! Better taste than in any other cigarette. Yes, today's L&M combines these two essentials of modern smoking enjoyment—less tars and more taste—in one great cigarette.

Light into that Live Modern flavor!

© 1958 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Buy 1959 Virginian Now

The Rotunda

Attend 'Y' Sing Tonight

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., October 29, 1958 | No. 5

Johnson Elected President Of State P-TA Congress

Harnsberger Selected First Vice-President

Dr. Edgar M. Johnson, Professor of Education at Longwood, was elected state President of the Virginia Congress of Parents and Teachers at the annual convention held in Richmond October 20-22.

Dr. Johnson has served as a local P-TA president, as Southside Regional vice-president, and as first vice-president of the Virginia Congress for the past three years.

Elected first vice-president was Mrs. George K. Harnsberger of Port Republic. She is the mother of a Longwood sophomore, Frances Harnsberger.

Mrs. Harnsberger has served on various committees, one of which included writing a handbook for district directors, which has received nationwide recognition. She has also served as Chairman of district directors.

Endorse Option Plan

The convention voted to endorse the local option plan as the best solution to the state's school problem. The local option plan is similar to the suggestion offered by the Gray Commission.

The convention defeated the support of the massive resistance plan as endorsed by Governor Almond and the General Assembly.

A proposal by Preston E. Hicks, of Henrico County, to contribute a maximum of $30,000 in surplus State P-TA funds to Warren County, Charlottesville and Norfolk was defeated. The treasurer's report showed that the State group has a surplus of $50,000. A resolution to reduce state dues from 20 cents to 15 cents was also defeated, in spite of the large surplus.

Kill Many Resolutions

The congress also acted on several other resolutions, however, many resolutions were killed, tabled and withdrawn so the group could act on the main issues. The complex parliamentary procedure kept most delegates completely confused most of the time.

John B. Boatwright, Jr., of Buckingham and Henrico Counties, moved for adjournment on the grounds that under the rules of the convention it had to end at 12:30 p.m. However, the president ruled that the rules had been suspended earlier when the delegates voted to dispose of the resolutions before turning to other business.

Other officers elected included Mrs. Sydney Arthur Greenleaf of Alexandria, Secretary; Mr. Tom Faulkner of Rockbridge County, Treasurer; and Mrs. Marion Joyner of Henry County, Historian.

The new officers represent the slate of officers endorsed by the incumbent P-TA administration, and they defeated 2-1 a group of "conservatives" nominated from the floor by supporters of "massive resistance."

Voting is allowed on a basis of one vote for every 25 members of a local chapter. The Farmville delegation had 19 votes. Nearly 400 delegates arrived Wednesday from Arlington and Waynesboro taking part in the decisive activities Wednesday.

U.S. Civil Service Announces Dates For Job Exams

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced a new Student Trainee examination for use in selecting college students and high school graduates for work-study programs in various Federal agencies.

Position Locations

The training programs are in the scientific, technical, agricultural, accounting, and statistical fields. Some positions are located in Washington, D. C., and the nearby area, only. Others will be filled throughout the country. Trainees will be paid at the rate of $3,255 to $3,755 a year during the periods in which they are employed.

Exam Requirements

Students must be enrolled in, or accepted for enrollment in, a curriculum in college leading to a bachelor's degree in one of the fields included in this training program. A written test will be given.

Further information and application forms are available at many post offices throughtout the country, and a the United States Civil Service Commission, Washingon 25, D. C. Applications will be accepted until April 2, 1959.

Federal Service Entrance Exams

The Civil Service Commission has been accepting applications from college juniors, seniors, and graduate students for the first written test under this year's Federal Service Entrance Examination.

The test is scheduled for November 15 and applications will be accepted through October 30.

The examination is designed to help fill the Government's yearly need for more young people of college caliber who have the po-

(Continued on page 4)

SEA Issues Bids

The Student Education Association of Longwood issued bids for membership last Thursday, October 23.

The name, SEA, chosen by the college group, will take the place of the FTA, which is used by the high school group of future teachers.

The SEA is affliated with the Virginia Education Association and the National Education Association. Its purpose is to promote interest in teaching and to develop high standards in the teaching profession.

Bids were issued to those students interested in the field of education. The Juniors, however, were recommended by the department heads.

The bids are as follows: Joan Heavyside, Sylvia Anne Bivens, Ann Glover, Pat Roach, Betty Griggs, Sylvia Wilmoth, Iris Hines, Shirley Lucy, Hilda Thompson, Carole Manley, Jane Proffitt, Sarah Hastings, Barbara Garnage, Octavia Loftin, Virginia Shelton, Emily Johnson, Pat Areford, Dorthy Lynn McDade, Eleanor Gurganus, Gloria Gardner, Henrietta Dollins, Burks Keith.

Also, Doris Marie Ayres, Jo Lynn Holland, Elizabeth Culpepper, Betty Rawls, Betty Spivey, Virginia Kuyk, Jean Turrer, Jo Ann Sloop, Olivia Jo Bailey, Virginia Price, Emma H. Gardner, Dorothy Cothern, Mary Moore, Nancy

(Continued on page 4)

Choral Members - To Attend Clinic

Eight Longwood upperclassmen will participate in the Virginia All-College Choral Clinic in Richmond today through Friday, October 31.

Molnar To Accompany

The girls, Ann Barnes, Jean Dancy, Carolyn DeHaven, Nancy Evans, Jo Ann Garner, Jean Helms, Kay Hudgins, and Edith Ward, will be accompanied by Dr. John W. Molnar, head of the Music Department. Mr. James McCombs, and Mr. C. L. Smith.

Climax At Mosque

The climax of the annual clinic, sponsored by the College Section of the Virginia Music Educators Association, will be a program Friday at the Mosque.

Directing the three-day event is Mr. Willis W. Beckett, head of the Choral and Church Music Department of the College Conservatory of Music, Cincinnati, Ohio. Mr. Beckett, who has directed a number of vocal and choral clinics prior to this one, visited the Longwood Music Department last week.

'60 Goes West' Lassos Skit Award; Sophomores Decorate Winning Float

—Staff Photo

A ROYAL SMILE from Circus Queen Katherine Ozmon as she reigns over Saturday night's production.

Catherine Ozmon Reigns As Queen

By JO ANNE PARSONS

The enchantment and spirit of circus and the Big Top has not yet ended for the hearty juniors or mighty sophomores, who are still boasting of their triumphs from this biggest, climatic event of the year, led by Ringmaster, Ann Mixon.

"Sixty Goes West" and Wins

The prize-winning skit of this year's circus was that of the "bucking broncos" of the Junior class. This group of cowboys and tavern maids lassoed first place with their Wild West setting and theme of "Sixty Goes West."

Winners of first place in the float contest were the sophomores whose float depicted the secret theme of their skit entitled "Tarnished Halo." The sophomores also had a band accompanying their float in the parade; the first ever organized by a class.

Seniors Win Second

Walking away with second place in the skit contest were the seniors with their portrayal of the life of a hobo in "The Open Road."

Adding to the spirit of the Big Top were the freshmen with their skit, "World of Dreams." This entrance into the land of fantasy typified the true spirit of circus, and especially intriguing was the gala performance of the marching soldiers.

And what is circus without animals, animal trainer or clowns? Marching in the parade to add significance to circus were prancing horses and make-believe animals. Handing out lollipops to children of all ages, young and old, were the fancy dressed clowns who also performed on stage during the evening festivities for the responsive audience.

Queen Cat Ozmon

The evening performance brought in the pageantry of circus; the reigning queen and her court. Senior Cat Ozmon was crowned queen and deserving members from other classes made up her court. Serving beneath her were Jo Ann Garner, junior; Jane Stegel, sophomore and Sue Sharp, freshman.

Following the presentation of award; in Jarman Hall came the activities on the Midway in the Main Rec. Campus and class organizations planned and constructed booths for this element of circus activities where eating, dancing and games helped fill the evening with the thrill and excitement that comes with circus.

Leading groups on skit and parade in their respective classes were Dottie Boswell and Cat Ozmon, senior; Jo Ann Garner and Carolyn DeHaven, juniors; Dodie

(Continued on page 4)

Lankford Leads Annual Drive For Community Chest

Dr. Francis G. Lankford, Longwood College President, is serving as chairman for the Farmville and Prince Edward County Community Chest Drive now in progress. This is the first year Dr. Lankford has headed the annual campaign.

The goal for the campaign ending Friday is $16,000, and, as of last weekend, approximately two-thirds of that amount has been collected in cash and pledges. This money will go for such projects as the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Salvation Army, Farmville Public Library Association, and the Children's Home Society of Virginia. More than one-third of the total amount, $6,500, is for use by the Southside Community Hospital.

Merritt Heads College Donations

Mr. Robert Merritt, assistant professor of biology, has charge of the college faculty and administration donations in the Special Gifts section of the campaign which has as its goal $10,000. Other major divisions are Employees, $2,250; Residential, $575; Colored, $700; and County, $1,975.

All workers for this project are on a volunteer basis.

Student Teachers Finish Program; Nine Weeks End

On October 31, thirty-two Longwood seniors in Roanoke and seven in Farmville will finish nine weeks of student teaching. These 39 girls will have a two-week vacation and will return to Longwood on November 17.

A second group of 32 will leave for Roanoke for nine weeks of student teaching.

Classes for those seniors participating in the nine-week block plan have been scheduled for the period, meeting every day for nine weeks.

This is the second year seniors from Longwood have student taught in Roanoke; however, the plan is more extensive this year.

'Education Speaks'

Miss Elizabeth Burger will continue directing the T. V. Science Programs telecast under EDUCATION SPEAKS over Station WXEX, Channel 8, in Petersburg on Sundays from 12 noon to 12:30 p.m. The topic for November will be "Machines."

Betty Spivey, Cat Ozmon, and Dottie Boswell will assist Miss Burger in this series, planned especially for fifth grade teachers.

Methodist Seminar To Begin Sunday

The Methodist church and Wesley Foundation are holding a three day seminar on alcohol beginning November 2.

There will be three guest lecturers here, all of whom are well-known throughout Virginia and the United States.

MCV Professor To Speak

On Sunday night, Dr. Ebbe Hoff will present a lecture and discussion. Dr. Hoff has been at the Medical College of Virginia since 1947 as Professor of Neurological Science and Medical Director of the Division of Alcohol Studies and Rehabilitation of the State Dept. of Health.

He obtained his doctor's degree from the University of Oxford, London, England, where he worked in experimental neurology. He served as Lt. Commander, and subsequently Commander, in the Medical Corps of the U. S. Navy, Naval Research, and during part of his service days was stationed in London as Ass't. Naval Attache to the U. S. Embassy.

In 1956 Dr. Hoff was made Dean, School of Graduate Studies, MCV, Richmond.

Womer To Speak Monday

November 3 the second speaker will be Dr. Wayne W. Womer, Executive Secretary of the Virginia Church Temperance Council, Inc.

Dr. Womer is a fellow of the Yale School of Alcohol Studies, Yale University and has served on staff

(Continued on page 4)

Gresham Speaks At English Meet

Dr. R. C. Simonini, head of the English Department, and English Professor Foster Gresham represented Longwood College at the annual meeting of the College English Association of North Carolina and Virginia, October 25 at Washington and Lee University, Lexington.

As a part of the meeting on Saturday, Mr Gresham spoke on "Teacher Certification in Virginia." In his talk, Mr Gresham gave an account of what has been done along this line in Virginia in recent years. He was chosen to speak on the topic because of the interest he has shown while serving on the Committee for the Preparation and Certification of Secondary English Teachers.

Mr Gresham is currently serving as the Executive Secretary of the Virginia Association of English Teachers.

—Staff Photo

HAVE TALENT, WILL WIN—Triumphant "cowboy" Juniors swing into song finale of "60 Goes West" in Circus Saturday night. Left to right; Jo Ann Garner, Margaret Graham, Ann Snyder, Nancy Harnsberger, Liz Fentress, Julia Williams, Ann Barnes, Barbara Ferneyhough, Yvonne Webb, Dixie Hilliard, Nell Ward, Annis Norfleet, Sarah Oliver. (See story above.)

Letter To The Editor

Human Beings?

Dear Editor:

The exhibition in the dining hall Saturday night was absurd beyond words! Never have we witnessed such a childish demonstration by college students. Not only did we witness the unlady-like outburst of singing with waving napkins, but also cucumbers and a pie being thrown (hitting students and guests). We were shocked at this display of conduct especially since the dining hall was full of parents and guests.

Saturday night was not the only time this has happened. It happened Friday night and it happens any night when it occurs to someone to start it. In our opinion, the conduct represents a pig sty more than it does a college dining hall. You would think that college students would bring with them the manners and breeding they received at home, but such is not the case here. We wonder just how many Longwood girls, in their own homes or in anyone else's home, make it a practice to sing, shout, wave napkins, throw food, serve their plates before the grace is said, and grab food as if she were the only one at the table. And do most people sing Happy Birthday to people when it isn't even their birthday? Another thing, have you ever thought of a waitress as a friend rather than a slave?

It seems to us that Longwood could use a little culture, and this is as good a place to start as any. And if you think we've got it, ask the opinion of one of our guests of last Saturday night. Girls from other schools know that they live in Dixie, but they don't have to sing it in the dining hall to prove it. How can you be proud of your Alma Mater or expect anyone else to hold a high opinion of it when such juvenile behavior exists?

One last word, the dining hall is a place for human beings, not animals!

Three Seniors

No Smoking!

Since our suggestion that students voluntarily refrain from smoking in the college post office has fallen on deaf ears, the Rotunda Editors now suggest that a no smoking regulation for the post office be applied and enforced by the proper authorities.

Timely Topics

By MARGIE LAYMAN

As Election Day draws near the question concerning Virginia's election of a United States Senator is not who will win, but by how big a margin. It is generally agreed that Senator Byrd will defeat his opponents, Dr. Louise Wensel and Clarke T. Robb, but to what degree will depend on whether Byrd's stand of massive resistance against racial integration has caused him to lose or gain votes. Another factor is the fact that the Democrats are not used to serious contests and may find it hard to get the Byrd followers out to the polls.

Another issue which will appear on the ballots is whether the state Constitution should be amended to permit counties to borrow school construction money from the state retirement system's reserve funds without holding local referenda.

Due to a change in law made by the 1958 General Assembly, voters this year will have 13 hours of voting time instead of the 12 hours, which for years, has been the rule in Virginia.

Vice-President Nixon has predicted that the large number of undecided voters will rescue the Republicans from what looked like a "disastrous defeat at the polls." He said that the Democrats made a major error when they introduced foreign policy into the campaign.

President Eisenhower has again challenged Russia to join the United States and Britain in a one-year ban of all atomic-hydrogen weapons tests. Mr. Eisenhower urges this as a step toward world disarmament.

Vice-Admiral Charles R. Brown says, "World War III has long since started, whether we'll admit it or not." Brown, who is slated to become commander-in-chief of allied forces in southern Europe next January, said, "We are locked in a life and death struggle with the Communists, and we are not doing too well."

An American airlines jet plane flew from Los Angeles to New York Saturday in 4 hours and 43 minutes. This is a record for commercial jet transports. American is starting coast-to-coast jet service in January.

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 20, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 148.

Linda Pitts ..... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors
Bet Mcloughlin, Patsy Powell

Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Judy Ekstrom ..... News Editor
Henrietta Hollins ..... Feature Editor
Violet Scott ..... Sports Editor
Virginia Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Eleanor Gorgania ..... Photography
Miranda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Medlock ..... Circulation Manager
Lee Gray, Becky Parker ..... Advertising Managers
Miss Mary D. Nichols ..... Faculty Advisor

(Unsigned editorials written by the editor)

Member: Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press (Rating first class), Columbia Scholastic Press Association (Rating first place), Intercollegiate Press.

NEWS STAFF: Sherry Gorham, Assistant News Editor, Joann Kleinecke, Assistant Feature Editor, Anne Hamlin, Assistant Sports Editor, Jo Ann Parsons, Assistant Desk Editor, Commercia Jackie Gibson, Ann Gower, Val Oakman, Pat Hooker, Margie Layman, Jackie Wicker, Mary B Stokes, Anne Cheatwood, Martha Rucker, Reporters: Carol Ann, Pat Robinette, Rose Lawrence, Nancy Lechler, Faye Garrett, Kay Howard, Frances Hannenberger, Sandra Killian, Gerry Edmonds, Barbara Simpkins, and Apprentice Freshmen.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Dale Priddy, Assistant Manager, Kay Pierce, Arlene McKay, Cass Gower, Barbara Plamondon, Kaye Garrett, Dianne Doughty, Linda Saunders, Becky Meredith, Frances Mann, Nancy Lee Cole.

ADVERTISING STAFF: Barbara Gamadge, Joan Heavyside, Nancy George, Doris Cosby, Marie Messick, Lee Eller, Judy Jordan.

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1924. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by BIBLER

"IT APPEARS TO ME ONLY ONE OF YOU TOOK THE TROUBLE TO DO THE OUTSIDE ASSIGNMENT LAST NITE!"

"Reluctant Debutante" Satirizes Modern Manners

By FRANCES HARNSBERGER

"Very interesting personalities and I'm enjoying it," "like it," "funny."

These and other comments were just a few heard Monday night at Jarman where The Reluctant Debutante by William Douglas Home was presented.

Produced by the Barter Theater, and directed by Don Weightman, the play was very well done. The players were well cast and each interpreted excellently the character he was portraying. The dialogue for each was written in such a manner as to typify the type of character he was depicting; for example, the over-pushy mother, the long-suffering father, the giddy daughter who succumbs to the "appeal of the heel," and especially the gossipy friend.

Home's comedy of manners served a dual purpose; to provide an enjoyable play for an audience composed of several types of people and to satirize the sadness and joy of a debutante season, not only in London, but anywhere.

Audience Comments

Dr. Simonini commented, "Clever, but it lacked the sophistication which a 20th century comedy of manners requires."

Dr. Lankford said, "Very enjoyable, and quite good audience response."

Other comments were "fast moving," "enjoyed the humor," "characters well played."

It was obvious by the audience's applause and laughter that the play was quite well received.

Campus News

By AGNES MASSIE

VMI

A mass exodus of VMI cadets will take place midday Friday, October 31 as the Keydets journey to Foreman Field in Norfolk for the VMI-U. Va. football game the following day. Norfolk Yacht and Country Club privileges have been extended to the members of the Corps so there should be a good time Saturday night.

Roanoke College

Tavie Ann Barnes was crowned Homecoming Queen at Roanoke College last week end. Tavie, a former Longwood student (class of 59) is chairman of the commons committee, a cheerleader, co-literary editor of the Ravenoch, and circulation manager of the Brackely-Ack. She is also secretary-treasurer of the senior class.

U. Va.

Dave Brubeck and his jazz band are going to play for the opening dances at U. Va. on November 9. A jazz concert will be given that afternoon by the group. The Four Freshmen will also provide entertainment during the weekend.

University of Richmond

Next Sunday the University of Richmond will present its first free Sunday afternoon Concert. This is the first of a series of concerts and will feature Dr. Frederick Newmann, violinist, and Dr. John White, pianist.

Homecoming is also at U. of Richmond this weekend. They will be host to the Citadel.

R. P. I.

R. P. I. has accepted an invitation to play in the first annual Holiday Sea Food Fiesta basketball tournament in New Bedford, Massachusetts, December 29-30.

Also the drama department of R.P.I. will present William Ingres' comedy "Bus Stop" in Shafer Street Playhouse today, Thursday,

(Continued on page 4)

Socially Speaking . . .

Circus Attracts Visitors

By JACKIE GIBSON

Circus was a tremendous success! Congratulations Juniors! The sophomores did a splendid job of decorating their float and won first place. Again Congratulations! Circus was the big attraction this weekend, but several members of the student body traveled to Richmond to support the Longwood girls who were Tobacco Bowl Princesses.

Shirley Lucy, senior, was Miss Brunswick; Louise Johns, sophomore, was Miss Cumberland, and freshmen Barbara Dunnavant and Audrey Gill were Miss Lunenburg and Miss Amelia respectively.

It was wonderful weather for football, but it didn't help Tech beat West Virginia. Watching the festivities were: Judie Welch, Jackie Gibson, Barbara Ensmann, Nancy George, Julia Wallace, Norma Redmon, Sarah Easely, Betty Brown Culpepper, Jean Gordon, Coreta Bennett, Betty Sue Barbee, Frankie Click, Linda Lane, Archer Cassada, Virginia Parker, Kay Pierce, Mary Anna Overholt and Virginia Van de Reit.

KA's Have Party

The KA's at Hampden-Sydney played the KA's from the University of Richmond in intermural football Saturday afternoon. Attending the party that night were: Harriet Butterworth, Bonnie Irby, Becky Abernathy, Judy Anfin, Margaret Dart, Betty Lockridge, LaVerne Collier, Frances Howry, Gay Ashworth, Jean Dunagan, Justine Blunt, Barbara Simpkins, Rene Weimer, Jo Lynn Holland, Sally Harney, Carolyn Bassford, Dottie Brown, Nancy Lechler, Barbara Chaffin, Janet Wainwright, Ann Green, Nancy Hetz, Beverley Gaskins, Ann Baines, Libby Arehart, Jane Crow, Mary Ellen O'Conner, Lee Page, Julia Hollyfield, Kay Wallace, Anh Scott, Yvonne Webb, Katherine Wallace.

Then there were those happy wanders, who went such places as Nashville, Tennessee by plane. Do you think Robbin Arthur and Clara Shumadine look a bit air sick this week? Linda Sullivan also took a plane trip up to Cornell. Joanne Hartman was seen at Duke University, Joyce Pendleton at Elon College, also in North Carolina, and Sylvia Bivens went to Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City, Tennessee. Cora Straughan, Maie Fadely, Claudia Whipple traveled to Charlottesville for the week end.

Last Weekend

Sorry gang, but a few poeple were overlooked last weekend. Lexington was overjoyed by the presence of Sue Benton, Sue Caravella, Brenda Dod, Pat Hickey, Gin Kuyk, Ginny Whipple, and Nan McLoughlin.

Sandy Farish attended the Oyster Bowl Game in Norfolk and quite a number of freshmen went to the first of a series of dances at the University of Virginia. Hope everyone had a terrific time.

Coming up next weekend: Randolph Macon's Homecoming Game, with Johns-Hopkins, and VMI - U. Va. game in Norfolk.

Best Sellers of Week

From the best seller lists of book stores throughout the country as compiled by Publishers' Weekly.

FICTION	NONFICTION
1. Around the World with Auntie Mame, Dennis.	1. Only in America, Golden.
2. Lolita, Nabokov.	2. Aku-Aku, Heyerdahl.
3. Anatomy of a Murder, Traver	3. Inside Russia Today, Gunther.
4. The Enemy Camp, Weidman.	4. Kids Say the Darnedest Things, Linkletter.
5. Doctor Zhivago, Pasternak.	5. Baa Baa Black Sheep, Boyington.

Stage Crew Plans For "Pygmalion"

By MOLLY WORKMAN

When the curtain opens and the lights go up on a theatrical presentation, few members of the audience are aware of the vast amount of work and planning which has gone into the production.

Such is the case with the Longwood Players' production of George Bernard Shaw's Pygmalion (the original My Fair Lady). For each of the twenty-odd actors who actually appear on the stage, there are one or more backstage workers who have labored for weeks on activities such as costuming, scenery, properties and publicity.

Brinkley, Technical Director

In charge of organizing these numerous activities is the technical director of the Longwood Players, Vicki Brinkley. Working under Vicki are the chiefs of each of the various crews. Matilda Powell directs the scenery crew, whose task is to build the walls, doors, platforms, which form the setting of the play. The properties crew, headed by Cecil Kidd and Elma Mackey, is responsible for the furniture which goes on the stage, set dressing such as pictures and vases, and small props which are used and handled by the actors.

McDade Designs Lights

In the modern theatre, lighting is an important and indispensable element to the success of the production. The lights for Pygmalion will be designed by Lynn McDade. During rehearsals and performances, the lighting effects will be executed by the light co-chiefs, Liz Johnson and Mason Hamlet, who operate the confusing maze of buttons, plugs, switches and levers which are located on and around the light board.

Upstairs in the projection booth of Jarman Hall, the sound crew, composed of Norrish Munson, Justine Blount and Kay Pierce, commands an array of tape recorders, telephone bells and train whistles, which supply music and any unusual sounds called for by the script.

League Manages Stage

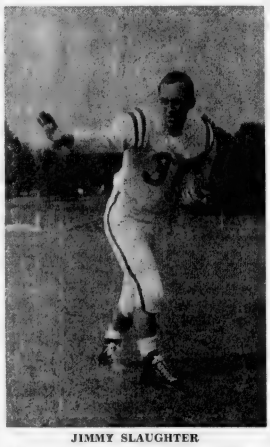
In charge of co-ordinating all activities in the immediate stage area is the stage manager, Mary Linda League. Mary Linda is assisted by a squad of helpers who do such odd and varied jobs as calling actors, pulling the curtain, and making coffee during rehearsals. The stage manager's crew consists of Ginna Chapman, Betsy Kelsey, Lina Flippin and Becky McGrath.

In a play such as Pygmalion, which is done in early nineteenth-century costoume, the costume designer and her crew play an important part. Becky Jones serves the Longwood Players as costume designer, and her designs are ably executed by the wardrobe co-mistresses, Claire Floege and Annie Lee Young.

Before the actual performance, nervous actors are plied with greaspaint and powder by the make-up chiefs, Emily Shelton and Dottie Gills. In the lobby, the front-of-the-house crew, headed by Elaine Johnson and Sally Thomas, directs the ushers, sells tickets, gives out programs and generally sees to the comfort and well-being of the paying audience. The publicity chiefs, Molly Workman and Gloria Gardner, pace up and down in the lobby, wondering if everyone has seen the posters and read the articles announcing the play. At last the audience is seated, the houselights go down, and director David Wiley moves to the edge of his seat in the balcony, crosses his fingers, and the play begins . . .

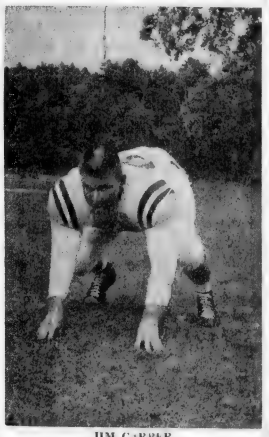
See Pygmalion in Jarman Hall on November 13, 14, and 15.

Staff Photo



LET'S GET TO WORK! "Pygmalion" cast and crew discuss the Nov. 13, 14, 15 production. Left to right: Becky Jones, Bill Ragsdale, Annie lee Young, Brenda Wilson, Scott Bowen, Garnett Smith, Claire Floege, Cecil Kidd, Bill Kempton, Nancy Oddenino.

Meet The Tigers



TOMMY FLETCHER

Tom returns for his third season of varsity competition after a year's lay off. He was an end until this campaign when Coach Thalman decided that his size and experience qualified him to fill a vacant guard an interior lineman. He was a standout at St. Paul High School before enrolling at post. Fletcher has shown that he is capable of playing his usual hard-hitting game as Hampden-Sydney.

JIMMY SLAUGHTER

Slaughter is a sophomore who hails from Richmond. At Hermitage High School he was an All-Metro choice in baseball and on the gridiron. Jim saw enough action to win a letter in his freshman year at Hampden-Sydney. He has impressive speed, and although small he is a smart and reliable defensive player. He is the Bengals' leading scorer with two touchdowns, one at Bridgewater and one against Emory and Henry.

JIM CARPER

This stocky strong man saw one year of action at Bullis Prep before matriculating at Death Valley. A sophomore this season, Jim saw considerable action last year as reserve. He has been moved from center to tackle to take better advantage of his size. Carper started in both of the Tigers' games and he has shown a tremendous potential that will probably develop fully before the end of the season.

Richmond Revelry Recipe

All those who journey to Richmond in November for concerts, plays, and shows will be entertained by a variety of stars. These are some of the programs on the agenda next month:

7-8 "Music with Mary Martin" at the Mosque.
15 Famous Scotch Guard comprised of band, drum corps, and dancers at the Richmond Arena.
17 Philadelphia Orchestra at the Mosque.
17-18 Drama, "Look Back in Anger" at WRVA Theatre.
18 Broadway comedy, "Tunnel of Love" at the Mosque.
22 Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo at the Mosque.
25 Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians at the Mosque, and later Tantilla Garden for dancing.

From The Gridiron Bleachers

By JACKIE WALLER

College football continued its fast pace with West Virginia coming from behind to narrowly defeat Virginia Tech 21-20. This extended the W-Va Southern Conference string to 26. In the third quarter Tech missed the big chance to take the game when their attempt at a field goal was wide. It was the closest the Mounties had come to being upset in 7 years. Gobbler Billy Holsclaw added 162 yards to his bulging offense total.

The University of Virginia suffered its worst loss of the season as Vanderbilt romped over the Cavaliers 39-6. It was homecoming for the Commodores, and they rewarded their 21,000 homecoming fans with a return of offensive power that had been missing in their past three games.

It was Randolph - Macon 13; Bridgewater 0, as the 'Jackets took a Mason-Dixon and Little Eight football game. Bridgewater started a move, but it was just too late in the game to do any good.

Hampden-Sydney, crushing in their ground attack, rolled over Johns-Hopkins 34-8. The Tigers got two touchdowns in the first quarter, two in the second, and one in the third while J-H finally mustered enough strength in the third to push across a lone tally.

Unbeaten VMI walked over Davidson to a catchy 42-7 tune with Quarterback Bill Nebraska scoring two TD's and four other Keydets adding one each to the buzzing total. VMI's unbeaten streak now stands at 16.

Luckless Richmond bowed to Villanova 13-6 on a sloppy field with driving rain as an accompaniment. There were only ten passes attempted as the pigskin was just too wet and too heavy to be airborne.

Washington and Lee suffered defeat at the hands of Washington University. The game ended 12-6.

University of North Carolina exploded against Wake Forest 26-7. The defeat pushed Wake Forest out of first place in the conference standings. It was the fourth straight win for the Tar Heels.

Duke exploded for two TD's in the fourth period to defeat N. C. State in an ACC game. Final score Duke 20, N. C. State 13.

Maryland, leader for the first 15 minutes, paid the penalty of a tough Auburn defense as they took a 20-7 trouncing. This was the 19th straight without defeat for the Tigers.

A fired-up Pittsburgh team tied the still No. 1 team, Army, 14-14. Pitt still has never lost to Army.

Navy showed Penn State a thing or two as they walloped them 59-8. Even rain didn't stop the Middies as they used second and third stringers.

Florida State blanked Tennessee 10-0. It was an upset by a great deal as Tennessee was a pre-game 10-point favorite.

The Fightin' Irish needed a little more fight for they fell before Purdue 29-22. Purdue scored three times in seven minutes in the 3rd quarter.

Oklahoma ground down Kansas State 40-6. It was Oklahoma's 6th successive Big Eight game without a defeat.

Other scores saw Air Force fight off a 4th quarter rally to defeat Utah 16-14; Georgia 28, Kentucky 0; Cornell 34, Princeton 8; U. of Buffalo 34 over Columbia 14; Yale 14, Colgate 7; Harvard 16, Dartmouth 8; Brown 17 Rhode Island 6; and Southern Cal finally got a win, defeating Washington State 12-6.

Blue 'n Whites Defeat W. C. In Hockey Game

By BARBARA BRANTLEY

The Longwood hockey team scored its fourth victory of the season by defeating Westhampton in Richmond last Friday.

The varsity team scored two points in the first half and two more in the second half of the game. During the second half, the opposing team stepped in and gave the blue and whites some competition by scoring their only two goals of the game in the last ten minutes of the half. Team spirit and cooperation boosted the final first game score to 4-2 in favor of Longwood.

The second team played a thrilling game also. Two freshmen Trma Childress and Wennie Ercolf, travedled with the team for the first time and displayed their skills along with the other team members. The final score was 4-1 in favor of Longwood again.

Teams Undefeated in '57

Westhampton and Longwood were both undefeated last year so these wins were special accomplishments for the L.C. players.

The following players aided the two teams to victory: Nancy Andrews, Barbara Brantley, Trma Childress, Gayle Cunningham, Josie Currie, Delo Dove, Wennie Ercolf, June Elmore, Mate Fadely and Nancy George.

Also displaying their sportsmanship were: Mary Hite Grayson, Mable Healy, Lou Heier, Doris Kesling, Mary Lou Morgan, Jean O'Connell, Anne Palmer, Pat Southworth, Jeanette Talbot, Sandy Tarter, Willie Taylor, Jeanette Townsend, Jackie Waller and Claudia Whipple.

The Longwood team will travel to Williamsburg this week end to be represented in the Tidewater Tournament at William and Mary.

L.C. Team To Play In Hockey Tourney

The Tidewater Hockey Tournament will be played October 31 and November 1 at William and Mary College in Williamsburg.

Fifteen girls who play on the Longwood hockey team are going to attend the tournament.

All college teams and hockey clubs in the Tidewater area will play.

The purpose of the tournament is to pick a first and second team which will go to Baltimore November 15-16 to play in the Southeastern Tournament. From this tournament, members are picked for the United States Hockey Team.

Representatives for the following schools and clubs will play: Mary Washington, Westhampton, William and Mary of Williamsburg, Norfolk Division of William and Mary, Longwood, Petersburg Club, Richmond Club and the Little Colonels.

Longwood's team will play the teams from Mary Washington and Richmond Club.

Bowling Lessons To Begin Monday

Attention bowling leaguers! Beginning Friday evening, October 31, bowling instruction will be given at the Farmville Bowling Arena every Friday evening. Those interested should contact Joan Heavyside or Elsie Dick by noon of the Friday they wish to bowl.

The maximum number of girls per group is ten. Each group will be given an hour's instruction, followed by at least one game, although two games are preferable.

This Monday, November 3, only, Miss Eleanor Weddle will give bowling instruction at 5 p.m. in the gym. This has been arranged because of the many requests for it, so we're looking for a big turnout.

Did You Know?

By MATTIE BLEWETT

—our lovely campus was invaded by 946 wide-eyed, welcomed visitors last week end?

—we are not to suppress the stairs or floor space around the second and third floor Rotunda with any excess poundage? Several overweight freshmen, fearing that disaster might be in their midst, have begun a "Battle of the Bulge." (Dieting). So far the second floor has been relieved of 2 1-2 pounds and the third floor, 1 1-4 pounds.

—one of our freshmen, who is thoroughly southern bred, claims the South didn't lose the Civil War? They are still waiting for supplies!

—each tub must sit on its own bottom?

—the student body exerted enough energy during the various Circus skits to equal that of sixty mule teams pulling wagons loaded with fully equipped corn whickey jugs across the hills of old Virginny?

—five pounds of green and red fingernails were shed upon the stage during that "hour of decision" Saturday night?

—that's all?

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE MARK. COPYRIGHT © 1958 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

Safe Deposit

John always did take things too seriously . . . like that habit of locking his Coke up in a safe! Sure everybody likes Coca-Cola . . . sure there's nothing more welcome than the good taste of Coca-Cola. But really—a safe just for Coke! Incidentally—know the combination, anyone?

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

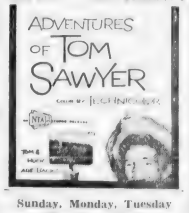
Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by

LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY
Headquarters
for
ROYAL
Typewriters

Longwood College
Jewelry
GREATLY REDUCED
See Our Window Thursday
MARTIN the JEWELER

Compliments of
WILSON'S HOME AND AUTO SUPPLY
10 Top Tunes



1. It's All In The Game
2. Rockin' Robin
3. Topsy
4. Bird Dog
5. Susie Darlin'
6. Tears On My Pillow
7. It's Only Make Believe
8. Tom Dooley
9. Tea for Two Cha Cha
10. Chantilly Lace

The DOROTHY MAY Store
Complete line of
—dresses for school girls
—sportswear shirts sweaters
slacks, etc
College girls always welcome and are invited to use our charge account system.

The State
YOUR COMMUNITY CENTER
FARMVILLE, VA.
WED., THURS OCT. 29-30

FRI., SAT. OCT. 31-NOV. 1

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday
November 2-3-4
JOHN WAYNE
ELKO ANDO
"THE BARBARIAN AND THE GEISHA"
Filmed in Japan
CinemaScope and Color

WED., THURS. NOV. 5-6
AN ENTIRELY NEW MOTION PICTURE
An entirely new motion picture of CHARLES DICKENS' immortal masterpiece
A TALE OF TWO CITIES
DIRK BOGARDE
DOROTHY TUTIN
CECIL PARKER
STORY MUSIC

NOVEMBER 6-7
ELIZABETH TAYLOR
PAUL NEWMAN
"CAT ON A HOT TIN ROOF"

Yankee Band Director 'Gets Kick' From 'Pete Gunn's' Jazz Music

—Staff Photo

MR. CLIFFORD SMITH, Music Department newcomer, "gets in tune" with his work of establishing a band on campus.

Smith Fulfills Desire 'To Teach Teachers'

By JUDY DETRICH

"I came to Longwood because I want to teach teachers" says Mr. C. L. Smith, who is a new member of the music department faculty this fall.

This Pennsylvanian spent his elementary and Jr. high school days in a college laboratory school similar to the one here in Farmville. He attended Pennsylvania State Teacher's College in Indiana, Pa., the hometown of James Stewart. Although Mr. Smith didn't meet Jimmy, he has many memories of the local hardware store and its owner, Mr. Stewart's father. In addition to his duties in the music department, Mr. Smith is working on his doctorate from Penn State.

Enjoys "Peter Gunn"

Mr. Smith's interests include traveling, reading, fishing, and jazz. At one time he played with various dance bands in Pennsylvania and New York. Monday nights find him in front of the T.V. set, watching "Peter Gunn." "I really get a kick out of that program," says he, "the background music is strictly jazz and the portrayal of jazz musicians and devotees of jazz is reasonably authentic."

As band director here at Longwood, Mr. Smith is dreaming of the day when this band will perform here and at various places throughout the state.

Yankee's View

This Yankee's view of the South is very flattering. He is most impressed with the congeniality and friendliness of southerners. He said that Longwood and Farmville are a nucleus of the South, "a really fine place. The students represent a pretty high calibre."

In thinking back over his college days, Mr. Smith has offered this advice. "Live! Enjoy college life socially but especially enjoy it academically."

From The New York Times: "Author-psychologist wants secretary, college graduate who has majored in any subject but psychology."

—Readers' Digest

Church News

B. S. U. "Cleans House"

By ANN GLOVER

Baptist

Everyone seems to be doing their fall house cleaning and the B.S.U. doesn't want to be left out. Therefore, Nov. 8 has been set as the BIG DAY for housecleaning. If everyone would pitch in and help it wouldn't take long and the whole center would get a good cleaning. Everyone is invited to come over and help, even if it is only for thirty minutes.

Sunday School for the college girls is held every Sunday at 9:45 in the center. Won't you join us in studying the Bible?

Methodist

Beginning Nov. 2, the Methodists will hold a three-day seminar on The Effects of Alcohol. There will be three guest speakers: Dr. Ebbe Hoff, professor of Neurological Science and Director of the Division of Alcohol Studies and Rehabilitation of State Dept. of Health, Dr. Wayne Womer, Executive Secretary of the Va. Church Temperance Council, and Rev. Robert Regan, Jr., Director of Student Work for the General Board of Temperance of the Methodist Church. All students are cordially invited to attend the three programs Nov. 2 and 4 at 7 p.m. and November 3 at 4:30 p.m.

Episcopal

Mr. Vache will lead the study of Faith Meets Opposition — Life and Mission of the Church. November 2. Holy Communion was at 7:45 a.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 29.

Anyone interested in Altar Guild work please contact Mrs. Vache in the church on Thursday evening after prayers. Anyone interested in singing in the choir can check the Sunday church bulletin.

Presbyterian

All students going to the Roslyn conference on Friday afternoon are to meet behind the library at 2:30 for a ride. Pack comfortable clothes and a Sunday dress.

Reports from those students attending the Roslyn conference and those students who attended the recent Intervarsity Christian Conference will make up the program of the Westminster Fellowship for Nov. 2.

Bible study will be held Wed. at 7 p.m. at the home of Dottie Hamilton. All are cordially invited to attend.

Civil Service

(Continued from page 1)

tential to develop into the top managers, technicians, and specialists of the future. Positions filled through this examination are in a variety of occupational fields and are located throughout the United States.

Starting Salaries

As a result of recent Congressional action, starting salaries for jobs filled through the examination have been raised. The salaries are GS-5—$4,040 per year and GS-7—$4,980 per year with a few positions being filled at GS-9—$5,985 per year. In addition, the Commission is placing a premium on quality and providing a bonus for it. College students who possess or are candidates for the bachelor degree and who demonstrate their potential by scoring high in the written test and have a high scholastic standing may now be considered for positions at the GS-7 grade instead of only at GS-5 as in the past.

Additional Tests

Under the Federal Service Entrance Examination approximately 5,000 persons are appointed each year to entry-level career positions in the Federal Civil Service. Five additional tests will be held this school year. Dates scheduled are January 10, February 14, March 14, April 11, and May 9, 1959. The written tests are given at more than 1,000 examination points scattered throughout the United States.

For additional information potential applicants may obtain Examination Announcement 170 from their college placement office or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Circus

(Continued from page 1)

Webster and Jane Stegall, sophomores, and Sue Sharp and Leo Pagenhardt, freshmen.

Committees headed by members of AKG were as follows: publicity, Minnie Lee Dean; stunt, Delo Dove and Lou Heier; parade, Weedie Norman; decoration and booth, Helen Jean Young; animals and clowns, Nancy Brubeck and Barbara Odom; and queen and court, Lillian Rosson and Donna Boone.

General Circus Chairman, Donna Boone, stated that profits from circus go toward a school project, and this year all profits will probably go toward the celebration of the school's 75th anniversary.

Miss Elizabeth Burger and Mrs. Kathleen Cover serve as co-sponsors of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honorary society for leadership and sponsor of the annual circus.

SEA

(Continued from page 1)

Knowles, Linda Fleshman, Charlotte Simms, Alice Cheatwood, Dorothy Boswell, Catherine Ozmon, Faye Garrett, Evelyn Skalsky, Imogene Blackwell, Helen Jean Young, Betty Maynard, Catherine Connor, Nannie LaSeur, Mary Stokes, Anne Wallace, Patsy Powell, Lillian Rosson, Van T. Blackwood, Anne Keziah, Jackie Fore.

Sandy F. Tartder, Minnie Lee Dean, Nancy Cross, Charlotte McGee, Judy Eckstrom, Shirley Grizzard, Barbara Hurst, Betty McClenney, Violet Moore, Pat Turner, Martha Rucker, Molly Workman, Ruth Cowan, Joyce Tharrington, Donna Boone, Lou Heier, Gayle Cunningham, Delo Dove, Barbara Odom, Jackie Waller, Hardie Williams, Claudette Cooper, Pat Leake, Elizabeth McLoughlin, Pat Campbell, Barbara Purks, Lilly Stoltz, Nancy Andrews, Shirley Howard, Nancy George, Carol Vick, Carol Sandidge, Barbara Staton, Mary Helen Jones, Jo Ann Garner, Peggy Henry, Nancy Miles, Sue Rawlings, Barbara Bishop, Frances Jones, Yvonne Webb, Bonnie Mann Christine Jones, Anna Bell Pope, and Jo Ann Tench.

Snobs

Snobs, by any definition . . . are the ones who think they're great . . . their distasteful mannerisms . . . are most hard to estimate . . . they are the ones who try to set . . . themselves a world apart . . . from all the ordinary streams . . . endearing to each heart . . . for them the best is none too good . . . and they will not take less . . . to them the average part of life . . . is like a wilderness . . . some say that fame and fortune are . . . the cause of how they act . . . others state that heritage . . . does much to seal the pact . . . snobs to me are living lies . . . with pride they are adorned . . . but though we should beware of them . . . they are more to be pitied than scorned.

Methodist

(Continued from page 1)

member for the past ten years. He has served as president of the National Temperance Movement, Inc., and is a member of the executive committee of the National Temperance League.

He is chairman of the Advisory Committee of the Division of Alcohol Studies and Rehabilitation Committee of the Commonwealth of Virginia. He lectures extensively in schools and colleges, not only in Virginia, but throughout the U. S. and Canada.

Tuesday night, Rev. James Robert Reagan, Jr., will be the lecturer. Dr. Reagan is director of the Student Work for the General Board of Temperance of the Methodist Church. Also, he is Director of the Campus Alcohol Seminar's Program, a project of the Methodist Student Movement.

He is chairman of the Advisory for the N. C. Inter-Denominational Student Christian Council, is a member of the American Camping Association of Outdoor Education, and also the Fellowship of Southern Churchmen and Methodist Association of College Ministers.

You are cordially invited to attend these meetings, and we hope that you can find time to join in all our discussions.

Campus News

(Continued from page 2)

and Friday.

Madison

Old Student-New Student Day will be observed at Madison College today, October 29. After being capped by the old Students with freshman beanies, the new Students traditionally become freshmen. Tonight Seniors will be capped, making it the first time the Seniors wear their hats.

Randolph Macon

Randolph Macon will play Johns Hopkins in their homecoming game this Saturday. There will be a dance and fraternity parties Saturday night after the game.

STUDY WITH
Barnes and Noble
College Outlines
and
Everyday Handbooks
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
9 a. m - 6 p. m.

HEY KIDS!
Have you visited the
SNACK
In the new senior rec?
Open daily from 4 to 8 p.m.

Do You Think for Yourself? (TO KNOW MORE ABOUT YOURSELF—ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS!*)

Do you try to keep from getting angry because you feel that emotion can interfere with your judgment? YES ☐ NO ☐

Do you like to "show your stuff" when you know you are really good at something? YES ☐ NO ☐

Can you honestly say you like to be entirely independent of others in most things you do? YES ☐ NO ☐

In the morning, do you carefully choose a tie, matching jacket, etc., instead of grabbing the first thing you see in the closet? YES ☐ NO ☐

When you are criticized do you stop to analyze the criticism before retorting? YES ☐ NO ☐

Do you sometimes go to a public event, such as a football game, even if you have to go alone? YES ☐ NO ☐

In a discussion, do you like to go on record early with a definite viewpoint of your own? YES ☐ NO ☐

Are you able to stay cheerful even when you are alone for a considerable time? YES ☐ NO ☐

Do you ignore extravagant claims and think for yourself when making your choice of filter cigarette? YES ☐ NO ☐

The fact is, men and women who think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. Their reason? Best in the world. They know only VICEROY has a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

*If you have answered Yes to 6 of the above questions . . . well, you do think for yourself!

© 1958, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

Familiar pack or crush-proof box.

The Man Who Thinks for Himself Knows— ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER . . . A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!

Deadline
Wed., Nov. 12
For "Virginian"

The Rotunda

Byrd
Re-elected As State Senator

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., November 5, 1958 | No. 6

AKG Taps Four Seniors, Two Juniors

Seniors Dottie Boswell, Linda Doles, Bet McLoughlin, and Catherine Ozmon, and juniors Barbara Bishop and Connie Goodman were tapped by the Longwood Chapter of Alpha Kappa Gamma, Monday night. The national honorary fraternity chose these six in recognition of their leadership ability.

—Staff Photo

LEADERS RECOGNIZED as AKG tapped (seated, left to right), Catherine Ozmon, Dot Boswell, Linda Doles, Bet McLoughlin, seniors; (standing) Barbara Bishop, Connie Goodman, juniors, in ceremony Monday night in Jarman Hall Auditorium.

Thirteen Join Choral Group

The Madrigals, a choral group established here on campus for several years, is again this year setting their music and programs planned for performances and public appearances.

This group, directed by Mr. McCombs, usually performs with the choir in the annual Christmas Concert. The thirteen members are Sue Benton, Jean Dancy, Joann Fivel, Peggy Henry, Ann Howell, Kay Hudgins, Sue Humphries, Madeline MacNeil, Melissa Rowe, Pat Sadler, Fay Salmon, and JoAnn Sloop. Nancy Evans is president and Jo Ann Sloop is treasurer.

The madrigals sung by this group are in French, Italian and English. These lyrics come from ballads and folk tunes woven together over many years. They also sing Latin motets. All of these are sung a cappela and without a director while performing.

Gresham, Schlegel Speak At Meetings

Members of the Longwood College department of English have been active in recent weeks in programs of state and regional professional associations.

On November 7 Dr. Dorothy B. Schlegel, associate professor of English, will read a paper entitled "The Dilemma of James Branch Cabell" on the program of the South Atlantic Modern Language Association meeting in Augusta, Georgia. Mrs. Schlegel's essay on "James Branch Cabell and Southern Romanticism" will be published soon by the Institute of Southern Culture of Longwood College.

Mr. Foster B. Gresham, assistant professor of English, spoke on "Teacher Certification" on October 25 at the annual meeting of the College English Association of North Carolina and West Virginia in Lexington. Also attending this meeting were Miss Ann Applegate, Mrs. Mildred D. Davis, Dr. R. K. Meeker, Miss Mary P. Nichols, Mrs. Barbara Pollard, Miss Virginia Tyree, and Dr. R. C. Simonini, Jr.

Assembly Features Harvard Sociologist

Mr. Pitirim Alexandrovitch Sorokin, director of the Harvard University Research Center in Creative Altruism, will speak at Assembly Tuesday, November 11.

Writes 30 Books

The topic of Mr. Sorokin's talk will be "Criminality and Morality of Rulers." First Professor of Sociology at Harvard, he has written 30 books on aspects of sociology. Among these are "Criminality and Morality of Rulers," upon which his talk will be based, "Crisis of Our Age," "Moral Transformation of Man," and "Fads and Foibles of Modern Sociology and Related Sciences."

27 Represent College At Education Meeting

VEA Asks Governor To Convene Assembly

Longwood College was well represented at the 74th Annual Convention of the Virginia Education Association held in Richmond October 29 to November 1.

Convention Delegates

Attending the convention from Longwood were: Dr. Francis Lankford, Dr. Earl Boggs, Dr. R. C. Simonini, Dr. Charles Lane, Dr. E. Johnson, Dr. G. W. Jeffers, Dr. John Molnar, Dr. M. L. Landrum, Mrs. J. Magnifico, Mrs. Janice Lemen, Dr. B. C. Badger, Mr. Richard Brooks, Mr. James McCombs and Mr. Clifford Smith.

Also attending the convention were: Mr. Charles Patterson, Miss Emily Barksdale, Miss Helen Draper, Mr. Ray Merchant, Miss Virginia Bedford, Miss Annie Ross, Mr. Foster Gresham, Miss Emily Clark, Miss J. Bailey, Miss Mary Kemble, Mrs. Mary Watkins, Miss Virginia Wall and Mrs. Elizabeth Jone.

Presiding over the Virginia Association of Teachers of English was Dr. R. C. Simonini, Jr., head of the Department of English at Longwood.

Simonini Speaks

Dr. Simonini gave a speech entitled "A New Look at Grammar." He stated that within the next ten years structural linguistics will revolutionize the teaching of grammar. He also discussed recent developments in linguistics, particularly the Fries system and the Trager-Smith system of grammatical analysis.

The speech was followed by a demonstration of teaching linguistics in the classroom. It was led by Florence M. Soghoian and Anne Foster, recent Longwood graduates. The seventh grade of Bainbridge Junior High School participated in the demonstration.

Mr. Foster B. Gresham is the Executive Secretary of the Virginia Association of Teachers of English and editor of its "Virginia English Bulletin."

Dr. Charles F. Lane, Professor of Geography, presided over the meeting of the Virginia Geographical Society.

Requests State Supported Schools

The convention adopted overwhelmingly a resolution asking that Governor Almond "convene the General Assembly at an early date for the purpose of enacting such legislation as will assure the continued operation of the Virginia public schools as a state-supported function."

Another resolution adopted at the same time stated: ". . . we will exert all possible effort toward the

(Continued on page 4)

Social Clubs to Sponsor Frosh Hop

The Cotillion Club and the Panhellenic Association of Longwood will sponsor a Combo Dance on Saturday, November 22. The dance which will be held in the Main Rec from 8 to 12 p.m., is being sponsored for the freshmen here at Longwood and students from some of the Virginia colleges for men.

Attending the dance will be students from University of Virginia, Randolph Macon, Hampden-Sydney, University of Richmond, and Virginia Polytechnic Institute. The informal dance is being held in order to give the freshmen an opportunity to meet student from these colleges.

Officers and members of the Cotillion Club and Panhellenic Association will serve as hostesses for the dance. Mr. Ray A. Merchant, sponsor of Cotillion Club, and Mrs. Merchant, along with other members of the faculty and administration will attend the dance.

There will be no admission cost; however, cokes will be sold during the evening. Profit from the dance will be divided by the two sponsoring organizations.

Cass Connor, president of Cotillion Club, and Cat Ozmon, president of Panhellenic Association

(Continued on page 4)

COTILLION CLUB OFFICERS make plans for big week-end (left to right) Betty Spivey, Melinda Franklin, Ernestine Stoltz, Cass Connor, Ann Glover.

Social Events

Miss Ruth Wilson, Dean of Women, has requested that in accordance with Handbook regulations all social events be registered with her one week in advance.

Forms with space provided for information concerning the nature of the event, the date, the place, and the chaperones may be secured at her office. This rule is to avoid conflict of time or place and to see that chaperones aren't overloaded.

Frosh Elect Ellen Powell As President

October 28 and 30 the freshman class elected their slate of officers, voting Ellen Powell, graduate of Empo ia High School, to lead them during their '58-'59 school year.

"I still can't believe it has happened to me" replied Ellen in reaction to her newly attained office. "It is by far the most wonderful thing that has ever happened to me; and with God's help, I hope that I will live up to the faith and confidence which my classmates have placed in me."

A very active person in high school, Ellen was editor of the school paper, Tri-Hi-Y president at model general assembly, runner-up for governor at Girls State and the first girl from her school to win both the DAR Citizenship Award and the silver cup presented to a senior girl for outstanding leadership.

Ellen is a four-year student and plans to major in history.

Helping Ellen in her job as president will be vice-president, Ann Allen, from Portsmouth; secretary Judy Smith, from Portsmouth ;and secretary, Jean Rahn, from Warwick.

Elected to serve as freshman representative to the House Council was Brenda Wilson, from Crewe.

Voted for freshman representatives to the student government were Mattie Joe Blewitt, from Hampton, and Jo Savage, from Danville.

ELLEN POWELL

Commission Elected

Freshman Commission members were elected yesterday by the Class of 1962.

The traditional 12 are Sue Beardmore, Patsy Carr, Jackie Davis, Winnie Egolf, Pat Hickey, Judy Jones, Becky Tuck, Jeanne McKenzie, Dottie Nelson, Nancy Preddy, Sue Sharp, and Wendy Warren. Ellen Powell, pesident of the freshman class, will serve as an ex-officio member.

The main purpose of the Commission is to aid the YWCA program and to train for future Y leadership.

Some of their duties consist of having a refreshment booth at Senior Dance, trimming the traditional Christmas tree in the Rotunda, having charge of the Christmas Banquet and hanging of the greens. They will also aid the Y in greeting the freshmen next year.

Dottie Boswell

Dottie Boswell, a senior from Stafford, is an elementary education major. Here at Longwood, she has served as Assistant Business Manager and Business Manager of the annual, the Virginian. This year Dottie was co-chairman of senior circus. During her freshman, sophomore, and senior years she was House President and in addition, Dottie holds membership in Pi Delta Epsilon and the Student Education Association.

In speaking of the honor given her Monday night Dottie said, "I was thrilled and honored."

Linda Doles

Linda Doles, also a senior and an English and social studies major, comes from Zuni. She has served on the staff of the Rotunda, student newspaper, for four years, having been Feature Editor and Managing Editor, and at present she is Editor-in-Chief. In addition to the staff of the Rotunda, Linda is treasurer of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, and a member of Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society, Beore Eh Thorn, local English honor society, the Canterbury Club, and the Cotillion Club.

Upon being tapped Linda said, "I just can't believe it. I'm so happy." Linda has also received the honor of being elected vice-president of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association.

Bet McLoughlin

Senior Bet McLoughlin comes to Longwood from Fullerton, California. A business and social science major, Bet is President of House Council, Associate Editor of the Rotunda, and a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, the Student Education Association, the Future Business Leaders of America, Cotillion Club, Newman Club, and Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority.

When asked how she felt about being tapped into Alpha Kappa Gamma Bet said, "I am certainly thrilled and highly honored, but I just can't believe it."

Cat Ozmon

The fourth senior to be tapped was Catherine Ozmon, better known as "Cat." "Cat" hails from Portsmouth and majors in elementary education. She is president of the Panhellenic Council, vice-president of Pi Delta Epsilon, and was honored this year by being chosen queen of Longwood's Circus.

This year's Circus queen also served as co-chairman of the senior skit. "Cat" is a member of Alpha

(Continued on page 4)

Longwood To Host AKG Convention

On November 14, 15 and 16, the AKG of Longwood will be host to the annual AKG Convention.

Members of the visiting AKG Circles will attend "Pygmalion" on Friday night. Miss Florence Stubbs, one of the founders of AKG, will speak informally during the Saturday afternoon program and Miss Jane Royal Phelgar of Norfolk will be the guest speaker at the banquet Saturday night.

Alpha Kappa Gamma was established at Longwood in 1926. There are now AKG Circles at several colleges throughout the South. Membership is composed of juniors and seniors who have proved themselves to possess high qualities of leadership.

Miss Elizabeth Burger and Miss Kathleen Owen serve as co-sponsors of Alpha Kappa Gamma here at Longwood.

"Make Christ Live"

"Youth Can Make Christ Live" is the theme for our "Y" this year. With the help of your participation and prayers, and with such activities as Y-Comes, prayers, morning watch, and Religious Emphasis Week, our theme will serve its purpose. But the question always comes to our minds individually, "How can I help to make Christ live on this campus?" Although the disciples were the very humblest of men, they talked and prayed together, being united in their strong beliefs of Christianity. We, too, were put on this earth as disciples, making Christ live in the hearts of our fellow men.

Morning Watch, which brings out our theme, is a short devotion given in the Episcopal Church every Thursday morning at 7:45. Then, Y-Come, which will be this month, enables the theme to accomplish its purpose. The Y-Comes this year will include singing of hymns, speakers, panels, and discussions. Y-Comes will continue through the year on the second Thursday in each month, taking the place of prayers.

At the Y-Cabinet's retreat this fall we discussed several things which we hope will be of interest to you. From now on the cabinet meetings, held every Wednesday at 5 p.m. in the cabinet room, will be open to the student body. We urge you to feel free to come since you are the Young Women's Christian Association. At the retreat we also set up plans for a future prayer room; these plans are now underway.

If you wonder why the Y-Cabinet has been selling doughnuts, it is to send delegates to the National Convention of the YWCA at the University of Illinois, December 28 — January 4. This Convention is held every four years at some university. Soon the cabinet will be selling cans of "Golden Butternut Candy" for the same purpose. Since it is expensive to attend the Convention, we are selling the doughnuts and candy to have Longwood well represented.

As we go forth as a united student body, may we continue to uphold the "Y" motto: "For it is not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit saith the Lord of Hosts."

Helen Jean Young
President, YWCA

One Way Traffic

The cause of the mass confusion met in the school post office each morning, as each of us try to manuver to our respective mail boxes especially between the nine and ten o'clock classes has become obvious to many students. It seems as if no one knows exactly where she is going or how she is going to get there. And if she has any idea of either, these thoughts are soon diminished, for she is, literally, shoved into the crowd and can do nothing but move at its will.

Wouldn't it be much simplier to have students moving in a steady stream in the same direction? More would have time to get their mail and to classes on time. Therefore, I would like to make this suggestion to House Council:

Enter and Exit signs placed over the two doors leading into the post office might help eliminate this confusion now prevailing. It might also cause fewer students to be jabbed with pencil points or burned with cigarettes because of the constant shoving back and forth.

Jo Anne Parsons
Assistant Desk Editor

Pro And Con

During the past week there have been many comments made, pro and con, concerning a letter to the editor which was printed in the last edition of the Rotunda. Those who wrote the letter were obviously upset; nevertheless the statements were their opinion, and the Rotunda is a media for airing such student opinion.

This week the following comment came to us in a letter: "We do feel the conduct displayed in the Longwood dining hall Saturday night before last was an outgrowth of enthusiasm and excitement of the tense Circus weekend." Such could, indeed, be the case.

By asking many other opinions, we have tried to see how the college as a whole feels about dining hall conduct: it is generally felt that the excited atmosphere of Circus caused the unusual outburst last week. But it is also felt that Circus was no excuse for such conduct — if anything it was a reason to exhibit dignity because of the guests present. Furthermore, it is hoped by all questioned that this never happens again.

We do not approve of pie throwing, and often certain actions or individuals necessitate criticism, yet Longwood is and has been well-known for the high standard of conduct exhibited on our campus. The familiar phrase "Longwood Lady" is not to be taken lightly. Conduct in classes, meetings, and dormitories is, we feel, typical and worthy of the "Longwood Lady."

Such an occasional incident as the throwing of a pie is not typical and is not a standard whereby we can judge the college.

Rotunda Editors

Thanks!

The Rotunda Staff wishes to express thanks to Dr. Robert Brumfield for his time and assistance with developing pictures used in this week's Rotunda.

Church News

Episcopalians To Hold Union Vespers Sunday

By ANN GLOVER

UNION VESPERS

On November 9 at 7 p.m. at the Johns Memorial Episcopal Church the first of the four annual Union Vespers services will be held. Dr. James A. Jones, President of Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, will be the guest speaker. Dr. Jones will begin Hampden-Sydney's fall Religious Emphasis Week with this address. The Longwood Y.W.C.A., in cooperation with the denominational groups, sponsors Union Vespers, and this service is being presented by the Westminster Fellowship.

Union Fellowship will be held at the Presbyterian Church at 9 p.m., and all of the denominational groups are invited to attend.

PRESBYTERIAN

Approximately 20 members of the Westminster Fellowship attended the fall Synod conference held at Roslyn this past week end. Those attending from Longwood were: Mary Lou Grasty, Linda Poff, Jo Ann Sloop, Ann Jenkins, Beckie Parker, Nancie Morton, Gay Ashworth, Patsy Spencer, and Ann Glover. A period of fellowship recreation, study, discussion, and worship was encountered by everyone there as they dealt with the theme, "Christ the Person."

The Virginia Student Ecumenical conference is coming up next, and anyone who is interested in attending should contact Ann Glover about registration. It will be November 14-16 at Roslyn.

Bible Study will be held tonight at 7 p.m. at the home of Dottie Hamilton. Why not join us in our study of Romans.

METHODIST

This past week end many Wesleyans made the trip from Farmville to V.P.I. to attend the Methodist study conference. Much worthwhile information was gained by all who went. Those people were: Ann Elliott, Helen Brown, Rose Byer, Nedlee Chapman, Bonnie Gray, Dottie Harrison, Rosemary Henry, Anne Howell, Bonnie Keys, Calvert King, Ruby Jakeman, Jean

(Continued on page 4)

Campus News

Hampden-Sydney

The Hampden-Sydney Tigers will play host to Randolph-Macon, their long-time rivals, this coming Saturday at Hampden-Sydney. The Tigers will also be observing their annual Dad's Day celebration. At this celebration a queen will be chosen from eight candidates representing fraternities and the Independant Organization.

Five boys from Hampden-Sydney College were given the honor of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." They are David Robb, Don Whitley, Ty Whitley, Jack Wilcox, and John Brinkley.

Lynchburg College

Lynchburg College chose thirteen students for the honor of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." They are as follows: Charlotte Holand, Nobuko Isumi, Jane St. Clair, Nancy Childs, Betty Carr, Joyce Camdem, and Mary Berger.

Also, Henry Brooker, Daniel Gilbert, Fred Helsabeck, Jr., Robert Whitmore, Courtney Jones, and Clayton Lesscbeet, Jr.

Virginia Military Institute

Cadet Sam Adams, a 21-year-old Company "B" Captain at V.M.I., was killed Friday night, Oct. 31, when he fell from the last car of a chartered train taking the corps to the U.Va.-V.M.I. game in Norfolk Saturday. A first-classman from Warwick, Cadet Adams was Business Manager of the annual, "The Bomb," and served on the Honor Court and Rifle Team.

Fashion News

Blouses On Parade

By MARTHA RUCKER

Looks are lingering yes, indeed—and why? We women have turned back to the charm of our forebears—feminity.

Gracious, elegant, unpretentious almost outrageously becoming are this season's flattering, feminine blouses. One of these beau catchers is the little girl look—an overblouse with a frosting of rows of delicate lace, starting at the shoulder and ending at the waistline. This blouse can be worn with simple wool skirts for informal dating or with lucious velvet for a gay night of dancing.

Also seen at parties and dances are the overblouses that carry the elegant and sophisticated look. These blouses made of Arnel and Dacron satin and of pure silk come in a variety of styles and colors. You'll see blouses with boat necklines, wide Peter Pan collars; blouses demurely trimmed with tucking down the front and back of the blouse ending in a saucy bow; and others are trimmed with lovely decorative buttons. The colors range from a kaleidoscope of brilliant hues to bold exotic floral prints, to the winsome ingenue air of pastels, to the ever-loving, always delicately feminine white.

To wear with slacks or Bermuda shorts you'll find the casual look a treat. This blouse is tailored, often seen with vertical tucking in the front.

The sweater look—a hip-length overblouse of looped mohair and wool, orlon, or blends of wool or synthetic yarns sometimes trimmed with brass bottons or bows of the material is ideal for casual wear. These come in any length sleeve—short, three-quarter, or long, and add zest to even the most ordinary skirt.

This is the season for feminine blouses created by designers for every occasion. This fall we're seeing the Parade of Blouses.

Socially Speaking . . .

Halloween Hobgoblins Aid Weekend Parties

By JACKIE GIBSON

Boo, Spook! Yes, this was a true Halloween Weekend, and quite an exciting one from the looks of things.

The Hampden-Sydney KA's, in the traditional Halloween spirit, had a costume party Friday night. The people with costumes and masks were in the minority, but there were a number of pumpkins and skeletons around the room to add the necessary atmosphere. Along with the witches, ghosts, and goblins we found: Judy Anfin, Harriett Butterworth, Linda Sullivan, Jane Martin, Laura Butler, Sue Robertson, Frances Hawey, Addie Richardson, Mary Ann Montague, Carolyn Axsom, Sue Blair, Nancy Lechler, Joann Kleinecke, Jackie Gibson, Lois Johnson, Dottie Brown, Carole White, Carolyn Oliver, Beverly Gaskins, Carolyn Bassford, Sally Harney, Ellen Trader, Boretta Yoeman, Julie Thomas, Brenda Parsley, Ginny Whipple, Brooks Dietrick, Agnes Massie, Bunnie Herget, Betsy Kelsey, Jackie Skelli, Patsy Skelli, Sue Caravella, Aggie Lowry, Sue Benten, Liz Diechman, Barbara Gamage.

Cheering the H-S Tigers to their victory over Gilford Saturday were: Nancye Allen, Beverly Gaskins, Pooh Butterworth, Jackie Gibson, Alice Layne, Brenda Drewry, Lois Johnson, Louise Johns, Nancy Lechler, Gretchen Zimmerman, Ginny Whipple, Brooks Dietrick, Barbara Rossiter.

Saturday night the Sigma Chi's played host to Mary Shumate, Merle Holaday, Kathie Crowder, Lillian Young, Fran Gallahan, Nancy Kelly, Nancy Lechler, Lois Johnson, Betty Byer, Brenda Parsley, Sue Humphries, Arlene McScore, Patsy Carr, Andy Canada, Scott Simms, Mary Ann Brooker, Sue Johnson, Keaton Holland, Madine Lewis, Brenda Dod, Liz Deichman, Charlotte Baugher, Susan Caismas, Audrey Gill, Sandie Parish, Katie Fulton, Becky Tuck, Brocks Dietrick, Ginny Whipple, Carol Barnes, Bettie St. Clair, Nancy Cecil, Barbara Bishop, Carletta Ulmeaw, Ann Allen, Sandra Snyder, Peggy Heesley, Kay Howard, Linda Sullivan, Becky Abernathy, Pat Yeatman, Peggy Green, Jeanette Townsend, Margaret Dart, Sandra Wise, Archer Cassada, Jean Marie Heller.

Hampden-Sydney Favorites

This coming weekend several Longwood girls will represent Hampden-Sydney fraternities for Dad's Day: Aggie Lowry, senior, the KA Rose for 1958; will represent the KA's. Amy McFall, senior, Theta Chi's; Brenda Ray Drewry, junior, Pi Kappa Alpha; Mary Douglass Stokes, Senior, is this year's Sweetheart of Chi Phi.

VMI-U. Va. Game in Norfolk

Clara Miles Schumadine, Hardy Williams, Jo Lynn Holland, Annis Norfleet, Linda Doles, Betty Griggs Gin Kuyk, Betty Spivey, Betty Anne Harrell, Joan Lee Thomas, Weedie Norman, Frances Gray went to Norfolk for the VMI-Virginia Game and parties—including Sue Taylor's and Marodith Nichol's Halloween Party at Virginia Beach.

U. of Richmond Homecoming

The University of Richmond's Homecoming was highlighted by a float parade and the crowning of a queen at the game. Attending the celebration were: Linda Jo Saunders, Paulita Patters, Jean Gardy, Nancy Inge, Chris Kamen (who represented SEA as their Homecoming Queen candidate.)

Chris Wilson and Diane Doughty traveled to Sewanee, Tennessee, for Sewanee's Homecoming. Sewanee traveled to Longwood in the person of Bob Herschel to visit Greta Norris.

Randolph-Macon Homecoming

It was another Homecoming weekend for several colleges. Traveling to Randolph-Macon for the Homecoming game, dances, and parties were: Pat Cleveland, Coreta Bennett, Frances Harvey, Ann McDonald, Callie Johnson,

(Continued on page 4)

HAMPDEN-SYDNEY SWEETHEARTS—Chi Phi Sweetheart, Mary Douglass Stokes; Dad's Day Representatives: KA Rose, Aggie Lowry; Pi Kappa Sweetheart, Brenda Ray Drewry.

Kay.

Seen at the Theta Chi House the same night were: Addie Richardson, DeAnne Hogge, Becky McTratt, Billie Shores, Duner Cahill, Brenda Drewry, Gloria Gardner, Sara Oliver, Ernestine Stoltz, Ann Mixon, Barbara Rossiter, Jackie Gibson, Sally Harney, Ann Scott, Cherry Gorham, Beverly Gaskins, Nancye Allen, Ann Barnes, Carole White, Gretchen Zimmerman, Yvonne Webb, Kitty Good, Louise Johns, Carolyn Oliver, Boretta Yeoman, Olivia Sopro, Nan McLaughlin, Patsy Shelton, Earlene

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 29, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 168.

Linda Doles ..... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors
Bet McLaughlin, Patsy Powell

Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Judy Ekstrom ..... News Editor
Henrietta Dollins ..... Feature Editor
Violet Scott ..... Sports Editor
Virlinda Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Eleanor Gurganus ..... Photography
Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Lou Gray, Becky Parker ..... Advertising Managers
Miss Mary P. Nichols ..... Faculty Advisor

(Unsigned editorials written by the editor)

Member: Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press (Rating first class), Columbia Scholastic Press Association (Rating first place), Intercollegiate Press.

NEWS STAFF: Cherry Gorham, Assistant News Editor; Joann Kleinecke, Assistant Feature Editor; Chris Kamen, Assistant Sports Editor; Jo Ann Parsons, Assistant Desk Editor. Columnists: Jackie Gibson, Ann Glover, Cat Orman, Pat Leake, Margie Lampton, Jackie Waller, Alice Chenowood, Martha Rucker. Reporters: Pat Rodenhiser, Rae Lawrence, Nancy Lechler, Lois Garrett, Frances Harnsberger, Gerry Edmonds, Agnes Massie, Pat Fenley, Jane Elmore, Sandra Weaver, Mary Shafer, Bonnie Gregory, Mary B. Means, Kitty Brown, Claudia Wilson, Mattie Burwell, Judy Dorroch, Brenda Parsley, Beatrice Hooper, Marcie Price.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Dede Frostick, Assistant Manager; Kay Pierce, Arlene McKay, Cissa Conner, Barbara Eggleston, Faye Garrett, Dianne Doughty, Linda Saunders, Becky McGrath, Frances Mann, Nancy Lee Cole.

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress on March 3, 1903. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

Donaldson, Mathews to Direct H_2O Christmas Water Pageant

—Staff Photo

TIDEWATER HOCKEY TEAM MEMBERS (Seated, Left to Right)—Sandra Tarter, Lou Heier, Delo Dove, Mary H. Grayson; team alternates (standing left to right), Barbara Brantley, Pat Southworth, Gayle Cunningham.

Tidewater Selects Seven LC Players For Hockey Teams

Seven girls from the Longwood hockey team were chosen to be members of the first or second Tidewater Team at the Tidewater Hockey Tournament held at William & Mary College in Williamsburg on October 31 and November 1.

These girls will go to Baltimore, Maryland, on November 15-16 for the Southeast Tournament. From this tournament, a team will be chosen to play in the national tournament, from which the United States Hockey team will be chosen.

Girls chosen for the first team are Mary Hite Grayson, a sophomore, who has the position of right halfback; Sandy Tarter, a senior and captain of the Longwood hockey team, will play left halfback; Delo Dove, also a senior, who will play left inner; and Lou Heier, a senior, who will play halfback.

The second team members from Longwood are Gayle Cunningham a senior, right wing; Pat Southworth, a sophomore, left fullback; and Barbara Brantley, also a sophomore, center forward.

Fourteen girls from the Longwood hockey team attended the Tidewater Tournament. The Norfolk Division of William and Mary played the part of hostess for the conference.

Only college hockey teams or clubs within the Tidewater district attend this tournament.

The girls chosen to play for Longwood were: Nancy Andrews, Barbara Brantley, Gayle Cunningham, Delo Dove, Mate Fadely, Nancy George and Mary Hite Grayson.

Also Lou Heier, Pat Southworth, Jeannette Talbott, Sandy Tarter, Willie Taylor, Linda Vess, and Jackie Waller

Friday afternoon Longwood won over Mary Washington College with a score of 4-0.

Saturday Longwood lost to the Richmond Club with a score of 1-0. Comments of this game were nothing but the highest of praise for the Longwood team since the Richmond Club has an undefeated record for almost every season.

—Staff Photo

WATER PAGEANT CHAIRMAN. Nancy Donaldson, and her assistant, Carol Mathews, search for the right tune for coming Christmas pageant music.

By AGNES MASSIE

One group of girls at Longwood has already started to make plans for Christmas. The H20 Club has chosen Nancy Donaldson and Carol Mathews as Chairman and Assistant Chairman of their annual production, The Christmas Water Pageant.

Nancy, a Business Major from Roanoke, is president of the H20 Club and was assistant chairman fo the Water Workshop last year. She is also treasurer of the junior class, assistant business manager of the Virginian, fire chief, and a member of the House Council and Athletic Council. She is recording secretary of Alpha Sigma Tau sorority.

Her assistant, and also roommate, Carol Mathews, is a Sociology Major from Salem. Carol, a student government representative for two years is now secretary. She was the Circus Animal Tainer last year and this year is a cheerleader and pledge chairman of Alpha Sigma Tau sorority.

Nancy Donaldson, as General chairman of the pageant, announced today that Mary Hite Grayson, a sophomore, from Radford, and Barbara Brantley from Suffolk, will be in charge of backdrops for the aquatic show. Mary Hite is vice-president of the sophomore class, a member of the Athletic Council, Cotillion Club and Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority. Barbara, a Physical Education major is the tennis manager, a member of the Cotillion Club, and Pi Kappa Sigma Sorority.

Heading the props committee for the Christmas Pageant will be Jean O'Connell, a junior from Springfield. A Biology major, Jean is President of the junior class, treasurer of the Athletic Council, and a member of Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority. In addition to this she holds membership in the Cotillion Club, the "Y" Cabinet, Newman Club, and was Freshman Counselor.

Katherine Key, a Home Economics major from Clifton Forge, will head the costume committee for the pageant. Katherine is a member of the Cotillion Club and Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority.

Chosen to head the publicity committee this year is Helen Wente, a junior from Warwick. Helen has been secretary of her class for the past two years and is on the "Y" Cabinet, a member of the Cotillion Club, and Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority.

Working with the lights again this year is senior Linda Vess, a Biology major from Covington.

(Continued on page 4)

TV Topics

By ALICE CHEATWOOD

For those with leisure time to spend at night, try television to prevent boredom, call downs, good grades and rested eyes.

Programs of interest this week are:

Wed. 7:30 — Whenever a prominent actress guests on a western, she usually turns up as a frontier doctor, which is precisely what Jane Wyman plays on "Wagon Train." Jane is out to prove to the Wagon Train gang that lady doctors are okay. Other than this hot controversy, there's actor Alan Marshall, who was a minor matinee idol 20 years ago, playing an alcoholic. (Man, they got problems on that old Wagon Train).

Thurs. 9:30 — One of the greatest short stories ever written, Joseph Conrad's "Heart of Darkness," is the challenging assignment for "Playhouse 90." Dealing with a man who journeys to the area mentioned in the title, it has some profound, shattering things to say about human endeavor and if all goes well, you'll be in for a rare experience. Boris Karloff, Roddy MacDowell, Oscar Homolka, Inge Swenson, Cathleen Nesbitt and Richard Haydn head the expert cast on a horrowing trip to Africa.

Sat. 8:00 — "The Perry Como Show" has a pair of visitors of far more than routine interest tonight. Burl Ives, actor, folklorist, gourmet, songster and all-around raconteur will bring his large presence and Ann Miller, the fast-stepping filmland dancer, makes a rare sojourn away from cinemaland.

—Norfolk-Virginian Pilot

From The Gridiron Bleachers

By JACKIE WALLER

Playing sharply on offense and defense, Richmond's Spiders took their homecoming contest over the Citadel 8-0. The "T" formation payed off for the Spiders but only 4500 fans witnessed the contest as homecoming queen Patsy MacDonald reigned supreme.

The big first half was all unbeaten VMI needed to manhandle the U. Va. boys into submission down in Norfolk. Final score was VMI, 33, Virginia 0. It was the next to largest margin that a VMI team has ever beaten a Cavalier team. Back in '23 it was 35-0.

A late VPI threat was halted in time for their N. C. State game to end up as a 14-14 tie. Billy Holesclaw upped his seasonal total offense to 960. Tech entered the game a 6 point underdog and stayed in command most of the final three quarters but never really found the winning combination.

Poor William and Mary took a 33-7 beating from Boston University. It was a frightful day for William and Mary as they gave away most of the scores, two on intercepted passes. This was the Indians' fourth defeat of the season.

North Carolina defeated Tennessee 7-1 with some tiptop running. The loss leaves the Vols with their worst midseason record since 1910. By virtue of the win the Tar Heels seem to be in contention for a bowl bid.

Clemson, no. 1 in the ACC, turned back Wake Forest's Deacons 14-12. Wake Forest started off strong but Clemson stopped the threat and rolled on to victory.

West Virginia belted GW 35-12 with some mighty slick running by Mounty Dick Longfellow. He completed 10 of 24 attempted passes.

Maryland decisioned South Carolina 10-6. The Terps capitalized on a terrible 4th period mistake. Last year Maryland beat S. C. by an exact same score.

Georgia Tech used a 4th period field goal to turn Duke down 10-8. 30,000 fans saw the rather evenly played game in Durham.

Unbeaten Auburn extended its streak to 20 as Florida's Gators bowed 6-5. Florida ran and passed well but just couldn't find the pay-dirt combination.

Hampden-Sydney topped Guilford 6-0. Two opposing drives were stopped inside the Tiger 10. Their only score came on a 93 yd. scoring drive highlighted by Bill Benson's catch of a 21 yard pass by Tommy Davis.

Randolph Macon handed Johns-Hopkins its second straight defeat with a 13-0 decision. By virtue of the win the Jackets are now NO. 1 in Mason-Dixon standings who are still undefeated in league play.

Army cleared its bench as it routed Colgate 68-6. Dropped to no. 3 nationally because of last week's tie with Pitt, the Cadets didn't even use its first team in the second half. This was the largest score an Army team has compiled since 1955 when they beat Furman 81-0.

Bridgewater and West Virginia Wesleyan battled to a 6-6 tie. However the Eagles should have won, as their fumble late in the fourth quarter was recovered by the Bobcats for their score.

Navy took a sound beating from Notre Dame 40-20. It was the most points scored on Navy in the 9 years under Coach Eddie Erdelatz.

Air Force beat Oklahoma State 33-29 as Rich Mayo came alive and fired seven passes in the final 72 yard touchdown drive for Air Force.

Other scores saw Florida State beat U. of Tampa 43-0; Cornell take Columbia 25-0; Kentucky roll over Mississippi State 33-12; and Pennsylvania upset Harvard 19-6.

Did You Know?

By MATTIE BLEWETT

—the student body would like to thank whomever suggested holding the teachers' meeting in Richmond this past week end which took several of our wonderful professors away for the day?

—a new cannibal cookbook is being published? It is entitled "Ten Ways to Serve Your Fellow Man."

—thirty-five petals were missing from the daisy arrangement in the Rotunda Monday morning? The "loves me, loves me not" bandit has struck again.

—you cannot carve rotten wood?

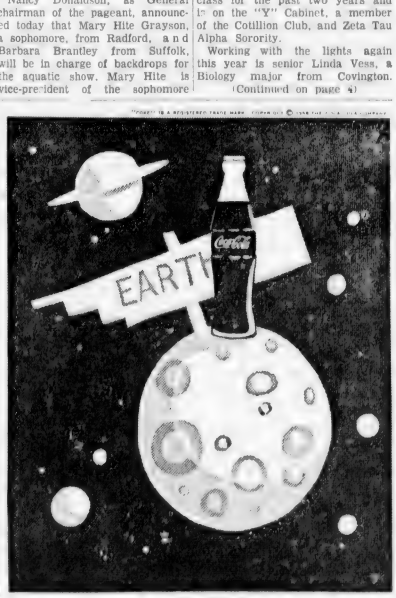
—a few of the girls who recently were raising napkins to "Dixie" are now raising Cain because of a recent Rotunda editorial?

—that's all?

Timely Topics

By MARGIE LAYMAN

A special session of the General Assembly is expected to meet shortly after January 1 to consider new legislation in the public school crisis. Three new lawsuits, all by Norfolk parties, have requested the federal courts to try to remove the state's existing structure of anti-integration laws. It is expected that the anti-integration laws will be held unconstitutional by the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals in a test case on November 24. Possibly a special session may be called as soon as December.



Boris Pasternak, the controversial Soviet writer, has appealed to Premier Khruschev to be allowed to stay in Russia. Pasternak, who at first accepted the Nobel Prize for his novel, "Doctor Zhivago," and later rejected it, is being criticized as a traitor. The Kremlin has announced that he is free to travel out of Russia to receive the prize, but if he goes out of the Soviet Union he cannot return. To Pasternak, "this is equal to death."

The leaders of British, Soviet and United States delegations are trying to reach an agreement on the policy of a nuclear test ban. The three powers opened their conferences in Geneva's Palais des Nations. They must determine whether some avenue exists for reconciling their conflicting views on the ending of atomic and hydrogen bomb explosions.

MARTIN the JEWELER
See Our New Patterns
in
Royal Doulton CHINA

Compliments Of
WILSON'S HOME AND AUTO SUPPLY
10 Top Tunes:

1. It's All in The Game
2. It's Only Make Believe
3. Tom Dooley
4. Topsy II
5. Rockin' Robin
6. Tears On My Pillow
7. Bird Song
2. Tea For Two Cha Cha
9. Susie Darlin'
10. Chantilly Lace

Out of this world!

Space travelers—be on the alert! Make sure there's a cargo of Coke tucked away in the rocket! You may not be able to buy your favorite sparkling drink on the moon . . . but that's just about the only place you can't. So when you're ready for the big lift, be sure the cheerful lift of Coca-Cola goes along!

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by

LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

—Staff Photo

PARLEZ-VOUS FRANCAIS?—Beginning French students making good use of new language equipment are (left to right) Sandra Snyder, Betty Elliott, Judy Robertson.

Students Use New Language Lab

Dual-Tape Recorders To Aid Pronunciation

Students of Longwood this year have an added help in their study of foreign languages.

In addition to installing a complete new foreign language laboratory, the College has sound-proofed the old listening room and added two new stereotape recorders.

The new listening room, planned and designed with the help of the W. A. Yoder Company of Richmond, is also completely sound-proofed and offers ten booths for the use of foreign language students.

Each booth is equipped with a new dual-channel recorder. These recorders enable the student to imitate the correct pronunciation of a selection from his language textbook recorded by a foreign student assistant. The recording is played back, and the student hears the correct pronunciation of the passage, and then his own. The tape can be erased, but the portion recorded by the student assistant remains.

Complete Record Library

The laboratories offer a complete library of records as well as recordings of textbook lessons. Both classical music and folk lore can be enjoyed by any interested student.

Transitions can be made from tape to record or record to tape, but a growing trend toward tape recordings is seen by workers in the field.

Language Labs Increase

The value of the foreign language laboratories is proven by the fact that the University of Virginia and Mary Baldwin College have added language laboratories for the first time this year. Many high schools have installed them as well.

A number of Virginia colleges have had language laboratories for some years. Longwood began its program ten years ago with a room where students could hear disc recordings of radio playbacks.

About the value of the laboratories here at Longwood, Miss Helen Draper of the Department of Foreign Languages says, "We definitely see an improvement in students' pronunciation and understanding, and we believe the laboratory adds to the students's interest."

Placement News

Miss Winnie Southerland, Assistant Director of Personnel, Fairfax County schools, Fairfax, will be on the campus Monday, November 10, and Tuesday, November 11, to interview seniors in regard to openings in Fairfax County.

H2O Pageant

(Continued from page 3)

Linda serves on the Monogram Club, Cotillion Club, Athletic Council, is a member of the varsity hockey team and has played varsity tennis. She was also awarded a white blazer.

Senior Nancy Andrews of Roanoke will have charge of recording for the swimming spectacular. Assistant chairman of the Christmas Water Pageant and chairman of the Spring Water Clinic last year, Nancy belongs to the Monogram Club, Cotillion Club, SEA, H2O Club, and Athletic Council. She also played varsity basketball and hockey for three years and was awarded a white blazer.

In charge of programs is junior Kitty Green from Galax. Kitty, who is Miss Greyson County this year, is majoring in Medical Technology.

Heading the ticket committee is Josey Curry, a junior from Sandston. A physical education major, Josey is treasurer of the H20 Club, secretary of the Athletic Association and is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority.

Social Notes

(Continued from page 2)

Barbara Sanders, Pat Barrow, Jo-ann Kleinecke, Page Landers, Melissa Rowe, Judy Welch, Elma Mackey, Susan Crutchlow, Ellen Grady, Pooh Butterworth, Marilon Hubbard, Barbara Bolster, Bonnie Irby, Sheila Galloway, Pat O'Neil.

Mary Ellen Moore traveled to Newhaven, Connecticut for the Yale-Dartmouth Game.

The Notre Dame-Navy Game attracted Mary Ellen O'Conner and Evelyn Alouf.

Seen in Charlottesville were: Kathryn Hubbard, Sarah Lampton, Marie Waller.

North Carolina State's Homecoming attracted Elsie Jordon, Carolyn Rancon.

Judy Eckstrom flew to Charleston, W. Va., to see a certain Lambda Chi.

B. J. Allgood and Jean Dunagan went to Maryland for the University of Maryland's Homecomings and the TKE parties.

Blanche Ingram and Mary Linda League were seen in Raleigh, N. C.

AKG

(Continued from page 1)

Psi Omega, national dramatics fraternity, the Longwood Players, the Student Education Association, the Newman Club, and Pi Kappa Sigma social sorority. She says that she feels that being tapped into Alpha Kappa Gamma "is not so much an honor as an opportunity to serve better."

Barbara Bishop

Barbara Bishop, an art major from Roanoke, and a junior here at Longwood had this to say when asked how she felt. "It is really something I'll never forget as long as I live. I do feel quite underserving of it, but I hope that I can live up to the responsibility." The present Editor-in-Chief of the Virginian, Barbara is secretary of the Panhellenic Council and a member of the Roanoke Club, the Cotillion Club and Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority.

Connie Goodman

Another junior and mathematics major, Connie Goodman comes from Fries. "Of any thing that has happened to me since I have been here, this is the biggest surprise and the biggest thrill," says Connie. "Being elected for anything has never meant so much to me." Connie is treasurer of Theta Sigma Upsilon, junior representative to Student Government, and a member of Orchesis and the French Club.

Frosh Hop

(Continued from page 1)

are looking forward to the coming event and express their hopes for a successful combo dance.

Other officers for the Cotillion Club are: Ernestine Stoltz, figure leader; Betty Spivey, secretary-treasurer; Melinda Franklin, dance chairman; Ann Glover, business manager. Officers for Panhellenic Association are: Ann Norfleet, vice president; Barbara Bishop, secretary; Ginny Price, treasurer; Cass Connor, rush chairman.

This week, November 2-8 is national "Explore With Books Week." All kinds of books are now on display in the library — so "Explore With Books" on your next visit.

Church News

(Continued from page 2)

Johnson, Linda McPherson, Louise Ponton, Nancy Rideout, Norma Roult, Marie Smith, Kathryn Turner, Merle Ridinger, and Virlinda Joyner. The group was chaperoned by Malinda Ayers, Methodist Student Director.

BAPTIST

Miss Joan Spencer, the B.S.U. Director, will speak at the special program for the World Day of Prayer which is sponsored by the Council of Church Women on November 7. She will speak at 4 p.m. in the Fellowship Room of the Methodist Church and everyone is invited to attend.

November 8, don't forget, is the date for Fall House cleaning. Come to the center and join in the fun!

Sunday night November 9, the B.S.U. choir will sing at the dedication service for the choirs.

Monday, November 10, at 7 p.m. the individual YWA circles will meet in the center for their monthly program.

EPISCOPAL

Each Tuesday evening after prayers Mrs. Vache will be in the church for the altar Guild meeting. Anyone interested in helping set up the altar for Communion services please see her.

Wednesday mornings at 7:15 Holy Communion is celebrated for the students and faculty of Longwood College.

Saturday at 1 p.m. all those attending the Virginia Canterbury conference at Roslyn will meet at the Parish House. Please bring $1.00 extra if you want to get your linens at Roslyn. If you take your own sheets, please be sure and bring two.

VEA

Continued from page 1)

preservation and improvement of a system of free public schools in Virginia . . ."

The action of the VEA in expressing disapproval of the present state policy was the second such sentiment from an educational group. Last week the Virginia Congress of Parents and Teachers defeated a resolution endorsing Governor Almond's stand; then approved a resolution calling for a return to local option for school operations.

Buy Your
CHRISTMAS GIFTS
Early!
Special Orders Now Being Taken at
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
9 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Free Gift Wrapping

State
YOUR COMMUNITY CENTER
FARMVILLE, VA.
WED., THURS. NOV. 5-6
An Entirely New Motion Picture!
DEBORAH KERR
DOROTHY TUTIN
"A TALE OF TWO CITIES"
FRIDAY THRU TUESDAY
November 7-11
"CAT ON A HOT TIN ROOF"
ELIZABETH TAYLOR
PAUL NEWMAN
BURL IVES
Color

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE - BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE!
They said that bullfighting was strictly for men, and a woman couldn't do it. But pretty Pat McCormick, while a student at Texas Western College, ignored the scoffers, and became the first American girl to win international acclaim as a torea-Dora.

Puff by puff Less tars & More taste

DON'T SETTLE FOR ONE WITHOUT THE OTHER!

Change to L&M and get 'em both. Such an improved filter and more taste! Better taste than in any other cigarette. Yes, today's L&M combines these two essentials of modern smoking enjoyment—less tars and more taste—in one great cigarette.

PACK OR BOX

LIGHT INTO THAT LIVE MODERN FLAVOR!

©LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO., 1958

Now Is
Last Chance To Buy
'59 Virginian

The Rotunda

Enjoy
"Pygmalion"
This Week

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., November 12, 1958 | No. 7

YWCA Announces Montague As Head Of Yule Pageant

Mary Anne Montague, a junior, is chairman of Longwood's 1958 Christmas pageant, to be presented December 16 at 10 p.m. in Jarman Auditorium.

Helping Mary Anne with the production of the annual Christmas program will be Marianne Zimmerman, Programs; Lee Burnette, Properties; Jean Dunagan, Publicity; Ann Mixon and Mary Linda League, Lighting; and Marie Messick, Make-up.

Traditional Madonna

A highlight of the pageant is the announcement of the student who portrays the Madonna. From nominations of the YWCA cabinet the student body elects a girl who exemplifies a Christian life and is respected by those who know her.

The entire student body attends the pageant, which is given on the night before the Christmas holiday begins.

Mary Anne says, "We hope that everyone will carry home a spirit of the real meaning of Christmas after seeing the pageant. This is what we are working for."

The theme of the Christmas pageant will be announced later. Past pageants have featured tableaux and a chorus.

Boggs Announces Entrance Exams

A College Entrance Examination and College Advanced Placement Center has been approved for Longwood College, Dr. Earl Boggs has announced.

Mr. Richard Brooks, associate professor of education, will have charge of this testing program.

Dr. Boggs, who received confirmation from the Education Testing Service of Princeton, states that it will be of particular interest to high school students applying for admission here and for students applying for admission to other institutions. College entrance examinations will be preferable, but not compulsory.

Any questions concerning this porgram will be answered by Dr. Boggs.

1959-60 Schedule

The Schedule Committee has announced that work on the 1959-60 schedule should be completed by February 1.

This final form, which will be of particular value to juniors planning to student teach next year, will aid all students in registering by allowing them to plan ahead.

Rotunda Makes Changes In Staff

Anne B. Palmer has recently accepted the position of Photography Editor on the Rotunda editorial staff.

A junior from Warwick, Anne is also a member of the varsity hockey team, "Y" Cabinet sing chairman, the Lynchos Society, the Baptist Student Union, and is a General Science and Biology major.

Nineteen Reporters Added

Other new staff additions include reporters who have been serving an apprentice period this semester. These are June Elmore and Brenda Parsley, sophomores; Deanne Hogge, junior, and Gerry Edmonds, Agnes Massie, Pat Foster, Sandra Weaver, Mary Shafer, Bonnie Garter, Mary B. Micou, Kitty Hawley, Claudia Wilson, Mattie Blewett, Judy Detrich, Neva Arnn, Pat Shelton, Margie Fries, Sandie Farish, Sue Caravella, all freshmen.

The new Photography Editor is taking the place of Eleanor Gurganus, a senior who is leaving for Roanoke student teaching this week, and will graduate in February. Joanne Klenecke, recently appointed assistant Feature Editor, will take over in the absence of Henrietta Dollins, Feature Editor, who is also going to Roanoke.

Members of the staff who will complete their nine weeks in Roanoke and return to campus next week will continue their work on the paper. These include Violet Scott, Sports Editor; Gwen Mellon, Circulation Manager; and several columnists and reporters. During their absence, their assistants, Chris Kamen, sports, and Dale Preddy, circulation, have been taking over.

'Pygmalion' Begins Thursday

—Hampton C. Owen

FROM FLOWER GIRL TO DUCHESS promises Henry Higgins (Garnett Smith) to Eliza Doolittle (Helen Gray Carter) during dress rehearsal for "Pygmalion."

By MOLLY WORKMAN

On November 13, 14, and 15, the Longwood Players and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs will present George Bernard Shaw's delightful comedy, "Pygmalion," in Jarman Hall. The production will be based on the movie version, adapted from the original by Shaw himself, which won the Academy Award for the best screen play of 1938.

Garter, Smith To Star

Longwood's Helen Gray Garter will portray the famous role of Eliza Doolittle. Many well-known actresses have appeared in this wonderful part: among them are the late Gertrude Lawrence; Wendy Hiller, an English actress who made the film; and Julie Andrews of "My Fair Lady" fame. ("My Fair Lady," of course, is based upon "Pygmalion.") Garnett Smith of Hampden-Sydney will appear as Higgins, the linguistics professor who turns a Cockney girl into a dutchess. The late, great Leslie Howard played this role in the 1938 motion picture.

Supporting Actors

Garnett and Helen Gray will be supported by Charter Wells as Doolittle, John Meyers as Col. Pickering, and Scott Bowen as Freddy Eynsford - Hill. Feminine support will be offered by Ann Bass as Mrs. Pearce, Bonny Keys as Mrs. Higgins, Nancy Oddenino as Mrs. Eynsford-Hill and Barbara Bishop as Miss Eynsford-Hill.

Cast Includes Two Professors

Others in the cast are: Diane Doughty, Patricia Leake, Emily Umbarger, Brooks Dietrich, Page Tolleson, Ann Jenkins, Matilda Powell, Lina Flippin and Addie Richardson of Longwood; Jim Neal, Ben Morgan, Jerry Ringwald, Bill Kempton, and Bill Ragsdale, all of Hampden-Sydney. Two special performers will be Mr. William Noble of the Longwood Social Science Department and Dr. L. W. Ryan of the Hampden-Sydney faculty. Mr. Noble plays the part of the Taximan and Dr. Ryan will appear as the Third Landing Footman.

"Pygmalion" is being directed by Mr. David Wiley, assisted by Vicki Brinkley. The play will begin at 8 p.m.

Weekend To Show High School Girls College Life Here

About 50 hich school students will arrive this Saturday, November 15, for the first high school weekend of the year.

The Northern Neck Club and the Freshman Class will serve as hostesses to the visitors, who will stay in the freshman dormitories. Many of the guests are from the Richmond and Arlington-Fairfax areas.

Saturday morning the girls will register and then eat lunch at 12:15 in the dining room. At 1 p.m. they will attend a meeting with various members of the administration in the Small Auditorium. Between 2 and 3 p.m. there will be guided tours of the campus, followed by a trip to Longwood Estate at 3. Groups will leave from the Rotunda for both of these events.

After a picnic supper in the Sophomore Rec at 5:30 the high school students will have several hours to visit in the dorms before attending the 8 p.m. performance of "Pygmalion."

Sunday morning will begin with breakfast in the dining room between 8:30 and 9. Then the visitors may go to the church of their choice at 11 a.m. and conclude the weekend with dinner at 1 p.m.

Cora Straughan is chairman of registration for the Northern Neck Club while Peggy Mullin and Katherine Wallace have charge of the picnic. Pat Lowry is taking care of the housing for the weekend; Sandra Parker is in charge of the campus tours; and Wendy Warren, the sing.

Among the high schools represented will be Hammond, Thomas Jefferson, Varina, Douglas Freeman, Colonial Heights, E. C. Glass, Fairfax, and Osbourne.

Other high school weekends are scheduled for February and April.

AKG To Host Chapters At Annual Convention

Weekend To Include 'Pygmalion,' Banquet

The annual convention of Alpha Kappa Gamma will be held at Longwood College next weekend, November 14-16.

Convention events include "Pygmalion" on Friday night, followed by an informal reception and a business meeting on Saturday, with lunch in the college dining hall. The business meeting will be followed by an informal discussion on the founding of AKG by Miss Florence Stubbs, one of the co-founders of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

The convention delegates will go to Appomattox on Saturday afternoon for a tour.

There will be a banquet at Longwood House Saturday night, with Mrs. Jane Royall Phelgar as the guest speaker. The banquet will be followed by the installation of officers, and closing meetings.

Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honorary fraternity standing for leadership in womanly service, first came into being as it is now organized on May 12, 1928 at a meeting of the co-founders: University of South Carolina, Longwood, and Queens College, Charlotte, N. C., where the meeting was held.

The organization came as a result of a long-felt need of college leaders at these institutions for an organization which would foster high ideals and set up high standards for those women who had proved themselves most eminent in constructive leadership among their fellow students.

Longwood Takes Initiative

Longwood College was the first to take the initiative in bringing together girls who felt this need. Miss Florence Stubbs, then a member of the faculty, helped these girls organize the Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho in 1926. This group then affiliated with Alpha Kappa Gamma in 1928.

There are now six circles of AKG: Joan Circle, 1928, Longwood; Florence Nightingale Circle, 1928, U. of S.C.; Olympian Circle, 1928, Queens College; Clara Barton Circle, 1940, Columbia College, Columbia, S. C.; Florence Salein Circle, 1951, College of Charleston, S.C.; and Sister Kenny Circle, 1951, Lander College, Greenwood, S. C.

'Singers Of Paris' To Appear Here

The Little Singers of Paris will be the first in the series of Lyceum programs presented each year here at Longwood. They will perform at Jarman Hall Auditorium, Monday, November 24, at 8 p.m.

This choral group whose home is in Paris, France, has toured the U. S. many times during the past twenty years and gave a command performance at the White House for President Eisenhower in 1953.

Composed of thirty voices, the group will render a program of sacred and secular music in several languages.

This group began in 1907 in a shack on the outskirts of Paris. Today they reside in a three-story home which is their headquarters.

Each year hundreds of boys, usually from poor families, come to tryout. Fifteen are finally selected. Here, they are fed, clothed, educated and given a thorough background and knowledge of choral music. This is supported by the concert receipts and occasional grants. Of the more than 120 voices only 30 are allowed to go on the American tour.

Events To Come

On February 11, "La Boheme" will be given by the Wagner Opera Company. This is a story of student life during the early nineteenth century in the Latin Quarter of Paris.

Also included in the list of Programs is "Twelfth Night" to be presented on March 3 by Players Incorporated.

THE LITTLE SINGERS OF PARIS are scheduled for the first Lyceum program to be presented November 24 in Jarman Hall.

Assembly Preview

Next Tuesday, November 18 the art department will present a film entitled "Rubens."

Concerning this Flemish painter of the 17th century, it portrays some of the origins and developments of Ruben's work through the use of his most prominent paintings in Europe.

Molnar Publishes Musical Articles

Two articles by Dr. John W. Molnar, chairman of the department of music at Longwood College, have been published in leading periodicals in the instrumental music field.

The November issue of The Instrumentalist contains "Band as a Source of Stage Performers," and the fall issue of The American String Teacher presents "Consider Music First in the String Class."

Both articles deal with the problem of developing string players in the schools.

Methodists to Give Bible Conference

There will be a Bible Study Conference November 16, 17, and 18, at 7:30 p.m. at the Methodist Church in the fellowship room.

Dr. R. H. Sales, instructor in religion and also an assistant professor of religion, will be the lecturer.

Dr. Sales received his A.B. degree from Hendrix College and his B.D. degree from Duke University. He studied at the Duke Graduate School of Arts and Sciences and received his Ph. D. in 1952.

Also affiliated with the study conference will be Dr. Gilbert Cofer, the group leader. Dr. Cofer is Director of Adult Work for the Virginia Conference Board of Education. He has served as pastor of the Pennes George Church, Petersburg District and the Fourteenth Church, Alexandria District. Dr. Cofer was Director of the Wesley Foundation, V.P.I. in Blacksburg.

Both speakers are widely known and the Methodists extend a cordial invitation to all students who wish to attend.

Sigma Alpha Iota Accepts Chapter For Longwood

Mrs. Mary A. F. Kemble and Miss Josephine L. Bailey, both assistant Professors of Music at Longwood, will be the faculty co-sponsors for the new chapter of the national musical professional fraternity, Sigma Alpha Iota, recently established on campus.

Installation of Sigma Alpha Iota members will take place the week end of February 26 under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Gould, vice-president from Cleveland, Ohio and Mrs. Helen May, Iota providence director. At this time 17 Longwood girls will be initiated into the fraternity.

Requirements for entrance into Sigma Alpha Iota are a 2.0 music average; a 1.75 academic average; and although one doesn't have to be a music major, a minor area should be explored. The nucleus of the fraternity will be composed of music majors.

Being the largest musical fraternity in the United States, Sigma Alpha Iota is known for its contemporary music and for composing and helping composers for the advancement of contemporary music. The fraternity has for one of its most famous and active members Miss Mildred Miller, who recently appeared on "Firestone."

Begun in Michigan in 1903, there are 181 chapters in the United States. Members from Norfolk and Shenandoah chapters are expected to attend the installation ceremon ies here.

Longwood was recently accepted into the fraternity after being considered for a year. Mrs. Kemble happily says she is very proud to finally be accepted." Mrs. Kemble and Miss Bailey are alumnae of Sigma Alpha Iota.

Letters To The Editor

Beyond The Call Of Duty

We often find things to complain about but too seldom do we give praise where praise is due. Behind the scenes of class, sorority, club, and publication activities are those indespensible people called advisors. Without them many of the things that are so important to us at Longwood would be impossible. Who else could we turn to with all the problems of Circus, dances, and parties and one of the nicest things about it is they seldom complain about giving of their valuable time.

Not only do they help us with the needs of our organizations but many of them also lend an ear to our personal problems and give much needed advice when we seek it.

If we began to list all the little things the advisors do during the year to make the activities of Longwood College a success, the list would go on indefinitely: lending hammers and old clothes, driving all over the state on field trips, feeding starving students — and a million other things.

For their services "beyond the call of duty" we give our sincere THANKS! A Senior

Attention! Assembly

In regard to yesterday's assembly at which the Russian scholar spoke, I wish to express my regret for the behavior shown him. He must have thought the student body exceedingly rude with the reading, shuffling of paper, and the general inattention displayed. As one of the offenders, I am ready to admit that my actions were not those of a "Longwood Lady." In the future I resolve to give every speaker my undivided attention no matter how hard to understand the talk may be. We are fortunate to have such learned visitors, and I sincerely hope that everyone will take the initiative and show their appreciation and listen attentively. A Freshman

Want Popularity Plus?

One of Madison Avenue's favorite idea-gathering techniques has provided expert answers to the biggest problem of collegians—How To Be Popular.

Though there is a wealth of advice on the subject from adult authorities, most younger folks listen more readily to people in their own age group. That's why the chosen group of popular collegians were asked: What can a person your age do to widen friendships and become trusted and respected by others?

Hundreds of answers resulted from the brain-storming session, in which group members were encouraged to spout whatever ideas came into their heads. Some of the suggestions:

Let people know you like them.

Don't monopolize conversation.

Don't have one set of manners for people you want to make time with and another set for everybody else.

Think of ways to make others feel important.

Don't carry grudges.

Keep your nose out of the upper atmosphere.

Don't burn people down just for a laugh.

Don't be afraid to start a fad — somebody has to.

Avoid telling long-drawn-out or involved jokes — or the same one over and over and over again.

ABOVE ALL
DON'T BUM
CIGARETTES

— V. M. I. Cadet

Timely Topics

By MARGIE LAYMAN

Virginia's vote in the 1958 election gives little indication of the public sentiment in the school-closing crisis. Some feel that Senator Byrd's 70 per cent majority is evidence that the great mass of white Virginians firmly support the massive resistance policy of closing schools to prevent racial integration. Others feel that the 120,000 ballots cast for Dr. Louise Wessel show a significant protest against the symbol of massive resistance. It is interesting to note that the three areas in which the schools have been closed give inclusive evidence also. Charlottesville and Norfolk both increased their anti-Byrd vote, while Warren County gave him a stronger backing than in 1957.

Members of the State Department are divided over whether the Western powers are really getting anywhere in their talks with the Russians. Some are convinced that the Soviet Union's immediate motive probably is to weaken the Western forces rather than move toward disarmament.

The Soviet Union has proposed that the General Assembly endorse United Nations control of a ban on military space rockets and elimination of foreign bases.

Pioneer II tizzled in flight after a brilliant launching. Although the odds for success were one in 10, hopes were high when the rocket blasted skyward. Failure was attributed to the fact that the rocket was traveling too slowly.

It is now the Army's turn to make a lunar probe launching. Major General John B. Medaris, head of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, has stated that they are on schedule, and it is expected that they will make an attempt early in December.

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 2, 1929

Published each week during the school year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 168.

Linda Dixon ..... Editor-in-chief

Associate Editors

Bet McIlwaine, Patsy Powell

Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Judy Ackerson ..... News Editor

Entered as second class matter at the Post office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress on March 3, 1879. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

LITTLE MAN on CAMPUS by BIBLER

"I CAN'T SIGN YOUR PETITION TO DROP MY CLASS—I NEED YOUR "F" TO EQUALIZE MY GRADE DISTRIBUTION."

Campus News

By AGNES MASSIE

V. M. I.

V.M.I. selected 21 outstanding students for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Among those receiving the honor was Henry Thomas, editor of the V.M.I. Cadet.

The long talked about special preview of "Mardi Gras" finally materialized as the film was shown yesterday to the members of the V.M.I. Cadet Corps in Lexington. The feminine star, Christine Carere, left Paris to attend the preview after the Cadet Corps organized a mass invitation in the form of a petition which was signed by a large number of cadets and forwarded to her.

Other stars in the movie are Pat Boone, Gary Crosby, Tommy Sands, Dick Sargent, and Sheree North.

Headline on the front page of the V.M.I. Cadet: "Not to be behind times, the Keydets at V.M.I. set the pace for the Hula rage."

Mary Baldwin

Parachute causes consternation on Mary Baldwin Campus! Sixty-four square yards of white silk with numerous military markings were spread over the campus, surrounded by eight proud owners and attracting the attention of the faculty and other students. Its usefulness is somewhat doubtful but suggestions have been made that it be used as a leaf catcher or use the silk for a wedding dress.

Radford

In an interview of transfers on the strictness of other colleges as compared to Radford, a former Longwood student declares that Radford is much more strict on social rules than Longwood. "All Hampden-Sydney boys are on the approved dating list at Longwood," she said. "However, Longwood has stricter study habits compared to Radford."

It was learned in an interview of a former Madison student that the students there can wear Bermudas to breakfast on Sundays. Dating rules also are stricter at Radford as compared to Madison.

Hollins

The Board of trustees of Hollins voted to raise the tuition to $2300 which means a $200 increase. As well as increasing the tuition, Hollins is launching an expansion program and expects to increase enrollment during the next few years.

University of Richmond

Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities recognizes 28 outstanding seniors at the University of Richmond.

Patsy McDonald, a senior representing Westhampton College, was chosen Homecoming Queen at Richmond's Homecoming festivities last week

Hampden-Sydney

Longwood offers the freshmen at Hampden-Sydney her sincerest sympathies. We hear you all have to put up with your rat hats and signs a little bit longer because of a three point difference in a football score.

Roanoke College

Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities claims 11 at Roanoke Colleg. Tavie Ann Barnes, a former Longwood student, was among those honored.

Placement News

For the benefit of those seniors interested in a teaching position for the coming year, Mr. H. C. Paxon, Jr., of the Norfolk County schools was on campus today to interview seniors who will be graduating in February.

All seniors should watch Mrs. Watkins' bulletin board for notices concerning those coming from the various county school boards for interviews. The Rotunda tries to publish all notices of coming superintendents, but some may be overlooked.

R.P.I.

At Richmond Professional Institute there are 1.43 boys for every girl, announces the Proscript.

News from all campuses — Read college papers in the Library Reference Room.

Council Is Jr. Favorite

By DEANNE HOGGE

A new member of Longwood's resident staff this fall, who is not really a newcomer at all, is Mrs. Marion E. Council.

She was born in Farmville but is now making her permanent home in Hickory, North Carolina.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Council attended Blackstone Junior College and worked as a medical secretary here in Farmville. It was during this time that she met the construction superintendent of Main Cunningham which was then under construction. And as Cupid did his sabotage, she married this construction engineer. "I'd come over here every Sunday afternoon and pat every little brick . . . never did I realize that I'd ever live here."

After her marriage she moved to Hickory to live but traveled all over the state of North Carolina and parts of South Carolina. In 1940 a blessed event arrived in the form of a blond, blue-eyed baby girl, named Alan, who is now a freshman at Virginia Intermont in Bristol.

During World War II, her husband was under the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers in China assigned to build air bases for B-29 bombers. Her husband died in March 1957.

Staff Photo

MRS. MARION COUNCILL, new Junior Dorm Housemother, busy with duties in home office, always has time for a smile.

"See America First"

Concerning travel, she said that she didn't want to fly or sail, so "see America first" is Mrs. Council's motto. Some of her pasttimes at home in Hickory were gardening and club work.

As for Longwood, she likes her work and appreciates the friendliness and tradition. "The staff," she said, "are awfully fine; very nice to work with."

Socially Speaking . . .

Junior, Brenda Rae Drewry Crowned Queen of Dad's Day

By JACKIE GIBSON

Dad's Day festivities were highlighted by the crowning of the Queen, Brenda Rae Drewry, at half time of the Hampden-Sydney vs. Randolph-Macon Game. Congratulations Brenda Rae!

Congratulations are also due Carole White. Carole received a diamond this weekend from Glenn Kuklewski.

The Hampden-Sydney Kappa Sig's celebrated their 75th Anniversary Friday night with a social hour, banquet, and dance. Attending the celebration were: Beverly Gaskins, Jackie Gibson, Ann Norfleet, Cat Ozmon, Catherine Key, Betty Spivey, Jean Marie Heller, Jo Lynn Holland, Mary Ellen Moore.

Seen in the throng of parents and alumni at the game and parties Saturday were a vast number of Longwood girls.

The Kappa Sig House attracted Beverly Gaskins, Jean Marie Haller, Jackie Gibson, Dottie Morris, Norma Redmon, Kitty Good, Christine Jones, Brenda Parsley.

Dancing to the combo at the KA House were seen Janet Wainwright Carolyn Bassford, Melissa Rowe, Nancy Lechler, Judy Welch, Bev Kersey, Pat Barrow, Ellen Trader, Mary Ellen O'Conner, Lois Johnson, Maryanna Overholt, Beretta Yeoman, Peggy Mullin, Joann Kleinecke, Dottie Nelson, Bettie Lockridge, LaVerne Collier, Judy Anfin, Bobbyee Bolster, Gloria Jean Dancy, Carolyn Rancorn, Archer Cassada, Linda Sullivan, Pooh Butterworth, Betty Patterson, Page Davis.

Seen congratulating Brenda Rae at the Pi Kappa Alpha House were Betty Jane Allgood, Pat O'Neil, Shelia Galloway, Alice Layne, Dottie Gills, Gretchen Zimmerman, Julie Hollyfield, Lee Page, Betty Chappell, Judy Jones, Sandra Wise Peggy Green, Betsy Wilson.

The Sigma Chi's entertained Miriam Lambiotte, Margaret Lacy Rita St. John, Evelyn Adams, Janet Stanley, Sue O'Horce, Shirley Day

Those who were undecided and thought they would visit all the fraternity parties were Jane Martin, Kay Howard, Peggy Heasley, Cherron Kelly, Carolyn Elliott, Linda Poff, Betty Jones, Kitty Reid, Judy Robertson, Anne Yinger, Elizabeth Dozier, Emily Shelton, Jean Rahn, Shirley Harman, Bunnie Herget, Patsy Carr, Carol Barnes, Mary Shumate, Merle Holladay, Liz Deichmann, Lois Peters, Sue Johnson, Sandie Farish, Mary Barker, Mary Elmore, Lynne Davenport, Ginny Whipple, Windy Warren, Betsy Kelsey, Betty Dawson, Elaine Stein, Susan Eddy, Carolyn Grinstead, Ann Allen, Charlotte Haile, Lois Ashworth, Judy Corse, Patsy Skellie, Suzanne Gramme, Ann Bass, Shirley Powell, Nan McLaughlin, Sue Snarp, Maxine Lewis, Mary Micou, Joan Verlander, Katie Fulton, Betty Wood, Trina Childress, Jackie Poole, Janet Gardy.

Jazz, Parties At U. Va.

The Four Freshman and Dave Brubeck were at Virginia for openings this weekend. Traveling to Charlottesville for the Virginia vs. N. C. game, dances, and parties were Nancy Pretty, Sally Myers, Hannah White, Jo Savage, Julia Houser, Bobby Mohr, Ellen Grady, Becky Cary, Pat Hampton, Laura Butler, Jeanette Townsend, Pat Yeatman, Kathryn Hubbard, Julie Thomas, Ann Barnes, Jane Freeman, Betty Byer, Sarah Lampton, Becky Wooldridge, June Elmore, Joanne Hartman, Nancy Caudill, Betsy Neal, Mary Lee Jones, Norrish Munson, Burks Keith, Linda Doles, Barbara Hurst, Betty Spivey, LeNola Johnson, Natalie Tudor.

W and L Homecoming

At Washington and Lee for Homecoming this weekend were Cherry Gorham, Ann Scott, Annie Lee Young, Carolyn Axsom, Sue Benton, Sue Caravella, Gwen Self.

Around About

Cheering the Cadets at V.P.I. were Pat Stout, Page Landers, Katherine Wallace, Mary Flowers, Norma Wilson, Barbara Simpkins, Bonnie Irby, Arlene Johnston, Edith Darden.

Sue Humphries was with a Cadet too but he was a V.M.I. cadet cheering at the V.M.I. Game.

Cora Straughn traveled to Princeton University in New Jersey for a party week end.

Sue Gosnell, Gin Kuyk, and Mabie Healy went to Williamsburg for parties at William and Mary.

Church News

By ANN GLOVER

Episcopal

This Sunday night Vespers will be held in the Episcopal Church. Following Vespers, slides will be shown in the Parish House on the Lambeth Conference held this summer in England.

November 22, Canterbury is planning a hayride with a picnic supper afterward in the Longwood Cabin. Watch the wires for the sign-up sheet.

Baptist

Forty-five B.S.U'ers attended the convention in Charlottesville the first week end in November.

For our home missions project a group is going to McGuire Hospital in Richmond to present a program the 19th of November. Last year a group went down and this year the servicemen asked for another similar program to help brighten their stay in the hospital.

Presbyterian

"Campus Encounter," a new movie produced by the Department of Campus Christian Life on the work of the Church on the campuses, will be shown at Westminster Fellowship November 16. After the evening worship service, a fellowship hour will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. F. R. Crawford.

Bible study is still being held each Wednesday night at 7 at the home of Dottie Hamilton.

Methodist

Many students thoroughly enjoyed the coffee hour last Friday night at the Methodist center. Mr. Helms was the guest speaker.

The Bible Study Conference will begin on Sunday, November 16 and will be held for three successive nights. Dr. R. H. Sales and Rev. Gilbert Cofer will be the guest speakers. Each night the discussion groups will be held at 7:30 in the fellowship room of the Church. All students are cordially invited to come.

—Scott Photo

WHO'S WINNING—Becky Abernathy, Jane Profitt, Cass Connor, Burks Keith, Carol Manly, Archer Cassada, Nadine Dazelle add scores.

Profs, Students Get 'Bowling Bug'

By JOAN HEAVYSIDE and ELSIE DICK

The "Bowling Bug" on campus has introduced a new atmosphere into the experiences of many Longwood girls. Upon joining a tenpin team, the scene begins to change from the drudgery of books and tests to the lively activities of a bowling alley.

As you pass from the chilly night air through the green swinging doors, there appears an added bounce to the step, and a warm glow inside. The deep thud of a ball is followed by a crash of pins and a delighted response. Through the smoke-filled air can be heard the jazz of the juke box, while the deep laughter of the pin boys mixes with the chatter of people and the jangle of the cash register.

Charlie Hop's There, Too!

Over to the left is Mr. Norman Myers — yes, Longwood's own — posting the men's tenpin scores. Mr. Willie Uhrich, the bowling Arena's owner and "Charlie Hop" greets you with a grin, while Mr. Don Sequin, the manager, who if not giving instructions, may be seen hopping racks after stray bowling balls. All three lend a hand in assigning the alleys and finding those light balls which they dust off very carefully especially for you.

—Scott Photo

THIS IS THE WAY, shows Joan Heavyside to Frieda Hamlet (right) as Elsie Dick (center) demonstrates bowling form.

This Is How . . .

First you change to those red and green shoes with the sizes marked so distinctly on the back. Next to find the right ball; they're all so heavy. Do those pins have to be so far away? Let's see, start on the left foot, right, slide . . . a loud crash as the ball drops and rolls slowly backwards. The gay comments from teammates and opponents bring a mortified blush.

With set mouth and a determined look another attempt is made. Pendulum swing, follow through; it's curving. No, please not in the gutter; no it's going to be a good one. It is a strike! It really, really isn't so hard after all.

Two hours and two games later, you leave the large, brightly lighted room, a little tired from the exercise and a little dizzy from the whirl of bowling jargon, split, strike, turkey whatever that is; but with satisfaction.

Those two games may not have been a perfect 300, but they weren't the worst, either. Something new was attempted, and something new had been accomplished. The feeling of companionship, sportsmanship, and friendly competition linger on until the next time.

Faculty News

Dr. Francis G. Lankford, Longwood College President, will serve on a committee which will survey school building needs in Danville November 13-14.

Dr. and Mrs. Lankford and Mr. Rae Mercheat, director of public relations will attend a tea November 15 given by the Winchester Chapter of the Longwood Alumnae Association.

Lee Keith Wilson, Dean of Women, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brooks will journey to the annual convention of the Southern College Personnel Association in Washington, D. C. November 1-18. Schools from approximately 15 southern states will send delegates to this, the ninth conference.

Miss Mary Nichols, associate professor of English, and Dr. Francis Simkins, professor of history, attended a tea given by the Washington - Arlington Longwood Alumnae Association in Arlington Saturday, November 8.

Sororities Extend Bids For Fall Rush

Twenty-seven girls pledged social sororities last Thursday, November 6, in fall rush. Six of the eight sororities gave bids.

Those pledged by Alpha Sigma Alpha were Liz Fentress and Chris Kennen.

Delta Zeta received Bobbie Bolster, Barbara Ann Bunch, Helen Gray Garter, Iris Hines, Page Landers, Lucy Oliver, Maryanna Overholt, Lee Paige, and Janet Wainwright.

Mary Pem Lewis, Barbara Railey, Sarah Rock, and Hannah White were pledged by Kappa Delta.

Those receiving Pi Kappa Sigma bids were Evelyn Adams, Carol Boley, Anne Clark, Nancy Lee Cole, and Mary Ellen O'Conner.

Sigma Sigma Sigma pledged Ann Coleman, Nancy Inge, Liz Johnson, Becky McGrath, and Beedee Slaton.

Jean Dancy and Katherine Walker pledged Theta Sigma Upsilon.

Listening At Longwood

Program To Feature Leake's Trip

By SANDRA WEAVER

Every Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 classical strains of music can be heard echoing throughout the halls of Longwood College, for one minute later the words, "And now Station WFLO brings you 'Listening At Longwood,'" will come over the air, and everyone will relax, put away their homework, and listen to the latest news from Longwood.

This series of programs, which is conducted through the Longwood Players as a radio workshop, highlights various activities around school for the students and faculty. The topics for the programs usually center around interviews of such things as Circus, the hockey team, and informal interviews after hours in the dormitories.

Miss Anna Katherine Applegate, sponsor of the program, says that they have made plans to cover most of the activities around school by the end of the year. There will be no programs during Thanksgiving vacation, but they soon hope to cover the swimming pageant and the Spanish Fiesta.

Miss Applegate accredits all of the show's success to the students themselves. One in particular is Norrish Munson, the show's announcer. "Norrish is just wonderful. She works so hard, and is really the backbone of the show," is the way Miss Applegate put it.

Anyone can work with the program if they would like to. The main qualification is interest, and the next is persistence. It takes a great deal of hard work to put out a good show, but it is worth it at the end, so anyone who is interested can just see Miss Applegate or Norrish.

If there is anyone who does not want to work with the program, but would like to give some helpful suggestions or criticisms, they will be more than welcome. Miss Applegate feels that it is the students' show and they must be the ones to make the comments.

Today's Show

This afternoon Helen Gray Garter, Garnet Smith, and Charter Wells, the three leads in "Pygmalion," were interviewed.

Preview

Next week, Pat Leake will be the radio personality of the week, during which her trip to England will be discussed, so be sure to tune in to Station WFLO at 4 p.m. for an enjoyable fifteen minutes.

From The Gridiron Bleachers

By JACKIE WALLER

Here I am, back from the weekend gridiron with events both exciting and surprising!

Closest home, Hampden-Sydney, with Brenda Rae Drewry reigning as Queen of their annual Dad's Day celebration was upset by Randolph-Macon 23-20. This was the championship match for Mason-Dixon Conference play. The most exciting play of the game was Tiger Bill Benson's 85 yard TD run on the game's first play. In the third quarter, the Tigers almost evened things up as Marshal Ebert recovered a fumble which three plays later became a six-pointer. Failure to get the two extra points was one of the differences in the score. Randolph-Macon outwitted the Tigers statistics-wise and as the Bengal's coach, Bob Thalman said, "They played a real fine game and deserved to win."

North Carolina's Tarheels took their sixth win in succession as hapless Virginia bowed its lowly head 42-0. The shutout was the second straight for Virginia and their seventh loss in eight games.

Davidson wrecked William and Mary's homecoming 1-7. Late in the game William and Mary's offense started to click but time had run out and nothing came of it.

V.P.I. came from behind three times to take the U. of Richmond 27-23. The Spiders recovered five Tech fumbles, intercepted three Tech passes and led at 7-0, 15-7, 15-13, and 21-19. Billy Holsclaw, big man for the Gobblers, broke the conference total offense record for a single season midway in the second quarter.

V.M.I. extended its unbeaten streak to 18 as underrated Lehigh stopped the Keydets 7-7. Here and there Lehigh showed offense but mostly their game was a defensive one.

West Virginia and Penn State tied 14-14. Mounty Quarterback Dick Longfellow led his cohorts from a deficit twice to gain a tie.

Sewanee spoiled homecoming for Washington and Lee 12-0. It was Cy Young Day at Lexington and unbeaten Sewanee took their ninth win in a row.

Navy rolled over Maryland 40-14 as Joe Motalavage, sophomore fullback, scored two touchdowns.

The University of South Carolina outclassed Furman 32-7. The Gamecocks used 70, 69, and 44 yard drives for touchdowns.

Clemson lost to Georgia Tech 13-0 in a great running exhibition by

Continued on page 4

Did You Know?

By MATTIE BLEWETT

Pen worded? .

—on a cool fall day in 1920 V. M. I. beat the illustrious Hampden-Sydney eleven 136-0?

—the administration, faculty, and student body use an average of three quarts of ink each week?

—nine out of ten overweight girls are more jolly than girls who are slim and petite? The more the merrier!

—Gut this is Mattie Blewett?

Mayo is an apartment for rent in the back room of Ruffner? That's what the sign says.

The new beds mean a total of 330 alarm clocks? Think what a conference sound would be produced if they all rang out their morning concertos at the same time?

A medley of two brilliant freshmen class, as a promising duet. She recently developed a new type of sandwich. The ingredients are two pieces of bread, peanut butter, mayonnaise, and luscious dill pickles!

—some good can be found in everyone?

—that's all?

Classes Practice For Intramurals

Class competition for the much sought after "color cup" will begin when the "sister classes" met on the athletic field on November 17.

However, the color cup will not be the only goal attained by these games. Their main purpose is to encourage sportsmanship, cooperation, and teamwork among the classes. This competition boosts the college spirit as well as class spirit.

Anyone is eligible who: attends eight practices takes hockey as a seasonal sport, or takes Freshman Physical Education.

Practices are on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 3 and 4 p.m., and on Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p.m.

Attendance at the games is encouraged from members of all the

HEY KIDS!
Meet Your Friends
at
THE SNACK
in
Main Rec or Senior Rec

HEADQUARTERS
for —stationery
—candy
also visit
THE SODA FOUNTAIN
—at—
J. J. NEWBERRY'S

Compliments of
WILSON'S HOME AND AUTO SUPPLY
TEN TOP TUNES
1. It's All In the Game
2. Rockin' Robin
3. Susie Darlin'
4. Tears On My Pillow
5. Nil Blue Dipinto di Blu
6. Tea for Two Cha Cha
7. Topsy II
8. You Cheated
9. Little Star
10. Chantilly Lace

Boxwood Tourist Court
and Restaurant
Three Miles South of
Farmville on Rt. 15
Phone 3027-5

GIRLS—
MARTIN THE JEWELER
has a complete stock of circle pins
in gold or silver fill
$1.20

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE MARK. COPYRIGHT © 1958 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Rara Avis

It's a rare bird indeed who doesn't care for the good taste of Coke! In fact, you might even call him an odd ball. After all, 58 million times a day somebody, somewhere, enjoys Coca-Cola. All these people just can't be wrong!

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

—Staff Photo

FROM NEW JERSEY TO FLORIDA migrate (front row) Anne Yinger, Betsey Kelsey, Patti Roach, Susan Stalnaker, Linda Reeser; (second row) Nancianne Frye, Judy Welch, Lou Booth, Judy Eckstrom, Helen Brown, Sue Caravalla, Agnes Lee Lowry; (back row) Dottie Gills, Mary Leach Elmore, Becky Tuck, Bobby Koons, Sarah Lampton, Wilma Lee Shaffer, Gloria Gardner, and Sue Blair.

State School Boasts Of Many Students Ranging From East Coast To California

All Select Longwood For Friendly Spirit

By PAT RODENHIZER

There are approximately thirty out-of-state students attending Longwood this year from as far north as New Jersey to Southern Florida and as far west as California.

Since Longwood is a state-supported college, most of its students are from Virginia and, besides its academic standing, one of the main reasons many students come here is because of its ideal location.

From nearby North Carolina, Mary Leach Elmore, of Charlotte, says, "I visited here on a college week end and was so impressed that I had to come."

Other fellow North Carolinians here are: Mrs. Barbara Daniel Bunch, from Roanoke Rapids; sophomores, Sally Thomas from Milton, and Judie Welch; and freshman Becky Tuck, of Greensboro, and Gloria Gardener, a senior, from Lewisburg.

Only one student hails from South Carolina and that is Helen Brown, of Walterboro.

Kay Howard, class of '61, claims Georgia as her home state. Kay, who formerly lived at Arlington, visited here when her sister was attending, and was so impressed with the friendliness that she decided to attend. Charles McClung, a day student, is from Felton, Georgia.

Sunshine State Students

From the "Sunshine State" (Florida) hail two Longwood students. Freshman Sue Caravella, from Tampa, says she heard about Longwood from Nancianne Frye (a sophomore from Mulberry) and since she wanted to be a teacher and knew Longwood was highly recommended as a teachers' college, she decided to come. When asked how she liked it now, Sue exclaimed, "I love it!"

Longwood claims eight West Virginia students. Susan Stalnaker, a freshman from Weston, says that she was talked into coming here by her cousin, Dean Boggs. Others are Sue Ann Blair, a junior from Gary; and sophomores, Dotty Gills, Sarah Lampton, Susan Price, Wilma Shaffer, and senior Margaret Harris, of Bluefield.

Agnes Lee Lowry, a senior, is from Winchester, Kentucky, and way out west as Nancy Miller, a junior, from Phoenix, Arizona.

From the mid-west comes Bobby Koons, a sophomore from Hines, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago. Bobby, who formerly lived in Richmond, said, "I just had to come back to Longwood because I hated to leave all my friends here."

Judy Eckstrom, a senior formerly of Roanoke, now lives in Kansas City, Missouri. Judy returned because she has only one more year and if she had transferred she would have probably lost credits and might not be able to graduate in June, and "besides," said Judy, "I hated to leave so many good friends."

California Or Bust

"California, here I come," will probably be the well-heard expression of three Longwood students. Seniors Bet and Fran McLoughlin, formerly of Richmond, now live in Fullerton, a suburb of Los Angeles. Fran said that she and Bet had only one more year and they didn't want to lost credits by transferring. However, their main reason for returning is the fact that they hated to leave Longwood. Peggy Lovic, formerly of Portsmouth, has recently also changed her address to California.

Yankees, Too!

From north of the Mason-Dixon Line come five students. Jane Crowl, a sophomore from Centerville, Maryland, states that she visited here and liked it better than the other colleges at home and it offered better business courses. Also from Maryland are Nancy Crockett, a junior from Marion Station; Mrs. Linda Coffman Hardy, of Silver Springs; and Dottie Harrison, from Westminster.

From Pennsylvania comes Linda Kay Resser, of Shillington. Linda said that whenever her family went to visit her grandparents who lived in North Carolina, they would pass Longwood and she was so impressed with the beauty of the college that she decided to attend.

Chris Kamen, a sophomore formerly of Richmond, hails from Somerdale, New Jersey, now. Chris says, "Longwood offered everything I wanted: wonderful friends, and a cheerful atmosphere."

Judy Harris, a sophomore, is from Hillsdale, New Jersey.

—Staff Photo

OTHER OUT OF STATERS include (front row) Chris Kamen, Fran and Bet McLoughlin, Dot Harrison; (back row) Sue Price, Judy Harris, Kay Howard, Jane Crowl, and Carolyn Crockett.

Mr. Charles H. Patterson is the general supervisor of the elementary and off-campus student teaching. Dr. Edgar Johnson is the general supervisor of secondary education.

A proud, though somewhat addled, mother was heard boasting: "My daughter graduated from Vassar quo vadis."

—Readers' Digest

Seniors Begin, End Roanoke Stay

"Ring out the old; Ring in the new" could be the motto of the seniors taking part in practice teaching work.

Seniors are completing or will do their student teaching in the Prince Edward County schools and in Roanoke. Some have finished their first nine weeks and others are beginning their nine weeks, while there are some seniors who are teaching the entire semester.

Taking the places vacated by their predecessors at the training school are Emma Gardner, Dottie Cothern, Mary E. Moore, Nancy Knowles, Linda Fleshman, Charlotte Simms, Jerrye Edwards and Alice Cheatwood.

Roanoke Bound

Student teaching in Roanoke in the elementary schools the second nine weeks are Doris Ayers, Jo Lynn Holland, Elizabeth Culpepper, Betty Rawls, Betty Spivey, Virginia Kuyk, Jean Turner, Jo Ann Sloop, Jo Bailey, Ginny Price, Connie Levinson, June Lee May and Joann Fivel.

The seniors who are doing their practice teaching in Roanoke the second nine weeks in secondary education are Melinda Franklin, Barbara Gamage, Octavia Loftin, Virginia Shelton, Emily Johnson, Patricia Areford, Lynn McDade, Eleanor Gurganus, Gloria Gardner, Henrietta Dollins, Burks Keith, Sylvia Bivens, Joan Heavyside, Ann Glover, Patricia Roach, Sylvia Wilmoth, Betty Griggs, Iris Hines, Shirley Lucy, Hilda Thompson, Carole Manley, Jane Proffitt, Della Higgins and Sarah Hastings.

Those teaching the entire first semester at the training school in physical education are Barbara Staton, Sue Rawlings, Gayle Cunningham, J. Fore, Nancy Andrews, Louise Heier, Sandy Sandidge, Ruth Rainey Cowan, and Joyce Tharrington. Mary Lou Morgan is teaching P.E. at Rice Elementary School and Patsy Campbell is teaching P.E. at John Randolph.

Thirty-one Longwood students are doing practice teaching in twelve fields of subject matter at the Farmville High School. They are as follows: Nancy Andrews, Betty Sue Barbee, Donna Boone, Claudette Cooper, Gayle Cunningham, Delores Dove, Nancy George, Paul Gilliam, Lou Gray, Shirley Grizzard, Louise Heier, Shirley Howard, Barbara Hurst, Mary Helen Jones, Margaret Layman, Pat Leake, Betty McClenny, Mrs. Helen McCraw, Elizabeth McLoughlin, Violet Moore, Jane Kell Newbill, Barbara Purks, Ernestine Stoltz, Willie Taylor, Pat Turner, Carole Vick, Jackie Waller, Hardy Williams, Molly Workman and Mrs. Juanita Yates.

Two of our seniors are teaching at Worsham High School. They are Mrs. Frances Moore and Barbara Purks.

Gridiron

(Continued from page 3)

the Techmen Clemson aiming for the ACC title, was handicapped by star quarterback Harvey White's ankle injury. His timing, especially in passing, seemed off.

Vanderbilt and Kentucky played to a scoreless tie in a rainy Southeastern Conference battle. Neither team forced the other to at goal line stand.

Florida, almost upset, barely eked a 7-6 victory from Georgia. It was the Gator's 142 pound sparkplug, Jimmy Dunn, who ran 76 yards for the touchdown.

An Air Force field goal helped nip Denver 10-7. It was kicked by George Pupich with a mere two minutes game time remaining. The Falcons are still undefeated.

Iowa won a trip to the Rose Bowl and the Big Ten Championship as it whipped winless Minnesota 28-6. This is their second crown in three years.

Brown surprised Cornell with a 12-8 victory which flattened up the grid race in the Ivy League.

Oklahoma zeroed Iowa State 20-0 as the Aggies recovered two fumbles to score for the big margin.

A 26-yard pass was the big difference as Texas eked Texas A&M 7-6 to remain the Williams Th over the Ray Ter Bears. Final score: Texas 20 Border 18.

Army took Rice 19-6 on a blind 14-seconds remaining touchdown pass. The Cadets are ranked No. 3 in the nation.

Pittsburgh edged Notre Dame in the last 11 seconds to hand the 29-26 upset victory.

Other scores from various sections: Penn over Princeton 20-12; Harvard 19-0 over Yale; Dartmouth 19-7 over Cornell; Texas A and M 7-6 over Rice; Colgate defeated Northwestern 14-6; Purdue tied Ohio State 7-7 to eliminate both of them from the Big Ten race; Indiana stopped Michigan State 6-0; California nipped U.C.L.A. 20-7. It was Oregon 17, Stanford 0 in a Pacific Coast Conference game. Southern Cal whipped Washington 21-6. The Citadel romped over Furman 38-6 and Wyoming walloped Colorado 39-7. Illinois 6, Wisconsin 0. A late trapped punt over the Nittany

WALKER'S
DINNERS
PARTIES
Private Dining Room
by Reservation
BURKEVILLE, VA.
Telephone 3280

Do You Think for Yourself? (SEE WHAT THIS TEST TELLS YOU ABOUT YOURSELF! *)

Would you turn down an unusual opportunity if it would alter a preconceived plan for the future? YES ☐ NO ☐

Do you instinctively feel a qualm when you walk under a ladder? YES ☐ NO ☐

Do you feel your education would suffer if books and notes were allowed at examinations? YES ☐ NO ☐

When introduced to important people, do you act a role which is quite different from the real you? YES ☐ NO ☐

Do you think that a public official should do what the voters want him to do, even though he personally may feel it is wrong? YES ☐ NO ☐

If someone wanted to hypnotize you, would you refuse to let him try? YES ☐ NO ☐

Can you honestly say you enjoy a game or sport as much whether you win or lose? YES ☐ NO ☐

Would you feel that you should leave a formal affair if you found you were wearing clothes that were different from everybody else's? YES ☐ NO ☐

Familiar pack or crush-proof box.

Do you let other people tell you what filter cigarette is best for you, rather than making up your own mind? YES ☐ NO ☐

The fact is, men and women who make up their own minds—who think for themselves—usually smoke VICEROY. Their reason? Best in the world. They know only VICEROY has a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

If you have answered "NO!" to six of the above questions—you are a man who thinks for himself!

©1958, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

The Man Who Thinks for Himself Knows — ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER . . . A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!

The Rotunda

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., November 19, 1958 | No. 8

Annual "Who's Who" Recognizes 17 Seniors

Seventeen seniors have been selected to represent Longwood College in the 1958-59 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Their names will appear in this publication along with others from colleges and universities all over the United States.

The selection of the girls, which was based upon scholarship, leadership in extra-curricular activities, and promise of future usefulness, was announced at dinner last Thursday, November 13, by Dean Earl R. Boggs.

Nancy Andrews, Donna Boone, Dottie Boswell, Vicki Brinkley, Nancy Brubeck, Minnie Lee Dean, Linda Doles, Delores Dove, Louise Heier, Elizabeth McLoughlin, Louise "Weedie" Norman, Barbara Odom, Catherine Ozmon, Lillian Rosson, Betty Spivey, Molly Workman, and Helen Jean Young were selected from lists of nominees made by both student and faculty committees. The number of students picked is based upon the enrollment of the college.

Nancy Andrews

"Drawers" Andrews, a physical education major from Roanoke, is a member of the H2O Club, having served as assistant chairman of the 1957 water pageant. This year she is president of Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority, a member of the Cotillion Club, the Monogram Club, the varsity hockey team, and winner of a white blazer.

Donna Boone

Dramatics is the forte of Donna Boone, an English major from Marion. She is a member of Longwood Players; French Club; Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic fraternity; and Alpha Kappa Gamma, having served as general chairman of Circus this fall. Last fall she was a recipient of a "Little Oscar" award given by the Longwood Players because of her dramatic ability.

Dottie Boswell

Dottie Boswell, an elementary major from Stafford, has been Assistant Business Manager and Business Manager of the Virginian and was freshman and sophomore House President for her class. A member of Pi Delta Epsilon and Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority, this year Dottie was co-chairman of the senior Circus stunt and was tapped for AKG membership.

Vicki Brinkley

Another "Little Oscar" winner, Vicki Brinkley, who is an English major from Suffolk, is a member of Longwood Players and Sigma Sigma Sigma. Last year she had a major role in "The Lady's Not for Burning," and she served as technical director of "Pygmalion."

Nancy Brubeck

From Staunton comes Colonnade Editor, Nancy Brubeck, an English major. Having served on Freshman Commission her freshman year, she has been a member of the "Y" Cabinet, Cotillion Club, Alpha Psi Omega, and was president of the Longwood Players last year. She is also senior representative to Student Government.

Minnie Lee Dean

Minnie Lee Dean, an elementary major from Radford, is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority and a senior class representative to Student Government. This year she is president of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national leadership society.

Linda Doles

Rotunda Editor - in - chief, Linda Doles is an English and social studies major from Zuni. Tapped this fall for Alpha Kappa Gamma membership, she is also a member of Beorc Eh Thorn, honorary English society; Cotillion Club; treasurer of Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism society; vice-president of the Va. Intercollegiate Press Association, and Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honorary fraternity.

Delores Dove

Delo Dove, president of the Athletic Association, is a biology major from Fieldale. Recipient of a white blazer this fall, she was treasurer of the A.A. her sophomore year and this fall was selected to play in the Southeast Hockey Tournament. She is also a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, the Cotillion Club, and Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority.

Lou Heier

Another Southeast hockey player and white blazer owner is Lou Heier, physical education major from Warwick. Vice-president of the A.A., she has played

(Continued on page 4)

—H. C. Owen

WHO'S WHO? Front, Vicki Brinkley, Betty Spivey; (second row) Lou Heier, Weedie Norman, Donna Boone, Molly Workman, Linda Doles; (standing) Lillian Rosson, Helen J. Young, Minnie L. Dean, Nancy Andrews, Delo Dove, Bet McLoughlin, Nancy Brubeck, Barbara Odom. Not shown, Dot Boswell, Cat Ozmon.

Frosh To Hop At Rec Combo

The Freshman Hop will be held on Saturday night from 8:00 to 12:00 with Bill LittleJohn's Combo providing the music.

Students have been invited from Randolph - Macon, University of Richmond, University of Virginia, V.M.I. and Hampden-Sydney.

Chaperones for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, and Mr. and Mrs. Merritt.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Merchent will also attend the dance. Mr. Merchent is advisor for the Cotillion Club.

Pan Hel, Cotillion To Host

Officers of the Cotillion Club and Panhellenic Council will be hostesses. They are Cat Ozman, Annis Norfleet, Barbara Bishop, Jo Ann Kleinecke, Cass Connor and Ernestine Stoltz.

Anne Keziah, Barbara Ensmann, Betty Maynard, Peggy Harris, and Mary Ellen Moore will also be hostesses.

Dress is informal. The admission is free. This is the first dance of this type to be held. All Freshmen are invited.

State Shows 'Henry V' Now

Laurence Olivier's two hour and 16 minute production of "Henry V" begins its limited engagement tonight at the State Theatre and plays through tomorrow night.

The production is an authentic reinactment of one of the earliest performances of Shakespeare's play, transferred into the panorama of the twentieth century superscopic technicolor screen.

Drama With Humor, Love

The movie which was produced, directed, and starred in by Olivier, is the story of England and her king, Henry V. It is an intricately woven drama of historical facts, love, humor, and adventure.

The first part of the movie is seen as an Elizabethan audience would have witnessed it on the traditional ancient stage. Then the action switches from the Globe Theatre in London, 1599, during the forty-one year reign of Queen Elizabeth I, to Southampton, 1415, during the third year of King Henry V's reign. As the movie progresses, the seige of Harfleur, the court of France at Rouen, and battlefield of Agencourt dominate the action. Then the scene comes back to the Globe Theatre, 1599, and the audience sees the completion of the Elizabethan drama.

Appearing with Olivier are: Renee Asherson as Princess Katherine; Esmond Knight as Fluellen; Leo Genn as the Constable of France; and Felix Aylmer as the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Grade Estimates

Freshmen and transfer students will receive fall grade estimates from their advisors between 1 and 2 p.m. tomorrow, November 20. Upperclassmen will get their estimates in their mail boxes.

Longwood, W&L to Combine To Give Christmas Concert

The Longwood College Choir is again planning the Annual Christmas Concert to be given Sunday afternoon, Dec. 14, at 3 p.m.

To Sing "Messiah"

This year the Washington and Lee University Glee Club will join the choir here in the concert, singing the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah." The Longwood Choir will also be guests at Washington and Lee for a similar performance.

The following is the tentative program:

Longwood Choir: Hodie Christus Natus Est, Sweelinck; Jesu Bambino, Yon; Slumber Song of the Madonna, Head; A Ceremony of Carols, Britten; and two selections by the Longwood Madrigal Singers.

Washington and Lee Glee Club: Cantate Comino, Hasler; Jesu Dulcis, Vittoria; My Lord, What A Morning, Spiritual; I Heard Along Our Street, Old French Carol; and Der Herr Segne Euch, Bach. The program will be concluded with the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah."

Molnar Comments On Music

"Good music is not for pure entertainment. The listener must give something to it himself in order to get anything out of it." This was the comment of Dr. John Molnar, director of the choir, with regard to the program now being prepared for this concert.

Many students have questioned the type of music presented by the choir during the previous years as not being as entertaining as it might be. Dr. Molnar commented upon this query by saying that the students should be interested enough to know what really fine music is like, "If they don't get it in college, where else will they find it?

Little Singers Of Paris Story Is Heartwarming Experience

Abraham Lincoln stood on a stump and announced that he would one day be president of the United States. His friends laughed. A small French waif stood in the streets of Paris and announced that he would one day meet the President of the United States. His friends laughed, too. And yet, The Little Singers of Paris have in their home a picture of this boy and twenty-nine other Little Singers with President Eisenhower.

To Appear Here soon

The thirty boys whom we shall see and hear in Jarman Hall on November 24 are the Little Singers of Paris, a singing example of opportunity—a French boy may cease to be a street orphan and become an entertainer of presidents.

Heartwarming Story

The story of The Little Singers is heart-warming and amazing. Each year over two hundred French boys come to Paris to take the entrance exam hoping that they will be one of the thirty who are admitted for a six months trial period. These boys come from all over France. They are usually poor; however, selection is not based on wealth but on voice, scholastic standing, and character.

At the end of the trial period, fifteen boys are chosen as permanent members of "Les Petits Chanteiurs a la Croix de Bois." These boys are given their robes and accepted as members of The Little Singers in an impressive ceremony, "The Donning of the Alb."

As members of The Little Singers, the boys receive their clothes, meals, and education free of charge. Aside from their studies they spend three hours each day in choral singing. Since each song is rendered in its original language, these young men, who range in age from ten to sixteen, learn to sing in twenty languages other than their native French.

Monsignor Fernand Maillet, their director, and his staff live, study, and sing with the boys.

Six to eight months of each year are spent touring France and the rest of the world presenting their programs of old and new, foreign and familiar, religious and secular music. When touring France, they travel in a private bus. On trips abroad they travel by ship or plane. In 1947, they sang the first mass ever held in an airplane flying over the Atlantic Ocean.

MagazineFeatures Article By Simkins

Francis B. Simkins, professor of history and social sciences, speaks on "Unchanging White Supremacy" in the November issue of Current History, a magazine published in Philadelphia.

Says Dr. Simkins: "In this article I have tried to demonstrate that national patriotism is not in conflict with regional loyalties and that the acceptance of imported ideas in literature, education and industry has not altered sectional attitudes."

He spoke recently at the Virginia Union University before the Association for the Study of Negro History on "The Tasks of Negro History." He commented that the color line needs explanation as does the education given the slave.

Seniors Select "Winter Twilight"

Beedie Staton Plans For Dec. 13 Dance

"Winter Twilight" is the theme selected by the Senior class for their annual Christmas dance being held December 13, from 8 to 12 p.m. in the Longwood College gymnasium.

Winter Wonderland

Light to deeper shades of red, unveiling from a sunset amidst twinkling, falling snow, will carry out the theme of the dance to be set in the traditional winter wonderland.

Senior Barbara Staton, who transferred last year from Stratford Junior College in Danville, is serving as Chairman of the dance. Barbara, a physical education major, is a member of Cotillion Club, and Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority.

Acting as chairmen of various committees are: Mary Ellen Moore, decoration; Nancy Knowles, publicity; Julia Gray Wallace, favors; Cat Ozman, music; Nancy Andrews, tickets; Cass Conner, invitations; Jackie Waller, programs; Charlotte McGee, clean-up; Joan Lee Thomas, party after dance and Ann Glover, business manager.

Party At Longwood Estate

Attired in white gowns, the seniors will present a figure during the dance. Afterwards they will attend a party at Longwood Estate with their dates.

During the intermission at the dance the Freshmen Commission will act as hostesses and serve refreshments.

Tickets priced at $2.40 per couple will go on sale the week before the dance. They may be purchased from any of the committee chairmen at this time.

The band and chaperones for the dance will be announced later, after selection.

—H. C. Owen

SENIOR DANCE COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN making plans for "Winter Twilight," Dec. 13, are (seated) Joan L. Thomas, Beedie Staton, Nancy Andrews, Jackie Waller, Mary E. Moore; (standing) Ann Glover, Nancy Knowles, Ann Keziah, Charlotte McGhee. Not shown, Julia G. Wallace, Cass Connor.

Hostess Praises Students

(Ed.'s Note: The following letter was received last week by Miss Ruth Wilson, Dean of Women. The girls mentioned had been living in the Turner home while student teaching in Roanoke the past nine weeks. With its few words this letter recognizes two girls who were representing their entire college.)

Dear Miss Wilson,

There is so much publicity given the bad things young people do today that I would like to take this opportunity to tell you about the good ones.

It has been my privilege having two wonderful girls, Peggy Harris and Marilyn King, in my home for the past nine weeks. They were considerate, co-operative, helpful, and a pleasure at all times.

If they are examples of Longwood girls, then I am sure my own daughter has chosen the right college for herself.

Thanks for the loan of two excellent future teachers. I am looking forward to the next two.

Sincerely,
Mrs. W. C. Turner, Jr.

Thoughts For Thanksgiving

What Is Education?

Not training. The first reason for getting an education is not to do something, but to be something. Man is more than an economic unit, a bit of a machine. To insist that education exists to prepare us for a job destroys education. It isn't even practical to train men in the "how" of life and forget the "what" and "why."

Not adjustment. The stone makes a perfect adjustment to the bottom of a muddy river, but men aren't stones. Men are created by God to shape the world, to influence it, and not to be themselves shaped and influenced into thoughtless, lifeless conformists. Education that does not increase dis-satisfaction is bad education.

Education is the dynamic, challenging process by which we pass on our culture (the ideas, means and goals which make human beings and human society truly human) and the process by which we constantly evaluate everything we do.

—Christ the King Foundation

Timely Topics

By PATSY POWELL

Movie actor, Tyrone Power, was stricken November 15, by a heart attack while on location for his latest movie in Madrid, Spain. The 45-year-old actor was filming "Solomon and Sheba" with Italian actress Gina Lollobrigida.

Russia has surprised the Allies by the proposal of an international treaty to prevent planes from carrying nuclear weapons over the territory of other countries and the high seas. This came during the current disarmament talks at Geneva.

President Eisenhower will leave Washington tomorrow or Friday for a ten-day vacation mixed with work. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower will visit one of their favorite retreats, the Augusta National Golf Club, Augusta, Georgia.

Last week's dramatic mass resignation of the Little Rock, Arkansas School Board, has opened the way for voters to express their current sentiment on school integration. They will choose from among the candidates in about three weeks. Recently, Little Rock voters have approved segregation and closed schools, rather than integration.

According to current news, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts is leading the race for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination. Following Kennedy are Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, a close second, Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, Adlai E. Stevenson, and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 20, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 168.

Linda Doles ..... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors:
Net McLoughlin, Patsy Powell

Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Judy Eckstrom ..... News Editor
Henrietta Dolina ..... Feature Editor
Violet Stoll ..... Sports Editor
Virginia Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Anne B. Pierson ..... Photography
Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Lou Gray, Becky Parker ..... Advertising Managers
Miss Mary P. Nichols ..... Faculty Advisor

(Unsigned editorials written by the editor)

Member: Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press (Rating first class), Columbia Scholastic Press Association (Rating first place), Intercollegiate Press

NEWS STAFF: Cheryl Lenthan, Assistant News Editor; Joann Kleinecke, Assistant Feature Editor; Chris Ramien, Assistant Sports Editor; Jo Ann Parsons, Assistant Desk Editor; Cartoonist, Jackie Wilson; Ann Glover, Cat Ormon, Pat Leake, Jo Lew Wilson, Photographers; Mercedes Bradley, Reporter; Pat Satterfield, Home Economics Reporter; Lucy Garrett, Librarian Representative; Betsy Edmonds, Agnes Massie, Phi Sigma Zeta; Phi Sigma Sigma Women Mary Shafer, Bonnie Gardner, Mary L. Wilson, Kathy Hanway, Claudia Wilson, Martha Blewett, Judy Dietrich, Brenda Lassiter, Barbara Hooper, Mary L. Price, Bettie Cothern, Sue Carawan, Sandra Grant, Martha Kinnon.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Dale Preddy, Assistant Manager; Kay Pierce, Arlene McKay, Cass Gunter, Barbara Boatwright, Faye Garrett, Dianne Doughty, Linda Saunders, Honor Mirvanne, Frances Mann, Nancy Lee Cole.

ADVERTISING STAFF: Mary Meredith, Ida Price, Judy Dietrich, Bonnie Bryant, Jeanne Fisher, Mary L. Brooks, Catherine Greenwood, Ann M. Smith, Nancy Brancomer, Nancy Cole, Sandra Grant, Janice Cauley, Brenda Dodson, Judy Jordan.

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress on March 3, 1903. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS BY BIBLER

Church News

Group Outings To Highlight Week End

By SANDIE FARISH

Wednesday Morning Communion

Each Wednesday morning at 7:15, Holy Communion is celebrated for the students and faculty of Longwood. This service is held in the Episcopal Church by the Reverend Jean A. Vache, Chaplain to the Episcopal students of Longwood and Hampden-Sydney.

This mid-week service has been scheduled for the convenience of the students and faculty. Due to the lack of participation in the service this year, discontinuance is being considered; and only through your attendance and need can it be continued.

Many students are not aware of this service. It is hoped that through this article and the poster reminder on the church bulletin board each week that more students will attend this mid-week celebration.

Presbyterian

This weekend will be a busy one for West-Fellers!

Friday, November 21, starts if off with a hayride—we've got the truck, hay, and food; just bring yourself! We will meet in back of Jarman Hall at 4:45, Friday afternoon. Wear bermudas or similar apparel.

Longwood Estate will be the scene of a pajama party Saturday night. Check with Becky Parker, S. Cunningham 205, for further details. Freshmen attending the Freshman Hop can come out to the Estate after the party.

Sunday night, November 23, the West-Fel Thanksgiving program will be held at Hampden-Sydney. Supper will be served there. Everyone meet in the Rotunda at 5:45 as rides will be furnished.

Episcopal

Council meetings will meet every Tuesday at 4 p.m. Please plan to attend these meetings.

November 22 marks the day of the Canterbury Club hayride and supper at Longwood Estate. We will leave from the Parish House at five and be back by eight in time for the Freshman Hop. There will be a charge of 25 cents. All come!

Next Sunday is the beginning of the Feast of Lights.

Baptist

November 24 marks a special event for all B.S.U.'ers, for that is the day Hazel Moon is coming to speak. Miss Moon is a missionary nurse at the Baptist Dispensary in Iwo, Nigeria, and she will tell us about life in that country and the experiences she has had through her work. All students are invited to join us at the center at 7 p.m., the 24th, and meet Miss Moon.

On Sunday, November 23, the Training Union will have its annual study course at the Baptist Church. Miss Marie Van Lear will speak on the topic, "God Calls Me." The hours will be from 4:15 until 7:30 p.m. Dinner will be served during this time at the cost of 35 cents. Circle this date now and be sure to attend.

Methodist

On November 23 at 7 p.m. the members of the Wesley Foundation Drama Club will present "I Believe in God." The production has as its chairman, Justine Blount. All students are cordially invited to attend.

Dr. Simonini will be the Coffee Hour guest on Friday, November 21. This is an informal hour when the students have a chance to meet informally with faculty members.

There will be no evening program on the Sunday evening following Thanksgiving. However, there will be a fellowship hour at 7:30 in the Student Center.

Campus News

By AGNES MASSIE

V.M.I.

V.M.I. is once again to be the proud possessor of a humor magazine, The Turnout, keeping its same name, will make its debut Thanksgiving in a special Ring Figure Dance issue for the Class of 1960.

On Tuesday, November 11, V.M.I. observed the completion of 119 years service to the state and the nation.

Mary Baldwin

Six Mary Baldwin seniors have been selected to appear in the 1958-59 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

Madison

Last Wednesday Helen Roberts and Richard Walker of Gilbert and Sullivan presented songs and scenes from their famous operas at the Senior Class Day Assembly sponsored by the 1959 Senior Class of Madison College.

Virginia Intermont College

Girls at VI learned the tricks of the trade as Charm Week was held the first week in November.

Lynchburg College

The Little Singers of Paris will appear in E. C. Glass auditorium tonight under the auspices of the Fine Arts Department of Lynchburg College. This famed French Choir will appear at Longwood on November 24.

Did You Know?

By MATTIE BLEWETT

—the alleys behind Tabb and Ruffner have been officially marked as state highways?

—there is a Longwood sticker situated in the South Pole?

—the new television set in the senior building is equipped with directions explaining how to switch it on? Apparently someone underestimated the brightness of our upper classmen!

—one of our southern bred sophomores refers to all monuments to the Union war dead as monuments to the Confederate marksmanship?

—during our recent fire drill, one still frustrated freshman, having had the point about signing out drilled into her head, raced for the Rotunda and her name card when the siren rang?

—there is a lot of food for thought in this old Chinese proverb: "I cried because I had no shoes until I met a man who had no feet?"

—that's all?

'Pygmalion' Scores Hit; Smith Exhibits Talent

By CAROLE WHITE

George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" was presented by the Longwood Players and Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs on November 13, 14, and 15 in Jarman Auditorium.

The audience loved it, as evidenced by the fact that crowds grew bigger on successive nights. The actors were served with appreciative laughter and enthusiastic applause. Mr. Wiley scored a triumph with this play.

Smith Masters Role

Major credit goes to Garnett Smith, that now-famous thespian, who performed with his usual skill. As Henry Higgins, the preverse, cynical, show-type bachelor, Garnett carried the play along by his complete mastery of lines and his precise interpretation of the role. Garnett convinced us he was Higgins from opening scene to final curtain.

Garter Convincing

Helen Gray Garter was excellent as a ragged, dirty flower girl. Her rendition of Eliza's 'ah ah owooo' was very convincingly done. If Helen Gray was less convincing as the transformed Eliza, we must still sing her praises as an actress on the basis of her naturalness and ease while wearing rags and a cockney accent.

Special mention is due Charter Wells, the poor dustman victimized by "middle class morality." despite periodic "wallowing" in his accent and occasional set-bumping, Charter handled the brash role very well.

The best British accent we heard was maintained by Ann Bass as Higgins' housekeeper, Mrs. Pearce, although Barara Bishop in the role of Mrs. Eynsford-Hills' daughter scored on this point also.

The set crew outdid itself in the bathtub set running this on and off in seconds. And Thursday night we understand that the crew really outdid itself by supporting the garden set manually while actors trooped on and off.

Curtains go all around for a well-planned, well-staged, and finely-acted performance.

Social Notes

By JACKIE GIBSON

There are very few girls who wouldn't get excited about being pinned, and when anyone gets engaged the whole school echoes with excitement. This weekend Linda Jo Saunders got a diamond from Don Kent, who attends the University of Richmond. Linda Jo isn't taking any chances, she still has Don's Phi Kappa pin. Congratulations, Linda Jo!

This was a fairly quiet weekend on the home front. Several people traveled to Lexington for the Hampden-Sydney vs. Washington and Lee game. H-S won 12-6. Seen at the game and KA Party were: Pooh Butterworth, Kay Howard, Sue Benton, Jane Martin, Jackie Gibson, Hardy Williams, Judy Welch, Jill Green, Claudia Whipple, Sally Harney, Peggy Harris, Peggy Heasley, Ginny Whipple.

The fraternity parties at William and Mary attracted Judy Harris and Jean Marie Heller.

At Lynchburg College we found Kay Hudgins and Barbara Chaffin.

Dorothy Harrison and Ann Barnes went to Charlottesville.

Alma Jean Wright stayed at Cabaniss Hall at the Medical College of Virginia.

Henrietta Dollins traveled to Duke University in Durham, North Carolina.

Let's welcome back the student teachers from Roanoke, and wish the girls that just left—Good Luck!

What's Home Without Man?

By JUDY DETRICH

"Here it is, your home for the next nine weeks." With this Mrs. Frances W. Gee opened the front door of the home management house and five girls were ushered in.

These Longwood seniors soon discovered the charm of their proving grounds. For here they found the chance to apply the principles taught in their home economic classes.

Immediately they chose roles and responsibilities. Cook, assistant cook, hostess, housekeeper and assistant housekeeper were the official titles. Each did her job, but when dinner time rolled around, with Cinderella-like magic, the cook turned into the jovial host, the father of the family. The assistant cook became the mother, the housekeepers became the daughters, with the hostess and Mrs. Gee as welcomed guests.

These home economic majors soon became acquainted with their roles and the duties attached to each. They became proficient in the skills of housekeeping: preparing meals, making curtains and tablecloths, laundering, cleaning, and budgeting their time, energy, and money.

From a more scientific angle, they worked with complex machines, learning the care, repair, and use of each, and experimented with modern, time-saving methods of homemaking.

Entertaining—Deluxe Style

After five weeks each had become accustomed to the various jobs and they were ready to entertain. Entertain they did! Faculty members and fellow students were invited to luncheons and dinners.

As a finale to their experiences in the home management house, the girls held a tea for thirty faculty members and their families. Dainty cookies, candies and sandwiches of all sizes, shapes, and description had been prepared for these guests. The house, which already seemed spotless, was cleaned. As a final touch, flower arrangements reflecting knowledge, skill, and artistic ability, had been placed to serve as a complement to the rooms around them.

Home Atmosphere Achieved

While living in and managing this home, the girls had learned not only how to perform their work well, but also how to share their fun and merriment with others. The guests left with warm, pleasant feelings, looking forward to the time when they could return.

To say that Octavia Loftin, Barbara Gamage, Virginia Shelton, Emily Johnson, and Martha Rucker enjoyed their nine weeks at the Home Management House would be an understatement. Martha Rucker sums up their experiences with, "Living over here and being able to entertain the faculty and friends is a wonderful experience. I'm afraid I've been spoiled. I will really feel as if I'm roughing it when I move back to the dorm."

Man Shortage

Are you wondering what this house lacks? "Well," they agree enthusiastically, "It would be nice to have a man around the house."

HOME EC MAJORS arranging flowers under the direction of their instructor are Virginia Shelton, Emily Johnson, Mrs. Frances Gee, Barbara Gamage, Martha Rucker, Octavia Loftin.

Spanish Club Plans Fiesta

Have you passed the Spanish classrooms recently?

Miss Emily Barksdale, associate professor of modern languages, is the Spanish professor from whose room strange sounds and events have been emanating. Spanish Christmas carols, talk of posadas, the Three Kings Day, and pinatas are among the choice items originating from Spanish 111 and Spanish 121. There is even talk of a bullfight!! Wonder what it's all about? Why it's the Spanish Fiesta!

This year the Spanish club, under the guidance of Longwood's Spanish informant, Laura Molina, and her cousin, Marta Molina, will present a Spanish Fiesta on Friday, December 5. Through the assistance of the Mexican girls, the Fiesta will have a Mexican flavor.

In Mexico the Christmas season begins December 16 and lasts through January 6. Events celebrated in the Fiesta are: Posadas, which are parties held nine days before Christmas and represent Mary and Joseph's jorney to Bethlehem; Christmas day; New Year's Eve; and the Three Kings Day.

The Fiesta will take place in the Main Rec and members may invite friends and members of the faculty.

Heading the list of committees working on the Fiesta is Norrish Munson who will be overall chairman. Under Norrish are Bobbie Koons, refreshments; Mary Lee Warriner, tickets; Leo Pagenhardt, pinatas; Yvonne Webb, Christmas carols; and Sandra Clements, clean up.

BARBARA SANDERS wins another ribbon with her mare, "Polly Denmark."

Meet The Frosh

Riding Enthusiast, Sanders, Exhibits Trophies, Ribbons

By SANDIE FARISH

'Born to the saddle' is an expression often heard in the Western states, where horses still play an important part in the life of Americans, but there is a "Longwood Lady" who fits the term to a "T."

Barbara Jean Sanders, a pretty young miss from Saltville, Virginia has been riding in earnest since she was the ripe old age of three years, and has won over 150 trophies and ribbons in local, state, and out of state horse shows to prove her excellent horsemanship.

Originally from Little Rock Arkansas, this Longwood Freshman, an elementary major, says she became interested in horses when she visited her uncle's ranch in Virginia.

Barbara taught herself to ride, always riding bareback; and laughlingly admits that her "riding crop" consisted of a shovel handle! She averaged ten to fifteen falls a day, left the riding scene in a fit of rage, but always went back to try again. To quote her father, she "took to riding like a duck to water" and it has furnished her many a pleasant hour in the 15 years she has been engaged in the sport.

After moving to Saltville, her father bought her first show pony when she was seven years old. In that same year, she entered her first show and captured a second place ribbon in horsemanship and a third in the pony class.

Highlights of her riding career have been winning the John R. George pony class horsemanship trophy at Rich Valley, Va., for three years: in 1953, 1954, and in 1956. For the past two years she has taken the coveted Graham S. Buchanan memorial model trophy at Rich Valley.

Riding isn't the only accomplishment of this busy girl. She was active in a number of school organizations; and in 1957, she was chosen queen of the Burley Tobacco Festival in Abingdon.

Another very special interest of Barbara's is a certain Randolph-Macon pre-med junior named Jim Gleason . . . she's wearing his Kappa Alpha pin!

Before coming to college this fall, Barbara wanted to make arrangements for her treasured three-gaited mare, "Polly Denmark," to be stabled nearby. Such arrangements couldn't be made, so she decided to have Polly bred.

Barbara happily tells me that she just received the news that "Polly" is going to be a "mother" in the near future, and she has big plans for the colt-to-be.

'Y' To Give Food

The YWCA has placed baskets outside the dining hall for students to donate canned food and staples. They will be used by the Farmville Welfare Department for needy families.

The baskets will be dedicated at Prayers, Monday, Nov. 24.

Heier, Tarter To Play In Nat'l Hockey Game

Sandra Tarter and Lou Heier were chosen at the Southeast Hockey Tournament last weekend in Baltimore to play in the National Hockey Tournament in Chicago, Thanksgiving.

Seven Represented L.C.

The two senior physical education majors had been chosen along with five other Longwood girls to play on the Tidewater Hockey team in the Southeast Tournament.

Playing on the first team were Sandra Tarter, Delores Dove, Lou Heier and Mary Hite Grayson. Barbara Brantly, Gayle Cunningham and Pat Southworth played on the second team. The Tidewater Team played teams from Washington, Blue Ridge, Delaware, and Baltimore.

Now captain of the Longwood Hockey team, Sandra has been a member of the varsity squad since her freshman year. Lou is also playing for the fourth consecutive year.

Players will be selected at the National Hockey Tournament to represent the National Team in the International Hockey Tournament.

Applebee, U. S. Hockey Founder, Stimulates Longwood Players

Longwood's campus has been most fortunate in having as its guest for the past week Miss Constance Applebee of England, who founded hockey in America.

Originally from Devonshire, England, the 85 year old hockey enthusiast has been interested in the sport since she was a young girl. When asked how her interest in the game started, she explained that in England everyone acquires an interest for hockey because it is one of the main sports and is taught in all schools. She added, however, that during her school days fencing was her favorite sports activity with hockey ranking second.

Introduces Hockey

Miss Applebee first came to the United States in 1901 to study at Harvard Summer School in an attempt to broaden her knowledge in the field of American Health Education. While she was here, a professor of Vassar College requested Miss Applebee to exhibit the English game of hockey to her students. Miss Applebee consented and thus the sport was introduced to the U. S. for the first time.

Enjoys Visiting Longwood

She summed up her opinion of Longwood by saying, "It is a wonderful college that I always enjoy visiting. I love all the students and particularly the cheerful atmosphere."

Coached Miss Burger

She now makes her home here in America but returns to England every summer to spend June and July at her summer home in Hampshire. In August she returns to the U. S. to attend hockey camp and visit various schools and colleges where she acts as a coach and instructor. On one such trip to William and Mary College, Miss Applebee coached Miss Elizabeth Burger, a Longwood faculty member, who was then a student at William and Mary.

When asked her age Miss Applebee replied in a proud manner, "I am 85 years old and still on the go. This shows what an active and vigorous game such as hockey can do for you!"

From The Gridiron Bleachers

By JACKIE WALLER

Number one to note is the big smashing victory over V.M.I. The Keydet undefeated string was snapped at 18 as Citadel converted two V.M.I. bobbles into quick touchdowns for a 14-6 Homecoming victory.

The Southern Conference title was wrapped up by West Virginia as the Mounties overwhelmed William and Mary 56-6. This was the 28th straight conference victory for the Mountties and their eight touchdowns seemed to require very little effort.

Virginia kept South Carolina worried for three quarters but John Saunders of the Gamecocks raced 26 yards for a touchdown and the beginning of the end. Sophomore Arnold Dempsey was the Cavalier's dangerous man but S. C. pulled through with a 28-14 victory.

The Spiders rallied to clip Davidson 27-22. At the beginning of the last quarter Richmond trailed by nine points but Quarterback Jerry Landes and Dick Cure managed to pull their team through in fine style.

With Bill Benson starring in an 85-yard touchdown run, Hampden-Sydney fought to a Mason-Dixon victory over Washington and Lee 12-6. The new spread formation of Coach Bob Thalman's Tigers seemed to catch the Generals from Lexington off guard.

Notre Dame pushed to a 34-24 victory over North Carolina and its aerial antics. The Tar Heel's six game winning streak was ended and this was their ninth straight defeat in the series with the Irish.

Clemson took the Atlantic Coast title by whipping N. C. State 13-6. The Tigers were held scoreless for the three periods but stuck hard for two quick touchdowns in the fourth quarter to wrap up the decision.

Duke disregarded Wake Forest's 20,000 Homecoming fans and ran over the Deacons 29-0. Wake Forest never seriously threatened after two early attempts to enter Blue Devil territory.

George Washington took a 28-8 defeat from Navy but surprised a few people in the bargain. G. W. was not supposed to stand a chance against the Middies and it took the second half to weaken the Colonials.

Auburn took a Southeastern victory over Georgia 21-6. Georgia tried passing and running but did not tally until the score was 21-0 in the fourth quarter.

Vanderbilt defeated Tulane 12-0 and kept their eyes on a bowl bid. Their record now stands 5-1-3 in the Southeastern Conference.

Georgia Tech was laid aside by Alabama as the Crimson Tide romped to a 17-8 victory. Underdog Alabama was figured to lose by at least one touchdown.

Florida's reserve walloped Arkansas State 51-7. The Gainesville boys did not even bother to use their stars for the victory.

Villanova was blanked by Army with Cadet Pete Dawkins playing a brilliant three touchdown game. The 26-0 win claimed another victory for the undefeated Army team.

Air Force won 21-6 to remain undefeated. Wyoming was the victim and Air Force seems to have pretty good chances for a bowl bid.

H2O Adds To Roll Ten New Members

The H2O Club held initiation of new members last Thursday night.

Those that were bid into the club were: Cass Connor, Betty Griggs, Sue Rawlings, Willy Taylor, Jackie Waller, Betsy Nell, Arlene McKay, June Elmore, Bonnie Keys, and Jeanette Townsend.

Seniors Win Hockey Game

Class hockey competition is now in full swing. The first two games were played Monday afternoon at 4 p.m. when the "Sister Classes" met.

The freshman class tied the junior Class, 0-0. However, the senior class beat the sophomores, 2-0.

Freshmen "rats" are looking forward to Friday afternoon when they hope to lose their "rat hats."

The schedule is: Tuesday — junior and senior; and Friday — freshman and sophomore.

Thursday afternoon try-outs for "Color Cup Rush" will be held before the hockey game.

The rush is Friday before the class game, and the banners will go richt after the race and stay up until Saturday.

Support for the class teams for both the hockey games and "Color Rush" is encouraged.

Monogram Club Bids Seven Girls

The sports editors and staff of the Rotunda would like to apologize to the girls who received Monogram Club bids.

The bids were given out on October 21 to seven girls.

The girls were chosen because of their outstanding scholarship, athletic ability, and sportsmanship.

Those chosen were: Pat Campbell, Nancy George, Barbara Odom, Sue Rawling, Barbara Staton, Sandy Tarter, and Helen Jean Young.

State
YOUR COMMUNITY CENTER
IN FARMVILLE, VA.
WED., THURS. NOV. 19-20
"ONE OF THE MOVIES' RARE GREAT WORKS OF ART!" TIME MAGAZINE

LAURENCE OLIVIER as HENRY V
by WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE
TECHNICOLOR
NOW FOR THE FIRST TIME IN SUPERSCOPE
FRI., SAT. NOV. 21-22

THAT TOUCHABLE LAUGH-MAKER OF NO TIME FOR SERGEANTS!
Unionhead
ANDY GRIFFITH · FLORIA FARR
WALTER MATTHAU
Sun., Mon., Tues., Nov. 23-24-25
GREGORY PECK · JEAN SIMMONS · CARROLL BAKER · CHARLTON HESTON · BURL IVES
WILLIAM WYLER'S
THE BIG COUNTRY
NOVEMBER 2 -27
UNIVERSAL INTERNATIONAL Presents
ESTHER WILLIAMS · JEFF CHANDLER
RAW WIND IN EDEN
CinemaScope COLOR
ROSSANA PODESTA
RIK BATTAGLIA · CARLOS THOMPSON
with the special participation of EDUARDO de FILIPPO

Select Your
CHRISTMAS GIFTS
Use Our Lay-Away Plan
MARTIN THE JEWELER

RELAX . . .
at the
SNACK
with your friends!
Main Rec and Senior Rec

Film, 8 Exposures Developed & Printed Oversize 39c
Film, 12 Exposures Developed & Printed Oversize 55c
Work Guaranteed
at
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

BUY YOUR CHRISTMAS GIFTS EARLY!
Special Orders Now Being Taken At
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
8 a.m. - 6 p.m.
FREE GIFT WRAPPING

WILSON HOME AND AUTO SUPPLY
Ten Top Tunes
1. It's All in the Game
2. It's Only Make Believe
3. Topsy II
4. To Know Him is to Love Him
5. Tom Dooley
6. Chantilly Lace
7. Tea for Two Cha Cha
8. Rockin' Robin
9. Susie Darlin'
10. Tears On My Pillow

Gosh frosh!
how'd you catch on so quick? Catch on to the fact that Coca-Cola is the hep drink on campus, I mean. Always drink it, you say? Well—how about dropping over to the dorm and downing a sparkling Coke or two with the boys. The man who's for Coke is the man for us.
Drink Coca-Cola
SIGN OF GOOD TASTE
Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

H. C. Owen

AKG OFFICERS get together at reception Friday night. (Seated) Minnie L. Dean, Longwood President; Mrs. Julian Petty, past National Executive Secretary; Mrs. Harriet Walker, past National Executive President; (standing) Miss Elizabeth Burger, National Executive Secretary and Longwood Co-Advisor; Lucia Hart, past National Secretary; Mrs. Kathleen Cover, Longwood Co-Advisor.

AKG Convention

Burger, Brubeck Chosen

Alpha Kappa Gamma, national leadership society, held its annual convention on the Longwood campus last week end, November 14-16. Mrs. Harriet Walker, National President, presided over the convention meetings.

Miss Stubbs Speaks

The convention events began Friday night when the group attended the performance of Longwood Players' fall play, "Pygmalion," followed by an informal reception in the rec of South Cunningham. Business meetings and committee meetings were held Saturday morning and afternoon. Included in the meeting was a talk by Miss Florence Stubbs, one of the founders of Alpha Kappa Gamma. Her talk was concerned with the founding af AKG. Following the afternoon business meeting the convention delegates were taken to Appomattox for a tour.

Pulegler Speaks at Banquet

A banquet was held Saturday night at Longwood Estate for AKG members and guests. Mrs. Jane Royall Phleger, past president of Student Government and member of AKG at Longwood, was the guest speaker for the banquet.

L. C. Has Winning Scrapbook

At the banquet, the Longwood circle of AKG was presented the gavel for the winning scrapbook. Nancy Brubeck and Barbara Bishop were chairmen of the scrapbook committee.

After the banquet, installation of new officers was held in the Alumnae House. Miss Elizabeth Burger was elected National Executive Secretary and Treasurer, an office held for the past seven years by Mrs. Julian Petty from Columbia, South Carolina. Nancy Brubeck was selected editor of the Torchbearer, the national magazine publication of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

"Who's Who"

(Continued from page 1)

varsity hockey and basketball since her freshman year. She also belongs to Alpha Kappa Gamma, Cotillion Club, H2O Club, and was chairman of last year's Junior Dance.

Bet McLoughlin

Bet McLoughlin, a business major now living in Fullerton, California, is president of House Council. A member of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority, she also belongs to Cotillion Club, Pi Delta Epsilon, FBLA, and Alpha Kappa Gamma. This year she is an associate editor of the Rotunda.

Louise Norman

A social science major from Richmond, Weedie Norman is vice-president of Student Government. Belonging to Kappa Delta social sorority, she is past president of the Panhellenic Association and a member of the Virginian staff, Cotillion Club, Pi Delta Epsilon, and Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Barbara Odom

President of Student Government is Barbara Odom, a library science major from Suffolk. She served as president of her class her freshman and sophomore years and is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau and Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Catherine Ozmon

Cat Ozmon is this year's president of the Panhellenic Council and queen of the 1958 Circus. An elementary education major from Portsmouth, she belongs to Pi Kappa Sigma social sorority, Longwood Players, Alpha Kappa Gamma, and is vice-president of Pi Delta Epsilon.

Lillian Rosson

President of the senior class, Lillian Rosson, is an elementary education major from Trevilians. She served as vice-president of her sophomore class and last year as YWCA vice-president. Lillian also holds membership in Cotillion Club, Kappa Delta Pi, Pi Gamma Mu, and Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Betty Spivey

Betty Spivey, an elementary education major from Windsor, was a member of the Freshman Commission and treasurer of the YWCA her sophomore year. She belongs to Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority and she was roustmaster of the 1957 Circus.

Molly Workman

President of Beore Eh Thorn is Molly Workman, an English major from Norfolk. Having directed a number of one-act plays, she is a member of the Longwood Players and Alpha Psi Omega. She is secretary of the French Club and Managing Editor of the Colonnade.

Helen Jean Young

Helen Jean Young, president of the YWCA, is an elementary education major from Covington. She has also been president of her sophomore and junior classes, vice-president of the Wesley Foundation and the Granddaughters Club, and a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma and the Cotillion Club.

51 High School Students Observe Campus Activities

Fifty-four high school visitor rom 18 different schools journeyed to Longwood last Saturday and Sunday for the first high school weekend of the fall.

Thomas Jefferson in Richmond had the largest representation with 14 girls. After that came E. C. Glass, Lynchburg, with eight; Oak Grove, Colonial Beach, with six; and Washington-Lee, Arlington, with four. Two guests came from Broughton High School, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Other schools represented were Lane with three; Jefferson, two; Fairfax, one; Blacksburg, one; Colonial Heights, two; Hammond, one; Henry Clay, one; Osbourn, one; Lee-Davis, two; Franklin, two; Robert E. Lee, two; Blacksburg, one; and Manchester, one.

The girls, chiefly seniors, had a busy schedule highlighted by such events as the play, "Pygmalion," and a sing in the Rotunda. A picnic in the Sophomore Rec, a tour of the campus, and a trip to Longwood Estate were also included in the weekend.

Students' Opinions

The visiting girls, many who plan to enter Longwood in 1959, were favorably impressed with the college atmosphere. Ilona Moody, Beth Blackwell, Peggy McIntyre, and Jo Humeas of Thomas Jefferson particularly "like the friendliness of the students." Dianna Euksuzian, also of T. J., remarked, "The schedule was well planned—we were exhausted by bedtime." "The food was good, too," added Nancy Priest of Arlington.

Margaret McCue, Frances Webster, and Connie Costan from Lane High "felt right at home." Commenting on the school situation in Charlottesville, they said they were getting as good an education in their present school system as they did before and the novelty of meeting in churches and community houses was fun.

An E. C. Glass student summed up the general impression of the high school girls when she said, "I really love Longwood a lot and I was glad to meet such nice girls."

The two remaining weekends for high school students are scheduled for February 21 and April 11. Any Longwood student knowing of girls who would like to attend can contact Miss Ruth Wilson so that cards of invitation may be sent to them.

Longwood Sends Delegates To SEA

Callie Johnson, a Longwood junior from Scottsville, was elected corresponding secretary-treasurer of the state Student Education Association for next year at the annual state S.E.A and F.T.A. convention held in Richmond this weekend.

Also representing Longwood at the convention were Joan Heavyside, Barbara Hurst, and Norrish Munson.

Highlights of the program were an educational film, "Crowded Out;" a banquet held Friday night featuring Dr. Lyman Ginger, immediate past president of National Education Association; and special sessions of the college representatives to discuss problems and opportunities within the college chapters. A separate S.E.A. workshop is being planned for this spring at the University of Virginia.

Nancye Webster, a junior from Farmville High School, was elected recording secretary of the F.T.A.

Cotillion Extends Bids To Fifty-Four

Fifty-four upperclassmen were issued bids for Cotillion Club Monday night. Those accepting the bids, thus becoming fall goats were:

Evelyn Adams, Evelyn Alouf, Nancy Andrews, Carole Boley, Bobbie Bolster, Donna Boone, Joanie Brooker, Nancy Brubeck, Bobbie Bunch, Pat Callahan, Alice Cheatwood, Dottie Cothern, Nadine Dazell, Henrietta Dollins, Nancy Donaldson, Pat Farrington, Helen Garter.

Also were Kitty Green, Judy Harris, Iris Hines, Nancy Inge, Blanche Ingram, Liz Johnson, Arlene Johnston, Virlinda Joyner, Sandra Kilmon, Joanne Kleinecke, Tweety Lambiotte, Page Landers, Nancy Lechler, Connie Levinson, Mary Pem Lewis, Charlotte McGhee, Carole Matthews, Peggy Mullin, Shirley Anne Murray, Carolyn Oliver, Dale Preddy, Ginny Price, Sue Rawlings.

Martha Rucker, Betty Ruffin, Billie Jean Shores, Beedie Staton, Betty Jane Stegall, Sharon Stout, Ruth Talley, Willie Taylor, Joanne Tench, Julia Thomas, Beretta Yeoman, Jackie Waller, Tae Wamsley, and Judy Welch.

Honorary Societies Issue Fall Bids

The honorary fraternities at Longwood have extended their fall bids.

Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary education society, has issued bids to Dede Dove, Jo Dearing, Anita Eanes, Barbara Fenyhough, Marie Fisher, Jo Ann Garner, Louise Gray, Chris Jones, Barbara Mitchell, Norris Munson, Joyce Pendleton, Barbara Rossiter, Marie Smith, Joann Tench, Nell Ward, Yvonne Webb, Julia Williams, and Molly Workman.

Pi Gamma Mu

Pi Gamma Mu, the national honorary social science fraternity, has extended bids to Doris Clapp, Anita Eanes, Frances Gillespie, Sally Harney, Frances Jones, Bet McLoughlin, Carol Ann Miller, Nancie Morton, Elizabeth Nichols, Sara Oliver, Joyce Pendleton, Barbara Simpkins, Betty Spivey, Ruth Tolley, Carol Vick, Ruby Whiteside, and Frances Wilkinson.

Lynchos Society

The Lynchos Society, which is a local science fraternity, has extended bids to Jo Dearing, Marie Fisher, Helen Gates, Betsy Neal, Ann Palmer, and Patty Rogers.

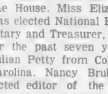
Goin' home over vacation?

GOING BY GREYHOUND® IS BASIC ECONOMICS!

- Lowest fares of all public transportation!
- Frequent departures! Quickest time to many cities!
- Air-conditioned comfort; picture-window sightseeing; fully equipped restroom; on all Scenicruiser Service® schedules!

Compare these low, low fares!

Farmville to Richmond	$2.20
Farmville to Lynchburg	1.71
Farmville to Norfolk	4.62
Charlottesville	2.04
Farmville to Roanoke	3.47
Farmville to Danville	3.25
Washington, D. C.	5.28
Farmville to Williamsburg	3.95



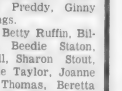
*plus tax

IT'S SUCH A COMFORT TO TAKE THE BUS... AND LEAVE THE DRIVING TO US!

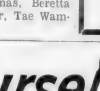
3rd & Garden Sts. Phone Number 745

Do You Think for Yourself? (THESE QUESTIONS WILL TELL YOU! *)

1. Do you find going "off the beaten track" on a trip (A) interesting and constructive, or (B) merely inconvenient? A ☐ B ☐



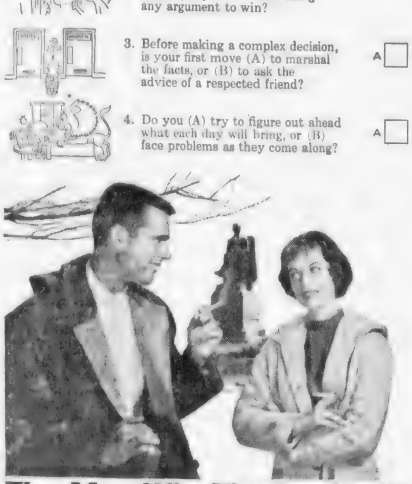
2. In a heated discussion would you rather (A) be the "moderator," or (B) jump in on a side using any argument to win? A ☐ B ☐



3. Before making a complex decision, is your first move (A) to marshal the facts, or (B) to ask the advice of a respected friend? A ☐ B ☐

4. Do you (A) try to figure out ahead what each day will bring, or (B) face problems as they come along? A ☐ B ☐

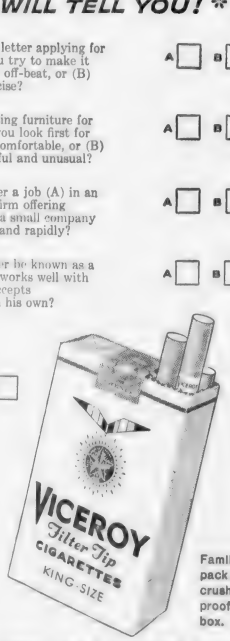
5. When writing a letter applying for a job, would you try to make it (A) original and off-beat, or (B) factual and concise? A ☐ B ☐



6. If you were getting furniture for a room, would you look first for (A) something comfortable, or (B) something colorful and unusual? A ☐ B ☐

7. Would you prefer a job (A) in an old established firm offering security, or (B) a small company which could expand rapidly? A ☐ B ☐

8. Would you rather be known as a person who (A) works well with others, or (B) accepts responsibility on his own? A ☐ B ☐



9. When you step up to a cigarette counter, are you (A) confused by all the conflicting filter claims you've seen, or (B) sure of what you want because you've thought things through? A ☐ B ☐

You will notice that men and women who think for themselves usually choose VICEROY. Why? Because they've thought it through—they know what they want in a filter cigarette. And VICEROY gives it to them: a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

*If you have checked (A) on 3 out of the first 4 questions, and (B) on 4 out of the last 5... you think for yourself!

© 1958, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

Familiar pack or crush-proof box.

The Man Who Thinks for Himself Knows — ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER... A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!

Merry Christmas

The Rotunda

Happy New Year

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., December 10, 1958 | No. 9

Winter Twilight Opens Gala Holiday Activities

Littlejohn To Provide Music

Barbara Staton, chairman for the Senior Dance, has announced that Bill Littlejohn and his band from Richmond will play for "Winter Twilight." The formal dance is December 13, Saturday, from 8:30 until 12, and will be in the gym.

Decorations for "Winter Twilight" feature a ceiling shading from deep maroon to pink with a large silver snowflake suspended in the middle. The sides will be on white crepe paper strips from the balcony to the floor. At the far end of the gym will be a sunset which will shade into the pink of the ceiling.

Receiving Line

In the receiving line, which is to be in the Student Lounge, will be Dr. and Mrs. Lankford, Mr. French, senior sponsor; Miss Wilson, Mrs. Cover, sophomore sponsor; Barbara Staton, dance chairman; Lillian Russon, senior class president; Ann Hardy, sophomore class president; and Meredith Nichols, honorary senior "sister."

Nichols To Lead Figure

Leading the figure to be presented at 10 will be Meredith Nichols, followed by the senior class officers. The seniors and their dates will enter through an arch, walk down the middle of the gym, form a large snowflake, and then form a '59. Following this will be a special dance for the seniors and their dates. The seniors will carry favors of silver leaves and red balls with red streamers.

The figure will be followed by a 20 minute intermission. During this time the Freshman Commission will sell refreshments on first floor Student.

Chaperones for the dance include: Dr. and Mrs. Lankford, Mr. and Mrs. Helms, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Patterson, Dr. and Mrs. Moss, Dr. and Mrs. Simonini, Mr. and Mrs. Wamsley, Mr. and Mrs. Merchant, Miss Wilson, Miss Miss Weddle, Miss Iler, Mrs. Cover Mrs. Eastham, Mrs. Eva, Mr. French, and Dr. Boggs.

Following the dance will be a party for the seniors and their dates at Longwood Estate. It will be from 12 until 2 a.m.

Chaperones for the party will be Dr. and Mrs. Schlegel, Dr. and Mrs. Brumfield, and Mrs. Council.

Tickets for the dance are now on sale and are $2.40 per couple. They may be purchased from any of the committee chairmen or at the dance.

Besides dance chairman Barbara Staton, other committee chairmen are Mary Ellen Moore, decoration; Nancy Knowles, publicity; Julia Gray Wallace, favors; Cat Ozman, music; Nancy Andrews, tickets; Cass Conner, invitations; Jackie Waller, programs; Charlotte McGee, clean-up; Joan Lee Thomas, party after dance; and Ann Glover, business manager.

(See picture below)

ChristmasBanquet Begins Festivities

The annual Christmas Banquet, sponsored by the Freshmen Commission, will be held tonight.

A very delicious three-course meal has been planned by Mr. Wagner.

There will be entertainment during the dinner by various members of the student body. The Freshman Commission, dressed in white formals, will lead the singing of Christmas carols.

The traditional "Hanging of the Green" will not be held due to the unsafe condition of the Rotunda. The tree in the Rotunda and the decorations in the dining hall have been provided by the Freshman Commission.

Horne, Pennington Chosen To Head Frosh Production

Pat Horne and Jane Pennington have recently been chosen as co-chairmen for Freshman Production, to be held Jan. 9 at 8 p.m. in Jarman Auditorium.

The theme will show the development of the spirit of Longwood College through its 75 years. This story of Longwood will be told by the voice of Joan of Arc, the patron saint of the college. Gigi Maitland will be the narrator.

The committee heads are Mary Byrd Micou and Linda Fippin, script; Ann Ranson and Patsy Carr ushers; Sandra Wise and Morag Nocher, publicity; Margaret Tatterson and Ann McCants, costumes; Pat Sadler and Marjorie Friese, make-up; Carolyn Gandee props; Jo Savage and Trina Childress, scenery; and Ann Howell and Maddie MacNeil, music.

Tickets will be on sale for 35 cents in the smoker the week before production.

White Christmas

Every Christmas after the traditional Christmas pageant, contributions to "White Christmas" are presented by the heads of campus organizations.

These contributions are placed in the manger and go to the Farmville Welfare Department. This tradition takes place Tuesday night, Dec. 16, in Jarman Hall.

Glover, Peyton To Attend 'Y' National Meeting

Ann Glover and Jeanne Peyton have been selected by the Y.W.C.A. Cabinet as representatives to the Sixth National Student Y.M.C.A. to be held at the University of Illinois in Urbana, Illinois, December 28 through January 3.

The National Student Assembly is held every four years when delegated representatives from each campus Y.W.C.A. or Y.M.C.A. throughout the United States gather for a one-week assembly. The purpose of the meeting is to study and talk together about the urgent concerns facing college students today.

Both Ann and Jeanne were nominated for the student leadership group of the assembly. They were then selected by the national assembly to be student leaders. They will go to the University on the 27th for a student leadership training day before the regular meetings begin on the 28th. Jeanne will be co-leader of an assembly section of approximately 250 delegates.

Speakers and "Y" leaders from various sections of the United States will attend the meetings to help answer questions and present new ideas and challenges for the college "Y" leaders.

Gregory To Advise Sociology Majors

Mrs. Kathleen Cover, Associate Professor of History and Social Science, requests that all sophomores and juniors who are interested in majoring in sociology or in obtaining a sociology scholarship, to consult her before Friday, Dec. 13.

On Friday, Mrs. Gregory from the State Department Welfare Institute will be here and Mrs. Cover will be able to obtain information concerning scholarships at that time.

Students Choose Connor, Ridinger For 1959 Senior Personalities

Senior Personalities—Merle Ridinger and Cass Connor

Virginian To Feature Winners Of Contest

By JUDY ECKSTROM

Cass Connor and Merle Ridinger were elected as Senior Personalities for 1959 Monday night by the student body. Sponsored by the Virginian staff, the new Senior Personalities will be featured in the 1959 Virginian.

Nominations were made by a special committee of students and faculty. They considered personality, character, and school spirit in making their selections of Cass Connor, Peggy Harris, Fran McLoughlin, Ginny Price, and Merle Ridinger as representatives of the senior class.

Both are personable, typical seniors. Cass can usually be seen in trench coat and tennis shoes when she is not student teaching. Always with a smile on her face and excited over every little happening, Cass is one always to think of others before herself.

Merle, one of the wits of the senior class, can always be seen with a laugh on her face or has a witty remark to make of any situation. Appearing typically collegiate, Merle will will not be donning the outfit of a student teacher.

Connor Heads Cotillion

Cass, an elementary major from Arlington, is serving this year as president of Cotillion Club and secretary of her class. Class secretary for three years, she is also a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha, Student Education Association, Newman Club, Rotunda Circulation Staff, H2O Club, and Panhellenic Council.

Ridinger Active in MYF

Merle, a transfer her junior year from William and Mary and a sociology major from Williamsburg, is presently vice - president of the French Club. Active in the Wesley Foundation, she is serving as both vice-president of the foundation and MYF adult counselor.

Both seniors are busy at work making plans for next year. Cass is hoping to obtain a first grade teaching position in Arlington, while Merle hopes to engage in social work, maybe ultimately working with Juvenile Courts.

Both girls have truly caught the spirit of Longwood in their willingness to take part in school and class activities and their friendliness toward others.

YWCA To Reveal Madonna At Pageant, "Unto Us"

The Y.W.C.A Christmas Pageant, "Unto Us," will be presented Tuesday night, Dec. 16 at 10 p.m., in Jarman Hall.

The Pageant is under the direction of a junior, Mary Anne Montague, and consists of seven tableaus: The Prophecy, The Annuciation, The Shepherds in the Field, The Nativity, The Visit of the Shepherds, The Visit of the Magi, and the Finale.

Madonna to be revealed

The Y-Cabinet has chosen five girls from the Senior class, who will be voted on by the student body tomorrow from 5 to 6:30 p.m. The Madonna is chosen for her Christian spirit; someone who will typify the qualities of Christ's mother.

Members of Cast

Pat Leake will be the narrator. Others in the cast are Becky Parker, Joseph; Jo Anne Maitland, Isaiah; Bunny Vernon, Micah; Elaine Chaffin, the mother; and Susan McIntosh, the little girl.

Also featured are Nancy George, Doris Burton and Hank Speakman as shepherds, and Calvert King, Elva Jane Wynne and Agnes Massie as wies men. Calvert King, Carolyn Paulette and John Lynn will be the angel voices. Also, Sue Humphries, Maddie McNeil and Louise Johns will compose a trio.

Committee heads are Dodie Webster, Jean Dancy and Jane Stegal, music; Annie Lee Young and Becky McGrath, costumes; Lee Burnette, props; Ann Mixon, lighting; Marianne Zimmerman and Leo Pagenhardt, programs; and Marie Messick, make-up.

Choirs Rehearse Annual Concert

The Longwood College Choir is in the process of rehearsing for the Annual Christmas Concert to be given Sunday afternoon, Dec. 14, at 3 p.m.

The Washington and Lee Glee Club will join the Longwood choir in singing a portion of Handel's "Messiah." The W and L Glee Club will arrive Sunday morning and will practice with the Choir, followed by dinner in the dining hall. After the concert at 3 p.m., the Glee Club will leave Longwood to give another performance.

On Monday, Dec. 15, at 12 noon the Longwood Choir will journey to Washington and Lee to give the same performance presented here. The Glee Club will have dinner at the Virginia Intermont College before the concert at 7:30 p.m. After the concert, the Longwood Alumnae will serve the two groups doughnuts and coffee.

'59 Virginian

[illegible]

WINTER TWILIGHT—Decorators (front) D. Cothern, J. Brooker, J. Harper, M. Mann, L. Allen, J. Maitland; (back) M. Moore, B. Staton, V. Scott, F. Salmon, S. Johnson. (See story above.)

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

First Semester

1958-59 Session

Examination Day and Date	Morning 8:05-11:05	1:05-4:05 Afternoon
Friday, Jan. 23	Reading Period	11:05 MWF Classes MTWTF Classes MW & WF Classes
Saturday, Jan. 24	10:05 TTS Classes TT Classes	2:05 MWF Classes MW & WF Classes
Monday, Jan. 26	8:05 TTS Classes TT Classes	10:05 MWF Classes MTWTF Classes MW & WF Classes
Tuesday, Jan. 27	9:05 TTS Classes TT Classes	9:05 MWF Classes MTWTF Classes MW & WF Classes
Wednesday, Jan. 28	1:05 MWF Classes MTWTF Classes MW & WF Classes	11:05 TT Classes
Thursday, Jan. 29	8:05 MWF Classes MTWTF Classes MW & WF Classes	3:05, 4:05 MWF Classes MTWTF Classes TT Classes

[illegible] Coulters, Room 21

A Madonna Among You

As the year goes by, it seems as if the true meaning of Christmas were to be bypassed more and more. It has reached the point at which some merchants, when asked to display a Christmas tree, feel as if Christ is being pushed into Christmas. Only when things such as this occur do we realize how fortunate we are to have programs that will bring to our attention the real meaning of Christmas.

Although many of us do not meaningfully forget the real purpose of Christmas, the fact remains that because we are caught in the whirlpool of excitement, our thoughts are more easily turned toward the material side of Christmas.

Amid the hustle and bustle of the Christmas season and activities of the coming week, the Y.W.C.A. will present its annual Christmas pageant. At this time, the Nativity of Christ will be depicted to impress upon each of us the importance and solemnity of this great feast.

Tomorrow night after dinner, the student body will select a senior to represent the Madonna in the Christmas Pageant. Selected from nominations made by the "Y" Cabinet, the girl chosen will be one who, in the opinion of the students, most typifies the qualities of the Mother of Christ.

"And the angel came unto her and said, 'Hail, thou that are highly favored.' " Luke 1:28. It would be wise to keep this passage in mind while selecting and casting a vote for the Madonna. There are many who possess the most virtuous qualities of womanhood which are to be found in the girl selected as Madonna. Among them are purity, compassion, sincerity, humility, friendliness, unselfish service to others, and the courage to maintain high standards and inspire them in others. Such women are among you. As you choose a Madonna, think about these things.

E. M.

The Real Christmas Spirit

Have you as a college student lost sight of the fact that there is a Santa Claus?

Yes, there is a Santa Claus, for as long as there is the spirit of giving at Christmas he will be around.

As adults we don't see him, but he is everywhere. Everytime you see a lighted Christmas tree, or a tiny child gaze in wonder at a display in a gaily decorated store window, St. Nick is there. You may not see the red of his rumpled coat and hat, nor hear the tap of his shiny black boots and the tinkling sound of his laughter as he moves among the crowds, but he is there.

Think back, remember when you believed in him as a jolly old man who thrilled you on Christmas morning with toys, rather than the way you feel about him now as being the spirit of giving at Christmas. Wasn't it a good feeling to know that someone who lived so far away in such a special world, could care enough about others to hitch up his eight flying reindeer and whirl around the earth, leaving gifts and good cheer in his wake? Didn't you feel safe and secure in such a world of happiness?

Do you remember the joy of awakening on Christmas morning full of anticipation of what would be waiting for you under that beautiful Christmas tree, that had come the night before from the north pole; the silent vigils on those special nights, trying to hear the tap of Santa's reindeers on the roof over your room? All the charm of those things shouldn't be forgotten.

We must keep Santa alive in our hearts, not only for ourselves, but for the children that will someday be our own. They will live through a terribly drab and unimaginative childhood if they have nothing to believe in but bare realities that should be reserved only for adulthood.

Remember the pride that must have glowed in the hearts of your parents as they watched your face light up with each new package you opened, and maybe someday your child will be able to see the same joy on your face because he grew up with his parents' faith in imagination.

Keep the spirit of that lovable old man alive in your heart and this Christmas, along with all others to come, will be the happiest, most wonderful day of your life.

Sandra Weaver

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 20, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 168.

Linda Boles ... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors

Bet McLoughlin, Patsy Powell

Barbara Mercer ... Business Manager

July Peterson ... News Editor

Henrietta Dollins ... Feature Editor

Vassie Jones ... Sports Editor

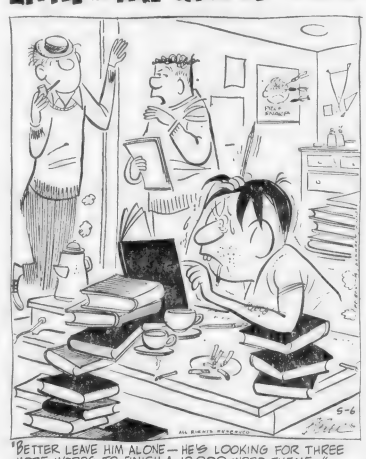
Virginia Cox ... Desk Editor

Anne Hall ... Photographer

Marianne Wingfield ... Art

Gwen Morris ... Circulation Manager

Lou Gray ... Advertising Manager



Miss Mattie P. Newton ... Faculty Adviser

Unsigned editorials written by the editor.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association. Associated Collegiate Press (Rating: first class). Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Rating: first place. Delta Kappa Gamma.

NEWS STAFF

Entered as second class matter at the Post office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of ... Printed by the Farmville Herald.

Santa Is Most Popular Personality As Gift-Giving Season Rolls Around

You know, Dearest Santa, it's that time of year,
And to all Longwood girls it's remarkably clear
That the season is right to climb on your knee
And tell you the things we'd like under our tree.
Now, we're reasonable gals and don't often complain,
So how 'bout a dining hall diet of steak and champagne?
Two sheets in the laundry each week we'd like,
Then to save us cruel walking—brand new motor bikes!
Now, it's not that we're lazy, and work gets us down,
But upon a personal maid we won't frown.
Room service from the rec would make us all glad
And 2 p.m. date deadlines wouldn't be bad.
After you've straightened out these minor things,
We'd like some small ditties like blue diamond rings.
It goes without saying you'd love us in mink!
C'mon, Mr. C., now what do you think?
And if you don't think that they'd slow down your sleigh,
Pick up a few hundred sports cars on your way.
Now, as for our stockings, please Santa—no toys,
We'd much obliged if you'd fill them with boys!
Well, Saint Nick, we've taken enough of your time,
So, we'll give some others a place in our rhyme.
These couldn't come in person this year,
But their letters are written below, neat and clear.
So, push those spectacles up on your nose,
Settle back and relax with your fan mail—here goes!

—Joann Kleinecke

Escalator Wanted

Dear Santa,

We the residents of Cunningham are actually rather thin. Our sad plight results from the tremendous amount of physical effort required to secure nourishment. We must set out early in order to get to the dining hall before the door closes. After a long walk in the rain, snow, sleet, or hail, we are often too tired to eat. So, Santa, our request seems only reasonable—an underground, new-atomic, supersonic, escalator from Cunningham to the Dining Hall.

Scrub-A-Dub-Dub

Dear Santa Claus,

We who live in Ruffner are often accused of being dirty rats. And no wonder—there are only two washing machines for all of us to use! Now, Santa dear, our only Christmas wish before some more yuletide machines. Then we could be the cleanest dirty rats ever.

Bah, Humbug

We of Tabbwich Village aren't naive
In Santa Claus we do not believe.
But if we were children at your mail name:
These are the requests that we will name:
Our abstract artist would have fondest regard,
For a Museum of Art membership card.
A different complex heads our neurotic's list
She needs something new for her psychoanalyst.
There is one thing for which we all esteem,
The book entitled La Boheim.

Senior Specialty

Dear Santa,

We seniors love our brand new dorm,
It is the best by far.
But, soon, each one of us can have,
The keys to our old car.
So bring to us what the builders forgot—
A spacious and level parking lot.

(Contributed by JoAnn Kleinecke, Mattie Blewett, Judy Detrich.)

Longwood A Decade Ago

'48 Headlines Reveal Times Are Similar

By MARY SHAFER

Did you ever wonder how Longwood of ten years ago compares to the Longwood we know today?

"Sobs, Sighs, Homesickness Denote Arrival of Freshmen"—This is one of the headlines from the September issue of the Rotunda ten years ago—1948.

The theme of Circus was "Southern Belles."

The fall play presented by the Dramatics Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs was "Death Takes A Holiday."

A note of sadness was depicted in the November 14 issue which was dedicated to Dr. Joseph Leonard Jarman, former president of Longwood College, who succumbed after an extended illness.

Same Date This Year

The annual Senior Class Dance was held on December 13, as dreams of food, football, and dates were foreseen for the Christmas Holidays.

It was announced that callers in the Rotunda were met by glassy stares from the girls on the second floor.

Valentine's Day was ushered out by the "Black and White Ball," sponsored by the Junior Class. Dress for the occasion was black and white.

Don't Give Up—It's Leap Year—Get A Man in Ten Easy Steps. Times haven't changed much as we can see.

The May Day theme was "Greek." Alice Ann Abernathy was elected May Queen to reign over the festivities.

President Lancaster conferred 121 degrees to the Class of 1948 (of what was then State Teachers College) at Commencement Exercises, which marked the end of the year.

As we look back ten years, we wonder what the year 1968 will bring to the students of Longwood College.

Fashion News

Holiday Gifts and Garb

By MARTHA RUCKER

A white cotton embroidered blouse over a pair of slim black velveteen pants. . .a white fleece coat over a trim black suit . . .a startling black velvet sheath or bouffant dress black and bright white. . .at home. . .in town. . . at parties and dances.

You can give gifts of fashion, too. For Mom, Sis, "Roomie," and friend you'll find a large variety of lovely compacts, gold, silver, and enameled. . .gloves for the ladies' wardrobes in all colors and very special gloves by Dawnelle in black or white stretchable satin with fox-fur cuffs or jeweled ones by Crescendoe. . .stoles in wool, lace, and chiffon. . .overblouses in everything from white to paisley . . . pendant pins and others in all sizes, shapes, and settings. . .bags for evening or every day, you'll find them large and small, of vinyl and pouch. . .the sheerest of stockings in every color of the rainbow . . .belts, scarfs, jewered rings. . .cigarette cases. . .lighters . . .bracelets . . . earrings . . . saucy handkerchiefs. . .the finest and softest lingerie in white, black, and pastels. All of these are personal gifts of good taste for that special person.

Ivy-Leaguer?

And for that special man on your list—analyze the situation. Is he an ivy-league dresser? Then perhaps he'd like a pair of solid color socks. . .a shalley tie. . .a thin-line billfold. . .a big black umbrella. . .a sweater-vest. . .pig skin gloves.

Or possibly he's a sportsman, so how about a glass fly rod. . .that special lure he's always talking about. . .a tackle-box. . .a box of his favorite golf balls with his name printed on them. . .the 4-wood that didn't come with his set of clubs. . .a collapsible caddy-cart . . .a hunting vest. . .a cleaning kit. . .practice targets. . .his own private skeet pulley?

Perhaps he enjoys good books—what's his favorite? Then you can almost always find a variety of leather goods that will contain a special present for the most particular person. Does he smoke? A lighter may suit his need. And of course, for the man with a tattoo—MARLBOROS!

The classic holiday dresser will wear black and white according to fashion experts and accordingly she will give thoughtful, useful, practical, fashionable gifts—gifts that the individual requires for his or her own individualism.

Social Notes

By JACKIE GIBSON

It's almost holiday time again and we haven't caught up on all the news from Thanksgiving. Since this is the last column for the year, I'd like to wish you all a VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Congratulations are in order for Sarah Hastings. Sarah received a diamond from Chi Phi, Steve Jones, a graduate of the University of Virginia. Emily Johnson received a sparkler from Bobby Chaney. It must be Nice. Bill McElfresh surprised Doris Ayres with no less than a diamond ring over the holidays.

Those who attended the pre-holiday parties at Hampden-Sydney were:

Chi Phi

Alice Cheatwood, Linda Walker, Mary Stokes, Coreta Bennett, Alyce Somerville, Jacqueline Ducovisco.

K. A.

Joan Brooker, Agnes Lowry, Hardy Williams, Dottie Cothern, Joann Kleinecke, Harriet Butterworth, Lois Johnson, Nancy Lechler.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Anne Adams, Burks Keith, Ann Baker, Barbara Hurst, Weedie Norman, Barbara Purks, Jo Lynn Holland, Mary Ellen Moore, Joan Lee Thomas, Barbara Rossiter, Sara Oliver, Brenda Rae Drewery.

Kappa Sigma

Norma Redman, Ann Norfleet, Addie Richardson, Kitty Good: Sigma Chi: Jacqi Dietz, Nancy Andrews and Theta Chi: Joanie Brooker, Clara Miles Shumadine, Mary Douglass Stokes.

The Ring Dance at V.M.I. during the Thanksgiving holiday drew Joanie Brooker, Nancy Lechler, Ann Snyder, Nancy Harnsberger, Betty Jean Cliatt, Dibby Moore, Annie Norfleet, Judy Jones.

Some people spent their holiday in Roanoke watching the V.P.I. vs. V.M.I. Game. Cheering for their cadets (which side) were Henrietta Dollins, Barbara Hurst, Archer Cassada, Carol Vick, Betty Anne Harrell.

Others away at football games were Dotsie Wheeler, Dottie Marshall, Jo Ann Baldwin, Lou Gray at the University of Virginia.

Go Navy

Dottie Brown, Carolyn Bassford, Oreta Norris and Betty Jane Algood were cheering at the Army vs. Navy Game in Philadelphia.

Ever heard of a "wetting down" party? Well, Linda Boles, Barbara Hurst, and Bet McLoughlin went to one at the Breezy Point Officers Club in Norfolk for the Navy cadets.

The annual Pi Kappa Alpha Ball was held in Richmond this weekend. Attending the gala occasion were Barbara Rossiter, Sara Oliver, Brenda Rae Drewry, Sandra Wise, Weedie Norman, Joan Lee Thomas, Alice Layne.

Judy Eckstrom and Nancianne Frye were among those who traveled out-of-state Thanksgiving. Judy went to Charleston, W. Va., and Nancianne had fun in Tennessee. Bet and Fran McLoughlin saw the Big City—New York—again.

Next weekend is the big event for the seniors—"winter twilight" — have fun girls!

Ruffin Edits LC Art Directory, States Famous Work Is 'Joan'

By JOANN KLEINECKE

The system of supply and demand seems to be a pretty efficient one here at Longwood these days. The demand in this case is information about the art work on campus, and the supply to meet it, the bulletin put out by Librarian Beverley Ruffin.

This bulletin, called "Portraits and Other Works of Art at Longwood College," is a directory containing information about the various art objects to be found around the college. It was written by Miss Ruffin in answer to the many questions asked about the portraits in the library that no one could seem to answer.

Each Painting Indexed

The booklet started out concerning the library alone, but broadened to include other school art works. The title of the work, its completion date, the artist's name, the means by which it was obtained, and the medium of the work itself are all given in the foreword. The biographical sketches concerning the portraits were out of date and most of them had changed places, so a directory of this type was actually needed to index each painting.

Quite a bit of research was necessary before the booklet could be completed. College archives and alumnae records were used and also correspondence from various individuals who were able to supply needed information. Some townspeople and retired professors were also consulted.

The Longwood Alumnae Association has presented numerous portraits to the college, and landscapes have come to Longwood through the "Fund For the Purchase of Paintings by Virginia Artists" which Miss Ruffin states is "a most worthy project dependent upon contributions of students and friends of the college."

The Virginia Museum of Fine Arts can also be credited with many loans of art work which they have given Longwood College.

"Joan" Most Famous

The collection as a whole has value. Probably the most famous artist represented is Anna Hyatt Huntington, whose bronze equestrain statue of Joan of Arc stands in the Colonnade. Another artist outstanding in Virginia for his portraits is David Silvett whose paintings of Ruth Harding Coyner, Alumnae Secretary, hangs in the Alumnae House. The most recent purchase, an oil painting by a Virginia artist, Horace Day, was made last spring. This landscape, "Blue Ridge Farm" hangs in the Rotunda.

Campus News

By SUE CARAVELLA

V. M. I.

V.M.I. second classmen received their rings at the annual Ring Firture Dance Friday, November 21. This was the thirty-second dance. "Mardi Gras," a movie which was made partly on the V.M.I campus, and used many cadets, had its premiere in Lexington two weeks before Thanksgiving.

Mary Baldwin

Two girls represented the Mary Baldwin International Relations Club in New York at a convention of the American Association for the United Nations November 22-25.

Madison

Wednesday, December 3, Russel Jones, a very well-known foreign news correspondent, as well as a trouble-shooter for the United Press, spoke at the Madison assembly program.

Application Increase

Two hundred thirty-five applications for admission to Longwood for the 1958-9 session have been received, Dr. Earl R. Boggs has announced.

"This is an increase over this time last year when 196 girls had applied for the current session.

Hollins

A Hollins freshman on the varsity hockey team went to the "All mal Hockey" Tournament which was held in Chicago Thanksgiving week end.

Mrs. Harriet French is presently showing her art exhibit in the Art Foyer of Hollins College. This collection of paintings is one of the finest Hollins has ever acquired.

Lynchburg College

Friday and Saturday, November 21 and 22 Lynchburg College was host to the State Social Action Workshop.

'Christmas Reflection' Opens Thursday Night

SWIMMING STARS, CREW busy with "Christmas Reflection" are (in water) C. Gorham, C. Wilson, A. Weeks, J. Wallace, B. Neal, K. Green; (seated) C. Matthews, N. Donaldson; (standing) W. Egolf, B. Brantley, J. Stegal, M. Grayson, J. Townsend.

Pageant's Only Solo To Star Kitty Green

Tomorrow and Friday the H2O Club will let the curtain rise on their annual Christmas water pageant. Spectators will witness a new and different type of aquatic production this year at the Longwood pool as backdrops, costumes and swimmers take on an abstract appearance.

"Christmas Reflection" will be made up of 13 numbers, the music ranging from a slow "Midnight Waltz" to a jazzed up version of "Jingle Bells." Participants will perform their skills to various traditional Christmas music such as "Carol," "Silver Bells," "I Saw Mommy Kissing Santa Claus" and "Does Mice It's Christmas."

Following the formation of a [illegible] to the tune of "Der Tannenbaum," swimmers carrying wreaths and tinsel will create a novelty number to the tune of "Deck the Hall."

New Act

Next will follow a new and different type act that has never before been displayed in any of Longwood's preceding water pageants. This will be an entire synchronized floating number to the tune of "Sleigh Bells." The scene will then switch to the deep end of the pool where divers will perform their flips and turns to the musical strains of "March of the Toys."

Green To "Solo"

The only solo number will star Kitty Green who will perform to the tune of the folk song "I Wonder As I Wander."

Tomorrow Night and Friday

The pageant will be presented at one performance on December 11, at 7 p.m. and at two performances at 7 and 9 p.m. on December 12.

Nancy Donaldson, general chairman, and Carol Matthews, assistant chairman are being assisted by Mary Hite Grayson, Barbara Brantley and Betty Jane Stegal, who are in charge of backdrops; props chairman, Jean O'Connell; publicity chairman, Helen Wente; costume chairman, Katherine Key lights chairman, Linda Vess; and music chairman, Nancy Andrews. The nautiography for "Christmas Reflection" was written by Nancy Donaldson, Carol Matthews, Kitty Green, Nancy Andrews, Betsy Neal Arlene McKay and Elaine Weddle.

Longwood Senior Chosen For National Hockey Game

By JOHN STECK

Lou Heier, a personable Longwood College senior from Warwick, can be as feminine around a tea table as the next gal, but by natural inclination she'll drop lemon peel and crumpets for a hockey stick any day.

This wearer of the coveted Longwood white blazer for varsity participation in three sports has established a bright new "first" for Longwood . . . participation in the National Hockey Tournament.

A comparable national recognition accomplishment in men's athletics might be participation in the annual East-West Shrine football game, or the Blue-Gray gridiron contest for America's top college football seniors.

The road to Chicago and the November 27-29 National Tourney was long and arduous. It began with spotless records for Longwood's hockey team against collegiate competition for two years.

College Record

This season, for example, Lou and her teammates defeated Mary Washington, Westhampton, William and Mary, Norfolk Division, Roanoke and Madison. Only defeats were 5-2 and 1-0 losses to the Richmond Club, a post-college collection of top Old Dominion hockey performers.

The Longwood team also participated in the eastern Virginia Tidewater Tournament after its regular season in the first of the regional competitions leading to final selection of the nation's top women hockey players. For their play in the Tidewater, seven of the Longwood squad were chosen to compete in the Southeast Tournament at Baltimore.

Four, including Lou, competed on the Tidewater first team, three on the second. At Baltimore, teams came from Virginia, Delaware, Maryland and Washington, and when the firing ended Lou and Sandra Tarter, Longwood's captain this year were chosen for the national tourney, competing on the Southeast second team.

Chicago Cold!

At the Chicago national event, played at New Trier High School during the Thanksgiving vacation, the thermometer registered five degrees, there was snow on the ground and the teams used a red-painted hockey ball!

Since Sandra was unable to go to Chicago, Lou was the lone Longwood representative in one of the U.S.'s top-drawer field hockey events. Her Southeast second team was undefeated, whipping the New Atlantic seconds and pulling off a major upset by tying the Philadelphia, Pa., third team. Philadelphia is the national power in women's hockey, perennially.

Considering that, by the large, national hockey competition status comes only with continued club play and experience after college, the Longwood girls' achievement is quite a testimonial to the college here, and Miss Olive Iler and Miss Rebeca Brockenbourgh, college coaches and physical education teachers.

The Warwick miss, a physical education major who plans to teach after June graduation, plays center halfback, the key defensive slot and the roving position that, when successful, knits the five defense players into an impregnable barrier. Miss Iler says Lou has the prime requirements for outstanding defensive play, speed endurance and a strong stroke which can net the ball if occasion arises or can pass off to the forwards in breaking up the opponents' plays.

3-Sport Blazer

Lou's coveted white blazer, Longwood's variation of the monogram, was won on the basis of her four-year varsity competition on the Longwood hockey, basketball and tennis teams.

Like numerous other students who develop a determined, spirited interest in hockey at Longwood, Lou has attended the famous summer hockey instruction camp operated by Miss Constance Applebee in the Pocono mountains in Pennsylvania.

LOU HEIER

The Englishwoman, generally credited with establishing hockey in America, visited the Longwood campus last month. A spry 85, Miss Applebee, said on her visit: "I am 85 years old and still on the go. That shows what an active and vigorous game like hockey can do for you!"

Lou Heier, who has already found that hockey can introduce you to your own country and widen your friendships to include players from all over the country, agrees with her. With college play now behind her, the Warwick miss will try to make a club connection wherever her work takes her.

International hockey play isn't a pipe dream for a college senior who has been to the nationals!

—Farmville Herald

Assembly

The Fleming High School Choir from Roanoke will join the Longwood Choir in presenting the program for assembly on December 16, in Jarman Auditorium. This two-part program will consist of Christmas carols and songs.

On December 2, Professor Allan Nevins, retired Professor of Columbia University, spoke on the influence of big business in American history. Professor Nevins is present Senior Research Scholar of Huntington Library in California.

Timely Topics

By MARTHA GRAY SHIRLEY

On our non-stop flight around the world, we find that people all over the globe are eagerly awaiting the outcome of Sunday's (December 7) election in Berlin. The real issue is the Soviet desire to convert West Berlin into an unarmed free city. Communist East Germans and West Germans, too, call the voting for municipal offices a plebiscite on Premier Khrushchev's scheme to get United States, British and French troops out of the old German capital.

As we continue our journey, we find that the Army's first attempt at launching a rocket to the moon Saturday, December 6, at Cape Canaveral, turned out to be unsuccessful as far as reaching its destination was concerned. However, despite the defeat, the scientists involved were pleased with the test results and Dr. Wernher von Braun said that the firing was "90 per cent successful."

Then, as we move on the coast to New York, we discover that Princess Grace and Prince Rainier have been greeted with a multitudinous and warm reception including a number of festivities in their honor.

As we advance to East Meadow, New York, we can witness the mysterious and tragic results induced by overeating. Having eaten the equivalent of three or four meals within several hours, the prominent 19-year-old actress Sharon Tate died as the result of a "medical rarity, a stomach explosion from overeating."

Moving over to Chicago, we end our journey by witnessing a tragic scene of unfortunate parents who have lost their children, from the ages of 9 to 14 years, in one of the most tragic fires recorded in the history of Chicago schools. About 93 children lost their lives when a Catholic school burned, killing several nuns also. Priests have had an extremely "trying" week preparing for the pitiful funerals and repeating comforting words to many parents.

Gridiron Bleachers

Football Winds Up With Bowl Games

By JACKIE WALLER

On New Year's Day the main attractions will be the post-season football bowl games.

Featuring the annual parade will be the Rose Bowl festivities in Pasadena, California. The two opponents are Iowa and California.

Texas Christian, Southwest Conference champions, will meet Air Force in the Cotton Bowl, Dallas, Texas. Air Force is unbeaten this year and tied only once in their fourth year of athletic competition.

Miami, Florida's Orange Bowl, will witness the match between Big Eight champion and third ranked nationally Oklahoma and Syracuse.

The land of the Mardi Gras will welcome Clemson, ACC champion and the Nation's only undefeated, untied, and No. 1 team, Louisiana State University.

Jacksonville, Florida, with the Gator Bowl will play hostess to some playing 'Gators—those from Florida who will tangle with Mississippi, the team ranked thirteenth nationally.

The Sun Bowl in El Paso, Texas, will feature Hardin-Simmons, Border Conference champions vs. Wyoming, champs in the Skyline Conference.

So for your holiday viewing, take a gander at your friendly TV set January 1 to see the cream of the collegiate football teams in action . . . .

Basketball Schedule

Longwood's varsity basketball team will play the Roanoke College on February 6 in Salem. They will play Madison College away on February 14. On February 28, William and Mary will play Longwood here. Westhampton also will play here on March 7.

Miss Iler hopes to schedule games with Sweet Briar, Hollins and Mary Washington. If these games are scheduled, an announcement will be made later.

Freshmen are urged to support their class team. Practices are now being held and the Freshman Team will soon be chosen. Games may be scheduled for them with other schools.

GIFTS by
YARDLEY, OLD SPICE, HELENA RUBENSTEIN
and EASTMAN KODAK
at
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

WILSON HOME AND AUTO SUPPLY

Ten Top Tunes

1. Do You Know How Much I Love You
2. Tom Dooley
3. I Only Have Eyes For You
4. Beep Beep
5. Oh, Neely O'Hara
6. Topsy II
7. Lollipop Lovin'
8. Problems
9. I Got Stung
10. It's All in The Game

be sure and get your CORSAGES and BOUTONNIERES
for senior dance from
CARTER'S FLOWER SHOP
116 W. Third Ave.
Phone 600

Cheerless leader

Not a "rah rah" left in him! He's just discovered there's no more Coke. And a cheer leader without Coke is as sad as a soap opera. To put the sparkle back in his eye—somebody!—bring him a sparkling cold Coca-Cola!

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

—Staff Photo

LUCKY 17—Longwood's men students (seated) H. Chaney, R. Michel, Dr. Schlegel (advisor), K. Bryant, B. Thomas, G. Mathews; (standing) J. Lynn, B. Lee, D. Dixon, B. Taylor, R. Hill, E. Morgan.

Males Found In Feminine Maze

By MARY BYRD MICOU

"Longwood Ladies" is a term which could cause confusion in certain situations on this campus.

There are 17 reasons for such confusion. The reasons are boys, as this year Longwood is host to 17 male students.

John Lynn, a Farmville resident, will serve this year as president of the Men's Student Government.

Among the men students now at Longwood are William Watkins Lee, John Frederick Lynn, Charles Ray McClung, Earl Anderson Fore, Ronald Gray Lawhorne and Robert Lee Taylor, all of Farmville; Samuel Hale Bailey, Pamplin; Percy Laverne Dixon, Keysville; Keith Austin Bryant, Arvonia; Harry McDonald Chaney and Robert Lee Michael, Crewe; Roy Wilson, New Caton; Ewell Alexander Morgan, Dillwyn; Donald Edmond Simmons Amelia.

When they are not in class, the men students may be found taking a break in the "rec," or almost anywhere on campus.

The boys gave several reasons for choosing to attend Longwood College. Roy Hill, a science major, is studying at Longwood "because a good friend advised me to go to this college for the first year." He adds, "I am planning on going to Lynchburg College next year, where I can major in physical education."

Close To Home

Another main reason for male student attendance is convenience in traveling to and from home each day. Keith Bryant and Robert Lee Michael stated this as their main reason for coming to Longwood.

Other factors which bring men students to the Longwood campus are financial reasons, special courses, and the basic foundation for further study which this college offers.

"Great School—for Girls!"

The reaction of the students to attending a school in which they are greatly outnumbered by the opposite sex gave rise to quite a few remarks. One comment was, "Longwood is a great school, especially for girls!"

Robert Taylor, who is taking a business course, thinks that "Longwood is a fine school, but a little hard." He is studying at Longwood because Hampden-Sydney does not offer a business course.

Longwood's male students seem to have a favorable opinion of their college.

Church News

By SANDIE FARISH

Methodist

The Wesley Foundation Choir will sing their program of Christmas music on Dec. 14 at the Sunday morning service. Regular rehearsals are on Thursdays at 5 p.m. at the church.

On Thursday, Dec. 11 at 7 p.m., the student center will be decorated. After the greens have been hung, there will be carol singing and refreshments for all. Ya'll come!

On Friday afternoon, Dec. 12 from 2 to 5, the Wesley Foundation will hold its annual Christmastime open house. It is open to all Methodists and friends. Hope to see you there!

On December 14 at 7 p.m., the Fellowship hour will be held and Mrs. Sally Winggold of Jetersville will present a Christmas story at that time. We urge everyone to come.

Merry Christmas to all from the Methodists!

Episcopal

On December 14, the Canterbury Club will have its Christmas party. Dodie Webster and Wendy Warren are in charge of the party. Patty Ragus and Susan O'Hara are in charge of the Christmas basket which will be dedicated at the Christmas party.

At the party hospital Christmas dinner favors will be given to Mr. Vaden in the name of the hospital. Making them will be Nancy Kelly and Alice Lawrence.

In January a baby sale will be given by the Canterbury Club.

Don't forget January 11 and our Union Assembly. Plans of Lenten presentations.

Baptist

A number of Longwood girls went to Mecca Hall on December 3 and presented a Christmas program.

At the conclusion of Freshman Week, the Freshmen took over All

GIFTS FOR ALL
at
MARTIN the Jeweler
Come in today and make your selection.

GIRLS!
The place to do your Christmas Shopping is at the
DOROTHY MAY
Select your gifts for your Mother and Friends!

Simonini, Cover, Draper Attend Meetings

Dr. R. C. Simonini, Jr., head of the Longwood College English department, served as the chairman of an afternoon program on linguistics at the convention of the National Council of Teachers of English held in Pittsburgh, November 27-29.

The program on "Utilizing Linguistics in Teaching Writing and Related Language Skills" featured a demonstration and discussion by professors from the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Oklahoma State University, the State College of Washington, the University of Puerto Rico, Moorhead State College, Minnesota, and English teachers from Penger High School, Chicago, and Staple High School, Westport, Connecticut.

Dr. Simonini is a member of the NCTE board of directors and is chairman of its Committee on International Cooperation.

Mrs. Kathleen Cover, Associate Professor of History and Social Sciences and Miss Helen Draper, Professor of Modern Languages at Longwood College, attended a conference on the National Defense Education Act at the Sheraton-Park Hotel in Washington, D. C., November 24.

The purpose of the conference was to inform colleges of the new programs in student loans, graduate fellowships, counseling and guidance institutes, and foreign language developments to be available in the near future.

Three hundred representatives of colleges and universities in Virginia, Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, West Virginia, District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands attended the conference with representatives from various educational groups throughout the country who conducted the afternoon discussion sessions.

Cigarette Contest

The Philip Morris contest closes at 4 p.m. Monday, December 15.

The winner will be announced that evening, and the presentation will take place in either the Rec at Longwood or the College Shop at Hampden-Sydney, depending on whether a fraternity or sorority wins the prizes.

Get your Parliament, Marlboro, and Philip Morris wrappers in as soon as possible.

WALKER'S
DINNERS
PARTIES
Private Dining Rooms
by Reservation
Burkeville, Va.
Tel. 3280

Boxwood Tourist Court
and Restaurant
3 Miles South of Farmville
on Route 15
PHONE 3027-5

Goin' home over vacation?

GOING BY GREYHOUND® IS BASIC ECONOMICS!

- Lowest fares of all public transportation!
- Frequent departures! Quickest time to many cities!
- Air-conditioned comfort; picture-window sightseeing; fully equipped restroom; on all Scenicruiser Service® schedules!

Compare these low, low fares!

Farmville to Richmond	$2.20
Farmville to Lynchburg	1.71
Farmville to Norfolk	4.62
Charlottesville	2.04
Farmville to Roanoke	3.47
Farmville to Danville	3.25
Washington, D. C.	6.28
Farmville to Williamsburg	3.94

*plus tax

IT'S SUCH A COMFORT TO TAKE THE BUS... AND LEAVE THE DRIVING TO US!

3rd & Garden Sts.
Phone Number 745

Do You Think for Yourself? (HERE'S A TEST THAT WILL TELL YOU!*)

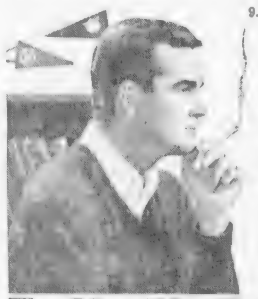
1. If the salaries were equal, would you rather be a college professor than a movie star? YES ☐ NO ☐

5. Do you believe it unwise to eat at irregular hours, even though you're hungry? YES ☐ NO ☐

2. Would you rather borrow money from a bank or institution than from a friend? YES ☐ NO ☐

6. If you actually saw a "flying saucer" land, would you run for your life? YES ☐ NO ☐

3. Would you rather have tests sprung on you than be warned about them in advance? YES ☐ NO ☐



7. Would you be inclined to follow the latest style in clothes regardless of how it looked to you? YES ☐ NO ☐

4. Do you think it's foolish to daydream? YES ☐ NO ☐

8. Would you feel badly if you thought nobody at all knew where you were? YES ☐ NO ☐

9. Are you confused by the clamor of conflicting claims so many filter cigarettes are making these days? YES ☐ NO ☐

The fact is, thinking men and women don't let themselves get pushed and pulled by all those filter claims. They know what they want in a filter cigarette. And they know only VICEROY gives it to them. A thinking man's filter, a smoking man's taste. Makes sense.

Should you smoke VICEROY? If you think for yourself—chances are you do already!

If you have answered Yes to two out of the first three questions, and No to five out of the last six... you think for yourself!*

© 1958, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

Familiar pack or crush-proof box.

The Man Who Thinks for Himself Knows — ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER... A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!

Cheerful Cherubs
See Editorials

The Rotunda

Good Luck
On Exams

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., January 14, 1959 | No. 10

Longwood To Observe 75th Anniversary Year

One New Dorm Scheduled For Completion September, 1960

Williams Elected As First Editor For Handbook

Julia Williams has been appointed Editor of the '59 Longwood College Handbook by the Student Government Council.

Julia, a junior, is the first editor of this official college rule book. In past years the vice-president of Student Government has also served in that capacity.

She was appointed to the position last week after going through what she described as "quite a mysterious week." It seems that members of the student government kept coming up to her and saying, "has Odom seen you yet?" After a few days of this she was thoroughly convinced that she had committed the worst of all crimes. "When I finally found out what it was all about, I felt so honored, I forgot everything else I had been thinking," was the way Julia summarized the incident.

Julia, who is from Louisa, is majoring in elementary education and is working on a minor in Biology. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority; Kappa Delta Pi, National honorary education fraternity, photography editor of the Virginian; secretary of the House Council; and has recently received a bid to Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity.

Because of her interest in minoring in Biology, Julia is taking a course in cat anatomy next semester. She hopes it will prove to be very interesting, but will not take up too much of her time, so that she can do justice to the handbook. She feels that a few sketches in the introductory part of the handbook would help to make it a little more attractive, but that the constitutional sections should remain along the same line as they have been.

In closing Julia stated, "I will do the best I can on the handbook, and I hope it will satisfy both the student government and the student body."

JULIA WILLIAMS
Handbook Editor

Class Of '61 Elects Stegall, Elmore

The Sophomore class has chosen Betty Jane Stegall and June Elmore as its co-chairmen for Sophomore Production which will be presented February 21.

Jane, who is an English-elementary major from Fieldale, was co-chairman of sophomore circus, wrote the script of freshman production last year, and was an end-man in the show. She also designed the scenery for the water pageant, and is on the Colonnade staff. Jane is a member of the Cotillion Club.

June is a physical education major from Norfolk. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha and the Cotillion Club. She is also in H20, varsity hockey team, and varsity basketball last year. June was set chairman for sophomore circus, and was chairman for freshman sing last year.

The theme of the production, and committee chairmen will be announced at a later date.

First To Honor Wheeler

By PATSY POWELL

September of 1960 will see the addition of a dormitory to the Longwood College campus. This, the first in the planned construction of three modern dormitory buildings, will honor by its name Miss Leola Wheeler, former Professor of Speech and Drama at the college.

Miss Wheeler retired from the college in 1950 after having taught speech and dramatics for many years. She died here in Farmville on January 31, 1954, after a lingering illness.

Remembered especially for her work with the Longwood Players, Miss Wheeler was also known for kindness, service and her many friends. Having received a B.A. degree from Smith College and a M.A. degree from Columbia University, she had also traveled widely abroad.

Lancaster Hall

The second dormitory tentatively scheduled for completion in 1962 will be named for former Longwood College president, Dabney S. Lancaster. Dr. Lancaster served as Virginia Superintendent of Public Instruction before coming to the college in July of 1946. A native Richmonder and graduate of the University of Virginia, Dr. Lancaster was known and loved by many students during his nine years as president of this institution.

He has also served as Executive Secretary of the Board of Trustees of Sweetbrier College and was Dean of Men at the University of Alabama from 1929 to 1937. A longtime servant of public education in Virginia, Dr. Lancaster has placed emphasis on vocational education and has lead a movement to increase teachers' pay.

Cox Hall

The third dormitory, to be completed around 1964, will bear the name of Miss Mary White Cox. Fondly known as Miss Mary during her many years as head of the Home Department of this college, Miss Cox was also a graduate of this school. She became an assistant in the Home Department in 1902 and its head in 1915, a position which she retained until her resignation in 1944. The position of Head of the Home Department is equaled to that now held by the Dean of Women.

In both 1939 and 1942, the Virginian, college annual, was dedicated to Miss Mary. The 1939 Virginian in its dedication says, "Ready always, to listen to our problems, and to give unceasingly of sympathy, Miss Mary has grown to mean an invaluable force in the lives of each of us. As Head of the Home, she is as ready to recognize and commend our accomplishments, as she is to keep us in check occasionally. Graced with an unusual ability for understanding people, she is to us the embodi-

(Continued on page 4)

Elections

Tomorrow elections will be held to choose a Chairman of Major and Minor Elections, May Day Chairman, and May Day Business Manager. The polls will be open from 1 to 6 p.m. and all students may cast their ballot in the Rotunda.

The Student Government nominations, approved by the Student Body yesterday in assembly, are as follows:

Chairman of Major and Minor Elections: Dot Boswell, Virlinda Joyner, and Jackie Waller; May Day Chairman: Lou Heler, Mary Ellen Moore, and Betty Spivey; May Day Business Manager: Ann Glover, Margaret Layman, and Charlotte McGhee.

The Chairman of Major and Minor Elections directs the nomination and election of the officers of the four major organizations on campus: Student Government Association, House Council, Y. W. C. A., and Athletic Association.

The May Day Chairman and Business Manager will direct the May Day activities to be held the first Saturday in May.

DON'T FORGET TO CAST YOUR BALLOT!

Longwood College's 75th anniversary as the first state college for women began with a special stamp cancellation at 6:30 a.m., January 1.

During 1959 many school activities will serve as part of the celebration. Marking the official opening will be Founders' Day followed by the Fine Arts Festival, the Institute of Southern Culture, graduation exercises, and finally the fall symposium and convocation.

Burger Is Chairman

Miss Elizabeth Burger, Associate Professor of Science, is head of the anniversary committee while Mrs. Mildred Davis, Dr. George Jeffers, Dr. Gordon Moss, Mrs. Francis B. Simkins, and Miss Elsie Stossell, alumnae chairman, serve on the committee.

The stamp cancellation which is placed on letters leaving Farmville says, "Longwood College—Seventy-Five Years of Teacher Education." In the Freshman Class Production

MISS ELIZABETH BURGER

January 9 tribute was also paid to the celebration through the stunt, "Joan Speaks," depicting highlights in Longwood's history.

Founders' Day, which will be held the weekend of March 14-15, will feature a water pageant, a prominent speaker for the morning program, an open house, and a concert given by the faculty members of the Music Department as announced by Miss Mary Nichols, chairman. Others assisting her are Miss Ruth Wilson, Miss Eleanor Weddle, Miss Emily Barksdale, Mr. A. Ray Merchant, Mrs. Thomas McCorkle, Dr. Jef-

Continued on page 4)

Adams Selected By Administration For Position Here

The Longwood College Administration has chosen one of its own graduating students, Anne C. Adams, to fill a faculty position pending approval by the State Board of Education, announced Dr. F. G. Lankford, president, and Dr. Merle K. Landrum, professor of Business Education.

Anne will graduate in February with a B.S. in Secondary Education. She majored in business and hopes to teach shorthand and typing in place of Mrs Alice C. Wynne who temporarily filled the vacancy left by the passing of Mr. Christy Snead of the business department.

Anne completed her student teaching last fall in Roanoke, at Jefferson Senior High School. She taught business math and general business there.

"I was very surprised to find that I had been the choice of the administration," commented Anne, "and very honored." "I feel the experience will be most valuable," she added, "and I am looking forward to working with the students."

During her years at Longwood, Anne has been a member of the F.B.L.A., Kappa Delta Pi, the Cotillion Club, Pi Kappa Sigma social sorority and the Northern Neck Club.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Adams, of Montrose.

Lankford Accepts DuPont Fund

Mrs. Alfred I. DuPont, of Wilmington, Del., has established a scholarship fund at Longwood College, President Francis G. Lankford, Jr. has announced.

To be known as the Jessie Ball DuPont Scholarship Fund, awards will be made to worthy students who are otherwise qualified for admission.

In accepting the gift Dr. Lankford said: "I am grateful to Mrs. DuPont for her generous gift to Longwood College. I am especially pleased that she wishes it to be used to provide scholarships for deserving students. We know that there are many of the highest ranking high school graduates who do not go to college because of cost. We are eager to see these young people prepare for teaching. Mrs. DuPont's gift will help us in realizing this ambition."

Jr. English Test

The Junior English Test will be given in Room D of the West Wing January 20 at 2 p.m. Dr. Mercer will be in charge of the test, which will cover literature of [illegible] effectiveness of composition, and [illegible] correctness.

Satisfactory achievement on the Junior English Test is prerequisite for graduation in all curricula. All students of [illegible] standing not on the "absolved list" posted in the West Wing, students who will attain junior status next semester [illegible] who did not make satisfactory scores on the test last year should take the test at this time.

Transfers, Frosh To Enter College Next Semester

Seven people will enter Longwood for the second semester as transfer, new, or returning students. Several other applications will be considered as soon as the records are complete, probably bringing the total to ten.

Included as a beginning freshman will be Patricia Anne Pearce [illegible] Ann Hash [illegible] graduate of Appalachia [illegible] transfer from Fairmont [illegible] Institute.

[illegible] Daniel James Mc[illegible] who is a graduate of [illegible] Henry High School [illegible] East Carolina College, Greenville, North Carolina, is Patricia Hurst who graduated from [illegible] High School in Roanoke. [illegible] Ann Comer, a former Longwood student, is returning; she graduated from Culpeper High School. Also coming back is Justine Mayhew, a graduate of Warwick High School.

Diane Sue Dickerson comes from Carlsbad, N. M. to do work in [illegible] education. She attended [illegible] High School and Compton Junior College and received a [illegible] degree from San Jose State College, San Jose, California.

Rossiter, Goodman Direct "Cupid's Holiday"

—Staff Photo

NO SNOW FOR JUNIOR DANCE hope co-chairmen Barbara Rossiter and Connie Goodman, as they begin plans for February 14.

U Of R Collegians To Provide Music

Cupid's Holiday is the theme selected by the junior class for their dance to be held February 14 from 8 to 12 p.m. in the Longwood gym.

Carrying out the traditional St. Valentine's theme, the gym will be decorated with red, white and gold columns from which paper mache cupids aim their bows and cast their charm.

Collegians To Play

Juniors Barbara Rossiter and Connie Goodman are serving as chairmen of the dance for which the Collegians from the University of Richmond will play. A business education major from Arlington, Barbara is vice-president of her class, a member of the Colonnade staff, in Kappa Delta Pi, a national education sorority, and Pi Kappa Sigma social sorority. Connie, a mathematics major from Fries, is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, Student Government, and Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority.

Acting as chairmen of the various committees are Carol Lassiter, decorations; Anne Clarke, tickets; Sara Oliver, floor committee; Addie Richardson, Jean Dunagan and Ann Jenkins, publicity; Ann Mixon and Joyce Pendleon, favors; Annie B. Palmer, clean-up; Arlene McKay, invitations; Dixie Hilliard, party after dance; Robin Arthur and Clara Miles Shumadine, receiving line flowers; and Mary Linda Leavitte, lights.

In the receiving line, which will be in the smoker, will be Dr. and Mrs. Francis Lankford; Miss Elizabeth Burger, junior sponsor, Miss Ruth Wilson, Miss Eleanor Weddle, freshman class sponsor; Connie Goodman; Barbara Rossiter; Jean O'Connell, junior class president; and Ellen Powell, freshman class president.

Chaperones for the dance include Miss Burger, Miss Weddle, Mrs. Kathleen Cover, Dr. and Mrs. Moss, Dean Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. Lankford, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, Dr. and Mrs. Simonini, Dr. and Mrs. Brumfield, Mrs. Mercer, Council, Dr. Boggs, Mrs. Overton, Dr. and Mrs. Schlegel, Mr. and Mrs. Merchant, Mr. Raymond French, and Miss Spear.

Following the dance there will be a party from 12 until 1 a.m. Chaperones for this event will be Mr. and Mrs. James Helms, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Leeper, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Merritt.

Chi Speaks

Chi has long been the object of insatiable and sometimes immoderate curiosity on the part of those who do not seek to understand it's deeper significance. It has been, however, an everpresent and an integral part of life here at Longwood. The purpose of Chi is not published but can only be found in the hearts and minds of those who have sought it. Chi is more than an organization. It is a spirit as old as the school itself.

This year Longwood College will celebrate its 75th anniversary. These have been 75 years of growth, productivity, and achievement. As one of the oldest organizations on campus, Chi will endeavor to support and honor this event in every way possible; likewise, it encourages each student to take part in this occasion. For 59 of these 75 years, Chi, which was founded in 1900, has undertaken many activities toward the betterment of our college campus. Some of which are the donation of cornerstones for both Edith Stevens Hall and Jarman Hall, and the landscaping of the dell at Longwood Estate. More recent contributions are the tiling of the Main Rec and a name plate soon to be placed on Cunningham Dormitory. All of these things were made possible not only through the efforts of those members of Chi present in college, but through the gracious assistance and generous contributions of the alumnae.

In mentioning the 59 years that Chi has been on this campus and in pointing out a few of the contributions it is hoped that its functions will be more clearly understood. Throughout these years the members of Chi who have walked the Colonnade and met in secrecy have been subject to many "inconveniences," some of which have been most understandable; however, some things carried to extremes amount to little less than discourtesy. Calls from the windows when Chi walks the Colonnade in endorsement of some particularly fine phase of college activity or defacing unauthorized places by painting the symbolic skull and crossbones tend to reflect on the caliber of the person involved. Chi wishes neither to seek out nor to condemn such a student, but to question the ethics of such action with the hope of initiating some constructive self-examination on the part of the individual.

—Chi

Exams—Personal Test Too

January—exams; the beginning of 1959—the climax of fall semester. This time of the year means a great deal to all of us and because of its importance there are many things we should remember. Have you ever thought about one of the real tests of examinations? It's the personal test concerning you.

Piles of last minute parallel, term papers, cramming, and finally exams themselves add up to quite a hectic rush. It is one time when your nerves as well as your brains are "up for passing." You should be aware that your personality, your consideration, dependability, patience, and determination are in for a trying time and you should have faith in yourself to keep a stable, sensible, and above all, honorable character.

You should remember to be considerate of others and help yourself by getting enough sleep and proper food; be depended upon to do the work you can do as well as possible; be patient and determined to study and really learn something. Instead of wasting time worrying, you can evaluate the semester's studies for your weak points and then, get busy!

And even though you haven't pulled straight A's, when Friday, January 23, finally gets here, there will be a certain reviving feeling in knowing that you have done your best in everything. That's when you'll rate one A, on your test.

Cherubs Cure Exam Fever

Amid the hustle and bustle of examination period it is a pleasure to find some activity that relieves the strain and tension of studying. As is customary, the Baptist Student Union will again sponsor Cheerful Cherub Week, January 19-23, with the chairman being Sandy Sandidge. Cheerful Cherub has been designed for the entire student body, and the reward for doing a good deed is a worthwhile compensation.

Make a resolution then to be first a good Cheerful Cherub and second a cheerful companion, friend or roommate. To those of you who are not familiar with this game, here is what happens: when you "catch up." You will be given the name of a student of your dormitory and for five days you secretly do a good deed for this person. On the sixth day tell her your name. In the meantime someone will have been assigned to you as your Cheerful Cherub.

If this activity is to be successful on our campus, every student must participate. We all need a few minutes of rest and relaxation before exams so include being a Cheerful Cherub in your daily schedule.

Seventeen February Grads Plan To Teach, Work, Marry

Seventeen seniors will be taking their leave of Longwood with the close of the forthcoming examination period ending January 29.

These students, having completed the requirements for graduation, will be moving into various categories of work in Virginia and other states. Those to leave are:

Anne Adams from Montross will receive a B.S. in Business Education. Anne Baker, also from Montross, plans to secure secretarial work in Richmond. She will receive a B.S. degree in Business Education.

Sylvia Bivens will receive a B.A. degree in English. She is from Chase City and plans to be married and live in Knoxville, Tennessee. Vann Thacker Blackwood will get her B.S. degree in Elementary Education. She plans to return to Lynchburg, her home town, where she will teach. Eleanor Gurganus Brinkley will attain her B.S. degree in Social Science. She plans to return home to Portsmouth to teach.

Helen Elaine Chaffin from Richlands will teach at Cave Spring High School in Roanoke County. She will receive a B.S. degree in Business Education. Ella Louise Gray is from Gloucester. With a double major in English and History she will receive a B.S. degree with future plans to attend graduate school. Emma Harrell Gardner is from Franklin and will receive a B.S. degree in Elementary Education.

Jane Kell Newbill will teach at Princess Anne High School. She is from Halifax and will attain a B.S. degree in Spanish and English. Marilyn King, from Warwick, plans to be married and teach in Roanoke County. She will receive a B.S. degree in Elementary Education. Helen McKelder McCraw from Dillwyn will receive a B.S. degree in Home Economics. She will become the Assistant Home Demonstration Agent in Buckingham County.

June Lee May, from Lynchburg, will receive her degree in Elementary Education. She plans to be married. Jerrye Edwards Mayhew will receive a degree in Elementary Education. She is from Gretna and will move to Anniston, Alabama, to be with her husband. Betty Bland Maynard will teach in Newport News. She will receive a B.S. degree in Elementary Education and is from Warwick.

Lois Ploss Ogburn from McKenny will teach at Warwick High School. She will attain a B.S. degree in Business Education. Betty Jean Turner, from Smithfield, plans to teach in Roanoke. She will receive a B.S. degree in Elementary Education. Harriet Hardy Williams will attain a position with the American Tobacco Company. She is from Blackstone and will receive a degree in Chemistry.

Exam Prayer

By JOANNE KLEINECKE

Oh, Spirit of Wisdom, descent on us all
Walk with firm footsteps down each Longwood hall.
Unscrew each limp noggin and fill it with sense
Most students, you know, are incredibly dense.
We would like knowledge about various things—
Science, art, English and the lineage of kings.
There are still other favors we'd like you to do;
Please help us our fingernails all not to chew.
And as for those cigarettes glowing so bright,
Set our quota at not over fifty a night.
Give professors sharp pencils that write only "A's"
Put more playtime hours in each of our days.
And if you could see your way clear on the deal,
A tranquilizer pill we'd enjoy with each meal.
Keep dormitory noises down to a mild roar;
Make studies so simple they won't seem a chore.
But, if all these petitions you regard as pure bunk,
Then at least help us, spirit, to cheerfully flunk!

Timely Topics

In his state of the Union message, the President announced that he seeks peace, security and challenges Democrats to join him in high quest. Mr. Eisenhower set forth goals for 1959 of a quest for military and economic strength for a surging America and a just world peace. He also appealed to the legislators to work with him to keep in balance the 77 billion dollar budget he is sending to them January 19.

A big Spanish dam burst killing hundreds, early Friday, January 3. The torrent of water swept away sleeping village of Rivadelago and many of its 500 inhabitants. Fewer than 200 have been rescued. The dam burst about 12:30 a.m. and when rescue workers were able to reach the village 12 hours later they found a scene of devastation. The disaster was the worst in recent Spanish history.

Alaska became the 49th state January 3 when Mr. Eisenhower signed the historic document and unveiled the new 49-star flag. The new state is more than twice the size of Texas and has a vast store of untapped mineral, timber, and other natural resources.

Russia's one and a half ton cosmic rocket has conquered earth's gravitation. The Soviet Union expressed confidence that the rocket, after by-passing the moon, will orbit about the sun. The Russian Premier stated that they are the first in the world to map out the way from the earth to the moon.

Socially Speaking . . .

Santa Brings Sparkling Presents; H-S Frat Parties Draw Crowds

By JACKIE GIBSON

A sparkling holiday season has just passed and the evidence is all over Longwood.

Many congratulations are in store for the lucky girls who received diamonds for Christmas: Dotsie Wheeler is wearing a diamond she received from Carl Utz from U.Va. Smitty Smythers received a ring from Coley Shelton of Roanoke College. Faye Garrett is boasting a diamond from Larry Lawton from VPI.

Barbara Odom has a sparkle in her eyes as well as on her finger. She received a ring from Frank Wright. Max Meador gave Jackie Harper a diamond, and Charlotte Jewell received one from Hugh Garst.

Shirley Grizzard is showing everyone the ring Emerson Burgess gave her. Roberta Silcox received a double pearl engagement ring from Preston Burton from California. Virginia McAden is engaged to David Hartzell from VPI. Betty Brown Culpepper received a VMI miniature from Bill Holland who now attends MCV. Mary Davis, Melinda Franklin, Evelyn Adams and Sylvia Bivens are all engaged as of Christmas, too.

Wedding Bells

The institution of marriage is a wonderful thing and to verify this fact are those who were married over the holidays. Congratulations to Mrs. Fred Brinkley (Eleanor Gurganus), Dr. and Mrs. Jessie W. Mayhew Jr. (Jerry Edwards), Mrs. Byron Blair (Mary Lou Morgan), Mrs. James Kelly (Mary Helen Jones).

Jackie Gibson is now wearing a Kappa Sigma pin belonging to Lewis Walker from Hampden-Sydney. Beverly Kersey became pinned at Christmas to Jimmy Monahan from W and M.

Bet and Fran McLaughlin went to Philadelphia and New York over the holidays. Linda Doles also traveled to New York.

Ernestine Stoltz went to the MCV Christmas parties in Richmond.

Joanne Kleinecke went to the University of Richmond Kappa Alpha party this weekend.

Hampden-Sydney Parties

The Kappa Sigs entertained Gretchen Zimmerman, Kitty Good, Jackie Gibson, Duner Cahill, Ann Norfleet, and Frances Harney at a party Saturday night.

At the Pi Kappa Alpha house we found Sheila Galloway, Pat O'Neil, Alice Layne, Dottie Gills, Becky Wooldridge, Carol Boley, Yvonne Webb, Barbara Brantley, Barbara Chaffin, Evelyn Adams, Dottie Brown, Mary Ellen O'Conner, Sue Humphries, Cherry Gorham, Katherine Wallace, Judy Welch, Lois Johnson, Nancye Allen, Sara Oliver, Brenda Drewry, Barbara Rossiter, Billy Jo Altizer, Jill Green, Justine Blount, Barbara Simpkins, Anne Clarke, Claudia Whipple, Katherine Key, Marie Fisher, Sylvia Noxe, Diane Doughty, Ann McDonald, Joan Lee Thomas, Joan Brooker, Weedie Norman, Anne Adams, Barbara Purks, Connie Levinson, Jeanie Sanders, Nadine Dazell, Jane Adams, Cat Ozman.

The Sigma Chi's entertained Gail Jessee, Linda Doles, Patti Roach, Fay Salmon, Brenda Parsley, Oreta Norris, B. J. Allgood, Carolyn Oliver, Lee Page, Page Landers, Jean Dunagan, Nancy Mills.

MAD

Alfred E. Neuman is Mad's famous "What—me worry?" character. Hardly a day goes by that letters don't pour into Mad's palatial tenement offices from deficients all over the country asking: "Just who is this Alfred E. Neuman?" Where did he come from?" "What does he want?" "Who cares, anyway?" etc. In answer to this great upsurge of interest in the subject, Mad has employed a Geneologist (who works cheap) to investigate Alfred's background and fill us in on Alfred E. Neuman's Family Tree:

Alfred the Chicken-Hearted: Started out on Second Crusade. Made mistake of trying to ford stream three miles from home with armer on.

Johannes Neumanberg: Attempted to print first book from moveable type. Gave up when he discovered he couldn't read.

Christopher Numunbus: Sailed Westward in 1492 searching for short route to Indies. Through poor navigation, discovered Sweden.

Michaelaneumano: Commissioned to paint ceiling of Sistine Chapel, mistakenly painted ceiling of building next door, which was condemned and torn down the following week.

General George Neuman: Crossed the Delaware with a ragged army, and passed Washington going the other way.

—Mad

Wanted: Summer Job, Fun

Have you seen the latest "Wanted" poster? It describes a girl wanted for —"love of children and the out-of-doors; some knowledge of campcraft and-or other skills nature - lore, music, dramatics, dancing, etc.; desire to help girls appreciate the 'out' in scout. The reward—a summer of fun and you're paid for it too!" This poster is from the Girl Scouts of Richmond.

On the Placement Board are found various opportunities for summer jobs at camps from North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia to Yellowstone National Park. Jobs offered to ambitious college students include those of Program Director, Cabin and Unit Counselors, Guidance Specialists, Dietitians, Activity Leaders, Nurses, and Boating and Waterfront Directors.

"In the interest of seeking qualified and mature leadership" the Camp Counselor Placement Service is looking for you!

If you are interested in a summer job keep your eye on the Placement Board on the first floor across from Freshman Parlor, or consult with Mrs. Mary Watkins, Executive Secretary.

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 20, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 168.

Linda Doles ..... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors:
Bet McLoughlin, Patsy Powell

Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Judy Eskstrom ..... News Editor
Henrietta Dillon ..... Feature Editor
Violet Scott ..... Sports Editor
Virginia Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Anne B. Palmer ..... Photography
Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Lou Gray, Becky Parker ..... Advertising Managers
Miss Mary P. Nichols ..... Faculty Advisor

(Unsigned editorials written by the editor)

Member: Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press (Rating first class), Columbia Scholarship Press Association (Rating first place), Intercollegiate Press.

NEWS STAFF: Cherry Gorham, Assistant News Editor; Joann Kleinecke, Assistant Feature Editor, Chris Kamen, Assistant Sports Editor; Jo Ann Parsons, Assistant Desk Editor. Columnists: Jackie Gibson, Ann Glover, Cat Ozmon, Pat Leake, Jackie Waller, Alice Chenwood, Martha Rucker. Reporters: Pat Rodenhiser, Rose Lawrence, Nancy Lechler, Faye Garrett, Frances Harnsberger, Gerry Edmonds, Agnes Massie, Pat Foster, June Elmore, Sandra Weaver, Mary Shafer, Bonnie Carter, Mary E. Micou, Kitty Hawley, Claudia Wilson, Mattie Blewett, Judy Detrich, Brenda Farmer, Deanne Hogge, Margie Price, Dottie Cothern, Sue Carravella, Sandie Farish, Sandra Kilmon.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Dale Preddy, Assistant Manager; Kay Pierce, Arlene McKay, Cass Conner, Barbara Eneaman, Faye Garrett, Diane Doughty, Linda Saunders, Becky McGrath, Frances Mann, Nancy Lee Cole.

ADVERTISING STAFF: Marie Messick, Liz Eller, Judy Detrich, Bonnie Bryant, Jennie Fisher, Mary L. Elmore, Carolyn Grinstead, Ann M. Smith, Nancy Branscomb, Nancy Shaw, Nancy George, Doris Clapp, Grace Belvin, Judy Jordan.

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress on March 3, 1924. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

Basketball Schedule

Roanoke College	—	away	—	February	6	— 7:00
Madison College	—	away	—	February	14	— 2:00
Hollins College	—	here	—	February	24	— 3:00
William & Mary	—	here	—	February	28	— 2:00
Westhampton	—	here	—	March	7	— 2:00

Combine Travel And Study In Summer School Abroad

Potential historians, sociologists, poets and other liberal arts students can combine summer study with vacation travel abroad by enrolling in a British or Austrian summer school program. Applications of American students are now being accepted by the Institute of International Education.

British Summer Schools

The British University Summer Schools offer six week courses in various subjects. Students at Stratford-upon-Avon will study Shakespeare and Elizabethan drama; in London, one can study either Literature, Art and Social Change in 19th Cebtury England or Aspects of English Law and Jurisprudence; at Oxford, students will cover English History, Literature and the Arts from 1870 to the Present. The European Inheritence will be the theme of the Edinburgh School. Although the courses are designed for graduate students, undergraduates in their last two years at a university will be considered. However, those studying "Aspects of English Law and Jurisprudence" must either hold a law degree or be enrolled in a law school. Twelve to twenty nationalities are usually represented in each course.

The Summer School fees, including full board, residence and tuition, range between L80-L84 (approximately $226-238). A few scholarships are available which partially cover university fees of well-qualified students.

Austria

In Austria there are two summer schools of interest to Americans. The University of Vienna will give courses at its St. Wolfgang Campus near Salzburg. Students can study international relations, European economic and social problems, European history, music, art, psychology and German language. All courses, except German language, are taught in English. Students who have completed at least two years of college work are eligible to apply for either a three or six week program. The cost of the six week program, including registration, tuition, maintenance, tours and attendance at the Salzburg Festival is $220. A few scholarships are open to six week students, covering tuition and maintenance.

Salzburg

The Salzburg Summer School, sponsored by the Austro-American Society, offers a six week summer program at Salzburg. Courses begin July 5, 1959, in German language, Austrian art, European music and foreign policy. All courses are taught in English except German language studies. The cost of the program, $200, includes the registration fee, board, tuition, text books, several one-day bus tours and attendance at the Salzburg Festival. Applicants must be between the ages of 18-40, and must have completed at least one year of college work.

Applications for both the British and the Austrian programs may be obtained from the Institute of International Education (see letterhead). British Summer School scholarship applications must be received before March 2, admission applications by March 31. Scholarship applications for Austrian schools must be returned by March 1, and admission applications by June 1.

Twenty-five Join S E A Monday

The Student Education Association held iniation services Monday night, January 12, for twenty-five new members.

Among those accepting membership were Linda Doles, Barbara Ehsmann, Gwen Melton, Connie Carlton, Calvert King, Louise Ponton, Virginia Harrison, Frances Wilkinson, Joan Brooker, Catherine Harris, Jane Adams, Jacqueline Harper, Coreta Bennett, and Betty Lee Smith.

Also, Shirley Wilson, Dorothy Marshall, Barbara Mitchell, Rose Byer, Joanne Maitland, Violet Scott, Elva Jane Wynne, Natalie Tudor, Mary Lee Roach, Juliet Robinson, and Joan Dorsey.

Due to the February graduation of some of the officers, Faye Garrett and Evelyn Skalsky were elected secretary and treasurer, respectively, of the association.

Dean Gives Changes For Spring Schedule

The following schedule changes for the coming spring semester are announced by Dr. Earl R. Boggs, dean of the college.

Dr. Richard K. Meeker, Associate professor of English will teach English 250, "Advanced Writing," at 9:05 a.m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays. English 224, "American Writers," being taught by Dr. Meeker at this time now, will be dropped.

In the Biology Department, Biology 254, "Methods of Experimental Biology" is being added to the schedule.

Eighteen Chosen To Wear Longwood Colors

LONGWOOD'S 1959 BASKETBALL TEAM—(Standing) E. Skalsky, D. Hilliard, J. Robinson, D. Dove, J. Tharrington, L. Heier; (kneeling) W. Taylor, P. Southworth, M. Fadely, N. Andrews, M. Grayson, B. Brantley; (seated) G. Cunningham, J. Waller, C. Thorpe. Not shown: C. Whipple, M. Healey, E. Queen.

From The Basketball Bleachers

By JACKIE WALLER

Basketball is the big noise at present.

Friday night saw a contest that will live long in the memories of all. Virginia Tech engulfed Washington and Lee 105-24. The story was in the percentages for W and L, 17 per cent, for Tech, 50 per cent. In the first half, the Generals scored only one field goal. The game was late starting by 35 minutes due to skidding of one of the W and L cars. That shock coupled with the idea of a freeze to hold down the high-scoring Gobblers resulted in an unforgettable incident for all concerned. Tech's Bob Ayersman was high man for the game with 25 points.

Virginia lost two games for their week-end's work. Friday night 70-63 to Clemson as the Tigers won their second in their sixth try in the ACC. Saturday night the U. of South Carolina came from a half time deficit to 38-34 to defeat the Virginians 69-64. It was the second win in five tries in conference play. The boys from Charlottesville have yet to post a win in the conference and have tried six times.

John Richer led the nation's number one team, North Carolina State to a 67-60 victory over Duke in an ACC contest.

Saturday night RPI took a 63-62 decision over Roanoke, while Hampden-Sydney took a one-point decision from Catholic 70-69 and Lynchburg lost to Bridgewater.

Emory and Henry scored a 91-84 victory over Tennessee Wesleyan as Tom Davidson scored 32 points for the Wasps.

William and Mary raced to an easy 83-65 SC victory over the U. of Richmond. It was the Indians' fifth triumph in six conference starts.

Another aspect of the Southern conference—West Virginia is in no. 1 position with no prospect for a main contender. Jerry West is the main point bagger for the Mounties In their outing with Penn State he scored 32.

In other sports—

Washington and Lee swimmers beat West Virginia 60-26 with W and L taking 7 of 10 first places.

VMI swimmers topped Wake Forest 54-32 as the Keydets took 7 first place positions.

Roanoke and Norfolk W and M tied in swimming 43-43. North Carolina took 8 firsts and beat Virginia 53-32 in an ACC meet.

On the mats Tech trampled W and L 31-3 in an easy wrestling victory.

Kitty Green To Head H20 Water Pageant Scheduled for March

Kitty Green, a junior from Galax, has been elected chairman of the H20 Spring Water Pageant. The pageant is scheduled for the second week in March.

Betsy Neal, junior from Richmond, will be Kitty's assistant.

Contrary to last year when the club was host to a swimming clinic with colleges from all over the state, this year's theme event will feature synchronized numbers of a more specialized nature. Participants in the event will be selected on the basis of their swimming ability and should have been enrolled in one of the more advanced swimming classes.

A three-year Medical Technology major, Kitty plans to enroll in the Medical College of Virginia in September. Kitty has been a member of the H20 Club since her sophomore year and gave the only solo performance in the Christmas Water Pageant.

A young married veteran who was taking my course in college was in a state of high excitement over the prospect of becoming a father. He dashed breathlessly into class one morning a few minutes late for a quiz and I felt sure the baby had arrived. Hoping for details, I was disappointed when he handed in his test and ran off without saying a word. Then I glanced at his paper.

His name was signed: "James Brown, Sr."

—Readers' Digest

• • •

When men don't know what they're talking about they are usually discussing women.

—Sat. Evening Post

Did You Know?

— the word "school" is derived from an old Greek word meaning "leisure?"

— the definition of "a dynamic personality?" Answer: Anyone who charges all their wearing apparel

— because we have been served Chinese dishes so frequently, many of our fellow students have come to the conclusion that someone must have paid her tuition in rice?

— one of the more juvenile members of the student body once became very angry with her parents and decided to run away from home? She only got as far as the corner of the block, however; for she remembered her mother had distinctly told her never to cross the street alone.

— during the holidays eighty-five per cent of our fellow classmates suffered from attacks of fruit cake and turkey-itis?

— friends are worth more than silver and gold or pride and position?

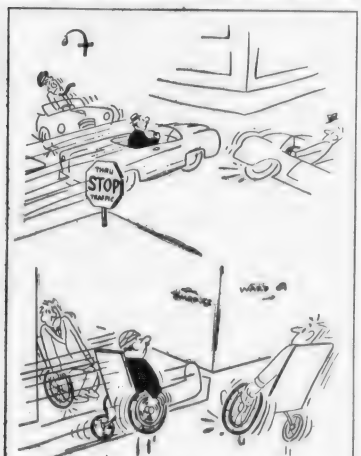
JACKIE WALLER
Captain

Jackie Waller Leads '59 Basketball Team

The left wings and fullbacks of hockey have been replaced by the guards and forwards of basketball as the 1959 basketball season recently got underway here at Longwood.

Senior Jackie Waller, a physical education major from Hurt, has has been selected to serve as the captain of this year's Blue and White team. Jackie has been a varsity basketball member through out her four years at Longwood and has also been active in other sports and extra-curricula activities.

Gayle Cunningham, a senior physical education major from Falls Church, will serve as varsity manager while Carolyn Thorpe, a sophomore physical education major from Drakes Branch, will be in charge of managing the class red and green teams. Both managers have been leading players throughout their varsity basketball experience.



This year's team, which was selected by Miss Iler, includes seven new players. They are: Barbara Brantley, Mary Hite Grayson, Dixie Hilliard, Pat Southworth, Mabel Healey, Judy Robinson and Earline Queen. Their teammates include Nancy Andrews, Gayle Cunningham, Willie Taylor, Jackie Waller, Delo Dove, Claudia Whipple, Mate Fadely, Lou Heier, Carolyn Thorpe, Judy Tharrington and Evelyn Skalsky all of which played varsity ball last year.

Winning Record

Longwood's team is one with an excellent winning record. Last year the first team remained undefeated and the second team followed close behind with only one loss. Each scheduled game always involves the playing of two games which accounts for a first and second team.

Everyone is urged to help support their class team by going out for tryouts and practices. Freshmen, in particular, are asked to show their class spirit by participating in the sport activity since an individual freshman team is picked every year to compete against various other school. Practices are held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 4 in the gym.

The Road Toll by Jerry Marcus

Disregarding the right-of-way increased the toll by 544,600.

WALKER'S
Dinners—Parties
Private Dining Rooms
by Reservation
Burkeville, Va.
Tel. 3280

BOXWOOD TOURIST COURT AND RESTAURANT
3 Miles South of Farmville
On Route 15
PHONE 3027-5

WITH THIS COUPON
2 Rolls of Film 620, 120, 127 .....75c
No. 5 Flash Bulbs, 11c each
No. 2 Flash Blubs, 9c each
at
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

MAKE YOUR NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS to shop at J. J. NEWBERRYS

EUROPE
Dublin to the Iron Curtain; Africa to Sweden. You're accompanied — not herded around. COTTRELL GROUP. Also shorter trips. $114-$1210.
24 HOUR SUMMER TOURS
255 Sequoia Ave., Box 7, Pasadena, Cal.

Compliments of
WILSON'S HOME AND AUTO SUPPLY

1. The Chipmunk Song
2. Smoke Gets in Your Eyes
3. To Know Him is to Love Him
4. Problems
5. One Night
6. My Happiness
7. Tom Dooley
8. A Lover's Question
9. Gee, a Travel On
10. Whole Lotta Loving

—Staff Photo

WHAT'S COOKING? Mr. Albert H. Clark (Assistant Manager), Mr. Wagner, and Miss J. Tucker (Hostess) watch as chef fills cream puff delicacies.

Slater System Strives To Satisfy Students

Wagner Manages Longwood Dining

By JOANN KLEINECKE

The Slater System Inc., since its establishment here on campus in 1955, been servicing that main concern of every Longwood girl—her stomach.

The system, managed here by Mr. Wilfred Wagner, is a well-known food service management firm that specializes in college feeding, among other types. The Slater System's Home Office is in Philadelphia, and it serves about 400 varied establishments. Here in Virginia, its clientele includes largely colleges.

Mr. Wagner stated that it was more difficult to serve a "captive group," such as a student body, because, of course, everyone could not always like the same things and could not always get what she individually desired. All menus are sent to the home office in Pennsylvania about two or three weeks before they are used and are thoroughly inspected by members of the American Dietary Association and altered with respect to vitamin content, calories, color, taste. They are also sent to the college itself for approval.

Evening Snacks

Slater feels that it is not here merely to serve food, but that it has a real duty to the college to be interested in its girls, in their activities, and in the whole realm of life here at the college in which it plays so vital a part. Two outstanding and original features of the service include the Slater "Thank You Dinner" to be held in February in which the system thanks the girls for the privilege of serving them and the snack that are [illegible] during exam time.

Besides giving full time food service to [illegible] and summer school, the [illegible] does outside catering work. For example, [illegible] could [illegible] functions. It considers this service both a [illegible] and [illegible] ers. Due to [illegible] probably its [illegible] this line.

Mr. Wagner sums up the purpose of the Slater System as "how to satisfy the largest amount of girls the greatest part of the time."

College To Offer Writing Courses

For the spring semester, the English Department is adding English 250, Advanced Writing, to its offerings.

The course which is scheduled for Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays at 9:05, will be taught by Dr. R. Meeker. Advanced freshmen as well as upperclassmen will be eligible, if recommended by their instructors.

Emphasis in the course will be on imaginative writing, such as fiction and poetry, but critical and expository essays will also be written. Students interested in writing for the Colonnade will find the course especially valuable.

This is the second writing course being offered in the spring semester. Already scheduled is English 223, Journalism, which will be offered Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 9:05, by Miss V. Tyree. Students interested in working on the Rotunda are especially recommended to this course.

Both of these courses are electives adding to an English major.

Television Program Explores Linguistics

"The Alphabet Conspiracy," a program of interest to all students in English and foreign languages, will be telecast on Monday, January 26, at 7:30 p.m. over WCVE (Channel 3).

Produced by the Bell Telephone System, the program will explore the science of linguistics, man's most important form of communication—speech, and science motion pictures will be used to [illegible] functions of the world. [illegible] ography, the vocal cords [illegible] the building blocks [illegible]

History Never Told in TIME

"Let me see—did Mr. Revere say, 'One if by land and two if by sea' or 'Two if by land and one if by sea?'"

Reprinted courtesy of "The Saturday Review," the copyright owner.

Lane Prints Film Strips

Virginia: Its Geography and Resources, is the title of a set of six color filmstrips developed by Dr. Charles F. Lane geography professor at Longwood College.

The purpose of the filmstrips is to help students to better understand Virginia's natural and cultural heritage, successes achieved in history, politics, agriculture, manufacturing, mining and forestry, some of the problems encountered in the successes, and some of the practices used to correct the problems.

According to Dr. Lane, "A complete grasp of this theme requires an understanding of our natural resources, the way we use these resources, and their interrelationships."

The filmstrip may be used, according to the professor, in any school grade from four through twelve and at the college level. Ideas in the filmstrips may be dealt with as elementary introductions to the subjects or developed to the fullest on more advanced levels. A manual is provided for this purpose.

Many of the 237 pictures were donated by individuals, state agencies, and private businesses throughout Virginia. Each strip contains from 35 to 50 pictures. The filmstrips are entitled Virginia's natural Landscape, Fishing and Mining . . . Two Extractive Industries, Agriculture in Virginia, Industry and Commerce in Virginia, Forests . . . A Renewable Resource, and Historic Virginia.

Additional information and copies may be obtained from Dr. Lane, Longwood College, Farmville.

New Dorm

(Continued from page 1)

ment of culture and poise, and a profound influence in our lives."

Miss Mayme White Cox was the sister of Mr. John Cox of Farmville and the sister-in-law of Mrs. Margaret Cox, the present manager of the college bookstore and postmistress.

A six member committee of the faculty, administration, and student body recommended the names for these buildings. Serving on the committee were Miss Virginia Bedford, Miss Helen Draper, Miss Olive Hiter, Dr. Gordon Moss, Miss Barbara Odom and Mr. J. H. Wamsley.

Wheeler Hall will be built facing into the campus, west of Jarman Hall and Stevens Hall. It will close Chambers Street at the west end. A large-scale demolition program is making way for the new construction. Four houses have been removed from the actual site and four others have been removed in an effort to make the area more attractive.

$670,000 Project

To be built at a cost of approximately $670,000, Wheeler Hall is designed by the architects, Thompson and Payne of Roanoke, to agree with the other buildings found on campus. The center and main of three front entrances will feature columns. The building, rectangular in shape, will incorporate many of the features found in the recently completed south wing of Cunningham Hall. It is to be arranged in suites like those in the rear section of South Cunningham and will house 184 students with special facilities for a head resident. On the ground floor will be found attractive parlors and a large recreation room. An elevator for the use of students will be included in the all-brick building. Double windows will be found in each room.

In the future, colonnades will connect this dormitory with Lancaster Hall and Cox Hall. The later two buildings will be built on the south and north ends of the first planned construction.

Preliminary plans for Wheeler Hall have been approved by the several [illegible] and working plans are being prepared by the architect. As soon as the working plans meet the approval of the several [illegible] more detailed information as to the actual facilities of the new building will be available.

The fine collection of mounted coyotes and wolves in the Banff Museum led two vacationing business girls to write in the visitors' book: "Too many wolves—and all of them stuffed, darn it!"

—Readers' Digest

1959-60 Applications

The Admissions Committee will begin considering applications for the 1959-1960 session as soon as the high school seniors' first semester records are complete.

The incoming class will be approximately the same size as this year's freshman class.

Longwood Lists Evening Classes For New Semester

Six evening and Saturday adult classes will be taught at Longwood College during the second semester Dean Earl R. Boggs announced today. They will be in the areas of education, English, history, mathematics, music and physics.

All will carry three semester hours of credit and will begin the week of February 1. Resident credit earned may be applied toward a graduate degree and/or certificate renewal. Additional information may be secured from Dean Boggs.

Continental Physics will be taught by television daily Monday through Friday from 6:30 to 7:00 a.m. over NBC-TV. Students registering for this class will meet laboratories the last Saturday of each month in Stevens Hall.

The New South will meet Monday at 7:00 p.m. in Ruffner Hall. It will be taught by Dr. Francis B. Simkins. Tuesday, Music for Children will be taught by Dr. John W. Molnar in Jarman Hall and The English Language will be taught by Dr. R. C. Simonini, Jr., in Ruffner Hall. Both classes will meet at 7:30 p.m. Statistics will be taught by Richard B. Brooks in the T Building at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Foundations of Education will be taught Saturdays at 9:30 a.m. by Dr. John P. Wynne in Ruffner Hall.

75th Anniversary

(Continued on page 4)

fers, and Dr. Moss.

Fine Arts Festival

The next special event will be the Festival of Fine Arts April 13-18. Dr. John Molnar, chairman, states that the program will be similar to last year's week of recitals and plays, an opera and an evening of dance. The choir will give a concert with the glee club of Washington and Lee University since the one scheduled before Christmas was cancelled because of snow. Other committee members are Mrs. Emily Landrum, Miss Virginia Bedford, Mr. David Wiley, and Mr. Merchant.

Southern Culture Institute

The next key event will be the Institute of Southern Culture which annually seeks to promote a study of the traditional aspects of Southern civilization. This year as part of the celebration the lecture series subjects are various phases of education. On April 24 the talks will be "The Education of the Southern Orator" by Mr. Wiley, "Civil War Comes to the Campus," and "The Education of the Bourbon." The summer series, July 8, features "Education, Formal and Informal, in Colonial Virginia" by Dr. Moss; "Factors in the Virginia Educational Renaissance" by Dr. Boyd Coyner, Retired Professor of Education at Longwood; and "The Southern Reaction to the Ogden Movement."

Course offerings which are part of this program and offered second semester are "Geography and Geology of Virginia" and "The Old South" which is also taught in summer school. Dr. Francis Simkins serves as chairman of the committee composed of Dr. Earl R. Boggs, Dr. R. C. Simonini, and Dr. Moss.

The faculty committee on commencement includes Dr. Charles Lane and Mr. McCorkle.

FORGET YOUR EXAM WORRIES and VISIT YOUR SNACK BAR

'Islam And The West' To Be Subject Of Dr. Nasir's College Talk Thursday

"Islam and the West" will be the topic of Dr. Khalil Ahmad Nasir, native of West Pakistan, when he speaks to the students and friends of the college at 11:30 a.m. on Thursday, Jan. 15, in Johns Auditorium of Hampden-Sydney College.

Dr. Nasir will also meet with the class on World Religions in a seminar discussion and be available for informal discussion with interested persons.

KHALIL AHMAD NASIR

Born in Sialkot, West Pakistan, in 1917, Dr. Nasir received a B.A. from Punjab University. Since that time he has earned a master's degree in political science from Northwestern University and his doctorate from American University in International Relations.

Until 1945 Dr. Nasir served as Secretary-General of the International Ahmadiyya Muslim Youth Organization. Coming to the United States in 1946, he assumed charge of the Ahmadiyya Movement in the United States. He is also editor of The Muslim Sunrise, the only journal of Islam in English from the United States.

In recent years Dr. Nasir has made three European trips, addressing several societies and groups of Islam and the problems of the Muslim world. He has further represented his Islamic faith in world conferences throughout Western Europe.

Eleven Receive Bids To Pi Delta Epsilon

Eleven students have received bids to Pi Delta Epsilon, National Honorary Journalism Society.

The Society seeks to strengthen and support campus publications by bringing staff members together on a common ground. Membership is limited to juniors and seniors who have to their credit at least one year's valuable service on the staff of any recognized publication.

Those who have received bids are: Barbara Bishop, Nancy Donaldson, Henrietta Dollins, Judy Eckstrom, Barbara Hurst, Nancy Knowles, Mary Ellen Moore, Norrish Munson, Barbara Rossiter, Violet Scott and Julia Williams.

Faculty Attends N. Y. Conventions

While students were enjoying parties and dances over the holidays, Longwood faculty members were busy attending conferences and conventions.

Representing the Department of Mathematics at the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics in New York was Mrs. Josephine H. Magnifico, Assistant Professor of Mathematics.

At the convention of the Modern Language Association, also held in New York, were Dr. R. C. Simonini, Professor of English; Miss Mary Nichols, Associate Professor of English; Mrs. Barbara B. Pollard and Miss Virginia Tyree, Instructors. At the same time Dr. Simonini also attended meetings of the Linguistics Society of America. Mr. David W. Wiley, Assistant Professor of Speech and Drama, and Miss Anna K. Applegate, Instructor, represented the English Department at conventions of the Speech Association of America and the American Educational Theater Association.

Dr. G. W. Jeffers, Professor of Biology, traveled to Washington, D. C., to attend the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT © 1959 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

Ice age

Lucky us . . . today is the modern ice age. Lots and lots of it in refrigerators ready to ice up the Coke. And what could be more delicious than frosty Coca-Cola . . . the real refreshment. With its cold crisp taste and lively lift it's always Coke for The Pause That Refreshes!

Drink Coca-Cola

BE REALLY REFRESHED...HAVE A COKE!

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by

LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

The Rotunda

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., February 11, 1959 | No. 11

Amy McFall To Reign At May Day Festivities

Players Announce Cast For Shakespeare Comedy

By MOLLIE WORKMAN

The Longwood Players and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs take pride in announcing the cast for their forthcoming production, A Midsummer-Night's Dream, a romantic comedy by William Shakespeare. The play will be presented in Jarman Hall March 19, 20 and 21.

McFall, Wells Featured

The intricate plot of the comedy centers around the wedding celebration of Theseus, Duke of Athens and Hippolyta, Queen of the Amazons, who will be portrayed by Charter Wells and Amy McFall.

Four young lovers involved in the merry confusion are Hermia, played by Vicki Brinkley; Lysander, played by Scott Bowen; Helena, played by Molly Workman; and Demetrius, played by George Hunter. John Meyers will appear as Egeus, father of Hermia, and following his success in Pygmalion last fall, Dr. Lee Winfree Ryan, Professor of Modern Languages at Hampden-Sydney, will portray Philostrate, Master of the Revels.

Oberon and Titania, King and Queen of the fairies, will be portrayed by Garnett Smith and Fran Steger. The fairies interfere in the lives of the mortal characters, aided and abetted by that riotous sprite Puck, who will be played by Donna Boone. Page Landers will appear as the First Fairy, with Liz Deichman, Emily Shelton, Ann Coleman, and Betsey Kelsey as Moth, Peaseblossom, Cobweb, and Mustardseed. Other fairies are Bobbie Caples, Sandra Grosseclose and Barbara Bishop.

Third Plot "rude mechanicals"

The third plot of the play concerns the antics of the "rude mechanicals," a group of Shakespearean low-comedy clowns who attempt to present a play in honor of Theseus' wedding. They are Bill Ragadale as Bottom, Jim Robbins as Quince, Jim Neil as Flute, Jerry Ringwald as Snout, Ben Morgan

(Continued on page 4)

Gorham Edits Trial Issue

Cherry Gorham has served as Editor-in-Chief of this week's Rotunda, which is the first trial issue of the period ending the newspaper's fiscal year.

A sophomore from Culpeper, Cherry is assistant news editor on the Rotunda staff. Serving as her trial managing editor is Joann Parsons and as the news editor, Chris Kamen.

Preddy Manages Money

The business staff, also on a trial basis, is headed by Dale Preddy as business manager. Dale, a junior, is assisted by Kay Pierce as circulation manager; Arlene McKay, assistant circulation manager; and Marie Messick and Bonnie Bryant, co-advertising managers.

Composing the rest of the trial news staff are Agnes Massey, assistant news editor; Joanne Kleinecke, Jackie Gibson, co-feature editors; Nancy Lechler, sports editor with Mary B. Micou assistant; Sandra Weaver, desk editor with Judy Detrich assistant; Anne Palmer, photography; Carol Lassiter, art. Columnists are Pat Foster, Sandie Farish, Frances Harnsberger, Margie Freese, Deanne Hogge, Mattie Blewett, Judie Welch.

Two more trial issues will be published before the new editor-in-chief is announced. Next week's issue will be edited by Chris Kamen and the following issue by Joann Parsons.

H. C. Owen

SENIOR MAY DAY REPRESENTATIVES (left to right) Gin Kuyk, Betty Brown Culpepper (maid of honor), Ann Glover, Lillian Lee Rosson, Amy McFall (Queen), Jane Proffitt.

Culpepper Chosen As Maid Of Honor

By CHRIS KAMEN

The 1959 May Day will find Amy McFall reigning as queen of the festivities in the dell at Longwood Estate, with Betty Brown Culpepper as her maid of honor. The queen and her court will highlight the activities of the annual May festival.

Amy, the newly elected queen, is a senior art major from Warwick and a Dean's List student. She has attended Longwood for three years and will complete her studies here this June as a result of attending summer school for the past two years. This year will mark her second appearance on the court.

When asked her reaction on being told of her election, Amy replied, "I couldn't believe it at first and thought that I was just being teased. I am deeply honored and flattered, however, somewhat scared too. I would like to thank everyone and congratulate the entire court."

The dress that Amy wore in the May Day elections was made by both her and her mother, and Amy has plans of having her mother make the dress she will wear as queen.

Amy is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority, Alpha Psi Omega honorary dramatic fraternity, Longwood Players and has appeared in the College Drama Festival for the past two years.

In her role of maid of honor, Betty Brown Culpepper, a senior elementary major from Suffolk, will be appearing in the court for the fourth time. Betty Brown is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority.

Appearing on the court will also be Annis Norfleet, a junior from Norfolk, for the third year. For the second time will be seen Beverly Kersey, a sophomore from Richmond; and Brenda Ray Drewry, a junior from Boykins.

Those making their initial appearance will be Kitty Good, a sophomore from Roanoke; Kay Revelle, sophomore from Wakefield; Jo Savage, freshman from Danville; Jeanine McKenzie, freshman from Portsmouth; and Fran Galahan, freshman from Richmond.

Also serving on the court will be seniors Gin Kuyk, Jane Proffitt, Ann Glover and Lillian Rosson, all of whom appeared in the May Court elections.

All of the above girls were selected by the student body on the basis of their beauty from a group of twenty-two girls who all deserve recognition.

Speaking Contest

The First National Bank of Farmville will again award a $25 bond to the winner of the public speaking contest to be held at the district meeting of Future Business Leaders of America, March 7, Dr. Merle L. Landrum has announced.

The chairman of the Longwood Business Education Department stated that the winner of the contest, to be held at the college, will be eligible to compete in the state contests.

Lewis To Lead Week For Religious Emphasis

The Reverend Cotesworth Pinkney Lewis, Episcopal rector of historic Bruton Parish Church, Williamsburg, is the 1959 Longwood YWCA Religious Emphasis Week speaker. He will begin his program here February 23 and continue through February 27.

REV. C. P. LEWIS

Reverend Lewis began his ministry among the coal miners and lumbermen of the missions of Walker County, Alabama. From 1939-42 he was rector of St. Paul's Church in the small north Arkansas farming town of Batesville. He became Dean of Trinity Cathedral of Little Rock, Arkansas, in 1942, and remained in that position until 1956 when he assumed leadership of famous Bruton Parish, Williamsburg.

Prominent in Education

Mr. Lewis has been prominent in Christian Education fields of the Episcopal Church, having served as Diocesan Chairman of the department. He attended various regional and national conferences on the subject and served as leader and panelist. He supervised the development, construction, and program of the Diocesan Camp and Conference Center in Arkansas.

He has been Examining Chaplain for 14 years, supervising preparation of young men for the Episcopal ministry. Mr. Lewis was, for many years, a member of the Board of Trustees of the University of the South.

His prominence also has been in the field of missionary development, having served as chairman of the Diocesan Department, having been instrumental in the development of five mission churches in or near Little Rock, and having currently served as chairman of Survey and Strategy for the Diocese of South-

(Continued on page 3)

Juniors To Enjoy U of R Collegians Saturday Night

The "Collegians," a dance band composed of six brass, five saxes, a piano, drums and bass, will highlight the Junior Dance, "Cupid's Holiday," Saturday, February 14, in the Main "Rec" between 8 p.m. and midnight.

The group, which comes to Longwood from the University of Richmond, is composed of college students. The "Collegians" won second place in the nation-wide Metronome College Dance Band contest which was sponsored by Metronome Magazine two years ago. They are noted for their "Big Band" sounds. As the dance is in February, the band has a special arrangement of "My Funny Valentine" which will be an added attraction.

The co-chairmen, Barbara Rossiter and Connie Goodman, are playing an important part in bringing Cupid to Longwood for his holiday. A business major from Arlington, Barbara is vice-president of her class, a member of the Colonnade staff, in Kappa Delta Pi, a national education sorority, and Pi Kappa Sigma social sorority. Connie, a mathematics major from Penn., is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, Student Government, and Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority.

See Picture, Page 4

Serving as chairmen of the various committees are Carol Lassiter, decorations; Anne Clark, tickets; Sara Moore, clean-up committee; Anita Richardson, Jean Dunagan and Ann Jones, publicity; Ann Mixon and Joyce Pendleton, favors; Annie B. Palmer, clean-up; Arlene McKay, invitations; Dixie Hillard, party after dance; Bobby Arthur and Clara Miles Shumadine, receiving line flowers; and Mary Linda League, lights.

Following the dance there will be a party from 12 until 1 a.m. for the juniors and their escorts in the Main Cunningham "Rec."

Tickets priced at $2.40 are now on sale outside the dining hall after meals.

Sophs To Present 'Round The World'

"Around the World" is the theme of the Sophomore Production to be held on February 20 at 8 p.m. in Jarman Hall.

In their production the sophomores plan to present a series of acts from different countries. Since the production is dedicated to the seniors, the main character has been named Suzy Senior.

The co-chairmen, June Elmore and Jane Siegall, have announced the following committees: committees Brenda Parsley; set, Sandy Watkins, Bobbyee Bolster, Doris Tolley; music, Dodie Webster, Jean Dancey, Boo Booth; advertising, Mary Harper, manager; Sandra Forehee, Ann Kovecevich, pep team, co-managers; Betsy Joyner, Matilda Powell.

The props committee is headed by Cecil Kidd, B. J. Allgood, Beretta Yeoman; lights, Bobbyee Bolster, Mason Hamlet, Page Landers; ushers, Kitty Good, Cherry Gorham; recordings, Jeanette Talbot.

"We're hopin' you'll be likin' it!" says Steg, and June adds, "Here's hoping!"

The admission price is 35 cents and tickets will go on sale next week.

Connor To Represent Longwood At Festival

Cass Connor, a senior elementary major from Arlington, has been selected by the administration to take part in the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival for this year. The annual springtime spectacle will be held in Winchester during the last week of April.

H. C. Owen

CASS CONNOR

"I was so surprised and excited when Dean Wilson informed me of the good news," commented Cass.

The festival features concerts, luncheons, dinners, parades, pageants, animal shows and visits to a few of the scenic spots of the famous Shenandoah Valley at Winchester.

Cass will be one of the 33 princesses to decorate the floats of the pageant along with being a member of Queen Shenandoah's court.

Queen, Court Honored

Two formal balls will be given honoring the Apple Blossom Queen and her court. Members of the Queen's court may choose their own escort or have one selected for them from several male colleges. "The only bad thing connected with my good news is that Pat will be unable to make it to the festival and therefore cannot be my escort. I am terribly disappointed," stated Cass concerning the matter of escorts.

Cass is vice-president of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority, rush chairman for Panhellic Council, secretary of the senior class, president of Cotillion Club and was recently elected by the student body as "Senior Personality." She is also a member of the H2O Club, Student Education Association and the Newman Club.

Puccini's 'LaBoheme' Opera Plays Tonight In Jarman

"La Boheme" by Giacomo Puccini will be presented from the Wagner Opera Company's repertoire, New York Opera Festival, tonight in Jarman Hall at 8 p.m.

Student Life Portrayed

This opera is probably the most attractive of Puccini's many works. It combines the gay and the pathetic into a fascinating picture of student life in the Latin Quarter of Paris during the early part of the Nineteenth Century. Some of Puccini's greatest melodies are sung in it.

Four Bohemians, Rodolfo a poet, Marcello a painter, Colline a philosopher, and Schaunard a musician, all share a drafty attic apartment. The opera opens with Marcello at his easel painting with Rodolfo near by.

Musi Interrupts Rodolfo

Colline and Schaunard enter. The latter, having a stroke of luck, has purchased food and fuel. The landlord enters and demands his rent. He soon forgets his mission in the wine that is offered him and he becomes jovial and talkative, whereupon he is tossed out. While his companions leave to celebrate, Rodolfo remains behind to work. His writings are interrupted by Mimi, a pretty neighbor afflicted with consumption, who comes seeking a light for her candle.

Upon leaving she discovers she has left her key. While she and Rodolfo search for it the candles go out. Their hands meet while groping for the key and soon they are telling each other of their great knowledge of immediately confessing their love.

Lovers Reconciled

Some time later Mimi, cold and shaken with coughing, enters one of the toll gates to the city and asks a guard where Marcello may be found. Marcello comes to her immediately and the frail girl tells him she is truly in love with Rodolfo and miserable because they

(Continued on page 3)

To Chi:

In answer to the editorial of January 14 concerning Chi, the student body would like to speak: first, to offer apologies for those few discourteous ones, and then, to express the deep respect of the greater part of the student body for Chi.

We know that Chi is Longwood and in realizing this feel fortunate that it is ours to appreciate and try to understand. Besides being an obligation, it is our expressed desire to perceive or grasp its significance — significance in its contributions, both materially and spiritually, to Longwood College. These material things can be seen and appreciated, but the spirit of the organization can only be attained when one finds this understanding. These are the things that make it "an ever present and integral part of life at Longwood."

Any secret will naturally provoke curosity in the minds and actions of anyone not informed. In this respect Chi is secretive, but in its fulfillment, relates its true ideals to those who seek to understand. To understand is to appreciate, and lack of understanding breeds discourtesy. Thus it is up to us to accept Chi with respect and to strive to help others overcome their misinterpretations.

We would like to think that certain people are thoughtless rather than discourteous, and that hereafter, when Chi walks the Colonnade, these people will think before they act.

Chi has in the past and will in future years continue to help constitute a frame for good living among the students at Longwood. For this we wish to say—"Thank You."

—Two Students

Flowers Reflect Feeling

Golden daffodils greeted Longwood students several weekends ago when they entered the dining hall. On every table, they lent a gracious air to the room.

Red-and-white striped and then pink carnations have succeeded them as the Slater System's latest project becomes a permanent part of their services. These flowers in their slender vases will be replaced with fresh ones every Saturday to give a festive tone, chasing away weekend-blues. By removing them at night to a cooler room their freshness is preserved for most of the week. Also on each table is another new addition, a jelly jar.

Although everyone cannot be pleased all the time, the majority of the college has expressed enthusiastic approval. Comments range from "Carnations are my favorite flower" to "Why, it's almost like home!"

These additions are possible through a plan in which profits gained from the dining hall are turned back into it as improvements. They are an outward reflection of the now refined and lady-like atmosphere. During the year the conduct has undergone vast improvement so that we, the students, can now enjoy relaxed, quiet meals with our friends. For this each individual deserves a vote of thanks.

—Cherry Gorham

Prayer—A Link To God

"And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive." Matt. 21:22.

This year your Y-Cabinet has converted the cabinet room into a prayer room for your use at any time you may feel the urge. In the prayer room is the library for your reading and meditation purposes. The candles on the altar may be burned as long as they are extinguished at the end of your meditation, as they could be a fire hazard. This room was made possible through the efforts of many people. May we say thanks to all those who gave of their talents and time.

You will find that prayer is a way of communicating with our Heavenly Father, the Perfect Being. Prayer is a link to God just as the links connect a chain together. As you talk to God whether it be a thank-you talk, a loving prayer, or a question and problem conversation, listen for his answer to you.

May we benefit from a prayer of Richard Trench:

"Lord, what a change within us one short hour
Spent in Thy presence will avail to make!
What heavy burdens from our bosoms take!
What parched grounds refresh as with a shower!
We kneel, and all around us seem to lower;
We rise, and all, the distant and the near,
Stands forth in sunny outline, brave and clear;
We kneel, how weak, we rise, how full of power!
Why, therefore, should we do ourselves this wrong,
Or others—that we are not always strong—
That we are sometimes overborne with care—
That we should ever weak or heartless be,
Anxious or troubled—when with us is prayer,
And joy and strength and courage are with Thee?"

—Helen Jean Young,
President, YWCA

An Extra Happiness

"The Last of the Sixth Happiness," title of Sudsy Adler's production for Twentieth Century-Fox presentation, comes to the State Theatre soon. It is a provocative and interesting theme for a film.

Behind the title is the old Chinese myth for the five happinesses: virtuous living, wealth, position and a peaceful death in old age.

But when Producer Adler and Director Mark Robson sought a title for the Lloyd Bochner-Dan Carl Jurgens-Robert Donat starrer, they hit on the most important ingredient in the motion picture as "That one which could be most had at its own heart."

Overwhelming Critical praise greeted this Alan Burgess novel when it was first released. "Astonishing . . . fascinating . . . amazing!"

The New York Times

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS BY BIBLER

"WE WOULD BE TARDY TH' DAY THEY START ON THAT CHAPTER."

Fashion Notes

Spring Brings Selection Of Suits; Warm And Cool Colors Contrast

Are you wondering what Paris and New York have whipped up in the line of spring fashions? The answer is suits—walking suits, cardigan suits, bolero - jacketed suits, and swim suits.

The spring walking suits are of pebbly tweeds, fluffy mohairs, and light-weight wools. They differ from those that appeared last fall in the use of contrasting jacket and skirt.

This season's cardigan suit is shorter, lacks buttons, and features high patch pockets. It can be accompanied by a blouse of white silk shantung.

The newest thing in suits is the short notched-jacket suit with its high-raised skirt. This style features the escalating waist—an effect achieved by belts of various widths or by horizontal seaming. Above this high waist is a brief buttoned bodice with either a huge collar or no collar at all.

These suits are of cool checks and pastel shades, worn with brash, hot-colored accessories. Shoes, gloves, hats, and handbags can be found in vivid colors—raspberry, wild pink, shamrock green, cerulean blue, chrome yellow, mauve, and turquoise.

Swim Oriental Style

New swimsuits feature the Oriental or nautical look. Striped vest and trunks covered with a solid top of cotton knit combine to give the two-piece Middy Look.

Another flattering design features diagonal drapery and a low-plunged back. A print balloon jacket that looks like a shorter version of the Japanese kimono and covers a matching fitted cotton suit is an example of the Oriental Look. For the finishing touches to this look, there are sunshade coolie hats.

Minuet — Not A Dance

Some other '59isms include:

—A new shape in heels, the Minuet. This heel—the littlest and lowest of all high heels—is gently curved or squared.

—White gloves embroidered with tiny colored flower buds.

—Bright ponchos hooded and reversible, made of wool and worn with skirts or slacks. In terry cloth, the poncho will appear on beaches this summer.

Timely Topics

By JUDIE WELCH

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles flew to Europe last week for urgent consultation with British, French and West German leaders. His mission was to try to wipe out Allied differences and get better policy agreements on a possible spring crisis over Berlin.

The Virginia General Assembly enacted laws designed to soften the impact of school desegregration. There is no longer a State law that children must go to school—public, private, or parochial—as long as their parents or guardians have what they consider valid objections. Under a special session a state tuition grant was enacted, designed to pay part of the child's tuition to a private school.

The first of five volumes containing space maps are being prepared at California Institute of Technology. The project is headed by Dr. Fritz Zwicky, astrophysicist, and is partly financed by the office of Naval Research. The books are expected to be published this spring.

A peppery sermon was delivered by an 82-year-old grandmother who was ordained into the clergy Sunday night in Bethesda, Maryland. Mrs. Sophia Lyon is the first woman in 15 years to become a minister and the only one ever to do so at her age.

Campus News

By MATTIE BLEWETT

What's new on Virginia's college campuses?

A Hampden-Sydney senior, John Brinkley, recently received a Rhodes Scholarship entitling him to two years of study at Oxford University. John is greatly interested in the classics and plans to further his knowledge of this subject with his coveted scholarship.

University of Virginia is preparing for the 1959 Dogwood Festival to be held April 22-24. Among the various activities will be a parade, an ice show, music by "Somethin' Smith and His Redheads," and the crowning of a well-known female personality as festival queen.

The students of Frog Hollar College are to be addressed by a renowned individual in next Thursday's assembly. The administration has gone to great expense to bring this famous person to the college. (They had to bail him out of jail!)

Religious Focus Week is being observed at the University of Richmond. The visiting team of speakers consists of thirteen men well-known inside and out of religious circles. Two of the speakers are Congressmen Brooks Hays from Arkansas and Glen Harold Stassen, a ministerial student.

Mosque Billboard Features Firsts In Entertainment

Hey! Longwood ladies, are you tired of the ordinary kind of entertainment? The Mosque in Richmond will be headlining several top entertainment attractions during February and March.

Gay! Colorful! Fast! Funny! This is an excellent description for the smash musical comedy, "Li'l Abner," which is coming February 13-14 direct from two years on Broadway. One week later, February 21, the Mosque will play host to Arthur Fiedler and the Boston Pops Orchestra.

On March 9, that very popular, piano-playing Texas, Van Cliborne, will appear with the Philadelphia Orchestra. This is a must for everyone. Following Mr. Cliborne will be the international recording sensation, Mantovani, who will make his Richmond debut on March 13.

Socially Speaking . . .

Cupid's Darts Strike Longwood; Diamonds, Pins Reveal Conquest

By SANDIE FARISH and PAT FOSTER

Exams are over and the new semester is really starting with a bang!

Valentine's Day is fast approaching, but Cupid has already shot a few of his magic arrows. Brenda Greene is proudly displaying H.S. Bill Benson's PiKA pin.

Another lucky gal is Nancianne Frye. She's pinned to Jonny Kilpatrick of Tennessee Wesleyan College. Betty Ruffin is pinned to Wellons Taliaferro. Fran Gallahan and Liz Diechman are both sporting Kappa Sigma pledge pins. Fran is pinned to Woody Ware, and Liz is pinned to Bing Gentry. Norma Wilson is also wearing a fraternity pin. Now, we wonder who the lucky guy could be?

Girls' Best Friend

Two happy girls wearing diamonds on the fourth finger, left hand, are Marilee Roach and Pat Yeatman.

We are still finding out about those lucky gals who received diamonds over the Christmas holidays. Ann Stancil's sparkler came from Newport News Apprentice sophomore, Granville Hall. Also wearing their engagement rings are Barbara Dunnavant, Mason Hamlet, Immajean Gallimore, and Gloria Owen.

Fancy Dress Ball

Seen in Lexington last weekend at the W and L Fancy Dress Ball were Sue Caravella, Keaton Holland, Cherry Gorham, Mary Ellen Moore, Gin Kuyk, Robin Arthur, Lou Booth, Fran Steger, (who, incidentally, was in the figure), Connie Coiner, Brenda Dodd, Merle Holliday, Barbara Simpkins, Carolyn Axom, and Sue Benton.

Other college campuses provided fun for Longwood girls this past weekend. Living it up at V.M.I. were Betty Chappell, Jean Marie Heller, Betty Ann Harrell, and Nancy Inge.

Kay Hudgins and Barbara Chaffin traveled to Lynchburg College for their weekend. Susan Crutchlow and Elma Mackey were seen at Randolph-Macon.

Hampden-Sydney was the scene of after-exam celebrations this past weekend.

L. C. — Kappa Sigma

Keeping in step with the combo at the Kappa Sigma house were Jackie Gibson, Joann Kleinecke, Lois Johnson, Mary Ellen O'Connor, Carolyn Bassford, Kitty Good, Beverly Gaskins, Dottie Brown, Sheila Galloway, Pat O'Neil, Sue Humphries, Dottie Gills, Gretchen Zimmerman, Billie Shores, Duner Cahill, Pat Cleveland, DeAnne Hogge, Jean Dunnagan, Norma Redmon, Justine Bount, Gail Jessee, Vickie Brinkley, and Carole Manley.

Also, there were Jane Martin, Pat Foster, Sandie Farish, Ann Coleman, Donna Marquette, and Judy Harris.

L. C. — PiKA

Being entertained at the PiKA record hop were Katherine Key, Jill Greene, Barbara Rossiter, Sylvia Roper, Brenda Drewry, Sara Oliver, Claudia Whipple, Frankie Click, Becky McGrath, Connie Levinson, Dot Marshall, Mary Ellen Moore, Joan Lee Thomas, Bettie Ashley, Peggy Harris, Ernestine Stoltz, Timmie Darden, Arlene Johnston and Judy Jones.

L. C. — Sigma Chi

Stepping to the music of Sigma Chi were Brenda Parsley, Page Landers, Carolyn Oliver, Pat Stout, Janet Wainwright, Beretta Yeoman, Lee Page, Frances Harvey, Frances Gray, Nancy Kelly, Barbara Purks, Nadine Dazell, Jane Adams, Kitty Reid, Sue O'Hara, and Liz Dozier.

L. C. — Chi Phi

The combo at the Chi Phi house provided a lively atmosphere for Yvonne Webb, Nancye Allen, Mary Stokes, Charlotte McGee, Alice Cheatwood, Kay Howard, and Pat Green.

Those who were undecided and attended all were Ann Scott, Laura Molina, Carol Boley, Martha Hart, Sally Harney, Pooh Butterworth, Laura Butler, Carolyn Rancorn, Betty Jones, Linda Poff, Sally Myers, Judi Tuker, Pat Callahan, Tweety Lamblotte, Shirley Day, Peggy Green, Lucy Wilson, Jeanette Townsend, Marjorie Freese, Leo Pagenhardt, Nancy Wingfield, Brenda Green, Brooks Dietrich, Ginny Whipply, Liz Deichmann, Nancy Shaw, Frances Norment, Sue Johnson, Sue Sharpe, Patsy Carr, Brenda Dodd, Sally Christopher, Marty Shumate, Mary Anne Barker, Linda Kay Hartman, Mary Leach Elmore, Sue Beardmore, Pat Hickey, Barclay Woodward, Kitty Hawley.

Also, there were Lois Ashworth, Shirley Harman, Marjorie Garnett, Carol Sprague, Nan McLaughlin, Keaton Holland, Neva Arnn, Lynn Davenport, Fran Gallahan, Pat Morgan, Carolyn Grimstead, Shirley Powell, Patsy Shelton, Carol Barnes, Melissa Harrell, Mary Rideout, Jane House, Becky Hardy, Katie Rulton, Anne Newton, Agnes Massie, and Gaynor Van Lauduighan.

Put This Way

A man who knows everything has a lot to learn.

The thing which most often makes a college football team play like a bunch of amateurs is not getting paid.

The man who finds it easy to keep the wolf from the door probably has no daughters.

College never hurts a man. Unless, of course, he is the student's father.

Nothing makes some people stoop so low as a keyhole.

America is still the richest nation. Where else could they afford a recession like this?

—Sat. Evening Post

The trouble with money is it talks too much and buys too little.

A sixth-grader's essay on his plans for the future: "After going to the moon, I would like to travel."

—Readers' Digest

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 20, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 168.

Linda Doles ..... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors:
Bet McLoughlin, Patsy Powell

Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Judy Eckstrom ..... News Editor
Henrietta Dollins ..... Feature Editor
Violet Scott ..... Sports Editor
Virginia Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Anne B. Palmer ..... Photography
Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Melton ..... Circulation Manager
Lou Gray, Becky Parker ..... Advertising Managers
Miss Mary P. Nichols ..... Faculty Adviser

(Unsigned editorials written by the editor)

Member: Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press (Rating first class), Columbia Scholarship Press Association (Rating first place), Intercollegiate Press.

NEWS STAFF: Cherry Gorham, Assistant News Editor; Joann Kleinecke, Assistant Feature Editor; Chris Kamen, Assistant Sports Editor; Jo Ann Parsons, Assistant Desk Editor. Columnists: Jackie Gibson, Ann Glover, Cat Osmon, Pat Leake, Jackie Waller, Alice Cheatwood, Martha Rucker. Reporters: Pat Rodenhiser, Rose Lawrence, Nancy Lechler, Faye Garrett, Frances Harnsberger, Gerry Edmonds, Agnes Massie, Pat Foster, June Elmore, Sandra Weaver, Mary Shafer, Bonnie Carter, Mary B. Nixon, Kitty Hawley, Claudia Wilkes, Mattie Blewett, Judy Detrich, Brenda Parsley, Deanne Hogge, Margie Fries, Dottie Cothern, Sue Caravella, Sandie Farish, Sandra Rimmon.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Dale Preddy, Assistant Manager; Kay Pierce, Arlene McKay, Cass Conner, Barbara Enamann, Faye Garrett, Dianne Doughty, Linda Saunders, Becky McGrath, Frances Mann, Nancy Lee Cole.

ADVERTISING STAFF: Marie Messick, Liz Eller, Judy Detrich, Bonnie Bryant, Jennie Fisher, Mary L. Elmore, Carolyn Grinstead, Ann M. Smith, Nancy Francomb, Nancy Shaw, Nancy George, Doris Clapp, Grace Belvin, Judy Jordan.

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress on March 3, 1934. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

Church News

By FRANCES HARNSBERGER

Presbyterian

New commission chairmen for West-Fel have been appointed. They are: Faith, Judy Stokes; Fellowship, Gerry Ludwig; Expansion, Vince Senton and Nancie Morton. They will serve for 1959.

The weekly meeting of West-Fel was held last Sunday at the College Church at Hampden-Sydney. Supper was served after which Dr. Gilmer, professor of science at H-SC, spoke on "Science and Religion."

Student Day of Prayer will be held February 15, and West-Fel will cancel its regular meeting in order to attend.

Methodist

The Universal Day of Prayer will be held at the Methodist Church Sunday, February 15. There will be a planned program and all students are cordially invited to attend.

Spiritual Life Weekend will begin February 22 with a series of four meetings. The meetings will be Friday at 4, Saturday at 2 and 7, and Sunday at 10. We are having a guest speaker and wish you would plan now to be present.

Baptist

The B.S.U. held a very successful revival this past weekend. A revival team from the University of Virginia were the guest speakers. Bill Cook, Clint Hopkins, and Phil Walker were the members of the team. The boys held services Friday and Saturday nights and Sunday morning at the regular church service.

Another highlight of the weekend was the banquet held at Longwood Estate Saturday evening. The program centered around a Western setting with Bill Cook as the speaker. At the banquet Betty Lee Smith was crowned "Lady of the Link" for her devoted support and participation in the B.S.U. during her college years.

Lutheran

Lutheran art students at Longwood College have been invited to submit work in the first annual Lutheran Brotherhood Fine Arts Festival competition to be sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee of the fraternal life insurance society's National Branch. Enties are to be submitted by March 9.

Religious Emphasis

(Continued from page 1)

ern Virginia.

Born and educated in Birmingham, Alabama, he received his AB degree from Birmingham Southern College and his BD degree from the University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee.

Services Each Night

"Youth Can Make Christ Live" is the theme that will be carried out by Mr. Lewis and other participants during the Religious Emphasis Week program. Services will begin each night in Jarman Hall at 6:45 p.m. and will conclude after the 10 p.m. discussion classes being held in North Cunningham parlor, the Y-Lounge, and the Cypress Room.

Personal Conferences

Mr. Lewis will hold personal conferences from 1 to 3 p.m. each afternoon in the Y-Lounge. He will also lead the morning meditation service Friday, February 27, at 7 a.m. in the Episcopal Church.

Faculty members, student body, and the alumnae will participate in services and discussion groups each night. "The student body is invited to participate individually by helping work on various committees," stated Lillian Bosson, vice-president of the YWCA.

Committee chairman and members are music, Jo Anne Garner, Elaine Weddle, Dodie Webster; props, Helen Wente, Ann Palmer, Virlinda Joyner, Matilda Powell; publicity, Ann Snyder, Nancy Harnsberger, Doris Kesling, Nancy George, Linda McPherson; social, Cherron Kelly, Betty Spivey, Beverly Kersey; hospitality, Jean O'Connell, Pat Farrington, Barbara Odom; worship, Jean Peyton, Margaret Shropshire, Calveri King, Beverly White, Merle Ridinger; ushers, Ann Hardy, Ann Glover, Juliet Robinson, Joanie Brooker; and programs, Wirtley Raine, Shirley Grizzard, Betty Lee Smith and Betty McClenny.

WITH THIS COUPON
2 ROLLS OF FILM . . .
620, 120, 127
75c
Wed., Thurs., Fri.,
Sat., Feb. 11-14
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

WILSON'S HOME AND AUTO SUPPLY

1. Smoke Gets in Your Eyes
2. All American Boy
3. Donna
4. 16 Candles
5. Stagger Lee
6. My Happiness
7. Gotta Travel On
8. Lonely Teardrops
9. A Lover's Question
10. Goodbye Baby

FBLA Heads

The Future Business Leaders of America have installed new officers to fill the vacancies left by several February graduates.

Christine Jones is now serving as president; Lois Johnson, vice-president; Virginia Harrison, secretary; and Sylvia Cogville, parliamentarian.

Hoopsters Defeat Roanoke College By Narrow Margin

Friday, February 6, was a victory day for the Longwood basketball team. The team traveled to Roanoke College and defeated the Roanoke team 47 to 46 in the first game. Longwood also emerged victorious in the second game.

The line-up for the first game was as follows: forwards—Delores Dove, Jackie Waller, and Carolyn Thorpe. Guards were Claudia Whipple, Willie Taylor, and Evelyn Skalsky. Earlene Queen substituted in the first game.

The line-up for the second game was as follows: forwards — Lou Heier, Gayle Cunningham, and Mate Fadely. Guards were Earlene Queen, Joyce Tharrington, and Nancy Andrews. Substitutes for the second game were Barbara Brantley, Pat Southworth, Mary Hite Grayson, Mable Healey, and Dixie Hillard.

The Longwood team schedule for February and March is as follows: February 14, Madison; February 24, Hollins; February 28, William and Mary; March 7, Westhampton. The last three games will be played at home.

Orchesis Bids Seven

Orchesis, Longwood's honorary dance group, issued bids in January. These bids were accepted by Betty Britton, LaVerne Collier, Nancy Cross, Ann McDonald, Donna Marquette, Fay Salmon, and Katherine Wallace.

Initiation for these girls will be held later in the semester.

From The Basketball Bleachers

By MARJIE FREESE

The college teams are really battling it out, because the end of basketball season is in the not-too-distant future. Each school wants its team to be Number One in whatever conference it plays.

The VPI Gobblers defeated the Citadel Bulldogs 76-68. This win put Tech in second place in the Southern Conference.

The U. of North Carolinia trounced Maryland 64-57. This put the Tarheels as second in Atlantic Coast Conference.

W and M moved ahead in the Big Six by defeating VMI 86-60. W and M now has a 5-2 record.

With Roanoke beating Bridgewater, Randolph-Macon, Bridgewater and Norfolk Division have a three-way tie for the Little Eight lead.

Hampden-Sydney was subdued by Randolph-Macon in a 54-56 victory for the Yellow Jackets. This gave the Jackets a second place tie with the Norfolk Division in the Little Eight. The Tigers rallied to defeat the Keydets by a score of 78-68.

VMI lost also to the U. of Richmond. The score was 70-61 in favor of the Spiders.

The NC State Wolfpack routed U. Va.'s Cavaliers 87-70. Then State went on to defeat Clemson with a 69-54 victory for the Wolfpack.

The Braves of W and M broke a three-game losing streak by annihilating MCV by a 102-64 victory.

H. C. Owen

WATER PAGEANT CO-CHAIRMEN, Betsy Neal and Kitty Green, discuss "Mardi Gras" plans during a rehearsal lull.

Water Show Features "Magic Of Mardi Gras"

Kitty Green, chairman of the H2O Club's spring water show and Betsy Neal, assistant chairman, have announced the theme of "Magic of Mardi Gras," for their coming production March 11, 12 and 13.

"Magic of Mardi Gras" will feature four major performances with an honored king and queen reigning over each performance. The theme will be carried out by forty swimmers, placed in numbers according to their ability.

The numbers will be centered around a Mardi Gras parade. The parade will be led by a band, followed by clowns dressed in colorful suits; a floating number, designed to create an effect of confetti; a duet number featuring Cinderella and her Prince; and a ballet group of two boys and a girl.

Then the mood of the show will cover a blazing blues number with the swimmers dressed in black; a fiery devil number, a gala French Can-Can, and an exotic oriental group.

3-D Effect Used

To further carry out the mood of the show, the pool backdrops will be done in black with the two ends covered with various favors such as balloons and horns creating a 3-D effect. The main backdrop will feature a large draped effect with silhouettes scattered over the surface.

The committees for the show and their chairmen are: Backdrops, June Elmore; assistant, Dixie Hillard; costumes, Arlene McKay; assistant, Elaine Weddle; props, Helen Wente; programs, Bonnie Keys; publicity, Ruth Looper; tickets, Willy Taylor; assistant, Jackie Waller; lights, Barbara Brantley; assistant, Linda Vess; sound, Mary Hite Grayson; assistant, Nancy Andrews.

La Boheme

(Continued from page 1)

have quarreled. Rodolfo appears and Mimi hides. Unaware that she is close by, Rodolfo tells Marcello of Mimi's terrible sickness and that he loves her. A fit of coughing reveals Mimi's presence and the lovers are reconciled.

Later, while the Bohemians are eating dinner, word is received that Mimi is desperately ill. She is brought to a cot in the apartment and all but Rodolfo leave to get food and medicine. Left alone, the two lovers dream of their past happiness, and, when the others return, Mimi dies with the heart-broken Rodolfo at her bedside sobbing "Mimi! Mimi!"

College Orchesis Will Participate In Dance Festival

Members of Longwood's Orchesis will attend the first Virginia Dance Festival at Richmond, February 20 and 21.

Sponsored by the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, the Festival has been organized through the efforts of college instructors of dance.

The main highlight for the students will be the Student Choreography program at 3 p.m. in the Museum Theater. Members of Orchesis from Longwood participating in this program will be seniors Joan Dorsey from Winchester and Dottie Marshall from Nokesville, juniors Connie Goodman from Fries and Norrish Munson from Roanoke, and sophomores Miriam Lambiotte from Warwick and Sandra Watkins from Norfolk. These girls will present "Patterns of Conformity," a group psychological study. The dance is done to Creston's music and involves six dancers and a cord which is used for the design of the dance.

Those going from Longwood as participants in the Master Class, taught by a member of the Dance Quartet, are LaVerne Collier, a sophomore from South Boston; Connie Goodman; Miriam Lambiotte; freshman Donna Marquette from Virginia Beach; Dottie Marshall; Norrish Munson; freshman Morag Nocher from Virginia Beach; senior Fay Salmon from Warwick, sophomore Katherine Wallace from Spotsylvania, and Sandra Watkins. Those going as spectators are Nancy Cross, a senior from South Boston; and sophomore Frances Mann from Richmond.

Eight colleges will participate in the program, each presenting a three to five minute student work which will be evaluated or criticized by one of the artists of the Dance Quartet. Colleges expected to send representatives are Longwood, Madison, Sweet Briar, Hollins, Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Mary Washington, Westhampton, and Radford.

The Festival itself will center around events scheduled for Friday February 21. The schedule will include a Lecture Demonstration by one of the members of the company. This consists of a discussion and analysis of the concert presented Friday night.

The Dance Quartet is a new company formed in 1956 by professional dancers who as teachers recognize the needs and modest budgets of high schools, colleges and professional schools.

Do You Think for Yourself? (ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS AND YOU'LL FIND OUT!*)

1. If you get stuck on a crossword puzzle, do you (A) finally refer to a dictionary, or (B) leave the puzzle unfinished? A ☐ B ☐

2. Would you rather be (A) the designer of the first successful space vehicle to the moon, or (B) the first man to ride in it? A ☐ B ☐

3. If you were faced with two tasks, one pleasant and the other unpleasant, would you first do (A) the unpleasant task, or (B) the pleasant task? A ☐ B ☐

4. If you find you aren't doing well in an activity, do you (A) concentrate on it to improve your performance, or (B) devote your attention to things in which you do excel? A ☐ B ☐

5. Would you prefer to play tennis with an opponent you know to be (A) not quite so good as you, or (B) a slightly better player? A ☐ B ☐

6. In deciding whether to see a movie, are you more influenced by (A) what a casual friend tells you about it, or (B) what you know of the cast and story? A ☐ B ☐

7. If you were a multimillionaire, would you rather have (A) everyone know it, or (B) only a very few know it? A ☐ B ☐

8. Do you take more notice of someone's (A) good looks, or (B) good manners? A ☐ B ☐

9. When making your choice of a filter cigarette, do you (A) act on the basis of what someone tells you, or (B) think it through for yourself? A ☐ B ☐

If you're the kind of person who thinks for yourself . . . you use judgment in your choice of cigarettes, as in everything else. Men and women who think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. Their reason? Best in the world. They know that only VICEROY has a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

*If you checked (A) on three out of the first four questions, and (B) on four out of the last five . . . you really think for yourself!

Familiar pack or crush-proof box.

© 1959 Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

The Man Who Thinks for Himself Knows — ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER... A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!

JUNIOR DANCE COMMITTEES prepare for "Cupid's Holiday"—(Kneeling) to r.) Dixie Hilliard, Anne B. Palmer, Jean Dunagan, Clara Miles Shumadine. Robin Arthur; (standing) Joyce Pendleton, Sarah Oliver, Ann Mixon, Carol Lassiter. See story, Page 1.

Heier, Glover Plan May Day Activities

Lou Heier and Ann Glover have been elected by the student body to head May Day festivities here at Longwood this spring.

Lou, a physical education major from Warwick, will serve as chairman of May Day.

"I must admit that along with being surprised and happy when I learned I had been voted chairman, I was somewhat worried too, but things have already begun to take shape and are coming along fine. With the help of the various committee heads and student body I know that May Day will prove to be a huge success," commented Lou.

Glover To Manage

Ann, a senior English and Spanish major from Staunton, will act as business manager.

The committee heads for the annual festivity to be held May 2 have been selected by Lou and are as follows: Mary Linda League, May court chairman; Dodie Webster, music; Katherine Key, costumes; Sara Oliver, props; Cora Straughan and Annis Norfleet, May Day dance; Norrish Munson, theme; Nancy George, programs and publicity; and Winnie Egolf, transportation.

Former L. C. Prof To Present Concert

On February 17, Dr. Roy Jesson, a pianist, will give a concert in Jarman Auditorium for assembly.

Dr. Jesson is the Associate Professor of Music at the University of Richmond and previously taught at Longwood College. Virginians know Dr. Jesson as an organist, pianist, and composer. He holds degrees from Oxford University, the Royal College of Music in London, and Indiana University.

RELAX . . .
at the
SNACK
with your friends!
Main Rec and Senior Rec

French Club To Give Play

Le Cercle Francais will present a comedy by Labiche entitled "Embrassons nous Folleville" February 23 at 8 p.m. in Jarman. Various French songs will also be included in the program.

Matilda Powell will portray Dr. Knock, the personification of a well-known type business man. He is a charlatan who literally sacrifices the small village of St. Maurice into a wholesome respect for that abstract deity, Medicine, and for himself the chosen apostle.

Vickie Brinkley and Donna Boone who are producing the play assist.

In the evening will be entertainment even for those who do not know French.

Other characters are Barbara Bishop, Pat Cleveland, Liz Delchman, Beatrice Gay, Sally Harney, Julia Holland, Nancy Lemen, Mary Smith, Carolyn Paulette. Also helping with the play are Jackie Ducausso and Merle Ridenger, the vice-president and program chairmen of le Cercle Francais.

French class 421 has translated the play as it is cut and presented by the French club. Copies of the translation and the play in French are in the Longwood Library.

School Personnel Interview For Jobs

School supervisors and placement representatives have come and will continue to visit Longwood to interview seniors for jobs as teachers.

Tomorrow, visiting the campus will be Mr. George McIntosh, representing Newport News and Warwick, and Mr. John Richmond from Martinsville. Also, Mr. E. B. Broadwater from Roanoke County will visit Longwood.

Thursday, February 17, Mr. Harold Burdette from Harford County, Maryland, will visit our campus. On Friday, February 18, Mr. Charles Walsh, representing Arlington County, and Mr. Roy Thacker from Alexandria will hold interviews with some of the seniors. Visiting the campus on Thursday, the 19th, will be Miss Louise Lurford from Princess Anne County; and on Friday, the 20th, Mr. Norris, representing the Central Intelligence Agency.

College women with an eye on the future will get a glimpse of what the Marine Corps has to offer soon when Major Essie M. Lucas, Woman Officer Selection Officer from Washington, D. C., visits Longwood February 12-13. Openings, she said, exist in many fields, including logistics, fiscal accounting, disbursing, administrative, and informational services.

Players

(Continued from page 1)

as Snug, and Bill Kempton as Starveling.

Other characters are Ann Jenkins, Page Tolleson and Matilda Powell as Female Courtiers; Randolph Keller, Allan Stein and Mr. William Noble of the Longwood faculty as Male Courtiers; and Sally Thomas, Ann Bass and Victoria Malley as Amazons. Lina Pippin will serve as general understudy and Madeline MacNeil will handle the songs.

Workers Wanted

Anyone desiring to work on technical crews such as costumes, scenery, make-up, lights, props and publicity should contact Vicki Brinkley. Technical work will begin on Monday, February 16, at 2 p.m. in Jarman Hall.

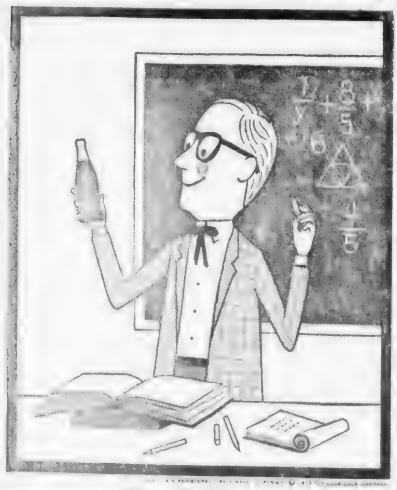
The production is being directed by Mr. David Wiley, assisted by Pat Leake. Stage Manager is Judy Stokes. Admission will be free to Longwood students, but there will be a general admission charge for those who are not members of the Longwood student body.

Boswell To Serve As Elections Head

Dottie Boswell has recently been elected as chairman for major-minor elections for this year.

A senior committee will be headed by Dottie to select nominees for officers of the major organizations on campus. These nominees will also be approved by the administration.

An elementary major from Midway Island, Dottie has served as Assistant Business Manager and Business Manager of the Virginian. This year she was co-chairman of senior circus.



Major elections will be held the first week in March. The presidents of Student Government, House Council, YWCA, and the Athletic Association will be elected by the student body at this time.

The vice-presidents, secretaries, and treasurers of these organizations will be elected the second week in March for minor elections. Freshman counselor for the YWCA will also be elected.

BOXWOOD TOURIST COURT AND RESTAURANT
3 Miles South of Farmville
On Route 15
PHONE 3027-5

DEGREE RINGS
AND PINS
—at—
MARTIN the Jeweler
Come in and place your order today.

Buy Your Contemporary VALENTINES
—at—
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
Wide Selection
of CARDS

Q.E.D.

Yes, it's been demonstrated time and time again, that for real refreshment it's Coke ... Coke. Add up that cold crisp taste, that lively lift and you really have a drink worth going after. So whenever the crowd has a raging thirst, make the high sign of good taste . . . pass around the Coca-Cola! Quod Erat Demonstrandum!

Drink Coca-Cola

BE REALLY REFRESHED... HAVE A COKE!

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by

LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

©1959 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company

"L&M is kindest to your taste because L&M combines the two essentials of modern smoking," says TV's Jack Lescoulie.

LOW TAR: L&M's patented filtering process adds extra filter fibers electrostatically, crosswise to the stream of smoke . . . makes L&M truly low in tar.

MORE TASTE: L&M's rich mixture of slow-burning tobaccos brings you more exciting flavor than any other cigarette.

LIVE MODERN... CHANGE TO MODERN L&M

Attend Sophomore Production

The Rotunda

Support Religious Emphasis Week

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., February 18, 1959 | No. 12

Tech 'Highty Tighties' To Play Here Saturday

The Concert Band of the Virginia Tech Regimental Band of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, will provide an evening of music for Longwood students as they present their concert here in Jarman Hall February 21, at 7:30 p.m. The band will be under the direction of Mr. Thomas M. Dobyns, conductor.

"The 'Highty Tighties' receive no other benefits from playing than the sure pleasure of providing good concert band music," stated Mr. Dobyns.

To Play "My Fair Lady"

Some of the selections that will definitely be heard are "Orpheus and the Underworld" by Offenbach, which includes the famous "can-can;" selections from "Porgy and Bess" by George Gershwin; "My Fair Lady," the famous Broadway hit by Lerner and Lowe; "All American Campus," a medley of college songs arranged by Johnny Warrington; and many favored marches.

The Concert Band consists of approximately 60 musicians out of the famed Regimental Band. "This concert organization is well known in many parts of the state, particularly on the campuses of various girls' colleges where they usually perform during the spring months," added Mr. Dobyns.

All of the musicians in the concert band are students in either engineering, business, or agriculture.

Kamen Edits Trial Issue

Chris Kamen has served as Editor-in-Chief of this week's Rotunda which was the second trial issue for the period ending the paper's fiscal year.

A sophomore from Somerdale, New Jersey, Chris is an elementary education major. She is now serving as assistant sports editor of the Rotunda staff. The trial managing editor is Cherry Gorham; feature editor, Joann Kleinecke with Judy Detrich as her assistant, and news editor is Joanne Parsons with Sandra Weaver as her assistant.

The business staff, also on a trial basis, is headed by Dale Preddy as business manager. Assisting Dale is Kay Pierce as circulation manager; Arlene McKay, assistant circulation manager; and Marie Messick and Bonnie Bryant, co-advertising managers.

The rest of the trial news staff are desk editor, Agnes "Massie; assistant desk editor, Mattie Blewitt; assistant feature editor, Judy Detrich; sports editor, Nancy Lechler with her assistant, Margie Freeze. Photographer was Anne Palmer. Social notes were edited by Sandra Farish and Pat Foster; church news, Frances Harnsberger; sports, Mary Byrd Micou; Martha Shirley, Timely Topics, and Mattie Blewitt, faculty.

The third and final trial issue will be published next week with Joanne Parsons serving as Editor-in-Chief.

VEA Journal Features LC

In commemoration of the 75th anniversary of Longwood College, The Virginia Journal of Education will feature articles and pictures of this institution in a coming issue.

Two articles concerning Longwood and a number of pictures of the college and its past presidents will appear in the issue to be mailed to subscribers on March 12.

The first article, written by Dr. Francis G. Lankford, Jr., President of the College, gives highlights of the history of Longwood and mentions some of the prominent members of the faculty. Another article, written by Dr. Francis B. Simkins, Professor of History, concerns history, presidents, traditions, and various influences on the college.

The proposed picture for the cover of the magazine shows Dr. Lankford and Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, President Emeritus, standing beside the picture of Dr. Joseph L. Jarman, also a past president.

Journalist To Speak

Miss Marvine Howe, author and correspondent in North Africa for the New York Times, will lecture on Monday, February 23 during the 9 a.m. class period in room 101 in West Wing, Ruffner Hall.

This lecture is open to students in the Journalism class, members of Pi Delta Epsilon, and to staff members of the Rotunda and the Colonnade.

Longwood Campus To Host Principals On February 19

Longwood has invited high school principals to be guests of the college Thursday, February 19, and visit with the freshmen from their high schools.

This meeting is an expression of appreciation from the faculty and administration of Longwood College for the cooperative spirit that exists with the high schools from which Longwood students come. The hour 11:00-12:00 will be used for each principal to talk informally with the freshmen from his school.

Some of the visiting principals will be Mr. Ben T. Norirs, Washington and Lee; Mr. N. H. Hurt, Buckingham; Mr. John H. Stevens, Gloucester; Mr. Harold L. Secord, Jefferson Senior; and Mr. G. H. Reed, Manchester. Also, Mr. A. L. Sright, Greenville County; Mr. R. H. Rickman, Dan River; Mr. J. M. Swanson, Halifax County; M. S. W. Colley, Farmville; and Mr. G. W. Cox, Jr., Warwick, will visit the campus.

Principals whose guidance director will accompany them are: Mr. Philip F. Boepple, Amelia; Mr. Warren L. Thueatt, Blackstone; Mr. Robert P. Via, Crewe; and Mr. W. B. Gibbs, assistant principal from Highland Springs. A guidance director will visit also with Mr. Bob Maidment, Newport News, and Mr. William R. Button, Jr., Victoria.

Senior Counselors, Mrs. Zada Carver, representing John Marshall, and Miss Mary Bailey representing Petersburg, will substitute for their principals on that day.

Home Ec Officers

Newly elected officers of the Home Economics Club are Annie Lee Young, president; Brenda Parsley, vice president; Jean Penick, secretary; and Frieda Hamlet, treasurer.

High School Pupils To Visit Here

Approximately eighty - six high school visitors from 36 different schools all over Virginia will journey to Longwood this coming Saturday and Sunday for the second high school weekend of the year. The Cotillion Club assisted by members of the Freshman Class will play host for the weekend.

Warwick High School in Newport News will have the largest representation with ten girls. After that comes Hampton and Culpeper High Schools with seven each; Jefferson, with six; Andrew Lewis, with three; Hillsville, with one; Stratford Hall, with two; Whitmill, with one; and Buchanan, with one.

Other schools to be represented are Albemarle, three; Scottsville, one; Orange, three; Handley, one; James Wood, two; Halifax, one; Rustburg, two; Southampton, one; Parry McCluer, two; Northumberland, one; Henry Clay, one; Washington and Lee, four; George Washington, two; Falls Church, one; George Mason, one; Bedford, two; and Franklin, one.

Also, E. C. Glass, one; Great Bridge, one; Granby, one; Newport News, two; Churchland, three; Chuckatuck, two; Holland, two; King George, one; and Hopewell, one.

The visitors, chiefly seniors, are guaranteed a busy time with many events scheduled. Saturday morning will be devoted mainly to registration and getting settled. Some of the events scheduled for Saturday afternoon are a meeting with the College Administration in the Little Auditorium, a tour of the campus, and a picnic in the Sophomore Rec. A concert by the "Highty Tighties" from VPI, followed by a dance in the Main Rec will also be included in the weekend.

—Staff Photo

PROSPECTIVE LONGWOOD STUDENTS entertained at the last high school weekend are (seated l. to r., from Thomas Jefferson) Jo Donna Dumeas, Cary Trevillian, and Peggie McIntyre; (standing, from E. C. Glass) Betty Suhlett, Mary Eustice (a hostess), Donna Oakes, Mary Lou Plunkett.

Wynne Leaves Faculty After Thirty-five Years

Many Express Great Loss To College

By SANDRA WEAVER

The coming retirement of Dr. John P. Wynne, Professor of Education, was announced today by Dr. Francis G. Lankford, Jr., President of Longwood College.

Dr. Wynne joined the faculty of Longwood in 1924. Four years later he became one of the first men to receive a doctorate in Philosophy of Education at Columbia University, and one of the last to receive it under the eminent American philosopher, John Dewey. When asked why he had decided on a doctorate in that field after having such an extensive background in Social Sciences and Latin, he replied: "I decided on the basis that in such a field, as I grew older I could gain a broader knowledge of facts: whereas, in other studies, I could not."

Lankford Comments

In view of Dr. Wynne's retirement, the following thoughts were expressed by Dr. Lankford: "We will all miss Dr. Wynne greatly. He has devoted his talents to Longwood College for many years. Here, and in many other colleges and universities, his writings and research have attracted favorable attention for the college and for myself. I wish for him a very happy retirement."

Dr. Wynne began his career in teaching at Durham High School, Durham, North Carolina, by teaching Latin during his senior year at Duke University. After he had received his B.A., he continued his work until he received his Master's in History and Social Sciences from Duke.

When World War I came into focus, Dr. Wynne served his country by teaching History in the Army training schools. After the war years, he taught at Mississippi A and M College until coming here.

Publishes Books

Parallel with his work at Longwood, Dr. Wynne has found time to write many books and articles. He was awarded first prize by the American Historical Association for his paper on "Why the United States Entered World War I." Among the books he has written are "A Guide to Education and General Psychology," "Principles of Educational Methods," "General Methods," "The Teacher and the Curriculum," "Philosophies of Education," and "The Educative Experience." Dr. Wynne is presently working on the completion of another book.

For a number of summers, Dr. Wynne has been teaching and lecturing at various schools throughout the country. He has taught at Harvard, Johns Hopkins, University of Ohio, University of Illinois, University of Idaho, Duke, and many others. For two summers he lectured at the University of Pittsburgh and the University of Pennsylvania. Later, these two lectures developed into two of his books.

Though it may seem that way, Dr. Wynne does not devote all of his time to his scholarly studies. He is also very active in the community. Being a long-time member of the American Legion, Dr. Wynne has served as Commander of the Jack Garland Post of Farmville, two terms Commander of the District, two terms; Vice Commander of the Department of Virginia, and is a past president and charter member of the Farmville Rotary Club.

DR. J. P. WYNNE

Phi Beta Kappa

When in college, Dr. Wynne was a member of the "90-19," now known as Phi Beta Kappa. He is now a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Phi, John Dewey Society, American and Virginia Philosophical Associations, American Association of Student Teaching, a charter member of Philosophies of Education Society, and one of the founders and first president of the South Atlantic Philosophies of Education Society. Dr. Wynne also is representing the Philosophies of Education Society on a coordinating committee on "Collegiate Problems of Teacher Education."

Commenting upon his long-time friend and fellow professor, Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss, Chairman of Longwood's History Department, remarked, "In this 75th anniversary year, Dr. Wynne is the personification of the final third. He is the change from an average normal school to a college. Through his personal research, scholarship, and writing, Longwood College has gained a nationwide part in teacher education."

Another of Dr. Wynne's associates, Dr. Floyd F. Swertfeger, Professor of Education at Longwood, commented, "Dr. Wynne is one of the third generation experimentalist in terms of philosophy. I am personally to think that his book, "Philosophies of Education," will necessarily be regarded as the summing up of the experimentalist

(Continued on page 4)

Summer Copy Of Catalogue Now Released

The 1959 summer session catalogues will be available this week to Longwood students, superintendents, principals and teachers. The catalogue will explain the complete program of the summer session for regular Longwood students who wish to accelerate their courses through summer school attendance.

There will be three visiting professors in the summer session program. They are Mr. Marlin C. Hill, who will teach in the Education Department; Miss Jane S. Howell, teaching Library Science; and Miss Lillian A. Minkel, who will teach in the Mathematics Department.

Courses Offered

Three-week courses for graduates and advanced undergraduates are offered in the fields of art, education, English, home economics, and science.

Six-week courses for graduates and advanced undergraduates are offered in the fields of art, education, English, history, mathematics, music, philosophy, and psychology.

Eight-week courses for undergraduates are offered in the fields of art, business education, chemistry, economics, education, English, general science, geography, government, history, home economics, library science, mathematics, music, philosophy, physical and health education, science, and sociology.

FBLA Installation Adds 30 Newcomers

Thirty new members were installed into the Future Business Leaders of America, Monday evening, February 10.

Those installed were Kitty Hawley, Ann Stancil, Brooks Dietrich, Janet Gardy, Anne Newton, Bennie Herget, Kitty Gilbert, Frances Hoyle, Mary Rideout, Norma Berry, Iris Wall, Nancy Lightner, and Pat Williamson.

Also, Carol Barnes, Pauline Brightwell, Nell Horsely, Virginia Ferguson, Betty Jo Shewey, Judy Smith, Sally Pleasant, Glenda Chamberlain, Alice Driskill, Carletta Wisecarver, Pat Duke, Elaine Stein, Neva Arnn, Carolyn Davis, Gayle Jones, Sue Johnson, and Joyce Brooks.

Religious Emphasis Program Set By 'Y' For Next Week

Religious Emphasis Week, sponsored by the Y W C A, will be held next week, February 23 through February 27. The Reverend Colonworth Pinkney Lewis from Williamsburg will be the speaker for the week.

Special programs for Religious Emphasis Week will be held each evening Monday through Thursday in Jarman Hall from 6:45 to 7:45. Also the programs will be presented by the alumnae, faculty [illegible] presidents of religious organizations.

Discussion Groups

Each evening at 10 p.m. discussion groups will be held in the various parlors. These groups will be held as follows: Monday: Malinda Ayers in North Cunningham, Dr. McClung in the Cypress Room, and Mr. Lewis in the "Y" Lounge. Tuesday: Father Fay in North Cunningham, Mr. Lewis in the Cypress Room, and [illegible] in the "Y" Lounge. Wednesday: Mr. Lewis in North Cunningham, Dr. Arehart in the Cypress Room, and Joan Spencer in the "Y" Lounge; Thursday: Mr. Vache in North Cunningham, Dr. Hudgins in the Cypress Room, and Mr. Lewis in the "Y" Lounge. Question boxes will be placed in these parlors, and the questions or suggestions placed in them will be used as the topics of discussion at the meetings.

Personal Conferences

Personal conferences with Reverend Lewis will be held every day from 1 to 3 p.m. Anyone wishing a conference with him may sign up for one on a list which will be provided.

Programs for Religious Emphasis Week will be placed in the rooms of the dormitories by the Freshman Commission. They will be distributed at the beginning of [illegible].

Tuesday evening, the local ministers and student directors will be the guests of the "Y" in the dining [illegible].

On Friday morning at 7 a.m. the closing service for Religious Emphasis Week will be held in the Episcopal Church.

Religious Emphasis Week

Youth Can Make Christ Live

Sputniks, rocket flights, trips to the moon, atomic warfare, corruption in the government, crime and delinquency, apathy of the people . . .

Where in the midst of this do you stand? What shall you do to improve your world, your country, your campus, your life? Will you strive for good or for evil?

You hold a great gift — youth. You possess young ideas, strength, wisdom that the old are seeking. To guide you in your life you have Christ. It is only through Him that you can turn the world to peace and love. What then will you do with Christ? How shall you let Christ live in your life, on your campus, in your country, in your world?

Next week during Religious Emphasis Week, an opportunity will be given you to help answer these questions. Our guest speaker, the Reverend Cotesworth P. Lewis of Williamsburg, will place emphasis on the theme — Youth Can Make Christ Live — in nightly messages in Jarman Auditorium.

"Youth Can Make Christ Live" is a challenging theme for REW. How will you meet the challenge of "Youth Can Make Christ Live" if you think in the terms of "Christ has no hands, no feet, no tongue but ours to do His work today . . ."?

Lillian Rosson
Vice-president, YWCA

Smoker Floor—Not Ashtray

Now that both doors of the smoker have once again been re-opened, Longwood students find they have a brand new floor to walk upon while entering and leaving the dining hall and rec. The highly polished, clean floor is just another improvement the college has made in an effort to establish a better campus atmosphere for you.

We cannot do much about keeping the floors polished — special employees will take care of that. We can do a great deal, however, to keep the floor clean and in good shape. When the old floor was under repair, a certain amount of damage was discovered that resulted from students putting out their lit cigarettes on the floor instead of using the containers found at the right and left of the smoker. Although other circumstances unquestionably contributed much to this damage, it is a known fact that the lit cigarettes donated a generous share to it.

This ill mannered activity hurts us in two primary ways: First, it is harmful to the reputation of our college to have one of our main interior thoroughfares, which incidently can be seen by most visitors, used as a huge ashtray. Secondly, we all know that many improvements have recently been made on campus for our own pleasure and if this is to continue a certain amount of outward appreciation is needed. This can be done by using our school facilities in the proper manner.

Students' attitudes concerning problems of this sort have been quite satisfactory in the past and everyone is urged to continue to do so.

—Chris Kamen

Timely Topics

By MARTHA G. SHIRLEY

Viewing the world situation from a bird's eye view, we perceive that this is a crucial time in Western foreign affairs concerning the future of Germany and Europe's security threatened by the vast empire of Russia. John Foster Dulles, the head manipulator of our foreign policy, has recently undertone an operation proving that he is suffering from a cancer. However, it is fortunate that his particular type of malignancy can be cured or rather, treated.

Then too, it seems that another flu epidemic is beginning throughout the country. However, this time it is in the form of three different kinds.

The Swedes have wondered for 300 years about the death of King Eric XIV — whether he died from poison in his pea soup or not. It was supposed that his younger brother had added a portion of arsenic to the soup. However, curiosity has recently "overcome reverence" and chemists opened the coffin of the sovereign, examined the remains with X-rays, and ran tests of every nature to find that the ancient tale was true — the Swedish king did die from poison in his pea soup.

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 20, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 168.

Linda Boles ..... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors
Bet McGoogan Patsy Powell

Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Judy Eckerson ..... News Editor
Henrietta Hankins ..... Feature Editor
Violet Scott ..... Sports Editor
Veronika Jeeves ..... Desk Editor
Annie B. Cayce ..... Photography
Miranda Thomson .....
Gwen Mathews ..... Art
Lou Gee Ivey ..... Circulation Manager
Miss Mary D. Nelson ..... Advertising Managers
..... Faculty Advisor

Entered as second class matter by the editor.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association. Associated Collegiate Press (Rating three years running—highest possible). Southern Intercollegiate Press Association (Rating first place). Intercollegiate ...

NEWS STAFF: ... Assistant News Editor, Joann Kleinecke, Assistant Feature Editor, ... Katherine Allen, Sports Reporter, Jo Ann Parsons, Assistant Desk Editor, ... Jackson Williams, Society Reporter, Cat Holmes, Pat Lipske, Jacquie Wood, ... Mary Ann Hall, Pat Hackenbrack, Rose Lee Hansbrough, Nancy Hopkins, Joyce Hunnicutt, Lou Ann Hunnicutt, Gerry Edmonds, Verna Mae Jones, Joan Lassiter, Sandra Wesson, Mary Shafer, Dorothy Gee, Mary B. Mason, Kitty Hargrave, Caroline Wilson, Mattie Blewett, Judy Duff, ... Georgia Hensley, Margaret Hensley, Mona Frank, Bettie Cothran, Sue Carabetta, ... Jeanne Lassiter, Betty Lou Gee.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Jane Fowler, Assistant Manager, Kay Pierce, Arlene McKay, Gene Crowl, ... Barbara Chaffin, Janet Garrett, Dianne Doughty, Linda Shaw, ... Mary Mason, Deborah Mann, Sandra Lee Gee.

ADVERTISING STAFF: ... Mary Messick, Liz Dozier, Judy Dietrich, Bonnie Bryant, Jeanne Cooke, Mary B. Hudgins, Georgia Greenwood, Ann M. Smith, Nancy Branch, Connie Nelson, Diane Sanford, George, Peggy Cooper, Grace Lincoln, Judy Jordan.

'La Boheme' Merits Praise; Orchestra Cited As Weak

By JOANN FIVEL

In this, the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Giacomo Puccini, the whole world is honoring him with performances of his operas. On February 11 on Jarman's stage the Charles Wagner Opera Co. presented what is perhaps Puccini's most famous work, "La Boheme."

"La Boheme" is a work filled with beautiful flowing melodies, short comic passages, and touching love scenes. These things were, as a whole, present in the production presented in Jarman Hall. The major shortcoming was in the inadequacy of the orchestra. The violins and obo were probably the worst sections. It must be said, though, that a poor orchestra is better than no orchestra at all.

Rodolfo's Role Good

In the role of Rodolfo, the poet, Rudolf Petrak showed himself to be a singer of some ability. His first act aria, "Che Gelida Manina," started him off toward a well conceived performance. Mr. Petrak is a former school teacher from Czechoslavkia who was told that teachers could always be found but a good tenor was hard to find. Hearing his performance in "Boheme," one is inclined to agree with that statement.

Chester Ludgin and Oliva Bonelli as Marcello and Musetta made a wonderful pair. They had well trained voices which were capable of being heard above the orchestra. These two sounded dramatically as well as musically. This is very hard to find in opera.

Mimi Inadequate

The one weak point vocally was the Mimi of Josephine Guido. Her rhythm was often covered by the orchestra. Since Puccini has written two very beautiful arias for the soprano it is a shame that Mme. Guido was not adequate.

The smaller parts of Colline, Schaunard, Benoit, and Alcindoro were satisfactorily done. As a whole, the performance was a good one.

Magnifico Enjoys Teaching Here; Finds Girls Friendly, Cooperative

By JOANN KLEINECKE

The Longwood College faculty has a new addition this year in the person of Mrs. Josephine Magnifico, Assistant Professor of Mathematics.

Mrs. Magnifico was born and raised in Edinburg in the Shenandoah Valley and lived in Richmond for a time.

Before coming to Longwood, she taught in Albemarle County near Charlottesville and has just recently participated in the National Science Foundation Program held at the University of Virginia.

Studies At Baldwin

The math professor, who did her undergraduate work at Mary Baldwin College, received her Master's Degree from the University of Virginia and teaches elements of Mathematics, Analytic Geometry, a methods course for teachers and Business Math here at Longwood. Having taught in high school as well as college, she states no preference and loves both levels of teaching.

Enjoys Work Immensely

When asked how she liked Longwood she stated, "I am very devoted to the college. The girls are very friendly and cooperative, and I am enjoying my work here immensely."

Although she has not decided on a school as of yet, Mrs. Magnifico's summer plans definitely include further study.

Staff Photo

MRS. JOSEPHINE MAGNIFICO, new Assistant Professor of Mathematics, smiles warmly for ROTUNDA Photographer.

Socially Speaking . . .

Cupid Exits Leaving Memories, Souvenirs

By SANDIE FARISH and PAT FOSTER

All that remains of Cupid's holiday are half-emptied candy boxes, withered corsages, and colorful valentines; but the memories of one truly glorious and unforgetable weekend will linger on.

Congratulations to Alice Cheatwood who had a "sparkler" of a visit from Cupid. Alice is now engaged to Hubert Stallard, Chi Phi President at H-S. Also, we hear Edith Ward got a diamond for Christmas — congratulations Edith!

Highlighting the weekend at Longwood was the Junior Dance, featuring the Collegians from the U. of Richmond.

Hampden - Sydney provided a rocking good time with an exciting, victorious basketball game followed by the ever-popular fraternity parties and finally, the intramural field game!!!

PiKA

However, PiKa fraternity got the jump on the other Greek Societies Friday night with a record hop. Seen there were Jackie Gibson, Mary Ellen O'Conner, Dottie Brown, Barbara Chaffin, B. J. Allgood, Sue Humphries, Carolyn Bassford, Beverly Gaskins, Kitty Good, Joann Kleinecke, Demetria Koumparakis, Sara Oliver, Arlene McKay, Diane Doughty, Nancy Knight, Frankie Click, Jill Greene, Helen Brown, Claudia Whipple, Katherine Key, Joan Lee Thomas, Betty Jean Ashley, Pat Hurst, Sue Robertson, Patsy Carr, Betsy Kelsey, and Connie Barnes.

AMY McFALL, newly elected Hampden-Sydney Theta Chi Sweetheart.

KA

The KA House could literally be seen vibrating with the sounds of a terrific combo and enthusiastic dancers Saturday night. Making themselves at home were Joann Kleinecke, Beverly Gaskins, Jackie Gibson, Mary Ellen O'Connor, Carolyn Bassford, Dottie Brown, Pat Stout, Linda Houts, Betty Jane Allgood, Nancy Kelly, Martha Hart, Kitty Good, Jane Crowl, Ann Hill, Barbara Chaffin, Gretchen Zimmerman, Maryanne Montague, Marie Fisher, Barbara Simpkins, Carolyn Axson, Nancy Knight, Katherine Key, Claudia Whipple, Jill Greene, Brooks Detrich, Gail Jessee, Elva Jane Wynne, Joanne Woodland, Gene Blackwell and Burks Keith.

Also at KA were Ann Bass, Becky Tuck, Janet Gardy, Sandie Farish, Shirley Lucy, Peggy Harris, Barbara Hurst, Mary Ellen Moore, Kay Howard, Brenda Greene, Pat Green Elaine Johnson, Pat Hurst, Pooh Butterworth, Betty Jones, Nancy Lightner, Dottie Nelson, Timmie Darden, Judy Harris, Carletta Wisecarver, Susan Crismen, Bonnie Keys, Sandra Wise, Pat Morgan, and Ginny Whipple.

The Theta Chi's entertained their dates with a private record hop. Longwood girls dating the Thetas were Sue Humphries, Becky Wooldridge, Amy McFall, Mary Pem Lewis, and De Anne Hogge.

The Sigma Chi's hi-fi provided a terrific beat for Evelyn Alouf, Brenda Parsley, Bobbie Fisher, Sandra Johns, Shelby Johnson, Fay Salmon, Margaret Dart, and Rita St. John.

With so many top-flight parties, it's no wonder some guys and their gals couldn't make up their mind as to which party to attend. Among the undecided were Linda Spence, Judy Anfin, Liz Dozier, Patti Norman, Jane Martin, Sue Robertson, Judy Tucker, Ellen Grady, Julie Houser, Linda Hartman, Ann Newton, Liz Deichmann, Jean Rahn, Sue Johnson, Barclay Woodward, Patsy Carr, Elsie Jordan, Joan Verlander, Ann Allen, Margie Mathias, Sue Sharp, Helen Taylor, Beckey Hardy, Nan McLaughlin, Joyce Brooks, Helga Herget, Carol Sprague.

From the looks of the sign-out lists, it seem that all colleges must have been having quite a ball:

V.P.I. Midwinters

The Mid-Winters at V.P.I. attracted quite a number of Longwood ladies. Having a wonderful time, we are sure, were Pat O'Connor, Frances Normen, Maxine Lewis, Melissa Harrell, Betty Dawson, Sarah Buston, Lee Burnett, Laverne Collier, Mary Alice White, Jean Dancy, Kay Pierce, Mary Anne Barker, Mary Byrd Micou, Nancye Allen, Peggy Mullen, Carolyn Oliver, Ann Scott, Peggy Tyler, Janet Stanley, Norma Wilson, Katherine Wallace, Doris Puryear, Annabelle Pope, Betty Ruffin, Tae Wamsley, Mary Anne Walker, Sue Blair, Betsy Dunn, Jo Lynn Holland, Violet Scott, Betty Spivey, Laura Butler, Archer Cassada, Nannie Lou Caldwell, Marjorie Freese, Bonnie Irby, Jean Johnson, Arlene Johnston, Kitty Reid, Margaret Shropshire, and Jeanette Townsend.

V.M.I. Midwinters

Seen with their handsome grey-clad V.M.I. cadets at this military institute's Mid-Winters were Jackie Poole, Linda Allen, Shirley Powell, Brenda Dod, Joan Broaker, Betty Jean Cliatt, Mary Hite Grayson, Lois Johnson, Frances Gray, Carol Matthews, Ann Norfleet, Norma Redmon, Melinda Franklin, Jean Heller, Betty Ann Harrell, Nancy Inge, Judith Jones, Donna Marquette, and Hannah White.

We also hear that Duke enjoyed Ann Hardy's presence; Wake Forest welcomed Ann Snyder; William and Mary provided a good time for Bev Kersey; Nancy Wingfield and Nedlee Chapman traveled to Davidson College; and Lynne Davenport visited a certain middie at the Naval Academy.

Campus News

By MATTIE BLEWETT

Have you heard?

The Hampden - Sydney German Club recently announced final plans for the March 6 and 7 Midwinter Weekend, highlighted this year by the appearance of the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra under the direction of Warren Covington. The band will appear in concert on Saturday afternoon, March 7, and again that night for the dance.

The University of Possumtrot student body recently elected Clem Puddlejumper as president, succeeding Lum Snuff who succumbed to the chicken pox. Clem is the son of Luke Puddlejumper. (He runs that big still up on Hiccup Hill.)

Stop the press! The pony express just rode in with more news from H.S.

Four of the nation's most outstanding historians will come to the Hampden - Sydney campus in April to present a series of lectures. The topic of the lectures will be "The American Tragedy: The Civil War in Retrospect." Presenting lectures will be professors Avery Craven of University of Chicago, Frank Vandiver of Rice Institute, and Henry Steele Commager formerly of Columbia University. Professor Bernard Mayo of University of Virginia will serve as moderator for the sessions.

The Madison student body recently elected Sally Parrott, a senior transfer student from Longwood, to represent their college at the Annual Apple Blossom Festival Winchester April 29-May 2.

William and Mary recently celebrated its 266th birthday. It was in 1693 that the college received its charter from King William and Queen Mary of jolly old England.

Virginia Intermont College is also preparing for their Religious Emphasis Week being held February 23-27.

Also at Intermont, the girls notice that "men's styles change."

From Virginia Intermont Cauldron comes the saying: "Many a modern girl can break a date by going out with him."

Elevated Thinkers Voice Views; Wish To Revise Handbook Rules

Have you ever been interviewed while riding in an elevator? There are about fifty students who can answer "yes" to this question.

Two seniors, "Cat" Ozmon and "Weedie" Norman, decided to find out what type of people ride elevators and why they ride them. To do this they spent an entire day taking a poll of people riding the South Cunningham Hall elevator. A poll of this type required quite a bit of elevator know-how and even a few pills to prevent elevator light-head and lost stomachitis.

Abolish Certain Rules

"What rule at Longwood College would you most like to break?" was one of the questions asked students. Out of the 50 students surveyed, 23 wished to partake of a cocktail or beer in their rooms whenever they wished. Five students wished to banish the overcut rule. Four wished to abolish the marriage rule and others mentioned screaming in the library, much later hours to come in, visitors permitted in the infirmary, two sheets sent to the laundry, and wearing bermudas and slacks to classes.

As the elevator traveled from floor to floor prospective occupants were greeted with this question, "Do you think elevators are detrimental to Public Health?" Out of 31 persons interviewed 10 stated "yes" and 21 replied "no." No sufficient answers were found as to why those who answered "yes" were riding the elevator.

Poll Taken

After extensive and exhaustive research the poll determined that the 3rd floor ranked highest in popularity among those who rode the elevator. Next was the 1st floor and then the 4th and 2nd floors with the ground floor rated the least popular.

Those riding the elevator were distributed as follows: 30 brunettes, 15 blondes, a redhead, and 2 undeterminables. During the course of the day 2 housemothers, a housekeeper, Harry, a milkman, a breadman, and a small boy also rode the elevator.

The originators of this poll feel the material gathered provides food for thought for those unusual-thinking individuals in our student body.

—Staff Photo

CAT OZMON and WEEDIE NORMAN distinguished elevator pollers, deal out a hand as they await the next elevator rush.

What's A College Girl Made Of? No One Has Found The Answer

So many things have been written about the typical four year old, the typical boy of eight, and the typical teenager that I feel the college girl has been somewhat lost in the maze, and just to help put things right I thought of this article.

To begin with, no one is really "typical" but college girls do have certain characteristics that tell that they have come from the same routine of life in their past one or so years of college, as about fifty million other American maidens. That's what makes our college co-ed so easily identified.

First of all, she's a whizz and a genius at getting things done. (That's the important things, of course, like her nails, her letters, and her hair). Chances are, the college she attends is suffering under the illusion that they have knocked her life down to a system of bells, periods, and three meals a day. Well, maybe for the first week they have, but after that it's each girl for herself and nothing's going to pull her out of bed for breakfast at 7:30 even if she starves to death!

Our college girl likes dill pickles, Christmas and Easter vacations, no homework, and a professor who's often late. She turns positively green at the sight of potatoes, fried chicken, stewed chicken, baked chicken, chiken noodles, chicken a la king, creamed chicken, and chicken pot pie. Horror strikes her at the very thought of walking on the grass, tapping on the window, and an unused sidewalk. And quite often she is shaken off her equilibrium by finding people up past 11, bermudas in public, and flats on the commercial buses. You'll find she suffers acutely from an empty post office box, an emptier wallet, and, if possible, an even emptier date book. Also, she dislikes immensely pats on the head, clean saddle shoes, and new trench coats. But as far as looks are concerned, without these items her general appearance is good especially if you like blue, red or black legs, and thick head scarfs topped by two inquisitive eyes.

She's a buddy and a friend and will never let you down unless you want her new nail polish, to double date, or that lovely blouse she borrowed of yours last week.

And she is also something about which an ambitious writer could spend half her life and still only touch on the things to be said. So, being a typical co-ed myself and not too ambitious I'll sign off . . . after all there's my nails to do!

—The Breeze

Bit Of Laughter

Irate gentleman to check-out clerk: "I know they're empty. I ate the stuff while I was waiting in line."

• • •

Man to family climbing out of car: "Well, we finally found a parking space. Does anybody remember why we're here?"

• • •

The honeymoon is over when he phones that he'll be late for supper —and she has already left a note that it's in the refrigerator.

• • •

One Senator to another, leaving Capitol: "I'd hate to have to go out and make a living under those laws we just passed."

• • •

One man to another: "We're a nonprofit organization. We didn't mean to be—but we are."

• • •

Housewife in supermarket: "I'm sorry, I can't remember the brand —but I can hum a few bars of the commercial."

H-S Basketball

Hampden-Sydney
Basketball Schedule
February 20—Johns Hopkins — T
February 21—Baltimore Univ.—T
March 26-28—Mason-Dixon Tour., Washington, D. C.

Students Bewail Local Disaster—Cedarbrook Fire

By JOANN KLEINECKE

One of the most striking events in American History is the Chicago Fire, which started when a cow belonging to one Mrs. Murphy knocked over a lantern.

Now Farmville has an answer to this mass bonfire — Cedarbrook burned completely, early Tuesday morning of last week. The only place that Longwood and Hampden-Sydney students could go to dance is no more. A few of the comments heard concerning the situation were something like this:

Jackie Gibson thinks that "It's the greatest tragedy since the burning of Rome. It's just a dire catastrophe! The enrollment at Longwood is bound to decrease!"

"I suggest that a juke box be installed at the intramural field," quipped Chris Kamen.

"Who's the arsonist?" asked Evelyn Aloud.

Kitty Good took the whole situation in stride feeling that "Maybe now they'll build us a really neat place to go!" Mary Ann Montague agrees with Kitty, saying that "they ought to build some place else even better!"

Katherine Key wonders, "What are we all going to do on Friday nights now?"

Mary Ellen Moore wonders "when a new place will be built."

"We should have salvaged the chairs for the smoker!" stated Ginny Price.

Gretchen Zimmerman perhaps summed up the overall feelings of everyone with her one-word remark, "M-I-S-E-R-A-B-L-E!"

Church News

Methodist

Beginning February 20, Mrs. Howard Wainwright, President of the District Women's Society of Christian Service, will be the guest of the Wesley Foundation, and will be the speaker for the Spiritual Life Weekend from Friday until Sunday.

There will be a series of four meetings: Friday, 4 p.m.; Saturday, 2 and 7 p.m.; and Sunday, 11 a.m. After each meeting there will be time for open discussion to anyone who wishes to participate. We urge you to take advantage of these sessions, come on over, and bring a friend.

Reminder: Coming soon—our MSM Regional Conference to be held at Longwood College. Watch for the date. It will be of interest to you!

Presbyterian

The Westminster Fellowship Conference will take place February 27-March 1 at Roslyn near Richmond. Those wishing to attend may obtain registration blanks at the church.

Next Sunday West-Fel will have its regular meeting at the church with fellowship following. Everyone is invited to join in worship and fellowship at 7 p.m.

The Westminster Fellowship attended the Student World Day of Prayer last Sunday at the Methodist church. Following the service, fellowship was held at the Episcopal Parish House.

—Staff Photo

CLARA LEE PARKER and JUDY MARTIN make plans for class volleyball games, scheduled to begin soon.

Parker, Martin To Manage Class Volleyball Activities

The Rotunda again presents a feature on the class sports managers.

Clara Lee Parker from Danville and Judy Martin from Bracey will serve as volleyball managers this year.

As managers, their job not only involves participation in the sport but it extends to scheduling class games and posting them with the help and approval of Miss Olive Iler, Associate Professor of Physical Health and Education. They are also in charge of keeping a record of the number of times each person has practiced who is going out for his class team.

Clara Lee Parker is a sophomore physical education major. She has participated in class hockey for two years and color rush for two years as well as the class volleyball games. Clara Lee is a member of the A. A. Council.

Judy Martin is a junior and although she is a social science major she has been very active in athletics while at Longwood.

Judy has played on the class softball team for two years and volleyball team for three years. She is also a member of the A. A. Council.

Clara Lee and Judy are encouraging participation from all classes in order to make this volleyball season a success.

New Bus Expected For Transport Use

A new blue and white bus will transport students to and from Longwood Estate for May Day practices this spring.

Mr. S. A. Jessup, president of Virginia Stage Lines, Incorporated, promised the college a Trailways bus as soon as it was released from a regularly scheduled route. It arrived yesterday according to Mr. Jacob Wamsley, Business Manager.

The bus will seat 36 or more passengers, he reported. The make and year are not yet known, but it will be painted college colors.

Replaces Old Bus

In addition to the old bus which the new is replacing, Longwood owns two Ford sedans, a Chevrolet and a Ford station wagon, two Ford pick-up trucks, a GMC jeep truck, a coal-loader, and an Army two-and-a-half ton truck.

Students, faculty, and administration may use these vehicles for trips in connection with the college. To secure them, sign up in the Business Office.

Juniors, Sophs Elect Sing Contest Heads

The Y.W.C.A. will sponsor its annual Sing Contests during the month of March on Wednesday nights.

Each class will present a song to be judged on originality, presentation, and participation. The class with the winning song will be awarded $5.00.

Mo Mixon and Julia Williams have been chosen sing co-chairmen of the junior class. The sophomores have elected Tweedy Lambiotte and Sandy Watkins. Sing chairmen have not yet been elected from the freshman and senior classes.

L. C. Defeats Madison Six

Last Saturday the Longwood basketball team traveled to Madison College and gained two more victories. Longwood played two thrilling and close games which amounted to their defeating Madison 48 to 47 in the first game and 50 to 35 in the second game.

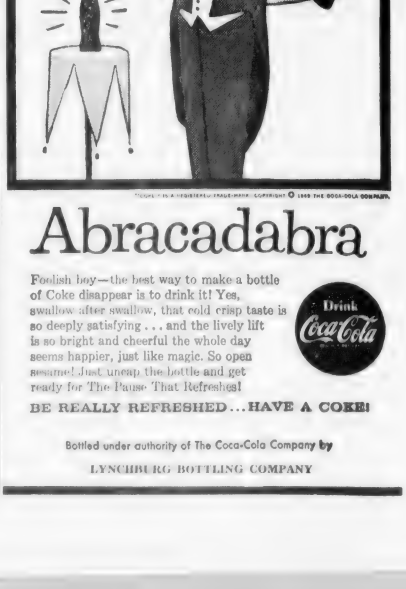
The lineup for the first game was as follows: forwards— Delo Dove; Jackie Waller; Carolyn Thorpe. Guards — Claudia Whipple; Evelyn Salsky; Willie Taylor. Mate Fadley substituted for Delo in the last half of the 2nd quarter and Earline Queen played the second half of the game in place of Evelyn Salsky.

Longwood came from behind in the last few minutes of the first game and scored heavily which gave them their 48 to 47 win.

The line up for the second game was as follows: forwards — Mate Fadley; Lou Heier; Gayle Cunningham. Guards — Earline Queen; Nancy Andrews; Mable Healey. At the half Pat Southworth and Barbara Brantley went into the game as forwards and Joyce Tharrington and Evelyn Salsky substituted as guards.

Hoop Scoop

By MARY B. MICOU



As the college basketball season comes to a close, games are fewer and more important.

North Carolina State ran over Maryland Saturday, winning by a score of 53-37. This brings State's standing in the Atlantic Coast Conference to twelve victories against only one defeat.

Princeton University won its 11th straight game this season as the Tigers defeated Cornell University 70-52. Princeton now holds first place in the Ivy League with a 9-0 record.

Also on Saturday, SMU piled up 60 points to defeat Rice by three points.

In another close game, Purdue chalked up a 65-63 score over Northwestern, while Army fell to New York University by a large margin. The score in that game put Army behind, 80-66.

"COCA-COLA" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT © 1958 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

Abracadabra

Foolish boy—the best way to make a bottle of Coke disappear is to drink it! Yes, swallow after swallow, that cold crisp taste is so deeply satisfying . . . and the lively lift is so bright and cheerful the whole day seems happier, just like magic. So open sesame! Just uncap the bottle and get ready for The Pause That Refreshes!

Drink Coca-Cola

BE REALLY REFRESHED . . . HAVE A COKE!

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by

LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

RELAX . . . at the SNACK with your friends!

Main Rec and Senior Rec

See Our Spring And Summer New Trifari Jewelry

MARTIN the Jeweler

BOXWOOD TOURIST COURT AND RESTAURANT

3 Miles South of Farmville

On Route 15

PHONE 3027-5

FEBRUARY 21, 1959

George Washington SPECIAL

2 Books for Price of 1

WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP

NEW STUDENTS get acquainted (on floor l. to r.) Pat Hurst, Lucy Doyne, Bettie Jean Ashley; (in back) Dianne Dickerson, Roberta Cobb, Sally Christopher, Gayle Jones.

Nine New Students Praise Longwood's Friendly Spirit

By JACQUIE GIBSON
and PAT HURST

At the beginning of a new semester there are new faces are usually seen around campus. This semester is no exception. Nine new students, most of whom are transfers, enrolled February 2.

Gayle Jones, a business education major, transferred from Greensboro College, Greensboro, North Carolina. Gayle, who actually lives in Elkton, finds Longwood a friendly place to live and study. She is beginning to feel at home already, but is finding it hard to get used to the early hours on weekends. Gayle's hobbies include knitting, playing the organ, and dancing. Ranking high on her list of likes are steaks and movies, but on the bottom of the list are those woeful exams.

The English department received two new minors. Pat Hurst from Roanoke, Virginia, who transferred from East Carolina College, and Diane Dickerson, a graduate of San Jose State College, San Jose, California.

Pat says that Longwood's friendly atmosphere has made her feel at home already. Coming from a co-ed school, she is finding it hard, however, to get used to the all-female classes. Pat's hobbies are music, dancing, and bridge.

Diane has traveled quite a distance from her home in Compton, California, to attend Longwood. She likes it very much, though, and has also noticed the friendly atmosphere here. Both Pat and Diane plan to teach school.

Roberta Cobb from Shanghai, Virginia, transferred from Montreat College, Montreat, North Carolina. Roberta, an elementary major, also plans to teach as a career. She thinks Longwood is wonderful but cannot get over having to live in a private home. Roberta likes horseback riding, swimming and tennis.

Sally Jane Christopher, who prefers to be called Sally, comes from Shelton Shop, Incorporated, studied fashion designing at Richmond Professional Institute and is now preparing to teach Home Economics. She is enjoying her classes and getting to know the students. In her spare time, Ash likes to design fashions and sew them into garments for herself.

To add to the list of prospective teachers is Lucy Doyne from Farmville. Lucy comes to us from the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg. A social science major, Lucy is preparing to teach history. She hopes to teach at Farmville High School. Lucy came to summer school here last summer and liked it so well that she decided to come back. As hobbies she likes to dance, swim and paint.

Pat Pearce worked in Princess Anne County before coming to school. Pat has decided to become an elementary school teacher. She wants to teach the second or third grade and so chose Longwood to advance her in the profession. Pat says that she was quite surprised at the friendliness she found here. She is having difficulty getting used to all the walking she has to do, though.

Connie Coiner, a former student from Culpeper, has returned to complete her education.

Sally Christopher, a transfer from William and Mary, lives in Tappahannock. Sally finds the atmosphere here very friendly and the classes interesting. She says that Longwood has been very easy to adjust to. Sally likes swimming, reading, and music.

Fifty-Six Seniors Practice Teaching

Fifty-six Longwood seniors are student teaching in the Prince Edward County schools this spring semester.

The elementary student teachers are Barbara Eisenmann, Agnes Lowry, Mary Davis, Ann LaBonte, Barbara Hurst, Coreta Bennett, Jacqueline Harper, Catherine Harris, Jane Adams, Rose Byer, Alice Jessee, Helen Hillman, Elizabeth Nichols, Joan Brooker, Louise Ponton, Calvert King, Fay Salmon, Elsie Dick, Virlinda Joyner, Frances Wilkerson, and Sandra Kilmon.

Girls teaching physical education in the elementary school are Patsy Campbell, Ruth Raney Cowan, Joyce Tharrington, Jackie Fore, Barbara Staton, Nancy George, Jackie Waller, and Willie Taylor.

Secondary Teachers

Secondary student teachers at Farmville High School are Mary Morgan Blair, Nancy Brubeck, Patricia Campbell, Doris Clapp, Diane Dickerson, Linda Doles, Clarence Ferguson, Joann Fivel, Sandra Kilmon, John Lynn, Betty McClenny, Charlotte McGee, Nancie Morton, Barbara Odom, Sue Rawlings, Martha Rucker, Carol Sandidge, Betty Smith, Betty Smythers, Mrs. Alice Sommers, Sandra F. Tarter, Joan Thomas, Mrs. Eva L. Utley, Julia Wallace, and Charlotte Weimer.

Student teaching at Worsham High School are Lois Harrison and Mrs. Alice Sommers.

School Personnel Interview Seniors

School supervisors and placement representatives will continue to visit Longwood for the next few weeks to interview seniors for jobs as teachers.

Tomorrow, visiting the campus will be Miss Louise Luxford, representing Princess Anne County.

Friday, February 20, Mr. Morris from the Central intelligence Agency will visit. On the following Monday, February 23, Mr. L. M. Tennant representing the Social Service in Danville will interview seniors who are interested in social work. Mrs. S. D. Morgan from York County, will visit the campus next Tuesday, February 24.

Thursday, February 26, Dr. Paul M. Munro from Lynchburg, and Mr. John D. Richmond from Martinsville will visit. Also, Friday, February 27, Dr. R. O. McCullough representing Talbot County, Maryland, will hold interviews with seniors interested in teaching in that school.

Fine Arts Festival

The tentative program for the second annual Fine Arts Festival, April 13, 14, follows:

On Monday there will be a dance; on Tuesday, a choir program; Wednesday, lecturer; Thursday, opera; Friday, faculty recital; and Saturday, play.

Art exhibits are to be held all during the week.

Library Exhibition Shows Art Prints

Now on exhibition in the browsing room of the Longwood library are twenty photographic prints selected from the 20th Virginia Photographic Salon.

The prints were chosen from a competition open to all Virginia photographers by a three-man jury of photography experts. The Salon at the Virginia Museum, which sponsors The Camera Club of Richmond, held the contest. It was the twentieth in a series which is held every two years.

Three of the prints, Path of Light by J. D. Kanode, The Weary Traveler by R. M. McClanahan, and Magnolia Design by F. A. Noftsinger won silver medals in recognition of the outstanding photographic work involved. Other photographs include The Sarah Constant Comes Bout, New Point Comfort Comfort Lights, both by M. F. Ritzer, Jr., and He Went That A Way by J. D. Kanude, seascapes; and January Etching by M. K. Zinc, The Fox Hunt by R. M. McClanahan, and Ever So Humble by Arthur Clarke, landscapes.

Sharon by H. M. Tribetti, Ken by Van Moore, The Weary Traveler by R. M. McClanahan, Master Mason by Arthur Clarke, Siamese by M. K. Zink, Glowing Embers at Jamestown Forte by W. E. Booth, and Pinacle by P. L. Worder are excellent examples of human interest photography. Still lifes include Magnolia Design by F. A. Noftsinger and Left by the Sea by Dr. A. D. Brasheer. Two color photographs, War and Peace and The Toy Soldier, both by E. F. Sydnor, Jr., are included in the exhibition.

All the photographs depict phases of Virginia life and are included in the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts traveling exhibition.

Sign under an office clock: "It's earlier than you think!"
—The Reader' Digest

Faculty News

Professors Attend Annual Meetings

Dr. Blanche C. Badger, Professor of Mathematics, Mrs. Josephine Magnifico, Assistant Professor of Mathematics, and students interested in teaching mathematics in the high school, attended the Twelfth Annual Conference for Mathematics Teachers at the University of Virginia at Charlottesville. This conference, started by Longwood's president, Dr. Francis G. Lankford, was held February 13.

Lankford to Roanoke

February 14, Dr. Francis G. Lankford attended the annual meeting of the Association of Virginia Colleges which was held in Roanoke. He was a participant on the program, the topic of which was "The Recognition of and Provision for the Superior Student."

Boggs to Chicago

Dr. E. R. Boggs, Professor of Education and Dean of the College, attended the annual meeting for the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education. This conference was held at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago, Illinois, February 12-14.

Natural Bridge

Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss, along with Dr. Boggs, Professor of Education and Director of the Bureau of Teaching Materials, will attend a conference on teacher education held at Natural Bridge Hotel at Natural Bridge. This conference will be sponsored by the Teacher Education Department of the Virginia Education Association. It will be held March 6-7.

Wiley and Applegate

Mr. David Wiley, assistant professor of speech and drama, and Miss Anna K. Applegate, instructor in English and speech, were elected president and secretary respectively of the Virginia Speech and Drama Association at the organization's recent meeting in Charlottesville.

Mr. Wiley also participated in a panel discussion of play production techniques.

Sigma Alpha Iota Pledges Fifteen

Fifteen pledges of the Sigma Alpha Iota, honorary music fraternity which has a newly established chapter at Longwood, completed their pledge tests Thursday, February 5.

Those pledging are Mary Blair Booth, Adair Camp, Carolyn DeHaven, Nancy Evans, Jo Ann Fivel, Jo Ann Garner, Jean Helms, Dorothy Marshall, Judson Mason, Margaret Moore, Jo Ann Sloop, Nancy Taylor, Janet Underwood, Mrs. Hildegarde Wagner, and Elaine Weddle.

Longwood's Gamma Kappa chapter will be nationally installed in services held here February 27 and 28 and March 1 and 2. Representatives from the Washington Alumnae Chapter and the Norfolk Alumnae Chapter are expected to attend. Also on hand for the event will be representatives from William and Mary Extension in Norfolk, Madison College, Shenandoah Conservatory, East Carolina College, Catholic University, Meredith College, and the University of Maryland.

Faculty sponsors for the organization are Miss Josephine Bailey and Mrs. Mary A. F. Kemble. Patronesses are Mrs. C. W. Glenn and Mrs. Dorothy Schlegel.

Wynne

(Continued from page 1)

philosophies on education."

When asked if he would like to comment on his own retirement, Dr. Wynne replied, "I like teaching very much, but I find I have so much else to do that I don't have the time. I also regret having to leave Longwood. Ever since I came here, I have appreciated the feeling of the place; it has quite a tradition of the working of the faculty and students together. I have never seen anywhere where students had the same kind of spirit. Here I have had time to think and connect my teaching and writing as I went along."

This spring will bring many fond memories back to Dr. Wynne. He will celebrate the 50th anniversary of his high school graduating class at Innfield, North Carolina, the 40th anniversary of his college teaching, and his 35th anniversary at Longwood.

A former student sums up the general feelings of the many who have come under Dr. Wynne's instructions: "The loss of this admired and respected professor will be felt by all of the college, for Dr. Wynne has become part of Longwood's traditions—from his good-natured, jovial personality, to his scholarly lectures and guidance for the many students he has served in his years. He will be remembered as one of Longwood's greatest teachers."

SATURDAY ONLY
February 21, 1959
[illegible]
2 rolls [illegible] 69 cents
(620, 120, 127)
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

WILSON'S HOME AND AUTO SUPPLY
TOP TEN
1. [illegible]
2. [illegible]
3. [illegible]
4. [illegible]
5. [illegible]
6. [illegible]
7. [illegible]
8. [illegible]
9. [illegible]
10. [illegible]

Do You Think for Yourself? (ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS AND FIND OUT!*)

1. If you were about to buy an automobile, would you (A) study the road-test reports in the magazines, or (B) select the car that looks best to you? A ☐ B ☐
2. When confronted with a menu with lots of foreign terms, do you (A) ask what is in each dish, or (B) accept the waiter's recommendation? A ☐ B ☐
3. When invited to play an unfamiliar game, do you (A) refuse to play until you fully understand the rules, or (B) pick up the rules as you go along? A ☐ B ☐
4. When invited to a party, do you (A) accept, hoping to enjoy yourself no matter who attends, or (B) try to learn who will be there before accepting? A ☐ B ☐
5. In buying a radio, would you be influenced more by (A) low price, or (B) product features despite a slightly higher price? A ☐ B ☐
6. When deciding on what movie to see, do you usually prefer films that (A) are gay and diverting, or (B) have a social message? A ☐ B ☐
7. When you run into a foreign phrase in a textbook, do you first (A) head for a dictionary to find the meaning, or (B) try to dope out the meaning yourself? A ☐ B ☐
8. When reading the paper, do you (A) catch yourself concentrating on scandal stories, or (B) spend your time on news and editorial matter? A ☐ B ☐
9. In choosing a filter cigarette, (A) are you easily swayed by bold claims, or (B) do you think for yourself and stick by your decision? A ☐ B ☐

If you're the kind of person who thinks for yourself . . . you use judgment in your choice of cigarettes, as in everything else. Men and women who think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. Their reason? Best in the world. They know that only VICEROY has a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

*If you checked (A) on three out of the first four questions, and (B) on four out of the last five . . . you really think for yourself!

© 1959, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

Familiar pack or crush-proof box.

The Man Who Thinks for Himself Knows — ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER . . . A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!

Support
Religious Emphasis
Services

The Rotunda

See Story
By James Wellard
Page 3

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., February 25, 1959 | No. 13

Boswell Names March 3, 5 As Major Elections Dates

Dottie Boswell, chairman of Longwood's major and minor elections, has announced that the student body will select major officers for 1959-60 at elections on Tuesday, March 3 and Thursday, March 5.

On the previous Sunday night pictures of the nominees will be posted in groups of three on a bulletin board in the smoker for everyone to view. Then on Tuesday students will eliminate one of the three candidates at the poles and choose between the remaining two on Thursday.

The candidates are chosen on the basis of ability, willingness to work, academic standing, and popularity by a committee composed of the heads of major organizations and campus publications. Committee members are: Barbara Odom, president of the Student Government Association; Helen Jean Young, president of the Young Women's Christian Association; Delo Dove, president of the Athletic Association; Bet McLoughlin, president of House Council; Linda Doles, editor of The Rotunda; Nancy Brubeck, editor of The Colonnade. Nancy Knowles was chosen to represent The Virginian in place of Barbara Bishop because committee members must be seniors.

Officers for minor positions will be chosen by the same procedure in elections to be held on Tuesday, March 10, and Thursday, March 13. All students will vote at polls in the Rotunda for both elections, and ballots may be cast from 12:45 to 6:45.

Schedule Issued For '59-60 Term

The 1959-60 schedule of classes for Longwood College has recently been completed by the scheduling committee. In its printed form the new schedule is similar to previous schedules of the college; however, it will include a column of credits earned for the courses listed.

The scheduling committee has made an effort to balance the entire college program to enable individual students enrolling to more easily secure a balanced schedule of Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Monday, Wednesday, Friday classes.

Freshmen entering Longwood College next fall will have available to them more 100-level courses especially in the departments of art, biology, and mathematics. There will be fewer freshman English and history classes on the 10:05 block, making several sections of these courses available at other hours.

Among the new courses appearing on the schedule are two in the field of general science—General Science 321, Astronomy, and General Science 322, Meteorology. Each of these courses meets twice weekly, giving two credits, and includes some observation periods.

Senior education majors will be enrolled in Philosophy 460, a one semester course in the Philosophy of Education, which replaces Philosophy 451 and 452, previously required in the education program. The latter change is a part of the revised curriculum which requires one semester of philosophy, Philosophy 460, and one semester of education, Education 451, of senior education majors and one semester of education, Education 352, of junior education majors. Only one section of Education 451 will be offered as a part of the college program next session as students will have fulfilled the education requirement through Education 351, taken in the current session.

(Continued on page 4)

Music Fraternity Plans Installation For February 28

The youngest chapter of the oldest professional music fraternity for women in the United States will be installed at Longwood College, February 28. The Gamma Kappa chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota at Longwood will be the 11th chartered.

National officers on hand for the installation services will be Mrs. Paul J. Gould, second vice-president from North Olmstead, Ohio, and Mrs. Donald C. May, province president from Arlington.

The morning and early afternoon will be spent in pledging and initiation services for the new student members and for the faculty advisers and patronesses. The chapter will be formally installed in ceremonies late Saturday afternoon

Music Program

Following a banquet at Longwood House members of the new chapter will present a Musicale of American Music in Jarman Hall at 8:30 p.m. Concluding the day's events will be a reception at 9:30 p.m. for all Sigma Alpha Iota members in the Alumnae House.

Representatives from the campus chapters of Wittenberg College, University of Maryland, Catholic University, East Carolina College, Meredith College, Norfolk Division of the College of William and Mary, Madison College, and Shenandoah Conservatory of Music are expected to attend the installation rites.

Players, Jongleurs Unite To Produce Comedy, A Midsummer Night's Dream

By MOLLY WORKMAN

Have you ever seen a fairy fly? This is just one of the many delights in store for the audience at the Longwood Players' - Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs' production of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer-Night's Dream," to be presented in Jarman Hall March 19, 20, and 21.

This wonderful comedy, long a favorite of theatre-goers, will be given as bright, colorful, amusing and unconventional a production as Director David Wiley and his assistants can imagine.

Setting Different

The setting of the play will be entirely different from anything ever seen on the Longwood stage before. Consisting almost entirely of ramps and platforms, it is a dynamic arrangement of planes and inclines which covers most of the stage area as well as the orchestra pit. Such a setting allows for the swift movement of scenes which is so vital to Shakespeare's plays. It also produces varied and interesting kinds of relationships among the actors onstage and permits them to work in closer contact with the audience. There are no well-defined entrances or exits in the setting, so that actors may come in and leave at almost any spot—including through the audience and from the air. Although Mr. Wiley describes the style of his setting as "formalistic," other comments range from "What is it?" to "Good grief!"

Colorfully costumed, brilliantly lighted, sprouting wings, and wired for electricity, the 36 actors in the play will romp, fly, dance, march and otherwise move through the delightful fantasies of the plot. They will be accompanied by the well-known strains of composer Felix Mendelssohn's musical version of the play, including the famous "Wedding March."

Admission will be free to Longwood students.

Editors Named

Cherry Gorham, Carolyn Oliver, and Judy Harris were announced today as the 1959-60 Editors-in-Chief of the Rotunda, the Virginian, and the Colonnade, respectively.

The newly-elected Business Managers are Dale Preddy, the Rotunda; Nancy Donaldson, the Virginian; and Barbara Rossiter, the Colonnade.

The positions, released by Charlotte McGhee, Publications Committee Chairman, will become effective immediately for the Rotunda, student newspaper and for the spring issue of the literary magazine. The annual editor will assume complete duties in the fall for the 1960 Virginian.

These students were elected by the Publications Committee, which is composed of the outgoing editors, business managers, and the advisors of each publication.

The new editors, all members of the sophomore class, have been outstanding in publications work at Longwood. Cherry Gorham was Assistant News Editor on the 1958-59 Rotunda staff; Carolyn Oliver is Assistant Photography Editor on the present Virginian staff; and Judy Harris is a staff member on the present Colonnade staff.

The new business managers, all members of the junior class, have also had extensive training on their publications: Dale Preddy held the position of Assistant Circulation Manager on the 1958-59 Rotunda staff; Nancy Donaldson is the Assistant Business Manager of the Virginian; and Barbara Rossiter is the Head Typist of the Colonnade.

Editors-in-Chief and business managers must have an accumulative C average or better, and cannot hold another major office on campus.

The new staffs for each publication will be announced in later issues of the Rotunda.

Peyton Selected As Co-Chairman

Jean Peyton was recently elected as co-chairman for the 1960 state Y.W.C.A. annual conference. The election took place at the 1959 conference held at the Roslyn Conference Center, near Richmond, this past weekend.

Jean along with the other co-chairman and a planning committee will meet in the fall to plan for next year's conference. Also attending this year's conference from Longwood were Helen Wente and Anne Palmer.

Anne Palmer served on the nominating committee. Jean Peyton also served on the conference evaluating committee. The Longwood delegates were in charge of recreation for the weekend.

Various Directors To Hold Meeting

The Virginia Order of Roadrunners, an association of public relations directors and College Day representatives from various Virginia colleges, will have a dinner meeting at Longwood Estate Thursday evening, February 26.

Mr. A. Ray Merchent, Longwood's Director of Public Relations, will be host for the annual meeting. Dean Earl R. Boggs will extend a welcome to the group.

The meeting will be a reunion of all representatives from colleges that participated in College Day and Career Day programs in Virginia high schools this year.

Fairytale Of Snow White, Dwarfs To Set Stage For May Day Events

—Staff Photo

MAY DAY is on the way as committee heads plan the May 2 event—(l. to r. in semi circle) Ann Glover (business manager), Nancy George, Winnie Egolf, Cora Straughan, Mary Linda League, Sara Oliver, Norris Munson, Ann Norfleet, Katherine Key, and Lou Heier (chairman).

Festivities To Honor 75th Anniversary

Snow White and the seven dwarfs will re-enact their familiar story for May Day in the Dell at Longwood Estate.

May Day chairman Lou Heier and theme chairman Norrish Munson have announced the theme around which the hour-long program May 2 will center. A cast composed of Longwood students will perform in the activity sponsored annually by Student Government.

Dedicated to the 75th Anniversary celebration, May Day will honor Queen Amy McFall and her court. A formal dance that night will conclude the festivities.

May-Pole Dance

The forest will come alive before Snow White, the comical dwarfs, the jealous queen and witch, the faithful huntsman, and Prince Charming. Nymphs representing approaching spring will whisk the characters from scene to scene. Joining with a group of living flowers, they will perform the traditional may-pole dance.

Even the trees in the woods will dance, and colorful birds and flowers will captivate Snow White. A palomino ridden by the Prince will provide a realistic touch. Narration by the main characters will also aid in developing the plot.

During the first few weeks of March students can sign up to participate in the various dances as well as to help on committees. Several freshman physical education classes will also dance.

Committees Begin Work

Donna Boone has been chosen to work with the main characters in the pageant. Ann Glover is serving as business manager. Committee heads are already at work and are as follows: Mary Linda League, May court chairman; Dodie Webster, music; Katherine Key, costumes; Sara Oliver, props; Cora Straughan and Annis Norfleet, May Day dance; Nancy George, programs and publicity; and Winnie Egolf, transportation.

C. U. Graduates To Present Shakesperian Play Tuesday

Longwood College will present Players Incorporated in "Twelfth Night" by Shakespeare in Jarman Hall on Tuesday, March 3, at 8 p.m.

The members of the company are graduates of the famous Speech and Drama Department of The Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C., noted for the many Broadway hits which have originated in the University Theatre. The C. U. Drama Department is under the direction of the Reverend Gilbert V. Hartke, O.P., one of the most prominent figures in the American Theatre today.

Popular Rating

"Twelfth Night" or, "What You Will" is considered to be one of Shakespeare's best - liked comedies. The scene is laid in Italy. There is an air of melancholy throughout the play. There are three interwoven plots whose developments lead to many funny situations.

First, there is the love which Duke Orsino has for the Countess Olivia, who refuses to marry for a period of seven years so as to mourn the death of her brother.

Viola, a young girl, is separated from her twin brother by shipwreck. Her experience brings about the second of the three plots. Viola goes to the court of Duke Orsino in the guise of a young page in which position she becomes a member of the court.

The Duke sends Viola, whose name is now Cesario, to Olivia to plead his love suit. As a result, Olivia falls in love with the page!

Matters become increasingly complicated. Viola falls in love with the Duke but as she is disguised as a boy, she cannot reveal her love.

Comic Sub-Plot

In Olivia's household, Sir Toby, her uncle; Maria, the maid; Feste, the clown; and Sir Andrew, an old suitor of Olivia are all supported by Olivia. These lazy individuals despise Malvolio, the steward, who is very efficient. They try various ways of getting rid of him.

The final complication arises when Sebastian, Viola's lost brother reappears. Everyone mistakes him for Cesario.

Many humorous situations result from these complications which in the end are satisfactorily settled.

Currently celebrating its 10th Anniversary season, the touring company of Players Incorporated has become the longest-running national classical repertory theatre in the United States in the Twentieth Century.

Admission for students of Longwood is free.

Longwood To Host FBLA Convention

The second regional meeting of Future Business Leaders of America, District II, will be held Saturday, March 7, in the Student Activities Building of Longwood College.

Delegates from 23 high schools of the region are expected. Following registration at 9:30 a.m., delegates will compete for prizes and the chance to enter in the state and national competitions. Contests will be held in public speaking, spelling, parliamentary law, Mr. and Miss FBLA, essay, scrapbook, exhibit and bulletin board. The winner of the public speaking contest will receive a $25 government bond donated by the First National Bank of Farmville.

During the afternoon session, new regional FBLA officers will be elected and installed for the coming year. The Longwood Business Education Department will supervise the day's activities.

Representatives from FBLA chapters are expected to attend from: E. C. Glass, Appomattox, Dan River, Renan, Halifax County, Nelson County, Granby, Maury, Great Bridge, Norview, Princess Anne, Southampton, Franklin, Craddock, Woodrow Wilson, Clarchland, Suffolk, Whaleyville, Manchester, Prince George, Powhatan, Sunnyside - McKenney, and Midway high schools.

Work Progresses On West Wing Section

The basement of Longwood's West Wing will be ready for classroom use by September, 1959. The remodeled section is a part of the College's two-year library extension plan.

The Audio - Visual Department, which now occupies the lower floor of the library, will be shifted to West Wing leaving more space for library use. If work goes according to present plans, when finished West Wing's basement will contain a large projection room, rooms assigned for radio program work, and a classroom.

Parsons Edits Trial Issue

Jo Anne Parsons has served as Editor-in-Chief of this week's Rotunda which was the third and final trial issue for the period ending the paper's fiscal year.

A sophomore from Richmond, Jo Anne is an English major. She is now serving as assistant desk editor on the Rotunda staff. The trial managing editor is Chris Kamen; feature editor, Joann Kleinecke with Judy Detrich as her assistant; news editor Cherry Gorham with Sandra Weaver as her assistant.

Business Staff

The business staff, also on a trial basis, is headed by Dale Preddy as business manager. Assisting Dale is Kay Pierce as circulation manager; Arlene McKay, assistant circulation manager; and Marie Mesick and Bonnie Bryant, co-advertising managers.

The rest of the trial news staff are desk editor, Agnes Massie; assistant desk editor, Mattie Blewett; sports editor, Nancy Lechler with Mary Byrd Micou as her assistant. Photographer was Anne Palmer. Social notes were edited by Pat Foster and Sandra Farrish; sports, Margie Freeze; church news, Frances Harnsberger; Martha Shirley, Timely Topics and Mattie Blewett, faculty.

Note Of Thanks

It seems there is no end to the finding of fault or suggestions of remedies offered for the betterment of life here on th college campus. But it seems too, that we do not give thanks for the big or small happenings that make campus life better for all students. Let's stop and express a note of thanks —for Religious Emphasis Week, and to the many ministers and the various students and directors who are striving to bring us a little closer to God.

—for the much enjoyed improvements made in the dinning hall by the Slater System, and especially for the delightful thank-you dinner served last night by the Slater System.

—for all building and technical improvements that have been made, and for those that will continue, to maintain and establish a better campus atmosphere. Also in this field goes a personal thanks to Mr. S. A. Jessup, president of the Virginia Stage Lines, Incorporated, for the new Longwood bus.

—for Sophomore production and all activities that bind the school through spirit to make it whole.

—and last, a special thanks for all persons of the faculty and student body that have come before us, are here now, and who will come after, that have and will strive to the best of their ability to uphold the high standards of this, Our College.

—Jo Anne Parsons

Vote—For Longwood!

Annually in March it is the privilege and the responsibility of each member of the student body to take an active interest in and to participate in Major and Minor elections.

In the next two weeks, nominations for the major and minor officers of the four major organizations on campus will be submitted to the student body. It is the responsibility of each individual to take full advantage of this opportunity by carefully considering the girls who are nominated and by casting a vote for those who we feel are the best qualified to fill these offices.

By supporting the approaching elections through 100 per cent participation in voting, we are indicating our love for Longwood and our interest in all her activities.

—Dot Boswell
Chairman, Major-Minor Elections

Timely Topics

By MARTHA GRAY SHIRLEY

Since the so-called "massive resistance" has been ruled out, the state of Virginia has been seeking a way to avoid the impending intergration problem. On March 6, a hearing will be held in Richmond to discuss the future status of the state's public schools. It is hoped that this commission can probe into the racial situation and draw up some recommendations to be presented to the General Assembly March 31.

Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan, the first British Prime Minister to visit Moscow since World War II, was greeted with a warm reception—rather "quiet" but most "polite." His large fur hat seemed to make a favorable impression on the people that surrounded his plane upon his arrival. This visit, it is hoped, will tend to ease world tensions.

British Prime Minister Macmillan, now on a ten-day visit in the Kremlin, is the first British prime minister to travel to Moscow since the war. Macmillan, in a recent speech delivered in the Kremlin, challanged the statesmen of the world to reduce the danger of war that might arise through "miscalculation or muddle."

President Eisenhower recently evaluated his visit with President Adolfo Lopez Moteas of Mexico and informed that it was well worth while and determined to continue close collaboration on matters concerning both countries.

Philip W. Bonsol, the new U. S. ambassador to Cuba was well received upon presentation of his credentials in that country, and was praised by the Cuban press.

Secretary of State Dulles is still under treatment for cancer. This illness has thrown a heavier burden on the British leader Macmillan as the West maneuvers to meet Soviet effort to oust the Allies from Berlin.

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 20, 1920

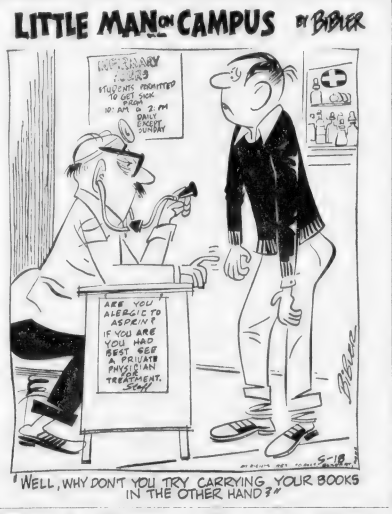
Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Office Box 168.

Linda Dolen ..... Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors
Bet McLoughlin, Patsy Powell

Barbara Hurst ..... Business Manager
Judy Eckstrom ..... News Editor
Henrietta Dalilas ..... Feature Editor
Violet Sount ..... Sports Editor
Virginia Joyner ..... Desk Editor
Anne B. Palmer ..... Photography
Melinda Franklin ..... Art
Gwen Motion ..... Circulation Manager
Lou Gray, Becky Parker ..... Advertising Managers
Miss Mary P. Nichols ..... Faculty Adviser

(Unsigned editorials written by the editor)



Member: Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press (Rating first class), Columbia Scholastic Press Association (Rating first place), Intercollegiate Press

NEWS STAFF: Cherry Gotham, Assistant News Editor; Joann Kleinecke, Assistant Feature Editor, Chris Kamm, Assistant Sports Editor, Jo Ann Parsons, Assistant Desk Editor; Columnists Jackie Gibson, Ann Gomer, Cat Osman, Pat Leake, Jackie Waller, Ashe Cheatwood, Martha Hooker; Reporters: Pat Rodenhiser, Rose Lawrence, Nancy Lachine, Pam Garrett, Frances Harnsberger, Gerry Edmonds, Agnes Massie, Pat Junker, June Bonnet, Sandra Weaver, Mary Shafer, Bonnie Gaskey, Mary B. Moore, Kitty Hawley, Claudia Wilson, Mattie Blewett, Judy Dietrich, Brenda Parsley, Dee Dee Hooker, Margee Price, Dottie Cathers, Sue Carravella, Sandie Farish, Sandra Kilhour.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Dale Preddy, Assistant Manager, Kay Pierce, Arlene McKay, Cass Conner, Barbara Boatman, Lave Garrett, Dianne Doughty, Linda Saunders, Becky Meredith, Frances Mann, Nancy Lee Cole.

ADVERTISING STAFF: Marie Minnick, Ina Eller, Judy Dietrich, Bonnie Bryant, Jennie Dalton, Mary K. Pilcher, Carroll Grissette, Ann M. Smith, Nancy Branscomb, Nancy Shaw, Nancy George, Doris Clapp, Grace Belvin, Judy Jordan.

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress on March 3, 1894. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

Tech Band Rated Fair

By FRANCES HARNSBERGER

A highlight of the high school week end was the concert given by the VPI "Highty-Tighties" in Jarman Hall February 21. The 60-member band under the direction of Mr. Thomas Dobyns played a varied and entertaining program which was well-received by the large audience.

The quality of the performance was varied with "Cuban Fantasy" as the high point, and "Victory at Sea" as the low point. Falling midway in quality were "Seventy-Six Trombones" and "Orpheus."

The program opened with "American Legion March," which was spirited and peppy. This was followed by "Seventy-Six Trombones" and "Orpheus."

"Goofing" Scores Hit

Captivating the audience with the "National Emblem March," which was student-directed, the band then "goofed" with a novelty number called "Goofing." Both the band and the audience were enthusiastic in their presentation of and participation in this number.

Following the intermission, the band played "All-American Campus" which was a medley of college songs.

"Old Black Magic" in a modern arrangement seemed a little out of place in an informal program of this type.

"Beguine Festival" also is noteworthy. The percussion section deserves praise here for their ability to hold the band together in one of the best numbers of the evening.

The program was concluded with the "Tech Alma Mater" followed by "Dixie."

Tone quality and balance were good, and the soloists were sure of themselves. Since the Tech "Highty-Tighties" are highly rated by many, some of whom are not Tech fans, one only wishes that we could have either heard the band at a later date, or that they had had more practice. However, the quality of performance did not mar the evident audience appreciation.

Church News

Episcopal

At the meeting of the Canterbury Club March 1, the Reverend C. Charles Vache, Chairman of College Work in the Diocese, will be the guest speaker. His topic will be a summary of the "Life and Mission of the Church." This has been Canterbury's study emphasis this year as it will be for the next three years. The sub-topic this year has been the "Biblical Faith and the Calling of the Church." For future years the topics will be the "World Mission of the Church," "Mission of the Church Within the University," and the "Present Mission of the Church Within America."

After the Fall Virginia Canterbury Conference, the Council decided to change the Evening Vesper Service to 8 p.m. instead of 7 p.m. Many other Canterburies use this hour after the program as their Vesper time and find it very successful. Please let us know your comments concerning this change.

Baptist

Nancy Morris and Jean Fairfax, both active B.S.U. members, have been chosen to go to the mining area of southwestern Virginia for summer missionary work among the underprivileged people there. Nancy and Jean were selected for this position by a committee of Virginia Baptist students and advisors. While they are in southwestern Virginia Nancy and Jean will organize Vacation Bible Schools, lead choirs, teach Sunday Schools and work in every area of church activities.

This summer mission work is financed by the contributions of Baptist students all over the state.

The Longwood B.S.U. has also taken as a special project the collecting of clothing to be sent to the southwestern area. If anyone has any to contribute, it can be turned in at the center.

Presbyterian

At the February 22 meeting of the Westminster Fellowship Dr. Charles P. McRae led a discussion on "Why Was It Necessary for Jesus To Die?"

The spring Westminster Fellowship Conference will be held at Roslyn near Richmond from February 27 until March 1. The theme of this conference will be "The Work of Christ." The speaker will be Dr. William B. Kennedy.

Methodist

Longwood Wesley Foundation will play host to a regional Methodist student movement conference the weekend of March 7-8. The theme of the conference is "Revelation, Revolution, and Reconciliation."

Emil Paul John will serve as the main speaker for the weekend.

Activities for the weekend will include discussion groups, Bible study, recreation, banquet Saturday night at the Farmville Methodist Church, and a reunion of the European work camp teams of the past several years.

The Conference promises to be the best of the year due to the theme and the speaker. Longwood students are encouraged to attend as many activities as possible, and the cost for students will be $2, which should be paid immediately to Malinda Ayres.

Slater System Gives Thank-You Dinner

The Thank-You Dinner, held last night, was given by the Slater System to show their appreciation to the student body and the college for the privilege of serving them.

Everyone agreed that the steaks were the most delicious they have ever had. The girls were delighted by the Alpine Fruit Surprise along with the nuts and mints.

However, the biggest surprise of the evening, the soft dinner music provided by the orchestra, added the final touch to a most enjoyable evening.

Socially Speaking . . .

Mid-Winter Dance Provides Weekend's Social Highlights

By SANDRA FARISH and PAT FOSTER

Mid-Winters are still in the swing of things, and the girls returning from their big UVA weekend are still glowing from a fabulous time.

Longwood was well represented at Charlottesville with Anne Damron, Jane Freeman, Anne Green, Kitty Good, Jackie Gibson, Louise Johns, Lois Johnson, Cora Straughan, Yvonne Webb, Becky Wooldridge, Gretchen Zimmerman, Billie Altizer, Lou Booth, Carolyn DeHaven, Helen Garter, Margaret Graham, Katherine Key, Jean O'Connell, Annie Lee Young, Claudette Cooper, Lynne DeMaria, Barbara Purks, Page Tolleson, Ellen Grady, Leonita Pagenhardt, Nancy Preddy, Carol Sprague, Marion Elliott, Linda Davenport, Betty Clark, Lois Ashworth, and Pat Yeatman.

'Round About . . .

Traveling to Randolph - Macon were Dottie Gills, Laura Butler, Patti Norman, and Liz Dozier; Washington and Lee welcomed Kathy Crowder and Merle Holaday; Anita Eanes was entertained at Duke; and Jean Underwood graced RPI's campus.

Also traveling about the state were Audrey Campbell and Adelaide Hudson who visited Lynchburg College, and while a portion of VPI cadets, "The Highty Tighties," were seen on Longwood's campus to serenade the L. Ladies, Elizabeth Fentress and Arlene Johnston were likewise seen on VPI's campus. Serenading?

We're sorry we forgot to mention in last week's column that Doris Tolley and Diana Snow were in Lexington attending the VMI Mid-Winters.

Hampden-Sydney

Hampden-Sydney's fraternity row showed numerous signs of activity Saturday night. More fraternity parties (NOT followed by the intramural field game—guess what—it's chained off!!) were providing the entertainment, of course. The KA's and the Sigma Chi's had very successful record hops.

Longwood girls present between both parties were Ann Snyder, Billie Shores, Diane Daughtry, Ruth Denton, Chris Wilson, Frankie Click, Pat Cleveland, Mary Lee Jones, Betsy Neal, Justine Blount, Nancy Mills, Anna Belle Pope, Mary League, Sara Oliver, Claudia Whipple, Connie Levinson, Patti Roach, Mary Stokes, Ernestine Stoltz, Betsy Dunn, Fay Salmon, Maria Molina, Peggy Harris, Jean Dancy, Marjie Freese, Frances Harnsberger, Betty Jones, Nancy Lightner, Dottie Nelson, Sandra Watkins, Kay Howard, Judy Harris, Nancy Wingfield, Rita St. John, Catherine Reid, and Sue Roberts.

Also present were Brooks Dietrich, Sandie Farish, Pat Morgan, Frances Norment, Katie Fulton, Betsy Kelsey, Ginny Whipple, Bunnie Hergot, Elaine Stein, Nancy Cecil, Kitty Hawley, Carolyn Davis, Neva Arnn, Nancy Shaw, Anne Newton, Jean Rahn, Shirley Powell and Brenda Dodd.

Faculty News

Dr. Francis Lankford will speak at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Halifax County High School Thursday evening, February 26. His topic will be "Maintaining Standards in the Comprehensive High School."

—Staff Photo

MISS ANNA APPLEGATE pauses from her teaching duties.

Applegate Praises Hospitality; Is Impressed With Mountains

By JUDY DETRICH

There's no getting around it. Everyone has to visit the English Department at one time or another during their four years at Longwood! If you have been over there this year, perhaps you noticed someone new, Miss Anna Katherine Applegate.

Much of Miss Applegate's life has been spent in Indianapolis, Indiana, for there she was born, there she grew up and there she returned to teach before coming to Longwood.

"When I entered the University of Indiana, I was planning on a career in journalism," she stated. "But at the end of four year's I found myself with an A.B. Degree in Speech and Theatre!" She explained that this change was influenced by her work with the University Theatre and by the discovery that speech is interesting—and fun.

Impressed With Mountains

After college Miss Applegate spent an interesting two years teaching English and speech at Tech High School in Indianapolis. Except for visits to various places such as Florida and New York, this is the first Miss Applegate has spent much time outside of her native state. When asked what impressed her most about Virginia, she exclaimed, "Why, the mountains—at home we have only small hills!" She added that everyone here has been so friendly that she is convinced of the truth in the statements concerning Southern hospitality. As a speech teacher she commented, "I was surprised to find so many different dialects in Virginia."

When asked if students were more careful in their dress at a large co-ed school, she replied, "My goodness, no! For example the fellows would sometimes appear for an early class wearing an old shirt, pajama pants — and yesterday's beard."

"College is a great opportunity to meet different types of people, to take advantage of different types of experiences, and to concentrate on intellectual things," she reflected.

Miss Applegate's past summers have included camping, attending summer courses with the Cleveland Players in New York, and pursuing her love of swimming and water skiing. This summer she plans to return to the University of Indiana to work on her master's degree.

Professor Abroad

From Persian Balcony

Editor's Note: Dr. James H. Wellard, Associate Professor of English here, tells of the difficulties and delights of a novelist working in Persia. Dr. Wellard, now living in Tehran, is away from Longwood on a leave of absence to study abroad. This article appears in the February, 1959 edition of "Books and Bookmen."

DR. JAMES WELLARD
Longwood Professor on leave of absence.

I am sitting on the balcony of my room at the Hotel Semiramis, Tehran, intending to read the English-language morning newspaper, which bears the day's date, Shahrivar 22, 1337. But somehow the announcements my eye catches in the headlines hardly make any sense at all, for what they call news—the horrendous or banal reports of the world's internal dogfight — seems happening in another sphere, or another dimension, and is less real than the girl crouched by the goldfish pool in the garden below.

But there she is, a girl who squats all day by the leaf-strewn, bluetiled basin, clad in a thin flower-print dress worn over a pair of trousers, and a white kerchief on her head, wiping the copper tray and the earthenware dishes with a dirty rag. This girl, a child really, who will stay in this position and this place for the rest of the day, represents reality far more than the distant roar of the Western world, even though she is impossible to know or to communicate with—an object in the landscape, like the old man in the skull cap who sits by the garden wall, a beggar, perhaps, or the grandparent of the proprietor of the hotel, or just an old man who has wandered in to sit in the sun, fingering his holy beads.

And so it is that the news of the outside world on this twenty-second day of Shahrivar seems utterly remote and unreal from my balcony in Tehran.

I was awakened this morning about seven o'clock by the mighty hee-hawing of a donkey in the alley called Hedayat. This particular donkey's braying, as a matter of fact, is a regular feature of the morning in Tehran; but even though I have heard it often enough to wake for a moment, then turn over and fall asleep again, my curiosity usually gets the better of me, and I get out of bed and go to the balcony leading off from my room to see if it is the same little white jack with the hennaed legs.

So morning comes to Iran, which is that vast and ancient land lying midway between the Far West and the Far East, a nation of forty million inhabitants whose ancestors appeared mysteriously out of the Zagros Mountains, and overthrew the Sumerian, Babylonian, and Assyrian Empires and are said to have bequeathed to civilization the benefits of montheism, the doctrine of good and evil (Zoroastrianism), and (some say) the spoked wheel.

Today Iran is said to be on the threshold of a leap into the new atomic age. Listening to the donkey this morning, and watching the girl crouched by the goldfish pool, I find this hard to believe.

To the writer, there are a thousand stimulating sights and sounds in Persia—so remote and strange, many of them, that you have at first this impression of living on another level of time and space. It is incredible how far away Moscow, Paris, London, and Washington appear; and how unimportant the ominous pronouncements made by the Old Men who control our destinies.

As I glance idly over the newspaper while waiting for by breakfast (always a bit of a gamble here) I can't seem to get interested in the "international news." In fact, it almost reads like ancient history, and maybe by the time it gets here across the mountains and deserts from Baghdad, it is. Far more interesting is a column entitled "Iran Events and Accidents"; and you will see why from these verbatim quotes:

Dizful—Raving patient with stomach ache goes to shift doctor for treatment but is manhandled by him for calling late at night. Raving patient bashes quick-tempered doctor on the head and makes him unconscious. Doctor and patient are both taken to another doctor.

Izeh—Innkeeper, noting unusual beauty of young wife accompanied by husband seeking night's lodging, provides travellers with latchless door to bedchamber. Later that night, husband is awakened by wife's yells, chases artful innkeeper out of room, but to o late . . .

Darab—Wolf grabs five-month-old baby by clothing and carries her five miles. Parents catch up with wolf a few minutes later, finding wolf too tired to start meal. Baby is saved—all in one piece.

These vignettes, most of which have the genuine Boccaccio touch, are little fairy stories written for the sheer entertainment of the newspaper readers, and they show that the mood and atmosphere of the Arabian Nights still prevail in Iran. And to the Western traveller in this ancient land, this fairy tale view of life is something that lingers about everything that he sees and hears and experiences. They have a word for it here Inshallah—meaning, "As God wills . . ."

When you see the rate at which the camel caravans move across the trackless wastes, the manner in which the farmers still plough as they did in Old Testament times, and the way the precious water is brought to both the fields and the cities in man-made tunnels sometimes twenty miles long, you are not surprised that very few people write novels, and still few publish them, in Persia. Life itself is a novel here, set in its own Islamic time-date—1337, or thereabouts. The trick of the Western writer is to try and get down some of this strange and fascinating pageant on to paper.

Being born with a pen (and no golden spoon) in my mouth, I'm naturally trying to do this—and, if my breakfast ever comes, I will try my hand at it, provided the distractions in the Alley Hedayat aren't too great.

Campus News

By MATTIE BLEWETT

What's new on the campuses of Virginia's institutions of higher learning?

One of V.P.I.'s illustrious organizations recently conducted an Ugly Man Contest to determine the ugliest man on the Tech campus. Pictures of all nominees were posed and voted on by the students at five cents a vote. Proceeds went to the campus-aid drive.

The Roanoke College students are spreading the word that Van Cliburn, that very popular Texas gentleman who wowed the Russians with his piano renditions, has been booked by the Thursday Morning Music Club of the city of Roanoke for March 6. The concert will be at the spacious American Theatre.

Virginia Intermont students are madly making plans for this year's tour of New York City. Intermont, one of the few colleges that makes possible such an opportunity, has sponsored these excursions since 1944. The trip will include a detailed tour of the city and a variety of entertainment.

Students of Frog Hollar College have been advised by the institution's physician that in general all are in bad health. (They have too little blood in their alcohol stream!)

More from out Blacksburg way!

Mrs. Pat Bottoms, a graduate of Longwood College and wife of "Skip" Bottoms, a senior in industrial engineering, has been elected "Mrs. V.P.I." Mr. and Mrs. Bottoms have two daughters aged 18 months and 3 months.

Sophomore Mary Ann Belton was recently elected Dream Girl of R.P.I. Activities for Mary Ann will include official presentation February 29 at the Mid-winters dance and her picture will appear on the sheet music cover of the song "Dream Girl of R.P.I."

From The Basketball Bleachers

By MARJIE FREESE

The end of basketball season has finally arrived. The teams are engaging in last minute battles in an attempt to increase their standings.

The Davidson wildcats beat Furman 75-59. This victory gave the Wildcats a berth in the Southern Conference Tournament with a 2-7 standing.

VPI trounced W and L 78-51. This Gobbler win over the Generals gave Tech a tie with William and Mary for the lead in the Big Six.

The University of Virginia has placed sixth in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 3-7 standing by stomping Maryland 62-50.

N. C. State, who was sixth in the Atlantic Coast Conference, was defeated by North Carolina 67-74. This made North Carolina top dog in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Randolph-Macon, who would have received the Little Eight Crown by defeating the Norfolk Division of W and M, was upset when the Norfolk Division conquered them with a 70-64 victory.

Roanoke College was trounced by Bridgewater with a 84-66 victory for the Eagles.

RPI showed superiority over the Medical College of Virginia with a 84-59 victory.

VMI was annihilated by the Gobblers of VPI. This victory of 118-60 gave the Gobblers the lead in the Southern Conference.

Hampden-Sydney was defeated by Baltimore 55-65.

Duke surpassed the University of Virginia with a 71-63 victory.

Davidson lost its chances when the Citadel edged them out with a 64-60 score.

Clemson acquired the Atlantic Coast Conference victory by winning over South Carolina. The score was 58-56.

Longwood Lingo

By MATTIE BLEWETT

New students at Longwood this semester are having a little difficulty in understanding the language, so for their benefit we are publishing this article. The following few excerpts are from L.C.'s Dictionary of Necessary Language, printed especially for all visitors and new students.

Snowed—This has nothing to do with precipitation of any form, but rather it refers to the condition of a Longwood lady whose heart has been captured by a Hampden-Sydney Romeo.

Good luck—These two words in any ordinary person's language would mean "best wishes," but among our intellectual campusites they are used to signify that someone is in need of aid (other than first or financial!) For example, when a freshman is selected by her fellow hall mates to descend to the "rec" for a numerous number of pepsi-colas she may say: "Good luck on me a gittin' back up thair wiv' 'em." (If she happens to be from the hill country, that is.) Immediately some Mannerly Mabel will volunteer to journey avec her.

Big man on campus—the largest of Longwood's sixteen male students.

Pig—In ordinary English this three letter word refers to a four-legged animal with a screwy tail; but here on our campus it is a game played at mealtime whereby one young lady at the table will suddenly during the course of the meal slap her index finger to her nose. Each remaining young lady swiftly follows suit. The last one (if you will notice she is usually the heftiest) to do so must stack the dishes. Of course, when you've been indulging in a big juicy piece of chicken this game can become a little messy and dangerous. Certain tall students who find it necessary to elevate their chicken legs far above their proper resting places have been known to drop them with such force that they cracked the dining hall china!

Longwood Hoopsters Upset Hollins In Two-Game Series

The Longwood hoopsters recently upset the Hollins trotters in a two-series game played here. The Longwood girls tromped over Hollins with scores of 51-27 and 42-23.

Carrying the Longwood team to a slow, first game victory were first string forwards Delo Dove, Jackie Waller, and Carolyn Thorpe; and guards Willie Taylor, Claudia Whipple, and Evelyn Stalsky.

Take Lead At Half

Second - string players played a nip and tuck game until the half before leading the way to a second victory. This pace was set for Longwood's second game by forwards Gayle Cunningham, Lou Heier, Pat Southworth, Barbara Brantly, and Mate Fadely; and guards Mabel Healey, Joyce Tharrington, Earlene Queene, Dixie Hillard, and Nancy Andrews.

During the fourth quarter, a Hollins guard fouled out and the team played several minutes with only five players left on the floor.

The Longwood team has two more games scheduled and both will be played at home. They are February 28, William and Mary; March 7, Westhampton.

Orchesis Group Attends Festival Of College Dance

Eleven Orchesis members participated in the Virginia Dance Festival at Richmond Saturday, February 21.

Seniors Joan Dorsey and Dottie Marshall, juniors Norrish Munson and Connie Goodman, and sophomores Tweetie Lambiotte and Sandy Watkins presented "Patterns of Conformity" in the student choreography program. Taking part in the Master Class were sophomores LaVerne Collier and Katherine Wallace, freshmen Morag Nocher and Donna Marquette, senior Fay Salmon, Connie, Tweetie, Dottie, Norrish, and Sandy.

Sponsored by the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, the Festival was organized through the efforts of college dance instructors. Each participating college presented a three to five minute student work which was evaluated or criticized by one of the artists of the Dance Quartet, a new company formed by professional dancers and teachers. One of the members also gave a Lecture Demonstration discussing and analyzing a dance concert presented.

Among the colleges participating were Westhampton, RPI, Hollins, Madison, Sweet Briar, Mary Washington, and Longwood.

"L&M is kindest to your taste," says James Arness. "There are two good reasons why I know you'll like 'em. They're truly low in tar, with more exciting taste than you'll find in any other cigarette."

LOW TAR: L&M's patented filtering process adds extra filter fibers electrostatically, crosswise to the stream of smoke . . . makes L&M truly low in tar.

MORE TASTE: L&M's rich mixture of slow burning tobaccos brings you more exciting taste than any other cigarette.

LIVE MODERN... CHANGE TO MODERN L&M

ON BEHALF of the Longwood Alumnae Association, the senior class was entertained at a tea recently at the Alumnae House. Pouring at left is Mrs. A. M. DeMoss, president of the Farmville Alumnae Chapter. Standing, left to right, are Charlotte McGhee, Lillian Rosson, president of the senior class; R. H. French, senior class adviser; Mrs. Cleveland Jones, alumnae secretary; Charlotte Gray and Elizabeth McLaughlin. Mrs. Jones and Miss Lucille Jennings were hostesses for the tea.

Prospective College Students Observe Longwood Life, Antics

By AGNES MASSIE

Did you know you were being watched this past weekend? Approximately 36 juniors and seniors from 36 different high schools all over Virginia came to Longwood to find out what we are like.

One senior from Norfolk High School wondered if we performed antics around Saint Joan every Saturday night at 12:15 a.m.

Nancy Burton from Halifax County High School was amazed at the food. She exclaimed, "I thought all colleges had terrible food, but the food here was delicious. I really went for those Longwood Buns!!"

Another Halifax student, Elinor Jones, thought the rooms were so cute and cozy. "Almost like home!"

Carol Ann Gaines from Winchester took in the fraternity parties at Hampden-Sydney and she wondered what all the beards were for. Well, some of us wonder too!!!

Another high school junior from James Wood, Carolyn Anderson, said she felt like a week had been crammed into two days. She asked if we did this much every weekend.

All the girls were impressed with the friendly greetings they received from everybody—especially the Cotillion Club and the freshman class, who played host to them.

The visitors were kept busy with a variety of events. Saturday morning was devoted mainly to registration and getting settled. Some of the events for Saturday afternoon were a meeting with the College Administration, a tour of the campus and Longwood Estate, followed by a picnic in the Sophomore Rec. A concert by the "Highty Tighties" of VPI and a dance in the Main Rec ended the events scheduled for Saturday night.

After a morning of worship the girls returned home with a little idea of Longwood campus life.

Schedule

(Continued from page 1)

English majors will fulfill the requirement for a grammar course through English 305, Modern English Grammar. English 412, The English Language will be offered as an elective.

The Departments of Home Economics and Music have also made certain minor changes in course requirements. [illegible] in these fields.

Government 325 — 326 Federal, State and Local Government, will become a full year's course replacing Government 331 and 341.

Courses offered [illegible] on a half semester basis will be Home Education 431, Education 307 and 432, English 505, History 335 and Home Economics 441 and 443, offered from September [illegible] November 10 to Christmas Vacation. November 11 through January 28 will be Business Education 341, Education 306 and 433, [illegible] and Geography 356, Home Economics 431 and 442 and Speech 103.

Copies of the [illegible] schedule will be available to students previous to registration for classes this spring, enabling students to carefully study and plan next session's program.

RELAX . . . at the SNACK with your friends!
Main Rec and Senior Rec

Sorority Averages

The sorority averages for the 1958-1959 session are as follows:

Alpha Sigma Tau	2.04
Pi Kappa Sigma	1.92
Zeta Tau Alpha	1.86
Alpha Sigma Alpha	1.77
Delta Zeta	1.70
Theta Sigma Upsilon	1.68
Kappa Delta	1.67
Sigma Sigma Sigma	1.60

Students Pledge Sororities

Seventy girls pledged one of the eight national sororities at Longwood during Spring Rush.

ASA

The following girls are pledges of Alpha Sigma Alpha: Archer Cassada, Charlotte Haile, Pat Hickey, Ann Howell, Dorothy Nelson, Margaret Shumate, Glenna Snead, and Virginia Whipple.

AST

Alpha Sigma Tau pledges are Sue Beardmore, Winifred Egolf, Mary Leach Elmore, Linda Hartman, Shirley Mills, Ellen Powell, Nancy Pretty, Jo Savage, and Kathryn Turner.

DZ

Pledges of Delta Zeta are Jean Bass, Patricia Carr, Barbara Dunnavant, Bonnie Garter, Carolyn Grinstead, Shirley Harman, and Mary Frances Siersema.

KD

Kappa Delta pledges are Sue Caravella, Susan Crisman, Sheila Galloway, Margaret Green, Agnes Massie, Patricia O'Conner, Judith Stokes, Helen Gene Taylor, and Elizabeth Wilson.

Pi KS

Pi Kappa Sigma pledges are Rebecca Abernathy, Barbara Cole, Shirley Day, Elizabeth Dozier, Patricia Foster, Fran Gallahan, Betsy Hurt, Carol Mason, Mary Byrd Micou, Oreta Norris, and Linda Sullivan.

SSS

Sigma Sigma Sigma pledges are Ann Allen, Harriet Butterworth, Elizabeth Diechman, Brenda Dod, Lina Flippen, Bonnie Irby, Elizabeth Kelsey, Nan McLoughlin, Jean Rahn, Carolyn Rancorn, Sue Sharpe, Nancy Shaw, and Becky Tuck.

TSU

Theta Sigma Upsilon pledges are Betty Britton, Nancy Cecil, Linda Jeffries, Elizabeth Mohr, Jackie Poole, Ruth Talley, and Judi Tucker.

ZTA

Zeta Tau Alpha pledges are Nancy Buckingham, Melva Chapman, Elizabeth Dawson, Virginia Kemp, Dorothy Moody, and Virginia Moss.

Dean's List Totals Eighty-Seven

When grades were recorded at the end of the fall semester, the Dean's List, numbered 87. Girls with a 2.5 average made the Dean's List and are entitled to unlimited cuts in their classes this semester. They are as follows:

Anne Adams, Patricia Areford, Jo Anne Baldwin, Sylvia Bivens, Dorothy Boswell, Pauline Brightwell, Eleanor Brinkley, Nancy Brisentine, Dorothy Burnette, Martha Burrough, Laura Carson, Nancy Cecil, Helen Chaffin, Sue Chapman, Catharine Connor and Nancy Copeland.

Also, Minnie Lee Dean, Ruth Denton, Dolores Dove, Anita Eanes, Barbara Anne Gamage, Jo Ann Garner, Gladys Audrey Gill, Patsy Goodman, Cherry Gorham, Margaret Green, Shirley Grizzard, Ann Hardy, Linda Hardy, Sally Harney, Marie Harrison, Sarah Jane Hastings, Catherine Hawley, Louise Hofler, Dixie Hilliard, Martha Ann Jenkins, Christine Jones and Elizabeth Keith.

Also, Mary Helen Kelly, Miriam Lambiotte, Edmonia Leech, Octavia Loftin, Amy McFall, Elizabeth McLoughlin, Frances McLoughlin, Dorothy Marshall, June Lee May, Jerrye Mayhew, Betty Bland Maynard, Gwendolyn Melton, Jeannette Metcalf, Nancy Mills, Barbara Ann Mitchell, Elizabeth Lee Mohr, Nancy Morris, Frances Norton and Lois Ogburn.

Others are Carolyn Paulette, Jackie Poole, Patsy Powell, Jane Proffitt, Mary Lee Roach, Patricia Ann Roach, Patricia Anne Rogers, Barbara Rossiter, Violet Scott, Roberta Silcox, Betty Simmons, Evelyn Skalsky, Ruth Smith, Vivian Smith, Susan Stalnaker, Mary Thomas Strickland, Nancy Taylor and Joann Tench.

Also, Hilda Thompson, Natalie Tudor, Betty Jean Turner, Nancy Umbarger, Jacqueline Waller, Yvonne Webb, Rebecca Weeks, Julia Williams, Christine Wilson, Molly Workman, Juanita Yates and Helen Jean Young.

Kappa Delta Pi's Attend Conference

Eleven members of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary education society, attended a regional conference at Duke University Saturday, February 21.

Representing Longwood's chapter were Anita Eanes, Shirley Grizzard, Barbara Heck, Chris Jones, Virlinda Joyner, Meade Mann, Marie Smith, Joann Tench, Joyce Pendleton, Neil Ward, and Miss Lucy Adams, Kappa Delta Pi's counselor.

Virlinda Joyner led a discussion group on "Chapter Programs," which was one of several subjects discussed on various phases of the organization.

A conference is held every two years to discuss problems and procedures for making the society more effective on the campus and to inform members about the National Kappa Delta Pi.

A highlight of this year's meeting was a talk by Dr. Gerald Read, Executive Second Vice-President, on interesting phases of Russian education.

Virginia Annshir, National Student Counselor, presented a short history of Kappa Delta Pi and its progress through the years.

Canada To Award Study Fellowships

Five new fellowships for study in Canada in the fields of the arts, humanities and social sciences for the academic year 1959-60 were announced today by the Institute of International Education. The application deadline is April 15, 1959.

The scholarships are offered by the Canada Council for the encouragement of the Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences. The stipend is $2,000 for the year plus round-trip travel. The Council may consider renewing an award for another year upon evidence of satisfactory work.

Who May Apply

Applicants in the arts may be artists, scholars, musicians, writers and teachers who have shown exceptional promise in their work. Candidates applying for academic study can do so only for work leading to a master's degree or the equivalent. Awards for academic study will be made subject to admission to a Canadian university. Students applying for institutions where French is spoken must demonstrate a good knowledge of the language.

Preference for the awards will be given to those under 35 years old.

Application forms may be secured from campus Fulbright advisers or from the Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th Street, New York 21, New York. Final selection of awards will be made by the Canada Council in Ottawa.

Job Interviews Resume Thursday

School supervisors and placement representatives have come and will continue to visit Longwood to interview seniors for jobs as teachers.

Tomorrow, visiting the campus will be Dr. Paul Munro, representing Lynchburg Public Schools, Mr. John Richmond from Martinsville and Mr. S. P. Johnson from the Petersburg City Schools.

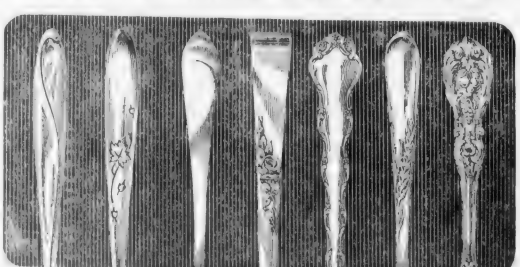
On Friday, February 27 Dr. R. O. McCullough from Easton, Md., will visit the campus. Visiting the campus on Monday, March 2, will be Mr. T. A. Lowery from Charles Town, West, Va., and on March 5, Mr. M. F. Wright from Frederick County, Tuesday, March 10, Mr. Ernest G. Baxa, representing the Danville City Schools and Mr. M. H. Bryant from the Quantico Post School will be here for interviews.

All interested seniors may make appointments with Miss Watkins.

Hawaii University Announces Plans For Summer Work

Enrollment in the 1959 Hawaii Summer Session program to the University of Hawaii is now available on campus through Barbara Hurst, Rotunda Business Manager, according to Dr. Robert E. Cralle, Executive Secretary, California School Administration Association and Director of University Study program to Hawaii.

Enrollment in the six-week program June 21st through August 3, 1959, is being accepted immediately.



Cost for Session

Cost of the 54-day program starts as low as $495.00. This price includes: Round trip transportation, pleasant resident hall accommodations, field trips, guided tours to the Island's areas of interests, dinner dances, a University of Hawaii sponsored luau, free bus transportation and many other planned activities.

Air and steamship reservations are available leaving from West Coast gateway cities and arriving in Honolulu.

Steamship reservations must be made well in advance Dr. Cralle warns. Interested students and teachers may contact Barbara Hurst at S.C.112 for 1959 Bulletins, Summer Session Catalogues, and Application Forms.

We have your favorite sterling pattern as featured in
REED & BARTON'S
"SILVER OPINION COMPETITION"

Silver Sculpture $36.75 | Autumn Leaves $36.75 | Pointed Antique $33.75 | Classic Rose $35.00 | Tara $36.75 | Silver Wheat $33.75 | Francis First $39.75

Do these patterns look familiar? Then you've no doubt seen them on bulletin boards throughout your campus. They're featured in Reed & Barton's "Silver Opinion Competition" now being conducted at your college. Stop in soon and see how beautiful these patterns are in actual solid silver. Can't tell — it may be all the inspiration you need to win one of the valuable scholarship prizes!

*All prices are for 6-piece place settings, and include Federal tax

Martin
THE JEWELER
"Gifts That Last"
FARMVILLE, VA.

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT © 1959 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

Prom trotter

She's the queen of the campus, and of course she favors you know what . . . the cold crisp taste of Coca-Cola. She knows that anytime, everywhere, Coke is the real refreshment. We don't say that the secret of her success is Coca-Cola . . . but it helps!

Drink Coca-Cola

BE REALLY REFRESHED . . . HAVE A COKE!

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Vote
Tomorrow Night

The Rotunda

Attend
Westhampton Game

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., March 4, 1959 | No. 14

Mid-Winters To Star Tommy Dorsey's Band

The Tommy Dorsey band, directed by Warren Covington, will highlight the festivities at Hampden-Sydney as the mid-winter celebrations begin this weekend.

Tommy Dorsey's fabulous career in records, movies and television is probably unparalleled in music history.

The eventual choice of Warren Covington as a replacement for the late Tommy Dorsey was a natural one as both of these men's lives and careers centered on one great common love—the trombone. Tommy Dorsey was the first band leader in the country to use the trombone as a solo instrument. Before Dorsey's time the "slush-pump," as it has been dubbed by musicians, was just a brass musical instrument used for sounding "oom-pah-pahs" and keeping the beat of time.

Covington Heads Band

It was more than Warren Covington's brilliance as a trombonist which made him the outstanding choice to head the great Tommy Dorsey Orchestra. As an expert manager, musician and singer, Covington had been hailed as one of America's top musical names. Under his direction, much of the never-to-be-forgotten music of "The Sentimental Gentleman" is being played again throughout the country in the old, traditional manner.

Fraternity Row

Down on Fraternity Row, the Theta Chi's will lead things off with a "Get in the Mood" champagne party. Later that evening the Brookneal Flashes will entertain at a combo party from one to three o'clock.

Saturday, for the early risers, there will be a concert by the Brookneal Flashes on the Theta Chi porch, weather permitting, from 12:30 to 2:30 o'clock. At 6 o'clock all of the brothers will honor their Sweetheart of 1958-1959, Amy McFall, with a banquet and the traditional roses and loving cup.

The Kappa Sigma brothers, not to be outdone by any other revelers, are having a "Many Spirits" party Friday night from 6 until 9 with the musical sounds of Leroy Diceson, of Petersburg, providing the background for the din of merrymaking. The sounds of the great Rhythm Makers of Lexington (Virginia, not Vermont) will be the center of attraction Saturday night when the brothers really start the celebration.

Right next door the brothers of Sigma Chi will do their share in keeping the party spirits on campus in high gear. Furnishing the music will be Abe Felter and his group.

The Pi Kappa Alpha brothers, meanwhile, will be bringing back to the Hill an old stand-by for outstanding concerts. On Saturday morning the Pastels from Lynchburg will hold a concert from 11 to 2 o'clock. Later that evening from 11 to 3 o'clock another familiar group, the Rhythm Rockers, will be on hand to lend their talents.

The Rebel Rousers of Kappa Alpha will stage their conspiracy on Saturday night from 11 to 3 o'clock. The small uprising will be directed

(Continued on page 4)

Shannon Chosen U.Va.'s President

The University of Virginia Saturday named a young Victorian literature scholar from its faculty as the University's next president.

Dr. Edgar Finley Shannon, Jr., will be the University's fourth president. A former Rhodes scholar, he has been an associate professor of English there for three years. Before that, he was on the faculty of Harvard University.

Dr. Shannon will succeed Colgate W. Darden, Jr., some time next summer.

The new president, who is married and has two children, holds degrees from Washington and Lee, Duke, Harvard and Oxford Universities. He is a native of Lexington.

The appointment of Shannon apparently came as a surprise to nearly everyone in the University community, including Shannon.

He told reporters that he learned of the board's choice only 15 minutes before newsmen knew about it Saturday afternoon. "It came as a considerable surprise to me," he said.

—Richmond Times-Dispatch

Morning Watch

Morning Watch, sponsored by the YWCA, is held regularly every Thursday at 7:45 a.m. in Johns Memorial Episcopal Church.

Bev White, chairman of prayers for the "Y," is in charge of the services, which are much like evening prayers.

The "Y" hopes that Religious Emphasis Week has made students more conscious of the religious aspects of college life and that they will attend Morning Watch and other religious activities on campus.

John To Address Methodist Group Here March 7, 8

Mr. Emil Paul John will be the guest speaker at the Methodist Student Movement Central Regional Conference here March 7. The three major topics of Mr. John's speech will be "Revelation," Revolution" and "Reconciliation."

A native of Providence, Rhode Island, Mr. John received his BA degree from Brown University where he was an honor graduate. In 1951 Mr. John was awarded an MS degree from the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism. He was also the recipient of the Pulitizer Prize Traveling Scholarship which took him on six months travel to Jordan, Lebanon, Syria, Turkey and Yuoslavia.

In the years following his travels, Mr. John served in the United States Army doing refugee work in various areas of central Europe. Upon completing his military service, he continued his missionary work there for the Methodist Church. At the present he is serving as a reporter for the Providence Journal.

Registration for the conference will begin at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, March 7, and the closing session will be at 2 p.m., Sunday, March 8. Informal discussion groups will be held at various intervals throughout the weekend.

Students taking part in the program will come from W and L, VMI, RMWC and Longwood.

Gorham, Oliver, Harris To Head Publications

By JOANN KLEINECKE

The responsibilities of the three publications have now been officially turned over to the newly appointed staff heads announced in last week's Rotunda.

Cherry Gorham, a sophomore from Culpeper, will edit the Rotunda. She traces her journalistic background to Culpeper High School where she served as Co-Editor of the school newspaper. Cherry, who edited the Rotunda's first trial issue this semester, is an English major and hopes to minor in Spanish. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority in which she served as assistant rush chairman this year, Cotillion Club, Granddaughter's Club, Spanish Club, and she was formerly Assistant News Editor on the Rotunda staff.

CHERRY GORHAM

Cherry enjoys reading and swimming, and has both written numbers for and appeared in the water pageants. When asked to comment on her new position, she said, "I only hope I can make the Rotunda as interesting and enjoyable for my staff as Linda did for me."

Cherry plans to teach English and Spanish upon graduating from Longwood.

CAROLYN OLIVER

Oliver Heads Annual

The Virginian will be edited under the leadership of Carolyn Oliver, a sophomore from Crewe. She is an Art and Library Science major and plans to teach art upon completing school here.

Carolyn also became interested in publications in high school where she was a member of the annual staff. She was Assistant Photography Editor on this year's Virginian Staff. Carolyn is a member of Delta Zeta social sorority, Cotillion Club, and the Longwood Library League, but has "no one special hobby or interest." When asked what she thought about her new responsibility, she stated that it "was a surprise and a real honor for me."

JUDY HARRIS

Harris Edits Magazine

Judy Harris, also a sophomore, is the new editor of the Colonnade. She is from Virginia Beach, but lists her new address as Hillside, New Jersey. Journalistic work is not new to Judy, as she worked on a large magazine in Canada which was the product of the consolidated efforts of six high schools in that area. She has been a member of the Colonnade staff since her arrival here. She is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority and the Cotillion Club. Art is one of her main interests, and she has received high school awards for her work in oils.

Judy is an English major in the Liberal Arts Curriculum, and her future plans include getting her Master's Degree. She stated, "I consider the editorship a very great honor, and I will do my very best to do all that is expected of me."

On the business side of things, Barbara Rossiter will serve as Business Manager for the Colonnade. Dale Preddy for the Rotunda, and Nancy Donaldson for the Virginian.

Barbara, a junior from Arlington, is a Business Education Major. She plans to either teach or become a [illegible] secretary. She was Business Manager of her high school newspaper and was previously head typist for the Colonnade. Barbara considers her appointment "a great responsibility and a great privilege."

She is treasurer of Pi Kappa Sigma social sorority; a member of Sigma Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity; Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalistic fraternity; the Cotillion Club; vice-president of her class and she served as co-chairman for the Junior Dance.

Junior Dale Preddy is an English and Elementary Education major from Goochland. She is a graduate of Goochland High School where she was editor of the annual. Here at Longwood she is a member of the Cotillion Club, the Richmond [illegible] and Tower Lit Thorn. Dale is interested in sports, especially swimming, and likes to play bridge.

(Continued on page 4)

Virginia Colleges Offer Art Exhibit In Campus Library

An exhibit entitled "Art in Higher Education," which is now on display in the Browsing Room of the Library, includes examples of work by students in Virginia colleges.

The exhibition from the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts which was assembled by the Art Department of the Virginia Education Association represents work by students from Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Richmond Professional Institute, Mary Washington, William and Mary, and Madison.

Among the types of work shown are oil on canvas, panel and paper, tempra, wood block, and lithograph.

An outstanding oil painting on canvas by Jem Hom from RPI is priced at $300. A wood cut entitled "Descendants of Adam" by Bernard Martin of RPI, and selling for $15, and a wood block, "Still Life in Earth Tones," by Sally Metzger from Mary Washington, selling for $5, are outstanding in their categories.

Among the tempras is "Green Landscape" by Sandra Dennis of Madison. In the medium of lithographs there is one entitled "Pratt's Castle" by Tom Jones, also of RPI.

More landscapes and fewer still life paintings are contained in this exhibition than the presentation last year at Longwood.

Group Endorses Endowment Fund

To commemorate the 75th Anniversary of Longwood College, the Anniversary Committee has endorsed a fund known as the Longwood Endowment Fund of the Association of the Alumnae. The goal has been set at $25,000.

The establishment of the Longwood College Endowment Fund enables the school to receive gifts from alumnae and other friends of the college as well as philanthropic organizations. This is to be a continuing fund, and its resources will be used to aid in meeting the competition offered by other institutions for faculty through offering faculty benefits beyond those provided by the state in salaries. Among these are group insurance, research and study grants, sabbatical leaves, low-cost housing, and visiting professors.

At the Founders Day ceremonies March 14 the gifts will be presented to the college.

Geological Article To Aid Teachers

Dr. Charles F. Lane, Professor of Geography and Geology at Longwood, and Dr. Gary S. Dunbar, formerly at Longwood and now at the University of Virginia in the Geology Department, have published an article as an aid to teachers in the February issue of "Social Education" which is the official journal of the National Council for Social Studies.

Written to assist teachers in their understanding of climates and their distribution and the way they have influenced man in the past, this article relates the origin and history of the concept behind that the earth is divided into the torrid, temperate, and frigid zones on the basis of latitude.

It describes how the incorrect notion, that climate and latitude could be strictly correlated, plagued early explorers and colonists. It also expresses the problems the agricultural settlers encountered west of the Appalachians because of their mistaken climatic concepts. The many climatic elements and controls are discussed to show the highly irregular patterns of the World's climatic regions.

1959-60 Rotunda Staff Appointed

Appointments to staff positions for the 1959-60 Rotunda have been announced by Editor-in-Chief Cherry Gorham. The purpose of the seniors' completing their duties on the staff early in the semester is to give them a relief from their positions before graduation activities.

Chris Kamen, a sophomore elementary major from Somerdale, New Jersey, has been selected as Managing Editor. On the previous staff Chris served as Assistant Sports Editor.

Appointed News Editor is Jo Anne Parsons, a sophomore English major from Richmond. Jo Anne acted as Assistant Desk Editor on the old staff. Agnes Massie was named Assistant News Editor. Agnes is a freshman from Winchester.

Joann Kleinecke, a sophomore biology major from Richmond, assumes the position of Feature Editor. She previously served as Assistant Feature Editor. Assisting her will be Mattie Blewett, a freshman from Hampton.

Assuming the position as Sports Editor is Nancy Lechler, a sophomore elementary major from Roanoke. Working as her assistant will be Mary Byrd Micou, a freshman from Richmond.

Anne Palmer, a junior from Warwick, will continue in the position of Photography Editor.

Sandra Weaver, a freshman from Newport News, has been named Desk Editor, having Judy Detrich, a freshman from Hampton, as her assistant.

Joining the staff as Art Editor is Carole Lassiter, a junior from Portsmouth.

Several columns will also have new heads. Freshmen Sandra Farish and Pat Foster will write Social Notes; sophomore Frances Harnsburger, Church News; freshman Marjie Freeze, sports; sophomore Jackie Gibson, fashions; and sophomore Jane Stegall, humor.

Business Staff

Working with Dale Preddy, Business Manager, will be the circulation and advertising staffs. Arlene McKay, a junior from Hopewell, will assume the position of Circulation Manager with sophomore Kay Pierce from Colonial Heights as her assistant. Marie Messick, a junior from Groveton, and Bonnie Bryant, also a junior from Front Royal, have become the Advertising Managers.

Assuming positions as reporters are the following: Gerry Edmonds, Mary Shafer, Claudia Wilson,

(Continued on page 4)

—Staff Photo

HARD AT WORK on the first edition, new ROTUNDA staff (l. to r. in back)—Joann Kleinecke, Nancy Lechler, Jo Anne Parsons, Agnes Massie, Sandra Weaver, Judy Detrich, Chris Kamen; (in front) Cherry Gorham, Mattie Blewett.

Thank — You

I cannot begin to write my feelings as my year as Editor-in-Chief of this paper comes to an end. To me, The Rotunda means everything — Longwood, my close friends, my success in college, much of my education, and most of my time and thoughts for the past four years.

But I can try to express my appreciation for what all the people connected with the publication of a weekly newspaper have done for me. Even now, I cannot believe I had a staff of girls who gave me so much of their time and hard work. Whether it was love of journalism or sheer martyrdom, I want to thank all of you — seniors, juniors, sophomores, and freshmen — for every talented, tiring, punchy minute we've spent together. With you all I have certainly had some of my happiest times in college! One satisfying fact I know — every staff gets better. I am so very proud of the 1959-60 Editor-in-Chief and her new staff.

There are many others behind-the-scenes whose cooperation I depended upon: the Business Manager, the photographer, every reporter to every paperfolder, the annual editor, and my roommate.

Speaking for my whole staff I would like to thank, too, all the people, who although not connected with the Rotunda, have done many things for us, from lending cameras and developing pictures to letting us leave class early and arrive late.

The newspaper would never have been a success without the cooperation of the administration and faculty, who, to my surprise at times, always stood behind my most scatterbrained schemes; nor without the guidance, patience, and extra work from The Farmville Herald who so efficiently gets the Rotunda printed by five o'clock every Wednesday. And I always knew that the faculty advisors were willing to help in any way, with makeup, policy procedures, or driving to conventions.

Through it all — class cuts, no sleep, bad grades, misspelled names (or "Stars 'n Spangles" instead of "Sawdust 'n Spangles") I have loved every minute. It has undoubtedly been one of the most important experiences of my life and I shall never forget all these things that helped me make the Rotunda your newspaper.

Thank you for the privilege and honor of serving my college.

—Linda Doles

Evaluated—REW

Your "Y" Cabinet sincerely wishes to thank all those students, faculty, and administration who helped to make the 1959 Religious-Emphasis Week a success. Many new ideas and challenging thoughts were presented by our speaker, Reverend Coatsworth Lewis, as he spoke nightly in Jarman and in the discussion groups. Many points of his lectures perhaps differed from our own beliefs, but one might say that he did stimulate our thoughts to the extent of making us look more closely into our own beliefs. Many students have commented on how Mr. Lewis "really made us think."

An evaluation committee consisting of your "Y" officers, faculty advisors, and students selected from the student body have met and made suggestions of improvement for next year's REW. Perhaps many of you have suggestions for the worship services, the discussion groups, the morning meditations, or the Tuesday assembly. If so, do not hesitate to give these to a member of your "Y" Cabinet.

May the effects of the past week help each of us to better keep our theme — YOUth Can Make Christ Live — in our lives through our words, thoughts, and actions.

—Jean Peyton
Secretary, YWCA

Spring, The Invader

Spring, although not officially here by the calendar, has invaded Longwood. Signs of her arrival are everywhere.

—Blazers and trench coats have replaced camel's hair coats. Woolen scarfs and gloves are a thing of the past.

—Certain students have suspiciously red faces and vigorously assert that the weather is fine for sun-bathing.

—The winter jasmine on the lawn of Cunningham has bloomed, and now other early flowers are poking green fronds through the earth.

—Even the windows have acquired a new look. Washed until they almost sparkle, they reflect the general atmosphere.

—An irrepressable smile a quick step an exuberant spirit — when these take possession of you you'll know you, too, are a victim of spring.

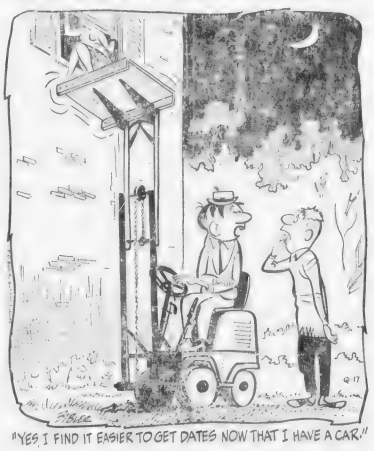
The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 20, 1920

Published each week during the session year by approximately fourteen and examination period by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Has its

Chris Kamen ... Managing Editor ... Bus. Dandy ... Business Manager
Jo Anne ... News Editor
Jonnie ... Feature Editor
Nancy ... Sports Editor
Sandra ... Copy Editor
Anne H. ... Photographer
Carole ... Art
Arlene ... Circulation Manager
Bonnie ... Make-up
Miss Mary P. ... Faculty Advisor

Member: Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press, Rotha Dandi, Columbia Scholastic Press Association, Intercollegiate Press.



NEWS STAFF: Assistant Managing Editor, Assistant News Editor, Make-up, Proofreader, Assistant Proofreader, Reporters, Typists.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Assistant Circulation Manager, Typists.

ADVERTISING STAFF: Assistant Advertising Manager, Typists.

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress of March 3, ... Subscription rate for advertising by the National Advertising Service, Inc. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by BIBLER

"YES I FIND IT EASIER TO GET DATES NOW THAT I HAVE A CAR."

Longwood Students Express Opinions On 1959 Academy Award Nominations

By JUDY DETRICH

Hedda's lid is flippin' . . . Louella's up in the air . . . all of "ollywood is speculating . . . Academy Award nominations were released a few days ago.

The excitement has spread to our campus. It seems that Longwood movie-goers have definite — and varied — opinions as to which nominees deserve the Oscars.

Jean Rahn would give the Oscar for best actress to Rosalind Russell of "Auntie Mame" fame. Mr. James Helms, too, commented on Miss Russell: "A friend of mine and I decided to go to the movies," he explained. "I heard this Russell-gal was in a movie downtown, so I suggested we go see that. Well, we got in there and then we found out it was Rosalind instead of Jane. That always disappointed me."

Several people mentioned Shirley MacLaine's performance in "Some Came Running." Lee Burnette sums up their feelings, "I get tired of looking at all of those glamour queens—it was nice to see some good acting for a change."

Liz Delchman agrees with Lee. The both believe "Some Came Running" deserves the Oscar, and both vote thumbs down on "Gigi."

"The Defiant Ones," a nominee in nine catesories, is Henrietta Dollins' choice for best movie. Her selection for best actress is Susan Hayward, the star of "I Want to Live." Hen added, "The night club scene in "Gigi" was the oddest thing I've seen. It was kind of stupid, but I guess it symbolizes Parisian night-life."

Paul Newman, star of "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," impressed Patsy Anne Scott. When asked about best song of the year, she said, "I think I like 'A Certain Smile' best." She was enthused about the scenery in "Auntie Mame." "It was so unusual — something you don't see everyday, that's for sure," she added.

Sandra Weaver couldn't decide whether she liked "Auntie Mame" or "Separate Tables" best. "Auntie Mame" was a riot — I laughed more than you could imagine, but 'Separate Tables' was intriguing. I just can't say." She had difficulty in deciding between David Niven and Sydney Poitier for best actor's award. Finally she decided on Sydney Poitier. "His acting ability in "The Defiant Ones" just can't be forgotten," she concluded.

Although there were many contradictions and various opinions concerning the Oscars, almost everyone agrees that Elizabeth Taylor's chances for an Oscar will be lessened by public opinion. Henrietta sums up their opinion, "I think she's beautiful, but she's. . . No, she won't get the Oscar."

Humor?

By JANE STEGALL

Hello . . . this, my friends, is an introduction (I know you're thinking "May the Lord deliver us from our troducers and introducers.") to a column which may or may not continue to occasionally appear in this newspaper--depending upon our critics. The name of the column will be "Humor," which is only a form of truth--intoxicated. In reading this please remember that humor like history repeats itself. You may ask . . . "Why have a humor column?" That's the same thing I asked. My reason is to cheer up and comfort the afflicted and afflict the comfortable. I like happy people--'Cause they have no particular reason for being so.

Well, it is now time for this wonderful column to end. (Probably me too!!) If you would like—and the paper is still being printed—read in next time when we will discuss a new subject which will be offered next year at L.C. African Mythology!! See ya.

Socially Speaking . . .

Annapolis, VPI, H-S Charm, Attract Longwood Ladies

By PAT FOSTER and SANDIE FARISH

Taking a rest from their studies, Longwood ladies could be seen on various college campuses last week end.

Representing Longwood at the Naval Academy were Barbara Simpkins and Dotty Brown. Journeying to Randolph-Macon were Maryann Clements, Landora Covington, and Judie Dodson; W and L was the scene for Longwood's Carolyn Axsom.

Merrymaking at VPI were Norma Wilson, Arlene Johnston, Rose Marie Lawrence, and Billie Jean Shores. Galavanting to VMI were Melinda Franklin and Brenda Dod. Having a throughly enjoyable time at U. Va. were Bea Rowles and Ellen Grady.

PiKA

Supplying local weekend entertainment were Hampden - Sydney's PiKA's and Sigma Chi's. Doing things up big this weekend, PiKA had record hops Friday and Saturday nights, while Sigma Chi partied Saturday. Enjoying themselves at PiKA parties were Barbara Chaffin, Peggy Mullin, Sue Humphries, Betty Jane Allgood, Ann Snyder, Addie Richardson, Norma Redmon, Sara Oliver, Brenda Drewry, Ann Mixon, Barbara Rossiter, Nancy Knight, Claudia Whipple, Jill Greene, Julia Hauser, Dottie Nelson, Archer Cassada, Betty Jones, Carletta Wiseman, Brenda Green, Jean Marie Heller, Sheila Gallaway, Pat O'Nell, Mary Hite Grayson, Ann Scott, Nancye Allen, Lois Johnson, Kathy Wallace, Beverly Gaskins, Evelyn Alouf, Yvonne Webb, Kay Pierce, Dottie Gills and Becky Wooldridge.

Seen at PiKA also were Becky McGrath, Ann McDonald, Bettie Ashley, Peggy Harris, Jo Lynn Holland, Robbin Arthur, Jeanie Sanders, Joan Lee Thomas, Barbara Hick, Betty Spivey, Gin Kuyk, Betty Griggs, Nancy Andrews, Timmie Darden, Marty Shumate, Bunnie Herget, Becky Hardy, Ginny Whipple, Brooks Dietrich, Ann Allen, Nan McLaughlin, Patsy Carr, Frances Norment, Sue Sharpe, Gerry Edmonds, Betty Hess, Mary Lee Barnes, Lynne Davenport, Neva Arnn, Carolyn Davis, Nancy Shaw, and Fran Gallahan.

Sigma Chi

"Romancing and dancing" at Sigma Chi Saturday were Cherry Gorham, Judie Welch, Brenda Parsley, Mary Ellen O'Connor, Alice Layne, Lee Page, Nancy Mills, Carole Lassiter, Gaile Jessee, Fay Salmon, Marta Molina, Shelby Johnson, Nancy Brubeck, Connie Levinson, and Peggy Harris.

Those who remained neutral and attended both parties were Dixie Hilliard, Sally Thomas, Bonnie Keys, Peggy Green, Carolyn Rancorn, and Marjorie Freese.

Campus News

Evidently Mardi Gras has made a hit with the fair sex of Europe because their letters have been flowing steadily into VMI headquarters. They were greatly impressed by the magnificent showing of the corps in this movie, and seeing it has aroused their interest in wanting to know more about the famous military college and its cadets. The obliging cadets are trying to organize an "operation pen pal" to answer the many requests that have been received.

Billie Shank was crowned queen of the Radford German Club Coronation Ball by Miss Virginia of 1959, Barbara Guthrie. Other feature attractions at the recent dance were its southern theme and music by Eddie Allan and his orchestra.

Getting the season under way early, the Possumtrot moonshiners played their first baseball game against the Frog Hollar Stillers Saturday in the cow pasture right behind the corn shed. The Moonshiners lost the game in the final quarter when outfielder Lum Puddlejumper ran head on into one of the cows and dropped the ball.

University of Richmond will have five new fraternity houses which will be completed by next fall, it is reported in the Richmond Collegian, school publication of the school. The new fraternity row will be occupied by the following: Phi Kappa Sigma, Kappa Sigma, Theta Chi, Kappa Alpha and Sigma Chi.

S. C. Jessup, Trailways President, Donates Bus For College's Use

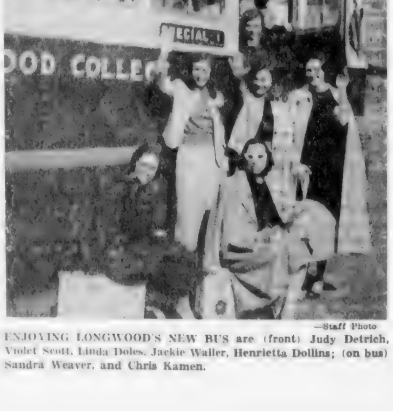
By MATTIE BLEWETT

"Hurrah!" was the jubilant cry made by one upper classman when told that Longwood had been given a new bus. Many other students were heard to ask: "Who is the generous donor? How did he know that Longwood was in need of a new means of transportation?" In answer to the many questions posed by the student body, here is the story of the generous donor and of the bus.

Earlier this year, after it was decided by the administration that Longwood definitely needed a new bus, Mr. J. A. Wamsley, Business Manager, wrote several letters of inquiry; but it was to no avail. He could not find a satisfactory bus or purchasing proposition.

Dr. Francis Lankford then wrote to a close friend of many years, Mr. Samuel A. Jessup, President of Virginia Trailways, asking for advice as to where Longwood might purchase a bus. Mr. Jessup replied shortly, asking what the college colors were. Dr. Lankford sent him the information; and Mr. Jessup again replied, saying that he was giving the college a bus and it would be ready shortly.

The new thirty-six passenger blue-and-white bus arrived in February direct from a thorough overhauling in one of the company's garages. One of Mr. Jessup's service men who delivered the new bus spent almost an entire day pointing out different details and showing Mr. Leon Henderson, the college bus driver, how to operate the new means of transportation.



Mr. Jessup, who now makes his home in Charlottesville, was born in Mount Airy, North Carolina. An extremely kind and generous person, he has worked his way up the business world ladder and is fondly referred to as "Uncle Sam" by his many employers, in whom he maintains a close interest. Besides being President of Virginia Trailways, this' lively gentleman owns and operates several Pepsi-Cola bottling companies, is part owner and director of Natural Bridge Corporation; owns and operates Monticello Dairy which has a number of branches throughout the state; is a director of the PEOPLE'S Bank of Charlottesville; and is a member of the board of Millers School for Boys in Albemarle County.

Mr. Jessup has six children, several grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. It was through two of his daughters with whom Mrs. Lankford attended school that Dr. and Mrs. Lankford became close friends with this warm-hearted gentleman.

Along with his many other admirable traits, the donor of the new college bus is a humble man. He refused the opportunity to come to Longwood to be thanked publicly for his greatly appreciated gift, saying he prefers not to have any acclaim. He says his reward is in the personal satisfaction he receives from knowing he has helped someone.

The spry Mr. Jessup dearly loves the outdoors. His hobbies include squirrel hunting and some fishing. He owns a farm just outside of Charlottesville which he has stocked with cattle. The farm also has four ponds, three of which are stocked with fish. Mr. Jessup is planning to raise frogs in the other!

In spite of his active and busy life, Mr. Jessup still finds time to frequently lend a helping hand and to enjoy life.

—Staff Photo

ENJOYING LONGWOOD'S NEW BUS are (front) Judy Detrich, Violet Scott, Linda Doles, Jackie Waller, Henrietta Dollins; (on bus) Sandra Weaver, and Chris Kamen.

"Mardi Gras Magic" To Honor Anniversary

"Magic of Mardi Gras," the H2O Club's spring water pageant, is dedicated to the 75th Anniversary of the founding of Longwood College.

Kitty Green, chairman of the show, explained, "We wanted to get a variety of songs, and this theme can be worked in with almost anything. We tried to fit the music to the characters." Some of the songs being used are "Rain on the Roof," "Taboo," and "Basin Street Blues."

A king and queen will reign over the performance. The Navy parade and clowns come first on a program filled with surprises.

Unique Props

A feature of the show that is definitely different is the use of props. Never before have so many been worked into the show. Umbrellas, confetti, a dragon, glass slipper, swings, balloons, and even a gigantic scroll will be included. Helen Wente is in charge of props.

Scenery is another change which should prove profitable. Instead of using all paper, the main backdrop will be of cloth with the two side backdrops of paper. A 3-D effect will be achieved by having horns, balloons and a mask which project from the backdrop. June Elmore and Dixie Hilliard are busy with this part of the show.

Costumes are being made by Arlene McKay and Elaine Weddle. These depict the characters through colors and trimming.

Barbara Brantley and Linda Vess are in charge of the spots and colored lights used to make the swimmers and their numbers appear more effectively.

The assistant-chairman of "Magic of Mardi Gras" is Betsy Neal. Others not previously mentioned are programs, Bonnie Keys; publicity, Ruth Looper; tickets, Willie Taylor and Jackie Waller; sound, Mary Hite Grayson and Nancy Andrews.

Show Statistics

Some vital statistics on the show are that it will be March 11 at 7:00 and 9:00 p.m.; March 12, at 7:00 p.m.; and March 13, at 8:00 p.m. Forty swimmers are taking part; over 40 people are working on the show; 40 costumes are being used. Over 300 balloons are in it; a 25 foot dragon is a main character; and a 10 foot high devil and clown will also participate.

Managers Propose Class Game Dates

The tentative date of March 16 has been set for the beginning of a series of class basketball and volleyball games.

Carolyn Thorpe, a sophomore from Drakes Branch, and Peggy Blackwell, a sophomore from Remo, will serve as managers for the intramural basketball games. Managing the volleyball series are Clara Lee Parker, a sophomore from Danville, and Judy Martin, a junior from Bracey.

To participate in either class sport, student must have gone to eight practices. The required number of practices for freshmen are four. Class basketball practices are held in the gymnasium on Monday and Wednesday at 4 p.m., and volleyball practices follow on the same days at 5 p.m. An optional practice session is held on Fridays at 3 and 4 p.m. These practice schedules are posted on the A. A. bulletin board.

A definite time will be announced later for the first of these class games. In the meantime, Carolyn asks that "everyone get in their practices so that they can play for their class."

—Staff Photo

SPRING IS ON THE WAY as Mary Hite Grayson and newly elected Sports Editor, Nancy Lechler, get their golf clubs ready for use.

Excellent Golf Facilities Found At Longwood Estate

By NANCY LECHLER

Many students at Longwood are completely unaware of the excellent facilities that the college maintains for the game of golf.

At Longwood Estate there is a fine, nine-hole golf course. Here any student may play with no charge. Hampden-Sydney students may also play for a very small fee.

The course requires experienced players, particularly between the second and third holes where it is necessary to go down a hill, over a stream, and up a hill, in order to reach the third hole.

The course itself is surrounded by woods with trees in the middle. There is also a driving range marked off.

The Department of Physical Education offers two courses in golf, beginners and advanced. Both are instructed by Miss Olive Iler, Associate Professor of Physical and Health Education.

The school provides woods and irons for experienced players or those taking golf. The girls must provide their own balls.

Interested citizens of Farmville and the surrounding areas have formed a club for golf and use the course at Longwood Estate.

LANSCOTT GIFT SHOP
Special Anniversary Sale
Register for Free Gifts
Month of March
LANSCOTT GIFT SHOP

GRADUATES—
Get your orders in for your degree rings so delivery will be made before graduation.
MARTIN the Jeweler

Timely Topics

By JUDITH WELCH

The United States is bracing herself for the showdown over Berlin which is expected with Soviet Russia May 27. The Defense and State Departments are now planning precise steps which fall in two categories—measures to reinforce the Western military-political position on a long range basis, and measures concerned directly with the Berlin crisis.

Khrushchev plans to visit East Germany to discuss a separate peace treaty with East Germany. This trip may have come about because of the failure to make any progress on the German question in talks with Macmillan. Khrushchev will make the surprise visit today in time to visit the international trade fair at Leipzig, East Germany.

The rafters of a Washington hotel will shake on the night of March 16. This is the night when a band of jazz greats will give a concert to raise money for Friendship House, a settlement house on Capitol Hill. The concert was arranged by a group of congressional wives. Patrons of the Washington Jazz Jubilee include Mrs. Eisenhower, Mrs. Nixon, Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Dulles, 22 ambassadors and their wives, and seven cabinet officers and their wives.

Pianist Van Cliburn will not be able to give a concert for at least three months. He underwent an operation Friday to drain an abscess on the middle finger of his right hand. Although he must rest so that his hand will heal properly, his career will not be affected.

L.C. To Challenge Arch-Rivals Here In March 7 Game

A traditional rivalry will be perpetuated by the Longwood and Westhampton basketball teams Saturday, March 7 at 2 p.m. in the Longwood gymnasium.

Earlier in the season the Westhampton girls were defeated by the William and Mary team. Longwood ran over William and Mary Saturday by a score of 61-33 in the first of two games played here.

Westhampton is reputed to have an outstanding basketball team this year, and Longwood goes into its final game with an unbeaten record, having won four games and lost none.

Playing for the Longwood team for the last time will be Seniors Delo Dove, Lou Heier, Gayle Cunningham, Nancy Andrews, Willie Taylor, Jackie Waller, Joyce Tharrington, and Evelyn Skalsky.

Placement News

School supervisors and placement representatives will continue to visit Longwood to interview seniors for jobs as teachers.

Tomorrow, Mr. R. E. Aylor, Superintendent, and Mr. M. F. Wright, Director of Instructions, from Winchester will hold interviews with some of the seniors.

The following Tuesday, March 10, Mr. M. H. Bryant, Superintendent of the Quantico Post schools will visit the campus.

Are You Violating The "Pinning Code?"

If a pinned girl dates other men, should she wear the pin? If a couple breaks up, should the girl return the pin? How should a pinning be celebrated? Don't miss the inside-campus story of the traditional etiquettes of pinning, in March McCall's . . . complete with a full-color photo of 70 top fraternity pins—including the "forbidden four"—published here for the first time. Learn why some school authorities consider pinning a "wholesome" custom, in March McCall's, now on sale.

—Staff Photo

JUMPING FOR THE REBOUND. Jackie Waller (13), Delo Dove (21), and Carolyn Thorpe (35) outplay the William and Mary team.

From The Basketball Bleachers

By MARJORIE FREESE

While some conferences have gotten their tournaments underway, others are still playing games to determine each team's last minute standing.

George Washington University upset the VPI Gobblers 85-67. This win gave the Colonials the opportunity to play in the semifinals of the Southern Conference Tournament. They played against the Citadel who had defeated Furman with a score of 93-88. The Citadel edged out George Washington by a 53-52 victory.

West Virginia crushed Davidson's chances for the semifinals with a 100-65 score. West Virginia also set a new record with this score. It is the highest of the Southern Conference tournament scores. William and Mary played Richmond and beat them 87-69. Then William and Mary played the winner of the West Virginia-Davidson game, and was overthrown by West Virginia with a score of 85-82.

North Carolina, who was ranked third in the ACC standings, was edged out by Virginia, who was ranked fifth. The score was the Cavaliers 69, the Tarheels 68.

South Carolina was stomped by Maryland with a thirty point difference. The score was Maryland 75, South Carolina 45.

North Carolina, who formerly ranked third in the ACC, trounced Duke with a 72-62 victory. North Carolina is now tied with North Carolina State for the lead in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Teacher to colleague: "Not only is he the worst behaved child in school, he has a perfect attendance record!" —The Reader's Digest

* * *

Sign under an office clock: "It's earlier than you think!" —The Reader's Digest

Class Volleyball And Basketball Schedule

March 16	VB	Sophomores — Seniors	Juniors — Freshmen
March 17	BB	Juniors — Freshmen	Sophomores — Seniors
March 18	VB	Seniors — Freshmen	Sophomores — Juniors
March 19	BB	Sophomores — Juniors	Seniors — Freshmen
March 23	VB	Sophomores — Freshmen	Seniors — Juniors
March 24	BB	Seniors — Juniors	Sophomores — Freshmen

BSU, Wesley Merge To Sponsor Vespers Here Sunday Evening

The BSU and the Wesley Foundation are co-sponsoring the Union Vespers program March 8. There will be a "supper-snack" time at 6 p.m. in the Methodist Fellowship Hall. The guest speaker will be Emil Paul John, former missionary to Lebanon.

This coming weekend will find a group of BSU members at Wake Forest for the Mission Conference. In the group will be Nancy Morris, Jean Fairfax, Betty Lee Smith, Margie Layman, and Mary Robbins.

This week is Freshman Week when the freshmen take over all the positions in the BSU. This past Monday they conducted the Executive Council meeting.

Buy Your
EASTER BOOKS
— at —
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
Wide Selection of Religious Books

SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY
2 ROLLS OF FILM:
120, 127, 620
79 CENTS

W & M Bows To Longwood In Home Game

The Longwood hoopsters defeated the William and Mary trotters in a two-game series played here Friday, February 27.

The first game proved to be exciting with the Longwood girls coming through on top with a high scoring game to win 36-33. Those playing were first string forwards Delo Dove, Jackie Waller, and Caroly Thorpe; and guards Willie Tayler, Claudia Whipple, and Evelyn Skalsky.

The second game was slow starting but the Longwood girls came through again to win 46-24. The pace was set for Longwood by forwards Gayle Cunningham, Lou Heier, Mary Hite Grayson, Barbara Brantley, Pat Southworth, and guards Mable Healey, Joyce Tharrington, Earline Queene and Nancy Andrews.

The Longwood team has one more game scheduled and it will be played at home March 7 with Westhampton.

SAI Installation Features Musicale

An "American Musicale" was presented in Jarman Hall Saturday, February 28. The program was a part of the installation services at Longwood of the Gamma Kappa chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota national professional music fraternity for women.

Five numbers were sung by sopranos Mary Clair Booth, Jean Helms, Nancy Evans, JoAnn Sloop, and Joann Fivel.

Pianists included Adair Camp, Carolyn DeHaven, Judson Ann Mason, and Nancy Taylor.

Other instrumentalists were Jo Ann Garner, organist; Joann Fivel, violinist; Dorothy Marshall, flutist; and Elaine Weddle, oboist.

Accompanists included Mrs. Hildegarde Wagner from Farmville and Margaret Arleine Moore from Churchland.

Rounding out the program were two choral numbers by a chorus made up of local Sigma Alpha Iota members.

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE MARK COPYRIGHT © 1958 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

Dr. Livingstone?

What a happy man he would have been if his man Stanley could have brought along a carton of Coke! That cold crisp taste, that lively lift would certainly hit the spot with any tired explorer. In fact, after your next safari to class—wouldn't Coca-Cola taste good to you?

Drink Coca-Cola

BE REALLY REFRESHED...HAVE A COKE!

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Night Watchmen Encounter Mysterious Occurrances

By JUDY DETRICH

If you wanted the night-watchmen, where would you look for them? In their office? No. In the Rotunda? Well, maybe. In the dining room? Yes!

As he picked up his fork for another bit of pie, Mr. C. H. Smith said he would be glad to tell us about the police-side of Longwood. "You see," he explained, "we work in two shifts. Each night we make eight rounds. On each round we check the regular stations, called keys, and watch the building for fires or break-ins."

Mr. Smith, Tom Webb (the young one), and George Rickman seem to find their work most interesting.

Staff Photo

MR. C. H. SMITH

Mr. Smith mused that a job like this is more a hobby than work, leaving plenty of time for hunting, fishing, or farming.

"The perfect job," he continued, "if you don't mind missing the night life." Then he glanced at Tom, who was preparing to leave for a dance, and added, "And I guess you don't have to miss the night life."

When asked about the horror stories that have been told recently, Mr. Webb replied, "They aren't true." Then he added darkly, "but they could be if you girls don't keep the doors closed."

They agreed that the most restless time is the week before exams. "You see girls studying in the oddest places," Mr. Smith said. "Why, I found a girl sitting on the gym steps, surrounded by a pile of books — at 4 in the morning."

The most exciting thing that has happened was when someone broke into the Treasurer's office. In true "Dragnet" fashion, Mr. Smith narrates, "September 20, 1957, 5 a.m. I heard a noise near the Treasurer's office. Whoever had been there jumped out the window and ran when they heard me coming. When I got there, the dial was off the safe. Dum-de-dum-dum . . ."

Professors aren't the only absent-minded people. One night during the holidays, Mr. Smith heard voices in Ruffner. After searching for about an hour, he finally located the noise. One Longwood Lady had remembered to lock her door, but she had neglected to turn off her radio. "The thing played for days," laughed Mr. Smith.

Early Callers

Mr. Smith remembers this incident. "The funniest thing happened early one morning. I was sitting in the Rotunda just as the sun came up, when I heard voices outside. Two boys were arguing, apparently trying to decide whether or not they should come in. One boy decided to [illegible] and swaggered up staggered up the walk. Just as he reached for the doorknob, I opened the door. He turned to run and tripped over something in the yard. I guess his buddy thought he would be captured because he started to drive away. When his pal saw that I hadn't caught him yet, he slammed on his brakes. Meanwhile our friend was so busy looking at me as he ran that he didn't see the car and ran right up the back of it! I stopped chasing him then—figured that he had had enough of a scare; besides I was laughing so hard I couldn't run any more."

Ex - Chief - of - Police Smith summed up their work, "Wherever the girls are on state property, we try to give them protection."

Mr. Smith ended with, "Longwood is a great school, a wonderful bunch of girls and the best faculty anywhere. I like it fine."

Broadway School Of Acting Opens

A summer theatre on upper Broadway will be initiated this July, when The Barnard College Drama Workshop and Summer Theatre, a newly formed summer school and stock company, opens in the Minor Latham Playhouse at Broadway and 119th Street.

Beginning July 6 and continuing through August 15, the new Drama Workshop and Summer Theatre will stage a play each week, to be performed nightly except Sundays. The plays will be chosen from the works of Tennessee Williams, Anton Chekhov, Luigi Pirandello, August Strindberg, Jean-Paul Sarte, Thornton Wilder, Arthur Miller, and Jean Giraudoux.

Combining a study program with practical work in play production, the Drama Workshop will consist primarily of three courses: acting, voice and mime. Stagecraft will be done in connection with the productions of the Summer Theatre, and when needed students will be cast in the plays.

The program will require full-time work, and students who complete it successfully will be able to receive from six to eight college credits.

Applicants must be upperclassmen or college graduates and must be recommended by their theatre director, the head of the department of speech, drama or English, or by some professional of standing. Candidates will submit with their applications photos of themselves, resumes of their theatrical and academic experience, and a 200-word letter giving reasons why they wish to enroll.

The deadline for mailing applications is March 14, 1959. Application forms may be secured from Dolph Sweet, Barnard College, 116th Street and Broadway, New York 27, N. Y.

Mid-Winters

(Continued from page 1)

by a few select brothers, who will be nobly assisted by the music of Pat Hawkins and his wild group of mad musicians.

The Lambda Chi Alpha's will do their bit to incite the mob by providing F. W. Pollard and his Merrymen for the merry-making of all on Saturday night from 11 to 3 o'clock.

The Chi Phi's are having a party Friday night from 1 to 3 o'clock featuring Leroy Diceson and his famed group from the asphalt jungles of Petersburg. Saturday night Robert Williams and his Grooves from Fredericksburg will bring greetings from Northern Virginia in the form of "Strictly Rock 'n Roll" entertainment.

—Hampden-Sydney Tiger

Play Postponed

Twelfth Night, by William Shakespeare, will appear at Longwood College Thursday, March 5, instead of Tuesday, March 3, as originally released. It will be presented in Jarman Hall at 8 p.m.

Faculty Members Attend Convention

Three members of the Longwood faculty, Dr. Earl R. Boggs, director of teacher education and Dean of the college, Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss, Professor of history and social sciences, and Dr. Edgar M. Johnson, Professor of Education and Director of the Bureau of Teaching Materials, will attend the Conference on Teacher Education to be held at Natural Bridge March 6-7.

The purpose of the conference, sponsored by the Teacher Education Department of the Virginia Education Association, is to bring together a group of outstanding laymen, members of other teacher education department faculties and liberal arts college faculties, and public school personnel. They will survey the various teacher education programs in both the state supported and private colleges in Virginia, examine teacher certification requirements, and draw up a statement concerning the minimum essentials of teacher education which will find the widest possible agreement among conference participants.

Speaking to the approximate 175 members of the conference will be Dr. Paul Woodring, author of "Let's Talk Sense About Our Schools" and "A fourth of a Nation."

BARBARA ROSSITER

NANCY DONALDSON

DALE PREDDY

Publications

(Continued from page 1)

In commenting on her new position, she said "It was a big honor for me, and I hope that I can do as good a job as Barbara Hurst has done." Dale would like to teach fourth grade either in Richmond or Arlington.

The Virginian's Business Manager, Nancy Donaldson, is a junior from Roanoke. She began her work in publications here at Longwood and recently served as Assistant Business Manager for the annual. Nancy is also recording secretary for Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority, a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, the Cotillion Club, H2O Club, the Roanoke Club, and is treasurer of the Junior Class. She is "very honored to be named Business Manager," and will try her best to "fill the position capably."

Nancy's future plans will probably include teaching.

Awards Offered By Reed & Barton

During the months of February and March, Reed and Barton, America's oldest major silversmiths, are conducting a "Silver Opinion Competition" in which valuable scholarship awards totalling $1,500 are being offered to duly enrolled women students at a few selected colleges and universities.

Longwood College has been selected to enter this competition in which the first grand award is a $500 cash scholarship; second grand award is a $250 scholarship, and third, fourth and fifth awards are $100 scholarships. In addition there will be 100 other awards with winners having the option of receiving a $25 savings bond or a "starter set" of sterling silver, fine china and crystal with a retail value of approximately $45.

In the "Silver Opinion Competition" an entrant is asked to name her favorite china pattern, her favorite crystal and the sterling silver design she likes best. Then in her own words she must tell why she has chosen the three particular designs. She can use as few or as many words as she likes. There is no set limit. Entries will be judged on the basis of interesting opinions rather than on literary techniques. Closing date is midnight, March 31.

Melinda Franklin is the student representative who is conducting the "Silver Opinion Competition" for Reed and Barton at Longwood College. Those interested in entering the Silver Opinion Competition should contact Melinda Franklin at Box 333 for entry blanks and for complete details concerning the competition rules.

Rotunda Staff

(Continued from page 1)

Deanne Hogge, Sue Caravella, Susan Clement, Pat Hazel, Brenda Parden, Connie Bardon and Mary Leech Elmore.

On the circulation staff are Linda Sue [illegible] Mann, Nancy Lee Cole, Carolyn Axsom, Gay Ashworth, Sally Thomas, Sue Ellen Sites, Anne Lillaston, Sheila Galloway, Pat O'Neil, Shirley Hughes, Carolyn [illegible] and Ebony Beckham.

Among those helping with advertising are Liz Eller, Judy Detrich, Mary L. [illegible] Grinstead, Ann M. Smith, Nancy Branscomb, Nancy Shaw, Doris Clapp, Grace Belvin, Judy Jordan.

TOP TEN TUNES

1. Stagger Lee
2. Donna
3. Petite Fleur
4. I Got a Wife
5. Hawaiian Wedding Song
6. Children's Marching Song
7. Peter Gunn Theme
8. Smoke Gets in Your Eyes
9. Sixteen Candles
10. Lonely Teardrops

WILSON'S HOME & AUTO SUPPLY

©1959 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company

"L&M is kindest to your taste because L&M combines the two essentials of modern smoking," says TV's Jack Lescoulie.

LOW TAR: L&M's patented filtering process adds extra filter fibers electrostatically, crosswise to the stream of smoke... makes L&M truly low in tar.

MORE TASTE: L&M's rich mixture of slow burning tobaccos brings you more exciting taste than any other cigarette.

LIVE MODERN... CHANGE TO MODERN L&M

Welcome Back Alumnae

The Rotunda

Water Pageant Tonight

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., March 11, 1959 | No. 15

NEWLY ELECTED PRESIDENTS. Nell Ward, Claudia Wipple, Jean Peyton, Ruth Denton chat about plans for coming year.

Students Pick Denton As Government Head

Peyton, Whipple, Ward To Assume Top Campus Posts

The student body recently elected the presidents for the four major organizations on campus: Student Government, YWCA, House Council, and the Athletic Association.

Leading Longwood's Student Government for the 1959-60 year will be Ruth Denton with Jean Peyton serving as president of "Y." Neil Ward as president of House Council, and Claudia Whipple as president of the Athletic Association. These officers will assume their new positions following installation March 16 during assembly.

Denton Expresses Hope

Ruth who has served as treasurer of Student Government this year stated, "I am most grateful and humble that the student body has given me the opportunity to work with the entire school next year. I realize the responsibilities that this job involves, and find wonderful examples in the girls who have held the office in the past. I could not ask for any better cooperation from the student body, faculty and administration than the council received this year, and I hope we can all work as well together in the coming year."

A junior elementary major from Abingdon, Ruth has been active in Student Government activities during her three years here, being class representative her freshman and sophomore years. She is also a member of Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority of which she is the Pan-Hellenic representative, Cotillion Club, Wesley Foundation and is presently serving as business manager of the Longwood College Handbook.

Peyton Active in "Y"

Upon asking Jean how she felt about her newly acquired honor and responsibility, she stated, "I could never adequately express my feelings for having been given such an honor as being elected president of our 'Y.' However, I do feel most humble and unworthy for such an opportunity to serve my campus. I am sincerely grateful to the student body and shall try to live up to the faith placed in me."

Jean, a junior elementary major from Snell, has worked in close harmony with the "Y," being secretary this year, a member of the Freshman Commission, and recently elected co-chairman of the "Y" for the entire Virginia college area. She has also been very active during her years here in other activities, being a member of Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority in which she is serving as secretary this year, Cotillion Club and BSU. Jean served as president of her class her freshman and sophomore years, as chairman of the float committee her freshman year, and was selected as Circus representative also during her freshman year.

House Council President

Nell has been very active in House Council during her three years here, being House president her freshman year, treasurer of House Council her sophomore year and vice-president this year. "I am very honored and grateful and hope that I will be able to do as good a job as Bet has done this past year," stated Nell concerning her newly elected office.

A junior business major from Richmond, Nell is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, a national honor society in education; Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority in which she is rush chairman and the Virginian staff.

Whipple Heads Athletics

Newly elected Athletic Association president, Claudia summed up her feelings by saying, "I am very pleased, surprised and happy, and hope that I will be able to carry out my responsibilities so as to please the entire student body, faculty and administration."

Besides being very active in the Athletic Association for the past three years, Claudia is also a member of the Granddaughter's Club and Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority. She has served on the varsity basketball squad for three years and hockey team for two years and was last year's chairman of the softball team.

Lynchos To Present Scientific Program

"Lucky Accidents and the Prepared Mind" will be Dr. Hubert N. Alyea's topic for the assembly program being presented by the Lynchos Society Thursday, March 12, at 1 p.m.

In this talk Dr. Alyea will relate some discoveries which led to startling progress in the fields of plastics, antibiotics, and nuclear energy. Experiments will also be used to illustate these discoveries.

Having received his undergraduate degree from Princeton in 1925, Dr. Alyea studied at the Nobel Institute, Stockholm, Sweden, and then returned to Princeton for his Ph.D. He has also studied as a Rockefellow Foundation Fellow at the University of Minnesota and at the Kaiser-Wilhelm Institute, Berlin-Dahlem.

Mardi Gras Tonight

"Magic of Mardi Gras" will begin tonight with performances at 7 and 9 p.m. in the pool. Tomorrow night, Thursday, March 12, there will be one pageant at 7 p.m., and Friday the final presentation will start at 8 p.m. Tickets will be sold at the door and priced at 35 cents.

(See story and picture on page 3)

75th Founders Day Celebration To Begin Formally March 13

Workman Granted Graduate Study Fellowship Award

Molly Frances Workman, a senior from Norfolk, has just been appointed a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship for graduate study in English beginning the next academic year.

In making the appointment Dr. Hugh Taylor, national director of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, expressed confidence in Molly's scholarly promise and interest in college teaching as a career.

The Fellowships pay a stipend of $1500 a year plus graduate school tuition and fees at any university of the Fellow's choice. Candidates for Fellowships are nominated by members of the academic profession to a regional committee for screening. Selected nominees are then interviewed by the regional committee which then recommends certain students for awards to the Foundation headquarters in Princeton, New Jersey.

According to Dr. R. C. Simonini, Jr., chairman of the English Department, a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship is one of the top graduate study awards in the country and enables Longwood to share something of its prestige.

Campus Activities

Some of the activities which Molly has participated in here at Longwood are Longwood Players, The French Club, and the Colonade Staff. The honorary organizations she belongs to are Kappa Delta Pi and Alpha Psi Omega. She is president of Boere Eh Thorn.

Molly, who has chosen Duke University for her graduate studies, commented, "I was surprised and very pleased."

Founders Day Cuts

Saturday, March 14, is an official college holiday because of the Founders Day activities. Because of this students are reminded that the double-cut rule will be effective Thursday and Friday, Monday and Tuesday.

Special Exhibits Form Display Here

Various departments have arranged special exhibits for the Founders Day activities this week end.

Recent water colors by Mrs. Janice Lemen, Associate Professor of Art, are on display in the lobby of Jarman Auditorium. Student work is on exhibit in the Art Department.

In the Business Department the Future Business Leaders of America have arranged a bulletin board display. Another bulletin board, this one made by Mr. Willard Leeper's class in advertising, is also located there.

Miscellaneous exhibits have been placed in the classrooms and the hall of the English Department in West Wing.

Geography Films

The Geography Department's contribution is the museum on the second floor of Stevens Hall. Between 3 and 4 p.m. Saturday film strips on "Virginia: Its Geography and Resources" will be shown. "Ideas in Action," a display on elementary science teaching aids, is located in Room 207 of Stevens Hall.

Three exhibits in the Home Eco-

(Continued on page 4)

Campus Activities To Emphasize Longwood Commemoration Program

Founders Day celebrations commemorating the 75th anniversary of Longwood College will be held at the college March 13-14 with Dr. Alma P. Hunt, executive secretary of the Women's Missionary Union, as guest speaker.

Activities begin Friday night with the Longwood H2O Club presenting a water show, "Magic of Mardi Gras," at 8 p.m.

Highlights for Saturday include the Founders Day program at 10 a.m. in Jarman Hall, dedication of South Cunningham Hall, a new dormitory, at 2:45 p.m., and a faculty recital at 8 p.m. in Jarman Hall.

Procession Begins Program

Beginning the program Saturday will be an academic procession of faculty and seniors followed by a welcoming address by Dr. Francis Lankford, Jr., president of the college.

Dr. W. Otis McClung, pastor of Farmville Baptist Church, will give the invocation, and Barbara Odom, president of the student government association, and Elsie Stussel, president of the alumnae association, will administer formal greetings.

The Longwood Madrigal Singers, under the direction of Mr. James K. McCombs, will also perform during the program. After the address by the guest speaker, there will be a presentation of gifts to the college and then a closing of the formal program.

At the dormitory dedication Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, president of the State Council of Higher Education and president emeritus of Longwood College, will make the presentation of the building for

(Continued on page 4)

DR. ALMA HUNT

Hunt To Address Saturday Meeting Of LC Alumnae

Dr. Alma Fay Hunt, the executive secretary of the Woman's Missionary Union, Auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention, will be the speaker for the 75th Founder's Day program here in Jarman Hall, March 14. Dr. Hunt's topic will be the "Imperishable Columns."

William Jewell College conferred the Doctor of Humanities degree on her in 1958. Miss Hunt was the first woman to be so honored in the 110 years of the college's history. She holds a Master's degree from Columbia University in student personnel work and was a member of the 1941 degree class at Longwood and the 1929 diploma class.

Dr. Hunt became a member of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education sorority, while at Columbia University, and after being appointed Dean of William Jewell College became a member of the National Association of Deans of Women.

A native of Roanoke, she taught there for a number of years. Eleven years ago she was named to her present position.

Her present duties involve much travel. In 1951 she visited the mission fields in South America, traveling to all countries there except Bolivia and the Guianas, and in 1955 she attended the Baptist World Alliance in London.

Players, Jongleurs To Present Comedy

The cast list for the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs' - Longwood Players' forthcoming production of Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream represents a wide range of theatrical experience.

Three performances, March 19, 20, and 21 will begin at 8 p.m. in Jarman Hall.

Boone's Puckish Role

Several Longwood and Hampden-Sydney seniors, long active on the Longwood stage, will be making their farewell appearances in a major production. Donna Boone, winner of a little Oscar for her performance in The Lady's Not for Burning last year, will portray the merry sprite, Puck. Donna has displayed her histrionic talents in such plays as Blood Wedding, The Skin of Our Teeth and The Crucible, but she feels that the role of Puck will be one of the most challenging she has ever undertaken. This year Donna is serving as president of the Longwood Players.

Technical Director Brinkley

Vicki Brinkley, also winner of a little Oscar for her role in Easter last spring, will appear as Hermia, one of the young lovers. Vicki, who fills the exacting position of technical director of the Longwood Players and is now president of Alpha Psi Omega, will play opposite Jim Robbins as her suitor, Lysander. Jim, a senior at Hampden-Sydney, will be making his first appearance on the Longwood stage. Says Jim, "I definitely have butterflies."

The other pair of lovers, Helena and Demetrius, will be portrayed by Molly Workman and George Hunter. Molly, a Longwood senior serving the Players this year as vice-president and publicity director, has been active both as an actress and a director over the past four years. George, a Hampden-Sydney junior also making his initial appearance in Jarman Hall, maintains that he is not afflicted with stage fright. Both George and Jim, who come to blows over the respective merits of one of the young girls, are presently brushing up on their fencing skills. With drawn rapiers, they are led a merry chase through the woods by Puck, who cleverly sees to it that neither is allowed to catch up with the other.

Smith Plays King

The part of Oberon, the fairy king, will be played by Garnett Smith, another Hampden - Sydney junior. Garnett, a former president of the Jongleurs, won a little Oscar last year for his portrayal in The Lady's Not for Burning. Garnett will also be remembered for his portrayal of Henry Higgins in Pygmalion last fall. Playing opposite Garnett as Titania, the fairy queen, will be Fran Steger, a Longwood

Continued on page 4

THE PLOT THICKENS as George Hunter, Molly Workman, Jim Robbins, Donna Boone rehearse for the rollicking comedy, "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Granddaughters Club To Welcome Alumnae

The major project of the Longwood Granddaughters Club will get underway Friday, March 13, when Founders Day is observed at the college.

Members of the Granddaughters Club will be on hand Friday and Saturday to greet alumnae around the campus and show them their old rooms. The girls dressed in white will also escort guests to the various teas planned and to the concert in Jarman Hall.

Ann Wallace, president of the club, says, "We feel that the Granddaughters Club is a unique organization and Founders Day is our most important each year."

Miss Caroline Wall, librarian, is sponsor for the group whose purpose is to keep alive interest in the college among the students and alumnae.

Welcome Alumnae

It is so wonderful to have you back on the campus. You bring back to life all the joys of those years when you were here as a student. Do you remember, do you remember . . .? How well you look, and do tell me all about yourself!

There is something special about the long continuing relationship — it must be love — between Longwood College and her daughters. It would seem to be compounded of a sustained personal interest on the part of the college faculty and administration, the fine quality of the succeeding generations of students, and the community of interest among teachers — here at the college and throughout the state.

Longwood presents a year-long welcome to her daughters at this anniversary time. It is not a more than customary cordiality of welcome, because the greeting is always absolute. Rather this year it is a more sustained one. Our doors are open to you; more than that, our hearts bid you welcome.

You will find that this celebration of the 75th year of teacher-training merely begins with Founders Day. There will be many occasions from now on through next October which will merit visits. Acquaint yourself with the program, and come to as many as you possibly can.

The arms of Alma Mater are open to you!

—C. G. Gordon Moss
Anniversary Committee

New Year's Resolutions

Have you made your New Year's resolutions yet? For most people, January 1 brings the usual making and breaking of resolutions. For the Rotunda staff these first issues of the paper mark a new year's beginning.

Naturally we must resolve to uphold the standards of good journalism. To publish news which is both accurate and well-written is vital to the life of a paper.

A second resolution extends beyond these fundamental factors. With a circulation of 1600, the Rotunda is mailed to many parts of the state. It appears on other college campuses and in every high school where it is read by prospective students. Through this one medium Longwood's character and activities are vividly conveyed. We, the staff, must justify the readers' hopes.

To ourselves we owe a certain responsibility, since the time spent working on the paper is completely our own. If it ever ceases to be fun and becomes drudgery — or if a feeling of pride in the finished product is lacking — all value is lost. There is no profit in a paper not enjoyed by worker as well as reader.

Finally, we must speak to you, the college itself. The phrase "voice of the students" is trite indeed, but it remains true. We publish a paper for you, but only because it is by you and about you.

Maintaining standards, informing other schools, enjoying our own work, and serving you form an impressive list of New Year's resolutions. Perfection we cannot promise; sincere effort we guarantee.

Shakespeare—Old?

Shakespearian plays have been regarded as out-of-date too long by college students. In this jet-propelled age with its emphasis on the future, the trend is to overlook the qualities of man that are timeless. Literature containing classical allusions or phraseology differing from that used today is termed dry and difficult.

Yet these ideas were refuted at Longwood in the space of two hours with the production of "Twelfth Night" by the Players, Incorporated. These graduates of Catholic University's Speech and Drama Department found there an appreciation of Shakespeare they have pursued for 10 years. A classical repertory company, their continuance is indicative of the popularity and success which can be achieved through using a classical medium.

Any captive audience is undoubtedly a difficult group to please; college students restricted from their own activities to sit through a compulsory performance can be especially trying. Yet Longwood's reaction was anything but adverse.

The comedy had a modern twist in its production. An absence of curtain closing, with one scene flowing smoothly into another, and the one simple, almost austere set received many comments from the audience who voiced appreciation for the continuity of action. This alone exhibits Shakespeare's adaptability in technical details.

No one seemed to experience any problems in understanding the plot or individual lines. Instead the reception was enthusiastic from the subtlest irony to the most obvious buffoonery. With the last curtain-call voices proclaimed their eagerness to see the forthcoming Longwood Players' production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Shakespeare dead? Far from it. Demonstrations such as this can re-enforce his position on the college campus. Unknown delight can become yours if you only open your eyes, your ears, and your heart.

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 26, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Box 168.

Cherry Gotham ..... Editor-in-Chief

Chris Kamen ..... Managing Editor ..... Dale Fladdy ..... Business Manager
Jo-Anne Fasano ..... News Editor
Joann Simmons ..... Features Editor
Nancy Lesher ..... Sports Editor
Sandra Wenger ..... Desk Reporter
Anne B. Dasher ..... Photography
Carole Lancaster ..... Art
Arlene Mirkin ..... Circulation Manager
Bonnie Bryant ..... Assistant Circulation Manager
Miss Mary I. Noland ..... Faculty Advisor

Unsigned editorials written by the editor.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association. Associated Collegiate Press (Rating: first class). Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Rating: first class. Intercollegiate Press.

Fashions Of Yesteryear Provide Styles For Today

By JACKIE GIBSON

Fashions, like everything else, go in cycles. In a manner of speaking, the physical education department of Longwood College was more in style in the 1800's than it is today. The gym suits consisted of the very popular long sleeved, white sailor blouse with a long navy blue tie; navy blue knee-length bloomers, and navy blue hose.

The sailor blouse was well acquainted with the classroom. They were made in all colors and designs and worn with long full skirts. The style of the blouses in that day seemed to call for long sleeves, and either a huge bow at the neck or a wide tie that hung from the neck to the waist.

The attire for sports-wear was much the same as the classes. For tennis and cycling long skirts and long - sleeved, high-collar blouses were worn — quite uncomfortable compared to our modern bermudas and slim pants.

For special occasions, the young ladies wore dresses in a variety of prints and dark colors with sleeves that puffed full bloom at the shoulder and tapered down to the wrist. These dresses were long, lacy, and full, with ruffled bodices and high white collars.

Judging from early photographs of our Longwood sisters, hats were very much in style. They ranged from wide-brimmed straws, similar to the ones that were the craze last year, to identical replicas of junior's baseball cap and father's golf cap; but they varied more in color.

Hair styles were long; buns, rolls, twirls, and braids were a little more popular then than they are today, but not much. Ribbons were also popular, but they were worn as huge bows and sat on top of the head instead of our more conservative fashion of slipping them through the hair to hold it in place.

Sweaters seemed almost non-existent until about 1924. And as you might have expected, many or all of them would fit in your wardrobe perfectly today — especially the bulky knits. To complete the outfit they wore long pleated skirts. The only thing shortened so far is the length of the hair which is now very short. For special occasions — why, silk dresses with scooped necks, no sleeves, and lots and lots of beads.

Fashions now are more like those of our great-grandmother than of our mothers. The main difference is the fabric of the clothes, not the styles. Now fabrics are lightweight, easy to clean and more becoming. There is a wider variety of selections for every occasion, in sports - wear, everyday-wear, semi-dressy, dressy, and very dressy.

Don't forget to save your discards; your great - grandchildren will probably be very fashionable wearing them.

Did You Know?

Do you know the history of your college? Perhaps all that cramming for your orientation test was in vain. Test your memory by seeing how many of these interesting facts you already knew—or never knew at all.

A charter was given for the Farmville Female Seminary in 1839.

The first state school for training teachers opened here in October, 1884.

This college was in 1884 called State Female Normal School.

One student, Annie L. Blanton, received a two-year diploma in one year (1885).

The first Bachelor of Science degree in education was given in 1916.

The Bachelor of arts degree was offered in 1935.

The standard Bachelor of Science degree was offered in 1938.

The Master of Arts degree was offered in 1954.

Old 'Rotundas' Reveal Forgotten Activities

By JUDY DETRICH

"Ah, for the good old days; things were different then." Does this statement make you wonder just how different things used to be at Longwood for instance?

Twenty-five years have passed since the headline on a Rotunda read "Fiftieth Anniversary Coming." But, in glancing through back issues of the Rotunda, you would find almost the same activities going on—whether the name is STC or Longwood.

The Longwood girls in 1942 didn't have to worry about gaining weight from eating too many sweets. It was about this time that rationing went into effect and sugar was a luxury.

The welcoming issue in September of 1940 offered this advice to freshmen: "Don't walk around barefooted—we don't want A. F." Sounds familiar, doesn't it?

Other things were similar, too. The college had a radio program ten years ago, and a 1946 paper told of plans for an annual Mardi Gras, and announced a limerick contest sponsored by the Colonnade.

Most coincidental of all was a 1934 headline which read " 'Midsummer Night's Dream' to be repeated." There is a difference here, though. Way back then, all of the parts were enacted by girls!

Here's a difference. Ten years ago, not only picnics but hayrides were the thing. Come term papers or final exams, everyone piled on the wagon for a hayride out to the Estate or Willis Mountain.

What about prices? There is the big difference. In 1933 the Dorothy May Shop advertised "frocks" for $5.45. And Southside developed film bought in their store free.

The swimming pool, senior dorm, Jarman Hall—all of these have been added in the past twenty-five years. Tabb has burned and been rebuilt. Classes have entered and classes have graduated.

Yet Chi still walks the Colonnade; Circus, productions, sings and dances still enliven the school year; and May Day adds its touch to each spring.

Work, worry, wisdom—and fun never change. They were here then, are here now, and will be present when Longwood celebrates her 100th Anniversary.

Australian-Born Pollard Enjoys Teaching Here

Mrs. Barbara Pollard feels that school systems abroad are much harder than those in the United States.

The high school systems in Australia are like those in England, where the student has less choice in what he takes. "In Australian and English colleges, stiffer academic courses are required. When a student enters a college, there is no question that he has already had two foreign languages and many courses in mathematics. Here, a student is freer to do as he wants to do."

Originally coming to the United States from Sydney, Australia, the English Instructor made her home in Virginia in 1946. She first worked in Insurance for a few years and then, because of her deep interest in literature, decided to attend college and further her studies in English. Upon graduating from college, she became interested in teaching and so went on to graduate school in education.

Typical Day

When asked her opinion of a typical day of teaching at Longwood, Mrs. Pollard replied with a slight British accent, "Well, it depends on what day you're speaking of. If you're speaking of Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, they are very pleasant, but my Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays are rather hectic. I have a great many conferences and other things to work with then." Afterward, Mrs. Pollard added that she really enjoyed all of the week because of the friendliness and helpfulness of everyone with whom she works.

Mrs. Pollard received her BA from Westhampton College and has done two years graduate work at the University of Virginia. Before coming to Longwood in September, Mrs. Pollard taught at Stuart Hall, an Episcopal high school in Staunton.

Enjoys Music

With her busy schedule of teaching freshman and sophomore English, Mrs. Pollard still finds time to develop her many interests. Her first love is reading, but she also likes music and art. Her musical tastes lie in the opera, symphony and classical jazz, with rock and roll merely fading way into the background of her dislikes. Classical and Nineteenth Century are among her favorites in art work. "I also enjoy cooking and keeping house very much. Having my own little apartment is one of the things I have enjoyed most about being here," she stated.

In the future, Mrs. Pollard plans to continue teaching and attending graduate school. She hopes to return to Europe one day and visit a friend in India. "On my way back to Australia, that is," she added with a smile.

—Staff Photo

TEA ROOM ATMOSPHERE draws Mrs. Barbara Pollard from the routine of classes.

Social Notes

By SANDIE FARISH and PAT FOSTER

Capturing the hearts of their favorite guys, these lucky gals have received sparklers: Linda Forrest's came from Johnnie Powell; Nancy Evans was presented hers from her South Hill sweetheart, Tommie Cobb. Freddie Gray is the cause of that special gleam in Anne Schockley's eyes; Edith Ward received her ring from Jimmy Byrum of Suffolk; and Travis Poole, Jr., a junior at VPI, surprised Calvert King with a diamond.

Also receiving a diamond was Barbara Copeland from another Suffolk boy, David Saunders; Julia Holland received one from Samuel Terry. Jo Dearing also got hers from a lucky guy. Who's the lucky fellow, Jo?

Semester exam blues were chased away for the following girls as they became engaged during that weekend. These fortunate girls were Frances Jones who became engaged to Leon Harouff, and Doris Clapp, whose fiance is Maynard Bean. We also hear that Sandra Kilmon and Mary Lee Roach are engaged.

Longwood ladies proudly sporting fraternity pins are Oreta Norris, Virginia Ferguson, and Sara Oliver. Oreta receievd her pin from a Hampden-Sydney Sigma Chi, Olen Stewart; Virginia accepted MCV sophomore John Flournoy's Phi Delta Chi pin; and from a Hampden-Sydney PiKA, Don Erwin, came Sara's frat pin. Jane Martin's Kappa Sigma pledge pin belongs to Chip Wood of Hampden-Sydney.

Girls were groaning over their Monday morning classes this week after the close of a memorable weekend of Mid-Winters at Hampden-Sydney. Dances, combo parties, cocktail parties, banquets and concerts really kept the ladies and their gents on the go from Friday through Sunday. We ran into the same girls all weekend, and the terrific pace of funmaking never diminished, but rose to a climax Saturday night with the Tommy Dorsey orchestra, under the direction of Warren Covington, as the weekend's highlight. Everyone's name couldn't be mentioned; there wouldn't be room for anything else in the paper!

Humor?

By JANE STEGALL

Hello . . . I'm back again—your wonderful writer. Only difference in me and a real writer is that by the time a real writer discovers he has no talent for literature, he is too successful to give it up. I know you're all really excited—just like on Tuesday before assembly. Oh, by the way, next year instead of taking assembly numbers they're going to pass out No-Doze pills as you go in the door.

Instead of discussing African Mythology as originally planned, I feel as if another topic is more pressing. I think we should throw light on another part of our school that has never been discussed. The Maid's closet!! As we open the door several mops fall in our face and occasionally the Maid. Still, it has more wonderful inventions in it than any other place on campus. The sink is of enamel with soap all around. Over it a sign reads: "Soap left useless maketh the dirt cling." There are brooms in the corner and a garbage can outside the door. For all interested a garbage can is a wonderful example of a collective noun. Also, in the corner is a box of perforated scrolls. (Use your imagination!)

Well, again it is time for me to cut out. See you next time when we will discuss something really wonderful. 'Til then don't let anyone beat you all about the head and shoulders.

Sports Review

1934—A loan of $40,000 for a swimming pool was granted S.T.C.

1941—New asphalt tennis courts were built.

1947—S.T.C. gave a horse show at Longwood Estate.

Westhampton Win Brings Longwood Unbeaten Season

The traditional game between Longwood and Westhampton was played here Saturday, March 7. Since both teams were undefeated, it proved to be the closest and most exciting game of the season.

The Longwood hoopsters battled neck and neck the first game to reign victorious with a score of 45-38. Carrying the team to victory were first string forwards Delo Dove, Jackie Waller, and Carolyn Thorpe; and guards Willie Taylor, Claudia Whipple, and Evelyn Skalsky.

The second game was nip and tuck all the way, with Longwood taking the lead most of the time. Up until the last 30 seconds the game was tied 40-40, but an extra point put the Longwood girls ahead. Then, in the last eight seconds, two more points were made and Longwood stepped forward to win 43-40.

Carrying the second team to victory were forwards Lou Heier, Mary Hite Grayson, Barbara Brantley, and Pat Southworth; and guards Nancy Andrews, Mable Healy, Erlene Queene, and Joyce Tharrington.

The Longwood hoopsters completed their season undefeated. Those seniors playing their last game were Willie Taylor, Evelyn Skalsky, Delo Dove, Lou Heier, Gayle Cunningham, Jackie Waller and Nancy Andrews.

Unusual Details Enter 'Mardi Gras' Planning

By SANDRA WEAVER

If you were given the responsibility, how would you put on a water show?

Would you go to several places and listen hour after hour to music? Would you tediously pick over costume after costume to find just the right one to suit the chosen piece? And would you work for hours to perfect a certain stroke, and to get a backdrop painted on time? Or would you just put on any old Spike Jones record, shove an untrained, defenseless swimmer into the pool (with a pair of faded blue jeans for a costume), and let the blue water being splashed on the walls from her flailing arms serve as backdrop decorations!

The latter, of course, is not the process. According to Betsy Neal, assistant-chairman of "Magic of Mardi Gras," which is being presented tonight by the H2O Club, it is a long, tedious process requiring a great deal of hard work.

When Kitty Green and Betsy were elected to head the production of the pageant, they were unique in that they had certain things in mind and then adapted a theme to fit them. The process is usually just the opposite, but this spring they knew what they wanted and were determined to make it work. The versatile theme of "Mardi Gras" was their solution.

Musical Problems

Many hours were spent in Jarman Auditorium, students' rooms, and down town at the record shop listening to recording after recording. One by one they were sorted out and discarded. A point of discouragement was often reached. Then they would hit upon a tune that suited a number perfectly and begin counting beats again with renewed energy.

Finally, the music was set and the long process of working out the numbers began. Each number was worked out in pantomine and explained thoroughly to each swimmer before it was tried in the water. Each stunt was diagramed on the blackboard and fitted to the swimmers as well as the music. The next problem arose when it was tried in the pool and it didn't always work. "We certainly got exasperated," commented Betsy, "but we kept working 'til we got it right."

One person can learn a number in around three or four practices, but when they are all put together in their groups, they can never really get it perfected. "The larger the group, the longer they have to practice," explained Betsy. Practice runs from ten to twelve hours for one number, with two or three hour practices extending over a period of from three to four weeks.

Blown Fuses

Working with the actual show itself wasn't the only main job of preparing the production. The costumes had to be chosen and fitted to each individual girl, as well as to the mood of the number. The lighting had to be worked out by trial-and-error methods, and more often than not, no current. "We had more trouble with the lighting than practically anything else. We were shocked; we blew fuses, and everything," wailed Betsy. "We finally had to run a long extension cord from the gym until the electricians could rewire the pool."

Next to writing and preparing a show, work on the backdrops is the biggest task. Before the theme was ever chosen, Kitty and Betsy's first dream was to have solid black backdrops. After looking everywhere from Richmond to Salem, they found exactly what they wanted in Danville. The black cloth will drape the main wall and be covered with silhouettes and party decorations.

No Understudies

When asked if there was a director or a prompter for a water production, like there is for a play, Betsy replied, "The girls are all on their own by show time. They don't need anyone; they know it by then. We don't have understudies either," she explained. "If they're good enought to be an understudy, they're good enough to swim."

Along with all of the major production problems, there are many little things that have to be done. Such things as running downtown on errands, reminding the nightwatchman to turn out the pool lights, getting change from the treasurer's office, and getting the janitor to sweep, fill the daily routine. "We've done a little of everything. We've taped the music and broken the tape along with everybody else, and we've worked along with all the committees," said Betsy. At the end she finally admitted that "Nothing's really been a problem; it's just all been a whole lot of fun."

H. C. Owen

WATER PAGEANT COMMITTEE HEADS (kneeling, l. to r.) B. Brantley, D. Hilliard, B. Keys, A. McKay, M. Grayson; (standing, l. to r.) J. Waller, W. Taylor, E. Weddle, H. Wente, R. Looper work to capture spirit of Mardi Gras.

—H. C. Owen

SENIOR BASKETBALL TEAM MEMBERS, L. Heier, W. Taylor, G. Cunningham, E. Skalsky, J. Tharrington, J. Waller, N. Andrews, D. Dove relax after their last game for Longwood.

From The Basketball Bleachers

By MARJORIE FREESE

The tournament games of each conference are now being played. Each team is battling to stay in the running.

All season long the teams played to determine which ones would be eligible to play in the semifinals. The winners of the semifinals play each other to see which teams would participate in the finals. The winners of the finals play in the championship game. The winner of this game will, of course, have the coveted title of the conference.

In a preliminary game the Citadel played West Virginia. The Bulldogs were trounced by West Virginia 85-66.

Virginia edged out Maryland with a 66-65 victory for the Cavaliers. This win made them eligible to play in the finals against N. C. State. State had been victorious over South Carolina with a score of 75-72.

Duke sailed over Wake Forest 78-71. This made Duke also eligible to play in the finals against North Carolina, who had won the semi-finals by whipping Clemson 93-69.

In the finals N. C. State was victorious over Virginia. The score of this upset was State 66, the Cavaliers 63.

The second winner of the finals was North Carolina, who had defeated Duke 74-71.

The winners of the finals, both of the state of North Carolina, will play the championship game to see who will take the title of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Publications Staffs Attend Conference

Six publications staff members attended an all-day workshop at the Virginian Hotel Saturday, March 7.

Judy Harris, Sandra Clements, Carolyn Oliver, Nancy Donaldson, Cherry Gorham, and Dale Preddy heard lectures on various aspects of college publications and attended the luncheon. Sponsored by the J. P. Bell Company, the meeting brought together delegates from nearby colleges.

Miss Virginia Bedford, Miss Mary Nichols, and Dr. Richard Meeker, advisors, accompanied the group.

Timely Topics

By JUDITH WELCH

About 700 persons attended funeral services Saturday for Carroll Vernon Jackson and Janet, his 18-month-old daughter. Their bodies were found beneath a pile of brush in Spotsylvania County. Finding a motive for this crime is the thing that has puzzled authorities since the family disappeared. Examination of the bodies and the objects found near them has revealed no clues as to the identity of the slayer. Authorities are still searching for Mrs. Jackson and her 5-year-old daughter, Susan Anne.

Tri-State Meeting Draws SAI Group

Friday, March 13, Adair Camp, Margaret Moore, Elaine Weddle, and Mrs. Mary Kemble will represent Longwood at Tri-State Day which will be held at the Norfolk Division of William and Mary.

The affair is sponsored by the Gamma Zeta Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota at the Division.

Activities begin on Friday evening with an American music program put on by the Division College Choir and guest composer artists. A Sigma Alpha Iota workshop will be held Saturday morning followed by lunch with guest speaker, Julia Ober.

A panel discussion of American composers will be held at 2 p.m., and at 3:30 a recital of American music will be given by some of the SAI representatives. Blaine will play Pastorale by John Diercks on the oboe and Margaret will accompany her.

Tri-State Day will end Saturday evening with the performance of "Pepito's Golden Flower" put on by the Division Opera Workshop.

Class volleyball and basketball games begin next week. Support your class by getting in the number of practices required to play. Regular practices are Mondays and Wednesdays at 4 and 5 p.m.

Virginia College Chatter

By DE ANNE HOGGE

That fine ol' southern institution, the one and only University of Virginia, is planning a big military week end May 9 and 10. Plans are pending for a picnic early Friday evening, a dinner party Saturday after a full scale parade in Scott Stadium, exhibitions by visiting drill teams, ROTC and Armed Forces Day displays, and a stage show by the Second Army Theatrical Unit. The climax of the week end will be a dance Saturday at which a sponsor will be chosen from candidates submitted by the divisions of the ROTC.

At Bridgewater College, where a recent cherry pie baking contest was held, the men copped all the honors. The chap with the best pastry was a Mel Wiggins.

RPI's campus is growing, growing, growing. They've bulged across the sidewalk and now desire to hog the entire street. All jokes aside, a new mall is being constructed there.

The "wise fools" (unknowing freshmen, this means sophomores) at Madison are preparing a class night comparable to our productions.

Mary Baldwin College is also engaged in a water pageant. "Everything else is sinking but we'll float through," commented one of the swimmers.

Miss Katherine Anne Porter seems to be making the rounds of Virginia colleges. Now at Washington and Lee, she has been lecturing on Mark Twain and the development of American authors as a distinctive group in literature.

EASTER GIFTS!

Bibles: Revised, King James ... $3.75 to $10.00
The Interpreter's Bible Commentary ... $7.75
Harper's Bible Dictionary ... $7.50
Phillips New Testament in Modern English ... $6.00
Radcliffe Christ in The Garden ... $3.50
Bishop Go With God ... $5.00
Leaves of Gold ... $2.50 to $7.50
Easter Books ... 50c to $1.00

WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
Phone 441-J

TOP TEN TUNES

1. Stagger Lee
2. Donna
3. Charlie Brown
4. Sixteen Candles
5. Petite Fleur
6. I Cried a Tear
7. Venus
8. Peter Gunn Theme
9. All-American Boy
10. Alvin's Harmonica

WILSON HOME & AUTO SUPPLY

Relax . . . at the

Snack

With Your Friends!

Main Rec & Senior Rec

GRADUATES—

Get your orders in for your degree rings so delivery will be made before graduation.

MARTIN the Jeweler

Madison Avenue...

Yes, up and down ad alley you'll find the smartest account execs call for Coke during important meetings. The cold crisp taste, the real refreshment of Coca-Cola are just what the client ordered. So up periscope and take a look into the situation. Ad men of the future!—start your training now—climb into a gray flannel suit and relax with a Coke!

Drink Coca-Cola

BE REALLY REFRESHED...HAVE A COKE!

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by

LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Homemaking Trends Show LC's Growth

By REBECCA JONES

The whole aspect of Home Economics has changed in the fifty years since the department was founded at Longwood. An interesting note is that Longwood offered the first courses in Home Economics in any Virginia college.

The Domestic Science Department, as it was first called, was founded by Miss Worthy Johnson in the 1908-1909 session. Miss Johnson was an instructor in the Manual Arts Department in 1907 and taught courses in sewing. When it was decided to have a Domestic Science Department she became its acting instructor.

At this time Home Economics had a very different concept from what it has today. Subjects taught were sewing and cooking. Both of the courses seem very strange compared to the way they are now. The first year in sewing the girls learned the various hand stitches, and in foods, the methods of preparing the most simple dishes. However, they were instructed in the way to train a maid, a subject that is definitely not stressed now!

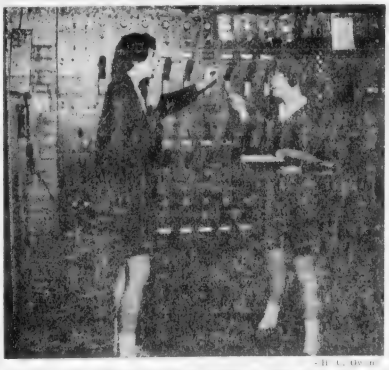
In the period of fifty years since the Longwood department was organized there has been a gradual but definite change in the scope of home economics. It can be seen in the change of emphasis in the curriculum. Early emphasis was on the development of skills in cooking and sewing; now the emphasis is directed toward improved family living.

Placement News

School supervisors and placement representatives have come and will continue to visit Longwood seniors to interview them for jobs as teachers.

On Tuesday, March 17, Mr. Kyle and Mr. Woodruff from Bedford County will visit the campus. Also on the same day Mr. Gordon will represent Chesterfield County.

All interested seniors may make appointments with Miss Watkins.



Contracts Signed

Jo Ann Baldwin and Octavia Loftin have accepted teaching positions in Roanoke. Patsy Powell and Barbara Heck have accepted jobs in Fairfax County. Barbara Odom and Burks Keith have accepted positions in South Norfolk and Princess Anne County respectively. Juliet Robinson, Charlotte Simms, and Jo Anne Sloop have accpeted teaching jobs in Prince William County.

SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY
2 ROLLS OF FILM:
120, 127, 620
79 CENTS

LANSCOTT GIFT SHOP
Special Anniversary Sale
Register for Free Gifts
Month of March
LANSCOTT GIFT SHOP

BOXWOOD TOURIST
COURT AND
RESTAURANT
3 Miles South of Farmville
On Route 15
PHONE 3027-5

BEHIND THE SCENES Pat Leake (right), assistant director, discusses the lighting for the forthcoming production with Ann Mixon, light technician.

Lent Observed On Campus

Union Vespers, revivals, and conferences are among the events held by the various church groups at Longwood this past week. During the Lenten period some of the groups are holding prayer meetings and Bible studies.

Episcopal

Vespers will be March 18 at 7 p.m. in the church. Following this, elections for new officers of the Canterbury Club will be held. Installation of these officers will be March 22.

Everyone please come and support the elections and the new officers.

Catholic

During the Lenten season, Newman Club members have been attending daily Mass at 7 a.m. at the St. Therese Catholic Church. This Mass is offered by Father Fey, the parish priest.

Plans are being made for attendance and transportation to the Piedmont Provence Convention to be held April 5-7 at Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

Baptist

Each night this week there will be dorm prayer meetings held in the various dorms in preparation for the Church Revival which will be held March 15-22.

The speaker for this revival will be Rev. M. Jackson White from Clarendon.

Presbyterian

Next Sunday West-Fel will hold its meeting at the church. The program will be on Life and Missions. Fellowship will be held at the home of a member of the church.

Be sure to attend the Bible Study at Dottie Hamilton's apartment at 7 p.m. Thursday night. We would enjoy having everyone who might wish to come.

Methodist

The Wesley Fellowship completed a successful conference this past week end. The meetings were conducted by Mr. Emil Paul John, a former Austrian missionary. He gave three main lectures on "Revelation, Revolution, Reconciliation."

Colleges represented were Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Randolph-Macon, University of Virginia, Virginia Military Institute, Mary Washington, Bridgewater, Duke, Longwood, Madison, Washington and Lee, and Westhampton.

Madrigals To Sing

The Madrigal Singers will present a program Saturday, March 14, at the morning program for Founders Day.

Under the direction of Mr. James McCombs, Assistant Professor of Music, the group will sing "Come Again! Sweet Love Doth Now Invite," "Echo Song," "Nymphs and Shepherds," and "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep."

Players

(Continued from page 1)

sophomore. Although Fran has little previous stage experience, Director David Wiley describes her reading of Shakespearean verse as "a natural."

Theseus, Duke of Athens, and his bride Hippolyta, Queen of the Amazons, will be played by Hampden-Sydney senior Charter Wells and Longwood senior Amy McFall. Both Charter and Amy are veterans of the Longwood stage, having appeared in such previous productions as The Skin of Our Teeth and A Boy With a Cart. As Theseus, Charter is harried by Ageus, senile father of Hermia, who will be played by Hampden-Sydney's John Meyers. Dr. Lee Winfree Ryan, a Hampden-Sydney professor, will appear as Philostrate, the Master of the Revels.

Rustics, Fairies Cavort

The rustics, a grubby group with theatrical ambitions, will be led by Bill Ragsdale as the comic Bottom. "Rags," as he prefers to be called, is making his second appearance on the Longwood stage. Other rustics are Alan Stein as Quince, Jim Neal as Flute, Ben Morgan as Snug, Bill Kempton as Starveling, and Randolph Keller as Snout, all of Hampden-Sydney.

Other cast members are Barbara Bishop, Emily Shelton, Ann Coleman, Betsy Kelsey, Lina Flippen, and Bobbie Caples as fairies; Ann Jenkins, Page Tolleson and Matilda Powell as female courtiers; Mr. William Noble and Billy Graham as male courtiers; and Sally Thomas, Ann Bass and Victoria Malley as Amazons.

Admission will be free to Longwood students.

Sophs' Sing Gives View Of Library

Tonight the sophomore class will present the second in a series of four "class sings." Their skit will be a take-off on the library, under the direction of Tweety Lambiotte and Sandy Watkins.

March 18, the freshman clas will present the skit for the third class sing. Their newly elected chairman is Winnie Egolf and Mattie MacNeal.

The last class sing will be sponsored by the seniors, under the director of Nancy Cross and Merle Ridinger, March 25.

"Exams" was the title of last week's sing, presented by the junior class. The chairmen of their skit were Julia Williams and Ann Mixon.

Old Song Holds True

By MATTIE BLEWETT

Are you wondering what "hits" the current Athletic Association class song contest will produce? Me, too. The student bodies of Longwood College, having at various times a number of illustrious composers as members, have produced or introduced such popular numbers as "Mary Margaret Truman," "I Had Some Chickens," "The House Mother Is Coming! Tra-la, Tra-la," "T'was a Cold Winter's Evening," and others. The following is a typical example of these musically inclined students. It was contrived and molded by a group of Longwood ladies a few (?) decades ago.

Chorus:
"It's the old normal school,
It's the old normal school,
It's the old normal school,
And it's good enough for me!"

"We've got eggs for breakfast;
We've got beans for dinner;
We've got pink mule for supper;
And it's good enough for me!"

"We've got bells all day long
And that ever-lasting gong
To keep us from doing wrong;
And it's good enough for me!"

This musical master-piece is screamed to the tune of "Ol' Time Religion."

Exhibits

(Continued from page 1)

nomics building show changes in homemaking equipment in the past 75 years, changes in the college student's wardrobe, and present career offerings in home economics. Open house will be held Saturday between 2 and 4 p.m.

On the main floor of the library are two glass cases containing historical material. The first features Longwood's history before 1884. Among the items are a copy of the 1863 commencement program, an 1860 bill of tuition, a report card issued in 1859, and a plate from the cornerstone of the first building constructed in 1839. Objects in the second case include pictures of the classes of 1893 and 1909, college catalogs for 1884-85 and 1894-95, and a large picture showing the present view of the outside campus.

Campus Miniature

In addition to the material in the showcases, old annuals and pictures as well as copies of all present publications will be shown. In the Browsing Room a table model of Longwood's campus, present and future, and ten dioramas inspired by the scenes depicted on the dome of the Rotunda are exhibited. The art education class made these.

The Music Department's contribution includes an exhibit of a map and chart showing the present location of graduates, programs and written contributions by students and faculty members, and a special exhibit by Sigma Alpha Iota.

Founders Day

(Continued from page 1)

Governor J. Lindsay Almond. Accepting the building for the State Board of Education will be Mrs. Gladys V. Morton and for the student body, Barbara Ann Odom.

Faculty Recital

The faculty music recital will feature five members of the music department. They will be Dr. John W. Molnar, violinist, accompanied by Miss Emily L. Clark; Miss Josephine Bailey, organist; Mr. James McCombs, bass-baritone, accompanied by Miss Bailey at the piano; and Mr. Walter E. Urben, pianist.

Other activities Saturday include a coffee from 8:30 to 9:45 a.m. at the Alumnae House sponsored by the Farmville Alumnae Chapter. A business meeting of the Alumnae Association will be held at 11:30 a.m. in Jarman Hall followed by a luncheon at 1 p.m. in the Dining Room. An open house will be held at the President's Home at 4 p.m. and concluding the two day program will be class reunion meetings at 9:30 p.m.

This year is the reunion year for all people who graduated from Longwood College during years that end in 4's and 9's.

Registration of guests will be held in the Rotunda from 3-9 p.m. Friday, and from 8:30 to 9:45 a.m. Saturday. Members of the Granddaughters Club will serve as hostesses.

At least seven former faculty members have become college presidents.

There are over 10,000 alumnae of the college.

Several faculty members have published state - adapted textbooks and curriculum supplements.

Four social sororities and one honorary society have Alpha chapters on this campus.

Founders Day, celebrating the 75th Anniversary of the college as a state institution, will be held March 15.

Do You Think for Yourself? (HERE'S A TEST THAT WILL TELL YOU! *)

1. Can you honestly say that you've made an effort to understand modern art? YES ☐ NO ☐

2. If you were to break a New Year's resolution, would you renew it on the spot rather than wait until next year? YES ☐ NO ☐

3. Would you be unwilling to play a single game of "Russian Roulette" for a million dollars? YES ☐ NO ☐

4. Are you fully convinced that the saying "Money does not buy happiness" is completely true? YES ☐ NO ☐

5. Would you be at all hesitant to rent a desirable apartment where the previous occupants had died under mysterious circumstances? YES ☐ NO ☐

6. If you were walking to town in a hurry, would you be unwilling to accept a ride in a garbage truck? YES ☐ NO ☐

7. Would you be reluctant to participate in an important medical experiment which, though not dangerous, would cause some discomfort? YES ☐ NO ☐

8. If you had an independent income sufficient for all your needs, could you be happy never to go to work? YES ☐ NO ☐

9. Can an extravagant claim make you switch from one filter cigarette to another? YES ☐ NO ☐

The truth is, thinking men and women aren't influenced by extravagant claims—especially when choosing a filter cigarette. They use their heads! They know what they want. They know that only VICEROY gives them a thinking man's filter . . . a smoking man's taste.

*If you have answered "YES" to three out of the first four questions, and "NO" to four out of the last five . . . you certainly do think for yourself!

Familiar pack or crush-proof box.

©1959, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

The Man Who Thinks for Himself Knows — ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER... A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!

The Rotunda

VOLUME XXXVIII — Longwood College, Farmville, Va., March 25, 1959 — No. 16

CONNIE GOODMAN

Goodman Selected As New President For Class Of 1960

Connie Goodman, a mathematics major from Fries, has been elected to serve as senior class president for 1959-60.

Connie is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honorary leadership fraternity; Theta Sigma Upsilon social sorority; Orchesis and was the junior class representative to Student Government.

Barbara Rossiter, a business major from Arlington, was elected vice-president; Mary Anne Montague, an elementary education major from Roanoke, will serve as secretary; Anne B. Palmer, a biology major from Newport News, will serve as treasurer; and Linda Lane, an elementary education major from Richmond, is the senior house president.

'61 Elects Straughan

Elected as president of next year's junior class was Cora Straughan, an elementary education major from Heathsville. Cora seved as class secretary for her freshman and sophomore years at Longwood and is an active member of House Council, the Cotillion Club, Kappa Delta social sorority and the Northern Neck Club.

Pat Southworth, a physical education major from Richmond, was elected vice-president; Clara Dell Kidd, an elementary education major from Ebony, will serve as secretary; Kay Pierce, an elementary education major from Colonial Heights, will serve as treasurer; and Beverly Kersey, an elementary education major from Richmond, is the junior house president.

Powell Chosen Again

The freshman class has chosen Ellen Powell, a social science major from Emporia, as their sophomore class president. Ellen was freshman class president, a member of the Freshman Commission, and is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority.

Betsy Wilson, an elementary education major from Danville, was elected vice - president; Nancy Pretty, an elementary education major from Danville, will serve as secretary; Pat Hickey, an elementary education from Richmond, will serve as treasurer; and Lee Burnette, an art major from Amelia, is sophomore house president.

Assembly Speaker

Mr. W. A. Scarffenberg, Executive Secretary for the National Committee for the Prevention of Alcoholism, will speak on the prevention of alcoholism through education and research rather than legislation at assembly Tuesday, April 7.

Research on this sociological problem is carried on all over the world by Mr. Scarffenberg's organization and other organizations as well.

Minor Heads Take Office

Minor officers elected by the student body for the four major organizations on campus — Student Government, YWCA, House Council, and Athletic Association—have been announced by the Major-Minor Elections chairman. Also elected was Freshman Counselor for next year.

Serving the college under the minor officers who were recently installed for the 1959-60 school year are Student Government officers: Jean O'Connell, vice - president; Joyce Odom, secretary; and Cherron Kelly, treasurer.

House Council officers are Julia Williams, vice - president; Page Davis, secretary; and Sheila Galloway, treasurer.

Taking their positions as Athletic Association officers are Joan Creel, vice-president; Mary Hite Grayson, secretary; and Barbara Brantley, treasurer.

Newly elected YWCA officers include Helen Wente, vice-president; Margaret Shropshire, secretary; and Wirtley Raine, treasurer.

Jeanine McKenzie, a freshman from Norfolk, was elected to serve as Freshman Counselor next year.

Various Donations Yield Fund $2,500

The Endowment Fund, established at Longwood College as a 75th Anniversary project for the Association of Alumnae of Longwood College, has reached $2500.

Longwood students, through their various organizations, strongly supported the Endowment Fund with a gift of $605. The faculty and administration added $285 as a 75th Anniversary gift and the alumnae contributed $1610.

The income from the fund will be used to offer additional benefits to members of Longwood's faculty. It will be legally organized and administered through a qualified committee which will be in a position to accept gifts to the college from individuals as well as philanthropic organizations.

The fund is a continuing fund with a goal of $25,000.

Registration

On Tuesday, April 9, juniors will register for the 1959 Fall session.

Registration will be held all day in the Sophomore Rec. Each student will register at an assigned hour during which she does not have a class scheduled. Assignments and directions for registration will be posted.

After Easter, tentative program cards and a schedule of classes will be given out. This will give students an opportunity to arrange a schedule and see major professors for approval before April 9.

Announcements will be made later concerning the registration of sophomores and freshmen.

New Cabinet Of 'Y' Assumes Duties For Coming Year

New officers and committee heads for the YWCA assumed responsibilities officially at the installation service Monday night at the Episcopal church.

Jean Peyton, president, was formally installed by Helen Jean Young, out-going president. Jean then installed Helen Wente as vice-president; Margaret Shropshire as secretary, Wirtley Raine as treasurer, and Jeanine McKenzie as freshman counselor.

The chairmen of the standing committees forming the 'Y' Cabinet are as follows: Bunny Vernon and Nancy Morris, prayers; Mattie Blewett and Virginia Kemp, service; Ann Hardy, big sister-little sister; Beverly White, church cooperative; Bonnie Keys, library; Nancy Harnsburger, membership; Dodie Webster, music.

Also on the Cabinet are Jo Ann Garner and Ann Snyder, public affairs; Winnie Egolf and Doris Kesling, publicity; Brenda Parsley, sing; Nancy Pretty and Mary Anne Moniague, social; Anne B. Palmer and Cherron Kelly, Y-Come; Josephine Crowder, day student representative.

Ruth Denton, president of Student Government, and the presidents of the various church groups are ex-officio members.

Cotillion Signs Morrow

Staff Photo

COTILLION COMMITTEE HEADS (l. to r.) Ann Glover, Cass Connor, Melinda Franklin, Betty Spivey pool ideas for coming dance.

Musician To Play For Dance April 11

The annual Cotillion Club dance which will be held April 11 in the Main Rec from 8 until 12 p.m. will feature Buddy Morrow and his band.

This coming event will mark Buddy Morrow's second appearance here at Longwood. In 1956 the Cotillion Club played host to his band at the yearly dance.

Shaw Gave Start

Having wide experiences on his way to the top, Morrow played first with Artie Shaw's orchestra. After leaving Shaw, Buddy joined the orchestra of the late Eddy Duchin for a short period. Then he went with Vincent Lopez for a tour of theaters and hotels to the West Coast. Then the famous Paul Whiteman offered him a job with his band.

His next step was to join Tommy Dorsey's orchestra in a featured role. Several years later Buddy Morrow joined the Jimmy Dorsey orchestra where he was featured on the trombone at all the leading spots and locations from coast to coast.

Over 2000 disc jockeys voted Buddy Morrow the No. 1 most promising band in the country in the 1951 Annual Billboard Magazine Disc Jockey Poll. Morrow drew such a biz vote that no other band was near him in competition.

$10,000 Trombone

Although a trombone similar to the one Buddy Morrow owns could be bought on the market for $500, the one he uses has been insured for $10,000 because of the special materials used in the horn which was custom-made.

The RCA Victor records that made a hit for Morrow are "I Can't Get Started," "Stairway to the Stars," "Dranem," and "Go i You on My Mind," plus numerous others.

His philosophy as a band leader is: "Do not try to educate the public from the bandstand, instead play the type of music that they want to hear."

Committee Heads

Melinda Franklin is serving as dance chairman for this year's dance, while Ernestine Stoltz is in charge of the figure and program.

Officers of the Cotillion Club are Cass Connor, president; Betty Spivey, secretary - treasurer; Ann Glover, business manager; Ernestine Stoltz, figure leader; and Mr. [illegible] Merchant, advisor.

Students To Register For Rooms April 2

Room drawing for next year will take place April 2 with juniors drawing numbers from 4-6 p.m., sophomores from 7-8 p.m., and freshmen from 10-11 p.m.

At the designated time the class will form a line outside Miss Spear's office and enter one at a time to draw and register a number. At that time those not returning next fall will fill out a blank stating this fact.

Room assigning will be done on April 7, 8, 9 following a similar procedure in Miss Spear's office. The girl with the lowest number and her chosen roommate must be first, others following consecutively. She will designate her choice of room, not suite; her roomate's number will be crossed out; and they will fill out dormitory blanks. If a girl does not appear in the correct place in line according to the number she has drawn, and if she has not already joined another girl who has a lower number (in which case her number will have been crossed out), or if she cannot join a girl

(Continued on page 4)

Brinkley To Depict Snow White's Role In Annual May Day

When the Queen of May, Amy McFall, enters the Dell this year, seven nymphs of spring will whisk her away to a land of daydreams. Here she will see re-enacted the story of her past, the Snow White story.

With dark hair and skin fair, Snow White herself will be there in the form of Vicki Brinkley. With her will be Prince Charming, Norma Redmon, and the gallant huntsman, Nancy Donaldson.

The fearful witch and wicked queen will be portrayed by Mary Ellen Moore and Sandra Fershee.

Snow White's wonderful friends and staunch supporters, the seven dwarfs, will be there too. Carol Boley will be the gentle Dopey. Billie Jo Altizer is Sneezy and Ginna Chapman, Grumpy.

Happy is Sue Beardmore, Sleepy is Faye Salmon, Bashful is Nancy Knight, and Connie Goodman, Doc.

To add even more merriment, four of Snow White's animal friends will be on hand. Barbara Odom will portray a nimble squirrel, Carol Matthews, a lively rabbit, Joanne Hartman will be a bear, and Dottie Bennett a skunk!

The nymphs of spring who bring about this wonderful dream are Donna Marquette, Betty Britton, Katherine Wallace, Sandra Watkins, Barbara Simpkins, Yvonne Webb and Bonnie Mann Hamersly.

The freshman physical education classes will supply groups for the dances of the forest animals and the bluebirds—and of course the May Pole Dance.

Practices are expected to get underway the week after Easter vacation.

Prize Awaits Top Limerick

This month the Colonnade will award $5 for the best limerick submitted with an empty Oasis pack. Another $5 will be paid for the best limerick submitted with an empty Chesterfield pack, and a third for the best limerick submitted with an empty L and M pack.

Besides the money, the ten honorable mention limerick winners will receive "Happy Talk," the new word game.

You may write the limerick on any subject you choose. Enter as often as you wish, but be sure each limerick is accompanied by an empty pack of L and M, Chesterfield, or Oasis cigarettes.

The contest is open to all Longwood students and faculty members. Limericks for the March contest must be delivered to Dr. Richard Moseley, Lady Astor's, or the Colonnade box by March 31.

Spanish Film 'Alhenia' To Play Here April 1

"Alhenia," a film [illegible] the famous Spanish [illegible] pianist, will be [illegible] at 7:30 p.m. in Jarman Hall.

The movie, presented by [illegible] tina, has Spanish dialogue with English subtitles.

Many of Albeniz's compositions, including the [illegible] piano, and full symphony orchestra. This portrayal of Albeniz's dramatic and tragic life begins in the [illegible] American [illegible] the musical [illegible] to be [illegible]

Tickets, priced at 40 cents, may be purchased [illegible] club members or at the door.

Lemen, Ross Exhibit Recent Oil Paintings At Norfolk Museum

[illegible] in the Norfolk Museum are two oil paintings which [illegible] of Mrs. Janice Lemen, Associate Professor of Art, and Miss Annie Lee Ross, Assistant Professor of Art, here at Longwood.

[illegible] paintings, are part of [illegible] entitled "Fresh [illegible] which is being sponsored by the Norfolk Society of Arts. This [illegible] has been arranged to show the public what the teachers [illegible] are doing as [illegible] the new works of college faculty artists which [illegible] executed since January.

Student Poses

[illegible]'s work is done in oils and is a figure study entitled "The [illegible]." Demetria Koumparakis posed for the painting.

Miss Ross' painting is also in oils and, entitled "Explorer No. 1," was named for the first American [illegible] that was fired.

The exhibition is scheduled until March 29. Almost all the paintings on display are for sale, and most of the artists have additional ones available for purchase.

Boa, Bizarre Fixture, Fascinates Students

By JOANN KLEINECKE

When the alumnae returned to Longwood's Campus for the college's 75th Anniversary last week end, they were probably surprised to find a boa constrictor part of the exhibits prepared for them. To the students, however, the snake has become one of the usual fixtures of the Science Building.

Brother's Gift

The snake belongs to Dr. Edgar Stillwell, Assistant Professor of Biology, and was given to him by his brother, a student at Michigan State University. Dr. Stillwell's brother in turn, got the boa constrictor from a biology student at Michigan State who was being drafted and had a large menagerie of animals to get rid of.

The two and a half-year-old snake is now on exhibit in the hall of the Science Building in order that more people might have the opportunity to see it.

Boas are confined to the Western Hemisphere and are related to the python which is found in Africa and Asia. Dr. Stillwell's snake is from South America and is more easily tamed than its Central American relative which is very vicious. Boas take from ten to ten and a half years to attain full growth, and at this time they range from 15 to 18 feet in length and six inches in diameter.

No Dead Prey

They will not eat dead prey, but must kill their own food by constriction. Boas will not kill unless hungry, and since they are very clean, they will either not attack an animal that is dirty, or will clean it before eating it.

This variety of snake sheds its skin about every six weeks, and during this time it becomes virtually helpless because the skin over the eyes becomes opaque, leaving the animal practically blind. It does not eat at this time, but soaks in a water bath for several weeks and then sheds its skin.

Dr. Stillwell, who has had the boa constrictor in his office since last June, says that he "plans to keep it until it becomes too large to handle," and then he "will probably give it to a zoo."

Student Comments

Some comments on the new addition were something like this:

"I hope it never gets out while I'm around!"

"When it grows up, I hope I'm not in the immediate vicinity!"

"Hope it never gets terribly hungry and decides its mealtime is when I'm in the Science Building!"

"If it ever gets loose, I'll be the first one to leap up on the nearest light fixture!"

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 20, 1920

Published [illegible] except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Box 168.

Cherry Gorham ..... Editor-in-Chief

Chris [illegible] ..... Managing Editor
Dale Priddy ..... Business Manager
Jo [illegible] ..... News Editor
Jessie [illegible] ..... Feature Editor
Nancy [illegible] ..... Sports Editor
Sandra [illegible] ..... Desk Editor
Anne [illegible] ..... Photography
Carol [illegible] ..... Art
Arlene [illegible] ..... Circulation Manager
Ronnie [illegible] ..... Advertising Managers
Miss [illegible] ..... Faculty Advisor

Unsigned editorials written by the editor)

Member: Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press (Rating: [illegible]), Columbia Scholastic Press Association (Rating first place), Intercollegiate Press.

NEWS STAFF: Assistant News Editor: Mattie Blewett. Assistant Feature Editor: Mary Byrd Micou, Assistant Sports Editor; Judy Detrich, Assistant [illegible]. Reporters: [illegible] Foster, Frances Hambleton, Marjo Frese, Judie Welch, Martha Gray Shirley, Jackie Gibson, Jane Stegall. Reporters: Diane [illegible], Claudia Wilson, Sue Ciaravella, Susan Carpenter, Pat Brown, Dorothy Parsley, Gloria Barden, Mary Leech Elmore.

CIRCULATION STAFF: [illegible] Assistant Manager; Linda Saunders, Frances Mann, Nancy Lee Cole, Carolyn Axsom, Gay Ashworth, Sally Thomas, Sue Ellen Silver, Anne Lilliston, Sheila Galloway, Shirley Hughes, Carolyn Elliott, Emmy [illegible].

ADVERTISING STAFF: Liz Elko, Judy Detrich, Mary L. Elmore, Carolyn Grinstead, Jane McCulloch, Nancy Branscomb, Nancy Shaw, Doris Clapp, Grace Belvin, [illegible].

Entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1924. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

Easter Discoveries

It is significant that the celebration of the Easter season comes in the spring of the year. The time when nature reawakens in its fullest glory points most dramatically to that moment when man reached his greatest victory.

As we marvel in the rebirth of our world in nature, we feel the need for a rebirth in our own lives. As the climax of the Lenten period approaches and we prepare to enter into the observance of Easter may we reflect on the significance this holy day has for our lives. Christ overcame that we might also overcome. He suffered that we might live and believe that life does exist for our souls beyond this world.

If we are to discover the mystery of Easter we must get out into our world and witness the wonder of spring — the unfolding of a tiny flower — the wind ruffling bright new grass — a bird's lilting song. Bask in the beauty of spring but discover some new beauty in a piece of music, a good book, an inquiring conversation or some deep soul-searching thinking.

And make the greatest discovery — that Christ is in all life.

—Merle Ridinger

Support Your Officers!

If success can be measured by interest, participation, and support, then the newly-elected officers of your Student Government Association, House Council, Young Women's Christian Association, and Athletic Association are assured of a most successful year.

The unusually high percentage of each class voting in both major and minor elections indicates your interest and your willingness to serve your school. You have placed your confidence in these able and competent leaders; and with your continued cooperation and support, I am sure that 1959-1960 will be a most successful "Longwood" year!

—Dottie Boswell
Chairman Major-Minor Elections

Founders' Day Thanks

To all who aided in making Founders' Day a happy one, thank you.

May all who worked so hard for it and all who remained on campus to participate in the events or to be hostesses for the alumnae guests feel that the day was happily and well spent. Without you, the birthday celebration at the college could not have been so enjoyable.

Especially are the students the life-blood of college life; your enthusiasm and loyalty are the essence of the Longwood Spirit. Such spirit was yours in helping to celebrate Founders' Day. Thank you.

Miss Mary Nichols,
Chairman, Founders' Day Committee

Pairing Roommates

There are many causes of incompatibility between roommates, and it is here that the ability to adapt to various human personalities meets its hardest test.

There is the case of one roommate who retires early, the other late; one wants the window up, the other down; one wants to smoke, the other is allergic to smoke. There is the roommate who spends all of her time with other friends, abandoning her roommate. Perhaps most troublesome of all is the roommate who "borrows" anything from a [illegible] to a formal dress, many times without permission.

The student who has learned to be tolerant in her attitude and ethical in her conduct toward her roommate in college has already traveled a long way on the road to getting along with people wherever she may be later on in life.

Remember, Women-kin-ind: "To-more than half way in being friendly; show an interest in your roommate's do-in[illegible] [illegible] and buy your own toothpaste."

[illegible] will take place soon, so HAPPY ROOMMATE HUNTING TO YOU!

Mrs. Beulah Eva
North Cunningham House Mother

Fashion Finery Heralds Easter

Suits, Jacket Dresses Prove Chic In Many-Hued Wools, Silks

By JACKIE GIBSON

An early Easter calls for lightweight wool suits in smart plaids. The three piece walking-suit is quite popular among Longwood students for the holiday season. Silk print suits and tailored jacket dresses are in elegant taste and round out the spring selections.

Stylish Silks

The jacket dress is a very practical costume to carry over into hotter weather. They may be purchased in bright silk prints, heavy cotton checks and dark solid colors. In silks you will find tucks from neckline to hem, cape sleeves, and wide accented collars. Neutral tones from string beige to soft cinnamon will compete with the popular splash flowered prints.

Wider necklines and bigger collars, pockets, sleeves, and pocketbooks—which could not get much bigger—seem to be the new trend.

Hair Whimsy

Hair is also in the fashion news, but it's quite fake—blondes may be seen wearing a dark red pigtail under their flowered Easter bonnets. This is enough to scare away any dignified Easter Bunny! Pearls, rhinestones, and colored stones will soon be seen enhancing a variety of hair styles at hairline or atop the head.

White shoes and bag may seem to be rushing the season a bit; patent is the choice and will carry you right through the summer months. Shoes are quite a stylish attraction; nothing is too daring or too extreme.

Color is the watch word, if you plan to make good use of a last year's dress or suit. Add colorful accessories, and you will be in the heighth of fashion. See you on Fifth Avenue.

Longwood Library Gains New Books

In this paper we have already talked of people, places and things. Now let us expostulate on a topic of conversation seldom used, especially by the students — books. The library has just received several stacks of new books.

For you students of the Civil War, there are several new selections. "The Scarlet Guidon" by Ray Toepfer takes a group of men and boys from the backwoods of Alabama into battle in "Yankeeland" and shows how the pressures of combat affect them. In "To Appomattox," Burke Davis tells the exciting story of the last days of the Civil War and the events which led to the surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia.

All female college students, especially the business majors, will want to read "The Woman Executive" by Margaret Cussler. Miss Cussler tells all about the woman executive—how she got where she is, where she is going, and why.

The long list of new books includes a number in the educational field: "The American High School Today" by Doctor James B. Conant offers a penetrating analysis of the problems and needs of our high schools. G. Z. Bereday in "Public Education in America" explores all the latest problems of education in America.

In the field of science is "The Next Hundred Years" by Harrison Brown, James Bonner, and John Wier. It offers an exciting picture of the world of the next hundred years and a challenging presentation of some of the major questions that we will soon be called upon to answer.

These are only a few of the many interesting books that our library has recently received.

Gloves, In Elegant Airs, Varied Trims

Gloves have an especially elegant look this spring. Trimming techniques are many and varied and always subtle. Typical are all-over pin tucks, appliques and discreet beading.

Embroideries have a hand-made, delicate air. They appear in both vivid colors and such soft shades as pale green, blue and yellow. Some are empire - inspired designs of fruits or flowers.

Eyelets and perforations serve as decorations and also offer coolness.

Leather trims are popular, too, and leather is often combined with fabric. Patterned sheer nylon teamed with French kid looks new, feels light and comfortable, while washable leather and stretch yarns are another favorite combination.

Feather-weight washable kid, pique, printed cotton and stretch gloves are all in fashion's favor. High-count cotton gloves are closely knit, very soft to the touch and, in some cases, give the appearance of doeskin.

Easy-care virtues are offered by pastel striped nylon sheers and nylons trimmed with scallops, French knots and fagoting. Novelty jerseys and suedes with band and fold trimming are other good glove choices.

—From the Farmville Herald

Ringing Bells, Rings Highlight Week End

By SANDIE FARISH and PAT FOSTER

Church bells were ringing to announce the marriage of Longwood's Mason Hamlet to William Mercer Lowery, III, Saturday afternoon at the St. John's Episcopal Church in Farmville.

Betty Lockridge seems to be following in Mason's path; she is now the proud possessor of a sparkling gem commonly called a diamond. The lucky guy is Bob Armentrout, a junior at Virginia Tech.

Sophomore Louise Johns is also wearing a sparkler these days. She received hers from Roy Lane Pearson, a DU at U. Va., this past week end.

Whoops—the paper was about to go to press and we discovered that Betty Wood has just now become pinned to Roger Mayes, a sophomore and a KA at the University of Richmond. Just look at the stars in this Longwood freshman's eyes!!

A similar glow can be discovered about Sarah Lampton. She received a Delta Upsilon pin this week end while partying at U. Va.

Pan-Hell Queen

Longwood girls are still traveling around as usual to various campuses, seeking their wonderful week ends of excitement. Petite Sheila Galloway, a Kappa Delta pledge, represented the Phi Delta Thetas as their princess for the Spring Pan-Hells at Randolph-Macon and was elected queen over all other candidates. Congratulations, Sheila!

Representing this college at U. Va. this past week end for numerous parties were the following: Louise Johns, Peggy Mullin, Sarah Lampton, Maryanna Overholt, Carolyn Oliver, Peggy Tyre, Becky Wooldridge, Mary Lee Jones, Gail Jessee, Evelyn Beckham, Carolyn Clopton, Betty Clark, Jerri Rakes, Suzanne Grammer, and Carolyn Grinstead.

Also there were Claudia Wilson, Barbara Bolster, Eleanor Bradford, Page Davis, Jackie Davis, Ellen Grady, Susan O'Hara, Judy Robertson, and Lucy Trotter.

Partying at Washington and Lee's Phi Kappa Sigma house were Mary Linda League and Betty Hess, while Merle Ridinger was entertained at Duke University.

Adair Camp was seen having a wonderful time at the Lambda Chi Alpha All-State Ball at the Hotel Richmond in Richmond. By the way, the Lambda Chi chapter at our neighboring college, Hampden-Sydney, was proud to have their sweetheart, Ann Swertfeger, chosen to reign as All-State Queen over the gala celebrations.

Founders' Day Week End

Founders' Day was the scene of many of Longwood's alumnae occupying the rooms of present day Longwood girls who sought their entertainment on the campuses of various colleges.

Spending a frolicking week end at Randolph - Macon were Melissa Rowe, Kay Pierce, Pat O'Neil, Sue Humphries, Ann McDonald, Bonnie Keys, Martha Rucker, Bonnie Irby, Cherron Kelley, Patsy Carr, Carol Barnes, Neva Arnn, Sheila Galloway, Ann Scott, Beverly Gaskins, Becky Wooldridge and Pat Hickey.

While Marie Fisher traveled to Roanoke College for the KA parties and Merle Ridinger spent the week end at the University of Richmond, Pat Morgan and Elsie Jordan went to the state of North Carolina for their enjoyment. Pat was seen at Elon while Elsie was entertained at North Carolina.

Sue Caravella and Brenda Dodd were seen at Washington and Lee; having an equally good time at U. Va., we are sure, were Vicki Brinkley, Fran Steger, and Lois Ashworth.

Lynchburg College received Sarah Jane Buston: VPI welcomed Patti Roach; Norfolk Division of William and Mary entertained Della Higgins, and Linda Doles and Henrietta Dollins had fun at MCV parties in Richmond.

Players, Jongleurs Score Success With Shakespeare's Clever Comedy

By NORRISH MUNSON

Once again the Longwood Players - Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs combination has scored a success. Their recent production of Shakespeare's wonderful comedy, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," under the capable direction of Mr. David Wiley, will be long remembered.

Molly Workman, in a most believeable portrayal of Helena, captivated her audience from her first entrance and sustained it throughout the entire action of the play. Her playful antics, as she chased Demetrius through the woods, added life to the production.

The histrionic talents of Donna Boone as the merry sprite, Puck, as usual highlighted the play. Remarkable was the fact that a recent accident to her hand hindered her performance very little. Interesting, too, was the effective use she made of her disguise—in the form of a hand puppet.

Garnett Smith, in the role of Oberon, king of the fairies, turned in his usual outstanding performance. As Titania, his queen, Fran Steger and her band of fairies added enchantment to the magical land.

Other fine performances were given by Vicki Brinkley, George Hunter and Jim Robbins, with both George and Jim making their initial appearance on the Longwood stage.

Seniors Vicki Brinkley, Molly Workman, Amy McFail, Donna Boone, and Charter Wells made their final appearances in a major production. Much credit is extended to them, for they have added to the success of many productions during the last four years.

The rustics added a delightful touch to the already comic situation. Outstanding in this group was Bill Ragsdale who imaginatively created the humorous Shakespearian character, Bottom, the weaver, and kept the rustics' scenes moving at a rollicking pace. The audience particularly enjoyed their antics performed before Theseus' court with Bill Ragsdale and Jim Neal taking the honors, aided by Randy Keller, Bill Kempton, and Ben Morgan.

Special mention goes to the costume and light designers who did an excellent job.

The set that Mr. Wiley described as "formalistic" was unbelieveably effective. Consisting of ramps and platforms, it was arranged dynamically in planes and inclines which covered most of the stage area and part of the orchestra pit. The different levels made it possible to have interesting and varied stage pictures and provided more surface for stage action. Just by flying in three trees of unrealistic colors, the the set was transformed from the court of Theseus to a forest scene. The dramatically effective use of musical passages heightened the mood of the scenes and helped to tie them together.

All in all, Mr. Wiley's direction of Shakespeare's romantic fantasy was enjoyable, exciting, and in true keeping with his record of successes.

The Sentinel

By MATILDA POWELL

Make moan, my dear friend, make moan; in sorrow hang your head.
The mighty one has breathed his last; the sentinel is dead!
Through the ages he has stood; the seasons clothed him well;
And thus he guarded at the gate, while other 'round him fell.
Many happenings has he seen, and many secrets shared;
Yet while praising his dark beauty, none wondered how he fared.
Til at last black death crept up and cast on him a spell.
Ah, weep, dear friend, shed a tear for the dying sentinel.

(Editor's note: The poem above was written as a tribute to the old tree which used to stand on the front lawn of Ruffner and was cut down last week.)

—Staff Photo

ON THE JOB—Longwood's Martha hands beginning swimmer Sue Sharpe her tank suit.

Friend To L C Swimmers Enjoys 20 Years' Service

By LILLIE ROGERS

A landlubber herself, Mrs. Willie Knight has helped to keep Longwood girls "in the swim" for over 20 years. Her peculiar position is due to the fact that, although she herself cannot swim, she cares for the more than 400 swimsuits used by Longwood mermaids.

"I think swimming is a fine sport," she said, then added ruefully, "but I never learned how myself. I guess I'm too old to learn now."

No Lost Lives

Mrs. Knight, known as Martha, says that she likes her work. Unfortunately, there have been casualties in connection with her job. Not that anyone has lost a life—just a suit or two. This happens when girls misplace their suits or the laundry loses them.

Martha began her work in connection with the pool when her sister stopped. During the 34 years that she has worked for the college, many changes have occurred.

"Just Fish Pond"

"When I came here, the college was much smaller than it is now," she said. "There wasn't any swimming pool then—just a fish pond where the Sophomore 'Rec' is now."

Martha remembers the use of the Student Building as an auditorium, and also the burning of White House Hall, located where the present Tabb Hall is now.

"I don't know what caused the fire," she said, "but it sure was a big one."

In recalling the times when she herself was a teen-ager, Martha said, "I used to be crazy about softball. I played first base."

Still very active and energetic, Mrs. Knight has two children and six grandchildren.

Martha says she hopes to continue working here for several more years.

"I enjoy meeting the girls here," she said, "and especially the ones who return to visit after they've been married."

Placement News

June and graduation are just around the corner for seniors and many have accepted teaching positions in Virginia and made other definite plans for next fall.

Virlinda Joyner, Elizabeth Nichols, Elsie Dick, and Joan Dorsey have accepted jobs with the Fairfax County school system. In Newport News, Ann La Bonte, Joann Pivel, and Margaret Moore will represent Longwood. Jo Lynn Holland and Linda Fleshman have accepted positions in Princess Anne County and Roanoke, respectively. Also accepting jobs in Princess Anne County are Betty Spivey, Julia Grey Wallace, and Virginia Kuyk. Anne Keziah, Ernestine Stoltz, and Margaret Harris will be with the Norfolk County schools.

Molly Workman, who was recently granted a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship, will begin her graduate studies at Duke University in the fall. Betty McClenny has accepted a position as a mathematician at Langley Field.

Timely Topics

By MARTHA GRAY SHIRLEY and JUDIE WELCH

Ten years ago, on April 4, 1949, the United States broke a tradition that had existed since the foundation of the republic. Despite the gloomy predictions of a minority the United States joined a peacetime military alliance—NATO, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In the past decade both critics and supporters of NATO have had the opportunity to assess its accomplishments and to decide whether the United States was wise or foolish in entering the alliance. As it happens, the voices of the critics are strangely quiet today. Indeed, some of them may now be heard on the opposite side, whispering that NATO really does not go far enough in its realization and its aims. On its 10th anniversary NATO stands as the hope of the free world. Bitterly reviled by the Soviets—as a burglar might revile a tough policeman—and the target of repeated and feverish Soviet attempts to weaken or dissolve it, NATO remains the great and indispensable bulwark against aggression in Europe or North America.

Here in Prince Edward County there has been an appeal by the NAACP asking that, starting in the fall, there be integration in the elementary schools. In Richmond on April 14 there will be a convening of the federal circuit court at which time it will hear arguments on the case.

Virginians are told to resist integration by James C. Davis, a congressman from Georgia. He was the main after-dinner speaker at Virginia Democrats' annual Jefferson-Jackson Day celebration. The import of his message seemed to be that Virginia should never have accepted the court-compelled beginning of integration in several formerly all-white schools last month. One of the ways he suggested for states to keep segregated schools was to "organize with all who believe as we do and then work together with all the energy and determination we possess to win the battle."

A "relentless war" has been declared by President Eisenhower against inflation. He has appealed to the nation to help curb what he calls the "wild spenders" in Congress.

Church News

The YWCA held its annual Easter Sunrise Service at 6:45 this morning in the Sunken Garden.

Presbyterian

The Westminster Fellowship held a supper at the church last Sunday. Following the meal, Reverend Malcolm C. McIver spoke on "Christian Life on the Campus." Rev. McIver is the director of the Department of Campus Christian Life for the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church. Fellowship was held afterwards at the church.

West-Fel has planned a square-dance in the fellowship hall April 10. All Presbyterians are invited to attend.

Bible study will be held in Dottie Hamilton's apartment Thursday night from 7 to 9 p.m. Dave Moore from Hampden-Sydney will lead it.

Conferences End Winter Sports

By MARJORIE FREESE

The North Carolina State Wolfpack won the title of the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 85-56 score over North Carolina. But since the Wolfpack is on NCAA probation and ineligible to play in the Nationals, the Tarheels will be the representatives.

Swimming

In the Southern Conference swimming tournament, VMI won the championship with 101 points. The Citadel was runner-up with 75 points. In third place was Davidson with 64 points. Running a close fourth was VPI with 61 points. Fifth was William and Mary with 38 points, and sixth was West Virginia with 30 points.

Alumnae Games

Now is the time that the colleges are having the alumni football games. The University of Richmond team routed their alumni by a score of 40-6.

The alumni of the University of Virginia overcame the regulars with a 12-8 victory for the alumni.

With spring just blossoming forth, all interest will be on the outdoor sports that are popular for this season of the year. Tennis, track, outdoor swimming, and, of course, baseball, will soon be in the news. Keep watching.

Athletes Schedule '59-60 Installation Wednesday, April 1

The Athletic Association will install its 1959-1960 officers in the A. A. games room Wednesday, April 1.

Claudia Whipple, a junior from Middlebrook, has been elected to lead the Association in its activities for the coming year. Serving with Claudia will be vice-president Joan Creel, a junior from Warrenton; secretary Mary Hite Grayson, a sophomore from Radford; and treasurer Barbara Brantley, a sophomore from Suffolk.

Class Games Managers

Leading class sports participation will be class hockey managers, Lois Peters and Jo Savage; class basketball managers, Sarah Buston and Linda Sudduth; and class volleyball managers, Faye Ripley and Clara Lee Parker.

Pat Southworth and Virginia Parker have been chosen to serve as varsity hockey managers. Varsity basketball managers are Carolyn Thorpe and Mable Healy.

Gladys Patrick will be in charge of tennis, and Trina Childress will take over archery. Managing softball and wisket will be Winnie Egolf.

Standing Committees

Several Athletic Association working committees have also been chosen. Working on publicity are Erlene Queen and Jane Stegall. Bobby Caples, Alma Wright, Pat Shelton, and Ann Simmons will serve as the social committee.

The recreation committee includes Mate Fadely and Judy Martin. Gigi Maitland, Jeannette Townsend, and Morag Rocher will work on the ways-and-means committee.

Faculty Wins

Mr. James Helms led the faculty team that defeated the students March 25 at the faculty-student volleyball game. Also playing for the profs' team were Dr. Robert Brumfield (complete with red baseball cap), Mr. William Noble (with a new haircut), Miss Barbara Dowd, Mrs. Eleanor Weddle Bobbitt, Dr. Richard Meeker, Mr. John "Spike" Kennedy, and Mr. Robert Merritt.

LANSCOTT GIFT SHOP
Special Anniversary Sale
Register for Free Gifts
Month of March
LANSCOTT GIFT SHOP

NANCY ANDREWS

Coach Commends Andrews' Archery

The "leading spirit" for archery at Longwood is Nancy "Drawers" Andrews, according to Miss Rebecca Brockenbrough, Associate Professor of Physical Education.

Nancy, a senior physical education major from Roanoke, has been active in archery since her freshman year. She attributes this interest to the fact that "it is an individual challenge and it gives you self-satisfaction."

Manager of the class archery teams for three years, Nancy seems to have improved her skill each year. In the 1959 annual Women's Intercollegiate Archery Tournament she made Class A with 456 points.

An important member of the archery team this year, she says, "As a whole, we could have the best team we have ever had. We seem to have more interest and the people are more skilled than ever. If they keep at it, it looks as if we will have a much better team."

Other Sports

Archery is not the only sport in which "Drawers" has been active. Her participation in athletics includes varsity hockey for three years, class hockey for four years, both varsity and class basketball teams, and volleyball. Active in the H2O Club's water pageants, she served as chairman of the spring water clinic in 1958, and was assistant chairman of the Christmas water pageant in 1957.

In recognition of her activities, Nancy received a White Blazer last fall.

"I would like to see more people interested in archery as it is a very interesting, worthwhile and popular sport," she concluded.

Relax at the
Snack
With Your Friends!
Main Rec & Senior Rec

Longwood's Archers Rate Highest in South

Archery play a very big part among Longwood sports.

This season, the Longwood archery team will participate in meets with Westhampton and William and Mary. For the past two years Longwood has been quite successful in beating these teams. Longwood will meet William and Mary May 8 in Williamsburg and Westhampton May 16 here.

Telegraphic Meet

In addition to these meets Longwood also enters the annual Women's Inter-collegiate Archery Tournament. This is a "telegraphic meet" where each college is allowed a fifteen day period in which to shoot. The girls themselves are divided into two teams according to their ability in archery. At the end of this fifteen day period the best scores for each girl are sent in to the officials of the tournament.

In 1957 Longwood's first team placed sixteenth and in 1958 the first team was twelfth, which was the highest place for southern colleges.

The "telegraphic meet" also rates individual archers according to their score. In 1958, with 425 necessary points for the "A" class, Nancy Andrews made 456 points. Claire Floege was placed in the "B" class where 350 points are necessary. She had 359 points.

Color Cup Competition

Besides the inter-collegiate meets in archery, there are also intramural meets at Longwood in May in competition for the Color Cup.

Managers for the class teams are Nancy Andrews and Trina Childress. Anyone wishing to shoot must have at least eight practices which are held at 4 p.m. on Monday and Thursday. Those interested must see Miss Rebecca Brockenbrough, who is in charge of archery, to be assigned a bow.

'Seniors' Parade' Cops AA Contest

On Tuesday, March 24 the senior class went "on parade" and took the prize for their entry in the annual class song contest sponsored by the Athletic Association.

Sing chairman for the senior class was Joanne Sloop. Other chairmen were junior, Joanne Garner; sophomore, Dodie Webster; freshmen, Ann Howell and Ginna Chapman.

While judges Miss Elizabeth Gibert, Mr. Richard Brooks and Mr. Clifford Smith—were making their decision, the class of 1962 honored their sponsor, Mr. Raymond French, with their own special rendition of "Charlie Brown." Another highlight of the contest was the return of "old grads" Pat Hickey, Marian Meyer, Nancy Branscomb, and Dot Higgins.

Green and Whites are taking first place in the song contest for the second year, since the present sophomores took the prize last year.

Classes Compete For Coveted Cup

The Color Cup competition between the Red and Whites and Green and Whites progressed this past week in the class volleyball and basketball games.

The game results were as follows:

March 16 in Volleyball the freshmen defeated the juniors and the juniors defeated the freshmen; the sophomores defeated the seniors and the seniors defeated the sophomores.

March 17 in Basketball the seniors defeated the sophomores and the freshmen defeated the juniors.

March 18 in Volleyball the sophomores defeated the juniors in two games, and the seniors defeated the freshmen twice.

March 19 in Basketball the seniors defeated the freshmen and the sophomores defeated the juniors.

March 23 in volleyball the senior class defeated the juniors and the sophomores defeated the freshmen.

March 24 in basketball the seniors defeated the juniors; the sophomores defeated the freshmen.

So far the Green and Whites have taken the lead in points for the Color Cup.

The college changed its name in 1914 to State Normal School at Farmville.

The name of the college was again changed to State Teacher's College at Farmville in 1924.

Longwood College received its present name in 1949.

HIP, HIP, HURRAY for the GREYHOUND® way to save money!

Got the good word about Greyhound Scenicruiser Service®? It's the latest, the greatest way to go... with air-conditioning, picture windows, air-suspension ride and complete restroom! You'll have a ball headin' home on a Greyhound—it's often faster than other public transportation, and always less expensive!

COMPARE THESE LOW, LOW FARES:

Richmond	$1.90
[illegible]	3.45
Newport News	4.20
Washington, D. C.	4.90

*plus tax

BAGGAGE PROBLEMS? You can take more with you on a Greyhound. Or, send your belongings by Greyhound Package Express. They arrive in hours and cost you less!

IT'S SUCH A COMFORT TO TAKE THE BUS...AND LEAVE THE DRIVING TO US!

GREYHOUND

3rd & Garden Street
PHONE No. 742

Faculty News

Dr. R. K. Meeker, Associate Professor of [illegible] elected secretary-treasurer of the Virginia Conference of the American Association of University Professors at the organization's annual meeting in Richmond March 14. He will serve a two-year term. Dr. Meeker is also currently president of the Farmville chapter of the AAUP.

Miss [illegible] Meeting

Miss [illegible] Associate Professor of Education, and [illegible] will attend the 39th annual meeting of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics in Dallas, Texas, [illegible] the 24th Yearbook of the Council will be presented.

The [illegible] a series of five [illegible] an exchange from Thursday [illegible] the month at which time [illegible] of the Yearbook [illegible] presented by the [illegible] Dr. Landis [illegible] one of the chapter [illegible] Association for the Teaching of Mathematics." Miss Meeker [illegible] one of the members [illegible] who will discuss the [illegible] Dr. Lankford's presentation of it.

Cleaves Visits

Miss Ruth Cleaves, retired Dean of Women, visited Miss Emily Barbour for the Founders' Day activities and during the week following. She attended the Birthday Dinner Thursday, March 19.

Language Arts Meeting

Dr. R. [illegible] and Mr. Foster B. [illegible] English Department, represented Longwood College at the South Conference of Teachers of Language Arts held at the University of Virginia last Saturday. The conference was devoted to the subject of structural linguistics, and Dr. Simonini participated in a round-table discussion of "How Can We Use the New Grammar?" Mr. Gresham attended the meeting as executive - secretary of the Virginia Association of Teachers of English and [illegible] of its bulletin.

Spear to Cleveland

Miss Jennifer Spear, Assistant Dean of Women at Longwood College, represented Longwood at the national convention of the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors. The convention was held March 19-22 in Cleveland, Ohio.

Visiting Principals Give Suggestions

Reactions [illegible] to Longwood made by the high school principals and counselors visiting February 19 [illegible] followed.

After consultation with freshmen [illegible] discussions were held.

The [illegible] for luncheon [illegible] seems to have given the college [illegible] and [illegible] should.

[illegible] of afternoon English conferences.

[illegible] for visitation day next year that they have an opportunity to talk to talk to freshmen and sophomores on [illegible]

[illegible] to [illegible] the [illegible] dilous and excellent quality of the [illegible] are [illegible] to come [illegible]

Madrigals Freshman Chosen As President For [illegible] Session

The [illegible] of Longwood College, Madrigal Mr. [illegible] of the above musical organization for the [illegible] many [illegible]

Also [illegible] Miss [illegible] Rowe, [illegible] with [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Support
Arts Festival
Next Week

The Rotunda

Congratulations
Juniors
On Y-Sing

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., April 8, 1959 | No. 17

April 13 To Mark Arts Festival Opening

Southern Shadows Chosen As Theme For Dance April 11

By JO ANNE PARSONS

White silhouettes against a dark background will romantically portray the mood of old plantations and colonial homes as the Cotillion Club members carry out the theme of "Southern Shadows" for their annual dance here April 11 in the Main Rec from 8 until 12 p.m.

Morrow's Band

Buddy Morrow's band will be making its second appearance at Longwood as he returns for the dance this year. The band previously played for the Cotillion Club in 1956.

Party For Members

Immediately after the dance there will be a party in the Main Rec for members of the club and their dates.

Receiving Line

Receiving guests for the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. A. Ray Merchant, Dr. and Mrs. Francis G. Lankford, Miss Jenelle Spear, and all officers of the Cotillion Club and their dates.

Serving as chaperons of the dance are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bobbitt, Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Wamsley, Dr. and Mrs. Richard K. Meeker, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Helms, and Miss Barbara Dowd.

Committee Heads

Various committee members for the dance are Melinda Franklin, Addie Richardson, Mary Pem Louis, and Carole Lassiter, decorations; Annie Lee Young and Becky McGrath, invitations; Liz Fentress, party; Ernestine Stoltz, figure and program; and Addie Richardson, clean-up.

Officers of the Cotillion Club are Cass Connor, president; Betty Spivey, secretary - treasurer; Ann Glover, business manager; Ernestine Stoltz, figure leader; and Mr. Ray Merchant, adviser.

—Staff Photo

ORCHESIS MEMBERS prepare for Fine Arts Festival—(l. to r.) Tweety Lambiotte, LaVerne Collier, Joan Dorsey, Connie Goodman, Dona Marquette, Betty Britton.

Parsons Selected LC's Correspondent For Times-Dispatch

Jo Anne Parsons, a sophomore English major from Richmond, will represent Longwood as a college correspondent for the Richmond Times-Dispatch next year.

It will be her job to depict different phases of life at Longwood in her series of articles for the Richmond newspaper.

A veteran in journalistic work, she is currently serving as news editor of the Rotunda. In high school Jo Anne edited the Manchester paper, and last year she presided over the annual Southern Interscholastic Press Association convention at Washington and Lee.

Miss Pat Vint who writes for the Woman's Department of the Times-Dispatch interviewed Jo Anne and several other members of the Longwood newspaper staff for the job here several weeks ago.

Literary Contest

The Colonnade is sponsoring its annual literary contest for short stories, essays, poetry and art. A first prize of 10 dollars and a second prize of five dollars will be awarded in each of the four divisions.

General rules governing the contest ending April 20 are as follows: Length of the short stories must be between 1000-2500 words. Essays must be not less than 1,500 nor more than 3,000 words. Drawings must be in black ink on white paper, suitable for a magizine cover. Every piece submitted must be typewritten and double spaced. The name of the contributor must be attached separately as each will be judged anonymously.

The judges are Dr. Marvin Schlegel, Miss Virginia Tyre, and Miss Annie Ross.

Harris Announces Colonnade Staff For 1959-60 Year

Positions on the 1959-60 Colonnade staff have been announced by Editor-in-Chief Judy Harris.

Editorial Staff

Sandra Clements will edit the short story section; LaVerne Collier will serve as poetry editor; Pat Cleveland will act as essay editor; Dotsie Wheeler will become review editor; and Mary Linda League will head the art section.

Serving as editorial assistants are Lee Burnette, Page Davis, Judy Detrich, Liz Diechman, Sandra Ferebee, Lina Fippin, Sue Gosnell, Peggy Green, and Jean Marie Heller.

Others are Kay Howard, Edmonia Leech, Lillie Rogers, Jane Stegall, Becky Tuck, Emily Umbarger, Sandra Watkins, and Sandra Weaver.

Business Staff

Barbara Rossiter, business manager of the Colonnade, heads the following staff:

Circulation manager, Linda Sullivan, with Lucy Trotter, Virginia Fergusen, Archer Cassada, Glenna Snead, Carlotta Wisecarver, and Susan Crisman assisting.

Head typist, Becky Abernathy, with Barbara Railey, Sarah Rock, Gayle Jones, Carolyn Rancorn, Bonnie Irby, Judy Smith, Fran Gallahan, Margaret Shumate, Joyce Ellis, and Shirley Hughes assisting.

Dr. Richard K. Meeker serves as adviser.

Choir, Spanish Club Select New Officers

Choir

Jo Ann Garner has been elected as president of the Longwood choir for the coming year.

Other officers are as follows: vice-president, Carolyn DeHaven; secretaries, Melissa Rowe and Nancy Kelly; and treasurer, Jean Dancy.

Jo Ann, a junior from Chase City is a music major. This year she served as a co-chairman of the junior Circus stunt and was tapped into Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honorary leadership fraternity.

Spanish Club

Barbara Fisher has been chosen to lead the Spanish Club during the 1959-60 year.

Working with her will be Bobby Koons, vice-president; Ann Ranson, secretary; and Jeanette Metcalf, treasurer.

Barbara, who is a junior from Roanoke, is majoring in Spanish. This year she served as treasurer of the club.

College Features Varied Programs Of Dance, Drama, Art, Choral Work

By AGNES MASSIE

The second annual Festival of the Fine Arts at Longwood College, April 13-17, will begin with a dance concert and choir program. Works in art, dance, drama and music will be featured during the five-day program.

The events will consist of nightly performances at 8 p.m. in Jarman Hall by students, faculty and visitors. Art exhibits by students and faculty will be displayed throughout the entire week.

Evening of Dance

The first performance will be an "Evening of Modern Dance" April 13. It is sponsored by Orchesis, honorary modern dance society, and the Department of Physical Education. Over forty students will take part in the most unusual concert ever attempted by Orchesis. Compositions are varied, ranging from folk themes to strains of Malament and Chopin to jazz elements of Gershwin, Brubeck, and Rogers. Jazz themes will predominate from beginning to end, reaching a high point in Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue." Within the hilarity of spoofing and hoofing, the seriousness is self-evident in the works "Patterns of Forces," parts of "Color Is a Woman" and the two Chopin Mazurkas.

"We Dance," the opening composition, consists of three parts: "freely," "jauntily," and "rhapsodically," which set the pace and themes for the evening's concert. The second number is entitled "Three Images."

"Color Is a Woman" is the most exciting work of the season, according to those who are taking part in it, and to those who have viewed parts of it in rehearsal. Using music which was especially composed for the poetry, it is more than a tone poem in color and movement. Vicki Brinkley, as narrator, sets the stage for the change in character and moods of woman.

"Pattern of Forces," a group work to music of Crowton, opens the second half of the program followed by the Chopin Mazurkas as solo dances.

The last work is simply entitled "Now." Using popular music, it swings from the tap dance idiom and the days of the Charleston in "Twelfth Street Rag" to "Almost Good," a beat jazz, and finally to "Splish Splash," a take-off of a typical Longwood scene.

The dances to be presented, outgrowth of classwork, are under the direction of Mrs. Emily K. Landrum, Associate Professor of physical education.

Choral Program

On the second night, April 14, The Washington and Lee Glee Club, the Longwood Choir and the Madrigal Singers will present a joint concert.

The Longwood Choir will begin the concert with several classical selections followed by the W and L

Continued on page 4

Lankford Releases Faculty Additions For Coming Year

Five faculty positions have been filled, according to Dr. Francis G. Lankford, for the coming year.

Mr. A. Milton Chambers, Assistant Professor of business education, will fill the position vacated by the death of Mr. Christy Snead last fall. Now Assistant Professor of business education at Berry College in Georgia, Mr. Chambers has held this position for six years. He received his B.S. degree in business administration from Berry and his M.S. in business education from the University of Tennessee.

Mr. Robert D. Higginbotham, Assistant Professor of history, has served as acting instructor at Duke and comes to Longwood from William and Mary. A native of Missouri, he received his A.B. and M.S. degrees from Washington University, St. Louis, Missouri. This June he expects to be awarded his doctor's degree from Duke.

An Instructor in mathematics, Mr. Hunter Ballew will come to Longwood from a position teaching mathematics at the Metairie Park Country Day School, Metairie, Louisiana. A North Carolinian, Mr. Ballew received his A.B. and M.Ed. degrees from the University of North Carolina.

Miss Virginia Walker will serve

(Continued on page 4)

Virginia State Day Draws To Richmond Alpha Sigma Alphas

Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority will hold its tenth annual Virginia State Day April 11.

That morning will find representatives from three college chapters and Virginia and District of Columbia alumnae chapters registering at the Colony Club, Hotel Jefferson, Richmond.

The honored guests will hold a discussion of the sorority through the years. Guests are the national president, Mrs. Robert Grady, of Orange; national editor, Mrs. E. H. Crompton, Jr., of Richmond; national historian, Mrs. Charles Hamilton, of Alexandria; national constitution chairman, Mrs. Wallace Chandler, Richmond; the first national president, Mrs. Edna Flegal Jones, and one of the five original founders of the sorority, Mrs. H. E. Gilliam, of Richmond.

A film of the 1958 National Convention at Galen Hall, Pennsylvania, will be shown.

Mrs. James Francis is chairman of State Day. Members of Alpha chapter planning to attend State Day are Fran McLaughlin, Sue Price, Kay Pierce, Patricia Hickey, Page Davis, Ginny Whipple, Charlotte Page and Bet McLaughlin.

Limerick Winners

Pat Cleveland, Carolyn Elliott and Sandra Weaver have been announced as winners in the Colonnade limerick contest. Each received five dollars for her winning entry.

May Day Band

The Vagabonds from Lynchburg will play for the May Day Dance May 2. The ten member group played at Longwood for the Slater [illegible]

Annis Norfleet, chairman, said the dance will be from 8-12 p.m. in the Main Rec. Tickets will be [illegible] and dress will be semi-formal.

[illegible] as assistant chairman. Brenda Rae Drewery is in charge of tickets. Betty Griggs, invitations; Jeannine McKenzie and Gaynor Van Landingham, clean-up; Chris Kamen, publicity; Molly Workman, figure; Kay Hudgins, music; Betsy [illegible] and Ann Mixon, lights.

AKG Taps Five For Membership

By CHRIS KAMEN

Senior Molly Workman and juniors Jean O'Connell, Jo Ann Garner, Ruth Denton and Carol Matthews were tapped by the Longwood Chapter of Alpha Kappa Gamma during assembly last Tuesday. The national honorary fraternity chose these five in recognition of their leadership ability.

Molly Workman

Molly Workman, a senior from Norfolk, is an English major. She is a member and president of Beore Eh Thorne, a local honorary society in English; Alpha Psi Omega honorary dramatic fraternity; Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education; and Longwood Players. Molly was recently appointed a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship for graduate study in English at Duke University for next year.

Upon being tapped Molly commented, "I am very honored and have not gotten over the surprise yet."

Ruth Denton

Newly elected president of Student Government, Ruth Denton had this to say when asked how she felt about being tapped. "all my emotions add up to my being very surprised and pleased."

Ruth is a junior elementary major from Abingdon and has been very active in Student Government activities during her three years here, being class representative her freshman and sophomore years and past treasurer of the same. She is also a member of Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority, Cotillion Club, Wesley Foundation and is presently serving as business manager of the Longwood College Handbook.

Jo Ann Garner

Jo Ann Garner, a junior music major, is from Chase City. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Iota, music fraternity; Kappa Delta Pi; Cotillion Club; Student Education Association; "Y" cabinent and band. Jo Ann is also vice-president and accompanist for the choir and was recently elected senior class historian for next year. This year she was the junior Circus chairman and a member of the court.

(Continued on page 4)

Staff Photo

AKG NEW MEMBERS are (seated l. to r.) Jean O'Connell, Jo Ann Garner, Ruth Denton, (standing) Carol Matthews, Molly Workman.

A Foreign Language?

Not too many years ago the mark of an educated person was ability to speak a foreign language. Many people memorized a few trite phrases in Latin or some other language simply to create the impression that they were cultured.

Why have ideas changed so drastically in recent years? While Latin was once the backbone of education and other tongues an absolute necessity for an educated person, today Latin is considered "dead" and languages other than English are neglected by both high school and college students. They cannot see any "future" in such studies.

Reasons for lack of interest seem to stem from the scanty knowledge of and emphasis placed upon them. Yet many great operas are still sung in Italian. Much of the world's greatest literature was originally written in a language other than English and has lost some of its beauty through translation. The thousands of American tourists visiting other countries each year could vastly increase their pleasure by knowing something of the people and nations through a study of the languages.

Besides vacationing in foreign lands, many Americans — especially college graduates — seek jobs in these places. In such cases knowledge of a foreign language is an invaluable aid in securing the positions and then adjusting to the country.

Yet, despite the lack of stress upon foreign languages in the last fifty years, interest seems to be reviving with the current trend of scholarships especially for language majors. The government and big business concerns have established numerous teacher exchange programs and grants for them. And foreign languages are even being introduced into the elementary classroom.

The problem now is to awaken interest in students and to spotlight the possibilities and adventures that await them in this rapidly widening field. Registration begins tomorrow for juniors with the other classes following later. As you select your courses consider those offered in French, Spanish, and Latin — if there is sufficient demand.

—Yvonne Webb

Longwood's SPCA

Kittens . . . there is something about them that has a special appeal for the college girl. For short periods throughout the school year, Longwood becomes a haven for felines whose appearance, diet, and reception create unusual and sometimes rather startling results.

A college lass's maternal instincts seem to be aroused by these woebegone bits of fluff. The rule-of-thumb governing the acquisition is, apparently, that the dirtier the fur and the more ribs showing, the more desirable a commodity their owner becomes. The range of available colors is wide: some are a monotone gray or black, but a white collar button or tail tip increases the value. Those most highly prized look as if they had just emerged from alternate dips in buckets of white, yellow, and gray paint.

Now cats are traditionally considered fish-eaters, often to the exclusion of anything else but milk or a mouse encountered by chance. The Dining Hall and Rec can't always comply with such wishes, however, and here the guests reveal their true gentility of manner — by agreeably consuming almost anything set before them. One such visitor recently proved that powdered milk is equally as tasty as fresh and then went on to enjoy stale American cheese. The dessert? Why, bits of left-over fruitcake.

Eager to please, these specimens from the feline world frequently wander about the halls, presumably inspecting both the school and its occupants. Their interest, not always taken in the well-intended way offered, provokes an occasional squeal of alarm. This issues from some less appreciative student, perhaps jarred from the land of sleep by a sudden thud on her bed and a contented purr in her ear. For some reason Tom shortly finds himself thrust once more upon the world — a wiser, and fuller, cat.

Farmville really doesn't need an SPCA — Longwood ladies have the situation well in hand.

Be-Kind-To-Roof-Day

Attention all sun lovers! Can you imagine what the roof conditions would be like if the college had not so generously provided facilities for all our sun bathing refuse? Or perhaps it would be even more drastic to find that, after it had taken you at least a half hour to gather up all your roof paraphernalia with the idea in mind that a leisurely time of basking in the sun was in store for you, you find that there was not any vacant room — simply because some unkind person had left her odds and ends behind upon leaving. Sounds miserable, huh?

The above does not have to be. Why not make every sunny day "Be-Kind-To-The-Roof-Day." It is easy to do if you cooperate. All you need do is keep in mind that your nature loving colleagues have come to enjoy the sun and not your debris and belongings. —Chris Kamen

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 20, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia.

Cherry Gorham ..... Editor-in-Chief

Chris Kamen ..... Managing Editor
Dale Priddy ..... Business Manager
Jo Anne Hawkins ..... News Editor
Joann Kleinecke ..... Feature Editor
Nancy Leyhan ..... Sports Editor
Sandra Wenner ..... Desk Editor
Anne D. Flowers ..... Photographs
Carole Lancaster ..... Art
Arlene McKay ..... Circulation Manager
Bonnie Bassett, Mary Monroe ..... Advertising Managers
Miss Mary P. Jeffries ..... Faculty Advisor

(Unsigned editorials written by the editor)

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press (Rating first class), Columbia Scholastic Press Association (Rating first place), Intercollegiate Press.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1894. Represented for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

LITTLE MAN on CAMPUS by BIBLER

"MATH F, PSYC F, ENGLISH F, AN' A 'C' IN PHYS ED — JUST SHOWS YA WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YA SPEND ALL YER TIME STUDYIN' ONE SUBJECT."

'Roofing' Rates High On Campus

By JOANN KLEINECKE

About the time that February's chill is thawing and March's first glimmer of sun begins to shine, Longwood's most popular sport gets underway — "roofing!"

The only qualifications necessary to be a member of the "roof team" are a blanket, pillow, portable radio, plenty of class cuts, Blue Cross (pneumonia and sun poisoning being prevalent at this time), and the will to succeed in tanning against all odds — rain, Peeping Toms, blistering, and classes scheduled at inconsiderate hours.

It seems that at least ninety-nine and forty-four one-hundredths per cent of the student body meets the roof requirements, and each soaks up Old Sol in her own way. For example, Modest Molly can be seen making her appearance in two sweaters, a trenchcoat, dungarees, sweat socks, sunglasses, and a scarf. (She doesn't want to appear scantily clothed.) But hark—what's this? She's barefooted and stretches out shyly to expose her toes. No, no one is looking. How could they, when that screen that Moll has set up is a 7 by 12 foot beauty! However, our gal Molly will have the most efficiently tanned feet in school, to be sure.

Tripping along behind Molly (and tripping is the word), Undecided Ursula makes her appearance. She just couldn't decide what she's need in her half hour's stay on the roof, so she brought everything. Bobby pins, a carton of cigarettes, a stuffed dog, eight books, a cosmetic kit, and five pickle sandwiches may not sound like a lot, but think of the space Ursie will take up!

Samantha Scantily is sure to make the scene under the Big Eye clothed just that-a-way! This miss comes armed with an 85 gallon jar of suntan oil and a sunsuit that would "out-Brigette Brigette!" Her outfit is held together by two bits of string, will-power, and the raincoat she was forced to don before going "roofing." 'Manthy also has a large hunk of chalk with which she marks down her accident victims on the wall—"Men painting dome—12," "Pilots—53," and "Tree Surgeons—48." Quite an impressive list for a mere college gal!

Margie Mayburn takes no chances when it comes to taking the sun. A black hood covers her face, having small cut out areas to expose the tougher spots, such as eyebrows and ears, to those good ol' rays. The rest of her body is protected by four alternate layers of cream

(Continued on page 4)

Florida Lures LC Seniors Who Report Ideal Holiday

By JUDY DETRICH

It's spring—all of the birds that spent the winter lolling in the Southern sunshine have returned. But, what's this! Instead of getting Virginia sunshine a la roof, several Longwood seniors were seen in Florida during the Easter vacation.

Barbara Purks and Connie Levinson visited Fort Lauderdale, while Jo Bailey headed for Palm Beach. The beach is fine, she reports—and she saw singer Dick Haymes there, too!

When school closed on Thursday, Sue Rawlings, Carole Vick, Willy Taylor, Jackie Waller, Hilda Thompson and Pat Campbell set out for Pensacola. Pensacola: a city of sunshine, natural resources, Air Force and Navy bases.

Everything went well until South Carolina. There Hilda was given a formal greeting card—in the form of a ticket! In this same state the starving girls pulled into a restaurant where the too happy waitresses served them pancakes, "three inches thick, ten inches wide, and hard as rocks."

Without further mishap the girls arrived at Pensacola. A lot of action was packed into the few days they were there. Willy remarked, "We went to the beach and nearly froze—was it cold!"

As citizens of this great country of ours, they felt it was their duty to tour the Air Force and Naval bases. This involved a third degree—at both places the car was searched from trunk to glove compartment.

Police! Police!

Police, police, police. In Pensacola, Jackie (just for fun) toured the city police station and was fingerprinted. Later the whole group was stopped for violating a one-way street sign, and spent four hours talking their way out of another ticket. The time wasn't spent in vain, for it ended in an official tour of the city.

Tragedy entered Willy's life in Florida. While they were on the other side of Pensacola Bay, a barge obstructed the bridge and they were stranded. Sounds like fun—but not for Willy. It seems that she was missing the chance to date an heir to eight and a half million dollars. "Eight and one half million dollars," she wailed.

Return Planned

About their trip, Willy remarked, "You should have lived it!" In fact they plan to re-live it—all six are going to return to Pensacola in August.

Betty Griggs, Burks Keith, Betty Spivey, and Gin Kuyk planned to keep a journal of their trip. The first entry: 5 a.m., March 25. We leave Farmville. "You see," they explained, "we wanted to get an early start." The next entry: 7:30 a.m., March 25. Stopped for breakfast—seven miles from Farmville! After leaving Virginia, things happened so fast that the journal was

(Continued on page 4)

Social Notes

By SANDIE FARISH and PAT FOSTER

The Easter bunny brought lots of surprises in his Easter basket for Longwood ladies over the holidays.

Wedding Bells

Wedding bells are ringing to announce Patty Roach's marriage to Richard Dillard.

Engagements

Easter seemed to be the season for diamonds as many were presented rings by their very special "Easter bunnies." Kay Hudgins received hers from Cassell Basnight from Lynchburg College and Cass Connor's came from Pat Flatley, who attends college in Kansas.

Putting that special gleam in Ann Smith's eye to match the gleam on her left hand was Michael Miller, a freshman at Bridgewater College.

Bev Kersey is proudly displaying the diamond given her by Jim Monahan of William and Mary College, while Carol Sanders is flashing a gem presented to her by Bob Fitzgerald of New York City. Faye Garrett wears the diamond of Larry Lawton from Norfolk.

Also receiving sparklers were Mary Robbins and Natalie Tudor. Mary's came from Bill Hawkins who is in his last year at Campbell Junior College in North Carolina, and Don Hartman, a medical student at Temple University, gave Natalie hers.

Ann Keziah received a diamond from Speir Edwards of Boykins last week end.

Pinned

Judy Jones and Jean Dancy are now "sparkling" with happiness over their fraternity pins. Judy's special man is a V.M.I. sophomore, J. C. Tharrington, and Jean's is a V.P.I. cadet, Emmett Scott.

Traveling out of the state to the University of North Carolina were Mary Kay Rice, Arlene McKay, and Shirley Ann Murray. Lee Page went to Auburn College in Auburn, Alabama for the Phi Kappa Phi house party.

Back in Virginia we found Pat Green at U. Va., Lee Burnette at V.P.I., Bev. Kersey at W. and M., and Mary Byrd Micou at Lynchburg College. V.M.I. welcomed Ann Coleman, Nancy Inge, Bonnie Irby, Lina Fippin, and Becky Tuck. Joann Kleinecke and Betty Ruffin were seen partying at the Randolph-Macon KA House.

Humor?

By JANE STEGALL

Hello. . .I'm back again. . Just sitting here trying to think of something for us to discuss. Every time my train of thought almost hits something, I come up with a string of empties. Guess the cause of this is the time of year. Spring. . . spring was a delightful season, now its obsolete except in poetry. No . . .I take that back. . .but spring is seldom as slushy as the poetry it inspires. Spring at Longwood is really no different from spring anywhere else. Let's just walk around campus and notice some of the contours of spring!

On the benches out front we find our many couples. The boys all seem to feel gallant and the girls buoyant. Love marks our first plateau. Let's move on to the roof. Everyone is trying to see who can get the most sun. Funny thing. . .long ago girls used to hide their tans; now they tan their hides. Anyway. . .spring does bring out sunbathers. On the A.A. field we see some girls just putting around with some golf balls. Brings to mind the fact that spring is the time of year that farmers and golfers do their plowing. The season in general is a season of balls: golf, tennis, base, and moth. This covers just about everything.

Well, I've done nothing but ramble this week. Idleness is the keynote of everything around here. . . nothing to do and lots of time to do it in. Next time I promise I'll have someting to say. So until then. . .All's well that ends.

—Staff Photo

GOING PLACES are privileged seniors, C. Vick, M. Mann, W. Norman, J. L. Thomas, (front) J. Harper, M. Rucker, N. Cross.

Seniors Prize Privilege— Authorized Autos

By MATTIE BLEWETT

What July 14 is to the French and what July 4 is to the United States, March 26 is to Longwood's class of '59. For on this day they too were blessed with a new right—the right to keep that American necessity, an automobile, on campus. No more do they walk to the laundry with burdensome bundles on their backs or, after a hard day of classes, tread heavily down the hill to the corner drugstore.

Connie Carlton in her 1959 white Impala convertible is a wonderful sight to her fellow classmates when she stops to offer them a ride. Sandra Kilmon finds her 1958 Renault, a graduation gift from her parents, most useful. At present, she is instructing "Hurstie" (Barbara Hurst) in the art of driving. Weedie Norman is the proud owner of a 1959 Hilman Minx, an English sportscar, which more often can be seen in motion rather than in a parked position. Joan Lee Thomas received a Renault for graduation. When asked what she like most about the 1950 smart-looking auto, she said "The gas mileage!"

Since that eventful day in March, Lou Heier can be found in the driver's seat of a 1955 red 'n white DeSoto, the use of which is a graduation present from her boyfriend. Lou says that it is very convenient to have around and that undoubtedly it will come in quite handy with the May Day parparations now in full swing.

Other seniors with transportation other than by foot are Martha Rucker, whose green 'n white 1959 Ford was a Christmas present; Nancy George, whose grandmother gave her a 1954 Chevrolet for her birthday; Jackie Harper and Mead Mann, who respectively are using their fiance's and current beau's cars; and Nancy Cross—whose brother loaned her his car after having the extra mufflers removed for fear she would have a little difficlty in keeping them quiet.

Nowadays Longwood seniors are saying 50 cheerful praises for Mr. Henry Ford and all those other pioneers of that great American mode of transportation—the automobile!

Timely Topics

By JUDIE WELCH

A dramatic example of strength in unity was noted in the tenth anniversary meeting last week of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's council. The speeches were significant of a common purpose and symbolic of a cause that offers the counsel of moral force but at the same time displays a firm intention to use military force to resist aggression. Throughout all the speeches there was a recognition of the gravity of the whole situation.

President Eisenhower's address gave warning that in dealing with East-West disputes the Western World must "always avoid substituting illusions for reality." He pleaded for the "sacrifice needed to maintain and improve our collective strength over a long period of time." He then pledged that "we shall always keep open the door of honest discussion—even to those whose creed is world domination."

Top Indian political advisers were rushed to join the Dalai Lama still at the northeast frontier. There were indications that Prime Minister Nehru wants to keep the Tibetan ruler under wraps during his refuge in India. Nehru is trying to avoid any incident—or statement—that might lead to an open rift with Red China. This act of Nehru may have come about because of newsmen hurrying to reach the old Buddhist king for a direct story on his flight from the Chinese Communists.

Church News

By FRANCES HARNSBERGER

The Y.W.C.A. held its first meeting of the new year April 1. The purpose of the meeting was to select the advisor and board for the year.

Baptist

Spring Retreat for the B.S.U. will be the week end of April 17 at Eagle Eyrie. Several of the Longwood students will participate in the program with students from other colleges.

Cost of the week end is $8 plus $1.75 for transportation. Please register with either Cherron Kelley or Margie Layman by April 10.

Jean Fairfax, newly elected B.S.U. president; Frances Ayres, secretary; Laura Carson, treasurer; and other officers, committee heads, and council members of the B.S.U. will be installed April 12 at the regular evening service.

The B.S.U. choir will present a program of sacred music April 10 at 8 p.m. Several vocal solos and a violin solo will also be featured.

The Farmville Baptist Church is celebrating Youth Week this week. Tonight the youth of the church will have charge of prayer meeting. Next Sunday they will be in charge of the various church activities.

Episcopal

The new officers of the Canterbury Club for 1959-60 are John Seaman, president; Cecil Kidd and Walter Walker, vice-presidents from Longwood and Hampden-Sydney respectively; Eleanor Bradford, secretary; and Mollie Lambert, treasurer. Installation of the new officers will be held in the Episcopal Church April 12 at 7 p.m.

Following the installation, the Reverend Vache will talk on the symbols of the church. He will conclude his talk on the following Sunday.

Methodist

Election of new officers for the Wesley Foundation will be held Sunday night, April 12, preceding the regular Wesley meeting. Voting will be by secret ballot, and any Methodist or Methodist affiliate who has attended three or more Wesley meetings is eligible to vote.

Installation of officers will be Sunday, April 19 at 7 p.m.

Play Cast

Alpha Psi Omega has announced the cast for their production of Tennessee William's "The Glass Menagerie." Molly Workman will play Amanda Wingfield, the mother; Vicki Brinkley, the daughter, Laura Wingfield; Billy Graham, the son, Tom Wingfield; and George Hunter, the gentleman caller, Jim O'Connor.

The three-act play is to be given as part of the Fine Arts Festival April 17. Mrs. David Wiley is director.

LC Rose Bowl

Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, has challenged the Student Government Association to a game of touch-football.

The setting for the big event is Tuesday, April 23, 4 p.m. on the Athletic Field.

Admission for the "Rose Bowl" is 10 cents.

Sports Review

By MARJORIE FREESE

Spring is here and the colleges are engaging in outdoor sports. Baseball, tennis, track, and swimming rate high on the list of activities.

Baseball

The previously unbeaten Yellow Jackets were defeated by the Delaware team in baseball. The score was Randolph-Macon 0, Delaware 4.

Hampden-Sydney acquired another Mason-Dixon Conference victory with a 15-7 win over Washington College.

The Norfolk Division of William and Mary won both its games with Lynchburg College. The scores respectively, 5-1 and 5-3.

Washington and Lee defeated the Parris Island baseball team with an 11-1 victory for the Generals.

Bridgewater scored an 11-4 victory over Mt. Union College. And Hampden-Sydney edged out Guilford with a score of 3-2.

The Norfolk Division of William and Mary as beaten by Montclair, a New Jersey college, with a 8-1 victory for the Teachers.

Tennis

In a Mason-Dixon Conference tennis match, Randolph-Macon outshone Catholic University 6-1.

Virginia overcame Haverford with a 8-1 victory for the Cavaliers. Lynchburg outplayed Catholic University. The score was 5-3.

William and Mary was bowled over by Colgate with a 9-0 victory for Colgate.

Track

Maryland racked up points in the ACC track contest against Virginia. The score was Maryland 121 and the Cavaliers 10.

Roanoke College won a Little Eight Conference victory as well as when it defeated Hampden-Sydney.

The score was 70 2-3 points for Roanoke and 42 1-3 for Hampden-Sydney.

Longwood Advises Visiting Principals

Additional information on the recommendations made to Longwood and to Virginia's high schools on Principals' and Counselors' Visitation Day at Longwood, February 19, have been released.

At the high school level it was suggested that:

Speech courses should be required in high school.

Examinations in the high schools should be made more comprehensive and geared toward the college pattern.

Development of skills in reading, speaking, writing, outlining and note-taking should be stressed.

Writing of themes should be begun not later than the sophomore year.

All college preparatory students should take typewriting in high school.

At the college level it was suggested that:

Prospective teachers should be taught how to handle classes in which students are grouped according to their abilities.

The present college freshman history course is a very valuable one to teach freshmen the necessity of critical thinking.

Some students finish high school mathematics as early as the sophomore year. They do not resume the study of mathematics until as late as the junior year in college. It would be well to consider shortening the lapse of time between the study of mathematics in high school and college. This appears to be a responsibility of both the high schools and the college.

SPRING'S ARRIVAL heralds a variety of sports at Longwood.

H-SC Spring Sports Schedule

Baseball

April	10	Mt. St. Mary's	Home
April	11	Western Maryland	Home
April	13	Norfolk Division	Home
April	15	Richmond	Away
April	17	Baltimore	Away
April	18	Catholic	Away
April	20	Norfolk Division	Away
April	22	Lynchburg	Home
April	25	Randolph-Macon	Away
April	27	Bridgewater	Home
April	30	Randolph-Macon	Home
May	2	V. M. I.	Home
		(Parents Day)
May	5	Lynchburg	Away
May	9	Bridgewater	Away
May	11	Washington & Lee	Home
May	15-16	Conference Play-offs in the North:

Track

April	10-11	Quantico Relays
April	14	Norfolk Division	Home
April	18	Randolph-Macon	Away
April	28	Washington & Lee	Away
May	2	Lynchburg	Home
May	9	Little Eight Meet at Hampden-Sydney
May	15-16	Mason-Dixon Conference Meet at Johns Hopkins.

Tennis

April	9	U. T. S.	Away
April	13	Richmond	Away
April	16	Bridgewater	Home
April	21	Washington & Lee	Away
April	22	Lynchburg	Home
April	25	Randolph-Macon	Away
April	27	U. T. S.	Home
April	30	Randolph-Macon	Home
May	5	Lynchburg	Away
May	7	Bridgewater	Away
May	12	Roanoke	Home
May	16	Mason-Dixon Championship (Northern Division Courts)

Golf

April	9	Lynchburg	Home
April	17	Washington & Lee	Away
April	23	Bridgewater	Away
April	30	Randolph-Macon	Home
May	4	Roanoke	Home
May	7	Lynchburg	Away
May	12	Mason-Dixon Championship at Johns Hopkins

LC Radio Broadcast To Feature Librarian

The college radio program, "Listening at Longwood," heard at 5 p.m. every Sunday afternoon, will feature Dr. M. B. Ruffin, librarian, April 19. The program will center around Library Week.

April 26 will bring a program on the short story with Dr. R. K. Meeker as guest speaker.

Student director of the program is Norrish Munson and Mrs. David Wiley is faculty advisor.

Lychnos Bids Three

Lychnos, an honorary society in science and mathematics, has issued bids to Connie Goodman, a junior math major; Gale Hitchens, a senior chemistry major; and Judy Stokes, a junior biology major.

Spring Sports Include Varsity, Class Tennis

Tennis is one of the few sports at Longwood featuring the individual player. This year a great deal of enthusiasm has already been shown for both the varsity and class competition.

The varsity team is expected to be larger and better because of the greater number of people signing up and because of a longer practice season. The girls will play William and Mary and Westhampton.

Dowd Advises Varsity

Miss Barbara Dowd, Instructor in physical education, is advising the varsity players this year. A graduate of Memphis State University and the University of Alabama, she participated in inter-collegiate tennis. Miss Dowd, who is enthused about the program here, plans to attend every practice and offer needed suggestions.

Patrick Manages Class Teams

Gladys "Pat" Patrick is the class tennis manager this year. A beginner last year, she succeeded in winning the color cup doubles match with Barbara Brantley at the end of the season. "Pat," who takes an interest in all sports, claims tennis as her specialty.

Class competition in tennis is just as important as the inter-collegiate. Barbara Brantley, last year's manager, commented, "As far as class games are concerned, I feel that the red and whites and the green and whites are equally matched in the first round. More red and whites have come out than ever before, which proves there is more class spirit this year."

Courts Prepared

Class and varsity practice will begin as soon as the courts are ready to be used. At the present time they are being rolled and painted and will need time to dry.

Practices will be held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 4 p.m. and Tuesday and Thursday at 5 p.m. Eight practices are required in order to play in the matches. Daily practice announcements will be placed on the A. A. bulletin board.

Green 'N Whites Cop Class Games In Color Cup Race

In 1958-59 color cup competition, Longwood's senior and sophomore classes are ahead in every sport in which games have been completed.

In the hockey competition the sophomore class lost only one game, defeated by their sister class. Seniors won every game assuring victory for the Green and Whites in hockey rivalry.

The seniors also won all their class basketball games. Again the sophomore class suffered only one loss.

Keeping up their winning record, sophomore and senior classes took all volleyball points toward the color cup.

Fall tennis matches are still incomplete, and spring matches will be played soon. Also scheduled for the future are class softball games.

Wisket is being considered for inclusion in color cup competition this year.

Color Cup Tradition

Intramural class competition for the color cup is a tradition at Longwood. Each year, the winning classes have their colors decorating the cup, which stands in the home office. Points are awarded to the winning class in each sport and the sister classes having the highest number of points receive the cup.

Last year the color cup was won by the Green and Whites. Since 1945, Green and Whites have won the color cup seven times; the Red and Whites, six times.

Students To Appear In Slater Magazine

Six Longwood girls will appear on the cover of the May issue of the Slater Bulletin, the magazine of the Slater Food Service Management.

Jo Ann Sloop, Jo Ann Garner, Becky Robinson, Norrish Munson, Beverly Kersey, and Cat Ozmon will be featured on the cover with a picture of the dining hall.

A short story about Longwood dining hall will accompany this picture.

This issue of the Bulletin will feature stories of all the colleges that the Slater Management serves, and will be the largest issue of the magazine ever published.

See Our Selection of TRIFARI Spring and Summer JEWELRY from $2.20 (F.T.I.) up
MARTIN the Jeweler

Relax . . . at
the SNACK
with your friends!
Main Rec and Senior Rec

WALKER'S
Dinners—Parties
Private Dining Rooms
by Reservation
Burkeville, Va.
Tel. 3280

Lanscott Gift Shop
GIFTS THAT ARE DIFFERENT
Lanscott Gift Shop

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE MARK. COPYRIGHT © 1959 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

Ice age

Lucky us . . . today is the modern ice age. Lots and lots of it in refrigerators ready to ice up the Coke. And what could be more delicious than frosty Coca-Cola . . . the real refreshment. With its cold crisp taste and lively lift it's always Coke for The Pause That Refreshes!

Drink Coca-Cola

BE REALLY REFRESHED . . . HAVE A COKE!

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Longwood Alumna Reveals Unforgettable Memories

By KATE ANDERSON

Seventy-five years ago when Cordelia Roberts attended Longwood College she had to study by an oil lamp and kept a grate fire burning in her room for warmth.

Longwood College was then in its first year as a state Normal school and had only one building. Forty-five students were housed on the campus and day students from surrounding areas attended the classes.

"We had a wonderful time," Mrs. Cordelia Roberts Watkins propped her chin between her thumb and forefinger and reminisced with a sprightliness belying her 92 years.

"Once a month we had a dance and invited the boys from Hampden-Sydney over. How we loved to dance the polka—the three-glide polka. Someone played the piano for us—I don't remember the tunes we danced by, but I can still remember that piano. It was longer than the ones you see today.

"One night we really got into a scrap! The boys came over after lights were supposed to be out and serenaded us. They were serenading under my window and several of the girls had slipped in to hear them. I knew I shouldn't, but I dared to toss them a bouquet in appreciation.

"Well, I tossed it but the boys never got it! It landed on the roof of the porch right by the vice president's window. When we heard her window go up we scattered fast!"

Mrs. Watkins remembered that a fruitless inquiry the following morning led to a "count down" and she said, "I confessed and the vice president informed me in front of the group to meet her at noon." The penalty wasn't too stiff but the sense of impending doom that morning made a longtime impression on Mrs. Watkins.

"I can close my eyes right now," she said, "and hear that command, 'meet me at noon.' "

In 1887 she came to Norfolk as a bride. A widow of 42 years she has three living children, her daughter, Florence, who lives with her, Vance Watkins of Norfolk, and Alva Watkins of Chicago, Ill. Her granddaughter, Sandra, is a student at Longwood and a member of the Granddaughters Club.

—Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch

(Editor's note Mrs. Watkins attended the 75th Anniversary program Founders' Day week end, her first reunion since she left Longwood 75 years ago.)

Fine Arts

(Continued from page 1)

Glee Club singing such romantic favorites as Richard Roger's "It's a Grand Night for Singing" and Jerome Kern's "All the Things You Are." The Madrigal Singers will follow with the "Echo Song" and "O Can Ye Sew Cushions," an old Scotch favorite.

To conclude the program, the choruses will combine voices in singing several German waltzes from Liebeslieder Walzer, Opus 52, by Brahms. Robert Stewart, conductor of the W and L Glee Club, will conduct the combined chorus. Accompanists for the program are Wernir Delman, Jo Ann Garner and Nancy Taylor.

Art Lecture

"Modern Art and Tradition" will be the topic of a lecture April 15. The speaker will be John Canaday, chief of the division of education for the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

On April 16 three members of the faculty will be featured in a concert. They are Mr. Clifford L. Smith, trumpeter; Miss Josephine Bailey, organist; and Walter E. Urben, pianist.

"Glass Menagerie"

Alpha Psi Omega, honorary drama fraternity, and the Longwood Players will present an "Evening of Drama" April 17. The concluding program, "The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams, will be directed by Mrs. David W. Wiley Assistant Professor of speech and drama.

Recent water colors by Mrs. Janice S. Lemen, Associate Professor of art, will be displayed nightly in the lobby of Jarman Hall before and after the performances. Selected works by junior and senior art majors will be shown in the Library Browsing Room daily and after each evening performance.

The festival is under the direction of Dr. John Molnar, chairman of the Fine Arts Committee. It is dedicated to the 75th anniversary celebration of the founding of Longwood College as Virginia's first state supported college for women.

Florida

(Continued from page 2)

lost in the shuffle.

Their stops included Daytona Beach, where they drove on the sand, Marineland, Silver Springs, and—finally—Fort Lauderdale. Here they were delighted to find college kids "THOUSANDS of them from all over." Betty Griggs exclaimed that there were people from as far away as the University of Wisconsin and whole caravans from Michigan. "Yes," Spivey added flatly, "and from as far away as Hampden-Sydney too."

They emphasized the crowd: "You couldn't see the beach for the people — and walking on the sidewalks was impossible!"

Here's one discovery they made: Northern boys are actually impressed with Southern girls.

Another discovery is the "Limbo." Spivey shouts, "Man, it's the neatest dance going!" After much consultation they described it in such vague terms as "you dance it on the beach . . . it's skilled . . ." Finally Burks announced they would show anyone interested at the nominal fee of five cents per demonstration.

Pocotaligo, S. C. Ever heard of it? Betty Griggs describes it as "a wonderful town—I recommend it." She spent her 21st birthday there. For her birthday dinner they ordered ham and grits. And Northern boys are impressed with Southern girls . . . hummmmm.

To conclude the experiences, they climbed palm trees, picked oranges, rode elephants, met a snake charmer, and drove through a tornado in the everglades!

Roast-carving host to rotund guest: "Would you care for another 50 or 60 calories, Mrs. Smith?"

—The Reader's Digest

Evening Costumes Show New Drama

Some of the most exciting coat and dress costumes of the spring season are those intended for evening wear.

They take into spring such opulent fabrics as moire or lame, as well as chiffon and other silks. Rich colors, prints and embroideries and much feminine flattery of style make them dramatically beautiful.

—The Farmville Herald

WILSON TENNIS BALLS
Can of 3—Reg. $2.75
to L.C. Girls, $2.25
SOUTHSIDE SUNDRY

VISIT NEWBERRY'S
for a large selection
of STATIONERY
priced low to fit your budget.

FREE RACK!
with purchase of Macmillan Everyman's
Encyclopedia
New 1959 Edition
12 Volumes $59.95
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP

Staff Photo

DIGNIFIED (?) SENIORS relax on new sun deck.

Roofing Rates High

(Continued from page 2)

and oil which makes it a bit difficult to hold on to her stop watch. But she does cling to this little ditty and turns over every one and three-quarter minutes to the second. An even tan must be obtained at all costs. However, the fun really begins when she comes back to her room and immediately plops on her roommate's brand new bedspread, goo and all, and Roomie strides in after flunking her third test of the day. Watch out for flying glass—also minced Margie!

It is inevitable that somewhere or other Joker Janie will make her contribution to the group. This lovable lass is known for such considerate deeds as putting dirt in suntan oil, snitching radio batteries, and dumping ice on her neighbor's back (Pepsi and all). She may also be found assisting her sun-blinded friends in lighting the filter end of cigarettes and carefreely skipping quantities of gravel over the nearest lucky sunbathers. Oh well, she's our gal, and we like her in spite of herself!

Last, but never least, is Nearly Normal, toting nothing out of the ordinary to make her a noticeable individual. She simply stretches out to enjoy the sun and probably get burned to an eventual crisp—but ain't it fun!

By the way, any relation to actual persons tanned or of natural color is purely coincidental, and the author begs that no one observe her on the roof!

A K G

(Continued from page 1)

When asked how she felt about being tapped into Alpha Kappa Gamma, Jo Ann said, "Everyone could tell by the grin on my face how surprised and happy I was."

Carol Matthews

Carol Matthews, also a junior, is a social science major from Salem. Active in Student Government activities Carol was the past secretary of the organization, freshman and sophomore class representative and was recently elected senior representative of the same for next year. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority, H2O Club, Cotillion Club, and Roanoke Club. In 1958 Carol was alumni trainer for Circus and was this year's co-chairman of the Christmas water pageant.

Carol was not tapped in the same manner as the others were since she was in the Infirmary that Tuesday. "It was all the medicine that I needed to get well and I still have not gotten over it," was her comment on the matter.

Jean O'Connell

Jean O'Connell, a junior biology major, comes from Springfield. She has been very active in campus activities during her three years at Longwood as a member of Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority, Newman Club, H2O Club and "Y" cabinet. Jean was class president and treasurer of the Athletic Association this year and was recently elected vice-president of Student Government for the coming year.

In speaking of her honor given her Tuesday Jean replied, "After I got over the surprise I felt very honored."

Faculty News

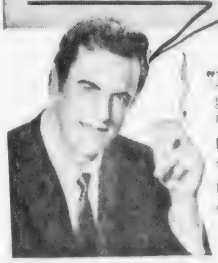
Dr. Francis B. Simkins visited Fredricksburg March 23 to speak to Mary Washington College students on "Agrarian Leaders of the South." He also addressed a group composing the Civil War Roundtable there on "The Women of the Confederacy."

On Thursday, April 9, Dr. Francis Lankford will attend a Regional Workshop Conference on the National Defense Student Loan Program held at the University of Maryland.

Friday and Saturday, April 10-11, Dr. Lankford will attend the annual spring meeting of the Department of Teacher Education, Virginia Education Association, at the University of Virginia. On Friday afternoon, Dr. Lankford will be one of four persons giving a report of current studies on teacher education in Virginia.

As the American Association of University Women convenes for its state meeting in Fredericksburg on April 10 and 11, Dean Ruth B. Wilson will represent Longwood College and the local chapter of this organization.

New Faculty



(Continued from page 1)

as a part-time Instructor in Latin. Having received her A.B. degree from Randolph - Macon Woman's College, Miss Walker has taught Latin for several years.

As French informant, Georgette Remignon is a native of Tarbes, France. She will serve as a part-time Instructor in the Foreign Language Department during the 1959-60 session.

©1959 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company

"L&M is kindest to your taste," says James Arness. "There are two good reasons why I know you'll like 'em. They're truly low in tar, with more exciting taste than you'll find in any other cigarette."

LOW TAR: L&M's patented filtering process adds extra filter fibers electrostatically, crosswise to the stream of smoke . . . makes L&M truly low in tar.

MORE TASTE: L&M's rich mixture of slow burning tobaccos brings you more exciting taste than any other cigarette.

LIVE MODERN...CHANGE TO MODERN L&M

Support Festival Of Fine Arts

The Rotunda

Attend Longwood Rose Bowl

VOLUME XXXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., April 15, 1959 | No. 18

Culture Institute April 24 To Stress Education Theme

Education in the South will be the theme of the third annual series of lectures given during the Institute of Southern Culture at Longwood College April 24 and July 8.

The three lectures presented each day in the lounge of the Student building will begin at 11 a.m., 4 p.m. and 8 p.m., and are open to the public.

Spring Series

The spring lecture series will feature Dr. Mary Elizabeth Massey, professor of history at Winthrop College, speaking on "Civil War Comes to the Campus." Mr. David W. Wiley, assistant professor of speech at Longwood, will lecture on "The Education of the Southern Orator" in the afternoon. The final lecture of the spring series will be "The Education of the Bourbon" by Dr. John Bettersworth, dean of Mississippi State College.

Summer Programs

The summer lecture series will feature Dr. James W. Patton, director of the Southern Historical Collection at the University of North Carolina. His topic will be "The Southern Reaction to the Ogden Movement." The afternoon lecture will be presented by Mr. M. Boyd Coyner, retired professor of education at Longwood, who will speak on "Factors in the Virginia Educational Renaissance." Concluding the 1959 series will be Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss, history professor at Longwood, who will speak on "Education, Formal and Informal, in Colonial Virginia."

The Institute of Southern Culture was founded at Longwood College in 1956 to promote the study of traditional aspects of Southern civilization through academic course work, special lectures and through publication of research in the field.

The lectures of the first two series have been published and are on sale at the College. They are "Virginia in History and Tradition" and "The South in Perspective."

Financial support for the Institute of Southern Culture has been provided by the Longwood College Alumnae Association.

The lectures this year are dedicated to the 75th anniversary of the founding of Longwood College as Virginia's first state supported college for women.

Student Directory

Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalistic society, will publish a student directory as a school service this spring.

Betty Griggs, president, announced that the groups expects to distribute the directory containing the names, home addesses, and phone numbers of students and faculty members in several weeks. Useful and important local phone numbers will also be included.

Blue print and the Longwood seal will decorate the white cover of the directory. It will be about the size of the student Handbook.

Pi Delta Epsilon, Betty stated, hopes that the directory will grow to be a permanent publication here at Longwood.

Oliver Announces Virginian Staff For Coming Year

Positions on the 1960 Virginian staff have been announced by Editor-in-Chief Carolyn Oliver.

Editorial Staff

Julia Williams will serve as assistant editor; Neil Ward will act as literary editor; Martha Gray Shirley will be her assistant; Mary Lee Warriner will edit the photography department; Linda Lane will serve as assistant photography editor; Lee Burnette will serve as art editor; La Verne Collier will be the assistant art editor.

Business Staff

Nancy Donaldson will serve as business manager of the Virginian; Page Davis will act as the assistant business manager; Cherron Kelly will be head typist.

Representatives

The senior representatives will be Barbara Bishop and Helen Wente; the junior representatives will be Dottie Brown and Sandra Watkins; Linda Jeffries and Mary Leech Elmore will serve as sophomore representatives.

Miss Virginia Bedford will serve as faculty advisor.

Students must have a cumulative C average to be eligible to serve on the Virginian staff.

Canaday To Lecture Tonight

Faculty Recital, "Glass Menagerie" To Conclude Festival Of Fine Arts

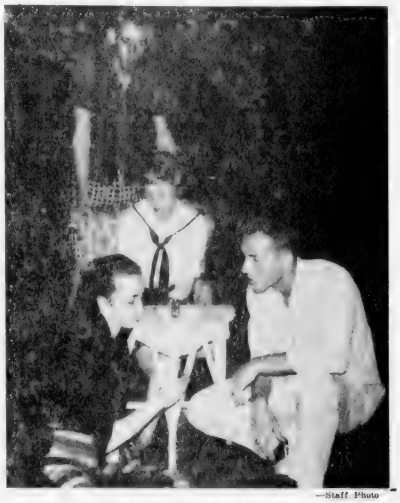
Tonight the second annual Festival of Fine Arts will continue with Mr. John Canaday of the Philadelphia Museum of Art lecturing on "Modern Art and Tradition." This is the third event of a series of works in art, dance, drama, and music held nightly this week in Jarman Hall at 8 p.m.

Art Lecturer

Mr. Canaday did undergraduate work at the University of Texas and graduate work at Yale University in art history. He taught at the University of Virginia from 1938 to 1950. After leaving Virginia he was director of the School of Art at Newcomb College, Tulane University, and then he became chief of the Division of Education at the Museum of Art in Philadelphia.

While at Virginia he wrote seven mysteries published in several foreign languages under the name of Matthew Head. Under his own name he has written for the New York Times, Horizon, Art in America, and other magazines. Also, he has done monographs on paintings for the "Metropolitan Seminars in Art." A college text on 19th and 20th century art by Mr. Canaday will be released soon.

Faculty Recital



Thursday evening three Longwood College faculty members will present a recital as the fourth event of the Festival of Fine Arts.

Clifford L. Smith, II, trumpeter, will open with selections from Henry Purcell's "Ceremonial Music for Organ and Trumpet." Selections include "Voluntary in C Major," "Trumpet Tune," and "Bell Symphony."

Following him, Miss Josephine Bailey, organist, will play Thomas Arne's "Flute Solo," Jonathan Battishill's "Andante Quasi Allegretto," "Gavotte" by Samuel Wesley, and "Fantasia and Fugue in G Minor" by Bach.

Following intermission Mr. Walter E. Urben, pianist, will perform. His program includes several works from Bach's "French Suite III in B Minor." Next he will play "Adagio," "Minuet I, II," and "Allegro" from "Sonata in E Flat Major," by Mozart. Mr. Urben will

Continued on page 4

—Staff Photo

INSPECTING THE MENAGERIE are Vicki Brinkley, Billy Graham, Molly Workman, George Hunter.

Lankford Releases Faculty Changes For 1959-60 Term

Various changes and promotions in the faculty and administration of Longwood College have been announced by President Francis G. Lankford, Jr.

Moss Associate Dean

Assuming the duties of associate dean of the college will be Dr. C.G. Gordon Moss, currently chairman of the Department of History and Social Sciences. He will succeed Mr. M. Henry Bittinger who, upon his own request, will return to full-time teaching in the Department of History and Sciences next September.

Dr. Moss received his B.A. degree from Washington and Lee University in 1921 and upon completing his graduate work at Yale University gained his M.A. degree in 1926. Later in 1936 he was awarded the doctorate title from the latter university. He began teaching at Longwood in 1926 as an instructor of history for one academic year. He returned to this campus in 1929 for another one-year period and in 1944 resumed his work as an associate professor. During his 15-year period at Longwood he has been promoted to professor of history and later head of the department.

Brooks Education Head

Mr. Richard B. Brooks has been named chairman of the Department of Education, Psychology, and Philosophy. He succeeds Dr. Earl R. Boggs, dean of the college, who will continue with his teaching and administrative duties due to the increased amount of work connected

(Continued on page 4)

JOHN CANADAY

Senior, Junior Art Majors Exhibit Work At Festival

An exhibit of the works of junior and senior art majors represents the Art Department in the Fine Arts Festival.

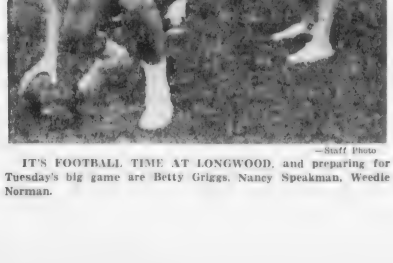
The exhibit in the Browsing Room of the library is an accumulative display of the art majors' three or four years' work, covering all mediums of study.

Art Majors

Two seniors, Melinda Franklin and Amy Merrell and seven juniors, Barbara Bishop, Martha Clark, Jean Dunagan, Ann Jenkins, Carole Lassiter, Mary Penn Lewis and Addie Richardson will exhibit various types of paintings and crafts.

Melinda's display includes two oil paintings, a woodcut, two pencil drawings, a wire sculpture of a clown, several ceramic novelties, silver and enamel earrings, and an enamel bowl.

Amy is exhibiting two oil paintings, a watercolor and ink painting and a variety of crafts including two enameled ash trays, a nut bowl etched in enameled copper [illegible] pins, a silver bracelet and ring, and a butterfly hair ornament.



Barbara's display is composed of seven oil paintings, a woodcut, an opaque watercolor, and a print. Her crafts are an enameled wall plaque, two enameled bowls, an enameled free-form tray, a silver tie clasp, a ceramic pitcher, and a hand-formed copper bowl.

Among Martha's crafts are a mosaic plaque and table, ceramic fruit bowl, cream and sugar set, a pitcher, an enameled ash tray, and a leather belt. Her paintings consist of three oils, a print, and a watercolor.

Jean is displaying her watercolor paintings, "Danville" and "Baltimore." The former is a night view of the city; the latter an abstraction of a combo. Jean also has a

(Continued on page 4)

Culture Vultures Challenge Stu Goo

—Staff Photo

IT'S FOOTBALL TIME AT LONGWOOD, and preparing for Tuesday's big game are Betty Griggs, Nancy Speakman, Weedie Norman.

By SANDRA WEAVER

As the old saying goes, "Spring is here, and so is baseball"—that is, everywhere but Longwood.

While the Hampden - Sydney "Tigers" play the William and Mary "Indians" in a hot game of baseball, Longwood's Pi Delta Epsilon "Culture Vultures" play Student Government Association in football. That's right, it's not a printing error. The game is football, and the school is Longwood, not Yale or Harvard.

The big event came about when Pi Delta Epsilon decided to make some money and settled upon the idea of challenging Stu Goo to a game of touch-football. As expected the idea developed into a major event of the season and there began to emerge some hidden talent among the members of the groups.

Pi Delta Epsilon boasts on its team "Woeful" Weedie Norman, "Daring" Dot Boswell, "Baffling" Barbara Bishop, "Rippy" Nancy Brubeck, "Noble" Nancy Knowles, "Valorous" Violet Scott and "Balmy" Betty Griggs.

Also playing are "Plunging" Patsy Powell, "Jubilant" Julia Williams, "Nerveless" Norrish Munson, "Blissful" Barbara Rossiter, "Luckless" Linda Doles and "Catapaulting" Cat Ozmon who will be giving most of her support from the

(Continued on page 4)

X-Ray Clinic

The chest x-ray clinic began April 14 for the east side of Prince Edward County. The mobile unit will be in Farmville in front of Owen-Sanford and Gray's drug stores from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on April 17, 18 and 21-24.

Dr. Graziani urges all students to take advantage of this opportunity to be x-rayed at the clinic during the extensive tuberculosis x-ray survey in the county.

Stillwell To Receive Research Fellowship For Study At UNC

Dr. Edgar F. Stillwell, assistant professor of biology at Longwood College, has received a research fellowship to the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

His research topic will be "Mechanisms of Action of Genetically Induced Pigment Cancer in Fish."

Dr. Stillwell will work [illegible] Dr. D. G. Person for 12 months [illegible] The purpose of the [illegible] science teachers to continue active participation in research, even [illegible] project.

[illegible] "Effects of Irradiated Fatty Acid [illegible] paper in the Journal of Bacteriology.

High School Guests To Arrive Saturday For Visit To Campus

Approximately 94 high school visitors [illegible] delegated schools in [illegible] the counties of Louisa [illegible] end of April 18-[illegible] to the third high school [illegible] year.

[illegible] to Richmond Club [illegible] special hostesses [illegible] visit.

[illegible] school representatives [illegible] Albemarle, Appomattox, [illegible] John T. Barton, Caldwell and Craddock and [illegible]

[illegible] Evermaille, [illegible] Glade Spring, [illegible] Hopewell, Jefferson [illegible] Lane, Andrew [illegible] and John Marshall [illegible] Newport News, [illegible] Orange, Petersburg [illegible] Randolph-[illegible] Smithfield, Virginia Beach, Warwick, Washington-Lee, [illegible]

[illegible] are guaranteed a [illegible] and meal ticket scheduled. The program, which is similar [illegible] high school week end, will include tours of the campus, trip to Longwood House, and a sing around the Rotunda Saturday night.

Joy

The "Y" Cabinet has chosen as its theme for the coming year the word JOY.

Truly this is a word that carries a great message within itself. It should be a part of the basic structure of the Christian's personality. Your "Y" has chosen this theme because we hope to live and work according to the message of the word and the letters that construct it. We challenge you as a member of the Young Women's Christian Association to apply its significance to your own daily actions and deeds.

In order to have JOY that radiates in your life, you must place Jesus first, Others second, then Yourself.

We must place Jesus first. This would mean that in all things done, we would consider His will. Often decisions that confront us can be more easily met by asking "What would Jesus have done?" He is our supreme example and guide.

To build upon this basis for JOY, we must place Others before self. Our lives touch many people; in return their lives touch still others, and so our influence lives on and on. A sincere love, deep respect, and understanding of others contributes much to the happiness of others and ourselves. When we live for others, we are living for Him. Jesus commanded us first to love Him, then to love others. This would leave our lives void of all selfish love.

The Y of JOY signifies Yourself, which is so important in making JOY really live in your life. We see, however, that self must come last. Self does play a great part in a joyful life. Tennyson has written "Self-reverence, self-knowledge, self-control, these three alone lead life to sovereign power."

Jesus, Others, Yourself — living with this in action should surely lead to JOY. Your "Y" hopes to fulfill this theme in the coming year. Won't you, too, strive for this JOY in your life?

—Jean Peyton
President, Y.W.C.A.

Timely Topics

By MARTHA GRAY SHIRLEY

Friday afternoon, April 10, as Governor Almond walked from the Mansion to the Capitol, a pistol shot was fired at him. No one has arrived at any definite conclusion as to the gunman, but this incident will make the Capitol police "tighten security measures in and around the Governor's Mansion."

The Jackson family case has been a mystery since January 11 when the family of four disappeared on their way from Richmond. Later their bodies were found. However, in Portland, Oregon, about a month before the Jacksons were reported missing, the Martin family had a similar experience. While on a leisurely Sunday excursion, five of the family of six disappeared leaving no traces behind. The remaining son, Donald, 28, was not at home at the time the incident occurred. Police have completely exhausted their supply of clues as to the family's whereabouts.

Here in Virginia people are planning for the historic Garden Week which will last from April 18 through 25. Springtime in Virginia will feature many of the old gardens and homes of our forefathers and a few of our present generation.

This week the Virginia General Assembly will resume its meeting of last week when several questions came into view concerning the Perrow pupil placement bill. Whether this bill will pass and go into effect will depend largely upon the strength that the opposition can muster in its efforts to defeat the bill.

For some time the people in the United States have wondered if the Berlin crisis will cause World War III. "The hush-hush Central Intelligence Agency is reasonably sure it has the answer to that question — and the answer, apparently, is a cautious no."

Your May Day

Only 17 more days — until May Day arrives. Sewing costumes, building props, learning dances — these and countless other jobs are vital parts in the final production. Is your participation helping to create a success?

The Rotunda

ESTABLISHED NOVEMBER 20, 1920

Published each week during the college year except during holidays and examination periods by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Box 86.

Cherry Gorham ..... Editor-in-Chief

Chris Kamen ..... Managing Editor
Dale Preddy ..... Business Manager
Jo Anne Daniels ..... News Editor
Joann Kleinecke ..... Feature Editor
Nancy Faulkner ..... Sports Editor
Sandra Wenner ..... Desk Editor
Anne B. Palmer ..... Photography
Carole Lassiter ..... Art
Arlene McKay ..... Circulation Manager
Bonnie Bryant, Marie Messick ..... Advertising Managers
Miss Mary P. Nichols ..... Faculty Adviser

(Unsigned editorials written by the editor)

Member Virginian Intercollegiate Press Association, Associated Collegiate Press (Rating: first class). Columbia Scholastic Press Association Rating: first place. Intercollegiate Press

NEWS STAFF: Nancy Mayhew, Assistant News Editor; Martha Bennett, Copy Editor; Geraldine Tillar, Mary Lloyd Mc..., Associate News Editor; Ann Dietrich, Assistant News Editor; Lucy ..., Copy Editor; Gwendolyn Hamner, Assistant Copy Editor; Sandra Wenner, Desk Editor; Frances Hammerstrom, Marcia Lawson, Jackie Wood, Martha Cook, Jackie Lassiter, Jimmy Sims, Reporters; Dee Hogge, Gayle Johnson, Mona Shorter, reporters; Wilson, Art Editor; Carolyn Elliott, Emmy Bonner, features; Photographers: Carole Lassiter, Chief; Mary Lynch, Elaine Page Davis, Rose Martin, Lawrence Scott, Nancy Longbottom.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Jane Bowers, Assistant Manager; Linda Sue Jones, Frances Mann, Nancy ..., Assistant Circulation Managers; Linda Sue Jones, Sue Ann Sisler, Ar... Hughes, Carolyn Elliott, Emmy Bonner, Mona Shorter, reporters; Dee Hogge, Mary Lloyd Bledsoe, Vivienne Kemp, Barbara Ann Cook, Lawson, Nancy Longbottom.

ADVERTISING STAFF: Bonnie Bryant, Marie Messick, Advertising Managers; Mary L. Lassiter, Canada Gilliland, Ann M. ..., Assistant Managers; Nancy Shaw, Doris Cauley, Sue Ann Sisler, Ann Scott, Lawrence Lassiter.

Entered as second class matter ... Post office at Farmville, Virginia, under the Act of Congress of March ... 1879. Authorized for national advertising by the National Advertising Service. Printed by the Farmville Herald.

Future Menus

(ACP) — Men of America will be well-fed, except they'll be eating hamburgers and mashed potatoes until their wives learn to cook something else.

So predicts Western Reserve University's Reserve Tribune after polling 50 coeds on cooking proficiency. All 50 said they could make hamburgers, 47 agreed to mashed potatoes, 45 claimed home-made coffee and chocolate cake.

Twenty were confident they were good cooks, the rest admitting to "fair" or "poor." Two-thirds of the "fair-poors" plan to improve their cooking before marriage, while the others deem such unnecessary.

Only half feel it's really important to know how to cook before marriage, so they'll be practicing on their own families. This is especially true since all but seven intend to do their own cooking. Four of these think they'll have their own cooks, while the other three hope to "eat out."

Small girl showing bathroom scales to playmate: "All I know is, you stand on it and it makes you mad." —The Reader's Digest

Social Notes

By

PAT FOSTER and SANDY FARISH

Congratulations are in order for Kay Pierce, who is now sporting a Cotillion Club pin from Barry Long. Barry is a junior at Virginia Tech.

The homefront was a scene of activity as Buddy Morrow and his orchestra supplied the mood and the music for the Cotillion Club's successful dance, "Southern Shadows," Saturday night.

Other Virginia campuses were likewise busy with big dance weekends.

U. Va.

U. Va. drew the majority of traveling Longwood girls with their big "Easters" week end. Seen around campus at the various fraternity houses and at the dances were Laura Butler, Jackie Davis, Liz Dozier, Judy Echols, Marjie Freese, Ellen Grady, Pat Hurst, Elizabeth Jones, Sally Myers, Leo Pagenhardt, Linda Poff, Nancy Pretty, Judy Robertson, Sandra Watkins, Lois Ashworth, Linda Davenport, Lina Fippin, Suzanne Grammer, Helga Herget, Nancy Parker, Carol Sprague, Becky Tuck.

Also there were Burks Keith, Gin Kuyk, Barbara Purks, Fay Salmon, Lynne DeMaria, Claudette Cooper, Donna Boone, Blanche Ingram, Becky Anne McGrath, Annie Lee Young, Pat Stout, Ann Scott, Carolyn Oliver, Maryanna Overholt, Sara Lampton, Louise Johns, Sue Humphries, and Jane Freeman.

VMI

The Keydets of VMI also entertained with "Easters." On the arms of their handsome cadets were Ann Coleman, Betty Ann Harrell, Jean Marie Heller, Nancy Inge, Bonnie Irby, Judy Jones, Cherron Kelley, Hannah White, Lucy Wilson, Brenda Dod, Betty Jean Gliatt, Chris Kamen, Lois Johnson, Frances Gray, Linda Allen, Joan Brooker, Jo Ann Sloop, Carol Matthews, and Ann Norfleet.

R.P.I. attracted Gaye Yates; V.P.I. drew Betty Sue Barbee; and the Danville extension of V.P.I. received Judith Beckner and Dee Albertson.

Also traveling to another campus was Peggy Henry, who went to Lynchburg College.

Kleinecke Classified . . .

Fire Drills Cause Rapid Reactions

By JOANN KLEINECKE

Several times each year here at Longwood College "coming out parties" are given for the enjoyment of the entire student body. These long-awaited occasions are probably better known by their more common name, fire drills, and are announced by five melodious blasts. Upon hearing these smooth sounds, each student knows she has been invited to "come out" and view the beauties of her campus. She does this with all speed, taking a few items with her—such as a book, towel, scarf, coat, and shoes.

These drills sometimes occur late at night, however, and this presents a slight difficulty. One mixed-up miss may sit straight up in bed and get the mistaken idea that an air raid is in progress. In which case, her roommate may have some trouble convincing her that this is not so at all, trying meanwhile to pull Mixed-Up from under the bed and loosen her death grip on the bed post and on said roommate's hair. It's lucky that roomie is equipped with her handy-dandy Regular Red Cross Kit, as shock treatment may be helpful at this time. After all these minor details have been taken care of, they are free to be on their way and join in the fun.

Some become quite violent when awakened suddenly. These ladies arise from slumber with bloodshot eyes rolling and arms flailing the breeze, roaring such unladylike phrases as, "Nasty, naughty noise!" 'Rats!" "Who in the name of Mr. Magoo is practicing their clarinet this time of night?!" "How unfortunate!" And others—many others.

After she finishes this lung exercise, she may be in a book-flinging mood. If so, roommate, suitemates, and passersby may find themselves wedged in between the pages of history, psychology, or math. (What an amazing new way to study!) Violent Vera then begins hurling anything and everything else within reach. However, just as she hits the clock radio (about $40 worth), she is also hit by a homemade strait jacket and is sufficiently pacified to be led out quietly.

There's always the late bath-taker who is simultaneously washing her hair. Just as she gets a wonderfully big gob of shampoo in her good eye, she hears the "Call to Arms," and springs out of the tub! It would seem her spring has sprung, though, as she trips over her own slippers, bounces off the door and lands head first in the trash can, feet waving madly in the breeze! Someone always has to hold up progress!

Once everyone finally does get into the long procession, it seems to be an upsetting process to get down the steps. The main problem here is finding them in the limited amount of light. The very cautious lass gets down on hands and knees and feels her way down. But this becomes slightly impractical when everyone else uses her as a ramp, so this method is exchanged for a kind of mass shove. This consists of a general skimming of steps with the feet, occasionally kicking one's neighbor to keep her moving. (Only 10 per cent of the student body gets stomped under this system as opposed to 25 per cent in past years). Some brave souls may even pregrease the bannisters and avoid traffic by the slide process. Still others tie five or six umbrellas together, launch themselves from a third-story window and drift leisurely to old terra firma. The main objections to action of this type is that these folks land somewhat away from the rest of the crowd, and also the windows that they use as runways are left open. Aside from these small complications, things always run along quite smoothly.

If on the way to an 8:05 lab on the day following the fire drill, someone should be seen snoozing peacefully in a flower bed by the Science Building, it's really not so unusual. This miss more than likely lost her compass, was sleepy and got pointed in the wrong direction, and well—there you are! Although she looks mighty peaceful sprawled between the daffodils and the narcissus, someone really should wake her up—she might have an 8:05 too!

As an afterthought, there are also the early morning fire drills. They occur very likely at 6 a.m. or so and are especially helpful to those birdwatchers who just can't seem to manage to get up under their own steam. They are really invaluable to anyone whose alarm clock is presently on the blink.

(You know what they say —no foolin', no fun! 'Bye now—got to run! That fire warden will overtake me for sure if I don't pick up my size 7's mighty quick!)

Did You Know?

By MATTIE BLEWETT

—It's me again? Howdy!

—there are only 323 more shopping days until Christmas? (Belated gifts are accepted!)

—with the arrival of cars on campus, one freshman, in an effort to make a little cash, has concocted a new and cheaper fuel for all autos, buses, planes and race horses? The ingredients of her potent new discovery are: four cups of pickle juice, two aspirin, ten milliliters of H_2SO_4, a pinch of gunpowder, and three guinea eggs. She has been advised by a noted Russian scientist, however, not to attempt the dangerous feat of combining these ingredients. He says that science is not ready for such a discovery.

—the only thing that you learn by mistakes is that you did it wrong?

—Will Rogers once remarked, "I've never met a man I didn't like"? I wonder how many of us could say the same.

—J'ai fini? Aufwiedersehn.

Campus News

By DE ANNE HOGGE

The new student lounge at Richmond Professional Institute has been named "The Rotunda." However, its architectural design is in no way, shape, form, or fashion like ours.

A quip from Hollins that could easily apply here: "This is a chapel-checker watching you—Are you a chapel cutter?"

The theme of Mary Baldwin's May Day is "The Wizard of Oz." Seems that everyone likes to move into a fantasy-world for the rites of spring.

It seems that all the schools are having "car trouble." How that question is neatly taken care of. Of course, there is a bit of difference between the population here and, say, U. Va.

Newspapers from these and other Virginia colleges are kept in the Reference Room of the library so students may read them.

Willie's Green Thumb Aids Prospective Gardeners

By JUDY DETRICH

Willie Knight is a familiar figure to the many Longwood girls who have wanted to test their green thumbs. He is always willing to donate an extra geranium or so to the efforts of these girls whom he says, "have always been very, very nice."

Army Career

As a young man Willie joined the army. He smiles as he recalls France . . . and Paris. However, more seriously he adds, "we were only 50 miles from the fighting when the Armistice was signed."

After the war, Willie settled here in Farmville where he and his wife, Martha, reared their two daughters.

Willie says that a lot of funny and exciting things have happened since he has been here. Most exciting was the big fire when "a main building, up where Tabb Hall is now, burned."

Nature's Helping Hand

Any weekday you might find Willie working around the greenhouse and the science building. He says that growing plants just comes naturally. "I just do what Mr. French and Mr. Brumfield told me—and like what I read—and nature does the rest."

Just as Willie fusses over his plants, so he worries when he sees Longwood misses running around without their coats. "Don't get cold," he advises.

Willie has become a permanent fixture around Steven's Hall—and that's the way he wants it to be. "Working with all the teachers around here is very nice. And I'd like to stay here for a long while."

—Staff Photo

LONGWOOD'S GARDNER. Willie Knight, provides a pleasant welcome to the greenhouse and willingly gives tips to young gardners.

May 1 Deadline Determined For Lancaster Scholarship

Nominations for a recipient of the Dabney S. Lancaster Scholarship to be awarded to a deserving student may be made until May 1.

The Dabney S. Lancaster Scholarship was established by the Student Government Association in 1954 and was completed in 1958. The purpose of the scholarship is to recognize and assist financially one member of the student body at Longwood College. The amount of the scholarship is $200 for one academic year.

Nominations for this scholarship may be made by students, faculty members and members of the administration. Nominations must be in a written form and are to be turned in by May 1.

Qualifications

Qualifications of the recipient of the award shall include the following:

1. The young lady must have been at Longwood as an undergraduate student at least one academic year.

2. While scholarship attainment alone is not the sole criterion for receiving the award, the recipient must possess a cumulative average of "C" or above.

3. The need of the student is to be given due consideration.

4. The recipient must give promise of becoming a worthy example of educated womanhood, and she must have demonstrated that she has acquired the spirit of the college.

The recipient of the award will be announced at Senior Assembly.

Longwood To Host Zeta's State Day

Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority will have its state day Saturday, April 25, at Longwood. Zetas from Washington, D. C., Maryland, and Virginia will attend.

The agenda for the day will begin with registration and a coffee hour in the Student Lounge from 10-11 a.m. It will be followed by a morning meeting which will last from 11-11:45 a.m. After the meeting a tour of Longwood College and campus will be conducted from 11:45-12:30 p.m.

Wallace Toastmistress

At 1 p.m. a luncheon will be held at Longwood Estate. Following the luncheon members will enjoy Zeta music. Julia Gray Wallace, local chapter president, will act as toastmistress while presenting awards and conducting a "brag" session. The program will adjourn at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Merritt Chairman

Mrs. Robert Merritt, Chairman, heads the State Day plans as a member of the Farmville Alumnae Chapter.

Zetas from Longwood, Randolph-Macon Woman's College, and the University of Virginia will be participants in the annual Province I activity.

Seniors Continue To Sign Contracts

Some of the seniors have already made definite plans for their work after graduation in June. Many of them have secured teaching positions in Virginia counties.

Connie Carlton, Barbara Heck, Gwendolyn Melton, and Patsy Powell have decided to teach in Fairfax County, while Constance Levinson has chosen to teach in Alexandria. Representing Longwood in Prince William County are Juliet Robinson, Charlotte Simms, and Jo Ann Sloop. Donna Boone and Catherine Ozmon have accepted positions in Staunton.

More Contracts

Jo Ann Baldwin, Octavia Loftin, and Virginia Price will be with the Roanoke County schools. Barbara Odom and Charlotte Wiemer will teach in South Norfolk County and Newport News, respectively. Sandra F. Tarter will represent Longwood in Wythe County. Also accepting teaching jobs are Rebecca Rawlings and Burks Keith who will be in Princess Anne County.

Lou Heier will continue her work at the graduate school of the University of Tennessee.

Della Higgins and Betty Rawls have accepted jobs with the York County school system. In Fairfax County, Margie Layman will represent Longwood. Nancy Andrews, Louise Ponton, Betty Smythers and Calvert King have accepted positions in Roanoke County. Rose Marie Byer will teach in Martinsville City, and Carol Sandidge will teach in Roanoke City.

Faye Salmon has accepted a position with the Newport News and Warwick school system. And in Princess Anne County, Longwood will be represented by Barbara Staton and Betty Griggs.

College Professor To Present Paper

Dr. Robert T. Brumfield, professor of biology at Longwood College, will present a research paper on "A Substance Controlling Growth in Timothy Roots" at a three day meeting of the Association of Southeastern Biologists this month.

The Longwood scientist will be among biologists from 10 states and Puerto Rico who will present some 80 research papers at the Association's 20th annual meeting to be held on the University of Tennessee's Knoxville campus, April 16-18. These papers represent research done by biologists from 33 colleges, universities, and research institutions in the Southeast.

Dr. Brumfield's findings are a result of his Atomic Energy Commission's research grant. He has been engaged during the past five years in studying the effects of radiation on timothy roots. His work is carried on during the school year at Longwood, and in the summer at Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Tennessee.

Beorc Eh Thorn Tea To Honor Drewry

Beorc Eh Thorn will entertain at its annual literary tea in the Student Lounge Thursday, April 23.

The tea will honor Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Drewry of Roanoke. He is a Virginia poet and with his wife will present readings and a discussion of his work.

Guests will include members of the honorary English society, Longwood and Hampden-Sydney faculty members, and townspeople.

The Drewrys are well-known to several Longwood students who stayed in their home while student-teaching in Roanoke this past fall.

Church News

Westminister Fellowship elected new officers last Sunday night. Elected were Tony Sherman, president; Ann Jenkins, vice-president; Nancie Morton, secretary; Bob Ewald, treasurer; and Judy Stokes, program chairman.

On April 5, at Westminster Fellowship, Reverend William F Junkin and his family spoke and showed slides on Taiwan where they were stationed as missionaries. A discussion was held following this talk.

Dottie Hamilton will hold a study group for the Westminster Fellowship at her apartment Thursday at 8 p.m. The subject will be "Life and Mission of the Church."

Monogram Bids

The Monogram Club has issued bids to Joan Creel, Mate Fadely, Doris Kesling, Judy Martin, Jean O'Connell, and Anne B. Palmer.

Plans for the spring include selling doughnuts at May Day and a picnic.

Banquet Tonight Honors Professor

The Department of Education banquet for Dr. John P. Wynn, professor of education, will be given tonight at Longwood Estate to honor the retiring professor.

Speakers for the evening are Alice E. Carter, from Warrenton, and Dr. F. G. Lankford, president. Also, Dr. E. M. Johnson will make the presentation of the department gift to Dr. Wynn.

Letters Collected

Dr. F. F. Swertfeger, professor of education, will present Dr. Wynn with a book of letters entitled "Qualities of Experiece." This contains letters from his associates, former students, and from different places where he has taught school. Letters to Dr. Wynn have come in from approximately 16 different states ranging from the Pacific to the Atlantic and from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border.

Dr. Wynn has been a member of the Longwood faculty for 35 years.

Theater To Show Russian Ballet

The Bolshoi Theater of Moscow's film, the "Bolshoi Ballet," will be shown tonight at the State Theater.

Galina Sergeyevna Ulanov, prima ballerina for the group will be featured in several numbers including the "Dying Swan." She has received the supreme honor which the U.S.S.R. bestows on artists, the Peoples' Artist of the Soviet Republic.

Eastman Color

The ballet was filmed in London by five Eastman color cameras in two nights of actual filming so that the effect produced would be that of a living performance. The group performed at London's Royal Opera House and Convent Gardens where they gave a royal peformance in the presence of Queen Elizabeth.

The ballet has a cast of 170 members, dancers and musicians. Selections from six ballets will include "Swan Lake" and "Giselle."

This film shows the full quality of a great company in a way no other film has done. Its producer has tried to show the brillance of the performers.

Rotunda Adds Staff

The Rotunda has added several new members to its staff. On the news staff are Page Davis and Rose Marie Lawrence. In the capacity of assistant photography editor is Linda Sudduth. Added to the advertising staff are Janet Stanley, Ann Scott, Nancye Allen, and Beverly Gaskins. Nancy Buckingham will act as typist.

AA Council Announces Constitution Revisions

The 1959-60 Athletic Association council, headed by junior, Claudia Whipple, will effect two important changes in the A.A. constitution in the coming year.

Participation Ruling

The first revision is important to varsity and class sport participants. On page 109 of the Handbook there will be a new Section 2, which will read as follows:

"Any girl who is considered a member of a varsity team sport may not participate in class games of that sport."

In another part of the constitution it is stated that any girl participating in 75 per cent of the games played in a sport be considered a member of that team.

On page 110 of the Handbook under Article XI there is to be a new Section 3, which will read as follows:

"The Athletic Association council will award numerals and seals to those members of the freshman and sophomore classes who accumulate the following number of points: 7 points - numeral, 14 points - seal."

Underclassmen Awards

Points are awarded to participants in varsity and class sports. Those players accumulating seven points will receive a monogram of their class, while those having 14 points will receive a Longwood seal. Those seniors who have been outstanding in athletics and have earned 20 points receive blue blazes. The white blazer, the highest athletic award, is presented to seniors earning 30 points.

Recognition is given of participation in sports to encourage a more widespread activity in athletic events on campus.

Sports Review

By MARJORIE FREESE

In college baseball North Carolina defeated Clemson 6-3.

Hampden-Sydney won over RPI with a 12-1 victory for the Tigers.

The Newport News Apprentice School played Bridgewater in a double-header. The score was Apprentice, 4-3, and Bridgewater, 2-7.

Washington and Lee was overrun by Richmond with a score of 8-1.

In a Little Eight game, the Lynchburg Hornets defeated the RPI Green Devils 8-4.

Maryland stomped Johns Hopkins 10-0, while Navy outdid Delaware 6-2.

Tennis

The South Carolina tennis team edged out Erskine 5-4.

William and Mary gained nothing while Georgetown scored 9 points.

Duke won its matches against South Carolina with a 6-2 victory.

Track

In track, Furman beat Clemson 71-60.

Princeton outrated Richmond. The score was 85-44.

The Norfolk Division of W and M had a score of 83, while the Randolph-Macon Yellow Jackets had a score of 39.

Princeton's track team tallied 79 points to Virginia's 62 points.

Lacrosse

Maryland's lacrosse team won both its games. The first one was with Virginia with a score of 20-11. The second was with W and L. The score was 16-9.

Colonnade Members Travel To Workshop

Five members of the Colonnade staff accompanied by Dr. Richard K. Meeker, the magazine's adviser, attended the Southern Writers' Workshop at the Sir Walter Hotel, Raleigh, North Carolina, April 9.

Those attending were Sandra Clements, Judy Detrich, Judy Harris, Edmonia Leech, and Sandra Weaver.

The conference, which began April 7 and ended April 9, featured such authors as Betty Smith, author of "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn;" Harry Golden, author of "Only in America;" and Doris Betts, author of "Tall Houses in Winter."

After the close of the discussions, the staff spent the remainder of their afternoon at the North Carolina Museum of art reviewing the recently aquired exhibit of Rembrandt paintings. This was followed by a brief tour of Raleigh and North Carolina State College.

H2O Club Selects Keys As President

The H2O Club has elected Bonnie Keys as president for 1959-60. The slate also includes Jeanette Townsend, treasurer, and Mary Hite Grayson, secretary.

Bonnie, a junior, is a general science major from Dumfries. Commenting on her election, she said, "I was quite surprised and I hope I do as well as Nancy did as president."

Spring Workshop

A workshop is being held April 18-19 at William and Mary College in order to learn more about synchronized swimming. Swimmers from Longwood will present the "Devil" number previously performed in the spring water pageant.

Attending from Longwood will be Nancy Donaldson, Mary Hite Grayson, Lou Heier, Bonnie Keys, Carol Matthews, and Betsy Neal. Mrs. Robert Bobbitt will take the girls.

Staff Photo
WINNIE EGOLF
Softball Manager

Egolf To Manage Softball Activities

By NANCY LECHLER

"Dust off your softball glove," commands Winnie Egolf, manager for the class softball games.

For those who claim they can't play softball, Winnie gives this bit of encouragement, "Like in all of the class sports, it's all for fun and you don't have to be a Mickey Mantle to play."

Working with the softball team is Winnie's first experience at managing a class sport, but she is just as enthusiastic about this as she has been about her previous activities during her freshman year.

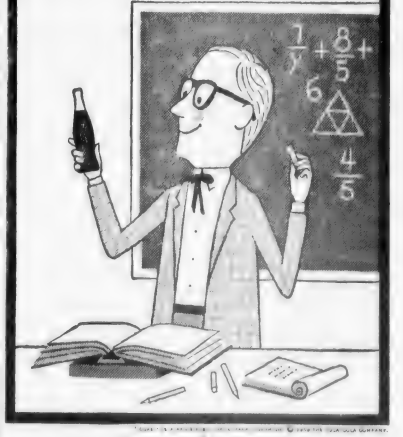
Winnie, a physical education major, comes from Annandale. She played on the second varsity hockey team as well as the class hockey team. She also participated in class basketball and worked on backdrops for the Christmas water pageant. Being an Alpha Sigma Tau pledge and a member of A.A. Council has also filled her time as has membership on Freshmen Commission and Y-Cabinet.

Softball practice will start soon, and it is necessary to have eight practices before you can play.

Winnie hopes her enthusiasm is shared by everyone. "Class spirit and participation are a part of Longwood tradition. Class games provide everyone with recreation and a lot of fun."

Varsity Tennis

The varsity tennis team for this spring has been announced and is as follows:
Barbara Brantley, sophomore
Jean Fairfax, junior
Mary Hite Grayson, sophomore
Lou Heier, senior
Clara Lee Parker, sophomore
Gladys Patrick, sophomore
Pat Southworth, sophomore
Sandy Tarter, senior



Select a lasting gift for Mothers' Day At
WEYANOKE BOOK SHOP
Bibles, Religious Books, Best Sellers, Cookbooks
Wide Selection

To Longwood Girls—
Special on all tennis equipment.
Buy yours today!
Southside Sundry

LANSCOTT GIFT SHOP
Gifts That Are Different
LANSCOTT GIFT SHOP

Relax . . . at
the SNACK
with your friends!
Main Rec and Senior Rec

For that perfect Mothers' Day Gift
visit
Martin The Jeweler

Q.E.D.

Yes, it's been demonstrated time and time again, that for real refreshment it's Coke every time! Add up that cold crisp taste, that lively lift and you really have a drink worth going after. So whenever the crowd has a multiple thirst, make the high sign of good taste . . . pass around the Coca-Cola! Quod Erat Demonstrandum!

Drink Coca-Cola

BE REALLY REFRESHED . . . HAVE A COKE!

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
LYNCHBURG BOTTLING COMPANY

Football

(Continued from page 1)

bench due to her earlier foot injury.

These "journalistic bruisers" have no captain for their illustrious team. According to Weedie Norman "We decided that since we are all so versatile and such good players it would be unfair to single out one of us as captain." They do have an orgánizer, though, in the form of chief team advisor and coach, Dr. Richard K. Meeker of the English Department. He is being assisted by no less than the captain of the Hampden-Sydney Tigers, Jim Feily. With such coaching as this Pi Delt is bound to learn something.

Weedie sums up the feelings of her teammates on the situation with the serious words, "Although Pi Delta Epsilon won't boast a victory of a tangible sort, a moral victory is assured."

Cheering them on to that moral victory will be cheerleaders, Ann Clark, Sarah Oliver, Donna Boone, Norma Redman, Joan Lee Thomas and Mary Ellen Moore.

The other supporting half of this contest, Stu Goo, has a slight edge on Pi Delt in practices. Everyday at all hours they can been seen working diligently behind the library under the hard supervision of Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel of the History Department. Assisting Dr. Schlegel is Dickie Moss, son of Dr. Schlegel's associate, Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss.

Preparing to lead Stu Goo to an exalting victory are "Ruthless" Ruth Denton, "Jarring" Jean O'Connell, "Jolting" Joyce Odom, "Shameless" Cherron Kelly, "Cocky" Carol Mathews, "Clipping" Chris Wilson., "Ambling" Ann Hardy, and "Naughty" Nancy Speakman.

Also "Marring" Mattie Blewett, "Jumpy" Jo Savage, "Bouncy" Bea Gay, "Boisterous" Barbara Odom, "Nimble" Neil Ward, "Jaunty" Jean Peyton and "Cagey" Claudia Whipple will contribute to the action.

Cheerleaders of Stu Goo will consist of both students and faculty members, who have not yet been chosen. Qualifications for these posts are loyalty, laughter and lungs. If you have these qualifications be on the lookout; they want you. Also, they would love to have a brass band, so if anyone can play anything brassy, please see one of the team members.

The "Powderpuff Football Game," as it is being called, will take place April 21 at 4 p.m. on the Athletic Field for the price of 10 cents per interested onlooker. Do go—this paper is willing to risk its unreproachable reputation by assuring you that even if it may not turn out to be the best played game you've ever attended, it will certainly be the most amusing and unforgettable.

Fine Arts

(Continued from page 1)

conclude with "Polonaise in A Flat Major, Opus 53" by Chopin.

"Glass Menagerie"

The fifth and last event of the Longwood College Festival of Fine Arts will be Tennessee Williams' play "Glass Menagerie" presented by Alpha Psi Omega Friday, April 17, at 8 p.m. in Jarman Hall.

The play, which was made into a movie several years ago starring Jane Wyman, is a story, set in the south, about a woman who was deserted by her husband, leaving her two children to raise. Molly Workman will play the mother; Vicki Brinkley, the daughter; Billy Graham, the son and George Hunter, Jim O'Connor, the gentleman caller.

The play will be directed by Mrs. David Wiley, assistant professor of speech and drama. Pat Leake is serving as assistant director.

Art Exhibits

Recent watercolors by Mrs. Janice S. Lemen, associate professor of art, will be displayed nightly in the lobby of Jarman Hall before and after the performances. Selected works by junior and senior art majors will be shown in the Library Browsing Room daily and after each evening performance.

The festival is under the direction of Dr. John Molnar, chairman of the Fine Arts Committee. It is dedicated to the 75th anniversary celebration of the founding of Longwood College as Virginia's first state supported college for women.

Drama Scholarship

The Longwood Players have announced that nominations are open for the Leola Wheeler Scholarship, established in memory of a former professor of speech and drama.

The $50 award is open to any English major who has demonstrated particular interest and ability in the field of speech and drama.

Nominations may be made by any member of the faculty or student body and should be placed in Mr. David Wiley's mailbox by May 1.

BOXWOOD TOURIST
COURT AND
RESTAURANT
3 Miles South of Farmville
On Route 15
PHONE 3027-5

More Organizations Elect Officers For Coming Year

Lychnos

The Lychnos Society has chosen Anne Palmer to lead their activities for the coming year.

